Board Lambastes State Legislature

Michigan's legislature, which is still thrashing out a program to finance state operation and, as yet, has not adopted a state aid bill for schools, came in for severe criticism Monday night from Tawas Area Board of Education.

Robert Elliott, board president, said it was unpalatable that the legislature had still not developed a school aid bill and that schools, as well as taxpayers across the state, were being confused by reports on deliberations before action is taken by the legislature.

Elliott said there was no reason a school aid bill could not be adopted by April 1 when school budgets for the next school term are adopted by local boards and submitted to county allocation boards.

Still to be resolved is the method of financing the state's share of school operation, as well as the actual state aid bill. While the well-publicized debate has been going on in the legislature concerning the possibility of a state income tax, school operational millage taxes to finance local school operation have been defeated at the polls.

Tawas Area School was one affected by the legislative debate. On June 14, voters turned down a 7½-mill proposition, which included re-

Iosco Commissioners Object to Health District Budget Hike

A budget increase of approximately $36,000 in Iosco's share of operating District Health Department No. 2—a share which is 3½ times larger than the amount assessed four years ago—hit a rocky road when presented to the county board of commissioners Wednesday during its July session.

Appearing before the board was James Klaus of West Branch, business administrator for the district. In requesting an allocation of $70,400 as this county's share of the department's budget, Klaus said that a $29,000 surplus in the department's treasury was being expended to meet additional 1971 operational expenses.

Klaus explained that increased services in home nursing had necessitated staff increases amounting to $20,650. Other items costing more money included $7,800 for cost of living increases, $2,000 for retirement, $3,300 for health insurance and $7,400 to bring salaries of public nurses in line with wages being paid to similar positions in the area.

Klaus said, too, that services formerly offered by schools had been

The Primary Election Story—August 3

The hottest local election in Tawas City's history? That could be the best description for this city's first August primary election scheduled for Tuesday, August 3.

Even the weather conditions should be different for this one—from February blizzards on past primary election days to possibly a blistering "dog day" in August.

But this election will be "hot" for more reasons than the weather. No local election in the recollection of most observers has generated as much heat as this one—for the number and quality of candidates, as well as the apparent interest of residents in the campaigning. Now it is up to the voter to show interest in his community by showing up at the polls on election day.

City Clerk Walter H. Nelson was wondering to himself the other day if he had ordered enough ballots. For this election, Tawas City has approximately 850 registered voters and the clerk ordered 200 ballots for each of the three wards—enough to meet voter demands in any recent local election.

The registration picture will change for future elections, however, for there will be a new crop of voters beginning at the age of 18 years. These new voters are not eligible to receive ballots in this election as the last day for registration, as specified by the state election law, fell prior to ratification of the 26th amendment to the United States Constitution, which gave 18-year-olds the right to vote in all elections. The first election at which these new voters will be eligible to receive ballots is for Tawas Area School's millage proposal vote on August 16.

The city's August 3 primary is actually an election delayed from the preceding February. Normal preparations for the regular February primary had begun last December with legal notices for the last day of filling petitions by candidates. In the meantime, action by the state legislature altered the election picture by giving citizens the option to hold primaries in August and to elect candidates at the regular general election in November.

Believing that there would be more local participation in elections coinciding with the regular state canvass, Tawas City Council chose to adopt the new election dates. As a result, the full slate of candidates which had filed for the February primary automatically became candidates for the new August primary. (On the other hand, East Tawas Council deemed it advisable to utilize this option in the opposite direction and decided to retain its spring election—at least for the present.)

This election could be the last for Tawas City in which candidates are listed by political party. It was the unanimous thinking of Tawas City's charter commission that party politics had no place in local elections and a provision in the proposed new charter, to be voted on later this year, would place all future elections on a nonpartisan basis with no party designations.

But, for this election, voters will still get those two-faced primary ballots—with Republican candidates listed on one side and one year Democrat candidate in one year listed on the opposite side. If for nothing else, changing to a nonpartisan system should reduce election costs through elimination of the need for printing both sides of the ballot.

Getting down to the importance of this election—the fine slate of candidates being offered—in the feature event in the three-way race for mayor, John B. St. James, incumbent, is being opposed by Mildred M. DeBeau and Eugene Salamony.

St. James, retired electrical contractor, has served the past 1½ years as mayor and had served prior to that on the city council and planning commission. Mrs. DeBeau, who with her husband own and operate Tawas Hardware, is a real estate saleswoman and has been active in various civic organizations. Salamony is well known throughout the community as director of Tawas Area High School Band and serves as a member of the Tawas City Volunteer Fire Department.

Equally important races for ward alderman seats are as follows:

First Ward—Clark Tanner, incumbent, a veteran of eight years service on the council and an employee of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, is opposed by Robert A. Ericksen, a social studies teacher—history and United States Government—at Tawas Area High School.

Second Ward—A new councilman has been assured for this ward with the retirement next December 31 of Jack Lardie, who was discouraged from being a candidate for re-election by his employer, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Lardie had been appointed to fill a vacancy on the council. Vying for this opening are two candidates, Chester Smyczynski, an employee of United States Gypsum Company, and Thomas Knight, an employee of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company.

Third Ward—Cecil Cabble, incumbent and a veteran of 14 years of service on the council, is being opposed by Robert N. Rollin, gasoline service station owner and real estate

Statements of the Candidates

John B. St. James:

Let's keep Tawas City moving ahead with a mayor who has the experience and is willing to take time to do a good job.

Time is an important factor—it requires at least two hours of each working day, besides three days of each month and three or four days a year for Municipal League meetings, with several committee meetings and two council meetings each month.

During the past year and a half that I have been mayor, I have helped three industrial firms to move to Tawas City; set up the machinery for a new city charter form of government, which should be completed in another three or four months; a new ordinance for snowmobile operation within the city; a new river ordinance for controlling speed of boats within the city; a new stop and go traffic light at the corner of US-23 and M-55.

In addition, during the 1½ years I have been in office there has been new street lighting installed on US-23 (Lake Street), a new addition to the city garage, we have extended our park to twice its original size along with installation of life-sized animals for the children, a lighted ice skating rink.

Projects that I would like to complete include a new force main, to be installed next summer between the Luedtke lift station and the disposal plant. We are now in the planning stage for secondary sewage treatment, which is to be completed by 1977.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the planning commission, the park board, the city council and all other committees for their efforts in making all of these things possible.

