Two Braves Get All NBC Selection

Two members of the Tawas Area Braves were named Monday night to all-conference first team positions in balloting by coaches of the Northern B Conference. Three players received honorable mention in the selections.

Al LaBlance, a senior middle guard and a bright spot for the Braves during a long and trying season, received a unanimous all-conference selection as a defensive lineman. LaBlance led Tawas Area defenders during the season with 21 solo tackles, 78 assists, one fumble recovery and three blocked kicks.

Al Kushion, six-foot, four-inch, 215-pound senior center, was named to the conference's first team offensive line. The school does not keep statistics on its offensive linemen, but the fact that Kushion was picked for this important position reveals the respect held by NBC coaches for his performance in front of a backfield which lacked offensive punch this season.

Missing by one vote from being named to the first team on defense was Neil Robelli, who had 14 solo tackles and 59 assists during the season.

Besides Robelli, players receiving honorable mention were Steve Janego and Steve Anschuetz, co-captains of the Braves for the season.

Janego was the team's leading ball carrier, picking up 524 yards in 97 attempts. He was the mainstay of the Tawas Area backfield and missed three games on offense because of an injured thigh.

Anschuetz, an offensive guard and the steadiest blocker all season, was second to LaBlance in tackling with 68.

Red Coats Invade Deer Hunting Haunts in Area

An army of red-coated hunters is in Michigan's wooded areas this morning (Wednesday) for the opening day of the firearms season on deer. While one-half million or more deer licenses may be sold this season, opening day pressure was not expected to be as great as in previous years.

Many areas of the state were hit Tuesday morning by the first heavy snowfall of the season, but there were only a few scattered snow showers in the local area. The extent of the storm downstate could have an effect on northbound traffic.

Here in Iosco County, private hunting camps are expected to be filled as usual, but hunting pressure on state and federal land is not expected to be as great as in previous years. With a mid-week opening, traffic on US-23 and M-65 was not heavy over the week-end, but state police noted a slight increase Tuesday morning. The large influx of hunters may not come until the week-end.

Pre-season predictions have indicated that the deer kill will be down this year. Such a prediction is an "if" proposition, but it is believed that there are fewer deer this year, as well as an increase in year around poaching and highway deer kill. In addition, Michigan's 1972 take of antlerless deer will be held to 9,830 animals, about one-half of last year's quota.

For the first time in a number of years, the northern half of Iosco County is limited to bucks only during the firearms period, November 15-30. That area below M-55 is included in Area 55, where antlerless hunting is allowed on a permit basis.

Some 23,000 antlerless permits were offered by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for the Northern Lower Peninsula, where the antlerless quota has been cut in half from last season, down to less than 5,000 animals.

Sights are set upon taking about 4,200 antlerless deer in Southern Michigan to minimize that region's toll of car-deer accidents.

Claim Shortchange in State Aid Money

Claiming that it had been short-changed $35,000 last year in state aid money, Tawas Area School District has joined a number of other school districts in the state in a lawsuit against the Michigan Department of Education.

According to Supt. Edward J. Barry, this money was withheld from state aid payments to the school for "contingency purposes." The superintendent contends that this contingency by the state board of education was to "bail out" the Detroit school system, which he and other school superintendents say was improper.

Detroit schools are still in deep financial trouble and face the threat of a December closing, following defeat of millage proposals last week by voters.

Barry reports that the possibility of suing the state to recover funds withheld from state aid payments was discussed at the recent convention of the Michigan Association of School Boards held at Grand Rapids.

Barry said he asked Tawas Area Board of Education for approval to join in the court action last week and was given its blessing. He believes that the money can be recovered and this district has joined about 12 other schools to retain an attorney to plead the case.

The portion held back from state aid payments last year to Tawas Area School District was a percentage of its total entitlement and represented the same percentage which was withheld from all school districts in the state.

It is expected that Detroit schools will contest the law suit, but the Tawas Area School superintendent believes that the court action can be won, based on other cases which have come before the courts.

Barry charged the defendants with negligence, false representations and conspiracy to bankrupt his Amateur Treasure Hunters Association, a metal detection equipment sales formerly located at Oscoda.

Following disclosure of a $700,000 loss in March 1971 through a check kiting operation, Ballinger entered into an agreement with the bank whereby he was to be permitted to repay the bank under bank control. The bank later took over full control of the business and then started liquidating assets to recover part of the loss.

Named as defendants in the suit besides the bank were Fisher Research Laboratories, Incorporated, treasure hunting equipment supplier; Edward Lewis, president of the California firm; Richard Parkinson, president of the Hale bank; David Hyslip, an FRL employee who had served as office manager for the Association for several months.

Judge Miller ordered the case to be dismissed with prejudice but without cost to the plaintiff.

Ballinger, who was found guilty last July on 26 counts of mail fraud against the Hale bank, filed suit January 18 of this year asking damages of $18,400,000 against the bank and other defendants.

OK Office Building for Social Services

Construction of a new building to house the social service department was authorized Wednesday by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

Commissioners authorized the use of $85,000 in federal revenue sharing funds to construct the 34 by 86-foot office building on property adjacent to the Iosco Medical Care Facility on Plank Road.

While federal revenue sharing funds have not been received as yet, county officials have learned that it has been stipulated that these funds be used for capital improvements rather than to allocate this bonanza for a local tax reduction.

Commissioners have noted that present space in the county building is inadequate to house the bulging department of social services and have been investigating the possibility of a new office building for several months.

The commission directed that plans be prepared by an engineer and that construction bids be accepted at the December 20 meeting.

