

Two Girls Named Honor Graduates

Miss Cynthia Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson of Whittemore, and Miss Linda Youngberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Youngberg, also of Whittemore, have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, for the class of 1971 at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School. Miss Erickson compiled a 3.901 grade point average and Miss Youngberg, a 3.866 average. Both were on the A average honor roll every semester during their four years at Whittemore-Prescott.

Miss Erickson's outstanding academic, extra-curricular and leadership qualities have earned her three scholarships. She was chosen by faculty members to receive the 1971 Daughters of the American Revolution Award. She served as a class officer all through her high school years, being elected president in her sophomore, junior and senior years. During her senior year, she was also selected by her fellow students as homecoming representative of the senior class.

Miss Erickson's extra-curricular activities include four years on the girls' basketball team, most valuable basketball player in her junior year, participation in school plays, 4-H activities, student council representative for three years, participation in Methodist Youth Fellowship, two years in Future Homemakers of America, Future Farmers of America member for one year, two years on the yearbook staff and president of the library club.

Miss Youngberg's academic excellence earned her an academic scholarship to Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Oklahoma, where she intends to major in physical education. She also scored in the top three percent on the Michigan Competitive Scholarship Examination, which will give her a scholarship if she decides to attend a college in Michigan.

Miss Youngberg's extra-curricular activities include four years in senior band; attending the all-state band camp at Interlochen; receiving awards in band, English, algebra, typing and citizenship; co-editor of the yearbook for 1971; two-year member of Future Homemakers of America; four years on girls' basketball team; member of Youth Unlimited, a church group; accompanist, and piano teacher.

Master Contract Signed With Tawas A. Teachers

A new master contract for the 1971-72 school year was formally adopted and signed Monday by representatives of the Tawas Area Education Association and Tawas Area Board of Education, thus making Tawas Area School one of the first in the state to complete contract negotiations with teachers for the coming year.

Residents Claim 'Dognappers' are Busy in Area

Residents in the vicinity of Chambers Road, Meadow Road and Hemlock Road west of Tawas City are of the opinion that "dognappers" are at work in that area. The thieves are apparently only interested in registered Brittany spaniels. Deloise Rapp of Chambers Road reports that his female Brittany, which has a litter of four three-week-old puppies, was stolen Tuesday, April 20, from his barn. "The dog was chained to an interior wall and I just do not believe it would have left its puppies," said Mrs. Rapp. This is the fifth Brittany which has turned up missing in that vicinity during the past three to four months. Rapp is offering a $100 reward for information leading to the return of his dog.

The new pact had been accepted by both groups two weeks ago and only awaited signatures on official documents.

This action was a far cry from negotiations last year, when a contract settlement was finally reached on the day school opened for the fall term. Negotiations were started earlier this year by the board of education in an attempt to settle a contract while the budget and financing were being considered.

This is the last year on a three-year contract between the two parties and the only negotiable terms concerned salaries and arbitration.

Base salary of a teacher with a bachelor degree was advanced from $7,425 to $7,700, while base salary of a teacher with a master degree was advanced from $7,825 to $8,100.

Salary increments paid to experienced teachers were increased up to three percent at the top of the scale, with teachers having 10 years experience and a bachelor degree receiving $11,550 and 10-year teachers with a master degree receiving $12,393.

Supt. Reynold Mick reported Monday night that 35 of the school's 75-member teaching staff were at the top of the scale, although this could vary because of two anticipated retirements.

Only other change in the contract is that there may be binding arbitration if mutually agreed upon by both parties.

Coronary Care Classes Set at Tawas Hospital

Dr. arrLy S. Kelly will be instructor at a series of coronary care classes to begin Thursday, April 29, 7:30 p. m., in the conference room at Tawas Hospital. Classes are to be held weekly. Individuals attending will be notified of dates of meetings.

These classes are open to all registered nurses and licensed practical nurses in the area.

Final settlement of a master contract with teachers this week has paved the way for Tawas Area Board of Education to begin plans for financing school operation next term.

Insisting that no millage proposals would be considered until a settlement was reached, after signatures were affixed to the new master contract Monday night the board of education took official action placing two proposals before voters at the annual election June 14.

With 4½ mills of special voted operational tax expiring this year, coupled with actual deficit financing on its current budget, some curriculum improvements and the always present national inflationary spiral, Tawas Area School voters will be asked to approve a 7½-mill tax levy in June—three mills higher than the current levy.

