Bond Proposal Defeated Two to One

Voters of Tawas Area School District Monday defeated a proposed $3,385,000 bonding proposition by a two to one margin—712 "yes" to 1,369 "no." It was one of the largest turnouts of voters in recent years but, despite area growth over the past 17 years, still did not equal the 2,544 ballots cast on May 17, 1955, which saw approval of the present high school on M-55.

A voter breakdown by precincts is as follows: No. 1 (East Tawas City Hall): Yes, 371; no, 581; No. 2 (Tawas City City Hall): Yes, 227; no, 427; No. 3 (Tawas Township Hall): Yes, 94; no, 361.

Presented by the board of education following several months of study by citizens' advisory committees, along with a trail of other defeated proposals in recent years, the comprehensive construction program had called for the building of a new high school, utilization of the present high school for a middle school and an addition to the Tawas City Elementary Unit—all designed to eliminate overcrowding in present facilities and to upgrade the educational offering.

Board Pres. Robert Elliott commented during Monday night's regular board meeting that he "was very sorry" that the proposal went down. He said the board of education and administrators would have to be given an opportunity to analyze Monday's election to determine when voters could be given another opportunity to express their feelings.

He paid particular tribute to Supt. Edward J. Barry, who expended considerable effort in presenting the board's proposal to groups and individuals throughout the district.

Elliott said it was too early to make any decision Monday night, but he stressed that "we have to quit talking about our problems; for once in the history of this district, we have to do something about them—and it is going to cost money." He believed that if parents and others interested in the school, who did not go to the polls, would have "put their shoulder to the wheel," the proposal would have passed.

Although obviously dejected over the defeat, Elliott, along with other members of the board of education, expressed the feeling that the two to one defeat at the polls was actually much better than they had anticipated.

SEVERE DAMAGE by people and nature has forced closing of Silver Valley in Huron National Forest west of the Tawas, long known as one of Northeastern Michigan's all-season beauty spots for camping and picnicking. Off road vehicles, combined with heavy wind damage last summer, has resulted in damage to vegetation covering slopes, which have been opened to severe erosion. Local boy scout troops from the Tawas and Oscoda are assisting the United States Forest Service in cleaning and replanting the area. Work began Saturday by scouts on planting 8,000 four-year-old red pines under direction of Sten Olsen, resource forester for the Tawas Ranger District.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Renew Contract With Supt. Barry

Contract of Edward J. Barry, who has served the past year as superintendent of Tawas Area School, was renewed for two years Monday night by action of Tawas Area Board of Education.

According to the contract, the superintendent is to receive a five percent pay increase and the second year's salary is to be negotiated at that time.

In other business Monday night, Mrs. Charles Schreck and Clare Heriman, trustees, were appointed to represent the board of education on the non-instructional employee contract committee which decides if an employee should retire or not at the age of 65 years.

The superintendent reported that three community colleges had held meetings concerning establishment of college centers in the area. Included are Alpena Community College, Kirtland and Central Michigan University.

Barry said he favored establishment of a single center with all colleges participating, rather than to have any one individual college center to present its own program. He pointed out Tawas Area was one of only 19 school districts in the state not included in a community college district.

"We are sitting like a ripe plum ready to be plucked," said the superintendent. He pointed out that the school district, under a present bill before the legislature, could be placed in a community college district and that a levy of one mill would be automatic without a vote of the people.

"I would rather see the $170,000 be expended locally on a college center," said Barry, because of transportation factors involved with all of the community colleges presently making overtures to residents of the Tawas area.

According to one bill before the legislature last year, Tawas Area School District was divided in half, with the south half going to Kirtland and the north half to Alpena. Through lobbying at Lansing, that bill never was adopted. A new bill before the legislature would divide Iosco County, sending Hale Area School District and Oscoda to Alpena, while Tawas Area and Whittemore-Prescott Area would be included in the Kirtland district.

The superintendent said he, personally, would want Tawas Area School District to be included with Delta College because of its excellent program.

Mary Henry, who had been granted a year's leave of absence on her instructional contract, notified the school that she would not be returning for employment.

Ronald Butterfield, veteran member of the Tawas Area High School faculty, has announced that he will retire at the end of the present term. The board of education gave its approval to utilization of school buses for the American Red Cross swimming program this summer at Sand Lake.

The junior-senior prom was held Saturday night with 65 couples attending. The junior-senior banquet is to be held Thursday night at the high school. Senior "skip day" was held Monday and 88 seniors who missed classes will be "making up the time," according to the principal.

The Leo Club was authorized to plan a trip to a dude ranch near Gaylord on May 25. Some 13 students are involved.

A proposal to hire Steven Hitch, vocational auto mechanics instructor, to work on the school bus fleet during the summer months is to be discussed at the next meeting of the board of education on May 21. This meeting date has been advanced because of Memorial Day.

FBI Enters Safe-Cracking Case

Four agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation were at East Tawas Thursday to assist East Tawas Police Department in its investigation of a burglary earlier that morning at Tawas Community Federal Credit Union.

