

Classes Bulge as Enrollment Zooms at TA

Total enrollment at Tawas Area Schools has reached 1,852 students, an increase of 75 over last year and 50 more than anticipated at the start of the term. The head-count Friday is to be used as the basis for determining state aid payments.

Billy R. Wilder, high school principal, told members of the board of education Monday night that the high school enrollment now stands at 963 students. With recent additions to the buildings and utilizing classrooms at 100 percent of capacity, the high school can handle 985 students.

Full utilization of quarters at 100 percent of capacity is practically an impossibility, however, because of scheduling.

Enrollment Monday was 889, one less than the count at the end of the first week, but 35 more than anticipated last spring.

Wilder told members that many of the new students are from downstate areas. He said that investigation had disclosed that parents were commuting to jobs in the Bay City-Saginaw area, in many instances.

As the result of this enrollment increase, the board of education approved hiring of two additional teachers. While there are enough students for another section of first grade, no elementary teachers are available.

As a temporary solution, one teacher who will be leaving for military service in January, has been hired to teach junior high English on an interim basis. Attempts are to be made to secure a teacher for the second semester.

In addition to this action, the board authorized a plan whereby Gary Bedard would be free to take seventh and eighth grade boys in physical education. Another teacher is to handle physical education for girls. Such classes would be handled on a rotating basis, whereby students would have physical education every other day.

It was pointed out that junior high students presently have two study halls a day and, because of overcrowded conditions, it was felt this was one study hall too many.

The board authorized hiring of Mrs. Marvin Gingerich to police the playground at Tawas City Elementary Unit daily from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

The board also authorized hiring of an additional bus driver, who starts a new run on the Plank Road. Four buses were carrying 80 or more students, which is above the 66-passenger capacity and in violation of state law.

Set $13,582 Budget for Chest Drive

A $13,582 budget was adopted for 1969 last week by Tawas-Whittemore Area Community Chest. The annual red feather campaign is to be held October 7-26.

On recommendation of the budget committee, with Mrs. George A. Prescott and Albert Duquette as co-chairmen, the following budget was approved:

American Red Cross, $2,300; Boy Scouts of America, $2,420; Girl Scouts of America, $500; Michigan United Fund, $2,355; youth activities fund, $900; Salvation Army, $1,000; Lutheran Social Services, $600; Michigan Children's Aid Society, $1,160; Catholic Family Services, $1,647; contingent fund, $700.

Acting on the committee were Elmer Werth, John Brugger, Steven Sventko, James DeWise, John Forsten, J. Richard Ernst, James Hatcher, Clarence Curry and Mrs. George Kindell, president of the community chest.

Mrs. Kindell has appointed John W. Skrocki as campaign chairman. Ralph Western will head the drive in East Tawas, Brugger and Mrs. Edward Savage will handle Tawas City and Clarence Curry will head up solicitations from labor.

Transfer Gives Iosco Funds to Finish Year

Iosco County avoided a possible financial crisis last week by transferring $35,000 out of its county airport fund which had been appropriated to match federal-state funds for construction of a new runway.

Addressing the board of supervisors during its September session, County Treas. Edward Nelkie told supervisors that negotiations for constructing the new runway through federal and state participation had apparently not been successful.

The treasurer reported that, as of September 1, the county had but $25,000 in its general fund and faced expenditures of $98,000 for county operation between September 1 and December 31.

Nelkie noted that additional anticipated revenue during the final four months of 1968 included $13,000 in state income tax payment, $5,000 in marine enforcement and $10,000 as fees from county offices.

The anticipated revenue, combined with $25,000 cash on hand, amounted to total revenue of $53,000 for the next four months.

Inasmuch as the airport project had not progressed and a large balance could not remain in the fund at the end of the year, Nelkie urged that the $35,000 appropriation be returned to the county general fund. This action was taken by supervisors and it is expected that revenue will balance expenditures during the next four months of operation.

In other business, the board set October 17, 2:00 p. m., as the date for its annual budget hearing.

Discussion was held on the possibility of constructing office facilities near Iosco Medical Care Facility as headquarters for the district health office. It was pointed out that Iosco has approximately 41 percent of the total population for counties involved in the district (Ogemaw, Alcona and Iosco) and pays 41 percent of the total cost of operation. The office is presently located at West Branch.

