Sawyer-Hall Repeat as AuSable Champs

Ralph Sawyer and Stan Hall of Oscoda won their third straight AuSable River Canoe Marathon last Saturday and Sunday, finishing the 240-mile route in 15 hours, 31 minutes and 43 seconds.

It was the eighth time that Sawyer has stood in the winners' circle at the Oscoda finish line and he announced Sunday that it would probably be his last as he and his family leave soon for their new home in Oregon.

Sawyer and Hall jumped off to a quick lead shortly after leaving Grayling Saturday morning and had a 14-minute lead upon reaching Mio, where teams rested overnight.

Sunday's course from Mio to Oscoda was one of the most exciting in history for fans following the race. Sawyer and Hall were leading the pack at Five Channels Dam but Norm Crerar and Gib McEachern of Flin Flon, Manitoba, Canada, were hot on their heels, along with Steve and Buzz Peterson of Minneapolis, Minnesota.

The Petersons took the lead at one point, but the Canadian team came on strong to finish second with a time of 15 hours, 40 minutes and eight seconds. The Petersons finished third, only 49 seconds behind Crerar and McEachern.

Announcement was made last week that Plainfield Township would observe its 100th birthday anniversary with a special program sometime in October.

According to Mrs. Erma Atkinson, a meeting is to be held in the near future to name a program chairman and centennial committee to handle the observance.

"In the meantime, the men have only about two months to grow beards and the ladies should begin preparing centennial costumes," said Mrs. Atkinson.

Plainfield Township was organized by the board of supervisors at a meeting held October 15, 1867. Territory included in the new township was detached from AuSable and was described as Town 23 North, Range Seven East.

The first township meeting was held at the home of E. M. Earl on April 6, 1868.

Chrivia Opens New Subdivision

Dennis B. Chrivia, Hale real estate broker, announces that his Green Valley Subdivision on Esmond Lake, 1 1/2 miles east of Hale on Esmond Road, is now open for development.

One of Plainfield Township's newest subdivisions, it contains 38 beautifully wooded lots and is located near Huron National Forest and the AuSable River.

Chrivia said that lots are restricted for home or trailer sites. Available facilities include telephone, power, mail route, school bus route, blacktop road, good drainage, good water.

Sawyer and Hall, actually crossed the finish line behind the other two teams, but their 14-minute lead piled up on Saturday was just too much to overtake.

Fourth place went to Jeff Kellogg and Jerry Kellogg, Muskegon, in a time of 15 hours, 54 minutes, five seconds.

This was Sawyer's 95th win in racing competition and he has been international champion four times.

Jerry Wagner and his wife, Marilyn, finished seventh in the amateur race. This was the first year that rules were relaxed to allow women to enter. Three couples started at Grayling and two completed the 97-mile course to Mio.

On Sunday morning, the Wagners and one couple from Illinois took off from Five Channels Dam on the final leg of the race.

Winners in the men's amateur division were Demott and Mullen, 10 hours, 16 minutes, 25 seconds. The team of Gilbert and Gilbert of Oscoda won third place.

Grant Township 'Pioneer Days' All Next Week

A tug of war between volunteer firemen of East Tawas and Grant Township is to be a program feature.

This program is a continuation of festivities from last year which marked the township's centennial.

Health Unit Finds Raw Sewage in Townline Drain

According to James Hasty of District Health Unit No. 2, several complaints have been received from property owners along Townline Road in regard to discharging of sewage into Lake Huron. Upon the department's investigation, it was discovered that sewage is being discharged by way of a storm sewer.

Mr. Hasty states, "Since we cannot locate the source, we are issuing a public notice requesting any person or persons of whom are discharging any domesticated waste into the storm sewer to discontinue this operation and be in compliance with Ordinance No. 2 of Isosco County within 30 days or the drain will be plugged." Persons responsible are in violation of Act No. 245, Public Acts of 1929, and Ordinance No. 2.

