Sheriff Calls Proposed

Justice Standards A State Takeover

Sheriff George Westcott of Iosco County, along with 82 other Michigan sheriffs, have opposed a proposed draft of criminal justice goals and standards of the Michigan Commission on Criminal Justice which was scheduled for final adoption Monday.

"Michigan sheriffs are opposed to a state takeover of the criminal justice system in Michigan," stated Westcott. He said that a draft of the proposal had been received only one week prior to a public hearing on September 18 and felt that it was being "railroaded" through to adoption before the full importance could be registered on citizens of Michigan.

Westcott said that the proposal was a blueprint for state control of criminal justice and the elimination of local units of government in the critically sensitive areas of police, prosecutorial, courts and corrections.

He said that one recommendation restructures present police, prosecutor and court districts without regard to county boundaries and replaces them with comprehensive state-wide criminal justice districts.

Westcott said such action would ignore the state constitution, which provides for each county to have a sheriff and prosecuting attorney.

Goal of the proposed standards, said Westcott, was to provide for state policing of rural areas of Michigan, "a responsibility traditionally imposed on the sheriff."

Firm Seeks Labor Force

Availability of an adequate labor force will be a prime consideration in a major manufacturing firm's selection of locating a clean, light manufacturing facility in Northeastern Michigan. Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation has announced that both male and female applicants will be considered for full-time jobs with excellent working conditions.

Further information may be obtained from an advertisement in this issue.

Tawas Lanes-Colonial Lounge Sale Completed

Sale of Tawas Lanes and Colonial Lounge in Tawas City was announced last week by H. R. (Jim) Hilbert and his wife, Mary, who have owned the business since August 1959.

The new owners are Walter W. Schultz Sr. and Walter W. Schultz Jr. The latter is manager of the business.

Walter W. Schultz Sr. and his wife, Virginia, have owned and operated the Armada Times in Macomb County since 1942. Prior to becoming editor-publisher of that newspaper, he was a Linotype machinist for the Mt. Clemens Daily Ledger.

He is a 30-year member of the Lions Club in that community, is a member of the Odd Fellows, Free and Accepted Masons and Veterans of Foreign Wars. He and his wife plan to retire to the Oscoda area when they dispose of their newspaper business.

Walter W. Schultz Jr. is an attorney and had served two years as assistant prosecutor for Macomb County. He is a graduate of Adrian College, the University of Detroit and Detroit College of Law. He taught school for 16 years at Mt. Clemens and Warren.

He said last week that, in addition to managing Tawas Lanes and Colonial Lounge, he plans to eventually establish a law practice here.

He and his wife, Jean, are the parents of five children. His son, Gregory, entered the 10th grade here last week. His wife and four daughters are to move here later in the year.

The bowling alley business was originally established in Tawas City in 1939 by the late Charles Moeller and his son, Harold. Following purchase of the business 15 years ago, the Hilberts established the Colonial Lounge in conjunction with the bowling alley business.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert said last week that they had no plans as yet for the future, although they will be remaining in Tawas City. Mr. Hilbert is to assist in the operation of the business for about a month.

Enrollment Drops Again at TA School

For the second straight year, enrollment at Tawas Area School has shown a decrease on the fourth Friday count. The total number of students in school last Friday is the figure used to determine state aid payments during 1974-1975 and the full effect of the loss will not be known until Supt. Edward J. Barry reports next week to the board of education.

Total enrollment in all grades last Friday was 2,000 students, as compared to 2,022 last year. In 1973, there was a drop of 26 students from the previous year and the loss in state aid amounted to $20,800.

The school will have a senior class of record size next spring, judging from today's enrollment of 196 students, up 13 students over last year's total. Since the start of the current school year, three more students have entered the 12th grade.

The loss in enrollment begins to show in the 11th grade, which has a total of 191 students. Last fall's fourth Friday count numbered 208 students in this grade and there were 194 students at the start of the fall term.

