Guns Blaze at Whittemore

Two Burglars Elude Capture in Sunday Morning Shoot Out

Two of three men surprised during an early Sunday morning burglary at Fuerst Hardware, Whittemore, one of them apparently wounded in the leg, are still at large and are being sought by Saginaw and Bay County authorities.

The third man, Anthony J. Grillo, 30, Saginaw, is being held at Iosco County Jail after entering a guilty plea to breaking and entering when arraigned Tuesday before Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller. He had been held under district court bond of $75,000 set Sunday by Dist. Magistrate Stanley Snoble.

A burglar alarm in the store, which rings in the home of William Fuerst, owner, brought three Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers to the scene at 1:55 a. m. The alarm does not ring in the store and all three men were trapped in the building when Fuerst notified the jail at Tawas City.

Deputies Basil Odell and Robert Felske, who posted Deputy Dale Snyder to cover the rear of the building and Fuerst at the southeast corner of the store, entered the front door.

A burglar, believed to be Daniel R. Welch, 25, Essexville, attempted to make his escape through the south door of Harbin's IGA Store, which adjoins the hardware.

Met there by Fuerst, the man ducked back into the building, then came out firing a .357 magnum handgun which he had taken from a safe in the hardware. Several of the shots narrowly missed Fuerst, who returned fire with a shotgun.

The burglar was partially hidden by an indentation in the building and shot from Fuerst's gun peppered his hiding place. When the shooting started, Felske came around the corner of the building and fired his service revolver at the burglar, who fled to the rear of the building. Deputy Snyder met the man there, ordered him to halt, fired one warning shot in the air and then fired an aimed shot at the man's legs. It was believed the man ran into a barn, but escaped in the darkness.

Following the shooting, Grillo and another accomplice, whom he identified as Donald Killingbeck, 27, Saginaw, made a break through the same door on the south side of the building. Neighbors spotted the two men running from the building and called to officers at the rear of the store. Felske ordered the two men to halt and Grillo was captured with no resistance. The other man made his escape into the dense fog and darkness.

Officers searched the Whittemore area throughout the day but could find no trace of the two fleeing burglars. It is believed that one of the men may have been picked up as a hitchhiker on M-65 and returned to Saginaw.

Assisting in the search during the day were state police, Oscoda Township Police Department and sheriff's departments from Arenac and Ogemaw Counties.

Grillo and Killingbeck are out on bond from Tuscola County on a burglary charge.

Grillo admitted that he and his two companions had burglarized Hale Hardware and Pearsall's Store at Hale early Friday morning, as well as attempting to enter Wyatt's Market. He said they again attempted to break into Wyatt's Market early Sunday morning, as well as attempting to enter the K. and G. Variety Store at Whittemore and Whittemore Cut Rate.

An estimated $500 in cash and about $2,500 in merchandise was reported missing in the burglary at Hale Hardware. Included were handguns, several watches and electrical appliances. Merchandise was also stolen from Pearsall's Store.

Fuerst Hardware and the adjoining IGA Store have been the scenes of numerous break-ins over the past years. Burglars struck the stores on three occasions in one year and a burglar alarm was installed.

In November 1966, Fuerst had a brush with two burglars. Working at night in the back room of his store, he left the building to get cup of coffee at a nearby restaurant. A few minutes later he was met there by his wife, Lois, who said that the burglar alarm had just gone off in the store.

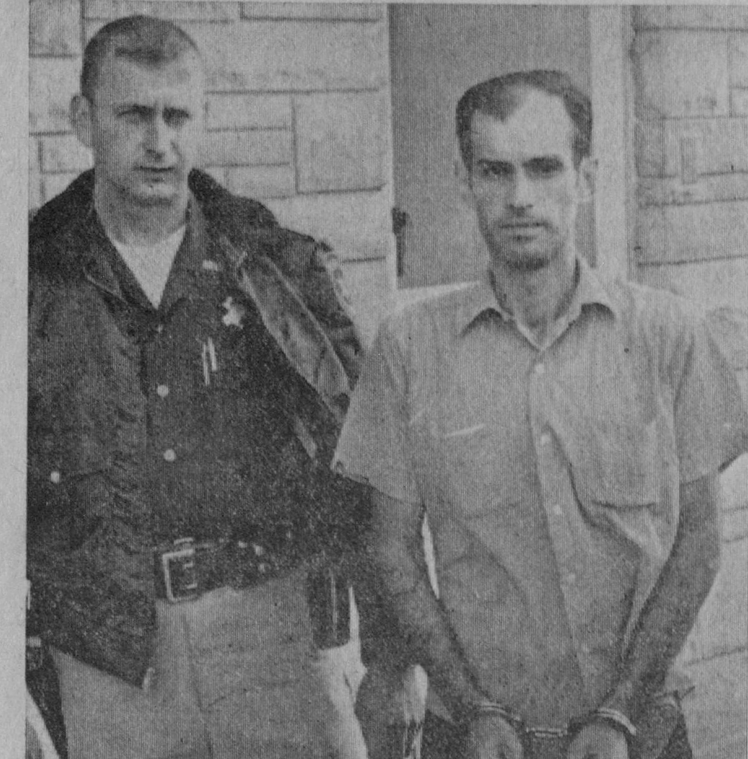

Fuerst returned to the store to investigate, but two men burst out of an office door, knocked a shotgun on the hardware store owner's hands, struck him over the head and made their escape.

Following that burglary, Fuerst said he was "coming in shooting the next time." Following Sunday morning's narrow escape in the exchange of gunfire, Fuerst left Whittemore to join a group of horsemen who were to make a trip over the Northern Michigan Riding and Hiking Trail. He was to return home Tuesday evening after making part of the trip.

Odell and Felske, who had been patrolling the area checking stores in the Whittemore and Hale area Saturday night and early Sunday morning, said they had stopped at a Whittemore restaurant for coffee following an inspection of Whittemore business places. They had checked the hardware and found doors were locked.

WILLIAM FUERST, Whittemore hardware owner, said five years ago, when he was pictured above with his wife, that he was "coming in shooting" during the next burglary at his store. He blasted away with his shotgun when a burglar came out of his store firing a handgun. The burglar escaped, but is believed to have been wounded. Investigating officers reported Tuesday they had traced him to Melita where he was picked up by a girl friend. Sheriff's department officers were at Saginaw Tuesday to join officers there in the search.—Tawas Herald Photo.

County Land Fill Studied by Iosco Road Commission

Operation of a county-wide sanitary land fill facility, utilizing the present dump operated jointly by East Tawas and Tawas City, is now under study by the Iosco County Road Commission.

At a meeting held last Thursday, attended by local, state and federal officials, the road commission made a commitment to operate the facility and provide collection service to the townships. A preliminary contract is expected in about two weeks.

Need for such a facility, discussed at various times during the past two years by the county planning commission and county board of commissioners, has been heightened by the fact that two township dumps, Plainfield and Baldwin, have been closed by the state health department and the Grant Township dump has one week remaining to operate.

All of this has been brought about through enforcement of new state laws concerning operation of sanitary land fill facilities, which has had a serious effect on budgets of smaller governmental units throughout the state.

Reginald Bublitz, Tawas City superintendent of public works, said that the sanitary land facility operated by East Tawas and Tawas City had been approved by the state health department. He noted that the site, located in Huron National Forest off Monument Road, was well drained, isolated, had suitable sand for coverage and was not in the vicinity of forest plantations.

