

Council Approval Gives Sewage Study Assurance for Tawas Area

City councils of both East Tawas and Tawas City gave their approval Monday night to paying $2,000 as each city's share of an area-wide secondary sewage treatment feasibility study.

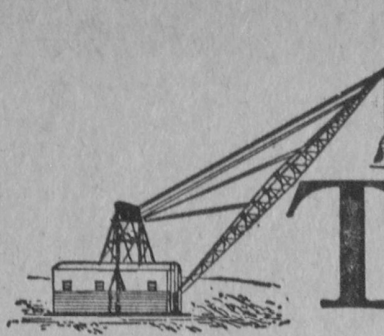

Approval by the Baldwin Township Board for paying its share of the study was assured two weeks ago and the matter now goes to boards of Alabaster and Tawas Townships to determine interest. The proposed share for Baldwin Township would be $1,000 and the share for the other townships would be $500 each.

Approval by the two councils has guaranteed that the study will be carried out by Edmonds Engineering Company and Spicer Engineering Company. It is expected that the study would be completed by June 1 in order for participating city governments to take action, if desired, on application for federal funds by a September 15 deadline.

The study would determine the feasibility of combining waste water treatment facilities between the two cities and adding into the program certain portions of adjacent townships which show development tendencies.

The study would include cost estimates, an outline of methods to finance the total cost, an outline of methods for collecting and transporting waste water to a treatment facility and a recommendation on a common operating authority or agency.

Bargaining Agent Election Probable

Commission Denies Union Recognition

Recognition of United Steelworkers of America, District 29, Bay City, as the bargaining agent for all county employees, excluding supervisory or elected officers, was denied Wednesday by Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

A January 9 letter from Donald E. Taft, staff representative for the steelworkers, informed Robert Foster, commission chairman, that a "substantial majority of a unit appropriate for the purpose of collective bargaining" had selected that organization as its sole collective bargaining agency.

Taft requested the commission to recognize that union as the bargaining agent and asked for a meeting with commission representatives.

Prior to taking action on the matter, the board turned the letter over to Ronald Tyler, county prosecutor, for clarification of a number of points.

Tyler told commissioners Wednesday that the department of labor probably has the power to call an election should union recognition be denied by the county. It seemed to him, however, that laws are incompatible concerning union recognition and governmental functions.

In answer to a question posed concerning whether or not deputy sheriffs could vote in such an election, Tyler said that this would be questionable inasmuch as deputies are presently represented by the Fraternal Order of Police.

Although a move to unionize county employees has been expected here for several years, it was not until the December session of the commission that serious consideration had been given to such a step by county building employees.

A petition by 21 employees in the county building asked that salaries to those employees be brought in line with a new wage package for the sheriff's department, which had been adopted at the commission's first meeting in December.

Following a meeting with department heads, the board of commissioners on December 19 deferred action on the matter until January.

Department heads of the county building say that, under the new wage package, salaries of secretarial help in the sheriff's department are about double that of secretarial help in the county building. They believe that salaries of clerical help in all county offices should be brought in line by increasing the base salary to $4,140 and adding $500 steps on two anniversary dates.

On the other hand, commissioners maintained that substantial increases had been granted to county building clerical help last year. In addition, J. Berkeley Smith, finance chairman, said in December that a sixth step had been added to the wage scale for county building employees during 1974. On the anniversary date of the start of six years of employment, the senior employee receives an additional $500, bringing the top salary to $6,500. Additional salaries paid to chief deputies were increased from $250 to $500. The finance chairman believed the new salary schedule was a reasonable one and had been budgeted in April.

Apparently, the main bone of contention between county building employees and the commission is the disparity between their wages and that paid to female employees in the sheriff's department.

According to the new contract accepted in December, secretarial deputies in the sheriff's department have a starting base of $7,443, as compared to a starting base of $3,640 for employees in the county building. In addition, secretarial deputies are to receive $7,839 at the end of one year, $8,362 at the end of two years and $8,863 at the end of three years, based on the new contract with sheriff's deputies.

Commissioners said in December that secretarial deputies in the sheriff's department are called upon to serve as peace officers in addition to their secretarial duties and serve as jail matrons when female prisoners are booked. The finance chairman stressed that female deputies were involved in law enforcement and that the county could be charged with job discrimination against sex if the secretarial deputies were not paid on a basis of seven-eighths of the salary paid to road deputies.

Some department heads in the county building have said they have no argument over paying a higher salary to secretarial deputies when they are actually involved in dangerous law enforcement work, but believed that the pay for secretarial duties should be the same in both the county building and the jail.

In the meantime, hard feelings have resulted between the county building and the jail as well as between county building department heads and the board of commissioners.

The prosecuting attorney indicated that the next step probably was for county building employees to petition for an election to determine a bargaining agent.

