East Tawas to Study New Housing Code

A recommendation was made Monday night by the East Tawas Council to have the city planning commission develop a new housing code as the first step toward adoption of a workable program to receive future federal assistance.

The city is contemplating making application for a federal grant to aid in construction of housing facilities for low income families. In addition to a housing code, new ordinances would be required for plumbing and fire prevention in order to comply with federal government regulations.

In other business, Mayor James Campbell directed the city clerk to ask the health department to inspect a residence at 512 East Washington to determine suitability of occupancy. The dwelling, which lacks indoor toilet facilities, is presently unoccupied.

Upon petition of 12 Tawas Lake residents, investigation is to be made into the claim that a public easement to the lake is being blocked by debris and the parking of automobiles and trailers. It was recommended that no parking signs be placed on the easement.

Building applications approved during the past two weeks were as follows:

Donald J. Docking, 508 Bridge Street, new residence, $15,000; Harry Colton, 911 Smith Street, remove barn; P. B. Pierce, 228 Green Road, porch, $60; Charles Fairfield, 511 East Lincoln, chain link fence, $350; Clara Bolen, 201 West State, fence, $100; Marie Simpkins, corner of Tawas Lake Road and Maple Streets, new roof, $376.

Attendant Fills Boat Instead of Gasoline Tank

A Detroit, here for a day of pleasure cruising, pulled into an area service station Sunday and asked the attendant to "fill 'er up"—that is, fill the gasoline tank on the inboard motor boat which his car was towing.

After what seemed to be an excessive amount of time to fill the tank, the board owner got out of his car and walked back to check on the delay. He found the attendant pumping gasoline at a merry rate—60 gallons in all.

The only trouble was that the Detroit's boat was rather small for that amount of fuel. The attendant had mistaken a vent from the bilge for the filler tube and had pumped the 60 gallons of gasoline into the bottom of the boat.

Fearing that a spark might cause a fire, the fire department was called to the scene. The boat was towed to a nearby field, the gasoline was dumped on the ground and the boat was flushed with water from the fire truck.

His day of fun spoiled—it will take several days for the gasoline fumes to dissipate in the boat—the boating enthusiast returned home. The attendant is probably much wiser after his experience.

Burglary

Burglars walked off with $70 in cash and a quantity of wine and beer in a breaking and entering June 12 at Eagle Park Grocery, Grant Township. Entrance was made by kicking in a rear door. Iosco Sheriff's Department is investigating.

Meet Tonight to Discuss Ambulance Financing

Representatives of local governmental units cooperating in establishing a new emergency ambulance service here are to inspect two pieces of equipment at a meeting tonight (Wednesday) called by the East Tawas Council.

City Clerk Fred B. Lomas, District Sup. Carlton Merschel and Lester Harms of Tawas Hospital were at Flint Monday to inspect one new ambulance and a used piece of equipment which would comply with new state regulations which go into effect July 1.

Lomas said that cost of the ambulances, plus equipment, would cost in the neighborhood of $14,000. The new four-cot ambulance, costing $8,000 would be used for emergency runs. A used ambulance, costing $3,800, would be used to transfer patients between Tawas Hospital and Iosco Medical Care Facility, as well as for back-up purposes. Cost of radio equipment would be extra.

This is the same figure which was suggested June 10, when representatives of local government met with the East Tawas Council to solve the problem of providing emergency ambulance service to the area.

The method of financing this purchase, based on a population or valuation formula for each unit involved, will be discussed at tonight's meeting. East Tawas is to seek a 50 percent matching grant from funds provided under the federal state highway safety act.

After the service is established, it will be directed by Tawas Hospital. The ambulances will be based there and two orderlies will be designated as part-time hospital and part-time ambulance workers. Lomas said Tuesday morning that it was expected that the hospital would not be able to assume this new service until October 1. Time would be needed to sign a contract with local governmental units, as well as to obtain and train orderlies.

"I feel confident that Moffatt Funeral Home will provide emergency ambulance service on an interim basis until such time that this new service may be inaugurated," said Lomas.

