Others in the photo from left are James Delahanty, assistant to the engineer-manager; Henry M. Conley, chairman; Joseph Barnes and Merton Killey, members. Coming here from Detroit, Love served the first six years as engineer and then five years as engineer-manager. He plans to continue living at 705 East Lincoln Street, East Tawas, and during his retirement will perform some engineering work and will act as a consultant to the road commission in design. Delahanty awaits the result of his recent state examination as a professional engineer and it is expected that he will assume Love's position in October.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Inflation, New Projects Cause City Budget Hike

The second in a series of meetings to develop an operational budget for 1974-75 was held Monday night by the Tawas City Council. The council will spend another 30 days studying proposed expenditures before adoption of a final budget.

Discussion on the tentative budget Monday night indicated that revenue next year for city operation would amount to $171,325 and expenditures anticipated have reached that figure, with several projects still to be considered. The budget for the current year is $159,538.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that increased expenditures represented a 15 percent inflation factor. Before adoption of a new budget, the council must decide if it is going to use the state's recommended increased valuation or if it will use the assessed tax base as adopted by the city board of review. (See related story on page one, section two.)

Using the board of review's assessed valuation of $7,056,200, excluding personal property valuation, 11 mills would be required for the city's general fund and 3 3/4 mills would be required for streets. A 30 percent increase in valuation recommended by the state would bring the tax base to $9,205,577 for real estate.

If the state figure is adopted, the tax rate would be lowered. This, however, presents another problem which has not been considered in previous discussions concerning the state's recommended tax increase: The amount of return of federal revenue sharing funds is based on local effort and a reduction of millage would mean a loss in federal revenue sharing money. Last year, the city benefited greatly when a tax rate of 16 mills was adopted.

The city received $75,233 in federal revenue sharing money from December 1972 through December 1973 and the greater portion was expended for new street construction. Bublitz said that he expected federal revenue sharing to be increased by about $11,000 this year, but this would be wiped out by a lower tax rate.

The city had a balance of $15,997 remaining in federal revenue sharing money last December and a $10,500 check was received in April. A similar check is to be received in July and the checks could go higher in October and January.

Should the council again decide to put its federal revenue sharing money in streets, with $14,000 going to the sewer fund, about $46,000 would be available. In addition, $15,000 for new streets is provided by the major street fund.

The council must consider a number of contingencies before taking final action on its new street construction budget. One of the streets being considered for construction is Ninth Avenue and this will require considerable fill to provide a suitable base. Harris Avenue had been considered for work last year, but was dropped when it was felt that water main construction should be completed before money is expended on raising the grade and construction of a costly blacktop surface.

The council must also decide if other projects warrant consideration for federal revenue sharing funds. The Department of Natural Resources has indicated that it is interested in allocating $15,000 to the city for renovating the city park pier and the present budget does not include any local funds for participation. The state's share would provide about three-quarters of the money necessary for enclosing one side of the dock with treated wood planking similar to that used along Ninth Avenue.

Another project considered by the state but not approved as yet is participation in development of a boat launching ramp at the mouth of the river. This, too, would require local participation.

Still another projected service discussed by the city last year was furnishing garbage and compactable refuse collection service to the commercial area, which is not furnished. A bid by the city's contractor last fall was $5,200. Ald. James Lansky was of the opinion Monday night that collection service should remain as presently provided as the money could be expended elsewhere. The city manager was of the opinion that the bid was low and that, if adopted, commercial service would be increased by about 50 percent next year.

Another project considered by the council in the past and included in the tentative budget is replacing the doors on the fire department portion of city hall. Also included in the tentative budget is $8,000 for a new dump truck to replace an old unit and $2,000 for a small 16-horsepower tractor with snow blower and broom attachment to use on city sidewalks.

The city manager said he was considering the possibility of utilizing the police radio in the patrol car turned over to the sheriff's department. The use is by one of the city fire trucks. The county is to replace that radio with new equipment. The possibility of purchasing a second radio for the fire department, at a cost of around $750, is being considered by the council.

The city manager said he was "stymied" about coming up with money out of the general fund for additional projects not already included in the tentative budget. He said that special financing may be required in some instances.

Continued discussion on tennis courts being proposed for this year brought a suggestion from Ald. William L. Groff that the city study the possibility of covering the present courts in the city park with a special asphalt surface for use this year. He believed this would allow time to give full consideration for construction of new courts at some other location and the present facilities could still be utilized for tennis and basketball. It has been estimated that construction of one new tennis court would cost from $7,000 to $10,000.

