

Stop-Go Light Sought at 23-55

A traffic survey to determine feasibility of installing a stop-go traffic signal at the US-23-M-55 intersection was assured Monday night by a representative of the state highway department.

Frederick Egan, district engineer from the Alpena office, told members of the Tawas City Council that he hoped that a survey could be conducted in July, although much would depend on the work load already planned for that division.

This request followed discussion between the council and the district engineer concerning feasibility of a traffic light at the US-23-Mathews Street intersection.

Egan told councilmen that a survey conducted last November indicated that traffic on US-23 would warrant a stop-go signal, but traffic entering the highway from Mathews Street fell far short of the minimum amount required. A survey had not been conducted at any other intersection.

The district engineer stated that there would be many disadvantages to locating a signal at that point. Parking is allowed on US-23 in that section and there would be only two lanes of traffic through the intersection. Such a condition, he said, would cause summer traffic to back up several blocks and a left-hand turn from the south-bound lane would be almost an impossibility.

Egan also noted that the incidence of traffic accidents in that area was very low under the present condition. He believed that installation of a signal would increase the number of rear end collisions.

Councilmen expressed concern over the fact that their only thought was to have a break in US-23 traffic during the period from June through August to allow motorists a safe entry onto US-23 from three or four side streets in the city.

Councilmen said they recognized the possible problem at Mathews Street, but it was not the intention to limit installation of a stop-go signal only to this installation.

Since elimination of US-23 parking from the east city limit west to First Street, the highway now is officially four lanes wide at the M-55 intersection.

Councilmen stressed that installation of a stop-go signal at that point would provide a break in the traffic and would allow safe entry to US-23 for motorists entering from intersections at First Street and Mathews Street, which are major arterial routes through the city.

It was also pointed out that the break in traffic would allow safer crossing of US-23 for pedestrians at the county building, city park, post office and business places.

The highway engineer stressed the point that the department was responsible for doing the best for the greater number of people and that the larger stream of traffic must be considered when a stop-go traffic signal is considered.

Cost of the signal would be approximately $2,500, of which one-third would be borne by the city.

CHARLES A. PINKERTON JR.

C. A. Pinkerton on MI-COM National Board

Charles A. Pinkerton Jr. of East Tawas, chairman of the board of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, has been named a director of Microwave Communications of America, Incorporated, a new Washington, D. C., based firm designed to provide nationwide transmission service in the customized carrier industry.

Organized as a direct competitor of American Telegraph and Telephone, the firm has made application to the Federal Communications Commission to provide microwave transmission service to 12 areas of the nation—from the east coast to the west coast.

Pinkerton said that organization of such a firm had been in the "talking stage" for about three years. Applications have already received FCC approval in a number of the various divisions.

One large Michigan-based industry has already committed itself for the use of 600 MICOM channels, which would provide transmission of interplant and computer data, in its nationwide business.

Pinkerton, who is the lone director from Michigan, is scheduled to attend a meeting of the MI-COM board of directors of next week at Washington, D. C.

Set Advisory Vote on Charter Revision

New Record Time Set in Tawas Canoe Race

Setting a new record time in Sunday's Tawas River canoe race was the Bay City team of Jack Kolka and John Baker, who led a 13-team field in the 17th annual running of this event.

The Bay City team's winning time of 52 minutes, 27 seconds, cut nearly four minutes off the 56-minute, 35-second record set last year by Baker and his 1969 paddling mate, Richard Kuski.

While the start of the three race divisions was marred by a rain shower, Tawas Bay was not as rough as last season's event and only one canoe capsized.

Kolka, the veteran paddler formerly of Grayling, and Baker, who made his mark last year as a powerful paddler, are making themselves known in Michigan Canoe Racing Association meets this year.

Pushing the championship team right to the wire was the Twin Lake team of Jerry and Jeff Kellogg, who completed the course in 32 minutes, 42 seconds, only 15 seconds off the winning time.

