Marsh Recalls Last Log Drive on Tawas River 80 Years Ago

Next spring will be the 80th anniversary of the last log drive on the Tawas River, according to Fred W. Marsh of Meadow Road, Tawas City.

Marsh, now 85 years old, recalls that his mother took him down to the Mathews Street Bridge on the day of the drive to witness the activities.

"Probably no one at the time realized that this was the last drive, because most of the timber had long since disappeared from streams emptying into Tawas Lake," said Marsh.

He recalled that Charles Graham was contractor for cutting the timber in Wilber Township and that logs were hauled by sleigh to Tawas Lake and dumped on the ice. John Godkins was foreman of the river drive.

A small tugboat was hauled by sleigh to Tawas Lake to aid in moving logs to a boom constructed near the opening into Tawas River.

"I can recall that log drive like it was yesterday," said Marsh. "Some of the men that I can remember who worked on the logs were the two Grise brothers and Jack McCullum."

Marsh said that the Tawas River was never much of a stream for log drives because of insufficient water. The river and streams emptying into Tawas Lake were the first to see extensive timbering operations in the county.

A sluice dam was constructed on the river behind the present site of Publitz Oil Company. The dam, coupled with flood conditions, provided enough water for drives in the spring.

Marsh does not recall if the logs went to Tawas City mills or if they were sent downstream to the river mouth.

"The logs could have been cut by the Wenona Salt and Lumber Company owned by William Nisbet, or they could have been rafted and taken to C. H. Prescott and Sons' mill near the present location of the city park, or over to mills at East Tawas."

After the timber was cut in this area, Marsh recalls that the river was still filled with logs. Logs were moved here by railroad and dumped into the river.

Lumbering must have gotten into Marsh's blood at an early age. When he was 17 years old, he cut cedar for H. M. Loud Sons' company at AuSable. He then joined Alger, Smith and Company, working for their railroad logging operation in Minnesota.

Marsh drove logs on the Upper Mississippi River and the St. Croix River which forms the dividing line between Wisconsin and Minnesota.

He later served an enlistment in the United States Army's horse cavalry in the Dakotas, returned to lumbering in Minnesota and served as a captain in the army engineers in France during World War I. Large quantities of lumber were needed by the military and he had charge of lumbering operations.

Marsh, who says he "dabbles in writing," is very interested in the formation of an Isosco Historical Society, now under way. His father, Watson H. Marsh, came to Tawas City in 1873 and drove a stage coach on the line between Standish and Alpena. His uncle, Patrick Murphy, was the first supervisor of AuSable Township.

He and Mrs. Marsh make their home on the Marsh homestead just west of the city limits on Meadow Road.

Two Damage Suits Filed in Circuit Court

Two damage suits have been filed in Isosco Circuit Court seeking judgments totaling $96,000.

Mrs. Helene Fletcher, individually and as guardian of Thomas J. Fletcher, a minor, seeks a judgment of $11,000 against Alfred Daniel and Ronald L. Daniel of Sterling.

On September 2, 1966, Ronald L. Daniel was involved in an automobile collision with Fletcher, who was riding a bicycle along M-55.

Although admitting that Fletcher was negligent in riding his bicycle on the wrong side of the road, the complaint states that Daniel should have noticed that Daniel should have noticed that Fletcher had negligently placed himself in a position of peril.

The petition also claims that Daniel was negligent in failing to maintain a reasonable and proper lookout on the highway ahead, that he passed two cars without having ascertained that such passing could be completed without interfering with the safe operation of other vehicles and that he was driving at a speed greater than reasonable and proper.

Fletcher was injured when he was struck by the Daniel automobile.

The second damage suit was filed Monday by Mrs. Gwendolyn I. Starling. An employee of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, she seeks a judgment of $85,000 against the railroad.

Mrs. Starling is a stenographer at the railroad's general office building at 120 Oak Street, Tawas City. She claims that June 4, 1965, she slipped on a stairway at the office building and received severe and permanent injuries to the back, hips, legs, ribs, arms and aggravated a pre-existing back condition.