PERCHVILLE BUTTONS are being sold at various business places in the Tawas as preparations are being made for the annual Perchville USA program to be held February 15-17. Robert Heinritz, chairman, said that sale of the red buttons helps to defray cost of the program. He is wearing one of the 100 special white buttons being sold at $20 each which entitles the purchaser to a stag night ticket, two banquet tickets, VIP parking at Perchville and other benefits. Program highlights include the annual winter sports banquet, stag and doe fish fries, demolition derby, polar bear swim, a fish fry and dance for high school students, bloopers baseball game on ice skates, queen's contest and second annual 50-mile snowmobile "run for life" for Cystic Fibrosis.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Discussion May Melt Sidewalk Snow

Rollin Wins Support on DPW Policy Change

City snow removal policies again proved to be a hot issue Monday night for Tawas City councilmen and the topic is expected to be enlivened further in the winter "hot stove league" at future meetings.

In the first real debate on a single issue since reorganization under the new city charter, the council was split down the middle on a proposal by Ald. Robert N. Rollin, who finally was successful in a four-to-three roll call vote to get at least limited support for a measure which he has long advocated.

According to Rollin's successful motion, the council has instructed the city manager to write letters to business places informing them not to push snow from private property onto Lake Street (US-23) for the city to pick up.

Such a prohibition against pushing snow onto Lake Street from parking lots and service stations for city removal might seem clear cut, but because of the narrow US-23 right-of-way from Mathews Street to First Street and lack of snow storage space, the highway department for years has paid for removal in this area as a possible means to deter traffic accidents. That section of US-23 is the only one here to receive such additional maintenance funds.

Since elected to the council, Rollin has felt that removal of snow from in front of certain business places by the city was benefiting only a few. A service station owner, himself, only located south of the river bridge, Rollin believed all should be treated equally regardless of location.

Rollin threatened that if some action was not taken by the council, he was prepared to take pictures of snow removal operations and circulate petitions to be sent to the state in opposition to the city's snow removal policy, regardless of the fact that it could mean a loss of snow removal funds in some areas.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that one of the problems to be encountered would be to determine after a storm which snow had been plowed off the state highway right-of-way and which snow had come from private property. The sidewalk on the lake side of US-23 from Mathews Street to Lansky's Standard Service is within the state highway right-of-way and the state right-of-way extends into driveways of service stations along the full length of the highway.

Ald. William Groff and Chester Smyczynski told Rollin they would "go along with him" if he could define how the city department of public works was to determine which snow came from private property and which snow came from the right-of-way. At the suggestion of Groff, Rollin reworded his motion and a letter is to be sent to businessmen telling them to push snow toward the rear of lakeside business areas.

Rollin's motion passed on a four-to-three roll call vote with "yes" votes from Groff, Mayor John Brugger, Smyczynski and Rollin, Casting "no" votes were Clark Tanner, James Lansky and William Ezo.

Snow removal from the sidewalk along US-23 from Wheeler Street to the east city limit, long advocated by Rollin, will have to wait until the city develops some method to remove the snow.

At the last meeting and in previous meetings, Rollin has expressed the opinion that the city should clear sidewalks along US-23 from Wheeler Street east to the city limit because of the fact that city plows throw snow on that sidewalk. Acting as a "private citizen," he called for an investigation by the state highway department.

The city manager said that district highway department representatives from Alpena had inspected the area and had no objection to using the outer traffic lane of US-23 for storage of snow, although pointing out the safety hazard because of the reduced traffic flow.

Bublitz said that utilization of the outer lanes for snow storage would also plug storm sewers and provide a serious drainage problem. Because of the fact that the sidewalk east is from 40 to 50 years old and not designed for mechanized plowing, the city manager said that snow removal there would prove to be a real problem.

Mayor Brugger said that sidewalk snow removal seemed to be a perennial problem. He believed the city should study the feasibility of opening sidewalks on such major streets as Second Street, First Street, Fourth Street and along US-23 to reduce the chance of accidents for school children, who now walk along highways.

Several councilmen expressed the opinion that if the city removes snow from one sidewalk, it should remove snow from all sidewalks. Because of the condition of some sidewalks, along with such obstacles as shrubs, power poles and guy wires, it was felt by the city manager that complete snow removal would be most expensive.

Ezo said that he keeps the sidewalk clean in front of his residence on US-23, but much of the sidewalk in opposite directions is not cleaned. He believed that because of the heavy buildup of ice on other sections of the sidewalk, the matter should be dropped this year.

Alderman Rollin pointed out that the city has an ordinance which provides that the property owner is responsible for cleaning the sidewalk in front of his residence and believed that the ordinance should be either enforced or revoked.

He said, however, that such action might be too drastic because the ordinance has not been enforced in years and he believes that residential property owners would cooperate with the city by keeping their sidewalks cleared in front of their homes—if they were asked to do so. He said, too, that persons spending the winter elsewhere should be urged to make arrangements for sidewalk snow removal before leaving in the fall.

It was pointed out by several councilmen that the city had increased its financial participation with property owners in order to encourage sidewalk construction, but few property owners had taken advantage of the program. It was stated that the sidewalk construction program may require more than voluntary action on the part of property owners and that special assessment districts may be required.

At the suggestion of Smyczynski, the entire matter of snow removal and sidewalk construction is to be studied further by the council.

