

G. N. Shattuck Dead; Banker for 57 Years

Funeral services were held Tuesday, July 2, 2:00 p. m., at Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas, for Grant N. Shattuck, president of Peoples State Bank.

Mr. Shattuck died June 30 at Tawas Hospital following a lingering illness. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Hale.

Born July 12, 1892, at Sylvania, Ohio, he moved to Hale with his parents in 1901.

Following his graduation from high school, he was a storekeeper for the construction firm which built Cooke Dam and later was a clerk at the Brown Hardware at Hale. He also taught briefly in a rural Isosco school.

His start in a banking career, which extended more than a half-century, was with Bell, Niggeman and Company as a $35-a-month clerk at the Hale Exchange Bank.

In 1911, he went to work for Ealy, McKay and Company of East Tawas in their new bank at Hale. With the exception of time out for military service during World War I, he had been associated with L. G. McKay in Isosco County banks ever since that time.

Mr. Shattuck was cashier at the Hale bank until 1926 and, when that bank closed, worked for the First National Bank at Bay City for about six months. On June 14, 1927, he came to East Tawas as cashier of the Peoples State Bank, which was organized that year by Mr. McKay.

During his long tenure with Peoples State Bank, he witnessed growth of both the bank and the community. He served on the board of public works for many years and took an active part in church functions and fraternal organizations.

Mr. McKay and Mr. Shattuck operated the entire business by themselves for several years in the old bank building. He was promoted to vice president of the bank in 1942, became president January 16, 1962, and had never missed a meeting of the board of directors.

On June 4, 1918, he married the former Miss Helen Nichols of Hale. She passed away in September 1955. A former school teacher, Mrs. Shattuck was well known for her interest and her fine influence among young people, for her activity in church and other religious work.

An avid fan of amateur baseball in this area for many years, he played outfield for several area teams and later umpired. His interest in sports also included sponsorship of bowling teams and he was a member of one team which won three straight bowling championships here.

His favorite hobby was photography. He became interested in cameras in 1947 and snapped thousands of color slides and considerable footage of motion picture film, presenting programs before various local organizations.

He was a life member of Baldwin Lodge, F&M; a 31-year member of Baldwin Lodge, IOOF; a member of Christ Episcopal Church and member of the American Legion.

He is survived by one sister, Alice Young, San Francisco, California, and two nieces.

Wurtsmith Officer Drowned Sunday in VanEttan Lake

Second Lt. Karl Lee Hodge, 24, Wurtsmith Air Force Base, was drowned Sunday morning at the airman's beach, VanEttan Lake, located across M-171 from the air base.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Rousseau of Oscoda said that Hodge apparently had been swimming outside of the area marked by buoys.

Tsgt. John Woodward, 445th FIS, told officers that Hodge began to swim in a peculiar manner and believed he had sustained a cramp. He saw the victim go under the water, surface once and call for help and then disappeared under the water.

Divers from the Oscoda-AuSable Fire Department recovered the body in approximately 20 feet of water.

Investigation was conducted by Coroner E. D. Jacques and Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell.

Fireworks Set Thursday Night

Tawas Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with city councils of East Tawas and Tawas City, will have something new for its fireworks display on July 4 at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock, East Tawas.

Daytime, as well as nighttime, fireworks will make an appearance here for the first time. The new daytime displays consist of colored smoke and "fimmicks" and should be interesting, according to Jerry Reitler, committee chairman.

The committee will start firing the display at 9:00 p. m. sharp.

Cost of this entertainment is shared by the chamber of commerce with matching funds from the two cities, which again goes along with the chamber's motto this year—"You miss so much when you do not belong."

"To anyone who has never fired such large 'crackers' as these, I would like to point out that they come in various sizes—three-inch diameter is nine inches long, four-inch diameter is 12 inches long, five-inch diameter is 15 inches long and finally the six-inch diameter is 18 inches long.

"A lot of care and safety goes with this job from start to finish, so a big vote of thanks to the crew who will help me.

"This is all for our freedom in this great land of ours and as we view these sights and sounds, let us be mindful of our loved ones who are fighting to maintain this freedom for us; the sights and sounds they see are similar, but with a meaning of death and destruction and, by all their efforts, we will see and enjoy this Independence Day for years and years to come," said Reitler.

These various size rockets are fired from a large sand box. Each is placed into a metal tube and fired by a three-inch long fuse. This gives it "jet power" to go high into the air for the pleasure

Seek Methods to Implement Industrial Ideas

State Industrial Tour Paid Visit to Tawas

Community leaders and members of the Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation are now seeking ways and means to implement ideas suggested by industrial expansion executives following last Wednesday's visit of the Northeastern Michigan Community Development Tour.

