

TA Board Opposes Elimination of All Property Taxes

In answer to a survey conducted by the Michigan Association of School Boards, Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night voted, 4-1, with one member undecided, to oppose the complete elimination of property taxes for financing school operation.

The question of eliminating the property tax to finance school operation is to be placed before voters this November in a proposed constitutional amendment.

Favoring the complete elimination of property taxes was Trustee Leonard Sarki, who stated he believed that property taxes were too burdensome to people. Favoring partial retention of property taxes, along with an income tax, for financing school operation were Pres. Robert Elliott and Trustees Helen Payea, Clare Herriman and Dr. James Jacques. Mrs. Charles Schreck said she was undecided on the question and said she could take no position at this time.

During discussion on the matter, Elliott expressed the opinion that complete removal of property taxes from school financing would ultimately result in the inflation of property values. Mrs. Payea and Herriman were of the opinion that exclusive school financing by an income tax would place schools at a disadvantage during economy slumps at the state level.

Supt. Edward J. Barry expressed the opinion that the property tax should be retained, that there should be a state-wide collection and equal distribution to all schools. He believed that a basic 10-mill allocation would operate any school in Michigan, basing this on his belief that assessments were not equalized around the state, which has resulted in an average of 26 mills to be levied for school operation.

"It is a pretty sad state when we have to finance a kid's education through state cigarette and liquor taxes, plus a new lottery," said Barry. He said that schools were obligated to pay teacher salaries according to contract, but that schools lost 51 million dollars last year due to strikes and a subsequent stall in the state's economy.

The superintendent believed that the proposed income tax would provide immediate relief to the problem, but that an income tax was not good over a long period. He said, however, that present property assessment procedures being practiced around the state were not keeping pace with inflation and that some areas were being hurt by following state assessment guidelines, while others were not following the law.

In other business, the board of education again went on record as desiring this county to become a part of the Bay-Arenac Intermediate School District. A 26-man committee is currently studying the regionalization of intermediate districts and this county could be placed with Bay-Arenac or with COORE Intermediate School District.

Boards of education of Isosco's four schools have favored a reorganization with Bay-Arenac District. Barry said Monday night if such a reorganization is not successful and the county is included with some other intermediate district, schools of Isosco might ask that this intermediate district be annexed to Bay-Arenac. At this point, the state does not have veto power over such a move. A vote of the people would be required for annexation.

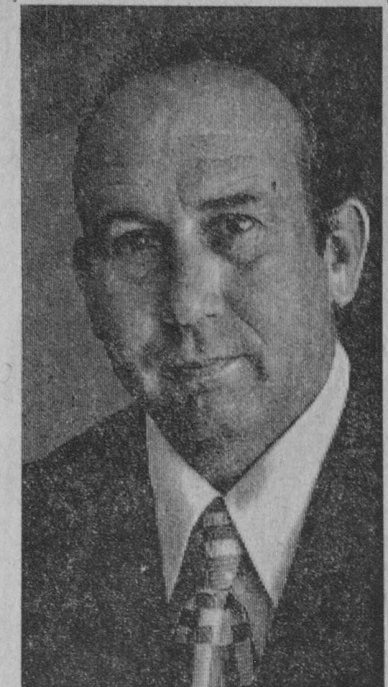

Barry said that Isosco schools presently utilize data processing services and the film library of Bay-Arenac.

The board of education adopted a formal policy concerning needs of this school district. Adoption of the policy is to assure a comprehensive approach to projecting and planning needs, including the expanding and changing educational program, relations with the total community and projected developments in those relationships, plant and site aesthetics as they affect the education of pupils and feelings of people about their schools.

In addition, the policy notes the changing makeup of the population as to age distribution and educational levels, community planning and zoning, financial ability of the school district, safety and welfare of students, relationships between projected new facilities and those already in existence, true economy reflecting full value for each dollar expended.

The superintendent was directed to establish administrative arrangements.

Groff New Member Of TC Council

William Groff, 46, has received the unanimous endorsement of the Tawas City Council and was appointed last Wednesday night to fill the vacancy of Ald. Frank Ahonen, who resigned July 24.

A stalemate resulted at the council's meeting August 7 when a three to three tie resulted when the names of Groff and Del Myles were entered into nomination.

During last week's special meeting, Mayor John N. Brugger told members that he was of the opinion that the successful candidate to fill the vacancy should have the unanimous vote of the council. While stating that he believed that Groff would make an excellent councilman, Brugger favored the naming of Myles, former park board chairman, a former member of the planning commission and presently a member of the water board.

Following discussion, a unanimous vote by councilmen and the mayor appointed Groff as Ahonen's successor. He is to serve until the next regular election in November 1973.

Groff is plant superintendent for Michigan Gypsum Company, was once employed by the city's department of public works and was superintendent of Huron Building Supplies for 10 years.

Two Isosco Men Injured In Two Crashes

Two Isosco County residents were injured in separate accidents over the week-end, according to law enforcement agencies.

