

Ballinger Draws Five-Year Term on Federal Charge

"I wish it had never happened," Ballinger said he would appeal the decision. His $25,000 personal bond was canceled and a $25,000 cash surety was ordered. He was to have been held until he makes bond or files an appeal.

Convicted July 17 by a federal court jury at Bay City, Ballinger had been living with his wife and two daughters at Leesburg, Florida, where he had been working with a church group as a counselor and researcher, as well as editor of an international church publication.

In the spring of 1971, Ballinger made state-wide headlines when his Amateur Treasure Hunting Association at Oscoda suddenly crumbled around him. In the wake of this crash, stockholders of Farmers and Merchants State Bank of Hale were left with a shortage of $750,000. The bank, its executive personnel and the community it serves proved their strength by surviving this harrowing experience as the bank continued to serve its customers without interruption.

Poor weather conditions in the early spring of 1971 led to the undoing of Ballinger. In its charge, the federal government said the Oscoda businessman had juggled a series of checks between the Hale bank and Peoples State Bank of East Tawas. The check kiting scheme, in the months prior to March 1971, collapsed when a snowstorm delayed the mails and the Hale bank turned up with a $750,000 overdraft in Ballinger's account.

The bank immediately attached other accounts in Ballinger's name in an effort to recover a portion of the shortage, as well as attaching his business at Oscoda and other property. In August of 1971, the bank took over complete ownership and control of the Association and operated it for several months before finally closing the doors.

The bank began disposing of the business' merchandise and other assets but, in January of this year, Ballinger filed suit in Iosco County Circuit Court asking he be awarded 18.4-million dollars damages from the Hale bank and others involved in seizing his treasure hunting association. This case is still pending in court.

Ballinger, a resident of the Oscoda area since 1947, served as an Iosco County deputy sheriff from 1956 to 1960. He established his business of selling metal detectors and other treasure hunting gear in 1967, while still being associated with his Ausable Regional Credit Bureau of Tawas City.

When the bank shortage was first uncovered, Ballinger claimed that his metal detecting business was grossing more than a million dollars a year. During his trial, he claimed that he had not intended to defraud, but the federal government charged that his check kiting scheme between the two Iosco County banks had started in 1967—about the time he opened his treasure hunting business.

Two Hurt Saturday in M-55 Crash

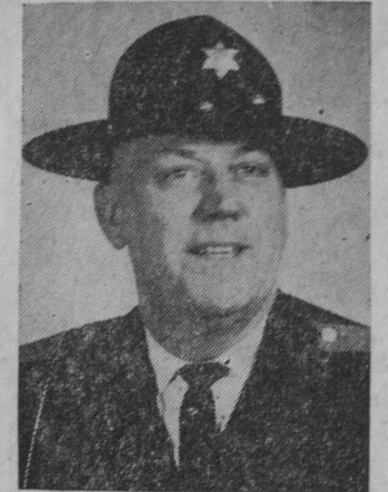

Two drivers were injured and taken to Tolfree Hospital, West Branch, following a two-car collision Saturday night on M-55, 1 1/4 miles west of the M-65 intersection.

Injured were Robert G. Jordan, 29, National City, and Larry G. Begler, 21, Bay City.

Investigating sheriff's department deputies said that both cars were headed east on M-55 when a rear end collision occurred. Jordan's car was forced off the road into the guard rails and over an embankment.

Jordan sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and facial lacerations.

Dinner Oct. 31 to Honor Iosco Sheriff Ivan O'Farrell

SHERIFF IVAN O'FARRELL

Ivan O'Farrell, who has served the past 23 years as sheriff of Iosco County and who retires at the end of this year, will be honored Tuesday, October 31, 6:00 p. m., at a testimonial dinner scheduled at the Wurtsmith Air Force Base NCO Club.

Principal speaker during the program will be James Brickley, lieutenant governor of Michigan.

Anyone interested in attending may telephone 756-3657 by noon Friday for reservations.

While an employee of National Gypsum Company and a resident of Whittemore, O'Farrell served a number of years as a deputy sheriff under Sheriff John Moran. He later gave up his deputy's commission when he made an unsuccessful attempt for the nomination as sheriff on the Republican Ticket.

O'Farrell beat out Moran for the Republican nomination as sheriff in 1949 and won in the general election of that year. He officially took office on January 1, 1950.

Although campaigning was hot during his last two terms, O'Farrell was never seriously threatened for renomination in any primary election or general election.

His announced retirement earlier this year brought forth a flood of six Republican candidates seeking the nomination. George Westcott, presently a detective in the department, was the nominee and he will face James Finley in the November election. Finley was nominated on the Democratic Ticket.

Board Majority Says:

Tax Reform Needed --- But Not Proposal C

Although expressing the opinion that property tax reform is needed in Michigan, members of Tawas Area Board of Education expressed reservations as to their support of Proposal C, an amendment to the state constitution which will go before voters in the November general election.

In answer to a letter from Gov. William Milliken, which asked boards of education to support Proposal C, the board of education voted, three to two, not to support the measure. Favoring the proposal were Dr. James Jacques and Leonard Sarki. Opposing the amendment were Mrs. Joan Schreck, Earl Davis and Robert Elliott. Two members,

Mrs. Helen Payea and Clare Herri-man, were absent.

A massive property tax-education reform plan will be decided by voters November 7, but practically all the ground rules to make it work would be subject to the mercy of the legislature.

