

ANOTHER OLD HOUSE along US-23 (Lake Street) in Tawas City was demolished over the week-end to make room for commercial expansion. James Quarters is shown using his bulldozer to pull down the former residence of Robert Erickson, located near the North Street intersection. The house was once the dwelling of the late Mrs. Capitola McCormick. The site will become the new location for Tawas Hardware and, once the clearance is completed, work will start on the new building. It is expected that the new structure will be completed next spring.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Discuss Joint Water - Sewer Program for Area

Local officials were told Thursday by representatives of the Economic Development Administration that secondary sewage treatment must be provided in the area before the federal government would give consideration to any financial assistance with sewer and water extensions.

As the result of a discussion between representatives of Tawas City, East Tawas, Baldwin Township and the county board of commissioners, consideration is to be given by governmental units of the Tawas area for establishment of a regional plan to provide secondary sewage treatment. An invitation is being extended to officials of the adjoining Townships of Alabaster and Tawas to join with the three other local units to study secondary treatment and water plant capabilities. If such a proposal receives the blessing of the governmental units, Edmands Engineering Company, Tawas City's consultant, and Spicer Engineering Company, East Tawas' consultant, would make a study and develop recommendations. Mayor John Brugger of Tawas City pointed out to those attending that the expense of constructing and operating a secondary sewage treatment plant would be prohibitive for each unit, but he believed that a regional concept could have feasibility. James Collison and Roger Rayburn of EDA told those attending that EDA would not even consider the Tawas City-East Tawas-Baldwin Township request for a pre-application hearing until provisions are made for a secondary sewage treatment plant. Originally entitled locally as the "Edmands plan," an application had been made for EDA funds to assist the communities with sewer and water construction to serve the Tawas Area Industrial Development Park in Baldwin Township and the Tawas City Industrial Development Park on Ninth Avenue. The plan was shelved for several months when EDA funds were depleted and interest has been renewed again when additional funds were received for the federal program. East Tawas has made application for a federal grant to aid in construction of a secondary sewage treatment plant and, at one time, was the sixth community in line to receive assistance. However, the city dropped to the 60th position when other communities in the downstate area received a higher priority based on a point system, according to Mayor Robert Bolen and Paul Roper, superintendent of public works. According to City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz of Tawas City, no change has been made by the federal government for communities to provide secondary sewage treatment by 1977. Two Northeastern Michigan communities, Standish and West Branch, have received federal funding to aid in construction of secondary sewage treatment facilities. East Tawas was notified recently that the federal government would accept its application for a return on money which the federal govern-

County Buys Radar Unit

Purchase of a mobile radar unit for use by the Iosco Sheriff's Department was authorized last week by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

A new demonstration unit has been in use by the department for the past month and will be retained by the county. Cost of the equipment is $2,185.

"We do not want anyone to get the idea that our patrol officers will be out on the highway just to write traffic tickets," states Undersheriff Basil Odell. "Traffic enforcement is but one of the functions of all law enforcement officers—it is not necessarily our primary function."

The undersheriff said that judgment of the officer concerning when and where speeding violations were to be enforced is still an important factor. "As long as we have cars on the road, the officers should be enforcing state traffic laws, too," said Odell. "Sheriff George Westcott and the department believe that the new radar unit actually should cut down on traffic hazards, rather than to create them through high speed chases to clock a violator."

More than 6,000 radar units are now in use throughout Michigan. The state police post at East Tawas has a similar unit.

A car equipped with such a unit can accurately measure the speed of any vehicle approaching from either direction. If the approaching vehicle's speed is above a pre-selected traffic control figure set on the machine, an audible signal is heard in the police car. The unit "locks in" automatically on the speeder and such evidence is admissible in court.

Purchase of the unit was included in the county's federal revenue sharing budget.

Four Men Sentenced in Circuit Court

One man received a prison sentence and three were placed on probation when appearing Friday in Iosco Circuit Court.

Edwin Beck was placed on probation for four years, fined $150 and sentenced to jail for four months on possession of marijuana with intent to deliver.

Ralph Koehn was sentenced to a prison term of two years and not more than five years for possession of stolen property.

Jaime Stewart was placed on probation for three years, fined $100, assessed court costs of $100 and sentenced to two months in jail for possession of marijuana with intent to deliver.

Leon Barlow was placed on probation for two years, fined $100, assessed court costs of $100 and sentenced to two months in jail for possession of marijuana.

School Needs Taxes

Borrow Against State Aid

Pay your 1973 property taxes now and help Tawas Area School pay off its past due accounts. That is the plea this week from Tawas Area Board of Education, which Monday night authorized borrowing on anticipated state aid in order to dig out from the usual avalanche of late fall bills.

Supt. Edward J. Barry told members of the board of education Monday night that a check with treasurers of the various townships and cities in the school district indicated that receipts from property taxes may be slower than usual this year.

Property tax statements were mailed by the individual governmental units on December 1 and are payable anytime after that date. The superintendent said there apparently was no early rush to pay taxes this year.

In September, the school made application to the state to borrow $155,000 on anticipated state aid in order to tide over financing until property taxes began to be received in December. "It appears as though we should have borrowed more money," said Barry Monday night.

The school presently has $118,000 in outstanding bills and many of the school's creditors, some of whom are local businessmen, have expressed hope that the accounts could be settled before Christmas. Barry said that available funds could be "stretched" to meet the school's payroll by legally deferring payment of withholding taxes until a later date.

The board of education authorized borrowing against the remaining $81,000 in state aid for the 1973-74 term. This application is to be speeded through channels at Lansing. In the meantime, school officials are hoping that taxpayers will come through this month with enough money to make up the difference.