As chairman of the county board of supervisors, Lomas said he had learned that the state health department had offered a six-month "grace period" to private ambulance operators in order to comply with new state regulations.

Representatives of local governmental units expressing interest in a cooperative venture were Grant, Reno, Baldwin, Sherman, Wilber and Tawas Townships, along with East Tawas and Tawas City. Burreigh and Alabaster Townships were still uncertain as to joining the group. Official action stating Tawas City's intent to cooperate was taken at Monday night's council meeting.

Following investigation by Mayor James Campbell of East Tawas, the East Tawas Council decided two weeks ago to finance purchase of two ambulances and enter into contract with the hospital to direct the program and handle the operational details. An invitation was sent to adjoining governmental units to discuss participation.

When this plan is put into operation, it will integrate emergency ambulance service throughout the county. Iosco County Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell stated Friday that his department would cooperate by handling emergency calls. A "hot line" telephone would connect the jail with the hospital.

Funeral directors at Oscoda are to provide emergency ambulance service to Oscoda, AuSable and Plainfield Townships.

Earlier this year, funeral directors of the Tawas and Hale gave notice they would join most of the other funeral directors in Northeastern Michigan in abandoning emergency ambulance service as of the end of June. The two funeral directors here agreed to provide this service until July 1, effective date of the new state regulations.

City Pledges Cooperation With State

Salmon Weir Sites Narrowed to Two

Local cooperation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in location of a weir to trap coho salmon in the Tawas River was given the whole-hearted endorsement Monday night by Tawas City Council.

The council expressed preference for one proposed site of the salmon weir, but stated that either of two locations suggested by the state would be acceptable. Five different locations had been investigated by the state.

In a letter to be sent to Director Ralph A. MacMullan, the city council is to state that it prefers the proposed weir to be located along Bublitz Oil Company property with the opposite end extending to Hamilton Avenue east of the mouth of Dead Creek.

The city also is to recommend that the Tawas River (starting at the entrance into Tawas Bay) be closed to all fishing from September through November, that a gate be placed in the weir to allow boat traffic, that operation of the weir be limited to September through November and that it be open the rest of the year.

Appearing before the council Monday night was Jack Scott, Great Lakes specialist for the department of natural resources, along with Bernie Morgan, district law enforcement director; Donald Bell, area conservation officer, and three other representatives.

Scott said his appearance was to put an end to a lot of rumors which had been circulating around the community concerning the proposed weir.

He said that the 1968 planting of 175,000 coho salmon in the Tawas River, along with 200,000 earlier this year, had created opportunities for this area as well as problems. He said the department was anxious to work with local government in alleviating some of the problems.

Among other governmental representatives present were East Tawas Councilmen Robert Bolen and Edward Higgins, along with Hugo Keiser and Paul Chevis of the Tawas City Planning Commission.

Scott said that the department realized when the young coho were planted that fishermen were not going to catch all of the fish when they returned to the stream as adults. Rather than to allow the fish to proceed up the stream to die, the department believed it would be more beneficial to harvest the fish. The excess fish are to be trapped in a weir and sold to a contractor.

The fish specialist said that the legislature had not provided sufficient funds as yet to construct a weir system in streams emptying into Lake Huron, "but I don't feel we can act irresponsibly in the Tawas River—there will be a surplus of fish that must be taken," said Scott.

The fish weir being proposed by the department is not a sophisticated affair, according to Scott. It would be simple, but efficient. Cost of construction would be taken out of the department's regular operational funds, "or out of our own hides," said Scott.

The weir would consist of a fence across the stream, which would include a metal A frame and a row of galvanized pipes. Fish swimming into the weir would be "herded" to one side of the river and directed to a trap, where a conveyor would lift them into trucks.

Eventually, the department hopes to construct a fish ladder of aluminum. The fish would climb this ladder, jump across an artificial water fall and would be trapped.

Councilmen expressed particular interest in providing a gate to allow passage of small boats. Scott assured members that such a weir could be designed with this provision.

