

Westcott-Putnam Win

Approximately 65 percent of Iosco's registered voters showed to the polls Tuesday for the primary election as a day-long downpour failed to dampen the spirit of months of local campaigning by candidates.

George Westcott of Tawas City was a landslide winner in a six-man race for Republican nomination as sheriff, piling up amazing margins in every precinct but Osoda. With 29 out of 32 precincts tabulated at 2:00 a. m., Westcott had 2,551 votes as compared to 736 for John Koenig, his closest opponent. Totals received by other candidates at that time included: Donald Docking, 459; Dale Snyder, 341; Keith Dobson, 325; Francis Block, 187. James Finley won the Democratic nomination for sheriff over Louis L. Sokola, 189-152.

Leon Putnam was another big winner as he out-distanced Mrs. Arlene Olsen for the register of deeds nomination. At 2:00 a. m., Putnam had 2,527 votes as compared to 1,829 for Mrs. Olsen.

Races for Republican county commissioners had the following results: First District—Robert Foster won over Jack Allen and Steve Paslaski; Second District—J. Berkeley Smith defeated Donald Griffin; Fourth District—Carl Libka defeated Clement Stephan; Fifth District—William Weresky defeated James Mielock; F. B. Lomas was unopposed in the Third District.

Police Chief Resigns Over Accusation

Elmer Quandt, Tawas City police chief since June 15, 1971, submitted his resignation Monday night to the Tawas City Council. In his letter, Quandt said he would continue on the job until a replacement is found, but not later than August 31.

A motion by Ald. Robert N. Rollin to accept the resignation received no support from the council. Mayor John N. Brugger stated that, without support, no action could be taken.

However, Quandt said that he had no contract with the city and declared, "I mean I am resigning."

In his letter of resignation, Quandt stated: "As you are all aware, I was accused of not doing the job two months ago, a charge which has not been proven. As a result, my health has suffered to the point that I am afraid of developing an ulcer. Further, I find that trying to work during the day and then again at night is just too much."

The police chief stated that he would look for other employment.

At the regular council meeting June 5, Alderman Rollin expressed the opinion that the city police car was not being fully utilized for patrol work and questioned work hours of the chief and part-time patrolmen.

Under terms of the city charter, City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz would have responsibility for appointing a new chief of police. Previous to the effective date of the charter, the police chief was an appointee of the mayor.

Tourist Festival Features Saturday

A parade Saturday morning with a fireworks display that evening will be the concluding features of the annual Michigan Tourist Festival, held August 5-12 in the Tawas area. Sandwiched between these events will be a full slate of activities designed to entertain visitors as well as local residents.

The week-long festival opened last Saturday with the 12th annual arts and crafts show. The program on Monday and Tuesday included skydiving exhibitions.

Moving into a faster pace today (Wednesday), the schedule of events includes a skydiving exhibition, 6:30 to 8:00 p. m., at the Iosco County Airport, Tawas Bay Yacht Club's Lightning fleet will stage a race starting at 6:30 p. m. at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock, East Tawas.

Thursday's program will feature a band concert, 7:00 p. m., at the Tawas City Park by Tawas Area High School Band. A skydiving exhibition is slated at the Iosco County Airport starting at 6:30 p. m. Friday's program includes a makeup session for youngsters interested in entering Saturday's parade as clowns. Handling this program will be Shriners from Saginaw, who delight youngsters each year during the tourist festival parade. This instructional program will be held at Tawas Masonic Temple starting at 2:00 p. m. Other activities during the day include the East Tawas Garden Club's annual flower show, 3:00 to 8:30 p. m., at the East Tawas Community Building.

Saturday is the big day in the schedule of events and participants in the annual parade are to line up on Mathews Street, Tawas City, starting at 9:30 a. m. This year's parade should be an outstanding event. It is hoped by officials of the Tawas Chamber of Commerce that some 18 Model A Ford automobiles coming to the area for a week-end meet will arrive in time to join the parade. The visit to the Tawas-Osoda area is being sponsored by the AuSable River Chapter of the Model A Restorers Club and members of the local club are expected to have seven antique automobiles entered in the parade.

The parade is scheduled to start at 10:30 a. m. and the route will be from Mathews Street in Tawas City to the Federal Building at East Tawas. Other events Saturday morning include starting of the ox roast at the Tawas City Park, sponsored by the chamber of commerce, and the East Tawas Lions Club chicken barbecue at the East Tawas Park.

Ruth's School of Dance is to present its annual parade-ending revue, 12 o'clock noon, at the East Tawas Park. Prizes are to be awarded to youngsters winning prizes for clown costumes and decorated bikes preceding the dance revue.

