

Judge on State Committee

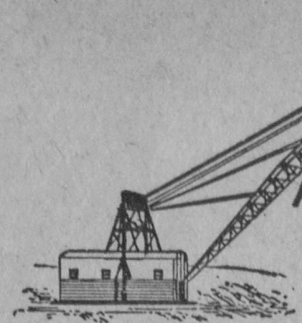

Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller of East Tawas was elected to the family law section of the State Bar of Michigan at the midwinter conference Saturday, March 2, at the Detroit Hilton Hotel. The new 21-member council was created to place additional emphasis on pressing family problems.

Bylaws adopted Saturday state the purpose, in part, as follows: "To promote through the State of Michigan the education of members of the bar and the public on the problems relating to the family by sponsoring meetings, institutes and conferences devoted to such problems."

Judge Miller is the only representative of Northern Michigan on the council. He was elected for a two-year term.

Beginning Monday, March 4, Judge Miller has been presiding in Midland County on assignment of the court administrator to reduce the civil case backlog caused by the illness of Judge Rood. The assignment is for a two-week period.

City to Study Possible Use of DPW Equipment and Crew on Sewer Work

After months of study and public hearings, final action has been taken by the Tawas City Council in legal establishment of three special assessment tax districts to finance construction of 10,400 feet of sanitary sewers.

The council adopted its fifth and final resolution establishing the districts and the city is now to make application to the Municipal Finance Commission for permission to sell special assessment bonds in the amount of $244,121.68 and general obligation bonds of $60,878.12 to finance the city's share of the project.

The three districts are located in the Spring Street-River Street area, from the Hobby Lot to Hale Street along the north side of US-23 and the US-23 - Margo Street area.

As the result of discussion at Monday night's council meeting, the city manager is to study the possibility of the city's department of public works handling a major portion of this construction project.

Property owners attending recent hearings on establishment of special assessment districts to finance the construction had suggested such a possibility and the proposal was again suggested Monday night by Fred Wright of 419 Birch Street.

Wright, who said he had worked on the original sewer construction during WPA days, believed that the upcoming construction project would offer an excellent opportunity for the city to purchase heavy equipment for use on this construction as well as for proposed construction of storm sewers.

He reiterated what others had said earlier concerning the availability of local manpower to work on the sewer construction project, due to current job layoffs in local industry and downstate automotive plants.

Possible construction by the DPW had been discussed by the water board and council when plans were originally formulated to undertake sewer construction this year. At the time, however, it was felt that the proposed project would be too large for the city DPW to handle.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that the DPW had constructed several sewer projects in the past, but had never undertaken a project of this size. Some of the special problems to be considered would be financing of additional heavy equipment, supervision of construction and actual availability of experienced local manpower. A particular problem to be encountered in the Spring Street-River Street project would be the 18-foot depth of the sewer at some points. He said that regardless of the outcome of his study, boring under the river would still be a contract job as purchase of specialized equipment needed for this project would be out of the question.

Mayor John N. Brugger said that the city had constructed sanitary sewers in the past and that the question would be placed before engineering consultants when they meet with the council next Monday night.

The DPW had two major sewer construction projects in the 1960s, one to serve the Bay Drive area and the other along Harris Avenue to serve Tawas Area High School. A number of sewer extensions have been constructed by the city crew.

Because of the saving in total construction cost by the DPW as opposed to contracting, the city purchased a dragline in the early 1950s for work on sewers. One of the major points now to be considered is the feasibility of taking the present city crew off its regular work schedule and engaging it in a major sewer construction project.

Next Monday night's special meeting had been called to meet with engineers concerning possible construction of several much-needed storm sewers. Plans for the storm sewers have been completed and discussion would include the city's share of projects to be financed through special assessment districts.

A meeting would then be called in about two weeks to determine if residents in the proposed special assessment districts would be interested in the project. Because of current flooding conditions in the Fourth Avenue area, the discussion will be timely.

Jody Bissonnette of Hale Received Eagle Scout Award

A large representation of Hale area residents was on hand Sunday afternoon to witness a court of honor for the fourth young man in the community's history to achieve the Eagle Scout award—scouting's highest honor.

Honored was Jody A. Bissonnette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bissonnette. A member of Troop 990 at Hale since 1970, he has served the past year as junior assistant scoutmaster.

Jody joined the scout movement in September 1969 as a member of Troop 19, New Brunswick, New Jersey. He received the tenderfoot rank on November 13, 1969, and second class rank on March 11, 1970.

Accompanying his parents when the family moved to Hale, Jody received the first class rank on September 5, 1970; advanced to the star rank in January 1971, and continued up the scouting ladder with life rank in July 1971. He achieved the Eagle Scout rank on December 3, 1973.