I would like to ask the voters of Tawas City for their support at the August 3 primary election. Let's all vote to keep Tawas City moving.

JOHN B. ST. JAMES

Mildred DeBeau:

MILDRED DEBEAU

As a resident of Tawas City year around or summer, you and I realize that a city that lives and thrives must have a healthy and mature attitude.

To be so, it must have open mindedness and a prospective outlook; always working towards linking the city government with all factors contributing to its growth and development.

Without this, the links are weakened and sometimes broken altogether. This causes chaos and ill will—it puts the people involved on the defensive with no holds barred.

Still, I feel it is the obligation and duty of those suffering on these weakened or broken links to go to supervisor, withdrew his nominating petition prior to the deadline.

Should the vote on the proposed charter prove to be successful later this year, the office of supervisor would be abolished and replaced with an appointive city assessor. Actually, the city government had to stretch its imagination a few years back to retain its ward supervisors when the county commission came into being on a new district basis. Rather than appoint one assessor at the time, the city retained the three ward supervisors to act as tax assessors—the only responsibility remaining for these offices after participation at the county level board of supervisors was pre-empted by the county board of commissioners.

Unopposed candidates in the election are Mary M. Byrd, city treasurer, and Walter C. Nelson, city clerk. This could be the last time that these offices appear on a ballot, for under the proposed new charter, these positions, too, would become appointive in a general streamlining and modernization of city government.

That is the story on Tawas City's primary election—now it is up to the voters to show interest in their community. BE SURE TO VOTE NEXT TUESDAY!

Bill McIntosh Leaving TA for New Job

Bill McIntosh, a member of Tawas Area School faculty for the past 14 years and assistant principal and athletic director for the past two terms, has accepted a position as principal of Ogemaw Heights High School at West Branch-Rose City.

A native of Hazel Park, McIntosh came to Tawas Area School in 1956 after graduation from Alma College. He had a highly successful 12-year career as head basketball coach of the Tawas Area Braves. His coaching career included several years as junior varsity football coach and baseball coach.

McIntosh retired as head basketball coach in 1968 after his team won its fourth district basketball championship during his coaching career. He became athletic director that year and, in 1969, was named assistant high school principal.

He has a master of education degree and is currently working toward an education specialist's degree.

McIntosh said that, for the present, he and his family will continue to reside on Monument Road and he will commute to Ogemaw Heights.

Eugene Salamony:

I believe the primary election offers to the citizens of Tawas City an excellent opportunity to help plot the progress that needs to be made in our community. For the first time in many years, the voters will be offered a choice in selecting the leadership of this city. If you are satisfied with the present administration of a mayor and a mayor pro tem, your choice is clear. However, if you are looking for a change, want fresh ideas and new blood, then you have two candidates to select from. Remember, "We get what we vote for—or what we let others vote for."

I feel the mayor's job is a job of selling as well as leadership—selling the community to itself, to its neighbors, to newcomers and prospective businessmen. I have dealt

To the Editor
 The Tawas Herald
 Tawas City, Michigan

Dear Sir:
 On behalf of the many concerned people of our communities, I would like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone wishing to support Tawas Area Schools in the coming millage election to meet at the high school cafeteria on M-55 at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, July 29.

It seems obvious that congressional help in easing the burden of school support on property owners is a long way off and is obvious that, if our schools are to continue to prepare our children for their coming responsibilities in keeping our country proud and free, the people of Tawas Area must continue to support their schools.

A special invitation is extended to students whose suggestions and help in gaining support for our schools will be most welcome.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank your fine paper for its continuing support of our local education system. Without its help, we could easily be experiencing more than our present problems.

Sincerely,
 Clyde L. Soper

"Love" is the subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday at Christian Science church services.

The nature of God as divine Love will be brought out in the Bible selections, including this one from I John: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us, God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

In one of the related citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy emphasizes what this means for man: "Divine Love is infinite. Therefore all that really exists is in and of God, and manifests His love."

Plans for the coming arts and crafts festival at the Tawas City Park and Isoco County Building Saturday and Sunday, August 7-8, are nearing completion according to the chairmen, Mrs. Herbert Hertzler and John Walton of Tawas Bay Artists, and Gerald Reltler of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Visiting and local artists and craftsmen will gather for the 11th annual festival, the first of its kind in Northeastern Michigan. According to Mrs. Carl Eckman, secretary, the enrollment is nearing 150, far exceeding other years.

As before, exhibits and sales will be held in both the county building and the city park, with chamber of commerce headquarters in the band stand. Registration will be held both days in the county building with Mrs. Harold Peterson and Mrs. Martin Fiedler in charge. Free coffee will be available to all exhibitors with Mrs. James Thomas and Mrs. Ivan O'Farrell as hostesses.

Tawas Area Keyettes will act as guides under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Blust and Mrs. Gordon Dunham.

Door prizes are to be given Saturday night, 8 o'clock, at the city park, all donated by exhibiting artists. Don Darr and Andrew Oberla are in charge.

Exhibitors are coming from out-of-state as well as Michigan, including several from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and one from Louisiana. All phases of painting, sculpture, jewelry and crafts will be on sale.

All interested exhibitors, including juniors, are urged to register at the chamber of commerce office before the August 2 deadline.

Cash prizes, donated by local businessmen, will be awarded Sunday afternoon. Each person attending is urged to vote for his favorite exhibit.

This event will be the first in the 1971 Tawas Tourist Festival. Many visitors plan their vacations so they can attend. All residents of the area of all ages are urged to attend and patronize the exhibitors. Several demonstrations will be given, including glass blowing and pastel portraits. There is no admission charge.

Thieves Busy in Area; New Rash of Outboard Motor Thefts

A new rash of outboard motor thefts plus cabin burglaries and personal injury accidents kept Iosco Sheriff's Department officers busy during the past week.

Three outboard motors were reported stolen Saturday at Sand Lake. While officers were investigating the theft of a 65-horsepower motor owned by James Meranuck of Troy, it was discovered that a 60-horsepower motor owned by Dr. James Jacques of Tawas City, along with a boat and 18 1/2-horsepower motor owned by George Ignasiak of Ancheroville, had been stolen.

Meranuck's boat had been taken from the beach in front of his cabin, moved to the public beach where the motor was removed. The boat was then set adrift in the lake. The Jacques boat was found adrift in the lake, minus its motor, and the owner was notified.

