

Officers Busy With Labor Day Traffic

Michigan State Police at East Tawas reported Tuesday morning that the three-day Labor Day holiday was probably the busiest in the 35-year history of the local post.

Patrol cars reported that traffic on US-23 and M-65 was extremely heavy beginning Friday and continuing through Monday. Traffic remained heavier than normal Tuesday morning as many vacationers waited an extra day before returning home.

Area gasoline stations, which had adequate supplies, reported record sales and there were long lines of customers at gasoline pumps during peak periods.

State police answered 65 complaints, delivered seven emergency messages, investigated 11 personal injury motorcycle accidents and four personal injury automobile accidents. Not included in the total were numerous property damage accidents.

Officers made 50 arrests for traffic violations and 14 arrests on complaints.

Three young people from the Detroit area, all passengers in a car driven by Hughie E. Hall, 17, Detroit, were treated Sunday at Tawas Hospital after the car drove off Monument Road and tipped over. Injured were Brian Woods, Gene Sanker and Renee Sanker.

Two persons in two different cars were treated at Tawas Hospital following a rear-end collision Sunday on M-65 at Wicker Road, Plainfield Township. Anabelle Campbell, 50, Frankenmuth, a passenger in a car driven by Troy E. Campbell, 56, Frankenmuth, was injured and taken to the hospital by ambulance. Mary Nordstrom, 18, a passenger in a car driven by Ronald D. Martin, 23, Bay City, received minor injuries in the crash. (See LABOR DAY, page 6.)

Monument Rd. Crash Killed Bike Passenger

A 17-year-old Rochester woman, Janice Reid, was dead on arrival Sunday at Tawas Hospital following a motorcycle crash on Monument Road, Plainfield Township.

State police from East Tawas said that a motorcycle driven by Christopher Mann, 19, Utica, went out of control on loose sand and flipped over in the ditch.

The driver and passenger were both thrown from the motorcycle, which landed on the victim, who sustained head injuries in the mishap.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES into an accident Sunday night at this curve at the intersection of Whittemore Road and Sand Lake Road, Sherman Township, which resulted in fatal injuries to a Whittemore man and injuries to three other persons. A car speeding east toward the traffic sign in the center of the picture failed to make the curve, struck a man and his son on a motorcycle waiting at the stop sign (see lower picture). —Tawas Herald Photo.

Whittemore Man Dies, Three Hurt in Crash

A Whittemore man received fatal injuries and three persons were injured, one seriously, in a blazing crash between an automobile and a motorcycle Sunday night which saw an old store building at McIvor completely destroyed by flames.

Iosco Sheriff's Department officers identified the dead victim as Donald Arthur Dahne, 32, who was operating the motorcycle. He was an employee of Saginaw Steering Gear and resided at Whittemore with his family.

The victim's son, Dennis R. Dahne, seven years of age, a passenger on the motorcycle, sustained burns and other injuries and was taken to Tawas Hospital.

Officers said that Dahne and his young son had pulled to a stop on the curve at the intersection of Whittemore Road and Sand Lake Road. Parked alongside of the motorcycle was an automobile driven by Dahne's wife, Barbara. Mrs. Lulu Dahne, mother of the victim, was a passenger in the car.

A car owned by Irene J. Butzin, 20, Oscoda, headed east on Whittemore Road, missed the curve and struck the motorcycle. Also in the car was David J. Eberline, 21, Oscoda.

Officers were unable to determine who was driving the car.

Officers said the careening Butzin automobile narrowly missed the car operated by Mrs. Dahne and parked at the intersection beside the motorcycle.

On impact, the seven-year-old boy was thrown off the motorcycle and clear of the onrushing Butzin automobile. However, his clothing was set afire by burning gasoline from the motorcycle's fuel tank.

The car and motorcycle with Mr. Dahne still seated on it were propelled several hundred feet south to an old frame building which once served as a store and post office at McIvor. Several years ago, a car crashed through the front of the building and demolished the windows.

Dahne's flaming motorcycle crashed through the front of the building. His body, burned during the crash, was found in front of the Butzin vehicle, which was also burning.

Neighbors who heard the crash pulled the two injured victims from the blazing automobile.

Albert Novik, owner of the old store building, operates a used car lot on the property and he used a tractor to remove several vehicles away from the now blazing building.

Grant Township Fire Department, along with fire departments from Turner and East Tawas, responded to the fire call. The old building, along with the two vehicles involved in the crash, were completely destroyed by the fire. Firemen were successful in preventing the spread of flames to several nearby trailer homes.

Eberline, Mrs. Butzin and Dennis Dahne were rushed by ambulance to Tawas Hospital. Eberline was treated for a fractured hand and facial injuries and released. The Oscoda woman was given emergency treatment and then transferred to Mercy Hospital, Bay City. Dennis Dahne was treated for burns and other injuries.

Officers said that young Dahne's life was probably spared when his father's body blocked him from the full impact of the onrushing automobile. Fire to his clothing was extinguished by his mother, who had witnessed the crash and rushed to his assistance.

TAWAS AREA SCHOOL'S

Crucial Millage Vote Next Monday

Tawas Area School's crucial operational tax millage vote will be held Monday, September 10. The outcome of this election will have a major impact on the school, the community, its children and citizens; there will be no "second chance" to vote on alternatives during the current school year.

