Community Chest Campaign Opened Monday Morning

The annual campaign for Tawas-Whittemore-Hale Community Chest's goal of $18,631 got off to a flying start Monday morning.

Robert McDonald, campaign chairman, announced that Joseph Barkman, who is ill at Tawas Hospital, made the first contribution.

"Mr. Barkman, who has been the annual first contributor since the inception of the community chest, gave $150 back in July," said McDonald. "If others follow the lead of Mr. Barkman's gift, I am sure we will reach our goal before November 1."

The campaign chairman and his assistant, Mrs. Leonard Hintz, stressed to divisional chairman that "the United Way makes it possible for people to support many charitable agencies easily through one gift, collectively in a community project."

The chairman emphasized that considerable investigation is made before an organization is qualified to receive funds and that the local goal was $300 less than last year.

"We are not asking for more money this year, despite inflation, and we are confident that we will meet our goal," said McDonald.

Campaign kits containing information pertaining to how money is to be allocated to the various agencies were distributed to divisional chairmen. Campaign workers began an immediate canvass of communities for donations and that pledges.

'Dream Trip' to be Realized

Tawas Band Going to Philadelphia in 1976

A dream of many years' standing by bandsmen, administrators and parents will come true next spring when Tawas Area Symphonic Band truly becomes a "Spirit of '76" organization.

Approval was given Monday night by Tawas Area Board of Education for the band to participate next April in a tour to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at nearly the height of bicentennial activities in the city which was the cradle of liberty for this nation.

Bandsmen and Gene Salamony, director, had long dreamed of a trip, but it was not until discussion on the nation's bicentennial observance moved into full swing that direct action was taken to achieve that goal.

Tawas Area Band Boosters initiated a fund raising drive to cover the cost of expenses and has raised $2,700 to date. By November 15, a goal of $4,000 will have been raised through dinners, an ice cream social, calendar sales and a bazaar.

Salamony told members of the board of education Monday night that a committee selected a tour that would be of benefit to the individual student, educationally, socially and culturally. Members of that committee included Mrs. Carole Savage, band booster president; David Kennedy, band parent and member of the board of education; John Alexander, high school principal; Amy Savage, symphonic band president, and Salamony.

Three suggested tour areas were discussed, including Washington, D. C.; Disney World at Orlando, Florida, and Philadelphia.

"The committee selected Philadelphia as the area which exhibited the highest degree of acceptability," said Salamony. "Bicentennial activities are to occur at Philadelphia, educational sight-seeing will be at a maximum and the total cost of the trip is within reach of the band boosters, without causing undue hardship on that organization or the community."

As part of its action Monday night, the board of education approved the 66 or 67 band members making the trip to be out of school for five days. The group will be accompanied by 12 chaperones.

During its tour to Philadelphia, the band will make stops in several cities. Performances are to be given at each stop and students will be staying in private homes.

The band is to leave the Tawas Thursday, April 1, stopping at Bristolville High School, Bristolville, Ohio, for an evening performance. Salamony said Tuesday morning that he had just received a telephone call from the band director from that community and the Bristolville High School Band will be making a trip here in November.

On Friday, April 2, the band will give a performance at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Salamony's alma mater. Following dinner, the band will perform at Chartier Valley High School and will spend the night in Bridgeville area homes.

The band will arrive at Philadelphia on Saturday, April 3, where it will perform and enjoy sight-seeing. The group is to spend the night at a hotel.

"We are especially pleased with the possibility of two performances in Philadelphia. Preliminary contact indicates that we can perform in special outdoor theatre areas which will be constructed as part of a total art exhibition in the Philadelphia area," said Salamony.

The sites would be Independence Hall and the Benjamin Franklin freeway. The week-end of April 3-4 is also the official opening of Philadelphia's bicentennial celebration and the band would have an opportunity to be part of the kickoff ceremonies.

Sunday, April 4, the band will attend church and then will be on a conducted tour of the city, with a possible performance in the evening. The band will again stay at a hotel.