The professional division race was nearly a repeat of last year as Kolka and Baker jumped out in front shortly after the mass start at Tawas Lake. The Bay City team lead the Kellogg brothers by four or five canoe lengths all the way down the Tawas River, with the remainder of the field bunched about four to five minutes behind.

The new nonprofessional division championship went to Al Robinson of Trenton and Mike Barton of Horton, who completed the course to the Tawas River mouth in 46 minutes, 05 of a second. This division was to continue on the same course as the professionals to the Tawas City Park, but race officials eyed storm warnings on the bay and stopped the race at the river bridge.

Mark Rimer, 15, and Bruce Barton, 13, both of Horton, won first place in the junior division.

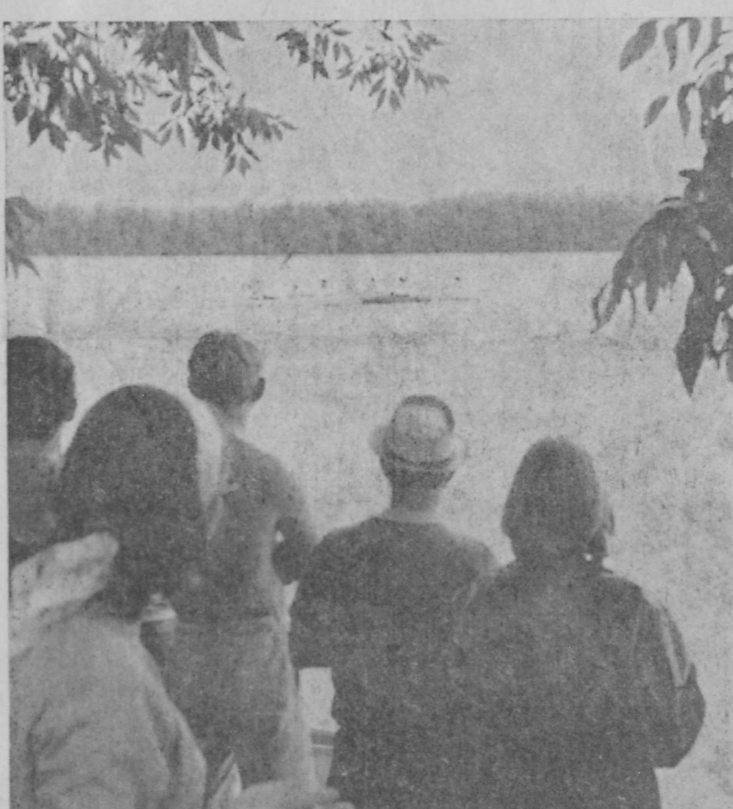

Trophies were presented to the first three places in all three divisions, while $75 in prize money went to Kolka and Baker, $25 went to the Kellogg brothers and $15 went to the third place team of John Mandock of Davison and Dick Gillings of Flint, who completed the course in 56 minutes, 59 seconds. Mandock is a former resident of East Tawas.

Winning trophies in the next four places in the professional division were Al Widing Sr. and Al Widing Jr., Holly, 57 minutes, 20 seconds; Larry Cool of Byron and Alan C. Near, Holly, 57 minutes, 21 seconds; Ron Balash and Cliff McCreery, Bay City, 57 minutes, 22 seconds; Darwin Gilbert and John Gilbert, Lansing 57 minutes, 24 seconds.