Mrs. Arthur Musk, 1021 Sand Lake Road, reported to officers that some young drivers had been using her driveway for a turn around and she placed a blockade at the entrance. She later discovered that an aluminum lawn chair and a bird feeder were stolen.

Burglary of a cabin owned by Ted West on Greenwood Road, Plainfield Township, is under investigation. The cabin was ransacked.

On Thursday, the Archie Ruckle cabin on Monument Road was burglarized and ransacked. During investigation, officers found that a nearby cabin owned by M. W. McKelvey had been burglarized. Stolen was a quantity of antiques and guns. Another nearby cabin owned by Vandalism at the Tawas City Cemetery late Monday is under investigation by the Tawas City Police Department. Numerous tombstones were overturned. The department is also investigating a number of outboard motor thefts at the Tawas River mouth, which were reported Tuesday.

Richard Martin, Otisville, was also ransacked.

Nancy R. Lynn, 13, Harper Woods, is confined to Tawas Hospital for treatment of injuries received Sunday when she was struck by a car on Indian Lake Road. Gerald R. Beauchamp, 31, Ulica, told officers that four youths were walking on the right hand side of the road and he pulled to the left side. Three of the youths went to the right and Miss Lynn went to the left in front of the car.

Mary J. Hines, 33, Plymouth, was treated at Tawas Hospital for injuries received Saturday in a mini bike accident Saturday on private property at Oscoda. The driver and a passenger, Jack Clark of Oscoda, were thrown off when the machine overturned.

Augusta Anschuetz, 72, Tawas City, is confined to Tawas Hospital after falling out of a car Saturday on M-55. Officers said that a car driven by Rose K. Anschuetz, 43, Bay City, was turning around in a driveway at 900 M-65 and was backing out onto the highway. The door opened and her passenger fell to the pavement.

Tawas Area High School Band, under the direction of Gene Salamony, will present a concert Thursday evening, July 29, at 7:00 p. m. in the Tawas City Park. The concert will be a "march" concert, featuring marches of every description and style.

The public is encouraged to hear an old-fashioned concert in the park.

(Continued from page 1.) of vastly different schools, with their highly individual problems, has given me added insight and experience in working with and for people.

We are faced with an old problem—whether to promptly provide improved services for new businesses entering the community or improve services for all first, thereby showing prospective newcomers a healthy, well-served, proud community. I believe the direction must come from city hall. Indeed, start with city hall.

A few thoughts concerning some services offered by the city: As a member of the volunteer fire department. I have the dubious honor, along with my comrades, of driving a tanker fire truck that is 19 years older than the truck in which Tom Dillon met his untimely death. We need improved fire protection.

While it is important to have an experienced police department and our chief's credentials read well, it is equally so to have a chief who is readily available at all times to the people of Tawas City. We must guard against excessive help from the sheriff's department and state police for what should be, in the strictest sense, local protection and understanding for local problems.

And concerning city-owned maintenance equipment—yes, a new dump truck and blade are scheduled for delivery. The baling wire on the old truck finally gave out. What is needed for all city equipment is a true revolving fund—one that cannot be tapped for other purposes when its balance is built up.

We need to take what seems to be a disadvantage to our physical expansion, the lake shore and use it for us, starting with the park and dock. Again, there has been some recent improvement in the park, but as in the past, is this progress to suffice for the next 10 years? I feel the park, with the gradual improvement of the dock, can be turned into a revenue-producing asset. It is a natural attraction which can interest and encourage people to walk our streets and purchase in our stores.

There are many other areas that can be mentioned, but lack of space limits discussion. Briefly, however, a serious look needs to be taken into the condition of our streets, the improvement of our library and its facilities, a retirement plan for city employees and many others.

It is very easy for any candidate to criticize city administration and offer grandiose plans for the supposed good of all. Admittedly, one lacks first hand knowledge, and, because of this and other reasons, I have attended city council meetings for the past two months hoping to learn more of our city's problems and methods of operation, and, if I become your mayor, lay groundwork for a smooth transition of administration. I would plan also, if elected, to draw upon a wide segment of our citizenry for their advice and experience toward the greater good of all in Tawas City.

Board OKs Patching of School Drive

Because of its current financial problem, Tawas Area Board of Education scrapped a proposed plan to repair the parking lot at the high school and will patch chuckholes in the driveway with a good grade of asphalt.

The patching job was deemed necessary to protect the school's past investment in blacktopping. The east entrance is now filled with holes and heavy traffic would further damage the surface.

It would be a financial impossibility in any one year to complete the entire project, but finances this year will allow purchase of a truckload of asphalt for patching purposes.

In other business, board committees named by Robert Elliott, president, were as follows:

Curriculum: Mrs. Helen Payea, Mrs. Joan Schreck, Dr. James Jacques; vocational: Payea, Clare Herriman, Schreck; hot lunch: Schreck, Earl Davis, Herriman, Payea; finance: Jacques, Carl Helmer, Payea; transportation: Davis, Herriman, Helmer; building and grounds: Herriman, Helmer, Davis; employee relations: Helmer, Jacques, Schreck; athletics: Helmer, Jacques, Herriman, Schreck.

Helmer was named chairman pro tem for the 1971-72 year.

A report was given on proposed electronic data processing for the school's payroll system. The report was tabled for action until after the August 19 millage vote.

Alice Dimmick Dead; Funeral Held Tuesday

Mrs. Alice R. Dimmick, former clerk of the Iosco Selective Service Board, died Thursday, July 22, at Good Samaritan Hospital, Phoenix, Arizona. Funeral services were held Tuesday, July 27, at Moffatt Funeral Home, East Tawas, with burial in Greenwood Cemetery.

She was born August 25, 1909, at Parkville. She was a longtime resident of East Tawas.

Surviving are her husband, Joseph; two sons, Joseph of Annapolis, Maryland, and John of Green Bay, Wisconsin; a daughter, Mrs. Alicia Essary, Austin, Texas; her mother, Mrs. Edith West of Oscoda; a sister, Mrs. Eunice Higgins of Tawas City; two brothers, Charles Reynolds and Stanley West of Oscoda.

Two Sentenced to State Prison

Two persons received prison terms and one received a 60-day jail sentence in Iosco Circuit Court action last week.

William C. Smith, 20, Hale, violated his three-year probation sentence and entered a plea of guilty to malicious destruction of property. He was sentenced by Judge Allan C. Miller to 1 1/2 to four years in the state prison.