Borrowing on anticipated state aid only adds to the expense of school operation as interest must be paid on the amount borrowed. Such borrowing to finance school operation between the start of the fall term and receipt of property taxes has been necessary since elimination of the school's annual general fund balance a number of years ago.

Over a period of years, the school gradually built up a general fund balance to handle its own financing during this critical period. That balance, gained through the then legal transfer of about five percent of the school's state aid, was eliminated as it appeared to some that the school was receiving an excess of funds and the board of education was criticized when a balance was shown in its annual budget. As school operational costs zoomed upward, the balance was expended and never replaced.

Six Area Young Men Charged With Arson

Six young men from the Tawas area were ordered to report for preliminary examination in district court on December 17 after being arraigned Tuesday morning on charges of arson and conspiracy to commit arson.

Appearing before Dist. Judge J. Richard Ernst were Russell Ackerman, 19, conspiracy to commit arson, $1,000 bond; Steven Engle, 19, conspiracy to commit arson, $1,000 bond; Paul Ziehl, 17, arson and conspiracy to commit arson, $2,000 bond; Millard Corbin, 18, two charges of arson and one charge of conspiracy to commit arson, $3,000 bond; Daniel Brewer, 18, two counts of arson and one count of conspiracy to commit arson, $3,000 bond; Roger Clem, 21, arson and conspiracy to commit arson, $2,000.

If convicted, state law provides a maximum penalty of a 10-year prison term on each count. The six young men were arrested early Saturday morning following a chase by Iosco Sheriff's Department officers. It was reported that the county patrol car reached 110 miles per hour at one point during the chase.

The six young men are specifically charged with causing fires Saturday morning which destroyed a shed owned by Robert Oates on Alabaster Road and partially destroyed an unoccupied home on US-23 owned by Emil Christenson. Both of the structures are located in Alabaster Township.

Tawas City Fire Department was called to the scene of one blaze at 6:00 a. m. Saturday and the second fire was reported shortly thereafter.

Officers spotted a "suspicious" car at the scene of one fire and gave chase as it sped away.

Investigating officers said that the six apparently were not involved in a fire which destroyed a farm home the previous night on Benson Road.

TA School Opposes Longer Vacation as Fuel Conserver

School officials said Monday night that they were going to do everything possible to conserve heating fuel and gasoline during the present energy crisis, but indicated they were opposed to lengthening Christmas vacation or reducing heat in classrooms.

Supt. Edward J. Barry said he "reluctantly advised" the board to comply with a state guideline to appoint a committee of local persons to become involved as a steering committee to adapt the school to the energy crisis.

The superintendent said that building principals were doing everything possible to avoid wasting heat and lights and that an effort would be made to improve efficiency. He pointed out, however, that the hot water system in the high school-middle school had individual unit controls in classrooms with thermostats geared to the outdoor temperature. Other parts of the building are heated by hot water convection and turning the thermostat down in one section of the building could send the heat down to a much lower point in other parts of the building.

Prin. John Alexander expressed the opinion that Christmas vacation should not be lengthened as such a move would cut into that period of study just prior to semester examinations. He believed that if the state forced such a closing, it should be made in February during the coldest part of the winter and after semester examinations.

The superintendent reported that the school has enough gasoline to operate its bus fleet until the middle of February, despite a 15 percent reduction in its gasoline supply for December. He said that the school's gasoline supply was not being used for any extra curricular purposes and that transportation was conforming to board and state policies.

The superintendent pointed out, too, that the main school building was in use from 6:00 a. m. to 11:00 p. m. daily through the split session and community education. A clock which automatically turns down the heat at night is not functioning properly and is being operated manually by custodians until repairs are made by the manufacturer.

Robert Elliott, board of education president, said it was almost impossible to get a true picture of the current energy crisis nationally because of daily conflicting reports. He believed that heat in classrooms should not be lowered below 70 degrees as it would hinder the educational process.

Sheriff Lists Complaints of Last Week

Complaints concerning burglary, larceny and vandalism were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Break-in of a cottage at 1602 Indian Lake Road, owned by Joan Brann, Farmington, was discovered when a neighbor noticed that the front door of the cottage was open. Entry was made by breaking a window in the front door.

Mrs. Rosemary Pierson, 1461 National City Road, reported that she found approximately 100 pounds of various cuts of pork missing when she checked the deep freezer in her garage. The meat was valued at $125.

Lawrence Everitt, 8162 West M-55, Reno Township, reported Thursday that he had attempted to use his tractor and found that it could not be operated. He took the engine apart and discovered a large quantity of sugar in the gas tank.

PEOPLES STATE BANK got into the swing of the holiday season last Friday night when candles were used to light tellers' windows. The bank may have even considered the current energy crisis as a reason for doing business by candlelight, but they "fudged" a little by utilizing overhead lights in the work area.—Tawas Herald Photo.

State Testing Reveals Some Frosh Doing Poorly in Math.

Public education, which has weathered numerous crises over the years and has changed constantly with the times, apparently is faced with a new "blow" and it may have been brought on by the "modern math" fad of a few years ago.

As the result of a recent testing program, Supt. Edward J. Barry reported to the board of education Monday night that a problem had been uncovered in the ninth grade: Some students are not reaching the proper learning level in mathematics, according to the new state guideline.

The superintendent said that a complete study would now have to be made of the mathematics program in elementary and middle school grades. He said that some freshmen students could not multiply or add fractions and that a few were at the third grade level in mathematics.

Barry said that some individualized instruction would be required to correct the situation, which would require additional funding. An alternative solution, he said, would be to utilize a tracking system, whereby the 120 students in that grade would be separated into four to six units according to individual abilities.

