Public Transport System Operating

A new public transportation program in Iosco County commenced three weeks ago but, according to Leonard Buchanan, director, many local residents are probably unaware that the new service is available.

Buchanan parked one of two new vans Monday morning in front of the Iosco County Building in Tawas City. The vans were purchased through a federal program and are licensed by the state.

This van operates on a regular schedule five days a week, Monday through Friday, between Oscoda and the Tawas. The second van operates Monday through Thursday between East Tawas and communities on the west side of the county.

Buchanan emphasized that while anyone over the age of 50 is eligible to ride at reduced rates, transportation by these new buses is open to the public.

A third vehicle, a station wagon, provides special transportation services to senior citizens for emergency runs.

Any person 50 years or older is eligible for senior citizen rates and may apply at 120 River Street, Tawas City, for an identification card. Phone number at the senior citizens' center is 362-6892. Public transportation routes and a time schedule is available.

Buchanan said that the schedule for Monday through Friday finds one bus arriving at Oscoda at 7:15 for three trips between the Tawas and Oscoda, two in the morning and one in the afternoon. The final trip in the afternoon leaves Oscoda at 3:00 p. m.

There is one trip Saturday between Tawas and Oscoda and the School's Tax Notes Moving on Schedule

Carl Babcock, newly-elected president of Tawas Area Board of Education, announced Monday night that the school had been given assurances by state officials that this district's application to borrow money on anticipated taxes was proceeding according to schedule.

At its last meeting, the board of education authorized making application to the state for selling $675,000 worth of tax anticipation notes in order to avoid a payless payday on August 8.

Such a situation could have resulted had the board of education not made application to borrow the money. Because of the fact that local property taxes are not received until after December 1 and state membership aid payments are still under discussion by the legislature, the school is expected to be short approximately $8,500 on August 8 to meet its payroll of $25,000.

The board of education is to open bids August 6 for selling the tax anticipation notes and a contract would be awarded that same night.

Last year, the school borrowed $500,000 on its anticipated taxes to operate the school until tax collection time in December.

In other business, the superintendent announced that the board of education had received a commitment from Peoples State Bank that a short term loan for purchasing three buses could be repaid at any time without penalty.

Mrs. Barbara Cuthbertson submitted her resignation as principal at the East Tawas Elementary Unit and requested reassignment as a classroom teacher. She said she "missed the close relationship working with children."

A work session has been scheduled next Monday between the new superintendent and board of education to discuss school matters.

Acting on recommendations of the principal and other administrators, the superintendent recommended that Paul Becker be offered a teaching contract for the next term. He had served as a substitute teacher during the last term. The recommendation was adopted by the board of education.

After reviewing recent discussion, the board of education agreed that installation of soffits and enclosing the gabled ends of the roof on the storage building at the high school-middle school building was not included in the original specifications. The board of education president said that this work was not included in the specifications as it was to have been completed as part of the building trades instruction. Due to the lack of time, the class was unable to complete the project.

Maynard Abbott was low bidder on the project at a cost of $14,800. Other bids received included O. S. Rose, $16,988; Davison and Son, $18,500; D. L. Buchanan, $18,700.

It has been estimated by Abbott that the cost to finish the project would be $300 for materials and a slightly higher amount for labor, which would still be lower than the next bid.

Abbott is to meet with the superintendent and Harry Crawford, who has charge of building maintenance, to review specifications.

Dr. Robert A. Halle Takes Over as TA Superintendent

Dr. Robert A. Halle, new superintendent of Tawas Area School, presided briefly Monday night over the opening of the board of education's first session of the 1975-76 term.

Following the election of Carl Babcock as board president, the new superintendent turned the meeting over to the new president to continue the election of officers.

Others elected to office were Dr. James Jacques, vice president; David Kennedy, treasurer, and Earl Davis, who was re-elected secretary.