In addition, voters will be requested to approve a $475,000 bonding issue to finance construction of additions to the Tawas City Elementary Unit for use of this facility as a middle school for grades five through eight. Financing this proposal figures out to one mill of tax ($1 per $1,000 of assessed valuation) for a period of 15 years.

Board of education members will be the first to admit that voter approval of these two proposals may require a tremendous campaign in the district—but, there is no question that three mills of additional tax, plus the 4½ mills which expire, will be needed to finance school operation next term and the majority of residents realize the real need for the middle school concept, which has been discussed for many months.

School operational money is always the hardest to "sell" taxpayers—only 40 percent of the proposals offered to Michigan school voters have been approved this year—but this will be a back-to-the-wall proposition here this year. The governor is now promoting legislation to finance school operation through a state income tax, but even if approved through a constitutional amendment, such financing would not be available until the 1973 term.

For this reason, voters of this district are being asked to approve a special 7½-mill operational tax levy for two years—and if the financing of schools through an income tax would come sooner than anticipated, the local levy, naturally, would be dropped.

During the current school year, a total of 13½ mills of taxes are levied for school operation—nine mills from the 15-mill allocation and 4½ mills of special voted tax which expires.

Tawas Area School has been in an enviable position for school financing and had a balance of $26,163 to start the current school year. Inflation has cut into the school's pocketbook, however, and the school will have spent approximately $66,000 more than actual receipts this year. This necessitated the borrowing of about $40,000 against delinquent taxes.

The school's $1,306,999 budget submitted last week to the county allocation board is $78,258 higher than the current year. Based on the current state aid bill and no balance left in the treasury, this will mean that Tawas Area School will only be able to maintain the race with inflation, offer slight curriculum improvements and hire two additional teachers for these improvements and to keep pace with an expanding school enrollment.

Of the total budget, $775,000 will be paid by taxpayers of this school district. The school will actually receive $10,000 less state aid as well as (See MILLAGE, page 4.)

Authorizations to bond Tawas Area School District for $475,000 to finance construction of a tri-level addition to the Tawas City Elementary Unit for use as a middle school will be sought at the annual school election on June 14.

Long in the discussion period—actually reaching back years ago when an attempt was made to segregate junior high school students from the upper grades—the board of education reached its decision to place this proposal before voters following adoption of a new master contract with teachers.

One of the principal reasons for the proposed middle school is to relieve overcrowding at the high school building. Built in 1957 for 625 pupils, with additions to the junior wing and shop area, the school has a total capacity of 925 students.

Present enrollment in the building includes 677 in the high school and 385 in junior high for a total enrollment of 1,062 students, or 135 students in excess of capacity.

Projected enrollment in the high school building next year is estimated at 1,082 students, 20 more than the current year, with 699 in grades nine through 12 and 383 in grades seven through eight.

Increasing enrollment is seen in the high school during the next five years with projected enrollment of 751 in grades nine through 12 by 1975-76. Enrollment in junior high is expected to fluctuate considerably, but an enrollment of 376 is still expected by 1974-75.

Present overcrowding in the high school is being handled by having 15 8 o'clock classes, saving approximately three rooms and an estimated 90 pupils.

One additional type A classroom is needed, while classes are too large in physical science and biology for good laboratory classes. Total needs of the high school is for 8.6 rooms, which could be gained by moving the junior high to a middle school.

One of the most important reasons for the middle school concept, however, has been a point which has been emphasized in all discussions—junior high school students of today learn things and grow up fast enough without being influenced by high school students and should be in a different school.

The proposed 11-room addition for the new middle school would contain 16,000 square feet and would be best situated on the site to make use of the sloping terrain.

Included in the construction would be six regular classrooms, plus two rooms for science, a resource center and rooms for arts and crafts.

Present elementary grades located there would be moved to East Tawas, along with utilization of quarters rented from Zion Lutheran School.

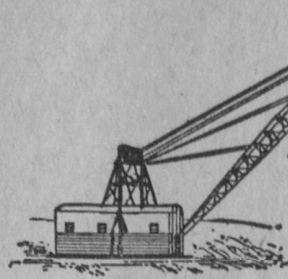

Cost of the construction has been estimated at $25 per square foot, although this could go lower depending upon deflation in the building trade. With an estimated expenditure of $400,000 for the actual building, $24,000 for the architect fee and $1,200 for legal work, between $40,000 and

School Millage Vote Set June 14

Financing this $475,000 bond issue would require one mill for 15 years, although this probably would be lowered as valuation increases. The bond issue would specify a maximum interest rate of six percent, although current rates are from 4½ to five percent.

