

Steering Committee Named

Plan Tawas Hospital Expansion

Fifteen years ago, board of directors of Tawas Hospital announced that guided tours were being arranged for interested groups at the then nearly completed hospital facility on M-55.

Today, the board of directors announce selection of a steering committee to start long range planning for some type of an expansion of the hospital, to include modernization of the facility opened originally in 1953.

M. Jerry Norwood, hospital administrator, said that the 38-bed hospital had been operating at capacity for a number of years and that patients had "overflowed" in the corridors about 50 percent of the time. "One night last week, we had five patients in beds temporarily located in the corridors," said Norwood. "The staff does its very best to give these patients the same high quality care as received by patients in rooms, but it must be admitted that those in the corridors have very little privacy."

Much work and planning in many areas must go into this project to determine needs of the community in the care of the acutely ill. The area has grown considerably in the past 15 years, but hospital facilities remained the same.

"We all agree that the need for an expansion is now," said Norwood. "However, there are a lot of obstacles which must be overcome—money being a major one."

"Then, of course, all construction must meet current federal and state codes and be approved by the Michigan Planning Board for Hospital Construction and Expansion. These are only a few of the areas that must be evaluated and finalized before actual construction can begin," said Norwood.

At the present time, the board of directors is not sure as to the amount of expansion that can be procured, but it is hoped to be able to include several more bed areas, a new X-ray department, new emergency facilities and other areas to support actual patient care.

In recent months, there has been considerable rearrangement of offices to provide better utilization of existing quarters, as well as to make better use of existing storage areas.

"While I have been associated with the hospital for a little less than a year, it is probably difficult for many local residents to believe that 15 years have passed since the hospital opened its doors—before construction was actually completed—to administer care for victims of the tornado which struck this area.

"The hospital has been maintained beautifully during those years, but it is only natural that now we must face the fact that some major equipment must be replaced through normal usage and other replacements must be made in order to keep stride with modern advances in various fields of hospital technology," said Norwood.

Members of the steering committee which will investigate proposed expansion include John Hoshbach, H. Read Smith, J. Richard Ernst, James Campbell, Clarence Everett, Dr. Raymond Sutton (hospital chief of staff), Phyllis Langley (head nurse) and Norwood.

Annual Perchville Festival Starts Friday

Two days of activities are planned for the annual Perchville Festival to be held this week-end, Friday night through Sunday.

The program gets under way with a stag fish fry Friday, February 23, 6:30 p. m., at the Holland Hotel.

Program Saturday, February 24, includes snowmobile events at Tawas Golf and Country Club, Gordon Creek and on Tawas Bay. The program opens with a flag raising at the Michigan Waterways Commission dock, East Tawas, 11:00 a. m.

Other activities Saturday include square dancing, children acts, a polar bear swim, a banquet at the Barnes Hotel and dance for youngsters.

Snowmobile contests are to continue Sunday, February 25, along with sawing, rope pulling and rowing contests on Tawas Bay. There will be a demolition derby, a polar bear swim and drawing for prizes.

Airplane demonstrations and helicopter rides will be staged throughout the two days.

Highlight of the festival will come Saturday afternoon when a Perchville queen is chosen on the ice. Bob Reynolds, WJR sports announcer, is to broadcast his weekly program from the area that evening.

Harry McElyea, Flint, will be making his third annual appearance here for dips in Tawas Bay, scheduled at 3:00 p. m. on Saturday and Sunday. Dry towels will be furnished to other volunteers.

Wayne Freiberg is Perchville chairman for the Tawas Chamber of Commerce. Final plans were outlined at a special meeting Monday night.

While snow conditions are unfavorable for the festivities, Tawas Bay has an excellent shelf of ice. "All that is needed now is for the perch to cooperate this week-end and everyone attending should have a good time," states Gar Bassett, chamber president.

Mrs. Adams Heads Easter Seal Drive

Grace Adams, treasurer of Hale Health Council, heads the 1968 Easter Seal campaign to aid crippled children and adults.

This annual appeal is voluntary and one-half of funds collected remains in Iosco County.

During 1967, several services were rendered to this program by the Hale Health Council. New purchases and repairs to old equipment were made for the loan closet. An emergency fund is always kept in reserve.

March 4 is the date set for preparing appeal letters and volunteers are to meet at the American Legion Hall, Hale, 9:00 a. m. Anyone who can stay all day may bring a sack lunch. Beverages will be furnished.

"Everyone is welcome to help in this important appeal," said Mrs. Adams.

Stephan Named 2nd Ward Candidate in Place of J. Hoshbach

Slightly more than 200 persons went to the polls in Tawas City's primary election Monday to name party candidates for the spring election next April.

Most voter interest centered on the Second Ward, where Clement Stephan won the nomination for supervisor over John Hoshbach, incumbent, 79-37.

Both men are veteran members of the board of supervisors and Stephan presently represents the First Ward. Last fall, the entire city was reapportioned and Stephan's residence was included in one block of the First Ward which was transferred to the Second Ward to equalize voting numbers in all wards.