Board members, administrators and teachers attending Monday night's meeting were generally in agreement that the legislature could not be entrusted with the "open ended" provisions of Proposal C, especially since the problem has been before the legislature for years and no solution has ever been reached. Those favoring adoption of the constitutional amendment believed the proposal was a start in the right direction, although lawmakers would have to be watched.

One big part of the proposal would automatically go into effect January 1 without legislative action—the elimination of the basic local property tax in 1973 for school operations.

After that, however, legislators would have to work out details of a new state aid distribution formula for schools and put into law the guidelines for local governments in using optional property tax levies for certain purposes.

The proposed constitutional amendment has many provisions which generally provide for special property tax levies "as provided by law."

Even though basic school operating taxes would be abolished if Proposal C is approved, up to 4.5 mills could be levied without a vote of the people for special education. Other open ended provisions would allow counties to levy, without local voter approval, up to eight mills and townships up to eight mills. Another provision would leave it up to the legislature to set limits on how much in property taxes a local unit could levy to pay off debts.

As one Michigan newspaper recently pointed out, regardless of what is worrying critics of Proposal C, the legislature already has the power to act for good or bad on all of the things now worrying the critics of Proposal C. Supporters say that adoption of the constitutional amendment would not give the lawmakers any more direct powers and some new provisions could help restrict controls.

"We are reluctant to adopt a deficit budget to operate this school, yet we find the legislature bailing out some boards of education in metropolitan areas which do adopt deficit budgets," stated Elliott. "The state aid bill for schools is always the last measure to be considered by the legislature and our job is to force the legislature to put education first in Michigan, not welfare."

The board of education was unanimous in its opposition to a graduated income tax.

OK Engineering for River Mouth

Authorization was given Monday night by Tawas City Council to have its engineering consultant develop preliminary plans for proposed development of the Tawas River mouth as a small boat launching harbor.

This action followed a meeting between city and state officials at Lansing last week concerning the possibility of obtaining state and federal funds for the development.

Mayor John N. Brugger told councilmen that representatives of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and Michigan Waterways Commission expressed interest in a rough outline concerning plans for development of the river mouth.

Halloween Parade Set Next Tuesday

Second annual Halloween parade will be held at 1:00 p. m. on Tuesday, October 31, by students at the East Tawas Elementary Unit. Included in the parade will be the high school pep band and fire trucks from the East Tawas Fire Department.

Accompanying Tawas City officials were representatives of East Tawas and the chamber of commerce.

Although a number of suggestions by state officials concerning the plan, including shifting of a proposed parking area closer to the river mouth, are to be incorporated in the preliminary engineering, the mayor emphasized that the proposed development is still in the talking stage and that its future would still be dependent upon approval of state and federal funds for this improvement.

Utilization of the river mouth as a harbor has long been a dream of the community, but property on both sides of the river mouth is privately owned. The plan being proposed would include purchase of property on the east side of the river.

The plan proposed to the state includes filling in of lake bottom near the river mouth as a parking area for cars and boat trailers. A portion of the property being considered for this development is still owned by the old Tawas Yacht Club. The proposal as outlined last week included an area of 15 acres but, since meeting with state officials, the area being considered comprises between seven and nine acres.

One of the principal suggestions of state officials last week was that boat launching be restricted to the river mouth proper, rather than to include a launching site in the bay.

The city was to have notified officials at Lansing Tuesday that the council had given its approval for preliminary engineering. Cost of the engineering has been estimated at $2,500, of which 50 percent would be reimbursable if the plan is accepted and financed through state and federal funds. It is believed that state and federal funding would represent between 90 and 95 percent of the total cost.

Monday night's meeting was called principally for opening bids on $33,000 in tax anticipation notes to finance construction of two new bridges over the Tawas River at Mathews Street and First Street.

Peoples State Bank of East Tawas was the lone bidder and the council accepted its proposal at an interest rate of 3.75 percent.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that the council was pleased with the interest rate and that it was highly acceptable.

Community Chest Campaign Opens

A campaign to raise $16,162 to support more than 46 organizations has been commenced by Tawas-Whittemore-Hale Area Community Chest. The campaign goal is $45 more than last year's effort.

The Rev. Kenneth Tousley is chairman of the drive this year and is being assisted by Mrs. Nan Harten, co-chairman; John Skrocki, Stanley Osinski and Gerald Peters, vice chairmen.

Organizations to benefit from this drive include Michigan United Fund, Michigan Youth Services, girl scouts, boy scouts, Salvation Army, Lutheran Social Services, American Red Cross, Michigan Children's Aid Society, Catholic Family Services, local youth activities and an operating fund.

New to the fund this year, the Michigan Youth Services program aims to take delinquent youth and school dropouts and place them in a program to expose them to mature motivation.

In the Tawas, the divisional chairmen include Richard Harris, industry and utilities; Donald Mooney and Del Myles, major commercial; Norman Merschel and John Forsten, business; James Martin and Clarence Mohr, motels; Dr. E. W. Phillips, professional; Mrs. Floyd Schaaf and Mrs. Donald Gilskey, residential; Ernest W. Jordan, schools; William Western, bars and beverage distributors.

Blame 'Bad Water Taste' on Recent Bay Storms

The reason for the "bad water taste" experienced during the past two weeks by public water users of the Tawas was blamed this week on the action of storms on Tawas Bay.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz of Tawas City said Tuesday that operators of the East Tawas water filtration plant had told him that water taste would improve as soon as fall storms subside.

