Major Development

Consumers Power Plans New Office

A major project in the Tawas area is included in a record $12,000,000 development program for the Bay City division, announces Lowell L. Shepard, newly-appointed division manager for Consumers Power Company.

The power company is to demolish its present office building on US-23 and construct a new facility expected to cost $100,000.

Plans for the new Tawas City building feature a sales floor, tellers' counter, a customer contact area and parking facilities.

The engineering and marketing departments are being relocated in the area service center, Baldwin Township, which will be expanded.

This announcement came today (Wednesday) as Shepard told of major developments in the electric and natural gas utility divisions of Consumers Power Company.

Electric department projects, including $1,000,000 for preliminary to the recently announced Midland nuclear plant, are expected to require $10,155,000. Natural gas projects and work on buildings and additions to the fleet of cars, trucks and other equipment account for the remainder.

The division plans to extend electric service to 3,485 new customers and gas service to 1,375 new customers during 1968.

A major investment of $1,600,000 is to be made at the J. C. Weadock generating plant at Essexville, Shepard said, where a 20,000 kilowatt gas-fired turbine generator is planned to furnish power for peaking and emergency purposes. The installation is part of a total project which will see similar units operating at two other generating stations.

Conversion of the Bay City area's 23,000-volt electric system includes 19 substations which will be changed to a higher 46,000-volt system. Continuing industrial growth of the area makes it necessary to provide greater capacity.

Also planned is construction of an eight-mile 46,000-volt transmission line from Wurtsmith substation to another transmission line for backup purposes. Benefiting from the addition will be the area served by Wurtsmith and Oscoda substations.

Other electric distribution improvements and extensions are planned during the year, including the addition of 565 underground connections for customers.

He listed several natural gas projects scheduled at various locations involving about 51 miles of gas main.

The Bay City division provides electric service to 85,000 customers and natural gas service to 38,000 customers in the 3,600 square mile area served.

The division's construction program is part of a record $187,000,000 expansion and improvement program for 1968. The company provides electric service to more than 1,000,000 customers and gas service to more than 750,000 customers, in a combined service area which includes 67 of the 68 counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

Department Heads OK'd by TA Board

Two department heads recommended by Prin. Billy Wilder were approved Monday night by Tawas Area Board of Education.

Appointed were Robert McDonald, social studies department, and Gene Salamony, fine arts department. Mrs. D. A. Evans has served as head of the English department.

This action followed recommendations of a curriculum study committee last year. It had been hoped that applications would be received for each department, but only three applications were received.

The department head receives an additional $200 annually for the extra duties involved.

In other business, the board adopted recommendations of Trustee Clare Herriman in regard to custodians. Herriman felt that inasmuch as the school year was now in the second semester, no additional custodian should be hired at this time.

Herriman interviewed three building custodians and believed that work could be distributed more evenly among the force. Two 18-year-old boys are currently working four hours each night as assistants and this policy is to be continued.

He recommended that Edgar Jenkins, transportation director, be contacted to determine if he would be willing to serve as director of custodians. Members of the custodial department have requested that a head custodian be designated.

Miss Clara Bolen, elementary supervisor, reported that a film is to be shown to elementary teachers in the near future concerning a new drug which aids children with learning problems.

Monday Blaze Gutted Sawdust Drying Unit

Workers were cleaning up debris and removing damaged equipment Tuesday morning following a blaze Monday night which swept through a frame building used for drying sawdust at Tawas Industries, Incorporated, Tawas City.

Elmer Werth, president of the firm, said that he believed enough sawdust had been stockpiled to insure that the automotive filter manufacturing firm's assembly line would not be curtailed.

Loss of equipment in the blaze and the building are covered by insurance. Werth said that new equipment had been ordered and construction is to start shortly on a new drying building.

Two neighbor youngsters noticed the blaze shortly before 7:00 p. m. Through a mixup in telephoning, the East Tawas Volunteer Fire Department received the first call.

With both communities operating fire departments under a mutual assistance pact, the East Tawas department responded quickly to the call and notified the Tawas City Fire Department.

The burning structure, once used as a dairy barn by the late Cecil Cox, was surrounded on three sides by concrete block buildings of Tawas Industries, Incorporated. The open end faced US-23 at the rear of Consumers Power Company's office.

