Oscoda Teachers Remain Off Jobs

Oscoda Area School remained closed Tuesday as teachers remained off the job following collapse of contract negotiations over the week-end.

No new negotiation date has been set as yet, according to representatives of the Oscoda Education Association.

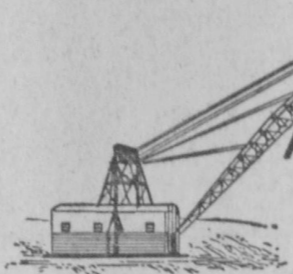

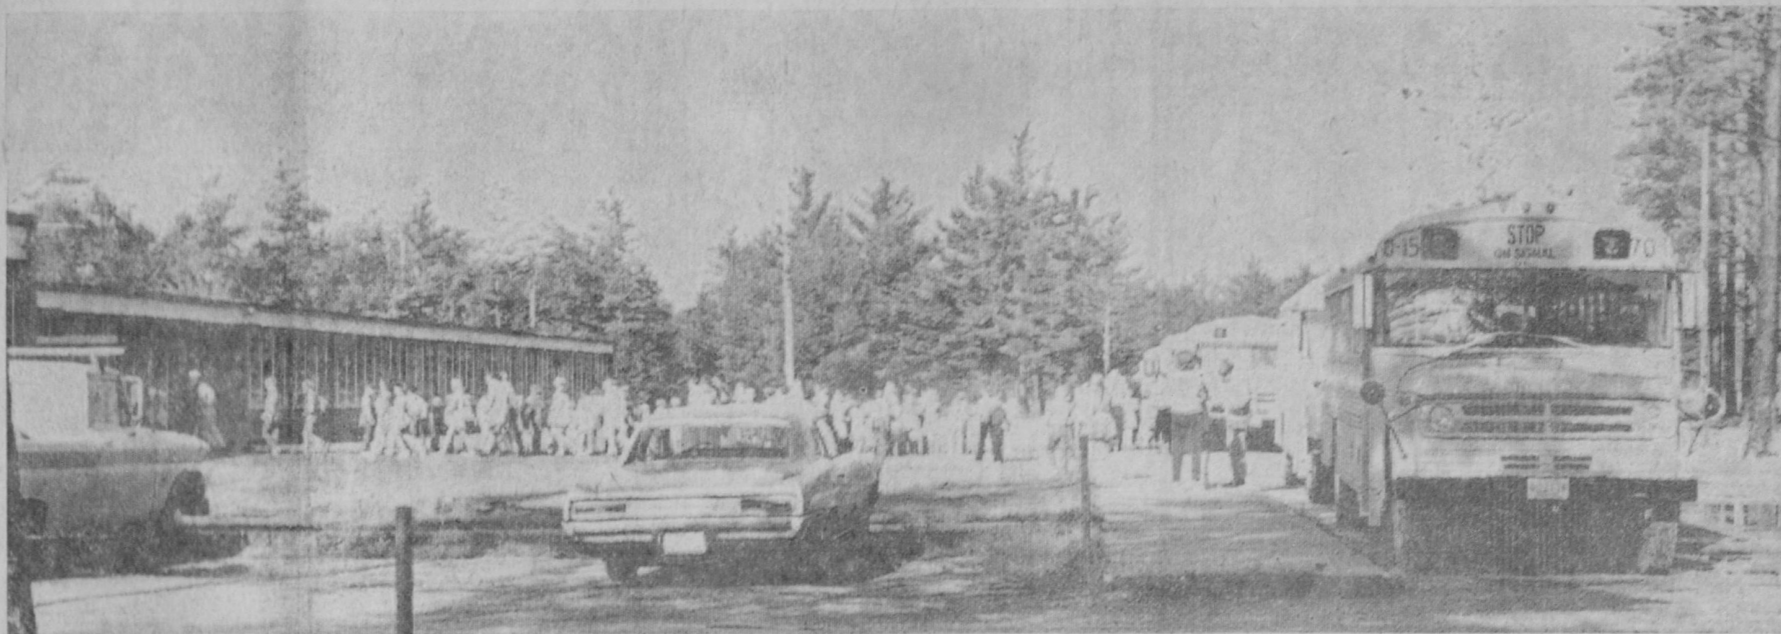

Approximately 200 teachers agreed to stay off the job Monday after failing to reach agreement in negotiation sessions Saturday and Sunday.