Pare Expenses to Meet Existing Funds

TA School Cuts '68-69 Program

Sweeping cuts were made in Tawas Area School's 1968-1969 program Monday night as schoolmen pared expenditures to fit existing finances. The action followed defeat of a 2.92-mill proposal a week ago.

At the close of the meeting, the board of education had authorized cuts totaling $64,055 from an indebtedness of $93,511 left under the budget. A deficit of $30,000 still remained and individual members expressed the opinion that further cuts should be made in order that the next board of education would not be faced with a deficit.

"The board of education and faculty have no choice but to attempt to tailor the school program to fit the funds which it appears to be available," said a prepared statement by the board of education. "It will be impossible to completely match the income and expenditures this year, but every attempt must be made to do this."

The board stressed that every effort would be made to give to the students the very best program possible and still carry out the mandate of the electors.

The following cuts were authorized by the board:

1. Grade physical education teachers are transferred to teaching in the grades. Two teachers are involved at a salary of $6,600 each, or a total saving of $13,200.
  2. Vocal music teachers in the grades and high school are transferred to teaching other subjects. Two teachers with a salary of $6,600 each are involved, or another saving of $13,200.
  3. Two high school physical education teachers have been transferred to teaching in fields for which they are not qualified. A savings of $6,600 would result.
  4. Remedial reading has been cut from the grade program and the teacher transferred to teaching grades, a saving of $4,400.
- The guidance man and assistant principal in junior high school are placed as one full time teacher, a saving of $6,600.
- Total instructional savings above amount to $44,000.

Other cuts authorized were: Transportation: All trips for spectators have been eliminated, as well as release time buses for churches. All field trips have been canceled except for previous commitments. Total savings, $2,000.

Lunchroom prices have been advanced five cents per day and more if necessary to make lunchrooms completely self-supporting. This program had been subsidized from the general fund as a means of providing a wholesome meal for every youngster. The resulting savings to the lunch program would be $2,000.

The athletic department is to make an immediate survey to determine actual income and expenses of football and basketball. While league commitments would be honored for varsity football and basketball this year, junior varsity sports probably will be eliminated.

Also curtailed would be custodial duties, a saving of $1,400; curtailment of all spring sports and cross country, a saving of $2,800; discontinue sixth grade band and cadet band, a saving of $2,640.

Fees for supplies would be raised as follows:

- General supplies would be placed on a full-paying basis and the fee for each child would be $7.50, as compared to the present $2.50, a total saving to the school of $8,000; a locker fee of 50 cents per child would be charged (there is no charge at present), a saving of $280; shop fee would be increased to $7.50, as compared to the present $5, which would net $250; art fee would be $6, as compared to $3, raising $300; office practice, $5 (there was no charge last year), netting $75; chemistry breakage would be increased to $1.50, as compared to the former charge of $1, an increase of $50; drafting fee has been increased to $4, as compared to $2, netting $160; band instrument rental was increased to $7.50 per semester, as compared to $5 last year, netting $100.
- English teachers would have five classes each and the school will not provide a corrector for papers. All enrichment courses in the seventh and eighth grades, including shop, home economics and French, will be cut from the program.

Special study halls for seventh and eighth grades are to be eliminated and students will be placed in high school study hall where possible.

Small classes, including short-hand II, journalism, French III and possibly advanced mathematics, are to be cut from the program. All extra curricular activities, including parties and after game dances, are to be eliminated.

Total income for 1968-1969 amounts to $818,951.56, which includes $327,774.61 in state aid and local taxes of $414,988.95, based on the county allocation of 10.08 mills. Other income to the school amounts to $76,190.

The proposed budget for next year was $977,462. With income of $818,951, this would have left a deficit of $158,511. The school has a balance on hand of $65,000 which was left through legal transfer of state aid money in past years. Adding this to income, the indebtedness to be cut is $93,511.

In the long term planning, Tawas Area School is now in serious financial condition. A projection of prospects for next year will show if the school merely assumes income factors the same as this year and makes no provision for any negotiated salary increases, the school will have a total deficit of $135,000.