Primary Election Has Four Races in Tawas City

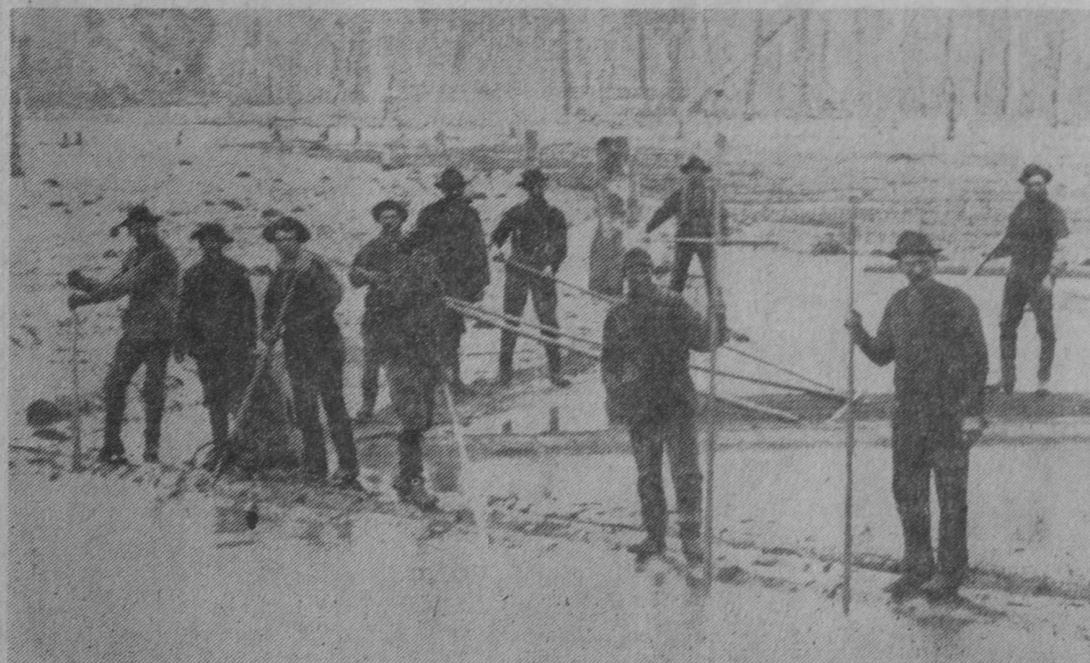

Tawas City's primary election February 19 to select city candidates will be even more interesting than was indicated last week.

One candidate for alderman, who filed a few minutes prior to deadline, was not included in last week's news story.

Martin Wellna, Republican, who was not included in last week's listing, will oppose Daniel Ulrich, incumbent Democrat, for First Ward alderman.

The election now will feature two races for supervisor posts and two races for seats on the city council.

City Clerk Walter Nelson announces that January 19 is the final day for registration. The city hall is open daily for persons desiring to register. In addition, those residents who have been transferred to the Second Ward from the First and Third Wards will be required to reregister for the primary election.

THIS PICTURE is believed to show log booming operations on Tawas Lake. A small tugboat was once used on the inland lake during spring log drives. The picture was furnished to this newspaper nearly 15 years ago.

School Valuation Up 38.91 Pct.

State Aid Formula May Prove Costly

Indications are that Tawas Area School District will receive an $11,000,000 increase in its tax base next year, according to a report of Supt. Reynold Mick, the school's financial picture may not be so "peachy" after the state's deductible millage formula is taken into consideration.

In a report to the board of education Monday night, Mick said that valuation figures provided by Isosco Tax Equalization Director Henry Oates indicated that the district would have a 1968-1969 state equalized valuation of $40,620,000, as compared to $29,240,428 for 1967-1968. This amounts to an overall increase of 38.91 percent.

Under the new figures, the school would have about $24,000 of valuation behind each child, as compared to $13,000 this year. The current figure is well above the state average.

The increase is the result of the recent equalization and reappraisal of the entire county by Gem Surveys. Figures are still unofficial until formally adopted by the Isosco Board of Supervisors.

At first glance, it might appear that the school would be rolling in money after such an increase. The exact opposite may be true, according to Mick, after the state's deductible millage formula is taken into consideration for state aid.

If the present state aid formula is used, Tawas Area would have a loss of $60,008 in state funds. However, if the school receives 11 mills in 1968-1969, as it did this year, the loss in state funds would be offset by a net increase of $65,166 in local revenue.

The stickler in the entire problem of school financing is the amount of millage to be received and the annual delay in receiving the final state aid formula. The school was allocated 8 1/2 mills for operation by the county last April and, with 2 1/2 mills of special voted taxes for operation, received a total of 11 mills for full state aid participation.

The extra voted millage for operation, along with two mills for building and site which financed construction of the new vocational training addition, expire this year.

With the present local valuation picture clouded until 1969-1969 taxes are levied and tax statements are in the hands of taxpayers, schoolmen are not too enthusiastic about asking for voted operational millage to replace that which expires this year.

And, if the past trend continues, the final state aid formula probably will require local participation of 12 mills to receive full state aid funds.

Mick told board members that much depends upon how the local valuation picture is compared to other parts of the state. If property values show a similar increase throughout the state and the state aid formula is changed accordingly, the school should not fare too badly.

Despite the financial problems it could cause under the present state aid formula, the superintendent remarked that the county reappraisal by Gem Survey was something that has been needed for many years in order to equalize taxes among all areas of the district.

One salvation may be that finances of the county, cities and townships will benefit from the increased county valuation, plus additional money to be received this year from the new state income tax. No consideration was given schools when the income tax law was adopted.