Fifteen years ago, Tawas Area School District sold its bonds to build the high school at a rate of 3¼ percent. Actual tax assessment the first year was 4½ mills and this has now dropped to 1.04 mills as valuation has increased. Bonds for financing the high school are to be retired July 1, 1980.

Baptist Women's Mission Society Preference Panel Scheduled Met April 22 for Consumers

Baptist Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church, Tawas City, met at the church multipurpose room Thursday afternoon, April 22.

Mrs. Ervin Biggs, vice president, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Douglas Ferguson gave an interesting book report from the book, "We Knew Jesus."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Sayles and Mrs. Henry Frye.

Individuals have an opportunity to tell the food industry what they do or do not like about some of its products. There will be a consumer preference panel Friday, May 14, from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m., at the 4-H building in Standish (on the fairgrounds).

Participants in a consumer panel examine test products and record their reaction to them. Afterwards, they find out the purpose of the questions asked, who placed the products in the test and what kinds of answers are being sought.

In the past, the following various products were investigated: Taste preference for applesauce processed by two different methods, attitudes toward plastic and paper milk cartons, taste preference for cheddar cheese and Rozano (a substitute), attitudes toward square salt boxes and many others. The only clue about this year's test is that there will be a product to be taken home and tried.

There can be only 50 participants in this year's consumer panel, so make your reservation immediately. Any adult is welcome to participate. Phone 848-2631 to reserve a place. This panel is sponsored by the Co-operative Extension Service.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Mark 6:1-6

The Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. (I Samuel 16:7)

Many years ago, a friend of mine from the Cook Islands was receiving hospital treatment. She had woven from the finest fibre. While unwrapping it at home, a twist of cotton wool fell from the crown. I tossed it into the wastebasket.

When I saw her in the afternoon, I thanked her for the pleasing gift and was a little puzzled by her continuing look of expectancy. Finally, she asked, "Did you find the pearls? There were just three tiny pearls and I put them in a bit of cotton wool for you."

I still have those tiny pearls. They remind me how easy it is to miss a loving gift when it is poorly wrapped. Do we not sometimes miss a person's inner beauty because we see only an outer unattractiveness?

PRAYER

Our loving Savior, keep up, we pray Thee, from giving too much importance to the wrappings of religion. Our minds are easily stimulated, but our hearts warmed only when we feel and know that Thou art here. Stay with us, Lord, we pray. Amen.

'Jesus Christ, Superstar,' in Repeat Program

Millage

district's valuation has advanced to $47,200,000. Because of its high valuation, Tawas Area School still has one of the lowest operational taxes in the state and state aid is designed to help those schools which are not in this position.

"It's going to be a different ball game this year because we just do not have any cushion," commented Supt. Reynold Mick at Monday night's board of education meeting.

He figured that the three additional mills being asked with renewal of the 4½ mills would work out something like this: The $70,000 deficit (including borrowing on delinquent taxes) would require 1½ mills, one mill would be required to offset the five percent inflation factor and one-half mill would be required for additional teachers. The extra teachers would be required for resumption of regular sectional teaching in social studies, rather than team teaching which has not proven satisfactory.

"We need the 7½ mills for just our regular operation and must realize that only minor changes can be made to improve the curriculum through spending," said Mick.

Computer Use for TA Files Being Checked

Possible use of computerized accounting practices in Tawas Area Schools was discussed Monday night with a representative of National Cash Register Company and National Electronic Transmission Service at East Tawas.

Deane Ledworth, who appeared before the board and outlined methods to use NETS computers for storage of information, agreed to furnish cost estimates on this proposal for the June 14 meeting of the board of education.

While use of computerized accounting practices probably would not result in a reduction of office staff, Ledworth said that it would mean a saving in time as well as being a more efficient operation.

In addition, information fed into computers could be utilized for class scheduling and could be used for compiling grades and attendance, storing information on students and class request projections.

Such a system is currently in use at Traverse City and Ludington.

In other business, James Wasyk was appointed head of the school's mathematics department for the coming term.

Tawas Area Braves Booster Club was given permission to use the East Tawas Elementary School for a carnival on June 18-19. Various booths (fish pond, spook house, etc.) would be manned by club members.

