Seek Teamsters as Bargaining Agent

Iosco County Board of Commissioners has been notified by the business representative of Teamsters Local No. 214 that a petition for election has been filed with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission covering all full-time sheriff's department deputies and turnkeys.

For the past two years, contract negotiations between the county and employees of the sheriff's department had been handled by the employees' local organization.

Should the sheriff's department employees adopt the Teamsters as its representative, two different labor organizations would be involved in contract negotiations here. County building and district court employees voted last year to be represented by United Steel Workers of America.

In other business during last Wednesday's session, Sheriff George Westcott requested the commission to authorize a deputy position to allow for the return of James McBride as a deputy sheriff.

In January 1973, McBride, then a member of the department, was drafted into the armed forces. He is to be honorably discharged on February 5 and, under federal law, is entitled to return to his former employment with service time seniority.

A resolution adopted by the commission is to allow 50 percent of the scheduled pay raise to district court employees, adopted by contract on December 30, to be paid retroactive to October 14 and the remaining 50 percent paid effective January 1.

Veteran Hardware Owner Has Retired

William Fuerst, Whittemore businessman for the past 42 years, announced last week that he had sold his hardware and sporting goods business on M-65 to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Raynak of Whittemore.

"I plan to remain at the store for about a month while the Raynaks become familiarized with the business, but then my wife, Lois, and I will do some traveling," said Fuerst.

The Raynaks have resided in the Whittemore area for the past 10 years. A native of Standish, Raynak has been district sales manager for Faygo Beverage Company for the past 10 years. His wife is the former Mary Jane Curtis of Whittemore. Their son, Mark, 18, is a student at Whittemore-Prescott Area High School and is helping his parents in the operation of the hardware.

The Raynaks reside in the Keystone area and he has been a member of the Iosco Sheriff's Posse for five years.

Fuerst began his long business career at Whittemore on February 24, 1933, when he entered the employ of the Joseph Danin Company as a bookkeeper. In 1937, Fuerst and Arden Charters, who had joined the firm in 1935, purchased an interest in the Danin Company and the two men formed a partnership with Joseph Danin in 1945.

Fuerst and Charters, who are brothers-in-law, purchased Danin's interest in 1947 and operated as partners until 1960, when Fuerst took over the hardware business and Charters assumed ownership of the grocery store. Charters sold his business several years ago.

Fuerst served at one time as city clerk and as president of the Whittemore Chamber of Commerce. He has been active in the Whittemore Masonic Lodge.

"I have three horses to train and a lot of traveling to do," said Fuerst, who plans to travel to Alaska later this year for some hunting and fishing.

Sales Tax Loss Is Costly for Schools

Voter approval repealing the state sales tax on food and drugs has resulted in a $12,700 loss in state aid for operating Tawas Area School District. The state legislature is now scrambling to replace lost revenue caused by passage of the November constitutional amendment.

Two other school districts of the county received proportionate cuts in state aid and Hale Area School, which receives no state membership aid, received a cut in its state transportation money.

Supt. Edward J. Barry told members of Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night that the 188-million-dollar deficit caused by the loss in sales tax was even greater than anticipated earlier at Lansing. His investigation Monday indicated that the state may be planning further cuts in educational funds to lessen the financial gap and rumors are afloat at Lansing indicating the next step may be to cut into federal money designated for schools.

The superintendent said he would not know the extent of the state aid cut until about February 1, but, as it now stands, the $12,700 reduction to this school district would be spread over state aid payments to be received in February, April and June.

Barry expressed the opinion that "cutting school money does not cure social ills" and he noted that similar cuts had not been made in state welfare funds. He pointed out, too, that schools had not organized to lobby against the cuts and "there was no big march on Lansing when the legislature discussed cutting school funds."

The Tawas Area superintendent recommended that the board of education place an immediate hold on any anticipated expenditure for capital outlay. He said that the budget could be adjusted to meet the loss in revenue, but it would be difficult to make adjustment for any additional losses.

A further report on finances indicated that collection on the 1974 tax levy in this district was 15 percent lower than at the same time last year. As of this week, the school had received 20 percent of the levy from tax statements mailed in December.

According to Barry's report, the following percentages of collection had been reported by the various unit treasurers: Wilber, 25 percent; East Tawas, 30 percent; Tawas City, 19 percent; Baldwin, 16.7 percent; Whitney, 18.8 percent; Grant, 23.4 percent; Tawas, 27 percent. There was no report from Alabaster or Sherman.

Barry said the school financial picture was not rosy and pointed out that the state tax commission was in the county building making another sales study for property valuation purposes. He said the county could look for a hike in property assessments similar to last year and that it could not come at a worse time.

