

THE START of the first race Sunday of the International Lightning Association featured typical Tawas Bay weather. More than 100 of the three-man boats are here this week to compete in the North American championship regatta. This is the third time that Tawas Bay Yacht Club has hosted this event, which is to run through Friday.

A PARADE of colorful spinnakers gave sailors and spectators a thrill on Sunday afternoon. Boats are competing here for top Lightning Class honors from as far away as Brazil, South America, and Hawaii. Following preliminary races to establish three different divisions, there will be five championship races. Only the top 30 qualifiers race for the North American championship.

CURRENT world champion Lightning sailor, Bruce Goldsmith of Chicago, Illinois, rests between races at Tawas Bay Yacht Club.

Tawas Area Loses More State School Aid; Crucial Vote Soon

Despite the loss of $45 per child in state aid through a veto last week of one section of the new state aid bill by Gov. William Milliken, Tawas Area School expects to operate on a balanced budget for the 1973-74 term—depending entirely on the success of a millage proposal to be placed before voters Monday, September 10.

Deliberations by the legislature on the new state aid bill had given the assurance that the state's share of school operation would be no less than $240.61 per student. The governor's veto of a "grandfather" clause allowing a phase-in for those districts not levying 20 mills of operational taxes will result in net state aid of $195.19 per student for this district.

Although the new state aid bill penalized every school district in Northern Michigan, Tawas Area Board of Education voted Monday night to balance its budget by asking voter approval of 1 1/2 additional mills of taxes ($1.50 per $1,000 state equalized valuation), along with renewal of 7 1/2 mills, which expired this year. This was the same proposition recommended last week by Supt. Edward J. Barry prior to the governor's veto.

The budget difference resulting from the veto is expected to be balanced by one of two means—hopefully, by registration of at least 40 new students by the fourth Friday count and by borrowing against unpaid delinquent taxes of $103,000.

The proposal to be placed before voters, being incorporated into one ballot, would result in total voted operational taxes of nine mills for one year. Added to this would be 9.7 mills of taxes allocated by the county for total operational money of 18.7 mills.

"We are dead if this proposal of 1 1/2 mills in added taxes and the 7 1/2 mill renewal is unsuccessful," said Robert Elliott, president of the board of education. "The kids are at stake, not we parents, and we need the support of every person in this district." Because of increased operational costs and cut in state aid, Barry said the district "honestly should go for 20 mills to balance the 1973-74 budget." He said, however, that the program could be maintained by voter approval of the proposal.

Members of the board of education and school administrators were disappointed and distressed over the fact that only about a dozen people attended the special meeting called expressly for discussing the school district's financing for the coming term. Rather than listing the necessary alternatives of program cuts in the event of an unsuccessful vote, the board of education had hoped to see a positive expression of interest in school affairs by citizens.

By switching to a split session this year, with high school grades attending classes in the morning and intermediate grades (six through eight) in the afternoon, the school's three buildings have sufficient breathing room to handle the additional students needed to balance the operational budget.

Total expense to educate each child this year will be $719.28, as compared to $556.61 for the last term. Part of this increase is through added costs of transportation, regular increments in the salary schedule, added maintenance costs and food service. The major portion, however, is through program enrichment through hiring nine new teachers, mainly for intermediate grades.

With added classroom space gained through extending the school day and establishing two separate schools—high school and intermediate—it was felt that the educational program should be equalized for all children in grades kindergarten through 12. While the major curriculum change will be seen in the intermediate grades, which have been sorely neglected in recent years because of bulging classrooms, both the high school and elementary grades will be benefited by having classroom breathing space in a slightly lower ratio of pupils per teacher. Elementary grades will be benefited, also, by having a new library in each unit, made possible only by moving the sixth grade to the intermediate school.

Because of the poor showing of citizens Monday night, the board of education must now double its efforts in "reaching" voters to explain the need for a successful millage vote on September 10 and to urge a positive attitude toward operation of the school district.

Teachers at Tawas Area School are to report for an orientation meeting Monday, August 27, 9:00 a. m., at the East Tawas Elementary Unit. It is anticipated that the fourth Friday enrollment count last year of 8,464 for the four school districts will see another round of increases in each district. Paul Keene, superintendent of Hale Area School, for instance, predicts that enrollment there will grow by at least 100 students.

Last year's student count included 4,479 at Oscoda Area School, 2,067 at Tawas Area School, 1,174 at Whittemore-Prescott Area School and 743 at Hale Area School. Added to this were 114 students at St. Joseph Catholic School and 76 at Emanuel Lutheran School.

Hale Area School announced that new students should come to the school with parents this week through Friday, August 24, to register. Kindergarten pupils are to be contacted by mail. Buses are to run the same routes at about the same time as last year.

Students in grades six through eight (intermediate grades) registered at Tawas Area School last week and registration for high school students started Monday and is to continue through today (Wednesday).

Parents of elementary school children in grades kindergarten through grade five, who are new to Tawas Area School, are urged to register them prior to Friday, August 24.

Grades kindergarten through three are being registered at the East Tawas Elementary Unit, grades four and five are registering at the Tawas City Elementary Unit.

Kindergarten students are to report to school on Wednesday, August 29, to start the 1973-74 term.