Bublitz said that water being drawn through the filtration plant's intake had a high turbidity due to storm action. As a result, additional chemicals have been required to settle the sediment and remove the cloudy condition of the water before it is pumped into the distribution system.

The city manager said that the objectionable water taste was not caused by utilizing Tawas City's deep well as an alternate supply. Until Friday night, the well had not been used since the summer months and because of the heavy rainfall, the demand on the well was lower than last year.

last Friday night when the city's distribution system could not keep pace with the water demand at Tawas Area High School. As a result, water pressure was low at both the high school and Iosco Medical Care Facility.

Bublitz said his investigation had revealed that toilet bowls at the high school and medical care facility are equipped with valves which do not shut off unless a certain pressure is maintained on the water line. Boilers at the high school were flushed Friday and, with 30 toilets running at the high school, water pressure could not build up on the water main which serves both the school and the medical care facility.

Bublitz said that the city's deep well pump was operated manually starting at 11:00 p. m. in order to raise the pressure in the water tank at the city hall. After several hours of operation, the system recovered its pressure.

The city manager said he was to contact officials at the school and medical care facility to develop precautionary measures to prevent recurrence of Friday night's problem.

A problem developed, however,

Purchase of Two New Portables, Hiring of Two Additional Teachers Approved

As a means of alleviating the problem of overcrowded classrooms in the sixth grade and junior high school, Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night authorized the purchase of two new portable classrooms and the hiring of two additional teachers.

Supt. Edward J. Barry told members of the board of education that no used portable classrooms were presently available in the state and that new units were in short supply.

The superintendent said that total cost of purchasing the new portable classrooms, along with hiring two additional teachers, would add another $21,000 to the school's operational budget. He said that the budget would have to be revised in order to include the additional expense.

Barry said he had met with faculty members to discuss class size problems and to develop a teaching load not exceeding 30 students to one teacher, whenever practicable.

The superintendent said the most practical solution was to obtain two additional portables and two additional teachers. Five sections of eighth grade range from a student-teacher ratio of 29 to one to 35 to one, while six sections of eighth grade range from 33 to one to 36 to one.

At the present time, Tawas Area School is listed behind four other schools waiting for construction of portable classrooms. Delivery is not expected before December. The additional teachers would not be hired until the portables are delivered.

The school purchased three used portable classrooms earlier this year to help alleviate overcrowded conditions. Members of the board of education stressed that purchase of the portables was only a temporary solution to the school's overcrowded problem.

John Alexander, high school principal, said that following an analysis of class size at the high school, there would be some juggling of scheduling in order to equalize class loads of teachers in several areas.

The superintendent said that student enrollment, upon which state aid would be based, is 2,117. This is 10 students more than the number determined on the fourth Friday due to an error in calculating use of public school facilities by parochial school students.

As a result, the school will receive an additional $5,000 on its state aid.

A revised budget is to be prepared by Friday of this week reflecting the increased state aid, along with the additional expenditures through purchase of the portable classrooms and hiring of the two new teachers. A budget hearing is to be held Monday, November 13, 7:00 p. m., at the administration office.

Alexander announced that the high school would host Region 12 of the Future Homemakers Association conference on November 8. About 400 students will be in attendance.

Hale Teachers Will Chaperone Kids at Party

Hale teachers are donating their time to "keep the children off the streets" campaign. Tuesday, October 31, Halloween, the Hale Elementary School will be open from 7:00 to 8:30 p. m. Fun and treats will be provided for the children.

It is a well-known fact that traditional tricks and treats have become dangerous in cities. Hale teachers want to change tradition before this problem becomes a reality in this area. If a child comes to the door on Halloween night, he should be encouraged to go to the school.

Persons wishing to donate their time or treats should contact Peter Holley or Linda Grosz at the elementary school.

Committees Start Study of Tawas Area School Needs

Three committees of citizens established to study Tawas Area Schools and to make recommendations to the board of education have been organized.

A committee to survey present school facilities and their usefulness met October 12. Members include Mrs. James Crowley, Mrs. Russell Carney, Mrs. Donald Hanewald, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Penman, Gerald Grackl, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McIntosh, Mrs. Nelson Thornton, Henry Gage, Harris Barkman and Edward Gordon.

McIntosh was elected chairman and November 2 was set for the next meeting, to be held at the East Tawas Elementary School. Each committee member is to select one more person to serve and submit questions about observations during visits to the buildings. The committee will then sort questions into similar areas and the chairman will appoint subcommittees to formulate answers or coordinate the study so an outside consultant can be hired to assist in the work.

The committee has open access to any area of the school buildings, including classrooms, and teachers are to cooperate in any way possible.

Three persons were in attendance at the initial meeting of a committee to study present enrollments and to make projections for the future. This meeting was held October 16 at the administration office. Present were Felix Galavaga, Joseph Reinke Jr. and the Rev. Fr. John Rushman.

The committee reviewed a copy of an enrollment projection of a school of comparable size and the need for using outside sources in making final projections was discussed. Sources to be utilized in the survey include parochial enrollments, building permits, economic expansion in business and industry, county plan-

Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc., Sets Conference

Keep Michigan Beautiful, Incorporated, will celebrate its 10th anniversary at the annual KMB meeting October 30-31 at Grand Rapids.

Communities which have carried on outstanding beautification programs and provided distinguished leadership in this field during the past year will receive awards for their achievements. Several individual awards will also be presented.

Supreme Court Justice John B. Swainson, who appointed a state beautification committee which later became KMB when he was Michigan's governor, will present the awards at the annual banquet on October 30. Roger Powers of New York, vice president and executive director of Keep America Beautiful, with which KMB is closely associated, will be the speaker.

