Gets 50 Years to Life for April 13 Slaying

Jonathan L. Putnam, 20, East Tawas, was sentenced to a prison term of 50 years to life Monday on a charge of second degree murder in the April 13 strangulation-slashing of Mrs. Viola Stern, 32, Plank Road, Tawas City.

Putnam, who has been held at the Iosco County Jail since the day after the slaying, was turned over to Michigan Department of Corrections authorities at Southern Michigan Prison, Jackson, on Tuesday.

Prior to sentencing, Pros. Atty. J. Richard Ernst declared in court that the defendant's crime was one of violence against a person, that he had a personal tendency toward violence in stress and recommended the maximum sentence for protection of the public.

In passing sentence, Judge Alan C. Miller noted that the crime was the most serious he could think of—that of taking a life. "Unfortunately, we have a mother and wife who cannot be brought back. If there was anything we could do on this score, we would want to rectify it."

Originally charged with first degree murder, Putnam changed his plea from not guilty for reasons of temporary insanity. His court-appointed attorney was Alf C. Watson of Tawas City.

Following testimony of two state psychiatrists, who found no premeditation in the murder, the court accepted a plea of guilty to second degree murder.

A first degree murder conviction carries a mandatory life sentence, with no provision for parole. Under second degree murder, the defendant is eligible to appear before the parole board in about 10 years.

On April 14, Putnam walked into the Pontiac State Police Post and reported he had stabbed a woman to death near Tawas. Mrs. Stern's body was later discovered in a ditch on Towline Road southwest of Tawas City.

The victim is survived by her husband, William, and five sons.

State Journal Seeks Former Iosco Soldier

What really happened to Pvt. Albert Bronson of Michigan, U. S. A.?

This was the last sentence of a feature article appearing recently in the Bulletin, published in Rockhampton, Queensland, Australia.

The story was inspired when a Bulletin writer visited St. Christopher's Chapel, about four miles out of Rockhampton on the Emu Park Road. The small church was built in 1943 by the 542nd Engineers, Service and Supply Battalion, while the American forces were stationed in Australia. The burnt into wooden plaques on the chapel walls were the names of American soldiers.

"A strange honor roll you think... Each name is followed by a sporting deed... Hop, step and jump... and in Private Bronson's case, obstacle race," stated the Australian writer.

"I later learned that these names had been salvaged from one of the old recreation halls demolished before war's end. Someone had placed them on the chapel walls.

"It was an innocent, beautiful act. Because, as you read the names now, you wonder silently. And although you may not realize it at the time, the names are the starting point of a very personal, questioned sermon. You ponder... I wonder what became of them?"

The newspaper clipping was sent to the State Journal at Lansing by Mrs. Joan Wallin, a Kingsford, Australia, housewife, who expressed herself as also curious about what happened to Pvt. Albert Bronson of Michigan.

She mentioned that recently Australia has become a leave base for American GIs from Vietnam, a fact which reminded her of "those boys who passed our way some 24 years ago."

The State Journal accepted the challenge to locate Pvt. Albert Bronson of Michigan, but regrets to state that thus far it has not been altogether successful.

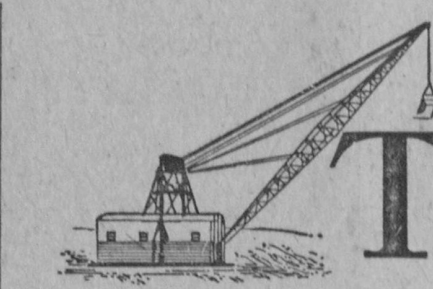

The state office of the Selective Service System found that an Albert Leslie Bronson registered for the draft from West Branch, Ogemaw County.

Long distance telephone inquiries elicited the information that Albert Bronson lived for some time in Iosco County and later moved to "somewhere in Arizona."

Pentagon officials in Washington reported that army records of World War II are stored in vaults in Kansas City and are not readily accessible.

Who is Albert Bronson and whatever happened to him? The Herald telephoned Arnold Bronson, manager of Ottawa Equipment Company, and learned that the two men are cousins. Born at Whittemore, Albert owns a farm east of West Branch, is a stone mason by trade and has spent the past 10-15 winters in Arizona.

