Primary Election Results

Tuesday's primary election brought 448 Tawas City voters to the polls—a larger turn out than in any primary here in recent years, but still not as high as anticipated.

And there was confusion at the polls for some Second Ward voters, 40 of whom split their ballots incorrectly by voting for the one Democratic candidate in the election and then turning their ballots over and voting for Republican candidates.

John St. James won the Republican nomination for mayor with 188 votes, 45 in the First Ward, 66 in the Second and 77 in the Third. Eugene Salamony had a total of 112 votes, with ward totals of 32, 35 and 45. Mildred DeBeau received 102 votes, with ward totals of 38, 25 and 39.

There was one upset in the Third Ward as Robert Rollin was nominated for alderman with 99 votes over the incumbent, Cecil Cabbie, who had 62 votes. Chester Smyczynski won the nomination for Second Ward alderman with 79 votes, while his opponent, Thomas Knight, had 43 votes. Clark Tanner, incumbent First Ward alderman, won over Robert Erickson, 62-50.

Because of ballots voided, Roy Bergeron received only two votes out of 42 cast in his favor.

Plans Await OK from Health Dept.

Cost of providing secondary waste water treatment and phosphorous removal may be much more expensive than originally anticipated by Tawas City officials.

Following recent discussion with the city's engineering consultant, Tawas City Council and water board are withholding further consideration of sewage treatment plant expansion until information is received from the Michigan Department of Health concerning utilization of an aerated lagoon concept.

According to information presented at Monday night's council meeting, Edmonds Engineering, Incorporated, Bay City, was to have met with state officials on July 29 concerning the aerated lagoon proposal.

This type of secondary sewage treatment had been recommended by the city's former engineering consultant about two years ago and the preliminary planning concept was adopted in the fall of 1969.

Cost of the aerated lagoon system at the time was estimated at $200,000, less cost of five acres of land required for the facility.

Cost of mechanical treatment facility improvements to provide secondary treatment of sewage would be approximately $500,000 to $550,000, while construction of conventional lagoons, utilizing about 55 acres of land, would cost $680,000 without phosphorous removal.

Operation and maintenance of a mechanical facility would cost approximately $30,000 annually, as compared to $5,000 yearly operation and maintenance of a conventional lagoon.

The net cost difference per year considering operation, maintenance and debt service would be $15,000. On a 30-year bond issue, additional operation and maintenance for mechanical waste water treatment as compared to the conventional lagoon system would amount to $450,000.

Moon Rock to be Displayed at New Museum

One of the most recent objects of historical interest—a moon specimen provided by NASA—will feature the opening of the Paul Bunyan Foundation's museum at Oscoda on Sunday, August 15.

Lloyd S. Millegan of the sponsoring organization said Friday that the moon specimen would be on display from August 15 through August 23.

Because of the NASA restrictions, the specimen is to be displayed in an inert glass case and is to be under armed guard. Special hours for viewing are to be announced.

The foundation's new museum is being located in the former residence of James MacGillivray, 212 North State Street, Oscoda. MacGillivray, recalling stories heard in his youth in the pines of the AuSable River Valley, in 1910 conceived a yarn which appeared in the Detroit News as "The Round River Drive."

This story was the first reference to the mythical figure of Paul Bunyan—master woodsman—and is vouchered for by no less an authority than the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Oscoda-AuSable is to commemorate the legendary lumberjack and his creator with a Paul Bunyan Days Festival, August 20-22.

Edmonds pointed out that the originally proposed aerated lagoon system, which would have a much lower construction cost than either the mechanical waste water treatment plant or convention lagoon system, is still under consideration by the state department of health.

After a decision has been reached by the state concerning the aerated lagoon system, the engineer is again to confer with city officials with an eye to the next move to make concerning waste water treatment improvements.

If the aerated lagoon system is not approved by the state, it would appear that the conventional lagoon system could be given serious consideration due to its lower operational cost.

Hale School Millage Vote Set August 16

Hale Area Board of Education will again go to people of the district on August 16 and ask approval of nine mills for operation during the 1971-72 term. Election polls are located at the high school gymnasium.

School officials stress that this proposal is a renewal of millage which expired last term and necessary for operating the system during the coming term.

Total receipts necessary for school operation during the term amount to $497,904, of which $196,452 would come from the nine mills allocated from the 15 mills split by the allocation board, $105,000 from state aid and $196,452 from the nine-mill special levy being voted on August 16.

The above budget would finance the present program as well as making the following improvements in elementary grades: 1. New reading program; 2. new science program; 3. elementary library; 4. all certified teachers, teaching in their field of strength; 5. exploratory classes in vocal music, physical education, art and possibly a foreign language.

The above funds would maintain the high school program as well as making the following improvements: 1. All certified teachers; 2. art; 3. shop mathematics; 4. second year of French; 5. art, music, health education, physical education, home economics and shop for junior high school; 6. agriculture; 7. work experience program for seniors.