Ronald G. Grabow, 33, of National City was hurt Sunday afternoon when his motorcycle tipped over on private property in Plainfield Township. He was taken to Tolfree Hospital, West Branch.

Douglas G. Webb, 21, Hale, was injured Saturday in Mills Township, Ogemaw County, on Selkirk Road when he lost control of his car. It went off the shoulder through a ditch and hit a fence and tree. He was taken to Tolfree Hospital, West Branch, and transferred to Grayling Hospital on Monday.

Aikens Challenges State Gill Net Ban

Sam Aikens, Tawas City commercial fisherman who won a circuit court battle here seven years ago lowering the legal size of commercially caught perch, has again challenged the Michigan Department of Natural Resources over enforcement of state fishing regulations.

Aikens was arrested Sunday afternoon at his Tawas Point dockage at Jerry's Marina and charged with having in his possession 14 boxes of perch caught illegally with gill nets and other counts of failing to allow conservation officers to inspect a licensed fishing operation aboard his vessel and assault.

Aikens entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned Tuesday afternoon in district court. Trial has been scheduled for September 13.

Ironically, a feature story was published in Sunday morning's Bay City Times which was highly sympathetic toward Aikens' views toward gill net fishing. The article, with photographs, stated that Aikens had chosen to fish perch with gill nets, in violation of DNR regulations; that he daily was bringing in catches ranging up to 1,500 pounds, and claimed that there are more fish today in Saginaw Bay than commercial fishermen and sports anglers can take out.

William Busby, Oscoda officer for the DNR, who told the Herald that he had Aikens' boat under surveillance during his Sunday morning fishing operations, met Aikens' fish tug as it docked at Jerry's Marina.

Busby said that Aikens would not allow him to board the vessel to make an inspection, demanding that a search warrant be obtained. Busby said that while he told Aikens that a search warrant was not necessary as a violation had been committed in his presence, the officer deemed it advisable to obtain a warrant to "avoid a scene" at a public mooring.

Leaving two local reserve deputy DNR officers and a marine safety officer from Mio in charge, Busby left for the Isosco County Building in Tawas City where he met with Pros.

Atty. Kenneth Myles and District Judge J. Richard Ernst.

Myles authorized the warrant and Ernst signed the document, which is a requirement for issuing a search warrant.

Upon Busby's return, however, a shoving match had taken place at the boat mooring and both Aikens and one of the volunteer deputies had fallen into the water.

According to a spokesman for the DNR, Aikens is licensed to fish perch using trap net gear. He is charged with violating the state's zone management law by using gill nets, which have been outlawed.

Studies during the past several years by the DNR's fishery division indicated that overfishing by commercial operators has been the major cause of perch depletion in Saginaw Bay. Fisheries men of the DNR believe that a closure on commercial perch fishing with gill nets, along with controlled fishing with more selective trap nets, would improve the area's stocks and recreational fishing opportunities in the shortest possible time.

The plan to control commercial fishing ran into a snag in 1971, when the DNR bowed to pressure from commercial fishing interests and tabled plans to restrict commercial perching in Saginaw Bay. In 1970, commercial operators had taken approximately 500,000 pounds of perch from the bay.

However, hearings were held later in the year and the commercial control measures were adopted. Many sports fishermen believe that the control is responsible for resurgence of fish populations and the present excellent perch fishing in Tawas Bay.

Since enforcement of the law, however, a defect has been discovered in that the legislative act provides no penalty clause for violations. The DNR has already lost a similar case against an Oscoda fisherman in district court here and in two other Michigan counties. In the case against Aikens, the prosecuting attorney plans to proceed on a different section of the statute.

In 1965, Aikens successfully challenged the DNR on its regulations concerning the size of commercially caught fish, claiming that Saginaw Bay perch had undergone a physical change and were "short, fat and stunted." The DNR confiscated several truckloads of perch which were undersized, according to its standards, from Aikens.

At the conclusion of the court hearing, Judge Allan C. Miller issued a temporary injunction against the DNR, agreeing with fishermen that language used in the law then in force was questionable and emphasized the need for complete revision of the act.

A year-long controversy erupted in 1965 concerning commercial gill net pressure on perch populations of Saginaw Bay. Tawas City Council, Iosco Sportsmen's Club along with tourist and resort interests emphatically opposed the DNR fish division chief's position that there was an over-population of yellow perch.

The matter did not come into prominence again until April 1970, when biologists from the DNR's Great Lakes Fishery Station warned that Lake Huron's yellow perch population, centered in lower Saginaw Bay, was facing extinction due to over exploitation by commercial operators.

In March of that year, biologists said that a high market demand expected in 1970 would encourage a fishing intensity that could completely negate effects of restrictions imposed by the state under the zone management plan adopted in 1969.

COMING to the Tawas-Oscoda area last week-end were members of the Script "A" Chapter of the Model A Restorers Club of Flint and Saginaw. Joining members of the AuSable River Chapter of MARC, the group entered 24 gleaming Model A Fords in Saturday's tourist festival parade. The lineup of cars above preceded the parade at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rigg on M-55. William Pressprich and son, John, left, were proud of their car which won a first place in the national meet two weeks ago. The parade lineup is pictured below. Would Adopt Calendar Of County Events

A committee to develop a county recreational brochure has been appointed by Robert Foster, chairman of the Isosco County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Holding its first meeting last week, methods and procedures to be used that would adequately cover all facilities of the county were discussed.

