Give New Life to Old ET Water Tank

Temporary repairs to East Tawas' 55-year-old water tank in the city park was authorized Monday night by the city council. City officials hope that the repairs will extend the life of the tank for at least two years, at which time it is expected that the tank would no longer be needed due to planned improvements to the area's water distribution system.

Paul Ropert, city superintendent, reported to the council that a recent inspection of the water tank indicated the interior was heavily pitted and spot welding would be required to repair holes.

The money is to be reimbursed by the housing commission. The city was invited to attend a meeting in late November to discuss proposed legislation concerning communities operating under the Fourth Class City Act. Legislation has been proposed at Lansing to eliminate the act, but a new bill has been proposed to allow such cities to operate under home rule government until such time as a new charter is adopted.

The council endorsed Richard Moss as a prospective candidate to fill a vacancy on the county planning commission.

Cost of such a project would be $40,000 and the tank, which supplies pressure to the city's water supply, would be out of commission for about two months.

As an alternative to this expensive project, Ropert suggested that the tank's interior be sand blasted and coated with asphalt as a temporary measure. The council adopted his recommendation.

$130 Donated to Aid River Mouth Work

Under an area program for improving water distribution, 500,000-gallon elevated tanks are to be constructed at the Tawas Area Industrial Park in Baldwin Township and in Tawas City which would provide the necessary water pressure to operate the entire system. A 500,000-gallon underground storage would replace the old water tank at East Tawas.

Martin W. O'Driscoll, Tawas City motel owner, turned $130 over to the city council Monday night representing donations from business places and individuals to assist the city in its dredging operation last summer at the mouth of the Tawas River.

Ropert told councilmen Monday night that it would be impossible to determine if the temporary repairs would extend the water tank's life for the length of time required to construct the new facilities.

He said the tank had not been drained since 1957 and pitting of the tank's interior was noticed at that time.

In presenting the money to the city treasurer, O'Driscoll said another $50 to $75 would be turned over to the city. Making donations to the campaign were Surfside Motel, Riverside Resort and Motel, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Borzenik, Robert Rollin, Acapulco Beach Cabins and Tawas Bar.

In other business, Gary Goddard, owner of a self-serve laundry on Newman Street, requested permission to install a cyclone fence extending from his building along the sidewalk to the next building on the south. He said his property had been filled with cars and that vehicles had been driving over the sidewalk to reach Newman Street. The matter was turned over to a committee for a recommendation.

O'Driscoll said he would like to see establishment of a permanent program to assist in dredging the river and suggested establishment of an official collection agency.

In addition, O'Driscoll told the council that he and his group had written numerous letters to state and federal officials seeking assistance at the river mouth and, despite a lack of interest by agencies contacted, predicted that assistance would be forthcoming.

Authorization was given to transfer general and revenue sharing funds to pay $50,000 of the city's blacktopping program recently completed. The remaining $15,000 would be paid to the contractor during the winter months.

He said that owners of small craft are interested in keeping the river mouth open to boating and improvement to river facilities would benefit the entire area.

A recommendation of the city attorney to purchase title insurance at a cost of $130 to clear land titles in the city's Eastland No. 1 Subdivision was referred to the lands and buildings committee for a recommendation.

The city council had attempted to get the state waterways commission interested in the project, but a recent letter indicated the state was not interested in a maintenance dredging project at the river mouth.

The council adopted a resolution approving use of the city's payroll system for two housing commission employees at Bay Park Tower. The money is to be reimbursed by the housing commission.

Fall Cleanup Thursday

Annual fall cleanup in Tawas City is to be held Thursday and home owners are reminded by City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz that the project is for one day only.

Materials placed along streets once trucks have passed will not be picked up by the city. Cooperating in the program will be the city's garbage collector and the city crew.

"We have had splendid cooperation from residents since this program started three years ago, but we will again emphasize that materials to be picked up should be placed at the edge of streets early Thursday morning or the previous day," said Bublitz.

All materials should be placed in containers and leaves will not be raked up by the crew. Tree limbs should be cut into five-foot lengths to facilitate handling. Objects too large for the compactor truck are to be picked up by the city crew.

Cotter, Rollin, Landon Elected to Council

Cholger Wins Mayor Post

Herbert Cholger will be Tawas City's new mayor on January 1 and he will be joined by Jerry Cotter and Charles Landon as new members of the city council. Robert N. Rollin, incumbent councilman, was re-elected to his third term.

In a close race for the mayor's position, Cholger received 302 votes to 278 votes cast for Arthur Ziehl.

Cotter, former city attorney, was top vote getter in the election with 377 ballots. Rollin received 324 votes and Landon was third with 255.

The next three candidates for council seats were Benjamin Brewer, 241; Lyle Healey, 224; Bobbie Ann Kehoe, 147.

In the First Precinct, Cholger was defeated by Ziehl, 92-89; Ziehl received 102 votes to Cholger's 93 votes in the Second Precinct, but the Third Precinct turned the tables to give 120 votes to Cholger and 78 to Ziehl.

ward Savage and Clark Tanner, who did not seek re-election. A beautiful, warm fall day greeted voters Tuesday, but the turnout was one vote less than was cast in the 1973 election which saw Brugger defeat his challenger, Mrs. Lawrence DeBeau, in a close contest. There were 592 votes cast in the 1973 election and 591 persons out of 1,066 registered electors entered polling booths yesterday.

