Army Worms Are Endangering Crops

One of the worst "epidemics" of army worms in recent years, perhaps in history, is endangering the bumper crop on Iosco County farms.

The battle to exterminate the millions of these fuzzy creatures infesting farm fields started Monday morning when two helicopters from S&S Chopper Service, Deerfield, began to fog cornfields in Burleigh Township.

Marvin Davenport, county extension director, warned area residents to stay clear of fields being sprayed by the helicopters. He said that parathion being used is poisonous to humans. Iosco County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police are cooperating to keep spectators out of the spraying area.

Davenport said the army worms were first discovered Saturday in corn fields owned by Mackinac Land and Cattle Company in Burleigh Township. Fields of John Rohn and Clarence Provoast in Burleigh Township were also found to be infested on Saturday.

"I was notified by a camper in Burleigh Township that his tent was completely covered by army worms and that it was impossible to take a step in any direction without crushing hundreds of the worms," said Davenport.

Measures to eradicate the infestation was the principal order of business at Sunday's meeting of Iosco County Feeder Pig Association held at Burleigh Township Hall.

Davenport said he believed fields throughout the county were infested with the worms and he began contacting farmers to make an inspection of fields. A helicopter sprayed fields owned by Russell Nelkie Jr., west of Tawas City, Monday morning.

Approximately 6,500 acres of corn are planted in Iosco County and it is believed that the loss to farmers brought on by the voracious appetites of the army worms may reach a quarter million dollars. The worms also destroy other crops.

Davenport said that weather conditions have been perfect this year for the growing of corn. Outbreaks of army worms have been noted in Southern Michigan farm fields.

The last big outbreak of army worms in Iosco County was in the mid-1930s.

An army worm is shown on this damaged corn stalk.

Council May Call Special Meeting

Delay Channel Blasting for More Information

Tawas City Council tabled action Monday night on the much discussed clean out of the Tawas River mouth, but a special meeting may be called later this week to adopt a temporary program to improve boating conditions for the remainder of the summer.

Use of explosives to clear a channel through sand which has shoaled at the river's entrance into Tawas Bay, which was rejected earlier this year by the council because of the liability factor, was again discussed Monday night.

Ald. Robert N. Rollin reported that he had been in contact with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and had been given a verbal commitment that blasting a channel is permissible. He said that the city manager was to have received a letter Monday from Lansing concerning his inquiry, but no letter had been received as of Monday night.

Rollin said that the DNR has expressed interest in the use of explosives in a dredging operation and wished to have engineers here to watch the experiment. Rollin said, however, that complete liability for the project would have to be assumed by the city.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz reported he had telephoned the district office of the Army Corps of Engineers to determine if a permit could be obtained for the blasting work. He expected that word from the Detroit office would be received later this week.

Discussion earlier this year on proposed blasting of a channel through a sand bar at the river mouth brought an immediate response from the corps of engineers, which sent a representative here to stop the project on complaint of an adjacent property owner.

Should the project receive federal and state approval, a decision must still be made by the council if it wishes to assume liability in case of any damage to property or to a Michigan Consolidated Gas Company main which runs under the river above the US-23 bridge. The city also crosses the river upstream above the bridge with a water main, which has ruptured twice in recent years. In both instances, it was believed that heavy traffic pounding on the bridge had created a shock wave in the clay river bottom causing the ruptured main.

The city manager was to check with the city's insurance carrier to determine the cost of liability insurance to cover the blasting project.

Robert Jones of Tawas Township, who is engaged in the business of using explosives to create ponds and has had experience in harbor projects, has offered to handle this project. He estimated the work could be accomplished in about three hours. He said the cost to the city would be approximately $400 for blasting a channel about 150 feet in length.

As an alternative, two local contractors have indicated that they have draglines which could dredge the river bottom in about 2½ days at a cost of around $500. One of the problems to be considered, however, is that sand taken from the river bottom would have to be cast into the lake which could create a navigational hazard and would eventually wash back into the channel.

Councilmen expressed the opinion that required federal and state permits should be obtained before the matter is discussed further and that liability insurance to protect the city in the proposed blasting project was of prime importance.

Mrs. Peter Borsenik, who received authorization from the council to check with state and federal officials concerning a long range harbor project at the river mouth, reported she had met with considerable frustration at Lansing in her attempts to obtain information. She said, however, that need for work on the river mouth had been drawn to the attention of the governor's office through petitions submitted by local boat owners and marina operators.

Mrs. Borsenik said that a number of DNR and corps of engineers officials were familiar with the river mouth through past efforts of the city manager and Mayor John N. Brugger. She asked that the city follow up on a letter expected to be received from the corps of engineers concerning petitions from boat owners.

One of the ideas stressed to state and federal officials by Mrs. Borsenik was that a permanent permit should be issued to the city to handle annual dredging at the river mouth. She and Martin O'Driscoll, marina operator, expressed the opinion that the river mouth could be kept open at a minimum of expense while efforts were being made to obtain assistance with a long range harbor protection plan.

Mayor Brugger said that the long range project would not be an easy one to solve as the waterways commission is not interested in river mouth dredging projects. He felt that the suggestion to obtain a permanent dredging permit was excellent as it would eliminate the delay in obtaining state and federal permits.

It was suggested by one citizen present that a volunteer campaign be commenced to remove dead trees which have fallen into the river from Tawas City to Tawas Lake.

Tree Maintenance Proposal Under Study by City Council

Possibility of adopting a tree maintenance program later this fall is being considered by the Tawas City Council and a decision on possible implementation of the program is to be given at the next meeting.

Appearing before Monday night's meeting was Thomas Jacques of Tawas City who, with an associate, has established a forestry consulting business.

Jacques was instrumental in obtaining services of forestry students from Michigan State University earlier this year in conducting a survey of trees on city street property. Information gathered during the survey would be utilized in developing a 10-year plan for tree maintenance and tree planting.

A six-month contract is being proposed to conduct a tree maintenance program and Jacques would train city employees in the work.