Gary Stephan, chairman of the park board, attended the meeting and said the park board was of the opinion that the council should develop long-range plans for the present athletic field on First Avenue before any construction is undertaken. He believed the city should determine now if the present athletic field would be a possible future site for a city hall-community building fire hall complex and that recreational facilities be located elsewhere.

Mayor John N. Brugger was of the opinion that a study should be made of the possible future use of the property as it is presently served by water, sewer, storm sewer and natural gas and that it could be an excellent site for such a complex, if it is desired.

The city manager said that the present city hall property is too small for expansion of facilities and that the matter had been turned over to the city planning commission for its study.

Alderman Lansky stated that the council should renew its efforts toward reacquiring property which the city sold at a nominal fee to Bopp-Busch Manufacturing Company a number of years ago.

Lansky said that the city had made no stipulation in the deed as to use of the property for industrial expansion and that the property had not been utilized. He believed that an effort should be made to reacquire the property by paying the back taxes which had been paid by the owner.

Fire Chief Requests Control of Bonfires

Fire Chief Daniel Ulrich Monday night asked the Tawas City Council to take some action toward controlling or prohibiting smelt fishermen from starting bonfires along the Tawas River.

Ulrich, who pointed out that he had refused to issue burning permits to several local residents last week because of the dry condition at that time, said that fishermen had large bonfires which were dangerously close to the city's two wooden bridges at First Street and Mathews Street.

The fire chief said he would hate to think what would happen if one of the bridges constructed last year would catch fire. He said that wood used in the construction was treated with creosote and would burn rapidly.

"I am really sticking my neck out when I refuse to issue local burning permits on windy days or when fire conditions are dangerous and then have fishermen start fires on private or public property along the river," said Ulrich. "Because of the danger last week, the fire department even stopped its burning of vacant property along the city."

The council said the matter would be turned over to the Iosco Sheriff's Department as it is expected that the area will see the peak season for smelt fishing this week-end.

Since last week-end, outdoor fire conditions have lessened considerably with a heavy rain Sunday night and Monday. Areas which had been covered with dead grass are now turning green, but dry weather later this week could still prove to be a problem if a fire should get out of control along the river.

Last week-end's crowd of smelt fishermen in the Tawas and Singing Bridge areas was one of the largest on record. All campgrounds in the area were filled to capacity and numerous motorhomes and campers were parked overnight in public parking lots.

Overnight camping at the Tawas City Park is prohibited, but several camper units spent Saturday night there. The restroom building is closed at night to discourage camping and had not been opened for the summer season.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz reported to the council that someone had kicked a panel out of one door of the bathroom and persons had utilized restroom facilities before water had been turned on for flushing toilets. He said the building was a mess Monday morning. After being cleaned, water is to be turned on for the expected large crowd this week-end.

Iosco Sheriff's Department reports that few complaints were received concerning smelt fishermen over the week-end.

Public Tenure Hearing Was A Marathon

A public hearing under the terms of the state tenure act requested by a Tawas Area School teacher, who was not offered a contract for next term, was adjourned early Tuesday morning after nearly five hours of testimony before the board of education.

A Michigan Education Association representative for Mrs. Dorothy Libka, veteran first grade teacher at the Tawas City Elementary Unit, was an hour late for the hearing and the meeting lasted until nearly 1:00 a. m.

Only two persons, Prin. Herman Rollin and Mrs. Libka, testified during the hearing. Additional testimony is to be taken at the Wednesday, May 8, 7:30 p. m., session before the matter goes to the board of education for a decision concerning the school administration's decision not to offer Mrs. Libka a contract.

A complete transcript of all testimony taken this week is to be available at the May 8 hearing. About 30 persons attended the public meeting held Monday night.

Wayne Juror Was Interrogated by Judge Miller

Judge Allan C. Miller interrogated Juror Patricia Miller in Wayne Circuit Court Tuesday, April 30, in the inquiring into the libel reading challenge made by defendants, Judge Frank Szymanski, former Sen. Charles Youngblood and Louis Pappas.

Last week, the court of appeals ordered an evidentiary hearing into the claims made by the defendants and subpoenas were ordered by Judge Miller, who handled the original trial. In the first phase, only the two jurors, the alleged libel reader and the juror, Margaret Eady, to whom she communicated her comments, will be interrogated. Judge Miller reserved the question as to whether the others would be quizzed.

Immediately following the hearings in Detroit, Judge Miller is scheduled to resume the court of claims matters he is conducting in Lansing May 2 and 3. Saturday finds him back in Detroit attending the family law section meeting. Sunday, he will chair the spring meeting of the Kiwanis Porcyr Clement Memorial Foundation meeting at Mary Free Bed Rehabilitation Clinic in Grand Rapids.