TOO MUCH WIND forced boats back to shore and postponement of Monday races. Weather conditions were perfect Tuesday for sailing and the fleet was on the bay into the late evening in order that the preliminary qualification might be completed prior to the start of races Wednesday for the North American championship.

Tennis Courts Wait Control of Erosion

Should the City of Tawas City be successful in a new move to stop shoreline erosion at the city park, a suggestion offered at Monday night's council meeting may see development of excellent tennis courts there through a relatively inexpensive modification of the existing facilities.

Mrs. Charles Lemon, who has long promoted the sport of tennis in the Tawas area and now has a growing organization of 36 men and women forming a new Tawas Tennis Club, told councilmen Monday night that resurfacing and some slight modification would provide excellent courts.

She said that the major problem with the present courts, constructed about 15 years ago, was the fact that it was designed without adequate backcourt room. She suggested that the playing surface be extended by eight feet on each end and then resurfaced with blacktop to eliminate the present irregular playing surface.

In addition, she suggested that an eight-foot-high strip of green canvas be placed on the backstop facing the lake to eliminate glare off the water and to minimize wind off the lake. She suggested, too, that the courts be enclosed on the west side with a gate and fence.

Mrs. Lemon presented a sketch of the dimensions necessary for construction of tennis courts, should the present facility be modified or if new courts are constructed in the future. She stressed that adequate backcourts were needed to lessen the danger of ankle sprains to players, which currently is a problem at courts in both Tawas City and East Tawas.

The suggestions were taken under advisement by the council. Before any improvement can be made to the existing courts, some means of stopping shoreline erosion at the park must be accomplished.

The erosion problem is critical as approximately 25 feet of land has been lost in the city park this summer through the action of waves and water. The present tennis court area is now endangered.

Mayor John N. Brugger and City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz are in Lansing today (Wednesday) to confer with officials of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources concerning erosion problems. Possible installation of wooden piles in the lake bottom to lessen wave action is to be investigated. The installation could be compared to the piling remaining from the old Prescott dock and which protected McKay Sales Company property adjacent to the park until cut off at the water's edge several years ago.

The two city officials are to check into possible DNR participation in enclosing the city park dock with treated piling and planks, similar to the retaining wall constructed this year along Ninth Avenue.

Another erosion problem to be pointed out by the city officials is along US-23 on both sides of the intersection with M-55. A meeting has been arranged with the department of state highways and the city is to ask that department to make a complete survey of damage to riprap protecting US-23.

Washouts at the intersection of the two highways were filled last week with limestone from the county road commission's quarry, but city officials are fearful that storms later in the fall could result in extreme damage to the federal highway.

All Iosco Schools Open August 28

Approximately 8,500 public school students of Iosco County, along with another 200 or more parochial students, will be returning to classes for the fall term starting Tuesday, August 28.

Classes start a week earlier than usual this year due to adoption of a coordinated calendar by the county's four public school districts. A unified opening plan was necessary due to participation in shared time vocational programs being coordinated in the schools by Iosco Intermediate School District.

Cities Talk Contract With Multi-County

Utilization of Multi-County Landfill as a dumping area for East Tawas and Tawas City has a target date of October 1, according to discussions at meetings of city councils Monday night.

A one-year contract prepared by the city attorney was taken under advisement by the Tawas City Council. City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz is to meet with Wilbur C. Roach of Multi-County Landfill to finalize a contract for presentation at the next meeting.

Paul Ropert, East Tawas superintendent of public works, told members of the East Tawas Council that a contract with Multi-County Landfill would be presented to that group in the very near future.

Bublitz and Ropert, along with other city officials of the two communities, met recently to discuss Roach's proposition to the two communities, which has been under consideration for several months. Under terms of the proposed agreement, the contract could be voided at any time should the County of Iosco develop a county landfill authority.

It was stated Monday night that residents of each city, along with eligible residents of adjoining townships, would be issued identification cards for entry to the landfill. The identification card system would apply, also, to commercial and industrial users.

Commission Has Office at County Bldg.

Effective Monday, Iosco Board of Commissioners' office in the county building is to be open five days a week. Each member of the commission is to be at the office one day a week.

Robert Foster, commission chairman, said that a number of persons had appeared at the various county offices with questions concerning county government. It was felt that individual commissioners could answer many of the problems or information could be presented at the two monthly meetings for action.

The commission office is located in the former health department of the city. This office adjoins the former Addressograph department, which is being remodeled as a commission chamber.

East Tawas Council Gives Its Blessing to Brick Sidewalks

Utilization of brick sidewalks and the planting of trees along curbs of the Newman Street business area, as recommended by the planning commission, was given the blessing of the East Tawas Council Monday night.

It was pointed out by the council, however, that before any action could be taken on such a program, which would be one step toward establishment of Newman Street as a mall, the current program for purchasing a public parking area and expansion of parking must be accomplished.

The program under consideration has been suggested by Timothy O'Connor and Thomas Huck, both Newman Street businessmen. It is their thinking that the proposed brick sidewalks, similar to those at Gaylord, would add color to the shopping area.

It was reported at the meeting that progress on a bond issue for the eventual establishment of a special assessment district to finance cost of purchasing the A&P parking lot, along with leasing and improvements for parking purposes on property owned by Christ Episcopal Church, was being delayed by an attorney for one of the property owners.

In other business, the city superintendent was authorized to advertise for bids on removal of a number of dead elm trees on city street right-of-way. It was stated that local equipment was not large enough to handle large trees.