Slides were shown to illustrate what type of maintenance is needed for the 1,079 trees presently located on city property.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz felt that such a plan was needed by the city, but city workers would not be available until later this year to participate in the tree maintenance program.

In other business, an attorney representing Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kehoe appeared with his clients before the council and requested information as to the status of their property in the special sewer assessment district.

The attorney said his clients had purchased the property from Clark Tanner and believed it was serviced by city sewer. The sewer line serving the property was constructed across private property, however, and is said to be of insufficient depth.

The attorney said he had advised his clients not to pay the $1,900 assessment for being included in the special sewer district which was recently completed.

It was the city's position at present that the special assessment district had been established more than a year ago and, unless the city attorney advised otherwise, the Kehoe property would be included in the special assessment district.

The attorney indicated that the city had permitted construction of the private sewer line to the property and intimated the city would be included in any lawsuit brought by the owners.

A decision on status of the property in the special assessment district is to be made at the next council meeting.

The council approved an allocation of $500 to Tawas Bay Artists, Incorporated, as the city's share for leasing the art center.

Authorization was given to send a letter to the Michigan Department of State Highways indicating that the city would participate in the cost of planning of a drain along US-23 in order for that drain to serve as drainage for streets south of the river bridge.

The city manager is to meet with county officials in order to adopt a reasonable solution to drainage problems caused by water run-off from the Emily Drive area of Tawas Township.

Establishment of an ordinance to control the grade level for new housing, or investigation into present state laws concerning construction, is to be made by the city manager. It was noted that drainage problems in a number of areas are caused by dwellings being constructed below the street level.

Two Apartment Buildings Go to ET Zoning Board

A plan to construct two apartment buildings in a residential zone received endorsement Monday night from the East Tawas Council and the proposal was referred to the appeals board for a requested zoning variance. The project has received the endorsement of the city planning commission.

L. G. McKay and John Dye, Oscoda architect, appeared before the council and presented plans for constructing two, two-story apartment buildings on property bounded by Emery, Lincoln, Grant and Washington Streets. The proposed site is owned by McKay.

According to plans, the apartment buildings would be faced with brick and wood, would have spacious grounds and would provide for off street parking.

It was stated that the multiple housing units consisting of eight apartments each would be for retirement age dwelling.

Although the council was required to reject the proposal due to nonconformance with the city's zoning ordinance, its resolution expressed the opinion that the project should be allowed by the appeals board through a zoning variance. In other business, the council decided that it would not accept a proposal from Vernon Eckstein to utilize CETA labor in a sidewalk construction program this year. The council, however, recommended that the street committee study the possibility of replacing broken sidewalks in the commercial area after Labor Day. The project would be on a special assessment basis.

The city clerk was instructed to communicate with area legislators to inform them of the council's opposition to the political reform bill, which was adopted by the house of representatives. The council felt that it was improper to require financial disclosures of personal affairs by city officials in small communities and that it probably was unconstitutional. The council said it did not oppose disclosure by officials in the high salary range of government.

Police Chief Donald Docking was given permission to utilize the former city dump as a pistol range. The range would be utilized by local and state police officers.

Authorization was given to the police department for officers to work overtime in an effort to curb complaints at the city park concerning consumption of alcoholic beverages on the lawn of the community building.

Hearing Held on AuGres R. Drain

A large delegation of Iosco County property owners was expected to attend last night's (Tuesday) public hearing concerning objections to the proposed AuGres River drain.

Because of the expected large attendance, the hearing was moved from the Iosco County Building to Tawas Area High School.

Governmental units involved in the hearing included the Counties of Iosco, Ogemaw and Arenac, as well as townships said to be benefited by the drain proposal. Iosco townships include Sherman, Burleigh, Reno, Grant and Plainfield.

The hearing was conducted by the augmented drainage board for the three counties.

The proposed drain, advocated by Arenac County for years, has received extreme opposition from the two upriver counties. Representatives of Iosco and Ogemaw stopped the proposed project in the summer of 1973 during a meeting of the augmented drainage board.

Since then, circuit court action was brought by AuGres area farmers to force cooperation of Iosco and Ogemaw Counties in the project. Boards of commissioners for Iosco and Ogemaw Counties recently agreed that the drain petition was sufficient for a hearing.

A tentative apportionment of the cost for constructing the proposed drain, over and above a federal grant, would be based on a ratio of 91 percent for Arenac County, six percent for Iosco County and three percent for Ogemaw County.

Welfare Benefits May be Delayed

Most Michigan recipients of a federal welfare program for the aged, blind or disabled may not benefit immediately from a payment increase which takes effect this month.
 However, they should start receiving the increase when the legislature takes final action on the new Michigan Department of Social Services appropriations bill.
 The state must act before the increase can be passed along because, although the Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program is a federal program administered by the Social Security Administration, Michigan supplements the payments received by 107,000 of the state's 113,000 current SSI recipients.
 The federal government will now pay SSI recipients $157.70 a month, an increase of some $14 a month, but the amount of the increase must be deducted from the state supplement in order to keep the total within a ceiling of $170 set by the legislature.

A similar situation occurred last July when the federal portion of SSI payments increased. This increase did become available to recipients starting in October, with full retroactive payments to cover August and September.
 The exact amount of the increase this year will depend on the new payment levels authorized by the legislature.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Luke 6:36-38)

Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven. (Luke 6:37)

In his "Poor Richard's Almanac," Benjamin Franklin states, "E'er you remark another's sin, bid your own conscience look within."

Two persons are often thinking the same thing. How many times have you said, "You took the words right out of my mouth?"

The statement is often made that a person is very nice and a second person readily agrees. Very often, the person who speaks well of another is also spoken well of. Vice versa, the person who speaks evil is also negatively spoken of. A person who is willing to give the other person the benefit of the doubt often receives the benefit and the person who is ready to doubt is often also doubted.

If we were to keep a running account of our own daily mistakes, we would run out of paper and pencils; however, when we pray, we ask God to forgive us for our mistakes, faults and limitations.

It would be good if we would remember God's gracious forgiveness of us before we stand so ready to condemn each other.

