Retiree Volunteers Service as Teacher

A retired Hale Area School teacher, Mrs. Amy Buck, leaves Thursday for the Open Door Children's Home, Hazard, Kentucky, where she will teach the next year.

Upon learning recently that this Christian home for children had experienced difficulty in retaining a first and second grade teacher, Mrs. Buck volunteered her services.

"I was told that the school had been unable to secure a teacher last year and that one of the older students had handled teaching in those grades. As a result, the entire two grades missed so much that pupils are repeating the same grades this year," said Mrs. Buck.

Before her retirement three years ago, Mrs. Buck had been a teacher for 19 years. The former Miss Amy Abbott of Wilber Township, she first began teaching in Iosco rural schools and later taught at Dearborn and Detroit. Upon her marriage to the late Robert Buck, she left the profession while raising a family of three sons and two daughters. After the death of her husband, she taught two years in rural schools of Iosco and then taught nine years at Hale Area School.

"I love to teach and have been a substitute since retiring. This will be a real challenge for me as all of the children at Open Door come from broken homes and have many personal problems," she said.

Hazard is in the coal mining poverty belt of Kentucky. The 462-acre home is located on top of Sunshine Mountain and Mrs. Buck visited the school last week.

"My children are in favor of my teaching for another year and I hope it works out—those children at Open Door certainly need me," she said.

Mrs. Buck's three sons are Wilfred Buck of Midland, the Rev. Leon Buck of Iron River and Alton Buck, a missionary in Liberia. Her two daughters are Mrs. Ralph Graves of Hale and Mrs. James Belson of Whittemore.

Killey Heads Iosco GOP at Convention

Merton Killey, chairman of the Iosco Republican Committee, was named this county's delegate at large to attend the state Republican convention to be held August 23-24 at Grand Rapids.

Named as alternate at large at the county convention August 14 was Bruce Myles of Oscoda.

Other delegates named were Jack Allen, Mildred DeBeau and Dale Strauer. Alternates named were William Wewley Jr., Elizabeth Rosenberg and Aubrey Belson.

Central Paving Gets ET Street Contract

Central Paving Company has been awarded a contract to replace paving torn up on West Washington Street during construction of a new sewer main. This action was taken at Monday night's meeting of East Tawas Council.

Cost of replacing the pavement from West Lincoln Street to Bridge Street is $3,040. The firm will have its plant mix unit in the area sometime next week.

In other business, a report from Advance sale tickets are available at six different locations for King Brothers Circus, which is to be at the Bridge Street show grounds, East Tawas, Sunday, August 25, 2:00 p. m. Tickets may be obtained at Tawas Chamber of Commerce office, Gould's Drug Store, Schmidt's, McKay Sales Company, Keiser's Drug Store and the Buckhorn on M-55.

the park board indicated that it was desirous of purchasing property from Dr. Harold D. Jones for expansion of the city park.

The council authorized its finance committee to study a request from the recent election board for possible increase in wages. City Clerk Fred B. Lomas said that election board members had been paid $8 for eight hours of work for the past 25 years.

Authorization was given to DeLoise Durant, city assessor, to purchase a commercial and industrial appraisal manual from Marshal-Stevens Valuation Service. This is the same manual used by the county tax equalization department.

The city is to investigate the possibility of extending sanitary service to three homes on State Street which have been served under a combined sanitary-storm sewer set-up. It was stated that excess water backs up into basements of homes affected and also causes an additional load at the disposal plant. Cost of the sewer would be paid by a special assessment district.

Board to Make Final Decision on Cuts Next Week; New Petition Info Ready

Final decision on possible cuts in the 1968-1969 program of Tawas Area School is to be made at next Monday night's meeting of the board of education.

At the same time, a citizens committee interested in resubmitting a millage proposal to district voters is to appear before the board to receive information on preparation of petitions to be distributed.