The committee felt that a calendar of events should be adopted and printed on the back of a map of the county and that these maps should be distributed to the tourist industry for patrons.

A meeting has been scheduled for Thursday, September 28, 7:30 p. m., at the Isosco Cooperative Extension Service by Marvin Davenport, county extension director.

Those present at the first meeting included Robert D. Grampré, Peter A. Lichtfusz, Harris H. Barkman, Ralph Waver, H. W. Gage, Louis Kendall and F. B. Lomas. The committee hopes that the Hale and Whittemore areas will be represented at the next meeting and Davenport urges community officials to contact any of the above named individuals.

No Change Anticipated In Dress Code

Despite rumors to the contrary, Tawas Area School does not anticipate any change in its dress code from last year. At Monday night's meeting of the board of education, administrators said that the only restrictions concerning dress of students were: No open midriffs, no tank tops, no shorts "that are too short" and that all students are required to wear shoes. The school emphasizes that the manner of dress is a reflection on the individual student.

Prin. John Alexander announced that registration for all high school students will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 23, 24 and 25. Junior high students are to register on Monday and Tuesday, August 28 and 29.

Alexander said the registration days would give some indication as to what enrollment could be expected during the coming school term. He said that scheduling had been simplified this year through the use of Bay-Arenac Intermediate School District's computer.

School Construction Delay Proves New Headache for Hale Area Superintendent

With the opening of school only three weeks away, Paul Keene, superintendent of Hale Area Schools, is becoming concerned over a three-fold problem which is facing the school district.

Those problems include school financing, transportation and a delay in completing the new high school building.

"I believe the majority of residents in this school district realize that we are down to the wire as far as school financing is concerned. But what happens as to the outcome of the August 29 millage vote will actually determine how long this school will operate this year—it is as simple as that and I hope that all parents and interested citizens are aware of the consequences," said Keene.

Another problem not anticipated has been the delay in completing the new junior and senior high school building. Keene said last week that he now expects the new building to be ready for occupancy no sooner than December 1, rather than for regular fall opening.

"We just seem to be piling problems upon problems," commented

Keene. "We anticipate around 800 students in our schools when doors open for the fall term. This will mean that we will have to find room for another 60 students. We were overcrowded last year with 330 students in junior and senior high school and 410 in the elementary grades. We will have to use a shoehorn to get any more kids in those classrooms and it is no laughing matter."

Keene said that the school's new shop building probably would be completed in time for the opening of school, which should relieve some of the congestion. The old shop building will be converted for use as elementary classrooms.

Another problem facing the district is additional cost for transporting these new students. Another bus will have to be purchased along with hiring an additional driver.

"It really has been difficult for the principals to set up some type of program for school this year, what with defeat of the millage proposal and these new students," said Keene.

The millage election on August 29 is a real key situation in problems of expanding Hale Area Schools. Without approval by voters, there will only be enough money to operate until November 1. Without a successful vote, the state would have to come up with some solution after November 1—and it might not be to the liking of residents.

The school is asking for a renewal of nine mills which expired this year and an additional 3½ mills of taxes, making a total voted operational tax package of 12½ mills. The 3½ additional mills are needed to cover new operational expenses when the school is constructed.

PRESENTING a concert Saturday, August 19, 7:30 p. m., at the East Tawas City Park will be the 555th United States Air Force Band, comprising members of the Ohio Air National Guard. The group is to provide music for dancing at 9:30 p. m. at Tawas Area High School. The band has made a tour of the West Coast and completed a successful tour of West Germany. In addition to the visit here, the band will perform at Cheboygan, Alpena, Rogers City and Oscoda. The band is comprised of teachers, insurance men, engineers, businessmen and civil servants, all members of the Ohio Air National Guard.

Indies Go Down to Wire in Try for Championship

Tawas City Indies made a bold bid to repeat as champion of the North-eastern Michigan League's northern division, taking a 10-8 base running marathon Sunday from Lincoln. Ending the regular season in a tie, the Indies played Ossineke Monday afternoon and came out on the short end of a 6-2 count.

Monday's playoff was actually decided in the third inning when Bob Piper of Ossineke hit a two-run homer to put his team out in front, 3-1. The winners' final runs came in the bottom of the eighth inning when Eric Krebs cracked a three-run homer.

Tawas City outthit the winners, 7-6, but just did not have its home run punch of the preceding day, when the Indies pushed six runs across the plate on two round trippers. Krebs was the winning pitcher and Dennis Krish, who went the distance, was the loser.

The early innings of Sunday's contest were fantastic for the Indies, scoring 10 runs on eight hits in three innings. The Indies battered John McIntyre, losing pitcher, for 12 hits, while Ron Leslie was being hit hard by the Lincoln squad. Leslie was nicked for 10 hits and struck out five.