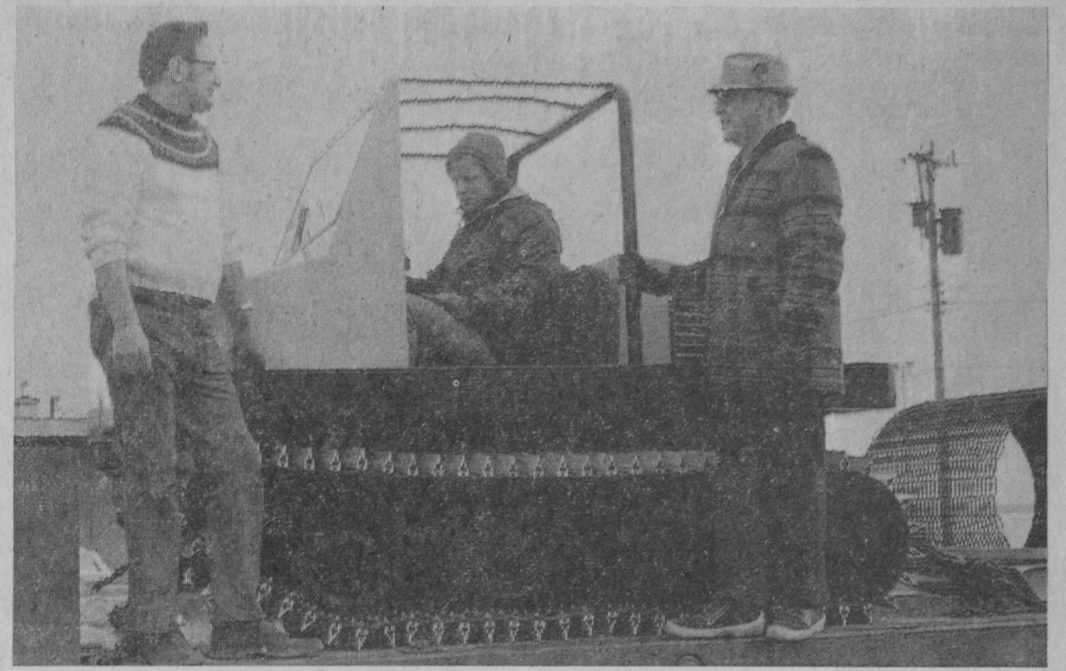

He expressed the opinion that county, township and city officials should not give in to the tax commission on any recommended valuation increase.

"One of the things that should be remembered is that, in Tawas Area School District, for every $1 of taxes gained through increased valuation, the school district loses $1.08 in state aid," said Barry.

On the brighter side of school financing, Barry said the county board of commissioners had turned over to schools the federal funds received through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). The funds are being administered by Iosco Intermediate School District.

The county had been allocated $90,000 for public service employment and manpower training programs for unemployed and underemployed persons. This figure has been updated to $114,000 and may go as high as $190,000.

Barry said this school district was considering the hiring of a permanent substitute teacher using these funds as well as hiring a librarian for use by the middle school.

HURON SNOWMOBILE ASSOCIATION received delivery Monday on its new motorized grooming machine for snow trails, but now awaits snow in order to put the equipment into use. The unit was purchased at a cost of $9,000 and an appropriation was received from the Iosco Parks and Recreation Commission for one-half that amount. The association, comprised of the Oscoda Sportsmen's Club, the Sand Lake Sno-Goers, the Monument Trail Riders and the Iosco Sno-Drifters, is now selling decals to help finance the purchase. A 40-mile marked trail is to be laid out in Huron National Forest and the trail is to be groomed weekly to make riding a lot easier and more fun. Oscoda-AuSable Chamber of Commerce and Tawas Chamber of Commerce are assisting in the sale of the decals. W. D. Two Politicians Plan Tawas Visits

Two political leaders at the state and national level are to be here this week for meetings with area residents.

State Sen. Robert Davis is to attend a joint session of East Tawas and Tawas City businessmen Thursday noon at the Holland House, East Tawas. The regular meeting of the Tawas City Businessmen's Association has been canceled and Leonard Hoshbach, president, urges all members to attend the session with Senator Davis.

On Friday, Cong. Philip Ruppe will be concluding a six-county, three-day visit of his district when he comes to Iosco County. He will hold office hours from 9:00 to 10:30 a. m. at the county building in Tawas City and will meet with any person having a personal matter concerning federal programs. No appointment is necessary.

The congressman will be guest of honor at a legislative luncheon Friday noon at the Holland House under sponsorship of Tawas Chamber of Commerce. He will speak on economic matters and the energy crisis, to be followed by a question and answer period with participation by those attending. The public is invited to this "Dutch treat" luncheon.

ESY Committee Schedules First Meeting Next Monday

First meeting of a new committee to study possible utilization of the extended school year in Tawas Area School District is to be held Monday, January 20, 7:30 p. m., at the school administration office. Interested persons are invited to attend.

A committee which had studied ESY prior to an unsuccessful bonding vote to construct a new high school has been reactivated. Expressing a desire to again serve on the committee were Mrs. Shirley Klenow, Mrs. Nancy Fox, Neal Miller, John Austin, Ivan Kennedy and Arthur Zielh.

Appointed to the committee Monday night were Robert Elliott, Mrs. Diane Oberlies, Mrs. Michele Parrish, Mrs. Nancy Huck and Delano Myles.

It was stated that the committee probably would be prepared to make its recommendation to the board of education in about one month.