The sophomore class shows an increase of 13 students over last year, 208 as compared to 195, but the freshman class dips lower with 177 students counted on Friday, as compared to 216 last year. The class has one less member than at the start of the school year.

Despite the above figures, no great change in enrollment has been shown as the totals of the classes have remained rather constant during progress through school.

Enrollment in all but three elementary grades showed a decrease from the previous year. The kindergarten has 121 members, as compared to 115 last year; the first grade total is 96 pupils, up three from last year; the second grade numbers 92 members, as compared to 101 last year; the third grade's total of 100 is down 19 pupils from last year; the fourth grade enrollment is 124, as compared to 126 last year; the fifth grade numbers 135 students, up seven over last year.

The middle school showed a gain of 18 pupils over last year with 539 counted on Friday as compared to 521 on the same day last year. The sixth grade had a count of 141 pupils Friday, as compared to 140 in 1973; the seventh grade was bulging with 211 students, up 30 over last year; the eighth grade had 187 students, an increase of 27 over last year.

Total enrollment at the Tawas City Elementary Unit is 409 pupils and there are 280 pupils at the East Tawas Elementary Unit.

Prison Term Handed Down for Burglary

Iosco Circuit Court action last week saw two persons sentenced, a guilty plea was accepted from one person and trials were scheduled for four defendants.

David M. Bailey of Warren, convicted of breaking and entering, was sentenced to serve three to 10 years in the state prison. Gloria J. Stoudamire, who was convicted of larceny, was placed on probation for five years with the first six months in jail. Paul J. Korbly, who entered a plea of guilty to larceny from a building, was referred to the probation officer for the department of corrections.

Set for trial on October 7 were David J. Maser, possession of a controlled substance; Glen Broom, possession of a controlled substance; William Belden, assault. All entered pleas of not guilty.

Leslie Thomas, who entered a plea of not guilty to leaving the scene of a personal injury accident, was set for trial on November 7.

State Police Check Burglary

One breaking and entering, a vandalism complaint, two larcenies and a personal injury accident were investigated during the past week by Michigan State Police from East Tawas.

Harry Roznowski of Bay City reported a break-in of his house trailer on Bissomette Road, Oscoda Township. A complete inventory of the trailer contents is to be made to determine missing items.

Mildred Sumner of Saginaw reported that 25 windows in her cabin on Point Lookout had been smashed. Included was a thermopane sliding glass door.

Two visitors to the area reported larcenies of fishing equipment while camped at the East Tawas City Park. The East Tawas Police Department investigated seven other complaints of larcenies at the park.

Arthur J. LaGrange Jr., 19, Oscoda, was taken to Wurtsmith Air Force Base Hospital Saturday following an accident on US-23, Baldwin Township. LaGrange's car ran off the roadway and struck a guard rail.

Democrats Had Good Turn-Out

Nearly 60 persons attended the Iosco Democratic Convention held Monday night at the county building. The county's Democratic Party organized last month with William Krantz of Hale as chairman.

Members of nine subcommittees were named by the chairman and preparations were made for the upcoming general election in November.

Speakers included Paul Brown, candidate for lieutenant governor; Prentis Brown, candidate for the state senate in the 37th district, and Patrick Flynn, candidate for state representative in the 105th District.

HUNTING AND FISHING DAY program Saturday, sponsored by Iosco Sportsmen's Club, had a good attendance. # Oscoda Township Officers Dismissed from Lawsuit

A motion to dismiss township officers from a suit brought by an Oscoda resident against Oscoda Township over issuance of a building permit was granted last week by Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller.

A hearing is to be held in the future on a petition by Genevieve Paslaski, acting individually and "as a representative of a common class," seeking a writ of mandamus to stop work on a housing project started by Alderstage Limited Dividend Housing Association.