A status report on the new high school approved earlier this year by voters reveals that bonds sold at 6.0123 percent interest, which is favorable compared to bonds sold by other schools.

The new site cost $16,000, which is to be paid from the building and site fund over three fiscal years. Money from the bonds sold would provide adequate funds for the building and equip the new high school.

The renewal millage to be voted on August 16 has nothing to do with the new building. The millage is strictly for operating the present program.

School officials list seven reasons for selection of the new 35-acre site, rather than to use the original site for the new high school.

Reasons included the safety factor at the new site which would remove cars and trucks from the elementary school playground, a larger playground and baseball field, plus the fact that hooking up to the public sewer system would be more economical at the new site.

The original site is quite low and parts are covered with water. The new site would allow expansion of classroom facilities and parking areas to take care of the ever-increasing enrollment.

School officials say that high school students should stay at school during the day, both for obvious safety reasons and for better school management. The new site would provide a geographical boundary separating the school from the business district.

Educationally, it is important to have the high school separated from the elementary school in administration and student placement. It was one of the goals last year to make this separation by the purchase of five additional classrooms. This has proven quite successful. The new site would allow a complete separation and the internal problems that are related to elementary and secondary students would become nonexistent.

Bids on the new high school are to be submitted in August and construction is to start in September.

Leave Glass Out of Plastic Garbage Bags

Filling plastic garbage bags with broken glass is causing a serious hazard, according to James Quarters, contractor for Tawas City's garbage disposal.

Appearing before the council Monday night, Quarters said that he and one of his workmen had been cut by broken glass which punctured the plastic bags.

The city council directs that, in the future, all broken glass be placed in garbage cans for disposal in order to eliminate this hazard. Bags in which broken glass is discovered are to be ticketed and left at the curb.

Quarters said that burned out fluorescent tubes were particularly dangerous to workmen on his truck. He suggests that the protective cardboard container in which the tube is originally purchased be retained for disposal.

The contractor told the council that garbage collection is approximately 50 percent higher this year and believed that an adjustment should be made in the rate paid by the city. He also complained that garbage cans and plastic bags were being overloaded, some containers being so heavy that it requires two men to place them on the truck.

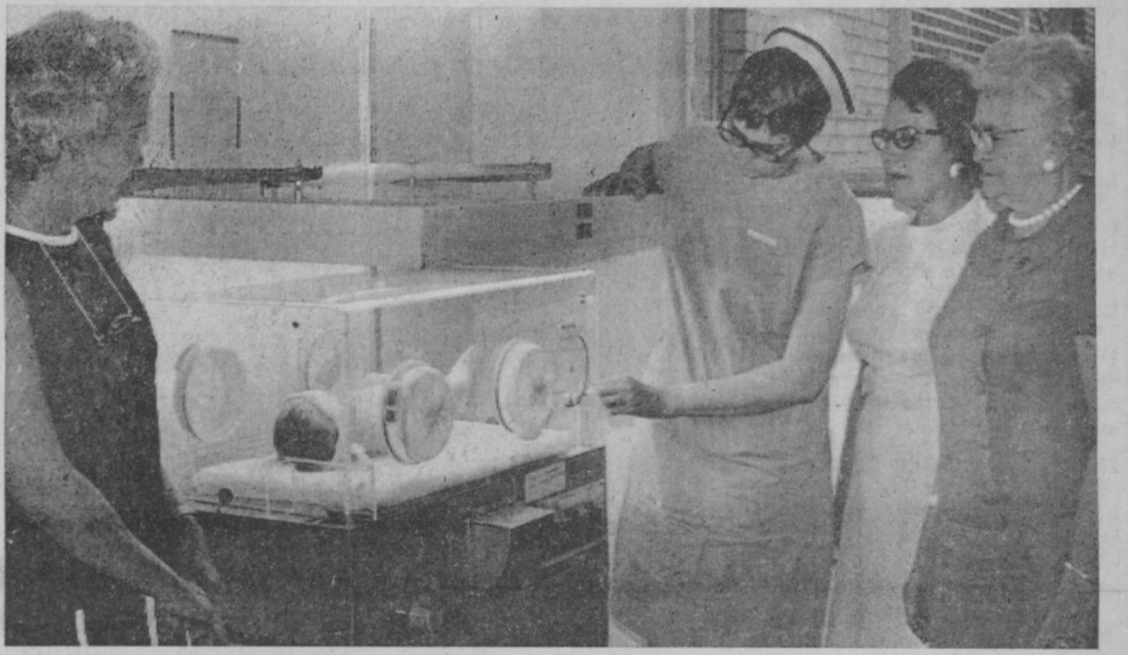

The council's buildings and grounds committee is to meet August 9 with the contractor to discuss the matter further.

Hire Engineer for Disposal Addition at ET

East Tawas Council adopted a resolution Monday night contracting with Spicer Engineering Company, Saginaw, to prepare plans for the addition of secondary waste water treatment and phosphorous removal facilities at its existing plant.

