Tawas Chamber Opens Drive for New Members

Tawas Chamber of Commerce is starting an intensive drive for members this week with the mailing of the first of several promotional cards to prospects within the community, according to Gar Bassett, president.

Theme of the campaign will be "You Miss so Much... When You're on the Outside!" Cards will carry cartoons by Henry Boltinoff, one of America's top humorous artists.

Cartoon on the first card shows a boy and a policeman looking at a ball game through small holes in the park fence. Copy says, "You can see part of the game through a knothole... but it is better to be on the inside. Everyone must chip in for good, successful teamwork. To have a winner, players must hustle and fans must give their wholehearted support."

Closing copy on the card states, "Your chamber of commerce has comprehensive plans for making our city the most progressive in the state. But, we need your support!"

The card described is one of a colorful series that will go to prospects. Others in the series will touch on the various functions of the chamber of commerce.

The chamber is to hold a campaign kick-off breakfast Wednesday, May 8, 8:30 a. m., at the Buckhorn Inn. All directors and interested members are invited.

The current campaign seeks to raise $10,400 for the chamber's 1968 budget. Last year, the budget was $8,500.

"The chamber of commerce receives excellent support from the business firms and professional men of the community," Bassett stated, "but we are hoping to broaden the base of our membership group and have more individuals take part in our program."

"At the present time, our membership includes representatives of practically every type of community activity and endeavor. Coordinating the efforts of men who have varied interests and points of view is a challenging job, but the community building achievements of chambers of commerce prove that it can be done. They have demonstrated that effective teamwork in attaining sound, continuous community development requires that the 'whole team' be in the game."

"It is our hope that the present membership drive will put more people on the team and help the chamber of commerce do an even better job for this community."

Bassett said that the chamber's board of directors is in hopes of completing the membership campaign within two weeks.

Grand Opening Set at Gould Drug Store

Grand opening at the newly-remodeled Gould Drug Store, East Tawas, featuring decor unique to the area and possibly for the entire state, starts today (Wednesday) and continues through Saturday.

Designed by Robert Johnson of M. and D. Fixture Company, the store gained 800 feet of additional floor space by remodeling a 20 by 40-foot section from a storage area at the rear of the building.

All new display cases have been installed and the sales area is carpeted with green indoor commercial carpeting.

Decor of the store features panels of cedar shake with rough sawn cedar beams. Trophy heads bagged on trips to British Columbia, Wyoming and Alaska by Harold Gould, president, are now arranged on a wall of field stone.

Work on this project started February 15 and was completed April 15 without losing one minute of store operating time. Leonard Calabrese, manager, said that the project started out as an expansion of the sales area, but a decision was then made to purchase new fixtures and completely remodel the store.

"We believe the decor of the sales area is unique in Michigan, but is not so flashy that it will detract from the actual sales product of a drug store," said Calabrese.

It is also one of the first mercantile stores to adopt new planning for the Newman Street business district. Remodeling the store front to conform to this overall plan being developed by East Tawas merchants is to follow in about five years.

A complete new heating plant and air conditioning unit were installed.

Additional prizes and events should make the 1968 fair the best yet," said Bellen.

April State Aid Checks Received

April apportionment of state aid amounted to $355,430, according to a report from County Treas. Edward Nelkie.

Department superintendents include: George Erickson and Robert Robinson, livestock; Robinson, swine and sheep; Perry Shellenbarger and Glenwood Streeter, poultry; John Dooley, farm produce; Agnes Bodenhorn, flowers and plants; Dorothy Mielock, home economics; Mrs. Gerald Ruckie, domestic arts; Mrs. Adell Brown, antiques; Norman Sibley, 4-H Club division; Bruce Goupil, harness racing.

Richard M. Samson, Whittemore, is again secretary-manager of the fair. He said that Skerbeck Company would have the fair midway, with old favorites and new rides, side shows, games and amusements.

TAHS Band Won 1st Div. Award at State

Tawas Area Senior High School Band traveled to Portage last Saturday to participate in the State Band and Orchestra Festival. The band received ratings of I, II, I, I for a final first division rating. This is the fourth time in the past five years that the band has received such high honors.