Ironically, the Michigan Supreme Court upheld a lower court decision Monday which ruled that the one-man, one-vote theory does not apply to county or municipal government.

Another race in the Second Ward saw veteran councilman, Clyde Evril, defeating his opponent, Frank Roti, 66-49.

Ben Brewer, Consumers Power Company sales representative, won out over Dr. E. B. Cavell Jr., for First Ward alderman, 23-19. This ward has the only race listed for next spring, unless there are sticker candidates. Martin Wellna, who received 36 votes as a Republican candidate, will oppose Daniel Ulrich, elected without opposition on the Democratic side of the ballot.

Unopposed in the Third Ward were C. S. Everett, supervisor, 35 votes, and Howard Hatten, alderman, 37 votes.

Votes by wards for the three officers unopposed were: Russell A. Rollin Sr., mayor, 38 votes in the First Ward, 102 in the Second Ward and 39 in the Third Ward; Walter Nelson, clerk, received 36 votes in the First Ward, 102 in the Second Ward and 38 in the Third Ward; Ruth Albertson, treasurer, received 37 votes in the First Ward, 104 in the Second Ward and 37 in the Third Ward.

There were four spoiled ballots in the First Ward, three spoiled and three blank ballots in the Third Ward.

Phosphate Removal Would Up ET Sewer Construction Cost

Authorizing its engineering consultant to prepare a cost study and preliminary plans, East Tawas Council took the first step Monday night toward eventual compliance with a water resources commission resolution requiring all dischargers of waste into lakes and streams to provide removal of phosphorus compounds.

Contractors are presently constructing a new waste disposal plant at East Tawas and Spicer Engineering Company, Saginaw, was directed to prepare engineering for this addition to the new facilities.

Because of the relative newness of this type of phosphate removal, no estimated cost could be given. However, it is believed that the installation would cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Representatives of the engineering firm and water resources commission told councilmen Monday night that an additional settling basin and equipment to add chemicals to sewage would be required.

Actual construction on the waste treatment plant was to start in six to eight weeks. This portion of the contract is to be delayed until additional engineering is received.

It was stated that the chemical treatment of waste water would remove between 75 and 80 percent of the phosphorus compounds.

Several councilmen expressed the opinion that the process seemed to be rather new for such an expenditure of money and wondered why this new provision was not made known last fall when engineering could have been incorporated into plans at a savings of time and money.

It was stated that engineering could be obtained now and necessary changes made to the present plan to allow construction at a future date, should funds not be immediately available.

According to the water resources commission resolution, full compliance with the phosphorus removal requirement will be expected of all dischargers of waste into lakes and streams by June 1, 1977. This would also apply to the City of Tawas City's waste water treatment plant.

Nutrients released into water are a contributing factor to an accelerated rate of aging of inland lakes and streams, including the Great Lakes, as evidenced by growth of aquatic weeds and algae.

While several Michigan communities have used similar treatment for a number of years, new technology developed for the process was utilized for the first time last summer at Grayling's waste water treatment plant.

Bloodbank officials hope to see a crowd like this at collection centers next week.

Bloodmobile Visiting County Next Monday and Tuesday

First 1968 visits of the American Red Cross bloodmobile to Iosco County will take place next week at Oscoda and East Tawas.

Combined goal of the two visits—February 26 at Oscoda and February 27 at East Tawas—is 300 pints of blood. If the goal is reached—and Iosco's future participation in the blood bank may be at stake—it would be 200 pints more than collected during the last visit.

Administration of the two bloodmobile collection centers has been reorganized under the Iosco County Unit of the American Red Cross. Mrs. David A. Fellows, Oscoda, is county chairman and Mrs. Ernest W. Jordan Jr. has charge of the collection center at East Tawas.

All indications are that the blood donor program here has been revitalized following a recent meeting between representatives of the regional center, the local organization and representatives from 17 groups in Iosco County. This county has been a member of the American Red Cross blood bank program since 1960 and immediate members of any Iosco County family may obtain blood anywhere they may be when it is needed, free of charge except for a minimum classification fee.

During the past year, Tawas Hospital had 351 pints of whole blood available for use, used 211 pints, cross-matched 305 pints. The hospital needs more blood, according to M. Jerry Norwood, hospital administrator, as quantity figures do not include the many blood derivatives used for life saving measures.

"By participating in the regional blood program, the hospital does not charge for blood," said Norwood. "It does, however, have to charge a small service fee for processing, handling and storage."

"If it were not a participating hospital, a pint of blood would cost the patient in excess of $50 per pint, plus this charge. The Medi-care in-patient hospital benefits do not include the first three pints of (See BLOOD, page 6.)

Tawas City Park Expansion Has Excellent Chance for Federal Funds

Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Michigan Department of Conservation, has notified the City of Tawas City that its application for land and water funds for expansion of the city park has an excellent chance for approval.

In a letter to the city read at Monday night's council meeting, the department said that the city's application had been assigned a number. Additional information was requested concerning possibility of power line removal in the park and fixing responsibility for maintenance.