PRAYER

Help us to realize how human we all are, O God, so that we will be willing to forgive others as we want You to forgive us. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

God's readiness to forgive puts brakes on our readiness to condemn.—Etrulia P. Dozier (Conway, South Carolina)

Combat Army Worms With Poisonous Spray

day in an effort to kill army worms which have infested the county and are causing considerable damage to crops.—Tawas Herald Photo.

LAST SATURDAY'S rain caused some concern for residents of the Margo Street area of Tawas City when the north side of the street was flooded. Andrew Oberla, pictured above, appeared before Monday night's council meeting and the city is to study installation of a tube across the street to remove the water. In addition, city officials said that minor repairs remaining on private property and along streets after the recent sewer construction project would be corrected. The city manager and a council committee are to survey the city to determine the amount of work to be done.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Council Approves New Dock Program With State DNR

After months of frustration over an apparent mix-up at Lansing on filing permit applications, which resulted in the loss of $15,000 for its park dock project, Tawas City Council learned Monday night that the state was willing to cooperate in a program to complete work on the dock.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz announced that a letter had been received from Dr. Wayne Tody, director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' fishery division, stating that the DNR was interested in finishing sheet piling work and landscaping on this busy fishing pier.

Included in the project would be installation of 140 feet of sheet piling on the east side of the dock and 170 feet of piling on the south side.

The letter indicated that the $15,000 which was to have been the state's share of the original project and paid by the city would be considered as the city's portion of the new project.

Sheet steel piling had been installed by a contractor for the city last fall in a cooperative program with the state, but the city was notified after the project was completed that it was in violation of federal law as no permit had been obtained. It had been assumed locally that proper permits had been obtained by the DNR prior to the start of the project.

Due to the delay in obtaining the permit from the corps of engineers, money allocated last year from federal funds and under supervision of the DNR were spent elsewhere.

The final permit from the corps of engineers was obtained recently by the city. Tody's letter indicated that the project would be funded next year.

The council Monday night adopted a resolution agreeing to enter into the new project with the state.

Three Water Accidents Investigated by Sheriff's Dept.

Iosco County Sheriff's Department investigated three water accidents over the week-end.

Two young men were treated at Tawas Hospital Sunday afternoon for neck and back injuries sustained when they dove off the Michigan Waterways Commission Dock at East Tawas.

Rick Konsdorf, 17, Albion, was injured at 2:50 p. m. when he dove into three feet of water. Teddy L. Galloway, 20, Wyandotte, was injured at 4:00 p. m. when he dove into about 3 1/2 feet of water. Swimming from the dock is prohibited by state regulations.

Tammy Schefferly, 13, Detroit, was treated Friday at Tawas Hospital for a twisted right knee which she sustained while water skiing at Cedar Lake, Oscoda.

Two motorbike crashes and a two-car collision were investigated by officers.

Robert A. Woods, 30, Pinckney, was treated at Tawas Hospital, after his motorbike hit a hole in a wooded trail near the Iosco-Alcona County line; Salvino Cianciar, 30, Detroit, sustained injuries in a motorbike crash south of Tawas City.

Five persons sustained minor injuries Wednesday in a crash on M-55 west of Tawas City. Treated at Tawas Hospital were Lorraine G. Eberline, 21, and Lillian L. Swanberg, 28, both of Oscoda, along with Avis A. Watts, 22; William J. Watts Jr., four years of age, and Tammy L. Watts, five years old, all of Grant Township.

Six breakings and enterings were investigated by the department. Cabins or homes entered were owned by Cecil R. Doyne, South Branch; Verle Spalding, Long Lake; Harold Thayer, Hale; George Ashley, Kokosing Road, Hale; Roland Bugh, East Tawas.

A wallet and a purse were stolen at the Bugh residence. The concession stand at Hale Area School was forcibly entered, but nothing was taken.

Harold E. Crawford, Long Lake, reported the larceny of a water pump. James V. Casey, reported the theft of a canoe from his Long Lake cottage. Approximately $155 in cash was taken July 15 from the Tawas Village Inn.

State Police Had Variety of Complaints

A variety of complaints were investigated last week by Michigan State Police from East Tawas including an airplane crash, a water skiing accident, a motorbike personal injury accident, two larcenies and a stolen truck.

Pilot of an aircraft and three passengers escaped injury July 15 in a crash at Timbers Sky Camp, South Branch. Edward W. Grant, 35, Fraser, reported that he attempted to take off from the field, but brought the plane back to the ground when he felt there was insufficient room for a take off. The plane nosed over in soft dirt and caused several thousands of dollars damage to the aircraft.

Neil A. Harris, 29, Warren, was treated Thursday at Tawas Hospital after losing control of his motorbike.

Teresa Smith, Saginaw, reported Sunday that two 100-pound bottle gas tanks had been stolen from her cottage at Sand Lake. One tank was later found in a wooded area.

Theft of two billfolds from a van owned by Lawrence Gross, Grand Rapids, was reported Saturday. Gross had parked at Lumbermen's Monument when he and two friends went hiking. Two wallets hidden in the truck were missing when they returned.

Robert R. Corey, 25, Au Gres, was arrested Saturday for unlawfully driving away a vehicle. William Pett, Turner Road, had reported his truck was stolen at 10:00 p. m. on Saturday. The Au Gres man was later apprehended at his residence.

Jacqueline Novak, 13, Livonia, was treated Saturday at Tawas Hospital following a water skiing accident on Round Lake. She lost her balance and twisted her leg.

30th Annual Iosco County Fair Opens Today at Hale

Two program additions, expansion of commercial exhibits and construction of a new judging arena are features of the 1975 Iosco County Fair which opens today (Wednesday) at Hale.

Military police from Wurtsmith Air Force Base will present a demonstration with security dogs Friday, 1:30 p. m.

The second program addition will be a pony pulling contest Wednesday, 7:00 p. m. This event is for Michigan teams only under governing rules of the Pioneer Pony Pullers, Incorporated. Cash prizes are to be awarded for the first 12 places and a trophy is to be given for the best dressed team in the two classes, lightweight and heavyweight.