This will call for the laying off of at least 16 teachers, along with a moratorium on bus purchases for a year. It would also mean complete abandonment of all athletics and band.

Classes would be on a part-time basis and only limited offerings would be given in large groups. All replacement of equipment would be discontinued.

Early Primary Election Returns

With 15 of Isosco's 22 precincts reporting at 2:00 a. m. today (Wednesday), Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell was renominated as Republican candidate for sheriff in Tuesday's primary election. O'Farrell had 1,470 votes to lead James Finley's 996 and 237 for Robert N. Rollin.

George A. Prescott was leading his nearest opponent, Kit Carson, 3,514 to 1,458, for 102nd District state representative. He appeared to be the victor, receiving 1,858 votes in Isosco County with seven precincts to go, his best showing in any political race.

Keith Papas was leading Robert Allen, 1,591 to 1,012, for Republican candidate for clerk. With the Third Ward of Tawas City still to be counted, Clement Stephan was leading Clarence Everett, 197 to 65, an apparent winning margin.

Vandals Cause Power Failure Near Oscoda

Electrical power north of Oscoda was disrupted for three hours Monday and one area of Alcona County was without power for an additional four hours.

Gordon Huck, area manager for Consumers Power Company, said that vandals caused the disruption. Three insulators were found to be broken off high transmission lines by gunfire.

"The actual shooting could have been done some days previous to the interruption," said Huck. "In dry weather, the 46,000 volts would flash over the damaged insulators but, in Monday's rain, a short circuit resulted."

Much inconvenience was caused to business places and those residing in the affected area.

The power company has a standing offer of $100 as a reward to persons offering information leading to the conviction of those responsible for such an act.

Nedwash Found Incompetent; Sent to State Hospital

On recommendation of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, Isosco Circuit Court has committed Benjamin Nedwash of Midland to the Traverse City State Hospital.

Nedwash, 76, had been charged with first degree murder in the shooting May 22 of his nephew, David Stevens.

Paul S. Johnson, MD, staff psychiatrist at the state hospital, found that Nedwash was mentally ill and incompetent to stand trial.

He found that Nedwash's deafness presented difficulty in his understanding of spoken material, that an indication of some organic brain damage was shown on psychological testing and that he had a thinking disorder.

Judge Allan C. Miller committed Nedwash to the state hospital for a period of not longer than 18 months. Should he regain competency to stand trial, he may be returned to Isosco for trial or such other proceedings as may be appropriate according to statute.

Tawas Coast Guard to Honor Retirees

Tawas Coast Guard Station invites all retired coast guard personnel living in the Tawas area to the station on August 20, 1:00 p.m. It is requested that all retired coast guardsmen having served at least 20 years contact the station as soon as possible in order that arrangements may be made.

Plans are to hold a get-together meeting and a smorgasbord lunch. Since this is the first such event in the Tawas area, personnel from Tawas Coast Guard Station hope to have a large attendance.

TAWAS CITY PARK was jammed with exhibits during last week's eighth annual art festival. Displays were also located in the county building. The festival enjoyed perfect weather and the largest crowd in history, as well as the largest number of exhibitors.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Arts and Crafts Festival Drew New Record of 124 Entries

Last week-end's eighth annual Tawas Bay Waterfront Arts and Crafts Festival set a new record for attendance and exhibits. There were 124 exhibitors, some 40 more than last year.

Winner of the popular prize, Strawser, Howell Ohio, second chosen by ballots submitted by visitors to the two-day event, was Wayne Cooper of Hebron, Indiana, painting on velvet again proved to be a show-stopper. He also won first prize in judging of his oil paintings.

Other winners included T. A. Strawser, Howell Ohio, second place in oils; Jean Wetzler, Ida, first place in water colors; Stan Raskiewicz, Midland second place in water colors; Joanna Price, Dayton, Ohio, first place in ceramics; J. H. Brown, Essexville, first place in sculpture.