The contract specifies that the planning is contingent upon receipt of a federal grant to aid in the construction.

In addition, the council officially adopted the water pollution control plan as submitted by the State Water Resources Commission and agreed to adjust its application for a federal grant, the amount of which is to be determined by the water resources commission.

Council OK's Operational Aid for Tawas Hospital Ambulances

Tawas City Council Monday night voted to allocate $488 for added operational funds required by Tawas Hospital Ambulance Service and stated it would allocate another $366 if other governmental units desire to construct a garage to house ambulances at the hospital.

The ambulance service was formed as a cooperative venture by township and city governments of the county, excluding AuSable and Oscoda Townships, which have ambulance service provided by funeral homes. The ambulance service is operated by Tawas Hospital.

According to a year-end financial report dated June 30, the hospital's ambulance service had revenues of $17,331.75 during the year and expenses of $18,756.33.

The financing of the ambulance service apparently is affected by non-collection on some ambulance calls.

East Tawas Council has loaned the service money to retain the operation and each participating unit is being billed for its share of the added operational cost.

During discussion by the Tawas City Council, it was pointed out that a garage was needed to house the ambulances and that consideration was being given by other participating units to provide such housing.

Alderman Cecil Cabbie was of the opinion that allocation of this city's share of added operational expense was necessary, but he believed that construction of the garage was not provided in this city's budget. He felt that if the majority of the townships and cities were in favor of the garage, then this city could reconsider its allocation.

A motion to provide funds for both operation and ambulance garage totaling $854 passed by a four to two roll call. Favoring the motion were Aldermen Howard Hatton, Clark Tanner, Jack Lardie and Martin Welina. Favoring only the maintenance proposal were Aldermen Frank Ahonen and Cabbie.

In other business, the council renewed its membership in the Michigan Good Roads Federation on recommendation of the Michigan Municipal League. Cost of the annual membership is $10.

Authorization was given to obtain bids on roofing the city hall and garage. The council was budgeted $1,000 for these two projects but it is expected that costs will run much higher.

The council authorized the superintendent of public works to advertise for bids on a new dump truck to replace a 1961 unit. An underbody scraper on the older unit would be transferred to the new truck. Bublitz said that delivery requires 60 to 90 days and that the new truck was needed for street plowing in the winter.

The council continued its action tabling further discussion on the proposed closing of Hill Top Road in the Second Addition to the Elms requested by Carl Babcock Jr.

At a hearing held two weeks ago, the council heard a number of objections to the closing, including one by the Iosco Road Commission and one by Tawas Township.

The council has requested the city attorney to be present at the next meeting and has asked the county road commission to attend and to present any plans it might have for future development of a road which would connect Townline Road with M-55.

A letter from the road commission read at the hearing stated that the 33-foot-wide Hill Top Road in this city was included in future plans for a new road. Some councilmen have said that the present 33-foot street is too narrow for maintenance and would like to learn if the county intends to add another 33 feet to this roadway in Tawas Township.

Thieves Hit Sand Lake Store

Thieves made off with $100 to $120 in cash in a burglary discovered Wednesday morning at Sand Lake General Store owned by William Smith.

Investigating Iosco Sheriff's Department officers said that the intruders were familiar with operation of the store. Nothing else was taken from the building.

Using a knife to open a back door latch, money was taken from three locations where cash boxes were hidden.

School Boosters to Meet Thursday

A special school booster committee is to hold its second meeting Thursday, August 5, 7:30 p. m., at Tawas Area High School.

Meeting in conjunction with the committee will be Tawas Area Athletic Boosters and Tawas Area Music Boosters.

The committee, organized last Thursday night after an invitation was extended by Clyde Soper, is supporting Tawas Area Board of Education in its efforts to have the district adopt a 7 1/2-mill operational tax on August 19.

Tawas Area School's 4 1/2-mill operational tax adopted two years ago has expired. Because of inflation, an additional three mills is needed in order to operate schools during the 1971-72 term.

Iffey... the School Kid

My full name is "If the school stays open and if my classes are not too big to give me the help I need and if I can learn the things I really need to know—well, you can count on me."

Facts are it, man. We dig the truth at least as much as anybody.

Study is not my pet (I take after my parents) but I am hung out on Christmas vacation, maybe from November through June.

Here is a start: People say the school district is rich. Forget it! The treasury is empty. Why are they trying to borrow $95,000 on tax anticipation notes right now?

People say the board spends too much on sports. Let's split this two ways:

The new track and fence cost $35,955.52 and is being financed by a revenue bond issue to be paid off by gate receipts in seven years or less.

The Tawas Area Athletic Booster Club, not the school, paid for the pitching machine, $404; 33 varsity football uniforms, $732; the cloud nine pole vault landing mat, $895, along with other items for the athletic department totaling about $3,000 in non-tax money.

Let us hear from you folks! Send your letters to "Iffey" in care of this newspaper.