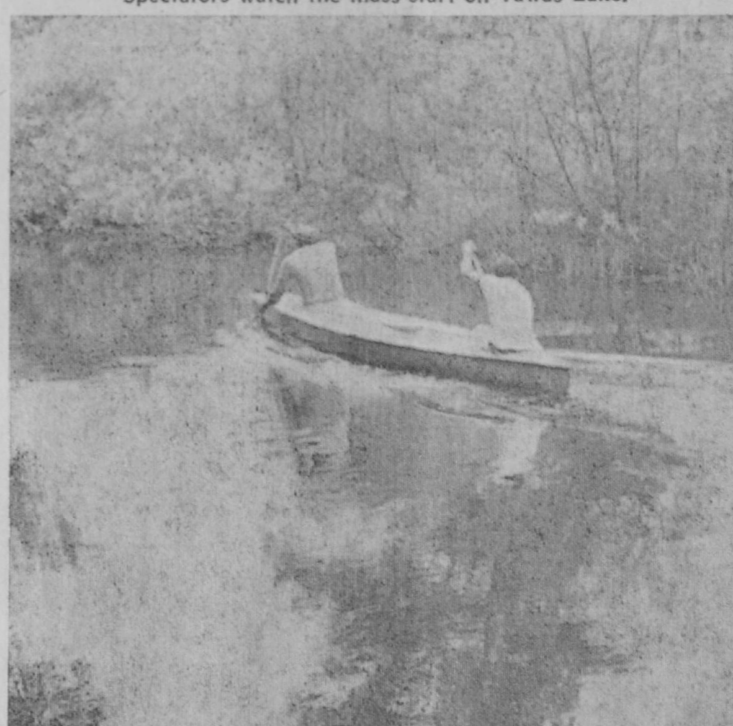

Race officials included Hugo Wojahn, Bud Fisher, John Forsten, John Austin, Richard Lee, Kenneth Wojahn and Donald Hester. Jack Jacques and Bernard Race had charge of arrangements.

Canoeists take to their craft prior to the opening gun.

Spectators watch the mass start on Tawas Lake.

Home Rule Government Sought in TC

Following preliminary action last February, Tawas City Council unanimously adopted a resolution Monday night calling for an advisory vote August 4 on home rule government.

To be held on the same day as the state primary, voters would receive three ballots in the election. One would ask if there should be a general revision of the city's charter; the second would name a nine-man charter commission and the third would ask if the city should adopt the home rule form of government.

Nomination petitions for candidates for the office of charter commissioner are to be received up to 5:00 p. m., July 25. Appropriate nonpartisan petition forms are to be available from the city clerk.

Candidates for the commission must have resided in the city for at least three years and may not be officers or employees of the city. Selection of the charter commission is to be void if the proposition to revise the charter is not adopted.

Petitions without reference to party affiliation are to be signed by qualified electors of the city equal to not less than two percent nor more than four percent of the total vote cast for mayor at the last preceding election.

Charter commissioners elected at the election would serve without compensation, but would be entitled to incur necessary expenses in connection with the work of the commission. The first meeting would be held the second Tuesday following the election at the city council chambers.

Charter revision has been discussed by the city council many times during the past decade. Tawas City is one of several communities. (See CHARTER, page 6.)

Riding Trail Busy During Past Week

Several groups left the Tawas last week on the Northern Michigan Riding and Hiking Trail, according to the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Four young men from Alma left on Thursday. The group included Terry Woods, Ryan Webster and John Grossett. Dan Perry, also from Alma, was to join the group Monday somewhere near Mio.

These young men made half of the trip last year from Empire to Tawas, but hope to complete the journey on this trip.

Arthur Webster, father of Ryan, said they planned to make the entire trip in about three weeks.

Checking in at the chamber office Saturday before leaving on the trail were Robert Rosen and Mark Bennett of Pontiac.

Another group leaving Saturday included Wayne Baker of Whitmore Lake, Richard McKinley of South Lyon, S. D. Lalmaugh of Whitmore Lake. The above men will accompany a group of 21 boy scouts.

The camp opened Sunday with registration, auditions and an orientation meeting in Powers Music Building and launched into the regular schedule of classes Monday, June 15.

While at CMU, the campers may take individual instruction. Daily group rehearsals in band, orchestra and chorus are scheduled and specially arranged guest performances are conducted. Camp members present four public concerts, the first at the completion of the first week and the second at the end of the camp period.

Campers will also have the opportunity of sampling college life. They are living and eating in the university residence halls and participating in social and recreational programs at the university.

Performance highlights of the camp, conducted by members of CMU's Department of Music and guest conductors, will be the first Sunday, June 21, with concerts by the Gold and Maroon Bands at 3:00 p. m. and by the chorus and orchestra, 7:00 p. m. Final concerts are scheduled for Saturday, June 27, at 1:30 and 4:00 p. m. All concerts are open to the public and will be held in Warriner Hall Auditorium.

