

Hear Protest Over Juvenile Detention

William M. McMillan, director of regional detention facilities for the state, emphasized Wednesday that a regional diagnostic and detention center being proposed for this area would provide secure facilities for holding juvenile delinquents.

Appearing before the May meeting of the board of supervisors, McMillan explained that such a center, if constructed here, would provide facilities for detaining juvenile offenders while diagnosticians were making final recommendations to probate judges as to corrective procedures to handle individual cases.

He emphasized that the proposed center would not be a training school or in any way similar to the facility operated at Whitmore Lake. It would be an 18 to 20-bed center using prison hardware to insure the best security possible.

Attending the session were a number of parents, who reside in the vicinity of the Isosco Medical Care Facility, who have protested location of a diagnostic detention center on that site. Read at the meeting was a formal resolution from Tawas Township Board which opposed location of such a center there.

McMillan explained that the state had been divided into eight different regions, with the intention of establishing a diagnostic detention center in each. Two facilities have been constructed, but the state legislature has not allocated funds as yet for the remainder.

"At this point, we do not know what the state legislature will do on funding for this year," said McMillan.

He said that Marquette and Traverse City were given priorities for such centers and that he was unable to determine when Isosco could be considered. He believed that it would be within a year or two.

Cost of constructing the Traverse City center has been estimated at $518,000 and McMillan believed that the center here would cost in the neighborhood of one-half million dollars, with financing entirely by the state.

McMillan stated that from five to six acres of land would be sufficient for a center. Although the building is designed to blend in with surrounding areas, the property is fenced to provide a double security.

The state director said that there probably would be opposition to location of a center in any area of the county. He said, however, that these fears had been expressed by residents in other parts of the state and, after construction, the residents had changed their opinion as to security or operation. He suggested that those opposing the center visit similar institutions in Kent or Washtenaw Counties in order to become more familiar with centers constructed there.

Fred Lomas, chairman of the Name Board Committee to Study Center

A three-man committee has been named by Leonard Sarki, president of Tawas Area Board of Education, to investigate and make recommendations to the board concerning a possible stand on location of the proposed regional diagnostic detention center.

Appearing before Monday night's regular meeting was a group of residents living near the Isosco Medical Care Facility, who have opposed location of the proposed center in that area.

Spokesman for the group was Mrs. Donald Gingerich. Walter Kasischke, Tawas Township supervisor, read a formal resolution from the township board which lodged a strong protest with the Isosco Board of Supervisors against the proposed location.

The group sought support from the board of education in protesting the location, stating it was in close proximity to the elementary school and high school. Fears were expressed that possible escapes from the center could endanger school children.

Appointed to a committee to meet with county, township and city officials to investigate the matter were Trustees Waldo Curry, Clara Herriman and Sec. Earl B. Davis.

As a starting point, the committee has been assured by County Clerk Keith Pappas that it would have the opportunity to listen to a recording taped during last week's board of supervisors' meeting, at which time the proposed center was discussed by county and state officials.

supervisors, said that the meeting was for information only and that no decision had been made as to location of the proposed center. Isosco Medical Care Facility property, consisting of 80 acres, had been suggested as a possible site by the old board, but no definite commitment had been made by the county.

Lomas assured citizens present that they would be informed of any intention of the board of supervisors as to possible location of the proposed center.

Isosco County is included in region D established by the state. Besides this county, the regional diagnostic detention would serve Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena,

Ambulance Service Still a Question

Little progress was made at a meeting last Wednesday called for the purpose of solving the problem of furnishing ambulance service in Isosco communities, but another meeting is to be held in the near future at which area funeral directors will be invited to attend.

Last Wednesday's meeting was called by Isosco Board of Supervisors, with representation from the various townships and cities of the county.

Isosco, unlike other adjoining counties, still has not solved the problem of furnishing ambulance service when funeral directors go out of this business effective June 1.

The majority of townships and cities represented at the meeting were of the opinion that these smaller units could not handle ambulance service on a volunteer or any other basis. Some officials expressed opposition to county operation and believed that it should be handled by private enterprise.

