

Seedlings of 1928 Now 30 to 50 Feet Tall

Kiwanis Plantation A Legacy

Nearly one-half century ago, 5,577 acres of sand plains land west of the Tawas were planted with six to eight-inch red pine seedlings under sponsorship of Michigan Kiwanis Clubs. Today, those seedlings planted in 1928, followed by a second Kiwanis planting in 1929, have grown to a height of 30 to 50 feet and measure six to eight inches at the ground line.

To commemorate those two plantings, largest individual project ever sponsored by a lay organization in a national forest, a rededication is to be held on Arbor Day, Friday, April 30, at the Kiwanis memorial on Monument Road.

The day will mark the start of a new work project to landscape grounds of the memorial, which will require about 30 days to complete. To date, Kiwanis Clubs of Tawas, Oscoda and Williamston have donated money and have agreed to join a work bee. Dozens of other Michigan clubs have also donated money.

The Rev. Alfred Saulsbury, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church and a Kiwanian, will open the Arbor Day ceremonies at 10:00 a. m. with an invocation. Donald Jordan of Oscoda, lieutenant governor of the Michigan District, will welcome guests. Judge Allan C. Miller of East Tawas, governor-elect of Michigan Kiwanis Clubs, will present a letter from the international president. Reynold Mick of Tawas City, past lieutenant governor, will outline the history of the project and the memorial, while Dr. Leslie Lambert will summarize the landscaping plans.

Permission has been secured from the United States Forest Service to clear the area near the memorial and landscape it with rhododendrons as a bicentennial project.

"It might be difficult to recall an activity surpassing this endeavor of importance to Kiwanis and all citizens of Michigan—financially, ecologically and aesthetically," states Lambert. Michigan clubs participating in the program are represented by individual plaques and stones in the impressive memorial actually situated in a beautiful portion of the transplanted area of some 20 square miles.

Just as the nearby nationally famous Lumbermen's Monument commemorates the historic era of the lumber baron, the Kiwanis memorial a few miles to the southeast commemorates the restoration of that great asset and industry through replanting. The original Kiwanis memorial, dedicated in September 1928 and rebuilt in 1959, marks a project which eventually grew to 12,400 acres, covering 26 sections of virtually waste land which was considered valueless and, largely, had reverted to the government for nonpayment of taxes.

Representing an original contribution from Kiwanians totaling $19,400, the Kiwanis movement inspired public officials to extend reforestation through the state and even beyond, the most notable of which was performed by men of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the 1930s.

According to a report Friday from Calvin Norton, Tawas District ranger, plans are being made to thin the plantation this year through controlled harvesting procedures. Alternating rows of red pine planted 48 years ago are to be removed to promote growth of those trees remaining.

"In another 50 years of growth," said Norton, "the remaining trees will have reached nearly full maturity and the plains region, once blackened by devastating forest fires, will have a park like appearance with towering pines—it will be something to see."

Growth of the seedlings planted 48 years ago has been pretty good when one considers soil and moisture conditions of the plains, stated Norton. He said that the majority of trees to be removed would be utilized for pulpwood, but some of the larger trees will be used for even more significant timber uses through providing lumber.

The ecological benefit is probably as important for restoration of top soil, prevention of fires, flooding, retention of moisture and possibly weather modifications. A lover of nature need only see and stroll through the forest to appreciate the beautifying effect.