The two cities have 20 acres under lease from the federal government and, if the county facility is located there, additional acreage would be made available by the federal government. Operation of the present facility is administered by the City of East Tawas.

Bublitz said that the present facility would probably serve the needs of the two communities for the next 15 to 20 years, but it has been deemed that this is the most suitable site for a county facility.

Concern has been expressed, however, by a number of townships because of the hauling distance involved. Cost of operating dumps to townships is expected to be much higher, said Bublitz, due to the fact that old facilities were not meeting expensive state requirements. He said it was not expected that there would be any additional cost to the two cities.

Bublitz stated that both he and Paul Ropert, superintendent of public works at East Tawas, have opposed any additional cost to these two communities due to the past capital outlay in the presently approved operation. Cost of operating the facility is $8,699 annually, with East Tawas' share being $4,400 and Tawas City paying $3,100, based on population. The remainder is paid by Baldwin and Wilber Townships to allow use by residents in the vicinity of this facility.

Should the road commission take over the operation, the balance remaining in the current budget of the two cities for dump operation would be turned over to the new system. It is anticipated that an initial expense of $50,000 would be needed to start the operation.

Under the proposed new system, pickup "green boxes" would be placed in central locations in each township. The road commission would pick up the boxes for transportation to the sanitary land fill facility.

Bublitz said that opening of a second facility to serve the Oscoda area was to be studied, because of distance and population involved. He said that basic cost figures were to be developed by the road commission and there was a possibility that the county department of public works may raise revenue notes to finance the cost among units involved.

The city superintendent said that about a year of operation would be required to determine actual costs involved. He emphasized, however, that townships could anticipate a much higher cost for dump operation due to compliance with state regulations. Both cities were in the same situation when the present facility was opened.

Need for expansion of water facilities to meet the demand of new home construction, as well as possibly changing sewer treatment plans from a lagoon system to a mechanical plant for secondary treatment, was heard at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council.

In reviewing the monthly report from the water board, Reginald Bublitz, superintendent of public works, said that the water board was becoming concerned over increased water usage and the lack of storage facilities to meet the demand of from 15 to 20 new users being added each year.

Earlier this year, the council tabled a report from its former engineering consultant which recommended construction of storage facilities and expansion of distribution mains. Bublitz said the city faces the same critical need as a year ago and the water board probably will ask Edmands Engineering to review plans submitted two years ago by Spicer Engineering and make its recommendations.

Bublitz said the water board should study present water rates, which have not been changed since 1968.

Because of a lack of property, Bublitz said the city may have to utilize a conventional waste water treatment plant rather than a lagoon system for secondary treatment. Bublitz said that vacant lots intersecting streets to yield the right-of-way. Traffic on Court Street east-bound from the county building is to stop at First Street.

Water - Sewer Expansion Again Under Study by City

A report on usage of the boat ramp on Ninth Avenue indicated that 101 boat owners had utilized facilities September 25-26 and 27 October 2-3. The city charges $1 as a ramp fee. The attendant worked 25 hours over the above two week-ends at a rate of $2.25 per hour. It is expected that the ramp will see increased use during the next two week-ends.

A letter from State Sen. Robert Richardson indicated that the city would receive an additional $4,220 in state revenue sharing funds this year, or a total of $32,220. The city presently receives $28,000 in state sales tax, income tax and intangibles tax.

Bublitz and Alderman James Lansky reported on a recent trip to Ortonville to attend a demonstration of a fire fighting unit similar to one which is to be purchased by the city and placed on a new four-wheel drive vehicle purchased by the city. The new unit is to replace the fire department's old tank truck.

Ambulance Service Set for Discussion

Following a meeting last week, representatives of local governmental units financing the ambulance service at Tawas Hospital are to appear before the county board of commissioners Tuesday, October 12, to request assumption of responsibility by the county.

Mayor Cecil Cable told the Tawas City Council Monday night that the hospital was anxious to take over full operation of the ambulance service with no governmental units involved. However, the hospital wants local governmental support if the service operates at a deficit.

When local funeral directors went out of the ambulance business several years ago, much of the county was left without this service. Two funeral directors continued to serve Oscoda and AuSable Townships.

A group headed by city officials from East Tawas enlisted support from Tawas City and other townships to purchase two new ambulances and one used unit. Operation of the service has been handled by Tawas Hospital, with volunteers manning one ambulance at Hale.

Cable told councilmen that the hospital now desires to deal with one governing body rather than under der the present arrangement. He said that because of costly maintenance involved, the hospital would ask for replacement of the used ambulance before it takes over the service.

The mayor said that operational experience indicates that the ambulance service could be self supporting, although the present budget indicates a deficit of about $7,000.

The county board of commissioners has supported the ambulance service in the past with a $10,000 contribution.

Iosco Tax Bill Preparation Starts; Oates Reports on Individual Units

Work is to start next week on preparation of annual tax statements, according to a report this week by Henry Oates, Iosco tax equalization director.

Tax statements are to be mailed to property owners beginning December 1, the first day for collection by township and city treasurers.

A tax apportionment report prepared last week by Oates lists all taxes to be spread on the December statement, which includes county, intermediate school, township and schools.

Taxes range from a high of $32.95 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation for that portion of Grant Township which is included in Hale Area School District, to a low of $21.95 per $1,000 SEV for that portion of Wilber Township in Oscoda Area School District.

Except for special voted township taxes or special voted operational and debt retirement taxes for school districts, the tax rate is the same for all units with but two exceptions. Tawas is the only township which does not assess a one-mill township tax and Whittemore-Prescott Area School District, which is governed by Ogemaw County's pegged 9 1/2 mills for school operation.

The 15 mills split by the Iosco Allocation Board gave nine mills to schools, 4.80 mills to the county and .20 of a mill to the intermediate school district. The county levies .20 of a mill for debt retirement and .75 of a mill is a voted tax levied for the intermediate school district.

Special voted or debt retirement for the county's four school districts are as follows: Tawas Area, 7:30 for operation and one mill for debt retirement; Oscoda Area, three mills for operation and one mill for debt retirement; Hale Area, nine mills for operation and six mills for debt retirement; Whittemore - Prescott Area School District and 24.25 for property in Tawas Area School District; Tawas, 24.25; Wilber, 26.25 for property in Tawas Area School District and 21.95 for property in Oscoda Area School District.

East Tawas, 23.25; Tawas City, 23.25; Whittemore, 31.45.

A property owner wishing to determine his individual tax may multiply the total tax rate against the state equalized valuation (approximately one-half of true cash value) of his property.

Four townships have special assessment districts including Oscoda (water), Alabaster (road), Grant (street lights) and Plainfield (sewer). These taxes would be in addition to the millage indicated in the tax director's report and would be paid by those property owners situated in the various special assessment districts.

Total tax rates for the various units of Iosco County are as follows: Alabaster, 24.25; AuSable, 23.55; Baldwin, 25.25; Burleigh, 24.45; Grant, 32.95 for property in Hale Area School District and 26.25 for property in Tawas Area School District; Oscoda, 23.95; Plainfield, 32.25; Reno, 30.95 for property in Hale Area School District and 24.45 for property in Whittemore-Prescott Area School District; Sherman, 24.45 for property in Whittemore-Prescott Area School District and 24.25 for property in Tawas Area School District; Tawas, 24.25; Wilber, 26.25 for property in Tawas Area School District and 21.95 for property in Oscoda Area School District.