Mayor James Campbell of East Tawas believed that there would be a duplication of service if ambulances were operated by townships and cities. He felt that the county should coordinate the program and then bill townships and cities which had money available.

Mayor Russell A. Rollin of Tawas City stated that his community did not have money available to operate ambulance service, as did Basil Goupil, mayor of Whittemore.

Charles Smith, Oscoda Township supervisor, reported that service in that unit would be handled by a funeral director there. He said the township would guarantee pay to the funeral director for handling indigents. He was opposed to a county operated ambulance service.

Dennis Chrivia, Plainfield Township supervisor, was in favor of county operation, while L. S. Little, Grant Township supervisor, opposed county operation. He felt that the county should subsidize private operators on those bills which could not be collected. He was opposed to township participation. Little pointed out that the equipment purchase would not be a real problem, but staffing ambulances with volunteers would be a serious problem.

Walter Kasischke, Tawas Township supervisor, was of the opinion that ambulance service should be handled at the county level, while Richter Lixey of Baldwin Township felt that present funeral directors could be persuaded to stay in business if subsidized.

It was stated that Tawas Hospital had indicated it would furnish ambulance service for transferring patients on long distance hauls.

John Weible, Alabaster Township supervisor, was of the opinion that ambulance service should be operated as a private enterprise and was opposed to county or township operation.

Carlton Merschel, district supervisor and chairman of the health and welfare committee studying the problem, stated that funeral directors were definitely going out of business, with the exception of Gilbert Funeral Home at Oscoda.

He said that funeral directors could not continue business under the new laws and operate at a profit. He felt that service would have to be offered on a county basis and suggested that the county start with one ambulance at the sheriff's department and add more equipment and men as the need grows.

Martin Siegrist, a township officer in Burleigh, was of the opinion that one ambulance would not be adequate for the entire county.

As an outgrowth of the discussion, meetings are to be held at Whittemore, Oscoda, Hale, Tawas City and East Tawas. Attending will be officials of local government, along with representatives of the various fire departments and area funeral directors.

It was also suggested that the county study the possibility of acquiring state and federal matching funds for providing ambulance service. Such funds have been acquired by Oscoda County.

Tell Hospital Expansion Plans

Formal ceremony dedicating Tawas Hospital's new flagpole opened the observance here Sunday of National Hospital Week. The program continues through Saturday, May 17, with special events planned at the hospital. A crowd of about 200 persons braved brisk spring weather Sunday afternoon to witness the flag raising ceremony by an honor guard from Wurtsmith Air Force Base. The flag was contributed to the hospital by Isosco County VFW Auxiliary of Post No. 5678. There was a touch of snow in the air following the ceremony, but a bright sun brought some comfort to participants and spectators during the program.

School Board Plans to Borrow Money

Authorization was given Monday night to the administration of Tawas Area Schools to borrow on anticipated state aid effective July 1, to meet outstanding obligations incurred prior to the receipt of property tax money.

In a financial report to the board, Supt. Reynold Mick said that a study of funds available and anticipated obligations make it appear that by June 30, all available funds will be expended.

Mick said that funds outstanding and indefinite at present include all federal money for 1968-69 and 23 percent of the federal funds for the previous year. He said that the school could not expect to receive more than 50 percent of the 1968-69 money, or $9,000, before June 30.

He said that the school should receive about $4,000 in delinquent taxes. The school is to borrow on anticipated state aid for the three payrolls to be met next summer before the school receives the first state aid payment in August. In addition, the school will need money to meet bills and accounts for July.

It is expected that the board will seek to borrow $40,000 effective July 1 and then would borrow about $120,000 in October or November to carry through until receipt of taxes in January.

In other business, the board authorized the administration to seek employment of two speech correctionists under a program financed by the Isosco Intermediate School District, which has federal and local funds for this purpose.

Explaining a program conducted during the past year, David Featheringill, a speech correctionist for the intermediate district, told the board he was of the opinion that the school should take advantage of the intermediate district's funding program. Voters of the intermediate district approved a three-quarter mill tax levy for this purpose about three years ago.