Margaret R. Sealock, Columbus, Ohio, won first place in wood sculpture, and Susan L. Parkinson, Lansing, won first prize for the most original Celeste Sotola, Wurtsmith Air Force Base, won first prize among juniors.

Cash prizes were presented at the band stand in Tawas City Park Sunday afternoon by Gerald Reiter, representing the Tawas Chamber of Commerce, show sponsor.

Mrs. Herbert Hertzler and Donald Darr, co-chairmen of the show, wish to thank the public, committees and all who exhibited or contributed to the festival. More than 100 volunteers assisted. Door prizes were contributed by artists.

"All exhibitors were satisfied and many plan to return in 1969," said Mrs. Hertzler. "The perfect weather during both days proved to be a great factor in success of this annual event."

Committees participating were as follows: Registration — Mrs. Harold Peterson (chairman), Mrs. Martin Fiedler, Mrs. Ivan O'Farrell, Mrs. Michael Freel, Mrs. Gordon Huck, Mrs. Joseph Pellerito, Mrs. B. ## Editorial— School Program Curtailed

Taxpayers, interested citizens and parents of Tawas Area School District should be shocked into action following Monday night's necessary budget cuts in the 1968-1969 school program, after defeat of the millage proposal July 29.

Prior to the election, the board of education stressed it would not use "scare tactics" of other districts to put this necessary millage across to voters. Now that budget cuts have been announced, voters of the district should begin to realize the importance of additional school finances and the real predicament now facing Tawas Area School.

There is a constant cry about ever-increasing taxes—particularly at the federal level—but apparently the only way to express discontent is at the local level—through defeat of proposals such as last Monday.

But, who was the loser last Monday? In this case, it was the children. Are your children, your grandchildren or your neighbor's kids worth the $2.92 per $1,000 of assessed valuation which was being asked? How can one estimate the value of a child's education? They are the future!

Last Monday's millage defeat was not just a protest against higher taxes—some people with personal gripes about school administrators or established school policy had axes to grind. They voted no and did their best to influence others to follow. Some people were indifferent to the problems at hand.

While it is now too late to resubmit the proposal to save this year's school program, a millage proposal could be submitted again in November or December which could help the program in the second semester. The problem is now out of the hands of the school, however, and any action would have to come from the community. The only way a proposal could be submitted a third time would be by petition of the electors.

We ask, are your children worth the added taxes? Or are you satisfied to see an excellent school program hamstrung? Concerned persons should attend next Monday night's board of education meeting and express their opinions. The board of education will listen, for it is your school—your children who are affected.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

TODAY'S Meditation

Read Nehemiah 2:1-8 So built we the wall; . . . for the people had a mind to work.

So often we have seen that God works through surrendered lives, for such lives have a power which is not of this world.

Immediately, we think of Nehemiah, that God-fearing man of the Bible, and the people who returned home from exile.

Why this success? "The people had a mind to work." The meaning is clear. If we want a better world, we must have a mind to work side by side with one another.

PRAYER God of our fathers, grant that we may have the vision and the courage to build sturdy walls of defense against the forces of evil that surround us today.

Tawas City Lost, 11-9, to Mio

Tawas City Indies continued in their tough luck role Sunday by dropping an 11-9 contest to Mio. The Indies matched the winner's 13 hit output, but a pair of homers proved to be the difference.

Mio opened with a pair of runs in the first inning but the locals came back with three runs on two hits. Tawas City continued to build up a lead, scoring one run in the third and one in the fourth.

Mio erupted for seven runs in the fifth inning, capped by the first of two home runs during the day by Duesseau. Two walks and five hits accounted for the runs. The Mio team added one run in the top of the seventh inning on another homer by Duesseau.

Trailing 10-5, the Indies scored a pair of runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, but Mio countered with another run in the eighth on only one hit.

Tawas City rallied in the ninth inning to score two runs on two hits, but fell two runs short of tying the game.