Even though the total tax rate has increased in most instances, portions of the rate have decreased for all units, while two other units have additional decreases. In the first case cited above, the county's debt retirement for the medical care facility decreased from 25 cents to 20 cents per $1,000 SEV. Tawas Area School's debt retirement rate dropped from $1.08 to $1 per $1,000. Oscoda Township's tax rate dropped from $6.30 to $5.

In addition to the taxes, township and city treasurers add one percent as a collection fee. After February 15, a collection fee of three percent is added in all units but Oscoda. Taxes not collected by March 1 are returned to the county treasurer as delinquent and a penalty of one-half percent per month is added.

Also collected by township and city treasurers are dog license fees charged by the county. A new and higher rate goes into effect with the 1972 dog license, increasing from $1 to $3 for male and unsexed dogs and from the old rate of $2 to $5 for female dogs. The license is applicable to all dogs three months of age and older. After March 1, 1972, a penalty is added when collected by the county treasurer and the rate is $4 and $6.

LETTER to the EDITOR

Dear Editor:

This is the second year since the organization of the Tawas Braves Booster Club. Although much praise and many thanks were due and given for the group and individual efforts of everyone who planned and worked to make a success of our first year, nothing can compare to the extreme generosity of everyone in the Tawas area in their support to the booster club so far this year.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all of our many booster club members who donated so many hours of their time to the rebuilding of the concession stand and to the R. G. Schreck Lumber Company, Moe Electric, Northern Electrical Supply Company and Del Colter for their generous contributions of time and materials.

There are times when we feel our efforts are in vain, such as this past week-end when the concession stand was broken into and four to five cases of pop were stolen. But when you see people like Gene Riggs, who, though not even from our area, climbed the light towers to clean and install new lights, the teachers building their new press box or the eagerness of everyone and efficient manner in which the concession stand is operated and the willingness of everyone to help, then we take great pride in our area and the people here and realize everyone is proud to be living in the Tawas area and show it by their support of our schools, band and athletic program.

If anyone missed the football game Tawas played against Oscoda, they missed one of the proudest moments any Tawas Area team ever gave spectators. Our men gave 100 percent effort the entire game and, regardless of the score, was one of their finest victories. As we left the field after the game, we heard much, well-deserved praise for our team and I believe everyone felt as I did, with heads held high and pride swelling our hearts, "Oscoda knew we were there."

Jacob C. Montgomery
President
Tawas Braves Booster Club

Good Defensive Battle

Owls Win Over Braves

For the second straight year, Tawas Area Braves won the first half against Oscoda's Owls—then went down to defeat in the second half as the Owls won their second straight NBC encounter, 15-6, in a good defensive battle with the Braves.

ard of Tawas. "Our kids again demonstrated the tenacity that is peculiar to this team—we helped to create eight fumbles with hard hitting and we recovered the ball four times. But we were fighting for our lives as we went into the half leading, 6-0, against a tough Oscoda squad."

The Braves held Oscoda scoreless until two minutes remained in the third quarter. Led by Defensive Back Steve Sventko, along with Al LaBlance, Mark Schirmer and Steve Nichols, the Braves took advantage of every break which came their way and created a few of their own with hard tackles.

The first "break" came when the Tawas defense stopped the Owls, forcing Oscoda to punt from its own three-yard line. A bad snap from center and an alert rush by Tawas saw Chris O'Driscoll recover the pigskin. With three minutes, 47 seconds remaining in the first quarter, Halfback Dave Moe went up the middle for three yards and Tawas' only touchdown of the night.

A jarring tackle by Sventko with four minutes, four seconds to go in the second half stopped one Oscoda drive as Tawas recovered the fumble on its own eight-yard line.

Mike Russell turned in another key tackle in the third quarter to stop an Oscoda drive on the Tawas 17. Unable to get a sustained drive going against Oscoda's stiff defense, Sventko punted 40 yards on a third down quick kick to get the Braves out of trouble—but only temporarily. This play set the stage for Oscoda's first touchdown which was capped by a 50-yard touchdown drive in three plays, the last eight by Fullback Burcher.

The Owls got a big break with one minute, 59 seconds remaining in the third quarter. The Owls booted an exceptionally deep kickoff and Russell caught the ball instead of letting it roll into the endzone for a touchdown. Officials ruled that Russell's knee touched ground in the endzone giving Oscoda a safety.

The Oscoda offense finally started to roll in the fourth quarter and Tawas could not stop the drive. The Owls began to take advantage of its passing attack by Quellman in the flats to move the ball goalward. With three minutes, 55 seconds remaining in the quarter, Quellman went the final yard on a keeper to cap a 62-yard touchdown series in 12 plays.

Offensively, Oscoda had 58 rushing plays to 34 for Tawas. The Owls rushed 308 yards on the ground to only 97 by Tawas. Quellman completed six out of 11 passes for 54 yards while Quarterback Tom Kasichke of Tawas completed one out of four passes (to Janego) for 18 yards. The Owls had total offensive yardage of 311, while Tawas had 106.

Oscoda racked up 18 first downs, three by passing, 13 by rushing and two by penalties. The Braves had five first downs by rushing and two by penalties.

Simmon turned in two key pass interceptions for the Owls which proved to be heart breakers for the Tawas offense.

Top ground gainer for the Owls was Clark, who had 107 yards for an average of 5.6 yards per carry. Quellman had 69 yards.

Moe was the mainstay of Tawas' offense with 53 yards in 18 attempts. Sventko picked up 23 yards in three carries.

Leading the Tawas defense was Sventko with seven unassisted tackles and nine assists. LaBlance had seven unassisted tackles and five assists, followed by Schirmer with six unassisted tackles and two assists. Steve Nichols had four unassisted tackles and eight assists, Steve Anschuetz had two unassisted tackles and 11 assists and Russell had one unassisted tackle and 11 assists.

The combined marching bands of Oscoda Area School and Tawas Area School presented an outstanding halftime show.

Hale Eagles Win Over Posen, 58-14, in Annual Homecoming

Hale Area Eagles made it a perfect night for a large homecoming crowd in shirt-sleeves by defeating visiting Posen, 58-14, in a North Star League encounter.

The Eagles, undefeated in three games, were not as sharp in the blocking and tackling departments as in the two previous games, but had little trouble with the less experienced lads from "potato country."

The Eagles scored five touchdowns in the first half, three in the opening quarter and two in the second quarter, and scored nearly every time they had their hands on the ball. The tempo slowed in the second half as Posen scored early in the third quarter and then later in the fourth quarter, but an interception, two recovered fumbles and a last ditch pass gave the Eagles three more touchdowns.

Scoring for the winners was distributed among six players with Halfback Don Brandt leading the way with two touchdowns and one conversion. Quarterback Jeff Kocher scored two touchdowns, while Halfback Jim Stevenson scored one touchdown and four two-point conversions. Single touchdowns were scored by Keyno Shellenbarger, Joe Kimmmerer and Chris Keene.

Brandt scored the first touchdown on a 41-yard ramble. Kocher intercepted a Posen pass and went 27 yards for a touchdown. Keyno Shellenbarger turned in a scoring run on a 61-yard scamper, all in the first quarter.