The department said that between three and six months would be required for processing the application before final approval. In other business, a request from the cemetery board in regard to blacktopping First Street to the rear of the medical care facility was turned over to the street committee for investigation.

The board hopes to see the city blacktop the road to the cemetery entrance as a dust problem exists during most of the year.

A petition was presented by Roy DePotty and Charles Katterman seeking installation of a storm sewer on First Street from Fifth Avenue to the river. The petition was signed by residents of that neighborhood.

Senator Lockwood Scheduled as GOP Lincoln Day Speaker

State Sen. Emil Lockwood, St. Louis Republican and senate majority leader, will be principal speaker at the Lincoln Day banquet Thursday, February 29, to be held at Zion Lutheran Church, Tawas City.

Sponsored by the Iosco County Republican Committee, the dinner is to start at 6:30 p. m. Reservations may be made by telephoning 362-2021, 362-3087 or 739-8121.

Lockwood, 46, when first sworn in as state senator from the 25th District on January 1, 1963, was the first freshman senator in state history to be appointed to both the appropriations and taxations committees.

Re-elected for the term of 1965 and 1966, he was elected by his Republican colleagues as minority leader, even though he had served only two years in the senate.

Lockwood was re-elected for his present four-year term ending in 1970 and was unanimously elected leader of the senate Republicans, this time as majority leader as Republicans had gained control of the senate in the 1966 election.

During the closing days of the 1967 session, he was praised for his "statesmanship, impartiality and true qualities of leadership" in a resolution sponsored by colleagues of both parties.

He received a bachelor degree in economics at the University of Michigan in 1941 and, after serving in the navy during World War II, returned to earn a master degree in business administration in 1947.

As a navy lieutenant, he served in the amphibious forces. He was on an LST and participated in nine major invasions in the Pacific theater.

He is a certified public accountant and has licenses in real estate and insurance. He is a member of the Michigan Association of CPA's and the American Institute of Accountants.

Among many honors he has received were awards from the Michigan Hospital Association for "distinguished service" in 1964; Michigan Agricultural Conference "award of merit" in 1966; Michigan Department of the American Legion for "outstanding service to the nation" in 1966; the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce for his "outstanding contribution to our community as a civic leader, professional accountant, friend and neighbor" in 1967, and the Michigan Optometric Association for "unselfish dedication to service" in 1967.

Senator Lockwood is married to the former Mariella Coffee of Tecumseh. There are three children, Eric, Lori and Lorette.

He is a member of the Episcopal Church, Elks Club, Saginaw Club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion and Gratiot Country Club. He is a former county supervisor.

New Group to Study Possible Tawas Merger

A 10-man fact finding committee was appointed Monday night by Tawas Chamber of Commerce to investigate community feeling concerning possible merger of the Tawas.

In announcing his appointments, Gar Bassett, chamber president, said that the action came as the result of the organization's "cracker barrel" session last Wednesday night.

"A lengthy discussion resulted when those attending learned that petitions now in the hands of the Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation, asking for a vote on the proposed merger, had been tabled without further action," said Bassett.

At a meeting two weeks ago of the IDC, members decided to drop the matter of a merger, for the time being.

"It is not the intention of this new committee to push a merger vote," said President Bassett. "We are interested in learning if residents of Tawas City and East Tawas want to join these two communities into one."

He said that information compiled by the committee would be presented to the appropriate organizations, where action would be taken if desired.

Harris Barkman and Neal Miller were named co-chairmen, along with the following members: Allen Schultz, Theodore Moe, Howard Hatten, Walter Champion, Richard Harwood, Donald Eklund, Carl Babcock Jr. and Arthur Ziehl.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Romans 15:1-7

Receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God. (Romans 15:7)

Come ride with me. I am on my way to our church in a state hospital where I am chaplain.

In our church, we are all brothers and sisters regardless of age, color, race, wealth or character. We all have some physical, social and spiritual traits in common. We react to the feelings, thoughts and deeds of others in about the same manner. We respond to acts of love with kindness and consideration, and to deeds of hate with righteous indignation.

As I accept these people as my brothers and sisters, I find myself in a privileged group with special opportunities and responsibilities. To be a member of this church, I must relate myself in patience to those who are weaker and slower than I, to those my equals with consideration and kindness, and to those stronger and faster than I with tolerance and understanding.

This is the door open to me, through which I may enter and become one in spirit with each individual in the church and accept a place in the growing brotherhood of man.

PRAYER

Dear Father, be with us on our journey to happy relationships with other persons. Guide us that we may reach the end of our journey in a way well pleasing to Thee. In the spirit of Jesus Christ, our Savior and Master. Amen.