The group leaves Philadelphia Monday, April 5, and will tour Valley Forge Park, as well as touring the plant of a music publishing firm. The band will give a performance at Valley Forge High School and will stay overnight at homes of music students.

The band is to travel to Greensburg on Tuesday, April 6, for a performance at the high school in that community. Members will stay overnight with Greensburg music students.

On Wednesday, April 7, the band is to return to the Tawas.

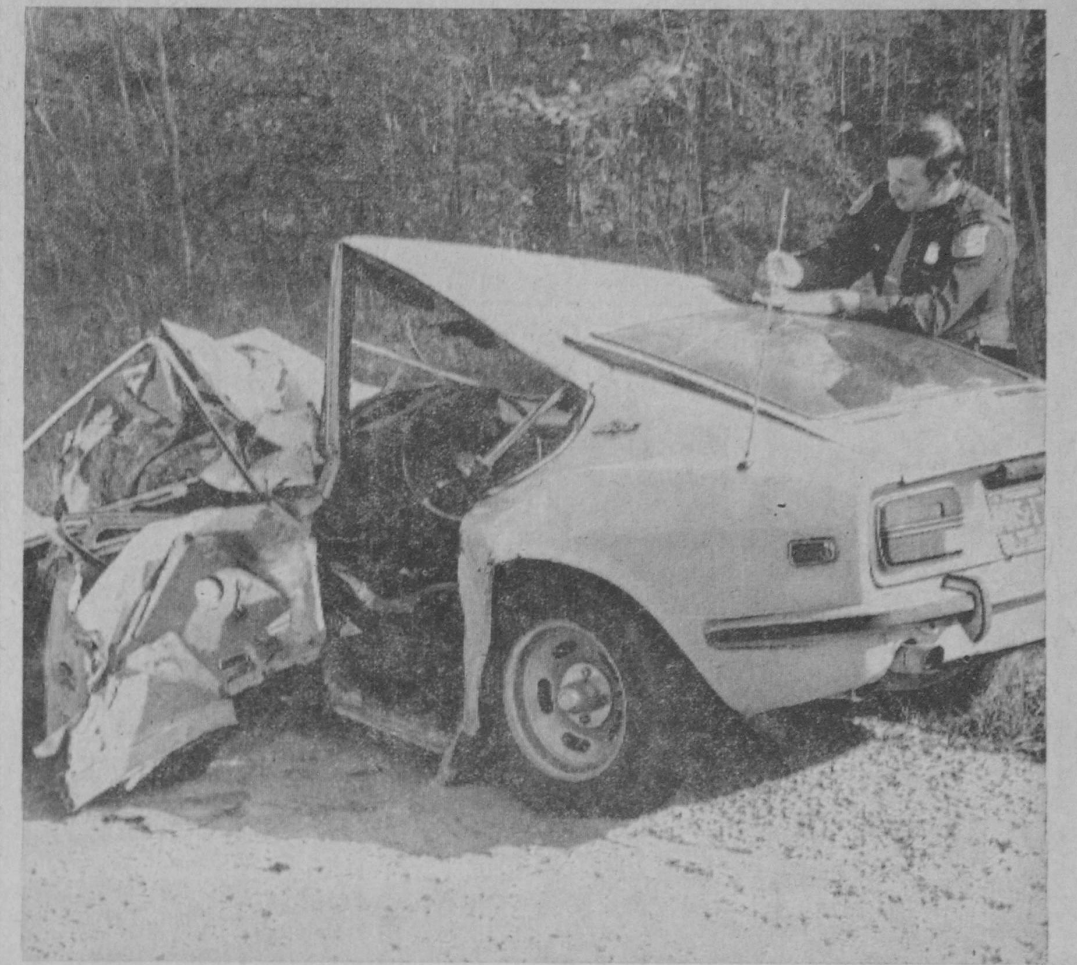

A major concern was expense to individual students, music boosters, the school and community. Salamony said at this time there appears to be no expense to the school system and only minimal student expense.