The Arizona address of Mr. Bronson is to be obtained and turned over to the State Journal for a follow-up story. Before long, the people of Rockhampton, Queensland, Australia, should know what happened to Pvt. Albert Bronson.

Silver Valley Not Dead -- New Lease on Life

Silver Valley, which died of natural causes three years ago, apparently is about to get a new lease on life.

One of Michigan's pioneer winter sports parks, Silver Valley's last year of operation was in 1965 when it was decided that it could not compete against newer and more modern parks operating in Northern Michigan.

Tawas residents attending a meeting last Wednesday night, called by the Tawas Chamber of Commerce to discuss new promotional ideas, were informed that plans are now being made to open part of the park as an area devoted exclusively to the sport of snowmobiling.

James Hearl of McKay Sales Company, one of several local agencies selling snowmobiles, said that Loren Woerpel, Tawas District ranger, was now in the process of establishing snowmobile trails in the park.

Hearl said that snowmobiling had experienced a fantastic growth in the past two years. Local snowmobile enthusiasts are now forming a club, which will take the lead in promoting Silver Valley's trails.

"This is a three-month sport and should show even more interest during the next five years. We have already had requests for information on local facilities from a 60-member Flint group," said Hearl.

"Silver Valley, with its wooded trails, would be an ideal location for snowmobile enthusiasts. It is equipped with a large parking lot, warming shelter and restroom facilities.

High cost of operation and competition from 86 other winter sports parks in Michigan were blamed by L. G. (Ladd) McKay as the reason for Silver Valley's closing in 1965. McKay, who served as treasurer of the winter sports committee for 18 years, said that many improvements were made at the park following World War II. New steel toboggan slides, electrical facilities, tows and improved ski runs were financed from park receipts.

Tastes of winter sports enthusiasts changed from tobogganing to skiing and Silver Valley just did not have the slopes to compete with other parks in the state. After operating several years with a deficit and demands for higher insurance protection and safety features, it was decided to let the winter sports park die a natural death, said McKay.

Another problem which always plagued the committee was the lack of snow. With a staff of 14 required to operate the park, the group was unable to purchase a costly snow making machine.

McKay said that a group of Tawas businessmen are still interested in developing an area along the AuSable River as a four-season playground. He said that lessons had been well learned at Silver Valley and the group was now developing a prospectus for a park which would include suitable ski slopes, chair lifts and tows.

Now president of East Michigan Tourist Association, McKay said that such development would return this side of the state to the folds of the winter sports enthusiast.

McKay also announced that Tawas would be the site of three regattas next summer. Some 40 boats are expected for the Michigan District Lightning Class races and Tawas Bay will be one of four sites for tryouts for the Olympic Finn Class. The World's National One Design regatta is to be held here with Matt Haglund of East Tawas as defending champion.

As an outgrowth of this discussion, arrangements are being made with the local citizens band radio club to provide radio communications between racing committee boats and the shore. A running commentary would be given in order to keep spectators on shore posted of the racing. It was felt this would add greatly to these colorful sailing events.

Peter Lichtfus, president of Iosco Sportsmen's Club, said that the area should prepare landing sites to handle an influx of fishermen during coho runs in the future. It was announced that plans are being made to construct two concrete ramps near the old disposal plant at East Tawas.

Kenneth Conn, local insurance agent, told those attending that the time has come when the area should enhance its image by improving the Tawas Bay waterfront. He said that the shoreline presently had an ugly appearance and should be improved.

Ralph Western, former chamber of commerce president, emphasized the need for supporting the chamber of commerce in its activities.

Wayne Freiberg and Gar Bassett, members of the chamber of commerce's board of directors, emphasized the need for new promotional ideas from the community as well as the need for volunteer help in assisting different activities.

Additional meetings to discuss promotion of events may be held in the future.

Joint Concert Sunday With Haslett Band

The Haslett High School Band and Tawas Area High School Band will perform a joint concert Sunday, December 3, 2:00 p. m., in the Tawas Area High School Auditorium. Admission is free and the public is welcome.

The Haslett band, under the direction of Winston Blackford, will spend Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday in the area. Friday evening, a pizza and pop party will acquaint the band members. Saturday morning and early afternoon will be spent in rehearsal. Saturday afternoon, the bands will be taken on a tour of Tawas area and in the evening a dance at the high school will feature two local live bands.