The big difference Sunday proved to be the heavy sticks of Dale Koepke and Dave Busha. Koepke hit a grand slam homer in the second inning and Busha countered with a two-run homer in the third inning. Veteran Ken Blust was the batting star of Sunday's tilt with two doubles and two singles.

Busha and Blust were the big guns in Monday's loss, each with two singles.

The Indies finished the 1972 season with a record of 10 wins and five losses.

Davison Low Bidder On Park Work

Low bid of $6,985 placed by Davison and Son of Tawas City on August 7 was approved by the Iosco Parks and Recreation Commission for construction of a sanitary dumping station, pump and well, plus an inside toilet in the registration office at Old Orchard Park, Oscoda.

It was felt by the park commission that completion of this dumping station for self-contained camping units, in addition to the new entrance road into the campground, will be improving services which will attract and retain visitors longer in the area.

According to Robert G. Allen, park manager, there have been 3,927 permits issued for 14,861 camper days at the end of July. Total attendance to the end of July has been 60,027.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Powwow

Plans for the annual powwow to be held September 28-30 in Boyne City were finalized at the Monday, August 14, meeting of Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary No. 5678. Eleven members were present.

District meeting is to be held Sunday, September 10, at the VFW Hall, Standish.

Agnes Kramer won the mystery package. Lunch was served by Geraldine Smith and Fannie Walstead Berckley.

Lakes Should Fall Next Month

Coming as good news to shoreline owners, the Great Lakes now have reached their maximum heights for 1972 and all, except Superior, will have begun normal fall declines in the next month.

However, all but Superior are anywhere from two to 19 inches higher than at this time a year ago. The lakes are above average August levels for the last 10 years.

Lakes Michigan and Huron are expected to drop an inch by September 11, according to the Lake Survey Center.

Supt. Edward J. Barry announced that four applicants for the position were to be interviewed, as well as four applicants for bus driver positions.

The superintendent told board members that he had notified two applicants for the director's job that no one would be considered unless he was a resident of the school district.

In other business, the board adopted a resolution for this school to belong to the Michigan High School Athletic Association. The MHSAA became an independent organization earlier this year.

No action was taken on a request by Richard Stock concerning back pay on hours earned toward a master degree.

Bids for furnishing bread, milk and gasoline for the coming school year were opened. Rainbow Bread Company was the only bidder on bakery products. McDonald Dairy of Flint and Nelkie's Dairy of Tawas

Girl Startled by Horn; Swerved Bike Into Car

A 13-year-old East Tawas girl, Cindy L. Hanewald, received minor injuries August 8 in a bicycle-car collision on Monument Road, one-half mile southeast of Wilber Road. Investigating state police said that a car driven by Donald G. Docking, 73, Tawas City, sounded his horn as it was passing Miss Hanewald's bicycle. The girl apparently was frightened by the sound and swerved into the path of the car.

Two Brooklyn Park, Minnesota, residents were treated at Tawas Hospital Saturday following a motorbike crash on a forest trail in Au-Sable Township. Michare T. Odekirk, 35, lost control of his motorbike in soft sand. The driver and his wife, Carol, both received minor injuries. James R. Boyd, 31, Oscoda, was treated Sunday at Tawas Hospital following injuries received in a motorbike race at Oscoda.

| 1 pound stewing beef, cut in 1-inch cubes | 1/2 teaspoon pepper |
| 2 medium onions, diced | 1 bay leaf |
| 2 beef bouillon cubes | 1 cup pared diced turnip |
| 2 cups boiling water | 1 large carrot, pared, cut in strips |
| 1 teaspoon sugar | 1/2 cup white wine |
| 3/4 teaspoon salt | 2 tablespoons corn starch |
| | 2 tablespoons water |

Heat corn oil in large skillet. Add beef and onions. Cook over medium heat, browning beef on all sides. Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water and pour over meat mixture. Add sugar, salt, thyme, pepper and bay leaf. Cover and simmer 35 minutes. Add turnip and carrot and simmer, covered, 35 minutes or until meat is tender. Pour in wine. Mix corn starch and water and gradually stir into goulash. Bring to a boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Makes 4 servings.

'Hot' Primary Election Had Only Average Voter Turnout

Perfect Weather for Parade

SATURDAY'S Michigan Tourist Festival parade enjoyed perfect weather conditions and several thousand persons lined the parade route through the Tawasess to watch the fun. There were clowns of all ages, boys and girls on decorated bikes, antique automobiles galore, decorated floats and horses. Showers curtailed much of the activities during the week but bright sun on Saturday and Sunday saved the entire program.—Tawas Herald Photos.

. . . funny clowns to please the kids

. . . and an old favorite, Smokey the Bear.

Iosco County's primary election on Tuesday, August 8, went down on the record books as "one of the hottest in history" but an estimated 65 percent voter turnout on election day proved to be overly optimistic.

County Clerk Keith Papas said Wednesday that 5,948 voters went to the polls, which represented about 58 percent of Iosco's registered voters. The above figure is based on a poll book count by the canvassing board.