The board of education's curriculum committee reported on a meeting with the school's mathematics department concerning new guidelines from the state department of education. It was proposed to hire mathematics instructors for three weeks during the summer months to develop a new curriculum to meet those state guidelines. No action was taken on this recommendation or on another recommendation to utilize senior students and two clerical staff members to help teachers correct mathematics papers during the class hour, one of the state's stipulations.

Barry said that the entire program would have to be studied to determine if elementary instruction was inadequate and if the teacher-pupil load is too high for good instruction. He said that some of the students with deficiencies in mathematics were new arrivals in the school district and some are in the slower range of learning. He said, too, that some mathematics programs in the elementary grades lose six weeks of work each year because of the necessity of reviewing the previous year of instruction.

The problem is immediate because of state guidelines, said Barry. "It is the first time in history that minimal performance objectives have been required," he stated. Barry indicated that the new guidelines were perhaps a prelude to the regency examinations of New York State and indicated that even he would have trouble with some of the mathematics problems posed to ninth graders.

John Alexander, high school principal, said that many of the problems are products of the modern mathematics program which was instituted a number of years ago. He said that teaching of "modern math" was met with opposition right from the start from both teachers and parents. As an example, he said that he never was particularly enthralled with the "modern math" system of teaching.

No action was taken on a contract to hire an educational consultant from Michigan State University to study the school and make recommendations concerning the curriculum and the school plant. It had been estimated that such service would cost about $1,500 but the contract price was $5,000 and was deemed excessive.

Robert Elliott, board of education president, said that a local study concerning the school curriculum was made a number of years ago and then "shelved." The high school principal pointed out, however, that a number of recommendations made during the 1967-68 study were implemented into the school's program, but he believed that study was now obsolete.

The superintendent said that the matter of credibility breeds in when school officials and staff members study the curriculum or undertake a look at school building needs. Other universities offering such services are to be contacted to determine the cost of a study.

In other business, the high school principal reported that he was now accepting credentials for a replacement for Mrs. Ruth Merschel, who retires at the end of the first semester as high school librarian. He said that candidates are required to be fully-certified librarians.

A tape recording of a first grade student reading a Christmas poem was played during the meeting. Herman Rollin, principal at the Tawas City Elementary Unit, reported that the annual Christmas program by fourth and fifth graders would be held Wednesday, December 19, 8:00 p. m.

The school is to enter a bid on a one-half ton pickup and a dump truck which are surplus to the needs of the Tawas Ranger District.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the board of education on Monday, December 24, has been canceled. A special meeting is to be called if necessary.

A report on the lunch program revealed that elementary and high school-middle school programs had operated at a slight profit during October and November.

Robert McDonald, middle school principal, reported that a study was now being made to incorporate a number of new subjects into the curriculum at the start of the second semester. The improvements are to be made to the curriculum at no additional expense.

Gene Gerber, community education director, reported that he is now in the process of organizing a community school advisory council and letters are to be sent to individuals in an effort to obtain members. The committee would offer advice on the community educational program.

The superintendent reported that the school would receive an additional $8 or $9 per student in state aid as the result of adoption of the "grandfather clause" in the state aid bill.

Braves Topped Dukes for First Win in Northern B Schedule

Tawas Area Braves bounced back from their season opening defeat at Mt. Morris to down a tough Essexville Garber squad, 68-61, Friday night in the first conference game of the new season.

The Dukes and the Braves have been picked as the principal contenders in what seems to be the annual go against Carrollton, defending champion of the NBC. The Braves came out on top in Friday night's game at Essexville by out-shooting and out-rebounding the Dukes.

Except for a few minutes in the final quarter, when the Dukes sliced Tawas' 13-point lead to only three points, the Braves had things their own way. Tawas outscored the Essexville squad in the first three quarters and that meant the game as they did not rattle when the Dukes made a determined bid in the fourth quarter to pull the game out of the fire.

Tawas opened the game with a 19-15 first quarter edge and then followed with a 17-15 margin in the second quarter. The Braves built a commanding lead in the third quarter with a 17-10 effort.

The Dukes made good use of accurate eyes at the charity line to pull within three points of the Braves at the mid-point of the fourth quarter and then gambled on a panic press to upset the winners. Two quick lay-ups by Tawas ended that threat as they did not rattle and were able to solve the press with ease.

Essexville used a good zone defense to keep Tawas shooting from the outside most of the night and the Braves responded by meshing 35 percent of their shots—25 out of 71. Although unable to utilize a fast break against the surprisingly fast Dukes, Tawas was quick enough to shoot on the run and before the taller Dukes were positioned under the buckets. As a result, the Braves picked off 20 offensive rebounds and pulled down 22 rebounds off the defensive backboards, while the Dukes had only six offensive rebounds and 20 on defense.

Tawas used a press defense most of the night and, while it did not panic the Dukes, it prevented their opponents from running with the ball.

Both teams had three players scoring in double figures, but Tawas fared better with 24 points from Larry Nichols, 18 points from Terry Nichols and 13 points by Mickey Haglund. In addition, the Braves were helped by a seven-point effort from Jeff Hemphill, who came off the bench to fill in for Steve Cline. Cline had three fouls in the first half and Hemphill played most of the second and third quarters before finally fouling out in the fourth quarter.

Top man for the Dukes was Brehmer, who had 24 points and 10 of those came on foul shots in the fourth quarter. John Rutterbush had 14 points and Nelson contributed 12, including seven points in the fourth quarter.

The Braves were to go against the Whittemore-Prescott Cardinals Tuesday night and are to play host to Standish - Sterling Central Friday night in the first home game of the conference season.

