

Sand Bar Closes River Mouth; City Seeks State's Assistance

City officials have called on the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for assistance in solving a serious blockage problem at the Tawas River mouth.

High water and wave action has deposited a sand bar across the river mouth and the channel entering Tawas Bay has been completely blocked.

Storms have completely eroded away property owned by Joseph Lubaway on the east side of the river and a new river channel is crossing that private property.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said Monday morning that it would be necessary to dredge the river mouth immediately because the new channel is crossing private property. In addition, Bublitz said the sand bar across the normal river mouth could cause serious flooding complications next spring.

State Rep. George A. Prescott and W. D. Nunn, secretary-manager of Tawas Chamber of Commerce, inspected the river mouth Saturday and word is expected from the DNR sometime this week concerning possible assistance.

Bublitz said that dredging would be complicated by the fact that Lubaway's land had washed away and there are no draglines in the area with a boom long enough to bail sand from the river channel.

A channel to Coho Marina's slip on the west side of the river mouth has been completely blocked off by the sand bar. The firm has fought a losing battle this fall in its attempts to keep the river mouth clear of sand.

"I cannot see where it is the total responsibility of the city to keep the mouth of a navigable stream open, any more than it is the responsibility of Oscoda and AuSable Townships to keep the AuSable River mouth open," said Bublitz.

The City of Tawas City has attempted to acquire the east side of the river mouth for harbor purposes and to interest the DNR in establishing a boat launching site there.

The city's most recent proposal on harbor development was rejected by the state as too costly.

wave action has washed away property owned by Joseph Lubaway on the east side of the river mouth.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Two Senior Bank Directors Retire

Two long-time members of the board of directors of Peoples State Bank, William Look Sr. and John Mielock, have retired from the board. L. G. McKay Jr., chairman, announced this week.

Over the years, both men have distinguished themselves in business and community affairs, as well as in banking.

Mielock is one of the bank's original stockholders and has attended every stockholders' meeting since the bank was formed. He has served as a director for nearly 30 years.

A native of Alabaster, Mielock was born on a farm that is now the United States Gypsum Company quarry. He was elected township supervisor at 21 years of age and served six years. He is a graduate of Alabaster High School and attended Ferris State College, Big Rapids, and Michigan State University, East Lansing. He has been involved in several businesses in the area over the years and has served on many important public commissions.

He owned and operated a hardware and auto parts store and a gas station in Tawas and later was a builder and contractor. For seven years, Mielock worked as a planner with civil engineering at Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

He also served on the Isosco County Road Commission for eight years and is presently the Isosco County drain commissioner.

His hobbies are gardening and hunting. He and his wife, Carrie, live at 1344 Forest Glen, East Tawas.

Look has also enjoyed a distinguished career in business and public service.

A Tawas native, Look joined the bank board of directors in 1957.

He has spent most of his business career in the automotive business as owner of William Look and Sons, Incorporated, and has received many awards for his business achievements.

Always active in community affairs, he served on the city council, county board of supervisors and East Tawas Park Board.

For many years, he was a member of the East Tawas Volunteer Fire Department and helped fight the fire that destroyed the opera house and other major community buildings years ago.

Look is retired but keeps busy working on a 240-acre farm owned by himself and one of his sons.

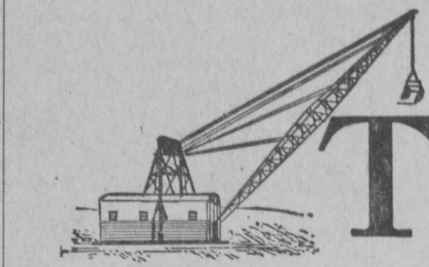

He and his wife, the former Olga Graf, reside at 310 Church Street, East Tawas.

New County Jobs to be Filled Dec. 3

Twelve new employment openings are being advertised by the Isosco County Board of Commissioners with positions scheduled for hiring on December 3.

The county is filing for $91,372 in federal funds under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). A total of 17 positions are involved, five of which are employees of the Intermediate School District.

The county's application has been amended to include two sewage plant operators at Oscoda. The remaining positions would include three utility workers, possibly for the road commission depending on negotiations with the union; a clerk-secretary for the county clerk's office; three building inspectors; one senior citizen's aide at Hale; a professional engineer; a clerk typist, and an assistant home economist.

The funds are intended to hire unemployed residents of the county and are to be expended prior to June 30, 1975. The board's resolution stated that hopefully, temporary employment under the CETA program would lead to permanent employment.

In other business conducted at last Wednesday's session, the board of commissioners established the Isosco Soil Erosion and Sedimentation Controls Agency to enforce rules promulgated by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. This agency would be combined with a county engineering department and possibly a building inspection department.