Kocher opened the second quarter when the Eagles showed some exceptional ball handling and Kocher scampered 62 yards for a touchdown. Brandt caught a pass from Kocher and went 21 yards for a touchdown.

Halftime ceremonies saw a parade of floats, a musical program by Hale Area School marching band and crowning of Cyndi Piper as 1971 homecoming queen. Other senior members of her court included Lonna Bell and Lynne Wilson. "Buzz" Hausner and Lana Ruckle represented the junior class on the homecoming court, while Patti Johnson represented the sophomore class and Ann Shaw was the freshman class representative.

Other homecoming festivities included a parade of floats Friday afternoon and the annual homecoming dance Saturday night.

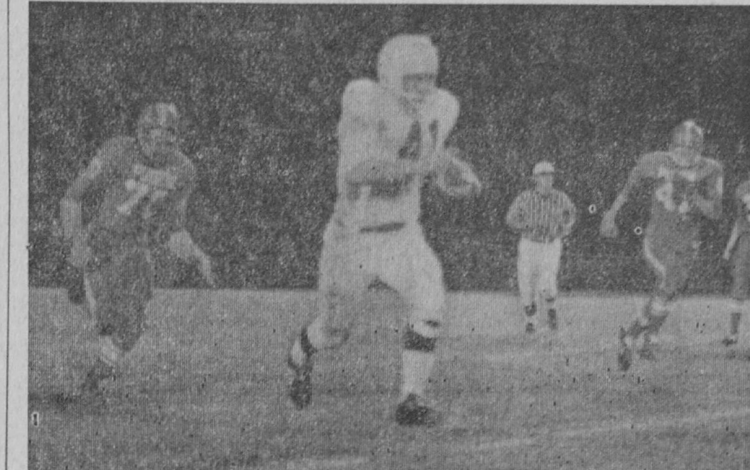

Second half action opened with Posen reaching the scoreboard. Quarterback Tony Reiser scored on a sweep around left end after the scoring play was set up by an Eagle fumble.

Kimmmerer, Hale Area defensive back, intercepted a pass and went 45 yards for a touchdown. A jarring tackle by Joe Bell set up the next touchdown as Chris Keene picked up the loose ball and went 34 yards for a touchdown.

The second Posen touchdown was set up by two 15-yard penalties marched off against the Eagles. Wilbert Orban scored the touchdown and ran the conversion for the visitors.

Bruce Bernard recovered a fumble on an attempted pass and, with three seconds to go, Kocher passed to Stevenson, who was alone in the endzone.

Lynn Bernard led the Eagle defensive unit in stopping the Posen team with only short yardage during the night.

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

(Read Ephesians 6:10-20)
Be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might.—Ephesians 6:10 (rsv)

During my first day as a hospital volunteer, a nurse sent me to see an elderly woman. When I opened the door and saw her, I wanted to run. She did not look like a person at all. She was so thin that her bones almost protruded through her skin. Her hair was nearly as white as the sheets on her bed. A bottle of bright red blood was hanging above her bed. Through a plastic tube the blood was slowly flowing into her arm.

Even though I wanted to run, I did not. I felt an uncontrollable force moving me toward her bed. When I lifted her head and held a glass of water to her lips, my hands were steady. Her tired eyes smiled into mine and her weak "thank you" made up for all the discomfort I had suffered when I stepped into her room.

I knew that she owed her thanks to God. He had given me the strength to do what I thought was impossible.

PRAYER

Help us, Father, to lean upon Thy strength in all we do. Use us to bring light into the lives of others; through Christ, our Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Tawas United Methodist Church Opens Crusade

"Together We Build—The Future Is Now!" is the theme adopted by Tawas United Methodist Church in its current crusade to fulfill a 114-week building fund goal. This crusade stems from recent administrative board approval of the study committee recommendation to construct a new building for the Tawas United Methodist Church on the new church property at the corner of Fifth Avenue and M-55.

Purchase of this property followed the successful May 5, 1968, merger vote of the congregations of Tawas City and East Tawas Methodist Churches.

Arriving Friday, October 8, to serve as program director of the crusade is Dr. Wesley E. McKelvey, who is now with the National Division, Department of Finance and Field Service, Board of Missions of The United Methodist Church. He will speak at the 9 and 10:30 services on Sunday, October 10, and Sunday, October 17.

In preparation for the crusade, the Rev. Kenneth Tousley, pastor, commented: "The United Methodist Church has had a long and distinguished history in the Tawas area. In the most recent years, our witness to the unity of our faith in God has been a testimony in our community. As rich and meaningful as our history has been, we must now accept the full responsibility of our day, as those who preceded us did for theirs."

The executive committee is headed by Harold Knight, general chairman. Serving with him are the following co-chairmen: Beatrice Durant and Mary Jane Burdett, production committee; William Lyon and Myron Trafelet, visitation committee; Eber Wetzel and William Inglis, leadership gifts committee; Marjorie Lyon and Shirley Thornton, publicity committee; Lois Trafelet and Dianne Knight, fellowship committee; Ellen Evans and Evah Rayburn, spiritual emphasis committee.

Evangelist Sets Week - Long Program in TC

Jake Boggs, widely-known evangelist from Charleston, West Virginia, will be at the First Baptist Church, Tawas City, Monday through Sunday, October 18-24, at 7:30 p. m. each evening. The Rev. Sidney Rowland, local pastor, said, "People of all ages need to experience God's love and forgiveness so that they may be able to cope with the complex problems of our time."

It has been said that Mr. Boggs has a preaching pattern similar to that of Billy Graham and that his messages are inspirational like those of D. L. Moody. He received his college education in the United States and completed his theological studies in Canada. After studying eight years beyond high school and completing his formal training, he began a successful daily gospel broadcast in Charleston and for five years did evangelistic work throughout his native state.

For two consecutive years, the baptisms in his meetings totaled a phenomenal 10 percent of all baptisms within the large West Virginia Baptist Convention, where there are approximately 700 American Baptist Churches. This phenomenal record led the West Virginia Baptist Convention to engage Mr. Boggs for a program of evangelism in their churches.

Calls for evangelistic campaigns from distant states were received and his local broadcast was discontinued in favor of a nationwide evangelistic ministry. He has held over 400 crusades for Christ in which approximately 10,000 of the 18,000 professions of faith made have been public.

He was elected the first president of the ABC Associated Evangelists, an extension of the Department of Evangelism of the American Baptist Convention. His evangelistic ministry takes him through the United States and has taken him into 23 foreign countries.

WAS THAT REALLY ME—Murray D. "Pat" Van Wagoner views with amusement a photo showing him at his desk when he was state highway commissioner in the 1930's. It was hung in the newly established Michigan Highways Hall of Honor in Lansing along with photos of 11 other men who made outstanding contributions to the development of the state's 115,000-mile highway, road and street system. Van Wagoner, now 73, was the only state highway commissioner ever elected governor (1940). (Department of State Highways photo).

Workmen are applying the enameled tile to Orville Leslie's new service station and the building is rapidly approaching completion.

It Is "Sew" Easy

This is the year to start sewing. Why this year? Because there have never before been so many fashionable ideas and helps for the beginning sewer. Home sewing has come into its own as a legitimate handcraft and it is really benefiting from our current emphasis on "do your own thing."