Mrs. George Rose and Mrs. Joseph Hennigar of the East Tawas Garden Club commended the city for mowing the memorial garden strip between Bay Street and US-23. They asked that mowing of this strip, along with the cemetery, be placed on a regular basis. It was pointed out by the city that part-time labor for such work was difficult to obtain, but that every effort would be made to keep the property looking presentable.

Mrs. Rose expressed concern over the fact that a number of private property owners were allowing weeds to grow on vacant lots. It was suggested that she identify the property owners in order that the city could enforce its weed ordinance, or the city could mow the weeds and bill the property owners.

Another concern expressed by the two women was the fact that the number of bicycles traveling the highways and streets was becoming a serious traffic problem. It was stated that existing laws and ordinances were being enforced as best as possible, although the council admits that control is becoming difficult.

The city superintendent is to check with the district health department concerning a septic tank problem at Tawas Lake. It was stated that the health department had denied a permit for installation of a septic tank at a new residence because of the high water table at Tawas Lake. At the present time, extension of a sewer main to serve the building lot is an impossibility.

An Oscoda firm which has been approved by the state tax commission for property tax appraisal has offered its service to act as the city assessor. At the present time, East Tawas is under contract with the county tax equalization department for this service. At the expiration of that contract, consideration is to be given to the Oscoda firm to act as city assessor.

A letter was read requesting additional tennis courts in the city. It was stated by councilmen that considerable interest was being shown in the sport of tennis and that the park board was now considering construction of new courts at the Tom Dillon Park.

The city superintendent is to compare sewer needs of the Tawas Lake area with that of Houghton Lake, which recently received a $400,000 federal grant to construct a new sewer system. Rate schedules and other factors are to be studied to determine justification for the Houghton Lake project and how it compares with the needs of the Tawas Lake area. An application of East

Inhabitants Displaced

Tawas City property owners in the vicinity of the former feed mill of Geringer Feed and Implements were battling early this week to avoid being overrun by a horde of rats which swarmed out of the basement. The building was razed by Alpena Candy Company, new owner of the property.

The rats, long-time occupants of the mill, had been enjoying "sour mash" in the basement, which had remained there as grain droppings from the mill and fermented once the building's roof was removed and the rain poured in. A leaking fuel oil tank Saturday drove the rats out of their haven and several hundred of the rodents sought new homes in adjacent buildings.

It was reported that both the City of Tawas City and the district health department had been notified of the condition.

Benefit Game

A benefit softball game Saturday, 8:30 p. m., will pit managers of Tawas Area Knighthole League and Pony League against the TV5 All-Stars. The game will be played at the East Tawas Athletic Field.

Area Fire Authority Awaits Establishment Next Year

Establishment of a fire authority serving the City of Tawas City, Tawas and Alabaster Townships is about a year away, according to information at Monday night's meeting of the city council.

City Mgr. Regina Bulbitz told members of the council that he had been informed by Alabaster Township officials that it would be impossible for that township to provide its three-quarter mill share until a vote of the people next year. It was stated that a special election could not be held in September because of the lack of time needed to place the levy on tax statements.

As a result, the same formula for furnishing Alabaster Township with fire protection would be continued to the end of the current fiscal year in June 1974. A new contract would be adopted at that time.

It was reported that Tawas Township officials had approved the proposition and have indicated that city officials could bill the township for its assessment.

In other business, the council reviewed recommendations of the planning commission concerning revisions to the city's zoning ordinance and the council is to continue its study at the next meeting.

The city police department was directed to investigate a request for installation of a stop sign on German Street at the Oak Street intersection.

The council is to ask the department of state highways to conduct a traffic count to determine if traffic control lights could be installed on US-23 at Mathews Street and First Street. In the past, such requests have been denied by the state because of the lack of sufficient traffic.

The city manager is to study costs involved in the proposed moving and installation of the former Mathews Street foot bridge to a new site on Tenth Avenue. It was stated that some wood contained in the structure would require replacement and that it should be enclosed by protective screening before utilization by pedestrians because of the extreme height over Dead Creek in the Tenth Avenue area.

ET Council

Tawas for federal assistance on a sewer project has been buried by applications from other communities.

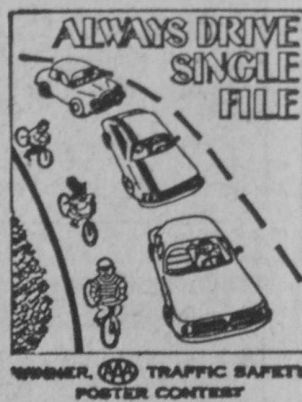

A new assessor's plat to correct land descriptions in the area bounded by Geller Road and Airport Motel at Tawas Lake is now being considered by the council. Mayor Robert Boien is to discuss plans with James Campbell, surveyor, before establishment of the new plat.

The council went on record as supporting a proposal by Mayor John Brugger of Tawas City asking the department of state highways to widen M-55 to four lanes between its intersection with US-23 and Tawas Area School. A similar resolution was adopted recently by the Tawas City Council.

Plans for condemning the old Swedish Lutheran Church have been dropped as it was reported that Victor Zaharias has offered to remove the now unoccupied building.

A joint meeting between the planning commission and city council is to be set for discussion on changing the zoning ordinance concerning commercial and multiple housing areas.