No damage resulted to neighboring buildings through efforts of firemen. At one time, flames broke through sidewalls of the structure but firemen had the blaze under control in short order.

"We appreciate the splendid efforts of the East Tawas firemen coming to our immediate assistance under the mutual assistance pact. This was a case where a few minutes of time were saved that proved vital," said James Lansky, Tawas City fire chief.

Lansky said that cause of the blaze had not been determined. It is believed the fire started at the north end of the building opposite the oil-fired drying equipment.

Braves Over Owls

A field goal by Dale Koepke at the final buzzer gave Tawas Area Braves a 58-56 win Tuesday night over Oscoda Owls. Tawas now has eight straight wins in NBC competition with no losses and holds firmly to first place.

Board Stands Pat on Auto Shop Policy

Tawas Area Board of Education reaffirmed its stand limiting vehicles in auto shop instruction but, at the same time, a committee was appointed to study the program and to report its findings at a future date.

This action came Monday night on the heels of a special meeting two weeks ago which saw the board direct administrators and instructors to follow a policy established for the new shop nearly one year ago.

On February 6, 1967, the board adopted a policy recommended by the school architect limiting two automobiles at one time in the new shop building for safety reasons. At the same time, it was decided to limit instruction to school-owned cars, rather than to allow students to work on their own cars.

With 85 students enrolled in auto mechanics, the board of education came under severe criticism following its action removing student-owned cars and six parents attended Monday night's meeting.

Two major problems apparently caused board action in limiting instruction to school-owned equipment. Leonard Sarki, board chairman, pointed out that there was a safety factor involved in allowing students to work on non-school cars and he questioned who would be legally responsible should a student be injured on an individually-owned automobile used in the instruction.

Another problem was the long delay in completing the shop building. Expected to be ready for use by September 15, it was not operational until early December and some work is still to be completed. The school has been ordered to stop usage of welders until ventilation equipment is installed.

Sarki said that the school would supply two automobiles and two engines for use in the shop. He said that plans are to offer the type of instruction in which all students could learn the basic fundamentals of auto mechanics.

John Alexander, curriculum coordinator, reported that in his discussion with the architect he learned that there was no major problem in installing a ventilation system, but there would be a considerable heat loss.

He reported that one bid had been received for installing ventilation equipment at a total cost of $2,505. This included a hood for a foundry furnace, a system to remove fumes from welders, three hoods over engine stands and a paint room heater.

He also reported that letters had been sent to auto manufacturing firms concerning use of equipment in the shop. A local auto dealer and a factory representative met with school representatives last week.

Carl Helmer and Clare Herriman, trustees, were appointed as a committee to work with Alexander and the administration to work out problems. They were authorized to select representatives from local garages and parents to work out the program.

Supt. Reynold Mick said that Tawas Area was "plowing new ground" with the new course as there were only three auto me-

Former Principal Donates Library

Mrs. Emma Sloan, former principal and first grade teacher in the East Tawas and Tawas City units of Tawas Area Schools, recently donated her professional library to Tawas Area Schools.

Most of the books are intended strictly for elementary teachers, but those dealing with child growth and development should be of interest to all parents and teachers.

"Mrs. Sloan's gift is gratefully acknowledged and deeply appreciated by the administration and staff," said Miss Clara B. Bolen, elementary supervisor.

Mrs. Sloan keeps busy with her church work for Grace Lutheran and is enjoying her recently purchased new home on Alice Street at East Tawas.

School Begins Study of Fiscal Matters

Fiscal matters and teacher contract negotiations for the new school term will soon be the main consideration of Tawas Area Board of Education and administrators.

At Monday night's regular meeting, Mrs. Norman Payne, Carl Helmer and Robert Elliott were named as the board of education's representatives on the negotiation committee. Supt. Reynold Mick was named chief negotiator, assisted by Billy Wilder, high school principal, and Miss Clara Bolen, elementary supervisor.

Negotiation on a new contract is to start by March 1, according to state law.

In fiscal matters, Mick said that a new state aid bill had not been adopted as yet by the legislature and that schools really would not know where they stood financially until such time as one is adopted.

In the meantime, negotiations must start on a new contract and it is expected that teachers will ask for salary increases.