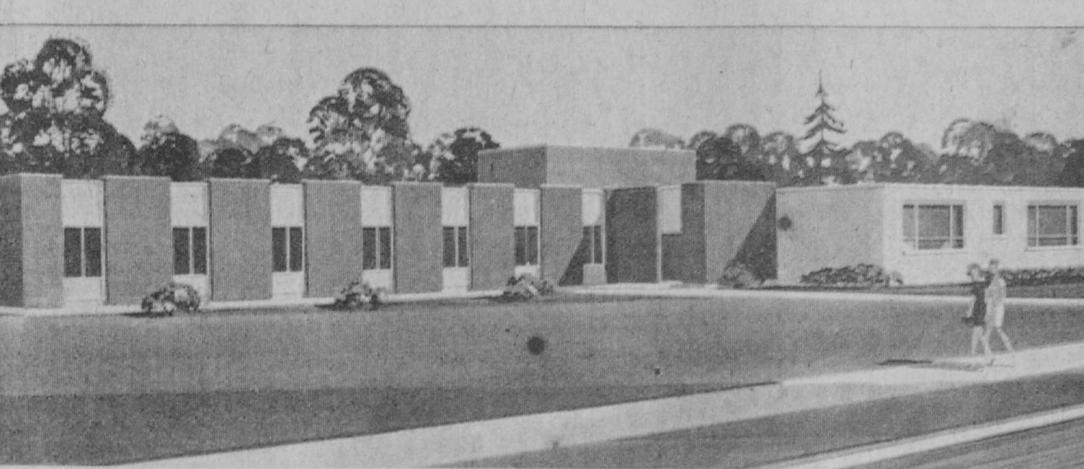

Featheringill, who leaves this year for a new speech correction job at Escanaba, has been handling this work in Tawas Area Schools for the past two years as a member of the intermediate staff.

During the past year, he has been working with about 175 different students, most of them in the elementary grades. Nearly one-half of these students will be returning for the therapy work next year, with approximately 90 dismissed as corrected.

Featheringill recommended that this special therapy be expanded in order to follow up with students now entering junior high, who have speech or hearing defects.

Hale A. School Seeks Millage

Hale Area Board of Education will be asking for three mills for one year to replace the two mills of operational taxes which expired this year. The proposal is being placed before voters at the annual election June 9.

According to a statement from the board Tuesday morning, this three-mill levy will be necessary to meet and maintain the present operational budget.

The school expects to add another elementary teacher and make use of a portable classroom to meet increasing enrollment for next year, in order to conform with the state requirement for an average of one teacher per 34 students.

On the ballot will be the building issue being promoted by Hale Area League for Education and two persons are candidates for two vacancies on the board of education. The candidates for four-year terms are Harvey Rasch, incumbent, and Audrey Kocher.

Tawas Area Band in Spring Concert Saturday Night

The Tawas Area School instrumental department will present its annual spring concert, "Un Concerto di Banda," Saturday, May 17, 8:00 p. m., at the high school. The concert will feature the cadet and high school bands.

As an added attraction, the senior band will play an Italian portion of the concert. Like last year's concert, a special number has been written for the band and it will be performed in this section of the program.

Both bands have distinguished themselves this school year and the concert should be an enjoyable musical experience. The Sousa award will again be presented to an outstanding band member by Mrs. Joyce Roach, president of the Tawas Area Music Boosters.

The cadet band will hold its annual tag day Saturday, May 17, in both East Tawas and Tawas City. The proceeds of the tags will help send band members to summer band camp.

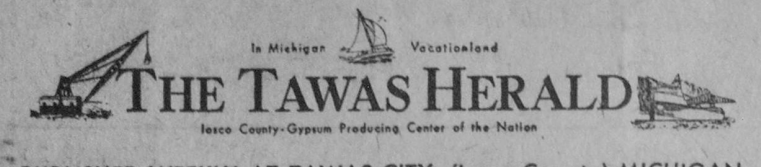

Refreshments will be served after the program and everyone is welcome to attend.