In his motion to dismiss Charles E. Smith, supervisor; Harry Samotis, clerk; Norman Mather, zoning administrator, and Vaughn Bell, building inspector, from the suit, Atty. Kenneth Myles claimed that the complaint did not allege a clear legal duty to be performed by the officers and did not claim their action was improper. The dismissal motion said that records did not indicate any proof of service or notice to the persons of the class claimed to be represented by the plaintiff.

In answer to the petition for a writ of mandamus, the defendant's attorney declared that the plaintiff had not sought relief until August 13, when substantial work had been performed by a contractor in site development and actual construction of foundations for 11 two-story multiple dwellings containing a total of 75 housing units.

The defendant's answer claimed that plans for the construction were first submitted in February and, after several changes by the township inspector, a building permit was issued on June 26. The answer stated that an amendment to the zoning ordinance permitting construction of a multiple family residential in a one-family residential zone, adopted earlier by the township board, was not in violation of the township zoning ordinance.

Following issuance of the building permit in June, voters petitioned to have a referendum on the zoning change. At the state primary election on August 6, voters of the township opposed the zoning amendment, 391-387. A recount held two weeks ago upheld the August vote.

The township's answer stated that the building inspector has observed the construction and the owner of the property has established a lawful nonconforming use and it would be unlawful to revoke the permit.

In addition, the township's answer maintains that Mrs. Paslaski is not an adjoining property owner and does not allege damages to herself or anyone else.

After three straight rejections, voters of Oscoda Area School District approved an operational millage proposal in a special election Monday. Concluding a heated campaign over the past several weeks, the fourth proposal saw adoption by a 2,023 to 1,754 margin.

The proposal submitted by the board of education was to determine a 7.3 operational tax levy. The amount of taxes would be added to the 9.25 mills allocated from the 15-mill limitation.

Precinct No. 1, comprising Oscoda, AuSable and part of Wilber Township, approved the measure, 1,633 to 1,136, with 12 spoiled bal-

Sheriff's Dept. Investigated Four Thefts

Four larcenies reported last week are under investigation by Iosco Sheriff's Department.

William Blackmore, 402 Fifth Avenue, Tawas City, reported Thursday that a considerable amount of sand was missing from his property in Section 19, Tawas Township. Tracks at the scene indicated that a truck had been used to remove the sand.

A yard light at the residence of Theodore Borycki, National City, was reported stolen Wednesday. The light was an old traffic control signal once used at Saginaw.

David Leslie of Tawas City reported September 24 that a stereo tape deck and several tape recordings had been stolen from his automobile. The door on the passenger side of the vehicle had been pried open.

Marie Knack of Pine Acres Road, Hale, reported September 24 that a 16-foot steel boat had been stolen from her property.

Officers investigated four reports that motorists had passed school buses of Tawas Area School and Whittemore-Prescott Area School while passengers were being unloaded. Prosecution is pending further investigation.

Personal injury accidents investigated included one early Sunday morning on Townline Road. Roy G. Neuman Jr., 32, Hale, was treated for injuries at Tawas Hospital after his vehicle ran off the roadway and ended on its side in a pond filled with water along the road.

Nancy L. Adams, 23, Southfield, was treated Saturday at Tawas Hospital following an accident in Plainfield Township in which her motorbike struck a tree.

Health Dept. Sets Student Immunization

In keeping with immunization month, District Health Department No. Two of Iosco County will be offering tuberculin testing to all fourth and ninth grade students. Diphtheria-tetanus booster shots will be offered to ninth graders only.

Schedule for schools is as follows: Tawas Area High School and Elementary Schools, Wednesday (today), October 2; Whittemore Elementary and Whittemore-Prescott High School, Wednesday, October 9; Oscoda Area High School, Wednesday, October 16; Hale Area High School and Elementary School, Wednesday, October 23; Oscoda Elementary School, Wednesday, October 30.

Permission forms are being sent home from school with eligible students. Parents wishing to have their children participate are to sign the forms and return them.

