Railroad Has New General Manager

William VanMeter, 46, who began his railroad career 29 years ago as a track laborer while still in high school, is the new general manager of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway.

He had served as general superintendent of operations since joining the D&M in 1971. His promotion was effective August 15.

VanMeter was a student in high school at Frankfort, Indiana, when he joined a section gang for the old Nickel Plate Railroad. That was in 1945, the last year of World War II, and few men of military age were available for such work. VanMeter was one of many high school students who were employed by railroads and industry during summer months.

He retained his summer job with the Nickel Plate and then went to work full time with that railroad after graduation from high school in 1947. He held various jobs with the railroad, moving from the claims department to the mechanical department before becoming assistant superintendent of safety.

With time out for a tour of duty in the United States Marine Corps from 1950 to 1954, VanMeter moved to the railroad's operations department. He graduated from Indiana Business College in 1956, attending night classes while holding down his regular employment during the day.

Following a merger of the Nickel Plate with the Norfolk and Western Railroad in 1964, he was trainmaster with the latter railroad before joining the D&M nearly five years ago.

As general superintendent of operations, VanMeter had charge of train service and train service employees. In his new capacity, he will have charge of all departments of the railroad.

VanMeter and his wife, Donna, are the parents of six children, Lisa, Mary, John, Monica, Ava and Gail. They reside at 629 Whittemore Street, Tawas City.

Scarcity of Patients Forces Hospital to Close North Wing

In an economy move to cope with a low census of patients, Tawas Hospital Monday closed its 25-bed north wing and mandated a four-day work week for its entire staff.

Hospitals throughout the nation have been confronted with a baffling situation for the past five to eight weeks—hospital beds are empty. The Michigan Hospital Association reported Monday that 123 hospitals in the state reported unusually low numbers of patients.

Tawas Hospital apparently has been hit harder by the low patient census than other institutions.

November, the early part of December and February are normally low patient months here and administrators are concerned over what may happen in the future. A low patient census is budgeted for those months, but not for August through October.

M. Jerry Norwood, administrator at Tawas Hospital, stated that as far as he could determine, layoffs in industry and subsequent loss of insurance benefits may have something to do with the decreasing number of hospital patients.

"I would like to believe that people are just not getting sick and do not require hospital care, but we usually have to place patients in corridors at this time of year due to overcrowded conditions," said Norwood. He believed that the depressed economy has a direct effect on the hospital census.

"Naturally, we do not want people in the hospital just for the sake of the hospital's economy," said Norwood. He pointed out, however, that federal regulations require utilization meetings every 72 hours to justify every day's stay by a patient.

As a result, the hospital closed its north wing Monday and consolidated patients and employees in the older east wing.

Hospital employees had voluntarily adopted a four-day work week three weeks ago, but the hospital made this reduced employment mandatory effective Monday, including the hospital administration. This policy was adopted in order to avoid a mass layoff of employees. There are 110 full time employees and 90 part time employees on the staff.

Norwood said that he had been informed by local physicians that office calls were down, too. He noted, however, that one local physician was confined at home due to illness and another is on vacation. The hospital lists 10 physicians in the county for admitting purposes.