TODAY'S Meditation

Read Matthew 28:16-20
Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. (Matthew 28:20)

When Gautama Buddha was dying, his favorite disciple, Ananda, stood by his side deeply grieved. The master said to him, "Ananda, why do you weep? I cannot help you; your salvation you should find yourself."

How different Jesus Christ our Lord is! The disciples stood on a mountain, deeply troubled at the thought of the Master's imminent departure. He gave them a difficult commission—to go into all the world and preach the gospel.

Perhaps, it disturbed them. They had never gone beyond the borders of their small country. Surely, they were frightened at the thought of crossing the seas, climbing mountains, facing people whose languages and customs they did not know. Jesus added the word of comfort, "And, lo, I am with you always."

We have our problems and difficulties to face—demands beyond our own resources to meet, battles to fight, tasks to be done. But Jesus is with us all the time, wherever we may go.

PRAYER
Loving Father, Thou knowest the life we lead and the work we have to do. We thank Thee that Thou hast not left us alone, but art always with us. Deepen in us this sense of being partners with Thee. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of this week's Bible lesson-sermon to be heard Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

"In the way of righteousness is life; and in the pathway thereof there is no death." This verse from Proverbs 12 is the Golden Text.

A related passage in the lesson, from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "Mortals are not like immortals, created in God's own image; but infinite Spirit being all, mortal consciousness will at last yield to the scientific fact and disappear, and the real sense of being, perfect and forever intact, will appear."

MICHIGAN STATE POLICE TROOPERS in the third district are undergoing training to qualify as operators of a new electronic speed computer, VASCAR, to be used in patrol car traffic law enforcement starting about July 1, according to Sgt. James Arndt, commander of the third district safety and traffic division. The district includes posts at Bay City, East Tawas, Bad Axe, Sandusky, Flint, West Branch, Bridgeport and Lapeer. The troopers are being trained by district safety and traffic officers who were schooled and certified as instructors by Vascor Company officials. VASCAR is an abbreviation for "visual average speed computer and recorder." Prosecutors and judges are to be oriented in its operation prior to the start of enforcement activities. The computer is a small, two-piece instrument which is mounted on the dash of a patrol car. The department has purchased 100 of these so that each post will have at least one of the units in operation. Versatility of VASCAR allows an officer to "clock" a vehicle in several ways in any kind of weather, day or night and whether the patrol car is parked or cruising. Vehicles can be clocked regardless of their direction or speed.

Poppy Day Drive Dates Set by Hale Legion-Auxiliary

Glen Staley American Legion Post and Auxiliary, Hale, are holding a poppy drive May 21-23.

After purchasing poppies made by veterans, proceeds received by the Hale post and auxiliary during 1968 were spent as follows:

During Christmas, $60 for gifts to be sent to Saginaw Veterans Hospital and $100 for Christmas baskets and clothing were expended. On Mother's Day, seven cards with handkerchiefs were sent to Saginaw Veteran's Hospital in order that patients could send them to their mothers.