The council expressed its enthusiasm over utilization of a radar device for controlling speed of traffic in the city. It was stated that a decision must now be made if the city is to purchase the unit.

Martin-Bissonnette Vows Exchanged at Hale Church

Arrangements of red and white, gladioli formed a floral background in St. Pius X Catholic Church, Hale, for the marriage Saturday, August 18, of Barbara Ann Bissonnette and Eugene L. Martin.

The Rev. Fr. Terrence A. Raymond performed the 1 o'clock, double ring service. David Brindley was the organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bissonnette of Hale. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Martin of Augusta, Maine, are parents of the bridegroom.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of white silk organza featuring a ring collar, natural waistline and lantern sleeves. Venise motifs enhanced the sleeves and bodice. From her waistline fell a circular skirt, graced with parallel ribbed Venice lace. Matching lace edged the skirt and attached cathedral-length veil. A Camelot cap secured her three-tiered fingertip veil, trimmed in Alencon lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of red and white carnations.

Acting as matron of honor was Mrs. Daniel Kimmereer with Mrs. Joseph Dear as bridesmaid. Josie Bissonnette was flower girl. They were identically attired in floor-length, colonial style, royal blue gowns with Empire waistlines and white embroidery trim. White garden hats with blue velvet ribbons completed their attire. Their bouquets were made up of red and white carnations. Steven Denstedt served as best man with Anthony Bissonnette, groomsmen. Joseph Dear was ring bearer. George Eno and Paul Denstedt acted as ushers.

The church social room was decorated in blue and white for the reception following the ceremony for 200 guests from National City, Glennie, Standish, Linwood, Bay City, Rose City, Saginaw, Tawas City, Whittemore, Prescott, Hale, Florida and Augusta. A small reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bissonnette selected a turquoise double knit dress with matching lace trim. Her corsage was made up of red and white roses.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Martin will reside on Webb Road, Hale.

Mrs. Martin is a graduate of Hale Area High School and the Joan Jewett Career School, Lansing. Her husband is a graduate of Cony High School, Augusta.

Hosting a pre-nuptial shower for the bride were Doris Dear, Phyllis Bissonnette, Lucille Brindley and Meiba Denstedt.

Repeat Vows August 18 at RLDS Church

In 5 o'clock rites Saturday, August 18, at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Tawas City, Elder Guy Yager officiated at the single ring service uniting Deanna E. Timreck and Lance S. Peacock in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Timreck of Tawas City. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peacock of Oscoda.

White gladioli, pink chrysanthemums and candles decorated the altar. Mrs. Sharon Frank was the organist.

The former Miss Timreck chose a white organza, full-length gown with Empire bodice, high collar, long sleeves and flowing train. Her bouffant tulle, shoulder-length veil was secured with a Camelot cap of sheer organza and simulated pearl crown. The bridal bouquet was made up of blue and white daisies.

Lynette Rescoe acted as maid of honor in a full-length pink gown with lace trim, Juliet sleeves, stand-up collar and illusion yoke with rosebud trim. A princess-style skirt fell from an Empire waistline. A garden hat with Swiss braid completed her attire and she carried a bouquet of pink daisies.

Mrs. Timreck greeted guests in a full-length, blue polyester crepe gown and gardenia corsage. Mrs. Peacock selected a pink sheath dress with white accessories and gardenia corsage.

Schanbeck-Mudge Marriage Rites Performed Aug. 15

The Rev. Kenneth Tousley officiated at the 7 o'clock evening service Wednesday, August 15, uniting in marriage Elizabeth Mudge and Edward B. Schanbeck of East Tawas. The rites were read at Tawas United Methodist Church, East Tawas.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Schanbeck of East Tawas. A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

Following a brief wedding trip to Minnesota, the couple will reside in East Tawas.

ET Garden Club Met August 13

Sixteen members of the East Tawas Garden Club met Monday, August 13, at the Christ Episcopal Church parlor, East Tawas. Answers to roll call, "Do you have a planting superstition?" brought many interesting and humorous responses.

Mrs. Everett Wolfin presented a program on floral arrangements, hints for conditioning flowers and foliage, color combinations and containers. Each member brought a floral arrangement which was used to decorate the refreshment table.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mrs. George Rose, Mrs. John Mielock and Mrs. Richard Powers.

Tawas Women Golfers Won All of Alpena's Trophies

Thirty women from the Tawas Women's Golf Association traveled to the Alpena Country Club Thursday, August 16, for the last meet of the season of the Northern Michigan Women's Golf Association and brought back all four trophies awarded by the association for the combined three meets of the year.

The Tawas women took six of the 13 awards for the day's play. Ila Bolen took low gross for the field with a 44. Bea Durant tied with Del Funky of Roscommon for low gross with a 45 in the championship flight. Kathy Prottinger took low net with a 38 and Vi Clute won low putts with 14 in the first flight. Dianne Knight and Evelyn Price tied for low net at 38 in the second flight and Della Moe won low net with a 36 in the third flight.

These winners, added to the sweep of winnings in the two previous meets this year, brought the coveted Shannon trophy to Tawas for a permanent home. This trophy has been a traveling trophy going to the club with the low season net each year since 1959 and the women of the Tawas Association have accomplished the low net for the 15-year history of the trophy.

