Recover Body of Airman Who Drowned

The body of a 23-year-old airman stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, who had attempted to rescue two persons off the Osceola Township Park, was recovered late Friday in Lake Huron.

Iosco Sheriff's Department deputies said that the body of Norman Wahlenmayer of New York was recovered by dragging in 12 to 13 feet of water and about 150 feet northwest of the end of the pier at the park.

Wahlenmayer had been missing since Thursday afternoon when he went down in the lake after swimming to help Charles Blair of Detroit and his 14-year-old daughter. The two Detroiters made it to shore safely.

Oscoda Boy Injured When Shell Exploded

A seven-year-old Oscoda boy was treated at Tawas Hospital for a head wound received Monday when a grenade launcher cartridge which had been thrown into a yard fire exploded and a fragment struck him in the forehead.

Treated and released after treatment was James William Newman, 5585 Cedar Lake Road, son of Mrs. Royalene Anne Newman.

Mrs. Newman told Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell that a nine-year-old neighbor boy had the ammunition. The cartridge was the size of an M-14 with a double neck down to the size of a .22 caliber. The ammunition was useless for anything except for launching purposes.

City to Seek State Grant for Park

Possible filing for a $6,932 allocation under the state's bonding program for the Tawas City Park is now being studied by city officials.

Delano Myles of the city park board reported to the city council Monday night that County Agent Marvin Davenport, chairman of the county park commission, met with the city park board last week and stated that the city should make application for this money prior to the December 1 filing deadline.

If money allocated to the Tawas City Park is not used by April 1, the money would revert to other areas of the state. Davenport suggested that in the event application is not made by the city, it would be well for the city park commission to relinquish its right to the money in favor of the county park commission.

The $6,932 represents the state's share of an 80-20 percent matching fund. The city would have to raise approximately $1,900 as its share of the program.

Myles said that the park board had contacted the city's planning consultant for costs on preparing the application. To bring plans up to date and to prepare the application, the cost would be approximately $3,200.

City officials are to investigate the possibility of preparing the application locally in order to save this added expense. Such an application approved locally would be reviewed by the planning consultant at no cost to the city.

A report on progress is to be made at the council's meeting September 21. City officials are to study instructions for filing and then select a program of improvement to the city park which would meet specifications of the bond issue.

In other business Monday night, the council directed that a study be made as to the increased cost of the city audit this year by Yeo and Yeo, certified public accountants. It was stated that cost of auditing city books, not including water and sewer accounts, had risen from $875 last year to $1,100 this year.

In answer to recent questions concerning reasons for using sealcoat applications of asphalt on city streets rather than plant mix blacktop, it was pointed out that the lower cost of sealcoat was the major reason for using this type of street surface. Cost of surfacing a 500-foot block with sealcoat costs $445, as compared to $3,250 for plant mix. The city has been averaging between $5,000 and $6,000 each year for its street program for the past 10 years. Defective work by the city's contractor in surfacing streets this summer is to be corrected by the contractor at no cost to the city.

Authorization was given to the superintendent of public works to obtain readymix concrete for pouring a floor in the addition to the city garage. Cost of the concrete would be $420 and city labor would be used to install the floor. The city has $958 to finish the garage addition, which includes installation of unit heaters and wiring.

Upon recommendation of the city planning commission, the council approved appointments by Mayor John St. James of Edward Savage and Carl B. Babcock Jr. to the planning commission. Savage is to replace James Dillon and Babcock replaces Jerry Cotter, both of whom resigned to become members of the new city charter commission.

Fact Finder to Report Today on TA School Contract Impass

Tawas Area School, ready to open its doors to students on Tuesday, September 8, awaits a report today (Wednesday) from a fact finder assigned by the state employment relations commission as a means of resolving the contract impasse between members of Tawas Area Education Association and Tawas Area Board of Education.

Conducting the afternoon hearing last Thursday was Kenneth L. Grinstead, professor of education at Eastern Michigan University.

The fact finding petition has been filed by TAEA in behalf of teachers of the district. At issue is the salary schedule for teachers for 1970-71, as well as extra duty compensation, additional health and life insurance.