As of Tuesday, the only cuts authorized by the board of education has been limiting journalism to two periods a week and curtailment of all enrichment courses in junior high school.

In addition, eight new teachers were not hired and the slack was taken up by assigning additional classes to the present staff and administrators. Not hired were three replacements in the elementary grades, two English teachers, one mathematics teacher and one physical education teacher.

The board is still awaiting contracts from two other teachers, one of whom may be inducted into military service.

"I have been heartened by the spirit of cooperation shown by the faculty in assuming these additional and changed duties," said Supt. Reynold Mick.

With exception of the above cuts, registration of students started Tuesday morning using last year's class offerings. Adjustments are to be made following possible action of the board of education next Monday night.

In regard to proposed action of the citizens committee, headed by Neil Luedtke, the superintendent said that the school's legal counsel had informed him that petitions with signatures of five percent of the total number of registered voters in the district would be required to resubmit a proposal. An election could not be held in less than 60 days from the date of the petition.

While it would be mandatory for the board to honor petitions and hold another election, both Board of Education Pres. Leonard W. Sarki and Superintendent Mick said last week it would be a mistake to hold another election if it did not have a good chance of passing. They felt that at least 1,000 signatures would indicate that people favored the additional millage.

While minor cuts in the school program, doubling up of classes and changes in instruction by the faculty may partially solve the school's program for this year, serious financial problems will face the district next year.

A projection of prospects for next year indicates that if the school merely assumes income factors the same as this year and makes no provision for any negotiated salary increases, the school will have a total deficit of $150,000.

The school will end this term with a deficit—more than $30,000 if cuts proposed are not made—and the only way to reduce spending next year would be to offer contracts to 16 teachers and further slash the school program.

If this should result, the school may not meet accreditation requirement of the University of Michigan.

It is expected that next Monday night's meeting will be attended by a large delegation of parents and interested citizens of the district. More than 100 persons attended last week's meeting.

Hale A. School Announces 1968 Opening

Hale Area School has announced that the opening day of school is to be held Tuesday, September 3. Students are to be at the school at 1:00 p. m. for a half day session. Beginning the following day, school is to be held from 8:45 a. m. to 3:15 p. m.

On opening day, buses are to run full routes and pick up all students normally riding buses with the exception of those in kindergarten. The kindergarten is to open its session Wednesday, September 4.

Parents and students are reminded that registration for grades seven through 12 will be held Monday and Tuesday, August 26-27. Those whose last names begin with M to Z may register from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:00 to 3:00 on Monday. Those whose last names begin with A to L are to register at the same times on Tuesday. All students not having attended Hale Area School last year are asked to report immediately to the school in order that records may be obtained.

Milk and lunch prices are to remain the same as last year: Grades one through six, 30 cents; seven through 12, 35 cents; white milk, two cents; chocolate milk, three cents. Lunches are to begin Wednesday, September 4.

City Employees Get Chance to Offer Suggestions

Employees of the City of Tawas City are to have the opportunity to make suggestions for improving the city's operation.

On recommendation of Martin Wellna, First Ward alderman, an employee suggestion box is to be installed at the city garage. Any suggestion is to be studied by the council and department of public works for possible improvements.

In other business at Monday night's meeting, the council authorized installation of two signs pointing out the availability of the city's new industrial site located on Ninth Avenue.

The city recently purchased the industrial site from Gordon Clute.

A study is to be made of a recent letter submitted by James Quarters, garbage collection contractor. The letter noted that he was unable to service three business places because his truck was blocked by cars. Some garbage cans are heavier than the prescribed weight and some are not equipped with lids.

While it had been recommended that all garbage cans be placed along the curb on the day of the pickup, the council noted that exceptions had been made in some instances for the convenience of the driver and others for convenience of the people.

A complete study is to be made by the department of public works.

City Puts New District Health Sanitary Ordinance to Good Use

Since adoption in June by the Iosco Board of Supervisors, a new county ordinance controlling construction of septic tanks has been put to good use by the City of Tawas City.