Burglars forced open the back door of the credit union building and then knocked off the dial of a heavy safe to gain entry. An undisclosed amount of cash was stolen.

The credit union is insured under federal charter and Saginaw agents were notified by Police Chief Donald Docking.

Sprinklers Doused Boiler Room Fire

An automatic sprinkler system extinguished a fire Monday morning in the boiler room of Tawas Hospital with only slight smoke damage to part of the building. Tawas City firemen said that flames in a pile of debris awaiting removal had been extinguished prior to arrival of equipment.

Extended School Year Survey Shows Some TA Interest

Members of Tawas Area Board of Education heard a report Monday night from Edward Welsh, elementary supervisor, on a recent feasibility study he conducted among elementary parents concerning the year around school or "45-15" concept.

As the next step in its continuing investigation of this concept for elementary grades, the board of education directed that administrators identify the children of parents who stated a willingness to participate in the all-important summer segment of the program and to plot transportation to determine the cost factor.

This program had been discussed in this school district last year and is presently receiving a great deal of publicity through a pilot project at Northville. The state legislature last week approved a bill which would allow taxpayers the option of restructuring local school systems to operate on a year around basis and would provide funds for studying such programs.

One of the problems facing school administrators, boards of education and the general public will be to separate the wheat from the large amount of chaff, both pro and con, being circulated about the year around school concept, how such a concept would apply in this particular area and if it is desirable.

Northville's experiment, unique in the state so far, calls for 45 days of school, followed by 15 days of vacation, repeated over and over throughout the year. The Northville program, at present, is limited to 170 volunteer students in only one school. The district is to present a bonding proposal to voters in June to relieve overcrowded conditions.

The extended school year program permits use of school facilities by more students all year around and provides children, parents and teachers with frequent vacations.

According to the 45-15 theory, school facilities can accommodate more children, because 15-day vacations are staggered among the total student population.

Critics of the extended school year program who, at present, are not nearly as vocal about ESY as those who are promoting the Northville pilot project, cite the high rate of failure for ESY experiments around the country and contend that the system costs more and the quality of education decreases. One of the major drawbacks is that state law prohibits a district from adopting a mandatory year around school program.

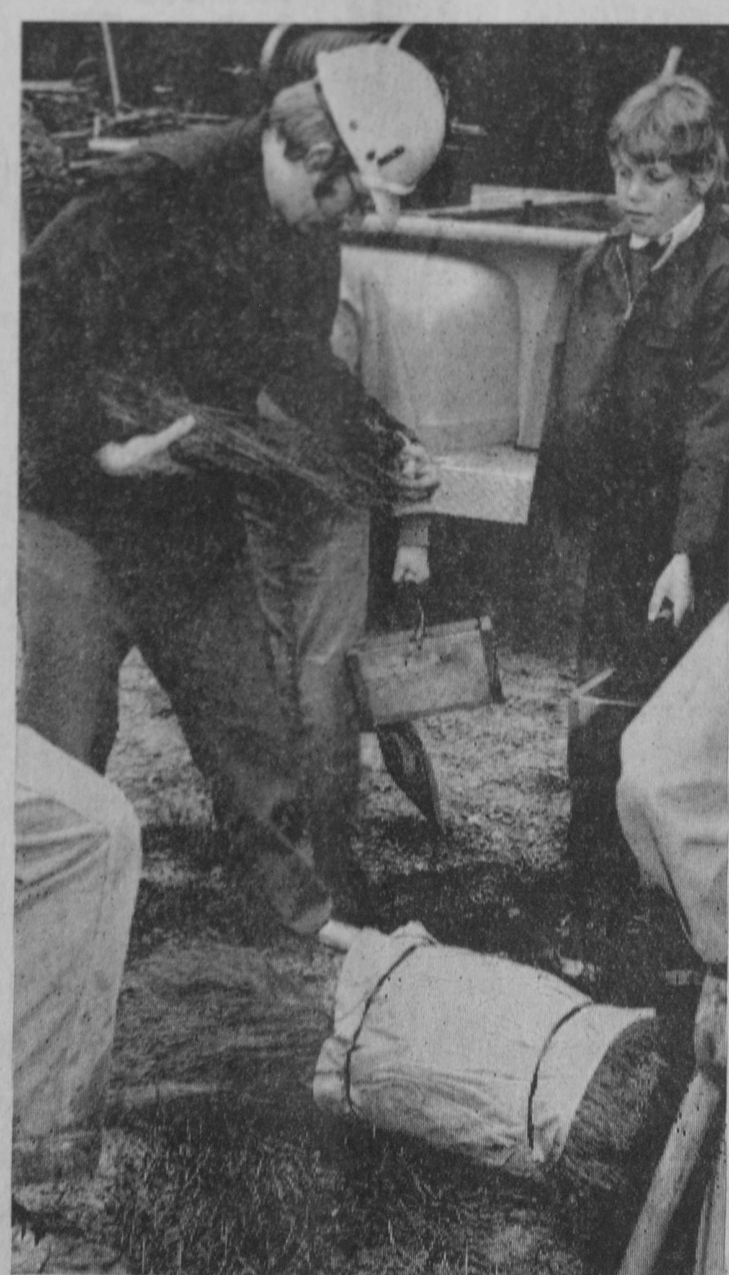

Welsh told members of the board of education that, based on his survey, about 106 children appear to be available for the year around program in grades one to six. About 45 percent of the parents receiving survey forms returned them to school.