Testifying during the hearing were Harry Bishop, staff representative of Michigan Education Association, who represented the teachers, and Thomas Basil, negotiator for the board of education.

On economic issues, the board of education's last offer was $7,200 as the minimum for a teacher with a bachelor of art degree and $10,440 maximum, as compared to TAEA's latest position of $7,800 as the bachelor of art minimum and $11,466 maximum.

The board offered $7,600 as the minimum for a teacher with a master degree and $11,250 as the maximum. The teachers seek a minimum of $8,200 for a master degree and $12,300 as the maximum.

Under the board proposal, the current salary index would be dropped, while the association proposed that the index be maintained.

Last year's salary schedule was $6,900 as the minimum for a teacher with a bachelor degree and a maximum of $10,143. Minimum for a teacher with a master degree was $7,300 and the maximum was $10,950.

Teachers have proposed that an extra duty schedule for coaching be based on a percentage of each teacher's salary. The board has proposed no change from last year for extra duty.

Teachers have proposed that a teacher with six classes be paid on the basis of one-sixth of his salary for the extra class. The board has proposed payment of $900 for the extra class.

Under health insurance, the board proposed the current health insurance program and subsidy while the association proposes a subsidy of $35 per teacher. The board of education proposed to continue the present carrier for health insurance while TAEA proposes Blue Cross or MESSA as the carrier.

The teacher association proposes each member to be covered with $10,000 in life insurance, while the board proposes no term insurance.

Negotiators for TAEA and Tawas Area Board of Education are to meet Wednesday, 6:00 p. m., with a mediator assigned by the state labor relations board to continue negotiations and review recommendations of the fact finder.

Annual orientation for teachers is to be held at various units of the school district Friday starting at 9:00 a. m.

In the event of a strike, school would not be in session, there would be no hand practice or athletic activities and all buses would be secured in the high school parking lot, according to a policy adopted last week by the board of education.

AuGres River Watershed to Get Assistance

The AuGres River watershed project is eligible for assistance under provisions of the watershed protection and flood prevention act, according to information from the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.

Norman A. Berg, acting administrator, said that planning assistance would be provided for additional watersheds when technical facilities are available.

"The additional watersheds will be selected for planning in consideration of an appraisal of the proposed projects' feasibility and in consideration of watershed priorities recommended by the State Soil Conservation Committee for applications received and approved in Michigan," said Berg.

The above application was submitted by a tri-county watershed committee on May 5, following a hearing at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School. The watershed involves Arenac, Iosco and Ogemaw.

Two Homes Included in TC Permits

Construction of two new homes was included in building applications approved during the past two weeks by the Tawas City Department of Public Works.

Permits for new homes were issued to Mrs. Martha Penman, Mar-go Street, 26 by 44 home with 14 by 24-foot attached garage, $22,000; Elmer Walerych, North Street, 28 by 30-foot home with 16 by 24-foot garage, $12,000.

Other permits approved included Joseph O'Day, 2791 Sunset Drive, re-roof garage, $160; Jerry Cotter, 1127 Bay Drive, moved 37 by 37-foot house and 22 by 25-foot garage from 1127 Bay Drive to 1170 Bay Drive. Apply new siding to both buildings, $2,500; Mabel Liske, 619 1/2 Lake Street, re-roof cottage, $200; Mrs. Lena Rouiller, 316 Second Street, new roof, $50; George Liske, 619 Lake Street, new siding, $2,600.

Compressed Air Gives Way to Electronics

Point Foghorn Voice Changed

The mournful sound of the old foghorn on Tawas Point, which for years warned Great Lakes vessels of dangerous shoal waters in that area of Saginaw Bay, is no more—that is, in all probability it will not be heard by residents of the Tawas area.

Effective Thursday, installation was completed on a new electronic fog signal to replace the old foghorn which was operated by compressed air. The signal of both old and new equipment is audible for three or more miles over water.