Because of the fact that the former three polling places have been consolidated into one polling place at the high school-middle school on M-55, transportation by privately-owned vehicles will be provided to take voters to the polls, if it is so desired. Numbers to call for free rides are: 362-6127, 362-6286, 362-4379.

All registered electors are eligible to vote. Polls will be open at 7:00 a. m. and close at 8:00 p. m.

The proposal going before district voters will ask renewal of 7 1/2 mills of operational taxes, plus 1 1/2 mills of additional taxes for a period of one year. The exact wording printed on the ballot is as follows:

"Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Tawas Area Schools, Iosco and Arenac Counties, Michigan, be increased by nine mills on each dollar ($9.00 on each $1,000) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in said school district for the year 1973, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating expenses (7 1/2 mills of the above increase is a renewal for operation purposes which expired with the 1972 tax levy and 1 1/2 mills is additional operating millage)?"

The millage renewal would replace the special operational levy approved for two years in August 1971 by district voters which expired at the end of the 1972-73 term; the additional 1 1/2 mills of taxes is deemed by the board of education as the minimum amount needed to insure continuation of the school program this year.

The need for the additional 1 1/2 mills of taxes can be attributed to the national inflationary spiral, plus the additional operational expense caused by the necessary change to a split session to relieve overcrowded classrooms and a few minor, but much-needed curriculum improvements.

This special operational levy of taxes, if approved, would be added to the regular share of operational revenue distributed by the Iosco Allocation Board under the 15-mill tax limitation. This year, the county allocation board saw fit to establish a 9.7-mill tax levy for schools, seven-tenths of one mill more than the previous year, while still staying within the 15-mill limitation.

Should the nine-mill special tax levy be approved by district voters, Tawas Area School would receive $195 per student for a total of $489,532 in state aid, based on an enrollment of 2,117, to help meet its total operational budget of 1.6-million dollars for the 1973-74 term.

A defeat at the polls would result in the loss of $389,813 in local revenue (based on nine mills of taxes multiplied against the total district valuation of $59,331,858), plus a loss in state aid. The loss in state aid would amount to $65,627, or $31 less per student.

This is the first time in history that a state aid to schools act adopted by the legislature has required a school district to levy a certain amount of millage. Previously, boards of education and administrators could base school budgets on a known amount of money, once the state aid act was passed by the legislature.

Several problems developed for Tawas Area School, along with about 50 other school districts in the state holding millage elections during the next week, due to lengthy deliberations in the state legislature concerning adoption of a formula upon which to base state aid.

The first problem for Tawas Area School is the fact that it is a registration district and this will be the only opportunity to vote on the proposal. The actual amount of taxes to be levied must be in the hands of the county treasurer by September 15 to be printed on the 1973 tax statement.

Another problem faced by all schools because of this delay is the fact that schools must submit a budget to county allocation boards in April of each year—without knowing the actual amount of state money to be received by each school district during the budget period. This state aid to schools is derived from various state taxes paid by local residents and placed in the state treasury; the actual formula for its return to local units is based upon the current philosophy or whim of the legislature and governor.

After several years of talking about financial "reform" for schools, plus a ruling by the supreme court concerning equal education for all children, coupled with threats that a state aid bill would not be adopted unless the final form benefited those districts with a high tax millage and a low valuation behind each child, a state aid bill was finally adopted in late July.

In signing the bill into law, however, the governor vetoed one section of the act allowing a "phase-in" for those districts not levying a 20-mill minimum—which included Tawas Area School.

With a property valuation of $28,026 behind each child in the district (only $10,000 less than the absolute state maximum to receive any state aid), this means that Tawas Area School received $195.19 in state aid per student, as compared to $240.61 per student last year under the old deductible millage formula. As mentioned earlier, the $195.19 is based on success of the September 10 millage vote; if defeated, the school would receive $31 less per student in state aid.

What this new formula has done is that, for the next three years, the state has shifted responsibility for financing education entirely to local districts—without taking into consideration the ability to pay additional taxes to meet state specifications.

It is a moot point now, but the state aid formula benefits only those districts where the per capita income (and ability to pay) is the highest; nearly every school in Northern Michigan (including Hale Area School which exceeds the state millage minimum) has lost under the new formula.

Even with a successful millage election on September 10, Tawas Area Board of Education, which has strived to get a dollar's worth of value out of each dollar expended in school operational tax money, is not "out of the woods" in regard to financing.

The only salvation for this school district now will be to have an influx of new students for the 1973-74 term. Despite the fact that some students have been enrolled elsewhere because of the change to the split session this term, plus the normal shift in population each year, it appears as though this school district will pick up at least 40 new students to add to its previous enrollment of 2,117 students.

The change to a split session, how-

Iosco Officers Investigated 87 Complaints

Iosco Sheriff's Department handled a total of 87 complaints over the long Labor Day week-end. The total included 59 complaints requiring reports, 44 summonses were issued and there were 19 physical arrests.

Sheriff's officers investigated nine personal injury accidents, including one fatal accident, along with seven property damage accidents.