As a member of Troop 990, he has served as assistant patrol leader, patrol leader, assistant senior patrol leader, senior patrol leader, junior assistant scoutmaster and is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

He earned a total of 39 merit badges during his work toward scouting's highest achievement.

Principal speaker during the court of honor program, held at St. Pius X Catholic Church, was Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, who spoke briefly on the history of scouting. He emphasized that fulfillment of the requirements for Eagle Scout rank was a great personal achievement for the individual as well as an outstanding achievement for the entire community.

Conducting the program were Duane Caverly, committee chairman; Harold Bannister, neighborhood commissioner; Ernest Yost, scoutmaster. Vocal musical selections were presented by Troop 990 and Perry Shellenbarger.

Presentation of the award was by James Frenthway, district scout executive, and James Slosser, former scoutmaster.

Three other young men have achieved the Eagle Scout rank as members of Troop 990: Bruce Scofield, Bruce Wilson and David Brumfield, none of whom were able to attend Sunday's ceremony. Persons participating in the ceremony, who achieved the Eagle Scout rank in other communities and are now residents of Hale, included Eugene Martin, New Hampshire; Peter McNichols, Michigan; the Rev. Raymond Bruce, Alabama; A. D. Penrod, Missouri.

Council OK's House Purchase; Snow Removal Topic Again

Tawas City Council voted unanimously Monday night to purchase an old house on Mathews Street for use as a possible public picnic area-fishing site.

Offered for sale by the Farm Home Administration, the city was given the first opportunity to purchase the property at a cost of $6,000.

The property, which has 80 feet of frontage along the Tawas River, is located adjacent to the new Mathews Street bridge. Construction of the new bridge last year had much to do with the council's interest in the property purchase as an approach sidewalk to the bridge had to be raised and construction of catwalks placed the bridge extremely close to private property for maintenance purposes.

The house on the property is one of the oldest structures in the community. Photographs from the 1860s indicate that the main portion was once used as a boot shop. Another old building moved to the site and connected to the structure was once used as a saloon.

As yet, the council has not made any definite plans for utilization of the property. Because of the structure's condition and the narrow 50-foot lot, the building probably will be removed.

In other business Monday night, the council said it had no objection to establishment of a class C liquor license in the former Lumbermen's Restaurant building on US-23, across from Boroch Real Estate. Lawrence Bohls, owner of the building, and Curtis Krake had sought city permission in January to make application to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for transfer of a license here. A study by the city planning commission indicated that the proposal met requirements of city ordinances.

The council is now considering a one-year contract being proposed whereby the sheriff's department would assume all city police functions. Annual contract cost would be $23,340 and the city would convey its present patrol car to county ownership. Any future contract would include an additional cost for the city's share of patrol car purchase.

At the present time, city police officers are members of the sheriff's department, but are paid by the city. Principal function of the sheriff's department now is to provide supervision and administration for the city department. If the new contract is accepted, the two officers would become members of the sheriff's department and pay would be based on the county schedule.

According to terms of the contract, work of the two officers would not be confined to the city limits. However, Sheriff George Westcott told councilmen Monday night that the new arrangement would provide 24-hour daily protection as a new county patrol would be established. In addition, the sheriff's department would handle enforcement of city ordinances and prosecution would still be handled by the city attorney.

The city's present contract with the sheriff's department expires in April.

Re-appointed to the tax board of review were Roy Bergeron, one year, and Donald Watson, three years. Both men had been elected as supervisors (tax assessing officers) under the old Fourth Class City Act and their terms had expired. The third member of the board of review is John Hosbach, who has two years remaining in his appointive term.

The council approved an appropriation of $400 for Tawas Chamber of Commerce representing dues and the cost of fireworks during 1974.

The council went on record as accepting its share of the total cost necessary for sending 15 to 20 ambulance driver-attendants to Kirtland Community College for specialized training. Tawas Hospital's ambulance service is financed through a cooperative arrangement with local units of government and the hospital.

It was reported that total cost of this special training would be approximately $1,000 and the city's share would be about $125. It was reported that such specialized training probably would become mandatory by the state and the move was necessary to qualify for federal aid to purchase new ambulances.

Ald. Robert N. Rollin again voiced his objection to use of city equipment and manpower in picking up snow which had been pushed off private property and onto city streets. Citing the Clark Service Station as a specific instance following the last storm, Rollin believed that the property owner should pay for this service. He said there were other instances, but did not name them.

Discussion on city snow removal policies has proven a stormy council topic throughout the winter. At its first meeting in February, the council authorized the department of public works to pick up piles of snow which had been removed from private business property which lacks adequate storage area. The council directed, however, that snow would be removed where necessary through judgment of the city manager.