R. M. Samson, secretary-manager of the fair, said that commercial exhibits at the fair would exceed all previous years, with outdoor display areas and the auditorium at the township hall being reserved several weeks in advance.

The arena for livestock judging, which was constructed five years ago, has been moved to a new location north of the horse barns. This will be the site of all 4-H Club and open livestock judging. The fair opened this morning (Wednesday) with assembling of exhibits and displays are to be open to the public until 9:00 p. m. Saturday, official closing time for the fair.

The giant midway opened Tuesday, 6:00 p. m., and is to continue through Saturday. The shrill voices of the carnival barkers will blend with the laughter and shrieks of children to provide that special background noise found only at a carnival midway, which opens daily at 1:00 p. m., with the exception of Saturday when the midway opens at 4:00 p. m.

A full day of fair features opens Thursday with judging of all 4-H Club livestock starting at 9:00 a. m. Judging of open class horses starts at 1:00 p. m.

Friday is a big day in the youth division as judging of 4-H Club horses starts at 9:00 a. m. This is always one of the most important features of the fair as youngsters will be competing for ribbons in horsemanship.

A traditional part of the county fair is harness racing and a three-day program starts Thursday at 2:00 p. m. The Iosco County Fair is a member of the Northern Michigan Fair and Racing Association. Total purse divided among winners on a 45-25-15-10-five percent basis, according to finishes, is $13,000. A two-heat plan is used and each heat is considered a race. A mobile starting gate is utilized and there is a grandstand for spectators.

Saturday is another big day for children with games and contests starting at 10:00 a. m. Included will be foot races for boys and girls, a tot race, three-legged race, bicycle races, egg throwing contest, pie eating contest and a foot race for senior citizens, 62 years of age and older.

Participants in the annual parade Saturday are to line up at the fairgrounds prior to the 12:30 p. m. starting time. Cash prizes are to be awarded to winners in four divisions, including decorated floats, decorated bicycles-toy wagons, callithumpian and good old days (old cars, buggies, carts, etc.)

Throughout the four days of the fair, exhibit areas are to be open to the public. Included are barns for farm livestock; farm produce, flowers-plants and canning exhibits are to be displayed in the township hall, along with youth division and 4-H Club exhibits.

Exhibits entered under divisions of domestic arts, antiques, art, hobbies and handicraft are to be displayed in the metal building south of the township hall. Superintendents of the various departments are as follows: George Erickson, livestock; Perry Shellenbarger, poultry; John Dooley, farm produce; Ann Strickler, flowers and plants; Mrs. Irene Goodrow, home economics; Mrs. Gerald Bellen, domestic arts; Mrs. Adele Brown, antiques; Mrs. Louis Gilles, art, hobbies and handicraft; Elwood Ruckle, games and contests; Lyle Bielby, conservation; Val Samson and Charles Preston, youth division; Robert Ruckle, superintendent of speed for harness racing.

TA's Bicentennial Observance Would Follow 1876 Program

The Tawas area's bicentennial observance on July 4, 1976, will duplicate a program held 100 years ago during the centennial observance of the nation's founding.

This decision was reached Wednesday night at a meeting of the Tawas Area Bicentennial Committee held at the Iosco County Building.

Clyde Soper, committee chairman, said that invitations were being extended to every civic, service and social organization in the community to send representatives to regular monthly meetings of the committee in order to make plans for the observance next year.

Meetings are held the third Wednesday of each month, 8:00 p. m., at the county building.

One of the first orders of business at the third meeting of the committee was to outline the geographical area for which it serves. On recommendation of L. G. McKay, the committee is to represent the area comprising the Tawas Area School District in Iosco County.

The principal business enacted Wednesday night was the unanimous decision to follow the basic outline of the centennial program conducted in the Tawas on July 4, 1876. A portion of the 100-year-old program in printed form has been preserved and the remainder of the activities were recorded in the private diary of the sheriff of Iosco County, L. B. Smith, in July 1876.

The printed program provides a simple plan to follow with major participation by school children, including patriotic recitations and a vocal music program. McKay said he would contact officials of Tawas Area School in order to determine if a commitment can be made to make preparations during the coming school year.

The sheriff's diary recorded that the centennial observance in 1876 consisted of reading of the Declaration of Independence and an oration from the steps of the courthouse, along with a parade, concert by the band, dancing in a bowery constructed across from the courthouse and fireworks.

Mrs. Herbert Hertzler, secretary, said she could see only one possible hitch in re-enacting the old program—a cannon is not available for firing salutes at midnight and at dawn on July 4, but she felt even this might be solved.

Other projects being considered leading up to the bicentennial observance is placement of a state historical marker at Tawas Point State Park to commemorate construction of the original lighthouse as the community's first permanent structure, possible designation of the present century-old lighthouse on the national historic site registry and reprinting of the Iosco portion of the History of the Lake Huron Shore, originally published in 1883.

Soper emphasized that strong representation was needed from every organization in the community in order to make the program a success. Officers of the group are to report on local plans to the county bicentennial steering committee, which meets later this month.

LOOKING OVER a school program, an old poster and a diary of a former sheriff of Iosco County is Clyde Soper, chairman of a committee which is making plans for the Tawas area's bicentennial observance in 1976. The committee is using the materials held by Soper to develop a program patterned after the centennial observance in 1876. —Tawas Herald Photo.

Invite Iosco to Join Suit Against State

Iosco County Board of Commissioners has been invited to join Montmorency and other counties in a class action suit against the state tax commission.

According to information from Montmorency County, the class action suit has been filed in both the state and federal courts. Authorities at Atlanta are attempting to interest 23 other counties in becoming parties plaintiff in the suit.

The counties involved are those whose state equalized value was increased this year as a result of studies conducted by the state.

One lawsuit is being instituted in the state court attacking administrative rules and a second lawsuit would be filed in the federal court claiming a violation of the equal protection clause of the federal constitution.

A communication from Montmorency stated that administrative rules under which the tax commission operates violate the state constitution, which places a responsibility on the legislature to maintain and support public schools. It is alleged that the Bursley school aid act removes the state from maintaining and supporting public schools and shifts the responsibility to property owners.