EAST TAWAS LIONS CLUB presented a "talking Bible" to Mrs. Herbert Lucas of Tawas City as part of the club's continuing efforts to aid blind persons. The gift consisted of a set of recordings of the New Testament. Making the presentation is Edward Sterling, club president. Last week-end, eight club members and their wives attended the district convention at Bellaire. During the annual banquet, the East Tawas club presented a $1,200 check to the district governor to be used in various areas of sight conservation. The money represented a number of Lions Club projects throughout the year in the Tawas area.

Survey Shows Most Students Today Want to Work Within the System

Cynical, apathetic, optimistic, rebellious, thoughtful, cooperative, serious—what is the mood of youth in the America of the 1970s?

As students return to school this fall, high school principals, teachers and parents are looking eagerly for answers. Many of them are revealed in "The Mood of American Youth," a recent study by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and the Gilbert Youth Research Corporation of New York.

"The study shows that most students today want to work within the system," states John Alexander, principal of Tawas Area High School. "Many of our students perform volunteer work through the school, churches and other organizations and many more are interested in doing so."

Interviews with high school students throughout the nation probed their attitudes on education, work, school activities, parents, family, marriage, politics, religion, the use of leisure time and the future of American society.

The survey shows that students today are cautiously optimistic about their life as adults of the 1980s.

Young people feel:

1. That schools are providing them with a satisfactory education and 77 to 99 percent plan to finish high school;

2. High school students should have the opportunity to work part time during the school year (84 percent);

3. Happiness at home (92 percent) is more important than fame (less than two percent);

4. A good family life attracts far more high school students (74 percent) than a lifetime of interesting experiences (25 percent);

5. Participation in politics is distasteful, but voting is a civic responsibility; 78 percent plan to vote in every election for which they are eligible, but only one in 10 would be willing to run for public office.

"Education is important to young people today—they have a positive attitude toward school. The national survey shows that most students feel their schools are doing a good job," said Alexander.

Shortage Is Critical

Probate Judge Stresses Need for More Iosco Foster Homes

There is a shortage of licensed foster homes in some areas of Iosco County, according to Probate Judge William McCready, and it is difficult to insure that a child whom the court finds necessary to remove from the home of parents will be able to remain in the same school district.

"When the child is returned home, another change of school is again necessary," stated McCready. "Although foster homes are needed in all areas of the county, the greatest need at this time is in the Tawas Area School District."

Application for a foster home license can be made through the Iosco County Probate Court or the Iosco County Department of Social Services.

Requirements for licensing include that the home be safe, clean and orderly in appearance and large enough to accommodate the number of foster children for whom the license is issued.

The foster family should be composed of a mother and father about the same age as parents bringing up the child to be placed and all members must be in such physical and mental health as will not adversely affect the health of the child or the quality and manner of his care.

Members of the foster family also must be of good character, habits and reputation and all members must be willing to accept the foster child into the home as a member of the family group.

A moderate fee is paid to the foster parents to provide room, board, clothing and miscellaneous necessities required by the foster child. The cost of medical, dental and other health care for the foster child is also provided.