Transportation is to be provided by Delta Bus Corporation. Tour expenses are to be held to a minimum by overnight stays, dinners and breakfasts in host school students' homes. Actual student expenses will be seven lunches and two breakfasts and whatever miscellaneous souvenirs and meals one may want on his own.

A SPEECH THERAPIST employed by Iosco Intermediate School District was still in critical condition Tuesday morning at Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital following a two-car crash Friday morning on US-23, south of Tawas City. Pamela M. Valentine, 25, is in the intensive care ward at the Saginaw hospital for serious head injuries, leg, hip and arm fractures and internal injuries. State Tpr. Thomas L. Beebe of the East Tawas post, Michigan State Police, is shown above with the victim's compact car, which was demolished. Officers said Mrs. Valentine was northbound on US-23 and crossed the center line, colliding with a car driven by Clifford E. Smith, 33, of Wurtsmith Air Force Base. Smith and two passengers received only minor injuries. Mrs. Valentine's husband, Larry, is a teacher in the Tawas City Elementary Unit.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Hale Area School Has Good Report on U of M Accreditation

Hale Area School, which lost its accreditation from the University of Michigan a number of years ago, appears to again be in the good graces of the university's evaluator.

According to an announcement at Monday night's meeting of the board of education, Philip Hansen conducted an accreditation evaluation last Wednesday for the university.

"His letter was most positive, calling Hale Area School an outstanding facility, well cared for and with an excellent instructional program," stated Supt. Wayne Case.

Hansen's letter said he found good attention, involvement and dedication in the operation of the school, as well as a cooperative spirit.

Superintendent Case said that results from the evaluation visit should be received by November 1 and he expects the school will become accredited.

The school lost its accreditation a number of years ago when the old building was overcrowded. Since then, a new junior and senior high school has been constructed and the curriculum has been improved.

In other business Monday night, approval was given to hiring Irma Jozsa as a fifth grade teacher.

The board gave its approval to using a preliminary budget until final action is taken next month on a budget for the 1975-76 term.

College Night

College nights for parents of this year's senior class at Tawas Area High School are to be held Monday, October 20, and Tuesday, October 21, 7:30 p. m. at the high school library.

College admissions, occupations and financial aid will be discussed.

Study School Policy Change on Fee for Spectator Buses

Two proposed policy changes concerning charging for student spectator buses and use of school buildings for public functions were discussed at Monday night's meeting of the board of education.

Action on the spectator bus fee was tabled until the October 27 meeting and first reading of the school building policy is to be followed at another session.

Last year, the state department of public instruction ruled that schools could collect fees for bus transportation to non-mandatory and non-credit events. Dr. Robert Halle, superintendent, proposed that a fee be adopted for spectator buses for the coming basketball season, similar to the rate charged by other schools in the conference.

Halle said that the 45 to 50-cent fee per student would help to cover expenses of utilization of approximately 22 to 24 spectator buses during the season. He said that total cost of using the buses was $2,200. Included is the cost of insurance and board members felt this should be investigated further before a final rate is adopted, inasmuch as the buses are covered by a fleet policy which remains the same regardless of spectator trips.

The superintendent said the state average for spectator bus trips is 65 to 68 cents and the proposed cost was only to help the district to recoup some of the expenses.

The second new policy proposed would provide that school buildings would not be used for private use or for personal gain and priority would be given to regular school activities, school sponsored functions, school related non-profit making organizations, activities sponsored by community groups. Rental would equal expenses and any time kitchen equipment is used a cook would be present.

Fees for usage would remain unchanged, according to the proposed policy.

In other business, it was announced that Tawas Area Education Association had requested to meet with the board at its next meeting concerning a grievance over the transfer of a middle school teacher to the high school. The matter has been turned over to the board's negotiator, Thomas Basil, and is to be placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

Due to the Columbus Day holiday on Monday and the closing of post offices, bids on buses were accepted and administrators were to accept bids received with an October 13 postmark. The bids were to be opened for inspection by the secretary and superintendent for action by the board of education at its next meeting.