Rollin told the council Monday night that, as a private citizen, he had complained to the highway department about possible misuse of state funds for removal of snow from private property. The city manager indicated that city funds had been used to remove snow in the specific instance cited by the alderman.

Rollin, who said he had no objection to snow removal if all property owners would be treated equally, said the city could expect an audit of its books by the state highway department.

Weight Limit Effective On County Roads

Effective Wednesday (today), March 6, at 12 o'clock noon, weight restrictions will be imposed on all blacktopped county roads in Iosco County until further notice. Loads are restricted to 75 percent or less of normal legal axle loading and are subject to lower limits at the discretion of the Iosco County Road Commission.

East Tawas Council Denies Two Zoning Variances

Two applications for non-conforming use of residential dwellings for commercial purposes were denied Monday night by the East Tawas Council. In one instance, the property owner has already established a commercial business on the property.

Applications denied included one by Dr. C. Hartley Collins for use of a residence owned by Thomas Quatbaum as an office. The second application denied was submitted by Kenneth Verlaac, who has established his real estate office in the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Gifford.

Contacted Tuesday morning, Verlaac said he had purchased the property with the understanding that commercial use would be allowed. He said that he had contacted a city official at the time concerning the matter and had been assured that use of the property for commercial purposes would be permissible.

At its last meeting, the city's planning commission took the opposite view and recommended that Verlaac not be allowed to replace a garage door with a plate glass window. In its official minutes, the planning commission questioned the credibility of the use of the building, "since there was no formal application for the non-conforming use of the property at the time it was established."

Until legalization of occupancy is established, the planning commission recommended that the occupancy permit be denied.

The planning commission has indicated that Verlaac's property, along with other frontage along Tawas Bay from the city park west, is designated for recreational use in the city's long-range master plan.

Verlaac said Tuesday morning that his next step apparently would be to petition the zoning board of appeals for non-conforming use of the property. The council had suggested that the property owner take this course of action.

In other business, the council adopted its final resolution establishing a special assessment district to finance purchase of the property known as the A&P parking lot for public use. In addition, the district would lease 3 1/2 lots from Christ Episcopal Church for parking purposes. Total cost of the project, to be financed by the special assessment district over a 15-year period, is approximately $150,000.

The council appropriated $142.50 as the city's share of a joint project with Oscoda Township to seek federal funds as the first step toward establishment of a central dispatching system for local police agencies. The project would finance purchase of a solid state four-channel communications system.

City Clerk Clyde Soper was authorized to enroll in a basic bookkeeping course to be offered April 4 to May 20. There would be 14 two-hour classes.

Final reading on the city's new offenses ordinance, prohibiting offenses against public order and decency, was waived and adoption is to take effect within 20 days.

Tentative approval was given to Tawas Area Promotions for use of Newman Street from the school to the Federal Building for next summer's Tawas Tourist Festival. A carnival would be located there during the program. The council said it invited comments from local residents concerning use of the street for this purpose.

WALLS OF Tawas Area High School Gymnasium were plastered with "spirit" posters Friday night with messages from the student body urging the Braves to upset the visiting Carrollton Cavaliers. The Braves were unable to turn the trick against the defending champion of the Northern B Conference and the Tawas squad

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

(Read Matthew 8:18-27)
Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him: and he shall bring it to pass. (Psalm 37:5)
Outside my window a red-breasted flycatcher has trustingly built a nest. The house is high on a cliff. Sometimes the bird forsakes its three eggs and takes off briefly in flight.
On the roadway far below a boy is pumping air into a deflated bicycle tire.
The difference is that the bird abandons itself to the air while the bicycle must have air pumped into the tires before it can be set in motion.

Faith should be the atmosphere of trust in which we move unafraid, not something we try to force into ourselves.

Faith is committing ourselves to God, confident of His upholding, sure that He will act.
This is what Jesus was asking of those who came saying they wanted to follow Him.

It was to be a forsaking of the props of an ordered existence, a challenge to act on what seemed risky but what was in reality the truest security.

PRAYER

O God, grant that we may be able to know and to do Your will in Your world for Your sake. Amen.

Evangelism In Classroom Was Major Topic

"Evangelism Through the Classroom" was the discussion topic for the annual workers' training study, concluded last week at the Assembly of God Church, East Tawas. "Teaching for Decision," by Richard L. Dresselhaus, was the textbook used for the study on basic evangelism techniques. Dresselhaus states in his book: "It is time for the church to take an honest look at what the Bible means by the new life in Christ and how it should be communicated in our day."

The study course consisted of two hours of study for five nights with the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Fairbanks each teaching one hour each night. Each one completing the study was issued a workers' training certificate from the National Sunday School Department of the Assemblies of God. Those receiving worker training certificates were Charles Fairfield, Ben Harris, Mary Draper, Sylvia Barker, Betty Day, Karol Day, Annabell Welcome, Margaret Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks.
Mr. Fairbanks states that the training course was very informative and profitable to the Sunday School staff.