Among complaints investigated were five breakings and enterings, one trespassing complaint, four thefts, one for driving under the influence of drugs, one drunken person, one missing person, 10 vandalism complaints, two attempted auto thefts, one stolen car, three drunk and disorderly complaints, one person was arrested for assaulting a police officer, one prowler and one person was arrested for overdose of drugs.

The vandalism complaints included seven cabins from Long Lake and Indian Lake in which windows were damaged by a pellet gun.

Five persons injured in motorcycle accidents were as follows: William J. Zarkowski, Fenton, was unable to negotiate the curve on Monument Road near the store and lost control; Grant D. Nadzielski, 20, Essexville, crashed into a Consumers Power Company high line tower after his motorcycle had climbed a steep bank on the AuSable River; Michele L. Kagle, 10, Flint, received minor injuries when the driver of a motorcycle on which she was a passenger, Ivan R. Lockery, 34, Flint, lost control of the motorcycle on a trail in Oscoda Township; James R. Letts, 20, Fenton, was forced off Monument Road by an oncoming car and sustained minor injuries.

Take Advantage of State Aid Whittemore-Prescott Votes 22 Mills for 73-74 Operation

Voters of Whittemore-Prescott Area School District gave overwhelming three-to-one approval of a two-year operating millage proposal at a special election last Thursday.

A proposal asking for 12.5 mills for the 1973-1974 school year and then dropping back to 7.5 mills for the 1974-1975 school year was approved, 268-81.

The special operating tax rate, highest ever adopted for the school district, would include 12 1/2 mills approved Thursday by voters and 9 1/2 mills from the pegged Ogemaw County allocation—totals 22 mills.

As the result of voter approval last week, Whittemore-Prescott Area School will take full advantage of the new state aid formula adopted recently by the legislature, at least for one year. The new state aid bill allows $38 per mill levied for each student in the school up to 22 mills of operational tax.

Such a winning margin given by the electorate for school operational millage is almost unheard of in the state today and can be considered as almost a complete endorsement and full vote of confidence by citizens of the board of education's and administrators' fiscal policies.

Besides financing school operations this year to take full benefit of the state aid formula, the proposal adopted by voters Thursday will pay off a deficit incurred during the last school operational year, as well as providing additional money needed when a new 10-room classroom addition goes into operation during the second semester of the current term.

The second portion of the operational package—dropping the levy to 7 1/2 mills for the 1974-1975 terms—depends greatly on the current state aid bill remaining unchanged for that term. If the legislature makes any change in its state aid formula, and it supposedly was adopted for three years, the school may have to revise its fiscal policy next year—but the school's financial problems concerning operation have been solved for the present term and any discussion on future legislative decisions would only be speculation at this point.

The school district had operated on a levy of 15 1/2 mills last year and had intended to ask for only 1 1/2 additional mills this year. However, with the new state aid formula it was found that the school just could not operate on 17 mills of taxes.

In a letter to voters, Supt. Ray Kessler made it clear that the school absolutely could not operate without extra voted millage and could not rely only on financing received from 9 1/2 mills pegged from the 15 mills split by the Ogemaw Allocation Board.

With additional financing provided in the total operational package for the new addition, the district now looks forward to moving into the new 10-classroom addition in January. The addition includes a new library, new art room and a small multi-purpose room.

Whittemore-Prescott Area School serves Southwestern Iosco County, a portion of Northeastern Arenac County and Southeastern Ogemaw County. The high school serves as its polling place.

Arrest Three on Drug Sale Violation

Three young people were arrested Thursday night at Gordon Creek and charged with violation of Michigan's controlled substance act.

Arrested were Roger D. Burke, 20, Flint, sale of marijuana; Steve C. Wilson, 17, Columbiaville, sale of LSD; Gregory L. Carlson, 18, Flint, sale of LSD.

A juvenile held on the sale of LSD was turned over to his parents and two girls held on possession of LSD were turned over to their parents.

Undersheriff Basil Odell reported that the department had received reports that Gordon Creek was "wide open" and two plain clothes officers were sent to investigate.

The two officers made several purchases and a nine-man contingent of sheriff's department officers made the arrests.

County patrol cars were struck by rocks thrown by other persons at Gordon Creek following the raid. A private wrecker service sent to the park in Huron National Forest Friday morning to pick up one car had to retreat because of a threatening crowd.

Cities Accept Pact With Multi-County

Councils of Tawas City and East Tawas Tuesday night accepted one-year contracts with Multi-County Landfill for the deposit of all residential, commercial and industrial refuse. Both council meetings had been delayed one night because of the Labor Day holiday.

Appearing before council meetings was Wilbur C. Roach, operator of the private landfill on Monument Road west of the Tawas. The two communities have operated a joint landfill for several years.

Tawas City's contract for the service is $5,500 annually, while East Tawas is to pay $7,500. Effective date of the contract is October 1. Each agreement has a 30-day termination clause should the county develop a landfill.

