

Millage Proposal Lost at Hale Area

Voters of Hale Area School District, apparently following the statewide "tax protest" trend, rejected Monday's operational tax proposal of 12½ mills for two years.

There were 1,021 voters going to the polls, giving the proposal 439 "yes" votes and 575 "no" votes.

Incumbent candidates on the board of education were re-elected by substantial margins. Dale Brumfield received 480 votes and Herman Maas received 478 votes. Other candidates received the following totals: A. D. Penrod, 329; Florence Rehill, 309; Gertrude Hoyt, 275.

Supt. Paul Keene, who expressed great discouragement over the result of Monday's millage proposal, said that the board of education probably would take action later to set a new election date in August.

Elect Incumbents at W-P Area

Two incumbents were re-elected to the board of education in the Whittemore-Prescott Area School District. They were Wayne Sarvant, who received 104 votes, and George Erickson, 131 votes. The terms are for four years.

The two incumbents defeated Loraine Segrist, 39 votes; Eureka LeMire, 27 votes; Byron Foltz, 45 votes.

Two New Damage Suits Filed in Iosco

Two damage suits filed in Iosco Circuit Court last week seek court awards totaling $445,000.

An auto negligence suit was filed by Janet W. Golding, Oscoda, administrator of the estate of her daughter, Janell, against Daniel T. and Bruce L. Myles of Oscoda.

Asking damages of $345,000, the suit involves an automobile accident December 11, 1970, in which Janell R. Golding received fatal injuries while walking along West River Road. Daniel T. Myles was driver of the car involved.

James L. Tisdale of Farmington and James L. Tisdale Jr. of Allen Park seek a judgment of $100,000 against Mr. and Mrs. Al J. Steward of Flint. William D. Dryal and Harry Vanove of Au Gres, owners of the Flamingo Bar, Au Gres.

The Tisdales claim that Robert H.

Estimated cost of an election in this district is about $600.

"We have only a minimal program to offer students in this school district, but we have plans for a few new offerings," said Keene. "I really felt the millage proposal would be approved by voters. We had a good year and we're trying to do something—I just don't know what to do today," commented Keene.

Hale Area's new junior and senior high school, to be completed this fall, was approved December 16, 1970, by a margin of only three votes—520-517.

Last August, district voters approved a nine-mill renewal millage by a slim, 520-512, margin. Prior to Monday's election, Keene stated that renewal of the nine mills was sufficient for operation of the present school program but, because of the added cost involved in the opening and operating of the new school, 3½ additional mills would be required.

As a result, the board of education asked voters to approve renewal of the nine mills which expired this year and the addition of 3½ mills, giving a total operational levy of 12½ mills.

Keene said that he had been greatly encouraged by a committee of interested citizens which worked hard to get out the vote.

The superintendent said that rejection of the millage would cause considerable delay in making plans for the next school year.

Kollhoff was served intoxicating beverages at the Flamingo Bar on August 7, 1971, which caused or contributed to Kollhoff's intoxication. He was involved in an automobile accident on US-23, Baldwin Township, in which his car collided with a car driven by James L. Tisdale Jr. Both of the Tisdales claim injuries.

Claude L. and Leona Benson of Alabaster Township have filed an answer to the Iosco Board of Road Commissioners, which had asked the court to require the Bensons to remove a gate on Martin Road. In their answer, the Bensons claimed that the portion closed was a private road, had never been maintained by the road commission for over 40 years and that there had never been any legal instrument or procedure transferring any rights of the plaintiff to the road.

The Bensons entered a counter claim against the road commission seeking damages totaling $30,000, for removal of fences and destruction of trees during bulldozing operations.

District Keyettes Sponsor June 21 Walk-A-Thon

The Michigan District Keyettes, composed of the Tawas, Standish and Oscoda Keyette Clubs, are sponsoring a walk-a-thon Wednesday, June 21. The proceeds from this project will go to the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation.

Local Keyettes will canvass the community for contributions prior to June 21, when they will walk from East Tawas to Oscoda. Any individual wishing to pledge a donation to this worthy cause may call Ginny Elliott, district president, 362-2736, or Mary Thornton, secretary, 362-4656.