The Haslett band will return home after the Sunday afternoon concert.

Veteran Dist. Secretary Honored Tuesday Noon by Kiwanis Clubs

Frank O. Staiger, district secretary of Kiwanis International, addressed the 18th division of the Michigan District Tuesday noon at the Barnes Hotel.

The meeting was called by Judge Allan C. Miller, lieutenant governor of the division, and was noteworthy because of the fact that it was the first meeting of the new division consisting of clubs at Clare, Grayling, Harrison, Houghton Lake, Oscoda, Standish, Tawas and West Branch.

Mr. Staiger is retiring this year after 25 years of service to Kiwanis. His topic, "Theme and Objectives for 1968," included the principal of demanding respect for law and order.

He said, "Each of us will make his voice heard in demanding that law enforcement agencies enforce our laws and prevent disorder and violence. It means each of us will give some of his time and talent toward inculcating into youth a respect for law and order.

"If we want to reverse the tide of crime and lawlessness," said Staiger, "there is no escape from personal involvement."

Mayor Russell A. Rollin Sr. of Tawas City, a Kiwanian, awarded the key to the city to Staiger to conclude the meeting.

Staiger is chairman of the board of directors, Citizens Federal Loan Association, Port Huron; vice chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board; vice chairman of the J. E. Sperry Endowment Fund board of trustees; former mayor of Port Huron and former president of Port Huron Board of Education.

He served as executive secretary-treasurer and convention manager of the Michigan District Kiwanis International since 1943. He has been editor of The Michigan Builder, official publication of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International, since 1944.

Medical Care Facility Schedules Open House for Iosco Residents

Residents of Iosco County will have the opportunity to view facilities at Iosco Medical Care Facility this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the first public open house held there since its opening in August 1966.

Max Stoutenburg, director, in issuing an invitation to all residents of the county to attend this event, said this would be an excellent opportunity for Iosco residents to "view their facility and see how tax dollars are being spent."

The 50-bed facility is presently filled to capacity and, since January 1, has had 61 admissions. There have been 13 deaths at the facility and about 47 persons have been returned to home or to private nursing homes.

One of the most impressive aspects of the facility has been the care provided in physical and division therapy. In addition to treating facility patients, the department provides outpatient therapy to persons who have returned home or to those residing in private nursing homes.

The divisional therapy department provides a much needed service by occupying patients in hobby work. The department is now in the process of manufacturing items which are on sale there during the Christmas season.

Stoutenburg said that the facility is now interested in forming a women's auxiliary and an organizational meeting is to be held in the near future.

Work started recently on a 14-bed addition. The foundation and fill work has been completed and construction is to start in full swing next spring.

Visitors during the open house will be allowed to inspect the entire facility, including laundry, housekeeping, maintenance and nursing services.

Coffee and punch are to be served from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. daily in the Everett Room.

Sewer Work to Start Early in December

Construction on the Mathews Street south sewer project in Tawas City is expected to start the first week in December, according to a report at Monday night's water board meeting by Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works.

While the actual start will depend upon the speed of the contractor in moving equipment from other jobs, Bublitz said he could foresee no delay.

The city council accepted the low bid of Gary D. Steadman, Incorporated, Bay City, for construction of the project at a cost of $30,775.50.

Bublitz said the project would probably be started at the south line of Cholger's Service and extend along the easement which parallels the lake shore. No delay is expected from the state highway department in construction of sewer on the opposite side of the street where mains are to run on highway right-of-way.

The project, consisting of 3,024 feet of sanitary sewer, is expected to be completed in about three weeks after work is commenced.

In other business conducted Monday night, the water board authorized purchasing two uniforms for water meter readers and Christmas turkeys for 12 city employees.

Students Move Into TA's New Shop Building

Monday morning saw the first use of new classrooms at Tawas Area High School provided by a construction program which began last spring.

Students moved into the new art room and mechanical drafting room which were included in the 60 by 100-foot masonry and steel shop building.

Shop instructors and vocational training students were dodging painters Monday morning as they moved new equipment into place at the metal shop. Equipment in the woodworking portion of the building has been set up and all equipment now awaits installation of electrical power.