Rex L. VanWormer, 24, Lupton, entered a plea of guilty to attempting to commit larceny at Pearsall Hardware, Hale, on June 3. He received a prison term of 1 1/2 to two years.

Francis W. Tebo was convicted of probation violation and was sentenced to a 60-day jail term.

we must base next year's budget on last year's state aid bill—should schools get a possible windfall through additional state aid, we are still going to stick to that budget and assess less in local taxes," said Elliott.

Elliott said that if schools did not abide by adopted budgets, it would be an injustice to the local community. He said that many months of study had gone into developing a 1971-72 budget, that there were absolutely no frills in it and that the board of education was going to stick by it.

Most Wrong Way Accidents Involve Drinking Drivers

Drinking drivers are involved in well over half of the "wrong way" accidents on Michigan freeways.

Analysis of such accidents on the more than 1,400 miles of freeway in the five years from 1966 through 1970 showed that between 50 and 75 percent involved drivers who had been drinking.

A total of 219 wrong way accidents were reported on state freeways from 1966 through 1970. They claimed 50 lives.

The worst in state history occurred July 17 when an auto and a station wagon rammed each other on I-75 Freeway near Grand Blanc, south of Flint. Nine persons were killed and one permanently injured.

A large portion of the accidents are caused by drivers who enter a freeway on an exit ramp. Others occur when vehicles cross a median or, rarely, when a car goes the wrong way on an entrance road to a freeway rest area.

Erection of median guard rails has helped prevent wrong way crashes. However, no practical method has been developed to prevent vehicles from entering exit ramps. The main deterrents are warning devices.

On a standard interchange, two pairs of reflective black and white and red and white signs are installed on each side of the ramps. The first pair of 24-inch-wide signs warn the driver "Do Not Enter—Wrong Way." The second pair, 36 inches wide and placed farther down the ramp, say "Wrong Way." In addition, red reflector buttons, known as delineators, are attached to a series of small metal standards running down both sides of the ramp to give the night driver additional warning.

A team of traffic engineers from the Department of State Highways has investigated the area of the I-75 accident near Grand Blanc and will issue a report on its findings.

Annual Iosco County Fair Opens Wednesday at Hale

Like the thrills of a carnival midway? Do you enjoy horse shows and harness racing? Are you interested in handicraft and farm produce exhibits, antiques or art? All of this and more is in store for visitors to the 1971 Iosco County Fair at Hale which opens today (Wednesday).

The Iosco County Fair once again has a full lineup of attractions for the several thousands of fairgoers expected during its July 28 to July 31 run.

A special invitation has previously been extended to persons of the area interested in entering exhibits and Richard Samson, fair manager, said that it is not too late to enter yet today as exhibits are being assembled until 4:00 p. m.

The fair is a county-wide event and exhibitors have been urged to participate from each section of Iosco. The arts-crafts and antiques departments are of particular interest and the display area offers booths for presentation and protection of exhibits, according to Gerald Bellen, president of the fair society.

The big midway of Cooke Amusement Company is scheduled to open at 1:00 p. m. today for a four-day galore for all ages.

Judging of 4-H Club exhibits, except livestock, will be held at 7:00 p. m. Wednesday.

Thursday's program starts with judging of all 4-H livestock, except horses, at 9:00 a. m. Judging of open class horses begins at 1:00 p. m.

Thursday's program also opens three big days of harness racing. The first program includes a pace for non-winners of $10,000, a trot for non-winners of $2,000 and a pace for Michigan-owned horses which have not won more than $1,500.

Friday's program starts with judging of 4-H horses at 9:00 a. m. This is always a major attraction for the Iosco County Fair and a new judging ring was added to facilities at the fairgrounds last year.

The Friday afternoon program includes three harness races, including a trot for non-winners of $500 (five years and under), a pace for non-winners of $3,000 and a trot for Michigan-owned horses which have not won more than $5,000.

Saturday, July 31, is the big day again for the 1971 fair. Games and contests for all ages start at 10:00 a. m. A parade will be held at 12:30 p. m. and an invitation is extended to all persons and organizations of the county to enter a float. In the lineup will be many different youth and adult riding clubs, as well as antique automobiles and floats entered by area businesses. The parade should again prove to be popular with the children.

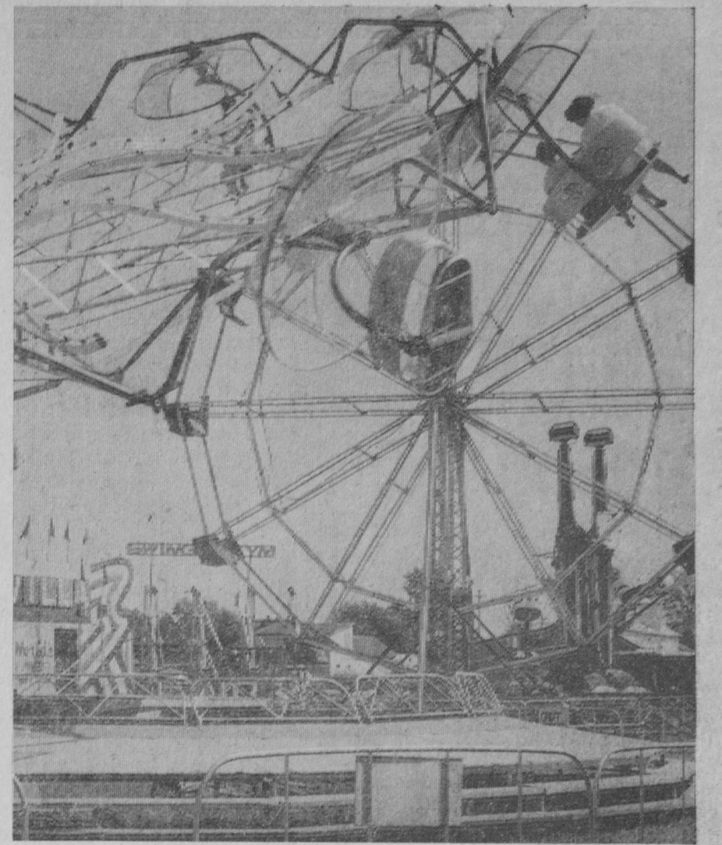

The final big program of harness racing starts Saturday at 2:00 p. m. This will include a pace for non-winners of $500 (four years and under), a trot for non-winners of $20,000 and pace for non-winners of $35,000, which gives some indication of the caliber of horses to be entered. Purse for each of the 10 races in the fair is $1,000. Robert Ruckie is superintendent of speed.