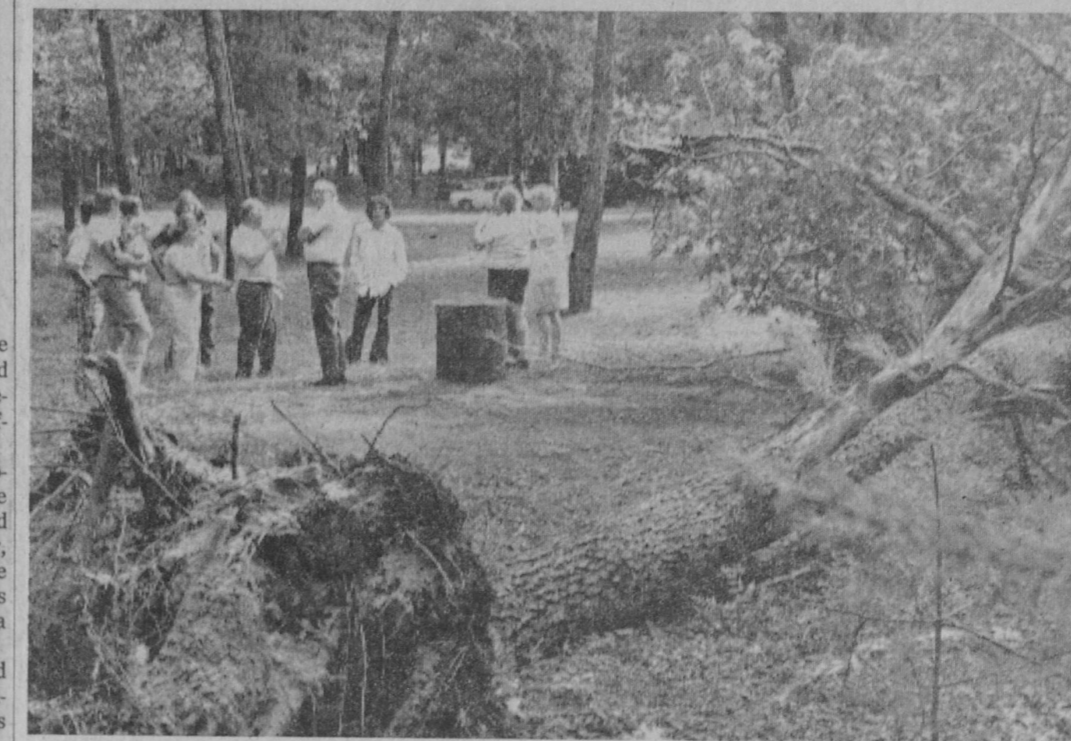

Two Physicians Are Leaving

Dr. Jose F. Fuentes, a surgeon who joined the medical staff of Tawas Hospital November 10, 1973, announced Tuesday that he was resigning effective October 15. A letter announcing the resignation was submitted to the hospital's chief of staff, Dr. Norman Payea of East Tawas.

Fuentes and Dr. Edmundo U. Sanchez, a physician who came to the Tawas area nearly a year ago, are leaving to join a hospital at Douglas, located near Benton Harbor.

Contacted at his office on M-55 Tuesday afternoon, Fuentes said he was resigning for personal reasons. "I love the people here and I hate to leave them. I am not leaving because my practice has not been running smoothly or has not been successful, but conditions have been frustrating at the hospital."

Although Fuentes said he would rather not discuss the matter in public, the announcement that the two surgeons are leaving has met with a similar frustration from his patients and the general public. Telephone calls to the Herald Tuesday indicated that a petition was

Wind (Tornado?) Toppled Trees During Brief Storm

A high wind, believed to have been a small twister, roared briefly Monday morning through a residential area on South Baldwin Resort Road before disappearing over Lake Huron.

No injuries were reported, but several tall oak trees were uprooted on Tawas Beach Club property southeast of US-23 and at the rear of residences of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pyle and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kamp.

Iosco Sheriff's Department reported they had received word that an unconfirmed sighting had been made of a tornado in Ogemaw County near Lupton. The storm was headed in a southeasterly direction and it is believed this may have been the same storm which struck this area.

Mr. Pyle said he was awakened by a roaring wind about 7:40 a. m. and he got out of bed to close the windows. By the time he closed the windows, the storm had subsided.

Mr. and Mrs. Kamp said they heard the roaring wind and opened the curtains in their bedroom. "The trees were bending over and then it was all over—everything seemed to happen so fast," said Kamp.

When the two neighbors went outside to make an inspection, two large oak trees had been toppled in the Pyle's back yard. A 40-foot swath between the two home was covered with debris from trees and fallen leaves.

Neil Sheldon, a resident on the opposite side of the road, said he was having breakfast and heard the roaring wind. The wind took the top out of a maple tree on his property.

Jeffrey and Jerry Hunt, whose parents' home is located opposite the Kamps, said they ran outside when the storm hit and saw a swirling black cloud disappear out over Lake Huron.

All residents of the area were of the opinion the storm was a small tornado and believed they were fortunate in that none of the dwellings were hit by falling trees.

Area Water Project Approved by Iosco Co. Commissioners

Approval was given Wednesday by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners to a $1,900,000 water project in East Tawas, Tawas City and Baldwin Township.