At the December meeting of the board of supervisors, discussion was heard on the possibility of a reduction in the millage necessary to meet the county's budget.

This may allow the county allocation board to give consideration to schools by allocating unused county millage for school operation, thus eliminating need for additional voted millage.

The report from the tax director's office, which does not include new construction or personal taxes, indicated the following increases on unit totals: Alabaster Township, 27.22 percent; Baldwin Township, 83.29 percent; East Tawas, 23.66 percent; Grant Township, 66.26 percent; Sherman Township, 39.98 percent; Tawas City, 20.88 percent; Tawas Township, 59.46 percent; Wilber Township, 45.60 percent; Whitney Township, which was reappraised last year by Gem Survey for Arenac County, .005 percent.

The above report is based on total increases for each unit and does not mean that each parcel of property would be increased by the percentage noted. The final valuation would actually depend upon the percentage of increase or decrease under the reappraisal of each parcel.

Leitz is retiring after 39 years with the conservation department. He was honored during a session last week at the Higgins Lake Training School.

Cars Strike Deer in Same Locality

Lightning does not strike twice in the same place, according to the old story. This apparently does not hold true for car-deer accidents.

On January 1, cars driven by Gerald L. Burd, 20, Wurtsmith Air Force Base, and Thomas E. Gallagher, 19, Alpena, struck and killed deer on US-23 in Baldwin Township. The accidents occurred three hours and 50 yards apart.

2 Drivers Hit Freight Trains; No Injuries

Drivers in two separate Tawas City crashes involving Detroit and Mackinac Railway freight trains escaped injury during the past week.

Latest crash occurred Monday morning when a tractor-trailer unit driven by Adrian G. Garner, 30, Richardsville, Kentucky, backed across the Maple Street crossing near Tawas Hospital and was struck by a freight engine operated by Alvin Kendall.

Investigating state police said that both the train and the truck were moving at a slow rate of speed. The trailer unit was scraped by the locomotive's coupler.

Mrs. Sophia Proudfoot, 1478 Klenow Road, Tawas City, escaped injury January 3, 10:15 p. m., when her stalled car was struck by a freight train at the M-55 intersection near Tawas Hospital.

Police Chief George Westcott said that Mrs. Proudfoot was returning home from work. She saw the flashing crossing lights and the train approaching but believed she had time to cross the tracks.

Her car stalled and it was struck in the left rear fender. The vehicle spun around and the front end stopped within two feet of the tracks.

Engineer Richard Novak, Alpena, applied brakes on the train, which was traveling about 15 miles per hour, but was unable to avoid the collision.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Tawas Herald

Tawas City

Reading Cora Johnson's letter about the Thompson Farm has aroused me. My grandmother's maiden name was Bearinger. Isaac Bearinger did extensive lumbering in Iosco County. His name is on the abstracts around here in 1897. He was also co-owner with Hiram Sibley on some of the property.

My mother often spoke of the Bearingers and wondered how they all lost contact.

John worked on the Thompson farm for Frank Myles, also Ralph Vessey about 1921 for one summer and two winters. They had seven horses and five head of cattle. About 15 men worked winters at lumbering. Being 21 years of age, he remembers the ram. John's sister, Mary, and husband lived there one winter after the sale. Their first baby was born there.

Florence Dooley
Hale

To the Editor:

The deep reader interest shown in the stories you have published about the Thompson farm, prompts me to write this one:

Mine is not a story about "old T. F." as his men called him behind his back, although I could write two or three told by men who knew Mr. Thompson personally; nor is it about young Tom, the first white child born in that section of the county, whom I counted as my friend. It is about Pat Powers of East Tawas, who worked for young Tom when he was lumbering the second-growth timber off the old farm at the turn of the century.

An assistant to the cook was needed that year and Laura Tompkins, an attractive young woman living on the Hemlock Road, was hired for that purpose.

Flowers have a language all their own. But the nearest greenhouse to the farm at that time was at East Tawas, 25 miles away. One day, Pat's labors took him into a big swamp on the farm. There, he found a bed of beautiful white lady's-slippers. He brought back a generous bouquet for Laura.

Some months afterwards, Pat and Laura were married and they went out to the State of Washington to live.

Forty years later, they returned to Michigan for a vacation. They visited old friends and old haunts, among them the Thompson farm. Pat remembered the swamp, and just where he had found them 40 years earlier was a bed of white lady's-slippers. He picked a bouquet for his wife.

I write you this tender story that you may know that romance lived at the Thompson farm, as well as lumber jacks.

Tawas Area to Honor Citizen of the Year

Third annual search for the outstanding citizen of the Tawas area is now being conducted by Tawas Chamber of Commerce. The person chosen is to be honored at the chamber's winter banquet January 27 at the Holland Hotel.