Attending his first meeting as a board member was Willard (Bill) Dillon, who was elected to succeed Mrs. Charles Schreck in the annual election in June. Also in attendance was Clare Herriman, who had been a member since 1965 and was re-elected in June Mrs. Norman (Helen) Payea is the seventh member of the board of education.

Statutory business conducted included establishing the second Monday of each month as the regular meeting and the board again established 7:30 p. m. as the time to start meetings during winter months and 8:00 p. m. during summer months. Peoples State Bank was named as the school depository.

A brief executive session was held prior to the opening of the meeting and the superintendent later announced that several minor revisions were to be made in the wording of his contract, which is to be signed this week.

In his remarks, Halle said that he plans to familiarize himself with the business operation of the school district in order to gear up to adopt state guidelines for budgeting procedures, which are being revised this year.

He said that he would begin work on formalizing the district's budget for 1975-76, but must wait for adoption of a state aid bill which is presently being considered by the legislature.

He said he was becoming immediately involved in developing a precise overview of present school facilities and projected enrollment in order to make plans for present and future space needs. He felt that problems of space in the district's three schools was crucial and he will be working with the administrative team to develop plans.

Halle said he was going to outline "fairly precise goals and objectives for myself and what I aspire to accomplish this year."

He said he also planned to get acquainted with the staff, stu-

Sidewalk Construction Started Monday Under CETA Program

Work started Monday morning on a new federal-local project to construct sidewalks in Tawas City. A similar program is being considered at East Tawas and Oscoda.

Three students between the ages of 18 and 21 years have been hired under the federal CETA program to provide labor for the project. Gerald Lixey, East Tawas, representing the CETA program, is supervisor.

Vernon Eckstein has been hired by the City of Tawas City as advisor for the project. Coordinator of the CETA portion of the project is John Pelt, director of public employment for the county.

The program provides summer occupation for unemployed students as well as instruction in sidewalk construction, according to Reginald Bublitz, city manager of Tawas City.

The first project undertaken Monday was to replace a section of sidewalk along Bay Drive. Residential property owners interested in participating in the project may contact the city hall for information.

Bublitz said that about one week of work had been lined up as of Monday. The city is to replace sidewalk at a number of intersections which were involved in street construction last year.

Included are intersections at Fifth Avenue, Sixth Avenue and Third Avenue at Second Street; Fifth Avenue, Sixth Avenue and Fourth Avenue at Whittemore Street; Seventh Avenue at Second Street; Fifth Avenue at Mathews Street; Sixth Avenue at Fourth Street.

Bublitz said that a council committee had contacted property owners to learn of possible participation for private construction and he expects that additional work

NBC Scuttled; Four Member Schools Leave

Tawas Area Board of Education learned Monday night that four schools were to drop out of the Northern B Conference. Action by the schools was confirmed Tuesday morning, according to John Alexander, principal at Tawas Area High School.

League commitments are expected to be honored during the 1975-76 school term, according to the league's constitution. In addition to athletics for both boys and girls, the conference provides interscholastic competition in debate and forensics.

At Monday night's meeting, it was recommended that Tawas Area Board of Education not take action at this time in order to receive official notification concerning action of other schools.

It was reported Monday night that Gladwin High School had adopted a resolution pulling out of the NBC and that Ogemaw Heights, Standish-Sterling and Pinconning were considering the same action Monday night.

Possible scuttling of the NBC has been under discussion for many months and again cropped up in early May. Tawas officials stated at the time that they did not want to see the NBC dissolved, but the board of education gave its approval then to terminate membership as soon as contractual, legal and ethical obligations permit, to become effective as soon as similar resolutions are adopted by the other schools.

When the NBC was first organized in 1962, all of the above schools were members of the Northeastern Michigan Conference. Listed then as class B schools, enrollment requirements have since been changed and Standish-Sterling and Gladwin are now listed as class C. Tawas Area's enrollment makes it a small class B school, but both Pinconning and Ogemaw Heights have larger enrollments.