Discussion is to continue at the next meeting concerning advertising for bids on county insurance. Robert Foster, chairman, said that other governmental units had saved money on the purchase of insurance through the bid procedure. It was reported that the county's insurance bill is approximately $15,000 per year without competitive bidding.

An unofficial mental health planning board was formed and a nine-member group is to be appointed to study the possibility of establishing a county mental health organization in this county, rather than the present seven-county arrangement involving Isosco. The new board is to study the possibility, too, of combining with Ogemaw County to form a single unit.

The board of commissioners authorized the county building authority to study an aircraft hangar construction project at the Isosco County Airport being proposed by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company.

An amendment was made to the county's tax apportionment report to include two new special assessment districts. The action was necessary in order to include the assessments on the 1974 tax billing. Included is an annual collection of $25,000 in AuSable Township on a $500,000 total for water main construction. The second assessment of $23,021 was requested by Oscoda Township for off-street parking.

Isosco Receives Confirmation On Grant

Confirmation of a $950,000 grant for construction of the proposed skill center to serve schools of this county has been received by Isosco Intermediate School District. Receipt of the grant is dependent on a favorable vote December 19 on operational and construction funds.

The proposed skill center would serve the entire Isosco Intermediate School District, including Hale, Oscoda, Tawas and Whittemore-Prescott Area School Districts.

The concept of a skill center is to train students and adults for job skills, to give them training and experience in specific skill areas, to make them more competitive for jobs in the area.

Training to be offered includes agricultural resources, auto body and fender, auto mechanics, building construction, building maintenance, business data processing, child care and guidance, cosmetology, distributive (retailing) education, electricity and electronics, graphic arts, heating and air conditioning, machine trades, quantity food preparation, small engine repair, secretarial and stenographic, welding and cutting.

Road Commission Proposes to Build New $750,000 Garage

Representatives of the Isosco County Road Commission were to appear last night (Tuesday) before the Grant Township Zoning Board seeking an ordinance variance to allow construction of a new headquarters building.

Owned by the road commission for a number of years, the proposed site would have an entrance to the east of Sand Lake Road and slightly south of M-55 near Strauer's Market.

James Delahanty, engineer-manager for the road commission, said the site is located near the geographical center of the county and is ideally situated for a headquarters building. The proposed new garage-office headquarters would replace the present garage and offices at East Tawas, along with the road commission's garages at Whittemore and Hale.

Route of the state's proposed new US-23 expressway, expected sometime in the 1980s, is expected to fall somewhere in the corridor between Sand Lake Road and Kobs Road. The southern interchange to the Tawas, along with one to serve Western Isosco County, would be M-55 and the new headquarters building would be centrally located for expressway maintenance.

Although the exact point of crossing the AuSable River has not been announced as yet, the road commission garage constructed a few years ago at Oscoda is to be retained and would provide a headquarters for trucks maintaining the northeastern section of the county.

Preliminary estimated cost for the proposed new road commission headquarters near the Sand Lake Road-M-55 intersection is $750,000. It would be financed through regular road commission funds derived from gasoline-diesel fuel taxes and revenue from license plate money. No county property tax is involved.

Delahanty said that the road commission intends to apply to Farmers Home Administration (FHA) for a low interest rate loan to finance the project. He said that the interest rate was not to exceed five percent.

The proposed headquarters would contain 34,000 square feet of floor space, including a 90 by 220-foot truck storage area, 56 by 220-foot repair shop, equipped with three overhead doors, two maintenance hoists, welding shop and grease racks.

To be of concrete block and steel construction with brick veneer on the north side, the building would house all administration offices of the road commission. Included would be an 18 by 30-foot general office, a 24-foot by 24-foot conference room, two vaults for engineering records, plus offices for the clerk, engineer-manager, drafting, superintendent-foreman, men's lunch room and rest rooms.

The structure would provide space for a parts storage room, laboratory for soil sampling, central supply, tire storage and a sign shop. A building for storage of 2,000 tons of salt would be located on the property.

Depending upon approval of the site by the township zoning board and financing, construction of the building would start in 1975 and it would require about one year to complete.

A driveway into the site off Sand Lake Road is presently being graded and ditched to accommodate 5,000 tons of gravel to be stockpiled for a project next year which will resurface shoulders of M-55 from Plank Road west to the county line. This is a state project being handled by the county road commission.

Three Hunters on Motor Cart Are Charged With Right-Of-Way Trespassing

Three hunters who operated a motor cart Saturday on right-of-way of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway in Sherman Township were arrested by Isosco Sheriff's Department officers and charged with trespassing.

Arrested at the Sand Lake Road railroad crossing were William M. Clement, Mt. Morris, owner of the motor cart; Mitchell J. Wandosky, Davison, and Steven G. Grieve, Livonia.