Varied Complaints Investigated by Sheriff's Dept.

Iosco Sheriff's Department investigated a variety of complaints over the week-end, most of them involving breakings and enterings of summer cottages.

Household items and firearms were stolen from a cottage owned by Burt Field of Detroit, located on Shellenbarger Road, Plainfield Township. The burglary remains under investigation.

A cottage owned by Ernest Brasour, located on Spartan Road, Grant Township, was ransacked. Officers said that three windows in the structure were damaged.

A cottage owned by Joseph Darling, located on Slosser Road, Plainfield Township, was burglarized. Entry was made by breaking windows in a garage door.

Mildred Kells of Marine City, who owns a cottage at Sidtown, Oscoda Township, reported that burglars made entry by smashing a window. Officers are continuing to investigate a complaint of Virginia Yunker of Whittemore, whose mail box was destroyed last week when a lighted fire cracker was dropped into it. The same mail box was ripped from its post last month.

One personal injury accident investigated involved William D. Katterman, 20, 277 North McArdle Road, who was injured Sunday in a motorcycle accident on Essex Road. Officers said Katterman lost control of his machine on the soft shoulder and overturned. He was treated at Tawas Hospital.

HOLDING A SLIM lead at the East Tawas bridge in Sunday's Tawas River canoe race were Jeff Kellogg and Stan Hall, but they were being followed closely by John Baker and Jack Kolka.—Tawas Herald Photo.

THE TABLES were turned shortly before the two teams reached the First Street bridge. Here, Baker and Kolka were far out in front and went on to win the 1972 race.—Tawas Herald Photo.

John Baker Enters Winner's Circle Fourth Straight Year

John Baker left his familiar engineer's cap at Ann Arbor and picked up another new racing partner, but he still entered the winner's circle Sunday at the conclusion of the Tawas River canoe race.

Baker teamed up this year with Jack Kolka of Detroit, a veteran AuSable paddler, and the two walked off with top prize money of $75. Kolka was Baker's fourth partner in as many years and each time he has finished with the first place money.

A determined bid was made by Jeff Kellogg of Twin Lake and Stanley Hall of Oscoda, former AuSable River marathon champion, to upset Baker's winning string. Kellogg and Hall paddled strong in Tawas Lake and were leading by a good margin at the East Tawas bridge.

Kolka and Baker began to apply the pressure and the bow of their canoe was passing the stern of the Kellogg and Hall canoe at the M-55 bridge. The first place team took over the lead before reaching the First Street bridge and the race for the championship was all but over.

"We should have beat them . . . I guess I am just getting too old," commented Hall at the finish line. Kellogg and Hall received second place money for their efforts.

The first place team completed the course in 56 minutes, 25 seconds, slightly behind the 54 minutes, 11 seconds, required for winning the race in 1971. The second place team finished in 57 minutes, 54 seconds.

Finishing third among the 11 teams which entered the race at Tawas Lake were Bill Ayers of Sheridan and Cecil Yame of Flint, who paddled the course in 58 minutes, seven seconds.

Going into Sunday, rain had marred the race for three straight years. No rain fell during the competition, but it was believed at one time the coast guard was going to stop the race at the Tawas River mouth because of threatening waves. A decision was made at the last minute to allow the professional division to continue on to the Tawas City Park dock and racers sped through the river mouth and into the bay.

There were 12 amateur teams entered in the second race, which was won by Ronald Deane and Jim Brunner, both of Maple Rapids. This team completed the trip from Tawas Lake to the river mouth in 51 minutes, 58 seconds.

Winning the next three places were Michael Billock and Thomas Diehl of Monroe, second place; Thomas Bacon of Flint and Clark Barnes of Walled Lake, third place; Don Gronin and Jerry Wells, Milford, fourth place.

Only one canoe was on hand for the junior division and this race was not held.

Iosco Fair Offers Room for Exhibitors

Iosco residents are reminded this week by officials of Iosco County Agricultural Society to begin making preparations for exhibits in the 1972 county fair, to be held July 26, 27, 28 and 29 at Hale.