Teachers were to meet Tuesday and would be available for further discussions. About 4,400 students in the school district stayed home from school.

Last economic package offered was for a bachelor degree starting base of $7,500 rising to $12,200 in 12 steps to replace the present 12-step scale of $7,300 to $11,388.

Principal hangup in negotiations apparently involves noneconomic items.

Pact Awaits Board Approval

Last Minute Negotiation Opens School

Last minute negotiations toward settlement of a contract between representatives of Tawas Area Education Association and the board of education saw Tawas Area Schools opening for its fall term Tuesday morning.

Official ratification of the new contract is not expected until the next meeting of the board of education but, for all practical purposes, a settlement has been reached.

Children pouring into the various units Tuesday morning seemed unaware that these last minute talks were responsible for the opening of school doors. Most of the youngsters were intent on renewing friendships after summer vacations and getting ready for another nine months in the classrooms.

Tom Basil, who has handled negotiations for the school district, was to meet Tuesday with members of the board of education in an unofficial meeting to make known terms of the contract.

Supt. Reynold Mick explained Tuesday morning that an official meeting could not be called because of the lack of time for legal notification 48 hours prior to the meeting. In addition, one member of the board of education was out of the community.

Last week, it appeared to be a certainty that school would not open the day after Labor Day because of the contract dispute. A statement issued Thursday by Tawas Area Education Association said that teachers would not return to work without a contract. Prior to that, the board of education announced that, in the event of a strike, all school doors would be closed and buses would be secured.

Negotiations were resumed Friday as teachers returned to school for the annual orientation meeting prior to start of the fall term. Meetings were held between the negotiating team for the education association and school principals, with messages relayed to the board's negotiator by telephone. A tentative settlement was reached Friday afternoon and the education association announced Saturday morning that teachers would be returning to school on Tuesday.

The school superintendent said that the last minute negotiations demonstrated a cooperative effort on both sides of the bargaining table.

"Both sides wanted to open school at the regular starting time. This was in the best interest of the children of Tawas Area School District," said Mick, who was joined in this sentiment by Robert Blood, chairman of the education association's negotiating team.

Full terms of the new agreement are not to be announced until official action is taken by the board of education. A joint statement is to be made to the press at that time.

The school superintendent said that a full report on recommendations of a fact finder assigned to this dispute were to be made public at the next regular meeting of the board of education.

Mick said that the board's negotiator had been unable to schedule an official meeting with the board of education to discuss these recommendations. He said that under terms of collective bargaining, recommendations of a fact finder were not to be disclosed until both sides had the opportunity to discuss the findings.

Describes Service in Afghanistan With Peace Corps

Mary Nagy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nagy of Tawas City, returned home September 2 after serving 2½ years in Afghanistan as a member of the Peace Corps.

"It was a good 2½ years—naturally, everything was so much different than here in Michigan, but my work and travel were most interesting," she stated.

Her work in the Peace Corps half way around the world has been in Mazar-I-Sharif, North Afghanistan, where she had been an instructor in a hospital teaching student nurses.

Before joining the program, she graduated in 1966 as a registered nurse from Saginaw General Hospital, then worked one year at Sparrow Hospital, Lansing. She is a 1961 graduate of Tawas Area High School.

Afghanistan, bounded by the Soviet Union, China, Iran and Pakistan, is a backward country with none of the conveniences of modern living. "The Moslem year is 1348 and that seems to be about the period they are living in, according to our calendar," said Miss Nagy.