Two Iosco Students Attend Music Camp

Nearly 150 Michigan youths, ranging in age from 12 to 18, will "toot their own horns" at the Third Annual Ferris State College Summer Music Camp, which began August 2 and will continue through August 15.

The musicians, under the direction of William Root, Ferris band director, and a staff of 15 guest faculty members, including outstanding Ferris student musicians, participate in band rehearsals, conducting, music appreciation and theory classes with time left over for group recreational activities. The music campers are living in college residence halls and eating in the food service units.

Their activities include two Sunday afternoon concerts for visitors and area residents.

Iosco County residents attending include Joseph Bell, a baritone player from Hale, and Jennifer Pulda, a flute player from Oscoda.

Iosco Medical Care Facility to Observe Fifth Anniversary

Fifth anniversary of the opening of Iosco Medical Care Facility on Plank Road west of the Tawas City limit will be held Saturday, August 7, 1:00 p. m.

A public invitation to attend this first milestone in the history of this facility—dedicated July 31, 1966, to the principle of "adding life to years"—has been extended by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

The facility is under the over-all direction of the Iosco Social Services Board with John St. James of Tawas City as chairman. Roy Bergstrom is facility director.

Master of ceremonies for the program will be Charles Smith, Oscoda Township supervisor and long active on public health and mental health boards of Northeastern Michigan.

A welcome and congratulations are to be extended by State Rep. George

A. Prescott of Tawas City, followed by introduction of honored guests and introduction of the supervisory staff.

Mrs. Clara Phelps, former Wilber Township resident, who will be 100 years old in December and is a patient at the facility, will make a presentation of a maple tree to the facility grounds.

There will be presentation of five-year service awards to 18 employees of the facility, followed by an address by State Sen. Robert Richardson of Saginaw.

Following the benediction, there will be guided tours through the facility starting at 2:00 p. m. and refreshments are to be served in the Everett Room.

The facility is presently caring for 58 patients and has a maximum capacity of 64.

Recalling words spoken five years ago at the facility's dedication by John Gumbatto, administrative assistant of the State Department of Social Services, Iosco Medical Care Facility has established the remarkable record of returning 80 percent of its patients to a home environment.

Five years ago, Gumbatto pointed out that in 1935, 81 of Michigan's 84 counties had poor farms and he was thankful that only 18 remained at the time.

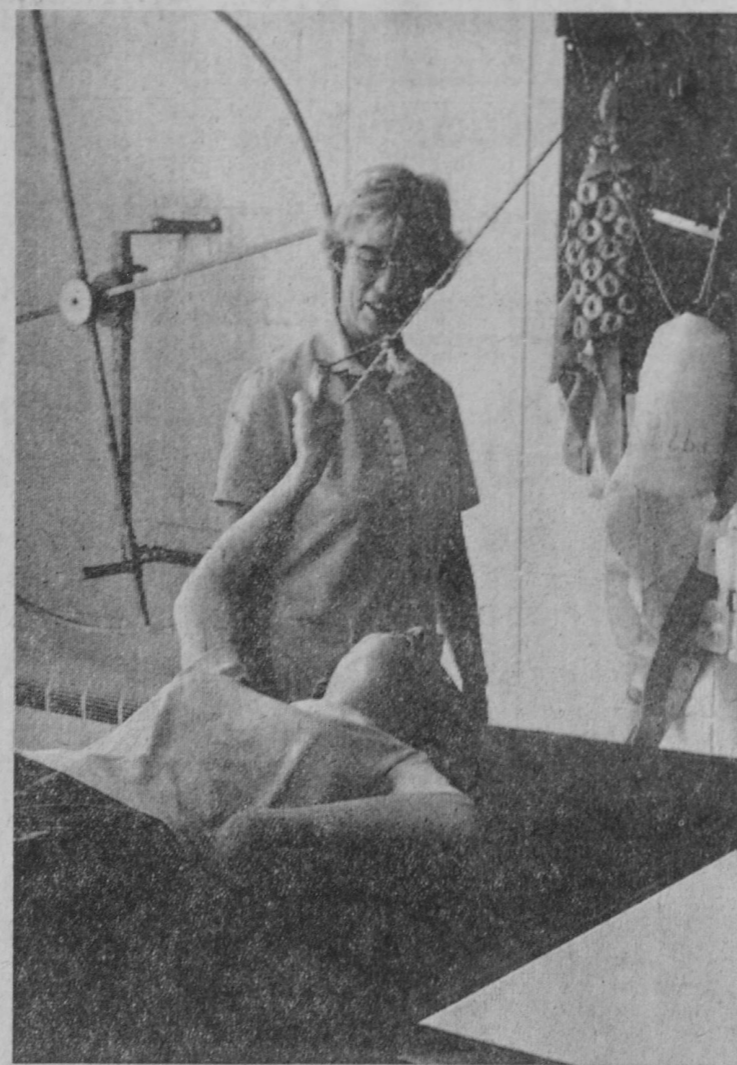

Through physical treatment provided by medical care facilities, Gumbatto told those attending the dedication that many aged people could return to their homes. "It is not just a place to keep sick, old people. Instead of dedicating this building to the principle of adding years to life, it should be dedicated to adding life to years," he stated.