A junior Lightning regatta is slated to start at 1:00 p. m. at the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock. An all star slow pitch softball game is scheduled to start at 2:00 p. m. at the East Tawas Athletic Field. A skydiving exhibition and water drop is slated to be held at 5:00 p. m. at the Tawas City Park.

Park Proposal Among Many Council Topics

A delegation of citizens appeared at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council and questioned officials concerning proposed development of the city park.

At its July 17 meeting, the council, by a 6-1 roll call vote, adopted a plan developed by Mayor John N. Brugger, with the aid of City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz and Edmonds Engineering Company, calling for the park to be turned over or leased to the county parks and recreation commission for an indefinite period in order to be eligible for state and federal finances.

The proposed program would include expansion of parking facilities across from the county building and acquisition of 100 feet of US-23-Tawas Bay frontage across from the city hall for parking and recreational purposes. It is hoped, also, that state recreational bond money may be obtained for repairing the city dock.

Tentative approval of the program has been given by the county board of commissioners, but development is contingent upon receipt of state or federal funds.

Stating that she was appearing as an interested citizen, Mrs. Philip Ross said she had attended a meeting earlier in the day at the park, but felt there were a number of unanswered questions. She expressed the opinion that expansion of the US-23 parking lane in front of the county building into the city park would not result in any actual benefit to the city park; that the proposed parking would only benefit the county building and the Village Inn; that parking could be developed on adjacent land acquired by the city behind the Iosco Abstract Office; that matters pertaining to development of the park should start with the park board and the council rather than by the mayor.

Mayor John N. Brugger said that proposed expansion of the parking lane would include about 20 feet of state highway right-of-way and extend to a point about in the middle of the bandstand. Under the proposal, he said the bandstand would be moved to another location and that trees planted a number of years ago would be moved at a cost of about $50 each. Two large trees would have to be removed.

Brugger said that the boulevard parking plan proposed is the type specified by the state highway department, which aided in engineering, and that it would accommodate 40 cars. He said the plan would provide parking 12 months a year for persons utilizing the county building and the business area, as well as providing parking facilities for users of the park on week-ends.

The mayor said the entire development was contingent upon receipt of state and federal funds and the city's only cost would be for engineering, estimated at $5,500. He said the entire package, including development of the dock, was too large for the city to consider financing on its own.

Mrs. Ross was of the opinion that acquisition of land across from the city hall would not be contiguous to the city park, because of privately-owned property separating the two parcels.

Mrs. Edward Coyle asked why the state could give 20 feet of its right-of-way for expansion of parking across from the county building when it had erected islands in front of other business places to prevent parking, including her restaurant on US-23.

Ald. Edward Savage said that it was his opinion that the additional parking being proposed for the city park was only a secondary benefit and that over-all park expansion and improvement was necessary. Ald. Robert N. Rollin said, "I voted for it because it is a good program" and believed that acquisition of lake frontage across from the city hall was necessary for public utilization.

Ald. James Lansky expressed the opinion that such a project should commence with the city council, then it could be turned over to the planning commission for development and returned with recommendations to the city council.

No action was taken by the council, although members thanked those attending for expressing their opinions and several stated that they "wished more people would attend meetings."

In other business, a report from the planning commission indicated that it was favorable to allowing a variance in the city zoning ordinance to allow construction of a 30 by 60-foot professional-medical building by Dr. E. W. Phillips on property across M-65 from the Tawas Masonic Temple. However, City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz noted that such action may not be necessary as the council had rezoned that entire block a number of years ago from residential to commercial. Bublitz said that some confusion still exists over the matter as the council action did not actually spell out the new zoning and further investigation was being made.