A report which was to be given on a county dog control measure was tabled until the next session in order that additional information may be obtained from other counties.

It was announced by Marvin Davenport that Norman Sibley of Reno Township had offered to donate the Hale fire tower to the county as part of the proposed county roadside park on M-65. Sibley purchased the tower from the conservation department. In addition, Sibley would construct a tower cab at ground level as a museum for artifacts concerning fire fighting.

Davenport recommended that the board of supervisors establish a county parks and recreation commission.

Otis Love, county road engineer, presented copies of a new act which allows the road commission to maintain private roads not included in the county road network. Under the act, townships must allocate money in advance before any work would be done on the private roads. In recent years, state law had prevented such work and signs were placed on those roads which were not maintained by the council. (See SUPERVISORS, page 6.)

Many Youths Involved, Say Police

Three Persons Face Narcotics Charge

The tradition that living in a small town served as a buffer against problems of metropolitan areas, particularly in the recent widespread use of narcotics by teen-agers, evaporated in a cloud of smoke here last Friday.

Local law enforcement agencies announced that a high percentage of Tawas youths had their first experience in smoking "pot" during the past summer.

The extent of the introduction of smoking Cannabis Sativa—marijuana—along with possible use of other drugs, cannot be estimated by police as yet, but one officer believes that more than one-half of the 15-19-year-old age group may be involved.

Police Chief Donald Docking of East Tawas said Saturday that the percentage quoted above may be a strong indication against one age group but, following investigation, he has reason to believe it is true. Two youths appeared in justice court Monday on a charge of possessing narcotics. Police are compiling a long list of names of other youths, who are said to be linked to "pot" parties since last June.

Police had investigated several reports concerning possible use of narcotics by local youths during the past three months. "We had several leads but were unable to obtain the necessary evidence," said Docking.

The case came to a head last Tuesday night when the parents of one youth called Chief Docking requesting the presence of officers at their residence.

There, officers found a youth under the influence of drugs. He was examined at the hospital and doctors were of the opinion that he was under the influence of marijuana, or some other drug.

Police learned that other youngsters were involved in a party and obtained a search warrant for a house at 605 Sawyer Street, East Tawas, Assisting Docking and Patrolman Charles Viar were state police and sheriff's department officers.

Arrested at the above address were Douglas Orton, 18, and Michael Straley, 17, who reside there. The warrant obtained from Pros. Atty. J. Richard Ernst called for searching the house for marijuana, its seeds, resin extracted from such plant, or a compound, manufactured salt, derivative, mixture or preparation thereof.

Straley and Orton waived examination in justice court. They were released on $1,000 bond.

With evidence found at the scene was a quantity of ashmador, a medicine used for treatment of bronchitis, which may be purchased over the counter. Docking said that a physician had informed him that one-half teaspoon of this drug could be fatal.

A third man, James W. Hill, 24, Lansing, was arrested Monday afternoon at Cadillac. He demanded examination on a charge of possession of narcotics. He is being held at the county jail and awaits investigation by the federal parole and probation officer.

In piecing together investigation during the past several days, officers have talked to many youths. Considerable cooperation has been shown by youths and parents.

While some youths admitted to trying marijuana only once, others said they had been on numerous "pot" parties during the past summer.

Officers are now going to make a personal contact with every parent whose child has been mentioned as a possible participant.

The police chief said that one youth told him that there had been five or six sources for illicit drugs available in the community during the summer.

Police are now investigating information received that marijuana was being cultivated in this area.

Officers located one isolated patch some time ago, but positive information is that the plants were growing "wild." A number of years ago, marijuana was discovered growing in an area farmer's field. It was destroyed by police.

The East Tawas police chief said there were many loose ends to be tied in the investigation and a considerable amount of work had to be accomplished in a short time.

"Parents should be informed of the problem immediately," said Docking. "I really cannot understand how some parents were unaware that their children had been experimenting with drugs. The effect is fairly obvious."

Following prosecution, an educational program is to be held acquainting youths and parents of the danger involved in use of narcotics. Also, the legal consequences which can be expected.

School Board President Asks for Report on Finance-Progress

A complete report on finances, class loads and the effect of recent cuts to the educational program at Tawas Area School is to be presented at the November 11 meeting of the board of education.