Eastern Won Over HA Eagles

It took more than three minutes before either team could score a basket Friday night, but the Arenac Eastern Eagles finally hit the first one and put things together to down the visiting Hale Area Eagles, 52-34.

Although missing many baskets during the night, the Eagles of Arenac Eastern wound up with 24 field goals and only four foul shots, indicating that they did do some of the right things by controlling the backboards, to win going away.

Hale Area has three players who saw action last year when it won the championship of the North Star League, but Coach Dale Purkey has been unable to find replacements for such graduating seniors as Greg Pickett, Jeff Miller, Keyno Shellenbarger and Steve Densted. That group marched off with the district championship and it is rebuilding time for Hale Area's program.

The low-scoring first quarter went to Arenac Eastern with an 8-4 margin and Eastern racked up a 23-13 margin in the second quarter, the best scoring quarter for either team during the night.

Arenac Eastern put the game out of reach in the third quarter with a 13-9 margin and each team meshed eight points in the final stanza.

Eastern showed good balance during the night with excellent rebounding from Bob Morgan, who turned in 18 points and was second only to Gene Williamson, who had scoring honors for the night with 19 points.

Hale Area took a physical pounding in the first half and were unable to match the winners in any department. Ernie Maas was high man

Cardinals Lost, but Had Good Game

By DORNACE BELLVILLE

Whittemore - Prescott Cardinals dropped both games to Saginaw Sts. Peter and Paul Friday night. The varsity fell, 76-61, while the junior varsity squad was bombed, 72-25.

The Cards played a good game, holding an 8-3 early lead, but the visitors pulled ahead, 20-16, at the end of the first quarter. The Saginaw boys put the game out of reach in the second quarter with a 14-point streak to take a 40-22 lead.

Both teams substituted freely in the last half. The Cards held a height advantage, but the Saints controlled the boards.

Jim Moraitis took game scoring honors with 27 points on 11 and five. Dave Tunney was the only other Card to hit double figures with 19. Chris Eddington topped the Saints with 25 points.

It was the Cards' third straight loss. They dropped the opener to Alcona, 71-60, and lost another game to Au Gres, 75-59.

During the past two weeks, Sheriff George W. Westcott of Tawas City took part in an intensive training program in the latest management techniques at the University of Southern California.

Funded by a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the United States Department of Justice, the program was sponsored by the National Sheriffs' Association through its National Sheriffs' Institute. The training was provided by the University's Center for the Administration of Justice in its School of Public Administration.

Along with 55 other sheriffs from 26 states, Sheriff Westcott participated in classes on supervision, leadership and motivation of personnel; effective communication; jail management; agency goal-setting and guidance; budgeting and fiscal control; administrative law, and numerous other subjects.

The faculty was drawn from the University of Southern California as well as other universities and from working practitioners in the field of management and law enforcement.

This program represents the first organized attempt to deal with the management role of the elected sheriff. Most training efforts in the past have concentrated on the law enforcement, court and correctional duties of the office, while ignoring the fact that the sheriff must be an effective manager if he is to successfully perform these other roles.

In emphasizing his management responsibilities, the training program drew upon the resources of a variety of educational specialties not often involved with sheriffs, including public administration, business management, political science and philosophy.

ONE OF THE SURE SIGNS that winter is near is when the United States Coast Guard retrieves its marker buoys in Tawas Bay. The coast guard cutter was here last week to perform the annual chore and this picture was snapped at 7:30 Wednesday morning while the ship, its lights ablaze at dawn and reflecting off the still open water of Tawas Bay, was berthed at the Michigan Waterways Commission dock, East Tawas. The marker buoys, which warn ships to stay clear of shoal water around Tawas Point, will be replaced after the ice breaks up next spring. —Tawas Herald Photo.

Property Assessments Hiked 1.87 Percent by Sales Study

A 1.87 percent increase to adjust Iosco County's tax base for 1974, based on a three-year sales study, has been recommended to the Iosco County Board of Commissioners by William G. Woreley, county tax equalization director.

During the commission's meeting last Wednesday, Woreley suggested a starting base of $126,758,008 assessed valuation on real property or an increase of $2,610,056.

The tax equalization director presented copies of a sales study conducted by his department. The three-year study was arrived at by using percentage ratios from 1972 and 1973 tax bases, plus sales in the last half of 1972 and the first half of 1973 to arrive at an adjusted ratio.

Through utilization of the computing service provided under contract with the county, sales study books are available for each unit. Each sale during the study period is indicated on the computer printout, along with the actual sale price and the assessed valuation of the property.

Agricultural and commercial classifications had stable sales prices, according to the report. The new starting base for agricultural property would be $7,463,074, an increase of $39,641. The major share of the increase was in Burleigh Township, which received an increase of $39,563. Whittemore was the only other unit receiving an increase in this category and that amounted to $138. Recommended as the new starting base for the commercial classification is $18,315,369. This included an increase of $51,309 in Oscoda Township and $1,095 in Whittemore.

The major adjusted valuation increase came in the categories of residential and timber cutover. The tax director recommended that a figure of $38,318,320 be used as the new starting base for residential, an increase of $2,273,651, while he recommended that $7,964,850 be used as the starting base for timber cutover, an increase of $244,789.

Every unit but AuSable Township received an increase on its starting base. The largest increase, percentage-wise, was recorded in Reno Township, which has a new starting base of $414,778, an increase of $22,738 based on 5.80 percent. Following closely was Whittemore, which has a new starting base of $646,510, or an increase of $34,110 based on a percentage of 5.57.