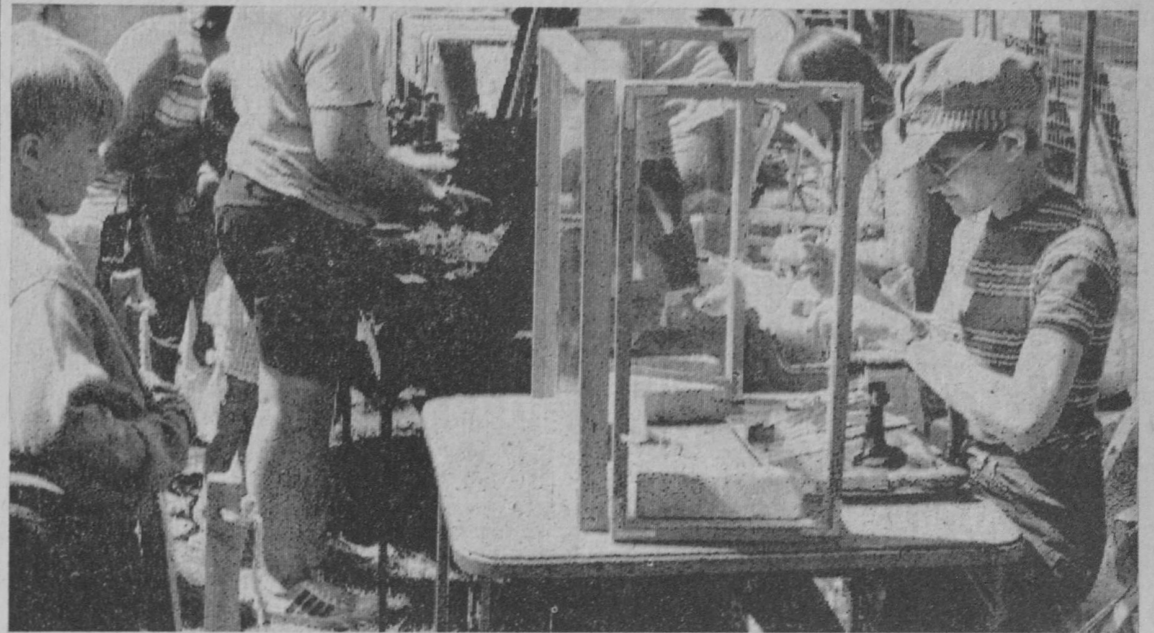

Phillips' building application had been denied because of a supposed conflict with zoning. Although the area is not served by city sewer and the engineer is currently developing a plan to provide such service, it was stated several weeks ago that Phillips had been granted permission by the department of health to utilize a septic tank system.

Plans call for a 30 by 60-foot building at a cost of $105,000. The city manager said that Phillips had made application for a building permit, but that approval was being withheld until further investigation. A permit requested by Central Radio Telegraph Company of Rogers City for operation of a radio transmitter at the city hall and installation of an aerial on the water tower to serve Great Lakes shipping and boating interests was turned over to the city attorney for investigation. The council had given tentative approval to the proposal about a year ago. Annual fee for such installation would be $150.

The council made a contribution of $100 toward the Michigan Tourist Festival and sent a letter to the Tawas Chamber of Commerce commending that group for its promotional efforts.

The council named Savage as mayor pro tem.

Paslaski Asks Ct. Damages Against Allen

A candidate for the county board of commissioners at Osoda has commenced suit in Iosco Circuit Court against one of his two opponents in Tuesday's primary election for publication of a letter which allegedly injured his reputation.

In a motion filed by his attorney, Steve Paslaski demands a judgment of $25,000, together with punitive damages, against Jack W. Allen.

The petition claims that Allen deliberately published a two-page letter which "wrongfully, unlawfully and maliciously charged plaintiff with certain criminal, illegal and un-patriotic acts, well knowing the same to be false, being calculated and intended to do plaintiff great harm and injury, both in his good name and in his position as a law-abiding citizen in his community."

Paslaski charges that Allen's letter was "deliberately published for the purpose of driving him out of political activity and interfering with his constitutional right of political activity."

Attached to Paslaski's complaint was an exhibit, the publication of which is attributed to Allen, which concerned Paslaski's salary as director of youth services for five months at Wurtsmith Air Force Base, funded under a $75,000 grant.

Paslaski claims that the statements in the letter were wholly false. It was stated that Paslaski had given notice to Allen on August 6, before instituting action, to publish a retraction in the same manner. The complaint stated that this was not done.

Paslaski and Allen, along with Robert Foster, are candidates for the District No. 1 seat on the county board of commissioners.

Council Stalemated Over Appointment

An attempt to appoint a successor to fill the vacancy of Ald. Frank Ahonen, who resigned July 24, resulted in a deadlock Monday night for the Tawas City Council.

As a result, a special meeting of the council is to be held Wednesday night (tonight) to resolve the question of, in the event a compromise is not reached, to consider the possibility of holding a city-wide election to fill the vacancy.

A three to three tie between two candidates resulted when Ald. Clark Tanner nominated William Groff Jr. and Ald. Robert N. Rollin nominated Del Myles.

Supporting Tanner's nominee were Ald. Chester Smyczynski and James Lansky, while Ald. Edward Savage and Mayor John N. Brugger supported Rollin's nominee.

During discussion, Alderman Lansky expressed the opinion that if a vacancy is to be filled by appointment, old ward lines should be followed and the appointee should be named from the area where the vacancy occurred. He believed a precedent for this had been established with the appointment of Ald. Edward Savage, who was named to succeed Martin Wellna in the First Ward.

(Under terms of the new charter, old ward lines have been removed and all future members of the city council are to be elected on a non-partisan, at-large basis.)

A suggestion that a city-wide election be held to name a successor drew immediate support from several councilmen and verbal support from a number of citizens in attendance. Mayor Brugger then suggested that the matter be tabled until later in the week in order to study the matter further.