The survey indicated that 136 families disapproved of the year around school and 69 families approved; if given the choice, 139 families indicated they would prefer to have their children keep the present program and 65 families indicated they would enroll them in the year around program.

Of the above 65 families approving, 35 "volunteer" families indicated they would enroll children in year around only if the family could request the schedule to be followed and the same number (35) answered that they would not request a certain schedule.

Other questions on the survey indicated that 57 families volunteering for the year around program had no objection to a change in elementary (See STUDY, page 4.)

Forest Service Closes Silver Valley to Camping-Vehicles

Forest Sup. John von Barchen has announced the closure of the Silver Valley area on the Tawas Ranger District, Huron National Forest, to all overnight camping and motorized vehicle use. The closure, von Barchen stated, becomes necessary from the standpoint of resource protection, facilitate rehabilitation of the vegetation cover and public safety.

Each year, more and more visitors come to the Huron National Forest. This rapid increase in visitors to the area is putting severe demands on the natural resources.

Von Barchen noted that off road vehicles have caused considerable damage over the past few years. In several places, the vegetative cover has been damaged, inviting serious erosion problems in the area. To date, over $7,000 has been spent in establishing grass and tree cover. Slopes which have been opened to severe erosion are being stabilized by retaining walls and planting of grass and trees. Numerous hours have been spent by local scout troops in assisting the forest service to clean and replant the area. Development of a designated campground is currently underway.

Closure is issued under the authority of the secretary of agriculture, 36 CFR regulations, and will be enforced through the United States Federal District Court, Flint. Violations of this ordered closure are punishable by fines set by the court.

Last season, the area sustained a heavy wind damage and is in the process of being corrected. Many trees have been weakened to the point that they are hazardous to public safety and are being removed. It is, therefore, in the interest of safety that use of the area is being curtailed.

Forest Has Long History in Iosco

Silver Valley, comprising about 160 acres, is included in the area designated as Huron National Forest by an act of congress in 1909. The bill establishing the forest was sponsored by Cong. George Loud of Oscoda and signed into law by the signature of Pres. Theodore Roosevelt.

At the time, the area comprising the national forest in Iosco County was referred to locally as the "plains," being practically devoid of trees, other than scrub jackpine, and had only a thin covering of vegetation due to repeated forest fires.

When established nearly 65 years ago, the term "forest" was only a dream of the future. Initial plantings were made of white and Norway (red) pine and these trees have matured to such an extent that the forest service is commencing a program to thin plantations in order to give trees more room to develop.

By 1922, a total of 18,844 tourists and 6,000 automobiles annually visited the national forest in Iosco County, enjoyed camping and picnic facilities in primitive surroundings. According to the Tawas Ranger District office at East Tawas, this number swelled to 416,000 persons last year.

The greatest surge in developing the forest as a playground for people, as well as developing it as a haven for wildlife and an area for pulp-wood-forest products, came in the 1930s with the establishment of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC).

Hundreds of young men from Michigan's metropolitan areas, as well as rural parts of the state, got their first real taste of outdoor work and living in the quasi-military CCC organization, which had camps scattered throughout the Huron and other national forests. Here, roads and fire trails were constructed, thousands of white and red pine seedlings, many of which were grown at the Beal Nursery at East Tawas, swelled initial and later pine plantations of the federal government and those sponsored by Michigan Kiwanis Clubs and Consumers Power Company.

Taking its name from a creek coursing through its pine-clad slopes, Silver Valley was developed as a winter sports park as a joint undertaking of the forest service and local businessmen, first operated by the CCCs and later by Tawas Chamber of Commerce. A few years earlier, Lumbermen's Monument was erected overlooking the AuSable River.

The winter sports park was operated for 25 years, its rustic log pavilion, twin-steel toboggan slides, ski slopes, tippin hill and skating rink being enjoyed annually by thousands of Michigan residents. Rapidly increasing operational costs, coupled with the fact that this region is not in the state's winter sports "snow belt," the winter sports area was discontinued nearly 10 years ago.

Since then, however, summer camping activities at Silver Valley have increased by leaps and bounds. This tremendous pressure by visitors, coupled with damage to ground cover by off road vehicles and considerable vandalism to trees and facilities by an unthinking public, has now resulted in closing the park to campers.

The length of time required as a "healing period," during which attempts will be made to re-establish the grass and tree cover, has not been announced—but it probably will take several years.