She found her work most exciting, interesting and challenging. She said the hospital in which she worked was ill equipped and had no electricity or water. Yet, she and another nurse had charge of training young women as nurses and others as midwives. The nurses completed 2½ years of instruction and are now teachers and ward instructors in hospitals.

There are about 150 Peace Corps workers in Afghanistan, ranging from workers in the health field to teachers of English. "You probably have heard of the rough life for a Peace Corps worker, but they took good care of us," she said.

Northern Afghanistan is a desert country, where the temperature reaches 120 degrees in the summer months, then cools down to about 10 degrees with a little snow starting in October. February and March is the rain season.

"The soil is so bad that the rain does not soak into the ground—the land is a sea of mud until the ground water evaporates," she said.

Mazar-I-Sharif is a city of about 40,000 to 80,000 persons. The population count is rather indefinite, however, as census workers may not enter homes and the head of each household reports on his own family.

Because of traditions of the Moslem religion, girls are not allowed to work in hospitals which care for men. As a result, young men were being trained as nurses when Miss Nagy left on her return to the United States.

In addition to her teaching duties, Miss Nagy spent a considerable amount of time going from village to village vaccinating women and children for smallpox. "It was a cruel society," said Miss Nagy in describing her life in Afghanistan. "The people live with so little and there is a great deal of pain and suffering."

There are 12 different tribes and 12 different languages spoken in Afghanistan, each with its own dialects. She learned enough of the Farsi (Persian) language to enable her to get by with her work.

CAP Happy Over Parochial Vote

The Council Against Parochialism (CAP) Thursday expressed gratification in Wednesday's decision by the State Court of Appeals that ordered the state to submit the question of public funds for non-public schools to a vote of citizens in the November general election.

"The decision of the Court of Appeals indicating our petitions calling for a public vote were in order is extremely gratifying," Mrs. Harriet Phillips of Huntington Woods, CAP chairman, said.

"But we continue to be annoyed by the persistent efforts of the state attorney general to delay a vote by the public on this critical issue," she said.

The court of appeals Wednesday in its ruling said the nearly 320,000 petitions circulated and submitted by CAP were drawn up correctly and indicated the question of Parochialism should be submitted to voters in November. The ruling stemmed from a suit by CAP after Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's May 26 opinion which declared the form of the petition did not meet state requirements.

"The court has now rejected the attorney general's arguments," Erwin B. Ellmann of Detroit, CAP attorney, said.

"And now we are told the attorney general intends to appeal the court of appeals' decision to the Michigan Supreme Court."

"Kelley's one-man campaign to raise technical objections to allowing the people of Michigan a chance to speak on this issue is most regrettable," Ellmann said.

"These continued efforts to halt the democratic expression of views are deplorable," he said.

"The secretary of state's office approved the petitions May 8, more than enough signatures calling for a public vote were filed in advance of the deadline, and now the court has substantiated the validity of those petitions," he said.

"The matter should now proceed promptly to the ballot box," Ellmann said.

Ellmann said if voters in November do not approve an amendment to the Michigan Constitution forbidding the use of public funds for nonpublic schools, then the issue has been resolved through the true democratic process. "If voters do approve such an amendment, any further legal question can be resolved calmly after the November election," he pointed out.

Mrs. Phillips said CAP leaders urge all major political candidates in the November election, regardless of their personal views, to publicly endorse the people's right to speak on the issue of Parochialism.

"God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth." (John 4:24, RSV)

According to an ancient legend, two brothers lived on adjoining farms. One was married, the other single. One evening as the married man was enjoying the fellowship of his home and family, he thought that his brother must be lonely without a family, and he wanted to do something to cheer him up. So on three successive nights he took sheaves of wheat from his own field to his brother's field so his brother would think he had a big harvest.

But at the same time the single man thought of his brother and felt sure that with a family to support he must have many trials and worries. So on three successive nights, he took sheaves of wheat from his own field to his brother's field.

On the third night, there was a moon, and the two brothers ran into each other. Each then realized what the other was trying to do for him. And there, according to the legend, they built a temple to God, because, they said, the spirit of God met the spirit of man.