Following its hearing on the 1973 budget, the commissioners approved raising its per capita allocation from 55 to 75 cents for the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library. This increase is subject to an identical increase from Arenac County.

Representatives of the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library Board appeared at the meeting and appealed for a per capita increase of 85 cents in order to meet a minimal budget presented for 1973. Also speaking on behalf of the library was a representative of Oscoda Area School District, who reported that the school's library budget had been reduced and the service of the regional library was required.

Letters were read from various individuals and organizations urging the commissioners to allocate additional funds for the regional library. The per capita increase of 20 cents was unanimously endorsed by the commission.

In other business, discussion was again heard on plans to remodel present living quarters in the jail for office use. In order to meet specifications of the state jail inspector, room must be provided at the jail for a prisoner exercise area, a visiting room for prisoners and a room where a prisoner may confer with his legal counsel.

Plans are being made to move the main entrance of the jail to the front of the building, which would provide necessary office space, squad room, radio room, interrogation room and other facilities not now provided because of the space occupied by the sheriff's living quarters.

The commission adopted an annual salary increase of $400 for the probate judge, in accordance with the 1972 state law stipulating that probate judges be paid on a population basis.

The sheriff's department was authorized to participate in the state snowmobile instructional program and $1,917 is to be charged to expense of this department for this program.

Leon Putnam, register of deeds-elect, was authorized to attend a training school for incoming officers.

Judge Dismisses Ballinger's Suit

An 18.4-million-dollar damage suit against Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale and other defendants was dismissed by Judge Allan C. Miller through the failure of the plaintiffs, Gene and Phyllis Ballinger, to appear in Iosco Circuit Court.

A motion was received Tuesday morning by County Clerk Keith Pappas from Donald A. Wascha, attorney for the Ballingers, asking to reinstate the case.

The Ballingers, who moved from Iosco County to Florida last June 15, had been ordered to appear on October 19 to take depositions concerning the case. However, Ballinger was incarcerated the previous day following his sentencing in Bay City Federal Court on a check kiting charge. He is presently free under $25,000 bond while awaiting an appeal.

Judge Miller ordered the case to be dismissed with prejudice but without cost to the plaintiff.

Ballinger, who was found guilty last July on 26 counts of mail fraud against the Hale bank, filed suit January 18 of this year asking damages of $18,400,000 against the bank and other defendants.

Ballinger charged the defendants with negligence, false representations and conspiracy to bankrupt his Amateur Treasure Hunters Association, a metal detection equipment sales formerly located at Oscoda.

SOME RADICAL CHANGES in the general appearance of Lake Street (US-23) in Tawas City have been wrought by wreckers and movers during the past several months. The top picture shows the intersection of US-23 and M-55 where Forward Oil Company is completing work on an automatic car wash and is constructing a new Shell station. Houses formerly located there and owned by the late Julius and Fred Musolf have been moved to new locations on Beech Street, shown directly below. A new phase in clearance of old residences has been started by Dr. John D. LeClair. Pictured at left is the house formerly owned by Dr. E. B. Cavell Jr. This dwelling, pictured at lower left, and the residence of O. S. Rose, lower right, are now being razed. The two dwellings are the last of four homes constructed by the Prescott family during the lumbering days. The property, now owned by LeClair, is being cleared for business expansion. Seven dwellings have been moved or razed from Lake Street during the past two years. It all started two summers ago when the Charles Curry-Carl Peters residence was moved from the corner of Whittemore Street to make way for a new commercial building owned by Del Myles. At East Tawas, a residence and cabins owned by Douglas Ferguson were moved during the past summer for expansion of commercial property.—Tawas Herald Photos.

TA School Budget Hearing Was Avoided by Taxpayers

Monday night's public hearing on Tawas Area School's 1972-1973 operational budget totaling nearly 1 1/2 million dollars again proved to be a fizzle. Outside of two representatives of the press, not a single taxpayer was present to hear the detailed presentation by Supt. Edward J. Barry.

A number of years ago, adoption of a state law required that all governmental units and schools hold public hearings prior to formal adoption of operational budgets for the next year. Since inception of the law, residents and taxpayers have shown little interest in attending the hearings.

Actual general fund expenditures budgeted for the current school year totaled $1,480,034.44, as compared to $1,322,840 for the preceding year.

Categories included in general fund expenditures include $372,426 for elementary education, a decrease of $2,176; $637,956.46 for secondary education, an increase of $56,485.46; community school, $39,200, an increase of $2,395; administration, $61,563, an increase of $11,523.

Other general fund expenditures include health services, $500, up $89; transportation, $109,009, an increase of $19,438; operation, $123,110, an increase of $13,208; maintenance, $34,850, an increase of $14,483; fixed charges, $72,419.98, an increase of $22,530.98; community services, $500, an increase of $116; capital outlay, $28,500, an increase of $16,332.

Revenue from the state totals $611,366.37, which includes $509,371.37 in state aid, an increase of $68,712.68. Total federal money to be received by the district is $18,784, a decrease of $34,949.

The major portion of the state aid increase was brought about through the increased school enrollment this year and, without the added pupils, the school would have had financial problems. Barry said Monday night that Tawas Area School District, like all districts in the state, would be in serious financial difficulty after the first of the year should there be a major industrial strike of any lengthy duration.

The local contribution to school operation totals $910,188.89, of which the major share of $880,688.89 is in property taxes. The school district has a valuation of $53,375,084, as compared to $47,247,465 last year and will spread 16.5 mills for operation.