Eastern Advances With Win Over Hale Eagles tournament with a 70-38 victory Monday night over the host Hale Area Eagles. The Eagles from Arenac Eastern will now go against Mio Wednesday night.

For Hale fans, it marked the end of a rather long season as the Eagles had a final record of only two wins and 19 losses during the slightly more than three-months of play. The disappointing showing came on the heels of one of the best in the school's history when the Eagles annexed the 1973 district crown.

The Eagles of both schools had a cold first half, but Arenac Eastern held a 13-6 margin at the end of the first quarter and outdistanced Hale, 12-11, in the second quarter. Hale Area was not out of the game at that point, but Arenac Eastern roared back with a 19-7 margin in the third quarter and topped the Western Isoco squad, 26-14, in the fourth quarter.

Top scorers for the winners were Bob Morgan, 17 points; Kevin Lynch and Bill Grusecki, 10 points each. Tyson Shellenbarger paced Hale with 15 points and Ernie Maas canned 12.

DANIEL WARNER, left, a member of C. and W. Pennsylvania. While at the center, he attended sessions in the service and repair of a wide variety of modern farm machinery.

Seek Support of Workshop-Activity Center

Iosco County Association for Retarded Children and Adults is working to develop strong community support for a sheltered workshop and work activity center for the handicapped people of Iosco County. This was the main theme of the Thursday, February 28, meeting of the association at the trainable center in Tawas City.

Floyd Smith of Alpena, director of Northeast Michigan Rehabilitation and Opportunity Center (NEM-ROC), reported that he has been contacting several community agencies and persons to develop the strong support of a group of local citizens who would supervise the establishment and operation of a workshop in the county. Smith has also investigated several optimistic funding sources for money necessary for a building, staff and work contract in Iosco County. Eighty percent funding is available from the government, while 20 percent must be raised through local community activities.

Gail Currell of Northeast Michigan Retardation Services, Alpena, was also present to show a film, entitled "Graduation," which depicted the problems of a young retarded man who had graduated from a local special education program and had no useful activities to do for lack of a nearby sheltered employment or day activities program.

Next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, March 28, at the trainable center. Details will be announced at a later date.

Petersen - Sandusky Vows Said at St. Joseph Church

Arrangements of white gladioli and pink carnations formed a floral background in St. Joseph Catholic Church, East Tawas, for the marriage Friday, March 1, of Suzann Sandusky and Charles Petersen.

The Rev. Fr. John Rushman performed the 8 o'clock, candlelight, double ring service. Dale Harwood was the organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sandusky of East Tawas. James Petersen of Farmington and Mrs. Harlow Riggs of East Tawas are parents of the bride-groom.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a full-length gown of white crepe over taffeta, bordered in satin ribbon and re-embroidered lace, with natural waistline, long sleeves, high collar and buttoned bodice. Her mantilla veil was secured with a round cap. She carried a spherical bouquet of pink roses, Stephanotis and baby breath.

Wearing an A-line, pink floral print gown with a tied waist was the bride's sister, Mrs. David Meyer, matron of honor. A pink veil and matching shoes completed her attire. Her flowers were identical to the bridal bouquet.

James Petersen Jr. served his brother as best man. Terry Sandusky, brother of the bride, and John Wiese seated the guests.

Pink and white carnations decorated St. Joseph Social Center for the reception, attended by 125 guests from Wayne, Westland, Lansing, Charlotte, Albion, Wayland, Grand Rapids, Big Rapids, Grand Ledge and Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Sandusky greeted guests in a coral, floor-length dress and jacket ensemble with white accessories. A powder blue, A-line, floor-length gown with silver accessories was Mrs. Riggs' choice. White orchids made up their corsages.

Following a week-end wedding trip through Northern Michigan, the newlyweds are residing at 608 East Bay Street, East Tawas. Both are 1971 graduates of Tawas Area High School and attend Ferris State College, Big Rapids.

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was hosted by Mrs. Erich Wiese and Sharon Regan.

A first division rating is defined, in part, as "an unusually high standard of performance and musicianship . . . worthy of the distinction of being recognized as a first place winner."

A I rating makes the band eligible to participate in the state festival, which will be held Saturday, April 27, at Flint.

1st Division Rating to Hale School Band

Hale Area High School Concert Band traveled to Clare Saturday to participate in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's District IX high school band festival.

This is the second consecutive year that Hale's concert band has received a first division rating at the class D level. In addition, this is the first year that the band received first division ratings from all four judges.

A first division rating denotes an exceptionally high standard of musicianship in performance and excellent mastery of musical skills. In a festival, participating bands perform according to set standards of musical performance, which varies slightly according to classifications.