The Plainfield Township Hall and display hall on the south side of the former building will be filled with interesting exhibits.

Superintendents of the various departments include: George Erickson, livestock; Adolph Siegrist, swine and sheep; Perry Shellenbarger, poultry; John Dooley, farm produce; Mrs. Gerald Ruckie, domestic arts; Mrs. Adele Brown, antiques; Mrs. Louis Gilles, art, hobbies and handicraft; Val Samson and Adolph Siegrist, youth division; Elwood Ruckie, games and contests; Ann Strickler, flowers and plants; Mrs. Sherry Calvert, home economics.

COOL IT!

In hot weather, both people and their dispositions suffer. In my case, it is the disposition much more than the rest of me that minds the heat. Anyway, I was glad when my mailbox produced some thoughts about home cooling systems. They came from Carlton Edwards, cooperative extension housing specialist, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Carl says that most people think first of air conditioning when considering cooling systems. This may be great, but there could also be some catches to the solution. If you live in a rented home or apartment, installing an air conditioner may take an agreement with the landlord. If you are buying a home, you may not have the extra dollars. And some people—a growing minority—object to the air conditioner's power consumption from an ecological standpoint.

There are several alternatives. Good room fans can help. Attic and window fans can do even more. And a dehumidifier can make the atmosphere more comfortable.

Even if you do not have any cooling equipment, you can make your home more comfortable by opening the house at night to allow the cool air to come in. Then close windows and doors and draw shades and draperies during the day to keep the hot outside air from coming in. Some homeowners claim they can keep temperatures five to 10 degrees lower this way.

When you decide on a room fan, attic fan or dehumidifier, remember that they do their best work when size is suited to the space they must cool or the air they must handle. Fans are rated by the number of cubic feet of air they move per minute (listed as c. f. m.).

If you consider an attic fan, consider the air inlets, horsepower of the motor and your wiring. But generally, you can estimate what you need by this method: Find the volume of the area you want to cool by multiplying the room's length by its width and that figure by its height. For Michigan, multiply the total volume by 1.5. This is your minimum c. f. m. requirement for fans. Pick a fan that has a slightly higher c. f. m. to compensate for some differences in fans and homes.

Attic and window fans are often used after the sun sets to draw warm air out of the house and cool air in. To get the best cooling, Mr. Edwards recommends placing the fan on the side of the house away from the wind. Then open windows farthest from the fan, on the opposite side of the room or house, depending on the fan size. Opening windows near the fan will cause a "short circuit" of air because the breeze will not cross the room.

Cooling with fans can make some people more comfortable, but they do draw dust and pollen into the house. They are noisy. A good, large fan can cost almost as much as some air conditioners. Remember, a fan cannot make your home any cooler than the temperature outside.

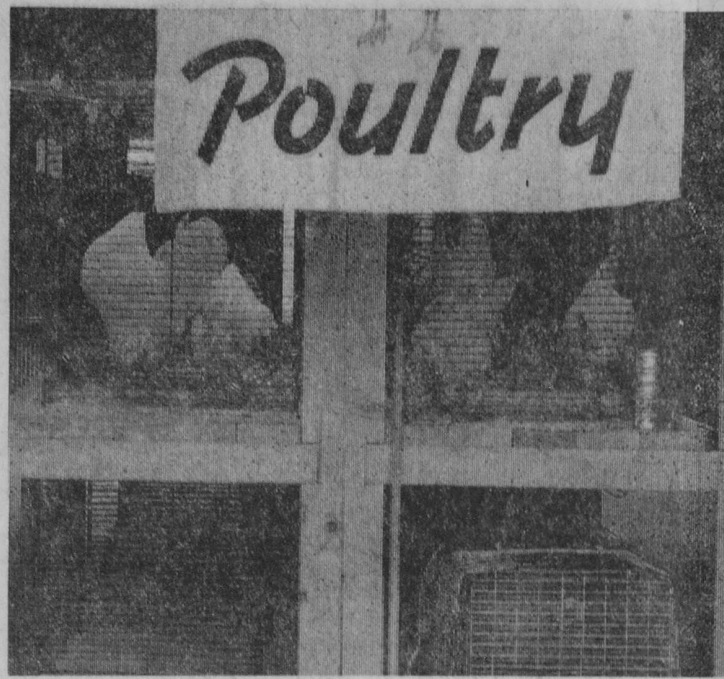

If thinking about cooling systems has not cooled you off, maybe this recipe will. Try it as a nutritious substitute for some of those endless glasses of Kool-Aid and soda pop. It is especially high in calcium and vitamin C.

Home Vegetable Gardens Reach All-Time High In Popularity

HOME-GROWN VEGETABLES provide nutritious, fresh produce from early summer through late fall. A non-persistent insecticide like Spectracide will protect plants from most pests and can be used effectively up to day before picking on crops like tomatoes and sweet corn.

If the latest statistics are correct, more people will be growing vegetables in their home garden this summer than in recent years.

Home-grown vegetables are a saving on the food budget and are fresher and more nutritious. What's more, you can grow varieties and types which are not generally available in stores.

The average home lot is bigger now than in years past, and through advances in chemistry, healthy, insect-free vegetables are not difficult to grow.

A wide assortment of already-started vegetable plants are available from garden shops. Vegetables best suited for late summer plantings are snap beans, Chinese cabbage, leaf lettuce, radishes, spinach and turnips.

Most fall crops should be planted no later than early August. They should make rapid growth during late summer and produce mature crops before cold weather.

Weeding, fertilizing and watering the vegetable garden are no more difficult or demanding than the rose or annual border. In fact if the vegetable garden is situated where it is not in view, and most are, a mulch of straw, salt hay or other material around the plants will curb weed growth and help the soil retain moisture.

Insects present no problem either. When one chemical insect control can be used for vegetables and flowers, such as Spectracide (diazinon), all spraying can be done at one time. Also, there is no need for taking extra time to mix individual sprays.

Finally, and perhaps most neglected, comes the fine art of picking vegetables. You can improve the quality and taste of your produce by harvesting at the proper stage of maturity.

Tomatoes should be picked when uniformly red — about six days after fruit begins to turn red. For sweet corn pick when kernels are fully developed but before kernels begin to dent or shrivel.