SEATED at the desk of his great grandfather is Brent Babcock, who opened his law practice in Tawas City last week and was appointed assistant prosecuting attorney for Iosco County. The unique desk, owned by his brother, Carl B. Babcock Jr., at the Iosco Abstract Office, was once used by his great grandfather, Nicholas Hartingh, in the Hatch and Cooley law office at Bay City and later brought here by Hartingh when he set up his law practice. Perhaps the only one of its kind now in existence, used in the days before typewriters and carbon paper, it is a stenographer's copy desk enabling two persons to work at the same time.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Brent Babcock Follows in Law Footsteps of Ancestor

On January 14, Brent Babcock followed in the footsteps of an ancestor three generations removed when he, an attorney, set up office in the Iosco County Abstract Office.

Babcock's great grandfather, Nicholas C. Hartingh, was admitted to the Bay County Bar in 1823. In 1827, Hartingh moved to Tawas City and established his law practice and abstract office.

Hartingh's transportation to Bay City in the furthest of his practice and for family shopping in the 1880s—the peak of the lumbering era—was by means of the family sailboat, which he tied to lumber rafts being towed down Saginaw Bay to mills along the Saginaw River.

Hartingh was engaged in the abstract business and the practice of law until his death in 1950 at the age of 91 years. In addition to being one of the state's oldest practicing attorneys and abstractors, he had served for many years as circuit court stenographer.

(Hartingh was joined in the operation of the abstract business by Carl B. Babcock Sr., who has since passed away. It is now operated by Carl B. Babcock Jr., brother of Brent.)

"I had considered the possibility of practicing in Detroit, but found the attraction of this year-around resort area incomparable to the concrete, pollution and paranoia of the city," said Brent, who only last month successfully passed the state bar examination and was admitted to practice as attorney-at-law.

In a simple ceremony held last week in the chambers of Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, Babcock was sworn in as assistant prosecuting attorney for the county, replacing Timothy K. Weaver, who left this part-time position to devote all of his time to private practice.

Babcock, who was born in Tawas City and spent most of his life here before leaving for school to work toward his law degree, will engage in private practice in conjunction with performing his duties as assistant prosecuting attorney.

Delay AuSable Park Transfer for Possible Federal Money

Turning over the AuSable River Mouth Park to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, approved last year by both the state and the Iosco County Board of Commissioners, is to be delayed, according to action taken at last Wednesday's commission meeting.

Principal reason for the delay, say commissioners, is to take advantage of additional federal funds which are becoming available.

It was reported that a $130,500 improvement project is on tap for the park through waterway commission funds.

The Michigan State Waterways Commission is requesting the state legislature to appropriate $58,725 for phase II of the AuSable River Mouth Park project. This will require a local contribution of $6,525. An application to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation would be for $65,250, making a total project funding capability of $130,500.

In other business, Wilbur C. Roach, airport manager, was authorized to attend a seminar on airports to be held January 29-31 at DesPlains, Illinois.

Roach told commissioners that a recent survey had indicated that an expansion plan for the airport was feasible. He said that the federal contribution for such projects had been raised to 75 percent, with the remaining 25 percent to be shared equally by state and local governments. He believes that the Upper Great Lakes Region has funds available for purchase of land and thought this would reduce or balance out the local share.

Named as an emergency medical service committee were Comm. Carl Libka, Donald Miner of Tawas Hospital, Raymond Knuth of the Oscoda-AuSable Police Department and Sheriff George Westcott. The committee is part of the East Central Michigan Comprehensive Health Planning Council, which has been given legislated responsibilities for review and comment on health facility construction, capital expenditure reimbursement under the federal Social Security Act and emergency medical services system grants to local communities.

The commission authorized payment of $10,000 to Tawas Chamber of Commerce and Oscoda-AuSable Chamber of Commerce for compensation of the combined executive director. An expenditure of $1,500 was authorized to East Michigan Tourist Association, both to be charged to the county advertising account.

Authorization was given to the sheriff's department to purchase radio equipment from Motorola Corporation at a total cost of $18,559, of which $3,382 would be from local funds and the remainder from the office of criminal justice programs.

The commission authorized payment of $5,000 to the City of Whittemore upon completion of its recreation area. The project is to be supervised by the parks and recreation commission.

Merton F. Killey was reappointed to the county road commission and Henry M. Conley was named to the county board of public works.

Approval was given to the appointment last week of Brent Babcock as assistant prosecuting attorney.

Payment of $1,176.96 to Charles Burke, representing one-half of accumulated sick leave, was paid upon his retirement from the sheriff's department.

Crash Injuries Fatal Jan. 20 for Barry Nelkie

Barry Nelkie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nelkie of Tawas City, died Sunday afternoon, January 20, as the result of head injuries suffered in an automobile accident in October 1973 near his Thomson, Georgia, home. Funeral services will be held Wednesday (today), January 23, in Georgia.

Friends may send cards to his wife at Route No. 2, Box 209H, Thomson, Georgia 30824.

Storm Drain Study OK'd at East Tawas

East Tawas Council authorized its engineering consultant, Spicer Engineering Company, to start a storm drain study for central and western portions of the city.

The engineering study, to cost $908, would determine the direction for future construction of storm sewers in the study area.

In other business, the council authorized installation of a telephone in the city library and approved purchase of drapes for the offices of the chief of police and city clerk.

A report was given by Joseph Badalucco, park manager, on a meeting held at Alpena last week concerning future participation by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources in local park funding.