An official ballot is being printed in this week's issue of The Tawas Herald. The ballot, along with a short summary of the nominee's qualifications for selections as citizen of the year, should be returned to the chamber of commerce on or before January 20.

A chamber spokesman said last week that it is hoped that the citizen of the year selection will receive the same community-wide interest as shown last year when

Robert Elliott was the recipient and two years ago when Ralph Western received the honor.

Any group desiring to nominate a candidate may use the ballot provided here and return it with the necessary information.

A panel of judges will make the final selection from ballots received. Name of the nominee is to be placed on file in the vault of Peoples State Bank and will not be announced until the night of the banquet.

The candidate may be a man or woman, a resident of the Tawas Area School District. The award is to be for his or her outstanding work or contribution to the welfare of the area for 1967, but such effort is to be outside his everyday occupational duties.

Iosco Historical Society Meeting Night Changed

Meeting of the board of directors of the new Iosco Historical Society scheduled for January 17 has been postponed until Thursday, January 18, according to Albert H. Buch, chairman. The meeting is to be held at the county building starting at 8:00 p. m.

The board of directors is to discuss and adopt bylaws for the new organization, as well as to appoint committees from a list of members indicating an interest.

The board is to set a date for the next meeting of the general membership, at which time a program is to be developed for the future.

Study Coop. Program in Vocational Training

Authorization was given by Tawas Area Board of Education to investigate the possible cooperation between area schools in a cooperative training program in vocational education.

Talks with representatives of AuGres-Sims High School and Tawas Area School were started last Monday regarding the possible exchange of students between schools in vocational training.

AuGres-Sims has an excellent program in machine shop and has approximately $70,000 in precision equipment. The school is presently approved for an apprenticeship program whereby three years of school shop would equal one year of a four-year apprenticeship program.

The Arenac County school does not offer auto shop and the two schools are studying the possibility of exchanging students who are interested in the two different programs.

John Alexander, curriculum coordinator at Tawas Area, said that transportation and scheduling probably would be the biggest difficulty to overcome, but he felt that such an exchange of students had a lot of merit.

In addition to this exchange, the board of education authorized the administration to check with other schools to determine the feasibility of exchanging students or machines in the school's business machine instruction. It was felt that such an exchange would be invaluable to students as they would have the opportunity to learn the operation of various types of equipment.

If such a program is finally achieved, it would be the first in this part of Michigan.

In other business, the board authorized purchase of a new dishwasher at the Tawas City Unit. Kirchner Brothers submitted the low bid of $2,136, without electrical work or plumbing. The present unit is 15 years old and was moved from the Alabaster unit.

Supt. Reynold Mick reported that he had again requested the state to revise its community college planning whereby Tawas Area District would be included in a study being conducted at Thunder Bay College, Alpena, rather than with the Kirkland College District, comprising Oscoda, Roscommon and Ogemaw Counties.

Last year, the board indicated it was more interested in the community college at Alpena because it could offer more to this area and that many students were already in attendance there.

Gas Tax Hiked by 17 Percent

Michigan motorists' state gasoline taxes increased 17 percent January 1 when the state gas tax and weight taxes in 1966 equalled 19.4 percent of the state's total tax revenue that year," he added.

"Before the current increases, it already cost a Michigan motorist over $600 in state and federal taxes to buy and operate a low-price car for one year, assuming he drove 10,000 miles per year," Rehm said. The two new taxes will add from $16 to $20 to the average motorist's driving bill per year.

Michigan ranks seventh in the nation in total gasoline consumption (three billion gallons) with California (seven billion) in first place and Alaska (73 million) in the 50th spot.

"Michigan motorists paid over 700 million dollars in state and federal taxes for owning and operating their cars before these increases," Auto Club Gen. Mgr. Fred N. Rehm said. "The $288,966,000 they paid in Michigan gas and weight taxes in 1966 equalled 19.4 percent of the state's total tax revenue that year," he added.

Hale Area Eagles Lose to RC, 75-59

Hale Area School's young Eagle squad ran into foul trouble in the third quarter of Friday night's game with Rose City and the victors walked off with a 75-59 victory.

The Eagles lost four starters via the five foul route at the start of the third quarter. The Eagles also had a poor showing at the charity line, making good on only 51 percent of their free throws.

Hale jumped to a 16-15 margin at the end of the first quarter but Rose City held a 35-30 lead at halftime. Rose City scored 22 points to Hale's 11 in the third quarter and both teams were tied at 18-18 in the final.

Dan Maas paced the Eagles with 18 points while Mike Fayette turned in the same scoring effort for the winners.

Hale played host to Whittemore-Prescott Area last night (Tuesday) and will be home again Friday night when Atlanta moves into town.

New Evidence to Help Solve Plainfield B&Es

Investigation by Iosco Sheriff's Department and state police may lead to the clearing up of many recent burglaries and larcenies in Plainfield Township.