In directing administrators to prepare this information, Leonard Sarki, board president, said he felt the people of the school district should have this information in order to fully realize the full impact caused by defeat of millage proposals.

Action of the board Monday night authorized school administrators to borrow $50,000 on anticipated state aid or taxes in order to tide operational expenses over until receipt of property taxes.

At present, there is some question if the school can borrow on anticipated state aid. There is a hold-up due to Detroit's litigation, which has cast a shadow on state funds. The legislature has passed a law which will make borrowing legal after November 14.

If the school pays no bills until there is an assurance of funds, then it could not meet the November 11 payroll. This action would also save the additional expense of interest charged for borrowing.

Another point learned by the school is that it can only borrow money if a balanced budget is shown for the entire year.

By not hiring additional teachers needed, cutting some phases of the program, charging additional fees to students and complete utilization of a surplus which it held as a reserve to tide expenses over until receipt of tax money, the school had hoped to have a balanced budget next spring.

According to a recent bulletin from the University of Michigan School Services, Tawas Area School does not meet the following accreditation requirements:

The library does not have enough seats to meet eight percent of its enrollment (76), the library does not have 5,000 titles and it does not have an adult library clerk. Ratio of pupils per counselor is 400 and Tawas has one full-time counselor. Maximum number of different class preparations for a teacher is not to exceed four. The school has one teacher with five different classes.

If requirements are not followed, the school could lose its accreditation. At present, students in the upper 50 percent of a class will be accepted. If the school does not meet accreditation requirements, it would mean that a student must be in the upper 10 percent of his class to enter college. If not in the upper 10 percent, a college entrance examination would be required.

Judge Ralph Withdraws; Now Supports Ernst

Probate Judge Kenneth Ralph of Standish announced Monday afternoon that he would not be an active candidate for the newly-created office of district judge and was supporting J. Richard Ernst of Iosco in the latter's bid for this office.

In a telephone conversation with the Herald late Monday afternoon, Judge Ralph said that, while his name would be listed on the ballot, he did not now seek the position.

He said he had "been on the fence" prior to the filing deadline. He has now decided that he would rather retain the position of Arenac County probate judge.

Boat Launching Plans in Tawas Viewed for Aid

Two local projects were submitted to the Michigan Waterways Commission last Wednesday in a new state program to assist communities with construction of facilities for Michigan coho fishermen.

Charles Lattimer, who represented the commission, told a group of local officials meeting at the Barnes Hotel that the state was preparing to assist local communities on a 90-10 matching basis. For every 10 cents appropriated at the local level, the state would match that amount with 90 cents received through its share of the state gasoline tax.

The state harbors chairman said that such funding of state-approved projects would come after July 1969 and the program would be ready for the fall of 1970.

Lattimer pointed out that construction of any ramps would have to be according to state specifications and constructed on a sealed bid basis.

It is estimated that each three-acre site in this program would cost approximately $150,000 and would handle 150 cars and trailers.

A program presented by Reginald Blulitz, superintendent of public works for Tawas City, included enlargement of ramp facilities on Ninth Avenue, plus utilizing part of the city's new industrial site which is adjacent to the present ramp area.

It is expected that Tawas City's present ramp site would not qualify for state participation as it is on leased property owned by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway. If another site is obtainable, participation may include construction of a parking lot and restroom facilities.

Mayor James Campbell outlined East Tawas' program, which included expansion of the municipal parking lot at the foot of Newman Street, expansion of ramps at the site of the old Anderson Coach Company and possible construction of a parking site at the old county airport.

Lattimer was particularly interested in construction of a ramp site on a county road near Jerry's Resort on Tawas Point. To be eligible for state funds, additional property would have to be acquired to the northwest from Tawas Beach Club.

Campbell made known the state's interest in this site at the Wednesday meeting of the Iosco Board of Supervisors. The board's conservation committee is to study this possibility.

Lattimer said he was most encouraged to see both cities constructing launching sites on their own initiative. Tawas City had one double ramp constructed last year and completed work last week on a new double ramp. Space is available for an additional double ramp. East Tawas presently has two double ramps behind the old sewage disposal site, which is to be discontinued this fall. This site is to be cleared for further expansion of boating facilities.

Lattimer said that the state would not purchase property for launching sites and that an inventory of property could not be included in the community's share of the cost.