A busload of executives, sponsored by the Michigan Department of Commerce, spent Wednesday morning here touring facilities and looking over the community in general.

Following this tour, the industrial executives met with community leaders at a coffee hour held at the Barnes Hotel and later with interested businessmen at a noon luncheon.

Harold M. Davis, who specializes in industrial, commercial and investment real estate, felt strongly that the two communities should be consolidated.

He further suggested that the community give thought to a uniform theme to give identity to the business districts and stressed the importance of parking facilities. He felt it was important to offer more adequate parking facilities and to make business districts more attractive.

Davis emphasized that industrial sites should be presented to prospects in the best possible way and that a specific price tag should be placed on each site. He said that if the community had given sober consideration to locating its proposed industrial park near the airport, immediate steps should be taken to clear the property and provide municipal water and sewer facilities.

He also urged that zoning restrictions be studied to assure that aesthetic qualities of an industrial neighborhood be pleasing.

James Collison, a member of the East Central Michigan Economic Development District, said he was pleased with what he saw in the communities in the field of remodeling and construction. He believed that comprehensive plans developed by the two communities had achieved much in a very short time and believed that guidelines offered would speak well for the future.

Robert O. Baker, area supervisor for the Michigan Employment Security Commission, noted a gradual reduction in unemployment in the Isosco-Alcona area, which had dropped from 8.9 percent of the population in 1963 to less than five percent at present.

He was particularly interested in the regional vocational training center being planned for the area. While he noted that about 60 percent of the graduating seniors this spring intended to attend some school of higher learning next fall, he said that the area must keep in mind that only one-third of this number would graduate. He (See TOUR, page 6.)

Flint Firm Moves Equipment Into New Building at Hale

First shipment of machinery for production of bows by Darton, Incorporated, Flint, arrived Friday at its new plant now completed east of Hale by the Hale Development Corporation.

The all-steel, 10,000-square-foot unit was ready for occupancy last week and it is expected that equipment will be installed within two weeks.

Built by Hale Development Corporation on a 10-acre tract on Esmond Road, just east of the town limits, the branch plant is expected to employ from 10 to 12 persons. It has a potential employment of 25 persons, reported Ira Scofield, past president of the development corporation and its building project chairman.

Contracted to Bernard Card and Sons, Rose City, for a cost of $44,000, the building is an open-space unit with two loading docks to facilitate distribution.

Darton Corporation will lease the plant from the development corporation with option to buy should its purchase be beneficial. The development corporation has been working for six months to bring the Darton plant to Hale. Founded six years ago by a group of 20 local men, purpose of the corporation is to promote industry in the Hale area.

Present officers include Herman Maas, president; Delbert Hewitt, vice president; Lyle Bielby, secretary, and Gerald Wyatt, treasurer.

It has another building available for lease to a business firm. It is a 21,000-square-foot, open-space, all steel constructed unit located on M-65 just north of town.

Tell Plans for 22nd Annual AuSable Race

Plans were finalized this week for the 22nd annual world's championship AuSable River Valley canoe race. This year, the race will again be held the first week-end in August, August 2, 3 and 4. This race runs from Grayling to Mio to Oscoda through the scenic AuSable River Valley. On hand will be some of the best foreign and in state professional teams competing for a share of the $2,000 plus purse.

Because of the enthusiastic response to the amateur race in 1967, this year's race will again have an amateur division with the top Olympic paddlers in the Midwest, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Ohio, Michigan and Ontario. These paddlers will race for trophies so that their amateur status will be preserved.

A short sprint in Grayling Friday night for the professionals will start the event, with the down river start starting at Grayling for both divisions at 11:00 a. m. Saturday and arriving in Mio at about 5:00 p. m.

Sunday will see the professionals leave Mio at 6:45 a. m. and the amateurs leaving Five Channels Dam at noon. Both amateurs and pros will arrive in Oscoda for finish line festivities about 4:30 p. m.

Auto Negligence Suit Filed in Court

A $7,000 auto negligence suit was filed Monday in Isosco Circuit Court by Floyd W. and Patricia Snyder, Birmingham, against Donald E. Eureka, AuSable. The suit involves a collision on US-23 at the AuSable River bridge on June 21, 1967.

Annual Race Set Thursday

Twenty-first annual foot-long sailboat race sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Dan T. Moore, Tawas Beach Road, East Tawas, will be held Thursday, July 4, 1:00 p. m. Race course will be along the shore of Tawas Bay near the Moore residence. Between 40 and 50 small sailing craft made by neighborhood youngsters are expected to be entered in this year's event. The Moores are residents of Cleveland, Ohio, and maintain a summer home here.