It was stated that financing of schools has no relationship with the state equalized value of real property and violates the equal protection clause of the federal constitution.

No action was taken on the matter by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners, but the clerk was instructed to obtain additional information from Montmorency County officials.

Putting their horses through a warm-up last Wednesday in preparation for racing were Thomas Shampine of Manistique, Bridget Ruckle, 22, and Richard Hollenbeck, 16, both of Hale. Shampine, a retired tobacconist, will be racing in his second straight year during the Iosco County Fair. He became interested in racing about seven years ago, but was unable to devote much time to his horses until retirement. Miss Ruckle, who has been interested in horses most of her life, has her matinee license and has been training horses for the past year at the Hale track. One of her horses will be driven during the fair by Joseph Hollenbeck, father of Richard, who owns a stable of racers, besides building jogging and racing carts for other owners. ## Establish Escrow Account to Ensure Iosco Bond Payment Establishment of an escrow account insuring that sufficient gas and weight taxes would be available for repayment of a proposed bond issue, Iosco County Board of Commissioners Wednesday adopted a resolution allowing the road commission to use county borrowing power for construction and equipping of a new central garage and office complex.

Action on this resolution had been tabled July 2 by the county board of commissioners when it was felt the county's general fund would be jeopardized should gas and weight taxes suddenly decrease.

As a solution to the above problem, the road commission agreed to establish an escrow account of approximately $65,000, representing the average annual payment on a $900,000 bond issue to build the new facility.

According to the resolution, two accounts would be established in separate Iosco County banks to insure the funds through the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. The current limit for deposit insurance is $40,000.

The escrow agreement is to be drawn to allow the Iosco Board of Commissioners, through the county treasurer, to withdraw the funds for repayment of the garage construction bonds, should sufficient gas and weight taxes be unavailable at the time a bond payment becomes due.

In addition, the county treasurer is to be custodian of all funds belonging to the project.

Farmers Home Administration has approved the $900,000 five percent loan, which is to be repaid in 25 years.

The road commission is to use approximately 20 percent of the money returned from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund to repay the loan. The road commission currently receives approximately $300,000 annually from this source.

Added to the resolution by the board of commissioners was the contingency that its action in no way "negates the assurance previously pledged by the road commission that, upon completion of the central garage, a stand-by vehicle will be continually maintained in the Hale area for snow removal emergencies."

The proposed new central garage and office complex, to be located on M-55 near the Sand Lake Road corner, would replace present county garages at East Tawas, Hale and Whittemore. The garage at Oscoda would be retained.

In other business conducted Wednesday, the board of commissioners banned all hunting on county airport property in Baldwin Township and ordered that the property be posted.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources notified the county that 23 parcels of state-owned mineral land in Oscoda Township would be offered for oil and gas leasing at a public auction sale on August 18.

W. C. Roach of Iosco County Landfill was notified that the board is requesting a renegotiation of the contract consideration, according to terms of an agreement adopted last year between the county and the landfill.

Edward Sterling was hired as a temporary employee in the county building and safety inspection department. The hourly wage rate was set at $3.45 effective July 7.

MERC Hearing Held on Dismissal of Deputy Sheriff

Michigan Employment Relations Commission is expected to announce its decision within 45 to 60 days on charges brought against Sheriff George Westcott and Josco County following dismissal of Joseph VanDette, former deputy sheriff, on February 24.

A four-hour administrative hearing was conducted by MERC Wednesday at the county building. Testimony was heard from both Sheriff Westcott and VanDette, as well as Undersheriff Basil Odell, Deputies Michael Fisher and Richard Freeman and Det. Dennis Frank.

Charges had been brought by Local 214 of the Teamsters State, County and Municipal Workers Union that VanDette was discharged from employment for his participation in the organizing of the employees of the sheriff's department and that other employees of the sheriff's department had been threatened with dismissal for taking an active part in organizing.

Pros. Atty. Ronald R. Tyler, appearing on behalf of the Josco County Board of Commissioners and Sheriff Westcott, denied the two allegations. He said that VanDette was discharged from employment for "legitimate and reasonable cause independent from and unrelated to his participation in a union or union organization."

Tyler denied that threats of dismissal were ever made to any employees for any reason relating to union organization or participation.

The prosecuting attorney denied allegations as applied to the board of commissioners stating that the county board "only possesses the power of determining the number and compensation of deputy sheriffs and possess no powers relating to the persons occupying those positions, the later being strictly within the statutory powers of the sheriff."

Although VanDette testified that the sheriff had never verbally threatened him with discharge or disciplinary action for participation in union activities, he said that it had been intimated. Under examination, he admitted being temporarily suspended in 1973.

Testimony entered by Sheriff Westcott on the record concerning VanDette's dismissal dated back to April 1973, when the sheriff advised the deputy he would have one year to lose a considerable amount of weight due to a medical problem and it was not advisable for him to drive a patrol car.

Other entries by the sheriff from 1973 to 1975 claimed that he had advised the deputy that his preparation of office clerical work was "sloppy," that he was using the radio improperly, dispatched police vehicles improperly, released a prisoner improperly, plus a series of other allegations which the sheriff believed justified his dismissal of the deputy.

The final entry was a record of cell inspections at the county jail on February 18-19 prepared by Deputy VanDette. Statements from eight jail inmates concerning the inspections were attached to the report.

On February 24, Westcott discharged VanDette from the department following a jail break by three felons five days earlier while VanDette was on duty. Two of the escapees have since been recaptured, but one is still at large.

In announcing the dismissal, Sheriff Westcott claimed that "security procedures established by myself were not followed and the escape was centered around a pattern formed by that officer, violating those procedures."

At the close of the hearing, the attorney representing the union alleged that the sheriff had illegally interrogated members of the department concerning their union activities.

A written opinion on findings of fact and conclusion, plus issuance of a final order, is to be made by the Michigan Employment Relations Commission.