Assembling of exhibits is to start at 9:00 a. m. on Wednesday, July 26, according to the premium list included with last week's issue of The Tawas Herald.

There are departments for livestock, poultry, farm produce, flowers and plants, home economics, domestic arts, antiques, conservation and youth division.

"There is something for everyone and members of the fair board continually try to make each year bigger and better than ever," stated Richard M. Samson, secretary-manager.

In addition to exhibits, the fair is one of the area's big entertainment attractions of the summer, with its midway, parade, games and contests for youngsters.

Oscoda Man Killed Sunday in US-23 Crash

Ronald G. Fasbender, 35, Oscoda real estate salesman, died Sunday morning as the result of injuries received about two hours earlier when his car struck a tree about 80 feet north of Cedar Lake Road on US-23.

Oscoda-AuSable Township Police said that Fasbender was alone in the car at the time of the accident. Officers said the crash occurred at 6:30 a. m. and the victim died at 8:58 a. m. at Tawas Hospital.

Fasbender was Iosco County's third traffic fatality of 1972.

Board to Exercise Bonding Option to Build New Library

Disappointed over the small turnout of voters Monday, coupled with rejection of its money saving millage plan to construct a library-resource center, Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night decided it would exercise its option and finance this much needed facility by bonding the district without a vote of the people.

The two proposals asking for a levy of three-quarters of a mill for two years to finance the library-resource center and purchase of equipment for the vocational training program lost by margins of 312-368 and 314-364.

The two proposals were rejected in all three voting precincts. At East Tawas, proposal No. 1 lost, 171-175, and proposal No. 2 lost, 171-173; in Tawas City, proposal No. 1 lost, 166-116, and proposal No. 2 lost, 107-117; in Tawas Township, proposal No. 1 lost, 32-77, and proposal No. 2 lost, 36-74.

An advisory vote seeking permission to make further investigation into adoption of a year around school plan was approved, 354-310, but Robert W. Elliott, board of education president, said the board could not get too excited over this as a mandate.

However, the board of education indicated it would continue its study of the year around school plan, acting on Monday's vote, and is to report findings later in the summer.

Voting on the year around school proposal had the following results: East Tawas, 184 "yes" and 157 "no," Tawas City, 123 "yes" and 89 "no," Tawas Township, 64 "yes" and 47 "no."

Trustees Earl B. Davis and Mrs. Norman Payea were re-elected to the board of education without opposition, other than a few scattered write-in ballots.

Elliott said that the board, in asking for the three-quarters of a mill tax levy for two years to finance the library-resource center and equipment purchase, was only trying to save the district money.

"These facilities are absolutely necessary to this school district and the board of education indicated earlier that it would exercise its bonding option should the millage propositions fail," said Elliott.

Under state law, boards of education have the power to bond for up to five percent of the school district's valuation without a vote of the people. With a present bonded indebtedness of $340,000, the board of education could bond the district for up to $2,310,000.

Calculations Monday night by Supt. Reynold Mick indicated that four-tenths of a mill of taxes would be required for eight years to finance construction of the $62,000 library-resource center and $15,000 for the vocational training equipment purchase.

While bonding the district will double the cost of this project, the superintendent said that it would spread the cost over a longer period of time and more people would share in the financing.

Mick said the bonding proposition would be immediately placed in the hands of the school district's attorney. He said that legal work would require about four to six weeks longer than financing under the millage plan which was rejected.

TA School Studies Teacher Vacancies

Applications are now being studied for filling four vacancies on the Tawas Area School faculty, according to a report Monday night to the board of education by Prin. John Alexander.

Vacancies include eighth grade English, chemistry, physics, women's guidance and shop.

Alexander said that one or two additional vacancies may take place after July 1.

In other business, Robert McDonald, assistant principal and athletic director, said that six of the eight members of the Northern B Conference had approved interscholastic sports for girls. Tawas Area School is to make a decision concerning participation at the next board meeting.

Interscholastic sports for girls would include softball, basketball, volleyball and track. Additional funds would have to be allocated for coaches' salaries and equipment.