David Mills is New Whittemore Mayor

David Mills received 69 votes and was elected without opposition as mayor of Whittemore. Edward Graham Jr. was unopposed and received 71 votes as treasurer.

Bert Fortune was a write-in candidate for clerk and was elected with 38 votes. James Lovett was a candidate for First Ward councilman. William Fuerst was a write-in candidate for the city council to represent the Second Ward.

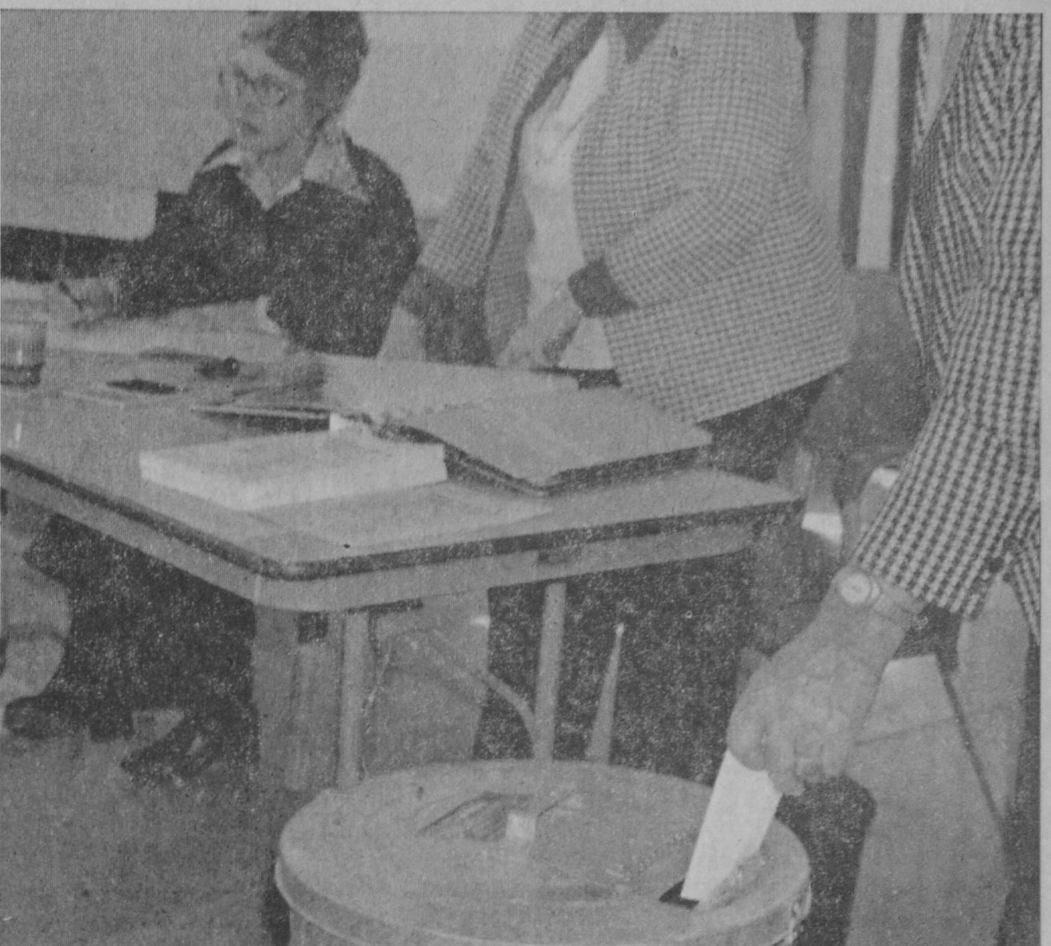

Cotter received 115 votes in the First Precinct, 128 in the Second Precinct and 134 in the Third Precinct; Rollin had totals of 100, 109 and 115; Landon's vote was 91, 95 and 69. The other candidates had precinct totals as follows: Brewer, 85, 89, 67; Healey, 64, 90, 70; Mrs. Kehoe, 44, 56, 47.

Cholger is to succeed John N. Brugger, who announced last spring that he would not be a candidate for re-election at the end of his second term. Cotter and Landon are to replace Ed-

Ask DNR to Rescind Right of Access by MacAndrew

East Tawas Council Monday night adopted a resolution requesting the Michigan Department of Natural Resources to rescind an agreement with Gordon W. MacAndrew which permitted his access to use of submerged lake bottom land in Tawas Bay at the foot of Wadsworth Street.

The council had attempted to negotiate a settlement to purchase MacAndrew's interest in the property to facilitate use of Wadsworth Street and adjacent city property as a parking lot for a new boat launching ramp proposed by the DNR as part of the over-all improvement to the federal-state Tawas Harbor project.

had three alternatives open to settlement of the problem. The first was to negotiate a settlement with MacAndrew, the second was for the city to condemn the property and purchase his interest and the third alternative was to request the DNR to rescind MacAndrew's permit, which the council adopted.