State KMB President Arthur E. Nelson of Saginaw will review the past year's work of KMB at the opening session. Mrs. Barbara Hellman, president of the Royal Oak Beautification Council, will describe the outstanding glass collection program she has directed in that city. Collected glass was used in a glass-paving project for a city parking facility, taking the place of sand and gravel normally used.

Mrs. William Frostic of Beulah will describe the junk car collection and crushing program carried on by the Benzie County chapter of KMB. Mary Christian and Robert Sabourin of Flint will discuss "When Children Get Involved."

On Tuesday, officers will present their annual reports and officers for the coming year will be elected. Other speakers Tuesday include Jack Burton, superintendent of roadside development for the Michigan Department of Highways; Ross Wolfe, chief forester of the highway department; Fred Kellow, chief of the solid waste management division, Michigan Health Department; Dr. Joseph Cox, extension specialist in landscape architecture, Michigan State University; Dr. William B. Stapp, chairman of the governor's environmental education task force.

Alpena Lands New Truck Parts Plant

Gov. William G. Milliken announced recently that a fourth Canadian manufacturing firm has picked Michigan as site for a new branch plant.

The governor hailed the decision by Combined Engineered Products, Limited, of Toronto, Ontario, to locate in a newly-developed industrial park at Alpena as "a concrete example of new jobs being created as a direct result of utilizing state, federal and local resources in a determined effort to improve the economic base of a community."

The plant, which will manufacture truck attachments, is expected to start operation in January with an initial work force of around 30 employees which is scheduled to increase to 100 within a few years.

The governor credited the Alpena Industrial Development Corporation, the Michigan Commerce Department's Office of Economic Expansion and a regional industrial agent demonstration program funded by the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission for outstanding work in helping the new firm locate at Alpena.

Highways Require Huge Amount of Paint for Marking

Mother Nature has had a lot of help in bringing bright colors to Michigan highways this fall.

State highway traffic engineers have used more yellow lane marking paint than ever before.

It is all part of new nationwide standards that employ yellow as a "warning" color. The job of converting many markings from white to yellow, begun last spring, is virtually done on state highways throughout Michigan.

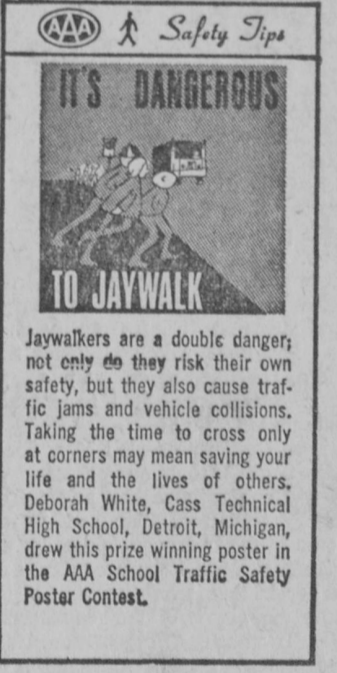

Solid yellow center lines on two-lane state highways still mean "no-passing." The traditional dashed-white center line on "two-way" highways has been replaced with a dashed-yellow line that still permits passing with no on-coming traffic. Dashed-white lane markings for traffic going in the same direction remain the same on freeways and other one-way state highways.

Center lines for left turns only will be marked by solid yellow lines on the outside edges of the lane and broken yellow lines inside the solid lines. This all-yellow combination replaces the solid white line formerly used to indicate the two-way, left turn lane.

Lane markings must be repainted each year because of normal wear. State highway officials report that lane markings are not lasting as long as in former years, due to extra wear caused by studded tires.

To accomplish the job of repainting lane and edge marking stripes on 9,250 miles of state highways and freeways requires seven "hot" and five "cold" marking rigs that spray 450,000 gallons of paint—mixed with 1.5 million pounds of microscopic reflective glass beads. At a cost of 1.5 million dollars, the mixture could mark the earth's equator—with plenty left over.

Heated paint from "hot" rigs dries

New Phone Equipment to Speed Long Distance Calls

Long distance telephone calling in most of East Tawas will be faster by November 5 as "May I have your number, please" goes the way of the steam locomotive.

The operator will no longer utter that familiar phrase when Michigan Bell completes conversion of most of the East Tawas phone system to the new automatic number identification system (ANI).

Howard L. Haight, local Michigan Bell manager, said the new service will automatically record the number dialed, the length of the call and the number of the calling party, all without the assistance of an operator.

Haight said that operators will, of course, still be needed for person-to-person and other operator-handled calls, as well as emergency assistance.

All private and two-party lines in East Tawas will be cut over to ANI November 4-5. Cutover in Oscoda area is October 28-29.

Haight said the conversion of ANI will not affect local calling areas or change the rates of customers involved.

"The ANI system is one more step in providing Michigan Bell customers with faster and more efficient service," Haight said.

STUDENTS of Tawas Area School spent considerable time last week decorating and building floats for the annual homecoming parade. This picture shows one of the floats being drawn on the field during half-time ceremonies. One class had the unfortunate experience of having its float "blown apart" while bringing it to school. A large truck and trailer unit sped past the float while it was being moved along M-55 and a sudden gust of wind left flimsy paper decorations floating in the breeze. Emergency repairs were made in time for the parade.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Bad Summer for Tourist Industry

The tourist industry has suffered its first "bad" summer in a decade in East Michigan, according to East Michigan Tourist Association vice president, James H. Hall.