McDonald said that two vacancies exist on the football coaching staff at the freshman and junior varsity level.

Two Iosco Projects in State Bidding

Bids are to be taken June 21 at Lansing on two Iosco County road projects which are included among 45 state highway construction and maintenance projects totaling 27.6 million dollars.

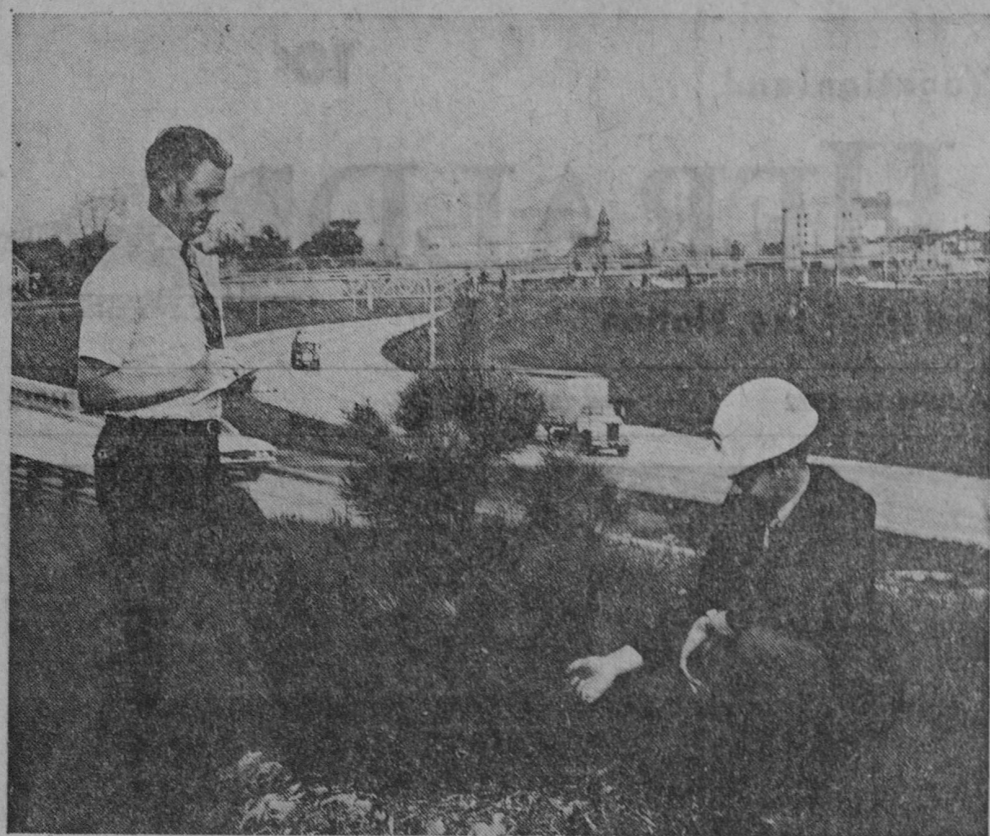

The projects here include widening and resurfacing Old State Road from M-65, east for two miles. Estimated cost is $170,000 and the completion date is November of this year.

The second project is for approximately one mile of pavement joint repair on US-23 from south of Division Street north to near Michigan Avenue and one-quarter mile of south-resistant paving on US-23 from south of Park Street north to Michigan Avenue, all at Oscoda. Work is to be financed from the state highway department's 1972 safety program.