Tawas City Directs Hiring Attorney to Handle Purchase

Tawas City Council adopted a resolution Monday night directing the superintendent of public works to represent the council in retaining an attorney to work out details for acquiring the Clute property on Ninth Avenue as a future industrial site and parking area for the city boat ramp.

This possibility had been under discussion for the past several months and the council decided to take immediate steps to acquire the property.

The site is about 19 acres, more or less, as the railroad right-of-way cuts through one portion of it. Purchase price is $11,000.

In other business, City Treasurer Ruth Albertson notified the council that she would contact Mrs. Roy Bergeron, secretary for the public works department, to determine if she would collect taxes at the city hall.

A request from the Tawas Chamber of Commerce for operation of a beer tent under a special picnic license, to be located on property behind Isosco Abstract office, was tabled until further information is received.

Carl Babcock Jr. and Timothy O'Connor, representing the chamber of commerce, appeared before the council and asked permission to operate the tent during the Michigan Tourist Festival.

At the request of the council, the two men checked with tavern owners in Tawas City and found that two were opposed to such a proposition.

A request from James Quarters for a $10 weekly increase in pay for garbage collection was tabled until the next meeting. Quarters said that location of the new dump added about 1½ hours extra time on his run each day, in addition to one-half tank of gasoline extra each week.

Coast Guard Gave Aid to Disabled Tug

The fishing tug, "Mary Ann," owned by Emerald P. LaBlance and sons returned to fishing in Saginaw Bay last Wednesday afternoon after making engine repairs in sheltered waters behind Point Lookout.

Operated by Paul LaBlance, the vessel left Tawas early Wednesday morning. At 9:30 a. m., LaBlance radioed the coast guard to report the tug was disabled and needed help.

Anthony Tombolillo, coast guard chief, dispatched assistance and a patrol boat took the tug in tow at noon. The vessel met another coast guard boat carrying equipment necessary for the repairs.

Seek Community Ideas for Program

Faced with a meager program offering during its second most important promotion during the year, members of the board of directors of Tawas Chamber of Commerce last week began seeking some new ideas for the community for the annual Michigan Tourist Festival, July 18-19-20-21.

Lack of a carnival and adequate grounds to hold one has had serious repercussions for the chamber of commerce. The carnival, in past years, had supplied money necessary to stage costly program events.

As the result of losing this revenue, the board of directors has voted to cancel out the annual water show which had been scheduled at the Michigan Waterways Commission dock during the festival. Originally, cost of this exciting show was $225, but, like everything else, expenses have increased and the promoter asked $275 for this year's performance.

Directors said Wednesday night that they just could not see their way clear to raise this kind of money and the consensus of opinion was that no special drive would be made to raise funds because the "fair share" arrangement for membership dues adopted three years ago guaranteed that businessmen would not be fingered for the extra tab.

C. A. Arlington, parade chairman, reported that arrangements were about ready for the annual parade on Saturday during the tourist festival—and he said it should be a dandy.

Other than the parade, the program at present is slim. The annual beauty contest had to be canceled because of the lack of interest by contestants and the lack of money to stage one.

Arrangements had been made to locate the Michigan Historical Commission's historymobile at the East Tawas Community Building during the festival, but the chamber of commerce was notified last week that the state lacked funds to operate the unit this summer and the visit had to be canceled.

It was suggested last week that some thought be given to staging a "battle of the bands" and charging admission. John Solomon, East Tawas entrepreneur and one of the promoters of teen dances at the community building, is now checking out this possibility.

The Iosco Historical Society is now considering the possibility of holding its monthly meeting during the festival. Program arrangements, although yet indefinite, call for bringing in one of Michigan's expert archeologists. He is a noted authority on Michigan Indian and prehistoric man.

While other program possibilities are being investigated, the chamber of commerce and Gar Bassett, president, would welcome any suggestions from the community.

"Time is getting late, but we would welcome anything that might be suggested," said Bassett. "We would give careful consideration to any suggestion that might be forthcoming."

Arlington said that any merchant or organization desiring to enter a float in the parade may do so by making an appearance at the Mathew Street starting point prior to 10:30 a. m.

Additional help is needed to arrange floats in the proper order and anyone wishing to volunteer assistance may call Arlington or the chamber of commerce office.

Coho Hit Bright Lures!

By Tom Andrews

Coho! That word has ignited the fervor of Midwestern fishermen like few others in the history of mid-America sport fishing. Since transplantation from its native Pacific Ocean waters, the coho has wasted little time in staking claim to the title of "King of the Lake."