While there is still some ray of hope that a major pulpwood purchaser in the Detroit area will continue as a market for Iosco's wood products, the picture Monday was still not encouraging and a loss to the economy may result.
 Last week, it was reported by Loren Woerpel, Tawas District ranger for the United States Forest Service, that a major user of wood produced by AuSable Forest Products Association had been compelled to shut off contracts with local purchasers as of this spring.
 The firm lacked adequate space to construct a new waste disposal system necessary to eliminate water pollution and has resorted to purchase of wood pulp in a different form.
 Because of an accident Friday, in which huge unloading equipment at the mill toppled into the Detroit River, shipments from the local area were stopped. Contracts with this area are to be honored and shipments are to resume once corrections are made at the mill, stated V. B. Schultz, manager of the forest cooperative.
 Another factor in Iosco's problem is the current depression in the pulpwood market, as well as the point made last week by Woerpel that mills were rapidly converting to the use of aspen and dense hardwoods, rather than to use jack pine from this area.

"This area will be used as a fill-in woodshed unless something breaks in the market," Woerpel told TAP members Monday. "Mills are going to utilize the cheapest wood they can get."
 County Agent Marvin Davenport reported that during his recent visit to Arizona, he learned that a large firm which trucked vegetables to Michigan was interested in returning trucks to the Southwest loaded with products from this state and other states, in order to make a payroll in both directions.
 It had been suggested that the area study the possibility of constructing a charcoal producing plant to provide a product for sale in the Southwest. Henry Huber, extension specialist in forest products Michigan State University, pointed out Monday that there were many major producers closer to Arizona that could produce charcoal at a cheaper transportation rate than in Michigan.
 Further investigation is to be made by the TAP committee concerning the rumored location of a pulpwood mill in this section of the state.
 Other points for study include discussion with representatives of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway to determine possible methods of improved loading to reduce freight costs, possible expansion of Huron Wood Preserving's plant in Tawas City to utilize a greater amount of local wood products, possible location here of an oil pressure treating plant for production of utility poles.
 David Olson, Mio, extension natural resources agent for North-eastern Michigan, said the picture looked gloomy insofar as replacing a market for lost pulpwood sales. He believed that a utility pole industry had definite possibilities, but much study would be required to determine available private capital, source of materials and marketing.
 Only one wood preserving plant utilizing oil treatment is located in the state. Most utility poles are shipped into Michigan.

John V. Matassa Takes Cathy M. Shover as Bride

Zion Lutheran Church was the setting for the double ring ceremony Saturday, February 17, in which Cathy Marinda Shover of Tawas City became the bride of John Vincent Matassa of Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda.

The Rev. Ronald Farah officiated at the 4 o'clock rites uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shover of Tawas City and the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Malassa of New Orleans, Louisiana. Mrs. Herbert Look was vocalist, accompanied by Miss Marilyn Korthals, organist.

The bride selected a floor length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with molded bodice and bouffant skirt of tiered lace. The cathedral length, detachable shoulder train was accented with bands of lace. Her veil of bridal illusion was secured to a pearl crown with crystal accents and she carried a cascade of pink sweetheart roses with feathered chrysanthemums and ivy.

Barbara Shover, maid of honor for her sister, and Carol Rempert, bridesmaid, wore identical gowns of powder blue crepe and electric blue brocade. Their gowns were highlighted by floating wattleau panels of brocade. Bianche roses with circle veils matched their gowns and they carried arrangements of pink carnations with ivy.

For her role as flower girl, Mary Beth Wilcox of Bay City was gowned in white taffeta with lace adorning the sleeves and hemline. She carried a miniature cascade of pink and white carnations with ivy.

Serving as best man was Jerry Lybrand of Wurtsmith. Daniel McCullough, also of Wurtsmith, was groomsmen. Donald Shover, brother of the bride, and William Katterman of Tawas City were ushers. Ringbearer was David Beeek of Midland.

Bride and white decorations were used at the East Tawas Community Building where the reception was held. Out-of-town guests were from New Orleans, Carlisle, Ohio; Albert Lea, Minnesota; Bay City, Essequville, Sanford, Midland, and Beaverton.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Shover was attired in a bitter-sweet knit ensemble with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige suit. Their corsages were yellow roses.

The newlyweds will reside at Oscoda following a two-week trip to New Orleans for the Mardi gras.

The bride was honored with a personal and two miscellaneous showers. Hosting the affairs were Miss Shover, Miss Rempert and Debra Katterman; Mrs. Look, Mrs. J. J. Katterman, Mrs. Marvin Warner, Mrs. Merlin Look and Mrs. Edward Anschutz; Mrs. Edward Bedell, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Charles H. Wilcox Sr., her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Muterspaugh of Rosebush announce the engagement of their daughter, Avis Ann, to Charles E. Crowley of East Tawas, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Crowley of Mt. Pleasant. Miss Muterspaugh will be graduated from Central Michigan University in June.

An August wedding is planned.

IOSCO COUNTY'S two blood centers will be visited next week by the American Red Cross bloodmobile.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Blood

blood needed in a spell of illness. "This could mean that our senior citizens would have to pay for the first pint of blood, plus the second and third pints, if necessary, for blood transfusions. They would have to pay from $50 to $150 from their own funds. This could be disastrous to their financial situation. A senior citizen or any other person does not pay this at the present time—let us keep it this way," said Norwood.

Another aspect of this campaign may donate blood to be transferred to another area to save the life of a loved one.