That the Iosco Medical Care Facility has fulfilled this promise of five years ago has been evidenced by its record of returning elderly people to a home environment with a useful role in life and many Iosco area families can vouch for this record.

It is for this reason that the administration and staff of Iosco Medical Care Facility, as well as all residents of the county, can take pride in this great humanitarian record and the public is urged to attend this anniversary event.

ENTERTAINMENT and diversional therapy are offered to patients in the day room as well as in the hobby and crafts department. The latter is a most important aspect in helping patients to get back on the road to recovery.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Congressional Impasse Causes Uncertainty for Draft-Age Men

Mrs. Betty Shedenhelm, Selective Service System (supervisory) executive secretary, who manages East Tawas' local board, says the current congressional impasse over extending the induction authority has created great uncertainty among area, draft-age men.

Mrs. Shedenhelm continued, "Curtis Tarr, Selective Service director, has recently stressed the importance of explaining to our draft-age men the high probability that draft calls will resume in the near future and that the current impasse in the congress is not likely to affect any registrant's chance of being drafted."

"Our local board has been specifically instructed to continue to register and classify men and to order for preinduction physical examinations those young men who may be needed to fill draft calls in the coming months," Mrs. Shedenhelm said.

Men with lottery numbers through 125 were eligible for induction in June in order to fill draft calls. Since then, the defense department has asked selective service to draft 16,000 men in July-August. This request is being held by selective service headquarters pending final congressional action on the draft bill, which is expected within several weeks.

"Those young men with relatively low lottery numbers who are eligible for induction this year, particularly those with numbers below 175—the current processing ceiling—have a very good chance of being processed for induction after draft calls are restored," Mrs. Shedenhelm said.

Many young men seem to think that the Selective Service Act has permanently expired and that they probably will never be drafted. Some of them also think that the entire system has stopped. They are wrong since it is only the induction authority that has expired. They, therefore, may be unintentionally breaking the law by failing to register at age 18, by not keeping their local boards informed of their current address or by failing to report, if ordered, for their preinduction physical examinations.

Mrs. Shedenhelm also stressed that local boards are continuing to consider CO, hardship and student deferments and to take other classification actions. "Young men who had planned to submit requests for deferments of exemptions are encouraged to do so," Mrs. Shedenhelm said. "The expiration of the induction authority does not affect our responsibility to classify young men," Mrs. Shedenhelm added.

Mrs. Shedenhelm may be contacted at Room 226, Federal Building, East Tawas, the office of Local Board No. 36.

Prescott Requests Dock Inspection

A recent visit to the state dock at East Tawas has prompted State Rep. George Prescott, Tawas City, to begin an inquiry concerning the condition of the facility.

Representative Prescott has sent a letter to the director of the Waterways Division of the Department of Natural Resources requesting more information about the dock and the cause of the "serious neglect" in which he found it.

According to Prescott, he visited the harbor during the midst of a recent storm. "This Saginaw Bay port is one of the most famous havens on the Great Lakes and to find these beautiful, expensive boats in the sort of trouble I saw on this day is a real shame. Facilities were filled to capacity and many boats had to leave their moorings for better protection.

Mooring lines were constantly being replaced and snapping almost immediately, and hulls were receiving serious damage. Prescott said that according to the harbor master, a study had been completed by the United States Corps of Engineers and recommendations had been furnished. "For some unknown reason, this anchorage has never been completely finished and I intend to find out some answers. The northeastern side of Michigan has been neglected too long while we have watched millions of dollars channeled to the Lake Michigan side and the Upper Peninsula for boat launching facilities, fisheries, etc."

"I am hopeful," Prescott said, "that we will soon find action being taken to complete and restore this beautiful dock."

VINTAGE YEAR FOR CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH

ONE OF OUR BEST YEARS.
 It takes something special to come up with a Vintage Year. But that's what '71 has been for Chrysler-Plymouth. Our slogan "Coming Through" had a lot to do with it, because it's our pledge: To come through with the style, size, price and quality you can live with for years to come. Two good examples are Plymouth Fury and Chrysler Royal.

OUR FINEST OF THE BIG.
 Plymouth Fury and Chrysler Royal are big ways to go for people who want the comfort and space befitting their style of living. Both have Torsion-Quiet Ride (which not only quiets road noise but gives you firm, sure handling). Both have a large interior and trunk space. And both turned out to be the finest cars of their kind in this vintage year.