Although no warrants have been requested as yet, officers apparently have solved the recent breaking and entering of the Blue Room and Sunoco Service Station at Hale, plus the theft of an automobile owned by Joseph Bannister, township constable.

Officers have recovered $99.22 in change which was part of the loot from the two burglaries. The money was found in a culvert along a rural road.

Also recovered was a handgun stolen from the service station. Sheriff's department deputies and state police have been questioning subjects at Hale for the past week. No leads have been received, however, on safe-crackers who hit the Hale Lumber Company and Ammond-Resteiner Oil Company.

EDWARD J. SCHANBECK

Death Claims Life-Long ET Resident

Edward J. Schanbeck, 81, well-known retired businessman and life-long resident of East Tawas, passed away January 9 at Iosco Medical Care Facility.

Mr. Schanbeck was born September 10, 1886, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Schanbeck. He attended East Tawas School.

He married the former Lorna M. Sawyer of Tawas City on August 23, 1908. She passed away August 3, 1967.

He was a member of East Tawas Methodist Church and a life member of Oddfellow Lodge No. 137.

Mr. Schanbeck had operated a draying business at East Tawas and, in later years, operated a coal company.

He is survived by three daughters, Phyllis of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. James (Sybil) Boomer of Tawas City, Mrs. Clyde (Nina) Hunter of East Tawas; one son, Edward B. of East Tawas; eight grandchildren and nine great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Luedtke of Tawas City and Mrs. William Dormire of Pontiac.

Funeral services are to be held Friday, January 12, 2:00 p. m., at East Tawas Methodist Church.

Friends may call at Moffatt Funeral Home, East Tawas, starting Wednesday evening.

Paul Bunyan Council to Hold Annual Meet.

Annual meeting of Paul Bunyan Council, Boy Scouts of America, AuSable District, will be held Saturday, January 13, 6:30 p. m., in the all-purpose room of West Branch High School.

Election of district officers and operating committee chairman will be the main course of business. Reports of the 1967 operating committee will be given and highlights of the coming year presented.

Twenty-five community leaders from Crawford, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Iosco Counties are members of the district committee. These members fall into two categories, institutional representatives and district members at large.

Institutional representatives are the liaison between the Paul Bunyan Council and the sponsoring institution. The district member at large is a man who volunteers his time to serve behind the scenes.

By combining the two groups, the district committee is formed.

Men working on the district committee in Iosco County are Howard Gregory, Serge Thomsson of Hale; William Lyon, Harold French, William McCready, Judge Allan C. Miller and Clyde Soper of the Tawas area; Arthur Aulerich of Whittemore. In Oscoda, the Rev. Joseph Ablett, Paul Johnston and Jack Coleman are also members.

Bomb Scare Causes Co. School Check

An anonymous call stating, "I just put a bomb in the high school," saw area law enforcement officers and a bomb disposal team from Wurtsmith Air Force Base checking all schools here January 5.

The call was received about 4:30 a. m. Deputy Francis Block, night desk man at the Iosco Sheriff's office, said the caller was a juvenile and sounded intoxicated.

Snowmobile and Truck Stolen

State police are investigating a break-in at Standish in which a pickup truck and two snowmobiles were stolen from a service station. The snowmobiles were valued at $1,500 each.

Iosco General Fund Ends '67 With Deficit

Iosco County's general fund ended 1967 with a deficit of $3,053.65, according to a report Friday by County Treas. Edward Nelkie.

Despite the fact that the general fund ended the year in the "red," Nelkie believed that the county's financial condition was excellent.

Iosco's budget for 1967 was $403,600, with $343,600 raised by taxation.

Last May, Nelkie predicted that the county would face a cash crisis by mid-September. This was averted, however, when Iosco Social Services Board repaid the county $50,000 loaned to it two years ago for opening of the medical care facility.

Return of this money operated the county's general fund from September through December.

"For all practical purposes, when one considers the size of the operation, the county had a balanced budget for the past 12 months," said Nelkie.

Tentative plans call for a fish fry, perch king and queen, a polar dip, helicopter rides and snowmobile activities under sponsorship of the Snowmobile Association, Ted Moe, chairman.

The meeting is to start at 7 o'clock, immediately preceding the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce.

Braves Defeat Panthers, 74-61; Lead NBC With 4-0 Record

Tawas Area Braves took over undisputed possession of first place in the Northern B Conference Friday night by downing Standish-Sterling Panthers, 74-61.

This win, coupled with Essexville Garber's upset win over Oscoda Owls, put the Braves on the top rung with a four-win, no loss record.

The Braves gained some revenge in Friday night's game after experiencing three straight lean years against the defending NBC champions. Although it was their third loss of the season, the Panthers gave a good account for themselves and were never out of the running until mid way in the fourth quarter.

The big difference between the two teams was the play of Forward Ron Doak of Tawas, who had his usual outstanding game on the backboards and turned in his best offensive night of his high school cage career.