Mayor Robert Boen signed a proclamation designating the week of January 27 as March of Dimes Week. The program seeks to prevent birth defects.

(Read Mark 10:13-16)

It is by his grace you are saved, through trusting him; it is not your own doing. (Ephesians 2:8)

Many Christians are burdened through a misconception of the faith. They equate faith with earning their relationship with God by good deeds. Such a faith will not bring a life of freedom and joy because His redeeming presence and love are not earned but are gifts to be received.

By His example and in His teaching, Jesus gave us many illustrations depicting the kind of trust and faith which lays claim upon the saving grace of God for our lives.

Jesus said that we need the trust of a little child to be a member of His kingdom; not childish or foolish faith. He made it plain that the Father would respond to this kind of trusting faith.

In the Garden, Jesus' deeper prayer was for His Father's will and way, even if this meant death. The resurrection is testimony to His faith and to the Father's faithfulness.

Praise God! We do not have to earn His love and grace. Childlike trust and commitment will insure His grace and presence.

FATHER, give each of us the trusting faith of a child and an obedient commitment of Thy Son that we may be channels through which Your grace may flow. Amen.

County Operation Exceeded Budget, but Treasury Again Shows Surplus

Rolling along on the crest of increasing revenues, Iosco County again exceeded its general fund budget during 1973—but a year-end treasury surplus bailed the county board of commissioners out of possible financial difficulty.

County Treas. Edward Nelkie urged commissioners Wednesday to be prepared for a leveling off of revenues during 1974, following five consecutive years in which revenues totaled more than what had been anticipated.

Because of the projected national economic slowdown, the treasurer believes that state income tax returned to Iosco during 1974 will be lower this year and fees collected by county officers could see a sharp reduction.

Nelkie, who accurately predicted year-end general fund surpluses during the past two years, but apparently was ignored at budget time, was invited by the board of commissioners' finance committee to assist in preparations of the 1974 budget. He said Wednesday that this year's budget was realistic and should not be "too far off" at the end of the year.

Of real concern to the treasurer, however, is the ever increasing cost of county operation. Last October, the commission adopted a budget of $1,046,798, which compared to a preliminary budget of $1,025,698 adopted in April.

The treasurer was emphatic when he told commissioners Wednesday that his office would refuse to issue checks on accounts which exceed budgets during 1974. "Department heads are asked to prepare realistic budgets and there is no reason why a few cannot come up with a budget with which they can live," said Nelkie.

In addition, he said that the state auditor's office had warned in the past that department budgets legally cannot be exceeded unless a transfer from the general fund is authorized by commissioners.

"Unless we do something to keep budgets under control, the county may run into financial difficulty in a short time," said Nelkie.

During the past five years, Iosco has been able to keep pace with sharply increasing operational costs through annual increases in revenue. In 1969, revenue totaled $530,050, or an increase of $76,159 over the previous year. In 1970, revenue jumped to $675,382, an increase of $145,332. A mild increase was noted in 1971, when revenue totaled $725,023, an increase of $49,641, but total receipts jumped to $895,804 in 1972 for an increase of $170,780.

Counties were benefited greatly when the state income tax was adopted and increased revenue each year parallels that source. In addition, fees received from county offices have increased sharply, reflecting county growth as well as the national economy.

Last year, the county commission budgeted $892,802 as the projected revenue and actually received $993,224, an increase of $100,422. Of this amount, fees collected by county officers had been projected at $185,672 and the actual amount received was $237,921. State income tax return had been budgeted at $100,000 and the actual return was $134,113.

Fees collected included $41,400 from the clerk's office, $52,544 from district court, $3,967 from the equalization department, $3,369 from the probate judge's office, $50,544 from the register of deeds, $16,485 from the sheriff's department and $69,609 from the treasurer's office.

With the $892,802 figure budgeted by the commission in October 1972 for 1973 county operation and a $100,422 increase in budgeted revenue, the county commission authorized spending of $993,224 during the year, which exceeded its adopted budget by $7,425. The general fund balance sheet at the end of the year showed total revenue and expenditures for the year balanced at $1,079,373.76.

The difference in the above totals reflects actual cash on hand. The county ended 1973 with a cash balance of $22,338 and the general fund surplus has now grown to $125,221.

An analysis of all funds indicates that the county has a bank balance of $289,252, which includes some commingled state funds in various accounts but considered to be included in the county's over-all balance by the state auditor.

Other funds included in the above balance include $62,009 in the social welfare account, $1,499 in marine safety, $7,500 in bridge escrow, $9,435 in child care, $37,414 in county parks, $110 in veteran's relief, $21,350 in county planning commission, $1,026 in veteran's trust, $750 in county law library, $9,285 in regional library, $3,642 in county airport and $881 in the revolving fund.

Of the $289,252 fund balance, the treasurer has invested $250,000 in interest-bearing certificates of deposit with local banks. This interest goes to the general fund.

In addition to the above fund balances, the county has $100,000 in federal revenue sharing money invested in certificates of deposit. Federal revenue sharing money is maintained in a separate account according to regulations and is not included in the regular county receipts. Iosco had receipts of $274,579 under federal revenue and expended $289,017 during 1973.