Talk to anyone who's tied into one of these gamesters (thousands already have) and they'll quickly tell you about the coho's fighting spirit—how it tail-walks and performs aerial acrobatics with the best of freshwater battlers.

Reports indicate that coho have consistently been taken on bright, flashy spoons and spinners. In spring coho schools travel the southern end of the Lake providing action from around Racine, Wisconsin, down through Chicago and on up to Benton Harbor, Michigan.

With the advent of warmer temperatures around the middle of June, the coho begin migrating out into deeper waters where it's cooler. In July and August they start moving toward spawning areas on the north Michigan shoreline.

Luck so far has been with fishermen working from piers, docks, breakwaters, and river banks at depths of 2 to 5 ft. However, one of the most productive methods for taking coho, particularly in mid-summer, has been trolling at depths of from 10 to 20 ft.

The important thing is to offer the type of lure that has already proved extremely effective. One bright, flashing lure that has coho-tempting action is the Johnson Silver Minnow, long a favorite for most fishing and one which has accounted for thousands of coho. The Johnson Sprite has also been productive. These forged lures are easy to cast because of their shape—a boon to anglers on piers, docks, and shoreline beaches. They can also be trolled, if line weights are used, without losing their enticing wobble.

Brightly-finished spoons and lures resemble a swimming alewife. And the alewife, which abounds in Lake Michigan, is the coho's principal source of food.

Most coho have been caught inshore in the early morning hours before they move to deeper water, or at dusk.

If you haven't already given the coho in your area a try, now may be the time to get acquainted. No boat? Then get up early and fish a flashy, bright lure from shore, pier or breakwater. If you want to try fishing from a boat, use one that's big enough to cope with the Lake's moods.

However you fish for them, once you've hauled in your first one, you're slated to become another avid "coho convert."

Tawas City Dropped 6-5 Game to Mio in 11 Innings

An error and a base hit led to Tawas City Independents' downfall in an 11-inning game Sunday with Mio.

Mio pushed one run over in the 11th inning to take a 6-5 victory to end a long pitching duel between Wychoff of the winners and Ron Leslie of the losers.

Tawas City opened the game by scoring one run in the first inning on a base hit by Link and several errors by Mio. The lead did not last long as Mio cracked three straight hits off Leslie in the bottom of the first for two runs.

The Tawas City nine came back with three runs in the second on two hits and an error, but Mio tied the game in the bottom of the third.

The lead again went to Tawas City in the fifth when Leslie walked and scored on errors, but Mio again tied the game in the bottom of the seventh.

Leslie allowed eight hits during the afternoon, struck out seven and walked four batters. Wychoff allowed six hits, struck out six and walked three batters.

Link was top hitter for Tawas City with two singles. Hoy and Wychoff had two singles each for the winners.

Action this week finds Tawas City at Mikado. The annual North-eastern Michigan League all-star game is to be played at Worth Thursday, July 4.

Bears Beat Mikado on Mousseau's 4-Hitter

A three-run homer of Bob Sieloff capped East Tawas Bears' 11-1 victory over Mikado in Northeastern Michigan League action Sunday on the winners' home field.

With an eight-run lead going in to the eighth inning, Sieloff slammed one of L. Alvenson's pitches over the fence with John Erickson and Quandt on base.

Grant Mousseau pitched seven innings for the winners and gave up on four hits, one being a home run by Beloskur to lead off Mikado's fourth inning. Sieloff moved from his shortstop position to pitch the eighth and ninth innings.

East Tawas scored two runs in the second inning on only one hit and pushed one run over in the second with one hit. The winners scored a single run in the third and then added four in a wild fourth, which was capped by a triple by Gene Jordan.

The Bears play at Roscommon this Sunday.

Michigan Bell Gives New District Plans

Michigan Bell Telephone Company today announced the formation of a new plant department district with headquarters in Bay City.

The new district will include the Midland, Bay City, Tawas and Clare areas formerly served by the Saginaw district.

"This new area organization meets our prime objective which is to serve local customers as fast, as well as as efficiently as possible," explained Howard L. Haight, local manager for Michigan Bell.

Harry D. White Jr., division staff supervisor at Saginaw, has been appointed district plant manager in charge of the new Bay City district, effective July 1. White and his family live at Midland.

Gerald F. Reitter of Tawas City will continue as plant chief of the Tawas area, which includes East Tawas, Oscoda, Standish, St. Helen and West Branch.

White is a new arrival to Michigan Bell, having been transferred last April from AT&T in New York.