Almighty God, who hast revealed Thyself as redemptive love in Christ Jesus, help us to know Thee whom to know aright is life eternal. Amen.

Church of the Nazarene Break Ground for Educational Wing

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Sunday at the East Tawas Church of the Nazarene for a new educational building.

Construction on the new annex started on Labor Day with men of the church providing the manpower. The project is being supervised by John Wright of Perry. James Russo of Tawas City is engineer.

The Rev. Noah Funk, pastor, explains that attendance in the Sunday school has been around 70 each Sunday and attendance at church each week has numbered more than 90.

"We had no room for the children's department and the congregation felt that it was time to provide these facilities," said Pastor Funk.

SPEAKS THE BIBLE TO YOU

Standards for judging the true value and substantiality of the things mankind desires are set forth in the lesson-sermon on "Substance," to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 13.

One of the Bible quotations is from Paul's letter to Timothy, in which he wrote, "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy."

A citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, reads:

"To himself, mortal and material man seems to be substance, but his sense of substance involves error and therefore is material, temporal. On the other hand, the immortal, spiritual man is really substantial, and reflects the eternal substance, or Spirit, which mortals hope for. He reflects the divine, which constitutes the only real and eternal entity."

It is planned to have the 20 by 36-foot annex completed before winter. This is the first of a three-part plan for an educational building. The building will be of concrete block construction, similar to the design of the church which was constructed five years ago.

14 Baptized at VanEtan Lake

East Tawas Church of the Nazarene recently held a baptism service at Nissokone YMCA Camp on VanEtan Lake. A group of over 50 people gathered for the outdoor service. The Rev. Noah Funk, along with the Rev. Joseph Trueax of Saginaw, baptized 14 candidates.

The church has grown to the place where it is anticipating adding an educational unit to the present sanctuary. This is needed to facilitate the growing Sunday school program.

Tawas A. Coaching Staff Stress Grid Fundamentals

"Learning the fundamentals is the name of the game and that is what we have stressed for the past week," said Coach Ted Guthard as the Tawas Area Braves finished their first full week of pre-season football practice.

Starting his first year here as head football mentor, Guthard said he was happy with the tremendous attitude of his charges. "Because of the need for conditioning, the boys have been under a tremendous strain for two weeks," he stated.

As an example of the most rigorous training program ever held in the history of this school, the varsity reached its goal of 101 down-up exercises last Friday.

Guthard has been utilizing some drills in an attempt to increase the speed of some of his players. "Lack of speed apparently has always been a problem at Tawas and it will again be a problem this season," said Guthard.

The Braves will have their first real test of the season Saturday when the school plays host to Dearborn Divine Child football team, both varsity and junior varsity. The varsity scrimmage starts at 11:30 a. m.

Moe, tailbacks and fullbacks. A special practice session was held last Wednesday night for the Tawas Area Braves Booster Club. Following a demonstration of conditioning exercises, players, the coaching staff and managers were introduced to the 115 persons attending. Coffee and cookies were served following the program.

Many Prizes Await Wool Winners

The grand tour, via Dutch Airlines for an unforgettable vacation in the fun and fashion capitals of Europe, is the grand prize in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" competition, now in its 25th anniversary year.

Other prizes include college scholarships, United States Savings Bonds, sewing machines, stunning accessories, luggage and toiletries. And, there are all kinds of lovely prizes offered at district and state competition, too.

State winner in the competition receives a free trip to the national finals to be held in Las Vegas, Nevada, January 19.