Ron Leslie went the distance for the losers and was nicked for 13 hits, gave up four walks and struck out eight batters. The Tawas City team had two errors.

Whaley started for Mio and was relieved by Boucher and Wyckoff. Included in Tawas City's 13 hits were two doubles by Lee Bielby and one by Leslie. Five players had two hits each.

Action this Sunday, closing out the schedule, finds Mikado at Tawas City.

MR. AND MRS. TERRY FRANK

Frank-Roport Marriage at Emanuel Lutheran Church

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli formed a floral background in Emanuel Lutheran Church, Tawas City, Saturday, August 3, for the marriage of Miss Nan Roport and SFP3 Terry Frank. The Rev. James F. Rockhoff officiated at the 7 o'clock, double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roport of Tawas City. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Frank, also of Tawas City, are parents of the bridegroom.

On Pins and Needles HINTS FOR TEENAGERS

... From your Sewing Editor

THE NEW OLD-FASHIONED GIRL

What is the secret of grandmother's trunk? You may find this season's best fashion advice hidden inside. Two generations ago, pretty young ladies doted on ruffles, soft fabrics, pale colors, ringlets, pulled-in waists and long skirts. These two gingham frocks (Simplicity 7791) are a 1968 revival and grandmother knows what they are all about.

Embroidered eyelet edging rims the neckline in a double ruffle and reappears in a froth at the wrists of set-in sleeves. The bodice is subtly shaped by diagonal and horizontal bust darts. A wide, soft belt holds in the waist. Emalie likes the new mid length, while Abigail prefers the regular afternoon length.

The Hourglass Reshaped
The flourishes remain, but Victorian fashion decorum has been relaxed. A gentle, natural shape replaces the hourglass figure. Instead of fitting herself to the dress by means of a tightly laced corset, the swinging romanticist learns how to fit a dress to her own natural in and out lines.

Dress Fitting Etiquette
Fitting a dress while sewing is a simple procedure if you first check the pattern measurements against your own and make the major alterations on the pattern before cutting. The second round of fitting is done after the darts and shoulder seams are stitched. The remaining seams are basted. It is difficult for a beginner to fit herself, so ask a friend to help. Try on the garment right side out, wearing the same type of undergarments and shoes which you will wear with the finished dress.

Your objective is to look, feel and move comfortably in a dress. Do not overfit. The bustline should be kept easy. The new waistline should have a snug, but not tight, fit. Smooth is the way to look and feel in the waist-to-hip area. Can you bend and sit without strain? Adjustments in these areas can be made at the basted seams. Where corrections are needed, remove stitches and mark with pins. Transfer correction marks to the inside with pins or chalk and rebaste seams. You may want to try the garment on again and check your alterations before the final stitching.

Make a Cummerbund
The smallest possible waist is made more wasplike with a cummerbund belt. It finishes the fine fit of this neo-romantic confection or changes the shape of other dresses in your wardrobe. Send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the sewing editor of this newspaper for your free leaflet on how to make a cummerbund.

Grant Pay Hike to Tawas City Garbage Collector

A $10 per week pay increase was granted to James Quarters for garbage collection at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council.

In addition to taking action on this request, the council is to review a letter from Quarters which outlined numerous problems being encountered with weekly pickups.

It was stated that numerous residents are abusing collection privileges by not providing disposal cans, contrary to city regulations, and that driveways were blocked by vehicles and the city contractor was unable to make pickups.

The council approved the salary increase because of the added mileage caused by moving the sanitary land fill disposal to a new area.

In other business, the council tabled a request from Police Chief George Westcott for the addition of a full-time patrolman. The council had authorized part-time hiring at its last meeting. The request is to be reviewed at a later date.

Jerry Cotter was named to the planning commission to replace the vacancy of William Groff Jr.

David Wyatt was appointed to the park board to replace Vernon Pugh, who has moved from the community.

The council accepted a package insurance plan submitted by Myles Insurance Agency, upon recommendation of the council's insurance committee. The committee had studied two proposals, one being submitted by Isoco Insurance Agency.