Income - Resources Count on Supplemental SS Income

Question: My sister and brother-in-law have a disabled son. If he applies for supplemental security income, how will their income and resources affect his eligibility?

Answer: If he is under 18, or under 21 and a student, and he lives with his parents, their income and resources will be considered in determining his eligibility and payment amount. If he is over 18 and not a student or over 21 whether or not a student—only his own income and resources count in determining his eligibility for supplemental security income.

Question: I was going through some old papers recently and came across a doctor bill for treatment I received in August 1974. Is it too late to send in a medicare medical insurance claim for this bill?

Answer: It is not too late to submit this bill, but there are time limits for medical insurance claims. For covered services you received between October 1, 1973, and September 30, 1974, your claim must be submitted by December 31, 1975.

Question: Early in April, I hired a once-a-week housekeeper at $15 a day. A neighbor told me I have to make reports and pay social security contributions on the housekeeper's wages. Is this true?

Answer: Yes. People who pay a household worker $50 or more in cash wages in any three-month calendar quarter must send a report of the wages, along with the social security contribution, to the Internal Revenue Service within one month after the end of the quarter. Wage reports and contributions for April through June 1975 are due by July 31. You can get the report form at any IRS office.

THE TAWAS HERALD

Wednesday, July 23, 1975-3

Question: I recently requested and received a statement of the earnings credited to my social security record. I believe there is an error in my record. Can I get it corrected?

Answer: A person's social security earnings record can be corrected any time up to three years, three months and 15 days after the year in which the wages were paid or self-employment income was earned. Under certain conditions, your record can be corrected even if this time limit has passed. You should get in touch with a social security office right away. The people there will help you get your record corrected.

If you have questions regarding social security, contact the Bay City social security office at 1009 North Madison, or phone 892-3554.

FIT FOR FASHION
Today, pants are an accepted part of fashion for almost all occasions. And while the current styles of wider legs and looser fit make them easier to wear, fit is still important.

Major or basic adjustments should be made in the pattern before cutting, but a few last minute adjustments can be made as the garment is stitched.

Following are a few suggestions for a better fit:
Check the waist and hip comfort. (If an elastic waistband is used, be sure to leave the waistline large enough to go over the hips with ease.)

Check crotch depth both sitting and standing.

Check crotch width. If there is pull across the front or back at the crotch level, let out the inner leg seams. If there is too much fabric, take in the inner leg seam.

Check the thigh width.

Check length and shape of darts. Darts should end just above the fullest part of the hips. Persons with rounded hips, should curve darts for a better fit. (Instead of stitching straight from dart point to waistline, curve the stitching line in toward the fold.)

In checking, other common problems may be discovered:

Do the pants ripple about the waist? To correct, reduce the length of the dart, or make two small ones instead of one large dart.

Do the pants pull down at the center waist in front or back? To correct, set the waistband higher at the center and taper off the original seamline at the sides.

When you sit, does the waist gape in back? To correct, add more back rise. Raise the waistline at the center back seam.

When beginning to put together your pants, stitch the darts first. Then, make each leg, joining front and back. Stitch the crotch seam continuously from center front to inside leg seam to center back. This will keep the pants from bunching and hiking at the crotch.

Some patterns suggest stretching the back crotch seam as it is sewn. This helps avoid popping threads later.

Proceedings of Iosco County Board of Commissioners

JULY SESSION

July 2, 1975

Pursuant to established schedule, the Iosco County Board of Commissioners was called at 9:30 a. m. by Chairman Foster and the roll called.

Present: Foster (District 1), Griffin (District 2), Burdett (District 3), Fox (District 4) and Wereley (District 5)
Absent: None.

Chairman Foster reviewed the business before the board and the agenda for the day, following which the communications were read by the clerk and referred to the proper committees.

County road commissioners and Eng./Mgr. James Delahanty appeared before the board with their attorney, Michael Freel, and County Prosecutor Ronald Tyler to request passage by the board of a new resolution authorizing the issuance of county motor vehicle highway fund bonds to finance the proposed new central garage and office facility, said resolution to supersede a similar instrument adopted by the board on April 17, 1975, and differing in the respect that the latter would require the county to effect payment from the county general fund of any deficiency in principal and interest due on the bonds resulting from the road commission's inability to meet the obligation, with reimbursement for any such advance to be made from the first subsequent revenues received by the county from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund, not pledged for an earlier indebtedness. The matter was discussed at some length, with Messrs. Tyler, Freel and Delahanty each addressing the board with respect to the provision for the county to guarantee payment in the event that road commission funds are insufficient, noting that the possibility of the county having to advance payment is very remote, as the road commission annual operating budget, now well over $1 million, would have to fall below $325,000 before the 20% that can be pledged under the law would fail to cover payment of principal and interest on the bonds; further noting that should such an improbability occur, reimbursement would be made to the county from the first subsequent revenues received from the motor vehicle highway fund. Board members expressed concern, however, over the pledging of county general fund monies regardless of how remote the possibility of default by the road commission might be, whereupon the matter was referred to the finance committee for study and recommendation, with a decision possibly forthcoming later in the day.

A recess was ordered by the chairman at 10:45 a. m., the public safety committee to meet with the sheriff in the matter of a replacement for the animal control officer who resigned.

Upon call to order at 11:00 a. m., County Extension Director Marvin Davenport appeared before the board accompanied by two members of his staff, Extension Home Economist Margaret Mielock and her assistant, Robin Bell. Miss Mielock addressed the board to present a report on their programs and activities, indicating it is their job to assist people in improving the quality of life by teaching them better management of their resources, food preparation and safety, home maintenance, better family relationships etc. In answer to questions about duplication of services provided by other agencies, Mr. Davenport joined with Miss Mielock in explaining that their primary purpose is to educate people rather than becoming involved in the actual programs, that they provide supplemental services to assist other agencies in programs where there is not sufficient staff. Davenport explained, in answer to questions regarding funding of their programs, that Co-operative Extension programs are funded by state and federal monies and that the office operation is financed by the county.