CBM Anthony J. Tombolillo, commander of Tawas Coast Guard Station, explains that while "horns" of the new electronic equipment have been placed in the same direction as the old signal, audibility inland will be much less with the new signal.

Tombolillo said this is probably caused by the higher directional frequency of the new signal, which is more audible over water than over land.

"We use to get complaints from residents concerning the blasting sound from the foghorn—now we are getting complaints that people in the Tawas miss the sound of the old foghorn," said Tombolillo. The new signal is controlled directly from the coast guard station. Under the old system, the air compressor had to be started manually at a building on the tip of Tawas Point.

Replacement of the fog signal is but one change in the modernization program at United States Coast Guard facilities on Tawas Point.

A quartz iodized lamp has been placed in the prism reflector at Tawas Point lighthouse. This system replaces the incandescent light which had been in operation for the past 35 years. Prior to 1935, a kerosene lamp had been utilized.

In addition, the light is electronically controlled by an electric eye light measuring device, rather than to be operated manually one-half hour before sunset or sunrise.

The coast guard station is now being remodeled with a larger electronic room to house facilities for operating the Tawas Point fog signal and light, as well as the Gravelly Shoals light, which is housed at present at the fog signal.

"We expect to hold an open house at our remodeled facilities in the near future and the public will be invited to inspect the modernization program," said Chief Tombolillo.

In the meantime, Michigan Department of Natural Resources may attempt to secure the old brick fog signal building as part of the Tawas Point State Park complex. If acquired, the building would probably be used as a museum in the park's nature area, which extends from the lighthouse to the fog signal.

THIS OLD BUILDING on Tawas Point has housed the foghorn for many years. A new electronic signal has been installed to the east of the building and it will soon be vacant. It may become a museum as part of Tawas Point State Park.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Construction of two new homes was included in building applications approved during the past two weeks by the Tawas City Department of Public Works.

Read James 1 17-27

Let every man be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger. (James 1:19, RSV)

The spoken word is not only a link for fellowship between people, it also can destroy fellowship. Therefore, James gives a rule for using this means of communication.

James tells us, "Be quick to hear." To hear—God or our fellow people—requires time. Love has time to hear, and such hearing is not a loss of time.

James says, "Be slow to speak." Because we do not take time to listen, we speak immediately, without thought or consideration. Often, we speak unwisely, and sometimes a quickly spoken, unwise word can be like an explosion.

Perhaps James was thinking this when he said, "Be slow to anger." From a quickly spoken word, there is only a small step to anger. Anger can be used constructively, but it can easily get out of hand and do great harm. Remembering Christ crucified helps us with anger.

Let us wisely consider our speech and our reactions to what others say.

PRAYER

Father, forgive us that we are slow to hear and quick to speak and quick to bristle in anger. Teach us today to listen to Thee and to our fellows and to act accordingly to Thy spirit, Thy love. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 Love gives time to listen, wisdom to speak, and patience to act.

Jerry Cotter, Former City Attorney, Heads Commission

Jerry Cotter, former city attorney, was elected chairman of the Tawas City Charter Commission at the group's organizational meeting held last Wednesday night.

Named as vice chairman was Hugo J. Keiser, Lake Street businessman and former chairman of the planning commission.

Established following an overwhelming mandate of the people in the recent primary election, the commission has now started work toward development of a new city charter for presentation to city voters.

This charter, to be written according to guidelines specified by the Michigan home rule act for cities, will replace the city's present charter which follows and incorporates the Fourth Class City Act of 1895.

As the first step toward working on a new charter, the commission authorized Chairman Cotter to contact several state agencies in an effort to obtain initial guidelines. In addition, officials of the City of Standish are to be contacted to learn of initial steps performed by that community's charter commission.

One of the first actions of the charter commission was to accept the resignation of Carl B. Babcock Sr., who was named to the commission at the recent election but resigned for reasons of health. Named as his successor was George W. Myles, former mayor, who was a candidate in the election.

The chairman and vice chairman are to divide the commission in groups in order to study each phase of the new charter. A number of sample charters from Michigan cities will be studied for possible incorporation of provisions.