The superintendent noted that the revenue portion of the budget is figured at a 100 percent collection of property taxes. He said that he planned to appear before the county board of commissioners to request that the full amount of property taxes be paid to schools, regardless of those which are delinquent.

Barry believes that there would be an actual saving in tax money if the full amount of taxes would be paid to schools and the county would handle the delinquent taxes. He bases his reasoning on the fact that schools presently are duplicating the clerical work in the county treasurer's office on delinquent taxes and that all interest on those delinquent taxes could go directly to the county under his proposal.

He said that interest to be assessed against delinquent taxes is expected to be increased this year.

THE NEW BRIDGE carrying US-23 over the AuSable River south of Oscoda was to have been completed in time for deer season, but construction has been delayed. The contractor was working on the roadway last Saturday when this picture was snapped. The new bridge replaces an old steel truss bridge built in 1932 and last repaired in 1965. Traffic has been using a new bridge on Mill Street during construction.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Auto License Plates Go on Sale by Mail and at State Offices

Michigan motorists will be able to purchase 1973 passenger car license plates by mail for the second consecutive year when these plates go on sale beginning today (Wednesday), according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Prepared applications have been mailed to Michigan's more than five million passenger car and motorcycle owners," states Auto Club licensing manager, Joseph Ratke. "These forms can be mailed back to the Michigan Department of State immediately with orders to be filled after November 15."

License plates also will be available at 51 Auto Club offices and department of state branches starting today. The usual long line of first day purchasers is anticipated at the Tawas City branch of the secretary of state's office, according to Roy Bergeron, manager.

Deadline for plates being ordered by mail is February 10, 1973. The deadline for having 1973 plates on passenger cars and motorcycles is April 1.

Between 500,000 and 750,000 license plates orders are expected to be filled by mail, more than double last year's 300,000 tab sale by mail. Last year was the first time plates were sold by mail and the deadline request was December 31, 40 days earlier than this time.

"These sales are not expected to reduce long lines that occur the final week of sales in March when approximately one in seven vehicle owners buy 1973 plates," Ratke points out. "The mailing probably will make lines smaller on the first day of sales."

This year's plates have white letters upon a dark blue background. The department of state is considering using the plates for two or three years. Tabs would be needed each year the plates are extended.

Persons ordering by mail will receive aluminum plates because they are lighter and easier to send while those buying plates at Auto Club or department of state offices will receive the standard steel plates.

Ratke reminds passenger car or motorcycle owners to check closely the renewal application mailed to them. Missing information should be completed, wrong information should be lined out with the corrections made and the certification on the reverse side should be completed and signed. Directions on obtaining new plates are printed on the envelope.

Besides the completed application, licenses to be renewed by mail should include the following:

1. A check or money order payable to State of Michigan for exact amount of license fee.
2. Checks or money orders should be signed by vehicle owner.
3. Add a separate certified check or money order for $45, which goes to the Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund, if vehicle is not insured.
4. Mail applications and remittance to the secretary of state, Post Office Box 1000, Lansing, Michigan 48904.

JAYWALKERS
 TO JAYWALK

Jaywalkers are a double danger; not only do they risk their own safety, but they also cause traffic jams and vehicle collisions. Taking the time to cross only at corners may mean saving your life and the lives of others. Deborah White, Cass Technical High School, Detroit, Michigan, drew this prize winning poster in the AAA School Traffic Safety Poster Contest.

WITH MICHIGAN'S 1972 hunting season on deer opening this morning (Wednesday), Wilber Rifle Range owned by Francis Block was a busy place over the week-end as hunters used facilities there to check out sights on rifles. Block said that Saturday was one of the busiest days he had ever had for "sighting in" rifles. Kenneth Buckland, 16, a junior at Oscoda Area High School, is shown in the above photo checking out the telescopic sight on his trusty carbine.—Tawas Herald Photo.

May Continue Ed. During Pregnancy

The Iosco Intermediate School Office is again offering the pregnant student program enabling school-age girls to continue their education during pregnancy. This program serves junior high and senior high students in the Iosco Intermediate School District. The main concern of the program is to facilitate their return to school following pregnancy and to reduce drop-out rate due to pregnancy.

The program aims to meet the educational, health and social welfare needs of pregnant teen-agers. The Iosco Intermediate School District provides Miss Jane Neveer as teacher and coordinator of the program. The curriculum advisor is Mrs. Margie Degenhardt. Agencies providing staff services are Iosco County Health Department, providing a pre-natal and infant care class by Mrs. Montiel, and The Iosco County Social Services Department offering counseling through Mrs. S. Muttonen and Mrs. C. Moss.

Other supportive agencies are Cooperative Extension Service, Tawas Hospital, Child and Family Services of Michigan and Wurtsmith Air Force Base Hospital. Academic instructor offers a highly individualized educational experience for each girl. Classes are being held at Christ Episcopal Church Annex. Local people who have provided assistance to the program are the Rev. Alfred Saulsbury, Knit-A-Bit Shop, Robert Marsh, Mrs. Dolly Frick, area post offices and The Quota Club.

An advisory board meeting was held October 30 at the church annex. The meeting provided an opportunity for members to visit the new facility, meet the new staff members and contribute information to help the staff and community make this program relevant to the students and the community.

Further information about the program may be secured by calling the Iosco Intermediate School District Office, 362-2461.

Senior Citizens Hear Mr. Barry

Approximately 97 Tawas Area Senior Citizens gathered at the East Tawas Community Building Wednesday, November 8, to hear Edward J. Barry, superintendent of Tawas Area Schools, give an interesting and informative talk on school functions. An educational, question and answer period followed.