Directing the camp orchestra is Paul Willwerth of the CMU music faculty, while Stephen Hobson, also of the university's music faculty, is directing the chorus. Band directors are Norman Dietz, conductor of the CMU marching band, and Gerald L. Bartlett, coordinator of instrumental music for the East Lansing public schools.

Floyd Heydenburg of the CMU music faculty is camp coordinator.

Housing for Elderly

East Tawas to Study Coop.

A special meeting is to be held by the East Tawas Council and planning commission to discuss the residential cooperative for the elderly being planned on Wadsworth Street by American House, Incorporated.

Zoning changes as well as sewer and water extensions are to be considered at the meeting.

Announced by Charles B. and Elizabeth A. Rosenberg of Baldwin Township and William Gibbs of Birmingham, this privately-owned cooperative would be developed over the next three years to accommodate 100 elderly persons.

Forty-five couples would live in two-bedroom homes, 44 couples or single individuals would live in one-bedroom homes and 50 individuals would live in a full service lodge.

Upon completion, the project value is set at $2,000,000. Forty-five nonprofessional persons would be trained and offered employment. Financing of the cooperative would be through private funds.

In addition to the above, the city council would accept bids for furnishing new fire apparatus to replace a tanker which was destroyed recently in an accident.

Bids were accepted Monday night on furnishing a truck chassis for the equipment. Bidders included Ottawa Equipment Company and William Look and Sons. The bids were tabled for further study.

The council's street and lighting committee is to study a request for installation of street lights at the foot of Wadsworth Street behind the state police post. Requested by Joseph Badalucco, park manager, it is believed that the lights would offer control of vandalism at the east end of the city park.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Romans 15:1-6
This God is our God for ever and ever; he will be our guide even unto death. (Psalm 48:14)

My childhood home faced a narrow road coming from Walnut Creek, a favorite camping stream for gypsies. When they broke camp and neared our house from the north, they had to make a turn onto an east-west road. The lead wagon usually stopped at this turn and someone would get out to pull horseman from the roadside. These stalks, often laden with bloom, were strewn around the corner indicating which direction the first wagon had taken.

Life's roads grow increasingly intricate and puzzling. Those who travel them are faced daily with decisions to be reached, some of them grave. How comforting that God, Himself, has given us help—love, redemption, guidance!

Furthermore, many of our fellow men have answered the God-given responsibility of helping others to find Christ and His way. Am I assuming my share of this responsibility?

PRAYER

Our Father and Guide, You have made it plain that we, Your children, are expected to help one another. Thank you for the privilege of leading others to seek Your personal guidance when they are confronted by indecision. In the name of our Redeemer, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven..." Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God's guidance—He will give it if we seek it. (Orpha S. Deibert, Iowa.)

"Is the Universe, including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This question is the title of the lesson-sermon to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The creation of man and the universe is ascribed to God rather than to a chain of material reactions, according to Isaiah: "I have made the earth, and created man upon it; I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded."

Also in the lesson from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy are the pertinent questions:

"Did man, whom God created with a word, originate in an egg? When Spirit made all, did it leave aught for matter to create? Ideas of Truth alone are reflected in the myriad manifestations of Life, and thus it is seen that man springs solely from Mind."

THE REV. LAWRENCE THAYER of Rugby United Brethren Church, Hope, Indiana, will be the special speaker at the Goodar Baptist Church, South Branch, Sunday, June 21, through Wednesday, June 24. Mr. Thayer is a former Hale resident. The Rev. William Byler, pastor, invites everyone to enjoy the messages and Gospel music.

Indies Lost Home Run Barrage to Barton City

In one of the heaviest hitting barrages by two teams in North-eastern Michigan League history, Barton City bested the Tawas City, 8-7, Sunday on a two-run, ninth inning homer.