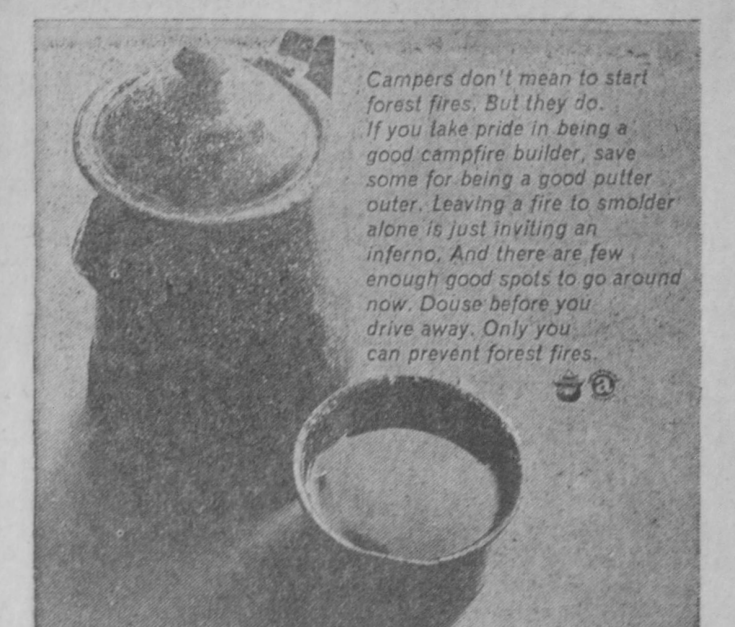

Mrs. Robert Kilbourn, Route No. 2, Box 780, Gaylord, Michigan 49735, telephone (517) 732-5821, and Mrs. Lloyd A. Wolf, 609 North Court Avenue, Gaylord, Michigan 49735, telephone (517) 732-4963, will serve as district co-directors of district 10 for the "Make It Yourself With Wool" competition in Michigan, Mrs. Lawrence C. Boettner, state director of Bridge-water, has announced.

Mrs. Kilbourn's and Mrs. Wolf's district includes Alcona, Alpena, Cheboygan, Crawford, Iosco, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Presque Isle and Roscommon Counties.

To enter Make It Yourself With Wool, a girl must make a 100 percent wool suit, coat dress or pants outfit from fabric loomed or knitted in the United States. She must model her own garment before judges and appear in fashion shows beginning at the district level.

The competition is open to all girls who accept its rules. Girls compete with others in their age group: Juniors with juniors (14-16) and seniors with seniors (17-21). Michigan has a sub-deb division (10-13); however, sub-debs do not proceed beyond the district finals.

Campers don't mean to start forest fires. But they do. If you take pride in being a good campfire builder, save some for being a good putter out. Leaving a fire to smolder alone is just inviting an inferno. And there are few enough good spots to go around now. Douse before you drive away. Only you can prevent forest fires.

Hunters don't mean to start forest fires. But they do. It's usually when someone spots a buck and everyone grabs his gun. And everyone forgets the campfire. Which is pretty dumb. Leaving a fire to smolder alone is just inviting an inferno. Man, douse it first. Only you can prevent forest fires.

Heed Silent Warnings of Instrument Panel

CHECK GAUGES—By keeping a regular watch on instrument panels, many serious mechanical troubles can frequently be averted, advises the Automobile Club of Michigan. If oil pressure indicator flashes red your oil is low and should be checked. And if the water temperature goes beyond the boiling point, that, too, is a signal to take remedial action.

room house during her stay. She cooked her own food, consisting mainly of lamb and rice, which she said was very tasty. Beef was in short supply and chickens were too expensive. The house was heated with wood.

All was not work as she had the opportunity to tour the country. There is only one paved road in that part of Afghanistan and it changes often with sand storms and washouts. She also had a six-week vacation in India and Pakistan. About every three months, she flew to Kabul, capital of Northern Afghanistan, which is the country's only modern city—with auto taxis, theatres, paved streets, hotels, universities.

Her efforts as a Peace Corps worker, helping people in an under developed country, have been most rewarding. "They can utilize my special knowledge which you might have, from work as an office secretary to that of a carpenter."

On her return trip to the United States last May, she flew by way of Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, then to Austria, Germany and Budapest, Hungary, where she spent 10 days.

"I traveled extensively in Austria and even took a job in a Viennese restaurant for a month just to see how one was operated," said Miss Nagy.