Other complaints investigated by the sheriff's department included the accidental wounding Saturday morning of a 16-year-old Flint hunter. Russell E. Firman, hunting in Wilber Township, fell asleep and his rifle discharged, injuring the middle finger of his left hand. He was treated at Tawas Hospital.

The sheriff's department investigated four car-deer accidents in the county during the past week. In addition, one driver struck a horse which was walking on Townline Road.

A Pontiac hunter reported November 18 that someone had damaged the engine of his truck with a rifle slug. Steven Hallock said he was returning to his truck parked on Tuttle Marsh Road when a car drove up and an occupant discharged his rifle at the truck.

Breakings and enterings investigated during the past week included cabins owned by Robert Webber and Donald E. Benmore, both on National City Road.

Betty A. Birkenbach of National City was treated Thursday at Tawas Hospital following a crash on M-65 in Burleigh Township. She said she swerved her car to the right to avoid an oncoming car which was in her lane. Mrs. Birkenbach lost control of her vehicle and it struck a culvert.

John E. Waldecker, 19, Tawas City, escaped injury the night of November 19 when his car missed a curve on North Street and went into the Tawas River. Officers said the car was operating at a high rate of speed and was airborne for about 60 feet before going into the water.

DIANE ADAIR, whose paintings were featured last week at the Tawas Art Center, is spending another week at the center doing portrait work. She studied painting and figure drawing at Delta College and is a practicing free lance artist. The public is invited to visit the art center, corner of Pine and West Westover Streets, East Tawas, and view the paintings of this Michigan artist.—Tawas Herald Photo.

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Habakkuk 3:17-19; 1 Thessalonians 5:12-22)

In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. (1 Thessalonians 5:18)

In writing to very young Christians, Paul exhorted them to praise the Lord for everything! Jonah, in the belly of a big fish, cried out, "I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving." Habakkuk, through steadfast faith in God, said, "Yet I will rejoice in the Lord," although fields and flocks might not flourish. Praise overcomes fear and defeat.

Thanksgiving in the midst of trial is not a matter of gritting our teeth and saying, "I must praise the Lord." I may not always feel like praising when surrounded by difficult circumstances which I cannot understand. At such a time, I seek to realize anew how much God loves me, that I am in His care, that He never forgets me. I can believe that He can bring good from even these experiences.

True praise looks to God, not situations. Faith in action releases divine power to bring changes only God can work out. Praise to God changes things!

PRAYER

We thank Thee, our Father, that our times are in Thy hands and Thou art working out all things for our good, through Jesus Christ, our Savior. Amen.

Lamb Attends Tax Clinic

Donald A. Lamb, Northern Business and Tax Service, Tawas City, is at the Paantind Hotel, Grand Rapids, where he will spend three days studying new laws and regulations to be followed in filing federal and state tax returns. Conducted by the Independent Accountants Association of Michigan, the clinic is expected to attract 400 professional practicing accountants and tax specialists from all points in Michigan.

Lamb and others attending the clinic will spend a full day in a study of the newly-enacted pension and profit-sharing law. They are also expected to probe problems encountered in the preparation of corporate, farm and personal tax returns.

Finalize Plans for Pot-Luck

Members of Immaculate Heart of Mary Women's Council finalized plans for their annual Christmas pot-luck dinner at the regular meeting Thursday, November 21, in the school basement. Dinner is scheduled for Thursday, December 12, 6:00 p. m. Members are to bring a dish to pass.

Following the business session, the group entertained members of St. Joseph Christian Mothers Altar Society. Sister Rose of Oscoda showed and narrated a film on the life of Mother Seton, founder of an order of sisters, who has been nominated for canonization as a saint. If canonized, she will be the first American woman to be named a saint.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Wednesday night, the Tawas Area Athletic Boosters met and voted to help, in some small way, the Donald Loeffler family in Unionville. The idea in mind and brought out at the meeting was to let a tragedy-stricken family know that even people out of their immediate school conference were caring and praying along with them for their son's recovery.

Gary Loeffler, son of the Donald Loefflers and a senior at Unionville Sebawing Area High School, suffered a major injury on October 25 in a Big Thumb Conference championship football game against Saginaw St. Mary High School and had to have a blood clot removed from his brain. He is confined to Saginaw St. Mary Hospital in critical condition and is unconscious most of the time.

The Boosters voted to have canisters placed in local businesses for this cause. These canisters will be clearly labeled, "Give For Gary." They were placed in circulation Monday, November 25, and will be picked up in approximately two weeks. Anyone wishing to send a check to this cause may do so by making the check payable to Tawas Area Braves Boosters and mailing it to Eleanor Pfeiffer, Post Office Box 157, Tawas City, Michigan 48763.