In his report to members meeting in annual convention at Saginaw's Civic Center, Hall reported that business volume was down 8.3 percent from the 1971 June-August period. During the years since 1960, each year brought an average of 10 percent increase in sales.

"This is a total business survey, not just the motels and resorts," said Hall. The survey also included retailers, attractions, restaurants, wholesalers and service tradesmen in addition to lodging operators. Businesses from 17 counties participated in the survey.

Bad weather was the reason cited by most businessmen that did not fare so well and this group amounted to half of those reporting in the EMTA survey.

Less highway traffic, increased business operational costs and not enough state-regional tourist advertising also were major reasons.

One in three businesses did better than the summer of 1971 but not enough to overcome those that had lower sales volumes. A total of 13 percent reported sales as being the same. Of those who increased, the major reasons included increased advertising efforts, increased customer service and expanded business facilities.

Following a record winter season and a fair spring season, the tourist year may well turn out to be at least as even with 1971, according to Hall. National travel statistics reported a record number of Americans and foreign visitors on vacation trips throughout the United States.

"We just did not have enough promotional guns to keep up with our competition," Hall commented. New regional tourist groups in Kentucky, Tennessee and other states have developed promotional programs aimed directly at Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois residents, source of nearly three-quarters of Michigan's tourist business.

One recommendation by the EMTA Board of Directors called for a market survey to find out attitudes of people living in this market area in the Midwest. The EMTA staff will carry out the survey in 1973.

Braves Shutout by Gladwin, 30-0, in Homecoming Game

It was a gloomy score for a homecoming game, but Tawas Area Braves turned in a good account of themselves in the first half before finally bowing to a powerful Gladwin squad, 30-0.

With Fullback Mike Hughes out of action following last week's win against Standish-Sterling and Halfback Steve Janego not running at full speed after missing action in the last game, Tawas Area just could not get an offense mounted against a tough Flying G defense.

Tawas' best opportunity to score came early in the game when the Braves put together three first downs after taking the opening kickoff. Leading the Tawas chargers in that drive was Janego, who carried 18 yards in three carries. Kirk Loeffler, taking over for the injured Hughes, picked up 20 yards in three carries, but an offside penalty against the Braves on third down stopped their momentum and they gave up the football on the Gladwin 30.

Tawas Area grabbed the ball back five plays later when Janego intercepted a Gladwin pass. The Braves were unable to move out of their own territory and were forced to punt. On the first play from scrimmage, Gladwin's John Biery went 55 yards for a touchdown and a lead which the Braves were not to overcome.

The two teams played on fairly even terms during the remainder of the first half, although Gladwin ends dropped a couple of passes from Quarterback Dave Ward which could have been converted into touchdowns.

The second half was an entirely different story as Gladwin demonstrated its offensive power. The Flying Gs took the opening kickoff and racked up three first downs before Biery ran 14 yards for his second touchdown of the night.

Tawas Area again could not move the ball and had to punt. The first kick found the ball rolling dead on Gladwin's 20, but a penalty against the Braves forced another punt. This time, the ball rested on the Gladwin 47 when the Flying Gs took over.

Eight plays later, Biery again scored a touchdown, this time on an 18-yard run to make the score 18-0 with four minutes, 39 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Another penalty against the Braves after taking the kickoff saw Tawas with the ball on its own 22. On the next play, the Braves fumbled and set up another touchdown as Ward passed to Al Watson.

At LaBlance recovered a Gladwin fumble in the fourth quarter and the Braves moved to the 17-yard line in seven plays with Rick Ashmore doing most of the running. Quarterback Ed Haglund then tried a pass and Gladwin's Leo Plude intercepted the ball on the one-yard line. This proved to be the most spectacular play of the night as Plude took a few steps downfield, then cut across to the opposite side to pick up some blockers, found his way again plugged by red uniforms and cut back across field. Plude happens to be the conference champion in the 220 and he finally found the opening he wanted and ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown.

Visiting fans certainly could not complain that officials were "homers" for Tawas. The men in striped shirts marched 130 yards off against the Braves and all of the penalties seemed to come just at the wrong time for the Tawas offense.

LaBlance was top defensive man of the night for the Braves with 15 tackles, besides recovering a fumble and blocking a kick from placement. Neil Robelli, linebacker, had 10 tackles while Randy Reed turned in nine stops.

Loeffler, who turned in an outstanding game as fullback in his first starting assignment, was named back of the week by Tawas Area's coaching staff. Steve Anschuetz was named offensive line-man of the week.

The Braves travel to Ogemaw Heights this Friday night where they will take on the Falcons, an undefeated team tied with Essexville-Garber for first place in the Northern B Conference.

Randy Bellville, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bellville, underwent surgery at Tolfree Hospital, West Branch, last Tuesday. He was able to return home Wednesday morning.

Tawas Frosh Had Big Win Over Gladwin

Two undefeated football teams met Thursday night and Tawas Area Freshmen defeated Gladwin, 20-10, to preserve a perfect record.

First quarter action saw the Freshmen Braves with a fourth down and three to go on their own 40. Gambling in this situation against a tough Gladwin squad, Tawas Area picked up the necessary yardage and a 50-yard pass play to Jim Petrach on the next play set up the night's first touchdown. Greg Gotcher went the final six yards for a six-pointer.

The Freshmen Braves went up, 12-0, in the second quarter when they put together a sustained drive and Dave Kaunisto scored the first of his two touchdowns during the night.