What kind of help does the home-sewing industry offer you? There are the special "quicky," "jiffy" and "easy-to-make" commercial patterns. These generally feature simple lines, easy techniques and few pattern pieces. They are ideal for the beginner; you can successfully complete your sewing project in a short time. This should give you confidence to go on to bigger, better and more complicated patterns. Experienced sewers should not ignore these simplified patterns either. Using a pattern that goes together quickly saves time and may be the factor that can make sewing economically worthwhile.

As long as we are talking about the economic factors, let us consider the big question: Does home sewing save the family money? The answer is a definite maybe. The material cost of making a garment is usually less than the cost of an equivalent ready-made garment. What we often fail to consider, though, is the time we put into making the garment at home. This is time not available for doing other tasks. Figure it out sometime. "Pay" yourself a very minimum wage of $2 an hour for the time it takes you to preshrink a fabric, alter, cut out and put together the next item you make. You may or may not be money ahead. (You also might feel your time is worth more than $2 an hour, especially if you work outside the home or have small children.)

Of course, there are other reasons for sewing besides economic savings. You may enjoy working with your hands. You may have more time than money. You may like the individuality that creating your own designs can give you. You may be extra-particular about fit.

For whatever the reason, take advantage of all the information now being distributed to you. Try patchwork, make a tie for the man in your life, even try your hand at creating a coat. This is the year you can do it. Watch for pre-cut garments, cut and sew kits, simplified notions, all geared to make the sewing easier for you.

Have the manufacturers taken away all the challenges in sewing? Not by a long shot. Perhaps the biggest challenge for this year's home sewer is to come up with an idea that someone else has not already put in a package or a kit. Maybe it really is not sew easy.

Social Security Benefits Explained

Question: I am 64 and will be retiring soon. My 66-year-old husband, who has been ill and unable to work for the past several years, collects a small social security benefit. I have been supporting him for the past several years. Could he be entitled to a benefit on my record?

Answer: Possibly. If he has been dependent on you for at least one-half of his support in the year immediately before you become entitled to social security retirement benefits, he could qualify as a dependent husband on your social security record. He can collect the larger of the benefits, either on his own record or on yours. He cannot collect both benefits.

Question: My doctor does not accept medicare assignments for direct payments to him. He has sent me a bill that I cannot pay right now. What can I do about it?

Answer: You can send the itemized bill to medicare before you pay it. You are responsible for the first $50 in doctor bills each year. After that amount is deducted, medicare will pay you 80 percent of the reasonable charge for the services shown on the bill. Then you can turn this money over to the doctor and you will only owe him the balance.

Question: My husband, who served 20 years in the United States Army, was recently killed in Vietnam. My nine-year-old son and I now get monthly payments from the Veterans Administration. Could we also be eligible for monthly social security benefits?

Answer: Yes. Since service in the United States Armed Forces is covered under social security, you should call or visit any social security office immediately to apply for survivor's insurance benefits. If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 48706; telephone, 893-9879. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Isoco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday from 9:45 a. m. until 12 o'clock noon and from 12:30 until 3:00 p. m.

You can earn some extra cash by selling those unwanted items with Tawas Herald classifieds.

★ WE SALUTE ★ THE 4-H CLUB FOR A JOB WELL DONE 4-H WEEK, OCT. 3-9

4-H Club Year Ended With Many Activities - Events

The 1970-71 4-H year ended September 30 with many activities and events occurring throughout the year. The Iosco County 4-H enrollment has increased in youth membership over 50 percent and in leader enrollment over 30 percent in the past year. Iosco County claimed well over 354 members in 4-H for the past year. Each member belonged to an individual club instructed by a leader in projects ranging from clothing, foods, crops and bird study to small engines, dairy, horses, knitting and many others. 4-H'ers of Iosco County participated in the following events throughout 1970-71: Leadership training sessions at Camp Kett, a state 4-H camp, on various project areas; exploration days with educational programs at MSU; Iosco County Fair; county 4-H achievement day; county and area horse show awards programs; county garden project program, and many other activities.

Leadership is being developed throughout the 4-H program in Iosco County. Youth are becoming involved through the major goal of 4-H which is to help our youth become better citizens. 4-H'ers make this pledge as they become 4-H members:

I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, my health to better living, for my club, my community and my country.

National 4-H Club Week in Progress

County, state and national 4-H organization for youth between the ages of nine and 18 years celebrates National 4-H Week through October 9. The state 4-H program is administered throughout the Cooperative Extension Service Department of the land grant universities of the state. One is Michigan State University, East Lansing. Each county in Michigan has a Cooperative Extension Service office through which the county 4-H program is administered.

The Cooperative Extension Service office is located in the Federal Building, East Tawas, and houses Marvin Davenport, county director; Susan Smalley, extension home economist, and Judith Place, extension 4-H youth agent. Any questions or help needed regarding 4-H should be directed to the office where the deputy agent and clerk will try to serve you.

Awards Program Is Climax to Year

The climax of the 4-H year is the annual awards program to honor all 4-H'ers who have completed projects throughout the year. This year is no exception. Parents, 4-H'ers and leaders will gather October 13 at the Tawas Area High School cafeteria for the annual awards program.

The program will begin at 8:00 p. m. with year pins and certificates issued to all 4-H'ers who participated in 4-H during the 1970-71 year. Throughout the program, the awards committee has scheduled various skits and entertainment activities.

Special county awards will be given to outstanding 4-H'ers in Iosco County. These award winners are not revealed until the evening of the program. The awards given are

70 Volunteers Aid Program

It takes dedication, hard work and a real interest in youth to keep the 4-H youth program in Iosco County growing. There are over 70 such volunteers who are willing to give up their time and talents to youth. Without their leadership the 4-H program could not exist. 4-H leaders range in service from one year to 18 years and all leaders are most invaluable.

The adult volunteer group is organized into a county 4-H Council which is the adult supervised group with Neil Abbott Sr., president; Mrs. Dorothy Daniels, vice president; Mrs. Sandy Sarato, secretary-treasurer. This group carries out county 4-H activities and meets monthly to conduct 4-H business. The organization representatives come from Tawas, Whittemore, Hale and Oscoda.

Many other people and organizations have also given continuous support to the 4-H program in the county.

Since the 4-H program is growing so rapidly there is always a need for volunteer leaders. Individuals with an interest in youth who would like to be part of this valuable team in helping to develop better citizens of tomorrow are urged to call the Cooperative Extension Service office, phone 362-3449 for more information.

Program Goals Established for Iosco Youth

With the 4-H year just ended and the new one already started, program goals for 4-H in Iosco County are well established. These program goals will be implemented after the election of the new officers in the month of October.

In April, a plan is submitted by Judith Place, 4-H youth agent, to the state 4-H office describing in detail those items which would take top priority for the following year in 4-H. With this procedure, top priority will be given to the following program goals:

To expand the 4-H program to all areas of Iosco County; to develop new program innovations along the lines of child care, snowmobiling, conservation and livestock; to make available whatever programs or educational services are necessary to help create a good drug education program in Iosco County; to provide career counseling for all 4-H'ers that are in need of it; to continually help leaders when needed; to develop a more family centered 4-H program in Iosco County; to expand the 4-H camping program; to strive to put before the public a proper 4-H image.

With these goals in mind, the 4-H leaders, the Iosco County 4-H Council, the 4-H youth agent and the Cooperative Extension Office staff will strive to create in Iosco County the best possible 4-H youth program.