He began his Bell System career in 1955 with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in Washington, D. C., and then spent three years in the air force as an electronic countermeasures officer in SAC.

Returning to the C and P company, White's assignments included the plant and chief engineer's departments; in 1961, he was named district plant engineer in Maryland.

He was reassigned to Washington for two years as division staff supervisor, and in 1966, he was appointed project manager in the information department of American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York.

White is a native of Annapolis, Maryland, and graduated from McKinley Tech, Washington, D. C.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from the University of Maryland and a

Finley's the Man for Sheriff

For Honest Efficient Law Enforcement
IT'S TIME WE MAKE A CHANGE

Vote REPUBLICAN August 6

Finley is the man who knows what must be done in the Sheriff's Department. He has approximately eight years experience in Law enforcement work. He knows what is being done with your tax dollars, too. Do You? Here is what the record shows.

YEAR	1957	1967
Prisoners' meals	$6,324.00	$7,518.00	Increase of $1,194.00
No. Prisoners	Approx. 500	Only 374	Increase of 126
Deputies Salaries in '58	$7,838.40	21,480.44	Increase of $13,642.04
Traffic Summons	272	185	Increase of 87
Sheriff's Dept. Budget	$30,422.00	$58,495.00	Increase of $28,073.00

1958 Budget was $27,488.00. Proposed for '69 $77,825.00—Increase of $50,337.00. DID YOU RECEIVE $58,495.00 WORTH OF PROTECTION DURING 1967?

The record shows that in March there were 124 Justice Court receipts processed. 108 were processed by the State Police and only 16 by the Sheriff's Dept. We, the Taxpayers, are paying more and having less done. The future of our County and Our Nation lies in this Election. It's time you become concerned about our county. We are planning to win by 1,000 votes August 6. We want to break all records August 6. Will you help Us? It's going to take you. Why do we want Victory August 6? Why do we want a Record Registration? Why do we want a Record Vote August 6? We want the Men in Vietnam and the more than 20,000 that have given their lives to know that the people in IOSCO COUNTY appreciate our right to vote.

Before closing we would like to Thank everyone of the faithful workers who started with us back in March on this campaign drive and you who have just JOINED with us the last few days. It's time you make a Stand with us by placing a RED and BLACK "FINLEY FOR SHERIFF" BUMPER STICKER on your car.

said there was a limited opportunity to gain skilled trades in the area and he believed that increased attention to vocational training in schools would provide some of the answers.

John P. Kavanagh, chief of the industry division, office of economic expansion, said that as an outsider, he would not dare tell the community how to answer local questions.

He said, however, that serious questions pertaining to industry should be settled locally and on a regional approach.

Kavanagh told community leaders that this area was competing with 200 other Michigan communities for industry and approximately 12,000 other communities of a similar size throughout the country.

He said that to "get in the ball game," the community must pay its entry fee by getting organized and setting its sights on just what kind of a community is wanted. "Do you want a Florida type of community for retirees, an area for young people or a community for both—the community has to set its own goals."

Kavanagh said he had seen reasonable industrial sites had been set aside. He emphasized that particular care must be taken to "care and feeding" of present industries. He said that any industrial prospect coming to the area would check existing industries to see how the community is taking care of them.

In promoting industrial expansion, said Kavanagh, you have to know what you have to offer, suggesting that informational brochures concerning industry be updated.

"If you want to get into the ball game, you must organize, set your sights, utilize available help—and the office of economic expansion is ready to help. It takes the commitment of the community and all elements of the community to make industrial development successful," he said.

Civic leaders and members of the IDC are to present information learned during the visit to the community at large.

The industrial expansion executives also visited West Branch, Midland, Clare, Grayling and Standish on this leg of the tour.

Each township is to retain a supervisor to act as a township board chairman. In the case of Tawas City, the supervisor had no other official function in city matters other than tax assessor and acting on the board of review.

The new nine-man board of supervisors would take over supervision of county government operations.

Weight Problem?

Pounds add up in a small boat. Whether you're carrying persons, packages or pachyderms, you'll be a lot safer if you know your boat's weight capacity.

Many manufacturers install tags showing maximum limits for weight and engine horsepower. If your boat doesn't have one, take it to your dealer—he's equipped to determine these capacities, and he'll place a permanent capacity tag in your boat.

Remember: The number of seats in a boat isn't a reliable guide to passenger capacity.

Michigan Sheriffs Object to Federal Gun Control Extension

Michigan Sheriffs Association, concluding its three-day convention in the Tawas last Wednesday, unanimously adopted resolutions against proposed extension of gun registration to rifles and shotguns and sought changes in the present state implied consent drinking driver law.