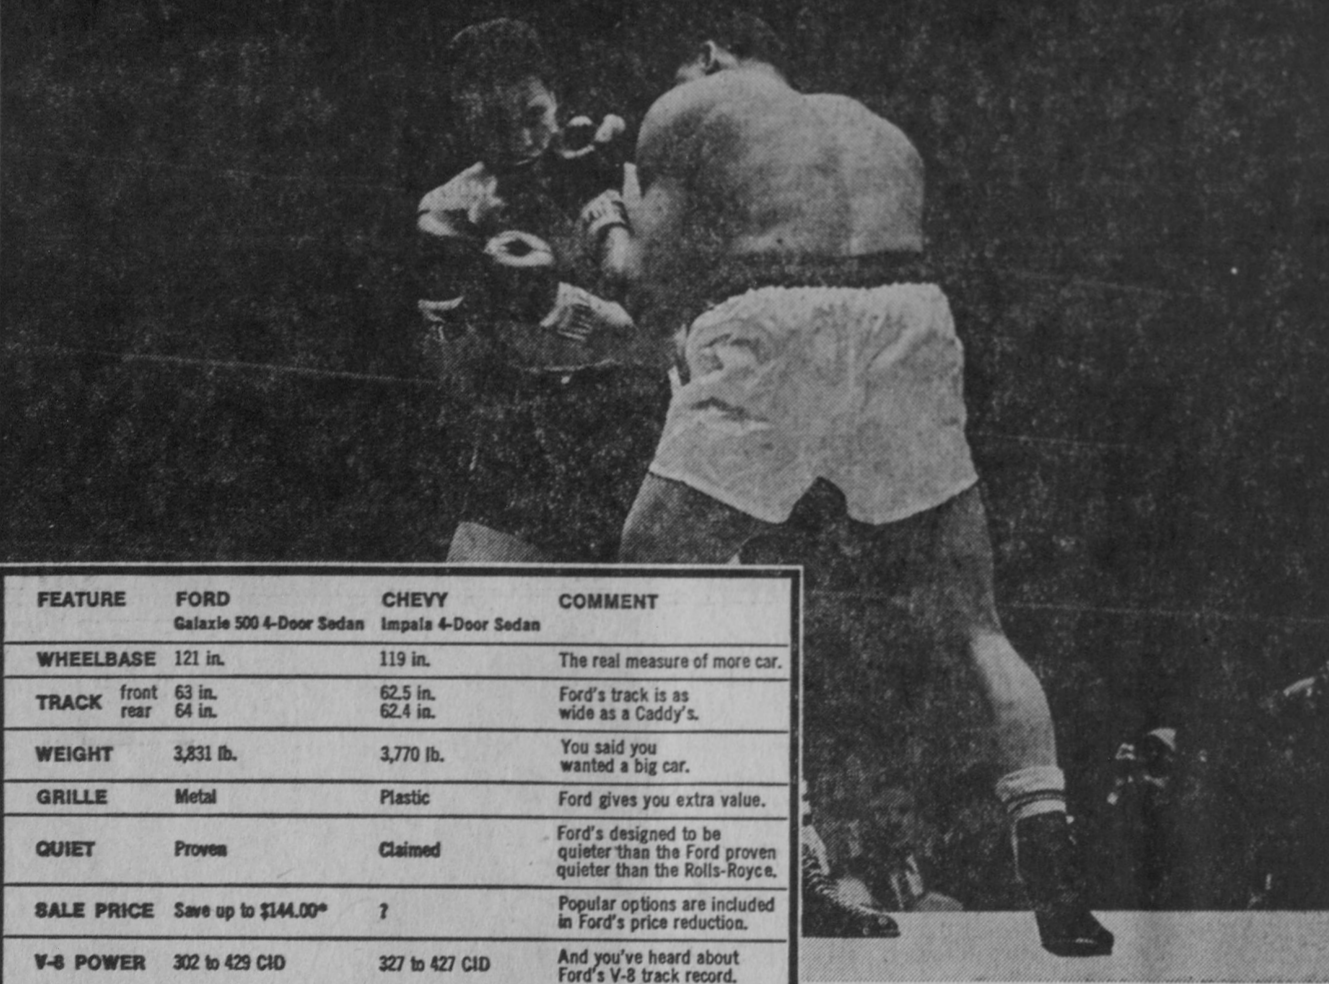

Proceeds from the annual poppy sale also helped with child welfare. Assistance went to 18 children and a birthday party was given at the Otter Lake Children's Home. The Hale group sent 17 dozen cupcakes and seven birthday cakes to the Otter Lake home, which cares for children who are homeless.

TC Council Makes Change in Zoning

15 Years Ago—
 May 21, 1954—Tawas City Council unanimously voted to reclassify the area along Lake Street between Wheeler and Pine Streets as commercial. A number of property owners protested the move, believing that such a change would depreciate residential property values. Aldermen maintained the reclassification would not greatly effect the area as it is now in close proximity to existing commercial buildings, including Barkman Home Outfitting and the salesroom-office of Consumers Power Company.