Pick beans when pods are smooth, have an even green color and except for special long varieties, when they are three to four inches long. Root crops, like carrots, can be sampled to determine ripeness. When carrot turns from white to yellow-orange to full orange, it's ready to eat.

Scene of Illegal Trash Dumping

Unsightly scenes such as this dramatize the growing problem in northern Michigan which finds public access sites and other state-owned areas being illegally blighted as dumping grounds for everything from garbage to kitchen sinks. Department of Natural Resources law officials remind local residents and summer tourists that is a misdemeanor to dispose of trash or garbage on state lands unless these materials have been accumulated in the course of using those lands. In that case, such refuse and rubbish must be placed in proper receptacles or buried. DNR leaders take a dim view of those who use state areas as trash dropping-off points, and they have ordered their field officers to crack down on such offenders. In mounting that enforcement effort, DNR officials point out that their field men are already hard pressed in servicing the legitimate trash-disposal needs of campers, fishermen, and other recreationists who use state areas. Persons caught breaking state land use rules covering refuse disposal face possible $100 fines and/or 90-day jail sentences. —Mich. Dept. of Natural Resources

Answer Questions on Social Security

Question: I recently sent a post card form to check on my earnings under social security. When I received a statement of my earnings, I found that there was an error for the year 1969. How do I go about getting it corrected?

Answer: You should gather up any information you may have about your 1969 wages (payroll slips, withholding statements, etc.) and call or visit any social security office. The people there will help you straighten out your earnings record.

Question: How old does a disabled worker have to be to receive monthly social security disability benefits?

Answer: There is no minimum age but a minimum work period under social security is required to be eligible for disability benefits. If a person becomes disabled before 24, he needs credit for 1 1/2 years of work during the three years just before his disability began. If his disability starts between 24 and 31, he needs work credits for half the time after 21 and before he became disabled. If a worker becomes disabled after 31, he needs credit for five years of work in the 10 years before the start of the disability.

Question: I have been carrying my own health insurance for years. Since I am getting close to 65, I was wondering if I should keep my own private insurance or enroll in medicare. Can you help me decide?

Answer: Check with your insurance company before you reach 65. Most private insurance companies adjust their coverage at 65 so that it pays only for items not covered by medicare. Do not delay because you would have to enroll before the month of your 65th birthday to get full medicare protection as soon as you are 65.

If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 49706; telephone 893-9579. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday from 9:45 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Antique Cars Coming For Regional Tour

15 Years Ago—

July 26, 1956—More than 100 ancient motor car fans and 50 old-time vehicles are expected to be here next week for the Veteran Motor Car Club of America's 1956 Great Lakes regional tour. Highlighting the conclave will be a gas light parade of old cars with occupants dressed in costumes of early twentieth century vintage.

Bulldozers will soon begin stripping the overburden from National Gypsum Company's new quarry southwest of Tawas City.

Marvin Thompson of Oscoda, who hit a home run in the sixth inning of Saturday night's all-star game, was voted the most valuable player of the Huron Shore League.

A rumor circulating in this community during the past two weeks to the effect that the Tawasess had been named as a "speed trap" to motorists by the Automobile Club of Michigan, was discounted by Harry Rogan, director of travel services of that organization.

Clayton Bellville is the new commander of Glen Staley Post, American Legion, Hale.

Elmer Slaven of Fair Acre Cottages south of Tawas City reports that visitors to his resort are making exceptionally fine catches of perch in the bay.

25 Years Ago—

July 26, 1946—Hale Auction Yard will open August 7, according to Ira Scofield, owner. "We will do our best to get you as much for your stock as you can get elsewhere," said Scofield. Arnold Copeland of Marlette, experienced livestock auctioneer, will handle the sales.

A bonus compensating Michigan's 640,000 World War II veterans up to a maximum of $500 each won approval in the Michigan Legislature at the special session called by Gov. Harry F. Kelly.

Right "Course" of Action Pays Off

This happy young lad is sure glad he completed Michigan's new 4-hour hunter safety training course for youths like him, aged 12 through 16. Because, now, he's "right on" for buying his 1971 Michigan hunting license. It's a proud moment as he shows his training certificate of achievement to his local license dealer and, starting September 1, thousands of other first-time hunters in his age group will have to do the same thing to purchase any type of hunting license in this state. Untrained youths who want to make Michigan's hunting scene for their first time this fall, are urged now to enroll in the mandatory hunter safety course which has been set up for them throughout the state. Those in the Detroit area should contact their local parks and recreation departments or community school offices. Elsewhere in Michigan, the safety course for young hunters-to-be is offered by the same type of public agencies as well as through sportsmen's clubs and summer recreation activities of local communities. It is also available at summer camps of the Boy and Girl Scouts, the YMCA, and other such groups. Youngsters failing to find the course in their areas are urged to contact their local conservation officers or write to the Department of Natural Resources' Law Enforcement Division in Lansing.

LOOKING BACKWARD

will take a three-week refresher course at Michigan State College. Included are Maori Bronson, Marie Staebler, Ruth Giddings, Hattie Kohn of Whittemore School; Ruth Bowers and Louise Greve of Hale School; Sara Johnson, Taft School; Anna Bentley, Cottage School; Hildur Rollin, Lower Townline; Mabel Bigelow, Upper Townline; Ellen McGuire, Watts; Mabel Scarlett, Greenwood; Ida Dorsey, Margaret Bellor, Eva Vance, Helen Staebler, Sherman; Muriel Horton, Tawas City.

SAC Roy A. Landon has received his discharge from the navy and has returned home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Landon.

Opinions differ as to whether President Truman was right in vetoing the price control bill.

Housewives will pay more for part of the 1946 pack of canned fruits and vegetables put up by processors who have granted approved wage increases. OPA said it had scarcely any information on the number and extent of such pay raises and thus could not predict the general effect on prices.

Such returning veterans as Ted Williams, Hank Greenberg, Charlie Keller and Joe DiMaggio have picked up where they left off before joining Uncle Sam's service and it is a real ash-swinging mix-up in the American League. Only Dick Wakefield of the Tigers seems to have fallen behind schedule among the big hitters.

35 Years Ago—

July 31, 1936—Twenty-five persons had filed petitions Tuesday afternoon qualifying themselves as candidates for Iosco County offices in the August primary. Five filed for sheriff, two for clerk, four for register of deeds, four for county road commissioner and four for coroner. There are no contests for offices of probate judge, prosecuting attorney, treasurer, circuit court commissioner, drain commissioner and surveyor.