Scott said that the department was thinking of planting in excess of 12 million small salmon annually and that permanent installation would be necessary.

Morgan said that it was his feeling that the Tawas River should be closed during the salmon run and recommended that restrictions start directly at the river mouth. He said that trespassing on private property would be a serious problem unless such action was taken. Even with the closing, he expressed the belief that trespassing would be a problem.

The other site being considered by the state for a weir is at the foot of First Avenue at the rear of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's service center. The property, owned by William Borosch, is available for purchase and may be given the nod over the Bublitz site, as it was said that the latter was available on a lease only basis.

Scott said that cost of purchasing the site, improvement of the property and construction of a weir would run in the neighborhood of $55,000. He said the department was most interested in obtaining a permanent location.

Department officials admitted that they had no idea on how many coho could be expected in the river this fall. An estimated guess by one biologist said that there could be a fairly good return of 20,000 fish to a low of practically none.

Surveys of fish in Lake Huron have been stopped by the department this week in order that repairs might be made to equipment.

Last week, most of the salmon were found outside of the Thumb area near Grindstone City. There was no concentration or schooling of the fish and those taken by net averaged around three pounds each. The survey is to resume next week.

Scott said that a field order had been written authorizing construction of the weir and was pending a site decision. He asked that a resolution be adopted by the council concerning its position on the weir location and other matters of harvesting the fish.

It was estimated that construction on the weir would start around July 1.

In addition to the above discussion, Supt. Reginald Bublitz presented revised plans for a proposed parking lot on the city's Ninth Avenue industrial site. The Michigan Waterways Commission had expressed interest in cooperating with the city in constructing a parking lot there for 164 cars and trailers. The lot would occupy about three acres of the 19-acre site.

The council approved plans, but requested further details as to costs and if the state has money available for this project. A letter two weeks ago stated that the project had been omitted from the legislature's appropriation bill.

Hale A. School to Utilize Portables

With the overcrowded conditions and anticipated increase in enrollment next term, two portable classrooms are being considered at Hale Area School.

"There will still be overcrowded conditions, but slight relief can be gained from the use of the portables as a short term measure," stated Supt. Paul Sutherland.

There is also a possibility of dropping something from the high school curriculum to gain a room for the elementary department.

To staff the elementary rooms provided, teacher salaries will cost approximately $28,000, which is being attempted without any increase in millage.

Last week, voters of the district turned down a 1.45 million dollar proposal to build and equip a new high school. A three-million operational proposal was approved.

T. City Council Recommends Removal of Some Parking

Acting on advice of Police Chief George Westcott, Tawas City Council Monday night recommended to the state highway department that vehicle parking be removed from several blocks of US-23 in this city.

The area affected would be the east bound lane from the east end of the city park to the city limits at East Tawas and on the west bound lane from the city limits to First Street.

It was stated at the meeting that this action was taken in anticipation of a probable move by the highway department to achieve the same end.

Two weeks ago, a Tawas Township sand and gravel business owner, Harold Katterman, was killed when his dump truck crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer unit which was legally parked in the east bound lane in front of the Midway Drive-In.

In citing the danger to traffic, Westcott said that his department and the sheriff's department had policed 11 rear-end collisions in that vicinity since January 1, 1967.

The highway in this section of US-23, which is presently designated as two lane with parking allowed in the outer lanes, is actually four feet narrower than the pavement from Mathews Street to a point near the city hall. When the highway was resurfaced several years ago, the city paid the cost of constructing a parking lane from Rainbow Service to the east end of the city park, which helped to alleviate the parking problem at the post office, sheriff's office and county building.

Removal of parking would become effective when the state highway department places control signs along the highway.