The adjudicators for this site were Dr. Harold Wright, Northern Michigan University; Dr. Lorin Richtmeyer, Northern Michigan University; Daniel Kyser, Western Michigan University, and Robert C. Slider, Crete, Illinois.

Some of their comments were "The band tone fits the music quite well, full bodied, percussive at times, but still well controlled. You have a fine band." "Both the brass and woodwind chairs have fine characteristics of control necessary to a musical performance. I must congratulate the band on a truly superior performance."

Senior and cadet bands will perform their final concert of the year May 18. At this concert, the senior band will premiere a commissioned work, "Tawas, a Suite for Band," under the baton of the composer, Lloyd Conley. The Saturday night concert will terminate Tawas Area Band Week as proclaimed by Mayor Russell Rollin of Tawas City and Mayor James Campbell of East Tawas.

During the school week of May 12-17 the bands will hold open rehearsals and tours of the music facilities at the high school. Everyone is encouraged to visit rehearsals and attend the concert.

Pick Poster Winners for Michigan Week

Tawas Women's League held a poster contest during March to promote Michigan Week in the schools. Winning posters are to be displayed in a public place during the May 19-26 observance.

Students in grades one through six of all elementary schools in the Tawas area were eligible to enter. Posters were first judged in the classrooms by students and each room chose one poster to enter in the contest.

Final entries were judged by league members at their April 9 meeting.

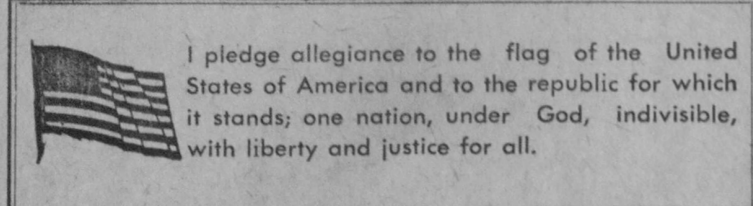

Most of the students were currently studying Michigan conservation in the classroom and posters illustrated such topics as littering, water pollution and fire prevention.

Mrs. Fred Rath, president of the Tawas Women's League, presented $2 checks Monday to each of the following winners:

"It was difficult to choose contest winners as there were many excellent posters with messages for all of us," said Mrs. Rath. "League members extend their thanks and appreciation to the teachers and students for their participation."

Craig Woerpel, first grade, East Tawas Elementary; Patrick Hill, second grade, St. Joseph Catholic

Mrs. Loren Woerpel was chairman and made all arrangements with the schools for the contest.

Dear Editor:

A recent letter to the editor made some comments on the property tax and appraisal situation in Iosco County. I would like to add some comments.

1. The county board of supervisors did not have the opportunity to equalize the county at $149,000,000, plus two or three million to be assessed to the gypsum companies. The state tax commission conducted a sales study in Iosco County during 1967, the purpose of which was to make a comparison to Gem Surveys appraisal totals, not to set a new state equalized value. The results of this study were turned over to the county equalization department about March 1, 1968. State law requires that a county desiring to set a new tax base must do so before February 1. Therefore, the county board of supervisors had no opportunity to use anything other than Gem Surveys appraisal totals.

The sales study made by the tax commission compared sales to 1967 assessments, not with Gem Surveys appraisals. These ratios were not available to the county until early March, but they indicated a total of $158,251,000 in the cash value of real property, or 95 percent of the Gem Surveys total of $166,392,000. After the 10 percent deduction on agricultural property, the Gem total became $165,045,000, or only four percent above the indicated value of the sales study. This is a very small difference if consideration is given to the fact that most properties have some improvements made by new purchasers, some parcels were not on 1967 assessment rolls because of errors in descriptions and some buildings were not being assessed because the assessors were not aware of their existence. Also, some of the sales were made in previous years on land contracts at prices lower than today's inflated values.

2. The county tax equalization department has sales study figures showing that agricultural properties are selling at even less than the 90 percent of original Gem appraisals. However residential properties (645 sales) averaged 104 percent of appraisals and sales of timber-cutover or hunting land, averaged 102.77 percent of appraisals.