Doak scored 25 points on eight field goals and nine charity tosses to lead both teams.

Tawas had good scoring balance throughout its lineup with Center Paul Beyer meshing 14 points on five fielders and four foul shots, while Guard Dennis Krish popped 10 points.

Some good news for the Braves was the return to action of Gary Haglund, last year's starting center, who was injured in track last spring and played in his first game of the 1967-1968 season Friday night. Haglund delivered three key buckets in the fourth quarter which put Tawas out of reach of the visitors.

The Braves jumped off to a 17-8 first quarter margin and seemed to be heading for a relatively easy win. This was not to be the case as the Panthers roared to life in the second quarter, taking over the lead at one point, but settling for a 37-31 margin in Tawas' favor at the half.

The Panthers were still hot in the third quarter and took over the lead twice as the Braves threw the ball away on three occasions which led to Standish-Sterling scoring. The visitors' press defense, which backfired in the second quarter when Tawas scored a couple of easy buckets on long passes, was corrected and the Braves had their hands full as they were down, 51-50, at the end of the third quarter.

Guard Howard Rollin, who was benched with three fouls in the first quarter, came back to the hardwood in the fourth quarter and scored five foul shots and a field goal which proved to be the turning point in Tawas' offense. Doak contributed seven points on three foul shots and two fielders, while Haglund's three buckets, a "long tom" by Krish and a charity toss by Koepke put the frosting on Tawas' cake.

Standish-Sterling had three players hitting in double figures, topped by Groszek's 21 points.

The night started off as a wild one when Standish-Sterling's junior varsity staved off a last ditch scoring effort by the Junior Braves to win, 50-49. Tawas had a chance to tie the game in the last 49 seconds of play on a one and one foul shot, but it was not in the cards.

Tawas jumped to a 10-7 lead in the first quarter and Standish-Sterling bounced back with a 21-13 margin in the second. Both teams scored 13 points in the third quarter and Tawas had a 13-9 margin in the final.

Libka was Tawas' top scorer with 15 points, followed by 14 for Baker. Sheldon meshed eight points, Look added five, Sventko had four, Mick meshed two foul shots and Lickfelt had one. Brown was tops for the visitors with 18 points.

The Braves played host to Bangor Tuesday night. There is no game this Friday night and the Braves return to action January 16 at Oscoda.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read I Timothy 2:1-8
Pray for one another. (James 5:16)

Some time ago, when I was recovering from a heart attack, several of my friends wrote in cards sent to me that they were praying for me. What an inspiration that message gave me! They did not say, "We're thinking about you." They said, "We're praying for you." In their periods of devotion, they were lifting me up to God, asking His healing power for me. Through Jesus' teachings and the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, we can daily find divine help. God imparts this as we bring Him our adoration, confess to Him our sins, thank Him for His goodness to us. God has given us prayer as a means for communicating with Him. Prayer can be a means for making intercession in behalf of others—persons, families, churches, nations. We cannot measure the divine power which praying releases in our lives and in the lives of those for whom we are praying.

PRAYER

Father, we thank Thee for the strength and power made available to us through prayer. May we bring all things to Thee in prayer. Keep us thoughtful of others, teaching us to uphold them by our prayers and asking Thy divine help in their lives. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Food Market Reports

We will pay higher prices for many fruits this year because of smaller crop than last year, orange, tangerines, tangelo, grapefruit, table grapes and pears.

Good supplies of fresh vegetables for economical winter meals include potatoes, cabbage, sweet potatoes, turnips, rutabagas, dry onions and winter squash.

At meat counters, it is the time of year when quick cooking cuts, like steaks, lose some of their popularity so you will see some special promotional emphasis on steaks in coming weeks. Turkey also loses popularity in January so prices decline during the first part of the month, in order to clear the market.

You may be tired of turkey for now, but if you have some extra freezer space, this is a good time to buy so you can have turkey in a month or so.

Non-Stick Finishes
Some of you may have received your first cooking pan with a non-stick finish for a Christmas gift. Actually, this finish is not new. It is older than most modern plastics and most synthetic fibers. It was discovered in 1938 soon after the development of nylon.

Because the fluorocarbon resins that make up the finish have a tendency of being so slippery that practically nothing sticks to it, virtually no food will stick to this ultrastick surface. This makes the pan especially easy to clean with little or no scrubbing and soaking. It also means that those who wish to avoid all the fat possible in cooking will enjoy using these cooking utensils with nonstick finishes. Most of us, however, continue to use some butter or fat in these pans for added flavor and better browning. Remember in using these cooking utensils that food will burn in them just as in any other pan, it will be easier to clean them, however.

Cleaning can be done with a sponge or a nylon mesh or net pad. No abrasives or metallic cleaning pads should be used.