Besides the above named charter commission members include Lawrence DeBeau, Arnold Hosbach, James Dillon, John Hosbach, Neil Thornton and John Brugger. Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, and City Attorney Kenneth Myles attended the meeting. When called upon, they will act in an advisory capacity.

Regular meetings are to be held the fourth Wednesday of each month and are open to the public. Special meetings may be called from time to time by the commission chairman.

Halt Highway Construction as Safety Precaution

In an effort to assure maximum traffic safety conditions over the Labor Day week-end, the Department of State Highways has ordered a halt to all highway construction and maintenance work and enforcement of safety measures at construction sites.

Michigan motorists will drive an estimated 610-million vehicle miles over the Labor Day week-end. The anticipated total from Friday noon through Tuesday noon exceeds the 1969 Labor Day figure by nearly five-million vehicle miles. By comparison, the 1970 Fourth of July total was estimated at 630-million vehicle miles.

"Safety of the motorist is of paramount concern to all of us in the mated at 630-million vehicle miles.

highway department." Director Henrik E. Stafseth said.

He has ordered a halt to all highway construction and maintenance work from 5:00 p. m. Friday until Tuesday morning. Only essential emergency work will be done on state highways during this period.

CROSS ONLY AT CORNERS

WINNER, AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST

As this map shows, action will be limited to bucks-only hunting in the Upper Peninsula during Michigan's 1970 firearm deer season set for November 15-30. That major change honors a legislative resolution which called for a moratorium on shooting antlerless deer with firearms above the Straits this fall. Licensed archers may still take antlerless deer in that part of the state during the 1970 bow and arrow season. In other notable changes from last year, antlerless deer-hunting permit quotas have been cut 44 percent for the northern Lower Peninsula and increased slightly for southern Michigan. The sharp permit reduction for northern Lower Michigan is designed to promote a buildup of white-tails in those areas where there are good signs that the animals have been balanced with their range as the result of past antlerless harvests and commercial timber cuttings. That region's total permit quota for 1970 is about 69,000 as against 119,000 last season. For southern Michigan, this year's permit level has been raised to 19,795, about 1,000 more than in 1969, in a continued effort to ease problems of rising crop damage and car-deer collisions. Hunters planning to seek this season's antlerless deer permits may do so as soon as application forms and 1970 firearm deer licenses reach local dealers in late August. Instructions for filling out applications appear in copies of Michigan's 1970 deer and bear hunting rules which hunters may pick up when they buy their licenses. September 30 is again the deadline for postmarking permit applications. Sportsmen are not required to apply through the mail for permits covering Area 27, the Beaver Islands Wildlife Research Area. They may hunt antlerless deer without permits in that area this season. --Mich. Dept. of Natural Resources.

Optional Week Should Help in Conditioning

When the Tawas Area Braves take to the gridiron Friday, September 18, to play host to Harrison, the Braves, like most prep footballers in Michigan should be in the best physical condition in school history—thanks to a new state ruling allowing an additional "optional week" for preseason conditioning.

And Ted Guthard, Tawas Area School's new head football coach, has made full use of the extra week of conditioning. With two practices each day last week and continuing until the first day of school coupled with a summer weight program, the Braves should open the season in top notch physical condition.

"When the Green Bay Packers won the national championship in 1967, it was their boast that every member of their squad could do 100 down-ups—we plan to have our kids do 101 down-ups prior to the opening game," said Guthard.

Guthard, whose enthusiasm has been contagious for other members of the coaching staff, said Monday that he has been impressed and happy with the total work of his staff.

"This will be the week which will tell us if we are ready for the season—we will hit, hit, hit and continue to stress conditioning," said Guthard.

The Braves will be returning to the NBC football wars with 17 letter winners from last year's disappointing season which saw the Braves with three wins, five losses and a tie. The Braves had two wins and a tie going into the Osceola game and then lost five straight before salvaging the final game of the season.

Four first-year seniors showing promise are Lyle Groff, Mike Garland, Mark Minard and Pat Jor-

Thirty-one boys have turned out regularly for varsity practice and Guthard said he would name players later this week who have successfully made the step up from the junior varsity ranks.