A request from the middle school for an overnight camping trip by 18 boys as part of an educational experience was approved by the board of education. Weather permitting, the students are to camp the night of October 15 (tonight) at the Corsair Campground.

The project was constructed by the Lions Club with the help of many volunteers from the community. Methodist Church Youths to Sponsor Annual Drive for UNICEF

This Halloween, youths from the Tawas United Methodist Church will sponsor "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" to raise funds for the children of the developing world.

By giving time and support to the UNICEF program here, volunteers will give millions of youngsters in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East hope for a future, who otherwise might know nothing but hunger, disease, ignorance and despair.

Children at home also benefit. As they carry the official orange and black UNICEF carton from door-to-door and count the funds collected that are sent to UNICEF headquarters in New York, children learn the joy of sharing with children they will never see, but whose problems are far more basic and cruel than their own.

This year, the UNICEF Halloween volunteers will be collecting on Sunday, October 26, beginning at 5:00 p. m. There will be a Halloween party following in the church hall, 20 East M-55, Tawas City.

Tawas Freshmen defense proved itself last Thursday night as the offense failed to put it together in a 0-0 tie with Pinconning.

Freshmen offense had one of those nights where nothing seemed to go right with most of the big yardage plays and a touchdown being called back because of penalties.

The defense was put to the test when two bad punt snaps and a blocked kick put Pinny deep in Tawas territory.

Jim Mandrek and Donn Rakestraw lead the defense with 10 tackles each. Tawas Frosh, now one-two-one, take on Garber this Thursday in grid action.

DAR Chapter Won First Place in State Contest

River Aux Sables Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, brought home a first place in the state contest for chapter press books from the recent State Conference of Michigan DAR.

The award certificate and prize-winning book were displayed by Mrs. Worthy Boyd, chapter press book chairman, when the group met for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Bacon, Point Lookout.

Mrs. Ralph Haley, Miss Roxanne Kenyon and Mrs. Stanley Bush gave conference reports. Mrs. Robert Cashman presented a bi-centennial vignette and the chapter welcomed a new member, Mrs. Walter G. Pendred.

The program featured slides and the story of two schools operated by the DAR for over 50 years in remote areas of Appalachia where educational facilities are needed.

Kate Duncan Smith DAR School on Gunter Mountain, Alabama, is an elementary and high school with over 900 students, while Tamassee DAR School in the Blue Ridge foothills, South Carolina, is a day and boarding school for about 240 needy children.

Both are fully accredited, have self-help programs and serve their communities as social, cultural and adult education centers, according to Mrs. James V. Zeder, chapter regent.

The chapter, which has made a substantial contribution to the schools, is especially interested in dormitories, a laundry, crafts building, and other facilities provided and maintained entirely by Michigan DAR on the two campuses. Other schools supported by DAR include the Berry Schools, Georgia; Crossnore School, North Carolina; Hindman Settlement School, Kentucky; and Hillside School, Massachusetts.

Public officials are not above criticism, but because of what appears to be unfair censure contained in a letter to the editor this week, some comments are offered.

First of all, enforcement of the city's zoning code is the responsibility of the city manager, who is delegated that authority by ordinance and city charter. Tawas City adopted the state building code in 1975, provisions for which are enforced by the county building and safety inspection department.

On Monday, September 8, the county building and safety inspector, accompanied by the city manager, posted a violation notice on an office building constructed and moved into place at Brooks Auto Parts, Ninth Avenue. This was done as the owner of the property had not first obtained a building permit in compliance with the state building code; in addition, the city zoning ordinance forbids enlargement of the variance under which that business is permitted to exist in a residential area, having been established a number of years before the zoning ordinance was adopted.

It is the responsibility of councilmen to bring ordinance and state code violations to the attention of the city manager for enforcement, just as it is the right of every citizen to do the same and residents of the above neighborhood have a right to be concerned.

This particular case may go before the courts and it would not be appropriate to comment further on the matter. However, it should be noted that the property owner did not exercise an alternative open to him before violating city and state codes, as alleged. That alternative was to apply to the zoning board of appeals.