Earlier this year, Carrolton and Essexville indicated they would seek affiliation with other conferences should there be a split in the NBC. Oscoda has not been invited to join a new conference being considered. An invitation has been extended to Tawas Area and other schools. The new league would not be operational until the 1976-77 season.

The two were apprehended after being alerted by a member of the Hale Citizens Patrol. The car was stopped four miles north of Hale on M-65 and a registration check revealed that the automobile driven by the two men had been stolen from Detroit.

Theft of two bicycles owned by Peter Wood and John Smith were investigated Wednesday. The bicycles were stolen while the boys were at Tawas Area High School.

SWINGING a sledgehammer in the above photo is Vernon Eckstein, veteran Tawas City contractor, who has been hired by the City of Tawas City to act as advisor on a federal-locally sponsored sidewalk construction program. Five Flint residents were injured Friday in a crash on US-23, Baldwin Township. A car driven by Martha Spangler went out of control and hit several trees. Injured in the crash besides the driver were Perry Spangler, Jeanette Hall, Amie Hall and Jennifer Hall.

Tawas Hospital Board of Trustees announces a bequest of $400,000 left to the hospital by Ralph Richardson, deceased, for the specific purpose of construction and procurement of equipment for early cancer detection. The hospital has received through the executor of Richardson's estate, Ralph Western, $200,000 of this bequest. The equipment purchased for this purpose must be confined to the amount of the funds bequeathed.

The radiologist and the medical staff, through the board of trustees, will decide what is most needed in our rural area. The remaining $200,000 will be forthcoming on the final settlement of the estate.

As in any project which is hospital related, these plans must be approved by the East Central Michigan Comprehensive Health Planning Council, Incorporated, and by the Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction, Michigan Department of Public Health. Architects Spence and Forsythe, who did the planning and engineering for the last hospital expansion, will also do the engineering for this project. The establishment of such a unit in a small hospital is unique. However, since such facilities are not available within an 85-mile distance, this is great progress for the community which the hospital serves.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
For many years now, Tawas Area School Bands have succeeded in bringing much recognition to our community. Time and again, our young people have competed in festivals all over the state in both class A and B, returning home with first division ratings and the finest of outside comments, not only on their ability as musicians, but for their conduct and self discipline as individuals as well as a group.

Again, for many years, these young people have worked on small projects in an attempt to raise money for a "special purpose," only to realize that, in spite of community support, an ultimate goal of any size, done in this way, is almost impossible to attain.

They have shown us over and over again what they can do; now, as band boosters, we feel it is our turn. In the coming year, we are going to attempt to take over for our band people by sponsoring various adult activities with the hope of raising enough money to send these young people on a bi-centennial tour. The goal we are hoping to attain means many hours of work to raise many thousands of dollars. We know it is possible and we are ready to try.

We are asking now for the repeated support from the people of our community as we announce our upcoming activities.

The Tawas Area Band will be playing a concert in the Tawas City Park on Thursday, August 14. The band boosters will be sponsoring an ice cream social at that time. Please try to attend; we know it will be an enjoyable evening for all.

Sincerely,
Carole Savage, president,

Make Final Preparations for 30th Annual Iosco County Fair July 23-26

Members of the Iosco County Agricultural Society's board of directors held their annual work bee Thursday at the Hale fairgrounds.

Richard M. Samson, secretary-manager, said that final preparations were made for staging the 30th annual Iosco County Fair on July 23-26.

Grounds were given a thorough cleaning, while various committees prepared exhibit buildings and the race track to await the opening of the four-day event next Wednesday.

Samson reminds exhibitors that displays are to be assembled starting at 9:00 a. m. on Wednesday, July 23.

"Participation by residents from the entire Iosco County area is needed to make the fair a success," states Gerald Bellen, society president. "One does not have to be a full time farmer to exhibit at the fair, as shown by the different departments listed in our premium list."