Five Persons File for Two TA Vacancies

Five candidates will be seeking to fill two vacancies on Tawas Area Board of Education at the annual election to be held Monday, June 11.

The lone incumbent filing for reelection is Dr. James E. Jacques of Tawas City. Leonard Sarki, who had been appointed to fill the vacancy of Carl Helmer, who resigned, indicated several weeks ago that he would not be a candidate for the position.

Filing a nominating petition two weeks ago was Robert O'Neil, 2915 Lakeview, East Tawas, an employee of Consumers Power Company.

Petitions for three candidates, all residents of Tawas City, were filed prior to Monday's deadline. Filing were Carl Babcock, 1179 South Hilltop, who operates Iosco Abstract Office; John J. Smith, 1043 Lake Street, who was an army recruiter stationed here a number of years ago and purchased the Everett resort last fall; Joseph VanDette, 116 Birch Street, a deputy sheriff with the Iosco County Sheriff's Department. Both Babcock and VanDette are graduates of Tawas Area High School.

Junior Braves Beat Gaylord

Tawas Area Junior Braves won one of two games Thursday over Gladwin. Brad Potts pitched a no-hitter as Tawas won the first game, 5-0. The second game was called at the end of four innings because of rain with the score tied at 1-1.

Potts struck out 10 batters and walked two. He was aided with excellent fielding by the Junior Braves, who had only one error in 18 chances on defense.

Potts helped his own cause with two hits. Bob Stevenson, Wayne Revord and Mickey Haglund each had one hit for the Braves. Tawas had four stolen bases.

Tawas turned in another good defensive game which was called after four innings of play. The team had one error in 17 defensive chances.

After seven games, the team's combined batting average is .336 percent. Stephenson and Earl Parsons were top hitters in the second game, each with two hits.

Big Delinquent Tax Collection During April

Delinquent taxes collected by the Iosco County treasurer's office greatly surpassed any month of April in the history of Iosco County, stated Edward Nelkie, county treasurer.

During the month of April 1973, a record amount of $127,985.22 in delinquent taxes was collected compared to $46,400.39 in 1972 and $40,645.61 in 1971.

Nelkie cited several reasons for the large amount collected. A large number of property owners did not receive their tax statements in time to pay taxes to local treasurers. Taxes have greatly increased in the past few years. Several large property owners had paid taxes which were delinquent on the tax rolls for the past three years.

The county general fund was enriched by more than $5,500 in fees and interest due to the large collections in April. Ordinarily, a large portion of these fees would have been paid to local units of government had they been paid on time.

Nelkie stated he anticipates that more than $25,000 in collection fees alone will be realized by his office during the year 1973 because of the large tax returned delinquent by local treasurers when settling in March with the county treasurer.

Tawas Band Had Successful Tour; Student Gives Views

Tawas Area Senior Band completed a successful tour of several Southern Michigan communities last week.

According to state police security officers at the Capitol, the Tawas band had the largest of all bands performing last week and added that the band was "the most mannerly and most well-behaved group they had seen in quite a long time."

Loa Russell, a freshman member of the band, described the trip to Lansing as follows:

"While everyone else was sleeping in Tawas area, the courageous members of Tawas Area Senior Band ventured out in the early morning hours of Wednesday, May 9.

"The band, 12 chaperones, Prin. John Alexander and Dir. Gene Salamony arrived at the high school, at least by 6:30 a. m., to load tympani, instruments, luggage and other miscellaneous things.

"By 7:00 a. m., the two chartered buses arrived and were packed; then, the members were allowed to embark on the buses, by seniors first on down to freshmen. The bus trip was quite comfortable and everyone, on the most part, was very relaxed; perhaps a little bit too much. After two hours, we arrived at Carrollton Junior High School and presented a concert before an excellent audience.

"We reached Genesee Valley at approximately 11:30 a. m. and could eat lunch or shop, as we wished, just as long as we were ready to leave by 12:15. It was important to leave on time and to keep the schedule because it is promptness that counts.

"At 1:45 p. m., we arrived at the Lansing School for the Blind which was, for the most part, the high point of our trip. We toured the school for the blind in small groups. It is remarkable just how well the blind can get along with others; for instance, the blind people, themselves, led us on the tour. After everyone had seen the school, we made our way to the music department and had a chance to hear the band. It was quite touching to hear their band perform and was an experience that we will probably never forget. The band played "Popcorn" very well and remarkably well in tune. We then had the pleasure of playing for them and the members of their band were very pleased by our performance.

"At 4:00 p. m., we arrived at the Holiday Inn and everyone was anxious to get out of those uncomfortable clothes and to slip into some jeans. Some people were a little too anxious and threw on their bathing suits, only to find that the pool was closed. One group left its luggage on the bus and another intelligent group locked itself out of rooms the very first thing.