Painters are expected to be completed in the building later this week when final work will be started on setting up metal lathes and other equipment.

Included in the project was renovation of former shop quarters into classrooms for team teaching.

Garden Clubs Beautify Grounds

Grounds at the Tawas Chamber of Commerce office were beautified Friday with the planting of shrubs by Ziehl's Nursery, a joint effort on the part of the garden clubs from Tawas City and East Tawas.

The East Tawas Garden Club and Iosco Cribbage Club also sponsored a project at the planter in front of the East Tawas City Hall.

Color Slides-Bazaar Report Feature Meet

Color slides of the mid-September vacation trip and planning for a Christmas bazaar or fair occupied major portion of the November 16 Christian Mother's Altar Society meeting held in St. Joseph Social Center.

The Rev. Fr. Arthur Mulka projected the scenes that he and a priest brother, the Rev. Fr. Raymond Mulka of Alpena, had taken in the Northwest Rockies. Alberta, Banff National Park, Columbia Ice Field, Lake Louise, Yoho National Park, Takakkaw Falls, sunsets, dawn and wildlife of the region were among the scenes shown to the more than 30 members present.

The Christmas bazaar or fair was voted to be held the afternoon of Sunday, December 10. In line with suggestions of the family affairs commission of the National Council of Catholic Women, it is hoped entire families may participate and find enjoyment at reasonable prices. But in working toward betterment of the parish, it is hoped that enough funds will be realized to provide vinyl backed nylon carpeting for the entrance areas of the church. The public is welcome.

Handmade gift table, religious goods, food table, white elephant, plant and book exchange, fish pond and serving of hot dogs, chili and homemade pie are included in the plans.

Mrs. John G. Kleekamp Sr. and Mrs. Anthony Blust were welcomed into membership. Get-well cards were signed for Mrs. Mabel Fick and Mrs. William Klenow and a thank you card for National Gypsum Company. Mrs. Richard Look won the attendance award. Mrs. Look volunteered to help with the bazaar food concession; Mrs. Girard Schiell, white elephant and plant; Mrs. Clayton Busha, food table; Mrs. Jesse Sidorsky, fancy work; and Mrs. Gordon Hackborn, fish pond.

The annual pot-luck Christmas dinner will be held Thursday, December 21, with a $1 gift exchange.

Father Mulka left some ideas for discussion on location and facilities for a new rectory now in the planning stages. Mrs. William Rapp would appreciate parish servicemen's addresses be phoned to her at 362-4268. Remembrances must be mailed by December 13.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

Read Ephesians 3:14-21

Men ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1)

Praying is possible in any circumstance. A man may be gagged so that he cannot utter a syllable, but it is not impossible for him to pray. He may be cast into a dungeon, his limbs loaded with chains and communication with others cut off, but such things cannot keep him from talking with God.

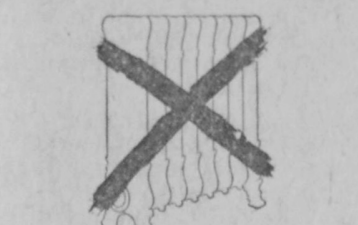

What is more, no one can keep God from coming to the help of those who love Him. No dungeon has ever been constructed, no adversary has ever been so mighty as to exclude God from His people.

Abraham interceded for wicked Sodom, Moses for wayward and complaining Israel, Samuel for the nation changing its form of government, Elijah for the Zarephath widow in poverty and sorrow, Paul for the churches he formed.

Knowing that our Lord made use of intercessory prayer is reason enough for us to offer such prayers. Let us take time to pray—and when we take time, really pray.

PRAYER
Our Father, accept our gratitude for the priceless privilege of prayer. Deliver us from trying to make selfish use of this privilege. Help us rather to use it in behalf of others and in furthering Thy will and purpose. In Christ's spirit. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
"The prayer of a righteous man has great power in its effects." Bill Spencer (Oklahoma)

Consumers Power Announces—

State Power Expansion

Plans for a vast new source of electric energy for Michigan were announced this week by Consumers Power Company.

Four miles south of Ludington, on the bluffs overlooking Lake Michigan, the company plans to build one of the largest pumped storage hydroelectric plants in the world. It will be capable of generating up to 1,872,000 kilowatts of power, more than half again the entire generating capacity of Consumers Power Company today.