Children Find Dead Doe

Lori Churchill, 11, and Kim Robbins, 11, were playing tennis at the Lion Club court Thursday, April 22, at approximately 6:00 p. m. Kim served to Lori and the ball went off the court. When Lori went to retrieve the ball, it rolled near the dead body of what appeared to be a full grown doe.

The girls carried the news home to the Churchill residence where Lori called the police post to report it.

The girls appreciate wild life and to them it was a tragic factor to see one dead, no matter by what means. They urge everyone to help these defenseless animals stay alive.

River Victim's Body Found Last Week

The body of George Stamm, 66, Twining, missing since April 16, was recovered Thursday from the AuSable River below Foote Dam.

Stamm was thrown into the river when a small boat capsized. His body was found in eight feet of water about 100 yards downstream where he was last seen by a companion, Albert Leighton, 82, Twining, who made it safely to shore.

Because of the high water, Consumers Power Company ordered gates in the dam closed to allow skindivers to hunt for the body.

Stamm was born August 5, 1904, at Port Hope and lived at Twining for the past 10 years. He is survived by his wife, Beatrice; four sons; two daughters; two brothers, and five sisters.

Funeral services were held Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Au-

Gres, with burial in Cedar Valley Cemetery, Twining.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

East Tawas, Mich.
April 26, 1971

To the Editor:

We are newcomers to this area, property owners and are community minded and want to partake of any community activities. We feel it our duty to help the efforts of the chamber of commerce in any small way we can, but, after what we experienced at the dinner Saturday night at the Holland House for the Citizen of the Year banquet, we feel that the chamber is being sadly abused.

We were asked to attend by some of our friends and in turn asked some of our friends to attend, but we are all still grinding about the terrible meal that was served for such an outrageous price at the Holland House, which we have heard so much about.

Our friends are still on our backs about the very poor meal. I am sure that the prisons serve better. We cannot do anything about that now but we will bet the chamber will suffer for it. There are many good, civic-minded folks who work very hard to make an affair like this a success, but when one individual can rob them so easily I am sure they will not have the ambition to continue their efforts to help the chamber and give their services so generously.

A group of disgruntled citizens
East Tawas
Emil Deprest

To the Editor:
I trust you will print this letter on behalf of many local and out of town residents who attended the chamber of commerce banquet at the Holland House Saturday, April 24.

Our complaint—the very meager dinner that was served: A very small salad, one baked potato, roast beef sliced so thin it was hard to believe it was being served without two slices of bread, a small dish of sherbet, no cake or cookie or pastry of any kind, all that for the price of $6.50.

Cocktail hour was to be from 6:30 to 7:30, all drinks half off. When they said half off, they were. They were so diluted they were half off, if you could get a drink in that hour. They had one bartender at first and two waitresses. Patrons had to wait more than a half an hour to even get a drink before their meal was served.

After the banquet, service at the bar was excellent and so were the prices. They doubled.

This is not the first time that the chamber has been taken on their efforts to bring some folks together at a banquet so I think it is time the folks who work so hard to make this a congenial gathering will realize the insult they are getting.

Respectfully,
Martha Arlington

Braves Won Two Games Friday from Visiting Gladwin

Tawas Area Braves won a double header baseball game over visiting Gladwin Friday. Tawas won the first game, 6-0, and then squeezed out a 5-4 victory in the nightcap.

Chuck Petersen pitched a no-hit game in the opener, striking out nine batters and walking one. The big southpaw had a good fast ball and curve to fool Gladwin batters.

Tawas scored two runs in the opening inning on a double by Herriman and singles by Jordan and Sheldon. Four runs were scored in the third inning when Herriman singled and Jordan singled. Matt Mayer then homered over the left field fence. Final run of the game came in the fourth inning when Davis walked, was bunted to second and Herriman singled him home.

Bob Towns started the second game for Tawas and the visitors scored two runs. He was followed to the mound by Kasichke, who allowed single runs in the second and third innings.

The Braves waited until the fourth inning to score. Russell led off with a single and Ulman reached first when hit by a pitched ball. Kasichke singled to score Russell and Davis fanned. Herriman walked and Sheldon was out on a pop. Jordan walked to force in Ulman with the second run.

Tawas came from behind in the fifth inning when Russell and Ulman singled. Kasichke promptly doubled to score both runners. Davis hit a ground ball to the shortstop, who attempted to catch Kasichke in a rundown. Kasichke eluded the tag and went on to score the winning run as a result of a wild throw.

Top hitters for Tawas during the day were Herriman, three hits in the first game, and Russell, three hits in the second game.