In other business, a report was given by administrators on a state objectives test given to fourth and seventh graders during the 1972-73 school year. The report indicated that fourth graders had scored poorly in reading, but had excellent scoring in mathematics; seventh graders scored poorly in mathematics, but scored excellently in reading.

Supt. Edward J. Barry said that the results were now being evaluated to show possible weaknesses in the training. He felt the information was most valuable to the district in that it would be a tool to determine where new and supplemental instructional materials were needed.

Patricia Casey was named girl's track coach. Appointment of Dr. James Jacques to the sick bank committee was approved. Teacher representatives include Judith Gidley and Roger Spencer.

A new policy outlining procedures for examining student records under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 was adopted by the board of education.

On recommendation of Prin. John Alexander, football staff appointments were approved for 1975.

First semester examinations are to be given starting Monday, January 20, through Thursday, January 23. Friday, January 24, is to be a testing and records day for teachers with inservice training.

Authorization to obtain bids on the first phase of improvements in the office practice laboratory was authorized by the board of education. Included would be carpeting of the room and installation of electrical service. To be considered at a later time would be new tables and adjustable chairs.

There are 14 students presently enrolled in this course and the room is being accommodated to serve 18 students. Proposed improvements to facilities were recommended by the board of education's vocational committee and vocational teachers.

Mrs. Dianne Knight, vocational teacher, said proposed improvements were being designed to develop an office-like situation in the classroom and to make the instruction more interesting to students. The program presently offers two hours of office typing, two hours of bookkeeping and one hour of shorthand.

Mrs. Knight said that students are to visit various offices in the area to observe actual routines used in a variety of fields.

Alexander said that goals for the program were being established for the next three or four years. He said that any proposed expenditure would depend on action by the legislature concerning further cuts in state aid money.

Robert McDonald, middle school principal, reported that Philip Ferguson, a middle school teacher who was injured December 15 in an automobile crash, was still in critical condition in the intensive care unit of St. Mary's Hospital, Saginaw. The school's sick bank committee was to meet Tuesday to consider an additional 20 days of sick leave for Ferguson. The middle school is to sponsor a Valentine's Day dance Friday, February 14, with proceeds to be donated to Ferguson.

McDonald reported that health education classes in sixth and seventh grades had visited Tawas Hospital on Monday. He stated that six parent volunteers are presently assisting with classroom instruction.

Arson Suspected in Fire Which Gutted Old Farm House

The state fire marshal's office is to conduct an investigation of a possible arson Wednesday night which gutted an abandoned farm house at the corner of Meadow Road and Rempert Road in Tawas Township.

The officers found the door on the north side of the house had been forced open and a quantity of liquid, believed to be kerosene or fuel oil, was burning on the basement floor.

Tawas City Fire Department was called to the scene. Flames spread to the second floor of the old house and broke through the sidewalls at several points.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read 1 Peter 1:3-9)

We would like you, brothers, to understand about those who are asleep in death. (1 Thessalonians 4:13)

I remember the summer evenings of my childhood. We would play out-of-doors until darkness and then my father would call, "Come in now. Time to go to bed." We often objected, but he always prevailed.

Life is like that. We are so busy out in God's world, when, suddenly, it is sunset. Then He sends out the call, "Come in now. Time to go to bed and go to sleep."

Jesus used sleep as a picture of death. Of the little maid, He said that she was not dead, but sleeping. And of Lazarus, He gave the assurance, "Our friend Lazarus sleepeth."

The apostle Paul also speaks of death as sleep.

But why should Jesus and Paul liken death to sleep? The implication is that we shall awaken someday! Death is not the end; there is the morning of the resurrection.

Yes, I did hate to go to bed as a child. But when I surrendered to it, there was always the new morning to look forward to.

PRAYER

Lord, we are grateful to You for taking the fear out of death. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

How much we have to look forward to beyond this life!—Sidney Hatch (Tigard, Oregon)

Earn More And Still Receive SS

People under 72 can work and earn more and still get their social security benefits starting this month, according to John Carr, social security district manager, Bay City.

"In 1975, people can earn as much as $2,520 and get their full social security retirement or survivors benefits," Carr said. "Previously, the yearly earnings limit was $2,400. The increase keeps the amount in line with increases in general average wages."

For earnings over $2,520 in 1975, social security benefits will be reduced by $1 for every $2 earned. "But persons may collect their full monthly benefit for any month in which they neither earn over $210 nor do substantial work in their own business." Previously, the monthly earnings limit was $200.

Different rules apply to disabled people who are getting social security disability benefits. "And people 72 and over will continue to get their full social security benefits regardless of earnings," Carr noted.

The $2,400 figure applies to the report of earnings for 1974 that people who get benefits must send to social security by April 15, 1975. The social security contributions rate remains the same—5.85 percent of covered wages contributed by employees and employers; 7.9 percent of covered self-employment income.

The earnings and contributions base, the amount on which social security contributions are made, will be the first $14,100 of covered earnings for the year, starting in January. Previously, the base was $13,200.