The council had attempted to negotiate a settlement to purchase MacAndrew's interest in the property to facilitate use of Wadsworth Street and adjacent city property as a parking lot for a new boat launching ramp proposed by the DNR as part of the over-all improvement to the federal-state Tawas Harbor project.

During discussion last summer with the Michigan Waterways Commission, city officials learned that MacAndrew still retained his interest in the property under state permit and the city commenced negotiations for purchasing that interest. No agreement could be reached on a purchase price.

The council's resolution asked the DNR to eliminate MacAndrew's right of access to the property by means of an earth filled causeway which was allowed under his permit with the state.

Would Restore Park Band Shell

Minutes of the October 23 park board meeting read at Monday night's meeting of the Tawas City Council indicated that Tawas Kiwanis Club is to participate in upgrading facilities at the city park.

The band shell is to be used on July 4, 1976, during the Tawas area's bicentennial program.

According to information from the park board, the Kiwanis Club has agreed to participate in restoration of the band shell as a bicentennial project. Included would be replacement of the roof, replacement of some flooring and a new paint job.

The request for additional city property had been tabled by the council in March and the matter was turned back to the cemetery board last month for action.

Instant Winner

Arthur Salisbury of Tawas City, who had been a CETA employee of the city until being injured in a recent automobile accident, was a $10,000 instant winner last week in the state lottery. A resident of Mathews Street, he and his wife are parents of two children.

In other business conducted Monday night, the council established the rate of $25 for nine election board workers Tuesday, plus $2.50 per hour after 8:00 p. m. Three additional counters were authorized after 8:00 p. m. at a rate of $2.50 per hour.

Iosco County Had 'Quiet' Halloween

Only minor damage was reported Halloween night by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

An abandoned farm home at the intersection of Prescott and Putnam Roads, Burleigh Township, was destroyed by a fire attributed to vandalism. Sheriff's department officers discovered the blaze while on routine patrol.

Windows in five house trailers in the Long Lake area were damaged by vandalism. Officers said that stones had been thrown through windows of trailers owned by John Eicholz, Charles Norris, Robert Burbank and Alfred Tillison.

Ronald J. Klinger, an employee of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, reported that a bottle struck the windshield of the truck which he was operating on US-23, Baldwin Township.

Iosco County Road Commission reported that seven signs were damaged on Baldwin Resort Road.

A vandalism complaint was investigated Thursday night at the Glenn Beamish residence, 608 Second Avenue, Tawas City. Glass in the front door was smashed.

OK 11th Ave. Sewer District; Action Delayed on 10th Ave.

Final approval was given to formation of one new special assessment district Monday night by the Tawas City Council and a public hearing on a second district was adjourned for two weeks to obtain additional information requested by two property owners.

The Eleventh Avenue project from Harris Avenue to North Street consists of 574 feet of eight-inch sanitary sewer. Total cost of the project would be $8,955 at a rate of $15.60 per assessable foot to the taxpayer. Seven property owners are involved.

The city manager that approval must still be received from the state health department. It had been hoped the sewer could be constructed this fall, but the health department has not approved other sewer extension requests this year because of the problem of ground water infiltrating the city's sanitary sewer system. Extensive testing was made during the summer, but the point of infiltration has not been discovered.

The two tax districts, being formed on petition to the council by benefited property owners, are to finance construction of new sanitary sewers on Tenth and Eleventh Avenues.

The Tenth Avenue project, from Fourth Street to Dead Creek has an estimated cost of $13,825 with 866 feet of main. The cost would be $15.96 per assessable foot, which reflects a slightly higher cost due to the depth. Six property owners are involved.

In answer to a question from those present, Mayor John N. Brugger said that the city had agreed during formation of previous special assessment districts to assume the additional cost of any project over $19 per foot, but would not participate in cost sharing under that figure.

The council's resolution asked the DNR to eliminate MacAndrew's right of access to the property by means of an earth filled causeway which was allowed under his permit with the state.

The council's resolution asked the DNR to eliminate MacAndrew's right of access to the property by means of an earth filled causeway which was allowed under his permit with the state.

The city manager pointed out that cost of constructing these two sewers is well below the charge for other assessment districts due to the fact that the city crew is to perform the work.

At the request of Alvin M. Cholger and Robert Clayton, property owners in the proposed Tenth Avenue district, the hearing was adjourned until November 17 to enable the city to investigate an apparent conflict concerning the width of two lots in the district.

Both Cholger and Clayton said there was a discrepancy with the tax roll concerning the width of their two lots on Dead Creek. The men said their property deeds indicated the two lots had a width of 60 feet, while the tax roll indicated a width of 73 feet.

Due to the lack of money received, the Tawas-Whittemore-Hale Community Chest Drive is to be extended to Friday, November 14. As of Friday, October 31, 42 percent of the goal had been met. Mrs. Alice Backman turned in the Grant Township goal Friday.

Property owners will have the option of paying assessments over a period of 15 years and at an interest rate of seven percent, or assessments may be paid off entirely to eliminate the interest charge.

About 25 years ago, Dead Creek was diverted to a new route on Third Street and the two lots in question are adjacent to the rerouted creek bed.