Third quarter action found Tawas Area's defense turning back Gladwin with a back-to-the-wall stand. After holding on fourth down on the five-yard line, Tawas' offense was dropped in the endzone for a two-point safety to put Gladwin on the scoreboard.

The Freshmen Braves powered their way to another touchdown in the fourth quarter with Kaunisto going in for the six-pointer. The two-point conversion was scored by Mitch Lenczewski.

Gladwin scored its lone touchdown of the night on the next series and ran a two-point conversion. Tawas coaches substituted freely during the final quarter to give every squad member some playing time.

Outstanding players for Tawas Area were Brad Potts, who intercepted a pass to set up the final touchdown; Petrach, who had 77 yards with two pass catches; Harvey Herriman, a big man in the defensive line; Dave Gartland and Mike Nelson, who had 40 tackles between them at their linebacker positions.

Widows Can Get Reduced Benefits at 60

Question: I am a widow and I will be 60 next month. I have been working since my husband died in 1964, but my health is not as good as it used to be and I would like to cut down on my work. Am I eligible for social security payments?

Answer: Yes. You can get reduced widow's payments at 60; full widow's benefits start at 62. If the work you mentioned you are doing is covered by social security, you may also be eligible for retirement benefits at age 62 on your own record provided you earned credit for enough work under the program. The amount of your earning could affect your monthly payments. You should call, write or visit any social security office for complete details.

Question: My three children, all under 18, and I get monthly social security checks. If my oldest daughter works part time and earns nearly $2,000 during the year, does she have to make an annual report of her earnings to social security?

Answer: Yes. An annual report of earnings is required from every social security beneficiary who is under 72 and has earnings of more than $1,680 in 1972. The annual report is due by April 15 of the following year.

Question: I am 66 and getting monthly social security retirement checks. I am also working part time for a church nursery. Since the church has not decided to cover my part-time work by social security, can these earnings affect my monthly checks?

Answer: Yes, if your total earnings for the year go over $1,680. Earnings from any work, whether or not covered by social security, have to be included in figuring the amount of your earnings that may affect benefits due for a year. However, income from savings, investments, pensions and insurance does not count.

If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 48706; telephone, 893-9579. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday from 9:45 a. m. until 12 o'clock noon and from 12:30 until 3:00 p. m.

Letter to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:
 I must admire Mrs. Carney's concern and her perseverance in keeping a halfway house out of Tawas City, whatever her reasons are.

It is impossible to debate an issue like this in letters to your paper, so I would like to present one last question to the people of this county.

What should be our first and most important concern—where the halfway house is to be located or how many people in the community will be benefited by its very existence?

Respectfully,
 Mrs. Dale A. Snyder

Eagles Could Get Share of NSL Title With Win at Mio

Hale Eagles travel to Mio Saturday for a showdown battle with the Thunderbolts, a team which has an undefeated record in five games and is assured of at least a tie for first place in the North Star League.

The Mio team will finish out its league season with the Eagles, while the latter moves on next week to Hillman with its final. To stay alive in the race, the Eagles must turn in a win over Mio.

The Eagles stayed on the heels of Mio with a 34-6 victory Friday night over Arenac-Eastern. Mio defeated Au Gres, 40-14, while Atlanta defeated Hillman, 34-0.

Top offensive player for the Eagles was Keyno Shellenbarger, who scored two touchdowns and had 115 yards in 13 carries. He caught a 30-yard pass and contributed 15 tackles in the win.

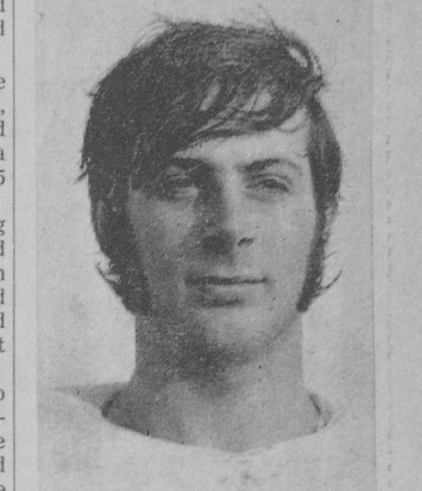

Shellenbarger opened the scoring in the first quarter with a two-yard touchdown run. He scored again in the second quarter on a 43-yard pass interception. Jeff Miller passed to Steve Denstedt for the two-point conversion.

Tom Emery ran for 28 yards to score another second quarter touchdown. Joe Bell went up the middle for a 15-yard touchdown in the third quarter and Shellenbarger ran the two-point conversion. Ron Leamon scored the final touchdown for Hale on a 15-yard run.

Dennis Stutzman scored the only Arenac-Eastern touchdown on a six-yard scamper in the fourth quarter. The conversion try failed.

Named as the outstanding player was Chris Keene, who was moved to defensive end for the game.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Romans 15:1-7)

She hath done what she could. (Mark 14:8)

Rather late one evening, I accompanied my minister husband on a visit to a parishioner. The young man had just returned from the funeral of his mother. The family was experiencing the grief that one feels upon losing a loved one; however, the air was not heavy with sadness. Rather, there seemed to be a feeling of triumph. Upon hearing the story of this woman's life, we shared this joy with the family.

The son said of his mother, "Her whole life was spent in this small town. I doubt that her name was ever in the newspaper. She never really did anything spectacular. But seldom did a day pass that she did not do some act of kindness for someone. We were strengthened at her funeral as many of the townspeople related to us these deeds." He continued, "There is no need for grief when you recall such a Christian life as she lived."