Social security pays over 4.9-billion dollars a month in retirement, disability and survivors benefits to over 30-million people. The Social Security Administration is an agency of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

If you have any questions regarding social security, contact the social security office at 1009 North Madison, Bay City, or phone 892-3554.

Cards Lost Two Games Last Week

By DORNACE BELLVILLE

Whittemore-PreScott Area Cardinals took it on the chin twice last week, losing to the visiting Roscommon Bucks, 66-44, and then dropped a 75-37 game Friday night at Saginaw St. Peter and Paul. The Junior Varsity lost both of its games, 78-43 and 73-49. The Cards could not find the range in either game. The Whittemore-PreScott squad tied the game at 26-26 and 28-28 in the second quarter, but Roscommon reeled off three straight field goals to take the lead and the Cards never threatened the rest of the way. Jim Englehard was just too much for the Card defense to handle Friday night as he collected 27 points on 13 field goals and a free shot. Collins collected 22 points and Jeff Cousineau had 11. Joe Smith hit double figures for the losing Cards with 14 points and Ken Horn had 14 points on seven field goals for the junior varsity squad.

Beat Pinny, Lost to Cougars; Braves Face Tough NBC Test

After a three-week layoff for the holidays, Tawas Area Braves split the decisions in two games played over the week-end and were to meet Carrollton last night (Tuesday) and will meet Essexville-Garber Friday night in a week which will go a long way to decide the NBC championship.

The Braves started the action Friday night by squeezing passed Pinconning, 60-46, but were no match for Bay City All-Saints on Saturday night, losing to last year's state champions, 92-57.

The Braves and Spartans battled to a 12-12 tie in the first quarter and the Braves went ahead by one point, 29-28, at intermission. The Braves caught fire with an 18-11 bulge in the third quarter and won going away with a 13-7 margin in the fourth quarter.

Tawas had three players scoring in double figures with Randy Scales leading the way with 14 points. Mike Mooney and Jeff Hemphill each had 10 points.

The Braves put their unbeaten string of five NBC games on the line against Bay City Saturday night, but All Saints won with surprising ease. The Braves stayed with All Saints during the first period, but were no match for the red-hot shooting Cougars after that time.

All Saints made seven of its last eight shots in the opening quarter to take a 23-15 lead, then meshed 12 of 18 shots in a 30-point second quarter to take a 53-25 margin at halftime.

Another 30-point effort in the third quarter put the game on ice for Bay City.

The Braves had trouble finding the basket during the night and completed only 24 out of 73 shots for a .329 shooting average. The Cougars hit on 38 of 73 shots for .521.

The victory was the 23rd straight and 10th this season for the defending Class C champions. The Braves now have a record of six wins and two losses.

Mark Elliott paced the Braves in a losing cause with 13 points on five field goals and three charity tosses.

W-P Area Special Education Teacher Gets Recognition

Arnold Verwert, who heads the special education department at Whittemore-Prescott Area School, was recently honored as "member of the month" by the Grand Rapids Teachers Credit Union. He formerly taught corrective reading in the Grand Rapids area.

The GRTC's monthly "Communique" cited Verwert's special education program at the Whittemore Elementary School as the reason for naming him member of the month.

Verwert had been a member of the W-P faculty for four years and has 15 fourth, fifth and sixth graders, whose problems range from mental deficiency and emotional disturbances to a variety of learning difficulties.

From the very beginning, Verwert has been given a free hand by Prin. James Galligan and Supt. Ray Kesler to do what he felt appropriate in the classroom. To this fact, alone, he attributes the success he has had.

At first, "his kids" were involved in such things as water colors, bottle cutting and they even poured concrete sidewalks on the school grounds.

About 1½ years ago, while working with the children in reading on a one to one basis, he found he needed something to occupy the rest of the class. He decided hand-skills were the answer.

Three children in the class knew how to knit and between them had two pairs of needles and a couple of skeins of yarn. A teacher's aide began coming in for an hour a day to teach them knitting and pretty soon the kids were teaching one another.

"They start out by making straight pieces (scarfs) and go on to slippers, purses, etc.," said Verwert.

Some of them have worked for weeks before they could accomplish a single row and just when everyone gives up on them, they are able to grasp the mechanics involved. Every child has been able to accomplish something.

The children sell their own products to friends and people in the community in order to make this a self-supporting business. It has become so successful that they are now ordering hundreds of skeins of yarn per month.

Recently, Verwert purchased four sewing machines and yard goods (out of his own pocket) and production on pillows, aprons and other items began this month.

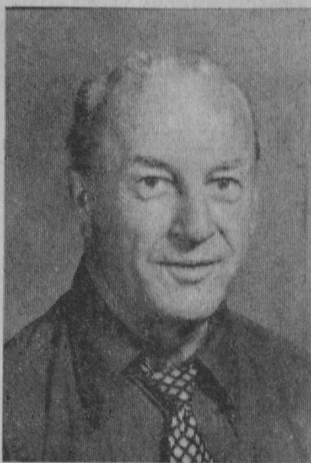

The class spends 50 percent of the day on academics and the other 50 percent on their projects. He has found that by combining successful career training with special education, the children are more receptive to any new scholastic challenge.