The Braves will lack size this season, the heaviest man on the squad weighing 187 pounds, but Guthard expects them to be lean and aggressive. "Whether we will be tough remains to be seen," he commented.

Guthard will be borrowing Oklahoma's famous slot I formation with two quick receivers to the slot side. The Braves will be using a multiple defense and will run from a four-point blocking stance offensively, rather than the conventional three-point stance.

According to the head coach, no positions are set as yet. "We will just have to wait to see what happens this week," he stated.

If it is still good don't store it—sell it quickly with a Herald classified.

Old-Fashioned Soap Called Best Pollution Control

A green slime filming the surface of your favorite lake? A dwindling number of nibbles on your line? These are symptoms of water pollution. Diagnosed as the leading cause of pollution by the International Joint Commission following a five-year study of Lakes Erie and Ontario are the phosphates contained in the majority of today's laundry products. The phosphates speed up the growth of algae. The algae eat up the oxygen in the water that fish and plants need to survive.

The cure? There is no immediate one in sight, or at least until detergent formulas have been changed and better sewage facilities constructed.

But there is a stop-gap means of slowing pollution down, one that needs the cooperation of every concerned citizen who ever does a wash. It involves switching back to the old-fashioned method of using a soap product combined with water-softening washing soda. Both soap products and washing soda contain one percent or less phosphates according to results of laundry product testing by United States environmental and University of Toronto researchers.

In Canada, the switch has already caught on, spurred by crusading groups and by lakeside cottage owners, who fear for the growing deterioration of their waters. Even supermarkets in Canada are now posting lists of wash day products and their corresponding phosphate content as a public service to shoppers. As a result, the old-fashioned laundry system is today's "in" way to wash in Canada.

Here are a few examples, by percentage, of phosphates found in the following products: Calgon, 73 percent; All, 45 percent; Tide, 43 percent; Sunlight, 37 percent; Cold Power, 35.5 percent; Cascade, 36.2 percent; Ajax, 36 percent; Bold, 32.5 percent; Spic and Span, 21 percent; Whisk, 10.5 percent; Instant Fels, nine percent; Ivory Snow, one percent; Borax, less than one percent.

Legislation has been introduced to ban phosphorus in detergents in the United States by June 30, 1972, and to set national pollution control standards on all detergent ingredients by the same date.

Police Investigate Cabin Burglaries

State police are investigating breaking and enterings of Kendall and Lorenz hunting camps on Lorenz Road west of Tawas City. A large quantity of carpenter tools was taken from the Kendall camp.

Police investigated a rash of petty burglaries from public campgrounds over the week-end. Included in the thefts was camping equipment from a tent owned by Harold R. Maddox of Alexandria, Indiana, who was staying at Silver Valley.

Numerous picnic coolers were stolen at the Tawas Point State Park and East Tawas City Park. A picnic table is missing from the roadside park at the East Branch of the AuGres River on M-55.

Lobby Hours

The lobby of the Tawas City post office will be open from 8:00 to 10:00 a. m. on Monday (Labor Day), September 7. There will be no window service or rural delivery on this day.

City Studies Ordinance to Control 'Festivals'

A new city ordinance aimed at controlling large "rock festivals" is now being studied by the Tawas City Council. A model ordinance prepared under authorization of Gov. William Milliken was turned over to the council's ordinance committee for possible adoption at the next meeting.

Mayor John St. James reported that he, Chief of Police George Westcott and City Supt. Reginald Bublitz had attended a conference called last week by the governor at Pontiac.

The governor has been urging all local communities to adopt such ordinances as a means of controlling large gatherings similar to the recent one at Gould's.

The ordinance, it was reported, is not designed to discourage such festivals but would control gatherings of 5,000 persons and more on private property. In order to comply with provisions, the promoter would have to provide security police, fire protection, medical service, along with food, health and other provisions. Between 500 and 600 representatives of city and township governments attended the Pontiac meeting. Tawas City officials are to check with the county to determine if such an ordinance is being considered locally.