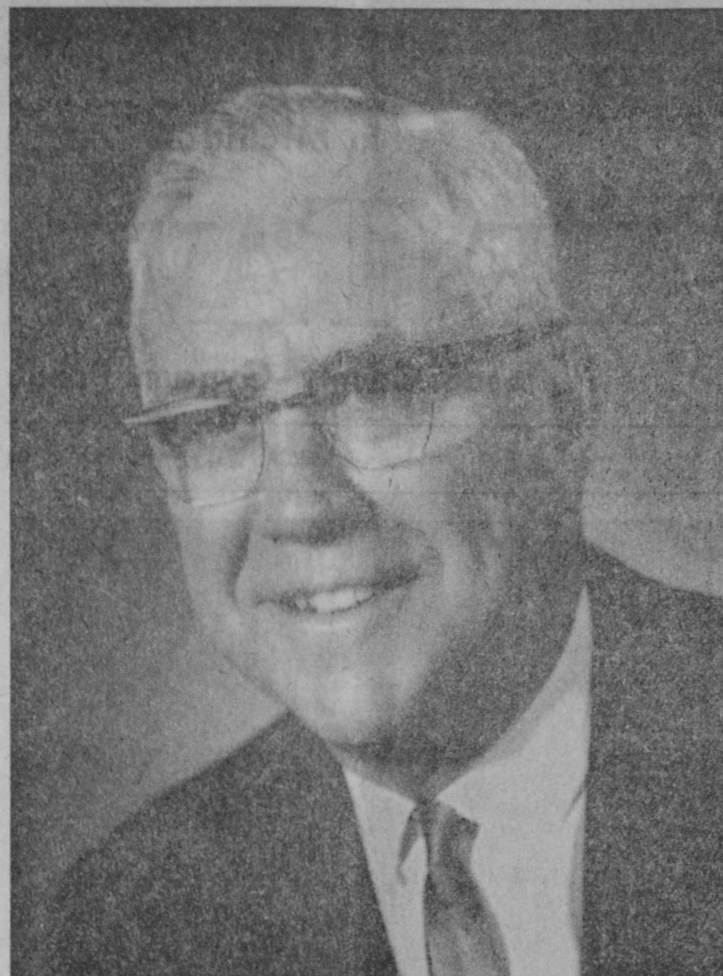

Estimated cost of the Oscoda project is $30,000 and the completion date is in September.

Committee Makes Plans for Training

The citizen's vocational education advisory committee for metal working met Thursday, June 8, at Whittemore-Prescott Area School. Members met James Sturtevant, instructor, and had an opportunity to walk through the shop.

Purpose of the committee meeting was to advise and direct the shared time vocational metal working program to be offered to Iosco County seniors next fall.

Members of the committee felt that blueprint reading and tool nomenclature would be a good place for the class to begin its study in September. It was recommended, also, that safety be stressed at all times and that special attention be given to such hazards as rings, watches, long hair, loose sleeves and neck ties while working around equipment.

The committee indicated that the 10 hours a week devoted to the program should be considered a base minimum. Members indicated that graduation from the program could make good semi-skilled machine operators. Although the course will cover a range of metal working experiences, some concentration is to be offered in the machine shop area of instruction.

All high school seniors in the county are eligible to enroll in the program which will begin this fall. Students or parents who want more information about the program may call high school principals or Bruce Viekay at the Iosco Intermediate School District office, 362-2461.

Other vocational education courses available to county high school seniors this fall include building construction, business machines and office practice, nurses' aide and automotive service.

Members of the metal working advisory committee attending Thursday night's meeting were Steven Pasalaski, Harlow Riggs, David Mills, the Rev. Noah Funk, Sturtevant, Ralph Meyers, Robert Bolen and Eugene Winter.

4-H's Emphasize Health "H" with Information and Service

SPECIAL - Drug abuse, the problems of air and water pollution, helping the retarded, caring about the elderly, organizing blood drives and distributing health information . . . These are some of the things that 4-H's across the country have done this year, by participating in the 4-H Health program sponsored by Eli Lilly and Company.

Not only do 4-H's look for ways to maintain and improve their own health, but they try to go out into their communities and inform and help to improve the health of their friends, their families and their neighbors.

They Accept Opportunities

4-H members have almost unlimited opportunities for service in health projects. In fact, according to the Cooperative Extension Service, many clubs have used novel techniques to put across the message of better health.

In Fayette County, Ohio, one 4-H club sponsored a blood donors drive. With the aid of a "Bloodmobile" the club contacted over 200 new blood donors and raised over 125 pints of blood.

A club in Los Angeles County, Calif., worked with retarded and crippled children at a local hospital. The members of the club devoted their time to entertaining the children and to raising money to speed the cure of their crippling diseases.