Before using nonstick cookware for the first time, they should be washed in hot, sudsy water, rinsed with hot water, dried and add a thin coating of oil or grease on the finish. An exception is the angel food cake pan if it will be used for angel food cake because the batter for it must cling to the sides of the pan during baking. It will seldom be necessary to grease the pans during their later use. Cupcake and butter cake pans should be greased before every use and cake pans can also be floured.

With frying pans, use medium to medium high heat, extremely high temperatures may discolor the finish.

To avoid scratches, do not cut food in the pan or prick through food with a fork. Some people prefer to use plastic, rubber, nonstick finished or wooden utensils. Others find that metal tools such as turners, spoons, spatulas can be used safely if a "light touch" is applied and there are no sharp edges or burrs on them.

BACKACHE & TENSION

SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION
Common Kidney or Bladder Irritations make many men and women feel tense and nervous from frequent, burning or itching urination night and day. LOOKING BACKWARD—

Work Moving on Hospital-County Bldg.

15 Years Ago—

January 9, 1953—Construction on the new Tawas Hospital and Isosco County Building is progressing rapidly. Arthur Vollmer Construction Company of Saginaw is contractor for both projects.

The Detroit and Mackinac Railway paid its first dividends to stockholders in over 31 years, according to a year-end report announced this week. The Mackinac Route had a successful year, with progress made in industrial development, rehabilitation and improvement programs. The firm employs 221 persons, wages totaled $861,300 and the road moved 32,000 carloads of freight during the year.

Isosco County Jail had its busiest year in history, according to a report from Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell. There were 364 prisoners during the past year, 57 of whom were held on felony charges.

Cow-chairmen E. D. Jacques of Tawas City and Nathan Barkman of East Tawas announced that the annual March of Dimes Campaign has started. Goal for this county is $2,000.

One hundred seven students from Redford High School will be here this week-end to participate in winter sports activities at Silver Valley, states John Pinter, chairman of the Silver Valley Winter Sports Committee.

25 Years Ago—

Stephen Nisbet, superintendent of schools at Fremont since 1923, has been named to the State Board of Education by Gov. Harry S. Kelly. Nisbet is a former Isosco resident.

R. J. McMullen has been named first vice president and assistant general manager of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway. He had been traffic manager since 1938.

Leonard M. Butrym, executive assistant on the Huron National Forest staff here for the past 5½ years, leaves for Phoenix, Arizona, where he will serve as executive assistant of a new guayule emergency rubber project of the forest service.

Arthur Bigelow, a former resident of the Tawas, is serving with the United States Army in Australia and was recently promoted to sergeant technician.

Howard Atkinson and Lowell Vorhees of Hale have gone to Flint where they expect to find work.

The "Mosquito" bomber, said to be the fastest in the world, is now in mass production in Canada.

35 Years Ago—

January 13, 1933—Hazen (KIKI) Cuyler of the Chicago Cubs was guest speaker at a rabbit feed sponsored by Tawas Council, Knights of Columbus. All councils in the district were represented and about 200 persons attended.

Taxes for highway purposes in Isosco have been reduced 76.81 percent in the past year, according to statistics compiled by the state highway department. Economics instituted by county and township officials, along with laws adopted by the legislature, made the reduction possible. In 1931, the total county tax was $34,650, but this was reduced to $19,633 in 1932.

Isosco Board of Supervisors is seeking $40,000 as its share of the loan made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to the state. The money would be used for labor on trunkline roads.

"Unemployment" was the principal thing to occupy the attention of the board of supervisors at its three-day session. A committee of seven was appointed to devise plans to attack the serious condition. Among plans considered was a wood project to furnish fuel at the courthouse, jail and county farm. A piece of timber land on the plains will be secured and those applying for county aid through the poor commissioners will be hired to work the timber up into wood in place of receiving a dole.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Herriman of Grant Township was burned to the ground Thursday. Only a small amount of furniture was saved.

Now is the time to check the garage and back porch for those unwanted items. Sell them with a Herald classified.

THIS COLD WEATHER scene showing logs being moved out of the pinery was snapped nearly 100 years ago. It is included in a group of rare photos of area lumbering operations loaned to the Herald by Harold Trigger of Oscoda. The pictures are being copied for possible use by the Isosco Historical Society.

Today you need more hot water than ever before. And you can have it. All the hot water you want. Oceans of it. Hot as you like it. For just pennies a day with Gas.

Only Gas gives you so much hot water for so little. Saves dollars over electricity. In fact, a Gas water heater turns out more hot water in one day than an electric one twice its size.

So, if you've been running short of hot water at your house, check into the new fast-action Gas water heaters at your plumber's or your plumbing and heating dealer's. Or, if you wish, call us. You can have all the hot water you want for less than you'd imagine.

Snowmobiles? Skiing? I prefer a hike on snowshoes. A hike on snowshoes lets me blend in with the white, quiet beauty of the winter woods. It produces a harmony between nature and my soul, which is usually topsy-turvy from the discord produced by society.