Now a whole new world has opened to these children and Verwert directs his efforts toward reducing their deficiencies and building their strengths. All parent-teacher conferences take place in the home, rather than the classroom, where he feels important things about the child can be learned.

Under the program's many positive results, Verwert has found that the children have modified behaviors, developed employable skills, self-esteem, creativity, patience, determination, salesmanship and improved math skills.

Principal Galligan said that Whittemore-Prescott Area School was proud of the program being conducted by Verwert and believed "this dedicated teacher was most deserving of the recognition by GRTC." ○

Iosco Jail Food Cost Was Slightly Lower

Despite the inflation spiral and an increased number of meals served, food costs at the Iosco County Jail during 1974 dropped two-tenths of a cent from the previous year.

In his annual report to the county board of commissioners Wednesday, Sheriff George Westcott attributed this slight saving in food cost to fixed costs in the jail kitchen and utilization of 23 high-way killed deer.

Total meals served at the jail in 1974 were 14,906, an increase of 4,365. The jail received 866 prisoners during the past year with an average daily count of 13.6. The low month for meals served was June with 834 and the high month was December.

Expenditures in the kitchen included $4,406 as food costs, $8,381 in wages paid to cooks and $600 for miscellaneous costs. The average cost per meal was 91 and two-tenths cents.

Arrests by the sheriff's department during the year numbered 332, with drunk and disorderly topping the list with 66. Driving under the influence was next with 58 arrests.

Included in prisoners received were 98 arrested by Michigan State Police, 208 by the Oscoda-AuSable Township Police Department, 57 from the East Tawas Police Department and 10 from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. There were 161 persons committed by the courts.

Activities by the department during the year included 3,917 file and registration checks, registered 354 handguns, inspection of 125 vehicles for Michigan registration, responded to 134 fire and burglar alarms, rolled 3,432 sets of criminal fingerprints, served 898 civil papers.

The department investigated 513 property damage accidents, 154 personal injury accidents, five fatal automobile accidents, 47 snowmobile and marine personal injury accidents, three fatal snowmobile and marine accidents.

Breakings and enterings numbered 500 complaints, there were 428 larcenies, 337 disorderly persons, 28 simple assaults and 270 complaints for malicious destruction of property.

The department checked 10,301 business places and found 401 not secure. Homes and cottages checked numbered 6,996 and 79 were found not secure.

Patrol cars rolled 230,446 miles during the year, with 22,110 miles required to transport prisoners.

Marine operations during the year included 85 arrests and 134 warnings. The animal control officer picked up 1,131 dogs and disposed of 1,052. There were 79 dogs put out for "adoption." The animal control officer received 3,651 complaints, drove 33,719 miles and investigated 110 dog bites, 28 cat bites and answered complaints from persons bitten by a variety of other animals, including rabbits, hogs, horses, hamsters and chipmunks. The animal control officer disposed of six rattlesnakes.

The department turned over $40,303 in fees to the county treasurer and turned $25,071 over to the courts for bonds, fines and costs.

Foster Heads Iosco County Commission

With three new members attending their first meeting last week, the five-member Iosco County Board of Commissioners held its annual organizational meeting on Wednesday.

Robert K. Foster of Oscoda was re-elected board chairman and Mrs. Mary Jane Burdett of Baldwin Township was named vice chairman.

Named to head the county finance committee was Donald Griffin of Oscoda. The other two members of that committee include William Wereley of Hale and Joseph Fox of Tawas City.

Wereley was named chairman of the legislative committee, with Mrs. Burdett as the second member. Mrs. Burdett heads the health and public safety committee, with Wereley as a member.

Fox was named chairman of the building and grounds committee, which included the county's new engineering department. Griffin is the second member.

Named to the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Commission were Foster and Mrs. Burdett. Foster heads the county's department of public works, with Wereley as the second member of the commission named to that group.

Mrs. Burdett was named as Iosco's representative on the East Central Michigan Comprehensive Health Planning Council, while Griffin is the county's representative on the nine-county manpower training consortium. Commissioners picked for the substance abuse advisory council were Mrs. Burdett and Wereley, while Griffin is to represent Iosco on the East Michigan Tourist Association.

Named to the District No. 2 Health Board was Mrs. Burdett and Wereley, who also is on the selection committee for the mental health board. Fox is the representative on the Northeastern Michigan Mental Health Clinic Board.

Named to the county's election scheduling commission were Harry Samotis of Oscoda, Mrs. Mary Byrd of Tawas City and Carl Babcock of Tawas City.

Much of Wednesday's session dealt with interviewing three applicants for the new position of county engineer. The new person to be hired is to administer a department which has a wide range of county functions, including state building code enforcement, administration of the soil erosion and sedimentation act, consultant for the public works department, plus engineering services.

The commission's January session is to be continued Wednesday (today) with annual reports presented by the various departments of the county building.

New TC Physician A World Traveler

Dr. Devendra Sharma, 27, newest family physician in the Tawas area, is a long way from his native homeland of India. But, as he explained last week, he has not resided at his birthplace of New Delhi for the past 10 years and seriously doubts if he will ever return—he likes to travel, but the distance is too great.