Location of a scrap yard in a municipality always leads to a serious problem, but the above business has been here for more than 35 years and is expected to continue. The zoning ordinance was designed to prevent further enlargement of a variance, but some compromise may be worth considering. The new building is an improvement over an old bus body which formerly was used as an office, but it seems amazing how these buildings seem to "sprout" in that area without permits.

A possible compromise, handled by the zoning board of appeals during public hearing, might be to allow the building to remain under an annual permit basis with the stipulation that junk cars would not be parked on a public street, that scrap would not find its way into Dead Creek, that all burning would be stopped in compliance with the state law and that scrap piles would not reach the proportions of today.

This would not be the ideal solution, as such a business should be shielded from public view, perhaps by a green belt and at some other location, but it would provide a temporary alternative until such time as other arrangements can be made.

In the meantime, perhaps the city could mend its fence around the nearby city garage, either sell or utilize the old iron bridge stored along Fourth Street and give the city garage property a general housecleaning this fall to help "Keep Tawas City Clean," as suggested by decals on city trucks.

The comment was heard the other day in the checkout line at a local supermarket that the "instant winner" idea in the state lottery was another ripoff, taking advantage of the whims of the compulsive gambler. The store had sold more than $2,000 of the new tickets in just three days.

Another customer in the line expressed the view that the lottery was OK, inasmuch as he had just rubbed the face of his ticket and was an instant winner. The problem noted was this: The lottery winner paid for his ticket in cash, but used federal food stamps to make other purchases.

The above situation reminded the writer of the days in Michigan when "one-armed bandits" lined the walls of some local businesses and punch boards operated freely, despite state laws to the contrary. Now that the state is in the business, it is perfectly OK to conduct such gambling operations and there is even talk of making Michigan a wide open casino state.

Perhaps laws addressed to curb social problems are impractical, as evidenced by the failure of prohibition, but it does seem to be a shame that the state is promoting gambling—formerly a social evil—with trick devices in situations where most families can ill afford the loss of a single dollar, particularly in these times of inflation.

But then, if one gets food stamps for purchases, he may have a couple of extra bucks to spend in the lottery. (Here is a personal request to State Rep. George Perescott: Please check at Lansing and determine the actual profit derived by the state-sponsored lottery and where the money has been spent. Has that money gone to educate children, as promised?)

SOME of the more than 800 fifth and sixth grade students who participated in the annual conservation tour October 6 at the Marvin Davenport farm in Reno Township are pictured above. The tour was sponsored by Iosco County Soil and Water Conservation District, the Cooperative Extension Service and 4-H youth program. Day long activities included information stops on wildlife, soil and forest. All schools in the county participated in the program.

ASC Studies Emergency Feed Program for Livestock

Authority to determine the need for, and to implement, the Emergency Livestock Feed Program has been delegated to State and County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees.

Under this program, Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) owned feed grains can be sold to eligible livestock owners at reduced prices. The assistance is to prevent widespread liquidation or undue culling of livestock because of flood, drought, hurricane, tornado, earthquake, disease, insect infestation or other catastrophe.

In fiscal year 1974, 4.8 million hundredweight of feed grains were distributed under this program to eligible applicants in 156 counties. Effective immediately with new disasters and upon concurrence of the State ASC Committee, eligibility for assistance will be determined on an individual basis by county ASC committees without prior approval from Washington.

County Hires Negotiator

Grand Rapids Attorney to Represent Iosco Commission

Jack R. Clary, Grand Rapids attorney, has been retained by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners to handle all contract negotiations with unions representing county employees.

Negotiations are to start soon on the first contract with Teamsters State, County and Municipal Workers Local 214, which represents deputies of the sheriff's department, and county building employees represented by United Steel Workers of America. In addition, Clary is to represent the county commission and Sheriff George Westcott in the Teamsters' appeal to the Michigan Employment Relations Commission concerning the firing of former deputy sheriff, Joseph VanDette.