In other business at the Tawas City Council meeting, Gene Salamony presented a proposal to the city for the use of his privately-owned fire truck for "back-up" purposes. The truck, a 1942 model, is completely operational with all the necessary hose and ladders. It includes a radio which could operate on the county frequency and has special high pressure fog or foam equipment. In return for its use, the city would house the vehicle during the winter months and furnish liability insurance. The matter was turned over to the city manager and fire chief for a recommendation.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz reported that it would cost the city approximately $4,600 to move and install the old foot bridge removed recently from the Mathews Street bridge to a new location on Tenth Avenue over Dead Creek. The price includes replacing necessary wood, painting, constructing ramps and setting in place. The bridge has a span of 70 feet. Action was tabled until a comparison price is received on building an entirely new wooden foot bridge on Tenth Avenue.

Devotional Guide

Let justice flow like water, and integrity like an unfailling stream. (Amos 5:24)

I think that part of our agony today derives from the fact that we are looking many problems straight in the face.

Picture a Renaissance nobleman wearing a deep purple velvet glove with silk embroidery and gold piping. But inside is a festering hand. Society and human relations with their innate problems are the hand; sham, hypocrisy and deceit are the glove. Today, the glove has been ripped off; the festering hand is showing. But given care, the hand can heal. Putting the velvet glove on again is not an option.

Perhaps more political dishonesty is being divulged than before; some psychological and sexual problems are being dealt with rather openly. Maybe this offends, but that does not mean we should scurry back to a hush-hush attitude. It does mean we must learn and work to heal the wounds of society.

PRAYER
Father, give us strength and insight not to give in to the temptation of covering up our sins. We know that You will help us heal them if we bring them out into the open. Amen.

Richard H. Potter, 22, Flint, and George M. Sharick, 22, Flint, were injured in a rear-end collision Sunday on Monument Road and treated at Tawas Hospital.

Among those injured Sunday in motorbike crashes were: Lori Lynn Walton, 15, Flint, who hit a stump on a trail in Oscoda Township and fractured her leg; James R. Jelsone, 19, Detroit, whose bike flipped over on an Oscoda Township trail; Daryl J. Jackson, 15, Utica, injured in a race held in Oscoda Township; Ronald C. Douglas, 20, Richmond, who was brushed from his motorcycle by an overhanging tree branch in Oscoda Township; Thomas J. Allen, 21, injured in a race held in Oscoda Township.

Robert Gearhardt of Essexville reported Saturday that food and clothing had been stolen from his cabin, one-quarter mile west of Cooke Dam. Derrick J. Miles and Daniel R. Croll, both of Warren, reported Monday that they had gone swimming in the AuSable River and parked their motorbikes along the river bank. When they returned, they discovered that the motorbikes had been stolen. Raymond Bard of West Bloomfield reported Monday that his camping gear had been stolen from the Monument campgrounds.

Kenneth Schmidt, Auburn, reported Sunday that a 7 1/2-horsepower outboard motor had been stolen from his boat pulled on shore at Tawas Point State Park.

Harry Selleck, Lakeport State Park manager, started riding a bicycle this summer on his rounds within the park. Soon after, a Lakeport park ranger astride a two-wheeler became a common sight for park visitors, and rangers in several other southern Michigan state parks have followed suit. Rangers say bikes help them do their work quicker, easier, and, of course, quieter. A bicycling ranger can reach many places not accessible to a car or truck, which also frees motor vehicles for heavy jobs. Each of the three bikes in Lakeport Park averages 10 m.p.h., totalling 70 miles a week. The "bicycling rangers" spend more than $7,000 calories a month, save more than $100 worth of gasoline.

Mr. and Mrs. Tawas Area Voter

Won't You Help Our Kids?

Tawas Area Schools are in deep trouble and only you can solve the problem. Our schools need money to operate this year. The 9.7 mills allocated don't do the job. Needed is a renewal of the expired 7.5 mills extra voted operation issue, plus 1.5 mills additional to meet expenses which have resulted from inflation and additional staffing required because of our split session scheduling. Vote YES on September 10.

Pearl Wickert of East Tawas Died Sept. 2

Pearl Wickert, who resided at the East Tawas home of her daughter, Mrs. Patrick Reinke, passed away Sunday, September 2, at the residence. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, September 4, at Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas, with the Rev. Alfred W. Sausbury officiating. Burial took place in Greenwood Cemetery, East Tawas. Funeral arrangements were handled by the Moffatt-Kobs Funeral Home, East Tawas.

Mrs. Wickert was born December 11, 1896, in Exeter, Ontario, Canada. She married Ezra Wickert December 24, 1918. He preceded her in death. She was a past noble grand of Irene Rebekah Lodge No. 137 and member of Iosco Chapter No. 71, Order of the Eastern Star.

She is survived by two daughters, Mildred Bloomer and Mrs. Reinke of East Tawas; three sons, Dr. Norman Wickert of Buchanan, William Wickert of Tawas City, and Dr. Wayne Wickert of Alberta, Canada; 12 grandchildren; three great grandchildren; three sisters, Lavina Kydd and Ann Coates of Exeter, Louise Soeder of Mitchell, Ontario; six brothers, Norman Willard of Eyebrow, Saskatchewan, Canada; Emil and Ernest Willard of Exeter; Edward Willard of Grand Bend, Ontario; Herman Willard of Centralia, Ontario, and Ezra Willard of Mitchell.

There's no trick to placing a want ad in The Tawas Herald . . . and they work like magic.