The Iosco County Board of Public Works had given its initial and tentative approval to the project and recommended approval by the county commission.

Two months ago, the county board of commissioners adopted a resolution accepting federal grants totaling $960,000 for this project.

This joint program is to furnish water to industrial sites being developed in the Tawas area to attract light manufacturing plants which can provide year around jobs for workers in this county and communities in the surrounding Counties of Arenac, Ogemaw and Alcona.

In other business, the commission approved road improvements at AuSable River Park at a cost of $10,400. The money is to come from the county parks and recreation commission and work is to be done by the county road commission.

A letter from AuSable and Oscoda Townships requested additional funds from the parks and recreation commission to assist with funding of parks in those townships. A tot lot playground is planned in AuSable and a tennis court, fencing and lighting of three tennis courts is planned in Oscoda.

Edward Nelkie, county treasurer, was named delegate and Leon Putnam, register of deeds, was named alternate to the meeting October 9 of the Michigan Municipal Employment Retirement System. The meeting is to be held at Troy.

The board of commissioners adopted a resolution "welcoming and encouraging the establishment of a Provincial House nursing home as being able to fulfill a growing need in our county."

Two weeks ago, the Lansing based firm announced it was planning to construct a 117-bed facility near the M-55-Fifth Avenue intersection in Baldwin Township.

Judge Miller Heads State Kiwanis Clubs

Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller of Tawas Kiwanis Club was elected 1975-76 governor of Michigan District Kiwanis Clubs at the annual convention August 22-25 at Boyne Mountain. The meeting drew 350 delegates representing 135 clubs of the state.

This is only the second time in 25 years that the governor has been from north of the Bay-Muskegon line and only the third time in the history of the Michigan founded service organization.

James W. Robertson of Sault Ste. Marie served in 1948 and Dr. John D. LeClair, also from Tawas Kiwanis Club, served in 1968.

Judge Miller will serve as governor-elect until the Kalamazoo convention in the fall of 1976 and then will conclude his service at the 1977 convention to be held at Mackinac Island.

Kiwanis has more than 8,000 members and 204 clubs in the Michigan District. Originally, it spanned only the United States and Canada, but now has districts all over the world.

Judge Miller has been past president of the Tawas club, chairman of the district resolutions committee, laws and regulations committee and parliamentarian. He is a native of the Tawas area and has served as circuit judge for 17 years.

He resides with his wife, Betty, and youngest child, Elizabeth, at 1026 Ottawas Lane, East Tawas. Four older sons are married. Allan Charles is a lawyer in San Francisco, California; Chris is an accountant at Lansing; Van is a student in architecture at Ann Arbor, and Clifford is in the United States Marine Corps, stationed at Camp LeJeune, North Carolina.