A review of the charter indicates

Area Development Up for Discussion

The first of a series of tours to discuss future development investments by federal and state agencies is being held August 9-10 with visits to 11 communities in Northeastern Michigan.

The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission (UGLRC) is sponsoring the three tours which will be held this month and will include all 45 counties in Northern Michigan which are in the UGLRC area.

State officials and representatives from federal agencies concerned with economic development will join UGLRC federal co-chairman, Thomas F. Schweigert, and members of his Michigan staff in joint talks with local leaders in discussing priorities on future long-range investments.

Bank Raises Interest Paid On Savings

John D. Lippert, executive vice president of Peoples State Bank of East Tawas, today announced an increase of annual interest paid on all regular passbook savings accounts from four percent to 4 1/2 percent.

Lippert, in making the announcement, stated, "It is the desire of the board of directors of the officers of Peoples State Bank of East Tawas to provide the people of the area with the most liberal interest earnings allowable by law. The increase to 4 1/2 percent interest on passbook savings accounts is but one indication of our desire to consistently improve our customer relations in every department."

According to Lippert, 4 1/2 percent annual interest is the highest rate of interest on passbook savings accounts permitted by banking law. The increase of interest earned on existing passbook savings accounts is automatic, effective September 1. All passbook savings accounts, on September 1, will begin earning the new and higher rate of interest without the need of notifying the bank or changing present passbooks. The same $20,000 of deposit insurance will be part of the tour.

Check Vandalism

Investigation continues by Michigan State Police into a malicious destruction complaint which saw the theft last week-end of parking directional signs at Tawas Point State Park and destruction of mailboxes in the Point Lookout area.

Officers said that a car used by two subjects in smashing the mail boxes became stuck in the road. The missing signs were found in the car.

A resolution by Alderman Rollin to raise wages of employees working in ditches by 50 cents an hour as an incentive at hazardous jobs was turned over to the water board for its recommendation.

A street light program given tentative approval several months ago received approval of the council. The program calls for certain lights to be replaced from 2,500-lumen to 6,500-mercury vapor lights on the following streets:

Second Street, from Fifth Street to Harris Avenue; Fifth Avenue, from Mathews to M-55; Mathews Street, from US-23 to Fourth Avenue; Oak Street, from railroad tracks to Cedar Street; Ninth Avenue, from railroad tracks to Fourth Street; First Avenue, from First Street to M-55; US-23, from Townline Road to Elms Avenue (replace three 6,000-lumen lights with five 35,000-lumen lights).

AuSable Park Gets $160,000 State Grant

State Rep. George Prescott of Tawas City has been informed by Governor Milliken that Iscoo County has been awarded a federal grant totaling $160,000 for improvements to the AuSable Park Development. The matching grant is from the Land and Water Conservation Fund from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation of the United States Department of Interior.

"This money for the AuSable Park Development will not only be a welcome improvement for area residents but for the many tourists that frequent the AuSable River area," Prescott said. "It is encouraging to see our tax dollars returned for such a worthwhile improvement. I commend area citizens and the Iscoo County Recreation Commission for their efforts in successfully securing the federal funds."

The AuSable Park Development is approximately 20 acres of land immediately south of Oscoda, east of US-23 and at the mouth of the AuSable River. The money will be used to construct a boat landing facility, landscaping, parking, beach improvements, picnic area, comfort station, water system, picnic equipment, roads and lighting.

Tawas Indies Made Good Use of Hits

Scoring nine runs in two innings on only four hits, Tawas City Indies defeated visiting Mikado, 9-5, in North-eastern Michigan League action Sunday.

Although the winning run was not scored until the fourth inning, the big action came in the second inning when two errors, a walk and a single by Frank Jordan scored one run and a grand slam homer by Dale Koepke nearly settled the issue.

Mikado scored single runs in the first and second innings off Chuck Petersen, Tawas City's starting pitcher, then pushed two runs over in the third when Beloskur homered with a man on base.

Petersen then settled down to pitch shutout ball for two innings. Ron Leslie pitched the final four innings and the two pitchers fanned 10 opposing batters.

Tawas City's big four-run blast in the fourth inning came after two batters were out. Sandwiched between singles by Blust and Potts were two fielding errors by Mikado and two walks which accounted for all the damage.

Firebaugh, losing pitcher, limited the Tawas City team to seven hits, but gave up five walks and hit one batter.

Action this Sunday completes the regular season of play with Lincoln at Tawas City.