"For two hours, our time to do what we wanted—we could go shopping, bowling, send for pizza or just plain relax. Finally, at midnight, everyone was in their rooms—at least they should have been. As the early morning hours arrived, some band members were drifting off to sleep, but had the luck to experience a small part of Antarctica in their beds—nice cold ice! Others got the royal treatment with the sound of reveille ringing in their ears. On the most part, however, everyone was quite well behaved.

"After a good night's sleep, some went out to eat their breakfast; others ate doughnuts which they had purchased the night before; others settled on the cold pizza which lay face down on the carpet from the night before. Anyway, we were packed and ready to leave the motel by 9:00 a. m. and arrived at the state Capitol one-half hour later.

"We toured the Capitol, first with our band and another group of children, which made it hard to hear and probably would have been more understandable in small groups. After having lunch at the Steven T. Mason Building, we heard the Vicksburg High School Band and then to play on the Capitol lawn. Senators Robert Richardson and Robert Davis, along with State Rep. George Prescott, visited with our group and attended our concert on the Capitol lawn.

"It began to rain about the middle of our concert, so we hurried to the steps of the Capitol for pictures. We again packed everything in the buses and started our comfortable ride home.

"A lot of things were discovered on this trip. One young man ventured to the luggage rack above the seats to see if it was possible to sleep up there—under certain conditions, it is possible!

"At about 4:30 p. m., we were in Tawas."

Tawas Area High School held a Michigan Business Education Association (MBEA) workshop Saturday, May 12. Dr. Dale Gust of Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, and Dr. Robert Hitch of Ferris State College, Big Rapids, were the guest lecturers.

Doctor Gust's topic, "Data Processing Education—A Must," gave an insight into the necessity of offering data processing either as a separate class or integrated within another subject.

"Innovative Typing Techniques" by Doctor Hitch showed how typing teachers can utilize the various tools available in this media in order to aid them in helping students gain confidence and proficiency at the typewriter.

Hale Man Killed In Roll Over

Funeral services for Michael B. Harris, 20, of Hale were held Tuesday at the Forshee Funeral Home, Hale, with burial in Evergreen Cemetery.

Harris was killed instantly early Saturday morning in a one-car accident on Esmond Road, three-quarters of a mile west of Putnam Road.

Investigating sheriff's department officers said that the Harris vehicle, traveling west on Esmond Road, hit a rut in the roadway and the driver lost control of the vehicle. The car rolled over into the ditch and the driver, thrown from the vehicle on impact, was crushed underneath.

Tony Lee Bell, 16, Hale, a passenger in the car, was rushed to Tawas Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Harris was born April 13, 1953, at Flint. Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris of Flint; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Grace Harris of Hale; his maternal grandmother; one brother, and two sisters.

Braves Won Over Tigers

Tawas Area Braves defeated the Alcona Tigers, 69-44, in a track meet here Monday. The Braves had nine first places in 15 events.

Winning first for Tawas Area were:

Gene Miller, mile run, four minutes, 59.9 seconds; 890-yard relay team (Rob Elliott, Miller, Al LaBlance, Rick Ashmore), one minute, 39.4 seconds; Mitch Lenczewski, 100-yard dash, 10.8 seconds; Terry Sergeant, 440-yard dash, 55.1 seconds;

Ken Armstrong, two-mile run, 11 minutes, 39.4 seconds; Lenczewski, 220-yard dash, 24.3 seconds; mile relay (Terry and Tim Sergeant, LaBlance, Miller), three minutes, 43.1 seconds; 440-yard relay (Kevin and Rob Elliott, Ashmore, Lenczewski), 48.7 seconds; Paul Brinkman, shot put, 37 feet, nine inches.

buildings, while eight families objected; another question indicated that 49 volunteer families would accept or request attendance during summer months, while 10 families would not; 78 families indicated they would not volunteer for the year around school but would accept it if required of everyone and 51 families indicated they would not accept the program.

Forty-six families indicated they did not approve of the program as they believed children would not learn as much; 44 families stressed personal inconvenience as an objection. Other objections included cost, heat, tradition and preference to construct additional buildings.

Because of necessary curriculum changes, lead time of about one year is required to adopt an extended year school program.

Organic Food Discussion Was Enjoyed by Club

Robert Hilderbrand of Oscoda gave an interesting presentation on organic gardening to 15 members and three guests at the Monday, May 14, meeting of the East Tawas Garden Club. He gave pointers on making compost, organic spray for insect control, newspaper mulch for weed control and many other organic products.

A variety of organic foods prepared by members were enjoyed, including meat and vegetable casserole, rhubarb sauces, toasted seeds, millet and fruit cookies and wheat bread and egg sandwiches.

Plans for maintenance and the planting of a tree and flowers in the memorial strip along US-23 were finalized.

Hostesses were Mrs. Joseph Hennigar, Mrs. Fred Pritchard, Mrs. W. S. Bennett and Mrs. Thomas McMahon.