When we are discouraged because great things are not in our book of life, let us take courage as we think of such persons as this great woman.

PRAYER

Our Father, as we live day by day, may we keep in mind the words of our Lord, "As ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

There are no small acts of kindness. Jane Inman Shirah, Columbus, Georgia.

Christian Science Responds to Tax Request at Boston

One of the largest taxpayers in Boston, Massachusetts, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, has responded to a request by the city that some large taxpayers help the city finances by paying their taxes before the due date. The church paid its property taxes of more than 1 1/2 million dollars a month or more before they were due.

The church, which serves as the international headquarters for the Christian Science denomination, presented $1,506,586, an increase of more than $300,000 over last year's tax, to the city on September 29.

The city asked a few large taxpayers to pay their taxes in advance to alleviate a potential fiscal crisis caused by the freeze of school aid funds by the state board of education.

This is the second consecutive year that the Christian Science Church has paid property taxes in September which were not due until November.

A THREE-BEDROOM HOUSE with attached garage is being constructed at Hale by students of the building trades program being conducted at Hale Area School. Students from four high schools of the county are participating in this shared time educational program coordinated by Iosco Intermediate School District.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Provide On-the-Job Training in Building Trades Program

Twenty-one young men from four Iosco County schools are gaining valuable on-the-job experience in the building trades as part of a shared time career educational program being conducted at Hale Area High School. Under guidance of Jerry Eno, licensed building contractor of Hale and a state certified teacher in vonational education, the class is now in the process of constructing a three-bedroom home at Hale.

Construction of the home is being financed by the Northeast Michigan Non-Profit Housing Corporation of Alpena, which purchased the land, provided plans, furnished materials and is to be owner of the dwelling when completed. The firm provided $500 worth of hand tools for the program.

Supt. Paul Keene said that any profit left after expenses, when the dwelling is sold by the Alpena firm, would go to the school's building trades program.

The class, composed of senior boys, is working five days a week on the program as part of the shared time educational project being coordinated by Iosco Intermediate School District. There are 11 students enrolled in the morning session and 10 in the afternoon.

Eno said that about 80 percent of the instruction is at the job site in the belief that trainees can "learn by doing."

All of the boys have had at least three years of shop experience in their own high schools, with basic instruction in handling hand tools.

"We started right from scratch with the class revamping blueprints in order to provide for a 16 by 22-foot attached garage," said Eno.

After guidance by Eno, all decisions concerning plans, the method of rafter construction and actual work have been made by class members.

The instructor said that work was being rushed in order to have the framework enclosed before cold weather. Walls containing nearly 800 concrete blocks were laid by the class.

After the building is enclosed, students will complete finish work under Eno's guidance. The instructor said that the inside work would be completed in late April or May and the class would then devote its time to landscaping the grounds.

As part of instruction, the class has viewed actual construction on one commercial building at Hale and a dwelling being constructed privately is located adjacent to the class project. As a result, students have had the opportunity to compare techniques of various workmen.

"This class is not designed to turn out finished professional carpenters, but it should give students a basic education in the building trades. If they remain in this field, their experience gained on this project should be beneficial and, if they decide on some other career, the experience should always be helpful when they have to maintain their own homes," said Eno.

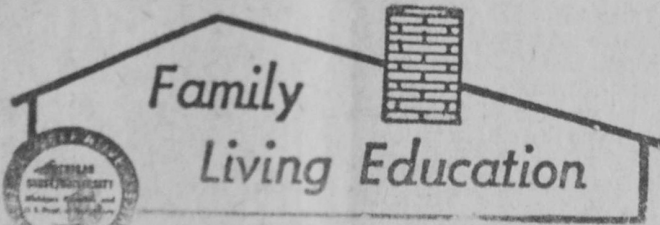

STUDENTS are shown installing rafters which they designed and constructed for the house. Some 21 boys are participating in this project. Materials and financing are being provided by the Northeast Michigan Non-Profit Housing Corporation, Alpena. Any profit from the sale of the dwelling will go to the school's building trades program.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Look around—we have been invaded by substitutes and synthetics! We have synthetic fibers, noncaloric sweeteners, nonleather products and imitation flavors. Substitutes and synthetics are successfully moving into many traditional market outlets for agricultural products.

If that sounds surprising, maybe you did not realize that about two-thirds of what we spread on bread is margarine. And, did you know that synthetics and substitutes have also captured about 21 percent of the retail citrus beverage purchases? However, they are not expected to cause major adjustment problems for agriculture in the 1970s. The trend leans towards replacing more traditional foods and beverages.

More substitute vegetable protein for animal products will probably be accepted by homemakers in the next 10 years, according to USDA projections. Even though foods fabricated from vegetable protein (to replace meat and dairy products) are not new, there is a new look which has to do with technology and processing. Now they appear more like meat and dairy products in texture, flavor and nutritional characteristics than ever before.

Leather has also suffered from competition by synthetics. Shoe manufacturing uses slightly more than 50 percent of our cowhides—but the percentage of shoes with leather soles and uppers has declined. Synthetics have been especially strong in the adhesive market. Synthetic detergents now account for a major share of the soap market, reducing one of the largest industrial uses for fats and oils. Of all agricultural products, cotton has suffered most from the encroachments of synthetics. It might be fun for your family to count the number of substitute foods on your table or how many synthetic fibers they are wearing.