All bands play a march and a required number, along with a selected concert number, before three judges. The band then plays a march and concert selection, which it has not previously seen, before a fourth judge. Each of the four judges evaluates the performance on a one to five scale, the concert room ratings being averaged with the sight ratings into one final rating.

The Hale band performed "Brighton Beach March," the required class D number, along with "Intra-da and Rondo," "Cortege" and "Fanfare."

Some of the comments of judges included:

Jack Pierson: "This band does a fine job of interpreting this music; a fine group and a knowing director; a great combination."

Edward Rima: "Nice opening, this band is in command of dynamics, phrasing and style of march; a very musical group with only minor flaws."

Victor Bordo: "Good looking band, attentive, well disciplined, well prepared and very musical; a pleasure to watch a fine conductor at work."

Terril Zylman: "Nice appearing band, a group which is attentive and responsive during sight reading; nice march style was attempted and a full sound was achieved."

Hale's first division rating entitles the band to participate in the state band festival to be held at Flint on Saturday, April 27.

The junior band festival, which was to have been held at Hale on February 23, was postponed due to a snowstorm. This event has been rescheduled for Saturday, March 16, at Hale.

Tawas Had the 'Spirit,' but Cavaliers Won NBC Trophy

It was "spirit week" at Tawas Area High School, but the Braves needed more than a gymful of posters to defeat one of the state's top class B teams. The visiting Carrollton Cavaliers won with surprising ease over the Braves, 83-55.

Closing out the 1973-1974 schedule, the Braves were looking to upset the Cavaliers and grab a slice of the NBC title. Tawas had played its best game of the season earlier at Carrollton where the Braves had suffered their only NBC loss—until Friday night.

After the first two minutes of play, the smooth-working Cavaliers made it quite clear which team was in command of the situation. The Carrollton squad never made a mistake after the first few minutes of play and unleashed a great passing attack. Added to this was almost unerring accuracy on shooting and the Cavaliers had a 17-10 margin at the end of the first eight minutes of play.

The scoring pace for both teams picked up in the second quarter, but Carrollton again came out on the long end with a 23-16 count. Down 40-26 at halftime, the Braves folded before the constant pressure brought to bear on them in the third quarter by Carrollton's great defense. Tawas' press defense, which proved so effective in the earlier meeting, was smashed by Carrollton's snappy passing attack and the visitors took a 19-5 scoring edge at the end of the third quarter.

Both teams saved the fourth quarter for scoring fireworks, each team meshing 24 points, but the Braves had fallen too far behind by the time both coaches substituted freely with less than three minutes remaining in the quarter.

The visitors had five players scoring in double figures with Blazejewski leading the way with 23 points on eight field goals and seven charity tosses. Larry and Terry Nichols paced the Tawas squad with 12 and 11 points, respectively.

The preliminary game was much more exciting for the capacity crowd jamming the Tawas gymnasium, but Carrollton came from behind to win over the Junior Braves, 65-58.

Tawas held a one-point margin, 13-12, at the end of the first quarter and then built up a substantial lead in the second quarter with a 21-15 margin.

Tawas was unable to work the ball toward the basket and suddenly went cold on its outside shooting in the second half and the Carrollton JV outscored the Junior Braves, 18-8, in the third quarter. Carrollton won going away with a 20-16 fourth quarter count.

Potts and Harvey paced the Tawas scoring attack with 19 points each. Others scoring for the losers were Gartland, seven points; Gotcher, six points; Parsons, five points; Hayden, two points. Carrollton had three players hitting in double figures with Weiss leading the pack with 24 points.

Lake Survey Center Lists 1974 Great Lakes Charts

Publication of the 1974 Great Lakes chart catalog was announced recently by the Lake Survey Center of the National Ocean Survey.

The catalog contains a price list of the 150 different charts issued by the facility, an agency of the Commerce Department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

The folded road-map-style catalog lists charts for the Great Lakes, Minnesota-Ontario Border Lakes, Lake Winnebago and the lower Fox River, New York canals, Lake Champlain and part of the St. Lawrence River.

Features include an outline of the areas each chart covers, chart scales, names and addresses of the Lake Survey's 300 sales agents, sales information, customs and excise regulations and measurements for connecting channels and locks. Split Rock Lighthouse, on Lake

In addition to the charts it compiles and publishes, the Lake Survey Center disseminates water level information and conducts various water research.

Copies of the free catalog can be obtained from the Lake Survey Center, 630 Federal Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Draft Lottery Numbers Set for Drawing

Young men born in 1955 will have their selective service lottery numbers drawn on March 20 during the sixth annual draft lottery to be held in Washington, it was announced today by Arthur A. Halmes, state director of selective service.