The council authorized securing an attorney to represent the city in a justice court traffic case involving a recent car-truck collision on US-23.

PADDLING across the finish line at Oscoda Sunday are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wagner of Oscoda, who won seventh place in the amateur division. Jerry is a former marathon champion. It was the first race for his wife, who said she had a few blisters after reaching Oscoda.—Tawas Herald Photo.

AS&NW Locomotive steams up for last trip.

Last Run on the Narrow Gauge RR Out of AuSable

By JERRY WAGNER

Fifty-three years ago, the last locomotive to run on the narrow gauge track rumbled out of Oscoda and headed for Comins. Some six hours later, it arrived at its destination, never to return again. This now historic run closed an era of Michigan's lumbering history.

Though the narrow gauge is gone now, along with those wood and coal-burning Lima locomotives, the engineer on that memorable day is still with us. "Those Limas were the engines," fondly reminisced Frank Hebner, once an engineer for the AS&NW (AuSable and Northwestern), a logging train line from Oscoda-AuSable to Bear Lake in the Lewistown area.

"We ran with long timber—mostly white and red pine. It averaged 70 feet in length. The logs were corner to corner bound with heavy chain and the flat cars that hauled them were coupled with seven-inch by seven-inch timbers, 10 feet long. We called these timber roosters. They had one drop pinhole along with three eight-inch bolts driven through them from the side to connect the cars.

"Eighteen log cars made up our average train and six tons of coal bought it, I worked for it, too. Beside taking the last narrow gauge run, I also took the first locomotive over the new standard track the D&M put down. When I got to Comins on the last narrow gauge run, they started ripping up track behind me. In less than a month, the new track was down and I was on it.

"We never punched clocks. Twelve hours was a day's work. You were lucky, though, if your working day didn't turn into 20 for you got out and made your own repairs when you broke down on a run. When I was a fireman and brakeman, it paid 17½ cents an hour. As an engineer, I received 25 cents an hour. It was good wages and we were paid once a month.

"Railroad men were rugged and I knew them all. I knew most of the boys in the woods, too. The pine was it—this was the magnet that drew us. The big timber grew so straight and thick it blotted out the sun. And when it was cut, the logs were hauled to the tracks on big-wheeled drays pulled by heavy draft horses, then cross-haul loaded onto the log cars. The loading crew numbered the best of cuthook men and the big teams used to load the flat cars were the smartest of all working horses.

"A conductor, a fireman and a brakeman made up my crew and when we rumbled along over the narrow gauge, the Bissonette farm was our most familiar landmark. Cows were hastily routed from beds in the snow when the children heard us coming and the children would sit in the warm beds and wave energetically to us as we thundered by. Many a time, the crew ate at this farm, enjoying John Bissonette's fine hospitality as well as Mrs. Bissonette's excellent cooking.

On farther, closer to Thompson Station, Dick Curtiss often stood in the dead of winter, always with the front of his shirt open, and as we passed he would drop snow down his open shirt as he laughed and waved greetings to us.

"In the autumn and early winter, we toled deer into Oscoda and AuSable for the hunters and on every run, beside the normal supplies we gladly picked up in the village for the scattered homesteaders along the line, we forever had errands to perform for someone.

"When we had a day off, the company would give us an engine and coach and we would take off fishing. Harry Parks was general superintendent and sometimes he went, too.

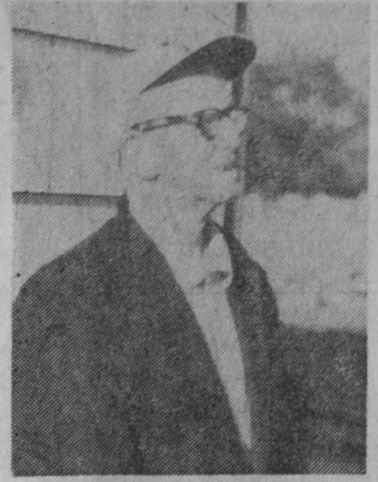

"They were all God-fearing, good people and though he wasn't a railroad man, I knew T. F. Thompson well. He was the strongest man I ever knew. Many times, I've seen him wrap his big hand around a raw potato and crush it. My dad and I stayed at T. F.'s farm for a whole week 76 years ago and hunted deer with him and his crew.