"The 25 plus miles per gallon that I get on my new small car certainly is a relief," said Judge Miller. "On a trip to Gaylord last week for a judge's regional meeting called by the Supreme Court, I got 24.7 miles per gallon and then on the 'all expressway' trip to Detroit, the rate was 25.1 miles per gallon."

AN EXPERIMENTAL beach nourishment program conducted at the Tawas City Park by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, in cooperation with the city council, appears to be an effective method of controlling shore erosion where littoral drift of sand is of a minor nature. The last segment of the project is construction of a groin extending into the bay from the east end of the park, which is to be completed this week. As the city's part of the cooperative project with the state, the groin is expected to provide a blocking force against littoral drift of sand caused by wave action. In January, a contractor for the state hauled in sand and placed it in piles along 435 feet of beach frontage. This sand replaces frontage about 75 feet deep which had been lost through wave action. More than 7,000 cubic yards of sand were trucked in from an inland source and piled along the shoreline of parks in both Tawas City and East Tawas. Work was to start Tuesday on filling the outer end of the groin with rock and large mounds of sand on the beach are to be leveled by a bulldozer.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Shown presenting a plaque to Daniels, right, during the soil conservation district's 22nd annual meeting at Hale is Harry Krueger, chairman. Daniels and his three sons, Wallace, Rodney and Lynn, have been in partnership for two years and have 455 acres planted to crops. Daniels has been a district cooperators since 1955, an ASCS community committeeman for a number of years and was elected to the ASCS county committee in 1973. The county's ecology flag was presented to Hale Area Elementary School with the highest point total in county 4-H judging in conservation for fifth and sixth grades. Shown presenting the flag at left is Retha M. Hankey, 4-H youth agent. Mrs. Coughlin Seeks Council Seat Vacated by Smyczynski

Mrs. Robert T. Coughlin of 210 Woodward Avenue, formerly of Clawson, hopes to become Tawas City's first woman councilman.

In a letter presented personally to the council Monday night, Mrs. Coughlin asked that she be given consideration to her request for appointment to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ald. Chester Smyczynski. She presented a petition signed by friends seeking council support.

The appointee would fill the council chair vacated by Smyczynski until January 1976, following the general election of November 1975, at which time voters would select an alderman.

3 Burglaries Investigated by Sheriff

Included among burglaries investigated last week by the Iosco Sheriff's Department were three in which items were stolen from buildings entered.

Prior to presentation of the letter by Mrs. Coughlin, Mrs. C. L. Braman of 228 Sixth Avenue expressed the opinion that the council should give consideration to appointment of Edward Savage, former councilman, who was defeated by only two votes in the last election.

In her letter to the council, Mrs. Coughlin said that she had participated in local government at Clawson, serving on a study committee, charter revision committee, acted as citizen representative to the city planning commission, as well as other "unofficial" capacities at the city and county level.

On Wednesday, officers investigated a break-in at the Bay City YMCA Camp, Sand Lake. A paint spraying machine valued at $150 was stolen. Thomas Coyle of 309 Fifth Avenue reported Tuesday that his home had been entered and $50 taken from a dresser drawer while he was on vacation. Allen Forbes reported Wednesday that a lamp had been stolen from his cottage at 2370 Essex Road, Wilber Township.

A car owned by Thomas Clement of Hale and stolen Friday was recovered Saturday at Long Lake Park. Windows of the vehicle had been smashed. Kim Williams of Tawas City reported Sunday that a tape deck had been stolen from his automobile.

Since establishing residence in Tawas City, she said she had been active in the Tawas Chamber of Commerce and presently serves as local chairman for the National Foundation of the March of Dimes for Birth Defects.

Personal injury automobile accidents investigated by sheriff's department officers included one April 23 on US-23 at the Mathews Street intersection. Mrs. Janette E. Gingersich of Tawas City was treated for minor injuries after being involved in a two-car collision with a vehicle driven by Andrew S. Buku of Tawas City.

"I firmly believe that a woman's presence and ideology are necessary on any governing board, particularly a community council," said Mrs. Coughlin. "I believe that I have the ability to communicate with persons of both sexes and of all ages."

Janet L. Jameson, 20, South Branch, was treated Sunday at Tawas Hospital. Officers said she was a passenger on a motorbike driven by Roger C. Jameson, 26, South Branch. The motorbike struck a deer on M-55, one-quarter mile west of McArdle Road.