After the project was started, it was brought to my attention that Gary Loeffler is a great nephew of John Loeffler of East Tawas. So it occurs to me that another thought to be kept in mind when you pass by and see one of these canisters is this: "This could be one of our own varsity players, and don't we have a lot to be thankful for?"

Sincerely,
Eleanor Pfeiffer

TC Club Met at Deprest Home

The home of Mrs. Emil Deprest was the scene of the Wednesday, November 20, meeting of Twentieth Century Club with 20 members in attendance. Answer to roll call was "a favorite spot." Mrs. Charles McLean offered the meditation.

The Rev. Kenneth Tousley presented an interesting program, entitled "From Another Land." He showed slides of his recent trip to Great Britain.

Hostesses, Mrs. William Schaff and Mrs. Ervin Ulman, served gelatin salad, crackers, nuts, candy, coffee and tea.

List Thanksgiving Service Text

"I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving."

This passage from Psalms is the Golden Text of the lesson-sermon to be read at Thanksgiving services at Churches of Christ, Scientist.

The 11:00 a. m. public service at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 919 East Bay Street, East Tawas, will include reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation of the President of the United States and a lesson-sermon on Thanksgiving. No collection is to be taken.

Mrs. Olga Sumner, First Reader, and Mrs. Mabel McCormack, Second Reader, will conduct the worship service, which also features testimonies of gratitude.

Mrs. Daniel Cater, soloist, will sing "Father We Thank Thee" by Hulbert.

Citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this statement: "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth."

108 Attended AARP Dinner

One hundred eight members and guests of Lake Shore Chapter No. 661, American Association of Retired Persons, enjoyed a Thanksgiving pot-luck dinner Wednesday, November 20, at the East Tawas Community Building.

Sybil Kaye Kuyana played the piano for community singing and gave her interpretations of several well-known entertainers.

Door prizes were won by Grant Warner and Fred Pfahl. Members are to bring a sack lunch to the Wednesday, December 4, 12 o'clock noon, business meeting at the community building. Coffee and tea will be served.

TA Braves Open Season December 3 With St. Stephen

Tawas Area Braves, which finished behind Carrollton for the NBC basketball championship last March and then went on to win the district tournament, opens the 1974-75 season Tuesday, December 3, by playing host to Saginaw St. Stephen in a non-conference game. Coach Dick Fairless had six returning senior lettermen from last year's squad, including four players who were starters or saw considerable action in last year's schedule.

Returning to the guard slots will be Mickey Haglund and Randy Scales, both of whom were starters on last year's squad, which had a record of 16 wins and six losses.

Mike Mooney, who had a starting role in a number of games last season, will be joined at a forward position by Mark Elliott, who sustained a wrist injury in football prior to the start of last season and was not a starter.

Another senior letterman is Jeff Hemphill, center, who was not listed as a starter last year but was a key scorer in several games.

The other two seniors on the squad are Jim Lansky, who lettered last year, and Tim Schirmer, who made the squad after not participating in basketball last season.

Moving up from the junior varsity are some talented juniors, including Brad Potts, forward; Earl Parsons, guard; Mike Harvey, guard; Jim Haydon, center; Greg Gotcher, guard.

If the above names seem familiar to Tawas fans it is the fact that only Haydon and Harvey were not members of the football team which won second place in the NBC.

Again hampered by the fact that his roster does not list at least one exceptionally tall player, Fairless will have to rely on superior ball handling and shooting to cope with an expected tough schedule in the NBC.

Tallest player on the team is Potts at six feet, four inches, followed by Hemphill and Haydon at six feet, three inches. Mooney is next at six feet, two inches, while Elliott is six feet, one inch in height. Haglund and Harvey are even six-footers, while Scales, Lansky, Parsons and Gotcher are below the six-foot mark.

While the team apparently lacks height, the weight statistics indicate that Tawas should be strong under the baskets and with some muscles toughened by the past football season. Hemphill is the heaviest man on the squad at 210 pounds and Schirmer is an even 200-pounder.

The Braves open the NBC schedule on Friday, December 6, when they travel to Standish-Sterling.