Two weeks ago, Joseph B. Bixler, administrative law judge for MERC, concluded that the sheriff had "good cause to discharge VanDette," based on the record of a

July 16 hearing, and recommended that the employment relations commission dismiss the allegation that the deputy was fired because of his union activities.

In his comments, Bixler concluded that unrefuted testimony of the sheriff and undersheriff was that VanDette was a "marginal employee, had made many errors in the past and, because of his past record, was fired upon the event of a jailbreak February 19."

Hearing Today on County's Budget; New Programs Cut

Public hearing on a proposed final budget for 1976 county operation is to be held Wednesday morning (today), 10 o'clock to 12 o'clock noon, by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners.

Members of the commission's finance committee sharpened their pencils and, during the past five months, have lopped $51,238 off the preliminary budget submitted to the tax allocation board last May.

The new budget calls for an expenditure of $1,327,351, which is to be balanced by the same amount in projected revenues to include $155,000 in state income tax, $315,000 in fees and property taxes of $857,351.

As the basis for taxes, the commission has used a valuation of $188,843,871, which would be multiplied by the 4.54 millage rate established for the county by the tax allocation board.

The commission equalized the county at $172,041,197 on May 1, but the total was rejected by the state tax commission, which boosted the total by 10 percent.

An appeal is presently pending before the state tax tribunal on the tax commission's increase, but action is not expected until the state supreme court rules on the validity of appeals submitted by a number of counties.

When it decided to appeal the tax commission's order in June, the county board of commissioners indicated it was going to use its own equalized figure as the basis for 1976 taxes. The county commission has since changed its position and is using the state's valuation total.

Included in the final budget is a figure of $19,701, which represents proposed salary increases of five percent for county employees.

Listed on a sheet separate from the budget last April was $60,000 in new county programs, but, due to the lack of funds, those programs have not been included in the final draft. Included was $8,333 to the senior citizens council, $25,000 for airport expansion, $15,700 for hospital ambulance service and $5,000 each to three chambers of commerce, Tawas, Oscoda and Hale.

Under the new budget, the contingency fund has been reduced from $25,000 to $5,577.

Fees have been projected in the April budget at $284,500, but it is now believed that fees will be $390,500.

A number of changes have been made in the proposed final budget. The equalization department's budget of $61,846 has been increased by $1,225; animal control has been upped from $16,163 to $23,443; building code and soil erosion department has been increased from $22,214 to $39,514.

Changes in appropriations are as follows: Hospitalization has been increased from $48,000 to $50,584; social security has been increased from $33,000 to $34,745; retirement has been increased from $48,000 to $50,584.

Autumn Glory

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to know what is the matter with the people of Tawas City! Someone please explain to me why the city council would not approve Brooks Auto Parts' new office building. It is a beautiful building that would greatly improve the looks and environment of Tawas City. The people complain that they want to improve the city and yet, when someone takes a step forward, the city council puts them back two steps.

I have tried to understand and go along with the council and the things they do, but what have they really done to improve Tawas City in the past? Not much, and what it was you can't see!

The people around the auto parts complain and I ask them to take a look at their places just a few years ago. Nothing was much to look at and it never will be as long as the people keep on disapproving the good people who try to improve the looks of the city. Tawas City will go the same place it has for several years—nowhere!

Please, people, take a second look and reconsider! Don't be so narrow minded. Some day you might be in the same position, just to improve the looks of your city, your fellow man might appreciate it.

I might be wrong, but I feel that this is just one of the first steps in the improvement of Tawas City, but the people shut it down. I feel very sorry for all of them.
Marty Brooks

The Upper Room

(Read Ephesians 6:10-20)

"Be faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life." (Revelation 2:10, RSV)

Most people love victory and fear defeat. The will to conquer obstacles begins with early childhood. Throughout life—in sports, in studies, in work—victory is the high point, the ideal.