The City of Tawas City assured the harbors chairman that, if state money was expended on the river to improve launching facilities, the city would guarantee that the river mouth would be kept free of silt. The city superintendent said this did not amount to a serious problem as the city owns dragline equipment.

Should either community become eligible for this program, any improvements would remain in city hands.

Lattimer said that engineers from the waterways commission would make a survey of available property in the area in the very near future to determine eligibility for participation in the program.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Romans 5:1-5) Think of a ship: big as it is and driven by such strong winds, it can be steered by a very small rudder. . . . Just think how large a forest can be set on fire by a tiny flame! (James 3:4-5, TEV)

Jesus put great importance on little things: The widow's mite, the lost coin, the mustard seed. He used such things as these to reveal and remind us of God's love and will.

What value do we place on little things? How important are they? One evening as I was ironing, our four-year-old son came in the room and began making shadows on the wall with his hands. As he made each one, he would ask me to look at the bird, dog or whatever he was trying to portray. Then, suddenly, instead of asking me to look, he spoke to God and said, "Thank You, God, for shadows." To this small child, shadows were important. They drew him near to God in thankfulness.

Our own lives may be filled with many shadows. If we draw near to God, He will illumine them with His purpose. Then we, too, will thank God for shadows.

PRAYER Our Father, our hearts are grateful to Thee for everything in life. For the gift of children, who fill our lives with laughter, and challenge us to grow like them, we give Thee thanks. Keep us in Thy love, we pray. Amen.

Intermediate School District to Launch Speech Therapy Study at W-P and Hale

David Featheringill and Robert Kennedy, speech therapists for the W-P Intermediate School District, are to conduct a research project at the Whittemore-Prescott Elementary School.

This project is an attempt to measure speech improvement resulting from a coordinated effort between the classroom teacher and speech therapist," said Ernest Jordan, superintendent of W-P Intermediate School District.

Procedures for this study include two-hour (20 hours) classroom teacher workshops to be held at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School. The workshops will attempt to familiarize the classroom teachers with the types, causes and severity of the different speech defects.

Workshops will also include materials available to the teacher and how the teacher can use them to conduct a speech improvement program in the classroom.

All kindergarten and first grade students will be screened and a phonetic analysis made of all children found to have a speech defect, using the Templin Darley Test of Articulation by the repetitive method.

In May 1969, children found to have defective speech will be given another complete phonetic analysis using the same test. The results of this phonetic analysis will then be compared to the September phonetic analysis.

In addition to the phonetic analysis given by the therapist, Wepman's Auditory Discrimination Test will be given by the classroom teacher to all children at the beginning of the program. This test will then be given at the end of the program and the results compared.

The auditory discrimination test will also be given to the kindergarten and first grade students at Hale this fall and also at the conclusion of the program and used as a control group to compare progress of auditory discrimination.

Five one-hour parent workshops are to be held at convenient locations for parents. These are to be conducted when the classroom teacher and the therapist feel it advisable.

Two 15-minute periods each day will be reserved for speech improvement beginning the second week of November. The program that is to be used is Margaret C. Byrne's, "The Child Speaks," a speech improvement program for kindergarten and first grade.

Register by Oct. 4 for Nov. 5 Election

Time is fast closing in on prospective voters, who still have not registered for the November 5 general election.

"You have only until October 4 to get registered," is the way the state's chief elections official, Sec. of State James M. Hare put it. "If you are not registered, you can not vote for president and the many other important offices, as well as on a record five state-wide propositions on the ballot."

Michigan to Register Snowmobiles in Oct.

Starting sometime in October, registrations for Michigan snowmobiles will become available at all branch offices of the secretary of state.

According to Sec. of State James M. Hare, whose department of state will handle the brand new registration program for the winter vehicles, all snowmobiles except those used on the owner's property exclusively will be subject to the new law.

"Registration will be on a three-year cycle, the same as for motorboats," said Hare. "Fees for the three-year registration will be $5 and will be scaled down to $3 next year and $2 the final year of the current registration in 1971."

The new snowmobile registration law is based on legislation passed during the 1968 session by the legislature, now Act 74, 1968.

When they register their snowmobiles, owners will be assigned numbers for them. Owners, according to the new law, "shall paint or attach in a permanent manner to each side of the forward half of the snowmobile the identification number in block characters of good proportion, not less than three inches in height, reading from left to right."