The Braves now have a record of three wins and one loss. Action this week includes games with Oscoda on Monday and Essexville on Friday.

Family Living Education

By SUSAN SMALLEY
Extension Home Economist

The "salad-wich season" is upon us. If you are watching your weight, sandwich may be a no-no. But a salad-wich, that uses lettuce in place of bread, might take its place.

Why is it the salad-wich season? For one thing, many of us are desirately trying to get back in shape for the summer. Also, cool, crisp salads are a natural for those muggy days that are not too far ahead. And why can you not take advantage of the delicious fruits and vegetables available in Michigan?

Lettuce is used not only in these "salad-wiches," but also in other favorite salads and sandwiches. With only 67 calories in an entire head of lettuce, it is certainly a dieter's friend.

To be sure that the lettuce you use is always at its crispest, take just a moment to prepare it. As soon as you bring it home from the market, give the head a hard whack on your counter or table, core-side down. Then lift or twist out the core with your fingers. Hold the head, core-end up, under cold running water, put the unused head core-end down in a collander or rack and drain thoroughly. Store in refrigerator in sealed plastic bag or lettuce crisper and your lettuce will seem "field fresh" when you use it.

Now for those salad-wiches:

Berry Roll-Ups—
Fresh or frozen strawberries (unsweetened), creamed cottage cheese, minced watercress, iceberg lettuce (large outer leaves).

Slice strawberries, combine with cottage cheese and minced watercress. Onto a large lettuce leaf, place several spoonful of the mixture. Roll up and place seam-side down onto serving plate. Garnish with one large strawberry and sprig of watercress.

Egg Salad Espanol—
Pimento-stuffed Spanish green olives, eggs (hard-cooked and chopped), chili powder, mayonnaise, iceberg lettuce.

At Tawas Hospital Reinstitute Policy of Visitor Check

Tawas Hospital endeavors to give the patient the finest possible medical and personal care. Due to the continuing overcrowded conditions and filled hallways, along with the present construction, it has become necessary to enforce the limitation of visitors per patient. Therefore, the hospital is reinstating the requirement for the visitor to check in at the reception desk in the front lobby and to secure a pass for the patient they wish to see.

space available for expanding such activities. Please understand the necessity for these requirements which were put into effect Saturday, April 24. The visiting hours, however, will remain the same.

It is realized that everyone visiting has good intentions. However, it has become detrimental to the comfort of the patients in some cases and inhibits the chance for them to receive the necessary treatments, rest and relaxation so important to the health and welfare of each of them.

Jerry Norwood, administrator, requests the cooperation of all friends of the patients and of the hospital so that further restrictions will not become necessary. Should a nurse on duty observe more than the allotted number of visitors in a room, she is authorized to ask that the number be reduced to two visitors per patient.

Upon completion of the construction, everything should be more comfortable and there will be more

School Without Walls

Independent Study at Summer School

In Aquinas College's new Summer School Without Walls, a student can earn from two to eight semester hours of college credit without ever walking into a classroom.

Summer School Without Walls is a highly sophisticated variation of independent study devised by Aquinas to assist the hundreds of students who wish to earn college credit in the summer but need to live at home in order to hold down summer jobs.

The Aquinas Summer School Without Walls is open to students from any college; credits earned at Aquinas can be transferred to their own colleges.

Paul Nelson, assistant academic dean, said that the success of the various independent study programs at Aquinas in the past years sparked the idea for this program.

The Summer School Without Walls is based on the concept that the student is the learner and the professor is the guide—and the learner and his teacher need not be locked into a typical classroom situation for learning to take place.

This is the way it works: The student meets with the instructor at the beginning of the summer and together they draw up a plan of study. During this first meeting, decisions are also made about the evaluation of the course work—whether it be by writing a paper, giving an oral report, mailing reports in during the summer or by a personal oral presentation at the end of the summer. Both teacher and student sign the memorandum of agreement so there can be no misunderstanding about what is expected.

In Summer School Without Walls, a student can study in any of the following areas: Art, biology, business administration, chemistry, economics, education, English, history, music, philosophy, political science, psychology, religious studies, sociology, theatre and communication arts, geography, environmental studies.

The independent study can consist of readings, research, work study, travel, observation or analysis or a combination of any of these. The work can be either at the introductory or advanced level.

Aquinas faculty members, who have assisted in the preparation of the program, are enthusiastic about the opportunities Summer School Without Walls offers both to students and faculty. Each faculty member can work closely with the individual student in the planning and executing of the program, can supervise his research and yet not have to meet a daily schedule of classes.