Effective January 1, Sharma became associated in the family medical practice of Dr. Larry S. Kelly and Dr. James E. Jacques in Tawas City.

Coming here from Saginaw after three years of family practice residency at St. Luke's Hospital, Sharma said he had visited the Tawas in April of last year at the invitation of his new associates in the Tawas Medical Clinic. His work here was included in a course of study in the family practice residency, necessary to be certified by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

"I liked what I found in this community; the difference between small and big cities is unbelievable—the people seem so friendly," stated Sharma. He said he liked sport fishing and enjoyed fishing for perch in April. He is also interested in other outdoor sports.

He met and married a Saginaw girl two years ago and he and his wife, Barbara, are expecting their first child shortly.

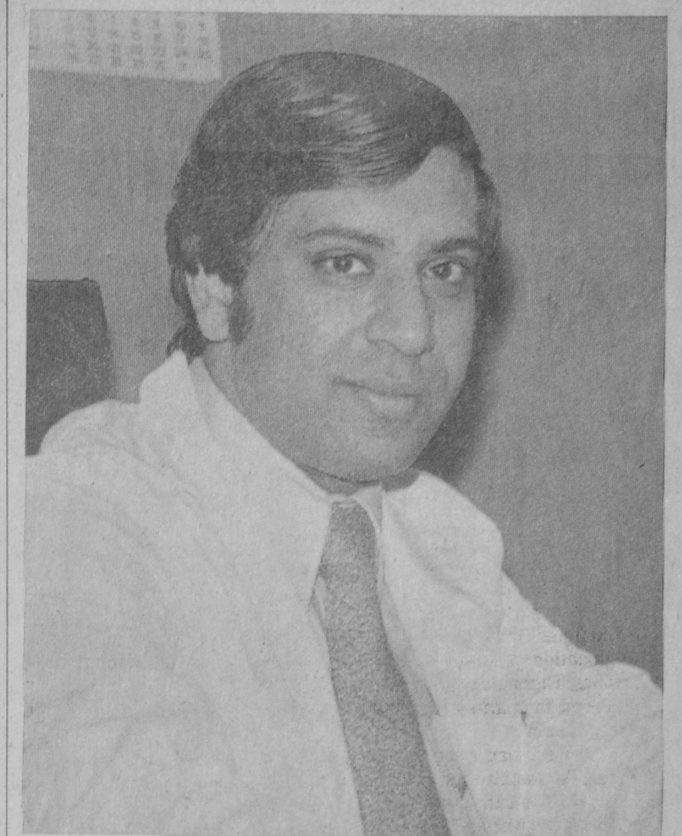

Because of the work of his father, who is associated with the World Health Organization (WHO) sponsored by the United Nations, Sharma traveled extensively in Europe and Africa and, while residing for one year in Denmark, was enrolled in an extension course in English offered by the University of Nebraska.

Following graduation from high school in India, he was enrolled in a premedical course for one year. He graduated from the University of Malta with a medical degree in 1971, following five years of study.

A native of that island, who was a family medical practitioner at Saginaw, returned and attempted to recruit graduating students for a family practice residency at Saginaw. Sharma was the only graduate to accept the offer and came to Michigan.

Sharma's parents presently reside in Switzerland. His two brothers reside in England, where one is studying to be a teacher and the other is majoring in biology. "My family is pretty well scattered around the world, so you can see why I consider Michigan to be my home," said Sharma.

DR. DEVENDRA SHARMA is new physician in area.

Letter to the editor:

Many of us are still in a state of shock after receiving our tax statements last year. Let me show you the tax picture on our home for 1973 and 1974:

In 1973, with an assessed valuation of $9,600, the city tax was $155.14; the county and school tax was $242.40 with a total tax of $397.54. In 1974, with an assessed valuation of $10,700, a state equalized valuation of $12,519 in July and state equalized valuation of $12,547 in December, the city tax was $189.67 and a special sewer assessment of $193.18 for a total of $382.85; the county and school tax amounted to $328.22 for a total of $711.07.

Since we purchased our home in March 1973, our total tax bill has increased by $313.53 or 79 percent; our city tax (including sewer assessment) has increased by $227.71 or 147 percent.

In this time of economic crisis, I think it is wise for us to look critically at all financial aspects of our lives. This situation cannot be left entirely in the hands of the president and congress to resolve for that most certainly will result in "too little, too late" for too many of us. Let's face facts in our own backyards.

There doesn't seem to be much hope of increasing our incomes at this point and we see inflation cutting down our buying power every day, thus actually decreasing our financial worth. It would appear logical, therefore, that the only alternative left to us is to cut our expenses. Pretty difficult, I'll admit, but possible if worked at intelligently and diligently.

We have already done this in our homes. We have cut out or cut down everywhere we could, recognizing that our families must be fed, housed and clothed adequately.

Not all car insurance policies are alike. You'll find out when you have a claim.

You can help yourself avoid costly mistakes in the amount of auto coverage you carry if you talk over your needs with your independent insurance agent. Because—as many people discover too late—all policies do not cover all risks. And the attitudes of different companies toward claim payments vary quite widely.