Kenneth L. Preadmore, Ingham County, was elected 1968-1969 president of the association. Keith Wilhelm, Branch County, was named vice president.

The sheriffs went on record opposing expansion of gun laws, being pushed by Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark.

Elton Smith, committee chairman, Eaton County, said the sheriffs felt such laws were completely impractical, both in regard to the lack of manpower available in most enforcement agencies to handle the necessary processing and because the rules would only affect "honest John Q" and not the criminal, who would continue to use unregistered weapons in the commission of his crimes.

Several of the sheriffs noted they considered the present demands for registration more of an emotional response to an unfortunate series of events rather than a practical solution to a problem.

Sheriff Smith, a past association president, said he serves a county of 52,000 persons and one of his deputies is largely tied up with inspection of hand guns.

"And when you get to safety, honest John Q will register all his weapons, but the criminal won't. They never have. Recently, a gas

State Police Patrols Devote Holiday to High Risk Roads

With July 4 week-end activities pushing Michigan traffic volume toward high summer levels, state police patrols again will devote special attention to high risk road areas and hours in efforts to minimize accident potential during the holiday period.

The patrols will be in force from noon Wednesday, July 3, to midnight Sunday, July 7, providing maximum coverage from 3 o'clock to at least 9:00 p. m. daily when traffic volumes are expected to be heaviest. Special consideration will be given to highway sections having bad accident experience.

State police aircraft, weather permitting and motor vehicle inspection personnel also will participate in the holiday patrols.

Col. Frederick Davids urged motorists to be particularly vigilant of their speed rates and of the spacing of their cars in traffic. Excessive speed and lack of safe maneuvering room are factors frequently involved in holiday accidents, he noted.

"There is a direct correlation between the frequency of traffic accidents of all kinds and traffic violations. That is why motorists should be extra attentive to safety rules when traffic is congested. Do not let a driving miscue on your part get you involved in a holiday highway mishap," Davids stressed.

There should be similar concern for safety precautions by those persons who will be taking part in water sports, such as, swimming, boating, water skiing, scuba diving and fishing, he added.

Davids said 34 persons were killed in Michigan July 4 week-end traffic accidents last year and another 10 died in water mishaps.

I-75 Freeway Opened With Ribbon Cutting

Opening of the new I-75 freeway in Arenac County was marked by a ribbon-cutting ceremony Tuesday afternoon, July 2, at the point where the US-23 connection leaves the freeway.

W. D. (Mike) Nunn, East Tawas, vice chairman of the Michigan State Highway Commission, was featured speaker. Mayor Robert Forsyth snapped the ribbon opening the road that is the gateway to Southern Michigan.

Originally feared by some Arenac County businessmen, civic leaders now look on the expressway as a tool for area development. Industrial recruiting teams have been pointing to the direct access to downtown Detroit as they attempt to lure industries into the northland.

Total cost of the Bay City to Alger freeway will be around $40,000,000 to $45,000,000.

CLOSE CALL—An 82-year-old Tawas City man, George Lattie, sustained head and internal injuries last Friday morning when he pulled out of Whittemore Street and onto US-23 in front of a gasoline transport unit driven by Frank J. Szczerowski, 27, Alpena. The tractor and two trailer units loaded with 11,000 gallons of gasoline speared Lattie's car in the right door and drove it across US-23 in front of Tawas Lanes. Skillful handling of the unit by the truck driver prevented what could have been a disaster. The Tawas City Fire Department stood by while the units were being unloaded into another tanker. Lattie was released from the intensive care unit of Tawas Hospital Monday morning and transferred into a regular hospital bed, where he remains for treatment.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Standish - Sterling School Plans Cuts

Drastic cuts in the Standish-Sterling School program were adopted last week by the board of education. Reductions were made necessary when a six-mill operational levy was defeated June 10. The six mills would have provided an extra $120,000 in operational revenue.

While a second millage vote has been scheduled for July 22, Supt. Wallace Schnetzler said the board must make plans on the basis of revenue available now. Passage of the millage July 22 would permit the school to operate a regular program providing additional teachers can be hired at that late date.

Seven drastic cutbacks were announced. Included were placing grades seven through 12 on half days, reduce class periods from one hour to 45 minutes and limit students to four subjects each.

Eliminate all extra-curricular activities including athletics, student clubs, debate, forensics, plays, cheerleading, marching band and teacher aide.

Another program eliminated would be summer agriculture and teaching supplies would be reduced. Transportation service would be reduced and no new transportation equipment would be purchased.

Maintenance and supply purchases would be cut to a minimum to keep the school operating.