Don Anderson and Bill Roach were top trap shooters in Tawas Gun Club's weekly shoot.

The celebrated Glee Club of The Chevrolet Motor Company will appear in the regatta and water carnival program sponsored by Tawas Bay Yacht Club.

It appears that the issue between the steel industry and its workers is no longer simply whether the steel industry shall be unionized. It is a question of how it shall be unionized.

Thousands of fish killed by the extreme heat and low water were removed from Tawas Lake. Pike suffered most, but many bass and perch were taken from the lake.

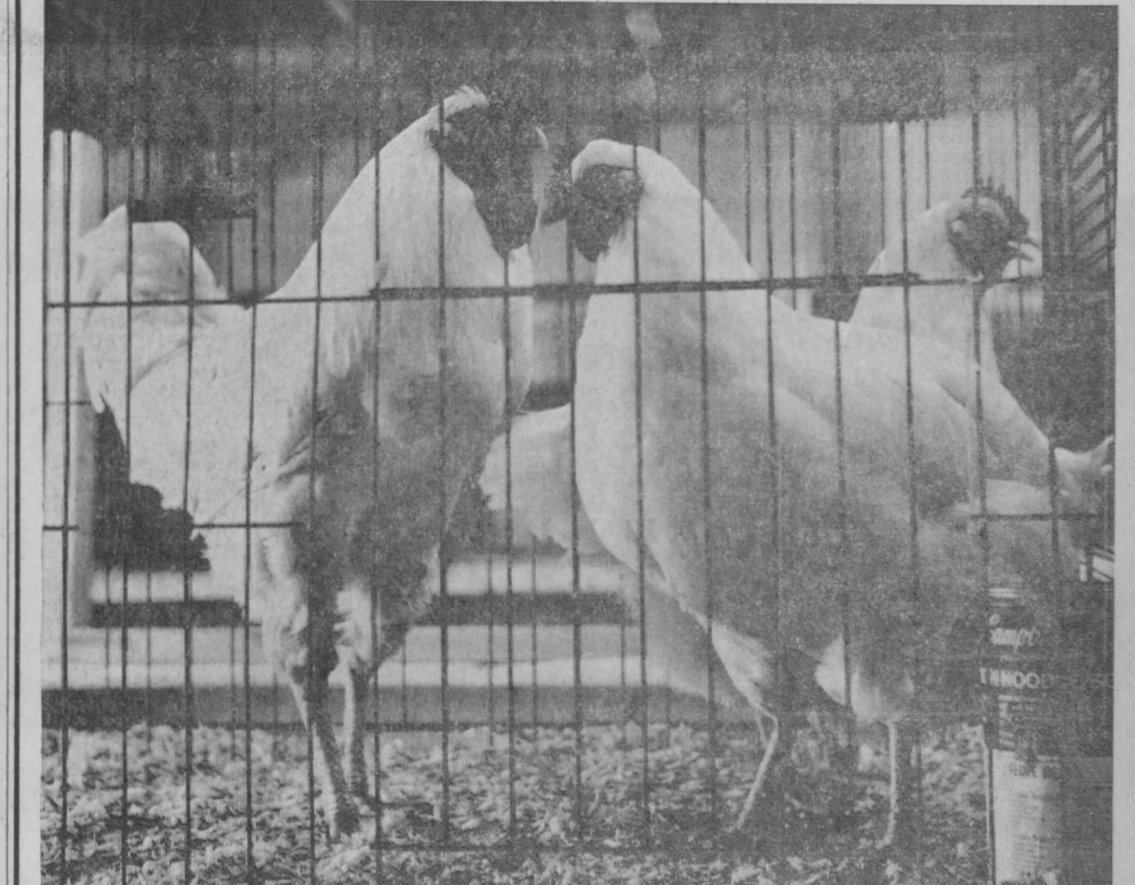

Robert Fechner, national director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, envisions the organization as a permanent institution.

Explanations and apologies are not enough for J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation, who was angered by the revelation that the doings of his "G Men" had been under investigation by secret service men of the treasury department.

Those who are interested in beautifying an old land mark, the former Congregational Church, now owned by the Latter Day Saints, are invited to send their financial contributions to Elder M. A. Sommerfield, pastor.

Army Reserve Lauds Rickenbacker

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker (L), World War I aviation hero, receives award naming him "Honorary Army Reserve Aviator" from retiring Chief Army Reserve, Maj. Gen. W. J. Sutton.

NEW YORK—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, scourge of World War I's "Red Barons," has been named an "Honorary Aviator" by the United States Army Reserve.

Maj. Gen. W. J. Sutton, the retiring Chief Army Reserve, presented Rickenbacker with a plaque inscribed: "Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, Honorary Army Reserve Aviator, With Highest Esteem."

The award added still another chapter to a career in aviation for Rickenbacker that few can match. It started with his service during World War I, when he took command of the 94th Aero Pursuit Squadron in 1917.

Rickenbacker was credited with personally downing 26 enemy aircraft over the Western Front, and his Squadron, the first American Air Service unit to meet German fliers in dogfights, downed 69 of the Kaiser's planes—more than any other Air Service outfit.

Following World War I, Rickenbacker entered the commercial aviation field. But he interrupted this career to take on a series of special assignments for the Secretary of War during World War II.

In 1942, he survived 24 days on the open sea in a life raft when his plane was forced down during a flight over the Pacific.

After World War II, he resumed his civilian aviation career, rising to Board Chairman of Eastern Airlines, a position in which he served from 1954 to 1963. Since then, he has been active in youth work with the Boy Scouts and Boys Clubs of America.

Michigan Bell Report to Customers

A clarification of facts concerning your telephone service and usage

Fixed- and low-income families can save on their telephone bills.

Actually, almost any family can reduce its telephone bill . . . by first understanding that increased bills come largely from increased telephone usage (not increased rates). Your present telephone rate structure is based on the idea that you pay for what you use. We think that's only fair. Now, if your family doesn't need to use your telephone too frequently, there is a money-saving plan that may be right for you:

Measured Budget Service for $3 a month . . . available statewide. Michigan Bell's two-party line Budget Service is not best for everyone, but can be just the thing for retirees or, perhaps, singles with minimal telephone needs. Because, you pay just $3 a month, if you stay within the monthly calling allowance on local and interzone calls. Also, in most areas a one-party line Budget Service is available at $4.50 a month.