Water Project Gets Additional Loan

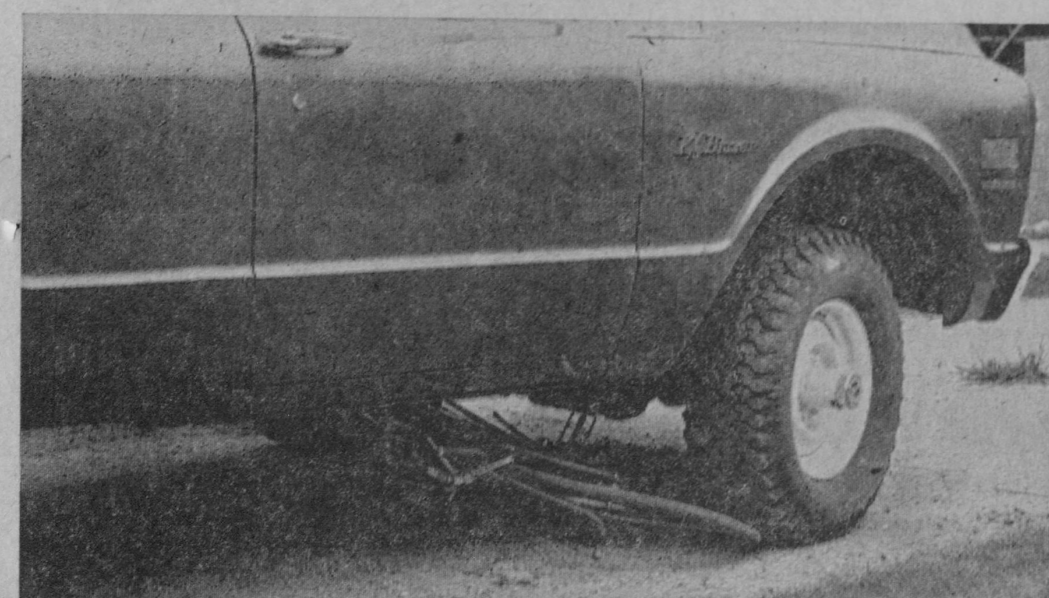

Additional loan money for Oscoda's water system installation has been made available by the federal government, Cong. Phillip E. Ruppe, 11th District, and United States Sen. Robert P. Griffin announced last week.

The Farmers Home Administration approved a $45,000 loan to AuSable Township to supplement the original $830,000 loan approved in 1972.

The loan monies are helping Oscoda-AuSable to provide a central water system for 304 homes and 76 commercial establishments. The loans carry a five percent interest rate over a 40-year life span.

Hospital Benefit

In a campaign to raise funds for radio equipment and ambulances, a radiothon sponsored by Tawas Hospital Association in cooperation with WIOS-AM and WDBI-FM is to be held Friday. Products are to be auctioned over the two radio stations from Tawas Hospital cafeteria.

A 10-YEAR-OLD Monument Road boy, Timothy Huck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Huck, received serious head injuries Wednesday afternoon when his bicycle was struck on Fourth Avenue, Tawas City. Timothy was headed north and following a bicycle being pedaled by his cousin, Gary Williams. A car driven by Nancy Lynn Bernhardt, 29, East Tawas, made a left hand turn into a private drive and struck the bicyclist broadside, the vehicle passing over both the rider and the bicycle. Timothy was given emergency treatment at Tawas Hospital and then transferred to St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw. He sustained a skull fracture and other head injuries. A warrant was issued Monday by the Iosco County prosecuting attorney charging the vehicle operator with careless driving.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Age of Steam Being Relived

The age of steam, which put clanging wheels on iron rails and smoke belching monsters in farm fields—changing the world in the process—will be relived again this Saturday and Sunday afternoons during the annual farmers and threshers reunion.

And on hand to supervise operation of the ancient Advance-Rumley steam traction engine, which would brighten the eyes of many an old threshermen, or his grandson, will be Earl Erickson, a veteran Western Iosco County farmer.

The reunion is to be held at the Neil Erickson farm on Keystone Road, Burleigh Township. The farm is located four miles south and three miles west of Whittemore, one mile south and three miles east of Prescott, or four miles north and three miles west of Twining.

"As we enter the bicentennial year, we dedicate our reunion to the memory of farmers, threshermen and their wives who helped build our country," states the host.

Oats will be threshed with a Huber or McCormick separator powered by the Advance-Rumley steam engine. Some of the straw will be baled with a Case stationary hand-tie packer baler and the numerous other old tractors and engines will be operated to power various machinery from the golden days of steam and horse power.

Many tools of the farmers' trade of many years ago will be on display, as well as a display of the tools of the trade of the farmers' wives. The Ericksons will try to show the operation of as much equipment as possible, including drag saws.

A lunch wagon will be on the grounds both days and there is no admission charge, although contributions helping to make the reunion a success would be appreciated. Exhibitors are encouraged, but would be at their own risk in case of damage to items or equipment.

Saturday's activities will end with a pot-luck supper at about 5:30 p. m. Visitors are invited to bring something to pass and personal eating utensils. Refrigeration can be provided, if needed, and soft drinks only, requests the host.

There will be a worship service on the grounds at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

"Your safety is our greatest concern, so please be careful and help us keep the grounds and area safe and clean," states Neil Erickson. "Join us for a good time, fellowship and visiting in memory of the time gone by when steam was the king of power and horse power tilled our soil."

Visitors are reminded that property and equipment owners will not be held liable for accidents.