Bill of Rights Important

A nationally-known syndicated columnist today startled the congregation of a large New York church by walking to the altar—disrupting service then in progress—and turned over his battered typewriter to the astonished minister.

While we believe that the national press of this country must constantly reappraise itself, the action of the "columnist" above is certainly not the answer. The typewriter, pen, pencil and camera are inanimate objects, as is the case of the gun.

Now being studied is a bill to enforce registration of all firearms in the nation under a system to be set up by the secretary of the treasury. Such a law could mean eventual confiscation of all arms held by law-abiding citizens—not the criminal, in spite of what has been said by President Johnson or John Glenn.

'Life of Christ' to be Shown at TC Baptist Church

A series of motion pictures has been planned for the Sunday school of First Baptist Church, Tawas City. This is a series on the "Life of Christ" and the first episode will be presented Sunday, July 7, during the 9:45 a. m. Sunday school hour.

film dramatizes a true to Scriptures account of Christ's life—His birth, boyhood, teachings and ministry, death and resurrection. There are 12 episodes in this series. Over 200 speaking parts are enacted in the finest professional manner. Each episode is a complete story.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide. Includes an illustration of people meditating.

Read Romans 8:1-6 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty. (James 2:12)

The key to freedom is discipline. How easy to waste our lives! Before a writer can have freedom with words, he must first become a slave to the pen.

While the key to Christian freedom is discipline, the key to discipline is Jesus Christ. Our lives become free when we let Him clean them up, put out the wrong and direct us in right living.

PRAYER

French Role in State's Past Reviewed by WSU Historian

DETROIT — Most Michigan residents, although aware that 1968 is the 300th anniversary of Sault Ste. Marie's founding, forget who the French founder was.
Can you name him?
Can you list three other Frenchmen whose names are important in early Michigan history?
"This is a year for remembering that in the two-peninsula area now called Michigan the earliest explorers were Frenchmen, not Englishmen," points out Dr. Philip P. Mason, Wayne State University archivist and professor of history.
"Because of our language, laws, and our system of government," he says, "we tend to assume that our earliest historical ties lie primarily with England. This is not true."
Although they were later greatly outnumbered by other groups, the French were the first white farmers, and more important to early Michigan, the first to activate a fur trade with the Indians, says Dr. Mason.
Etienne Brule, a French explorer, was the first white man to set foot on Michigan soil. He discovered Lake Superior between 1618 and 1622, and landed at Sault Ste. Marie about 50 years before the Soo settlement was established. The Brule River, which forms part of the boundary between the Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin, now honors his name.
The Governor of New France, Samuel de Champlain, who sponsored Brule's voyages, is himself credited with the discovery of Lake Huron three years earlier. There is nothing to indicate, however, that Champlain sensed the magnitude of this lake or ventured into the Michigan wilderness.
1634—Jean Nicolet passed through the Straits of Mackinac in search of a new route to the Orient.
1669—Adrien Jolliet (the older brother of Louis) was the first white man known to have visited the Lower Peninsula.
1671—Francois St. Lussion, in the name of King Louis XIV, proclaimed French possession of the Lake Superior territory and the Mississippi River Valley.
1679—Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle, built Fort Miami on the site of the present-day city of St. Joseph.
1701—Sieur Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac established a fort at Detroit.
The Fleur-de-Lis (French flag) floated over Michigan for 90 years. It wasn't until 1760, when British troops took control of Detroit, that the French influence in Michigan began to decline.
Today, except for shrines to some of these explorers, the names of nine of our counties and some of our coastline cities — like Bete Grise, Pt. Aux Chenes, Pt. Au Gres and Grosse Pointe — little remains to remind us of our earlier French culture.
Incidentally, it was Father Marquette who established that settlement at Sault Ste. Marie in 1668, three years before he went to St. Ignace.

Forest Chats

By STUART BAILEY, Forester
Huron-Manistee National Forest
Tawas Ranger District

Have you met our new resident on the forest yet? He is a green caterpillar about three quarters of an inch long. If you haven't met him, you have probably seen where he's been. He is the culprit who has eaten the leaves off most of the oak trees in the forest.

I would like to introduce him to you, so you can call him by name when you meet him. His scientific name is archips argyrospilus but we call him the fruit-tree leaf roller for short.

He has been here before in 1957 and 1958. During that visit, he defoliated 350,000 acres of oak. All the trees did not die, though. Only those that were weakened by other factors, such as, drought or disease. In 1959, he was almost wiped out by parasites that fed on him. This occurs among most insects and animals when they become overpopulated.

The new resident was here last year, also, but was not as plentiful as he is this year. A recent aerial survey showed that one and a half million acres have been defoliated this year.