It is necessary, however, to learn to distinguish between what being victorious or defeated means. Defeats can teach us how to lose and to understand that sometimes others must win. Many times, to lose is merely a new experience which teaches us the true way of life. The Bible teaches us that we ought to give thanks to God for these kinds of defeats.

Our defeats may lead us to think of the victory which is life eternal, and which is the free gift of God through the sacrifice of Christ. Victory through Christ gives inner peace and makes it possible to accept life as it is with its valleys and shadows and its sunlit heights.

PRAYER

Lord God, help us to accept life and understand it in the most difficult hours, knowing all is a gift from Thy hands. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

God helps us transform defeats into victories.—Alvacy Barbosa Martins, Sao Paulo, Brazil.

FROM THE GRAPEVINE

Produce counters are boasting a brightly-hued assortment of fresh grapes, plentiful now for autumn menu-planning. With their colorful array of shades and tones, grapes are picturesque in fruit compotes, fresh fruit salads and table decorations. As a handy bunch of quick energy, grapes are convenient in lunch boxes and at snack time. For their delightful refreshing flavor, this fruit is delicious in cooling drinks and fancy desserts.

To assure selection of the best grapes, Agricultural Marketing Service fruit experts suggest you look for plump, firm ones. If the grapes are for table use, make sure they do not drop off the stems as soon as you touch them. Also avoid grapes that are moldy and wet. High color for the variety generally indicates a well developed sugar content and flavor.

Once grapes are selected, proper storage is extremely important. Grapes will keep best in a cool, dry place. Small quantities can be kept satisfactorily in the refrigerator for several days.

Here are some of the leading grape varieties available in markets this fall:

Thompson Seedless, medium-sized, green-white to light gold grape, available June to November; Emperor, large light red to red-purple grape with seeds, available September through April; Tokay or Flame Tokay, large, brilliant to dark-red grape with seeds, available September through November; Ribier, large, juicy purple-black grape with seed, available July through February; Concord, large, round purple grape with seeds, available September through October.

Other white grape varieties which may be found this fall are: Lady Finger and Italia, which are available from August through October; Calmeria and Almeria, which are available from October through February.

Here are two taste-tempting recipes using different varieties of grapes:

SWEET AND SOUR GRAPES
 1 lb. Thompson Seedless grapes
 1 pint sour cream
 ½ cup brown sugar
 3 tablespoons ground cinnamon
 Mix together the above and chill.

SWEET TOKAY MUFFINS
 1½ cups flour
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 ¼ cup melted shortening

2/3 cup chopped seeded tokay grapes with juice
 ½ cup sugar
 ½ teaspoon salt
 1 egg
 Sift together flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Add melted shortening. Mix in the eggs and chopped grapes. Pour into greased muffin pans and bake 20 minutes at 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

Medicare Helps to Pay for Skilled Nursing Care

Question: My father just had an operation and his doctor is transferring him to a skilled nursing facility. I have heard that Medicare pays for skilled nursing facility care only under certain conditions. Is that true?

Answer: Yes, Medicare's hospital insurance can help pay for care in a skilled nursing facility only if these conditions are met: (1) the patient has been in a hospital at least three days in a row before his transfer to the skilled nursing facility, (2) he is transferred to the facility because he requires care for a condition which was treated in the hospital, (3) he is admitted to the facility within a short time (generally 14 days) after he leaves the hospital, (4) a doctor certifies that he needs, and he actually receives, skilled nursing or rehabilitation services on a daily basis, and (5) in total benefits over the years. You will just receive smaller checks over a longer period of time.

Question: I have just sold my house and will be moving into an apartment the first of next month. Should I notify social security now or wait until I am living at my new address?

Answer: You should notify social security now. Prompt notice helps assure delivery of your check to your new address without delay or interruption. You can report your move on the change-of-address form which is printed on the back of the envelope your check is delivered in. Be sure to give both your old and new address, including ZIP codes—and the social security claim number which appears on your social security check.

If you have questions regarding social security, contact the social security office at 1009 North Madison, Bay City, or phone 892-3554.