In addition to the above action, the council removed one parking space west of the First Street intersection in front of Alpena Can-

WORK is progressing on rerouting of 1.7 miles of River Road at the Lumbermen's Monument. This construction is being handled by a contractor for the Department of State Highways. Scheduled to be completed November 1, the new route has been moved several hundred yards south of the monument in order to provide better parking and expand facilities.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Read Philippians 2:1-11
Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up. (James 4:10)
The suggested reading from Philippians speaks of Christ Jesus humbling Himself before God. He came into the world "in the likeness of men. And being found in human form he humbled himself."
Humility, however, is not the mood of today. We promote and exalt ourselves. We suppose we are getting ahead when we manipulate situations for our own advancement, when our investments are profitable, when people regard us as go-getters and envy us for our swift climb up the ladder of success.

Jesus did not try to assert Himself or His own importance. Rather, He said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." In this, He was not disparaging Himself but seeing Himself in the light of the greatness of God.

It is only in this perspective that we human beings can see ourselves aright. God is our Creator; we are His creatures. It is because Jesus humbled Himself, put Himself utterly in God's hands, that we call Him Master.

PRAYER
Father God, rebuke and forgive us for our pride and self-seeking. Enable us so to know our weakness and need that we gladly commit ourselves into Thy keeping, Amen.

Homers and Pitching Win for East Tawas

A pair of homers by Rightfielder John Walton and a five-hit pitching performance by Bob Erickson proved to be the winning combination Sunday as the East Tawas Bears downed a tough Barton City nine, 4-2. Erickson hooked up with Gary Somers of Barton City in a good pitching battle. The hard-throwing East Tawas pitcher was in trouble during the first five innings, mainly on fielding errors by his mates, but he bore down late in the game to retire the side in order in three of the last four innings. In scattering six hits to the winners, Somers pitched an excellent game. The main thorn in the Barton City pitcher's side was Walton, who connected for two solo blasts over the left field fence. A hit batsman led to the first score of the game. Duane Sanders was nicked in the chest by one of Somers' pitches and Gene Jordan promptly brought him around with a single.

Exchange Nuptial Vows at East Tawas Church June 14

Joseph A. Bailey and his bride, the former Elsie D. Osborne, will reside at North Haven Cottages, East Tawas, following their return from a trip through Canada. The daughter of Mrs. Norma Osborne of East Tawas and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bailey, also of East Tawas, exchanged nuptial vows Saturday afternoon, June 14, in Tawas United Methodist Church, East Parish. White chrysanthemums and pink carnations formed a floral background for the double ring ceremony.

For the rites read by the Rev. Kenneth Tousey, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta and lace ending in a chapel train. Her elbow length veil with detachable cathedral length, illusion lace train was held in place by a wide circlet covered with matching taffeta. She carried a colonial arrangement of white shattered carnations, pink roses and lilies of the valley.

Approaching the altar in floor length, baby blue taffeta gowns with A-line skirts, Empire bodices and scalloped necklines were Mrs. James Nestell, sister of the bride, matron of honor; Misses Louise Osborne, Sandra Osborne and Cindy Osborne, sisters of the bride, and Miss Gloria Killey, bridesmaids. Matching hats with face veils complemented their ensembles and they carried shattered pink and white carnations with pink roses.

Barbara Engle was flower girl. Attending the bridegroom was his brother, John Bailey. Guests were seated by Donald Michalski, William Shover, William Deckert and Richard Lapeer.

For the wedding and reception at the East Tawas Community Building, Mrs. Osborne selected a pink crepe and lace ensemble. Mrs. Bailey was attired in a baby blue coat and dress ensemble. Pink roses made up their corsages.

The 200 guests were present from Hastings, Mio, Gaylord, Ann Arbor, West Branch, Cheboygan, East Tawas and Tawas City.

Combine Three Insurance Agencies Into One New Firm

Announcement was made this week of the formation of a new tri-county insurance agency, owned by Kenneth Conn of the Tawas and Joseph Walker of Au Gres.

Involved in the new firm is Iosco Insurance Agency of Tawas City, Reichle Agency of Au Gres and the Whittemore branch, formerly the T. R. Partlo Agency.

Conn said that the new formation would improve service facilities for the area served by the agencies. Conn and Walker intend to form a corporate organization to serve Iosco, Arenac and Ogemaw Counties.