All donors who do not pass the usual test are being retested by a new method. So far, it has been found that about half the donors rejected by the usual test will pass the new test.

"Our county has fallen short of its percentage quota in past blood drives," said Norwood. "It is imperative that we, as citizens, correct the situation and fulfill our responsibilities. We could be the next person to need blood—and fast! We could lose our privilege to participate in the program unless we give."

Anyone needing transportation to the donor center may call "Tawas Hospital, Forest 2-3411, and transportation will be provided.

Cooperating in the program are Kiwanis Clubs of Tawas and Oscoda as well as Key Club and Keyettes of schools from the two communities.

The collection center at the East Tawas Community Building is to be open from 1:00 to 7:00 p. m.

3 Auto Negligence Suits Filed in Iosco Circuit Court

Three auto negligence suits were filed this week in Iosco Circuit Court asking damages totaling $100,000.

Genevieve Birdsey seeks damages of $35,000 against Lile Launstein and Beverly Launstein. This suit involves an auto accident February 11, 1965, Oscoda.

The plaintiff's petition claims gross negligence against the defendants. The Birdsey vehicle was headed north on US-23, was in the process of making a left hand turn and was struck in the rear and side by a vehicle driven by Beverly Launstein.

The petition claims that the plaintiff received whip lash injuries to the neck.

The two other suits were filed by Thomas and Anna Krzyzanowski against Mary Almy, National City, concerning an accident October 19-66 at the Greenwood Road intersection with M-33, Ogemaw County.

Anna Krzyzanowski is administrator of the estate of Sophie Stecco, who was killed in the crash and damages of $25,000 are sought. Thomas Krzyzanowski, driver of the car, seeks damages of $40,000.

Phosphate

sentative stated that the addition to phosphate removal to the waste water treatment plant would cost between $3.50 and $4 per person per year, although he emphasized that very little phosphate testing had been done and the process was new.

It was also stated that it could be expected that the state would require full secondary treatment of waste water at some future time.

Cardinal Girls Won Two Games

Whittemore-Prescott girls team won two more games to extend their record to four wins and three losses for the season with one more game to go.

The Cardinal girls defeated Houghton Lake, 42-12, and then edged Alcona, 38-31.

The Houghton Lake contest was not much of a contest, this being the first year in girls basketball for the Lakers. Eight Cards hit the scoring column, led by Marlene Girard's 11 points. Houghton Lake managed only one field goal and eight charity tosses.

Alcona held the lead early in the game, but the Cards started hitting in the second quarter to take over the lead at halftime, 19-13. The host team cut this edge to two points in the third quarter but the Cards were sharp in the last quarter to bring home the victory.

Brenda Britt and Cindy Erickson shared top scoring honors with 10 points, followed by Girard with nine.

Braves Win NBC Crown; Win Streak Stopped at 12

Thirteen proved to be an unlucky number for the Tawas Area Braves. After nailing down the NBC championship Tuesday night by defeating Oscoda for their 12th straight victory, the Braves' winning skein finally came to a halt at Standish-Sterling.

The upset-minded Panthers, holding second place in the conference and urged on by a delighted partisan following, turned in a superb defensive game to stop the McIntoshmen, 66-54.

Outcome of the contest will have no effect on Tawas' final standing at the top of the NBC ladder, but it did clear the air for a possible rematch between these two teams—depending upon the luck of the draw—in the district tournament the second week in March at Tawas Area Auditorium.

Without taking one bit of credit away from the Panthers performance, the Braves were unable to turn in their usual smooth-working attack. And, since defeat of the NBC Tawas has won only one game in a regular season on the Central court.

"It was just too much to expect our kids to reach the same emotional pitch as in the Oscoda game," said Coach Bill McIntosh. "We wanted to win, but we ran up against a well-balanced and well-coached team that makes few mistakes. There are only eight teams still undefeated in the state and the loss did take a lot of pressure off of us."

The Panthers jumped off to a nine-point lead in the first quarter, 17-8, but it was their defensive play which turned the tide against Tawas. Time after time, big Jack Allen of Standish-Sterling blocked shots at the Tawas basket before fouling out in the fourth quarter. Bishop was also a key factor in the Panther defense as he blanked Dale Koepke, high-scoring Brave, who meshed but two baskets and two charity tosses during the night.

Ron Doak drew four early fouls in the game and missed action during the middle quarters, but Tawas came to life in the second stanza to cut the lead 28-23. Dennis Krish found the range in that quarter and meshed three buckets and three charity tosses to pace the Braves.

The Braves continued to close the gap after intermission and showed an excellent passing attack in outscoring the Panthers, 18-14. Krish continued to have a hot hand with four field goals and a foul shot, while Paul Beyer flipped in three fielders. Groszek, classy Panther guard, who was limited to eight points in the first half by an aggressive guarding performance by Howard Rollin, finally began to drive through the Tawas defense with effective screening by Gale and meshed 10 points on four buckets and two charity tosses.

Down one point going into the fourth quarter, 42-41, the Braves battled back and finally took a four-point lead with about five minutes remaining in the game. The Braves missed a couple of key shots under the basket at one point and Groszek took charge of the situation by leading his mates back into the fray.