While noting that approximately 91 percent of the city's area was served by the municipal sanitary sewer system, Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, said that applications had been received for three septic tanks during the past two months.

One septic tank was found to be in noncompliance with the county's ordinance. Corrections were ordered and carried out by the property owner. The other two septic tanks exceeded minimum specifications of the ordinance.

The one violation was brought to the attention of the department of public works and a call was immediately made to James Hasty, West Branch, sanitarian for the district health department.

This particular septic tank was not provided with a bottom and corrections were made immediately.

Bublitz said that anyone contemplating construction of a septic tank should obtain a copy of the county ordinance, which was passed jointly by Ogemaw, Alcona and Iosco on recommendation of the district health department.

In other matters involving the district health department, it was announced that Hasty had located the septic tank which was contaminating the Townline Drain and ordered that corrections be made by September 30 or a warrant would be issued.

Hasty had warned that unless the source of sewer discharge was located, the drain would be plugged.

Landfill Operation Called Satisfactory

Joint operation of the new sanitary landfill authority serving Tawas City, East Tawas, Baldwin and Wilber Townships is working out very satisfactorily, according to a report Monday night to the Tawas City Council by Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works.

While noting that he had underestimated the cost of bulldozing for Tawas City's share of the budget, Bublitz said that the high cost may not be as drastic as it appears as the entire cost will be shared by the four governmental units.

A report Monday night by Supt. Paul Ropert of East Tawas indicated that 634 persons had registered at the facility in June during regular hours of operation. In July, 632 persons had registered. Total cost for the operation was $560 in June and $800 in July.

Ropert emphasized that not included in the above registration were trips to the facility by garbage collection contractors for the two cities and persons with special dump privileges, which makes the total cost comparatively reasonable.

Tawas City furnishes its dragline for digging trenches while East Tawas furnishes a bulldozer to perform the daily backfill.

Bublitz said that a cost study was to be completed at the end of the month to determine the share of operation by each unit.

"We may find that it would be more economical to contract the entire work, the landfill authority may wish to purchase its own equipment or continue under the present operation," said Bublitz.

W-P Area School Registration Starts August 26

Schedule of registration for high school students at Whittemore-Prescott Area Schools is as follows:

Juniors and seniors, Monday, August 26; freshmen and sophomores, Tuesday, August 27; seventh and eighth, Wednesday, August 28; late comers for all grades, Thursday, August 29, at the high school. Hours are from 9:00 a. m. to 12 o'clock and 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. each day.

New students at the elementary schools may register any time during the week of August 26-30.

"DUNK THE FIREMAN" was a popular game during last week's Pioneer Days event at Sand Lake. Visitors had three chances to hit a target with a ball. If successful, a chair collapsed and a fireman plunged into the water (above). Receipts from the celebration went toward purchase of equipment for the township fire department. —Tawas Herald Photo.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

My grandmother, Mrs. Rose Avram of Turner, spent part of this spring with us at our home in Northern California.

It was wonderful reminiscing with her about the Tawas area, where I spent my childhood.

Upon her return home, she sent me a subscription to The Tawas Herald. I have enjoyed it immensely. Reading about the people I grew up with and the progress the community has made is the next best thing to being home.

Since it is impossible for me to be home, I thank you for bringing my home to me.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Beverly Jean McDowell
 (Daughter of Mrs. Anne Lohr of East Tawas)

To the Editor:

It is time to access the school situation realistically. There are real problems. Many other areas are having problems, too. The taxpayer is not the only answer.

We have had several years of prosperity and as we, too, well know many times this means spending with little thought of value received.