Jack Saunders, percussion instructor, University of Wisconsin, "Beautiful job, band plays well." David Eldridge, principal of Vassar High School, "A fine appearing, well-disciplined band."

Tawas Area Band Won First Division Rating

Tawas Area High School Band traveled to Fenton last Saturday to participate in the State Band and Orchestra Festival. The band received four I ratings from the four judges for an over-all I rating. The band has competed in class A competition for the past four years. Tawas was the only class A band at this site to receive a I from each adjudicator.

Interested persons wanting to hear the tape of the band's performance can do so any day this week from 12:00 to 1:30 p. m. in the high school band room.

This gives the band a 10-year record of seven first and two second division ratings at the state level. The band did not participate at the state level last year due to a conflict in dates of events.

The adjudicators and some of their comments were: James B. Hause, head of music department at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, "This is a superior ensemble."

Jack Saunders, assistant band director at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, "Over-all style is delightful—a pleasant contrast, variety."

Coming events involving Tawas Area Band members include Middle School Bands' Concert, Friday, May 10; Stan Kenton and His Orchestra, Tuesday, May 14; Tag Day and High School Band Concert with Jerry Bilik, Saturday, May 25, and band banquet, Thursday, May 30.

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read 2 Corinthians 9:5-8)

Every one must make up his own mind as to how much he should give. (2 Corinthians 9:7)

This passage has been a stumbling stone to many a would-be Christian.

A man I knew told how he and his brother, as young boys, were each given two nickels on Sunday morning, one for Sunday school and the other for church.

At church, they sat in the same pew with the town banker. One day, the boy could contain his curiosity no longer. He said to the banker, "You have a lot of money and we do not have very much. Yet every Sunday when the plate is passed, you put in a dime just as we do. Why?"

The banker patted the lad's head. "Well, son," he said, "the Good Book says the Lord loves a cheerful giver. A dime is all I can give cheerfully."

PRAYER

God, help us to give with all our hearts that of which You have given so bountifully. May our giving show our measure of love for our Savior, who taught us to pray "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

CROP Hunger

Walk Scheduled by District Youth

Saginaw Bay District Youth Fellowship of United Methodist Church is sponsoring a 16-mile CROP hunger walk, to be held Saturday, May 11, at East Tawas. Local youths are hosting the event for 200 young people expected from the Saginaw Bay District. This walk is for junior and senior high youth, plus interested adults. They do not have to be Methodist. Anyone can walk.

CROP is a national agency. For 25 years, CROP has been part of a cooperative effort of major Protestant and Orthodox churches to help stop hunger around the world, without regard to race, class or creed. Eighty percent of CROP funds are used for "self-help." For example, food is used for wages for people to build roads, schools, reclaim land and develop water resources. The rest of the funds are used for victims of disaster, emergency situations, caring for refugees, supporting rehabilitation programs and encouraging responsible family planning.

The 16-mile walk will start at 10:00 a. m. at the East Tawas City Park. Youths will walk through downtown on Newman Street, turn east on Lincoln, walk around the county airport, down US-23 to Baldwin Resort Road, then out to Tawas Point State Park where they will have lunch. After lunch, they will complete the 16 miles by walking from the park back to the East Tawas park.

Local youth taking part in the walk will be seeking sponsors to pay any amount they wish for each mile walked. Each youth may have several sponsors and it is hoped that each young person will get at least a total of $1 pledged for each mile he walks. After the walk, youths will go back to their sponsors, show them their CROP sponsor form, which will indicate how many miles they walked, and collect their money. All money will be turned directly over to CROP. All contributions are tax deductible and receipts will be available if requested.

CHEVY PICKUP OWNERS, HERE ARE 8 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY DODGE:

1. Dodge pickups have the money-saving Electronic Ignition System, standard. (Chevy doesn't even offer it.)
2. Our Dodge half-ton pickup models have a greater standard payload capacity than the half-ton Chevy.
3. Dodge offers you a choice of 52 pickup models. (That's more than Chevy has.)
4. Dodge has the Club Cab pickup with 34 extra cubic feet of storage space, inside the cab, behind the seat.
5. Dodge has the smallest standard six-cylinder engine of any American-built pickup (and it still gets the job done).
6. Dodge pickups have a larger standard fuel capacity than Chevrolet pickups, as well.
7. Only Dodge pickups offer you optional automatic speed control. (It's great for long-distance runs.)
8. And last, but not least, Dodge has no exposed bolt heads in the cargo box. A little point? Treat yourself to the joy of working without having them in the way.