The Panthers tied the game and the lead changed hands three times before Standish-Sterling finally salted it away with about two minutes remaining. Bishop drove for three buckets and two foul shots, while Groszek hit two fielders and six foul shots to lead the winners' attack. Groszek also proved his worth to the Panther attack by stealing the ball three times as Tawas was moving down the floor.

Just as has been the case with several close games won by Tawas this year, the final margin in this game is misleading. Down only three points, Tawas had to gain possession of the ball and, in so doing, fouled the Panthers, who proved themselves deadly at the charity line with 12 out of 17 completions in the final quarter.

Krish's 22-point performance was tops for the Braves, followed by 12 points by Beyer. Groszek topped Standish-Sterling with 28 points.

Standish-Sterling took both games during the night as the Panther Junior Varsity downed Tawas Junior Braves, 68-50.

Tawas was down by one point at the end of the first quarter, 14-13, but the Little Panthers roared far in front with margins of 20-13 in the second and 27-13 in the third. The fourth quarter saw Tawas with a one-point edge, 11-10.

Scoring for Tawas was as follows: Lickfelt, 22; Baker, 12; Sventko, six; Harsch, four; Mick, Libka and Sheldon, two points each.

Tawas traveled to Bangor last night (Tuesday), have an off night this Friday and play host to Whittemore-Prescott Tuesday, February 27. Final NBC game is scheduled March 1, when the Braves travel to Essexville.

Revenue Bonds Possible Way to Expand Industry in Area

Possible utilization of a 1967 act of the Michigan Legislature allowing municipalities to issue revenue bonds to finance industrial buildings, sites and equipment is now being studied by the Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation.

William Cochran, representing the Michigan Office of Economic Expansion, told IDC members and area leaders last Wednesday that the new revenue bond program was the most important and most effective program that could be offered to attract industry into this area.

"Michigan communities are now able to offer a no interest rate capital cost saving plan to attract industry," said Cochran.

The 1967 act, which has already been used by four communities, authorized municipalities to issue revenue bonds, funds from which are used to acquire industrial facilities for the purpose of leasing them to industrial firms.

Interest paid on bonds issued by local units of government known as municipal bonds have long been accorded exemption from federal income taxes. Therefore, the interest rate of such bonds is customarily somewhat lower than the rate commanded by bonds of equal quality marketed at the same time which are not accorded the exemption.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grabow and son, Terry; daughter, Jerry, were Lansing business visitors Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Jim Koehn stayed with the family during their absence.

Originally, such bonds were of only one type, known as "general obligation" or GO bonds, because they were secured by the issuer's pledge of its full faith, credit and taxing powers for the payment of the bond.

In the 1890s, the first revenue bond was issued by a municipality. Revenue bonds are payable only from income derived from tolls, charges or rents paid by those who use the facilities constructed with proceeds of the bonds. It is not a general obligation of the issuer and are payable only from the project income.

Use of revenue bonds for industrial development purposes grew slowly, but has since proven useful to communities not abundantly endowed with attributes usually sought by industry seeking new plant locations. Such disadvantages could be compensated by offering favorable financing to attract industry.

A plant built from proceeds of a revenue bond issue, carrying an interest rate lower than the rate normally available to a private borrower, could be leased to the industry at a rental rate reflecting lower capital cost.

Having the benefit of this lower cost, said Cochran, the industry could then afford to overlook some other higher expenses, such as unskilled labor force or higher freight rates inherent in that location.

"It is important municipal officials and others concerned with industrial development revenue bond financing recognize the necessity of a clearly established public purpose," he stated.

"It is not sufficient that the industry desires and will be benefited by a lower cost of borrowed capital. The economic welfare of the municipality must be benefited by the bond issue. Something of benefit to the community must happen, as a result of the bond issue, that would not have happened if the bonds were not issued."

The Michigan Office of Economic Expansion is not involved in any direct way with the issuance of industrial development revenue bonds. Only municipalities can issue such bonds.

Some of the steps to be followed include a determination that the industry desires to locate or expand a facility in a particular municipality, that it desires to finance the facility in this method.

The municipality determines that a good public purpose would be served by location or expansion of this facility in its area and that it is willing to consider such financing.

Cochran said that the proposed site of the facility need not be located within the corporate boundaries of the municipality but should be within a reasonable distance of the corporate limits.

The municipality then must satisfy itself that the industrial firm is financially sound, capable of operating successfully and would clearly be able to meet its financial obligations under a lease with the municipality. To accomplish this, credit ratings would be investigated and financial reports over a period of years would be studied.

Agreement would then have to be reached by the industry and municipality on design and cost of the building as well as any machinery to be included under the lease, acquisition of the site, method of construction, terms and conditions of the lease.

The legislative act provided either private or public sale of the bonds. Bonds would require approval of the Municipal Finance Commission and, since sale of bonds is dependent upon exemption from federal income tax on the bond interest, tax-exempt status must be firmly established before issuance.