The administrative branch in our school system, like our federal government, is "Top Heavy." Believe our educators should have some knowledge of coordination and ability to carry on and not necessitate the addition of still another administrator and then drop band, as it is and should be a

TODAY'S Meditation
 from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read II Timothy 2:1-10
 "The Lord is my helper, I will not be afraid; what can man do to me?" (Hebrews 13:6, RSV)

Several years ago while in Berlin, I was asked to interview the leader of the student Christian movement in East Germany. At the time, it was considered a bit of a risk to do this.

In the nighttime, a darkened taxi delivered me to a certain tree and I was told to stand there until someone came to get me. In the lonely darkness, as I thought of the situation, I hoped for myself that the right person would come. Finally, I was led to the semidarkness of a modest home. There, I met one of the great Christians in the world today.

His message to students that night had in it the following: Explore ways to know people and think with them. God's vocation points men to their fellowmen—serve them. Man's inhumanity to man demands that Christians become involved in changing society. The church must risk everything for the sake of Christ and His people. We must remain human to our fellow human beings.

PRAYER

God our Father, there is cruelty in our world today. Help us to be living witnesses of the living Lord. May we not only relieve suffering but also work as Christians to eliminate the causes of suffering. Grant that we may risk everything for Christ and His people. Amen.

Selections to be read from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following: "Having one God, one Mind, unfolds the power that heals the sick, and fulfills these sayings of Scripture: 'I am the Lord that heal the sick'; and 'I have found a ransom.' When the divine precepts are understood, they unfold the foundation of fellowship, in which one mind is not at war with another, but all have one Spirit, God, one intelligent source, in accordance with the Scriptural command: 'Let this Mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus'."

Phares-Lyon Wedding Vows Said at East Tawas Church

In a candlelight service Saturday, August 17, Miss Marcia M. Lyon became the bride of Andrew H. Phares. The Rev. Kenneth Tousey officiated at the double ring ceremony in Tawas United Methodist Church, east parish.

For the 7:30 p. m. rites, Mrs. Donald Barton of Ufca served as vocalist and Mrs. Alden Phelps of East Tawas was organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Lyon of East Tawas. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Phares of Bay City.

The floor length bridal gown was styled in candlelight shantastik cage effect with silk organza yoke and cap sleeves encircled with Venice lace daisies. Daisies were scattered on the skirt which extended to cathedral length train. A matching organza pillow head-piece secured her cathedral length illusion veil. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white daisies, baby's breath and ivy.

Wearing bias blue A-line gowns with folded bias ruffling standing around the neckline and surrounding the hemline of the floor length skirt were Mrs. Carl Heller of Essexville, matron of honor; Miss Laura VanConant of Traverse City; Miss Natalie Phares of Bay City and Mrs. Kenneth W. Lyon of Cincinnati, Ohio, bridesmaids. A nose-gay of white daisies and ivy was attached in their hair. They carried garden baskets of white daisies, baby's breath and ivy.

Serving as best man was John W. Phares of Bay City. Groomsmen and usher duties were carried out by Kenneth W. Lyon, Gregory Pospiech of Detroit and Charles Kitchen of Ann Arbor.

Two hundred guests attended a reception in the church parlour.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lyon selected a green and gold Alencon lace coat over an ice blue sheath dress with matching hat and blue accessories. Matching accessories enhanced Mrs. Phares' mint green A-line gown. White orchids made up their corsages.

The couple will reside at Village Square Apartments, 912 Schuurmann Road, Essexville, following a wedding trip to Southern Michigan.

The bride was recently honored at a shower given by Mrs. Heller at the home of Mrs. Joel Vorhees of Standish. Guests were present from Bay City, Detroit, East Tawas, Lansing and Saginaw.

Do Not Neglect Removal of Dead or Diseased Elm Trees

Michigan residents who neglect removal of dead and diseased elm trees may be risking serious hazard to themselves, or possible liability claims from others.

This warning was issued by B. Dale Ball, director, Michigan Department of Agriculture, in connection with a report showing that 24,954 dead elm trees were condemned in 1967.