Election night at the county building lacked the usual excitement of previous elections when local offices were at stake and campaigning was extensive. But early returns from two key townships—Plainfield and Oscoda—established trends in voter preferences which gave a good indication of the final results.

Sherman Township was the first to phone in its results, followed by Plainfield Township, which utilized voting machines for the first time. In an election earlier this year, Plainfield Township's election board did not finish counting ballots until 9:00 a. m. the day after the election. Complete information was in the hands of the county clerk before midnight in last Tuesday's election.

Other precincts were slower with returns, due to the three ballots to be counted, but 29 of 32 precincts had reported by 2:00 a. m. Wednesday. Papas said that he completed his tabulating work by 4:00 a. m., but the election night crowd had gone home—all of the races had been decided.

Sherman and Plainfield Townships established an early direction in the six-man race for Republican nomination for sheriff which was to continue throughout the night. Sherman gave George Westcott 58 votes and 15 votes to the other five candidates while Plainfield was even more emphatic, with 353 votes for Westcott and 145 for the remaining candidates.

A telephone call to Oscoda, which also utilizes voting machines, brought the result, at 11:00 p. m., that Westcott was running second to John Koenig, 203-453, and the race for sheriff was all but over. With each new group of totals posted on the bulletin board outside the county clerk's office, Westcott continued to widen his lead—160 to 65 for all other candidates in Grant, 569 to 225 for Donald Docking at East Tawas, 77 for Westcott to Dale Snyder's 46 at Whittemore, 544 for Westcott to 86 for all of the other five candidates in Tawas City.

The final total was 2,960 votes for Westcott, 743 for Koenig, 497 for Docking, 365 for Snyder, 331 for Keith Dobson and 214 for Francis Block. James Finley received 202 Democratic votes to win over Louis Sokola, who had 163, and will meet Westcott in November.

Early reports in the race for register of deeds were inconclusive with Plainfield supporting Leon Putnam, a native son, and Oscoda throwing its support to Mrs. Arlene Olsen. But Putnam took an early lead and then lengthened it, holding a 2,885 to 2,006 margin at the final counting.

Much interest was generated in the four contests for county commissioner seats. Robert Foster piled up 410 votes to win over Steve Paslaski, 230 votes, and Jack Allen, 231 votes, in District No. 1. Both Foster and Allen are members of the present nine-man county commission.

In District No. 2, J. Berkeley Smith, who was defeated in his last try for the commission, won over Donald Griffin, 51-41. This district includes Wurtsmith Air Force Base's Capehart Housing Unit and not particularly noted for local voting interest. Some problem was caused in this district due to the redistricting as some voters showed up at the wrong polls.

In District No. 4, Carl Libka surprised his fellow Tawas Cityan, Clement Stephan, with a 746-644 vote edge. Stephan has long been connected with city government, having served on the old board of supervisors and presently serves on the nine-man commission.

In District No. 5, William Wereley turned back James P. Mielock, 418-341, and will meet Robert Pember in the November election. A Democrat, Pember received 119 votes.

Fred B. Lomas received 1,272 votes as the unopposed candidate for District No. 3.

There were no surprises in other county, state or federal balloting. Clerk Papas received 3,780 ballots, Treas. Edward Nelkie received 2,884 votes. George Smith, Democratic candidate for register of deeds, received 285 votes. John Mielock, Republican drain commissioner, received 3,628 votes. Leon Brunson, Democratic candidate for drain commissioner, received 276 votes. Kenneth Myles was unopposed for prosecuting attorney.

George Prescott went out of Iosco County with 3,993 votes to be renominated as 105th District state representative. Louis Willford received 736 Republican votes for that office in Iosco. Earl R. Schuster, Democrat, who will oppose Prescott in the November election, received 319 votes.

Voters of Iosco County were emphatic in opposing the state's antlerless deer hunting season. A ballot included in Tuesday's election saw 907 ballots in favor of antlerless deer hunting and 4,441 opposing the measure. On proposal A, calling for an amendment to the state constitution to allow a trial by jury of less than 12 jurors, Iosco voters favored the proposition, 3,193-2,013.

Contests in township elections were decided as follows:

Alabaster—A 57-57 tie resulted in the race for township trustee between William H. Lingle and Emil Christenson, both Republicans. Arlene Washburn was nominated as trustee by Democrats with 14 votes; Leona Benson was renominated as the Republican candidate over Paul N. Sayles, 64-61; John Weible received the Republican nomination for supervisor with 87 votes and Mabel E. Smith was nominated to this office by Democrats with 16 votes; Ralph Rohrbach received the Republican nomination for clerk with 76 votes and Hope Rescoe received the Democratic nomination for clerk with 14 votes; Harry Welna was nominated as the Democratic candidate for constable with 14 votes.

Ausable Township — Republican nominees were re-elected in this township without opposition. A two-mill road tax proposal for two years was approved 259-223.