An analysis of expenditures in the various funds for 1973 indicated that the department of social welfare had revenue of $674,491 and expenditures of $649,777 (includes operation of medical care facility); marine safety had revenue of $8,957 and expenditures of $13,510; child care had revenue of $22,900 and expenditures of $25,215; county parks had revenue of $344,690 and expenditures of $312,081;

Planning commission escrow had revenue of $5,000 and expenditures of $5,100; veteran's trust had revenue of $2,545 and expenditures of $2,080; county law library had revenue of $2,250 and expenditures of $1,538; regional library had revenue of $81-

166 and expenditures of $85,796; Iosco County Airport had revenue of $12,156 and expenditures of $7,366. In concluding his annual report, Nelkie urged the county commission to "work more closely" with the treasurer's office. "We are open, ready and willing to work with you," said Nelkie.

MICHIGAN Consolidated Gas Company's latest entry into the literary field, "Do-It-Yourself Insulation Handbook," may not thrill the critics, but it is "going to save a lot of people money," said James J. LaHaye, left, manager of the Tawas area office. Looking over the free 32-page booklet with LaHaye is Benson Beck as he explains the company's program to encourage its customers to install ceiling insulation in their homes as a way to hold down fuel bills and conserve natural gas. The illustrated booklet, available at all company offices and many insulation retailers, describes the various types of insulation and how to install them, safety tips and other ways to reduce fuel consumption through winterizing. Michigan Consolidated also offers to act as the contractor and finance ceiling insulation installed by cooperating subcontractors.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Duckling quarters prepared in the Spanish style accurately reflects the flavor of the region. Baked with carrots, celery, and onion and stuffed olives, delicious duckling provides an aura of Old World elegance for an incomparable experience in dining.

Available all year in supermarket frozen meat display cases, duckling is easy to prepare and serve. For your convenience, the National Duckling Council suggests that you always keep a brace of fresh frozen duckling in your freezer.

- Spanish Style Duckling Quarters
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 frozen duckling (4½ to 5½ pounds) defrosted and quartered | 1 cup sliced celery |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1 cup sliced onion |
| ½ teaspoon paprika | 1 clove garlic, finely minced |
| ¼ teaspoon pepper | 1 cup tomato juice |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | ½ bay leaf |
| 1 cup sliced carrots | ½ cup sliced stuffed olives |
| | 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms |

Wash, drain and dry duckling quarters. Combine and mix ½ teaspoon salt, paprika and pepper; sprinkle evenly over both sides of duckling quarters. Place quarters, skin side up, in shallow roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) until meat is almost tender, about 1½ hours.

Melt butter or margarine; add carrots, celery, onion and garlic; cook until onion is limp. Add tomato juice and bay leaf. Cover and cook slowly until vegetables are tender, about 20 minutes. Add olives and mushrooms. Drain excess fat from roasting pan. Pour vegetable mixture around duckling quarters. Cover with aluminum foil, crimping to edges of pan. Return to oven. Continue baking until meat is tender, about 30 minutes. Serve with noodles or spaghetti. Yield: 4 servings.

State to Trim Snow Plowing On Low-Traveled Highways

To reduce fuel consumption and hold down fast-rising costs, the state highway commission has modified its "bare pavement" policy of winter maintenance on the state's less-traveled highways.

The commission approved a plan which will keep all 9,250 miles of state highways plowed and passable at all times during snowstorms. However, the pavement of highways having average daily traffic volumes of less than 3,500 vehicles may not be kept entirely bare if they become snow-covered in the late afternoon or at night.

Said John P. Woodford, director of state highways and transportation:

"This is only a moderate change in our previous system of attempting to keep all pavement clear from shoulder to shoulder at all times. We will be reducing night-time maintenance during snowstorms on some highways, both as a fuel-conserving and cost-cutting measure."

Snow and ice control on state highways runs more than 15-million dollars in an average winter and might top 17-million dollars in a severe winter. Department maintenance engineers estimated the new policy would save 780,000 gallons of fuel in an average winter, a reduction of about 17 percent in normal usage.

"The fuel savings could be significant, considering that the average-sized maintenance truck gets only two miles to the gallon while it is being used to clear snow off a highway," Woodford said.

The new policy provides for continuation of the 24-hour, bare-pavement policy on the 3,200 miles of state highways carrying average traffic volumes of more than 3,500 vehicles a day. This includes nearly all the freeways and many other heavily traveled highways. Maintenance workers will attempt to keep a center strip of pavement six to eight feet wide bare at all times on highways carrying between 1,000 and 3,500 vehicles in an average day. These total more than 3,400 miles.

Highways carrying fewer than 1,000 vehicles—totaling nearly 2,700 miles—will be kept plowed and passable but may be snow covered until maintenance crews go to work in the morning after a storm.

"These levels of maintenance will be sustained 24 hours a day, regardless of whether night work is required," Woodford said. "All we are doing is modifying our policy of attempting to keep all pavement bare on all state highways at all times."

"In view of the energy crisis, we think this is a necessary approach to winter maintenance of state highways," he stated.

21 ways to conserve fuel and money in your home.

The energy shortage in Michigan is for real.

Our supply of heating fuel will be less this year, and we must take steps to make it last all winter. If we each cut back just a little, there should be sufficient energy for everyone.