The low gross traveling trophy this year is out of Alpena for the first time in its nine-year history. The trophy remains with the club having the total low gross for the three meets each year. The low gross and low net trophies for 1973 were both brought home by Tawas women.

Member clubs of the Northern Michigan Women's Golf Association are Alpena Country Club; Alpena Golf Course; Roscommon; White Deer, Houghton Lake; AuSable River Golf Course, Oscoda; Lakewood Shores Golf and Country Club, Oscoda; Tawas Women's Golf Association.

State Highway Checks Being Distributed

Second quarter motor vehicle highway funds collections were distributed to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages starting August 16, reports the state highway commission.

Net receipts of the highway fund during April, May and June amounted to $123,144,453, an increase of $23,444,938, or 23.5 percent over the same period of 1972. Most of the increase was attributed to a two-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax, effective February 1. The diesel fuel tax did not go up.

Iosco County's share totaled $236,107, up $39,381 over the second quarter last year, while Tawas City received $9,154, up $1,611; East Tawas' share amounted to $13,689, up $2,406; Whittemore received $2,518, up $444. All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the motor vehicle fund.

Before distribution is made, collection costs are deducted along with 1.5 percent of the total for the waterways commission and one-half cent of the gas tax for the new general transportation fund. During the second quarter, one-million dollars is set aside for a newly-established critical bridge fund.

The department of state highways receives 44.5 percent of the remainder, the 83 counties receive 35.7 percent and the 531 incorporated cities and villages receive 19.8 percent.

Vietnam Era Vets. Avoid GI Bill

Michigan Vietnam Era veterans taking training under the GI Bill were five percent under the national average, according to a report issued July 26 by the Veterans Administration.

The national average was 46.1 percent, while the average of Michigan veterans under the GI Bill was 41.2 percent. Of the 50 states, Arizona has the highest participation by veterans in the GI Bill training with 53.8 percent. The District of Columbia veterans reached 54 percent.

In Michigan, the report shows that out of 266,000 Vietnam Era veterans, 109,591 have taken some form of training in the 83 months the present GI Bill has been available.

Of these, 23 percent enrolled in colleges; 13.5 percent were in below-college training; 4.7 percent were taking on-job training programs, and 8.2 percent were involved in correspondence courses.

Plans for the new post office in Tawas City were to have been completed Friday by architects for the United States Postal Service, according to Leonard Hoshbach, Tawas City postmaster.

Hoshbach said he had been informed by the regional office at Chicago, Illinois, of the deadline for completing plans. He expects that advertising for bids on constructing the proposed building will be made in the near future.

Carol Kusey is First Nurse Aide-Ambulance Attendant

Carol Kusey, 17, a 1973 graduate of Tawas Area High School, last week became the first nurse aide licensed as an ambulance attendant at Tawas Hospital.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kusey of Monument Road, Tawas City, Carol was accepted at the hospital through the student aide program of Iosco Intermediate School District, in cooperation with Tawas Hospital and Tawas Area School.

An attractive and active young lady with an abundance of know-how and energy, she began under the student program as a student aide in April of this year. She has since been promoted to a nurse aide after completing a series of instructional courses at the hospital under direction of Mrs. Shirley Whitaker. While at the hospital, Carol became interested in the ambulance service run by the hospital and completed the American Red Cross first aid program, as well as the advanced first aid program under supervision of Norbert Lesinski.

This training is required and results in the issuance of an ambulance attendant's license by the Michigan

Department of Public Health's emergency medical services. All ambulance drivers and attendants are required to be licensed before being permitted to work on the ambulance. Since 1969, the hospital has had two licensed lady attendants working as volunteers with the ambulance stationed at Hale.

A CHECK of equipment is made at the start of every shift. At top, Carol Kusey checks to see that headlights are operating. In the bottom photo, she checks oxygen equipment.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Dedicate Monument to Wilber School Next Saturday

Dedication ceremonies for a stone monument marking the site of the old Wilber School are to be held Saturday, August 25, 11:15 a. m. Site of the monument is at Wilber Township Hall, the original location of the first school.

Thirteen years ago, a group of former Wilber School District No. 1 students decided to have a reunion. A committee was formed and Byron Brooks was elected president. Barton Corner became treasurer and Mrs. Corner became secretary.

The first reunion was held the Saturday before Labor Day at Silver Valley. During the 1960 reunion, it was voted to make it an annual affair, officers were elected and the original officers served nine years.

It was then voted to limit the term of the president to two years and Rolland Brooks became the new president. Mrs. Ruth (Brooks) Vandette was elected secretary and Mrs. Corner remained treasurer, an office she took over upon the illness of her husband.

In 1969, it was voted to include the Stevens and Green Schools in the reunion and many of those students have attended reunions since that date.

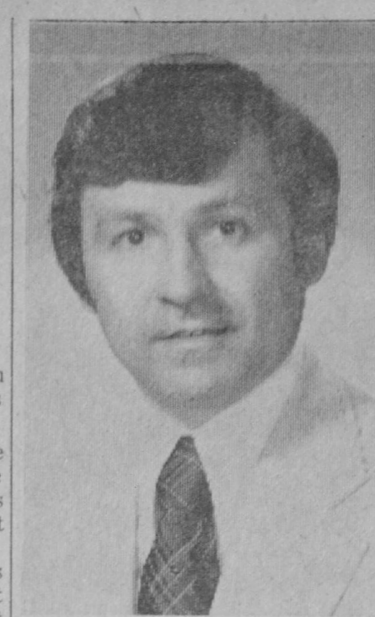

Since the first reunion, it has been the dream of the group to erect a memorial on the site of the first Wilber school, commemorating the families who organized and built the school and the pupils attending that school.