Sell those unwanted items with a Tawas Herald classified and pay only a low rate.

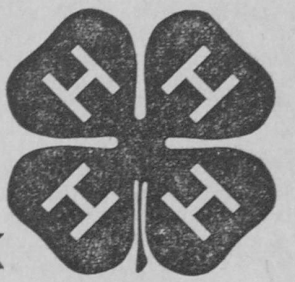

A SALUTE TO THE 4-H CLUB

... PREPARING OUR FUTURE LEADERS!

We're proud of the achievements of today's 4-H Club members... it's good to know that they are the farmers, homemakers, and craftsmen of tomorrow. Congratulations, 4-H'ers!

Swiss Spiced Cake

2 cups sugar
1 cup margarine
4 eggs
1 1/2 cups grated raw carrots
2/3 cup chopped California walnuts
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
4 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mace
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup hot water

Cream sugar and margarine until mixture is soft and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Stir in carrots and California walnuts. Sift together flour, baking powder, cinnamon, mace and salt. Add to cake batter alternately with hot water. Blend well. Bake in two well-greased 9-inch cake pans in moderate oven at 375 degrees for about 30 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool in pans. Remove cake layers to cake racks.

For Cake

When thoroughly cool, prepare a boiled brown sugar frosting. Place between layers and cover cake completely with frosting. Press additional walnuts around outer rim of cake.

Apricot Cheesecake

1 cup Honey Maid Graham Cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup margarine, melted
2 (1 lb.) cans unpeeled apricot halves
2 tablespoons (2 envelopes) unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup water
3 eggs, separated
1 (8 oz.) pkg. cream cheese, softened
2 cups (1 lb.) cottage cheese, sieved
1 can Sweetened Condensed Milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch

Combine crumbs, sugar and margarine; mix well. Press to bottom and 1-inch around sides of 10-inch spring-form pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate.

Drain 1 can apricots; reserve liquid. Sieve apricots. In double boiler top, sprinkle gelatine over water; let stand 5 minutes. Add beaten egg yolks. Cook over hot water; stir constantly until thickened. Stir into apricots. Cool until partially thickened (chill if necessary). Combine cheeses; blend well. Stir in sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice. Blend into gelatine-apricot mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff; not dry. Fold into mixture. Turn into crust. Refrigerate 3 hours. Drain 2nd can apricots; reserve liquid. Slice apricots; arrange on cake: Blend 1/4 cup apricot liquid with cornstarch. Cook reserved liquid; reduce to 1/2 cup. Add cornstarch; stir until thick and clear. Cool. Spoon over cake. Refrigerate 30 minutes. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Moravian Sugar Cake

6 1/2 to 7 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 1/4 cups sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1 cup milk
1 1/3 cups potato water or water
1 cup margarine
2 eggs, at room temperature
1 cup mashed potatoes, at room temperature
3/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 1/2 cups flour, 2 cups sugar, salt and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, potato water or water and 3/4 cup margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are warm; margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat for 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs, mashed potatoes and 1/2 cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat on high speed for 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Dough should be just soft and sticky enough to drop from a spoon. Cover; let stand at room temperature overnight. (Dough will more than double in bulk.)

Divide dough into 4 equal parts. Spread each part into a greased 8-inch square pan or 9-inch round cake pan. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 30 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine brown sugar, remaining 1/4 cup sugar and cinnamon. Dot cakes with remaining 1/4 cup margarine, pushing the margarine gently into the dough. Sprinkle with brown sugar mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for about 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans and place on wire racks to cool.

Apple-over Ginger Cake

1/2 cup margarine
1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 1/2 cups (2 medium apples) thick apple slices
1 1/2 cups flour
3/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons ground ginger
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup water
1/3 cup light molasses
1/3 cup oil
2 eggs
1/4 cup chopped California walnuts

Melt margarine in 9-inch round baking pan; sprinkle with brown sugar. Arrange apple slices and walnut halves in pan. Stir together dry ingredients. Blend in 1/4 cup water, molasses and oil; beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer. Add remaining water and eggs; beat 2 minutes at medium speed. Stir in chopped California walnuts. Pour batter evenly over apples. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes, or until done. Immediately loosen edges and invert onto serving plate. Serve warm or cool.

Orange Cake

3/4 cup (6 oz. can) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup margarine
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs

1 cup raisins
1/3 cup California walnuts

Combine 1/2 cup orange juice concentrate with remaining ingredients in large mixing bowl. Blend 30 seconds at lowest speed of mixer; beat 3 minutes at medium speed. Pour batter into greased and floured 13 x 9-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes until cake springs back when lightly touched in center. Drizzle remaining orange juice concentrate over warm cake; sprinkle with Topping.

Sugar-Nut Topping

Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup chopped California walnuts and 1 teaspoon cinnamon in small mixing bowl.

Made with the high-price spread?

No; made with Blue Bonnet Margarine.

Make any dish with Blue Bonnet, and you make it great. Because Blue Bonnet has the same great taste as the high-price spread. But Blue Bonnet fries better. Browns faster. And when you spread it on bread, Blue Bonnet's closer to the high-price spread than any margarine. It releases its flavor almost instantly—just like the high-price spread.

Everything's better with Blue Bonnet® on it (or in it).

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS by Bill Stokes

The Calhoun News of Hardin, Ill., says, "A man who is wrapped up in himself makes a mighty small package."

"The secret of economy is to live as cheaply the first few days after payday as you lived the last few days before it," advises the Janesville (Minn.) Argus.

"Invite a women's liberationist to lunch today," says The Brookings (S.D.) Tribune, "and let her pick up the check."

The following beauty hint is from The Lanesboro (Minn.) Leader: "To keep lipstick from smearing, eat onions."

Everyone counts calories but not many people know what one is, so the West Central Daily Tribune of Willmar, Minn. provides the following definition: A calorie is the amount of heat required at a pressure of one atmosphere to raise the temperature of one gram of water one degree centigrade. Now how can a little thing like that cause so much consternation?

The Kendall County News of Plano, Ill., says, "Good judgment comes from experience and experience comes from poor judgment."

The difference between a tax collector and taxidermist is that the taxidermist leaves the hide intact, claims the New Ulm (Minn.) Daily Journal.

The following is from the Steuben Republican of Angola, Ind.

"Why are you having just soup for lunch," the fellow asked the salesman, "are you on a diet?"

"No," replied the salesman, "I'm on a commission."

"One of the best ways to lose a friend is to tell him something for his own good," warns the Renville (Minn.) Star-Farmer.

"One of the first things one notices in a 'backward country' is that children are still obeying their parents," comments The Dell Rapids (S.D.) Tribune.

"The trouble these days is that there is no arrest for the wicked," complains the Mason County Democrat of Havana, Ill.

The Sargent County Teller of Milnor, N.D., reports the following sign in an antique shop: "Please, the only person interested in what your grandmother had was your grandfather."

"When a boy starts sowing his wild oats, it may be too late to start the thrashing machine," comments The Wisconsin State Farmer of Waupaca, Wis.

"How does it happen that we have enough memory to retain the smallest details of what happened to us, and not enough to recall how many times we have told them to the same person?" asks The Northwest Blade of Eureka, S.D.