Work for Clean Air, Water

Air and water pollution was the pressing health concern of an Urbana, Ill. club. The club's entire activities centered around a program called "Environment Control". Speakers, discussions, personal actions and skits were employed to get the anti-pollution message out.

Mrs. Alex Sawyer, club leader, summed up her club's health activities this way, "Many families participated in recycling drives . . . One half mile of country road is (now) litter free. Hopefully (the program) convinced audiences that there is a problem and that there are solutions."

Earn Scholarships

The top health winner in each state receives an all-expense trip to the 51st National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30. During the Congress, Eli Lilly will present seven educational scholarships of $700 each, to national 4-H Health program winners.

For further information about organizing 4-H health programs in the local area, contact the county extension office or state 4-H leader.

New Pesticide Control Law Effective in '72

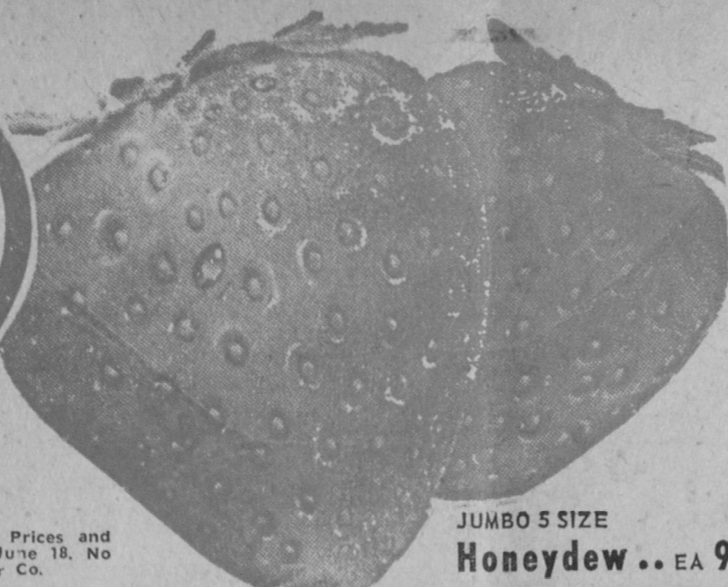

Licenses have been issued to 125 restricted use pesticide dealers by the Michigan Department of Agriculture, according to B. Dale Ball, director.

The restricted use pesticide law, which became effective this year, requires any dealer handling such products to obtain a state license. A license is issued only after he has demonstrated, through written examination, his knowledge of the law and rules governing the sale of pesticides.

"During the short period of time since implementation," Ball said, "we have established testing procedures, printed tests and licenses and have authorized 125 dealers to sell restricted use pesticides."

As established in MDA Regulation No. 633, the person in charge of each sales location or outlet must be licensed. Pesticides covered under the regulation are those formulations determined after public hearing to be serious hazards to man, warm-blooded animals and to the environment, when applied under normal accepted conditions of use. There are thousands of sales outlets for pesticides in Michigan. They may still sell non-restricted materials, but only the newly-licensed dealers may handle products on the restricted list.

"Selling restricted pesticides without a license," Ball added, "is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of up to $200 and up to 60 days in jail." Copies of Michigan's economic poisons law, Regulation No. 633, and a list of restricted use pesticides are available by writing Michigan Department of Agriculture, Plant Industry Division, Lewis Cass Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913.

Parents Know the Drug Threat

THE CHILD YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

By DET. SGT. George Westcott
CANDIDATE FOR IOSCO COUNTY SHERIFF

Today's Subject: Barbiturates — Depressants

Barbiturates, unlike Marijuana, Heroin and Hallucinogens, are legitimate drugs. However, although they can be and are prescribed legally by physicians, they can be extremely dangerous when misused because normally they depress the central nervous system . . . the brain and spinal column. In this category are:

SECONAL, SECOBARBITAL: These are red capsules and referred to by drug misusers as "Red Devils" — NEMBUTAL, PENTOBARBITAL: These are yellow in color and in capsule form also. Slang term is "Yellow Jackets" — TUINAL, AMO-WITH SECO-BARBITAL: Red and blue (half and half) and called "Rainbows" on the street market — AMYTAL, AMOBARBITAL: All blue capsules, called "Blue Heavens" by abusers.