Upon election of the present committee consisting of Allen Kirkendall, president; Miss Edna Otis, secretary, and Edna (Corner) Martindale, treasurer, it was pledged to make a start toward erecting a monument.

A successful campaign was organized to raise the necessary money and a beautiful natural stone was donated by the Dawes family to be used.

A committee consisting of Irving and George Dawes, Daniel Corner, Rolland Brooks, Harvey Abbott and Kirkendall did the actual work of building the base and mounting the stone. Virgil Smith of Vassar donated his time and equipment. The engraving was done by Alexander Memorial Engraving Company of Saginaw.

Brooks, first president of the association, will give the dedication address on Saturday, August 25. Following the dedication, those attending will move to the Wilber Methodist Church for election of officers and a pot-luck dinner.

Steele Won AASA Award Scholarship

Donald J. Steele Jr., assistant superintendent for Saginaw Public Schools, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Steele Sr., are residents of East Tawas, has been named one of the four national winners of the highest award given by the American Association of School Administrators.

Steele will be presented the Forrest E. Conner Scholarship at the annual convention of the association in February. The award carried a cash grant of $1,500.

The American Association of School Administrators annually selects four administrators "with promise" from throughout the country.

Winners must have demonstrated proven ability, high scholarship in a doctoral program, integrity and sincerity of interest in American education. They must also indicate that they intend to devote their lives to educational administration.

Steele, a Saginaw native, has been with the school system since 1965. He has served as a physical education teacher, director of community schools and elementary principal.

He holds a bachelor and a master degree from Central Michigan University and doctor of philosophy degree from Ohio State University.

Steele and his wife, Cheryl, have one son.

SS Checks to Get Early Delivery

Social security checks for August will be delivered on September 1 this year, which is "unusually early," according to John Carr, social security district manager in Bay City.

"Checks for a given month are usually delivered on the third of the following month," Carr said. "When the third falls on a day mail is not delivered—a Sunday or a national holiday—the checks are usually delivered a day ahead, the second of the month."

"This year, September 2 is a Sunday and September 3 is Labor Day; so social security checks will be delivered on Saturday, the first. It does not happen very often," he said.

Social security pays over four-billion dollars a month in retirement, disability and survivors benefits to almost 29-million people.

EQUIPMENT and men of the Iosco Road Commission were pulled off a road construction project last Thursday to make repairs to the bank protecting US-23 from Tawas Bay near the M-55 intersection. Working under contract with the department of state highways, the road commission hauled large chunks of limestone from its quarry and dumped it into holes which had washed out along the highway. The project was completed in time to protect the roadway from storm erosion expected later in the fall.—Tawas Herald Photos.

15 Years Ago—

August 21, 1958—The City of Tawas City may make a clean sweep of its anticipated ordinance book and replace or substitute many of the old ordinances with new and modern ones as the result of an unsuccessful attempt to enforce an old hawkers' ordinance which had been on the books since 1888.

Your kitchen cutting board is a potential source of the tiny organisms that cause food poisoning.

You can reduce the danger of transferring bacteria from one food to another. One way is to get rid of your porous wooden cutting board and buy one of the newer plastic cutting surfaces. The nonporous nature of the plastic provides no traps for microorganisms and washes clean easily.

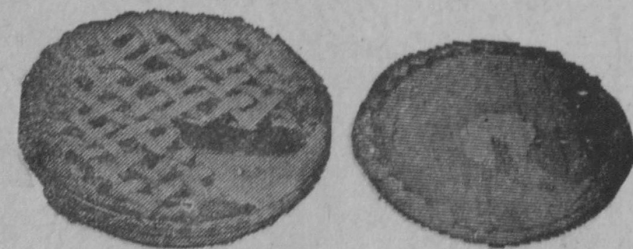

If you use a wooden cutting board, be sure to scrub it thoroughly after every use. Use hot water, plenty of detergent and a stiff brush. Such cleanliness is very important because microorganisms are present in almost all foods and may be transferred from one to another. Raw chicken, for example, may be contaminated with the organism responsible for salmonella poisoning. These organisms are normally killed during cooking.

If you cut the chicken on the cutting board, you transfer some of the organisms to the board. If the board is not thoroughly scrubbed before you use it again, the organisms will be passed on to some other food. If transferred to foods which are not cooked, such as salad ingredients, they may cause food poisoning.

Sounds simple—it is. But it is also important. In fact, a whole bulletin has been prepared to help in preventing food poisoning. Write or call your county extension home economist for your free copy of the up-to-date bulletin called "Prevent Food Poisoning." You will learn about causes and controls. You will have answers for 27 questions most often asked, plus two pages of food preservation tips.

LAKE HURON'S whitefish fleet has been "high and dry" for years due to the lack of fish and it may be that this species of fish will never again be abundant enough to support a commercial fishing industry.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Fish in Public Waters Belong to All People of Michigan

In the letters to the editor column of The Detroit Free Press last week, a St. Ignace woman expressed concern over the fact that the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' fishery division was advocating a ban on gill nets in the taking of Lake Superior whitefish. It was the woman's opinion that whitefish would soon disappear from the menus of St. Ignace restaurants because of the gill net ban and that the whitefish menu was an important attraction to the tourist industry.