Things you can do that don't cost money:

1. Turn down your thermostat 2 degrees every other day, until you find the least temperature at which you can be comfortable. (You may be surprised to find that it is below 70 degrees.)
2. Turn down your thermostat at night (and during the day also if everyone is away all day).
3. Close doors and turn off heat to unused areas of home.
4. Close drapes and pull shades at night.
5. Change furnace air filter at least once a month to maintain efficiency.
6. "Balance" system by regulating heat directed to each room (to eliminate a waste of heat in "hot" areas of home).
7. Open shades and drapes on sunny days.
8. Do not hold open outside doors for conversation.
9. Clear all obstructions away from registers and grilles, such as drapes, rugs, chairs, etc., which would restrict air movement.
10. Close fireplace damper when not in use.
11. Turn down your thermostat when away for the weekend or on vacation.
12. Wear heavier clothing at home.

Things you can do that will cost money now, but will more than pay for themselves later:

13. Have heating equipment checked, cleaned, and adjusted for top efficiency by a qualified serviceman.
14. Add insulation in ceiling and walls.
15. Add storm windows and storm doors to your home.
16. Caulk cracks around window and door frames, or any other small openings to the outside.
17. Add a humidifier. Extra humidity brings a feeling of warmth at a lower temperature.
18. Add weather-stripping around doors and windows.
19. Insulate heating pipes or ducts where they run through unheated attics or crawl spaces.
20. Modernize old heating system by replacement with newer, more efficient equipment.
21. Add a clock-thermostat to adjust your heat automatically.

Some special conservation practices for use in commercial and public buildings:

- Turn down temperature in lobbies and other public places.
- Schedule evening meetings into a single heated zone of larger buildings.
- Operate ventilation to the outside on a timed schedule instead of continuously.
- Open blinds and drapes on sunny days.
- Install automatic door closers.
- Control heat by zones, and turn down heat to unused areas.
- Use partitions to isolate areas open to the outside (shipping area with open doors, etc.).

Some estimates of how much you might save on your heating budget:

Whether you heat with gas, fuel oil, or electricity, heating experts estimate that you may be able to save anywhere from 10% to 50% on your present heating efficiency.

Mrs. Coughlin Heads Mothers' March of Dimes

Newly-appointed Iosco County March of Dimes Mothers' March chairman is Mrs. R. T. (Freda) Coughlin of Tawas City. Mrs. Coughlin and her husband, who are parents of two sons, own and operate Red Lodge Resort and Locksmith Shop.

Prevention of birth defects is the goal of the National Foundation March of Dimes. Every year, about 250,000 American babies are born damaged in some way. Prenatal care, genetic counseling, emphasis on rubella immunization, a serum that prevents the RII blood disease in newborns and research into the basic causes of birth disorders are all part of the March of Dimes' efforts to assure each newborn of his right to a healthy start in life.

Iosco County chapter offers local patient aid services as well as professional and public health education. Contributions to the Mothers' March, the annual appeal held this year on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 28-30, help support March of Dimes programs in prenatal medicine. Mrs. Coughlin urges community concern for the one-a-year neighborhood drive on behalf of children's health. Volunteers are needed to handle the many duties and work hours required for a successful campaign.

"Please call 362-4371 for details," she urges. "It is easy to take health for granted unless you are among the one-quarter-million infants stricken with birth defects every year in the United States. Then, you are denied this assurance. Joining in the Mothers' March puts your personal stamp of approval on the efforts of scientists, physicians and health professionals who are confronting this challenge to our nation's well-being."

Foust-White Marriage Rites Performed at Hale Church

Hale United Methodist Church was the scene of the double ring ceremony Saturday, January 19, uniting in marriage the former Gloria White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis White of Whittemore, and Frederick Foust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foust of Rose City.

The bride descended the aisle in a tiered lace gown, accented with sequins and miniature pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and blue tinted roses.

Miss Murringer, maid of honor, wore a pale blue chiffon gown with blue velvet bodice.

James Foust acted as best man. Ferd Greve Jr. seated the guests.

For their children's wedding, Mrs. White and Mrs. Foust wore long gowns with corsages of white carnations and a miniature red rose.

Following a two-week trip in Northern Michigan and Ohio, the new Mr. and Mrs. Foust will reside in Germany, where he will serve with the United States Air Force.

In preparation of its year-end financial statement last week, Peoples State Bank inadvertently omitted the name of John A. Mielock from the list of its board of directors. John D. Lippert, the bank's chief executive officer, said Monday that the omission was most embarrassing to bank personnel as Mielock is the senior member of the board of directors.

Most electricity is generated by coal. But as demand increases during the day, oil-burning plants have to pick up the increased load. State Offers Bus for $1; Local Area to Study Shuttle Run Possibilities

Feasibility of the establishment of public bus transportation between the Tawas and Oscoda is to be studied by local government officials, according to a report Monday night by City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz of Tawas City.

Bublitz said he received a call from Lansing last week asking: "How would you like a bus for $1?" He said the state is currently using this method to encourage expansion of bus service to northern resort areas during the energy crunch and would make available a 15-passenger bus for shuttle runs in this area. The matter has been turned over to the chamber of commerce for study.