Michigan has approximately 75,000 19-year-olds who will have their lottery numbers established by this drawing. The present standby Selective Service System is required to continue to register and classify young men as a part of our defense preparedness program.

All young men are required to register under the draft law at the time of their 18th birthday. They are assigned their random sequence number through the lottery which is held in the year in which they become 19. They are potentially vulnerable to induction during the calendar year of their 20th birthday.

As a result of the lottery on March 20, some of the men born in 1955 will be placed in a class available for military service by their draft boards. This group will form a standby pool of "readily inductible" men during calendar year 1975. This group would be available to supplement the all-volunteer armed forces in event of a national emergency.

In Michigan, 18-year-olds can register at selective service offices or with volunteer registrars who are located in most high schools, colleges and other community centers.

Hospital Association to Match Federal Grant for New Radios

Tawas Hospital Association, an advisory organization composed of local business, professional and civic leaders which was instrumental in the original hospital construction here more than 20 years ago and has continued to supervise buildings and grounds, has announced it is sponsoring a new project to benefit the hospital.

The group's latest project is to supply the matching funds in the amount of $6,400 for purchase of the emergency medical communications radio system for the ambulance service.

The radio system will provide direct communication between ambulance attendants and professional personnel at the hospital. This could mean the difference between life and death for accident victims or in other emergency situations.

Professional advice can be given directly to the ambulance attendants at the scene and any change in the patient's condition enroute to the hospital. The new radio system would also alert the emergency room personnel as to the type of treatment for which to prepare.

The federal grant provides one-half of the total cost of the project and the association is to supply the other one-half of the funds necessary.

Association memorial envelopes are placed in the various funeral homes of the area where friends and relatives may make a donation toward hospital projects in lieu of flowers. A "thank you" note is sent to the donor and a note is also sent to the family stating that a donation has been made by this individual.

This is the association's only means of income other than the annual benefit dinner held each fall. Last October 20, the net proceeds from the eighth annual benefit dinner amounted to $1,180 from the attendance of 50 couples.

The association's history dates back to the early 1940s, when a group of citizens conceived the idea of building a hospital. After many long hours of planning and soliciting funds, Tawas Hospital was incorporated on August 28, 1946.

The first board of directors elected to serve for one year were John LeClair, president; William Parker, first vice president; Roy Hickey, second vice president; Smith, secretary; Lloyd McKay Sr., treasurer. Members included Karl Publitz, R. W. Elliott, H. E. Friedman, Harry Westrich, Wilton Finley, Myles, P. N. Thornton, K. Berkeley Smith, Joseph Allen and Harold Gould.

For the next four years, all members of the hospital board and many citizens of the area worked as solicitors to raise sufficient money to match a government grant. A women's auxiliary to the association was organized to provide additional assistance in raising money.

An application for federal aid was filed in September 1949 and the land on which the hospital stands was donated by Joseph Barkman.

On February 17, 1973, the hospital board adopted a resolution to convey the hospital and grounds to the Sisters of St. Joseph of Nazareth, under certain conditions prevailing for 25 years and, after that date, to be deemed entirely over to that order to be continuously operated as a general hospital.

After the hospital was formally turned over to the Sisters of St. Joseph for general operation and maintenance, the remaining task of landscaping and general overseeing of building and grounds, along with collection of past due pledges, became the main objective of the hospital association.

The original accounts have been settled, the landscaping properly developed, all parking facilities and driveways have been hard surfaced. The association has kept pace over the years with the hospital expansion with additional parking facilities and revamping of landscaping.

August 1971 marked the end of the original 25-year agreement and association members agreed to function in an advisory capacity to continue supervision of buildings and grounds.

MLA Director Gives Apology for Computer-Caused Errors

"An incorrect order to a computer has resulted in many unhappy and irritated Christmas Seal supporters and has caused embarrassment to the Michigan Lung Association," said Andrew W. Kovacs, executive director of the association, headquartered in Lansing.

Result of the error was that several thousand people who made a contribution before Christmas received a reminder saying there was no record of the contribution.

The association relies on a computer to do jobs that would take an army of paid staff or volunteers to do otherwise. Kovacs said the computer does exactly what it is told to do—no more, no less. Because of incorrect instructions, several thousand contributors received a letter that should not have been sent.

"It is just as embarrassing, and costly, to us as it is irritating to our supporters," said Kovacs. "We ask our contributors to forgive us."

"While apologizing to the many contributors we unintentionally offended, we would like to invite those who have overlooked their gift to send their contribution to Christmas Seals, 403 Seymour Avenue, Lansing, Michigan 48914."

Christmas Seal contributions are the major source of income for the Michigan Lung Association, which uses the funds to conduct programs dealing with the control and research of tuberculosis, emphysema, bronchitis and other lung diseases. In addition, the association also has smoking education programs for schools and adults, including the rights of nonsmokers, and is active in the fight for clean air.