Arts-Crafts Show

TWELFTH ANNUAL Tawas Bay Waterfront Arts and Crafts Show last week-end proved to be another outstanding success with beautiful displays and an excellent attendance by both exhibitors and the public. These pictures show some of the displays.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Bell Revolutionized Communications Throughout World

The telephone has been in existence for nearly a century. In that time, all telephone service in North America has been halted only once. That occurred 50 years ago.

The silencing of telephones was in memory of Alexander Graham Bell and took place during his funeral on August 4, 1922. From 6:25 to 6:26 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, across the United States and Canada telephone service stopped as operators unplugged calls and sat silently at their switchboards for a minute of unprecedented tribute which has never since been repeated.

Perhaps more than any other man, Alexander Graham Bell revolutionized the world of communication. In the 50 years since his death, he has been most heralded for his invention of the telephone.

However, Bell also contributed to such inventions as the iron lung, radium treatment of cancer, sonar, the photoelectric cell, air conditioning and the helicopter.

His life was a 75-year whirlwind of inventive genius, kind-hearted philanthropy and an unending adventure in scientific inquiry.

His "Red Wing" was the first airplane to use treated fabric as a wing cover and the hydrofoil which he designed set the world water speed record of 70.86 miles per hour in 1919.

Bell often said, however, that all his inventions, even the telephone, ranked second in his heart to his work with the deaf. The telephone was, in fact, a by-product of his early work with the problems the deaf have in receiving voice waves. Until the day he died, he would respond to those asking him his profession, "I am a teacher of the deaf."

He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, March 3, 1847. His father, Melville Bell, was world renowned as a teacher and author of textbooks on correct speech and as the inventor of visible speech. A language of symbols corresponding to the positions of the speech apparatus, visible speech initially was intended to be used as a key to the pronunciation of words in all languages, but has since evolved into an invaluable aid in teaching the deaf to read.

Alexander Graham Bell's grandfather, Alexander Bell, was also a noted authority on speech. After a brief stage career, he spent most of his life giving Shakespearean readings and developing treatments for stammering, lisping and other speech defects.

As a small boy, Alexander Graham Bell showed great promise of following in the footsteps of his father and grandfather. When he and his two brothers were still in their teens, they constructed a model of the human skull and equipped it with a reproduction of the voice apparatus that was worked with bellows. The machine's wailings of "mama" were reported to have been so life-like that the Bells' neighbors left their homes in search of the child in distress.

By the age of 16, Bell was a pupil-teacher at the Weston House Academy in Elgin, Scotland. Two years later, he was a full-time elocution teacher there.

After both brothers died of tuberculosis and Bell's own health began deteriorating, he moved with his father and mother in 1870 to Brantford, Ontario. Besides his studies in elocution and some work with the deaf, he was conducting experiments in transmitting and receiving voice waves.

In October 1872, Bell opened the School of Vocal Physiology and Mechanics of Speech in Boston. There he gave instruction to teachers of the deaf and used deaf children in demonstrations of his then-radical theories of educating deaf persons so that they might function normally in society. This school, in addition to Bell's countless lectures in Boston and Washington, D. C., did much to dispel the notion that the deaf should be placed in institutions and kept there as useless, pitiable freaks of nature.

While spending eight to 10 hours a day lecturing and teaching, Bell continued his research on the telephone. After almost two years of concentrated effort, Bell used the telephone to transmit recognizable voice sounds to his assistant, Thomas Watson, on June 3, 1875.

During that summer and fall, Bell and Watson continued to refine the telephone. Bell's first patent on the device was granted March 7, 1876. Three days later, he and Watson were experimenting in Bell's laboratory at 5 Exeter Place in Boston. Watson went down the hall to Bell's bedroom and the other end of the wire, and put the receiving telephone to his ear. Within seconds, he heard Bell's voice saying, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you!", the first record of a complete, distinct sentence being transmitted over a telephone.

For the next several years, Bell and Watson continued in their efforts to improve the telephone and sell it to the public. Between April 6, 1875, and December 13, 1881, Bell received patents for 17 additions and improvements in telephone communication.

Starting with a boyhood fascination with birds in flight, Bell devoted much time and energy to the budding science of aviation. Between 1904 and 1913, he was granted five patents on various "aerial vehicles" and "flying machines." On December 6, 1907, a 208-pound tetrahedral kite designed and engineered by Bell carried Lt. Thomas Selfridge of the United States Army to a height of 168 feet. Along with Selfridge, J. A. D. McCurdy, F. W. Baldwin and Glenn H. Curtiss, Bell organized, and his wife financed, the Aerial Experiment Association. The group did much to arouse public interest in flight by conducting numerous public test flights. Of equal importance, the association was the first to effectively use ailerons to maintain lateral balance in flight, a system still used today.