As an independent agent, we represent several insurance companies. This means we can pick and choose among insurance companies to find the one that provides the best coverage for you.

We have a free booklet, "How To Avoid Costly Mistakes In Auto Insurance," that is yours for the asking. Just call or write for your copy. There's no obligation.

Postponing Tawas City's advertised bid opening on special assessment and general obligation bonds from January 28 to March 3 was accomplished last Wednesday, but there could be serious consequences following the city council's action of January 6 authorizing this move.

City Mgr. Reginald Blublitz warned the council at that meeting that postponing the bond sale could nullify the low contractual bid received on the project, which would leave the city wide open to a possible damage claim from the contractor. The low bidder had twice extended the effective time of the bid, the last extension expiring January 31, while the city was awaiting approval of the bond sale from the Municipal Finance Commission. Acceptance of that bid, by the way, was accepted unanimously by the city council.

Blublitz's opinion was shared Wednesday by the city's financial consultant, Miller, Canfield, Padock and Stone. It was for this reason that the city manager advised January 6 that legal advice should be obtained and suggested that the council withhold any action until January 20, when he would complete information on this matter and other questions.

Should any problems arise over this matter, it will be the elected city officials' responsibility binding the city at large, not the self-styled spokesmen for protesters who appeared at the meeting.

It seems strange that the city council now finds itself in this possibly hazardous position, as it has followed the legally prescribed steps in its establishment of the special assessment districts. Discussion on the proposed sewer project has been a major topic of council meetings for more than 1 1/2 years.

In October 1973, the council took its first legal step toward establishment of three special assessment districts to finance sewer construction and property owners were notified that the council had authority, under state law, to issue bonds without a vote of the electorate, unless a petition signed by not less than 10 percent of the registered electors was filed within 45 days. No petition on a referendum was filed and the council authorized its bonding consultant to proceed with establishment of the special assessment districts.

Not until six months after the deadline for filing for a referendum was there any talk of a petition from those property owners who oppose the special assessment district and those who have protested say they are opposed to the cost, not to the need of the new sewer. By that time, the legal machinery commenced in October 1973 had advanced to the point where the city was in the process of submitting its application for bonding to the Municipal Finance Commission. That protest was noted, but the council deemed it in the best interest of the city to proceed with the project. Numerous delays resulted while the bonding attorney perfected the application submitted in August 1974, and final approval was not received until December 23, when the Municipal Finance Commission overrode an appeal from property owners.

The city council has established a rate of $19 per front foot of property as the assessment for the sewer, but the usual sewer construction fee of $25 for each lot is not to be charged in the special assessment districts. Those opposing funds the cost construe this to mean that the actual cost of construction is $38 per foot as property owners on both sides of the sewer are being charged the $19 assessment.

This is not the case, however, as when the alleged $38 cost is multiplied against 9,450 lineal feet of sewer in the three districts, the total cost would be $359,100. The special assessment bond issue is for $227,000 and the general obligation bonds assessed against the city at large of $60,000 totals $287,000, which is $72,100 less than the protesters' arithmetic.

The city's share, to be financed partially from federal revenue funds, would finance construction of manholes and the river crossing in the special assessment districts, as well as engineering, inspection as work progresses and legal fees. The council has repeatedly pointed out that sewers are being constructed on only one side of the street and laterals must be constructed to the opposite side, as well as to property lines. In addition, no charge is made to property already served by sanitary sewer and, in instances where sewer mains are extended on more than one side of a lot, the property owner is assessed for only one side.

Much has been said about the cost per foot for this project and comparisons have been made with a neighboring community on its sewer construction cost in bids accepted two years ago on a much larger project. Those opposing the Tawas City project have minimized the important difference of soil conditions existing between the two projects. Oscoda does not have a speck of clay to contend with, while heavy blue clay and a serious ground water problem in many areas of the three districts here would naturally result in a higher construction cost.

It should be remembered, too, that there are property owners in the three districts who want or wanted sanitary sewer service and requested the city council to take action on providing such service. For instance, the ditch along US-23 in one district has always been a bone of contention to some property owners, who have claimed in the past that drainage from septic tank fields found its way to that ditch.

A cost-sharing proposition between the city and the property owners has been utilized for many years in this city and, in the 1952 sewer project to serve the Bay Drive area, 90 percent of the cost was borne by property owners and 10 percent by the city. Construction costs were much lower then and, because of a difference in soil conditions, the work was done by the city. Property owners also participated in a later project north on First Avenue to serve two subdivisions and that work was performed by a contractor.

It is unfortunate that some previous council did not start this sewer project earlier, but when this council under a new city charter decided that development of the sewer was in the best interest of the entire city, the national economic outlook was not the same as it is today.

Much has been accomplished by this city government in recent years and the council made a wise decision in utilizing federal revenue sharing funds for new street construction with plant mix blacktop. These new streets should require a minimum of maintenance for a number of years to come, which is a far cry from the past when money was expended for annual patching of sealcoat streets.