Clayton was the only property owner present at the hearing who submitted a written protest concerning the district. His letter stated he did not object to establishment of the district, in which he owns three lots. He said, however, he did not feel the sewer should be extended entirely to Dead Creek to serve his third lot, inasmuch as he has no plans for development of the property, that the lot would not benefit from the increased value of the sanitary sewer due to the deduction of a scrap yard in the neighborhood and he did not feel the sewer would be extended across the creek to serve the rear of property owned by Tawas Area School.

Clayton's objection was taken under advisement by the city council.

Although there has been no formal action as yet by Tawas Area Board of Education, school administrators are currently studying class scheduling to determine if enough classrooms would be available next year to eliminate the need for the present "split session" arrangement, whereby high school grades attend classes in the morning and grades six through eight use the same facilities in the afternoon during an extended school day.

Carl Babcock, board of education president, emphasized Friday that the board of education was "only studying" this possibility and a number of scheduling difficulties could arise which might not make the plan feasible. In addition, a classroom construction program probably would be tied into the change and that would necessarily require a vote of the people.

Tawas Area School is presently in its third year of the split session and, after some initial grumbling by high school students, parents and teachers over the early hour for starting school, the present extended day has temporarily alleviated the need for additional classrooms.

In addition, students, parents and teachers have been highly pleased with the dramatic change the split session has offered by enabling formation of a middle school for grades six through eight. Prior to the extended school day, the junior high school grades were at the short end of the totem pole insofar as curriculum offerings were concerned and school administrators were ashamed that only basic courses could be offered to those students. Now that all facilities are available in the afternoon, the administration and faculty have been able to utilize innovative instruction in the curriculum, with increased emphasis on English, reading, mathematics and science offerings, as well as to offer excellent programs in shop, home economics, health education and gym. These subjects, important to the educational growth and development of youngsters, could not be offered in the regular school day arrangement due to the lack of facilities.

In addition, the new arrangement permitted the school to provide smaller class sizes in some areas for individualized accelerated instruction in reading, language arts and mathematics. Much has happened in the past three years and schools are now required by state law to provide such instruction for youngsters with problems in those study areas and a school is wide open to legal action if it does not comply.

In addition to the above benefits, it was long a hope of parents and administrators that the junior high school could be separated from the high school, for obvious reasons. Fifteen years ago, plans were commenced on constructing a junior high school wing, separated from the high school by iron gates. It was found, however, that the desired separation could not be achieved in the same building and the same problem of co-mingling junior high school students with high school students was not solved. The split session arrangement proved to be a real solution to this problem area.

Now that this separation has been achieved, along with much needed improvement to the educational offerings in grades six through eight, it is going to be difficult for Tawas Area School to convince parents that students should again be co-mingled in the same building. Serious thought and consideration should be given to any proposed schedule change and parents should be involved in discussions with the board of education and administration before any move is made.

The board of education and administration must carefully analyze the recent school census, which indicated a lowering of Tawas' enrollment, before any action is taken. It must be remembered that the annual census taking was discontinued a number of years ago due to the lack of funds and a one-year census can often be misleading. Some effort should be made, too, to determine actual causes of enrollment decreases and projected future enrollments before a change is made in the presently successful extended school day program.

A change should not be made merely to eliminate the split session under the guise of saving tax dollars, as this would disrupt the entire curriculum and classroom arrangement in the high school and two elementary schools. It would also appear that a minimal building program would be required to make the change and that would require public support.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Psalm 63:1-8)

Ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart. (Jeremiah 29:13)

As children we played an indoor game called "hunt the thimble." We would go out of the room while my father hid a thimble. On being called in, we would rush madly about, looking behind books, among flowers in the vases, under cushions or in boxes. I remember one occasion when I seemed to have looked everywhere, and in exasperation I went to Dad who was smilingly watching our chaotic search. I grabbed his hand, intending to say, "Where is it, Dad?" when I felt the thimble on his finger, the most natural place of all.

We ourselves are like children, rushing about, trying everything, going everywhere to find our hearts' desire. If we would but take our heavenly Father's hand so lovingly held out to us, we would find all that our hearts seek—comfort, guidance and best of all eternal life, which starts as soon as we surrender our lives to His keeping and accept His will for us.

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, I do know where to find real life. As You hold out Your hand to receive my love, I know You hand me the far greater gift of the Holy Spirit. I am unworthy, but I now claim this in faith and gratitude. Amen.

Apple Butter Making Time

An old-fashioned apple butter making bee, first in a series of home crafts demonstrations to be conducted during the bicentennial observance, was held Wednesday by Hale area retirees.

The group spent three days in preparation for the demonstration by shredding apples into pulp and squeezing 50 gallons of apple juice. An antique grinder-press was used and apples were donated by residents of the area.

At the center of the demonstration, held at the home of Mrs. Gladys Wells on West Esmond Road, was a 25-gallon copper kettle which was used to "boil off" the apple juice. In charge of the boiling operation was Lester Bowers, who said the valuable kettle had been owned by his family for about 100 years.

After seven hours of boiling, approximately 16 gallons of pure apple juice remained. Fourteen gallons of apple sauce, sugar and cinnamon were then added to complete the apple butter process.