Other areas in which Bell made significant contributions include the surgical probe. When President Garfield was shot July 2, 1881, Bell offered to help doctors locate the bullet hidden in the dying man's body. The attempt failed, but from his efforts evolved the surgical probe. This instrument was used by surgeons for years before the discovery of the x-ray.

Another is air conditioning. Forced to spend much time in Washington, D. C., and finding that city's sweltering summers intolerable, Bell invented an air conditioner and installed it in his study.

Upon being awarded the Volta Prize of 50,000 francs by the French government in 1880 for the telephone, Bell established the Volta Laboratory in Washington, D. C. It was there that he developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs. The patent rights to this process were sold and Bell used the money in establishing a branch of the laboratory he named Volta Bureau, which continues today in carrying out work with the deaf.

During his later life, Bell devised several methods for condensing fresh water from vapor to help marooned sailors survive at sea.

For the last 30 years of his life, he tirelessly experimented with breeding sheep which would bear more than one lamb at a time.

In the late 1890s, Bell and his wife began spending their summers on Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia, and eventually established a residence at Beinn Breagh near Baddeck. It was there that he conducted many of his experiments with kites, airplanes, hydrofoils and sheep breeding, and it was there that he died August 2, 1922.

As he had requested, his epitaph reads, "Died a citizen of the United States of America."

Employer Must Pay Social Security on Employee Wages

Question: I own a flower shop and have one part-time employee. He also works as a full-time employee elsewhere and his employer reports his wages for social security purposes. Must I also pay social security contributions on the wages I pay him?
Answer: Yes. You must pay the social security contributions on your employee's wages. If your employee pays social security contributions for this year on more than $9,000 in wages from both jobs, he can get a refund of the excess social security contributions he paid from the Internal Revenue Service when he files his income tax form for this year.

Question: After working for nearly 30 years, I can feel myself slowing down physically in the last few years. How serious a disability must I have to get monthly social security disability payments?
Answer: For social security purposes, you are considered disabled if you have a severe physical or mental condition which keeps you from doing any kind of substantial work and which is expected to last a year or longer.

Question: I am starting my own selling business and my wife will be working as my employee. If I pay her a salary, are her earnings covered under social security?
Answer: No. This is considered family employment and is not covered by social security.

Question: I am a farmer. During the summer months when I need help I hire one of my neighbor's boys. I generally pay him about $300 for the whole summer. Do I have to keep a record of this for social security purposes?
Answer: Yes. You should keep a record of his name, address, social security number and the amount of cash wages you paid him. If you pay more than $150 in cash wages to a farm employee during the calendar year, you must file a report at the end of the year with the Internal Revenue Service and pay social security on his earnings.

Question: I understand that when a person takes social security retirement benefits at age 62 his benefit is reduced. But I heard it goes back to the full amount at age 65. Is that right?
Answer: No. If a person decides to retire at age 62 and take the reduced monthly benefit, the benefit amount will not change at age 65. However, some people do retire at age 62 and later return to work. In that case, the benefit could be higher later.

Question: I am enrolled in both parts of medicare. If I get a routine physical checkup by my family doctor every year, will medicare pay for it?
Answer: No. Routine physical checkups are not covered under medicare.

Question: If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 48706; telephone, 893-9579. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday from 9:45 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Romans 10:11-17)

How shall they hear without a preacher? (Romans 10:14)

An elderly woman approached the darkened church building and asked the two young men on the steps if services would be held there that night. She was told that there would be no preaching service, that the church was at that time without a pastor. She glanced at the darkening sky and then back at the unlighted windows of the church. Shaking her head, she said, more to herself than to the young men, "Oh my, it is getting dark, and there is no preacher." She slowly walked away.

Much spiritual darkness needs to be dispelled from the world. All too often voices are silent, so that those who need to hear, to believe, to respond, continue in darkness.

Letting others hear is not the responsibility solely of the ordained minister. It is the responsibility of anyone who wants God's truth to be known.

PRAYER
O Lord, help me to see the needs of our darkening world. Help me to hear the cries of hungering souls. Help me to preach Christ to waiting hearts. In the spirit of Christ. Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

A spoken word may light a darkened heart.—Gene Tomlin, Texas.

Electric Rate Increase Filed by Consumers

Consumers Power Company filed application with the Michigan Public Service Commission today requesting authorization to increase its electric rates to produce approximately $6 million dollars additional revenue annually. At the same time, the company asks interim rate relief in the amount of approximately $4 million dollars annually, pending the outcome of the rate case.

In its application, the company stated that, even though the commission had authorized earnings equivalent to 7.4 percent of investment in December of last year, the company has been unable to attain that level because of increased costs of capital, fuel, taxes, wages, equipment, materials and supplies.

Moreover, the demand for electric energy has required continuing capital expenditures for construction of new generating, transmission and distribution facilities. Over-all, the company expects to invest 1.7 billion dollars in new electric facilities between 1972 and 1976.