After being nearly smothered for six innings by a 6-1 deficit, Tawas City cut loose for six runs in the seventh and eighth innings to take the lead over the NEM's defending champions.

The ninth inning proved fatal for the locals, however, as Gary Somers blasted his second home run of the afternoon. He scored behind Miller, who had reached first on a base on balls, with the winning run.

The afternoon saw a total of six home runs, four by the winners and two by the losers. Barton City jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning and Tawas City tied the game in the top of the second inning with an unearned run. Champagne started the homer barrage in the bottom of the second inning with a solo blast to put Barton City in the lead.

The winners' big inning came in the fifth with four straight hits, a single, two home runs and a double, followed by an out and two more singles.

Tawas City came to life in the seventh when Ron Leslie walked and Bill Groff poked a two-run homer. Pat Jordan reached first on an error, Dave Busha singled and both runners scored on Dennis Krishi's double.

The locals took the lead in the top of the eighth inning when Grundy reached first base on an error and Leslie belted a two-run homer.

Leslie went the distance on the mound for Tawas City, allowing 13 hits. He struck out six and walked two. Yokum started for Barton City and Somers was the winning pitcher. Tawas City collected nine hits.

Exchanged Vows June 13 at RLDS Church, Tawas City

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Mason are residing at 102 North Church Street, Brooklyn, Indiana, following their wedding trip in Northern Michigan. Mrs. Mason is the former Letty B. Shotwell of East Tawas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen of Tawas City.

The couple exchanged vows Saturday, June 13, at Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Tawas City, before Elmer A. Wayne Hough of Clare. Laurel A. Shotwell, son of the bride, was vocalist. Mrs. Kenneth H. Christian, her sister, was organist.

For the 2 o'clock ceremony, the bride selected a mint green crepe dress with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Levi Ulman was the bride's attendant. She wore a coral crepe dress with white accessories and white cymbidium corsage.

Levi Ulman served as best man. Seating the guests were Irvin Ulman and Kenneth Christian.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Allen selected a tan and brown print dress. A yellow cymbidium corsage complemented her attire.

Out-of-town guests were from Mooresville, Martinsville and Indianapolis, Indiana; Waukegan, Illinois; Flint, Riverview, Saginaw, Southfield, Standish, LeRoy, Clare and Alanson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Hill of Tawas City. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larnie E. Walker Sr. of Anderson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an A-line, street length dress of white lace over crepe. Her shoulder length veil was held by a rosette headpiece. She carried an arrangement of daisies centered with white roses.

For her role of bridal attendant, Miss Arlene Healey of Tawas City selected an A-line, street length yellow crepe and lace dress, accented with a white bow headpiece. Her flowers were white daisies.

H. G. Peterson, Retired Forest Ranger, Dead

Harold G. Peterson of Tawas City, retired assistant forest ranger, died Tuesday, June 16, at Tawas Hospital after an illness of several months. Funeral services are to be held Thursday, June 18, 2 o'clock, at Moffatt Funeral Home, East Tawas. The Rev. John J. MacDonald will officiate and burial will be in Tawas City Cemetery.

Mr. Peterson was born April 6, 1888, at Minneapolis, Minnesota. A registered forester, he received his education at the University of Minnesota and the University of Montana. Remaining in Montana after graduation, he was transferred to the Upper Peninsula in 1936, where he became the land purchasing agent for the government's then new Upper Peninsula Forest.

Peterson came to East Tawas in the fall of 1940, prior to consolidation of the Manistee and Huron National Forest. Before this assignment, he had been at Milwaukee Wisconsin, in public relations for three years.

After living 10 years at the Silver Creek fire tower, Peterson and his wife, Pauline, whom he married May 25, 1946, moved to their home in Tawas City in 1956. Peterson retired April 30, 1957, after serving 31 years with the United States Forest Service. He had been assistant ranger in the Tawas Ranger District upon retirement.

He was a member of Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas. Survivors include his wife; one son, Steven of Oscoda; a step daughter, Mrs. Herbert (Joan) Blust of Tawas City; five grandchildren.