Members with November birthdays were honored. Games were played, door prizes awarded and refreshments of ice cream and cake served to members and guests. There will be no meeting Wednesday, November 22. Next meeting is to be held Wednesday, December 13, 12 o'clock noon, at the community building. Following a brief business meeting, there will be an election of 1973 officers. Annual Christmas party will follow.

Braves Lost Final Game to Bad Axe

Tawas Area Braves turned in another good defensive game Friday night, but again could not mount an offensive attack and went down before Bad Axe, 12-0, in the season's final game on the winners' home field. The Braves finished out the schedule with a record of three wins and six losses.

In their first meeting with a class B Thumb school, the Braves had a couple of potential scoring opportunities but just could not punch out the necessary yardage when they reached their opponent's territory.

The Braves held Bad Axe scoreless during the first half and it was not until the late minutes of the third quarter that Bad Axe was able to score. Deshane worked his way to the outside and ran 60 yards for the first touchdown.

On the next series of downs, the Braves fumbled to set up the final score of the season. Tawas Area recovered a Bad Axe fumble earlier in the game and penetrated to the BA-29, where a couple of fumbles ended the drive. The Braves had their best opportunity to score in the third quarter when they penetrated to the BA-15, but the threat ended there as the Braves lost 10 yards on the screen pass.

It was a frustrating season for the Braves and the coaching staff. Not overly powerful to begin with, the Braves defeated Harrison, Pinconning and Standish-Sterling, but lost four regulars for disciplinary reasons and could never get untracked.

At full strength, the Braves turned in an excellent game against Essexville, co-champion of the NBC, but was smothered by Carrollton to start a string of five defeats.

John Pfeiffer, junior linebacker, turned in an excellent game on defense.

Sophomores moving up to the varsity for this game were Mark Hintz; Randy Scales, who took over for Rob Elliott when he fractured his wrist, and Jeff Hemphill, who played end most of the game. Jim McArdle and Mark Elliott, sophomores, did not see action and George Smith was injured in the final junior varsity game and did not dress for Friday night's game.

Juniors returning next year will be Curtis Earl, Mike Hughes, Perry Stephenson, Don Backus, Neil Robelli, Glenn DesJardin, Pfeiffer, Barry Harris, Steve Kalafut, Craig Prescott, Pete Sutton, Randy Reed, Paul Brinkman, Kevin Elliott and Andy King.

Mickey Haglund was the lone sophomore listed on the varsity roster until Friday night's game. He has quarterbacked the team since moving up from the junior varsity for the Carrollton game.

No Surprises in Local Election; Follow Nation for Pres. Nixon

Iosco County voters followed the national landslide Tuesday, November 7, by giving President Richard Nixon 5,750 ballots and 3,065 were cast for Democrat George McGovern.

Sen. Robert Griffin, who was easily re-elected lost a little ground in Iosco County from the Republican presidential ticket, receiving 5,288 votes to 3,367 for Frank Kelley, state attorney general and a former Alpena resident.

Cong. Phillip E. Ruppe, who became Iosco County's new representative in congress this year following new districting, was re-elected over James E. McNamara, Democrat, for the 11th District seat. Iosco voters gave Ruppe 5,314 ballots, while McNamara received 2,743. (Cong. Elford A. Cederberg, always strongly supported by Iosco County when included in his district, was re-elected in the 10th District.)

State Rep. George A. Prescott, who was re-elected over his Democratic opponent, Earl R. Schuster, again proved to be the most popular candidate on the state or national ticket—as far as Iosco County voters are concerned. A native of Tawas City, Prescott received 5,922 votes, as compared to 2,558 for Schuster, who had been endorsed just prior to the election by area labor councils and the Michigan Education Association (teacher's union). Prescott won one of the easiest victories of his career in a new district, now including six full counties and parts of four others. Bayard J. Cornyer, the American Independent candidate from Mio, polled 50 votes.

Michigan will go on Daylight Savings Time next summer after voters approved Proposal A and Iosco County followed state-wide voting by approving this constitutional amendment by a close, 4,634-4,063, vote.

Vietnam veterans got the nod from Iosco County voters, even if they could not get the bonus from the state-wide vote on Proposal E. Iosco favored benefits for Vietnam veterans, 4,242-4,209.

Unlike the final state result, Iosco County favored adoption of the controversial Proposal C, the much discussed tax reform package benefiting schools and supported by Gov. William Milliken. This proposal received "yes" votes from 4,575 in Iosco County, while 3,967 voted against the proposal.

Iosco voters followed the state on all other proposals. The controversial abortion reform amendment was defeated, 5,576 to 3,133; the graduated income tax farefared slightly behind abortion reform in its licking, with 5,549 "no" votes and 2,796 "yes" votes.

Sheriff-Elect George Westcott led all candidates in the election, receiving 6,666 votes to 1,995 for James Finley, Democrat. Leon Putnam received 6,433 votes for register of deeds, while his Democratic opponent, George E. Smith, received 2,015. John Mielock received 5,713 votes for drain commissioner, while his Democratic opponent, Leon Brunson, received 2,280.

Unopposed candidates received the following votes: Kenneth Myles, prosecuting attorney, 6,121; D. Keith Pappas, county clerk, 6,441; Edward Nelkie, county treasurer, 6,524. On the state judicial ballot, Judge Donald E. Holbrook received 4,495 ballots for the court of appeals; Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller received 5,813 votes and Dist. Judge J. Richard Ernst received 4,993 ballots.