Two business changes this week are noted in the Case Building, Tawas City. Irvin A. Erickson of Bay

City and a resident of the Tawas during 1935-37 while with the United States Forest Service, has established Tawas Bay Floor Coverings in the west side of the building. Mid-West Home and Auto Supply has moved to its new location west of the Mathews and Lake Street intersection.

Roy Wright was appointed alderman for the First Ward. He succeeds Reginald Blubitz, who resigned to accept the post of superintendent of public works of Tawas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Blust have opened a retail vegetable market in the Carlson Building, East Tawas.

Floyd Schaaf has just completed his modern lumber warehouse and retail store on US-23 east of East Tawas.

The firing squad of Jesse C. Hodder Post, American Legion, has been having a drill period at each meeting of the post during the past month in preparation for Memorial Day exercises.

A class of 36 youth will be con-

More Questions and Answers on School

More questions and answers concerning the upcoming bond proposal vote at Hale Area School are submitted this week by Hale Area League for Education.

Question: How will the new school provide a better and more complete education?

Answer: By providing additional classrooms, each teacher would have his or her own teaching station and allow room for two more high school teachers, thus cutting down present excessive teacher loads by regulating classes nearer the recommended size of 25. The school could be used all day. The library could be used for its own purpose, making this room available at all times for student research.

Question: What additional teachers will be hired?

Answer: Special education, which we are already paying for and not using to its fullest potential. This class allows children with problems to overcome them. It helps them to develop in a more normal fashion and remain in their own school, instead of being sent out to a strange environment. Testing and guidance counselor could be hired on a part time basis, relieving the principal for administrative duties. Arts and crafts could be offered and possibly other subjects, which would lead the school closer to accreditation standards.

Question: Would the new school help eliminate the high rate of teacher turnover?

Answer: A new school will solve many problems we now have; such as, provide better working conditions, more and better equipment, thus creating greater pride by teachers and students.

Question: Why is this so important?

Answer: Less teacher turnover would provide better teacher-pupil understanding, therefore, providing a better education. Good education allows more opportunity for better jobs and access to the future. It has been proven by government surveys that education programs pay off in higher income.

There will be meetings every Tuesday night, 7:30 o'clock, at the school library until after the school bond vote on June 9. On the nights of May 26 and June 4, there will be public meetings. Hale Area League for Education invites all residents to attend these meetings to get the true information.

IN THE SERVICE—

Father-Son Team Carry Out SAC Mission in Thailand

Carrying out the Strategic Air Command mission at U-Tapo Airfield, Thailand, is a family affair for a father and son team from Orem, Utah.

Lt. Col. Leo I. Broadhead, a KC-135 Stratotanker pilot, and his son 1Lt. Larry I. Broadhead, a B-52 Stratofortress pilot, are on duty with the 4258th Strategic Wing at U-Tapo. (Tuesday morning, the Herald was informed that Lieutenant Broadhead had been listed as a casualty.)

The colonel, son of Mrs. Leo C. Broadhead, Orem, volunteered for the assignment so that he and his son could fly together.

"Naturally, being around the air force all my life, I was interested in flying," admits the younger Broadhead. But the clincher came in 1963 when he met his father who had delivered a KC-135 for an armed forces display at Hill Air Force Base, Utah.

"I will admit I was impressed by the tanker," he continued. "I knew then that I wanted to fly."

A graduate of Clover Park High School, Tacoma, Washington, the lieutenant was commissioned in 1966 upon completion of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program at the University of Utah.

The lieutenant's wife, Barbara, is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. George Pfeiffer Jr., Vandenberg Air Force Base, California.

Colonel Broadhead, an Orem High School graduate, has flown 250 missions in Southeast Asia. He was commissioned in 1944 through the aviation cadet program. His wife, Madonna, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silvan Zobel, Provo, Utah, and is presently residing at Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Serves Aboard Attack Carrier

Machinist Mate Fireman Joel Smith, United States Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Oscoda, is serving aboard the nation's newest attack aircraft carrier, the USS John F. Kennedy, with the United States Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea.