Samson said that he would be delighted to see home gardeners exhibit some choice produce at the fair. He said that winning a ribbon at the fair provides extra satisfaction for a person with a "green thumb" and it also gives a chance for others to see what can be grown on small garden plots.

He emphasized that the fair was not just limited to exhibits of produce as there are departments for flowers and plants, home economics, a full range of domestic arts, antiques, art, hobbies and handicraft.

One building will be devoted to farm livestock and an important part of the fair will be the youth division and 4-H Club exhibits.

The county fair is much more than exhibits as the program includes a horse show, harness racing, games and contests, a parade, beef sale and a large midway with thrilling rides for all ages.

"Members of our hard working committees will be at the fair—we hope to welcome a good representation from the entire county," said Samson.

A WORK BEE was held Thursday to prepare the fairgrounds at Hale for the annual county fair on July 23-26.—Tawas Herald Photo.

More Than 100 Art Show Entries Received Last Week

As of Thursday, more than 100 artists and craftsmen had submitted entries for the 15th annual Tawas Bay Art Show scheduled Saturday and Sunday, August 2-3, at the Tawas City Park and Iosco County Building.

Mrs. Herbert Blust, president of the sponsoring Tawas Bay Arts Council, said Thursday that she expected another 100 entries before the opening day.

"Last year, this show attracted 200 entries—largest number of exhibitors in the show's history—and applications are being received daily," said Mrs. Blust. "We have no doubt that the final list will be as large as last year."

One of the features of this year's program will be a performance Sunday, August 3, 3:00 to 4:00 p. m., by the Tawas Area School Symphonic Band.

"We believe this new program feature will be a treat for the exhibitors as well as those attending the show," said Mrs. Blust. Presentation of awards is to be made immediately following the concert.

In addition to the show and sale, the committee is arranging for demonstrations by portrait painters, along with informative sessions by various craftsmen.

Mrs. Blust said the committee hopes to have a working blacksmith shop set up at the park where a local craftsman will produce hand forged items.

The annual show has grown into one of the most popular events of the summer season in the Tawas area. Having gained state recognition in its 15-year history, the show attracts several thousand visitors to the area each year.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

(Read Mark 4:26-34)

First the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. (Mark 4:28)

During the autumn of 1942, midway between the evacuation from and the return to France, a British soldier was posted to General Eisenhower's planning headquarters. He noticed that the walls of his new office were covered with maps, not only of occupied France, but also of the Normandy beachheads. This was two years in advance of D-Day. Outside in Trafalgar Square were chalked slogans which said, "Why don't they start the Second Front now?" This young soldier smiled to himself, for he knew a great secret denied to millions. "It was all planned in the pipeline!"

Sometimes we hear people say, "Why doesn't God answer my prayers?" God does hear and He does answer, even when it is no.

This is true of the harvest— "First the blade and then the ear. Then the full corn shall appear."

It has all been planned, prepared, provided for!

PRAYER

We joy in Thy goodness, Lord, and thank Thee for that providence which supplies all our needs. Amen.

Hale Principal, Teacher and Five Students Named in Suit

A former student of Hale Area School has filed a $150,000 damage suit against the principal, building trades instructor and five fellow students, claiming he was assaulted during a class on March 19, 1974, while the building trades instructor was absent from the building.

Filing the petition in Iosco Circuit Court was Brian R. Shellenbarger, a 1974 graduate of Hale Area School. Named as co-defendants were Richard Dodge, principal; Wendell Scofield, building trades instructor; Jack Ellsworth, Donald Lewis, Steven O'Meara, Michael Timlick and Michael Bell, all fellow students of the plaintiff. Bell graduated in 1974, while Ellsworth and O'Meara graduated two months ago.

The petition filed by attorneys for Shellenbarger claim that the five defendant students "physically forced the plaintiff to smoke a cigarette which contained hallucinogenic drugs, narcotics or some other unknown substances."