Maturity date of bonds are not to be more than 40 years from the date of issuance, although final maturity date must not exceed estimated useful life of the building or average estimated useful life of machinery and equipment if its value is more than two-thirds of the total cost.

Bonds can be issued without a vote of electors, unless within 45 days of publication of a resolution of intention, a petition is signed by not less than five percent of the registered electors of the municipality and filed with the clerk requesting a referendum on the question.

Members of the IDC expressed the opinion that this financing system would be an excellent method to attract industry to this area. Plans are made to investigate more fully and to report back to community organizations at the earliest possible date.

Selecting Upholstered Furniture

Selecting upholstered furniture is a frustrating experience for most people. It is often called a "blind product" because of the many hidden inner characteristics.

Outside features give a wise shopper many hints about the frame and construction that are difficult to see.

A well-tailored upholstered piece is usually well constructed throughout. The grain of the fabric must be straight on all of the piece. Its weave and design are even and items and pleats straight if lengthwise threads are perpendicular to the base of the frame.

Welting should be smooth, straight and firmly sewn.

If there is a pattern in the fabric, it will be well-centered on cushions and the back of seats.

Cushions should fit snugly into seat corners and adjoining cushions. Their covers should fit firmly. If the cover has a zipper closing, it may or may not be designed to open. A zippered closing does not always mean the fabric is washable.

Upholstery fabrics should be strong, closely woven, comfortable to touch and have a pleasant texture. To be sure a fabric is firmly woven, pull it lengthwise and crosswise to see that threads do not shift. Scratch the fabric to see if there are threads that catch easily.

Spot and stain-resistant finishes are built-in or applied to some upholstery fabrics. Most treated fabrics are labeled with the type of soil-resistant treatment given.

Leather and vinyl plastic are used widely as upholstery covers. Handsome and durable if well tailored and given the proper care, leather is an excellent but expensive upholstery.

The many grades of vinyl plastic have interesting textures, a leather-like appearance or a "breathable" construction. Fabric-backed vinyls have greater strength and more flexible feel. "Expanded vinyl" with a thin layer of foam between the face and backing, yields extra comfort and wear.

Although it is difficult to repair once a break appears, vinyl is easily cleaned, is waterproof and fade resistant. It resists heat but will melt under excess heat.

Low grades of vinyl may tear at corners or split at seams. They also lack resistance to stains and fading and are likely to scuff, peel or crack. "Selecting—Upholstered Furniture," bulletin 503, gives more information about furniture construction and comfort. It is available at no cost from the Cooperative Extension Service Office, Federal Building, East Tawas, and the Arenac County Building, Standish. The bulletin is available at Central Office Building, West Branch.

Cold Shoulder
Do you know how the expression originated? Sizzling roast of meat were served to welcome guests years ago.

For those who overstayed their welcome, cold roast shoulder and other leftovers began to appear on the table. Of course, today's leftovers are called "planned-overs" when smart meal planners buy large cuts of meat with several meals in mind.

Bill Would Assure State Game Control

Cong. Elford A. Cederberg of Michigan's 10th Congressional District has just introduced legislation in the United States House of Representatives to preserve and protect the right of the individual states to control and manage fish and wildlife in federally-owned forests and parks pointing out that it has been the historical doctrine that the states held ownership to game, regardless of land ownership.

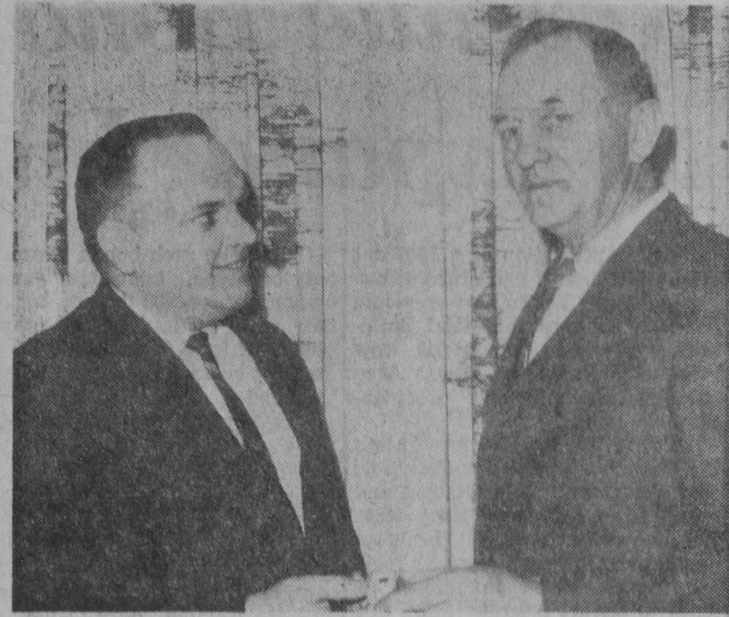

His bill was introduced to counteract a recent legal opinion issued by the Department of Interior, holding that the federal government has a right, which is superior to that of the states, to manage wildlife on federally-owned lands.