Conn has been insurance agent here for the past 11 years and has 20 years of experience in the business. Walker has been associated with the Reichle Agency at Au Gres for the past eight years.

Iosco Escaped Serious Damage in Windstorm

Iosco County fared better than its neighbors in last Thursday night's windstorm. Only minor damage was reported here, but damage in Arenac and Bay Counties ran into several thousand dollars.

Supervisory personnel of Consumers Power Company worked all night Thursday to repair primary power lines which were down at Long Lake, Hale, south of National City and at Whittemore.

The worst scare, locally, came when police received word that four persons were missing in a boat on Tawas Lake and that two sailboats were overturned on Tawas Bay.

The Tawas Lake report proved to be false. A man and his three children were on the lake prior to the storm, but raced to shore and took cover in a small building during the blow.

Three persons were rescued on Tawas Bay when two sailboats overturned. Rescued were Nathan Powell, 27, Oscoda; Dean Parkinson, 34, Oscoda; Harvey VanPatton, 25, East Tawas.

The Captain Mac party fishing boat, a patrol boat from the Tawas Point Coast Guard Station, Iosco Sheriff's Department officers and state police cooperated in the rescue.

dy and Cigar Company, Incorporated. It was stated that this would improve visibility of motorists entering US-23 from First Street.

The council also asked the state highway department to again consider the installation of a four-way traffic stop signal at the intersection of Mathews Street and US-23.

Appearing before the council were E. D. Jacques and James Lansky, who said that such a signal would cause a break in traffic and allow motorists to enter US-23 more safely from intersecting streets.

In another move to improve safety on streets, the council directed that four-way stop signs be erected at the Fifth Avenue and First Street intersection. Fifth Avenue is presently a through street, but a number of accidents have been caused there by motorists running the stop signs on First Street.

Yield right of way signs on Sixth Avenue at Whittemore Street are to be replaced by stop signs. Numerous accidents have occurred at that intersection.

The city also warned that police were to crack down on trucks traveling at a high rate of speed on US-23. Several complaints had been received concerning the dangerous speed of trucks on the highway.

In 1944, Mr. Holzheuer and his wife, Olive, established a new hardware and farm implement store and constructed a small building on M-65 at Hale. The firm has enjoyed tremendous growth over the years.

Joining the Holzheuers in the business have been their son, "Bill," and two sons-in-law, Jerry Peters and Jerry Krone.

Two grand prizes are being offered to customers during the three-day event, as well as smaller prizes offered during hourly drawings each day. Free lunch and refreshments will be served.

Forest Chats

HURON - MANISTEE NATIONAL FOREST

Myron L. Smith, District Ranger
Tawas Ranger District

My last column dealt with the littering along our highways. Since then, another type of littering was found on your Huron - National Forest.

This is the deliberate dumping of refuse and trash from homes and cabins in old gravel pits. It just takes one person to dump in such a place and it soon becomes a regular dumping hole for many. This type of dumping is unlawful just as tossing out a bottle or can on the highway.

Why do folks go to an old gravel pit and dump when there are authorized and maintained dumps available? There are many excuses given but none are good reasons. For some, the regular dump is "too far away," others say their dump is not "open often enough," some summer visitors have a week-end of trash from their cabin or summer home and for their own personal convenience dump it at the nearest spot which can be found, and some say "everyone dumps in that old pit."

The reason I say none of these are good reasons for unauthorized dumping is that with over 200 million people creating refuse and trash in our country, we must have order for the disposal of this refuse or the whole country will become a dump. Specific laws have been enacted to prohibit littering and the state has a law to regulate the operation of dumps and sanitary land fills. The Tawas Ranger District has eight areas under special use to cities and townships for sanitary land fills.

Yet on Friday, June 6, we completed the job of burying the trash which had been dumped in an old gravel pit. It took two men and a bulldozer two days to complete the job. The $200 it cost to do this job could have been used for other needed work. But, something had to be done to eliminate the unsightly mess in our national forest.