WHEN THIS PICTURE was snapped 24 years ago by the Herald photographer, officials of the then budding Whittemore Speedway requested that it not be published. The obvious reason was that clouds of dust churned up by jalopies racing on a farm field was not good publicity for the new enterprise. Automobile racing caught the imagination of Whittemore area residents and the entire community pitched in to make Whittemore Speedway one of the best tracks in Northeastern Michigan. Over the years, a lighted, banked, quarter-mile track was constructed with an oiled surface and a grandstand was constructed to provide seating for more than 1,100 persons. What a far cry are facilities today from that Sunday afternoon nearly a quarter of a century ago when dusty "rooster tails" from speeding jalopies nearly blanketed from view the old Whittemore School. The school is gone, having been replaced by other units, but the speedway is healthy and is winding up its 25th anniversary season. Year-end trophy races are scheduled for Saturday night, September 15, and such drivers as Clifford (Porky) Burkholder, "Peck" Snyder and Chet Burton, to name but three of the drivers in the original jalopies, will be seated in the stands to witness the conclusion of another successful season of racing.—Tawas Herald Photo.

MUCC Pushing Complete Ban on Lethal Gill Nets in Lakes

Waterland or wasteland? This important consideration is once again being faced by the state's 10-million citizens and Michigan United Conservation Clubs point out that the decision that is to be made in the next two or more months will have a lasting effect on the future of the Great Lakes.

The issue, states MUCC, revolves around the question: Should the lakes be managed for commercial fishing only, for sport fishing only or for both?

The answer is apparent: There is room for both commercial and sport fishing in these unique waters. However, the key is management; without management there will be no fishing for either interest.

To manage the lakes properly, fisheries biologists need the proper tools. At the August meeting of the Natural Resources Commission, the process of obtaining these necessary tools was begun when the commission tentatively approved a ban of large mesh gill nets in Lakes Michigan and Superior.

The question now goes to several public hearings, back to the commission for final approval and then to the joint administrative rules committee for hearings and action.

In the past, the state legislature has sided with commercial fishing interests as sports fishermen have failed to represent themselves.

The request for the ban, which netters view as drastic and unnecessary, was not made overnight, points out MUCC. In fact, it was first proposed in a report from the fisheries division in 1967, six years ago, while other controls on commercial fishing activity were proposed as long ago as 1873 when the first fish commission was formed.

And oddly enough, formation of that commission was to aid in the replenishment of depleted whitefish stocks. There were no sea lamprey or alewife then, but there was an extensive, uncontrolled commercial fishery.

Residents of the Tawas area are familiar with gill nets and their rapid decline of perch in Saginaw Bay with the introduction of that net here in the early 1960s. Use of gill nets has been banned in these waters for two years and perch seem to be making a comeback.

A gill net is a harvesting device made of a fine material in which fish are caught, become entangled and die. It can best be described as an underwater spider's web. Fish swim into it, pass part way through a single mesh and become "gilled" as they struggle for freedom.

Formerly constructed of cotton or linen material, modern gill nets are constructed of either nylon multifilament or monofilament thread and are many times more efficient in catching fish. With this increased efficiency, plus other contributing factors (modern tugs, freezers to reduce spoilage, manufactured rather than hand-tied nets, synthetic fiber nets which are resistant to rot or mildew and nets which are lighter and easier to handle), one gill net tug today is equal in harvesting capability to 10 gill net tugs of the past.

The gill net is nonselective. While it may be set specifically for one species of fish, any fish of the size for which the net was designed to catch becomes a potential victim. And this is the primary reason the ban has been recommended and needs support from persons concerned with the future of the Great Lakes.

Biologists do not want to rid the lakes of commercial fishermen who were openly abusive to law enforcement officials and flagrantly violated the rules, limited entry and zone management, coupled with sea lamprey control and fish plants, was responsible for the improvement of sport fishing stocks as well as some food fish stocks.

The economic status of the commercial fishermen began improving, too, through regulation. Harvests of whitefish in Lake Michigan reached three-million pounds last year, the highest on record since 1949.

fisheries program on the Great Lakes has been managed for maximum public benefit, placing increased emphasis on recreational sport fishing as well as a take of commercial food fish.

In 1968, Michigan made the decision to rehabilitate the valuable fish stocks in the Great Lakes. To do this, it became necessary to continue stocking predatory fish (coho salmon and lake trout) to control alewife, to continue the control program on the predatory sea lamprey, to regulate the harvest of commercial fishing and to control water pollution.

First action was initiated in 1970 when that number of commercial fishing licenses was reduced. Prior to that, anyone who submitted an application and fee could obtain a license, a situation that was at least partially responsible for the depletion of many fish stocks. Following this, the Great Lakes Zone Management Plan was proposed and adopted.

In spite of difficulties, particularly with commercial fishermen who were openly abusive to law enforcement officials and flagrantly violated the rules, limited entry and zone management, coupled with sea lamprey control and fish plants, was responsible for the improvement of sport fishing stocks as well as some food fish stocks.

Only Alternative to Millage Approval: TA School Disaster

There are few alternatives open for Tawas Area Board of Education should the special operational tax proposal be defeated at the polls on Monday, September 10.