Under the recommendation, Tawas City's new starting tax base for residential would be $4,702,160, an increase of $182,160, based on 4.03 percent. New starting base recommended for East Tawas would be $8,404,660, an increase of $316,260, based on 3.91 percent.

Other units showing new starting bases, increases and percentage of increase are as follows: Alabaster, $3,639,170, increase of $18,470, percentage of .51; Baldwin, $8,006,285, increase of $295,330, percentage of 3.83; Grant, $5,682,170, increase of $75,690, percentage of 1.35; Oscoda, $28,329,980, increase of $674,736, percentage of 2.44; Plainfield, $15,633,425, increase of $473,000, based on 3.12 percent; Sherman, $403,547, an increase of $13,947, based on 3.56 percent; Tawas Township, $2,820,090, increase of $82,470, based on 3.25 percent; Wilber, $1,581,620, an increase of $74,020, 4.91 percent increase.

Percentage of increase in timber cutover showed the widest fluctuation. It was recommended that assessments in this category in Tawas Township be increased by 10.70 percent. The township's new starting base would be $364,396, an increase of $3,858. Wilber Township's recommended 7.53 percent increase on all timber cutover property is second highest in the county. The township's new starting base would be $1,135,520, or an increase of $90,920.

Other units included: Alabaster, starting base of $378,470, increase of $20,070, based on 5.60 percent; Burleigh Township, starting base of $497,571, increase of $23,560, based on 4.97 percent; Oscoda Township, starting base of $1,039,285, increase of $63,250, based on 6.48 percent; Plainfield Township, starting base of $966,190, increase of $50,460, based on 5.51 percent; Reno Township, starting base of $500,743, an increase of $2,193, based on .44 percent; East Tawas, starting base of $34,580, an increase of $480, based on 1.41 percent.

Completion of the sales study, along with the tax director's recommendations for a new starting base, are the first steps in the county's annual tax assessment procedure. This is to be followed by preparation of tax rolls by assessing officers of the 14 individual units, meetings of the tax boards of review in the individual units, footing or totaling tax rolls by the tax equalization department and equalization of the units by the board of commissioners.

The next major work of tax assessing officers in the 14 units will be to appraise the valuation of new construction during the past year. All new construction up to the "tax day" of December 31 would be included in next year's total. In addition, the individual would report on property splits and new subdivisions. The sales study and recommended adjustments for the various units is to be submitted to the state tax commission for its approval.

Silver Valley Still Closed to Snowmobiles — Trail Is Open

Under Rehabilitation

The Silver Valley snowmobile trail, which starts at Gordon Creek trail camp, will be open this winter for snowmobilers, but Calvin Norton, Tawas District ranger, emphasizes that the area south of this trail system is in the Silver Valley area of Huron National Forest which is off limits to snowmobiles, motorcycles, all other forms of motorized vehicles and camping.

Norton said that hunting, fishing, snowshoeing, hiking and cross country skiing are still permitted. The perimeter of the closure area is posted with signs showing a map of the area and the regulations which are in effect.

The area was closed last spring and is to be closed for two to three years while rehabilitation work is in progress. Norton said that $7,000 had already been spent in tree planting, fertilizing, seeding and slope stabilization. A new four-loop campground is planned which will build resource protection into the area and provide quality recreation for those coming to the area in the future.

Snowmobilers wishing to camp and picnic in the Tawas Ranger District this winter are notified that some of the camps and picnic grounds contained in Huron National Forest have been closed for the winter season. Camps which have been closed include Monument Campground, Round Lake Campground, Rollways Campground, Sand Lake picnic area and Rollways picnic ground.

"The district lacks funds to keep all our areas open through the winter season," said Norton. "Our recreational areas receive heavy pressure during the summer months and closing them during the winter and early spring allows them time to rehabilitate."

The ranger said that areas in the district which are open during the winter include South Branch trail camp, Gordon Creek trail camp, Corsair picnic ground and Monument picnic ground.

He said that the county-operated Old Orchard Park and East Tawas City Park remained open during the winter for campers, as well as two private campgrounds in the area.

Sheriff's Deputies Accepted Wage Schedule Resolution of Commission

Sheriff's deputies accepted a wage and work schedule adopted in a resolution Wednesday by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners. Eighteen employees of the sheriff's department are covered under the resolution, which excludes the undersheriff, who is a salaried employee.

The deputies, represented by the Fraternal Order of Police, had sought a contract with the county but Pros. Atty. Ronald Tyler said there was no legal basis for such an agreement between deputies and the county.

The prosecutor said that such a contract would not be binding legally as deputies are employees of the elected sheriff and the board of commissioners only had jurisdiction as to salaries.

Starting wages for all deputies were adopted under the resolution along with salaries to be paid over the next three years.

A detective sergeant would have a salary of $10,723 over the next three years while a detective and uniform sergeant would be paid at a rate of $10,423 annually for the next three years.

Other classifications included: Deputies, starting base of $8,500, $9,010 at the end of one year, $9,550 at the end of two years and $10,123 at the end of three years; secretarial deputies, starting base of $7,443, $7,899 at the end of one year, $8,362 at the end of two years and $8,863 at the end of three years; turnkeys would have a starting base of $5,954, $6,311 at the end of one year, $6,689 at the end of two years and $7,090 at the end of three years; dog warden, starting base of $7,543, $7,889 at the end of two years and $8,362 at the end of three years.

Longevity pay based on the annual salary would be an increase of two percent for employees with five years of service, four percent for those with five to nine years of service, six percent for employment of 15 to 20 years and eight percent for 20 years to retirement.