Hale A. Band Received First Division Award

Hale Area High School's concert band received a first division rating at the class D level in the state festival of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association. Held Saturday at Fenton, it was the first time that a Hale band has received a first division rating and it was only the third time that the school was eligible to participate in a state festival.

It was the second consecutive year that the concert band earned the right to play at the state festival. A band must receive a first division rating at the district level in order to participate.

In the concert room, the band received an 'I' rating from two of the three adjudicators. The third judge gave the band a "II" rating.

In sight reading, the band received a second division rating. The concert rating is averaged with the sight reading and more emphasis is placed on the former.

The band performed "Brighton Beach" concert march; "Intrada and Rondo," the required number, and "Hymn to Yerevan," its selected number.

Adjudicators for the festival were James B. Hause, head of the music department, Eastern Michigan University; Jack Saunders, assistant director of bands, Central Michigan University; Jack Seidler, assistant director of bands, University of Wisconsin; David Eldridge, principal, Vassar.

Judges were impressed with good training of the band in the fundamentals of music, along with the care and deliberation of its performance. One judge was pleased to see so many parents and friends in the audience.

Proclaim May as Adult Foster Care Month

May has been designated by Gov. William Milliken as Adult Foster Care Month in Michigan. Department of Social Services and all other agencies and service groups throughout the state have long recognized the importance of this care.

The public is often not aware of the local facilities dedicated to care of persons 18 or over. Adult Foster Care assumes the responsibility for providing supervision and personal care for thousands of adults. These facilities provide a comfortable residential setting for aged citizens, handicapped and convalescing persons. Programs and services are provided to these individuals by the home operators with the assistance of local and private agencies.

Department of Social Services has been mandated the responsibility for licensing all facilities that provide adult foster care. This continuing effort will insure state-wide standards for the quality care of all persons in need of a foster home setting.

Braves Lost Two Games At Cadillac

Tawas Area Braves lost a pair of games Saturday in the invitational baseball tournament held at Cadillac.

Mickey Haglund turned in an excellent pitching performance and contributed two hits in the opener, but the Braves lost to Rockford, 4-2. Rick Storms limited Ludington to four hits and banded two singles in the second game, but Ludington won in 10 innings, 4-3.

On April 23, the Braves won two games from Alcona, 8-0 and 4-1. Brad Potts and Dave Mielock were the winning pitchers.

Leading hitters were Earl Parsons, Randy Scales and Perry Stephenson. Parsons and Stephenson each banded home runs.

Potts allowed only a bunt single and Mielock had a no-hitter going until the seventh inning.

The Braves lost two games Friday to Essexville Garber, 7-6 and 5-0.

The Braves started the first inning of the opening game with five runs, featuring a three-run homer by Glen DesJardins, but Tawas could not hold on to that lead. In the second game, the Braves could not solve some good pitching by Essexville. Parsons turned in a good job as a relief pitcher.

The Junior Braves won a pair of games over Essexville Garber Friday night. Bill Luoma pitched a three-hitter and won the first game, 2-1. In the second game, Mike Nelson pitched four and two-thirds innings, had two doubles and a single to help himself as the winning pitcher, 7-4.

The Junior Braves lost the first game in a doubleheader Wednesday with the Whittemore - Prescott Cardinals. Horn was the winning pitcher for the Cards in the opener as he limited Tawas to four hits. Storms and Luoma shared pitching chores for the losers.

The second game ended in a 4-4 tie. Timrock and Harris were top hitters for the Junior Braves while Durfee and Holbeck were top hitters for the Cardinals. Two errors in the bottom of the seventh inning wiped out good pitching performances by Herriman and B. Revord of Tawas.

NBC Volleyball Selection Goes to TA Student

Duane Lucas Won Two Olympic Blue Ribbons

Second place finishes were registered by Tim Ecker, 50-yard dash; Lisa Gray, softball throw; Terry Proper, standing long jump; Burton Harms, 50-yard dash, all in the 10 to 12-year-old competition.

Third place finishes went to Terry Schnell, standing long jump; David Boone, standing long jump; Brian Parent, 50-yard dash; Robert Toska, 50-yard dash.

Commissioners-Assessors Meet

State's Valuation Boost Under Iosco Discussion Today

Robert Foster, chairman of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners, extended an invitation last week to assessing officers of all units to meet today (Wednesday) with commissioners to take part in deliberations on acceptance or rejection of the state's proposed real property valuation for this county.

"Any input by local assessing officers would be welcome as the commission has reached the point where final action on equalization must be taken," said Foster.