DOROTHY GHEEN, left, director of the Hartland Art Show, will present taped critiques of both the 1972 and 1973 shows Friday, May 18, at Tawas Area High School Library. Her visit is being sponsored by Tawas Bay Artists, which annually sponsors the Tawas Bay Arts and Crafts Festival with Tawas Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Gheen, shown with Virginia Steele Shepperd, who was first award winner of $100 at the Hartland Art Show, will explain how one of the state's smallest communities has one of the state's fastest growing art shows. Hartland, nestled in the rolling hills of Livingston County, presented a three-day exhibition recently which drew over 700 entries from all parts of the state. Slides taken during past Hartland shows round out the two-hour program. Taped critiques are by Robert Thom, noted Birmingham artist, and Richard Muhlberger of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Combined Concert May 17 at Hale HS

Music departments of Hale Area High School and Harrison High School, Farmington, will combine to present concerts at Hale Area High School Thursday, May 17. An afternoon concert will be offered for the students. That evening at 8 o'clock, an entirely different concert will be presented. This performance will be free and open to the public.

Harrison is only three years old, the newest of Farmington's three high schools. During these three years, the Harrison band members have won many honors, both individually and collectively.

Harrison's 67-piece symphony band and 20-piece stage band will be performing. Conductor of both bands is R. Paul Barber, a graduate of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Both bands will bring with them a large selection of music from which to choose. Stage band members, most of whom are members of the symphony band, play both modern and standard tunes.

The bands will be on a tour through Michigan giving six concerts in four communities. They will leave their school early on Thursday for Hale. Friday, they will present concerts in the afternoon and evening in Wolverine.

Saturday, most of the band will tour the Central Michigan University campus at Mt. Pleasant while five members will play in the state honors band or orchestra, a very high honor earned by outstanding presentations of solos in district and state competition. That evening, a concert will be given in Montrose. Sunday's performance will be made in the afternoon at Clarkston.

During their stays in the different communities, the students will be overnight guests in private homes.

Vitamin E is a food topic much in the news and in today's questions about food. Overnight experts are writing about it in newspapers, magazines and books and discussing it on television talk shows. How accurate is the story which is being told?

Why all this interest in vitamin E? For one thing, many unproven claims are being made that it can prevent and cure certain diseases in humans. Vitamin E is an essential nutrient. It is needed for red blood cell formation, maintenance of the cell wall structure and, along with vitamin C, it improves the absorption of iron.

The claim has been made that vitamin E will slow down aging, prolong life, act as a tranquilizer, dissolve blood clots and heal severe burns. Current findings prove that any recommendations along this line are still based largely on theory.

The claim has been made that vitamin E is useful in treating muscular dystrophy. However, Dr. Olaf Mickelsen, Michigan State University nutrition professor, tells us that there is not even a suggestion that vitamin E therapy is of any benefit in treating muscular dystrophy.

Many people seem to think it is necessary to supplement the daily diet with vitamin E, wheat germ or wheat germ oil. Much emphasis is placed today on diets high in polyunsaturated fats. That is corn oil, margarine, etc. Foods rich in these fats are valuable sources of vitamin E. With the increasing emphasis on fats such as corn oil, cotton seed oil, soy bean and safflower oil, many manufacturers are retaining a greater proportion of them in their products.

However, the average adult in the United States is unlikely to develop a deficiency in vitamin E unless he completely removes it from his diet.

The following foods are good sources of vitamin E: Vegetable oils, wheat, soy bean, corn, peanuts, coconut, vegetable shortenings, margarine, oatmeal, brown rice, yellow corn meal, wheat germ, turnip greens, kale, parsley, spinach, lettuce, sunflower seeds, almonds and walnuts.

Foods eaten regularly from these natural sources and in well balanced diets containing all nutrients can go a long way in supplying the recommended daily allowance of 30 international units (IU). This amount is considered generous, far above a minimum requirement.

A vitamin E supplement may be needed in the case of carelessly-planned meals or habitually unbalanced eating habits. There is some loss of the vitamin in food processing and storage. Even deep freeze storage does not completely prevent destruction, but ordinary cooking except deep fat frying does not reduce the vitamin E in foods.

Pills furnishing typically 400 IUs are wasteful when only 30 IUs a day are recommended. The vitamin has no proven curative powers even at this high level.

Remember this about vitamin E: It is essential to your health, but your body does not need much. On the basis of current knowledge, you will not endanger your health if you insist on taking vitamin E in wasteful amounts. More likely, you will endanger your budget.

If you would like a recommended daily dietary allowance chart for vitamin E, one is available for you, free of charge, by calling or writing the Cooperative Extension Service office in your county. Request the nutrition bulletin on "Vitamin E—Fact or Fiction." This bulletin will answer many of the questions which you may have on this complex topic which has no simple answers.

Nelkie Reports 90 Parcels Sold During Tax Sale

Ninety parcels of land in Iosco County were sold for $6,108.58 during last Tuesday's and Wednesday's tax sale by Edward Nelkie, Iosco County treasurer. Of that number, several have been redeemed by their owners by paying the back taxes and penalties.