Although the board of education is in the middle of a touchy situation—damned if they "threaten" voters by listing alternatives prior to an election and damned by uninformed citizens should the proposal be defeated and drastic action be necessary to maintain at least a minimal program on available operational money—this newspaper, on its own, investigated some of the possible alternatives in the event of defeat at the polls.

The picture is not bright, to say the least, for the school, the communities which it serves and the children, who will suffer the most.

The first step to be taken in event of failure on September 10 would be to close school the next day. The Michigan Department of Education would be notified, along with the school's attorney, and a special meeting would be called by the local board of education to make some decisions. The two unions representing teachers and non-instructional personnel would be notified in order to attend the meeting.

According to a new provision of state law, schools must submit a balanced operational budget to Lansing by November 1. Should the millage vote fail, the 1.6-million-dollar budget would have to be trimmed to fit the available tax levy of 9.7 mills provided by the county allocation board, plus reduced state aid and other minor funds totaling about one-million dollars.

As can be seen, this revenue would fall far short of the established budget and cuts would be mandatory.

A determination would have to be made by the state department of education if the school could legally release teachers under contract for the school year already commenced, along with other employees. Another alternative would be for the state to determine if this school district would be allowed to conduct a term less than the required 180 days and still receive state aid.

Several major decisions would face the board of education in its budget trimming, besides possible staff reductions. Although it would be a board decision, it would seem that the very first move would be to cut all extra-curricular activities—athletics, band, community education, plus elimination of school lunches and possibly transportation; even portions of the very basic educational program remaining would be threatened.

The end result of this necessary cutting of the budget to fit money available in the event of the defeat of the tax proposal would be utterly disastrous for the school, the communities and the children.

After years of being accredited by the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services (schools in both Tawas City and East Tawas were accredited by the university prior to reorganization), Tawas Area School was dropped from the list earlier this year because of several deficiencies in the school plan and curriculum. The university had warned three years ago that such action would be taken unless changes were made. Accreditation is the yardstick by which schools are compared throughout the state.

As a means of possibly getting back into the good graces of the state, the board of education adopted the split session plan recommended during the last visit by the bureau of school services.

Tawas Area School must conform to other recommendations before another accreditation visit will be made, including necessary improvement to the library. The importance of a positive attitude by the electorate on September 10 toward maintaining the present program, plus the minor improvements it offers, is of great necessity. From the above, the reader can draw his own conclusion as to the status of Tawas Area School in the event of a millage failure.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like some questions answered concerning the hours that our high school children have this year.

First of all, how is this new setup going to affect the home life of the parents? They will have to get up at all hours at the morning.

How will the buses get the children to school in the winter when the roads are blown shut with snow or if it rains, sleet, and freezes? There probably will not be salt on the roads at this early hour and I think this would endanger the lives of our children and bus drivers.

Are the law officers going to be out patrolling the roads when the children have to walk and get the buses at these different points? Do you realize it will be pitch black out at this time of the morning and there might be someone hiding to molest these children?

Can anyone eat their lunch in 17 minutes?

Why couldn't a lot of these classes that aren't required be done away with and then wouldn't there be enough classrooms? My class graduated in 1946 and most of the kids made out wonderfully without all these classes.

Did the teachers and board of education ever take these things into consideration before they set up these new hours for our children?

I hope I have brought some of these things to the attention of other parents who have to get up at all different hours to get the children off at one time, their husbands at another and the mothers at another if they work.

Mrs. R. Gauthier

Babysitter's Cash Wages Count on SS

Question: I am attending beauty school and get monthly social security student payments on my father's earnings record. I work part time as a babysitter and a friend tells me these earnings count for social security. Is this true?

Answer: Yes it is, if the same person pays you $50 or more in cash wages in any calendar quarter (January-March, April-June, July-September, October-December). As little as $3.85 weekly from the same employer can amount to $50 by the end of the 13 weeks in the calendar quarter. The law requires your employer to report your wages if they amount to $50 or more per quarter and send the social security contributions to the Internal Revenue Service. Only cash wages count, not room and board or other kinds of payments.

Question: When I apply for social security retirement payments, what evidence will I need?

Answer: Since your age is an important factor for retirement payments, you must furnish evidence of your date of birth. This would be your birth or baptismal certificate if you have one. Other documents, recorded early in your life, also can be used.

If your wife and children are applying for monthly payments, you will need evidence of your marriage and your children's birth certificates, which show the parents' names. The social security cards of applicants are also needed. Your social security office can help you in gathering the evidence you need.

Question: I was a dishwasher and general kitchen helper for over 25 years and had low earnings. I will be retiring next year and I heard that now there is a special minimum payment for people like myself who have worked under social security for a long time and have had low wages. Is this true?

Answer: Yes, there is a special minimum benefit for individuals with 20 or more years of coverage under social security. The minimum benefit is based on "years of coverage" rather than average earnings. For example, when a worker retires at 65 with 25 "years of coverage," the minimum payment is $127.50. This helps people who worked many years for very low wages. However, most people who have worked more than 20 years under social security will usually get higher benefits in their own work records than under the special minimum.