In its application today, the company argues that a rate of return on investment of 8.05 percent is required if the company is to be financially healthy and meet its future obligations to its customers.

Change Design Plan for NG Loading Dock

15 Years Ago—
August 8, 1957—National Gypsum Company announced Monday that it has made application to the United States Army Corps of Engineers for approval of a newly-designed dock to be installed at its shipping location south of Tawas City. The new design, substantially higher in cost than the previously proposed peninsular type dock, is a cellular type to be located 400 feet offshore, with conveyor belt approaches over two 200-foot clear spans 14 feet above the water.

Family Living Education

So you have trouble stretching the family food dollars. Here is a tip for you. Do not go food shopping on an empty stomach!

When you are hungry, all food looks good to you. Impulse buying takes over and you scrap your smart-shopper planned buying list. This is not the way to save food dollars. Hunger is an important factor in how much you spend when you do the grocery shopping. One survey indicates that women who had not eaten for five hours prior to their weekly shopping expedition spend an average of $5.76 more than usual. The survey confirms what we had always suspected—that you should never go shopping on an empty stomach if you are trying to stretch food dollars.

If you sometimes feel a little bewildered by the six to eight thousand items laid out for your selection in the average supermarket today, just think what it would be like to trade places with the store's buying committee. They must choose from more than 40,000 separate brands, sizes, types and flavors of products available to find the six to eight thousand that will make the most tempting product mix for their intended customers. This means that about 83 percent of the items available must be rejected—and that the store's reputation for quality and variety must stand on just 17 percent of the possible choices.

The company buyers do not always make the best buys either and they must constantly evaluate the virtues of the old versus the new and measure the appearance of the standard against the time or labor saving variations. Many products are later removed from the shelves just because they did not sell well to you, their customers, and many others are placed on the shelves in hopes they will be just right for you.

Heavily advertised specials are the supermarket's way of competing with each other. With a little extra time studying the ads, you may be able to save up to 25 percent on many advertised items. If you have space for a freezer, you can buy specials in quantity and save on future food bills. If you buy specials in quantity, you will soon be planning menus from items on hand purchased at lower than regular prices.

Saving food dollars is a big job. But there is no doubt about it, a full stomach is a food shopper's best friend!

PCV stands for Positive Crankcase Ventilation. Nearly every car from 1963 on is equipped with a PCV valve. Now it's a law—to help keep your engine's crankcase fumes from polluting the atmosphere. Reno School Reunion Scheduled August 19

The school reunion of the Reno Township School will be held Saturday, August 19, at the Reno Township Hall. Dinner will be served at 1:00 p. m. Everyone is to bring a dish to pass and their own table service. Coffee and tea will be furnished.

Anyone who desires may contribute to the program by telling of some amusing incident that happened during their bygone school days.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samson attended the Samson family reunion Sunday at Akron.

Mrs. Viola Workman of Napanee, Ontario, Canada, spent the week-end at the home of her brother, Lester Robinson. He also had as guests his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs.

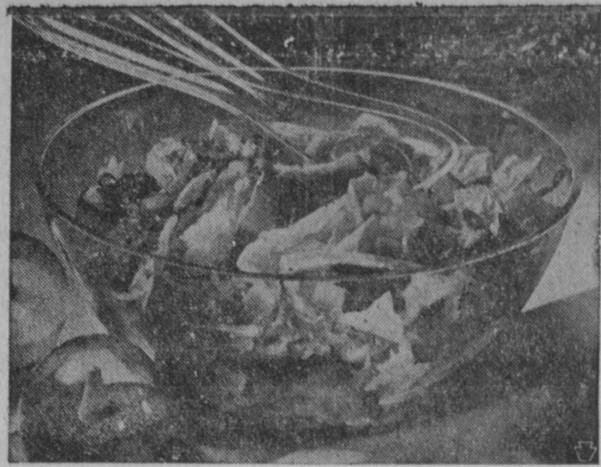

Wilfred Partridge of Clio; Miss Ellen McDougald, and Mrs. Bernice Malpass of Detroit.

Mrs. Katherine Pesik of Corunna is spending some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Richard Samson.

The Taft School reunion was a success with 43 present. There were several individuals present who had not attended for some time. They came from Canada, Boyne City, Detroit and Clawson. There was a short program with an article written years ago by Mrs. Etta Frockins and a poem by Mrs. Ida Sibley. A pot-luck dinner was served and fellowship with old friends was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samson entertained their son, Richard Jr., and family of Lansing the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Waters accompanied her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mervyn; their two children, and two grandchildren, Michael and Richard, on a vacation trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota. They also visited Janice Launstein and family in Reinbeck, Iowa.