About 40 persons in attendance, most from outside the county, were on hand to pick up the property which has acquired a tax lien for 1970.

Nelkie said it was the largest sale held since he took office seven years ago. This was mostly due to the fact that a large number of parcels were from Lakewood Shores, which was first put on the tax roll for the year 1970.

Several units had no parcels to offer, as all taxes were paid in full before the tax sale. These units included Alabaster, Burleigh and Reno Townships and the City of Whittemore.

This year's sale went as follows, listed by local government units and number of parcels sold: AuSable Township, 14; Baldwin Township, 12; Grant Township, three; Oscoda Township, 39; Plainfield Township, nine; Sherman Township, one; Tawas Township, one; Wilber Township, four; City of East Tawas, five; City of Tawas City, two.

Last year's sale amounted to only $2,914.11 for the 76 parcels offered.

social security checks on his father's earnings record. He has been getting checks for nearly five years. Can he get medicare coverage starting in July?

Answer: Yes. Disabled people who have been getting monthly social security checks for 24 months or longer can get medicare coverage starting July 1. They will get hospital and medical insurance automatically, but will be given a chance to decline the medical insurance for which a monthly premium must be paid.

Question: I am 51 and have not been able to work for the last 10 years. Since my husband died in June of last year, I have been getting monthly social security payments as a disabled widow. Can I enroll in medicare in July when the program starts?

Answer: No, you will not be able to get medicare coverage until you have been getting monthly social security disability payments for 24 straight months. When you are eligible for medicare, you will be notified by social security and you will be enrolled automatically. However, you may decline the medical insurance part of medicare if you do not wish to pay the monthly premium for it.

Disability Benefits Explained by SS

Question: I have been getting monthly disability payments for nearly 10 months and I know I will not be eligible for medicare when it starts in July. Can you tell me why it is necessary to have been getting disability payments for 24 consecutive months before you can get medicare coverage?

Answer: Congress decided on the 24-month requirement for several reasons: It assures medicare coverage for people with severe and long lasting disability, it helps avoid overlapping the medicare and private insurance when workers' private group insurance continues after they are disabled and it helps keep the cost of extending medicare to disabled people within reasonable limits.

Question: I am 55 and have been getting monthly social security checks as a disabled widow for the last three years. Will I be able to get medicare coverage when medicare for the disabled begins in July?

Answer: Yes. Disabled workers, disabled widows, disabled dependent widowers, disabled mothers over 50 with children in their care and people who receive social security benefits because of disability before age 22 are eligible for medicare coverage in July if they have been getting social security payments for two years or more. Only disabled mothers over 50 will need to file an application.

No Gas Rationing Seen for Michigan

Gasoline rationing and soaring prices will not strike Michigan this summer, the Retail Gasoline Dealers Association (RGDA) of Michigan, Incorporated, has told the Michigan Tourist Council.

Any price increase in gasoline or shortage of supply will be barely noticeable to Michigan tourists, according to Charles E. Shipley, executive director of RGDA.

"The recently enacted gasoline tax has added approximately $2 to the cost of any tourist traveling 1,000 miles in Michigan," Shipley stated. This amount certainly could not be considered either exorbitant or prohibitive to anyone planning a Michigan vacation. Similar gasoline price increases are taking place throughout the country. Michigan prices are comparable to, and in some cases considerably lower than, other parts of the country.

Shipley further stated, "The availability of gasoline supply for the tourist should be plentiful. Most all freeway stations are supplied by the major oil companies and, from all available information, they will have plenty of product available to take care of all tourists. In fact, our membership looks forward to a very good year and sees no reason why tourists should be apprehensive."

In short, all systems are "go" for great summer vacationing in Michigan with plenty of gas to go on, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Not that it makes it any easier to pay the grocery bill, but the reasons why food prices are so high are no mystery. This country has been channeling food and resources into foreign countries at a rate and volume never before approached; every American able to digest solid food is eating 17 percent more than he did before the war; until just recently, consumers have been spending their money on food because there was nothing much else available to buy, because of the shortage of civilian goods created by the war.

George Staudacher put together scores of 517, 630 and 630 in the Michigan State Bowling Tournament, which places him in the upper scores for all events.

Mrs. Milton Barkman was installed as the new president of Tawas Young Women's League.

35 Years Ago--

May 20, 1938--Isosco County's 16 sawmills produced about 625,000 board feet of lumber last year. The mills of the county employed 45 men for a total of 795 days for the year. Norway pine led the list of species produced with a total of 127,000 board feet.

Sen. Miles Callaghan of Reed City, who was instrumental in obtaining $3,500 from the legislature for the East Tawas State Park, will be honored by the park board at an appreciation dinner to be held at the Holland Hotel.

At the recent sale of delinquent tax land held in Isosco County, 136 descriptions were sold amounting to $4,126. The remaining 950 of the 1,086 descriptions which were actually up for sale were bid on by the state. Many of the descriptions not sold and bid on by the state are located in several of the large summer resort subdivisions. One subdivision contained more than 100 delinquent tax descriptions.