Mary Coleman, with 3,051 votes, and Charles Levin, with 3,176, both winners for the state supreme court, were favored by Iosco voters. Other candidates received the following: William J. Beer, 491; Vincent J. Brennan, 1,066; Robert L. Evans, 1,019; Zolton Ferency, 1,523; Horace Gilmore, 789; William Ortman, 357; James Thorburn, 1,252.

In the lone race for county commissioner, William Wewley, incumbent Republican, defeated his Democratic opponent, Robert Pember, for the Fifth District seat, 1,131 to 675. Others elected to seats on the new five-man commission were Robert Foster, Oscoda; J. Berkeley Smith, AuSable; F. B. Lomas, East Tawas; Carl Libka, Tawas City.

Two local proposals were placed before voters of two townships. In Reno Township, serving liquor by the glass was approved, 107-59, while a mobile home restriction proposal was defeated in Plainfield Township, 611-428.

Three townships had races. In Sherman, John H. Jordan was elected supervisor over Bernard Lorenz, Democrat, 93-55, and David A. Povlus, Republican, won the trustee post over Leonard G. Cole, 73-69. In Alabaster Township, John E.

Weible, Republican incumbent supervisor, won over Mabel E. Smith, Democrat, 129-75; Hope Rescoe, Democratic incumbent clerk, won over Ralph Rohrback, 111-87; Leona Benson, Republican incumbent treasurer, won over Paul Sayles, 122-41; William H. Lingle, Republican, won over Arlene Washburn, Democrat, for the trustee post, 103-78. In Tawas Township, Marian Ullman, Republican, won for the office of clerk over Florence Stock, Democrat, 366-177.

Legion Post to Conduct Membership Drive Contest

Jesse C. Hodder Post No. 189, American Legion, will conduct a membership drive contest for 1973 dues now through December. At the regular meeting Thursday, November 9, members decided to initiate a drive for new members and renewal of former memberships in the form of a team contest, with the losers giving the winning team a dinner. Robert Rollin and Richard Stock volunteered to be team captains. Interested individuals may contact them or any post member for further information.

At the October meeting, the traditional Monday night meeting date was changed to the second Thursday of each month. It is hoped that the new date will bring less conflict with other events.

"All veterans of World Wars I and II, the Korean War and Vietnam conflict are urged to join and become active legionnaires," said Stock, post adjutant. "Besides the National Legion veterans' support, the local Legion helps promote civic interests; provides hospital beds, wheel chairs and crutches for public use; plans and participates in the observance of Memorial Day; provides a hall for scout meetings, and many other things that help promote veterans and the community."

Iosco Had More Voters, but Voting Percentage Down

More people voted November 7 than in any previous general election in Iosco County history, but there was a poorer showing, percentage-wise, of registered voters than in the 1968 presidential election.

This fact was disclosed Wednesday when County Clerk Keith Pappas compared election totals for the past two general elections. A total of 9,060 voters showed up at Iosco County polling places on November 7, which represented 79.67 percent of the total registration list.

In the 1968 election, there were 7,418 voters, but this total represented 83.7 percent of the registration list.

As an example of this lower percentage of voters this year, Pappas' records indicate that Tawas City had an amazing 89 percent turnout in 1968, as compared to 79.8 percent on November 7.

Alabaster Township, which had local races, had the best voting record last week with 86.23 percent of its registration list voting.

The county clerk said that it would be impossible at this early date to determine the reason for the lower percentage of voters. While most of the local election excitement came in the August primary, with a record number of candidates for sheriff, the presidential campaign always has extreme voter interest and Michigan had added controversy with its five proposed constitutional amendments.

The number of absent voter ballots was the highest in history, but Pappas believes that this may be a link with the lower percentage of voters. With the 18-year-olds gaining the right to vote in their first presidential election, registration lists were swelled with these new voters. Pappas believes that many of the new voters, who are attending college, did not apply in time to receive absent voter ballots, while others just did not show up at the polls. Most election boards had counting problems during the long election night, probably due to the increased number of split ballots, the lengthy judicial ballot, the proposal ballot and an apparent lack of familiarity with election rules on the part of some boards.

Baldwin Precinct No. 1 had the distinction of being the first to report in with official totals at 12:40 a. m. Tawas Township Precinct No. 1 was the last to report to the county clerk's office at a weary 3:40 a. m.

It was thought two years ago that the "off-year" election developed in Michigan would speed up counting during the presidential election through the elimination of all but the general election ballot, but no provision was made by the legislature for holding judicial elections in the "off-year" and a constitutional amendment will be required to do so.

In addition, the general election ballot was "cluttered" with long lists of state educational offices.

A Sincere Thank You

TODAY'S Meditation
from
The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read James 4:1-10)

God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble. (James 4:6)
A successful businessman has a plaque on his desk with these words: "There is no limit to what a man can do or where he can go if he does not mind who gets the credit."

King Saul started out as a humble man whom God could use. But when honors and victories came his way, his personality underwent a great change. When he heard David being praised as a hero greater than himself, he could not bear it. "Saul eyed David from that day and forward." That was Saul's downfall; there he met God's wall of resistance. No doubt King Saul would have had a different reputation had he reminded himself that his attainments were by God's mercy, not by his own merits, and willingly joined in the honoring of David. Then God's continual grace, instead of His resistance, would have been his.