Look At TA Band

STUDENTS of Tawas City Elementary Unit recently received an introduction to band instruments from members of Tawas Area High School Band and its director, Gene Salamony. The youngsters had the opportunity to see how the various instruments go together when the band presented a special concert Thursday in the school gymnasium. After listening to several marches, three elementary pupils and one teacher accepted an invitation to "conduct" the band for one selection. Later, the children were able to move in close while band members played their instruments for one number. The program was arranged in order to instill student interest in cultural aspects of life as well as to develop good attitudes in school, according to Herman Rollin, elementary unit principal. He was confident that Thursday's program, along with the introduction to instruments three weeks ago, accomplished its purpose.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Social Security
Explains Widows' Mothers' Benefits

Each year, Social Security Administration offices get numerous questions concerning how remarriage affects mother's benefits and widow's benefits. In social security terminology, a young widow with children in her care is referred to as a mother.

Some remarriage situations are complex and in such cases the social security office should be contacted directly for information. The following general guidelines can be applied to the majority of questions involving remarriage.

Ordinarily, the remarriage of a young widow terminates her entitlement to mother's benefits (unless remarriage is to certain social security beneficiaries). However, if this marriage ends, she can be re-entitled to mother's benefits on her first husband's account providing she still has minor or disabled children in her care. This is true no matter how the marriage ended or how many times she remarried provided all the marriages ended.

If a widow remarried while under the age of 60, she cannot be entitled or re-entitled to widow's benefits on her deceased husband's account while the marriage is in existence. If the marriage ends, entitlement or re-entitlement can be established. The number of such succeeding marriages and the reasons for termination are immaterial.

If a widow marries after she attains age 60, the marriage is deemed not to have occurred. Such a marriage does not prevent entitlement or re-entitlement to widow's benefits. However, the amount of a remarried widow's benefit is equal to a wife's percentage (on either husband) rather than a widow's percentage. A wife's percentage varies from 37½ to 60% whereas a widow's percentage varies from 71½ to 100 percent of her husband's account depending on her age when she becomes entitled to benefits. A widow's remarriage after age 60 will never terminate her entitlement to benefits but it may cause the amount of her benefits to change.

Naturally, if a woman is receiving benefits based on her own work record, marriage or remarriage does not affect the amount to which she is entitled on her own work record.

If you have any questions regarding social security, contact the Social Security Office, 1009 North Madison, Bay City, Michigan, or phone 893-9579.

Another Milestone . . .
IN THE LONG HISTORY OF
EAST TAWAS

This week marks the 35th anniversary of the opening of our present store at East Tawas. How time has flown! Despite the passage of all those years, it really seems like only "yesterday" when the entire force of the store was busily arranging the furniture stock for the formal opening event on March 4, 1939.

Much has happened in the state, nation and the world during those intervening years; many changes have been wrought, too, in the lifestyle and face of our own community and this store is now serving a second generation of customers since that opening day.

This is one of Tawas' oldest business firms and we are proud to have served the community since 1917, when W. A. Evans purchased the two furniture stores in the Tawas from E. L. King. As the community has developed and grown, so too, has our store expanded to be of even greater service within our community.

We invite you to visit us during our anniversary. During your inspection of our quality lines of furniture and furnishings, you will be afforded the same courteous and friendly treatment which has been a traditional byword of W. A. Evans Furniture Company sales people for these 57 years.

Council Acts on Complaints of Smoke

15 Years Ago—
March 5, 1959—Tawas City Council is making plans to adopt a smoke ordinance following complaints over the burning of junk tires within the city limits and excessive smoke from chimneys.

Earl McElheron, who has been the Standard Oil agent here since 1925 and associated with the dealership since 1917, retired after 42 years of service.

Plans for N. J. Crocker's new Elmwood Forest Subdivision were approved Monday night by the Tawas

City Council.

Congregation of Grace Lutheran Church has authorized the purchase of property north of the parsonage.

Ross Shellenbarger is the new custodian at Hale Area School replacing Richard Matthews, who is now working at the post office.

Floyd Dye is the new service manager at McKay Sales Company.

25 Years Ago—

March 4, 1949—Betty Youngs and Carl Look have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the class of 1949 at Tawas City High School.

Career day will be held March 29 for juniors and seniors of Tawas' high schools. The program is to be held at East Tawas with Carl Horn of Michigan State College as panel chairman.

The administration at Washington has made a move for price and wage controls. Congress has been asked to place ceilings on prices which threaten to go above last December's level. Creation of a six-man board to regulate wage increases has been proposed.

Iosco's first Farm Bureau group was organized Monday at the home of Frank B. Smith in Reno Township. It will be known as Reno Farm Bureau No. 1.