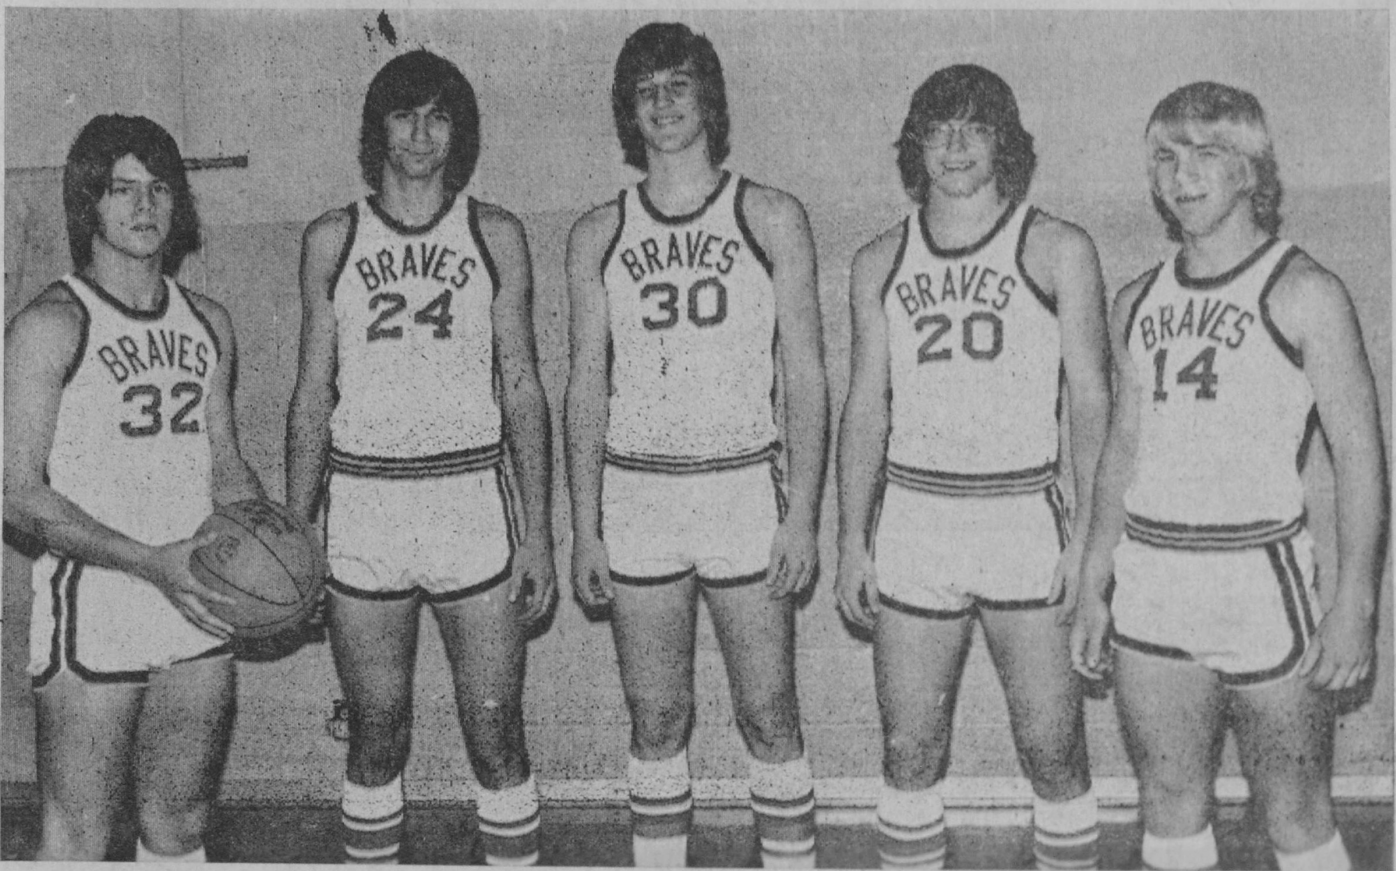

With a 20-game schedule up to the final contest with Essexville Garber on February 21, the season should be hectic with two games scheduled each week.

Included in the schedule are two Saturday night games with Bay City All-Saints, one of the state's top teams last year and a class C power for many years.

Something to be Thankful For Americans enjoying a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner should think of what the nation's farmers have done to make us the best-fed nation in the world. One American farmer produces enough food for 52 people and he invests an average of $200,000 in land, equipment, buildings and supplies to produce his crops.

County Changed Plans; Grant Calls Zoning Violation

Apparently having a second thought about location of the county's proposed new dog pound near the intersection of Sand Lake Road and M-55, Grant Township notified the Iosco County Board of Commissioners Wednesday that the county was in violation of the township's zoning ordinance.

Representatives of the commission are to appear at the November 26 meeting of the township zoning board and at the December 2 meeting of the township board.

In July, the county applied for and received permission from the township to construct a dog pound on the south side of M-55 and east of Sand Lake Road. When bids were opened on the proposed structure, the commission deemed that the price was excessive. Plans were revised, new bids were taken on the project and a contract was awarded to Schaaf Lumber Company of East Tawas to construct the building.

Work had started on preliminary grading and a foundation has been constructed. Investigation by the commission Wednesday revealed, however, that Schaaf Construction Company had not as yet signed the contract.

