Meditation

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

God says, "Be still": the world says, "Be heard." To hear God's voice means shutting out the noise and commotion around us and perhaps within us.

Being still seems impossible with our present-day problems of sound pollution. Activity and strident sounds surround us. Where can one find quietness?

I remember as a child the hush that fell over the Canadian prairies on summer evenings. Even a small bird's twitter seemed loud. And just so in the stillness with God-His voice will be clearly audible to the listener.

Getting to know God as the One to whom we can turn at all times brings confidence and strength. Being still in God's presence can open our eyes to our own shortcomings, to the needs of others and perhaps to God's remedy for