Charter

nities remaining with a Fourth Class City government which contemplates changes this year.

Fourth Class City government has long been on the way out, according to City Atty. Kenneth Myles, and less than 10 Michigan cities are now operating under this form of government.

One of the principal reasons for the change is that Fourth Class Cities are usually ignored by the state legislature when new laws are adopted concerning local government.

The modern home rule form of government simplifies procedures for city operation. A number of different city charters have been studied by the city's planning commission in past years.

Discussion was renewed following a council meeting last January at which time councilmen discussed possible revision of the present city charter to replace the three city supervisors with one city assessor.

On Pins and Needles
HINTS FOR TEENAGERS
...From your Sewing Editor

EVERY SUMMER NEEDS A CRISP LITTLE SUIT for keeping your city-slicker cool. From pavement-pounding to hopping a jet the safari look is big fashion game. A jacket with a pointed, open collar, short puffed sleeves and three pockets is belted over a front-pleated skirt (McCall's 2407). The outfit is obviously wise to the ways of the world.

The sewing subject is crispness, how to get it and keep it. Try a pique fabric for a starter, even the word sounds crisp. Pick out one of the new perky little prints, so great this season. Now, let's go underground with the construction experts at Coats & Clark's to see how the structure is shaped and reinforced.

Underground Sewing

It all depends on interfacing: an extra layer slipped between the outer fabric and the facing. Your pattern instructions will usually call for interfacing around a neckline, inside a collar and to reinforce a button and buttonhole area. There are also places not specified in the pattern where you may decide to include interfacing for a more professional finish. For example, a bias strip of muslin will give body to the hem of a skirt, jacket, cuffless sleeves or full-legged pants.

The fabric used for interfacing depends on the garment fabric, and its function in the finished garment: reinforcement, body, or shaping. It should never be heavier than the garment fabric. Fabric may be specially made for interfacing or you may use a standard fabric, such as muslin or organdy, if it has the right qualities. If your fabric is washable or "drip-dry," the interfacing fabric must be the same. Be sure that washable interfacing is preshrunk before you use it. Interfacing fabric is either woven or non-woven. Woven fabric has to be cut on the same grain as the facing and outer fabric, but has the plus quality of "give." Non-woven fabric can be cut in any direction, but is not as easily manipulated.

The Invisible Factor

If there is no interfacing pattern, use the pattern for the facing or, in the case of waistbands, cuffs, and collars, use these pattern pieces. Clip off the outer corners of interfacing on such pieces as collars and cuffs. On the free edge of a neck interfacing, trim away ¼" and if the fabric is ravelly, make a line of stitching ¼" from the edge. Where an interfacing adjoins a zipper opening, remove ¼" from each side. Interfacing is applied to each section before any kind of stitching is done, including stay stitching. Once a garment is finished, the interfacing becomes invisible, but you know it is there by the way it keeps an outfit in shape.

GI Loan Guaranty Soon Ends

Time is running out for about 2,140,000 World War II veterans who have not used their GI loan guaranty benefits.

The final cutoff date for World War II loans is July 25 for those whose loan eligibility has not expired, Robert M. Fitzgerald, manager of the Detroit Veterans Administration regional office, reminded veterans today.

Loan guaranty benefits are governed by individual expiration dates, based on dates of military service and length of service.

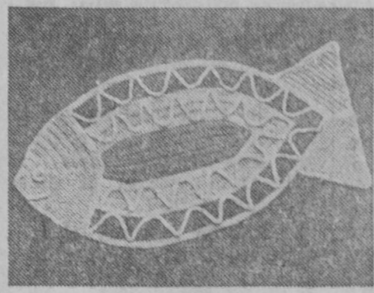

However, under the law, Fitzgerald pointed out, there also is an over-all July 25 deadline for World War II veterans. However, this July 25 deadline does not affect eligibility for loans established by military service since 1955, he said.

The VA advised World War II veterans who do not know their expiration dates to get in touch with the nearest VA Office if they are seeking a GI loan. It will be helpful to have discharge or separation papers handy at the time of contact, Fitzgerald said.