Baldwin Township—Richter Lixey

was renominated by Republicans, 257-129, over Peter Lichtfuss. Allen Anschutz received the Republican nomination for trustee over Theodore Moe, 222-151, while Emmett Cecil received 253 votes to 185 votes for Donald Wimby for the Republican nomination as constable. Other offices were unopposed.

Grant Township—John Skrocki was renominated as Republican supervisor over Ronald Ponke, 173-52. A millage proposal in the township won by a 147-145 vote. All other offices were unopposed.

Oscoda Township—Frank Bissonette and Oscar A. DiLoreto received the Republican nomination as trustee for four years, while Glen Highfield and Martin Gayeski received the Republican nomination as trustees for two years.

Plainfield Township — Dennis Chrivia was renominated Republican supervisor with 362 votes, while William Krantz received 95 votes as the Democratic nominee. The two men will be contestants in the November election.

Sherman Township—This unit will have contests in the November general election. John H. Jordan received 56 votes as the Republican nominee for supervisor while Bernard Lorenz received 31 votes as the Democratic nominee; E. Viola Chapman received 25 votes as the Democratic nominee for clerk and Peter J. Bassi received 16 votes as the Republican nominee; David A. Powlus received the Republican nomination as trustee with 50 votes and Leonard G. Cole received 32 votes as the Democratic nominee.

Tawas Township—Marian Ulman was nominated by Republicans as clerk over Donald Hester, 185-176. Florence Stock was nominated by Democrats as clerk with 14 votes.

Townships not listed above had no contests.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

4,000 Children Expected In Iosco Schools

15 Years Ago—

August 15—Boards of education and school administrators are beginning the final August push to swing wide the doors of four Iosco County schools for entrance of an estimated 4,000 children the first week in September. County Supt. of Schools Russell A. Rollin said that there would be another round of student increases for every school in the county this year. This has been the case for the past five or more years.

Grand opening of the newly-remodeled Keiser Drug Store in Tawas City will be held this week.

The state highway department proposed to purchase property on which the Greenwood and Watts school buildings are located in Grant Township for widening of M-55.

The new policy of transporting students to Tawas Area School was adopted by the board of education. Complying with the new state law, the school will not transport pupils living within 1 1/4 miles of the school they attend. Previously, the law limited the distance to one mile.

Formal dedication of the new Immaculate Heart of Mary Church will be held Sunday. Solemn High Mass will be celebrated by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Castaner, in the presence of the Most Rev. Stephen S. Woznicki, bishop of the diocese of Saginaw.

Work started Wednesday morning on the Mathews Street storm sewer from Fourth Avenue to Fifth Avenue in Tawas City. Approximately 500 feet in length, the storm sewer will provide drainage at the corner of Second and Mathews Streets.

25 Years Ago—

August 15, 1947—VJ Day was observed in the Tawas Thursday evening with a program at the Tawas City Park. Sponsored by Tawas Chamber of Commerce, the program opened with a concert by East Tawas High School Band, followed by a display of fireworks in the park and from boats on the bay.

Wilton L. Finley, county agricultural agent since 1936, has been appointed as extension specialist in animal husbandry at Michigan State College.

Iosco County delegates to the Northern Michigan 4-H Club Conference at Camp Ga-Gug-Lun, Gaylord, include Melba Sheffer, June Blakely, Mabel Gertz, Noreen Huber, Dorothy Katterman, Violet McKenzie, Anna Lynch, Ruth Vorhees, Hazel Buck, Elaine Strauer, Ruth Webb, Richard Garver, Herbert Bannister, William Bannister, George Smith, Ross Williams, Donald Lietz, Ralph Wogaman and Thomas Harris.

The pickle station has opened at Hale and large quantities of cucumbers are being brought in.

Norman Staebler has drilled a flowing well at the National Gypsum Company plant.

Fred Marsh and Peter Pfeiffer are now playing off the championship tournament at Tawas City Airport.

The government has dropped all controls of egg prices. This means the abolition of the bureaus for Cackle Control, the Federal Hen Administration and the Government Agency for Establishing Proper Heights for Chicken Roosts.

The Northeastern Michigan Hereford Calf Association will serve as host to beef cattle breeders and feeders from all parts of Michigan next week.

35 Years Ago—

August 13, 1937—Thurman Scofield of Hale is cutting timber for a new house to replace the one destroyed by fire. A bee is planned Friday when it is hoped to deliver logs to Salisbury's mill for sawing.

The AuGres plant of Consolidated Grain Company was completely destroyed by fire Sunday evening.

Charles Thompson of Reno Township, who bought a new combine this year, has a goodly number of callers each week to see him cut and thresh his grain.

Hale will vote September 7 on a proposal to purchase fire fighting equipment for the village. Several bad fires during the past few years have aroused public opinion and a considerable sum of money has been raised by popular subscription for purchasing fire apparatus. The township is seeking a tax to raise an additional $500.

Your money earns 9% a year helping a college grow...

The five-story Owosso Hotel was recently given to John Wesley-Owosso College as a gift. Free and clear. We are converting it into a modest-sized Conference Center much like the popular Kellogg Center at Michigan State University.

Our costs for this conversion, including refurbishing, the 43,000 square foot facility, will run approximately $300,000.00.