Grant Township, advised the commission Wednesday that the new plans had not been approved by the township and, while permission had been granted for construction under the original plans, the county was now in violation of the zoning ordinance as the change had not received prior township approval.

Commissioners to Decide In Two Weeks on Building Code

Enforcement of the state's building code in some units of Iosco by a proposed new county agency is still in question, but a representative of the Michigan Department of Labor's Construction Code Commission clarified a number of important questions Wednesday for the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

For one thing, James A. Forrest, building division inspector from Lansing, told commissioners that it was not mandatory for the county to establish a special agency to enforce the building code. Should the board of commissioners so choose, inspections can be handled by the state agency through its new regional offices.

However, the building division inspector emphasized that the state could not enforce the BOCA Code adopted on or before November 6 by East Tawas, Oscoda, Baldwin, Tawas, Burleigh and possibly other townships in the county. These units adopted a code formulated by the Building Officials Conference of America and would have responsibility for enforcement.

The county board of commissioners has tabled final action on establishment of an enforcement agency for two weeks until the matter is investigated further by the prosecuting attorney. It has been proposed that a new department be established to handle building inspection as well as for county engineering and enforcement of the soil erosion and sedimentation act.

Forrest clarified one important point for commissioners when he said that any proposed county agency would not have responsibility for inspecting plumbing, electrical or mechanical work. Forrest said that such inspections had been provided since 1935 by the state to any municipalities requesting the service. It was felt locally that the county would eventually be required to provide these inspections, but apparently a misunderstanding arose here because of the fact that the BOCA Code requires plumbing, electrical and mechanical inspections.

Although no local community has ever requested inspection of work by the above three trades, Forrest said that licensed electrical and plumbing contractors had requested and received state inspection work.

Confusion still existed Wednesday over the number of units which had actually adopted the BOCA building ordinance prior to the November 6 deadline. Should the county decide not to enforce the state code, building inspections would be provided by the state in at least Tawas City and Plainfield Township, which requested enforcement of the state code in those units.

Until a decision is made by the county commission, building applications may be legally approved in only those units which have adopted the BOCA Code and published the required ordinance. Forrest indicated, however, that those units without the BOCA Code could continue to issue building permits until such time as the state code is enforced.

Forrest said that the fee for state inspection of construction had been exaggerated locally by those interested in the BOCA Code. He said the present state fee for a $20,000 home, which provides a plan review and four inspections, is $56.

"It is not just a matter of collecting money for issuance of a building permit," said Forrest. "Enforcement of a building code is for the protection of the home owner and buyer. The inspection guarantees that structural work is being done properly and, if a home owner is doing the work himself, the inspector can offer advice in the construction."

Once provisions of the code are being enforced, it will mean that any residential structural change will require an inspection. As an example, Forrest said that Flint requires an inspection on any building permit totaling more than $25.

He emphasized that the inspection fee schedule for enforcement in the county would be set by the local units of government. In the event that the county does not enforce the state code, the county would still be requested to monitor all building permits, regardless if they were under the state or BOCA codes.

Reginald Bublitz, city manager of Tawas City, said following the meeting that he was most pleased that the city council had requested enforcement of the state code in Tawas City, rather than adoption of the BOCA Code. He believed the building inspection would be simplified by the council's action.

Richter Lixey, Baldwin Township supervisor, expressed the opinion that enforcement of the state code would only mean one more area of control lost by local government.

Forrest said that any local units with second thoughts about enforcement of the BOCA Code could request a hearing from the state code commission at a later time to come under the state's enforcement provisions. Mere failure to enforce the BOCA Code probably would accomplish this.

Forrest said his main purpose in attending last Wednesday's meeting was to "cut out the cat and mouse game" in order to determine which direction the county was going to take. He said he had understood that the county intended to enforce the state code in those units not coming under provisions of the BOCA Code.

The state inspector said that agricultural buildings, with the exception of a farm dwelling or garage, are exempted from the state code. He announced, too, that all new commercial construction is now required to provide barrier-free design in doors, restrooms and other areas for the benefit of the physically handicapped. Those provisions have been required for public buildings since July.

"The state inspection signs are not on the highway as of now, but if someone is doing a bad job in construction, the signs are up and there will be inspections," said Forrest.

November 25, 1949—Short line railroad passenger service in a sparsely populated territory such as is traversed by the Detroit and Mackinac Railway is "unwanted, unused and obsolete," state officials of the D&M in announcing that an application has been filed with the Public Service Commission to discontinue passenger trains No. 1 and No. 12. These two trains are the last remaining passenger trains on the railroad. At the beginning of the automobile age, there were 14 scheduled passenger trains on the main lines of the road and eight mixed trains servicing the branches.