Hare said he could not estimate the number of snowmobiles in Michigan but indicated his department was gearing up to handle from 50,000 to 100,000 of these winter vehicles the first year of the registration.

"Growing popularity of snowmobiles is unquestioned and the number of owners has grown quite dramatically just in the past year or two," he said.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Swantek Sr. of Hale and the son of Mrs. Eleanor Allen of Defiance, Ohio, exchanged nuptial vows Saturday, September 21, at St. Maria Goretti Church, Bay City.

For the rites read by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Kerns, the bride wore a traditional silk faced, satin gown fashioned in princess styling, bateau neckline, brief scalloped sleeves and skimmer skirt with back fullness spreading into a chapel length train. Pearl beaded, French bordeaux lace motifs embellished her gown. A floral lace headdress with pearls, crystal swirls and crystal drops secured her bouffant veil.

Matching Dior bow headpieces and veils completed their attire and they carried crescent cascades of matching carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Lutze chose his brother, Ronald Lutze of Bay City, as best man with Gary Lutze of Southfield, Robert Jezak of Bay City, Grant Mousseau and Kenneth Swantek of Hale, Marion Swantek Jr. of Otter Lake, groomsmen, and Gale Swantek, junior groomsmen. Committee Gives Information on TA Adult Education Classes

(This article is the second in a series being presented by CUBE, Citizens United for Better Education, in answer to questions regarding Tawas Area Schools.)

Why spend money on adult education when the school is short of funds to properly educate children of Tawas Area School District is a question being raised by some citizens.

"The simple answer is that we were committed to the program before failure of the millage when money became a problem," states a report this week from CUBE—Citizens United for Better Education.

What will it cost to operate the program this year? The following is a breakdown of receipts and expenditures:

Receipts: — Mott Foundation grant, $5,000; adult enrichment fees, $2,250; student enrichment fees, $165; federal aid, $343; state aid, $3,862.80; miscellaneous, $100. Total receipts, $11,720.80.

Disbursements: Administration—director's salary, based on 48 weeks, $10,187; part-time secretarial salary, $360; telephone, $100; travel, $200; printing and advertising, $200; other, $50; teacher salaries—adult high school, two teachers, 36 weeks, $1,800; adult enrichment teachers, $800; student enrichment teachers, $520; miscellaneous expense for books and supplies, $200. Total expense, $14,417, with net cost to the school board of $2,696.20.

Charging fees for adult education enables the program to be largely self-supporting. Class fee covers the salary of the instructor and any school materials that may be used by the student. Some of the classes will pay for themselves while others will not. Large classes will help to pay for small ones.

Adult high school and adult basic education programs are supported by aid through the state and federal government. No fees are charged to the students. The adult high school program is open to any adult over 18 years of age who is working toward a high school diploma.

An expenditure of an estimated $2,700 by the school board will enable the community school program to operate on a 48-week basis of six days per week and 11 to 12 hours per day. The building is already heated. Lighting expense is estimated at 25 cents per hour. A once a week class meeting eight times for two hours each would expend $4 for lights.

What will the community school program do for our community? There is the personal pride and satisfaction of an adult completing his high school education and receiving a diploma. A woman learning how to make a dress or knit a sweater, a man obtaining a better job because he finished high school and no longer feels ashamed when he fills out an application form asking about his education (and they all ask that question), teenagers being entertained at school not on the street or in parked cars, the feeling of good health exercise and entertainment.

The excitement and thrill of an elementary boy scoring a touchdown in flag football; the togetherness and cemented relationship of a father-son activity or a mother-daughter activity (When did you last have fun with the kids?); the pride the senior citizens have toward the school because they are involved in a group that meets weekly at the school and they have activities provided for them to help pass their idle time; the elimination of an ADC mother because she acquired sufficient skills to find a job; the value of a summer recreation program; a four-year-old learning how to get along with others in a pre-school story hour class; mother learning first aid, a sixth grader learning a hobby which may be carried over into adult life.

The list is endless because a true community school program offers something for everyone. You may laugh at the jiggers but how about ceramics or oil painting? A few dollars spent on adult enrichment can change the daily grind into a more meaningful and enjoyable life.