She stopped in London, England, before her return flight to Detroit and to Lansing, where she was met by her sister.

Miss Nagy's future plans are indefinite as yet, although she plans to look for a job, preferably "out west" to be near the mountains.

"I definitely want to again take an overseas assignment, but I have no particular plans," she said.

She expects to visit with her parents for a month or more before looking for a job. In the meantime, she is editing color slides which she snapped while in Afghanistan in order to present a program locally.

"I am sure that a people here will find that it was a very different sort of life," she commented.

Conquest of North Pole by Snowmobiles to be Told

Ralph Plaisted, St. Paul, Minnesota, insurance man who led a 43-day conquest of the Arctic ice cap to reach the North Pole by snowmobiles in 1968, will be featured at Hale Area High School gymnasium on Monday, September 14, 8:00 p. m. The program is being sponsored by Hale Lions Club.

The band of amateur explorers was the first expedition ever to reach the North Pole by motorized travel, first surface expedition ever to have its location at the exact geographical North Pole confirmed by an outside source and the first surface expedition to reach the North Pole since 1909. Driving four compact 16-horsepower snowmobiles, the ice party of six men set out from the northern land tip of Canada in 62-degree below zero weather on March 7, 1968. They completed the conquest of the Arctic ice cap on April 19.

Those 43 days of endurance and determination in the face of danger, fatigue and constant threat of failure, perhaps cold death, are days of pioneering that one can hardly begin to imagine.

Whittemore-Prescott Voters to Decide on Additional Taxes

Voters of Whittemore-Prescott Area School District go to the polls Monday, September 14, to decide on two millage proposals, along with an advisory vote on a proposed bond issue.

Supt. Ray Kesler said Tuesday that voters are being asked to approve two operational mills for one year. This additional money would replace money being lost by the district this year due to a change in state policy.

The second ballot would ask approval of one mill for one year to finance hard surfacing of the school parking lot.

The third ballot is an advisory vote which asks permission to issue bonds on up to five percent of the school valuation to finance construction of a new shop. The board of education has authority to issue such bonds without a vote of the people, but Kesler emphasized that the board of education "does not want to take such action unless the people want it."

Enrollment of Whittemore-Prescott Area School as of Tuesday was 1,075 students, up 50 students from last year.

You've Read About it and Seen it on TV... Now Hear the Plaisted Story—IN PERSON

Ralph Plaisted has told his story on the Tonight Show, the Mike Douglas Show and To Tell the Truth. The expedition was covered in an hour-long documentary on national television. His story has been purchased by Life, Popular Science, Argosy and foreign publications.

The Plaisted Polar Expedition was the first to reach the North Pole by Snowmobiles April 19, 1968. Don't miss hearing this great adventure first hand from the man who led it.

Newman Street Building Guttled

Fifty Firemen Battled Blaze Thursday Morning

Efficient work by firemen from three departments, coupled by a safety wall between buildings, prevented an early Thursday morning fire in East Tawas' business district from becoming one of the worst blazes in area history.

As it was, two business places in one building on Newman Street were destroyed. The business office of Michigan Bell Telephone Company and the Quality Bakery and Pizzeria were completely gutted.

The Christian Book Store and East Tawas Cleaners, located at the rear of the building, were heavily damaged by smoke and water.

No one was injured in the blaze, which was discovered at 8:00 a. m. by troopers of the East Tawas State Police Post, who were on patrol.

State police said that East Tawas firemen responded quickly to their call, but the fire, which apparently started in the center of the bakery, was blazing fiercely inside the structure by the time they arrived.

An immediate call for help was made to Tawas City and Oscoda Fire Departments. East Tawas sent two pieces of equipment to the scene, Tawas City sent three trucks and Oscoda sent one. About 50 firemen from the three departments were called on to fight the blaze.

While there apparently was no danger of fire getting out of control because of the fire walls on each side of the building, the adjacent business places of Mill End Store and Merschel Hardware, along with Gould Drug Store, had some smoke damage. Sporting ammunition in the hardware was removed to prevent a possible explosion.