The finished product is to be canned and sold as a fund raising project for the organization, which seeks a permanent location for a senior citizens' center at Hale. At the present time, a center is located in a surplus portable classroom loaned by Hale Area School District.

Mrs. Evelyn Chene said that a permanent location is being sought for the organization, which could also serve in a dual role as a museum and locations for similar crafts demonstrations. Women of the organization are crocheting red, white and blue berets to raise funds for the project.

Following Wednesday's demonstration, a pot-luck dinner was served at the Wells residence featuring apple butter, homemade bread and pumpkin pie.

Dressed in bicentennial costumes, the ladies helped in processing apples with this antique grinder-press.

Lester Bowers stirs apple juice boiling in a copper kettle.

Mrs. Alice Friebe uses her finger as a taste tester.

PARENTS' NIGHT was observed prior to the start of Friday night's football game between the Tawas Area Braves and visiting Standish-Sterling Central. Members of the varsity and their parents were introduced, along with cheerleaders, managers and their parents. Senior members of the high school marching band were recognized at halftime.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Forming Citizens Advisory Council

The first organizational meeting of the Tawas Area Citizen's Advisory Council will be held Wednesday, November 12, 8:00 p. m., at the Tawas Area High School commons. This council has been organized to serve in an advisory capacity to the Tawas Area School Community Education Department.

Guest speaker will be Daniel Cady, a consultant in the Inservice Education Department of Flint Community Schools. Cady has been a community school director in Flint since the early 1960's, past president of the National Community Education Association and the Michigan Community School Association. He will show a slide-tape presentation about community councils and answer questions concerning it.

Some individuals have already been selected to serve on the council. However, there is always room for more people to serve. This meeting will be open to the public, but attendance at the meeting does not necessarily mandate being on the council. For further information call the community education office at 362-6127, extension five.

Community Can be Proud of UNICEF Support

Halloween is over. Its costumes, ghosts, tricks and treats have been put away, not to reappear for another year.

But one aspect of Halloween has just begun. "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" is only the first step on a course that will help build a better world for needy children around the globe.

Residents of the Tawas can be proud of the part they played in helping to build that world. Their "small change" amounts to a big change in the lives of hungry, diseased, poorly clothed and sheltered children in the developing world. The pennies, nickles, dimes and quarters given to UNICEF Trick or Treaters help provide those things to which UNICEF believes every child has a right—nourishing food, health care and education assistance.

"By supporting our local UNICEF Halloween program, our community has demonstrated its support for the world's greatest asset—its youth," said a spokesman for Tawas United Methodist Church.

Braves Share Championship

JEFF TOUSLEY scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter of Friday night's game. He is shown going to the outside on this play to get by Panther defenders.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Tawas Braves, ending the 1975 football season Friday night by defeating visiting Standish-Sterling and tied for the NBC championship, has the satisfaction of being the only conference school with a victory over the co-champion Oscoda Owls. Both teams had identical records of eight wins and one loss during the season, the last in the NBC for Tawas and four other schools.

The Braves appeared to be headed to their first undefeated season since 1963 until two weeks ago, having defeated Oscoda earlier in this season; then they ran into a buzzsaw at Carrollton, losing 21-20, and were forced to share top conference honors with the Owls, who Friday night defeated Gladwin, another team which had a share of first place for one week.

Parents of the Braves, managers and cheerleaders were honored in pregame ceremonies Friday night before fans settled down to watch the "Big Red Machine" score three touchdowns over the Panthers in the first quarter. The contest was over at that point, but the Panthers—sparked by the game running of Halfback Bryan Schnetzler—managed to give Tawas' defense a few fits and scored three touchdowns during the night.

Tawas, playing most of the second half with reserves running in and out of offensive and defensive lineups, then rolled to a 61-22 victory, the largest score posted by the Braves this season. Despite the lopsided margin, the Tawas coaching staff could not be accused of "running up the score" against the Panthers as the final two touchdowns came late in the game on two brilliant runs by Jeff Tousley, second string halfback.

Mitch Lenczewski, the crazy-legged Tawas halfback, scored three touchdowns in the first quarter and pushed his offensive rushing to more than 1,200 yards for the season, a new record for the Braves. Another offensive record for the school was shattered when End Brad Potts snared his fourth pass of the night in the fourth quarter.

Tawas scored early and easily when Quarterback Earl Parsons faked nicely and handed off to Lenczewski, who sprinted 14 yards to paydirt. Potts turned in a good block to open the way for Lenczewski's prance into the endzone. A two-point conversion was credited to Lenczewski.

Don Reed, nose man for the Braves, recovered a Standish-Sterling fumble on third down at the visitors' 49. Halfback Bob Stephenson turned in an outstanding run on first down and, with a good fake at the 20, moved the ball to the one-yard line. Lenczewski sliced his way through the Panther defense for his second touchdown and Stephenson booted the PAT.

After taking a Panther punt on their own 14, the Braves moved in eight plays to another touchdown, including a perfect 35-yard pass from Parsons to Potts. Lenczewski ran the last seven yards for his third touchdown with two seconds remaining in the first quarter. The Braves were unable to convert the PAT and had a 21-0 lead.