It would appear, therefore, to be unfair to assess residential and timber-cutover properties at anything less than 50 percent of cash value, as the law requires. Also, I doubt that there is any downward trend in Iosco County property values. The register of deeds' 1967 report showed that 2,028 deeds had been recorded, almost 10 percent of all parcels in the county. Revenue stamps attached to deeds were $4,594 in 1965, $5,665 in 1966 and $7,927 in 1967. Does this look like a downward trend?

3. No doubt there has been some shifting of assessments within individual townships and cities. State law allows boards of review to make changes, providing they notify owners, who may then appeal to the state tax commission. However, it is not within the authority of the county board to act on internal problems. The equalization committee considers the total assessment of the individual township or city and cannot make changes in the individual parcels.

4. The tax commission also made a study of personal property assessments in Iosco County during 1967. Results of this study were turned over to the tax equalization department on March 28, after most boards of review had completed their work and only three days before final date for completion of review work. Gem Surveys work was not completed until about January 15 and as I said before the real property sales study was completed about March 1. I believe the supervisors and most of the boards of review did a very good job in the short time they had to act.

I hope the above information will help your readers understand the property tax assessment and appraisal problems of Iosco County.

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of this week's Bible lesson to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text from Psalms sets the theme: "Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness. . . Surely he shall not be moved forever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."

The Bible lesson also includes passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, among which is the following: "Mortals move onward towards good or evil as time glides on. If mortals are not progressive, past failures will be repeated until all wrong work is effaced or rectified. If at present satisfied with wrong-doing, we must learn to loathe it. If at present content with idleness, we must become dissatisfied with it."

Tips to Tell Trout, Salmon Apart

Steelhead and salmon are look-alikes, but here are some pointers which should help Michigan fishermen to correctly identify their catches and record them on the new salmon-trout report forms. One good way to tell these fish apart is by checking their mouths. The steelhead has an all-white mouth, while the coho has a black or dark gray mouth. The coho's teeth are set in white or grayish gums and that's how you tell it from a chinook which has an all-black mouth. For good measure in identifying your catches, check the anal fins of your fish. In both the coho and chinook, the anal fin is longer than it is high, with the coho usually having 12 to 15 rays and the chinook having 15 to 17. By contrast, the steelhead's anal fin is higher than it is long and it usually has only 9 to 12 rays.

Forest Land Management Meetings Set

Farmers, hunting clubs and other woodland owners will have an opportunity to attend three meetings on forest land management to be held at Tawas Area High School Wednesday, May 8, 15 and 22, 8:00 p. m.

The first meeting will be on forest resources of Michigan and Isosco County and their contribution to the economy of Michigan. Over 50 percent of the land area of Michigan is covered with forests and the proper management of forest land has a direct effect on wildlife, timber and recreation.

Dave Olson, Northeastern Michigan extension national resource agent, will present the May 8 meeting.

The final meeting May 22 will be on tree planting, pine management and plantation management. Mr. Olson, speaker, will discuss management services for private owners.

These meetings are being sponsored by Isosco County Cooperative Extension Service and Tawas Area Schools Adult Education Program.

Forest Chats

Muron-Manistee National Forest
Tawas Ranger District
By LOREN S. WOERPEL
Ranger

Many times in past articles, we have talked about vandalism on the forest. I'm afraid this implied that the majority of the forest use by the young people of our area resulted in this vandalism. This is absolutely not the case. Over the past three years, we have had hundreds of young people's groups holding various kinds of outdoor activities on the forest. Watching these folks use and enjoy the forest is truly a thrill for us. In many cases, it is a doing-learning outing. Sometimes it is just a case of having fun. A week ago Friday, we enjoyed talking briefly to two such groups out at the Gordon Creek Trail Camp. The Tawas Area 4-H Club Trail Riders rode horse back out to camp for an overnight stay in tents. At the same time, a group of boy scouts with their scoutmaster from near Detroit hiked the trail from Rollways to Gordon Creek and also stayed over night. When I left, they were planning a joint campfire evening get-together. You could tell that both leaders and youngsters alike were enjoying this chance to use the out-of-doors. And seeing these young people having fun using our facilities is what makes our job worthwhile.