Action by the commission on the state tax commission's proposed $22,576,480 valuation increase is probably a moot point, said Foster. "If the recommendation is not accepted, the county probably would receive a factor from the tax commission to accomplish the same purpose," he stated.

Foster said that the commission had made formal and informal appeals to the tax commission in the past and had always received the same answer: Sales studies have shown that assessed valuations on real property in Iosco County have not kept pace with actual sales.

"It appears now that some real estate is being offered for sale at a lower price than what was shown in the state's three-year sales study, but the effect of those lower prices would not be felt until a new sales study is conducted in December by the county tax equalization department," said Foster.

Only two weeks ago, the state supreme court reaffirmed the state tax commission's broad power to equalize local assessments upward. In Iosco's case, the state recommended an equalized base of $151,871,640, rather than the $129,295,150 valuation brought in by local assessing officers.

The actual effect of this increase for local taxpayers will really not be known until adoption of budgets by municipalities and the split of millage by the county tax equalization board.

Municipalities can adjust tax levies downward to meet higher real property valuations and townships and county operation would benefit from the higher valuation, depending on the millage received from the allocation board. Taxpayers in two county school districts, Hale Area and Tawas Area, will be assuming an even greater portion of operational expense than they pay at present.

In Hale Area School's case, the district's new valuation will probably amount to $40,749 behind each child, rather than $34,000 last year. The cut-off point for receiving state aid next term is $39,000 and it will mean that district taxpayers will be assuming 100 percent of the school's operational expense, exclusive of transportation and other funds. Last year, the school received $86,000 in state aid membership.

To persons residing in other parts of the state, Hale Area's high valuation, much of it owned by nonresident owners, may seem beneficial. The board of education will probably ask voters to approve an additional 1.8 mills rather than 2.5 mills which was turned down last month, as the

With the districting closing in aid for the next term. Barry said that Iosco schools for state aid membership, it would were not alone in this problem as (See VALUATION, page 3.)

COMPILING INFORMATION to update plans authorized by congress in 1968 for a proposed extension to the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock is the United States Army Corps of Engineers and a Jackson consulting firm. No Objections Heard on 1968 Dock Plan; Commence Update

Phase one of a reassessment of proposed construction of a breakwater structure extension to the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at East Tawas moved into high gear Thursday following Wednesday night's informal workshop meeting between federal, state and local authorities.

More than 50 persons attended the meeting held at the East Tawas Community Building. No local objections to the project were heard by representatives of the United States Army Corps of Engineers, who have begun work on a general design memorandum for the proposal.

The only two points of concern brought out during the discussion were relative to possible effect of the breakwater structure on the intake for East Tawas' water filtration plant and expansion of parking facilities for the expected increased numbers of boaters and fishermen who would be attracted to the area.

Representatives of Fargo Engineering Company of Jackson, hired by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, along with Detroit District representatives of the corps of engineers, began compiling information Wednesday night and Thursday for updating this recreational navigation project which was authorized by congress in the 1968 River and Harbor Act.

When originally authorized, total cost of the project was estimated at $900,000. The project was stalled more than five years ago when river and harbor funds were impounded during the Vietnam War.

Recently, congress appropriated $60,000 to update the plans. A telephone report from Cong. Philip Ruppe last week indicated that although construction funds were not committed, the administration's budget carries funds for complete planning of the federal portion of the project.

The program calls for construction of 1,750 feet of double-wall, sheet pile breakwater extending 500 feet into Tawas Bay from the present structure. As its portion of the project, the waterways commission, a division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, would develop the interior as a harbor of refuge for small craft mooring facilities.

According to George Platz of the Detroit District, corps of engineers, updating of the 1968 plan according to cost indexes would place the construction at from 16 to two-million dollars. The new estimated cost of construction would be included in the first phase of study and would be determined by this coming summer.

Donald Oliva and Larry Everett, who represent Fargo Engineering in the reassessment, said Thursday they had started a study of traffic flow in the area, available parking, utilization of facilities by fishermen, campers and bathers. He said that all data being obtained would be compiled into a report for the corps of engineers to show benefits as compared to over-all cost and to show if the project is still "go."

"Purpose of the Wednesday night meeting, as part of the first phase in the general design memorandum, was to reaffirm if the plan as authorized by congress is still the best one and to determine if anything has come up since 1968 that would have an impact on that plan," stated Platz. "No objections were registered Wednesday night to the 1968 plan and the meeting with state and local officials was most congenial."

Platz said the Detroit office hopes to have the first phase of the study completed this summer and that the second phase would be commenced by fall. The latter would include "the nuts and bolts of design, concerning construction with sheet steel piling, etc.," he stated.