Orders for removal of the trees, victims of Dutch elm disease, were issued by the department's plant industry division, working in cooperation with municipalities and home owner associations having ordinances regulating elm trees inspection and condemnation.

According to Dean Lovitt, chief of the department's plant industry division, serious hazards develop when dead elms are left standing. As the tree rots, limbs become increasingly fragile and there is added danger of them breaking in a wind or storm.

Some homeowners whose trees have contracted Dutch elm disease delay removal because of the cost involved. Yet it is more dangerous and expensive to have a tree taken out after it has decayed. And the cost of injury to a person or to property could be much greater than the price of immediate removal.

Late in 1966, newspapers reported the death of a 10-year-old boy when a dead elm fell in South-eastern Michigan. A similar incident in a neighboring state claimed the life of a three-year-old girl.

Michigan's millions of elm trees have an estimated value of more than $700,000,000, according to the Michigan State Tree Foundation. A native of this state, the elm has long been a favorite because it grows rapidly, endures crowded city conditions well, withstands drought and has an attractive shape. Dutch elm disease, now making deadly inroads on the elm tree population, is caused by a fungus which is carried by the European elm bark beetle. As the fungus grows, it causes the tree to form gums which plug water-conducting tissues. The tree actually dies from drought. Most trees die the same year as infected; a few survive for another year or two. There is no known cure.

Bark beetles move from infected to healthy trees, carrying with them the fungus spores and resultant infection. In some areas of Michigan, about 95 percent of the elms have been lost.

First symptom of the disease is the wilting of foliage on a few branches. Sometimes yellow leaves appear, but usually leaves turn brown and remain on the tree.

Control of the disease involves prompt removal of all diseased and dead elms and trimming all old and dying branches from healthy trees. Regular periodic spraying with an approved pesticide also provides protection and the wider the area covered in the spraying program, the greater the protection. Solitary trees in isolated locations may survive.

Chairman Named; Discuss Plainfield Centennial Tonight

BEARDS are getting long enough to trim at Hale this week as Plainfield Township makes plans for observing its centennial in October. William Wereley, centennial committee chairman, is

A meeting of Plainfield Township's Centennial Committee is to be held tonight (Wednesday) at the township hall. All residents interested in working on a committee are urged to attend.

At last week's organizational meeting, William Wereley was named centennial chairman. Mrs. Harry Schniers is secretary-treasurer and Bud Bannister is vice president.

Tentative dates for the three-day program have been set for October 18-20, with final action to be taken Wednesday night.

Wereley said it was important that a good representation of citizens attend tonight's meeting. "We have many committees in mind to handle details for this event and time is getting short," he said.

More than a dozen men have started growing beards and it is expected that this number will be increased after Wednesday night.

The chairman said that the centennial observance would coincide with the annual homecoming football game and program at Hale Area Schools.

It is expected that historical displays will be furnished to various business places in Hale. Anyone with items to exhibit should attend Wednesday night's meeting.

Iosco Historical Society has offered its assistance with the observance and will hold its October meeting at Hale as part of the centennial program.

HURON NATIONAL FOREST Tawas Ranger District

By STUART BAILEY, Forester

In a previous article, I mentioned a new implement called a "rolling brush chopper." In this article, I am going to mention the different types of work we plan to do with it and the expected results.

Already, it has proved itself as the most economical tool to use in constructing fire breaks, such as around the River Road School west of Oscoda. Also, it was used to eliminate new growth in existing firebreaks.

On the Tawas District, there are over 100 miles of firebreaks that need to be maintained in the coming years.

Before I go any further, perhaps I should describe the rolling brush chopper. It is a large, hollow drum, eight-feet wide and six-feet in diameter. The drum is set in a yoke on bearings so that it rolls when pulled. Attached to the outside of the drum at 1 1/2-foot intervals across the width of the drum are cutting edges 10 inches high and eight feet long. The yoke and empty drum weighs 16,000 pounds but when the drum is filled with water it weighs 24,000 pounds.