With the indicated budget, Tawas Area Schools could become a true community school. A minimal amount of federal and state aid monies have been included in this budget. These figures are based on the present enrollment in the adult high school. Future enrollees will increase the amount of state aid to our school district for next year's program.

Owners of new homes aren't the only ones who can enjoy the modern comfort and convenience of whole-house electric heating. Today, families who live in houses of virtually any age or architectural style can convert to clean electric heat.

Electric heat fits into home remodeling plans because it's less expensive to buy and install than other heating systems, and the variety of electric heating systems available makes it easy to meet all kinds of remodeling problems.

Thanks to new materials, techniques and equipment, insulation that keeps heating costs down and family comfort high is easy to add to existing homes. And remember, the house insulated for electric heat is a breeze to cool with electric air conditioning.

WALK AND BE HEALTHY.

Don't Forget—Your Feet Last A Lifetime

In the vacation rush, the sightseeing tour, your feet are often overlooked—or at least aren't getting the attention they deserve. The average person, in a day's time, supports a combined load of several tons on the feet. During a lifetime, on the average, people walk a distance equal to 2½ times around the earth.

This is a big job for your feet, which are complex systems of 26 bones held together by muscles and ligaments. Few people recognize the close relationship between foot health and general health. Foot disorders can not only be painful in the foot, but can also contribute to backaches, headaches, and even facial wrinkles.

Women, in particular, are prone to foot disorders. In fact studies show that 80 percent of all women have had or will have some kind of foot trouble.

The family podiatrist, as a specially-trained member of the medical team, is responsible for the care of the feet. He helps prevent and treat foot disorders. He is often the first one to discover chronic diseases, since many of these are frequently observable in the feet before symptoms appear elsewhere.

The American Podiatry Association, representing the nation's 8,000 foot doctors, suggests the following hints for foot health:

- Cleanliness is essential. The feet should be washed daily. Special attention should be given to the toes and the backs of the heels.
- Overexposure to sunlight or extra walking may cause your feet to swell. Relieve swelling and improve circulation in the feet and legs by taking a 10-minute rest with your feet elevated higher than your hips.
- When traveling long distances by car, take a short walk occasionally to reduce swelling caused by poor circulation or inactivity.
- Anyone with corns, calluses, or other painful problems should, of course, obtain prompt medical care from your family podiatrist.

For additional information, write The American Podiatry Association, 3301 Sixteenth Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20010.

Braves Lose, 27-0; Play Pinny in 1st Home Stand

Tawas Area Braves suffered their second straight loss in the new football season, losing to Carrollton Friday night, 27-0.

The winners made their debut in NBC competition against a Tawas team which just had been unable to mount any kind of an offense.

Tawas had one touchdown called back when Mike Sventko, sophomore quarterback, went 62 yards on a wide end sweep. The play was whistled down by a clipping penalty.

Fullback Dale Taylor of Carrollton scored twice on runs of 41 and 10 yards and plunged for two extra points. Halfback Charlie Brown of Carrollton went nine yards for a touchdown and ran over a conversion.

Also counting for the Cavaliers were Halfback Jim Nichols and End George Kubiak, the latter on a 37-yard pass from Jim Emeott, sophomore quarterback.

Carrollton made 203 yards on the ground and 121 in the air. Tawas had only 36 yards rushing and none in five aerial tries.

The Braves met Pinconning this Friday night in the home opener.

In other NBC action, Oscoda Owls rolled to a 32-6 win over Ogemaw Heights (West Branch-Rose City), Essexville Garber scored late in the game to edge Standish-Sterling, 12-7; Gladwin downed Pinconning, 12-7.

Coach Steve Sventko was particularly impressed with the play of Morten Spro, exchange student, who played his first game at defensive tackle. Also giving encouragement to the coaching staff was the play of five sophomores on the squad.

Tawas fumbled five times during the night, which hurt the offense considerably. Steve Crisenbery had a punting average of about 45 yards which helped to keep the Braves out of trouble. Two of the punts were fumbled and recovered by Tawas.

Whittemore - Prescott Cardinals made a complete turnabout from their play in the season opener by losing Friday night to Roscommon, 27-0, in Northeastern Michigan League play.

With five minutes, 43 seconds left in the first period, Ed Pearce of Roscommon took a punt on his own 50 and, with good downfield blocking, raced all the way to a touchdown. The PAT was good and the visitors held a 7-0 lead.