Continuing, Davenport addressed the board briefly in reference to the following matters:

Chairman Foster called attention to the necessity to make appointments to the Mental Health Board, reconstituted under Public Act 258, submitting the following recommendations:

Charles E. Smith, Oscoda
Mary Jane Burdett, Baldwin Township
Dennis Chrvia, Hale
Dr. Larry Kelly, Tawas City

Following a brief discussion of the matter, it was moved by Burdett and supported by Griffin that the proposed slate be appointed. Motion carried.

Commissioner Fox, reporting on behalf of the building and grounds committee, submitted and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Griffin and carried unanimously.

Honorable Board of Commissioners:

Griffin then raised the matter of the request by the Trio Council on Aging for a commitment with respect to a county appropriation for their 1975-76 program, noting that Roscommon County has committed $8,333.33 and that Ogemaw County is talking about appropriating approximately $6,000. Griffin further indicated that there has been a proposal to use the money in the bridge escrow fund for the senior citizens appropriation. A discussion of the matter followed, wherein it was proposed that it be stipulated by resolution that the county appropriation would be contingent upon the continuation of federal funding.

The following matters were raised and discussed briefly:
The Wurtsmith Air Force Base request to be included in the sanitary landfill agreement with the Multi-County Landfill. Matter tabled until the next meeting.

The air base request to have the county animal warden pick up dogs at the base for delivery to the animal shelter.

The placement of ads in the local papers for a county building custodian.

Commissioner Griffin presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Fox and carried.

Honorable Board of Commissioners:
Your finance committee recommends that the $7,500 be transferred from the bridge escrow fund to the county general fund, and further recommends that the monies be allocated as Iosco County's share of local match for the Trio Council on Aging program and that a notice of our intent to support the program at the $7,500 level for fiscal year 1976 be prepared, signed by the chairman and delivered to the council; further, that the board wishes to stress that this resolution does not commit the board for funding in future fiscal years.

Signed: D. G. Griffin, W. G. Wereley, Joseph W. Fox
Commissioner Burdett presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Wereley and carried.

Honorable Board of Commissioners:

Signed: Mary Jane Burdett, W. G. Wereley, Joseph W. Fox

Upon motion by Fox, supported by Griffin and prevailing, the minutes of the June 18th meeting were approved as drafted and presented by the clerk.

Brugger's Tell of Expansion Into E. Tawas

BRUGGER'S FOODLAND is to expand next month into the present location of the A&P Store at East Tawas, which is to close business there August 6. The family operated Brugger's Foodland is owned by John N. Brugger, center, and his two sons, Robert, left, and John (Jack), right. The firm is to continue to operate its store in Tawas City. —Tawas Herald Photos.

Brugger's Foodland, a family operated grocery store in Tawas City for 48 years, will expand its business before the end of the summer into the Newman Street location being vacated by A&P Company at East Tawas.

In making the announcement Sunday, John N. Brugger said he "hoped to end some of the speculation which had been making the rounds for several weeks. We plan to open a store at the new location around September 1, but will continue to operate our store in Tawas City."

Leasing of the store building at East Tawas from Mrs. Ray Williams by Brugger's came as the result of a decision by A&P to close its store on August 6. The national food chain has operated a store at East Tawas for more than 50 years and has been at its present location since it was constructed in 1959.

Managing the new Brugger's Foodland at East Tawas will be Robert and John (Jack) Brugger, who joined their father and mother in the Tawas City store four years ago. The Tawas City store will be managed by David Lesinski, son-in-law of the owners.

The senior member of the firm said that about two weeks would be required in August to reset the new store's interior. The 70 by 80-foot building has 5,600 feet of display space. Display isles are to run parallel with Newman Street and there will be an entirely new concept in merchandising utilized. There will be one centralized check-out system located at the north end of the store to serve both front and rear entrances, along with relocating produce and frozen food departments. The store will employ 15 to 20 persons.

"We are pleased with the opportunity to expand our business into East Tawas," said Brugger. He said that the move would provide a broader base for merchandise purchasing and the same pricing system would be used in both stores "as close as humanly possible."

The Brugger name has been associated with the grocery business in Tawas City since May 1, 1927, when Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brugger purchased the store at the corner of First Street and Lake Street from Frank Fisher. John N. Brugger has been associated with the business since his youth and became a partner in 1940. He and his wife, Ann, purchased the business from his parents in 1953.

In 1940, a concrete block store building was constructed adjacent to the frame building which had served as a market since before the turn of the century. The building has had two expansions since then.

"We have acquired additional property for another enlargement of our present store, but this will probably be delayed for a year now due to the decision to expand into the new location," said Brugger.

The present store has 3,000 feet of display area and the future expansion will allow for improved display of merchandise.

THE IOSCO AUDUBON SOCIETY recently contributed this bird display to the Tawas Point State Park. Created by several members of the society, one side displays pictures and names of common summer birds at Tawas Point, while the reverse side depicts common shore birds at the point. This is one of several community projects completed by the Iosco chapter this year.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Iosco Medical Care Facility Plan Snagged

An application for federal funds to construct a 70-bed addition to the Iosco County Medical Care Facility was withdrawn last week in order to revise plans for resubmission at a later date.

In the meantime, the Michigan Health Department's Division of Health Facility Planning and Construction gave its stamp of approval Thursday night to a proposal submitted by a Lansing firm for construction of a 117-bed long term care facility on M-55 west of Tawas City.

Federal regulations require prior state approval of such capital cost projects and are handled by the state health department.

Provincial Homes, Incorporated, Lansing, had been notified earlier that the executive committee handling the applications had given its approval to the proposed new long term care facility. Formal action Thursday night saw the proposal adopted by a three to two roll call vote.

One additional step is required by the state health department before a project receives final approval.

Mrs. Howard (Mary Jane) Burdett, a member of the Iosco County Board of Commissioners who serves on the state health facility planning and construction committee, said that the medical care facility's application would be revised downward to a 40-bed expansion. Iosco's present facility consists of 64 beds.

She said this action was recommended by the state committee chairman following a review of this county's original application, which had an estimated cost of $1,250,000.