NOW, A GREAT SELECTION COMING THROUGH FINAL CLEARANCE PRICED.
 '71 has been a vintage year for Chrysler-Plymouth. Quality shines and shows in every line. A drive in one of our '71 Chryslers or Plymouths will prove how well we've come through. Check our great selection. We think you'll agree, quality cars at final clearance prices is what "Coming Through" is all about. For us. For you.

the TRUTH that HEALS

What does spiritual baptism mean in today's world? This is a question to be explored at Christian Science services Sunday.

"If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit." This is one of the Scriptural passages to be read in the lesson-lesson entitled "Spirit." A related passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration."

Mars-Meteors Add Luster to August Evening Skies

A shower of meteors and the closest approach of Mars in nearly 50 years will add luster to the evening skies of August, notes Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer.

The Perseids, conspicuous swarm of meteors that crosses the earth's orbit annually, should be visible for two or three weeks in August. However, Professor Losh points out that these "shooting stars" will reach a peak of perhaps one per minute around August 10-12.

Radiating from a point in the constellation, Perseus, in the northeast, the iron or stone meteors burn up when they enter the earth's atmosphere at high speeds.

"More comets are likely to be seen after midnight, when we are riding on the forward side of the earth in its rotation," Professor Losh says. Early morning meteors will have a bluish tinge because our portion of the atmosphere will be meeting their head on, producing greater temperatures that cause a deeper blue, she adds.

The best time for spotting shooting stars is also the best time for spotting Mars, the astronomer advises.

Honorary Paul Bunyan Title Goes to George Pierrot

GEORGE PIERROT

Robert Newman, president of Paul Bunyan Festival, Incorporated, Oscoda, announced today that television personality, George Pierrot, has accepted the committee's invitation to be the 1971 honorary Paul Bunyan. Among Pierrot's duties will be the crowning of the festival queen, final judging of the tall tale contest, and acting as parade grand marshal. Pierrot will be the guest of honor at a pre-festival dinner August 19 and will begin his herculean labors to carry on the legend of Paul Bunyan at that time. Pierrot has had a varied career spanning some 52 years of newspaper reporting, world traveler, author, editor and television production and direction. He currently produces and presents seven travel television shows a week, the oldest travel-adventure series in existence, now in its 23rd year. Pierrot has traveled in 105 countries and island groups in six continents on writing assignments. He has circled the world twice, one such trip resulting in the publication of "The Vagabond Trail," his second book. In 1933, Pierrot founded the World Adventure Series at the Detroit Institute of Arts and built it into what was for many years the largest illustrated lecture course in the world. His professional career started as a reporter on the Seattle Times. He also was publicity secretary of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, covered the middle west as staff writer for Business Magazine and for 12 years was editor of the American Boy-Youth's Companion magazine.

Pierrot directed public relations for the Ford Motor Company's World's Fair Pavilion in New York in 1939-1940, and during World War II had charge of organizing and operating the Detroit USO. In addition to writing two books, he has authorized more than 100 short stories and articles. Pierrot is a member of New York's Adventurers, Explorers, Overseas Press and Circumnavigation Club. His hobbies are fishing and traveling. Pierrot agrees with Burton Homes that "to travel is to possess the world."

Answer Questions on Social Security

Question: I am a farmer. During the summer months when I need some help I hire one of my neighbor's boys. I generally pay him about $300 for the whole summer. Do I have to keep a record of this for social security purposes?

Answer: Yes. You should keep a record of his name, address, social security number and the amount of cash wages you paid him. If you pay more than $150 in cash wages to a farm employee during the calendar year, you must file a report at the end of the year with the Internal Revenue Service and pay social security on his earnings.

Question: When my children graduated from high school, I went back to work. I plan to retire at 62. My husband will be 66 then. Will I get retirement benefits based on my husband's work or my own?

Answer: You may be eligible for reduced monthly retirement benefits on your own work records as well as on your husband's. You cannot collect both benefits, but you will always receive the higher of the two amounts.

Question: I have received retirement social security since I was 62. I will be 65 in December. How do I sign up for medicare?

Answer: Since you are already receiving monthly benefits from social security, you will be covered auto-

BUY U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

By SUSAN SMALLEY
Extension Home Economist

So you are a new bride and you are finding out that two cannot eat, live or dress as cheaply as one. Or maybe you are the mother of several small children and are wondering how you and your husband will survive the drain on money, time and energy.

Young homemakers face a challenge of establishing a strong marriage, rearing the kids, stretching the budget and establishing a home. The problems are many and the amount of time they can spend looking for answers is limited. With that in mind, we have initiated a state-wide project for young homemakers which they can use at their leisure in their own homes. It is designed to help the young homemaker with all of her jobs.

The project features a series of articles mailed every other month. They will cover home, family, money, clothing, food and a section called "just myself." That is designed to help the homemaker deal with her own personal development and tensions. The articles will come in a cover, but they are designed to be pulled apart and filed if the young homemaker wants to build a reference center.

Any young homemaker, from new bride to mother of several young children, will find something for her in the study project. Young homemakers can study the material in their own homes, request additional materials on specific topics, respond to articles and send suggestions for topics to be covered in future issues. The project is non-credit, designed solely to help the young homemaker find her job easier, "strictly in-service training."