FIRING UP this antique steam engine this week-end will be Neil and George Erickson.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Highways to be Busy on Labor Day

Michigan motorists will drive a few more miles over the 1975 Labor Day holiday than they did in 1974, predicts the department of state highways and transportation.

And state police urge Michigan residents and visitors to observe safety precautions in traffic and water activities over the three-day holiday week-end.

Col. George L. Halverson, state police director believes the state's holiday death toll this year could be kept below last year's loss of 25 lives over Labor Day if motorists and pedestrians exercise proper attention to safety rules. Deaths for this holiday have averaged 27 in Michigan in the last five years.

Highway department traffic analysis estimate 643 million miles will be driven from noon Friday to noon Tuesday, 2.5 percent more than the 627 million miles driven over the same four-day period last year.

Karen, a 1975 graduate of Tawas Area High School, was at the Sail-Fish Marine Store owned by her parents when she was notified that a swimmer needed help east of the city park. The swimmer, Charles O'Neil, 37, Lincoln Park, had tired while attempting to swim toward an inflatable toy which was drifting away in high waves. Miss Tripp grabbed a ring buoy and swam about 100 yards to rescue the drowning man. She is a graduate of the American Red Cross swimming program.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Sheltered Workshop Adds New Service to Program

Northern Michigan Rehabilitation and Opportunity Center, Alpena, announced last week that it was diversifying its operation at the Tawas workshop in order to provide more opportunities for handicapped persons.

Stanley Brockenbrough, shop supervisor, said that a number of handicapped persons eligible to work in the sheltered workshop in Tawas City were not adaptable to work in pallet construction.

As a result, NEMROC announces that it is developing an automobile cleaning program which would be made available to dealers and the general public.

Brockenbrough said the cleaning would include engines and interiors, as well as machine wax jobs, painting of trunk interiors and engine compartments.

The workshop is presently providing employment for 10 handicapped persons. It was established here in March by NEMROC, which last week held a grand opening at its new main office at Alpena.

The Tawas workshop is located on Ninth Avenue in the Tawas City Industrial Park. "It is an easy place to find," said Brockenbrough. "Turn off US-23 at the dinosaur near the Tawas River bridge and proceed north across the railroad tracks on Ninth Avenue."

Waste Water Studied for Heavy Metals

An atomic absorption unit at Bay City's waste water treatment plant, said to be the only equipment of its kind in Northern Michigan, is currently analyzing industrial wastes being treated at the Tawas City disposal plant.

This is one of the few communities of its size in the state required by the state health department to conduct an analysis of industrial wastes.

The tests are required under a discharge permit from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, due to the fact that Tawas Plating discharges waste into the sanitary sewer system.

During the six-week testing period, weekly samples from the local waste water treatment plant will be hand carried to Bay City for analysis.

The tests analyze the amount of heavy metals which are discharged by the plant after treatment. Included among such heavy metals are zinc, chromium, copper, nickel, iron and cyanide.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that after the initial six-week period, which would establish levels from the heavy metal content, samples would be collected weekly for an analysis at Bay City every 30 days.

In addition to the above program, three tests are made each week to determine the acid-alkaline balance in the discharge, the normal requirement for operation of a waste water treatment plant. The testing is conducted at the laboratory of the East Tawas waste water treatment plant.

Buch Named to County Bicentennial Committee

Albert H. Buch was designated Wednesday night as the Tawas City representative on the Iosco County Bicentennial Steering Committee. Official confirmation of the appointment is expected later from the county board of commissioners.

Tentative program plans for the July 4, 1976, observance were discussed at Wednesday's meeting of the Tawas Area Bicentennial Committee. Representatives of 14 different local area organizations were present to join in the discussion.

Meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month, 8:00 p. m., at the county building. All organizations are urged to send representatives and individuals are invited to attend.

On recommendation of Clyde Soper, chairman, meetings are held for one hour.

Price Tag is Big Hurdle for Iosco Co. Land Reappraisal

A complete reappraisal of property for taxing purposes is now under consideration by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners. A meeting to discuss interest in such a program and methods of financing is to be held in the near future with representatives of townships and cities.

At the invitation of the board of commissioners, Glen Mask, owner of Gem Surveys, St. Clair, appeared before Wednesday's regular meeting of the commission.