Per capita cost for students at Tawas Area for 1967-1968 as budgeted is about $493. Not considering an increased salary schedule for teachers, guaranteed increment increases to salaries will necessitate approximately $6 per pupil for a total per capita cost of $499.

Projecting this to the anticipated 1,734 pupils next year, the total would call for a budget of $865,266.

Mick said that the average expenditure in Michigan for per capita cost of operation for each child during 1966-1967 was $535.99.

It is expected that the new state aid bill will require a local levy of 12 mills for operation to receive full state aid participation and a minimum of 10 mills to receive any state aid. Schools of Iosco were allocated 8.5 mills last year and in Tawas Area's case, received full state aid participation when 2½ mills of special voted taxes were added, bringing total operational millage to 11. The additional voted millage expires this year.

Because of the recent Gem Surveys appraisal, Tawas Area School's valuation has jumped 38.91 percent to approximately $40,620,000. This gives the district about $24,000 behind each child, as compared to $16,000 last year. The state average is between $15,000 and $16,000.

Under the present state aid bill's deductible millage factor, this would mean that Tawas Area School would receive approximately $60,008 less state aid this year, regardless of the fact that additional district valuation would bring in more local tax money. Another loss of $15,000 is expected because of 51 fewer pupils anticipated, due to decreased kindergarten enrollment.

Mick said that no fixed amount of millage could be established at this time until further information on state aid bills are presented.

It is estimated that $50,000 will be available in the general fund for expenditure. This compares with $163,000 in cash on June 30, 1967, in the general fund. This balance, resulting from a legal transfer from state aid funds over a period of years, will not subsidize a budget next year as it has this year.

Several factors have guided the legislature in past state aid bills. One has been that average local millage for operation in Michigan schools is estimated at 18 mills at the present time.

The state legislature in recent years has passed several acts which have forced boards of education to expend sums of money and, at the same time, laws have not been passed which would enable boards of education to implement these acts.

"Public demands for expansion of the school program," said Mick, "must be accompanied by local willingness to implement the desires, or realization will be impossible."

Despite expected loss in state aid money due to the deductible millage factor, the increased local (See BOARD STUDIES, page 5.)

Recent Jury Award Goes Back to Court for New Hearing

Legal maneuvering commenced on the part of both parties in a recent damage suit before an Iosco Circuit Court jury.

Attorneys for the City of East Tawas have ordered a transcript of proceedings of the jury trial which awarded $12,500 damages to Leo Maki, normally the first step in perfecting an appeal. Attorneys for Mr. Maki moved for a new trial Tuesday.

On January 18, an Iosco Circuit Court jury awarded damages to Maki following a three-day trial. Maki lost his left eye December 4, 1965, in an explosion at the city dump and had sought damages of $150,000.

In their motion for a new trial Monday, attorneys for Maki claimed that the verdict rendered by the jury in the amount of $12,500 "was and is grossly inadequate compensation for the loss of an eye and other damages not in dispute." They ask for damages of not less than $50,000.

Maki's attorneys claim that the court erred in failing to direct a verdict in favor of the plaintiff at the conclusion of proofs as requested, "when the facts showed as a matter of law that the defendant was guilty of maintaining an intentional nuisance, which caused plaintiff's injury and damages."

'Bill' Arlington Named TA Citizen of the Year

C. A. "Bill" Arlington, East Tawas businessman, was named 1967 citizen of the year for the Tawas area. He was honored Saturday night at a banquet attended by more than 200 persons at the Holland Hotel.

Arlington came to East Tawas two years after retirement from the manufacturing business. He managed Harbor Lights Restaurant for about a year.

"Between fishing trips to the pier," stated Arlington's citation, "he decided he should be more useful to the community."

Arlington became active in Perchville activities in 1967. He led community activities during hospitality days of Michigan Week and presented complimentary passes and gifts to summer tourists.

He represented Tawas Chamber of Commerce on two occasions at other well publicized activities throughout the state. He was one of the lead men during the Michigan Tourist Festival and took an active part in arranging for the Howard Shelley Show which brought entertainment to the sports-minded people of the community.

Arlington has been an active member of the Tawas Senior Citizens Club and was instrumental in arranging activities for the group. He is presently a member of the board of directors of Tawas Chamber of Commerce and has been assigned two new positions for community betterment for 1968.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Robert W. Elliott, who had been honored last year as citizen of the year. Gar Bassett, 1968 chamber of commerce president, introduced members of the chamber of commerce board of directors.