Actual construction plans would be completed in June 1975 in order to advertise for bids, which would complete the first two phases of the project. If congress approved funding at that point, construction contracts could be awarded in late fall of 1975 and work could start in April of 1976, with the project to be completed in the fall of 1977.

Some concern was expressed by Paul Ropert, superintendent of public works for East Tawas, concerning the city's water intake in Tawas Bay. He believed a study should be made to determine what effect extension of the dock would have on water currents in Tawas Bay, inasmuch as two sewage disposal plants are located on the Tawas River and the water intake is located a short distance off the present dock.

In all probability, extension of the intake would be a local responsibility, although the corps of engineers would study the possible water quality problems which may be caused by the dock extension and this information would be included in its report.

The second area of concern centered around availability of parking at the dock. Parking is presently provided for between 70 and 100 cars in a lakeside parking lot and at the foot of Newman Street.

Although a firm plan was not proposed to expand parking facilities, city officials met Wednesday afternoon with Keith Wilson of the Michigan Waterways Commission and Raymond Lawrence of the Department of Natural Resources to discuss possible methods of expanding parking. Also discussed was on-shore toilet and shower facilities for boaters, which would be provided by the state.

Joseph Badalucco, manager of the East Tawas Park, said Thursday that parking facilities were of a major concern as present parking lots are usually packed to capacity with fishermen, bathers and others using picnic facilities during the tourist season. Possible utilization of the present lawn area at the community building for additional parking was mentioned during Wednesday afternoon's discussion.

Others attending the afternoon meeting were Ralph Western of the city council, Elmer Werth, Charles Schreck, Ropert, Roger McIntosh of the chamber of commerce, Timothy O'Connor of the East Tawas Businessmen's Association and Clifford Eppert of the harbor commission.

Work Started on Expansion of Grant Park

Grant Township residents turned out Saturday to volunteer their labor for a clearing project commencing work on a new recreational facility near the township fire hall at Sand Lake.

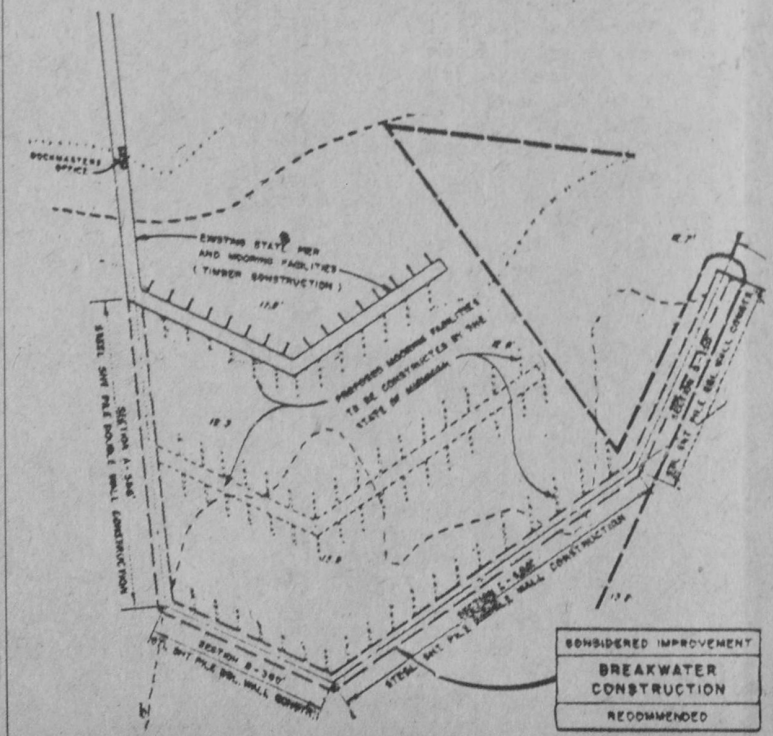

Two bulldozers were at work removing scrub trees and brush from land leased from the United States Forestry Department for the location of two ball parks and a picnic area. A site was also cleared as a future site for a community center.

The new recreational facility, costing around $28,000, is expected to be completed by fall.

On April 23, Grant Township received a grant of $7,500 from the Iosco Parks and Recreation Commission toward this recreational project. The balance of the $28,000 total cost is to be raised by the Grant Township Fire Department, its women's auxiliary and other township organizations.