Mask told commissioners that an update of property appraisal cards which his firm prepared for Iosco 10 years ago could save from 25 to 30 percent of the total appraisal cost, but the cards would probably be valueless if the work is not done in two years.

Appraisal cards on each real property description in Iosco County, showing buildings and other improvements, have been partially updated over the years by the county equalization department, assessors and boards of review, but the majority of the cards do not reflect the current true valuation.

The state tax commission conducted its own spot studies here during the past two years which resulted in a factor or penalty being applied to real estate valuation. Assessors in some units had attempted to keep property appraisals current, but other units did not follow suit. As a result, penalties differ from unit to unit.

In addition, new construction during recent years was assessed at or near 50 percent of the true cash value. With factors mandated by the state for each unit, some new homes are being assessed at too high a rate.

Another problem facing local government is a new bill adopted by the state legislature. This new law would have school taxes based on the state equalized valuation, as is the case now, while township and county taxes would be based on the assessed valuation brought in by local units. Where a unit has received a factor to bring the valuation up to the state figure, the local unit would receive less revenue for its operation.

The new law would not effect cities, which adopt individual millage rates to meet budgets, but the tax rate for the county and townships is governed by the county allocation board.

The new state law apparently was designed to encourage a more current property appraisal throughout the state. It has been reported that any individual unit which has had a valuation increase of 30 percent from the state could expect a complete reappraisal from the state tax commission. Work would be done by private contractors and at a higher rate than normal.

One of the serious problems facing Iosco County in a complete reappraisal is financing. About 1½ years of work would be required and the cost would be approximately $200,000, or double the amount of the original survey 10 years ago.

Under Mask's proposal, Gem Surveys would train a new equalization director for this county during the appraisal study. At the present time, Iosco County is without an equalization director and salaries asked by applicants from outside the area are higher than present salaries paid to elected and other appointed officials.

Mask said his firm could act as director of equalization during the study and a man from the local area, recommended by the board of commissioners, could be trained as the new equalization director. He said that such a person would receive invaluable training in assessing and should have no trouble in receiving state certification as equalization director.

Robert Foster, chairman of the county board of commissioners, said he personally favors a change in state law which would permit establishment of a county assessor, rather than for each unit to have an assessor.

He said he once opposed establishment of assessing at the county level, but pointed out that most of the problems today were caused by supervisors of individual units who elected not to spread the state's recommended factor on the tax rolls.

Mask said that the equalization director, with possibly four field men, could work with local assessing officers to keep appraisal card systems up to date.

Medicare Pays Reasonable Bills

Question: I thought that as long as I was receiving care from a participating hospital or health facility, medicare would pay for my care. My neighbor says this is not true. Is he right?
 Answer: Under the law, medicare cannot pay for care that is not considered reasonable and necessary for the treatment of an illness or injury, even if the care is provided by a hospital or other health facility participating in medicare. See "Your Medicare Handbook" for a list of major services and supplies for which medicare generally does not pay. If you do not have a copy, you can get one at any social security office.

Question: I just got a letter from social security telling me that it is time for my redetermination. I have been eligible for supplemental security income payments for a year. Why do I have to have a redetermination?
 Answer: Under the supplemental security income program, a yearly redetermination is made for each recipient. The purpose of the redetermination is simply to make sure that your payment amount is correct and that there have been no changes in your income, resources or living arrangements.
 Question: My father, who is 52, has been unable to work since he suffered a severe heart attack several months ago. He never worked under social security but I think he might be eligible for supplemental security income. Would he be considered disabled?

 Answer: He may be. A person is considered disabled if he is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity because of a physical or mental impairment which has lasted or is expected to last for at least 12 months, or which can be expected to result in death. Your father should apply for supplemental security income as soon as possible at any social security office. If you have questions regarding social security, contact the social security office at 1009 North Madison, Bay City, or phone 892-3554.