FIRE CAUSED extensive smoke damage Friday noon to Emanuel Lutheran Church, Tawas City. The blaze started in a storage room under a stairway leading to the choir loft and filled the building with smoke. According to Fire Chief James Lansky, heat caused a window to blow out at the southwest corner of the church and two boys riding on bicycles notified Mrs. James Rockhoff, wife of the pastor, who turned in the alarm. Firemen confined flames to the storage room and stairway. A new organ installed recently reportedly was not damaged. Cause of the fire was not determined.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Ristow and Wilson were a part of 700 men sent from eastern and southern national forests. They will return when the large fires are brought under control and the critical fire situation lowers.

Tawas Students Score Average on State Assessment Program

School Officials Analyze Results

Results from last year's Michigan Assessment Program conducted among fourth and seventh grade pupils at Tawas Area School are now being studied by administrators to determine what can be done to improve education.

This was a test of 117 individuals in the fourth grade and 186 students in the seventh grade. Results and comparisons available are not for individuals but for the entire group. Nothing is available as to what individual students achieved.

The test indicated that fourth grade students scored below average in attitude toward school, where the score was in the 45 percentile in comparison with Michigan students, 25 percentile in the northern region and at the 45 percentile with Northern Michigan towns.

Fourth grade students had a low rating in the importance of school achievement, being scored in the 40 percent group in Michigan, then jumped to 65 percent in Northern Michigan region and 55 percentile in towns of Northern Michigan.

In achievement, the Tawas Area group was in the 55 percentile or above when compared with Michigan pupils, 50 percentile or above in the Northern Michigan region and 55 percentile in towns of Northern Michigan. This included vocabulary, reading, English expression and mathematics.

Fourth grade students from Tawas Area scored extremely high in self perception, being in the 70 percentile in Michigan, 80 percentile in the northern region and 75 percentile in the Northern Michigan towns.

The 186 students in the seventh grade were higher in relation to the state as a whole in achievement, with an average of 70 percentile. The regional average was at the 65 percentile and students scored in the 55 percentile with towns of Northern Michigan.

Variables that influence seventh grades were as follows on the Michigan comparison: Socio-economic status, 62 percentile; importance of school, 40 percentile; self perception five percentile; attitude toward school, 28 percentile; years of experience of teacher, 80 percentile; percentage with master degree, 50 percentile; average salary, 85 percentile; state aid per pupil, 10 percentile; local aid, 50 percentile; instructional expense, 25 percentile; total operating expense, 20 percentile.

In specific areas, students scored as follows in comparison with the entire state: Vocabulary, 65 percentile; reading, 73 percentile; English expression, 55 percentile; mathematics, 68 percentile.

A comparison with other schools in the northern region was as follows: Vocabulary, 55 percentile; reading, 59 percentile; English expression, 55 percentile; mathematics, 55 percentile.

In achievement, the fourth grade students of 1969-70 in Tawas Area School scored above the average in Michigan and the northern region. They were below in vocabulary and reading compared to towns in the northern region.

The seventh grade group showed an assessment higher than the fourth grade group in comparison with other sections of the state. Students were at the average and above when compared with 373 schools in towns of Northern Michigan.

An entirely different group of individuals will be taking the test in 1971 and different traits and achievements may be shown. The school must still rely on other testing instruments to evaluate individuals.

"The input of children will be at a great variance in 1970-71. Perhaps this will begin to show a pattern for Tawas Area and perhaps it will show a complete change in socio-economic background and attitude toward school," states Supt. Reynold Mick.

"At this time, we do not know whether results will remain constant in Tawas Area. We can only await further results in future years and see," said the superintendent.

WHAT CAN YOU CROCHET THESE DAYS that is both whimsical and practical? Roses, of course! And where do these roses go when they're in bloom? On top of your crocheted tissue topper! This new fad is sweeping the country and because it's so easy to make and takes so little time, every bathroom in your home just has to have one.