How can this little "green worm" be stopped? The best way to kill the pest is to spray the trees in early May when the new leaves start to appear. This kills the caterpillars as he feeds on the buds and new leaves. It is too late for spraying to be effective this year, since the caterpillars are turning into brown moths now. The moths do not feed and are too elusive to be killed with a spray. They will lay eggs on the trees for next year's crop of caterpillars. Next spring will be the time to spray, if nature doesn't take her course and have parasites do the job instead. Investigations are now being made to determine if parasites are present.

If you have to spray, don't use a chemical containing DDT. DDT not only kills the insect but also warm blooded animals, such as, birds and fish. Also DDT doesn't break down, but remains as a poison and is carried by water into streams and lakes. The Cooperative Extension Service recommends using "sevin" or "malathion." These sprays are effective, do not harm warm blooded animals and will disappear.

Little Worm Eating Area Oak Trees

According to Marvin Davenport, county extension natural resources agent, his office has been deluged with phone calls about controlling that "little worm eating all the oak trees."

That "little worm" is commonly called the "spring cankerworm" or to the Latins "paleocrita vernata." They devour the foliage not only of oak but elm, maple, beech and other broad leaved plants in their daily diet.

These larvae feed together and in four to five weeks they mature, drop to the ground on silken threads and pupate.

Upon "hatching" in the spring, the females crawl up the tree trunks to deposit eggs. Here is where you can effect some control. Band the tree trunk with a sticky material to keep the adults from strolling up the tree. It should be done both in spring and fall and only on trees that are isolated.

There are two chemicals that can be used to help control them. One is called "sevin" and the other is "malathion."

Read the manufacturers directions when making application. For further information, contact the Cooperative Extension Service Office in the Federal Building for extension bulletin 530, "Insects Affecting Woody Ornamental Shrubs and Trees."

The rights of individuals are decreasing at an alarming rate and the powers and wishes of a select few are increasing.

The road commission of Iosco County has given National Gypsum Company permission to close one mile of the oldest and best roads in Grant Township. In return, National Gypsum will build the people approximately 1 1/2 miles of road around the present quarry through a swamp to the road commission's standards. The road commission's standards leave something to be desired if their last few construction jobs in the county are any guideline.

The road commission, after the insistence of the Grant Township supervisor and the people, held a hearing to listen to any opposition to the closing of the road. There were approximately 75 people voicing opposition to the proposed road change. Many valid reasons were given, such as, the devaluation of property that will now be located on a dead end road, loss of business to a grocery store located on the corner of M-55 and Sand Lake Road and the additional cost to the taxpayers for extra mileage for school buses, mail route, road maintenance, etc. All these reasons fell on deaf ears as the road commission used such reasons as "you can't stop progress."

National Gypsum's employment has shown a steady decline from approximately 350 men to approximately 175. "Safety" the road that they are going to close is one mile of high, straight road. The new road will be approximately 1 1/2 miles long with two sharp curves in it. "The best interest of the people." The three (3) man commission is made up of the chairman who is employed by National Gypsum, one member who admitted that he did not know where the road was after they agreed to close it and one member who stated that they did not vote to close the road, they just agreed. If any one person of the board of supervisors or road commission is asked a question, they cannot or will not answer. It is high time that we, the people of Iosco County, take a good look at the Mighty Few who are abusing the authority granted them.

Helmets Required for Motorcycle Usage

While Michigan's amended motorcycle helmet law does not require the wearing of helmets by riders, it does require that helmets be part of the motorcycle equipment and that the helmets meet standards previously set. Col. Fredrick E. Davids, state police director, has emphasized.

To clear up any misunderstandings among state cycle enthusiasts, Davids said: "Under the new law which has been given immediate effect, each motorcycle must be equipped with a number of crash helmets equal to the number of occupants on the vehicle. While the wearing of these helmets is now left to the discretion of the riders, we intend to enforce the law requiring them as equipment."

Davids further pointed out that the amendatory statute does not change the previous requirements on helmet specifications. "Even though we now have an amended law to deal with, it does not mean that we plan to allow just any sort of headgear. The Nazi-type, World War II helmet and other such novelties will not do. Only approved helmets meeting state police specifications will be legal," he emphasized.

A recent decision by the Michigan Court of Appeals ruled that the law requiring mandatory wearing of crash helmets by cyclists was unconstitutional. This ruling has been criticized by safety enforcement officials and medical authorities on the basis of records which indicate the leading cause of death in motorcycle accidents is injury to the head. Statistics of this nature prompted the federal government to include helmet wearing as part of the federal safety standards promulgated by