I know the great majority of people use the authorized disposal areas. This is greatly appreciated. But, we need to get 100 percent to have the battle won and it will take the support of everyone.

Young Men Must Register When 18

Every male is required to be registered at a selective service board on his 18th birthday or within five days of that date.

A questionnaire, which becomes part of the young man's permanent file, will be mailed after registration. The residence address given at the time of registration determines the local board which will always have jurisdiction over the registrant, no matter where the registrant may move. It is important to keep that board informed of any change of address, change of physical condition or occupational, marital, family, dependency and military status, as well as any college or technical training plans and any changes in student status. For better verification, this should be done in writing.

Following registration, each registrant is mailed a registration certificate which he must have in his possession at all times. Should this certificate become lost or destroyed, application may be made at the individual's local board or through a local board.

Men having served in the military who enlisted before their 18th birthday and are not registered must register within 30 days following separation.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the local selective service board, Federal Building, East Tawas.

Men recently called for physical examinations through the Michigan Selective Service, Local Board No. 36, East Tawas, are William Howard Hatton, Charles Cordeiro, Scott A. Angell, William Wayne Shover, Ronald L. Oates, Raymond D. Pelton, Robert M. Wills, David L. Anderson, Harry L. Harvey, Gary W. Sylvester, James Jordan, John Pokorney, Dennis P. Harten, Edward J. The sales are held on the first Thursday of every month at 1:00 p. m. The pigs are graded and sold by the pound. Counties represented by producers bringing pigs to the sales are Arenac, Alcona, Alpena, Gladwin, Iosco, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda and Presque Isle. At the first sale, there were three counties, Iosco, Ogemaw and Oscoda, represented.

The Cooperative Extension Service has conducted three swine short courses to aid the producers in better managing their swine herds.

The association has also been helping the members for the last two years in procuring record of performance tested boars. One place of obtaining boars has been the annual boar sale at Michigan State University where over the last two years the association has helped members purchase 13 boars.

Over the past years, the association members have gone on tours throughout the State of Michigan mainly to check on pigs purchased through the sales, inspecting for quality to better upgrade swine herds in Northern Michigan. Members have participated in state swine tours with the aid of the Swine Department, Michigan State University; visited other states to see other feeder pig producers, exchange ideas, and view their operation.