Humorous experiences during his work as a newsman were related by Donald Caughlin, sports and feature writer for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Cleveland, Ohio.

Floyd Dye was banquet chairman.

Receiving honorable mention for the 1967 award were Miss Edna Otis and Ray Coleman.

TODAYS Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Genesis 1:26-30; II Corinthians 9:6-15

Every one of us shall give account of himself to God. (Romans 14:12)

The beloved hymn writer, Isaac Watts, wrote: "Most of us creep into the world And know no reason why we're born."

Such animal-like living is not in God's plan for mankind—for you and me. A George Bernard Shaw character remarks: "You bet He didn't make us for nothing; and He wouldn't have made us at all if He could have done this work without us. By gum, that must be what we're here for." Because we have been created for a purpose, "every one of us shall give account of himself to God."

We, therefore, need to be using our time, our talents and our possessions regularly to make sure that our stewardship becomes real in obedience to God's will. We must not deceive ourselves into thinking we are Christians unless we are sharing God's gifts every day. We cannot always be receiving and be Christian stewards. We must also give.

PRAYER

Our Father, all things come from Thee, and of Thine own have we given Thee. Accept us and use us and our gifts in the upbuilding of Thy holy kingdom. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

By LOREN WOERPEL
District Ranger

Last week, we talked about the systems of land survey that is used to describe land location and legal ownership. This week, we will talk about how the surveys were made in our area.

The township lines in Isoco County were run by a surveyor named Lewis Clason in 1837 and 1838. In 1843, 1844 and 1845, a surveyor named John Mullett headed a crew which subdivided the townships of the county into sections.

These crews were under contract to the Surveyor General of the United States to accomplish the job of measuring and setting corners in the county according to the rules of survey. When they came through this area, they had no roads to follow and only crude maps.

They probably were the first to systematically traverse each square mile of the county. As they measured and set each section corner and quarter corner, they kept notes which were to become the written testimony of how and where each corner was located. These notes were hand written in a flourish penmanship that is readable with practice.

Notes for the survey in East Tawas were roughly on line running north on Wadsworth Street show that the surveyor set a wooden post on the shore of Lake Huron for the section corner. From the post, they always chose several trees noting the compass bearing and distance from the corner. These trees were witnesses to the corner and were blazed so that anyone could relocate the corner if the post was gone. The surveyor noted that the surrounding land was composed of ridges of sandy soil covered with pine trees and narrow swales with black ash, birch and cedar trees. He then ran his compass line north for 1,518 feet where he ran into a pine tree 14 inches in diameter which he blazed. At one-half mile, he set a quarter corner which he witnessed to two yellow pine (known today as red pine or Norway pine). At 4,554 feet, he ran into a tamarack tree which he blazed. Then at one mile, he set a section post which he witnessed to two cedar trees. About a half mile further north, he ran into "Chittamaig" Lake where he set a corner. His map spelled it "Achet-ti-mo-yawk" Lake, all of which was an attempt at spelling the Indian name for Tawas Lake.

The survey of the entire county continued for three years. Their notes describe "continuous cedar swamps covered with windfalls" and long stretches of "spruce pine" plains which we know as jack pine and a river called "Sable River." It must have been a vigorous, tough job, blazing the way for us to settle here.

In the 1900s, it became apparent that it would be necessary to protect the existence of the original survey because many of the wooden post corners were rotting away or being burned up in forest fires but a lot of the witness trees could still be found.

During the 1920s and early 1930s, many townships were resurveyed to more permanently mark the original corners that could be found or re-established based on evidence such as the witness trees. These surveyors remeasured the distances and compass bearings between the corners more accurately than was done originally. Where corners could not be found, they used prescribed rules to re-establish the corners. This job was as much a detective job as it was a measuring job. The corners set by this resurvey are metal posts with brass caps that bear the inscription of the corner location and the initials of the General Land Office. New witness trees also were marked for each corner.

It was during this resurvey that many discrepancies were found in the distances and bearings of the lines. But the law prescribes that the original 1840 survey corners prevail.

Looking on a map today, you can see where the original crew went wrong. Section lines do not always run true north, south, east or west. Section line distances are not always one mile long but can be more or less than one mile. Quarter sections do not always have 160 acres in them but can be more or less.