Arrangements are now being made for the Northeastern Michigan cabin and resort owners convention and suppliers show to be held here April 12-14. The three-day meeting is sponsored by Michigan State College and Tawas Chamber of Commerce.

Representatives from eight East Michigan communities completed plans for promotion of the Huron Shore Scenic Highway (US-23). A 50-foot signboard is to be erected below Slandish, designed to divert more traffic up US-23 via the shore route to the Straits. The sign will portray pictorially the beauty of the drive.

35 Years Ago—

March 3, 1939—Formal opening of the beautiful new home of the W. A. Evans Furniture Company at East Tawas will be held Saturday. Ground was broken for construction last July.

What has been an eyesore to people from the Meadow Road will eventually become one of the beauty spots of the city when improvements now under way and those contemplated are completed. More than 40 years ago, the city council set a tract of land off for a city park, known as the glen. It was used as a picnic and recreation ground. Later, for no particular reason, it was degraded into a public dump and the higher ground became a source of sand and gravel for city construction purposes. The glen will cease to be a dumping ground for city rubbish and is to be covered.

Erma Lou Pfahl and Norma Jean Musolf are co-valedictorians of the class of 1939 at Tawas City High School. Otto Ross is salutatorian.

Fifty-two members of the Whittemore Alumni Association attended the ninth annual banquet at the high school.

In the boom years, Cameron Beck, personnel director of the New York Stock Exchange, was defending the then supposedly "flaming" youth. Now, he is gloomy about the oncoming generation. He says this is the "era of sloppy work. Youth is cutting corners and bungling jobs."

celery, cheese. The list is only as limited as your imagination.

So, let the unbelievers scoff. You know you are getting a healthful and delicious mouthful with every bite. If you are still sensitive about the slurs of your fellow man, make your own peanut butter. It is simple to do and requires only a blender, skinless peanuts and peanut oil. Then, the days of your secret peanut butter purchases are over!

Hot bread adds a touch of luxury to any breakfast. And peanut butter muffins are high on the taste scale for hot breads.

These muffins should please every member of the family and they are a great way to start the day. For a pan of 12 peanut butter muffins, the following ingredients are needed:

1 cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/4 cup oil or melted fat
2 cups flour, unsifted
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt (scant)
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup peanut butter

After preheating oven to 400 degrees Fahrenheit (hot) and greasing muffin tin, blend milk into egg and add fat. Mix dry ingredients thoroughly; mix in peanut butter only until mixture is crumbly. Add liquid and mix slightly, leaving batter lumpy. Half fill muffin tin with batter and bake 20 to 25 minutes or until golden brown.

Serve the muffins piping hot and watch the pleased expressions on the faces of every family member as they bite into these golden brown gems. Finally, take a big bow for having gotten everyone's day off to a great start.

Six students from the Isosco County area were among 818 students awarded degrees at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, at mid-year. In all, 640 CMU students received bachelor degrees while 167 earned master degrees and 11 were awarded specialist degrees.

Oscoda residents receiving degrees were Clifford C. Draper and Mary P. Larson, bachelor of science degrees in education; Richard W. Jenks and Cleophas C. Melvin, bachelor of science degrees. Penny Marie Wilson of Hale was awarded a bachelor of science degree in education, as was Marcia Lynn Char- ters of Whittemore.

During the 1972-73 academic year, the university granted 3,682 degrees, more than 2,800 of them at the undergraduate level.

Social Security Questions are Answered

Question: I am 68 and getting monthly social security retirement checks. I work part time and I understand that I can earn $2,400 in 1974 and still get all my monthly checks. What happens if I earn over $2,400?

Answer: Your social security payment will be reduced by $1 for every $2 you earn over $2,400 for 1974. However, you can be paid your full social security benefit for any month in which you neither earn $200 nor do substantial work in your own business.

Question: Because my son, who is 21, had worked for two years at low wages when he became severely disabled last year, he gets a small monthly social security disability payment. Since I am going to be 65 and retire within a couple of months, could my son get higher payments on my work record?

Answer: He may be able to. When you apply for retirement benefits, you can also apply for benefits for your disabled son. He will get the higher of the two benefits—either the monthly benefit based on his own work record or a monthly check based on your work record. You should also check at any social security office on the possibility of your son getting supplemental security income payments for people with little or no income and limited resources who are disabled, 65 or over or blind.

Question: I think my mother may be eligible for supplemental security income payments, but I am not sure about one thing. Can she own anything and still get payments?

Answer: A person getting supplemental security income payments can own a home and a car of reasonable value, life insurance policies worth up to $1,500 and other things, such as stocks, bonds, savings accounts, etc., worth up to $1,500. For more information, contact any social security office.