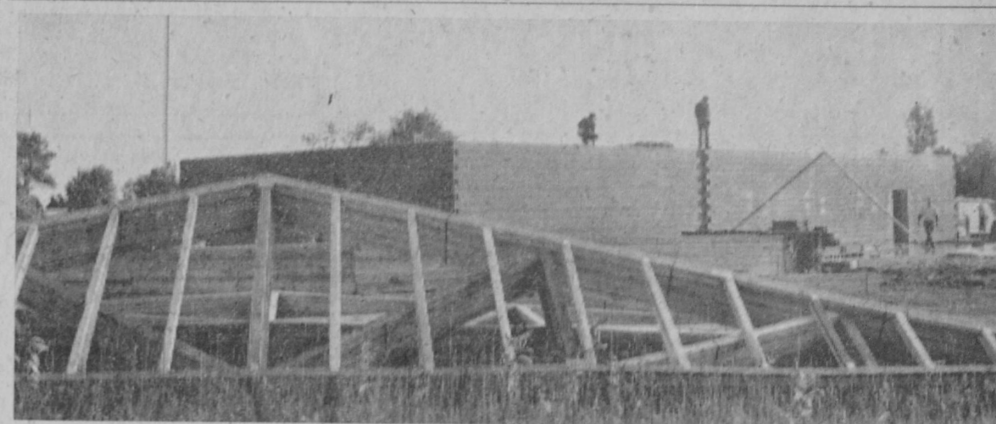

Children are placed in foster homes by the probate court, the department of social services, other licensed child-placing agencies and parents, in some cases. Children placed by the court or department of social services are supervised by the juvenile officer or a caseworker and help for the foster parents is always available should a problem arise as a result of the placement.

Applicants have the right to specify in the application the age, sex and number of children for whom they wish to care.

Interested persons desiring further information or an application for a foster home license may call George Burnette at the Iosco County Probate Court, telephone 362-3991, or David Lawless, Iosco County Department of Social Services, telephone 362-4449.

PROGRESS on the new Hale Baptist Church is shown in these photos. Construction is running ahead of schedule, according to a spokesman for Hale Home Center, contractor, and the new church is to be ready for occupancy by Christmas. The top photo shows prefabricated trusses in the foreground awaiting installation on the structure. The exterior is to be of brick. Site of the new church is north of the M-65-Esmond Road intersection and near the football field.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Be prepared with a Savings Account

What would happen to you and your family if the company had to lay you off? Would you still be able to make your house payments? Could you pay the utility bills or even buy groceries? It's what a lot of people have been waiting for. With contemporary new styling, room for six, and the operating economy of our smallest Fury. And the price tag is easy to live with, too.

OPEN DATED FOR FRESHNESS

At Kroger, you'll find freshness dates on some 1500 food products. Such as milk or eggs or bread. Or packaged fresh meats and fresh fruits and vegetables. And even many other items other grocers don't open-date... like jelly, snack crackers or peanut butter.

What does this freshness date mean to you - the consumer? The easy-to-read month and day (unlike old-fashioned code dating) tells us - and you - the last day a product may be sold in our store. That's so we're both sure that the product will be fresh when you buy it and take it home... and fresh in your home for an average usage period (or longer).

At Kroger, we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the foods they buy. That's why we voluntarily began open-dating more foods than just about anybody else in the country. This is one more Kroger service designed to help you - the consumer.

We hear you and we're trying to help!

There is No Trick
To Place a Herald
Classified—
But They Work Like Magic!

So it is retirement time for your extension home economist and I shall miss the contacts and calls from so many of you.

However, we have shared much through this column over the past two years and it has been a pleasure for me.

I hope that information from this column and from the Cooperative Extension Service has helped you to become a star consumer.

This is the age of the consumer! Attention today is focused on consumer wants, needs, rights and responsibilities. It is an age for everyone, for we are all consumers.

The president's committee on consumer interests summed it up like this: "Today's consumer stands at the center of a storm of change... his life is more complex... there is an increase in the impersonality of the market place..."

And then government got busy and passed laws in the consumer's interest, like the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act, Fair Packaging and Labeling Act, Truth in Lending and the Flammable Fabrics Act, just to name a few.

New laws and rights bring new responsibilities for all consumers; it is a two-way street. So here follows a proposal, ten commandments for a star consumer: (1) Thou shalt inform thyself; (2) thou shalt communicate intelligently; (3) thou shalt deal with reliable stores, dealers and business firms; (4) thou shalt do comparison shopping carefully; (5) thou shalt learn to judge quality and make wise buying decisions within the framework of thy budget; (6) thou shalt read labels, hangtags and handbooks before purchase is made and before product is used; (7) thou shalt obtain all warranties and guarantees in writing and read them carefully; (8) thou shalt know what thou signeth; (9) thou shalt be honest and courteous; (10) thou shalt complain when poor quality is encountered.