In other business, final action on street easements from Consumers Power Company for closing portions of streets at its proposed new electrical substation has been tabled until a special meeting Tuesday, January 22. Tentative approval of the closing of portions of three streets, Huron, Ottawas and River Streets, had been given by the council on October 29 following a public hearing. The approval was subject to adoption of two easements by the power company, which would allow widening of Oak Street by 17 feet and a 66-foot easement on the east side of the firm's property to guarantee continuance of a trail as a public street. The two easements were presented by Gordon Huck, area manager for the power company.

The council authorized an application from Tawas Chamber of Commerce which seeks permission from the state highway department to hold a parade on US-23 during the Perchville USA Festival.

A proposal was read from E. C. Deal Associates concerning an appraisal of city buildings and equipment for insurance purposes. The matter was tabled in order to determine if a local person might be qualified to handle the work.

The council adopted a resolution and Mayor John Brugger proclaimed the week of January 27 as March of Dimes Week in Tawas City.

The city manager reported on his attendance at a meeting last week called by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources concerning methods of improving local recreational programs.

A January 17 letter from the DNR's regional fisheries office at Recommon stated that the Tawas City Park dock rebuilding program had been given tentative approval for an allocation of $15,000 as the state's share in the program. The state money would come from Dingell-Johnson Habitat Development program, the same fund used in cost sharing for the stabilization and fishing wall project along Ninth Avenue.

Before any further action can be taken, the city council must decide if it is going to authorize an engineering study to determine the total cost of the project. It has been proposed that the dock be enclosed by walls of treated wood similar to that used on city bridges and the dock capped with a surface of blacktop.

Each member of the council received an informational report prepared by the city manager concerning establishment of project priorities during 1974. The city manager said that the council would have to bear in mind the possibility that state sales tax and income tax returns to the city could show a decrease this year due to energy and economical problems.

Although not listed in order of priority, projects and construction considerations listed by the city manager included blacktop streets, footbridge placement over Dead Creek, storm sewer plans, park dock construction, city hall docks and wiring, fire truck radios, property purchases, street light updating program, US-23 street light program, equipment replacement program tennis courts, commercial trash pickup, Tawas River mouth marina, sidewalk replacement and new construction, bridges over Tawas River at Whittemore Street and Sixth Avenue, three special assessment sewer districts.

Tawas area sewer study report, secondary sewage treatment, water loan from Farm and Home Administration for improvements, additional city hall secretary.

Discussion on the feasibility of these and other projects is to be considered at future council meetings.

Cities Get Funding from GTF to Buy Rehabilitated Buses

The state highway commission has approved reallocation of 1.33-million dollars from Michigan's new General Transportation Fund (GTF) for rehabilitation or purchase of used buses.

The money will be distributed to 10 local and regional transportation agencies under provisions of recently passed state legislation designed to deal with the energy crisis. The bill authorizes the commission, with the approval of the governor, to reallocate unobligated money from the GTF for an energy emergency public transportation program.

"Existing fuel shortages and fuel rationing, if imposed, will create heavy demand for public transportation services," said E. V. Erickson, commission chairman. "Since bus manufacturers are unable to meet the current demand for new vehicles, the best alternative is to recondition used buses and purchase others still in good condition and put them into immediate service."

Tawas Area Bandsmen and Director Prepare for Dist. All-Star Band Concert

Fourteen Tawas Area Senior Band members were selected to participate in the District IX All-Star Band, which is to present its annual concert Sunday, January 27, 3:00 p. m., at Ogemaw Heights High School.

Gene Salamony, director of Tawas Area Senior Band, has been named "teacher of the year" by District IX of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and is to conduct the all-star band.

District schools were asked to select 10 outstanding students for possible selection for all-star band. A committee then chose students from this combined list to fill the instrumentation of the band.

Students were chosen for their musical ability and over-all band attitude.

Students from Arenac Eastern,

AuGres-Sims, Atlanta, Beaverton, Clare, Gladwin, Hale, Harrison, Hillman, Houghton Lake, Oscoda, Ogemaw Heights, Standish-Sterling and Whittemore-Prescott Area are included in the band.

Representatives from Tawas Area will be Betsy Lamb, Mary Thornton, Michele Barc, Patti Sheehan, Sarah Alexander, Jackie McKinney, Beth Helmer, Diane Coleman, James Whitman, Loa Russell, Warner Palmer, Kevin Luedtke, Beth Hackborn and Carol Hewitt.

The first rehearsal and seating for this year's concert was held January 5 and the next meeting will be on January 26, when the band will have a full day of rehearsals and sectionals at Ogemaw Heights.

Salamony is the second person to be honored as "teacher of the year" by the district. Last year, Lloyd Conley of Clare Junior High School was singled out for the honor.

Currently president of the 1,100-member Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, Salamony is a graduate of Duquesne University with bachelor of science and master degrees in music education. He has served as district treasurer and president, as well as serving as vice president and treasurer of NSBOA before becoming its current president.

Salamony has directed summer band at the University of Wisconsin and will conduct a band at Michigan State University this summer.

The public is welcomed and encouraged to attend the January 26 concert. Band members will be guests at West Branch homes and a pool party is planned for the band at the high school swimming pool.