"Anytime you think you have influence, try ordering someone else's dog around," says the Tell City (Ind.) News.

The Wishek (N.D.) Star says, "Some people are like wheelbarrows: they have to be pushed and are easily upset."

The following item comes from the Sargent County Teller of Milnor, N.D.: A desperate young woman clad only in a suit jacket and slip approached the lost and found department in a huge department store and inquired frantically, "Has anybody turned in a black skirt with five small children hanging onto it?"

"If success made the heart swell like it does the head, this would be a far better world," says The Reinbeck (Iowa) Courier.

The Sibley (Iowa) Tribune tells of the farmer who won a million dollars in a lottery. Asked what he was going to do now, he said, "Well, I guess I'll just keep on farming until the money is all gone."

Then there was the minister, as reported in The Review of Plymouth, Wis., who said there are certain things a man must do for himself, such as: blow his own nose, make his own love and say his own prayers.

The Calhoun News of Hardin, Ill., advises that the person who blows his stack adds to the world's pollution.

"Adolescence and snow drifts are about the only problems that disappear if you ignore them long enough," says the Holt County Independent of O'Neill, Neb.

The Tell City (Ind.) News says, "what you hear never seems as exciting as the things you overhear."

The Chaska (Minn.) Weekly Valley Herald says, "Another reason for not having more than two children these days is to make sure that your own teenagers don't outvote you on election day."

The Steuben Republican of Angola, Ind., advises "If someone calls you a perfect idiot, don't believe him. Nobody's perfect."

"The trouble with being tolerant is that people think you don't understand the problem," says The Pioneer-Review of Philip, S.D.

This tops any brownie recipe you've got.

No matter how good your family brownie recipe is—cake-like, fudgy, chewy, made from scratch or made from a mix—it will taste even better with a little of our Rocky Road frosting on top. Not to mention a few extra Diamond Walnuts inside.

- ROCKY ROAD BARS
1 9-in. square pan of brownies
1 1-oz. square unsweetened chocolate
2 Tbsps. soft butter
1½ cups sifted powdered sugar
4 tsps. milk
½ cup miniature marshmallows
½ cup coarsely chopped Diamond Walnuts.

Prepare brownies from your own recipe or a mix. Melt chocolate. Combine with soft butter, powdered sugar and milk; beat smooth. Spread over top of cooled brownies. Sprinkle with marshmallows and walnuts. With small spatula, swirl frosting around marshmallows and walnuts. Let frosting set before cutting. Makes 16 squares.

Diamond Walnuts. We've been in the family for three generations.

"Plastic rubbish bags have taken all the fun out of assessing the neighbor's booze intake while strolling to the bus on collection morning," comments The Janestown (N.D.) Sun.

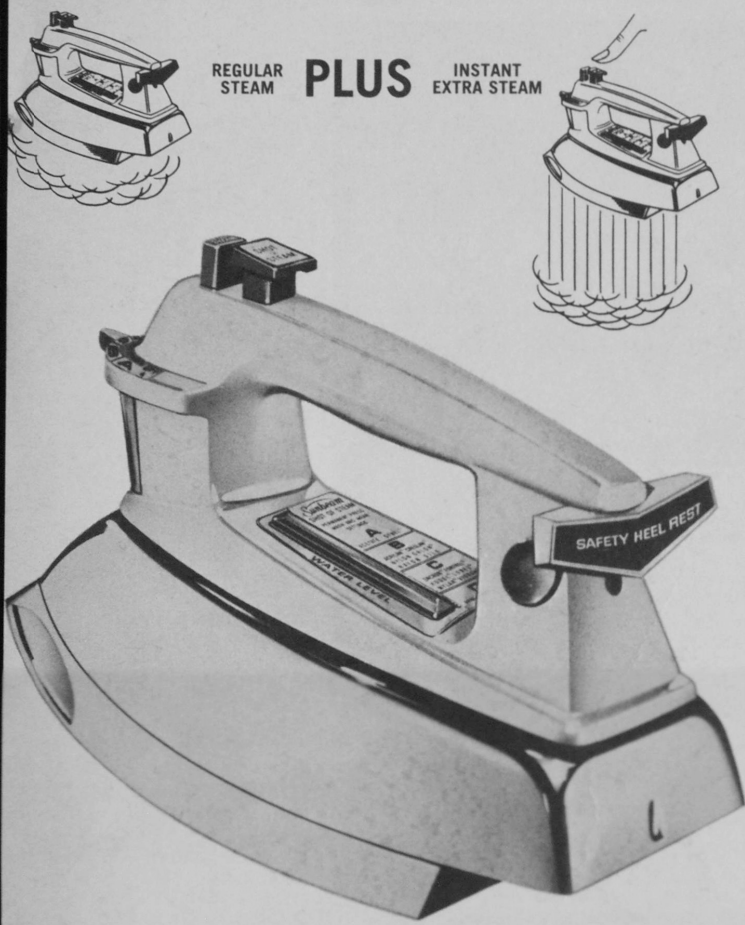

"The only thing harder to keep than money is quiet," laments the Sundusky (Mich.) Republican-Tribune.

The Gladwin County Record of Gladwin, Mich., defines a pessimist as a guy who sizes himself up and gets sore about it.

The way to have a balanced personality, advises the Salisbury, (Mo.) Press-Spectator, is to forget your troubles as easily as you do your blessings.

BY IRVING WALLACE

When Carol and Bob Reimers of Melville, North Dakota, go out to inspect their crops, they might be away for days.

It was not always that way. Carol and Bob met while attending North Dakota State University, getting married in 1945. "Bob and I started farming 160 acres," Carol recalls, "where we built a very small house and sheep shed, utilizing lumber from old buildings on the land."

"Fresh out of college," said Bob, "what we lacked in cash we had in enthusiasm and a determination to make a success of farming. Our first investment was in a few sheep, thinking they'd give us our first cash returns."

"In fact," Carol said, "that is about all the 160 was good for when we got it."

During the following years the farming success story of Carol and Bob Reimers sounds as if it came from a Horatio Alger book.

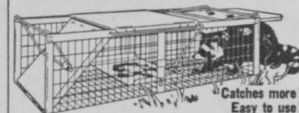

Today, it takes considerable time for Carol and Bob to look over their 7,500 acres of farming land, especially when part of their farming activities is located 1,600 miles away. They farm 6,000 acres in North Dakota and 1,500 acres near Beeville, in South Texas, 50 miles in from the Gulf.

The problem of visiting the fields is not as big as it might at first seem, even though so far apart. One reason being, the difference in growing seasons, and another reason being the Carol and Bob own and fly a Cessna 206 airplane. They have a hangar and a 3,200-foot runway on their North Dakota farm. They use the nearby municipal airport at Beeville when at their Texas farm.

Much of the Reimers' success story comes, too, from his specializing in growing and selling certified seed. Since becoming interested in this phase his expansion has been phenomenal. Carol is office manager and keeps the books, having an office in their home on the farm. They usually have seven year-around men and hire extra help during planting and harvest seasons. With a twinkle in his eyes he likes to refer to Carol as the boss.