The Michigan Department of Public Instruction reports that the minimum length of a school year is determined by statute. The penalty for maintaining a school year shorter than the legal minimum is forfeiture of state aid and it is the duty of the district to furnish the money to maintain the necessary length of the school year after using the money furnished by the state. Supt. A. E. Giddings of the Tawas City School states that the amount of money which a district is permitted to furnish for the support of the school is quite definitely limited by the state constitution and the matter has practically been taken from the hands of district school officials. "We cannot but wonder just what a district should do to maintain the legal length of the school year when it has exhausted the state aid money and also all of the money which the district can legally raise," said Giddings.

These informational meetings are a joint effort of the Michigan Department of Labor and the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics and similar sessions are being conducted in 32 cities throughout the state.

Employers in attendance at the programs will receive specific information which will assist them in fulfilling the OSHA and state requirements for recording employee occupational injuries and illnesses. Safety consultants of the State Labor Department will conduct the sessions.

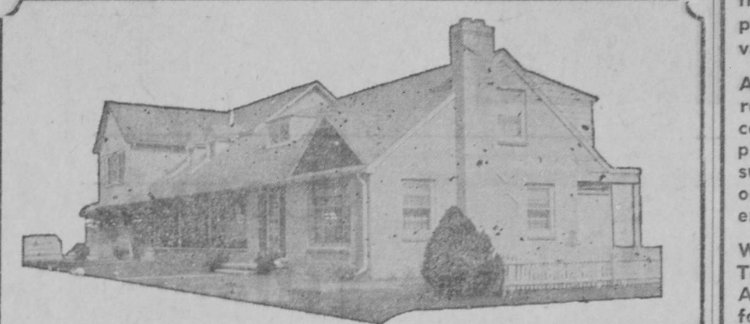

Employers may attend any one of two programs scheduled to start at 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m. A recordkeeping requirement booklet will be given to each employer in attendance at the meetings, which will each last approximately one hour. There is no charge.

You can help yourself avoid costly mistakes in the amount of auto coverage you carry if you talk over your needs with your independent insurance agent. Because—as many people discover too late—all policies do not cover all risks. And the attitudes of different companies toward claim payments vary quite widely.

As an independent agent, we represent several insurance companies. This means we can pick and choose among insurance companies to find the one that provides the best coverage for you.

We have a free booklet, "How To Avoid Costly Mistakes In Auto Insurance," that is yours for the asking. Just call or write for your copy. There's no obligation.

Save money this winter.

Cut your heating costs up to 17% with our official insulation program.

Last fall, at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated introduced a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and cut heating costs up to 17%.

How successful has the program been? Well, in the past 10 months, more than 37,700 homeowners have installed ceiling insulation and, as a result, over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas per year is being conserved. That's enough to heat over 6,500 additional homes this winter. And, that's why we're continuing our insulation program again this fall. Because now is the time to insulate and save.

The heart of our program is simply this: Install six inches of ceiling insulation in your home. It's a quick, easy and inexpensive project that most homeowners can accomplish by themselves for about $100.

How can you get the job done? First, you can do it yourself, and we'll gladly provide a free handbook that tells you how. Secondly, you can have it done by an insulation contractor and, if you wish, we will provide you with a list of qualified firms. Or, third, we can have the job done for you through one of our participating subcontractors. The cost is often under $200 for homes with less than 1,000 square feet of ceiling area.

If you want the job done through one of our participating subcontractors, we have a payment plan to suit every budget. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

The need for energy conservation is as great today as it was last year. So insulate now. You'll be holding down winter heating costs and saving Natural Gas, too. Call us for details or for a copy of our handbook.

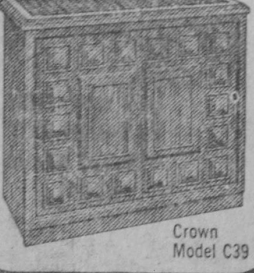

Our Gas is your lowest-cost fuel; conserve it and you'll save even more.

We care about your tomorrow.