PRAYER
Father, help me to minimize the credit others would give me. May I see Your grace as the real thing in my life. In Jesus' name. Amen.
THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God resists the jealous-hearted, but gives grace to the humble.—Celeste Rhea (St. Louis, Missouri)

To shell or not to shell—that is the big question about nuts. Remember that shelled nuts are ready to go. Unshelled nuts are often, but not always, less expensive than shelled nuts. But do not discount the family fun of cracking nuts, especially if you have a nut cracking team ready and willing.

If you are comparing cost, here is a good rule to follow: Two pounds of unshelled tree nuts make one pound (three to four cups) of nutmeat. American families favor pecan, walnuts and almonds. Each year, Americans take about 1.6

pounds of shelled nuts per capita from our national nut bowl.

Where do the favorite tree nuts come from? English walnuts and almonds are from California, pecans from the South, particularly Georgia.

How do you keep nuts fresh? Your refrigerator is the best storage spot.

The pleasing flavor of nuts depends on the oils they contain. The oils in the nuts turn rancid under continued exposure to air, heat and moisture. Keep nuts in an airtight container. Once opened, refrigerate in a closer container. For longer storage, if you have room in your freezer, package the nutmeats in usable amounts, about one cup of hand-broken nutmeats. Nuts in the shell keep better than shelled nuts and whole nutmeats keep better than chopped or ground nuts.

To get whole or half nutmeats, try the following method: Cover with cold water, bring to a boil and boil three minutes; drain. Cover with cold water; let stand one minute, drain and crack. Another method—just freeze the nuts before cracking.

Soak unshelled pecans for six to eight hours in cold salt solution (one-half cup salt to three quarts water), drain and crack.

To help you prepare for the holiday season, write or call your county extension office for a special bulletin called "Nuts in Family Meals." This bulletin is free of charge and full of information on buying, storing and preparing nuts for home use. It also contains recipes for breads, desserts, main dishes, salads and other favorites made with nuts.

Even at bath time.

The Joneses will have plenty of hot water now that they've replaced their old water heater with a new efficient Gas water heater. They can take baths or showers whenever they choose. And the many other household hot water needs are taken care of, too. What's more, their new Gas water heater is most economical. (Gas heats water faster, at about one-third the cost of electricity.)

The Joneses were interested in suggestions to conserve hot water, too. Here are a few we recommended:

1. Fix leaky hot water faucets promptly.
2. Operate your washer with capacity loads only, or make use of its water-level control.

3. If you use a higher water-heater setting on washday, be sure to lower it when the washing is completed.
4. Use your dishwasher only when it is fully loaded.
5. Drain a pail of water from the water heater once a month to keep sediment from collecting in the tank.

When your water heater needs replacing, see the Gas water heaters on display at Gas appliance dealers, plumbers or Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms, and keep up with the Joneses.

Meanwhile, start making a habit of not wasting hot water in your home.

TAWAS AREA HIGH SCHOOL was host Wednesday afternoon to the regional meeting of Future Homemakers of America. Regular high school classes were dismissed at noon in order that preparations could be made to handle the 250 visitors from 12 schools. The top picture shows girls enjoying a get-acquainted snack in the cafeteria following registration. In the bottom picture, Wanda Hinkley of Tawas Area High School, second from right, who was re-elected regional president, is shown with Mrs. Doris Wetzel, FHA advisor at Tawas Area, along with two candidates for regional offices from this school, Mary Brown, who was an unsuccessful candidate for secretary, and Jeannette Gengerich, who was elected parliamentarian. It was the first time in five years that this school hosted the regional meeting.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Bay City Office Answers Questions on Social Security

Question: I was handling all my mother's finances, including her social security check, before she died recently. What should I do with the money I had saved from her monthly social security payments?

Answer: All of her social security payments which you have saved or invested belong to her estate. You should turn this money over to the legal representative of the estate for distribution, according to state law.

Question: I have been getting social security payments since I was nine years old. Next year when I am 18, I plan to enroll in a trade school. A friend told me that my monthly payments will stop when I become 18 if I do not go to a college. Is this true?

Answer: No. You do not have to go to college to continue to get your monthly payments after you are 18. However, you do have to be single and enrolled as a full-time student at an educational institution. Most trade schools qualify as educational institutions. You should check with your social security office to be certain the trade school you are planning to attend meets this qualification.

Question: I am self-employed and will retire on January 31, 1973. Can my 1972 earnings be included when my social security benefit is figured?

Answer: Yes, your 1972 earnings can be included. You will be required to furnish a copy of your 1972 tax return at the time you apply.

Question: My wife and I now get our monthly social security payments in a single check. Since my wife will be admitted to a nursing home shortly and I do not get around very easily, how can we arrange to get separate checks?

Answer: You should call, write or visit your social security office to arrange for you and your wife to get separate checks.

If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 49706; telephone, 833-9579. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Isoco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday of each week from 9:45 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Newcomers Club to Host Annual Tasting Bee

A pot-luck dinner is usually held every other month to which husbands are invited. The entire family is welcome to attend the annual Christmas party.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Thumb-Tawas Ferry Service Talk Still Alive

15 Years Ago—

November 14, 1957—Proposed ferry boat service between Port Austin and the Tawasess may still have life and will be followed up by businessmen and civic leaders from both communities. Businessmen from both communities are urging the state legislature to utilize one of the recently retired state ferries at the Straits of Mackinac for such service.

A front kitchen floor plan in Anderson Coach Company's new 10 by 48-foot mobile home is a first in the industry and it is expected that this model will account for about 20 percent of the plant's production during the next year.

Neil Luedtke of East Tawas attended the Detroit Free Press photo conference last week.