Braves Win 6th Straight Game

Tawas Area Braves overwhelmed the Pinconning Spartans, 32-0, Friday night to continue their undefeated record at four wins in NBC competition and an overall record of six straight victories.

The Tawas squad, which took over undisputed possession of first place in the conference last week after defeating Oscoda, was just too powerful for the Spartans. Tawas struck for two touchdowns in the early minutes of the game and coasted the rest of the way.

First to put the Braves on the scoreboard was Halfback Mitch Lenczewski, who had another stellar night with three touchdowns, 138 yards rushing in 16 carries and he missed the fourth quarter of play when the Tawas coaching staff substituted freely.

The Braves took the opening kickoff and marched to the 22-yard line in six plays. From that point, Lenczewski took a handoff and raced to the first touchdown. The try for conversion was blocked and Tawas had a 6-0 lead.

Pinconning, which was held to negative yardage by a strong Tawas defense until late in the game, could not move the ball on its first series and was forced to punt. With five minutes, 43 seconds to go in the first quarter, Lenczewski again put Tawas on the scoreboard with a six-pointer. The conversion attempt was blocked and Tawas had a 13-0 lead.

Pinconning's defense came alive to stop the Braves in two series, the first drive ending on the 10 when an attempted field goal by Bob Stephenson was wide of the posts. Pinconning's hopes soared when the Spartans picked up a first down on a good pass play to the 41-yard line, but that was Pinconning's only first down of the first half and Mike Lear pounced on a fumble to end the drive at the 33.

That play set up the next touchdown as Quarterback Earl Parsons unlimbered his passing arm. Parsons hit End Brad Potts on the second play from scrimmage with a 17-yard pass, then repeated the same play for a touchdown. Potts was wide open in the endzone and not a hand touched him as he scored. The try for conversion was blocked and Tawas had a 19-0 lead at halftime.

After a lengthy Pinconning half-time show, Tawas made the score, 25-0, with six minutes, 46 seconds remaining in the third quarter. The seven-play series saw a 19-yard run by Parsons, 13 yards by Stephenson and 11 yards by Lenczewski. Parsons found Potts wide open in the endzone and the 15-yard pass was good for a six-pointer. The try for PAT failed when the ball was snapped over Stephenson's head.

Tawas' defense made short work of the Spartans on the next series as End Bruce Glancy tackled Quarterback John Gibson for a 10-yard loss and Don Reed, who turned in another hard-nosed night, broke through the Pinny line to tackle a Spartan halfback for another 10-yard loss. Pinconning punted to Tawas' 46 and the Braves were on their way to another touchdown.

Lenczewski, Stephenson and Parsons combined their running to move the ball to Pinconning's four-yard line in eight plays and Lenczewski went the final distance for the touchdown. Stephenson's toe finally found the mark and his conversion ran the score to 32-0 with 58 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

Pinconning had only two yards net rushing going into the final quarter. The Spartans dominated most of the offensive action late in the game against the Tawas reserves and ended the night with a total of 83 offensive yards, 63 yards by rushing.

Tawas had a total of 301 offensive yards during the night, with Parsons, connecting on four out of nine passes for 50 yards. Lenczewski had 104 of his 138 yards during the first half. Stephenson had 47 yards in 11 carries and Parsons picked up 59 yards in eight carries.

The Braves play host this Friday night to Essexville Garber, defending champion of the NBC. The Braves will be looking to avenge a loss to the Dukes in last year's showdown for the conference championship.

Braves Tied for Leadership in B Region

The Braves are currently in a tie with Saginaw Douglas MacArthur for regional class B leadership in the state's new playoff system.

The ratings, compiled by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, awards points on the basis of the opposition's class and the cumulative records of opponents through the season. MacArthur and Tawas Area have identical ratings of 80.

The ratings will later form the basis for the first high school playoffs in Michigan history. One team in each region is to be declared a champion and, at the end of the season, the winners in each region will play for the class championship in a two-step playoff. Semi-final games are to be held November 15 and the finals will be November 22.