Officers would be paid time and one-half for over eight hours, time and one-half for all court time when the employee is off duty, double time for working on 10 paid holidays, time and one-half for any call back to work after completion of duty with a minimum of two paid hours. Uniforms and equipment would be furnished by the county.

Employees must work the scheduled day before and after a holiday in order to be paid for the holiday. The 10 paid holidays include New Year's Day, Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, Columbus Day, Veteran's Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day.

The vacation schedule is as follows: One week vacation for employees with one year of service, two weeks for employees with two to five years of service, three weeks for employees with six to 10 years, four weeks for employees with over 10 years of service.

Employees would receive one day a month for sick leave and can accumulate no more than 12 days per year. There is no limit on the number of sick days which can be accumulated.

The county would provide a $10,000 life insurance policy, full family Blue Cross and Blue Shield insurance, false arrest insurance and employees would be included in the county's retirement system.

Post Office Loses Quarters on July 1

The United States Postal Service must take steps soon to acquire new quarters for the Tawas City post office. Effective July 1, 1974, the building is to house quarters of the Cooperative Extension Service, now located at the Federal Building, East Tawas.

A 10-year lease was signed Wednesday between the Iosco County Board of Commissioners and Del Myles of Tawas City, owner of the building. The lease runs from July 1, 1974, to July 1, 1984, at a contracted price of $42,000, to be paid by the county at a rate of $350 per month.

Construction of a new building to house the post office in Tawas City has been in the planning stage for the past several years by the United States Postal Service.

Leonard Hoshbach, Tawas City postmaster, reported several months ago that the postal service announced that its architectural division had been given a "rush order" to develop plans for the proposed new building. He said Thursday, however, that he had received no recent word on progress of those plans.

The postal service's lease on the present building expires February 28. Hoshbach said that arrangements would have to be made to extend the lease for several months until arrangements could be made for a new location after July 1.

The postal service has an option to purchase property west of Bublitz Oil Company on US-23 for the location of a new post office. Hoshbach said Thursday that he had heard locally that a purchase had been consummated, but added that he had never received official word from the regional office.

States does not mean that it stays in this country. Our agricultural products that we export help equalize our import-export balance of trade. And we can hardly gloat over our bumper production when another country has none, anymore than we could eat a box of candy without sharing with the hungry kids next door. Dried fruits, particularly raisins and dates, are also in demand for Christmas baking. There was a bumper crop of raisins this year, 42 percent more than last year by October 1. World supplies are expected to be short in spite of the 200,000-ton production in the United States.

So what do we do about our Christmas baking? Pay the price if we want the product. And be happy that people in other parts of the world will have some fruits and nuts in their Christmas goodies, too.

Another market trend is evident in baking supplies. We will see more synthetic products. In fact, some of the imitation nut meats (or pellets) fabricated from various components, mainly cereals and legumes along with synthetic flavorings, are said to taste as good or better than the real nut. Imitation fruits are also synthesized. At present, the institutional market and commercial bakeries use all that is available. We are told that in another 25 years, about half of our food will come from a chemical laboratory rather than from agricultural production.

It is that time of the year again when baking for the holidays has top priority. You know, "Give something from your oven to show real lovin'." But wait! Is this year different? How about using the additional fuel for additional baking? What about the high price of baking supplies?

There was a record breaking harvest of California walnuts and they were of good quality. The pecan crop was about 43 percent larger than last year. The almond crop is four percent over last year. Usually, a big domestic crop would mean lots of nuts available at a low price for Christmas baking. Not so.

This is the way some of the market reports read this year: Almonds: The price is expected to stay high, in spite of the four percent increase in supply, since demand both here and in Europe is high. Europeans are expected to buy heavily with an assist from the devalued dollar. Pecans: Prices will be higher, at least until the orders are filled. World demand is high. Pecnuts: California is expected to provide most of the record output this year. Prices were up last year and are expected to remain higher into 1974.

Just because we produce a lot of food within the borders of the United

Hungry Deer Hinder New Forest Growth

15 Years Ago—

December 11, 1958—"Over-browsing of forest reproduction by deer is preventing establishment of a new crop of timber following logging in many localities," Dr. Samuel A. Graham of the University of Michigan warned Friday at the East Tawas meeting of the Lower Michigan Chapter of the Society of American Foresters. "This situation is far more serious than is generally recognized. As long as timber is being cut and hunting is good, all seems well. People fail to appreciate that without forest reproduction, the forest industry will go and the deer environment will deteriorate with the ultimate destruction of forest, wildlife and recreational resources upon which thousands of people depend for their living."

In an experimental demonstration, three United States marines from Jackson put a wartime flame-thrower into peacetime use in the Huron National Forest along the lower AuSable River Saturday. They used the flame-thrower to direct a blast of fire at the tops of several jack-pine "seed" trees to break open the serotinous so they would drop their seeds and start new jack-pine seedlings. The demonstration was staged by Joseph Blake, Tawas District forest ranger.

The Detroit and Mackinac Railway has taken over operation of the Erie and Michigan Railroad, accredited as the shortest railroad in the United States, operating over D&M tracks between Tawas and Alabaster. Established to haul rock and manufactured gypsum products from Alabaster and supplies to the plant, for about 30 years it had the exclusive business of the United States Gypsum Company. When taken over by the D&M, the Erie and Michigan employed eight men, including A. A.

Bigelow, superintendent; Felix Stepanski, station agent at Alabaster; Walter Moeller, engineer; Edward Berzinski, fireman; Ernest Wegner, brakeman; William Rapp, foreman; Allen Alverson and Edward Pfeiffer, maintenance crew. A majority of these men are now employed by the D&M.