WHAT A CATCH! This fish is 42" long and 21 1/2" across. A 4-ply worsted line and a crochet hook were used to capture such a prize. Judging from its bright coloring, it must have come from warm tropic waters. Imagine markings of canary yellow, geranium red, rusty orange and white.

A Fish Out of Water Something's fishy. You guessed it; it's really a rug. This marine creature is perfect for the sandy floor of a beach cottage; or for the cool tiles of a bathroom. If you need a trophy in your game room, hang this fish rug on the wall.

Quick and Easy

The rug is worked in alternate rows of single and double crochet. Scale trim is added by sewing long chains on the rug in a zigzagging pattern. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 2420.

Monthly Benefits Totaled $322,000

Social security benefits paid to residents of Iosco County totaled $322,000 a month as 1969 ended, John Carr, social security district manager, reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on December 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15 percent for the 3,534 social security beneficiaries in Iosco County, Carr said.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in this area, 2,532 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 652 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died and 301 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Mr. Carr pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60.

In the State of Michigan, 223,203 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 125,844 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Of the 19,704 who are 18 through 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22, if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 age group, Carr said, are some other types of beneficiaries illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

A number are the children of retired, disabled or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to go to work and become self supporting. The benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

Campers don't mean to start forest fires. But they do. If you take pride in being a good campfire builder, save some for being a good putter out. Leaving a fire to smolder alone is just inviting an inferno. And there are few enough good spots to go around now. Douse before you drive away. Only you can prevent forest fires.

FOOD NEWS

These days the American consumer is everybody's darling. Over 75 major bills designed to respond to consumer concerns are presently before the 91st congress and state legislators across the country are likewise considering an unprecedented sheaf of consumer-related bills.

If all of this legislative activity should leave the impression that soon all that consumers will have to do is relax certain in the knowledge that they will be forevermore sheltered and protected by a benevolent and all-powerful network of laws, rules and regulations, and that they will never have to worry about a bad deal again, this is too bad. Because it just is not so. This is because laws alone can never make the marketplace safe for consumers. Consumers, themselves, have a vital role to play on their own behalf.

No one argues that manufacturers and retailers have an obligation to their customers to deliver merchandise, be it a spool of thread or a new house, precisely as promised in their advertisement and labeling. We all agree that government has a role to play in setting standards for consumer products and then enforcing them. Too often, however, we forget that consumers, or customers, have obligations and responsibilities as well.

Following is a suggested list of 10 ways to be a better consumer and it details some of the obligations of responsible consumerism:

1. Remember that "best" and "cheapest" almost never go together. Recognize that there are many valid reasons for buying a particular item and price is not always the most important.

2. Buy from retailers you trust. Reputable brands and responsible companies gained their good names from a record of pleasing their customers.

3. Look for tags and labels indicating standards of quality. In food shopping, use federal grades as guides when possible.

4. Acquire a fund of knowledge. Learn the standards behind the grades and quality designations.

5. Always comparison shop on large items that you buy infrequently. Studies show that most women carry on an informal, almost subconscious, form of comparison shopping on the food items they buy regularly. But the activity must be planned systematically for the big purchases.

6. Ask questions before you sign any purchase agreements or contracts. Double check on offers that sound like a "deal." Unhappily, some of our worst mistakes as consumers come from our amateur efforts to outsharp the sharpies.

7. Do not buy under pressure. Take the risk of missing the bargain rather than allow yourself to be hurried into a doubtful purchase.

8. Know the interest rate when you buy on credit. Know, also, that there are many sources of credit and that rates vary.

9. "Guarantee" is just a word. Know what is promised and who stands behind it.

10. Insist on getting the quality you paid for. Take a sub-standard item back if you must.

Basically what these 10 rules are saying is that to be good customers and good consumers women must understand enough simple economics to know value... to decide what they want and then to get that specific quality in the right amount and at a fair price. If consumers will assume this responsibility, they will join with government, manufacturers and retailers to afford greater satisfaction for all.