The company explained that a pumped storage hydroelectric plant is like a giant storage battery. In off-peak hours, when demand for electricity is lowest, water will be pumped from Lake Michigan and stored in a 27-billion gallon reservoir atop the bluffs. Then, in times of peak demand, water will be released to generate electricity as it flows back into the lake.

The plant is scheduled for initial operation in 1973. It will involve a total investment of $186,000,000.

Power from the Ludington plant, as from all Consumers Power generating facilities, will be fed into the Michigan power pool, of which the Detroit Edison Company and Consumers Power are the principal members. Detroit Edison is expected to invest half of the cost of construction and to share proportionately in the generating capacity. However, the plant will be wholly owned and operated by Consumers Power Company.

The upper reservoir, the largest ever built for pumped storage power generation, will be completely enclosed by a six-mile earthfill embankment. During pumping or generation, a maximum of 17-billion gallons of water will be transferred between Lake Michigan and the reservoir. At maximum flow, when all of the plant's six generators are working, water will move through turbines at the rate of 33,000,000 gallons a minute.

For safety reasons, the reservoir will not be open to the public. However, an attractive recreation area is planned, with picnic and sightseeing facilities overlooking both the reservoir and the lake.

License Plates Selling Fast

Prepared license plate applications sent out to most of Michigan's nearly 5,000,000 vehicle owners have stimulated unprecedented early sales of 1968 license plates.

Branches of the secretary of state report sales higher than recorded in previous years.

A survey indicated that early customers were using the prepared applications when buying plates on ratios of from three to one to seven to one in some instances, reported Sec. of State James M. Hare.

He said his department had run into a "few minor problems with the new applications, most of these involving wrong information about the vehicle."

Braves Have Seven Returning Lettermen for Cage Season

Tawas Area Braves moved into their final week of practice before the NBC basketball opener with a roster of seven returning lettermen and a tag as being one of several contenders for the 1967-1968 conference title.

Coach Bill McIntosh is the first to admit there are some pretty important "ifs" to be overcome before the school's trophy case is opened to admit a new entry.

First, there is the little matter of finding a replacement for Wayne Fairfield, last year's all-conference guard and the team's scoring leader.

Secondly, this should be one of the best seasons in NBC basketball history. Standish Sterling's Panthers, conference champions for two straight years, are expected to be tough again this year but, according to McIntosh, Oscoda is shaping up as the team to beat.

Gladwin, West Branch, Pinconning and Essexville all appear to show improvement over last year. Tawas' seven returning lettermen are Ron Doak, six-foot, four-inch forward; Paul Beyer, six-foot, two-inch center; Howard Rollin, six-foot forward; Dale Koepke, five-foot, 11-inch guard; Dennis Krish, five-foot, eight-inch guard; Gene Kushion, six-foot guard.

Missing until later in December will be Gary Haglund, six-foot, three-inch starting center from last year, who injured his leg in track last spring and aggravated the injury at the start of basketball practice.

Moving up from the junior varsity will be Dale Rieger, Mike Yanek, Tom Brown, Bob Brusger, Paul Becker, Mike Hearl and Len Sarki, all juniors. Dennis Wetzel and Dave Cholger, seniors, are in their first year of basketball.

The Braves open the season December 8 by playing host to West Branch. Last year, Tawas had a record of 12 wins and five losses, losing their last three games. The Braves lost to Standish-Sterling in the district finals.

IF YOU DON'T WANT TO MAKE THE SAME MISTAKES AS LAST YEAR AND THE YEAR BEFORE by putting off your Christmas planning until the last minute, why not start your Christmas chores now. There are gift lists to make, tree and house decorations to be gotten and you can't forget about the annual holiday dinner that has to be planned in advance.

CHRISTMAS-Y POTHOLDERS

Bring the Christmas spirit into your kitchen by crocheting little items that can be hung on the wall or placed on your table. We thought these holiday potholders might be interesting and fun for the season. The snowman is made of "Knit-Cro-Sheen" in white with black and flamingo trim. The Christmas tree is also made of "Knit-Cro-Sheen" in hunter's green with red and yellow trim and both have bone rings which make it easy to hang over the oven or work area.