Speaking of young people's interests in the out-of-doors, a good many Tawas residents have noticed the sign recently installed at the junction of Old US-23 and Monument Road. The sign reads "Conservation don't cost, it pays." Many have credited us with putting up the sign, but the credit belongs to the hard work of a young boy scout who is deeply concerned about natural resource conservation.

We understand he has taken a little kidding about his grammar, but the art of advertising is to create attention and interest, then sell the idea. Attract attention he has, and there is no mistaking his philosophical message for the world. Knowing and talking with the boy, we can vouch for his intense interest in exploring this thing called conservation. As he explores, he will learn that the "cost" he speaks of is not just the budgetary cost of getting a job done. Cost equally applies to the sacrifice of our self-centered and sometimes personal selfish wants and demands upon our environment which we must learn to control to become good stewards of the earth. This lad is learning this early by being concerned. Hey adults, kids do care!

Soil Release Finish Explained

Textile research chemists have developed a new technique to satisfy consumer complaints about soiling problems in durable press garments.

Called "soil release," it is used primarily on polyester fibers, marketed under trademarks such as Dacron, Fortrel and Kodol. The soil release processes also are better known by their trade names, Visa, Come Clean, Scotchgard, X-It and others.

Polyester fibers tend to have an affinity for oils, thereby requiring special cleaning treatments. Prior to the development of soil release processes, pretreating of heavily soiled areas was recommended.

Rubbing the soiled area with undiluted liquid detergent and allowing it to work on the soil for a few minutes before laundering was the way to remove heavy or oily dirt.

Some automatic washer manufacturers incorporated a prewash or soak cycle in their machines to help remove oily substances.

But these solutions will not absorb water. Water and detergents cannot penetrate the polyester, wash and wear fibers to release the soil.

The soil release systems do not prevent soil from entering the fabric, but they do allow it to leave faster.

Textile chemists and manufacturers agree that the new soil release systems are not miracle cures for all soiling problems but they are an advantage to clothing care. Consumers must care for treated articles as suggested by the manufacturer to derive the most benefit from the processes.

Hungry?
There are two kinds of hunger—

one involving an actual shortage of food, the other a shortage of essential nutrients although plenty of actual food is available. A recent USDA study turned up the surprising information that, in the United States, nearly half of the citizens have nutritionally inadequate diets although they get plenty to eat. Calcium, vitamin A and vitamin C were most often found lacking in the diets examined by USDA nutritionists . . . shortages that correspond directly to decreased consumption of dairy products, fruits and vegetables recorded over a 10-year period. Proper meal planning and food shopping means choosing the right foods as well as enough food for the family. It is a big responsibility.

Labels

It is true that all hot dogs are fully cooked, smoked sausages packed with food value and flavor. But . . . do take a second look at the label. If the label says "All Beef," it means the franks contain no meat other than beef. If the label says "All Meat," the franks usually contain beef and pork but no fillers. The word "Regular" on the label means that the franks contain up to four percent dry milk solids added to the meat. The label tells the story and the price differences add the postscript. Take a second look at the label on a package of franks before you decide which you will buy.

New Method of Medicare Payment for Doctor Bills

A new method of payment for doctor bills under medicare is included in the 1967 Social Security amendments, according to John Carr, district manager of the Bay City Social Security Office. Under the new payment method effective January 1, a medicare beneficiary covered under supplemental medical insurance can send in an itemized doctor bill for payment without first having to pay the bill. Prior to the 1967 amendments, the beneficiary had to pay the bill and obtain an itemized, receipted copy to claim payment or agree with the doctor for use of the assignment method. Now, the beneficiary may submit an unpaid itemized bill along with the necessary medicare claims form (SSA-1490) and receive payment. If the doctor completes the bottom half of the Request for Payment Form, the form itself may be used rather than an itemized bill. Mr. Carr suggests that those filing their first claim for medical insurance reimbursement send the claim to the Bay City Social Security Office for review. His office personnel will check the claim to insure that all necessary information is included in the request before it is sent to the proper intermediary. He also reminds that the yearly $50 deductible on doctor tion of his mill to the Huron Shores Rustic Furniture Company and that manufacturing operations were now under way. The firm, which has been operating in its shop on US-23 10 miles south of Tawas City, was started by C. F. Hamilton of Bay City nearly two years ago with the design and manufacture of rustic furniture as its main product. Distribution is on a nationwide basis. H. C. Westrich, manual arts teacher at East Tawas High School, is a partner in the enterprise and is acting as supervisor.