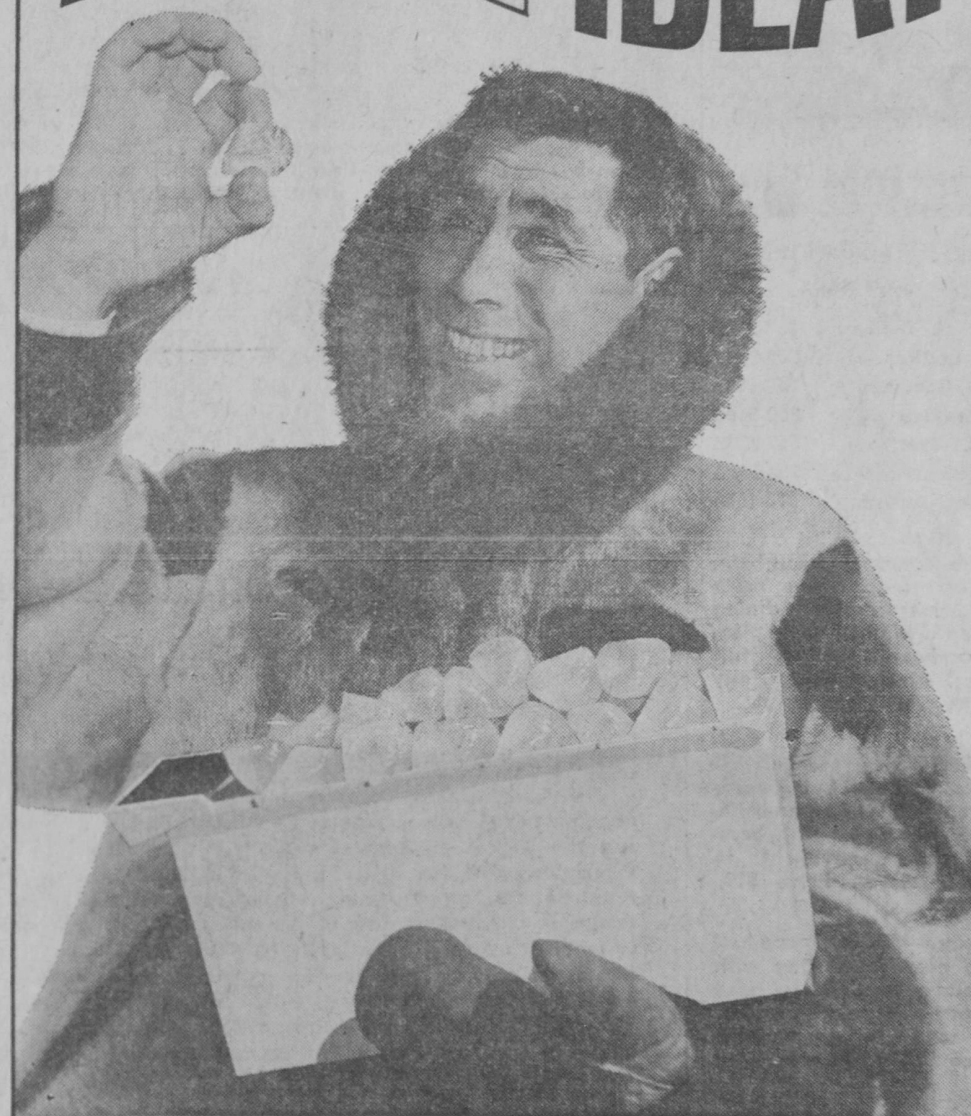

Results of the association show how men of determination can market their own products at a less costly way than can be done by letting someone else do it for them.

Present officers of the Northern Michigan Feeder Pig Association are Frank Bischoff, president; John Wrathell, vice president; Duane Reinke, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Provoast, sales manager.

Games are to be played this year on Wednesdays and Fridays, on a home and home basis through July 18. The winner and runner-up will receive trophies.

Chevrolet Pacesetter Values.

A car increase at a price decrease.

$101.00 less

You expect this year's Chevrolet to be more car than last year's. That's progress. Maybe you also expected it to cost more. Most things do.

But the Impala you see below is actually priced considerably less than last year's with comparable equipment.

We've reduced prices on the kind of extras more and more people are ordering. Like bigger V8's, Automatic transmissions, Advanced-design power disc brakes. And head restraints (now figured into the base price of the car as standard equipment).

So for this '69 Impala—equipped with a 300-hp V8, Turbo Hydra-matic, power disc brakes, whitewalls and wheel covers—the price is actually $101.00* less than it was in 1968.

Biggest standard V8

Last year's standard Chevrolet V8 was 307 cubic inches.

This year's is 327. Which means you get a bigger standard engine with more output, (235 hp) than any other car in our field offers.

(Our standard six, incidentally, is also the largest and most powerful in our field.) And when it comes to extra V8 performance, we've also got it like nobody else.

Right up to our 390-hp Turbo-Jet 427.

Other things
the others haven't got

Self-washing headlights. Electro-Clear rear window defroster. Quicker responding variable-ratio power steering.

A power trunk opener controlled from inside your car. Order these on any other car in our field and you're in for a long wait. Chevrolet's the only one that offers them.

Plus higher resale

Look at it this way. A Chevrolet actually saves you money twice. When you buy it. And when you buy your next one.

Come trade-in time, Chevrolets traditionally bring the highest average resale in their field. Year after year.

It really all adds up when you think about it. We set the pace by putting more into our car. So you get more out of it. Even when you get rid of it.

*Based on manufacturer's suggested retail prices, including federal excise tax and suggested dealer new car preparation charge.