We are raising the money for this project by borrowing funds directly from our many supporters and friends who are interested in John Wesley-Owosso College - and in receiving a full 9% per year on their money.

Your investment is guaranteed by the College, and interest payments and note redemptions will be made from a Sinking Fund into which all revenues from the building are currently being placed. You will be issued a short-term note, (90 days on demand) but you may leave your money invested for longer periods if you wish.

It's a good investment and a worthwhile cause. Interested? Fill out the coupon and we'll forward all information to you immediately on how your money can go to college and earn 9% a year at one and the same time.

Parent May Qualify For Social Security

Question: My son died recently leaving a widow and small child who are now getting monthly social security payments. A neighbor told me that I might be able to get monthly checks as a parent. My son did support me, but I thought that a parent could not get payments if a worker left a widow and child. Is my neighbor right or am I?

Answer: Your neighbor is right. You may qualify for a monthly social security payment if you are 62 and if you were dependent on your son for at least one-half of your support at the time of his death. You should call, write or visit any social security office for more information about applying for payments.

Question: My husband is 67 and gets monthly social security retirement payments. I am 58 and totally disabled. Can I get disability benefits on my husband's work record?

Answer: No. You are not eligible to receive a wife's benefit until you are 62, unless you have a child in your care who is entitled to cash payments on your husband's work record. But, if you have worked long enough and recently enough, you may be eligible for disability payments on your own work record if your disability will keep you from working for a year or more.

Question: My wife and I were retired and getting monthly social security payments. My wife, who never worked under social security, died last month. My neighbor told me that I should apply for a lump-sum death payment to help with the funeral expenses. Is this correct?

Answer: No. The death payment is only made when a worker, insured under social security, dies.

If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1069 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 48706; telephone, 893-9579. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday of each month from 9:45 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Work Permit Needed When Hiring Minors

Isoco Intermediate School District reminded employers of minors under the age of 18 years that for legal employment, an employer is required to have on file an occupational approval from the department of labor and a minor's work permit from the school authority.

Occupational approval application forms are available from the department of labor at Lansing. Upon receipt, the department of labor reviews the application and, if the occupation is "approvable," the form will be so stamped and the occupational approval number attached.

The employer must send the minor to the local school authority for issuance of a work permit and it is important that the work permit be on the employer's premises before permitting a minor to start to work.

The Isoco Intermediate School District warns that a number of employers have not fulfilled their legal obligations and could be in serious trouble. It is recommended that anyone hiring or desiring to hire minors contact the intermediate school office immediately.

THE TOWER OF HISTORY is a tower of history. This handsome edifice, originally dedicated as The Shrine of the Missionaries, soars nearly 200 feet above Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan and vicinity, providing a panoramic view of the entire area, including the Soo Locks, the International Bridge, and Sault Ste. Marie, Canada. An additional feature this year is the conversion of the lobby into a small theatre, shown above, which provides a dramatic presentation of the history of the Soo area from which the missionaries and explorers launched the white man's original penetrations of the Midwest more than 300 years ago.

Please do not squeeze the peaches, plums or tomatoes! Squeezing fresh produce before buying will not tell you anything about quality anyway. It just makes food cost more.

Berry boxes wear "plastic hats" these days. That is one way of discouraging "shopper sorting" and in-store nibbling. Prewrapping, which many shoppers do not like, has helped cut produce losses, due to customers, from four percent to one percent.

Did you know that the average produce manager must straighten his displays every 40 minutes? This makes additional labor charges. Good shoppers can lower costs.

Ever hear of cart-napping? It is a known bad-shopping habit that increases during the summer. Depending on the size, shopping carts cost from $35 to $75 each.

Most people think of their taking carts in terms of borrowing. Too many times it winds up being a one-way trip. Ever been unhappy in a store with a cart shortage? It just may have been that some of the carts were borrowed.