Mrs. Burdett said that had the application not been withdrawn, it would have been rejected entirely by the committee and a three-year waiting period is required before making a new application.

The need for expanding the medical care facility was expressed Wednesday during the regular meeting of the county board of commissioners.

Roy Bergstrom, director of the medical care facility, pointed out that the facility is presently operating at its lowest efficiency and should be expanded to 100 or 125 beds in order to become self sustaining.

Although the facility has operated for 8½ years without operational cost to the county, due to reimbursement and the same pricing funding, higher cost of operation has changed the financial picture this year.

Bergstrom said that the per patient day cost had risen to $35 and the county could end up paying $85,000 for annual operation, or it could be faced with cutting back personnel and services.

Until this year, operational cost of the facility has been split by the federal and state governments on a 60-40 percent basis through federal medicare and state Medicaid payments, but these payments will not meet expenses this year due to inflation.

Through action of the health facility planning and construction committee last week, the county could find itself in competition with private enterprise. Federal regulations mandate staff requirements for the medical care facility to qualify for skilled care service, whereas a private institution is not encumbered by such stringent regulations and is actually guaranteed a profit by the state.

A meeting has been tentatively scheduled Wednesday (today) with the Iosco Department of Social Services, the medical care facility director and auditor, along with the county board of commissioners, to discuss the financial problem.

In the meantime, Robert Foster, chairman of the county board of commissioners, said Friday that he hoped to arrange a meeting with representatives of Provincial Homes, Incorporated.

Foster said that a private facility was actually needed here as some persons do not qualify for admission to the county medical care facility.

He pointed out, too, that senior citizen housing was undergoing a vast expansion at Oscoda and the Tawas, which would require additional long term care beds in the immediate future from both public and private sources.

Prime Time

Use Your Time Wisely, Effectively

By Bernard E. Nash

As we grow older, we may occasionally look back and have regrets over wasted time. We may feel that if we had our lives to live over again—knowing what we do today—we would make better use of the time allotted us. Perhaps so. Perhaps not.

We do know, however, that time is a relative thing. Sometimes it rushes by with the speed of a jet airplane. At other times, it seems to move on lead feet. Albert Einstein once explained his theory of relativity in terms of our sense of the passage of time. He said: "If a man sits beside the girl of his dreams for an hour, it may seem no longer than a few minutes. But if he sits on a hot stove for ten seconds, it may seem like an hour. That's relativity."

Time has a way of moving more swiftly for the old than for the young. One year in the life of a 70-year-old person is less than one and a half per cent of his life. But one year in the life of a 10-year-old is 10 per cent of his life. A grandfather and his grandson will have different subjective responses to the passage of time.

Alvin Toffler explains the relative meanings of time to persons of different ages. He says: "Two hours in the life of a 4-year-old may be the felt equivalent of 12 hours in the life of her 24-year-old mother. Asking the child to wait two hours for a piece of candy may be the equivalent of asking the mother to wait 14 hours for a cup of coffee."

But, what can we do to make time last longer as we grow older? Robert Ornstein, a psychologist, says that length of time is determined by what we experience, learn, and perceive—by all of the stimuli we are subjected to. He compares the human brain with a computer. The more "inputs" the brain receives, the more fully we live. And, with increased experiences, our sense of time is lengthened. So his advice to older persons is to live their lives to the fullest—with all the emotions and perceptions possible to them. Without activity, mental and physical, one day merges into another in a dull gray monotony—and time becomes a meaningless void.

It is no contradiction to say that the more we do, the more time we have. A person who says he or she has no time to garden, to read, to call on neighbors, to go to the theater, to help out in a community project is letting time escape into nothingness. Some of the busiest people in the world find time to read books, go to the theater, visit an ailing friend, and join in community projects. Compared with those persons who never have the time to do anything, they live several lifetimes. One day in their lives may be worth ten days in the life of a person who sits despondently in a corner, thinking that life has passed him by. During our early and middle years, we look upon time as an all-important element of our lives. During our school days, we have classes to attend, papers to write, sports to engage in. Later, after we are married, we have the daily demands of a job, the care of children, and a thousand and one chores around the house. We see the need to ration our time, to use it wisely and effectively.

Then, before we know it, we are retired from our workaday jobs. More often than not, the husband now spends much more time at home. As one woman put it when her husband retired, "I now have half as much money and twice as much husband." The temptation is to adopt the philosophy that time is no longer important, to put off doing things, to look to the past rather than the future.

The most important requisite of successful retirement is good management of time. We need to make a conscious effort to budget our time—to keep physically fit, to manage our finances, to renew ourselves, and to expand our mental and spiritual horizons. By so doing, we can stretch the time of our later years—and "prime time" will be a rewarding, satisfying time.

(Mr. Nash is the executive director of the non-profit, non-partisan National Retired Teachers Association and American Association of Retired Persons.)

Indies Split Two Games Sunday

Tawas City Indies split the decisions Sunday in two games played with visiting Ossineke. The Indies won the opening game, 7-3, then lost the second game, 4-0.

Tawas jumped on the visitors for four runs in the opening inning of the first game and coasted to victory. Ossineke scored two runs in the opening inning, but was blanked the rest of the way by Clarence Jordan, winning pitcher. The losers collected 11 hits off the slants of Jordan, including a solo homerun by Clearwood in the seventh inning, but the Tawas team had all but one of its eight hits during two innings to produce runs.

Bill Sheldon, Gene Jordan and Dave Busha were top hitters for Tawas in the first game, each with two runs batted in. Jordan had a pair of singles and Busha contributed a double in the big first inning.

The second game proved to be a different story as Ferguson limited the Indies to only two hits in the shut out. Dave Mielock gave up nine hits to the visitors and struck out six batters.

Ossineke scored one run in the first inning on two hits, two runs in the fourth inning on four hits and one run in the seventh inning on one hit.

Pat Jordan and Sheldon were the only Tawas players to solve Fer-guson's slants. Jordan cracked a double to open the first inning and Sheldon had a single in the opening of the seventh inning.

The Indies continue the North-eastern Michigan League schedule next Sunday by playing at Lincoln.