The grant from the county parks and recreation commission was included in a $50,000 allocation from federal revenue sharing money which had been specified for county recreational purposes by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

Other communities benefiting from the county parks and recreation commission's allocation for recreational projects included East Tawas, Tawas City, Oscoda, AuSable Township and Plainfield Township, all of which received $7,500 each. The City of Whittemore received $3,000 from this allocation and $5,000 from a previous county allocation.

Notify SS of Higher Pay For Benefits

Question: When I started getting monthly social security retirement checks, I was only working part time and my earnings were so small that they did not affect my checks. Now, I have started working more hours, but I do not know how long this job will last. Should I report this change in my work to social security?

Answer: Yes. If you earn more than expected and do not notify social security promptly, you could have to repay some of your monthly benefits. If you think your total earnings for this year may exceed $2,400 and you have not reported this to social security, you should do so promptly.

Question: I have been getting social security retirement payments since I was 62. I will be 65 in another couple months and I just got a notice in the mail telling me I would be enrolled for both parts of medicare. I do not want the medical insurance part. I just want hospital insurance. What should I do?

Answer: Check the box on the back of the card that came with your notice, sign your name and return the entire card in the enclosed envelope. Social security will send you a medicare card showing that you are covered for hospital insurance only. If you change your mind later, you can still sign up for medical insurance but you will have to pay a higher premium if you wait too long.

Question: I am 67, but I have always worked and I have never received social security retirement payments. I have heard that I can get credit for all the months past 65 that I work and do not get benefits. And I also heard that this credit will increase my monthly payments when I start getting them. Must I keep a record of those months?

Answer: No, you do not have to keep any records. When you start getting monthly payments, the added amount you will get because you delayed retirement past 65 will be figured automatically and included in your checks.

Question: I am 46 and just found out I have a kidney disease which requires dialysis. Can I apply for medicare coverage to help me with the expense of this treatment?

Answer: Yes. You will be eligible for medicare coverage if you worked long enough under social security. You can check at any social security office to get more information.

If you are eligible, your medicare coverage would begin with the third month after the month in which you started dialysis. Your medicare coverage would end 12 months after the month you have a kidney transplant or your dialysis treatment has stopped.

If you have a question about social security, contact the district office at 1009 North Madison Avenue, Bay City, Michigan 49706, or phone 833-9579.

3. Are you gambling with your family's future every time you start your car?

nearly every school district in the northern half of the state faced the same situation following sales studies and valuation increases by the state tax commission. He did not believe that computerized sales studies raising valuations gave a true picture of the financial climate in this part of the state.

While the state supreme court reaffirmed the tax commission's equalization powers, some local residents and officials are of the opinion that the legislature should take a new look at the laws governing tax assessing procedures. It is an old question, but it is one of great importance to the northern half of the state.

Onions for everyone! Why? Because a large supply of spring onions is available right now at super markets everywhere, in contrast to last year's shortage.

Onions are an always-ready, anytime favorite. Whole onions, thick or thin crisp onion slices, onion cubes and chopped onions—all delightful ways to serve raw onions. Serve them with your family's favorite sandwiches, salads, soups and main dish meals. You know that you often cook-in-onion flavor to the foods you fry, boil, bake or roast.

It is worth remembering, too, that onions add flavor while adding few calories.

Want a taste treat for your family? Try a big bowl of creamed onions ala peanuts. Mix some finely chopped salted peanuts into the cream sauce as you prepare the onions. Just before serving, sprinkle more chopped salted peanuts on top.

Onions at breakfast? Why not? Take the ho-hum out of scrambled eggs by pre-frying bits of bacon and cubed onion. The aroma of this combination frying in the kitchen will get your family up and ready for breakfast in a hurry. As they come down the stairs, add your pre-whipped egg mix and be prepared for smiles.

Here is an unusual sandwich idea for you to try. Spread large slices of rye bread with butter and cream cheese. Top this with paper-thin slices of sweet onions and thin slices of smoked salmon. Serve the sandwich open-faced and cut in quarters or add another buttered slice of rye on top and cut diagonally to serve. Your family will love it.

A preliminary budget of $206,531 for county operation was adopted by the board during the session.

What can the people believe about America's defense needs. Are the taxpayers being taken for a ride by a cynical, contemptuous coterie of military brass hats, who are using world tension to set up an artificial basis for huge grabs from appropriation funds?

Self defense is a more basic tenet of United States foreign policy than either President Roosevelt's internationalism or congress' isolationism. However, it may be accomplished. John Q. Public wants (1) to keep out of foreign wars, (2) to be prepared if he gets into one. Hence, despite optimism over the president's peace appeal to dictators, congressmen, defense chiefs and tradesmen find themselves sizing up America's political, economic and military preparedness for a European war.