Here in the quiet of the snow, I can watch the soundless movements of a squirrel searching for acorns that he stored away last fall. He must have a good memory, for he finds a cache of acorns every place he digs.

Sometimes when I come across deer tracks, I find it interesting to follow the tracks and read the story they tell. I can see where the deer browsed on some shrubs and a short distance away pawed away the snow for acorns. The tracks may lead me into a swamp thicket where the deer laid down for an afternoon nap. If the snow is quite deep, there will be many trails made by the deer meandering through the swamp searching for food; not wanting to wade through the deep snow in the open woods. These trails will lead to fallen cedar trees which are stripped bare of every piece of green foliage.

Also in the swamps, I find it fascinating to attempt to follow the tracks of the snowshoe hare. Here, there is a possibility of finding another animal's tracks following the same tracks I am. This other set has been made by the fox looking for a meal. When this happens, I hesitate and think to myself, "Do I want to know the end of this story?"

If the day is sunny and a little warm, I may see a moving mass of black on the snow. Close examination will reveal a myriad of tiny black insects commonly known as snow fleas. Some evening when I have time, I must determine who these insects are? What are they doing? And what do they eat?

In order not to be selfish, I will take my wife and some friends along sometimes. We pack a lunch and our cameras. The hike is usually a mile long. By then, everyone is famished and ready to rest and eat by a small fire. The cameras produce some pictures that are comical and some that are beautiful. The hike produces some tired, aching muscles but a refreshed soul.

Caution plus courtesy, plus common sense, equals safety. Drive safely.

A Gratifying Assurance

DIGNITY—You will appreciate the dignity and understanding that keynotes our service. It will remain a cherished memory.

Occupational Training Program Under Study by Iosco Intermediate District

In September 1967, the Iosco Intermediate School District met with various educational personnel from Hale, Oscoda, Tawas and Whittemore-Prescott schools and discussed the educational future of their students who will not attend college. In Michigan, approximately 65 percent of the students seek employment upon completion of high school.

Presently, very little is being done for the noncollege bound student, since schools are simply not geared for occupational training.

Facts and figures are now being gathered by the intermediate school district and through the active participation of the four schools in Iosco County and their local action teams made up of citizens representing various trade and business occupations, a proposed occupational program for Iosco County will be submitted on July 1 to the State Department of Vocational Education in Lansing.

When the program is accepted, the intermediate district may then apply and qualify for state and federal moneys to help equip and operate an area occupational training center. If the program calls for a new building, state and federal moneys are also available to help with the construction of such a facility.

As progress now stands, the district is in the process of completing a business and industry survey of Iosco County. Through the results of this survey, it will be able to develop the part of the educational training needed in the various occupational opportunities existing in Iosco County. A second survey of all the high school students in Hale, Oscoda, Tawas and Whittemore-Prescott will be completed in the near future. The results of this survey will help to determine the curriculum the students desire. It will aid in planning for floor space, equipment, classroom and instructional personnel.

The intermediate district and local school personnel have already met with state department of education curriculum specialists. In the meeting, insight was gained in planning occupational education for jobs of the 1970s, while still providing the qualifications needed for job opportunities existing today. Through the aid of these people and other state department personnel, local school district representatives and steering teams, the occupational program for the students of Iosco County has been steadily taking shape and calls for one special facility serving all of Iosco County. The site of the area center will be determined after all the information and supportive data are received.

Students from Hale, Oscoda, Tawas, Whittemore-Prescott would share the area training center during the day. They would retain their present school identity and receive their general education and graduate from their respective schools. They would, however, spend a portion of their school day specializing in an occupational field of their choice.

Presently under survey and investigation are the following possible occupational fields: Bookbinding, secretarial, stenographic, retailing, selling, business management, electrical, plumbing, carpentry, auto repair, nurses aid, medical secretary, waitress, cook, drafting, printing, photography, welding, tool and die, machine tool operator, radio and television repair, home appliance repair, fashion design, tailoring and alterations, computer and data processing, key punch operator.

Students who take part will be qualified in an occupation in order to secure a job; have necessary educational credits to go to college or post high school institution.

This type of program is presently being operated in several areas around Michigan and has proven successful. A recent survey funded by the Ford Foundation of vocational students completing such an occupational program reports that 95 percent of the graduates were well trained in the occupational choice. Furthermore, 50 percent of these people entered an occupation for which they were trained. An additional 42 percent went on for some type of formal post high school education.

IOSCO SPORTSMEN'S CLUB re-elected Peter Lichfusz, left, as its 1968 president last Wednesday night. Other officers re-elected were Francis Drumm, center, secretary, and Walter Decker, right, treasurer. The regular meeting is held the first Wednesday of each month at the ISC clubhouse.—Tawas Herald Photo.