At the last meeting of the Tawas City Council, it was voted to hold only one regular meeting each month due to curtailed activities because of the war effort.

The department of conservation reports that fishing license sales thus far this year were only 21 percent of the sales last year at this time.

Grant, county treasurer; Edgar Louks, chairman of the finance and apportionment committee, board of supervisors; Margaret E. Worden, county school commissioner; A. A. Bigelow, representing boards of education; John Webb, Hale, not connected with any local government unit. Bigelow and Webb were appointed by Probate Judge Davison. No local tax unit may be allowed a tax rate in excess of what would be required according to its proposed budget. Balance of 15 mills is to be divided between governmental units according to need and as ascertained by the commission.

The Guessing Game!

How much would you save on a new car if you saw your credit union first?

Look at the price sticker on the car you are buying. It lists the base price, the extras, license, sales tax. What it doesn't list is the cost of financing — and that's where you start guessing.

Let's say you're offered financing "at just $4.50 per hundred." Is that 4 1/2 per cent? Wrong. It's actually almost 9 per cent true annual interest. Of course, not everyone can qualify even for 9 per cent; it applies only to new cars, depends on the down payment, etc. If you're buying a used car, you can pay 18 to 34 per cent. All this can add up to hundreds of dollars in interest rates — and boost the price of your car.

How do you beat the guessing game? DON'T GUESS. See your credit union first. They'll be glad to explain the mysteries of interest rates. They'll tell you in one lump sum how much your financing will cost . . . and give you rock-bottom rates on a loan as well. It pays to be a credit union family.

A COAT TO CHANGE WEATHER IN

Into every life a little rain must fall. Don't cry. You shall have sunshine wherever you go wearing this color-bright raincoat.

Sew-Shine for a Rainy Day

You can build this portable rain shelter yourself. The blueprints are Simplicity Pattern 7442. Roomy tent construction with raglan sleeves makes the going easy. For action wear, install a zipper closing or brass clasps down the front. A convertible collar stands up straight or rolls over. Topstitching shows off large pockets in the side seams. Let the coat swing free, or pull in the waist with a purchased belt.

For a coat meant to span seasons and time zones as well as daily weather changes, consider a bonded fabric. This type of fabric is made by permanently joining a face-fabric to a backing fabric, usually of nylon tricot, woven cotton or acetate. Since the face-fabric may be woven or knitted of almost any fiber or blend, the selection is wide open and can include water-repellent material.

Bone Up On Bonding

Bonding is a boon to the inexperienced sewer about to launch a coat. Its dual personality makes backing unnecessary and keeps a garment in top shape through dry-cleaning or washing. Even lining becomes an optional choice. The following ways and means of working with bonded fabric leaked out of Coats & Clark's sewing studio:

Before you cut, lay out the fabric face side up to let its lengthwise grain guide you in pattern placement. To press, remember that each side is a different fiber and requires a different heat setting on the iron.

Without a lining, your coat seams will want a fine finish. Make flat-felled seams in this way: After stitching, separate backing fabric from face-fabric on one seam allowance and trim face-fabric to 1/8". Trim other seam allowance to 1/4". Fold all seam allowances to one side, with the full-width backing allowance on top. Turn under the raw edge of this backing fabric and topstitch or slipstitch to the garment. For the hem, sew to the backing fabric only.

New step out into a shower and let your rainbow striped coat take you from wet to dry as quickly as a cloud passes by.

STATE OF MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY LANSING, MICHIGAN

Department of Agriculture Regulation No. 133 Regulation Relating to the Public Exhibition of Poultry

By virtue of the authority provided by Act 181, Public Acts of 1919, as amended, the following rules and regulations are hereby established:

- 1. Feed and water containers provided for exhibition coops shall be new or properly cleaned.