So the job of land survey becomes more than a few simple rules of a basic system. Besides being capable of making accurate measurements, a surveyor becomes a detective, a seeker of evidence. A surveyor needs to be a highly skilled technician with a vast amount of training and experience with a thorough knowledge of the prescribed rules.

Next week, we will discuss the current efforts to preserve the original corners.

MILD WEATHER proved to be an unwelcome visitor to the Hale area Saturday and Sunday during the first annual snowmobile safari and races sponsored by Hale Lions Club. Some 35 snowmo-

What are the three things most important to your family's financial welfare?

SAVING . . . BORROWING . . . INSURING . . . and you can do all three under one roof, all at one time, in the friendly, understanding atmosphere of your credit union.

SAVE where your money earns generous dividends . . . and where ALL dividends go back to the credit union owner-members.

BORROW where your loan usually costs less . . . because a credit union is owned by its members, and there is no point in charging yourself high interest rates.

INSURE where qualified members get life insurance with their savings—and life insurance with their loans—as an extra dividend at no extra cost.

Braves Defeat Orioles, 84-68

A red-hot performance by Guard Dennis Krish saw the Tawas Area Braves down the West Branch Orioles, 84-68, Friday night to run Tawas' record to seven wins and no losses in NBC competition.

This set the stage for a showdown battle with Oscoda Owls Tuesday night (last night). The Owls lost an overtime battle to Standish-Stirling Panthers Friday.

With fellow guard, Dale Koepke, missing action Friday night with a leg injury, Krish turned in a shooting performance which topped Tawas scoring efforts for the season. The little junior guard meshed 10 field goals and 10 out of 14 charity tosses for a 30-point total.

Tawas had a well-balanced scoring attack and its bench strength began to show as 11 players hit the scoring column. Ron Doak's 15 points proved to be second high for the night and he turned in another outstanding game on the backboards.

The Braves jumped off to a 22-10 lead in the first quarter and were never headed the rest of the way. West Branch closed the gap somewhat by holding a 17-15 edge in the second quarter.

The Braves held a two-point scoring edge, 19-17, in the third and coasted to their eighth victory of the season, one a nonconference game, with a 28-24 margin in the final.

Officials called a total of 53 fouls during the game, 21 against Tawas Area and 32 against the host West Branch team.

The Braves play host to Pinconning this Friday night.

Tawas Area Junior Varsity lost to West Branch JV, 63-48. The Little Orioles jumped off to a 17-6 lead in the first quarter and rolled to their first victory of the season.

Scoring for Tawas were Lickfelt, 20 points; Baker, nine; Libka, eight; Svntko and Mick, four points each; Herriman, two points, and Sheldon, one point. Fritz topped the winners with 21 points.

Cards Split in Two Games With Harrison Hornets

Whittemore - Prescott Cards split games at Harrison Friday night. The varsity dropped its game, 72-60, while the JV squad won, 65-31.

The Card Varsity trailed all the way as they could not match the height of the Hornets, who had five starters all over six feet. The Cards had one six-foot starter. They still made a game try to pull it out in the third quarter coming from far behind to cut the lead to three points but the Hornets' height was just too much to overcome on their home court. Two Hornets topped the scoring with 21 points by Stanfield and 20 by Keyser. Mark Stahl scored 18 and Pat Phelps, 17 points for the Cards.

The Card JV squad ran over the Hornets leading all the way to win

Card Girls Lost Heartbreaker to West Branch Squad, 41-40

Whittemore-Prescott Card Girls lost a heartbreaker to the West Branch Orioles Wednesday night, 41-40. The Cards took the first quarter but fell six points behind at half time. They cut the lead to three points in the third quarter, then went ahead midway in the last quarter with two minutes to go and with a four-point lead it looked like a Card victory but a few bad passes gave the Orioles enough breaks to tie the score and then go ahead.

The Cards still had a chance with seconds to go as they took the ball out of bounds but the pass in was right into an Orioles hands and she hung on to the ball until the final whistle. Ammond was the scoring leader with 16 points for the Orioles. The Cards best was Marlene Girard with nine.

valuation will aid the county and townships. In addition, both county and townships will receive extra funds under the new state income tax and other new revenues. This fact may mean that less millage will be required for county and township operation, freeing some of the millage allocated to those units last year for school operational purposes in 1968-1969.