Tawas Kiwanis Club Helped Host 1975 Special Olympics

Tawas Kiwanis Club joined Kiwanis clubs from all over the state to help host the 1975 International Special Olympics held this month at Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.
 Three thousand Special Olympians thronged through the free-of-charge booths to try their skill and win prizes following lighting of the torch, flag presentations and opening address by Eunice Kennedy Shriver. The youths won bottles of pop, candy bars and many other prizes.
 Local chairman for Tawas Kiwanis was Jay Rioux. Working in the booths were Dr. and Mrs. Donald Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Korthals, Mr. and Mrs. James La-

Haye and Judge and Mrs. Allan Miller. Edward Davison Jr. donated the lumber for the booths; Kroger Company, the pop, and Alpena Candy, many other prizes. A "Fish for Tawas Perch" game was built by Doctor Hayes and decorated by Nelkie Sign Company.
 The 1975 Special Olympics was the fourth International meet. In 1967, it was held at Chicago, Illinois, and in 1971 Los Angeles, California, was the host. It is held every four years. Mt. Pleasant was honored to be selected for 1975.
 The 3,000 handicapped children represented all 50 states and seven foreign countries. Co-sponsors of the event were the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation and Central Michigan University. Rather Johnson, gold medal winner at the last regular Olympics, was honorary chairman.

A LOOK AT PEACH VARIETIES

Do you know just what variety of peaches you will be freezing? What varieties are good for both canning and freezing? If not, check the varieties listed below for description of the fruit and recommended preservation methods.

Sunhaven—Medium to large in size. Bright red color. Recommended for freezing only. Completely "freestone" only when fruit is full-ripe.
Redhaven—Famous the world over. Brilliant red, firm flesh, fine grained. Freeze or can. Completely "freestone" only when fruit is full-ripe.

Richhaven—Large, nearly round. Bright golden background color overlaid with bright red blush. Flesh is clear yellow, medium texture. Freeze or can.

Halehaven—Good for freezing or canning. Excellent shipper... gets to market in good condition. Use ascorbic acid when freezing... because of its tendency to darken.
Glohaven—Large size fruit, mostly red over a deep yellow undercolor. Clear yellow, firm-textured flesh, very resistant to browning. Freeze or can.

Kalhaven—Well colored fruit with equal amounts of bright red and clear yellow. Firm, fine grained flesh. Freeze or can.

Redskin—A red peach... not a haven variety... but similar in color, texture and quality. Freeze or can.

Cresthaven—Medium size fruit. Golden ground color overlaid with an abundance of bright red. Clear yellow, firm textured flesh, resistant to browning. Freeze or can.

Elberta—Older variety than Havens... yellow color, faint red blush. Recommended for canning only.
When selecting peaches look for yellow skins and flesh of creamy to gold color, under the red "blush." Red blush alone is not a sign of ripeness as the amount of blush varies according to peach variety.

15 Years Ago—
August 24, 1960—Jesse C. Hodder Post No. 189, American Legion, plans to build a new hall over the foundation and basement of the present building. The 70-year old former school building has served as a post home since the 1930s.

Although he felt that the United States could not "undo" the prestige Russia has gained in science through the success of its missiles and Sputnik, Waldemar A. Nielsen told Iosco Quotarians he was optimistic about American chances in the next decade to maintain over-all scientific predominance over the Soviets. Nielsen, executive director of President Eisenhower's committee on information activities abroad, is the son of Mrs. Pauline Nielsen of Tawas City.

State Motor Vehicle Fund Taxes Down

Fuel tax revenues increased slightly, but weight tax proceeds were down in the three-month period ended June 30, the Michigan State Highway Commission announced last week.

Net receipts for the second quarter of 1975 amounted to $124,183,521, a decrease of $2,352,428, or 1.9 percent, compared to the same period of 1974.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund for distribution to the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation, the 83 counties and 531 incorporated cities and villages.

Iosco County's share of the tax revenues amounted to $274,687, $2,297 lower than for the same quarter in 1974. East Tawas received $13,665, the check coming to Tawas City was $9,092 and Whittemore received $2,521, all reflecting a 1.9 percent decrease.

Fuel taxes in the April-June quarter increased by nearly $900,000 to 96.4-million-dollars, but license plate fees declined by nearly 1.8-million-dollars. Officials attributed the decrease mainly to reduced sales of new cars during the period and increased sales of lighter weight vehicles. Total license plate fees during the quarter amounted to 30.9-million-dollars.