MEET JIM PASCHAL . . .

He's a professional truck driver . . . and one of the best. He was named Michigan's Driver of the Year and presented with that trophy by Secretary of State Richard Austin in February.

Jim has covered over 1½ million miles and hasn't had an accident in 30 years of driving in all kinds of traffic and weather.

We wanted you to meet Jim, especially during National Transportation Week, because without him, and the millions like him, rural Michigan would not have the benefit of competing in the market places of the world.

Library Faces Cuts; Public Should React

Iosco-Arenac Regional Library is participating in a nationwide program whose purpose is to increase the public's awareness of libraries and their services. "Dimming the Lights on the Public's Right to Know" is the theme for the special campaign, sponsored by the American Library Association. The campaign is designed to acquaint users with the possibility of cuts in service and in some areas, the closing of libraries.

Librarians feel that the elimination of funds in the proposed 1974 federal budget will severely hamper the library's ability to provide needed information and services. It is anticipated that funds available for libraries through General Revenue Sharing will be insufficient to meet the growing recreational, educational and informational needs of the public.

Here, at the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library, the state periodical program which provided 25 different periodicals for every branch and 100 periodicals for the headquarters, will be eliminated in 1974. Although Iosco-Arenac Regional Library received no grants directly, it has benefited from federal funding through cooperative programs with the State Library Network, which included loans of books and materials from the State Library and service to the blind.

President Nixon's proposed budget for 1974 provides no specifically designated aid for libraries.

Old State Road Paving Included in May 16 Bidding

Resurfacing of two miles of Old State Road, from M-65 east, is included in the largest bid-taking in the history of the Michigan Department of State Highways. Bids on 59 different highway projects are to be opened May 16 with an estimated value of 44-million dollars. Cost of the Iosco County project is estimated at $30,000 and has an October completion date.

Special meeting of the council held on Wednesday, April 18, 1973.

Present: Brugger, Groff, Rollin and Tanner; others: Bublitz.

This meeting called for the purpose of visually reviewing the streets and bridges.

The Matthews Street bridge location was reviewed at length and it was the conclusion of the council that Consumers Power Company be contacted regarding the relocation of the high line on the southerly side of the bridge. This line would seriously hinder the street centerline placing of the new bridge.

The various streets approved for blacktop construction this summer were traveled and discussed regarding the engineers' recommendations and personal views on the streets to be worked on. The mayor pointed out to the council that side streets in fairly good shape should be considered for resealing to maintain what we now have.

Most streets in this year's program need primarily shoulder work for the elimination of water from the street surface and edges. It was reported that the manager had been in contact with Mr. Crawford of Central Paving and that a figure of $13.65 per ton for blacktop was presented and that as soon as plans are presented from the engineers that Mr.

Crawford will be contacted for review of the proposed street work.

Special council meeting held at the Tawas City Hall on April 25, 1973.

Meeting called to order by Mayor John Brugger at 7:30 p. m.

Present: Brugger, Rollin, Tanner and Smyszczynski; absent: Groff, Savage and Lansky; others: Bublitz.

The purpose of this meeting is the review of budget and financial matters of the city for the year 1973-74.

The proposed budget was very briefly regarded in its present preliminary form. The manager and clerk are setting up the new chart of accounts as outlined by the state, which will greatly affect the structure of the budget items.

The new bridges were discussed. The proposed new street construction program for 1973 was discussed at length. The council feels that the manager should hire any additional equipment he feels is necessary to expedite the preparation work.

Revenue sharing was discussed. The mayor pointed out to the council that a portion should be diverted to the sewer and water departments to pay for the city's portion of the proposed special assessment construction.

The replacement of certain sidewalks in the city was discussed. The city is to review the present participating cost element for possible adjustment and letters and publications in the paper will be adopted to encourage deteriorated sidewalk replacement.

Another budget review meeting is set for May 3, 1973, at 7:30 p. m.

Ruppe Happy With State's Appropriation

Cong. Philip E. Ruppe was pleased to learn of recently-proposed legislation by the department of defense which would authorize over 3.27-million dollars in new military construction for three air force bases in Michigan.

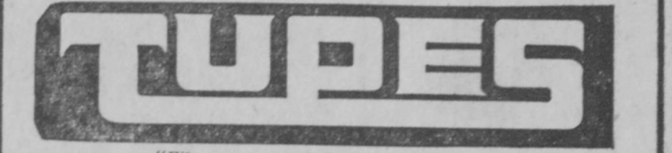

Construction projects at Wurtsmith Air Force Base would include alterations to aircraft corrosion control facility, $175,000; addition and alteration to the chapel, $441,000.

Ruppe noted that the objective of the proposed new construction is to strengthen and improve the combat readiness and capabilities of military forces wherever they may be stationed and to provide them with the modern facilities required to support personnel and the advanced weapons with which they are equipped.