These are all dangerous prescription drugs usually prescribed as sleeping pills. They are the most commonly found barbiturates on the illegal "street market." BARBITURATES ARE HIGHLY ADDICTIVE. Physical addiction or, as it is called, "physically hooked" users will:

Require increased doses regularly because the body builds a tolerance to these drugs.

Be depressed, drowsy and demonstrate marked slurred speech.

Become psychologically dependent, or mentally "hooked," Suffer withdrawal pains if dose is not available and can experience nervousness, tremors, convulsions, delusions, hallucinations and delirium.

"Intoxication" on barbiturates can range from lethargy to deep coma, depending on how much is taken. The trouble is, after taking too much the misuser doesn't remember how much he has taken and often takes more and more until a coma results. In addition to these dangerous possibilities, drug users often drink alcoholic beverages in addition to taking drugs, at the same time they are "on" drugs. It has been proved that barbiturates, when combined with alcohol, can be deadly! Intended or accidental death can result. More people commit suicide with barbiturates than with guns!

It is best to keep well in mind the fact that some barbiturates are obtained by youth from home medicine chests, but the vast majority are obtained from "street markets." Most barbiturates are made legally in the United States, sold legally to Mexican and other foreign firms, and reappear back in the United States on the illegal "street market" within six months. They cost about 25c each and are usually packaged in foil wrappers containing four to six for a dollar.

It is some comfort to know that stimulants and barbiturates are regulated by the Food and Drug Administration under the drug abuse control amendments of 1965. These provide for a strict accounting of supplies of the drug by the manufacturer, distributor and seller, and restrict the user to five refills of the prescription, at the discretion of his doctor. Therefore, these drugs can be legally obtained only through a physician. Illicit manufacturing and dispensing of barbiturates can bring fines of $1,000 to $10,000 and prison sentences of one to three years. Those convicted of selling the drugs to persons under 21 can receive up to $15,000 fines and five to six years in jail.

How to handle tell-tale signs of drug abuse in a child will be discussed in another article. Right now we are going over the facts so that we all have firmly in mind the nature of the "enemy" we are facing. Watch for next week's "letter" in this newspaper. I am sure you will find it informative and enlightening.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read Mark 12:28-34

Above all things have fervent charity among ourselves. (1 Peter 4:8) Charity is love. Charity pardons the unpardonable and loves the unlovable—the one power that man has in common with God. This power in common is a fact; there is too much love and goodness in the world to conclude otherwise.

Not all love is charity. Charity is no mere disposition, natural affection, or attachment of friendship. It is a spiritual, supernatural binding force which deepens with knowledge and sacrifice.

To quickly forget a hurt we must start loving, even when we cannot give ourselves a reason why. The Golden Rule says to do unto others—that is, love them—as we would have them love us. We simply just start loving them and forget it. And we will never go wrong.

This world of ours is as far from peace as men are separated from one another by want of love. We do not really establish the foundations for peace in conference halls alone, but in men's hearts. Love is not organized. It is grown in the soul and cultivated in our relations with others. This alone is charity because it shares in the likeness of God's love for us.

PRAYER

O God, give me love, for it is better to be lifeless than loveless.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Even after faith and hope are no longer necessary charity will remain.—RosaLee Schramke, Rhode Island.

New Consumer Protection Law

Lt. Gov. James Brickley signed a major consumer protection bill Monday, June 5, giving consumers the right to raise their defenses on a retail installment sales contract, even if the contract is sold to a third party such as a bank or loan company.

The current law (known as the holder-in-due-course doctrine) enables irresponsible or dishonest dealers to sell their contracts quickly to a third party, get their money and skip town. Even if the merchandise is defective or never delivered, the consumer must pay.

Under the new law effective January 1, 1973, the consumer can stop payments on his contract if the product is not delivered, or if it is not satisfactory. This makes the holder-in-due-course legally responsible for the original seller's promises.