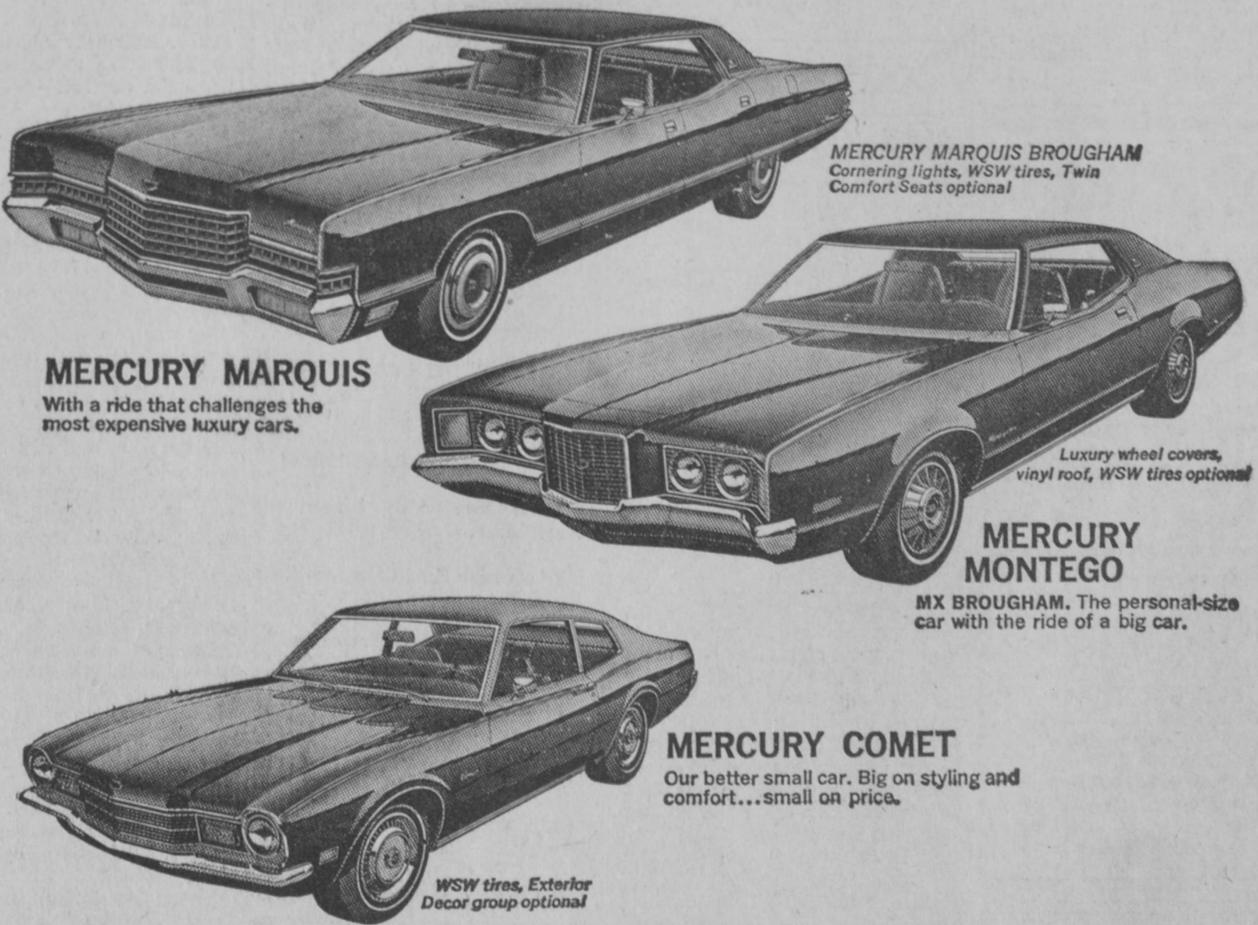

Shoplifting is another practice which increases the cost of food to those of us who pay. Retail food stores estimate that they lose as much in shoplifting as they make in profit. What can you do? If you see a shopper acting suspiciously, report it to the store manager. He will take appropriate steps.

Switching price tags is a kind of shoplifting really. Any checkout girl who's been on the job a few days can spot price switching, so usually this method does not succeed. Stamping directly on the containers is another way of eliminating this method of cheating the grocer and the honest shoppers.

Shoppers are concerned about rising food costs and understandably so. Some things that contribute to higher food costs you can do something about.

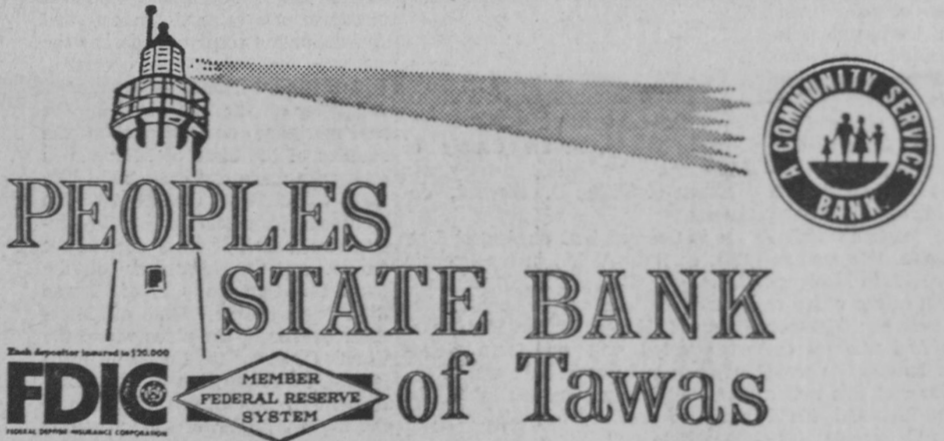

Sales are great and so are the savings!

Lincoln-Mercury sets all-time division sales records for the tenth consecutive month. We've got to be doing something right when we're setting records month after month. Maybe it's because nobody else in the business has more kinds of cars for more kinds of people. Maybe it's because we have better cars. Or maybe we've been offering better deals. Whatever the reason, now is a smart time to get a great buy while we're closing out our most successful model-year. Come in today. There's still a good selection of models, colors and equipment.