Anyone interested in receiving a sample of the project materials in September and November should contact the Cooperative Extension office in her county. The samples precede actual enrollment and the beginning of the project, which is scheduled for January, will run through the following December. Enrollment fee information is also available at the Cooperative Extension office.

In addition to this state-wide project, there is also a local series for young homemakers and their families. "Family Chatter for Mr. and Mrs." is now published on a monthly basis for young families in Arenac, Iosco and Ogemaw Counties. "Family Chatter" is sent free to anyone who is interested. After the state-wide project begins, "Family Chatter" will be sent the months when state materials are not sent. Homemakers who now receive "Family Chatter" will automatically receive sample copies of the state project.

If you, or someone you know, want to receive this material for young homemakers, here are the area extension offices for you to phone: Arenac, 846-2631; Iosco, 362-3449; Ogemaw, 345-0692.

School Closing Would Have Impact on Youth-Community

Should it be necessary for Tawas Area Schools to close early in the 1971-72 school year, through possible failure of the millage election on August 19, the community should be prepared to face certain situations.

"Such a closing will have impact on the young people who are denied this schooling and on the community which depends on the schools to meet certain needs of these children," states Edward Welsh, elementary principal.

Following are some of the effects outlined by Welsh that may be looked for if the community cannot offer a complete school program.

EFFECTS ON YOUTH

Boredom

The school now absorbs a great deal of the energy of young people. For many, it is their sole work, the focal point of their social life. Without school, they must look for other outlets. Some will find them in experimentation with drugs, vandalism and petty crime, loitering and aimless wanderings—which today means cruising around in cars. Constructive direction of this energy depends on other resources of the community. Can it provide jobs, directed recreation, social events? If not, youth will find their own. Many will choose the easy ways.

Alienation

Most youth recognize school as an important and necessary part of life. If the community deprives them of school, it will be taken as a rejection of them as individuals and as a group. The anger that may be felt, will be many, be directed against the community. This anger can again produce petty crime, vandalism, traffic violations, an accentuated "generation gap." Youth will look more and more to youth for the leadership and guidance they seek. A balanced outlook on life will be lost to many.

Stronger youths will avoid the pitfalls of a bored, aimless daily life and seek acceptable outlets. If their own community cannot provide them, they will seek them in other communities. Affluent families will send their children elsewhere for education. Social events and sporting events in other cities will claim their attention. In time, such preoccupation with other places could result in a loss of identification with their home community. And since these will be the stronger people, their ceasing to care will be a real loss to the community.

Economics

In our society, more education is needed, not less. The loss of a year of school may be a setback from which many 17 and 18-year-olds will never recover. The people whose life plans call for entering the work force at an early age could be put into the spot of competing for jobs against graduates of other communities without having the chance to acquire the diploma themselves.

It is in this area that one can come close to putting a dollar value on the year of education that will be lost to some. Those persons with less than eight years of schooling have lifetime earnings of $188,000; with eight years of schooling, lifetime earnings reach $247,000.

According to the 1970 census, those persons with from one to three years of high school have lifetime earnings of $284,000 and those with four years of high school have lifetime earnings of $341,000.

Still carrying out this comparison, a person with from one to three years of college has lifetime earnings of $394,000, while those with four years of college have lifetime earnings of $508,000.

Note that the final year of high school adds $57,000 to a person's life income. How many of our youth will not get that fourth year if school closes for one year?

EFFECTS ON THE COMMUNITY

Economic

Any resultant increase in crime, vandalism, drug usage, traffic (normal driving or "hot rodding"), or loitering will impose on the community the cost of dealing with it. More police protection, more medical services to treat the experimenter who becomes addicted, more paid supervision for those who are convicted of offenses against the law and repairs to damaged property will have to be provided. It cannot be thought either that these added expenses cease when the schools reopen. Patterns may be set that persist and certainly education and mental health problems are not that readily resolved. These costs will be borne for years after.

If the community wants to attract industry, it may find industry does not come to a community where the public schools are not supported. This is not from altruism on the part of the industry, but because it wants an educated work force.

If the general educational level of a community declines, the community declines along with it. Less earning power means less ability to support community functions. Property values go down, services decrease and the condition feeds on itself. An edu-ated, productive youth contributes to the growth of a community. An uneducated youth contributes to its decline.

If it is a declining community, those members who want to be productive, but cannot be in the climate of the community, leave it. Other places get the benefit of their energies and talents.

Strained Community Relations

A bored, idle youth creates frictions. He is resented by the adults, and because he knows it, he returns the resentment. Multiply this by the number of youths who cannot find a way out of the situation and you can find a picture of an unhappy, dissatisfied community.

Loss of Investment

A great deal of time and money has been invested in building the school systems we have today. If it closes, we will lose personnel we do not want to lose, nor can we afford to lose. They know our children and the community. Those who are not available to return will have to be replaced by new and probably inexperienced people.