LETTER to the EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

There has been discussion in your columns about the halfway house (which I prefer to describe as a "halfway-in-house") and I would like to add some thoughts.

We frequently have some boys in our area who are constantly getting in trouble and ordinary probation is not working because of the situation at home. It is just too bad to send them to prison because of the parents! Presently, that is our only solution. If we had a place where they could spend their idle hours, receive casual consultation and aid in getting employment and have definite curfew hours, I believe we could prevent some from going on to prison. This would be an ordinary house, located where the young men could walk to their jobs and would accommodate under 10 at a time. A prison camp suggested by some opponents would not serve the same purpose.

That convicts would be brought into our community are understandable, but this proposal would not do so. The type of person to be accommodated is already in the community and unfortunately is on the street nearly all of the time right now. That is the very problem we are striving to solve.

Very truly yours,
Allan C. Miller

Service Award Won by Home Economist

Mrs. Stuart Meach, extension home economist in Arenac, Iosco and Ogemaw Counties, has won the distinguished service award from the National Association of Extension Home Economists. She received the award during the association's recent meeting at Denver, Colorado. She is to be recognized at the annual conference of the Cooperative Extension Service at Michigan State University Thursday, October 26.

LOOKING BACKWARD—

County Seeks Tawas Point for Public Use

October 24, 1957—Iosco Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution received from Baldwin Township which asked the supervisors' help in obtaining federally-owned land between the lighthouse and fog signal on Tawas Point and establishing that area as a public park. A statement from the board's conservation committee stated that "unless some action is taken in the near future, the coast guard is bound to take adverse action by closing the road to the point for public use. This action would not be commensurate with the thinking of any public official."

East Tawas Council took steps to regulate the use of shotguns, 22 caliber pistols, rifles, pellet rifles, BB guns and the bow and arrow within the city limits. Objections were heard on its first draft of an ordinance prohibiting the use of these weapons and an open hearing is to be held November 4.

The popularity of Michigan's 1957 special deer hunting seasons was even greater than expected as more than 112,000 persons applied for the 39,000 "any deer" permits to be issued.

Halloween entertainment for youngsters in the Tawas includes a party at the Tawas City unit gymnasium sponsored by the Tawas City Businessmen's Association and Twentieth Century Club, and a dance at the East Tawas Community Building sponsored by the Tawas Jaycees.

Clarence Curry of M-55 bagged a 200-pound black bear at the Simons-McArdie hunting camp in Alpena County.

October 24, 1947—The board of supervisors voted to employ Harold Clark of Sandusky as county agricultural agent to succeed Wilton L. Finley, who resigned and is now with the Extension Department of Michigan State College.

The Wolverine Stockyards Company has purchased the Hale Stock Yards from Ira Scofield. Wolverine operates a chain of stockyards throughout the Lower Peninsula. The stockyard was opened about a year ago and met with immediate success.

Meatless Tuesday, as part of President Truman's food conservation program, is coupled with poultryless and eggless Thursday to make up America's effort to help alleviate hunger in Europe.

Two threatening fires originated Wednesday in Alabaster Township and burned over an area of more than 100 acres. United States Gypsum Company employees and other volunteers furnished fire fighting crews under the direction of state conservation department officers. Governor Sigler has banned smoking and open fires outside of cars, homes and authorized camping grounds north of the Saginaw-Muskegon line.

Because of the votes those groups represent, congress has demonstrated its willingness to build a floor under the income of minority groups on their demand. But congress has not been willing to provide a ceiling for that far greater number, the American consumer, as protection for all from the devastation of inflation. Wages are regulated so they will not drop below the floor, but there is no ceiling to stop their upward climb. What is true of wages is also true of food prices. The consumer is the forgotten man, but he, too, votes. Congress might well bear that warning in mind.

35 Years Ago—

October 22, 1937—Wind last Tuesday night and Wednesday, said by old time fishermen to be the most have-playing on Saginaw Bay since 1915, caused more than $75,000 damages to the commercial fishing business in the area between Point Lookout and White Fish Point. Fishermen suffering the loss were those who are at this season of the year operating for herring. After several weeks of preparation, in driving stakes and setting nets, herring fishing commenced about two weeks ago and the season's output promised to be the best in years. The season extends into late November, but it was cut short with this week's blow. Nets ready to be lifted with an excellent catch were filled with seaweed and torn to shreds. Weeks of work would be required to set new nets and the season would be over before fish production could be started again. There are nine large operators in this area.

While George Whitford of Reno Township was digging up a vine beneath the kitchen window, he discovered a pint fruit jar which contained $130. They think it had been placed there by his mother.

Iosco Board of Supervisors has supplemented county road funds with $2,500 from the county general fund. The large number of miles of county roads now under control of the county road commission makes maintenance impossible if needed roads are constructed with funds now available. It is maintained by many that further supplementary funds must be advanced if the county wishes to keep present roads in good condition and make the necessary new construction.

Possibilities always exist for a nation to get tangled up internationally under conditions such as exist throughout the world today, yet is not believed that the United States ever will do more in the Far East than exert moral pressure upon the Japanese, presently attacking the Chinese. Many observers and individuals have expressed surprise that the president has branded Japan as the aggressor in China, but there should have been no surprise as the final position of this government traces back to the administration of President Hoover and Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of state. It was at that time that a fundamental change took place in United States foreign policy—it was the beginning of the end of the isolationist program which followed the bitter controversy over President Wilson's proposal that the United States affiliate with the League of Nations.