Last year the North Dakota farm produced over 150,000 bushels of wheat, barley, flax, oats, and rye, that came inside the category of certified seed. In Texas, they produced approximately 20,000 bushels of flax, and an abundance of milo. In Texas the flax is planted in mid-November and harvested the last of April. The milo, which is strictly a cash crop and sold at harvest time, is planted the last of February and cut in early July. The Texas flax is stored at harvest time in a huge warehouse located in Beeville. All the certified seed is then cleaned, treated, and placed in bags. Practically all the flax and milo raised by Bob in Texas is purchased by exporters and shipped to foreign countries by boat from the nearby Corpus Christi harbor.

THAT UNBEAUTIFUL DWELLING CALLED A

SOD HOUSE

by GROVER BRINKMAN

No, a soddie is not a drunk. It's a home, rather a unique home, made almost entirely of sod.

Unless you were born before the turn of the century, it's pretty certain you've never lived in a soddie. But in pioneer days, to many frontier families, the sod-house was the only home they knew.

Mr. V. A. Kear, a 73-year-old Colby, Kansas historian, is one of the few men still alive today who was born in a sod house out on the prairie. In fact, Mr. Kear spent the first 26 years of his life in soddies, those ugly but efficient homes that sprang up on the windswept prairies west of the Mississippi when the surge of civilization swept westward in the Conestoga wagons of the day.

Now Mr. Kear is back in a sod house near Colby, where one of the few groups of real sod buildings still exist on the prairie.

Because the sod house has an important historic background that Mr. Kear feels should be recorded and enhanced, he is maintaining a community of these old prairie dwellings that is called Sod Town, located just off Highway 24 east of Colby. He has been collecting prairie pioneer artifacts for more than 35 years, and in 1955 organized a historical society called The Sons and Daughters of the Soddies, Inc., which has a steady growth. The purpose of the society, he said, was to show honor and recognition to the thousands of courageous, resourceful pioneers who came West, built their sodhouses and dug-outs on the prairie, and somehow endured the merciless sun of summer and the frigid prairie winters.

The society now has nearly 25,000 members, all of whom are interested in preserving the many household items, vehicles, implements, costumes, toys, books, pictures and documents of the early prairie pioneer.

At Sod Town, three original sod buildings are being preserved, including a one-room schoolhouse. Mr. Kear pointed to holes in the dirt walls of the sodhouse he uses as a museum.

"Sparrows do that," he observed. "They burrow into the walls to build their nests, and they make a lot of noise. That's one of the bad things about a soddie."

These sod buildings were warm in winter, he pointed out, and exceptionally cool in summer, for the sun's heat never penetrated the thick dirt walls. Sod was even piled on the roof.

"Many a time during the spring months," Mr. Kear continued, "one could mow the roof."

Believe it or not, that tough prairie sod, interwoven with roots and vegetation, withstood rains, storms and the elements over long periods of time before re-sodding was needed. Baked and cooled it finally hardened to a glaze-like surface. If repairs were needed to the walls or roof, the sod was right there on the prairie, ready to be dug and applied.

The Great Plains, with miles and miles of open prairie, were once dotted with sodhouses, the only homes the pioneers knew, according to Mr. Kear. Those low, squat houses, made entirely from the soil, were a refuge when winter cracked down. Even Indian arrows couldn't penetrate the thick walls.

Prairie mothers gathered wild flowers on the plains, and replanted them close to their sodhouses, to add a woman's touch. At night these same mothers listened to the wailing cries of coyotes and wolves, and often the more ominous cries of attacking Indians, or the drunken revelry of cowboys on an owlhoot trail. Now the sod buildings are slowly but surely disappearing.

But if Mr. Kear has his say, at least a representative community of sodhouses will remain to show the succeeding generations how life was lived on the open prairies of the plains states before the turn of the century.

Can a hunter learn anything from a skeet shooter?

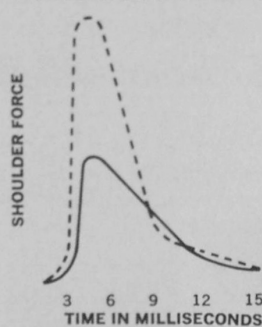

"Yes", say Remington experts... including why our Model 1100 Automatic Shotgun—the top gun in skeet—is tops in the field!

It's said some hunters don't shoot skeet because they can't eat clay pigeons. But, if you don't count taste and plumage, there is virtually no difference between a clay bird and a game bird. As far as a wing shooter is concerned, both are moving targets with the same problems of pointing, swing and lead.

If you go hunting with a skeet shooter, don't bet against him. Because skeet actually came from the field. It was developed about 50 years ago by the late Charles E. Davies, at Andover, Mass. He was an avid upland game hunter and wanted to practice shots he had missed while hunting. And don't forget that a dedicated skeet shooter may shoot at thousands of clay birds a year, each one simulating a game bird in flight. So it would take a really tricky bird to fool him. Naturally, like the hunter, the skeet shooter wants a shotgun that points naturally, patterns consistently and is reliable. That's why you'll find so many Model 1100's in the hands of so many skeet shooters, especially at championship events.

When you hold an 1100, you can tell it's different. The 1100 is designed with "muzzle preponderance"... balanced so there's weight at the muzzle. We believe this helps you hold an 1100 steadier than a shotgun without it. And we think it helps you point easier and faster and swing more smoothly, too.

Remington designers have given the 1100 a rate of fire they feel is optimum. Pull the trigger, and the 1100 ejects the empty hull and chambers a fresh shell automatically. You can fire again as soon as this cycle is complete. But, if the cycle takes too long, you may lose the chance for a quick second shot. And if the cycle is too fast, you're apt to shoot too soon... and miss. Remington's designers believe that the 1100's rate of fire is an ideal compromise between those two extremes.

The dotted line shows the recoil force from a typical fixed breech shotgun action (Shotgun weight: 7 lbs. 2 oz.). The solid line shows the recoil force delivered by a Model 1100 (Weight: 7 lbs. 12 oz.). Checked and proved by computer, the Model 1100 delivered 55% less force than the fixed breech gun. Each gun tested with a 12 ga. magnum load.

The 1100 really reduces recoil sensation. Remington has found a way to "soften" recoil sensation by distributing it. The chart shows how the Remington Recoil Reduction System works by plotting shoulder force against time. The dotted line shows what happens when a 12 gauge magnum load is fired in a fixed breech shotgun of approximately the same weight as the model 1100. The recoil quickly rises to a high peak. The solid line shows the recoil when the same load is fired in an 1100. The line starts to rise but the system traps some of the recoil force, releasing it later. Thus you feel a "push" instead of the usual jolt you can get from a competitive gun.

If you like good-looking shotguns, you'll like the looks of an 1100. Those looks are functional, too. Our RK-W wood finish does more than dress up the stock. It's tough and scratch-resistant. Our "vibra-honing" metal finish not only permits a deeper, richer blueing... but it also makes the working parts smoother so there's more glide and less friction.

The Model 1100 comes in 12, 16, 20, 28 and 410 gauges. And there are optional interchangeable barrels within each gauge. In addition to the standard models, there are three-inch magnum 12 gauge, two lightweight 20 gauge models (one a magnum), deer models with rifle sights, and trap and skeet versions. Prices start at $184.95*.

Use the shells we test the 1100 with. The champions do. Here's something else you can learn from skeet shooters: use Remington-Peters shells. That's what both the High Overall World's Champion and the runner-up did in all events at the 1970 World Skeet Championships. Skeet shooters know their ammo as well as their shotguns.

The Model 1100 is available in these 5 gauges.