If you have a question about social security, contact your district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 49706; telephone, 893-9679. For your convenience, a social security representative will be at the Isosco County Building, Tawas City, every Thursday from 9:45 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

CMU Offers Off-Campus Courses

Oscoda and Tawas City will have courses offered by Central Michigan University's Off-Campus Education office this fall. Students will register for Oscoda classes September 5 (today) and for Tawas City classes on September 6.

Two education courses are scheduled for Oscoda. Elementary/Secondary Education 498, "Education Workshop: Open Classroom," will be taught by Dr. Thomas Kromer. It is open to both graduate and undergraduate students and earns three semester hours credit. Teaching, Elementary/Secondary Education 551/593 will be Dr. John Meyer. Students may enroll in either 551, "Supervision of Student and Intern Teaching," or 593, "Seminar: Problems in the Supervision of Student Teaching." Each earns three semester hours graduate credit.

Registration will begin at 5:00 p. m. September 5 in the Oscoda High School Library.

Registration on September 6 for the Tawas City course, Elementary Education 515, "Problems in Science in the Elementary Schools," will be in the school library of the East Tawas unit at 7:00 p. m. Dr. Jackie Evans will teach the course which earns two semester hours of graduate credit.

Off-Campus Education staff members will assist in registering students in both communities. They will be available to advise students on off-campus offerings and answer questions regarding CMU's degree programs.

BACK IN THE DAYS when surrises with the fine on top were all the rage. This was the only way grandpa would mark of sparking grandma. A charming nostalgic way of life in the "good old days" will be revived with two special gay 90s parades at the 60th annual edition of the Saginaw Fair, September 8-15. The colorful pageant of vintage huggies and carriages is scheduled for the judging ring at 5:00 p. m., Tuesday, September 11, and again at 5:00 p. m. on Thursday, September 13.

THE ARTS AND HOBBIES BUILDING will offer scores of new and fascinating exhibits plus daily painting demonstrations to attract the interest of fairgoers. Oil and water paintings, sketches, old and unusual coins, rare and beautiful stamps, ceramics and other products from the artist, craftsman and hobbyist will be on display during the Saginaw Fair's eight-day run.

THE NEEDLEWORK EXHIBIT in the home arts building at the 1973 Saginaw Fair is the place to visit for a look at crocheted fashions, outstanding needlepoint, smart party frocks, cleverly designed afghans and hundreds of other creations.

Sign Owners Laggard With State Permits

Owners of more than 4,000 billboards are laggard in obtaining 1973-74 state permits for their signs, the department of state highways reports.

The billboards are subject to removal, whether or not they are in legal positions, if owners fail to obtain a $3-permit for each sign, the department said.

Applications for permit renewals for the 12 months that began July 1 have been received for more than 12,000 billboards, but owners of about 4,400 signs for which 1972-73 permits were issued have failed to apply for new permits.

A highway department inventory tabulated 29,722 billboards along the 7,000 miles of state highways covered by the state billboard control act of 1972. Of these, about 9,500 illegal signs have been removed by the department or by the owners.

It is expected that more than 18,000 billboards will be taken down under provisions of the law.

In obtaining new permits, owners should use the renewal application form sent to them when the original permit was issued. That form, with $3 for each billboard, should be sent to the highway department's district office which issued the original permit. Renewal forms may also be obtained from the district offices.

Want to read some good words about our country and some of the good folks who live here?

These are words worth sharing, written by Mrs. Ingrid Bartelli, consumer marketing information agent, Marquette, one of my favorite co-workers who always sees the whole picture.

"What is there to say about food prices that has not been said? Not much. Most of us realize that we are going to have to pay the cost of food if we want to eat it. We know, too, that all the people of one world are competing for the same food. Some countries are able and willing to pay excessive prices for the same food you and I feel belongs to us. And no matter how greedy we are, we know we must share the available food with all people of the earth. We know that the greed being expressed in the market place by the hoarders is causing undue hardships to some of our neighbors. The folks on meager and fixed incomes with families to feed are having the greatest difficulties.

"Still, we are the best-fed nation on earth at the lowest percentage of our income. What would we do if we had to get along on the meager subsistence of the rice-eating nations? Or what would we do if we were in the shoes of our pioneer ancestors who had to be completely self-sufficient in growing, processing and preparing their own food supply? It would not be possible because there are now too many of us. There is no longer enough land for each of our population to produce the food he feels necessary to sustain himself in the manner he feels adequate.

"Headlines, printed or spoken, scream daily about our food situation. You would think we each had to sacrifice a right arm because we will have to get along without hamburger for a while. In spite of all the noise made about food, there is one story not being told and one that should be shouted to the skies.

"Who is giving credit to all the thousands of people who, rather than complain, have put their shoulders to the wheel? They have planted gardens and are eating from them now. They are canning, freezing, jamming and pickling for their winter needs. They are picking berries, wild greens and nuts. They are shifting their food choices to what they can afford. They know it is protein their bodies need, not necessarily hamburgers. They are making every effort to maintain the good health of their crew. They are shopping shrewdly and intelligently, even sparingly.

"These are the real heroes. This is the story that should be exposed to the media. These are the people who still have enough of the true American spirit to assume responsibility for themselves. They will not swell the welfare rolls as the easy way out. They have pride, ambition, intelligence and courage. These are the people who make America one of the most beautiful words in the vocabulary of the entire world."