Miss Tammy Bell was crowned homecoming queen Saturday night by Roney Boach of the Tawas Area Braves. Master of ceremonies for the program was Roger Gordon.

Michigan deer hunters, 400,000 strong, will take to the woods Friday with an eye out for a wily white tail buck. It is estimated that approximately 73,000 legal deer, including antlerless, will be harvested before the end of the season.

25 Years Ago—

November 14, 1947—That section of Hemlock Road between Hill's corner and East Tawas was opened to traffic Wednesday noon after being out of commission for several months. Repairs on the bridge over Cold Creek have been completed.

A late conservation department count this fall indicated an increase of deer population in the Isoco area. Last year, 29 percent of the hunters in this area were successful, getting 3,183 deer. With nearly 11,000 hunters in the county last year, Isoco was 10th in number of deer killed in the state.

East Tawas State Park had 32 percent more campers during the past summer than during the previous year.

Russia's tough talk is nothing new, according to George Keenan, General Marshall's chief Russian policy maker. It has been going on for 160 years, under both Czars and the Soviets. The main problem in Europe is the vacuum in France and Italy. This vacuum has to be filled, but the big question is whether Russia or the United States will move in.

National Gypsum Company's plant will be closed for the first three days of deer season so the men can all take to the woods.

The more we listen to the United Nations' debates the more we think what the world needs most is a vaccine against invecities.

35 Years Ago—

November 12, 1937—The first showing of gold and ivory antiquities of 1300 BC, unearthed last March by the University of Chicago's Megiddo expedition, which was in charge of Dr. Gordon Loud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Loud of Oscoda, was held at the University's Oriental Institute. Megiddo, or Armageddon, as it is known in the Bible, has been a battleground of nations since the dawn of history. It lies at the strategic crossroads between Asia Minor and Egypt, not far from Nazareth in Northern Palestine. Eight distinct civilizations have flourished there. The hoard now at the institute was that of a prince of Megiddo, which he swept into a three-room cellar when the Hebrews threatened Canaan and had lain undisturbed for 20 centuries until unearthed by the expedition headed by Loud.

The first important venture of the CIO in politics turned out disastrously for the Lewis organization. Patrick H. O'Brien, its mayoralty candidate, declared on the stump that "labor must seize the reins of government in Detroit and every other American city." Whereupon the Detroit electors arose in their wrath and swept O'Brien and the CIO out of the picture. Richard W. Reading, conservative candidate backed by the AF of L, won the office.

East Tawas High School opened its debate season with a close, 2-1, decision over Harrisville. The question as to whether the state should have a one house system of legislation was the subject. The affirmative was upheld by Betty Harwood, Phyllis Creaser and William McKay of East Tawas.

Chamber Coordinates on Area Organizations

In a continuing effort to develop better communication with Tawas Chamber of Commerce members and the public at large, a community organizations' activity guide is being used to keep the area informed of all activities.

The chamber of commerce recently invited several organizations to develop a report of aims and activities that would be both meaningful to the community and the organization.

"Unfortunately, the chamber is not aware of the fine work that is being done and is certain that many people will be happy to receive this knowledge and respond in kind," stated Harris Barkman, chamber president.

This media is open to all organizations that care to participate and you can call the chamber of commerce, telephone number 362-3832, and correct information and assistance will be given so that arrangements will be made to carry out your message.

WHAT IS A CHAMBER?

Chamber of commerce is organized for the purpose of advancing industrial and civic interests and trade in the Tawas area.

The chamber of commerce is non-partisan, non-sectarian and does not take part or lend its support to the election or appointment of any candidate for public office.

In other words, the chamber acts as a community coordinator for industrial development, civic activities and public relations for the community. It functions through the committees that strive to accomplish the aims and objectives of the chamber. The chamber tries, in cooperation with various branches of city government and with various local organizations, to build a healthy and vigorous climate where in all phases of community life can grow and develop.

IF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DID NOT:

Who would maintain an office with staff devoted exclusively to the civic development of Tawas area?

Who would do the 1,001 chores that need doing around any community when so often everybody's business is nobody's business?

Who would be the central publicity agent for the community?

Who would answer hundreds of questions about this area made in person, by mail and by telephone?

Who would coordinate the efforts of local businessmen in building up the facilities of Tawas area?

Who would be concerned with the many basic problems in our community?

Who would be working as a representative of all groups for improved recreational and cultural facilities and adequate services to meet the human needs of our citizens?

Who would maintain a central agency representing the principal, civic and business interests in which visitors come for information?

Who would investigate racketeers, solicitors, magazine and book salesmen and others who prey upon business and our citizens? This alone, if taken advantage of, could save many members more than the amount of their dues.

Who would do all these things and be ready to carry the torch for Tawas area on all matters relative to making our city a better place in which to live and work?

In following publications, the chamber will inform you of the many things that have been accomplished, aims for the future, corrections that should be made, projects being put in motion, facts and figures of our operating budget and need for community support and assistance.

Prescott Says Local Areas Should Have Land Control

State Rep. George A. Prescott, Tawas City, reported Friday that three of the nine scheduled public hearings on Gov. William Milliken's proposed land use legislation have already been held.

In his study of the governor's special land use commission report published early in the year, Prescott called attention to a part of the report dealing with the roles of local governmental units in planning land use.

"One statement," Prescott said, "says that no local official can afford to balance the loss of a few hundred acres of prime agricultural land when the option available is rezoning this land for greater tax producing industrial use."

Prescott said wrathfully that a statement like that is unfair and not true.