Huron Shore Men Teachers Association has urged the state to take measures to help finance school operation in order to avoid closing of classrooms. The association urged the legislature to appropriate $4,500,000 in January for the purpose of paying tuition and transportation in full, appropriate $18,000,000 each year for five years for building purposes (many students are now housed in fire traps and under bad conditions) and appropriate $47,000,000 next year to meet the type of education that the public demands. It was stated that all of the money for school financing can be raised without increasing taxes, if the sales tax is fully enforced.

An 89-foot brigantine, the Florence C. Robinson, with 11 young adventurers aboard, put out to sea on a 7,700-mile voyage to Tahiti, where the boat will be turned over to a copra trader. Sterling Hayden is the 22-year-old skipper and the youngest man aboard.

Word was received that the site for the new East Tawas post office and federal building had been selected. It will be located across from the public school building and the site will include the Morrison property and portions of the Jackson and Bygon properties. The bid was $3,100. This is an excellent location and when the building is completed, it will give East Tawas a fine addition.

List Information Needed to Apply for SS Benefits

Question: Since a heart attack a couple of months ago, I have not been able to do any kind of work. My doctor suggested I check into the possibility of getting social security disability benefits. What information do I need when I apply for disability benefits?

Answer: You will need your social security number, the date (month, day and year) you last worked, the date (month, day and year) you became disabled, information on the kind of disability you have and the name and addresses of the doctors, hospitals and institutions that treated you along with the date of each treatment. If you have received any treatment or examination by the Veterans Administration, you should also have your service serial number and your VA claim number handy. In addition, you should bring along information about the kinds of jobs you worked most in the 10 years before your disability began and, if you have received workmen's compensation benefits, you should have your workmen's compensation claim number available.

Finally, if you are also applying for monthly payments for your family, you will need the social security numbers (if applicable) and dates of birth of your spouse and children.

Question: My mother, who is 80, has gotten so sick she cannot handle her own money any longer. I have her power-of-attorney, but I am not sure what I should do with her monthly social security checks. Should I try to cash them?

Answer: No, you should not cash her social security checks. You should call the social security office immediately. We can arrange to send her checks to you as her "representative payee" with the checks carrying your name as well as your mother's so you can cash them.

Question: After applying for social security retirement payments at 65, I returned to work. Will the wages from this work increase my monthly cash payments when I decide to finally retire.

Answer: Possibly. If you earn enough to increase the average earnings used to figure your retirement payment, your cash payments could increase. Any increase would be figured automatically in the year following the year of additional earnings, and the increase would be retroactive to the first of the year following the year in which the earnings occurred.

Mike Murphy: FRIENDLY POLITICIAN

By all accounts, the most colorful character in the history of The Tawas Herald, which observes its 90th anniversary the first week of January, was the smiling Irishman, Michael Murphy, the Herald's second editor-publisher.

Murphy's entrance into the field of publishing a weekly newspaper in 1890 was quite by accident; he was first and foremost a politician and a Democrat, at that, in a traditionally Republican county. When W. N. Miller, who founded the Herald in 1884, decided to pull up stakes and head for greener pastures, Murphy believed the county seat should retain its newspaper and, being a practical man, his purchase of the business would give him a ready-made organ to advocate the principles of his favorite political party.

An account published by a rival newspaper editor in 1893 said of Murphy: "Life looked blank to him at 21 years of age, unless he had a chance to vote the Democratic Ticket. He filled the blank by voting for Samuel J. Tilden (defeated by Rutherford B. Hayes in the 1876 election, which was thrown into the halls of congress for a final decision). He always insisted that his candidate was elected and he gets hot under the collar when you tell him he is mistaken. He has been very much in politics ever since, accepting victory or defeat with equal sang-froid, as the fortunes of war."

Although never winning a major political office in the county, Murphy served two terms as Tawas Township supervisor, was deputy county clerk for four years, served six years as deputy sheriff, two years as game warden, served six years on the village council and was Tawas City's first village president. He was postmaster during the administration of Pres. Grover Cleveland.

Murphy had to be one of the best men in town: Engaged in the lumbering business, he was a saloon keeper throughout most of his days here. In addition, he was leader of the town orchestra and was the head of Murphy's "string band." Said the newspaper article: "He has made and lost and made a dozen comfortable fortunes and is still on deck. He never had time to get married, but is thinking seriously about it—at least in self-defense."

MICHAEL MURPHY, lumberman, saloon keeper and real estate agent—probably one of the biggest boosters of the Tawas in history—was on hand to purchase a copy of The Tawas Herald when the first proof was pulled on its press 90 years ago next month. He later purchased the newspaper and served as its editor-publisher.—Picture from Joseph Barkman Collection.

Later, Murphy added the real estate business to his line of vocations and, in one notice printed in The Tawas Herald, he advertised that he had more than 50,000 acres of choice farm land for sale in Iosco County.

There was no mistaking the fact that his editorial views favored the Democratic Party and he relished in print every moment when one of his candidates defeated an opponent—but the victories were few and far between due to the aforementioned fact that Iosco was and is a Republican stronghold. During the three years that Murphy held the Herald's reins, each issue contained the following statement above the front page date line: Advocates the principles of the Democratic Party.

When eight years of age, "Mike" came to Iosco County. He and his father, Andrew, operated a shingle mill on the Tawas River for a number of years; in fact, the firm took the second premium for shingles at the 1876 county fair.

His activities in the lumbering business lead to one of the most fascinating stories in the county's history and one which has not been told in nearly 100 years—it was discovered recently during research of old newspaper files.