Talk for a minute, pay for a minute, not three. Another way to save . . . with Michigan Bell's "pay for what you use" plan, you are no longer automatically charged for three minutes on long distance calls within Michigan. In other words, if you make a brief long distance call, you pay only for what you use. If you talk for one or two minutes, that's all you pay for. Plus, by dialing direct you can save 20% or 40% on long distance calls within Michigan.

For more information on economic use of your telephone, call your Michigan Bell Business Office. We want to help.

National 4-H Dress Revue Turns Dreams Into Reality

Every young girl dreams of being a storybook princess with a prince charming gazing at her in admiration. And 51 young ladies may bring their dreams to reality in Chicago later this year. Representing their home state and Puerto Rico, each will glide across the stage in self-created ensembles at the 1971 National 4-H Dress Revue sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc. The event climaxes a year's activity in which more than 350,000 4-H girls have participated in county and state dress revues conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. Theme of the 1971 revue, sponsored by Simplicity for the 25th time, is Storybook Fashions. With a "Prince Charming" to open the gala event and a "Fairy Godmother" to introduce the winners and describe their ensembles, the Conrad Hilton ballroom will become a virtual dream castle. At the close of the 1971 National 4-H Dress Revue, six winners will be awarded $700 scholarships. Selection of the scholarship recipients will be made on the basis of their 4-H records, leadership and work in the dress revue program. Leading to this national event, 4-H girls are expected to earn more than 26,000 medals of honor at county dress revues. The company, through the National 4-H Service Committee, also provides these awards and gives added support through assistance of its 4-H stylists and publications on modeling. For information about the program and locally scheduled dress revues, contact the county extension office or state 4-H leader.

ATTENTION!

FELLOW CITIZENS OF TAWAS CITY

I Want to be Your Mayor

BECAUSE:

1. You might want a different view of a situation. (Women's)
2. Because I can see our town bursting at its seams trying to grow, improve and develop, and I understand it needs guiding hands (your Mayor and Councilmen), it needs firm resolutions, laws, restrictions, in other words a plan—a goal for its progressive growing pains—with sincerity and integrity uppermost in mind.
3. I want to be your Mayor to be a part of the progress—to help your City Fathers face and resolve the issues of the day.
4. I believe our people should be informed and they should help solve these issues and in turn to reap the harvest when all is going smoothly and efficiently. The people (YOU PEOPLE) are the key to the success or downfall of OUR TOWN. AND WE WANT SUCCESS.
5. I want to be your Mayor because I think I can be a Mayor you would be proud of. I promise to keep you updated, informed and as the kids say (on the ball).

Here is a chance for a change—I am willing to do the best I can.

I will Appreciate Your Vote - August Primary

Sincerely,
MILLIE DeBEAU

Seconds Make The Difference

How Unser Won The Fiery "500"

Indianapolis—Al Unser is waved across the finish line in the Indy 500 only seconds ahead of second place driver, Peter Revson. Winning the classic for the second consecutive year, Unser is only the fourth back-to-back winner in the race's 55-year history.

Even though the race was marred by numerous accidents which slowed the pace considerably, the driving champion was still able to post a new speed record of 157.735 mph. A combination of skill, speed and teamwork enabled Unser to collect $240,000 in prize money. A huge crowd of 261,000 was on hand for the classic.

The excellent pit work of crew chief George Bignotti and his crew may well have made the difference between winning and losing. In four pit stops the crew used up 18 fewer seconds than Revson's men did in three—just about the margin of victory.

Below, Unser shows off his car and winning team—his pit crew. With them is Miss S-K, representing the company that supplied the mechanics tools and prizes for the crew.

Plainfield OKs Sewer Expansion Planning

Edmunds Engineering, Incorporated, Bay City, has been retained by Plainfield Township to develop an engineering plan for proposed expansion of the township's sewage disposal system.

Dennis Chrvia, supervisor, reports that the present planning calls for expansion of the system one mile west of Hale, one-half mile north and one mile south of that community. It is expected that the engineer will have plans completed in about 90 days.

An informational meeting was held July 20 at Plainfield Township Hall. Representatives were present from Environetic Research, East Central Michigan Economic Development District, Federal Housing Administration, as well as local governmental representatives.

James Collison of East Central Michigan Economic Development District said that his organization had gone through preliminary plans for this project and that a community can direct its own development. "We have recognized the problem and want to get the system going," he stated.

Collison pointed out that by the 1970 census, Plainfield Township had shown the largest percentage of growth—43.6 percent—in Isco County.

Collison said that a system could be developed and the township could apply for federal grant programs. If the township project requires a larger lagoon, it could get up to 75 percent assistance.

Ras Smith of the Federal Housing Administration said that the township must file forms with the state clearing house and that a water quality situation was involved here.

He said the system could be financed through the county department of public works. The township would enter into a contract with the county, wherein the township would agree to pay for the project over a period of 20, 30 or 40 years. The county would issue low interest bonds and the township would make an annual payment. The township could levy a tax and plan on revenues to make payments on the system.

Revenues to pay for bonds could come from special assessments or usage charges or connection charges. Chrvia said that the township had received petitions for most of the construction, which had more than 51 percent of the property owners signing.

Bruce Freel reported that his development at Hale Lake, which is included in the proposed project, has a total of 226 lots, with 212 lots scheduled for construction.

James Justice of Environetic Research recommended that the project be started immediately as construction costs are increasing at the rate of 10 percent yearly. "The more we can do at an early date, the better," he stated.

Chrvia said that a local unit must always conceive such a project. "Then the unit can do the preliminary planning and go to the county department of public works, or it can have the preliminary plans completed after applying to the DPW."

The Plainfield supervisor said that about 1,400 people would be the potential served by the proposed total system.

Others attending the meeting included Carlton Merschel, chairman of the Isco County Board of Commissioners; William Weryley, District One commissioner; Wilbur C. Roach, chairman of the county planning board.

There were 78 in attendance from Glenzie, National City, Tawas City, Flint, Pontiac, Garden City, Detroit and Mt. Clemens. After a pot-luck dinner, games were enjoyed by young and old. Prizes were given to the oldest, Charles Simons of Tawas City, and the youngest, Scottie Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Smith of Tawas City. Officers remain the same for next year. It will be held at the same time and same place.