FOR NOOKS AND CRANNIES I don't know who originated this fascinating idea, but whoever he was, our hats are off to him. This topper, which is filled with an extra roll of bathroom tissue, can be placed in any convenient nook or cranny in your house — you'll be surprised at how many resting places you'll find. We've chosen yellow, tangerine, searlet and tile green knitting worsted for ours, but one of the beauties of this topper is that you can carry out the color schemes of your towels, curtains or rug so easily — there are so many wonderful shades of yarn to choose from. Worked in a simple shell stitch, this would be a perfect project for someone who's just learning to crochet—your own teenager perhaps.

AS A "TRIFLE"

When you need a last minute "trifle" for a present, it certainly would be convenient to have an extra topper handy—and can't you just picture a colorful assortment of these in your booth at the church bazaar? Road Work Completed on Interstate 75

Motorists frustration on Interstate 75 between Flint and Bay City should be easing off in the immediate future, the Department of State Highways said last week.
 Most of the major construction projects as well as maintenance and repair projects responsible for summer slowdowns on I-75 are in final stages of completion. By the end of August, freeway traffic should be nearly back to normal, according to Edward Upson, Saginaw District highway engineer.
 In early July, Upson alerted motorists that some form of highway work affecting traffic would be in progress on practically every mile of I-75 between Flint and Bay City except for week-ends when work was shut down. Upson warned of stop-and-go driving on I-75 throughout the summer.
 Additional complications developed when a score of pavement blowups occurred during exceptionally hot weather, requiring emergency repairs and the closing of one lane of traffic.

Miss Otis Liked 'First' Plane Ride

"All old timers should have the opportunity to view Isosco County from the air—Tawas Bay, the rivers, towns and farms certainly look different from the air," exclaimed Miss Edna Otis of East Tawas, following her first ride in a light plane Saturday. "The pilot said I flew like an old pro and not like an old crow," joked Miss Otis, who said she had once been a passenger on a commercial air liner.

Drag Boat Races Planned at Oscoda

A spectacular speed event on the waters of Lake Huron will punctuate the Labor Day week-end at Oscoda. Drag boat races, sanctioned by the National Drag Boat Association, will be run September 5-6. It is the first sanctioned meet in Michigan since 1967.
 Time trials for the slick, speedy water dragsters will be held on Saturday, September 5. The eliminations will be held on Sunday, September 6. Several classes of boats will be featured. Speeds up to 125 miles per hour can be expected from the high-revving, highly modified engines. There may not be tire-burning, blue smoke of the drag strip as you find with automobiles, but the boats produce all the engine roar and add a high roostertail of flashing water.
 The event is sponsored by the Oscoda-AuSable Chamber of Commerce. Headquarters for the event is the Oscoda Yacht Club. Between 3,500 and 4,000 people are expected to watch the event.

Coast Guard Academy Has Openings

The United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, is accepting applications from qualified young men between 17 and 22, who will be high school graduates by June 30, 1971, for admission to the nation's smallest service academy. Deadline for applications is December 15. On a 100-acre site in historic New England, the Coast Guard Academy offers a four-year education and a commission in the nation's oldest continuous seagoing service. The coast guard is the smallest (39,000 plus) of the five armed forces, and boasts a long heritage of humanitarian service to persons and property of all nations.
 Interested students should contact their high school guidance counselor or nearest coast guard recruiting office for details.
 The Coast Guard Academy's entrance examination is the College Entrance Board tests. There are no congressional appointments or state quotas to this school.

Prepare State's Role on Aging

An advisory committee of Michigan leaders which is preparing for the state's role in the White House Conference on Aging met Wednesday, August 26, with Gov. William G. Milliken and representatives from the Michigan Commission on Aging in Lansing.
 As part of the conference's overall theme, "Older Americans Speak to the Nation," older people will be encouraged to speak out on their needs, concerns and possible solutions so that an effective policy on aging can be developed based on information gathered from the older people themselves.
 The governor stressed the importance of this advisory committee and that of the White House Conference, scheduled for November 1971, to the lives of Michigan's older residents.
 "The information gathered through Michigan's involvement in the White House Conference on Aging can assist Michigan to develop an effective policy on aging," the governor said.