An article in the October 9, 1879, issue of the Bay City Tribune headlined, "Log Stealing Extraordinary," told how "Michael Murphy of Tawas City, interested in the manufacture of shingles, has been arrested at the instance of Benjamin Boutell of the firm of Mitchell and Boutell, Bay City, on a charge of larceny of some logs."

The article stated that during the last season and this, "Messrs. Mitchell and Boutell, McKay, Emery Brothers and others have lost large numbers of logs along the shore. They have found numerous sawed-off ends of logs bearing their marks, but the rest of the logs were not to be seen."

Boutell and the other lumbermen employed the Northern Michigan Secret Service Company to "work up the case" and they at once set men to work taking an inventory of all logs and the marks on them which could be found upon the shore between the AuGres River and a few miles below the AuSable River. They had private marks placed on the logs and all new logs which drifted on shore afterward.

In a short time, the logs began to disappear and mills which had been out of stock were getting ready to run. "One night, four men were seen taking off logs from the shore between East Tawas and Tawas City and the raft was followed by the private detectives. A record was kept of logs in Murphy's boom and of logs which had gone into the mill."

After sufficient evidence had been obtained against Murphy's mill, that it was cutting logs of several different marks, one of the members of the secret service went into the mill and demanded the end of a log which had been cut off a few minutes earlier. The end had been thrown into the furnace, wet and just out of the river, and could not be recovered, but a witness was called in to make a record of the mark on the other end of the log—this being a Mitchell and Boutell log.

"This mill has been under surveillance for a long time and ends of the logs that have been sawed there are in safe keeping," stated the newspaper article. "Logs were found in their possession belonging to Messrs. Gage, Prescott, Boutell, McKay, Gates and Fay of Bay City; Emery Brothers, J. J. Adams and William Jenkinson of East Tawas."

Further newspaper accounts concerning this case are not available, but a check of Iosco Circuit Court Records for 1880 revealed that a jury found Murphy innocent of the charge, despite the sensational newspaper reporting. As one of the county's most popular young men, what jury could convict "Mike" Murphy—especially since log stealing and cutting "round 40's" (cutting timber on your own 40 acres as well as taking timber from neighboring government or private property) apparently was a practice enjoyed throughout the history of Michigan's colorful lumbering era. Cubs Show Skills Assembling Objects

"Genius Night" was the theme for the meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 911 Thursday, November 29, and each boy showed his skills in assembling objects made from a given list of odds and ends.

Fifteen Project SOAR badges for the water conservation project of putting bricks into residents' toilet tanks last spring were awarded. The boys are the first cub scouts in this area to ever wear this badge.

This first pack meeting of the school year was a full one with 13 boys earning their bobcat pins, two boys going into Webelos and 18 boys receiving badges and pins for work they have done throughout the summer months.

James Hill of East Tawas has stepped up to fill the position of cubmaster in the absence of last year's cubmaster, Robert Feasel.

Assisting Hill with his duties are Dwain Anderson, assistant cubmaster; Jack Abbott, committee chairman, and Robert Fournier, committee member.

Mrs. Abbott is the new leader for den three and Mrs. Hill also serves as a den mother.

Hill has launched a fund-raising drive to bring the pack out of debt and, beginning next week, the cub scouts will be selling Christmas trees at the lot beside the American Legion Hall. The boys are also collecting canned goods to donate to project SHARE, to insure everyone in the area of a Merry Christmas.

W. H. Miller Farm in Same Family for 100 Years

A farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Miller, 2437 Miller Road, Tawas City, has been designated as a centennial farm by the Division of Michigan History.

The farm, located in Tawas Township, Iosco County, has been in the possession of the family since 1871. It was originally purchased November 23, 1871, by the Leopold Millers, relatives of the present owner.

Richard H. Austin, secretary of state, whose department administers the centennial farm program, said the program was inaugurated in 1948. Since then, more than 3,000 Michigan farms have been certified as centennial farms.

Certificates are provided by the Division of Michigan History. Large metal markers are provided by the Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

Explains Austin, "A centennial farm is one which has been in continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more."

For this purpose, the Michigan History Division considers a farm to be either 10 or more acres having estimated farm product sales of

Judge Miller Heard Wayne County Case

Rules Convicted Officials Must Return Salaries

In handing down jail sentences and stiff fines to two Detroit area officials, convicted by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury of bribery conspiracy to obtain liquor licenses from the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller of East Tawas ordered both defendants to make restitution of salaries received since their conviction six weeks ago.

Frank Szymanski, Wayne County probate judge, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and State Sen. Charles Youngblood Jr. received a 60-day jail sentence.

A Grosse Pointe Shores beer and wine distributor, Arthur Pappas, who was charged as the instigator of the plot, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and ordered to pay a $10,000 fine.

He pointed out, however, that the two officials had violated the trust placed in them by the public and Pappas' attempts to use the two public officials for personal gain justified the jail terms.

"The sentencing of men of this age and accomplishment is not often encountered," said Judge Miller. "The task is to treat all equally under law, yet the tests usually applied seem inadequate."

"Since two are public officials of the highest rank and the other was a man of means striving to subvert such officers, it must be considered a serious matter. It is the people's business."

"There is a feeling that men of means can always buy their way out," Judge Miller said. "But official corruption breeds disrespect for the law and the wrongdoers must be punished for respect to be maintained."

Both Szymanski and Youngblood are still on the public payroll. Youngblood remains a member of the state senate and will continue in that body unless successful removal proceedings are brought against him by fellow members.

After sentencing, Youngblood felt Judge Miller may have overstepped his authority in ordering him to return his salary. All three men remain free on bonds until the Michigan Court of Appeals decides their appeals of the jury's guilty verdicts.