What the St. Ignace woman may not realize, however, is that Lake Superior may be the last hope for the return of whitefish and lake trout to Michigan waters — including Lake Huron — along with future propagation of those species. What happens in Lake Superior will be most important to the rest of the state.

Fish in the public waters of Michigan are the property of all of the people of the State of Michigan and must be utilized wisely to insure propagation for present and future stocks. Too often it has been the case that controls have been eased, or necessary controls have not been adopted, because some have felt sorry that a number of commercial fishermen would be forced out of business, or possibly curtailed.

If one studies the entire problem of commercial fishing, some interesting historical facts come to the surface. Anyone 40 years of age and older residing in this area has witnessed the demise of the major commercial fishing industry on Saginaw Bay. It was coming for a long time, but in sharp contrast to the 1890s, when people of the Tawas and other lake shore communities were confident that fishing "would last forever."

Harvesting a natural resource annually depends greatly on wise management of that natural resource and the real key to controlling the fish harvest—Michigan's zone management plan—has only been obtained in recent years.

It may be interesting for some to know that the state annually restocked Lake Huron with whitefish as early as 1895, according to files of The Tawas Herald. Spawning females were stripped of their eggs at the docks of commercial operators, transported to Alpena where they were hatched and the fry was returned to Lake Huron. It was seen, even more than 70 years ago, that nature had to be assisted in its restocking because of the loss of important spawning grounds, as man began to encroach on offshore spawning beds and utilized rivers emptying into Saginaw Bay for disposal of sewer and industrial wastes.

Fishermen had to make a living, too, and commercial operations became most efficient. Development and utilization of the huge submarine nets quickly depleted the whitefish and lake trout and more than one commercial operator in the Tawas warned in the 1920s, according to files of this newspaper, that the industry would be destroyed unless some steps were taken to protect spawning whitefish.

Others, who could "not see the woods for the trees," were interested in their own immediate livelihood and commercial operators, for years, actually determined what legislation concerning the commercial fishing industry would come out of Lansing.

By the 1930s, the commercial fishing industry was in serious trouble and stocks of whitefish were dangerously depleted. Fishing continued, however, and Saginaw Bay supported a fishing fleet of more than 123 boats in 1938 to protect an investment of more than a million dollars.

The whitefish breeding stock in closed waters of Saginaw Bay was depleted by the raids of commercial fishermen. The end came in 1947-48 with the last big run of whitefish, when commercial operators swarmed into the area and fish were shipped out by railcar loads.

In the late 1950s, there was an excellent run of chubs at Oscoda and fishermen from all of the Great Lakes swarmed to the AuSable River for a base of operations, using a new "tool," the nylon gill net imported from Japan. The chub fishing was profitable until the big botulism scare, but the chub, too, was being depleted.

Fishermen had to make a livelihood and they turned to the perch of Saginaw Bay. Many of these fishermen had come to these waters from Lake Erie and had excellent equipment, including miles of most efficient gill nets. Production of perch zoomed ever upward and, despite warnings from those who could see what was happening, perch were nearly exterminated from Saginaw Bay.

Through adoption of the zone management plan in 1969, the DNR later banned the use of unselective gill nets in Saginaw Bay. Today, perch appear to be returning in large numbers to Saginaw and Tawas Bays.

Much time, money and understanding is needed by the general public, fishermen and members of the state legislature to revitalize Michigan waters; without the third provision, money and time mean nothing. The people of Michigan, including those who operate restaurants and the commercial fishermen, as well as the sport fishermen or those who just enjoy eating fish, must understand that the fishery must be managed wisely. Legislators must realize, too, that they must not be swayed simply by sympathy for persons whose livelihoods are being endangered. The fish industry has been "down" for years and relaxing any control could damage that industry for many years to come—perhaps forever.

Although many sports fishermen may be opposed to commercial operators because of past ruthless practices utilized by some associated with that industry, it must be realized that fish as a food on the table, as well as an industry, are important to this state. Most Michiganders would rather eat our own native fish, any day, than some of that ocean fish used in food markets.

Yes, Lake Superior whitefish are important to the entire state as well as to the restaurants of St. Ignace. Let us keep the management of that last remaining breeding stock in the proper hands—the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Social Security Overpayment to be Returned

Question: I have already made over $10,000 this year. Now that I have changed jobs, I am still contributing to social security. Since I will end up paying more than I should, can I not get some money back?

Answer: Yes. You will get a refund after you file your federal income tax return for 1973. The tax return is designed to show any overpayment of social security contributions during the previous year.

Question: I will be 18 within the next year, but I will still be going to school. What must I do to keep getting my monthly social security payments?

Answer: A questionnaire will be mailed to you some time during the five months before you are 18. This questionnaire asks if you plan to continue in school after 18, where you will go to school and if you will be working while you are a student.

To continue getting your checks without interruption, complete the questionnaire and send it to any social security office as soon as your plans for attending school are definite.

If you do not receive a questionnaire, visit your social security office and give them the necessary information about your school plans.

Question: During the summer months, I usually hire a cook and a gardener. When must I report their wages?