In addition, the petition alleges that Ellsworth, "without cause or provocation, hit the plaintiff in the stomach while the other defendants restrained him from movement, surrounded and trapped him within the building trades construction class building; that Lewis held the door to the room shut and did actively prevent or restrain the plaintiff from leaving or escaping to safety."

The incident, according to Shellenbarger's petition, took place when Scofield "left his class unattended and unsupervised for a period from approximately 8:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m."

The petition alleges that prior to the date in question, the five students "collectively had demonstrated disciplinary problems while enrolled at Hale Area School."

As a result, the petition claims that the principal "breached his duties by failing to properly and adequately supervise, train and oversee Scofield and to discipline the co-defendant pupils prior to March 19, 1974;

"That Scofield breached his duties by failing to remain in attendance at the building trades class or provide adequate supervision of students and in failing to protect the plaintiff from injury or harm from other students, which defendant knew or should have known had previously exhibited animosity toward plaintiff;"

That the five students "breached their duties to plaintiff in that they individually and collectively did assault and batter plaintiff."

Attorneys for Shellenbarger claim that their client "sustained trauma to his person, causing precipitation, aggravation or direct new injury to him and personal pain and suffering, disability, emotional and nervous upset, neurosis, neuritis and such physical abuse upon his head and body that he did require hospitalization for injuries and medical disorders."

The petition claims that Shellenbarger sustained "permanent injuries and residuals to his emotional, mental and physical well being, including possible brain injury, great emotional, mental and physical damage." He asks the judgment against the defendants, jointly and severally.

As of Friday, two of the five students had filed answers with the county clerk denying the charges.

Cut your peak winter heating bills as much as 45%.

Join our 12-Month Budget Payment Plan now.

Our 12-Month Budget Payment Plan has never made more sense than it does now.

We know it's tough to budget for monthly Gas bills that can be as much as six times higher in the cold winter months than in these hot summer ones. The 12-Month Budget Payment Plan lets you even out your Gas bills for the year ahead with 12 monthly installments.

Here's how the Plan works. First, we determine how much Gas you used last year and calculate its total cost at today's rates. Then we divide that total cost by 12 to give you the budget amount you can expect each month from August of this year through July of next year, no matter how cold it might get during the winter.

Results? Your mid-winter budget bills can be as much as 45% below what your normal peak heating payments would otherwise have been.

Of course, if you saved Gas last year by installing ceiling insulation, storm doors and windows or permanently dialed down your thermostat, your monthly budget bills will be even lower than if you hadn't taken these energy conservation measures.

If any adjustments need to be made to your budget payment amount during the year, we'll notify you. Or, if you overpay or underpay a bit for the budget year, we'll make the necessary adjustment on your August 1976 bill.

To enroll, just return the postage paid card we're sending you. Or if you've misplaced it, call us, and we'll sign you up over the phone.

Our Gas is still your lowest cost fuel. And our 12-Month Budget Payment Plan will make it a lot more convenient to pay for. Enroll today.

Applications Being Taken for United States Naval Academy

Young men between the ages of 17 and 21 who are interested in applying to the United States Naval Academy for the class entering in July 1976 should write their congressman as soon as possible to request a nomination to Annapolis. There are many sources for nomination to the academy. Nomination can come from senators; members of the house of representatives; the congressional representative of Washington, D. C.; the resident commissioner of Puerto Rico, and the president and vice president of the United States. It is not necessary to know these officials to apply.

For information on the types of nominations available, answers to questions about admission and to initiate a file at the naval academy, write to: Candidate Guidance Officer, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland 21402. For immediate information, contact Commander Zanner, the blue and gold officer for this area, at AuGres or Tawas City; phone, 876-4252 or 362-4233. As the local representative of the naval academy, he is familiar with all admissions requirements for the academy.

The College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB) or American College Testing Program (ACT) tests must also be taken for inclusion in academy applications.