On hot summer evenings—even the best cooks can lose their enthusiasm for fixing family suppers. At such times an easy-to-make main dish salad may be the perfect choice. The Summer Salad Bowl pictured above is an appetizing combination of tomatoes, crisp greens, butter-flavored mushrooms, julienne of canned luncheon meat accented with packaged herb seasoned croutons and tossed with a tangy lemon and oil dressing. As a variation add Swiss cheese strips or hard-cooked egg slices. To accompany Summer Salad serve seeded rye bread, thinly sliced and buttered. Easy does it!

SUMMER SALAD BOWL

- 2 quarts salad greens, torn into bite-size pieces
- 2 cups herb seasoned stuffing croutons
- 2 8-oz. cans chopped broiled mushrooms, drained.
- 2 cups bottled lemon juice
- 3 tomatoes, peeled, cut in wedges
- 1 12-oz. can luncheon meat, cut in julienne strips
- 1 cup vegetable or olive oil
- 1/2 cup bottled lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, pressed.
- 2 teaspoons Italian seasoning
- Salt and pepper

Place greens in large salad bowl. Add croutons, mushrooms, tomato wedges and luncheon meat strips. For dressing, place vegetable oil, bottled lemon juice, 1/4 cup of the reserved butter broth, garlic and Italian seasoning in a jar. Add salt and pepper to taste. Cover jar and shake well. Pour desired amount of dressing over salad; toss lightly. Serve immediately in chilled salad bowls.

Yield: 4-6 servings Summer Salad, 1 3/4 cups dressing

Sand Lake

Mr. and Mrs. John Skrocki spent the week-end at Mackinac Island with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Tarnosky, on their cruiser, Jim Jam.

The Sand Lake Highland Dancers won first prize for their float at the parade in Hale recently. Dancers are Carol Lutz, Alexis Gage, Colleen Foley, Shelly Clark, Lori Emry, Nancy Sidebottom, Lora Decker and Sandra Warner. Mrs. Allen Emry is dancing instructor and the float represented the school of dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller III and daughters, Leesia and Angie, have moved from Clio to Little Island Lake.

Mrs. Alice Lenczewski is spending a few weeks visiting her son, Raymond Lenczewski, and family and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Skrocki.

Whittemore News

The Harsch family reunion was held Sunday, July 30, at the Louis Harsch residence with 44 relatives and eight visitors attending. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ellsworth and daughters of Baline, Washington, came the furthest distance. Charles Harsch of Whittemore was the oldest family member present and the youngest was Missy Ellsworth, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth. Pot-luck lunch was served on the lawn. Others attended from Pontiac, Mt. Morris, Flint, East Tawas, Hale and Whittemore.

Dornace Bellville, who was a patient at Tolfree Hospital, West Branch, for a week was able to return home on Monday but is still not improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bellville and Lorna and Mrs. Theodore Bellville spent Wednesday in Sebewaing visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ostrander.

Sherman News

Notice of Hearing On Gas Rates

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company has filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission in which the Company seeks (1) an increase in its rates, effective on November 1, 1972, in an amount sufficient only to offset rate increases by its pipeline suppliers and (2) a general increase in its rates, effective on January 1, 1973, in an amount sufficient to offset other cost increases and enable it to earn a fair return.

The application states that increases in pipeline rates will, by November 1, 1972, increase Michigan Consolidated's annual cost of gas by up to $5,960,193 over and above amounts which it can recover through purchased gas adjustments. Attached to the application are proposed rates which generally would pass on the increase in Michigan Consolidated's cost of gas (approximately 34/100 cents per 100 cubic feet) to all classes of customers on an across-the-board basis.

The application states that Michigan Consolidated requires a general increase in rates on January 1, 1973, sufficient to increase its annual revenue by approximately $13,600,000. In connection with the general increase, the Company proposes rates which would increase its average charge per 100 cubic feet or therm by 12/100 cents under its Rate Schedule No. 10 (School Rate) and by 22/100 cents to 59/100 cents under its other 9 rate schedules. The Company states that the proposed general rate increase would increase the bills of average residential and commercial customers by a maximum of 3.8% per year.

Public hearings on the application will begin at 9:30 a. m., August 21, 1972, in the offices of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Law Building (formerly the Seven Story Office Building), Lansing, Michigan 48913. Any interested parties may attend the hearing and participate, subject to the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure.

Copies of the official Notice Of Hearing issued by the Commission, which shows both present and proposed rates, and copies of the complete application are available at the Office of the Secretary, Michigan Public Service Commission, 5th floor, Law Building (formerly the Seven Story Office Building), Lansing, Michigan 48913, and from the Secretary of the Company, One Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226.