At Iosco County Building—

Treasury to Assist With Tax Returns

February 6, Allen Bowerman, representing the Michigan Department of Treasury, Revenue Division, will be at Iosco County Building, Tawas City, between the hours of 10:00 a. m.-3:00 p. m. for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their Michigan income tax and intangibles tax returns.

Under provisions of Act 281, P. A. of 1967, (Michigan Income Tax) any person from whom a greater amount has been withheld than is owed will get a refund. A return will have to be filed to get any refund.

Most persons who are required to file a federal income tax return will be required to file a Michigan income tax return. If a married couple files a joint return for federal income tax, a joint return must be filed for Michigan income tax purposes.

Because the Michigan income tax did not go into effect until October 1, 1967, a choice in the method of filing the return may be made. It may be filed on the basis of either the income earned or received between October 1, 1967, and December 31, 1967, or on the average income method whereby the tax is applied to one-fourth of the total income received or accrued in 1967. Taxpayers filing on a fiscal year basis will be required to adjust their figures to a fiscal year basis.

Individuals may use one of two forms in filing, the MI-1040A and the MI-1040. If income consists entirely of wages, interest and dividends, the MI-1040A may be used. If the income consists of other items, the MI-1040 must be used.

For the calendar year 1967, the statutory deduction shall be $300 per exemption. The total number of exemptions must agree with the total number of exemptions claimed on the federal tax return.

Anyone who anticipates owing Michigan income tax in excess of $100 for 1968, which is over and above amounts withheld, is required to file a declaration of estimated Michigan income tax.

Looking Backward—

35 Years Ago— February 3, 1933—Annual recreation report for 1932 just received by G. K. Fenger, forest supervisor of the Huron National Forest, indicate a steady increase in the number of visitors to the forest. Chief attraction was the Lumbermen's Monument erected last summer overlooking the Au-Sable River. The register booth maintained at this point showed a total number of visitors exceeding 22,000.

It was discovered last week that a large colony of Negroes had planned to locate permanently on state land in Adams and Moffat Townships in Arenac County. Authorities in that county immediately protested to the conservation department and were assured that immediate action would be taken to prevent such colonization. State Rep. Fred Holbeck says that he is suspicious that an attempt may be made to pass a bill in the legislature with the idea of colonizing state lands in the northern counties of Michigan.

Because "there is nothing in the Bible that says women should pay taxes," wives of Warwick, Pennsylvania, farmers refuse to pay per capita levies until forced by liens. "The women claim," said the tax collector, "that the constitution of the United States is based on the Bible and that nowhere in the Bible can they find any record of any woman having to pay taxes."

Wool In New Washables Blends

The new machine-washable wool yarns, now widely-used in all-wool garments, may be used soon in blends with other fibers, according to research scientists with the United States Department of Agriculture. This machine-washable wool is blended with cotton and rayon; then in turn, can be treated for durable press which combines the best qualities of each fiber in shirts and slacks. They have been laundered many times in home washers and tumble dryers. Little difficulty with either soil removal or development of permanent wrinkles was observed.

As with most durable-press garments, shirts and slacks looked best when allowed to cool during the final few minutes in the dryer. Wrinkles formed in the dryer or in wear disappeared rapidly when the garments were placed on hangers. They showed some loss of durability but the outstanding retention of appearance and complete ease of care offsets this defect.

News In Foods

Some of us net fish, others net butterfiles but meat cutters are now netting boneless cuts of lamb and pork. The net is nylon and proving satisfactory in use and well-liked for retailing roasts, gives opportunity to use more of the carcass meat.

We will be buying pickles by smell when a new device sends off a whiff of dill pickle smell every five minutes. Where it is in use, check-out records show it works better than "sight" ads.

Don-Al Farms Cow Sets Record Test

Don-Al Roberke Wood Invin Fern 5153633, a six-year-old registered Holstein cow owned by Don-Al Farms, Prescott, has produced a noteworthy record of 17,070 pounds of milk and 613 pounds of butterfat in 304 days.

Michigan State University supervised the production, weighing and testing operations, in cooperation with the official breed improvement programs of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This level of production may be compared to the average United States dairy cow's estimated annual output of 8,513 pounds of milk containing 315 pounds of butterfat.