The naval academy, highly rated academically among the country's colleges and universities, offers a student a well-rounded educational program leading to a bachelor of science degree and commission in the United States Navy or Marine Corps.

Picnics, barbecues and reunions are the order of the season, heading into the summer months. From the Fourth of July celebrations to Labor Day week-end, there will be somebody preparing special meals for outdoor and indoor fun. The outlook for food in July shows the promise of many fresh fruits and vegetables that will fit right into these plans.

Michigan-grown fruits are in the spotlight throughout the month. Sweet cherries are coming on the market now, while Michigan tart cherries are harvested during the next several weeks. Most of the tart cherries, however, go to processors. You may have to do some looking before you find fresh ones to buy. A few supermarkets carry a limited supply of fresh tarts, although they are usually found more often at a city or roadside market.

Small berries are also in season during July. The season for each of these is quite short, so do not delay purchase. Gooseberries, what few there are, should be available about now. Red and black raspberries can usually be found during the first three weeks of July, while currants and dewberries make their appearance during the second half of the month.

As July progresses, another berry, blueberry, takes over completely. Available all during the month in limited supply from other states, the blues start pouring in from local blueberry plantations about the middle of the month. The Michigan crop is looking very good at this time. These berries will be available until the first frost.

Supplies of cantaloupe, watermelon, grapes, apricots, plums and peaches will also be increasing during the month. These will mostly be shipped in from other states. Michigan peaches start in late July followed by plums and cantaloupe in August. Pears and grapes also start in late August. Nectarines from California will be in peak supply during July.

The season is running late for many of the fresh vegetables as cold spring weather in much of the country delayed the growing season. July, however, brings increasing supplies to the market. Tomatoes and sweet corn are probably the two vegetables receiving the most attention during the coming weeks.

Tomatoes are usually available in limited supply throughout most of the year, but peak supplies come in July and August. Corn-on-the-cob can be found in small amounts in many of the stores now, but will increase toward an August peak.

Green onions and cucumbers remain in peak season only through July. Then supplies will taper off in August. Fresh beets, green beans, radishes, summer squash and green peppers should all be in good supply during the coming weeks. Lettuce supplies will likely vary in quality, size and weight of heads, as the weather during the growing season has been unfavorable.

Meat and poultry supplies are down from the winter months and prices are increasing. Wholesale beef prices have risen substantially and this is now being reflected at the grocer's meat counter. There will likely be few specials on red meat or poultry during the month.

Individuals wishing to know more about when Michigan fruits and vegetables are in peak supply, a copy of the "Availability Guide" may be picked up at the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service office.

New defense taxes have been placed in effect by the federal government on cigarettes, liquor, beer, movie tickets, toilet preparations, automobiles, refrigerators, matches, electrical energy, gasoline, lubricating oil, playing cards, club dues and initiation fees. program.

The conquering Nazi army paraded through Paris following the capitulation of French forces. The French government severed relations with England after the British fleet broke the backbone of the French fleet in a brief engagement on the North African coast. Two Auto Negligence Suits Filed

Two auto negligence cases have been filed in Isosco County Circuit Court.

Edward Balduck asks a judgment of $100,000 against Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bellville of Whittemore. Balduck was a passenger on a motorbike operated by James Berkey which was involved in a collision May 26, 1974, with the Bellvilles' automobile.

Balduck claims that the vehicle operated by Mrs. Bellville failed to stop at the State Street intersection with M-65. He claims injuries, permanent disability and loss of earning capacity as the result of the accident.

A change of venue was granted Terrance J. Walsh, defendant in a $35,000 suit brought by Timothy J. Lynn of Detroit. The case had been started in Wayne County and the issues are now to be tried in Isosco County.

Lynn claims that on June 16, 1972, a car driven by Walsh attempted to pass a car in AuSable Township and forced the plaintiff from the road. He asks the judgment for injuries sustained in the resulting crash and damage to his automobile. Walsh was stationed at Wurtsmith Air Force Base at the time of the accident.