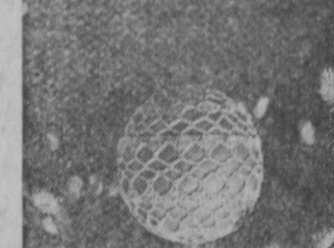

A GIFT TO PLEASE EVERYONE
 If you can't decide on a Christmas gift for those hard-to-please relatives and friends, surprise them with some of these unusual and imaginative potholders. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet S 371.

FESTIVE HOSTESS ACCESSORIES are created with Swedish weaving. Christmas motifs are worked on Huck cloth with six-strand floss, sprinkled with beads and sequins. The set includes a cocktail apron and place mat decorated with snowflake patterns and a guest towel with a tree design. Make them as gifts and give yourself a set for holiday entertaining. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PE 9230-2.

PLUMP LITTLE SNOWMEN predict a white Christmas for 1967. These snow people don't worry about the weather because they are melt-proof, crocheted of "KNIT-CRO-SHEEN" and cotton stuffed. They make appealing party favors or stocking gifts. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 4256.

HERE'S A UNIQUE IDEA for Christmas ornaments to hang on your tree. Crochet an opening cover of metallic "KNIT-CRO-SHEEN." Then insert a colored balloon through the top opening and inflate until mesh is taut. Make a whole collection in assorted colors. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 9925.

Frequent incidents erupted during the strike, including fights with police and pickets tipped a car over at it attempted to drive into the plant. Homes of two men who had continued working during the strike were dynamited.

West Branch-Rose City School Asks for More Funds

A special election is to be held in Ogemaw County December 4 on spending an additional 1.3 million dollars to complete a four-part program for the reorganized West Branch-Rose City school system.

When the two schools were consolidated by a vote of the people last January, a $3,780,000 bond issue was approved, based on estimates of the architects.

Since then, spiraling construction costs and items not foreseen indicated that the original estimate fell far short of doing a complete job.

Forest Chats

By STUART A. BAILEY
Forester
TAWAS RANGER DISTRICT
Huron-Manistee National Forests

The phrase, Aspen (popple) the Phoenix tree of Michigan, has its origin in the fable of the phoenix that rose out of the fire of the late 1800s. Aspen, and also Jack pine, are known as pioneer species. This is because they are usually the first trees to grow on burned over areas.

Aspen reproduces in two ways. The original trees must come from seed. The seed is present in the early summer when you drive through an aspen stand and it looks like its snowing. The seed must fall on bare soil before it will germinate into an aspen seedling. Forest fires in the past provided this bare soil.

The seedling grows three to five feet in about three years. During this period, it is providing food for rabbits, grouse and deer. After about 35 to 55 years depending on the type of soil present, the aspen reaches maturity and starts to "go down hill." We use this term to indicate susceptibility of a stand to insect and disease and breakage by wind and snow. If the stand is not harvested before this occurs, the wood is lost. But a more far reaching and worse result is the loss of the area to production of high value timber and wildlife food and cover.

When an aspen stand is allowed to fall apart, the result is an area that may be open or growing into low value shrubs or hardwoods. But if the stand is harvested, then the aspen will produce itself by sprouting. Aspen sprouting is from buds on the shallow, wide spreading root system. The buds are activated by the strong light and higher temperatures that occur after the removal of the old stand. The root system of one tree may spread out to 30 feet or more. This produces a stand of sprouts so thick a person has difficulty walking through it.

In comparison to the seedling development, sprouts will grow four to eight feet the first year. Usually sprouting is so thick that many are crowded out and do not grow as fast. These provide game food for several years.

Because aspen behaves the way it does, a stand must be completely removed if you want good sprouting results. Any trees that are left will shade out new sprouts, thus causing the stand to have areas of good growth and areas of poor growth. Therefore, if you see a stand of aspen being harvested the complete removal of all trees indicates good aspen management practice.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Hunter's Shot Caused Break in Water Line

15 Years Ago—
November 28, 1952—A break in the $20,000,000 Saginaw - Midland water line and a temporary interruption of Consumers Power service during the week-end occurred when a high tension transmission line east of Mio was severed by a hunter's bullet. The interruption in power at the White-stone Point pumping station created a quick influx of water when power was renewed, causing a break at Fisherville. An acre or more land was covered with six to eight inches of water. Power company officials said it was the third deliberate case of hunters shooting overhead wires this season.