Students interested in a brochure detailing the information of Aquinas Summer School Without Walls may write Paul Nelson, Director of Summer Schools, Aquinas College, Grand Rapids 49506.

Christmas Seal Campaign Had Increase

Total contributions to Michigan's 1970 Christmas Seal Campaign, which ended March 31, reached $1,741,456. This is a 2.9 percent increase of $48,635 over the 1969 campaign.

John R. Pettibone, president of the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, state Christmas Seal agency, Lansing, said in spite of our tight economy, citizen response to the campaign was very gratifying.

Pettibone said the contributions will be used to continue many of the on-going programs of the TB-RD Association and to develop new programs beneficial to the health of the citizens of Michigan.

Christmas Seal funds are used in year-around programs in the detection of tuberculosis infection, educational programs about the health effects of smoking, smoking withdrawal clinics, respiratory disease seminars for professional people, public awareness programs about TB, warning signals of respiratory diseases and other health dangers, research and medical education, clean air activities and many others.

HURON-MANISTEE NATIONAL FORESTS
Tawas Ranger District
By MYRON L. SMITH
District Ranger

The winter of 1970-71 is now history. We have again heard many conflicting stories of how the deer have fared and many questions about what is being done about improving the winter habitat or winter range of the Michigan whitetails. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources, in cooperation with the United States Forest Service, has just completed a winter range improvement project in Section 14 in Tuttle Marsh.

The two main needs of deer for winter survival are shelter from the weather and food. There is adequate shelter in many jackpine stands in the marsh but the food supply (aspens and red maple) is out of reach of the deer. Since the timber is not suitable for a commercial timber sale, we have to use other means to get the older trees cut so sprout growth will be available for the deer.

This past February, Thomas Harvard, Michigan Department Natural Resources game habitat biologist; William Irvine, United States Forest Service wildlife biologist; Thomas Wilson, United States Forest Service forester, and I flagged out three aspen-red maple areas which had surrounding conifer cover. The plan was to use the mechanical tree cutters which the Michigan Department of Natural Resources has to cut the trees. While marking the boundaries of the work areas, we saw 12 deer in four hours.

During the week of April 12, trees. While marking the boundaries blades leveled the three selected areas totaling 112 acres. These areas should produce browse for up to 10 years, perhaps a little longer.

There are additional aspen stands which can also be treated. However, we do not want them to all be producing browse at the same time. Plans are to treat additional aspen stands in four to five years. To complete the rotation, a third treatment about four years after the second will be done. Then, after another four to five-year period, the areas cut this spring would be done again. This will keep a continuing food supply available for the deer.

The three areas cut this spring are in long strips which provide more "edge" for other game, especially grouse. The nearby stands of older aspen will provide good habitat for the new broods.

Not all winter deer range can be treated this easily to produce food near the softwood cover. Several of our large swamps have one edge in pure alder which is not deer food. Others have hardwood edges with extremely steep banks on which the mechanical tree cutters cannot be used. Trees on such slopes have to be cut by hand. However, where the ground is not too steep and a desirable browse species is available, the mechanical tree cutters provide a fast, efficient method to produce browse.

This year about 115,000 people won't listen to Smokey.

Don't be one of them.

Remember, only you can prevent forest fires.

You cut down on outer wear, inner wear and under wear with any of these Chevrolets.

Your money's tight these days. And before you go loosening it up on something new, you want to be very sure what you buy will be around for a while. We understand. And we've done something about it.

Impala, Chevelle, Camaro, and Nova. Each car, for example, gives you a lot more outerwear protection. In things like Magic-Mirror acrylic finish that's tougher and less porous than enamel. That holds a shine longer. Bumpers, door handles, and locks that are made to resist rust. And a special protective inner fender under each fender.

Each car has more innerwear protection, too.

That's because our Body by Fisher craftsmen equip the cars with upholstery and materials that really hold their good looks. Resilient cushioning good for countless comfortable sittings. And long-lasting vinyl trim.

And each car gives you more underwear protection. The engines last longer because they run cleaner on no-lead or low-lead gas. The brake lines are corrosion-resistant. The exhaust system is aluminized. And there are rocker panels or body sills designed to help keep rust spots from ever forming under the doors.

Impala, Chevelle, Camaro, and Nova. If you like their good looks now, you'll love the way they hold onto their good looks.

Buckling your seat and shoulder belts is an idea you can live with.