The Tawas defense stopped the Panthers in four plays and the Braves had the ball for four plays before Potts was forced to punt. Schnetzler electrified Panther fans by returning the ball 64 yards to the Tawas 21, before being brought down from behind by Mark Fisher. Six plays later, Quarterback Tim Swanson punched through the Tawas defense for a touchdown to make the score 21-6, the attempted conversion failing.

An 18-yard diving catch by Potts featured the next series as Tawas scored in seven plays. Parsons found End Kurt Seifert open in the endzone on the final play and he snared the 23-yard toss for the touchdown. Stephenson ran the conversion to extend the score to 29-6.

The second half opened with Mike Lear intercepting a Panther pass and he raced 35 yards to a touchdown. Stephenson ran the two-point conversion and Tawas had a 37-6 lead with 11 minutes, 18 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Dave Conn and Reed turned in excellent stops on Panther runners and Bob Rose intercepted a Standish-Sterling pass on the 18-yard line to set up another Tawas touchdown. Lenczewski raced 73 yards on the second play from scrimmage to place the ball on the eight-yard line. Stephenson punched his way to the four-yard line and scored the touchdown on the next play. Lenczewski ran the conversion to extend the margin to 45-6 with seven minutes, 20 seconds to go.

Seifert recovered a Panther fumble on the kickoff and returned the ball to the 39, but the Tawas offense led by Fisher could not move the ball. Standish-Sterling took over on fourth down and Schnetzler scored a touchdown with one second remaining in the third quarter. A pass to Tim Story gave the Panthers a two-point conversion.

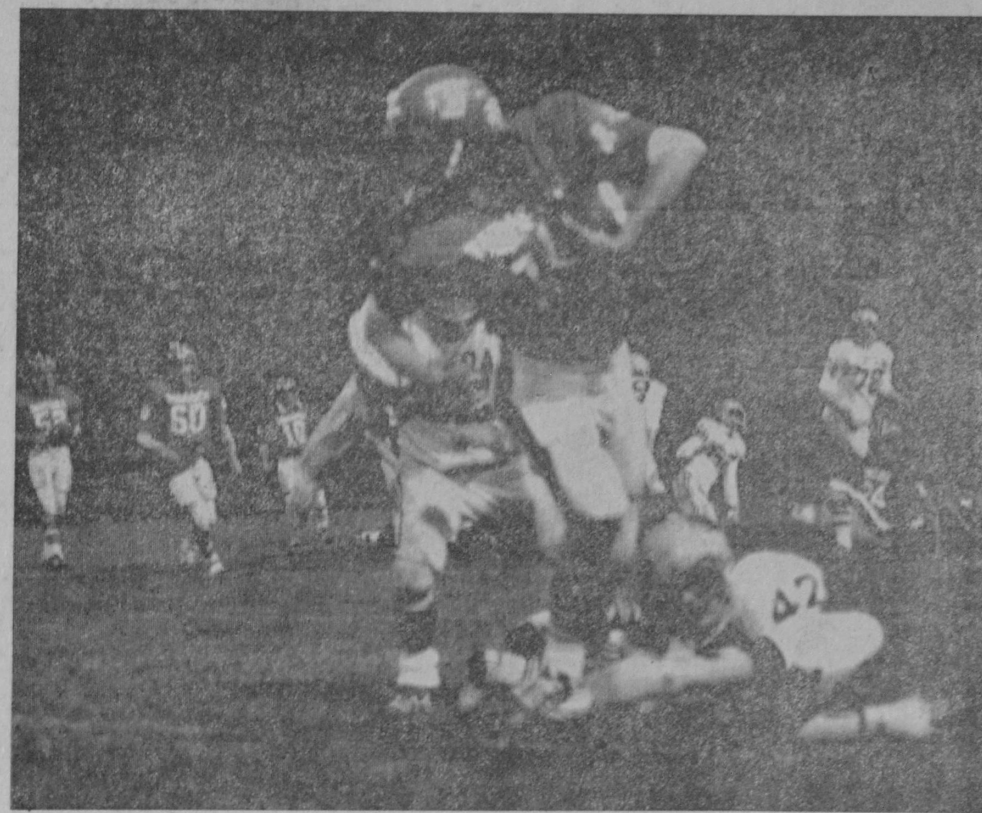

The Panthers reached the scoreboard again with six minutes, 51 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter when Swanson kept the ball for one yard and punched through the Tawas defense. An aerial completed Panther scoring for the night.

First of Tawas' final two touchdowns of the season came when Tousley found running room and scored from the 38-yard line with four minutes, 20 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter. He added the two-point conversion on a run.

Dave Gartland recovered for Tawas when the Panthers fumbled the kickoff. This set the stage for an 18-yard touchdown run by Tousley and Lear ran the two-point conversion.

BRAD POTTS caught four passes in Friday night's game with the Standish-Sterling Panthers and set a new reception record for the season at Tawas Area School. Potts eludes two tacklers after catching a pass, above.—Tawas Herald Photo.

quire all Michigan mechanics to become certified; it simply requires each registered motor vehicle repair facility to have in its employ by January 1, 1978, at least one mechanic certified in each category of repair which the facility provides.