GENE SALAMONY, Tawas Area High School Senior Band director, was named "teacher of the year" by District IX of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and will direct the all-star band during its concert January 27 at Ogemaw Heights High School. Dentists Warn Against Use of Extra Fluoride Tablets

Although stating they were "highly pleased" with the news of water fluoridation in the Tawas, six local dentists this week warned East Tawas and Tawas City parents not to give children any additional fluoride in vitamin or mineral tablets.

Dentists urged the continued use of recommended toothpastes containing fluoride in brushing teeth twice a day. The dentists also urged parents to enroll children in the summer fluoride program as well as having them get regular dental care.

The joint communication from dentists said that children should be limited on the amount of food and drink containing sugar. "Even with all of this fluoride," they said, "a good diet is necessary to prevent 100 percent of all tooth decay."

Dentists said that although the results will not show up for several years, "the benefits will remain permanent afterwards through fewer cavities and fewer fillings or extractions, with a much greater possibility of these children keeping all of their teeth all of their lives."

Adding fluoride to a municipal water supply, which is often a controversial subject and was rejected by East Tawas voters in 1964, was authorized by a vote of the people last year.

Equipment necessary to add this treatment recently went into use at the East Tawas water filtration plant, which furnishes the water supply for both cities.

Cavaliers Beat Braves to Take NBC Top Spot

Carrollton's Cavaliers took over undisputed possession of first place in the Northern B Conference Friday night with a 62-54 win over the Tawas Area Braves. The Cavaliers are undefeated in six conference games and it was the first loss for Tawas in six NBC contests.

While the loss was a disappointing one for the Braves, Tawas' great defensive play during the night proved that the usually crumpling offense of Carrollton, seemingly the perennial favorite to win the NBC championship and a team which racked up more than 100 points in one previous game this season, can be stopped. Concentration on defense, however, can be costly for a Carrollton opponent as the Cavaliers, too, are tough defenders.

Only the lack of a little extra scoring punch in the second and fourth quarters, coupled with several costly turnovers late in the game, cost the Braves their shot at upsetting one of the state's class B powers.

In order to get another chance at knocking off the Cavaliers for a possible share of the NBC title, Tawas must return to its winning ways in the second half of the season for the final meeting between the two teams March 1. The Braves are hoping that the familiar confines of their home floor will make the difference.

In an extremely well-played game on the winners' home hardwood, both teams utilized a press defense which eliminated the possibility of either team running up a big score. Tawas was effective in using variations of the press throughout the night while the Cavaliers resorted to a full court press in the fourth quarter to stop a surging third quarter offensive attack by the Braves.

Mark Blazejewski, Carrollton sharpshooter, meshed the first basket of the night for either team and it was his 15-point offensive effort during the first half, 11 of those points coming in the opening quarter, which provided the biggest problem for Tawas defenders. Mark Jaremba contributed two buckets and Larry Wilburn meshed one to put Carrollton out in front, 17-13, at the end of the first eight minutes of play. Tawas' scoring was scattered among four players with Larry Nichols leading the tribe with six points. Steve Cline, turning in a good defensive game but sidelined with five fouls later in the fourth quarter, meshed his only two buckets of the night in the opening quarter.

Stiff defensive play by both teams again contributed to a low-scoring second quarter, but Carrollton upped its margin to seven points at intermission, 30-23. Terry Nichols took up the offensive slack for Tawas in that quarter with five points when his twin brother, Larry, was blanked by the Cavaliers.

Randy Scales meshed the opening basket to start the second half and the Braves roared off to their best offensive quarter of the night. The Braves took over the lead on Larry Nichols' field goal, 39-38, with less than three minutes remaining in the quarter, but Blazejewski's charity toss and field goal shortly before the buzzer put Carrollton ahead to stay, 41-39.

Kowalewski meshed a two-pointer as the Cavaliers converted their only opening tipoff of the night, but two straight foul shots by Scales brought Tawas back to within two points of the Cavaliers. In a fast exchange of seven baskets, two of Tawas' coming from the hot hand of Mickey Haglund, Carrollton gained the advantage with four, but Larry Nichols meshed two straight foul shots and the Braves again pulled within two points of the Cavaliers, 51-49, with about four minutes remaining in the game.

Blazejewski meshed a bucket, Tawas missed a foul shot and Blazejewski put Carrollton ahead, 55-49, with another two-pointer. Mooney then converted one of two charity tosses to make the score, 55-50. The pace quickened as each team tried to break their opponents' full court press, but the Braves missed two good shots and had a couple of costly turnovers before Carrollton called time out with two minutes, 24 seconds remaining in the game.

Carrollton began running the clock out with a deliberate passing attack and Tawas was not able to reach the scoreboard again until one minute was left in the game when Scales meshed two straight foul shots to close the gap to 55-52. Both Larry Nichols and Cline fouled Kowalewski in the act of shooting on two separate plays and the Cavalier meshed four straight foul shots to put Carrollton in front, 58-52. Haglund hit the hoop for Tawas' last field goal of the night and, with less than 25 seconds remaining, Green zeroed in on Carrollton's basket for a charity toss and a field goal to complete the scoring. Carrollton had three players in double figures. Blazejewski was tops