"On the day of the big fire (Oscoda-AuSable 1911), someone phoned Joe Solomon's store at Glennie. I was there backing up a Brook's Model six-wheeler to connect a train of logs. The fire was reported to be severe. I hastily made up my train—18 long timber cars, a coach and a baggage car and headed for Oscoda. We took on water at Bryant and poured coal to her. Just west of the Seven Mile Hill (north of the river, approximately seven miles from Oscoda) we commenced running in heavy smoke and wind-wafted ash from the burning villages. I knew then the call to Glennie had not been exaggerated. Immediately, I switched the log cars onto a side spur at the hill and came on in pulling the coach and baggage car. The day was dark as thick smoke obscured the sun.

"My eyes and nostrils smarted from it and as I drew closer the fire swirled over the track and rushed in behind me in the wake of the big engine. The engine and I quickly became unbearably hot, inside the cab and over its outside surface, forcing me to abandon it, the coach and baggage car right on the main line by the race track in AuSable. I ran into the bayou and crossed it, heading for home and my family. Forty-five minutes later, my home was a pile of ashes. The wind was fierce, the heat suffocating and the smoke-laden sky was filled with spinning, burning wood shingles. People ran to Lake Huron and stood in the water."

Frank Hebner tapped a fresh bowl of tobacco into his pipe and stared off momentarily into the distance, then he continued: "Things were never quite the same after the fire. The pine had been going for some time, but the destruction of Oscoda and AuSable did seal the doom of the narrow gauge much sooner. We had good times in the heyday of the narrow gauge. And thinking back on them now, I realize how good they were."

would get us from Oscoda to Bear Lake and back to Oscoda if the grades were throttled properly. We had two coal supply docks along the main line and at least one coal car on some short spur just in case we ran low."

Frank Hebner is in his 90th year now and remembers it all as if it were yesterday. Born in Sanilac County November 18, 1878, Mr. Hebner came to Tawas City with his parents when he was seven years old. One sister was born here. "My dad was a sawyer and also a filer. He worked at Prescott's Mill and at the hardwood mill. I worked there, too, and I went to school at one time or other in both the Tawasess.

"At 17, I started for the AS&NW as a watchman. I soon fired engines, became a conductor, then a brakeman. After that, I broke in as an engineer. I worked 20 years for this line and when the D&M

Load of logs near Glennie.

The $1,800 will go to the Michigan Dental Service Corporation which will be contracted to administer an $18,000 dental program.
 Mr. McCormack stated, "In addition to the $18,000 dental program, $6,264 was approved to train 10 homemaker-home-health aides plus $3,600 to provide a family counselor in the Seven CAP area on a full time basis." Seven CAP serves Arenac, Ogemaw, Oscoda and Iosco Counties.
 The $18,000 dental program guidelines will be set up by a joint committee of social services, health department and Seven CAP staff members. The homemaker-home-health aide program will train 10 women who will be able to go into homes and help people during the convalescent period.

 FIRE-SCOURGE OF THE FOREST!

 Millions of acres of timber destroyed every year—
 by carelessness!