Plat of Goldsmith's Addition to Tawas City was approved by the city council. The new addition comprises a tract of residential property along Fifth Avenue.

Three sections of new lock boxes were installed at the Tawas City post office. With 339 lock boxes, call box service with 128 boxes is to be discontinued.

25 Years Ago—
November 27, 1942—Michigan's unpredictable wartime deer-hunting season settled back to normal late this week after an opening so heavily patronized the conservation department ordered 10,000 additional licenses to supplement the 240,000 already in dealers hands.

Merlin Jordan of Sherman Township bagged the season's largest buck, a 225-pound 12-point-er.

by December 14 or they will be unable to obtain the second issue, which will be distributed January 1.

Two Alabaster boys, Richard Martin and Edward Wellna, lost their direction while hunting and spent the night in the woods. After walking all night, they finally came out in Sherman Township. Sheriff John Moran, state police and neighbors spent most of the night searching for the boys.

On a per capita basis, professional boxing has sent more men into the armed services than any other branch of athletics and the talent loss has doomed all big scale operations. Four world champions in service include Joe Louis, heavyweight; Gus Lesnevich, light heavyweight; Tony Zale, middleweight; Fred Cochran, welterweight. Boxing has been in rather a bad way for the past several years. Louis out-ranked his heavyweight contemporaries so far that interest in that division reached an all-time low.

35 Years Ago—
December 2, 1932—State Rep. Fred C. Holbeck charges that the state administrative board, formed about 10 years ago, has taken much power away from the state legislature. No state money can be spent without sanction of the administration board, of which the governor is chairman. This includes all money raised by taxation for state purposes, including gas and weight taxes, amounting to $100,000,000 annually.

Looking For A Special Gift?

Mrs. Max Beach said the other day in East Tawas that her friend had been looking for Michigan-made gifts for friends from out of state. It reminded me that you, too, may be looking for a special Christmas gift. I saw a nice variety of handmade items of all price ranges at the Northland Arts and Crafts Store, West Branch. Located just off the main street at the east end of West Branch, the store is open from 11:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. weekdays and 11:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Saturdays to sell items made by people from many miles around.

Fresh Pears

Ancient kings of Persia declared pears a royal delicacy and small wonder. While enjoying a few sweet, delicious pears given me by a 4-H leader friend from the tree in her orchard a few days ago, I was interested in these serving suggestions by the western pear growers.

For baked relish pears, fill centers of cored fresh pear halves with green pepper relish and bake at 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 minutes or until tender. Serve hot with fried chicken or other meat.

Turkey-pear salad sounds good for a change. Use diced cooked turkey, fresh pear chunks sprinkled with lemon juice and chopped celery served on lettuce. Serve with dressing made of one cup mayonnaise mixed with one-fourth cup whole cranberry sauce and one tablespoon lemon juice.

How about a fresh pear, two crust pie served with a hot cinnamon sauce? Mix one-half cup sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch and add to one cup hot water. Cook until thick, add two tablespoons butter and one teaspoon each cinnamon and vanilla. Serve hot on pie.

And—I wonder if the suggested proper way to eat pears will keep the juice from running down my chin! I read that we should start at the stem and then eat around and around!

What's This?
"Fifteen-Cent Dinners for Working Men's Families," a pamphlet used in a cooking school about 1875 raised quite a stir! Written by Juliet Carson, she taught on a "waste not, want not" philosophy.

Because of the frugal ideas suggested, laborers accused her of being "in the league with the capitalists" to reduce salaries by her helping homemakers manage on lower budgets.

For Holiday and Winter Meals.
A colorful and tasty vegetable to brighten the menu and simply taken from the canned food shelf is "Beets with Orange Sauce."

Mix one-fourth cup sugar, three-fourths teaspoon salt and two tablespoons cornstarch into three-fourths cup orange juice. Cook until thickened, stir in two tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon grated orange rind and one tablespoon butter. Pour over 2 1/2 cups canned sliced beets. Heat and serve.