Because of partitions in the bakery which separated the work area from the front sales department and coffee shop at the rear, firemen had a difficult time in stopping the blaze in the center of the building. Flames ate their way through several false ceilings and finally the roof, then crept over into the telephone company's business office.

The roof over the bakery caved in as did the roof on the front of the telephone office. Records for Tawas City, East Tawas, Oscoda, Standish, St. Helen and West Branch telephone customers were maintained there.

The building is owned by William Look of East Tawas. One side was remodeled for the telephone company's business office earlier this year.

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega. We also call it "the little car that does everything well." Because it does.

Everything? Everything.

Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports, which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far?

Numbers speak louder than words. The wheelbase is 97 inches. Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5 1/2 feet.

Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan. Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.

Horsepower: 90. You can order 110. (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net.) Seating capacity: 4 adults.

What it all adds up to is a lot of little car.

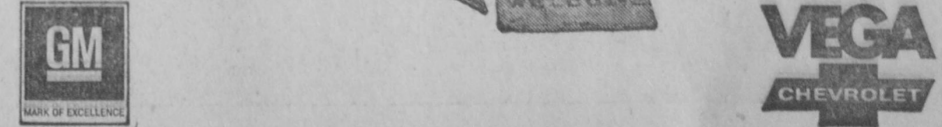

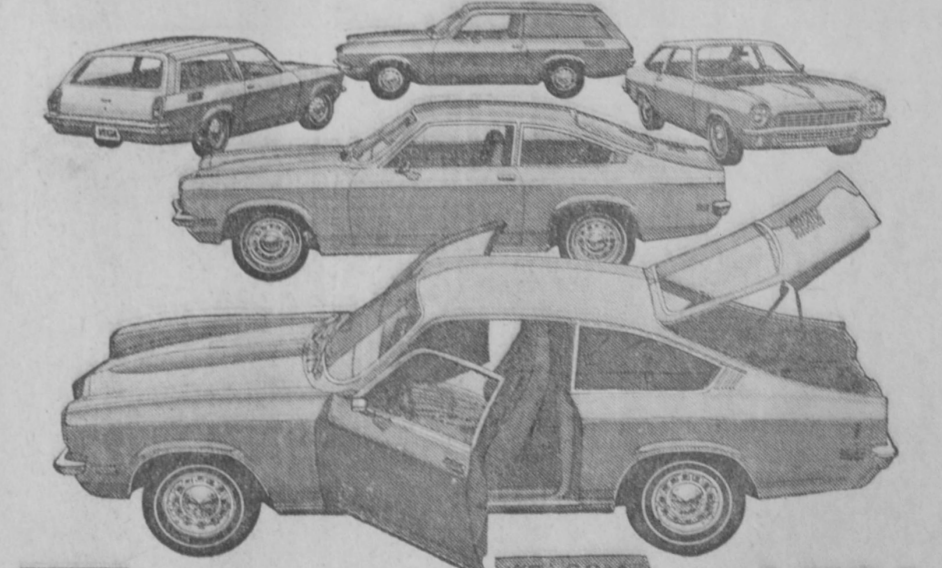

Three cars and a truck. Vega turned out so well that we couldn't turn out just one.

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kammback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day. All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.

Blue as the sky, green as a leaf, white as the sand. The cardigan is a natural for the great outdoors and it is colored that way, too. It is knitted in a jacquard pattern, passing the colors not in use behind your work. This creates an inner layer, making the sweater extra warm. The sizing is a family affair, ranging from a child's 4 up to a man's 44. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PK 6109.

It is suggested that a ball point needle be used for sewing on nylon tricot, as on other knits. Ball point needles will not sew over pins, so it is advisable to pin parallel to the seam allowance.

Synthetic threads and nylon laces should be used with the tricot as they have more give than cotton.