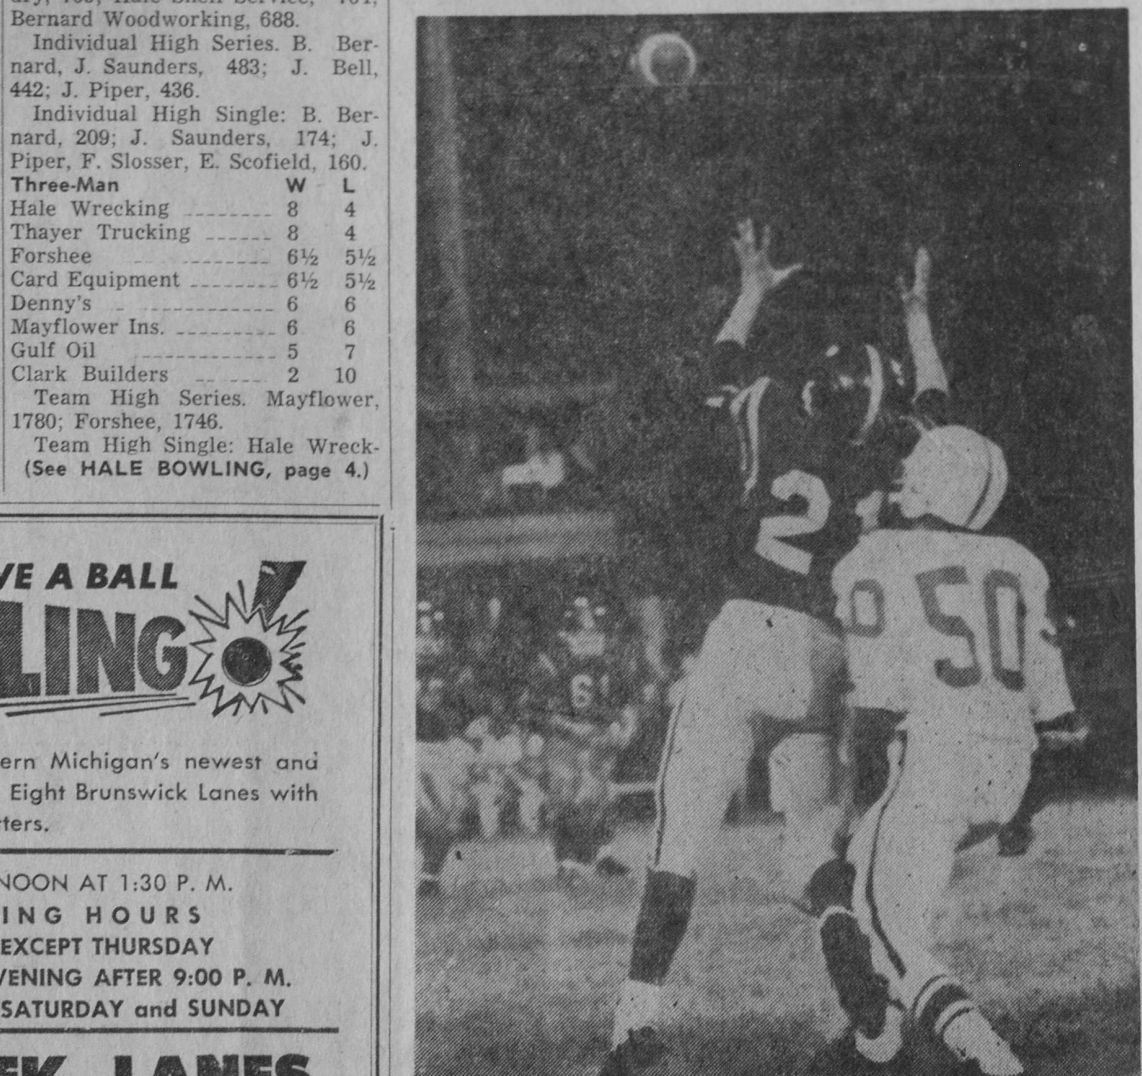

Roscommon scored just before the half when the Bucks blocked a punt on their own 40. Harry Sherwood caught a pass from Quarterback Pavek for the touchdown.

Late third quarter action saw Pavek pass to Stan Sherwood for a touchdown.