DRIVER of a Tawas Area School bus was treated at Tawas Hospital Thursday morning when his bus swerved into a ditch after the driver applied the brakes to avoid hitting a deer which crossed M-55, five miles west of Tawas City. Treated was Donald M. Gollinger, 27, East Tawas. Gollinger had left the school parking lot and was on his way to start the morning bus route. There were no children in the vehicle. The driver told investigating state police that after he applied the brakes, the bus skidded off the road. The bus plowed through the ditch, over an intersecting road, then dropped into another ditch and continued into a farmer's barnyard on the north side of the road. The bus knocked out telephone service temporarily in that area when it hit a telephone pole and electrical lines were knocked to the ground when it struck a power pole. Consumers Power Company employees are shown removing the broken pole which became entangled with the bus. The bus driver walked to a nearby house to report the accident, but telephone service was out on the north side of the road. An ambulance was summoned by a resident on the south side of the highway, whose telephone service was not interrupted. Supt. Edward J. Barry said that it was the third accident involving school buses in the past several weeks, but fortunately no children have been occupants at the time of crashes. He said, however, that the school's bus fleet has been severely crippled.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Snowmobiling One of Fastest Growing Winter Sports

Snowmobiling is one of the fastest growing winter recreational sports in America. One can better enjoy this exciting sport by following some basic safety rules, says Arden Peterson, program leader, 4-H youth programs, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Proper clothing is especially important for safe snowmobiling. Cold temperatures will seem even colder when traveling fast in an open snowmobile. The face, hands and feet require additional protection because of their exposure. Wear good quality thermal underwear.

The outer clothing should be lightweight, water repellent, windproof and permit free movement. Snowmobile suits are recommended. A safety helmet with a face shield is a must. Be sure nothing is loose or flapping around that could get caught in a moving part.

Check the snowmobile thoroughly before starting it. Inspect the throttle control, brake cable and drive belt. Carry a safety repair kit of pliers, screwdriver, compass, adjustable wrench, snowshoes, waterproof matches, an extra drive belt and a first aid kit. Make sure there is an adequate fuel supply. Individuals should follow a "buddy system" when traveling in wilderness areas and leave word as to where he or she will be traveling.

When first riding a snowmobile, start easy and learn what it will do. Each machine performs differently. They will tip over fairly easily. Follow standard riding positions. Always drive defensively, looking out for roots, stumps, fences and low wires. Stay on established trails to minimize damage to vegetation and wildlife. Do not tailgate the snowmobile ahead.

Always ask permission to travel over private property. Use special precaution when riding at night. Never travel over unfamiliar territory or frozen bodies of water at night.

Never tow anything not specifically designed for snowmobiling. Use a rigid tow bar, chains or ropes will tangle in the snowmobile's track.

Social Security Questions Are Answered

Question: I am 19 and I get social security payments on my late father's account. I plan to work part-time from Thanksgiving until Christmas. Will my earnings affect my benefits?

Answer: Only if your total earnings for the year exceed $2,400. If your total earnings for 1974 are over $2,400, $1 in benefits will be withheld for every $2 of earnings over $2,400. But no matter how much you earn for the year, you can get your full benefit for any month in which you neither earn over $200 nor do substantial work in your own business.

Question: I plan to retire in about a year and would like to know approximately how much I will get every month in social security benefits. Can you help me figure it?

Answer: Call or write any social security office and ask for a free copy of "Estimating Your Social Security Retirement Check," a pamphlet that explains how to estimate your monthly payment. If you have other questions, the people at any social security office will be glad to help you.

Question: I am 20 and I need a social security number to get a part-time job to help pay for college. I have never applied for a social security number before and I understand I may be asked to prove my age, identity and citizenship. What do I need as proof? I was born in Texas.

Answer: Generally, a United States citizen can prove age and citizenship with a birth certificate. You can prove identity with a driver's license, voter's card or something similar, preferably something that carries your signature. You should apply for a social security number as soon as possible. To prevent issue of more than one number to any one person, applications are screened against social security records in Baltimore, Maryland, and screening generally takes several weeks. Some employers will not hire you if you do not have a social security number. So delaying your application could cost you the job. Call or write any social security office for help and information.

Snow Storms Cause Increase in Number of Heart Attacks

Ask almost any doctor or nurse in a hospital and they can tell you if it is snowing outside, without looking out.

How? Simple. By the increase in heart attack victims admitted through the emergency room for treatment.

"Many Michiganders have heart attacks each year while shoveling snow, pushing cars or other snow-related heavy physical exertion," says Dr. Donald Albert, president of the Michigan Heart Association. "Most of these could have been avoided if they had only used good, common sense."

"Shoveling snow in sub-freezing weather after several months of relative inactivity puts a tremendous strain on the heart. Middle-aged and older men are particularly susceptible to heart attacks at these times," says Albert. "Especially the guy who is in a hurry so that there is plenty of time. And if one has a heart condition, do not shovel at all, unless advised so by a physician."

The Michigan Heart Association says, when shoveling snow, remember to dress warmly. Several layers of lightweight clothing are warmer than a single heavy layer. And rest often. If clearing a drive in the morning, start early so that there is plenty of time. And if one has a heart condition, do not shovel at all, unless advised so by a physician. "Everyone should realize that cold weather puts an added strain on the heart; add to that unusually heavy exercise and you may be asking more from your heart than it can deliver," says Albert.