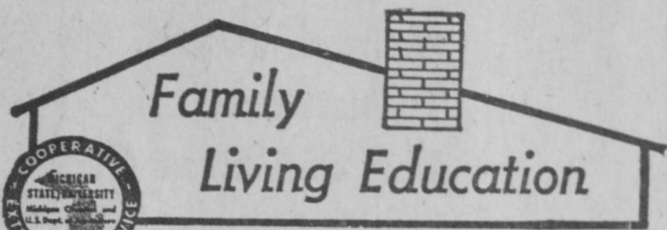

Sometimes, it is difficult to tell the right from the wrong side of the tricot. When the cut edge is stretched, it will curl toward the right side.

When cutting tricot, it is important to use sharp shears and fine silk pins. If you do not wish to pin the pattern to the fabric, you can copy it on to an interfacing fabric, spray it lightly with spray starch and stick it to the tricot.

No seam allowance is needed when making lingerie, you sew right on the edge of the seam as the tricot will not ravel. This takes some practice as most of us are accustomed to that sacred five-eighths inch seam allowance!

Have fun making and wearing your lacy, lovely lingerie!

Sewing Tips for Lingerie

The availability of nylon tricot for sewing your own slips and panties is increasing. And as more fabric stores carry the tricot, more and more home sewers are trying to "do-it-yourself." It is certainly less expensive to make your own, if you do not include the cost of your time. Each homemaker must decide with lingerie making as with other sewing, whether money, time and personal satisfaction is most important.

However, if you are going to try lingerie making, here are some tips which can help.

Machine settings are important when sewing with a lightweight, slippery fabric like nylon tricot. Tension should be loosened slightly. Be sure to check tension and stitch on scraps before starting on your garment.

You can get equally good results with either a straight stitch or zig-zag machines, but it is a little more work with straight stitch. If you are using a straight stitch, you need to make two rows of stitching very close together. Set the stitch length for 10-12 stitches per inch. Do not pull the fabric through the feed, but stretch it very slightly to the left as you sew. Small French or welt seams work very well in undergarments if you use a straight stitch machine.

If you are using a zig-zag machine set it for 15-20 stitches per inch, and the stitch width at 1 1/2. If your selector has only whole numbers choose the smaller.

If the needle hole in the template is large, cover it with a cellophane tape to prevent the material from jamming in it. Some brands of tape such as Scotch Magic tape do not dull needles. Tape can also be used instead of pins when applying lace.

Loud Pond to be Lowered for Repairs

Repair work at Consumers Power Company's Loud Hydro Plant on the AuSable River will require lowering the plant's pond level for a period during September.

Paul F. Ingell, region superintendent in the bulk power department, Consumers Power Company, said the pond would be lowered a total of 13 feet. The drawdown was to start on September 8. By October 9, the pond level is scheduled to be back to normal. The lowering of the pond is for maintenance on the dam.

Mr. Ingell said this period was chosen, after consultation with the Department of Natural Resources, because it would involve the least inconvenience to fishermen and recreational users of the river.

COME TO McKAY CHEVROLET AND DRIVE THIS LITTLE CAR THAT BEGS TO BE DRIVEN.

You've probably heard a lot about the Vega by now.

Well, we want you to forget it all.

Forget that the Vega comes in four models: coupe, sedan, wagon and panel truck. Forget that it gets around 25 miles to the gallon. Forget that even the standard sedan comes with a 90-horsepower overhead-cam aluminum Forget all that and just take Vega for a test-drive. That, all by itself, will convince you.

THE LUV MACHINE

A GAS DRYER

It's love, pure and simple, the first time you use The Luv Machine, a Gas dryer. And why not? A Gas dryer is so good to clothes. Leaves them soft, fresh-smelling. In fact, a special setting gently caresses permanent press things so they don't need any ironing. And there's the way a Gas dryer saves money. Dries five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. Does a load up to 10 minutes faster, besides. Buy a Gas dryer at your appliance dealer's or Michigan Consolidated showrooms. You'll luv everything about it.