However, March 1 is the deadline for motor vehicle repair operations to be registered and to begin conducting their businesses in full compliance with the requirements of the law.

To comply with the law, facilities will have to provide detailed written estimates for all repair jobs and get the customer's signed approval before beginning work.

When a job is finished, the customer must be given a detailed invoice covering all parts and services and certifying the work was completed properly. If the repairs could not be completed, then the invoice must include an explanation to that effect.

In addition, all customers must be notified of their right to examine and to have all parts returned which may be replaced in connection with the repair work.

Each facility will be required to post a consumer information sign in a conspicuous place informing customers of their basic rights and containing the telephone number and address of the secretary of state's bureau of automotive regulation.

Richard H. Austin, secretary of state, said a large part of the bureau's efforts would be aimed at mediating disputes that arise between the customer and the repair garage.

It is estimated that anywhere from 16,000 to 20,000 establishments in Michigan perform work falling into categories covered by the law.

Act Important to Motorists-Garages

On October 18, 1974, the Michigan Legislature passed a law of considerable importance to both the motoring public and the state's motor vehicle service and repair industry.

The law, known as the Motor Vehicle Service and Repair Act of 1974, requires all businesses which provide more than minor motor vehicle repairs to register with the secretary of state office by March 1, 1976.

The act also established a state program for certifying motor vehicle mechanics.

After March 1, 1976, the secretary of state's office will be receiving, investigating and taking action on consumer complaints about specific repair facilities, as part of its basic responsibility for regulating the motor vehicle repair industry under terms of the law. That date also marks the beginning of Michigan's mechanic certification program.

Initially, the certification of mechanics will be based on examinations administered by the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence, an independent non-profit corporation whose examinations are developed and administered nationally by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

Work Starts on New Iosco Co. Airport

15 Years Ago—

November 2, 1960—Jay Woods Construction Company, Harrison, started work Monday on the new Iosco County Airport located north of East Tawas about one-half mile off US-23. A runway is being cleared and brought to grade at a cost of $15,940 and the project is being financed through a joint program between the federal, state and county governments.

About 40 landowners in Plainfield and Reno Townships have organized the Hale Creek Club to protect female deer and fawn during the hunting season. About 5,000 acres of land are being posted and members of the organization will patrol against trespassers.

A survey of enrollment at Tawas Area School indicates that 12 additional classrooms will be needed by 1970.

More than 1,500 feet of floor space is being added to the Pendleton Shop at East Tawas.

Tawas City voters will receive a ballot in next Tuesday's general election on a proposed charter amendment to equalize special assessment districts.

25 Years Ago—

November 3, 1950—Iosco Sportsmen's Club, in cooperation with local conservation officers, have completed work on rebuilding the Buck Creek dam. The site previously was a beaver dam and, in 1948, the club built a sluice dam which controls the water flow.

Work is progressing on a new addition to McKay Sales Company in Tawas City.

Tawas Kiwanis Club adopted a resolution favoring reorganizing school districts of the Tawas area into one school.

Iosco-Arenac Holstein Club is urging voters to oppose a proposal which would allow yellow oleo in Michigan.

In answer to a suggestion that he become the Republican candidate for president in 1952, General Eisenhower said his position at Columbia University offers rich opportunities for serving the country and that his task "would excite the pride and challenge the qualifications and strength of any man."

35 Years Ago—

November 1, 1940 — Business again entered normal channels in Tawas City when two lanes of the newly paved Lake Street were opened to traffic. Eighty-five men have been employed on the project since October 2.

Save money in your attic this winter.

Insulate!

At the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Michigan Consolidated is again offering a low-cost home ceiling insulation program designed to conserve Natural Gas and hold down heating costs.

Last year, nearly 42,400 Michigan Consolidated customers installed ceiling insulation, saving over one billion cubic feet of Natural Gas, and cut their home heating costs by up to 17%.

These results were gratifying indeed. Enough Natural Gas was conserved to heat over 7,600 additional homes this winter.

If you still haven't taken advantage of this easy, low-cost program, now's the time to act. Many homeowners can install insulation themselves for about $125. Our free handbook tells you how. Get your copy at any Michigan Consolidated Business Office, most building supply outlets or write or call us.

Or, we can have the job done for you by one of our participating subcontractors and add the cost to your monthly gas bills. The cost? About $250 for homes with less than 1,000 sq. ft. of ceiling area. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE QF 12%.)

So why not save money in your attic this winter with our low-cost ceiling insulation program? You'll be cutting your heating costs, up to 17% and helping our country conserve its Natural Gas supplies, too.

PROGRESS on construction of Tawas City's new post office is shown above. The new structure is located on Lake Street west of the Mathews Street intersection and is to be completed in February. The cooperative extension office is to occupy the present post office after the move is made to the new quarters.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Question: My grandmother is 77 and has no income except for a monthly social security check of $115. She does own a small home and has some personal property and other assets. Would her assets make her ineligible for supplemental security income?