Believe me, "A picture is worth a thousand words."

Now, we are using the chopper to prepare cut over jack pine areas for natural regeneration. If you have ever seen an area where the jack pine has been harvested, you will recall seeing the unused tops of the trees, we call them slash, standing three to five feet in the air. On these tops are cones containing seeds for the next generation of trees. These cones will not open and release the seed unless they are heated to about 170 degrees Fahrenheit. This high temperature is present only during fires or at the ground surface during the hottest days of summer. We prefer to utilize the heat from the ground rather than heat from a fire. The problem until now was how to economically get the cones close to the ground and remove the shade. The chopper does both and adds a bonus of exposing mineral soil which helps germination (sprouting) of the seeds.

As a matter-of-fact, the chopper does such a good job of knocking down the slash you can hardly tell that jack pine has been harvested from the area. Not only will the appearance improve but another side benefit that will be experienced is that the fire hazard will be greatly reduced.

Now, as with many other forestry practices, we must wait before the results will be known. By this time next year, we should see indications of how successful this work will be. If at the end of three years regeneration is not completed, the area will be scheduled for planting to seedlings.

Motor Vehicle Fund Checks Distributed

The state highway commission has started distributing second quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections to Michigan counties, incorporated cities and villages.

Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, said net highway fund receipts during April, May and June totaled $67,060,769, an increase of $11,133,623 or 16.6 percent more than the same period of 1967.

Most of the increase is attributed to the cent-a-gallon increase in the gas tax which took effect last January 1, he said.

Iosco County's share is $124,774, while East Tawas receives $8,136, Tawas City receives $5,577 and Whittemore was mailed a check for $1,539.

The motor vehicle fund includes all state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees. After deduction for collection costs and the state waterway commission's share, 46 percent goes to the state, 34 percent to the counties and 20 percent to the 525 incorporated cities and villages, for use on state and local highways, roads and streets.

Under this formula, the Mich-Igan Department of State Highways receives $30,847,954; counties, $22,800,661; cities and villages, $13,412,154.

Here is a teen-age sandwich favorite that will go over big at late summer picnics and continue its popularity through the winter as a great late snack: Shish kabob sandwich. Prepare shish kabobs as usual, over the coals, under the broiler or in the rotisserie. Slit a long, crusty sandwich roll almost through vertically, the long way. Place the sizzling kabob in the slit, skewer and all, setting the ingredients well into the sandwich. Hold firmly and slide the skewer out of the ingredients. Great and hearty for eating out of hand.

FISH DELIGHT

For a different salmon salad, try tossing flaked salmon, halved seeded grapes and diced cucumber with mayonnaise.

GOLDEN TOPPED ROLLS

The smell of fresh baked bread has returned to even the busiest households thanks to partially baked and frozen products. For a crowning touch to any yeast roll, combine and beat one egg yolk with one tablespoon of milk. Brush the tops with this mixture just before popping the rolls into the oven.

ORANGE BLOSSOM ICING

Prepare an uncooked butter icing with butter and confectioner's sugar. Add grated orange rind and the juice of half an orange or a tablespoon of frozen orange concentrate.

CHILL THRILL

Prepare and chill a crumb pie crust. Soften by stirring, one quart of vanilla ice cream. Add three-fourth cup of canned strawberry-appleauce (the chunky kind is good). Swirl the appleauce through the ice cream for a marbled effect. Spoon into crust. Place in freezer. When ready to serve, garnish with whipped cream if you like.

NUT CRUST

Add one-fourth cup finely chopped or blended nuts to the flour in your pastry recipe before cutting in the shortening. The subtle, luxurious flavor is especially effective with bland cream pie fillings.

FREEZER ECONOMY
Keep your freezer full, or nearly full, all the time. The more use you make of freezer space, the lower your unit cost for food storage.