Cederberg holds that, if the federal government were to assume authority over fish and wildlife on the basis of land ownership, not only would the time honored principle of state wildlife ownership be in jeopardy, but the next step could conceivably be that every private landowner would then be entitled to do the same.

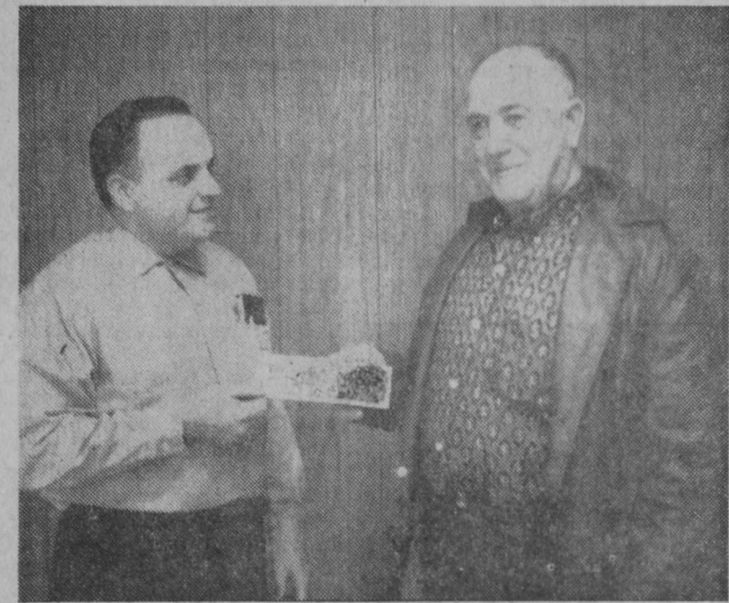

Congressman Cederberg has been joined by several other Michigan congressmen in support of the proposal which not only has the endorsement of Michigan Department of Conservation, but of most of the fish and game agencies of the other states.

Receipts from the third quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections amounted to $121,666. Cities of the county received funds as follows: East Tawas, $7,582; Tawas City, $5,478; Whittemore, $1,517.

ELGIN O'FARRELL, right, is being presented a trailblazer award for 40 years service by plant manager, R. M. Harris. O'Farrell received a tie pin with Gold Bond insignia and four diamonds. He started with National Gypsum while the plant was being constructed and has since been there. He is presently the board plant superintendent. Others receiving the trailblazer awards were Matthew Haglund, 30 years; James Charters and Lorraine Pickett, 25 years of service.

LYNN HILLIKER, shown on right, is receiving his first retirement check from plant manager, R. M. Harris. Hilliker has been with the National City plant of National Gypsum Company for over 21 years. His retirement was effective February 1.

Challenging Careers Open in State Police

Young men who want challenging careers as troopers in the Michigan State Police are advised by Sgt. George Briggs, commander of the East Tawas post, that opportunities to enlist in the department never were better.

The need for officers was occasioned by recent legislative approval for 225 more trooper positions, he said.

With this objective, specialist recruiters are intensifying their efforts to locate qualified applicants while the department plans overlapping of recruit schools to graduate as many troopers as possible by midyear.

Eligible to apply for enlistment are men, 21 to 30 years old inclusive, who are high school graduates or the equivalent, and who are American citizens at least five feet, nine inches tall, weighing at least 150 pounds with weight in proportion to height.

Sergeant Briggs said that complete details on trooper careers may be obtained at any state police post or by writing to the Michigan Civil Service Commission, Lansing.

"The pay schedule, job security, pension and many other benefits and advantages make state police careers rank with the best in the police profession," Briggs pointed out.

Trooper pay begins at a biweekly rate of $257.60, starting with recruit school, and then through automatic steps climbs to $361.60 after six years. A proposed pay raise would increase these levels to $272.88 and $383.20 if approved by the legislature. Troopers also have opportunity to take examinations for promotion which bring pay increases.

Sergeant Briggs added that uniforms and equipment are provided; other benefits are paid vacations, paid sick leave, and longevity pay after six years. Cost-shared insurance plans are available.

He noted that the state police pension plan enables an officer to retire at half pay after only 25 years of service, still young enough to start another career if he desires. The pension also protects the officer's wife.

BUTTERFLIES AND BEES... BLOSSOMS AND TREES...
 All are beautifully framed on black to create this masterpiece of a scrapbook cover! Young children and teenagers alike will be delighted with a gift of this charming design.

YOU CAN EVEN BE ORIGINAL

Once you've worked with this unique iron-on fabric you'll be able to do the most amazing things with it and before you know it, you might be turning out some sensational sketches of your own. Free instructions are available, including actual size diagrams, by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PPE 1290.

SIMPLE ARTISTRY

Working with "BON-DEX", the hot iron fabric used for the motifs, is so simple that a child could really do his own... with just a little help from you. The cover itself is formed by using two pieces of heavy cardboard covered with black cotton. The flowers and other cheerful designs are then traced from the pattern and simply ironed on to the fabric. A teenager might like having a background of striped denim... and if you're presenting the album to a very feminine little girl, pale pink or yellow might be just the thing.