Answer: An individual may have resources (assets) worth up to $1,500 and be eligible for supplemental security income. In figuring this $1,500, not all resources are counted. A home with a market value of $25,000 or less ($35,000 or less in Alaska and Hawaii) is not counted. Personal effects or household goods with a total market value of $1,500 or less are not counted. Certain other assets also are excluded. Tell your grandmother she should apply for supplemental security income at a social security office. The people there will tell her if she is eligible.

Question: I get social security disability checks and I have been thinking of taking a part-time job to see if I can work. My next-door neighbor offered me a job in his business. If I take it, would my disability payments stop as soon as I start to work?

Answer: Not necessarily. If you return to work while you are still disabled you may be eligible for a trial work period. This means disability benefits will continue while you test your ability to work for up to nine months. If it is determined that you are able to engage in substantial gainful work, your benefits continue for three additional months before being stopped. Be sure to notify a social security office if you do go to work.

Question: I plan to work from December 1 until mid-January. I have never had a social security number. How do I get one?

Answer: You can get information about applying for a social security number by calling or writing any social security office. Since you have never had a number before, you may be asked to prove your age, identity and citizenship. You should apply for a number several weeks before you actually need it. If you have any questions regarding social security, contact the social security office at 1009 North Madison, Bay City, or phone 892-3554.

remodeled sales area. The firm is now an authorized Radio Shack sales center. The store is

Grand Opening Scheduled at Forward's Radio Shack

Forward's Tire Store, located west of the M-55-US-23 intersection, Tawas City, is now a Radio Shack authorized sales center. A grand opening is planned for November 6, 7 and 8.

According to David Westcott, manager, the store will stock a selected line of products from Radio Shack. Products include realistic hi-fi and citizens band equipment, Archer antennas, Micron test instruments, Science Fair and Archer electronic and hobby kits.

Radio Shack, a division of Tandy Corporation, headquartered at Ft. Worth, Texas, operates a chain of 3,000 full-line stores in all 50 states, Canada, South America and Europe.

Forward Oil Company has been serving the Tawas area since 1955.

Westcott, a native of Tawas City, spent 20 years in the United States Air Force and returned here in 1973.

Reno News

Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Robinson were Cass City visitors.

A number of members of the Farm Bureau from this area attended the annual meeting at Tawas United Methodist Church Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Frank Smith celebrated her birthday Tuesday. She had visits from Mrs. Dorothy Fernandez and her two children, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Anderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Olen Herriman, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Smith and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and daughter, all of National City.

Mrs. Hazel Wesenick and Mrs. Tressy Greenwood were dinner guests Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Waters and Miss Florence J. Latter.

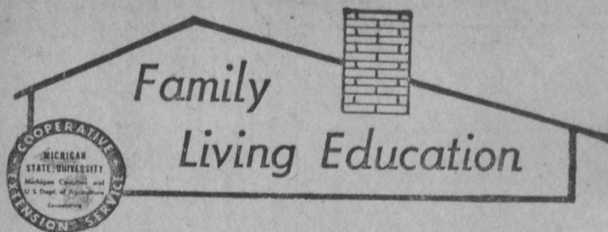

Public Hearing on Community College Bill

A public hearing is to be held at Lansing Monday, December 8, to discuss Senate Bill 1080—the Community College Districting Plan. The bill would place every school district in a community college district, which means property owners would be assessed up to two mills of taxes without a vote.

State Rep. Ernest W. Nash said that the bill has generated much interest in the state and the hearing will afford an excellent opportunity for the public to make feelings known.

If adopted, the bill would provide that Tawas Area School, Hale Area School and Whittemore-Prescott Area School would become a part of the Kirtland Community School District and Oscoda Area School would become a part of the Alpena Community College District.

When provisions of the bill were discussed in the past, Tawas Area Board of Education has gone on record opposing the move to include this district in the Kirtland Community College District.

With food costs rising, handling and preparing foods to eliminate waste of valuable nutrients is important.

Vegetables will cook more quickly with less loss of nutrients if they are cooked in a small amount of water in a pan with a tight fitting lid. Covering the pan prevents the escaping of the steam that actually cooks the vegetables.

When preparing green vegetables remove the lid for a few minutes at the beginning of the cooking period to permit milk acids to escape. These acids cause discoloration.

Water-soluble vitamins, such as vitamin C, the B vitamins and some minerals, are readily lost when the vegetables are cooked in large amounts of water. Cooking them just until they are tender also helps preserve their nutrients.

The weight and volume of meat decreases during cooking because of the water that evaporates or goes into the drippings along with some melted fat. Cooking meat does not lessen the protein value even when it is prepared in large amounts of water, as in stewing. Some of the B vitamins which are lost in the drippings can be recovered by using the drippings in soup, gravies or sauces. Thiamine, a B vitamin, is conserved by roasting meat to the rare stage rather than well done.

Milk, whether whole, skimmed or reconstituted from dry milk solids or evaporated milk, is a good source of calcium, protein, vitamin A and riboflavin. To conserve these nutrients, it should be kept cold, covered and away from strong light.

Valuable nutrients are wasted when cereals are cooked in excessive amounts of water that are drained off after cooking. The right amount of water is just the quantity that will be absorbed during the cooking time.

Rinsing cereal products like macaroni after cooking is also a nutrient-wasteful practice.