The school plant will deteriorate with disuse. Vandalism will take its toll and ordinary deterioration from age and elements will not be controlled.

Too much is at stake. About $50 a home per year will be saved if the schools close. The $50 not paid in school taxes will be paid out many times more in efforts to meet the problems faced in a schoolless community.

(Editor's note: The above is an interesting, new angle on what could happen if . . . For anyone interested in determining his own tax rate—4½ mills renewing the previous operational rate and three mills to cover the inflationary spiral over the past two years — multiply 7½ mills against your state equalized valuation, or roughly one-half the true cash value of your property. The stakes are high in the August 19 millage election and only an aroused community can insure that schools will operate here for a full term.)

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Port Austin Ferry Service Is Considered

15 Years Ago—

August 2, 1956—Possibility of establishing a ferry service between Port Austin and Tawas City, after completion of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge, will be discussed at a hearing to be held at Port Austin. It is proposed that a state ferry boat now in use at the Straits could be used on the new bay route, being boosted as a tourist attraction.

Ancient automobiles bearing such names as Brush, Franklin, Abbott-Detroit, Locomobile, Olympian, Patterson, Paige, all time-honored in the history of the automobile industry, but unfamiliar to the younger generation, can be seen chugging through the streets of the Tawas this week. These cars, along with the forerunners of many of today's models, are here during a week long tour of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America.

Preliminary engineering studies have indicated that the most logical and economical location for National Gypsum Company's new shore loading facilities would be outside of and to the south of Tawas City, reports C. H. Hill, superintendent of the company's plant at National City. Five sites considered included Bay City, Au Gres, Point Lookout, the site south of Tawas City and Detroit and Mackinac property between the Tawas.

Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdal Nasser announced that Egypt is taking over the western-owned Suez Canal. Nasser says Egypt has prepared a law nationalizing the vital waterway, now controlled by Britain and France. The seizure is believed to be Nasser's answer to the withdrawal of Anglo-American offers to help build a huge dam on the Nile River.

Clare Herriman cracked six hits in a double header Sunday as Tawas City defeated Harrisville. Two of his hits were round trippers.

Tawas City Council accepted a new contract with owners of the SS Western States for its berth at the city park. The only contractual change was elimination of a clause which prohibited a liquor license on the boat.

25 Years Ago—

August 9, 1946—For the old timers, the D&M's sleek new diesel engines cannot ever hold the romantic appeal of those sturdy old steam locomotives now headed for the junk yard.

Charles Moeller reports that installation is moving rapidly on the 10 new lanes at Tawas City Recreation. The building is being enlarged following a fire last winter.

A new plan is to be constructed at Oscoda for the manufacture of gasoline engines for farm lighting plants, motor boats, lawnmowers and other similar work. The factory will employ about 100 men.

The carrier, "Yorktown," the famous "Fighting Lady" of World War II, was placed in mothballs with the reserve fleet.

Goldsmith and Babcock are excavating a large amount of material for fill to be used in leveling the property known as the old Prescott dock east of the Tawas City Park.

Mrs. Mabel Liske, formerly of Detroit, takes over operation of Leanne's Beauty Shop effective August 6.

Burleigh Township Agricultural School District voted to levy five mills to create a sinking fund for five years for the purpose of construction and repair of buildings.

35 Years Ago—

August 7, 1936—T. George Sternberg, East Tawas attorney, announces his candidacy for the state senate from the 28th District on the Democratic Ticket.

According to a communication received Wednesday, Tawas City's water works bonds have been accepted by the federal government. Funds are to be available within the next 15 days for the construction of a water works system.

A WPA project is being sponsored in Iosco by the state tax commission with the purpose of correcting errors on assessment rolls and gathering assessing data.

The large silo on the county farm was blown down and badly damaged during a heavy windstorm.

Eunice Ross, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Ross, fractured her wrist when she jumped from a tree. She is recovering nicely.

Nearly 13,000 members of the Civilian Conservation Corps left that organization during June to accept private employment. This is largely attributable to the general improvement in business conditions and, in part, to the practical education given to the men. The corps now has a maximum of 350,000 men.

The cost of your long distance calls will not be affected by the new proposed rates.

Don't expect the new proposed rates to make a big difference in your phone bill. Because they won't. The new rates would apply mainly to your basic rate and would not in any way affect the charges for long distance calls within Michigan. For example, you can make a one-minute call from Flint to Traverse City for 30¢ or less (depending on whether you dial direct). The same call would cost exactly the same under the new rate proposal. But, as always, the more toll calls you make, the more you pay.

Though the new rate proposal will not increase long distance rates, your bill will still go up or down in direct proportion to the number and length of such calls. So, to a great extent, the size of your bill is up to you. You can lower it by making fewer and briefer long distance calls, if you choose.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call your Michigan Bell Business Office.

We want to help.