Prof. William Morrison, chairman of the Michigan Consumers Council, says the council strongly supported this bill believing that it would "affect dishonest merchants who depend on quick cash flows to continue in business. Because financial institutions may be more discriminating about the contracts they buy, reputable merchants will be less able to sell their contracts, get their money and then disregard their obligations." The Michigan Bankers Association also supported the bill.

Two other holder-in-due-course bills are still pending. The one covering home improvements has passed both the house and senate and awaits resolution of technical differences. The bill affecting auto sales faces stiff opposition from the Michigan Automobile Dealers Association and neither house nor the senate has considered it.

"Sure I didn't interrupt anything important, Pop?"

You filled the emptiness. Your voice... turned his whole day around. And all it took was a long distance call.

Now anyone can lower the cost of loving simply by dialing direct on long distance calls within Michigan instead of going through the operator. You save 40% by dialing direct weekdays after five, and weekends from 5 p.m. Friday till 5 p.m. Sunday. Dial direct any other time—save 20%.

And if you talk long distance within Michigan for one minute, you pay for one minute, not three.

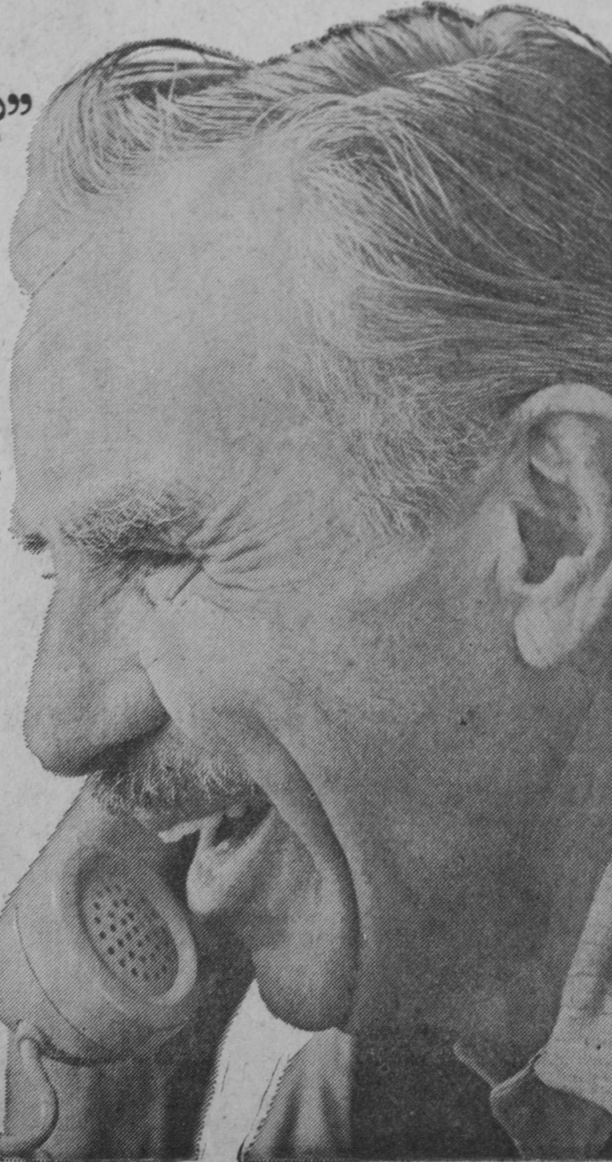

Know someone in another town who could use a lift? Don't hesitate to call... often.

You can lower the cost of loving by 40%

Here's when to direct dial long distance and save

| Mon. thru Fri. | Sat. | Sunday |
|----------------|------|---------------|
| 7 AM TO 5 PM | 20% | 40% |
| 5 PM TO 7 AM | 40% | 20% |
| | | 5 PM TO 11 PM |
| | | 40% |

Discounts also apply to station-to-station calls in areas where direct dialing is not yet available.

Ahonen. Smyczynski; nays-none. Carried.

The above amendment was based on a state equalized valuation of $7,794,975 for Tawas City, which is $6,518,925 on real and $1,276,050 on personal property.

No further business for this meeting, the meeting was adjourned.