HURON NATIONAL FOREST
 BY LOREN S. WOERPEL
 Tawas Ranger District
 I wonder if "these boots are made for walkin'." When was the last time you stopped the car out in the forest and walked?
 During July, some 18,000 vehicles passed over our traffic counter on the Monument Road. At an average of five people per vehicle, this means some 90,000 people passed that way. Do you think 100, maybe 200 people spent an hour walking in the woods? I wonder?
 When you think of hiking, the mind conjures up grandiose vistas of the mountain country or vast uninhabited wilderness. But take it from your friendly local foresters, we have a lot of interesting walking space right here.
 To be sure, our area here is different than most national forests. Our county is highly developed for a forest area. Roads usually can be crossed every mile or often sooner. Lots of people are around. It sure isn't wilderness, but it is a living, breathing, interesting forest. With only a little practice, with your feet on the ground, you can have some exciting experiences.
 When you walk in the forest, it's much different than when you watch it through the car window. Looking at the scenery from the car is like looking at a Rembrandt from 100 feet. Looking at it from afoot is like seeing every brush stroke of the old master.
 Without exaggeration, out of the 113,000 acres of national forest land on this district, I can recommend at least 100,000 acres for walking in. There are so many things to see, to learn, to interpret, to become one within your wanderings.
 How does a novice walker get started? The first trick is to gain confidence—you can walk in the woods without getting lost.
 If your boy scout or girl scout training is fuzzy, try this to get started. While driving the forest, spot an old logging trail or any rut trail leading into the forest. Park your car safely. Take off on the trail, taking with you four or five colored pieces of cardboard discs and some regular straight pins. Mom uses for sewing. When the trail forks, decide which fork you want to take. Pin the colored disc to a tree and mark the trail you will be returning on. When you have gone as far as you want to, taking the discs off the trees as you leave.

 After you have gained confidence that you can walk the woods and find your way back, you will want to graduate to a compass and map. Soon you will be adding to your pack binoculars, guide books to trees, plants, animals and others.
 To learn even more, visit the same spots during all four seasons. If you visit the woods only during the fall hunting season, you are missing an education. You are missing the spring and summer flowers, the lush growth of many perennial plants, the difference of animal and bird movements, the nesting season for birds, the insects of spring and summer, the hush quiet or blistering wind of winter and many other changes in this dynamic forest.

Need Foster Homes for Iosco Children

Some of the children of Iosco County have a continuing need for homes with people who have the patience and understanding to help young people with problems.
 These boys and girls are from broken homes, neglect situations or homes where parents and children cannot get along. The warmth and fairness of the foster parent is often the most important approach. These teen-agers are unsure of the real concern for them. They will test the foster parent in puzzling ways before accepting them. When the close relationship is finally reached, it can be a most rewarding experience.
 Social workers counsel with foster parents regularly. Foster care payments cover medical, board and care, clothing and personal allowance. Interested individuals should contact Edward Burgess, director of Iosco Department of Social Services, Box 746, Tawas City. Phone 362-4449.

Let Them Eat . . . Pudding!

Puddings, one of today's most enjoyable desserts, didn't start out that way. Historically puddings, tasting like porridge, were all-purpose meals for the poor. When Marie Antoinette suggested, "Let them eat cake," they were probably eating pudding. A good cook was known as a "pudding wife," the stomach was called a "pudding house."

He Stuck In His Thumb . . .

Plum pudding first appeared in England in 1675 and began the trend for sweet pudding desserts. Only a few recipes were known until 1866, when Thomas J. Murrey wrote "Puddings and Dainty Desserts," which contained 33 varieties.

Fun With Today's Prepared Puddings

Today's "pudding wife," starting with prepared mixes, can cook or stir up more puddings than Thomas J. Murrey ever dreamed possible. Pudding mixes can also be used to add rich flavor and texture to pie fillings, cakes, souffles, mousses, frosting, trifles and even floating island desserts.

The whole family can have fun with puddings, choosing favorite flavors such as chocolate nut, butterscotch or mocha. They're smoothies! For a party the home economists at My-T-Fine suggest alternating slightly cooled layers of continental chocolate and vanilla pudding in parfait glasses. Top each dessert with whipped cream and chocolate shavings.

Today prepared puddings are fail-safe, delicious desserts that cunningly help children consume daily milk quotas. Stock a variety of flavors and prepare a different dessert each time by consulting the package panel for new recipe ideas.