Answer: If you pay your cook or gardener cash wages of $50 or more during a calendar quarter (January-March, April-June, July-September, October-December), you must report the wages and send the social security contribution to the Internal Revenue Service. This report should be made during the first month immediately after the quarter in which you paid the wages. Get a copy of "Social Security and Your Household Employee" from any social security office for more information.

Question: I will be 65 next year and I am thinking about retiring. However, I have two teen-age sons in college and I am concerned whether I can afford to continue their education if I retire. Someone told me that my two sons would be eligible for monthly social security payments if I retire. Is this so?

Answer: Yes, it is. If you are eligible for monthly social security retirement checks, your sons will also get benefits until they are 22, if they are full-time students and remain single.

Grant Township Seeks Assistance With New Park

Expansion plans for Grant Township Park at Sand Lake were outlined Thursday to the Isosco County Board of Commissioners by representatives of Grant Township Volunteer Fire Department.

Henry Gage and Raymond Lenczewski of the fire department appeared before the county commission and announced that a park was being included with proposed plans for a community center at Sand Lake.

Cost of the park was estimated at $25,000 and Gage announced that community efforts during the past several years had raised $12,000. He said that estimated cost of the community center building was $135,000.

The fire department purchased two acres of land several years ago for community use and has since leased five acres from the United States Forest Service.

Gage and Lenczewski emphasized that the present park and proposed expanded facility would serve not only the large population of year-around and summer residents of the lake area, but would also serve residents of adjoining townships, as it does at the present.

The two representatives of Grant Township are to attend the September 11 meeting of the Isosco Parks and Recreation Commission and make a presentation before that group. It is hoped that funds might be obtained from the county for park development, similar to other projects in the county benefiting from parks and recreational funds.

Gage said that the $25,000 estimated cost of the park project would include development of grounds, a parking lot, baseball diamond and combination tennis-basketball courts, which could be flooded for an ice skating rink during the winter.

In other business, Benson "Pete"

Beck, director of Isosco Department of Social Services, appeared before the commission and requested the county to consider landscaping work at the new social services office building, now under construction. The commission's buildings and grounds committee is to investigate and make a recommendation.

New Books Available at Area Libraries

Three recent and very practical books may be obtained through branches of Isosco-Arenac Regional Library and the bookmobile.

A new title and, incidentally, a book that rapidly appeared on the best seller list, is "How to be Your Own Best Friend," by Mildred Newman. This book, actually written by a team of psychoanalysts, is advice and possible solutions to human problems written in understandable language and lively style.

A new cookbook by the founder of Weight Watchers, Jean Nidetch, gives full details of the proven method of weight reduction used in Weight Watchers classes and 675 new recipes and menus.

"Dollars and Sense," a guide to mastering your money to get the most mileage out of your income, tells how to shop, sell, borrow and negotiate with realtors, bankers, insurance representatives, auto mechanics, grocers and credit institutions. It is a dollar-by-dollar guide to getting your money to work as hard for you as you did for it. This book is written for the average consumer by a writer who specializes in consumer money management.

Branch libraries are located at East Tawas, Oscoda, Hale, Tawas City and Whittemore.

TOURISM has been an important business in the Tawas for more than 75 years. It all started back in the 1890s when the Detroit and Mackinac Railway began running excursion trains to its Tawas Beach Park. With the advent of "good roads" (better than the former sand trails) in the 1920s, automobiles began to transport tourists to the region. One of the popular spots to camp was the East Tawas State Park, with its sandy beach, municipal pier (now the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock) and shaded campsites. Facilities were primitive in the 1920s, but kids were no different than they are today—they like the water. Those slides in the bay, upon which so many kids fractured their arms, have taken the same route as running boards on automobiles, but there was no better place than the steps of a slide to pose a bevy of bathing beauties and running boards provided a good place to haul luggage. The state park has been moved to Tawas Point (top picture) and more than 200,000 persons used the facilities there last year. The East Tawas City Park is more popular than ever and has been host to 5,332 campers through the end of July. Clothing styles, automobiles and camping facilities have changed over the years but, like the Indians of long ago who camped on Tawas Point and enjoyed the breeze off Lake Huron, tourists who get sand in their moccasins from the beach of Tawas Bay return year after year.

Mobile Van to Bring Specialists in Vet. Benefits

A mobile van staffed by specialists in veterans benefits and counseling will be arriving in East Tawas for a one-day stay in a tour of the state to provide one-stop, on-the-spot aid for former servicemen and women.

The aim of the new program, called "National Assistance for Veterans," is to reach veterans who have not made full use of VA benefits and governmental services.

The on-board specialists explain VA benefits, such as GI Bill educational allowance, home loans, medical care and job training and give help and counseling on housing and family problems.

The vans, which have been in 12 states, are part of President Nixon's new national assistance for veterans programs with Donald E. Johnson, veterans administrator, as national coordinator.

While in East Tawas, the van will be located at Christ Episcopal Church parking lot across the corner from the city hall and will be open for business from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Monday, August 27.

What happens when you're offered $20,000 for your $27,000 pile of ashes?

You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation. This is the kind of problem you could face if you bought and insured your home for $20,000 in 1968. See me to find out if your home is insured for its full value. I'll tell you about a low-cost State Farm Homeowners Policy that will insure your home for its worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.