"There are many local county, city and township planning groups that know what they are doing and working hard. In my area, especially, they are doing their job and anxious to retain the good agricultural land."

The Tawas City legislator believes the report suggests that by moving decision-making relative to land use up the bureaucratic ladder to a state appointed body all of a sudden better decisions will be made.

"This isn't so," Prescott said. "All we have to do is look behind us for examples of red tape, snafus, etc., when central government pre-empt local government."

Prescott concluded saying that he hoped local planning officials would make every attempt to attend the remaining hearings.

The next hearing is at Lansing.

November 17, 2:00 p. m.; Escanaba, November 20, 2:00 p. m.; Kalama-zoo, November 27, 2:00 p. m.; Sandusky, November 29, 2:00 p. m., and Flint, 7:00 p. m. The final hearing is set for Traverse City, December 1, 2:00 p. m.

AARP Gives Big Voice to Retirees

American Association of Retired Persons is the brain child of Ethel Percy Andrus, conceived and formed in 1958 and 18 months later started growing with its first chapter. Today, there are 1,200 chapters throughout the United States, with the Iosco Lake Shore Chapter being No. 661.

There are over four million members nationally, with this chapter incorporated in May of 1970, now boasting of 157 members and still growing.

In one of the ensuing issues, a gerontology center is being named in honor of Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus and will be finished in 1973 as an important part of the University of Southern California.

AARP now sponsors many projects and innovations incident to retirees, etc., too numerous to mention. However, brochures are obtainable for prospective new members or others interested, by writing the American Association of Retired Persons, National Headquarters, 1225 Connecticut Avenue, NW, Washington, D. C., 20006.

The next meeting is Wednesday (today), November 15, and each succeeding first and third Wednesday of each month, except during August, in the East Tawas Community Building.

Visit and get whatever information is available along with good fellowship as there is an active membership along with knowledgeable officers to help. The chapter is active with the community, having contributed money to the Lions Club Eye Bank, cancer fund, Dr. Ethel Percy Andrus fund, ambulance fund, United Fund, along with Betty Crocker coupons in abundance to the ambulance fund. The chapter has contributed over $300 worth of coupons to the Crossnore School of Crossnore, North Carolina, which is able to convert these coupons into money for subsistence to the orphanage in administering to about 200 orphans in the same manner as Boys-town, Nebraska.

Members assist in various community endeavors by contributions of time, money, effort and dedication to such projects. "We are proud of our organization as one of usefulness which is trying to channel the experience and know-how of retirees in your community, toward a better way of living for all," states F. M. Francis Sr., president.

Conservation Has Support of IS Club

The Iosco Sportsmen's Club consists of over 100 members interested in promoting the conservation of wildlife, air, soil, waters and forests.

The club is affiliated with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), which publishes a monthly magazine devoted to articles concerning the problems of conservation in this state and the nation.

These member clubs support legislation beneficial to natural resources. Club members take an active part in supporting such legislation by writing to state and national congressmen and senators stating views and asking for favorable action on such matters.

A clubhouse is located off US-23 at Tawas Centre. Meetings are held the first Wednesday of each month and usually include a speaker or a movie on some aspect of conservation.

Most members are interested in fishing, hunting, bird watching, hiking and snowmobiling.

In order to preserve hunting and fishing for all, the club supports the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) in its program of scientific game and fish management.

The club has supported laws against air pollution; destruction of forests and lands by oil companies; the dredging and filling of shorelines; passed resolutions against the use of gill net fishing in Lake Huron, especially Saginaw Bay; sale of public lands to private developers; advocated more effective laws to control snowmobiling, and participated in holding classes in firearm instruction for youngsters.

The club has provided Tawas Area High School with subscriptions to Michigan Natural Resources magazine, published by DNR, and Michigan Out of Doors (MOOD) magazine, published monthly by the MUCC.

Recently, members hosted a group of high school students at the club grounds where each student had a chance to handle and shoot at clay pigeons.

The club has a trap shooting range, a rifle and archery range, available for use by members and guests.

The club held a successful open house September 23 to celebrate National Hunting and Fishing Day, acquainting many visitors with the club program and activities.

Anyone who is conservation minded and loves the outdoors belongs in the organization. Attend the next meeting and get acquainted. Members look forward to new members coming and joining to help, in a concrete manner, the preservation of natural resources.

Next meeting will be Wednesday, December 6, 8:00 p. m., at the clubhouse. Officers are Guy Ramsey, president; Charles Lightfoot, vice president; Clyde Ward, secretary; Peter Lichtfusz, treasurer.

TC Businessmen Meet Thursdays at Village Inn

Tawas City Businessmen's Association (TCBA), originating in the middle 1940s, has remained an active and important asset to the community. Since its inception, the TCBA has been concerned with the promotion and welfare of Tawas City business district and residential interests.

The TCBA includes the following among its functions: Welcome new business people and help them establish themselves in the community; raise money to supplement the city's needs; purchase Christmas decorations and arrange for an annual visit from Santa Claus for the children; promote city cleanup.

Over the years, the TCBA has served as a sounding board for individuals, organizations and governmental agencies desiring to air ideas and proposals to the people most likely to be affected by them.

However, the TCBA has strived to maintain a non-political stature. The best interests of the community are its chief concern. It has found great success working with and as a supplement to the Tawas Chamber of Commerce. It has been an effective voice for the community at times when a voice was needed, especially in affairs involving state and local government.

The people of Tawas City should recognize that the TCBA is a necessary and valuable instrument for the progress and well-being of the community.