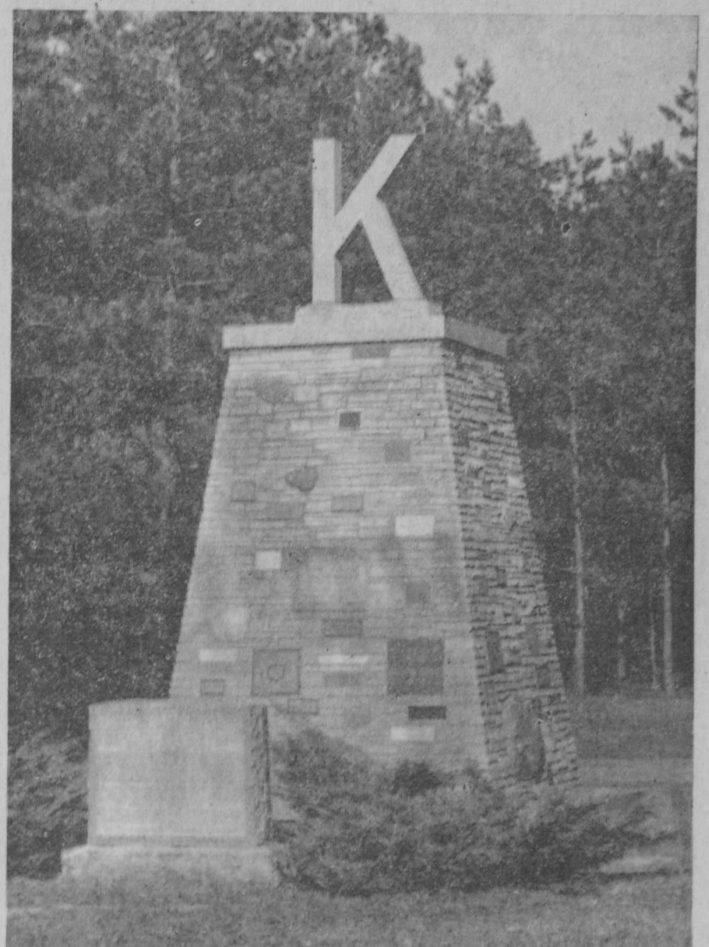

"The memorial serves to remind one of the continuing effect produced in renewing a great natural resource, which had been utilized in a somewhat thoughtless manner," states Lambert.

Although planting of rhododendrons would have no commercial value, the decorative shrubs may serve as a scenic attraction. Lambert said that the shrub had been considered because the area lends itself to the growth of these beautiful plants.