Use of federal revenue sharing funds in this much-needed sewer project was also a wise choice of the council. There should be no group of persons more aware of the cost of city government than members of the elected city council. Because of inflation and the national economic outlook, the council has already discussed the need for cutting back on several future projects discussed until the economy returns to more stabilized times.

However, all avenues should be investigated—including legal responsibility—when it is suggested that cost of construction under a legally accepted contract is too high. There may or may not be a savings available, but the city at large and property owners in special assessment districts should be protected at all costs against possible legal action. Had the council been able to withstand the harassment from within and without, it might have had some important answers on January 20.

Social Security Questions Are Answered

Question: I heard that the hospital insurance deductible is going up to $92 in 1975. Are the other amounts that a beneficiary pays under medicare's hospital insurance going up?

Answer: Yes, they are, for benefit periods which started January

1 or later. For a hospital stay of over 60 days, the patient will be responsible for $23 a day (up from $21) for the first through 90th day. For reserve days—after 90 days of hospital care in a benefit period—the patient will be responsible for $46 a day (up from $42). And for a post-hospital stay of over 20 days in a skilled nursing facility, the patient will be responsible for $11.50 a day (up from $10.50) for the 21st through 100th day.

Question: I was severely injured in an accident two months ago and my doctor told me I should apply for social security disability payments. Do I not have to wait five months before I apply?

Answer: No. People who are so disabled that they cannot work any longer should apply for benefits as soon as possible after they are disabled. Eligible people and their families can get monthly checks starting with the sixth full month of disability.

Question: I am 68 and I had planned to apply for supplemental security income. But a neighbor told me I probably could not get supplemental security income payments because I have children across town who could help support me. Is that true?

Answer: No. Your eligibility for federal supplemental security income payments would not be affect by your children's ability to help support you. However, any support they may furnish you would count as income and could affect your payment. Call or write any social security office for information about applying for supplemental security income payments.

If you have questions regarding social security, contact the social security office at 1009 North Madison, Bay City, or phone 892-3554.

Newcomers Find Living in Northern Michigan Higher Than Anticipated—Land Values Rocket

Living in Northern Michigan may prove to be more expensive than families moving there from larger cities anticipate, says a Michigan State University community development expert.

"The construction of I-75 and US-27 was followed in the 1960s by substantial growth in northern counties on either side of these highways," explains Elizabeth Mowery, MSU Extension specialist. "In Clare County, where I-75 and US-27 meet, the population in one township more than doubled in a 10-year period. A large proportion of the new residents (56 percent including both year-round and seasonal) came from the automobile producing centers of Detroit, Bay City, Saginaw and Lansing," she says.

The primary attraction was the natural beauty of the area but low cost properties and low tax rates also prompted people to choose this location, notes Miss Mowery.

Many of the existing land parcels were often very small, particularly along available water frontage.

"Much of the construction in vacation homes took place in the absence of land use controls and building codes," she says. "Our studies show that most of these second homes involved an initial investment of less than $15,000. More and more of these vacation hideaways are now being converted to year-round use.

"Conversion to year-round use is accompanied by installation of indoor plumbing, septic tanks, electricity and heating plants.

"Waterfront lots in particular are often too small to adequately handle a septic system, compounding the environmental stress brought by the increased population.

"Residents from urban areas sometimes bring high expectations with them when they move to the country," says Miss Mowery. "A simple increase in numbers necessitates added services. But when property owners expect better road maintenance, better health care and educational facilities and convenient access to utilities, the result is an increasing tax spiral as counties strive to meet these demands."

Miss Mowery advises prospective buyers to consider that tax rates are subject to change as public services improve and land values increase. Those who intend to create permanent homes should be aware that food and fuel are likely to cost more in northern counties.

Also, wear and tear on the family car will increase because distances to shopping centers and services is greater. These costs can often more than offset any savings realized from a move.

While these and other problems may discourage some people, research conducted by Miss Mowery and Dr. Peter Gladhart, also of MSU, shows that three out of four who purchase homes or homesites in Michigan's northland are satisfied with their choice.

WE BACK UP WHAT WE ADVERTISE

Every Kroger store covered by an advertisement must have every product we advertise... marked with the advertised price, and conveniently available for the big features. This policy extends to every item in the ad, not just just good business.

There may be times when demand is larger than anticipated. We firmly believe, sure this never happens. But should we run out, Kroger's policy further states that customers are to be offered a substitute -- we'll give you the same savings on a comparable item. Or if you prefer, we'll give you a raincheck good for purchase of the same special at the same price any time within two weeks.

Every Kroger store has complete instructions regarding this companywide policy. This written policy is prominently displayed in your store so you can read it for yourself... for your information and as our pledge of service.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ila Laidlaw, who passed away one year ago January 14, 1974.

"And I said to the man who stood at the gate of the year 'Give me a light, that I may tread safely into the unknown!' and he replied: 'Go out into the darkness, and put your hand into the Hand of God. That shall be to you better than light, and safer than a known way.'"

"So I went forth and finding the Hand of God, trod gladly into the night. And he led me toward the hills, and the breaking of day in the lone East."