Property Owners Got Tax Break From Legislature

Because of the importance of a positive vote in next Monday's millage election by all citizens—parents and senior citizens, many of whom are grandparents of school-aged children—a review of the tax break enacted this year by the state legislature is given.

Seven of the 11 major points in this legislation are as follows:

1. Only the husband or wife need be 65 years of age to be eligible for property tax relief.
2. If a household income is less than $3,000 and the property tax is less than $500, no property tax is paid.
3. The money is returned to the homeowner in the form of a state income tax reimbursement. (The majority of senior citizens will not pay any more money by voting "yes" on the school millage.)
4. Renters can claim 17 percent of the rent paid annually for tax relief under this act.
5. Only senior citizens whose incomes exceed $6,000 annually will pay the $1.50 increase (1½ mills) per $1,000 state equalized valuation.
6. More than 70 percent of the senior citizens will pay less than last year for property taxes.
7. All other homeowners and renters will get relief amounting to 60 percent of the amount of taxes that exceed 3.5 percent of their income. This reimbursement would be made by the state.

TAWAS POINT STATE PARK

OVERLOOKING THE BLUE WATERS OF TAWAS BAY AND LAKE HURON, TAWAS POINT STATE PARK IS ONE OF MICHIGAN'S NEWEST RECREATION AREAS. THE 175-ACRE PARK, SHAPED LIKE A SANDY HOOK, IS LOCATED 3½ MILES SOUTHEAST OF EAST TAWAS OFF US-23 ON TAWAS POINT ROAD. THE MODERN CAMPGROUND IS ON A SANDY POINT

SEPARATING TAWAS BAY FROM LAKE HURON. THE TWO MILES OF WIDE, SANDY LAKE HURON BEACH OFFERS EXCELLENT SWIMMING. THE 202 CAMPSITES HAVE ELECTRICITY. A BOAT LAUNCHING SITE IS NEARBY. LUMBERMAN'S MONUMENT IS AMONG THE MANY ADJACENT ATTRACTIONS.

A WORD TO THE WISE BOATER: THE RECENTLY EFFECTIVE 1971 SAFE BOATING ACT ALLOWS THE COAST GUARD TO BOARD AND INSPECT BOATS. THEY WILL CHECK COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIRED SAFETY EQUIPMENT, ACCORDING TO CLASS OF BOAT, AND WILL LOOK ESPECIALLY FOR OVERLOADING, LIFE PRESERVERS, LIGHTS AND ALL AREAS CONCERNED WITH FIRE SAFETY.

Beautiful Tawas Point One of Michigan's Newest Parks

Beautiful Tawas Point State Park offers the camper more than two miles of wide, sandy beach, excellent for swimming, and an additional bonus of many nearby historic and fun attractions to visit, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

One of the newest parks, Tawas Point State Park is located 3½ miles southeast of East Tawas off US-23 on Tawas Point Road. The park's 175 acres project into Tawas Bay and Lake Huron and the campground is on the sandy point separating the two bodies of water. The park is in the shape of a hook extending into Lake Huron. There are excellent views of both the bay and the lake.

The 202 campsites are modern with electricity, flush toilets, showers and a boat launching site nearby. There also is a trailer sanitation disposal station.

The swimming, available over the two miles of beach, is the park's outstanding feature. Tawas Point State Park attracted 219,000 campers last year, an attendance record which placed it about halfway among 30 state parks in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

A well-known attraction convenient to visit for those staying at Tawas Point State Park is the Lumberman's Monument, less than 20 miles away. The memorial is near Oscoda, situated on a high bluff overlooking the scenic AuSable River.

Funds for the impressive memorial were furnished by 73 descendants of pioneer lumbermen. On a granite base are three large bronze figures, a river man, land locker and woodman. The surrounding area was once dense with timber and the memorial itself is near what was an old logging tote road.

Children and adults will enjoy paddlewheel riverboat tours of the AuSable west of Oscoda. The boats usually operate through mid-October.

schedule and a later time for arriving home by middle school students, the two sessions in one day has provided several benefits.

The first and major benefit is that a middle school has finally been established for grades six through eight, thus completely separating younger students from those in high school. In addition, breathing room has been gained in the school building on M-55, allowing the addition of shop, art, home economics, foreign language and physical education in the middle school's curriculum.

The third benefit gained by the split session is that the school now has room for additional students to gain additional state aid, should the school be fortunate enough to have a large enrollment increase. This latter point previously had been troublesome for the district, as the building had been filled to the bulging point and there was absolutely no room for expansion to handle new students and the additional teachers required.

Moving the sixth grade to the middle school has also gained additional room in the two elementary units, but this gain may be minimal at the Tawas City Elementary Unit, according to a report last Thursday. Based on last year's enrollment in the third grade, administrators had been planning on 29 students in each of four sections of the fourth grade. The enrollment as of last week was 35 fourth graders per section. As a result, one room which was to have been used as a library-reading center, is to handle additional fourth graders in a combination classroom-library.

An increase in the number of adult students taking high school completion courses seems to be on hand, according to a report from Gene Gerber, community education director. It is expected that a one-third increase in adult enrollment will be seen this week, which counts toward state aid return.