- 2. Feed or water containers from which birds have eaten or drunk must be refilled so as not to contaminate the common supply of feed and water.
3. Exhibition coops must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, both prior to and following such exhibition.
4. Exhibition coops must be so constructed and placed as to provide adequate light for proper inspection of poultry for evidence of transmissible diseases.
5. Litter for exhibition coops must be of clean material and be renewed daily or oftener as needed.
6. Shipping crates used in shipment of birds by common carrier may not be used as exhibition coops.
7. No bird shall be handled by anyone other than the attendant and the judge after they have been placed in exhibition coops.

It is recommended that all birds exhibited at fairs and poultry shows shall have been vaccinated against Infectious Bronchitis and Newcastle Disease thirty days or more prior to the date of the exhibition or show.

—Rules—

Exhibitors are requested to read carefully rules and regulations covering exhibition of poultry. All exhibits shall be (a) purebred (b) cross bred from purebred parents. All birds showing any general disqualifications according to the Standard of Perfection shall receive no award. Provided the birds are typical of the breeds which they represent, the placing of awards shall depend upon the following:

- A. Pulletts: 1. Rapidity of growth. 2. Depth of pigment. 3. Uniformity of shape and size. 4. Promise of egg production. 5. Absence of defects and disqualifications.
B. Mature Birds (Hens): 1. Degree of bleaching. 2. Condition of abdomen (spread and pliability). 3. Absence of new primary wing feathers. 4. Alertness of head and eyes. 5. Body weight, conformation and fitness. 6. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

It is suggested, especially for fairs held late in September and October, that all birds exhibited go directly from the Fair to market for slaughter so that none of them will be taken back to the farm. The reason for this precaution is that the birds may take back some disease to the farmer and injure his egg production of his farm flock, if such disease is infectious and of the type which will lower his egg production.

A pen entry shall consist of two females and one male. (Classifications: Cock, Cockerel, Hen, Pullet.)

Again it is fair time in Michigan.

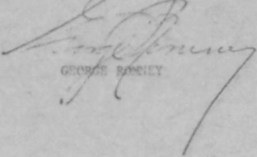

All the way from the far western reaches of the Upper Peninsula to Detroit, site of the Michigan State Fair, the spotlight and interest will be on hundreds of exhibits of the numerous commodities and products which Michigan contributes to the free world trade market. Often we lose sight of the fact that these products—such as automobiles and navy beans for instance—travel great distances around the globe to satisfy human needs.

As I cannot personally visit each and every county or local fair, I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate everyone responsible for helping our state achieve such high standards of excellence and acceptance of our agricultural, industrial and other products. The variety, abundance, and excellence of our agricultural and industrial output continues to reach new heights each year through your individual and combined efforts.

What you as an exhibitor are displaying at today's fair, and you as a spectator are viewing, has enabled our State of Michigan to be the dynamic state it is worldwide. I am confident that this success will continue with your help.

My very best wishes for an enjoyable and meaningful fair.

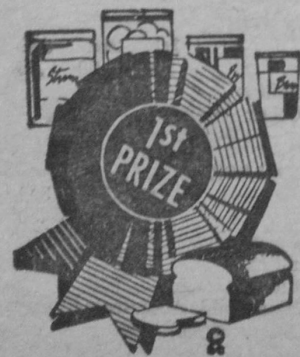

Sincerely,

GEORGE F. ROMNEY
Governor of the State of Michigan

B. DALE BALL
Director, Department of Agriculture

TO FAIR VISITORS AND FAIR SPONSORS:

The Michigan Department of Agriculture joins with fairs throughout Michigan in programs designed to build better fairs that bring agricultural producers and consumers together for closer understanding.

The Department's role in fairs includes: participation in financing construction programs; state supervision of racing and pulling contests; and administration of funds for agricultural advertising and promotion, as well as for premiums, breeders' awards, and purse supplements—all designed to encourage agricultural excellence.

We are interested in stimulating the sales of Michigan grown products, and the department encourages fairs to work closely with commodity groups and other agri-business interests to accomplish this end.

On behalf of the Commission of Agriculture and the entire Department, it is a pleasure for me to invite consumers and producers to enjoy your fairs and to profit from this annual opportunity to gain appreciation of the bounty of Michigan's agricultural industry and its importance to the entire state economy.

Sincerely,
