He said, however, that there was $4,155 in the building and site fund, plus $875 from the December payment for the Alabaster School from Iosco-Arenac Regional Library for a total of $5,030. By unanimous vote of the board of education, these funds are to be used as the district's share of the uniform purchase. Money taken from this fund is to be replaced next year as there may be a need to expand school sites when land becomes available. One of the problems facing the board of education in financing such a purchase from the general fund was that the request was not received in time to be included in the school's annual budget. Robert Elliott, board president, pointed out that budgets are prepared in January and February for submission to the county allocation

The junior band will play "Three Christmas Carols," "Pine Tree Patrol" and "Two Christmas Spirituals." "Coventry Carol," "Of Festive Bells and Ancient Kings" and "Old St. Nick Takes a Rockin' Trip" are on the cadet band's program. The senior band will perform with "Children's March," "In Dulci Jubilo," "Warsaw Concerto" (Joan Krueger, soloist), "Toboggan," "White Christmas" and "Brazilian Sleigh Bells."

Elementary Operetta Set at Hale Area

Hale Area Elementary School will present its "Christmas in The Circus," the annual Christmas operetta, on Monday, December 21, 7:30 p. m.

The story covers Tony, Toto and the ringmaster, who all feel sad because Santa failed to respond to a wire they sent him, asking if he would visit them in their circus home this Christmas. They decide to have a dress rehearsal in case he should unexpectedly arrive and surprise him with a performance. While the three are out calling in the performers, Santa slips in and hides, and unbeknown to them, enjoys the rehearsal. At the end of the performance, Santa surprises them by making himself known, treats them to candy and leaves a huge pack full of gifts. They say goodbye, each feeling he had a great party. The main characters include the ringmaster played by Martin Short and Brent Mann, Tony played by Robert Burr and Larry Kuhn, Toto, the clown, played by Erin Sullivan and Jolly Old Santa will be played by William Bernard.

There is no admission fee.

The Christmas tree holds the center stage in Michigan homes each year at this time, standing tall with pristine beauty as a symbol of the season's spirit of togetherness and good cheer. And when each family's tree is cooperatively picked---even cut--by Mom, Dad, and the kids, it takes on more special meaning for all of them, deepening their closeness to nature and to one another. Happily for families in this state, there are Christmas trees of many kinds, sizes, and shapes from which to choose. Michigan ranks first nationally in the production of plantation-grown trees which are given tender care to enhance their beauty and enrich the nature-fresh flair they add to homes at yuletide. An estimated 5.5 million of these trees are harvested each year, annually generating upwards of $19 million worth of business. If you would like some hints on "Buying Your Christmas Tree" this season, you may obtain a free booklet with this very title from the Department of Natural Resources' Publications Room in Lansing (Zip Code 48926).

ents are faced with the problem of what to do or what to say about Santa Claus. Some of our educators say that the Santa theory is all wrong and some of todays "modern" parents seem to agree. Is the Saint Nick idea good or bad for children? We say it is good and that no child, average or brilliant, ever suffered from the grand illusion. Children know there is a Santa Claus and they accept the fact that he gradually changes from the Santa of fiction to the Santa of reality.

Santa is good for small children, for children have imagi-native minds. The fact they might see a Santa on every corner matters little. In their eyes Santa is a symbol, a mystery, and in his wonderous magic is apt to appear anywhere.

It is not the end of the world when the time comes that some older child shatters the illusion by telling all. This is the perfect opportunity for the parent to explain that Santa is, after all, a spirit of Christmas. He represents the spirit of giving and the reason that we give at Christmas time is because this is the day on which Jesus was born. Jesus taught us love and faith and hope and Santa is a understand and use that teach-