Snowmobile Code of Ethics Proposed for Huron Forest

According to John Von Barga, forest supervisor, Huron-Manistee National Forests, a snowmobile code of ethics and a safety code have been proposed for adoption by various public agencies and several snowmobile manufacturers. These codes evolved as a result of a meeting held in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, March 2. For the benefit and safety of the many snowmobile users and owners, the codes are published as follows:

SNOWMOBILE CODE OF ETHICS

1. I will be a good sportsman. I recognize that people judge all snowmobile owners by my actions. I will use my influence with other snowmobile owners to promote sportsmanlike conduct.
2. I will not litter trails or camping areas. I will not pollute streams or lakes.
3. I will not damage living trees, shrubs or other natural features.
4. I will respect other people's property and rights.
5. I will lend a helping hand when I see someone in distress.
6. I will make myself and my vehicle available to assist search and rescue parties.
7. I will not interfere with or harass hikers, skiers, snowshoers, ice fishermen or other winter sportsmen. I will respect their rights to enjoy our recreation facilities.
8. I will know and obey all federal, state and local rules regulating the operation of snowmobiles in areas where I use my vehicle. I will inform public officials when

Safety Code, Too

9. I will not harass wildlife. I will avoid areas posted for the protection or feeding of wildlife.
- ### SNOWMOBILE SAFETY CODE
1. When planning extended trips, I will prepare a route plan with an estimated time of return. I will give this information to a responsible person. When traveling on state or federally-owned lands, I will check in and check out with the park officials or ranger station.
 2. When making extended trips, I will carry emergency equipment (snowshoes or skis, flares, tow line, waterproof matches, emergency food supply, extra fuel, compass and map). I will avoid traveling alone in remote areas.
 3. I will not cross or travel on frozen lakes or streams until the ice is thick enough to support the weight of my snowmobile and passengers. When traveling in new areas, I will seek advice on ice conditions.
 4. I will keep myself physically fit for winter sports.
 5. I will always carry a first aid kit.

6. I will wear proper winter clothing and protective glasses or goggles.
 7. I will know the weather forecast. When the weather turns bad, I will turn back.
 8. I will keep my snowmobile in good operating condition.
 9. I will always carry a tool kit.
 10. I will stay on marked trails or marked roads open to snowmobiles. I will avoid cross country travel unless specifically authorized.
 11. I will use my snowmobile only for transportation when hunting. My rifle will be encased whenever I am aboard my snowmobile if local regulations allow encased rifles aboard snowmobiles.
- The snowmobile manufacturers who are members of the international snowmobile industry will include both codes within the manufacturer's brochure of material received by each new snowmobile owner. Dealer distribution will reach all new snowmobiles and will, hopefully, assist the novice snowmobilers in establishing safe, ethical standards.

Forest Supervisor Von Barga stated that plans are still proceeding on the Huron-Manistee National Forests to provide many miles of signed snowmobile trails for the use and enjoyment of people engaging in this "up and coming" winter sport.

Announce Rules for Using TA's General Purpose Rooms

Opening of the general purpose room and gymnasium for intramural participation on Saturdays for the winter season has Tawas Area Board of Education approval. It is fully realized that this program will have to be altered to meet the needs of those who enroll and thus changes will be made as encountered.

The general rules established are as follows:

The general purpose room at the Tawas City unit shall be used for junior and senior high girls activities.

The gymnasium at the high school will be used for junior and senior high boys. Boys participating in interscholastic basketball are excluded from this program as they have ample opportunity for exercise otherwise.

Grade students both parochial and public are to meet in the general purpose room at the East Tawas unit.

Groups meeting shall be organized into teams for intramural sports activities such as basketball and volleyball.

Initial time for the activities is set at 1:00-5:00 p. m. on Saturdays.

Response from the students will determine the direction that the program will take but at present plans are to have the initial meeting at 1:00 p. m. Saturday, December 2. This meeting will be an enrollment and organization meeting.

Teachers will be in charge of the groups at the various schools and after enrollment, decisions will be made as to needs for the various programs.

Parents are urged to impress upon their children that the success of this program will be dependent upon a cooperative attitude on the part of the students participating.

Time spent by teachers in charge on disciplinary action with nonparticipants will detract from the regular program.