The ship arrived in the Mediterranean in late April on the eve of the 20th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

The 80,000 ton, 1,051-foot long carrier can remain at sea indefinitely by refueling and replenishing from fleet oilers and supply ships.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY
LANSING, MICHIGAN

Department of Agriculture Regulation No. 133
Regulation Relating to the Public Exhibition of Poultry

By virtue of the authority provided by Act 181, Public Acts of 1919, as amended, the following rules and regulations are hereby established:

1. Feed and water containers provided for exhibition coops shall be new or properly cleaned.
2. Feed or water containers from which birds have eaten or drunk must be refilled so as not to contaminate the common supply of feed and water. Feed or water containers may not be removed from exhibition coops except for the purpose of cleaning.
3. Exhibition coops must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, both prior to and following such exhibition.
4. Exhibition coops must be so constructed and placed as to provide adequate light for proper inspection of poultry for evidence of transmissible diseases.
5. Litter for exhibition coops must be of clean material and be renewed daily or oftener as needed.
6. Shipping crates used in shipment of birds by common carrier may not be used as exhibition coops. Shipping crates shall be cleaned and disinfected after birds have been removed for exhibition and before being used again. Whenever possible and convenient, shipping crates shall not be stored in exhibition room.
7. No bird shall be handled by anyone other than the attendant and the judge after they have been placed in exhibition coops.

It is recommended that all birds exhibited at fairs and poultry shows shall have been vaccinated against Infectious Bronchitis and Newcastle Disease thirty days or more prior to the date of the exhibition or show.

—Rules—

Exhibitors are requested to read carefully rules and regulations covering exhibition of poultry.

All exhibits shall be (a) purebred (b) cross bred from purebred parents.

All birds showing any general disqualifications according to the Standard of Perfection shall receive no award.

Provided the birds are typical of the breeds which they represent, the placing of awards shall depend upon the following:

- A. Pullets:
1. Rapidity of growth.
 2. Depth of pigment.
 3. Uniformity of shape and size.
 4. Promise of egg production.
 5. Absence of defects and disqualifications.
- B. Mature Birds (Hens):
1. Degree of bleaching.
 2. Condition of abdomen (spread and pliability).
 3. Absence of new primary wing feathers.
 4. Alertness of head and eyes.
 5. Body weight, conformation and fitness.
 6. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

It is suggested, especially for fairs held late in September and October, that all birds exhibited go directly from the Fair to market for slaughter so that none of them will be taken back to the farm. The reason for this precaution is that the birds may take back some disease to the farmer and injure his egg production of his farm flock, if such disease is infectious and of the type which will lower his egg production.

A pen entry shall consist of two females and one male. (Classifications: Cock, Cockerel, Hen, Pullet.)

SECTION XVII—DECORATIVE PILLO

From early autumn to late autumn, it's fair time in Michigan. Our state's beautiful agricultural harvest and the industrial products of its busy factories are on display for an exhibition, representative public. The fair reflects Michigan's progress through exhibits of livestock and products and commodities which help to supply the needs of people around the world.

Since I cannot personally visit each county and local fair, let me take this opportunity to congratulate those people responsible for helping our state advance with high standards of excellence and acceptance of Michigan's agricultural, industrial and other products.

What you do as a spectator are starting at today's fair, and you as an exhibitor are displaying, has contributed significantly to Michigan's economic and social progress. With your help, I am confident this progress will continue.

Best wishes for an enjoyable and successful fair.

Sincerely,
William G. Milliken
 Governor

Assisting fair to bring producers and agricultural products together for greater understanding is an important responsibility and a heavy tradition of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

To this end, the Department participates in financing construction programs; supervises raising and pulling contests; administers funds for agricultural advertising and promotion; promotes, breeds, and sells purebred stock.

Our purpose is to encourage agricultural excellence, stimulate the sale of Michigan-grown products, and aid in developing cooperation between fair, commodity groups and other agri-business interests.

It is a pleasure for me, on behalf of the Commission of Agriculture and the entire department, to invite consumers and producers to "Come to the fair." An increased appreciation of the rich and varied bounty of Michigan's agricultural industry, and its dependence on our state's economy, will result.

Sincerely,
B. Dale Ball
 Director