With 41 seconds left in the fourth quarter, Pavek again passed to Harry Sherwood for a touchdown. Jim McGinnis booted all of the PAT attempts.

The Cardinals could not get an offense rolling and their season's record now stands at one win and one loss. The W-P 11 won the season opener last week against Inland Lakes.

STAN SHERWOOD of Roscommon missed this pass in Friday night's action. The Cardinal defender is Doug Bergquist.—Tawas Herald Photo.

the PAT. Herriman went 30 yards for a touchdown and then ran the PAT.

Start Drive to Register Young Men

In a concerted effort to insure timely legal registration of young men on their 18th birthday, the local draft board is requesting the cooperation of school officials, army commanders and youth agencies in publicizing draft registration requirements, it has been announced by Howard Durant, chairman of Michigan Local Board No. 36, Isosco County.

Many young men forget to register on their 18th birthday and thereby lay themselves liable to being declared delinquents and scheduled for priority induction, according to Mr. Durant.

Young men are required to register for the draft within five days after their 18th birthday. Registration may be accomplished at any local board office. Men who are away from home on their 18th birthday may go to any local board where they are located and register for the draft.

The local draft board currently has a total of 3,006 registrants, including all males born after August 30, 1922. The local board registered 164 men during the past 12 months, compared with 159 registrants for the previous year.

Members of reserve and national guard units are required to be registered for the draft. Only persons on active duty in the armed forces are not required to register until they are separated from the armed forces.

Full information on registration requirements may be obtained at the local board office, Federal Building, East Tawas. All registrants are required to keep their local boards informed of changes of address and other changes in educational, occupational or marital status as they occur.

PLAINFIELD CENTENNIAL—Hale station of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway is pictured. Constructed in 1907, the depot was in use until the railroad's Rose City Division was abandoned April 16, 1930. A freight warehouse had served the community as a passenger terminal. E. V. Esmond, influential Plainfield Township resident, wrote a letter to the state railroad commission, pointing out that the community's population and railroad traffic warranted a station. The D&M management quickly corrected this need. One of those working on the construction was Emil Schramm of East Tawas, now 92 years old.—Photo furnished by Ed Teall.

Would Establish Loan Cupboard for Therapy Patients

The Physical Therapy Department of the Isoco Medical Care Facility has expanded its efforts to reach patients needing this type of therapy both in Tawas Hospital and to the homebound through the Home Health Agency. As an outcome of this, members of the community have looked to the facility for the loan of walkers, canes, etc., which at the moment, it cannot supply.

Logically, the facility is starting a loan cupboard, which will be available without charge to anyone in need and is looking for donations of wheelchairs, walkers, canes, crutches, braces of all types which may be tucked away in area homes.

Send anything of this nature to the Isoco Medical Care Facility and help another person on their road to recovery.

Seven CAP Extends Family Counseling

Seven CAP, Incorporated, announced last week the schedule for its extended family counseling service. The service will be expanded to include offices in the outlying communities in the four counties of Arenac, Ogemaw, Isoco and Osceola. A private nonprofit agency has been contracted to provide services by professionally trained social workers. Services available will include counseling for family and child problems, including personality adjustment, budgeting, emotional problems, old age, alcoholism and protective services for children.

Counselors will be available locally Thursday, 9:00 a. m. through 12 o'clock noon, Sacred Heart Church. Call 739-5523 any morning Monday through Friday.

Charles Veaser, supervisor of the social workers, stated, "We encourage doctors, lawyers, clergymen, school personnel and other local service agencies to make use of the counseling services for referral purposes." There is no charge for these services.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this.

Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive?

Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field?

Some people think so. Our competitors.

'69 Caprice Coupe

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS equipment

Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new". The Huger.

And just look how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere.

We've improved the interior, too. Quieted the ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better.

The power range is very impressive.

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.

Maybe it will help. Putting you first, keeps us first.

Talk with the Smart Set.

What's the Smart Set? Why, a pair of extension phones—the sleek new Trimline® Phone that fits in the palm of your hand and the elegant Princess® Phone with a dial that lights up.

Smart looks, smart stepsavers, smart people getting with it. They're turning up everywhere in the most comfortable homes and apartments around.

So talk with the Smart Set. It's the only thing smarter than one extension.