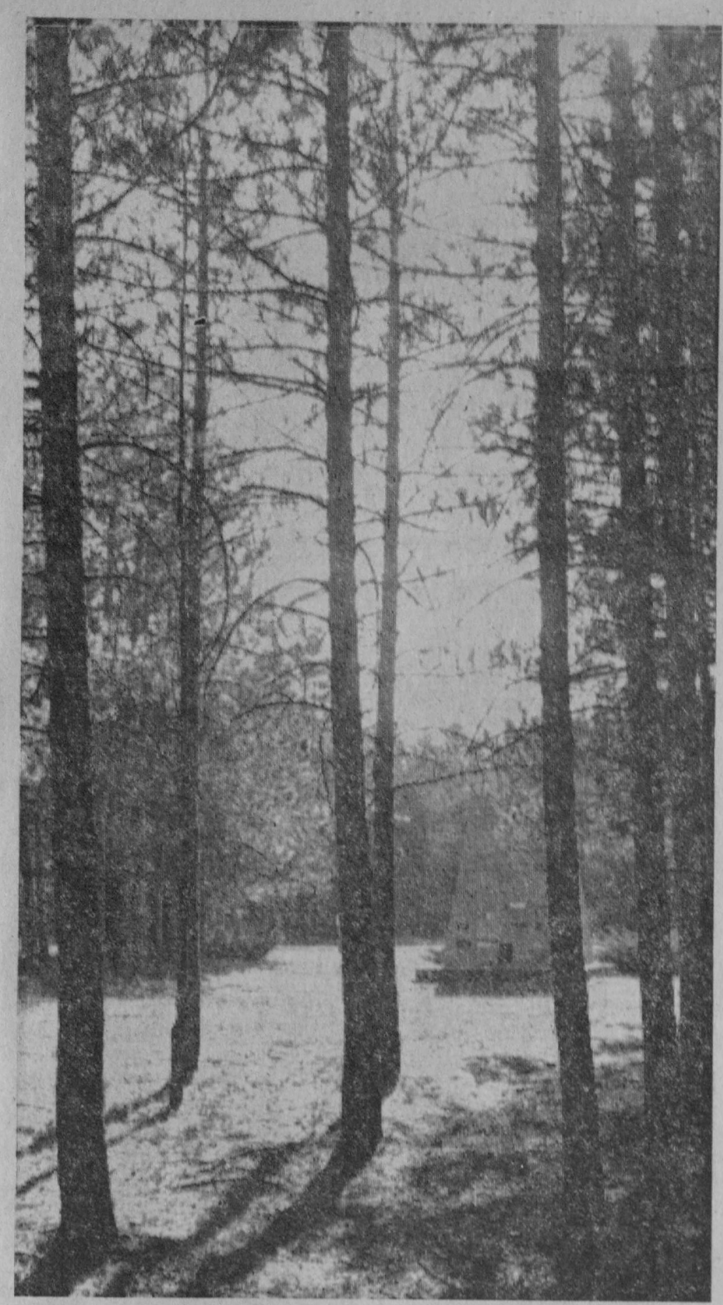

"The soil is chemically and physically suitable; shade and sun situations are appropriate and plants of related species are native to the area," he stated.

The 1928 plantation idea was originated by Harry B. Black of Flint, then lieutenant governor of Michigan Kiwanis, who secured the cooperation of R. G. Schreck of East Tawas, then supervisor of the Huron National Forest.

Under Schreck's direction, 125 men worked on the original project and the crew planted pine trees at the rate of 300 acres per day. Some idea of the size of the project may be gained through a 1928 report in this newspaper which stated that the planting necessitated the plowing of furrows totaling 5,000 miles in length, a distance equivalent to one-fifth of the earth's circumference.

Council Awards Park Contract

Tawas City Council Monday night accepted the high bid of Robert and Jack Brugger for leasing the food service concession building in the city park, but informed the new leaseholders that installation of natural gas service to the building would be at the tenants' expense.

Under terms of the five-year lease, documents for which are to be prepared by the city attorney, the city has responsibility for replacing a hot water heater, painting the interior, repair the roof where necessary and making a minor change in lighting fixtures according to state health department requirements.

The tenant has responsibility for painting the exterior of the building and to furnish equipment necessary for the operation. The council rejected a park board recommendation for the city to run a natural gas line to the building at a cost of approximately $400. Councilmen expressed the opinion that there would be a saving in operational cost to the leaseholder through utilization of natural gas rather than the bottle gas system provided by the city and Councilman Jerry Cotter expressed the belief that "it was up to the leaseholder's discretion to install natural gas."

Two bids were received and opened by the park board last month for leasing the concession. The high bid was $2,200 per year and the other bid, submitted by Mrs. Robert King for an ice cream concession, was for $2,000. The lease is renewable at the end of five years with the payment to be renegotiated.

The building had been the location of A&W Root Beer for the past 10 years, but that firm has moved to a new location at East Tawas. The lease expired March 31.

Robert Brugger was present at the meeting and stated that, due to a delay in awarding bids, plus the fact that new equipment would have to be obtained, there would be about a two-month delay in opening the business, which normally opened April 1. He felt that the council should give some consideration to a lower lease price during the first year.

In its earlier deliberations, the park board had reached the same conclusion and it was for this reason that it had recommended that the city pay for the cost of installing natural gas.

Councilman Cotter expressed the opinion that the lease was for a five-year period and that time "lost" the first year by the tenant would be made up at the end of the lease period.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that the park board had entertained some doubt as to the advisability of reopening the concession after receipt of a letter from the state health department listing requirements for the building.

He said, however, that a review of the requirements with the health department indicated that necessary changes were not as costly as originally anticipated, but replacement of equipment would be an expensive proposition for the leaseholder.

He said a number of potential bidders had not submitted proposals due to the expense involved.

Fishing Tourney Scheduled for Tawas Bay

Saginaw Valley Steelheaders will host a fishing tournament and clinic on Tawas Bay Saturday, May 1, with headquarters at Jerry's Marina.

W. R. Laut of Saginaw reports that approximately 100 boats are expected to enter the contest and between 200 and 300 fishermen are expected to compete.

Entries begin at 6:30 a. m. at the municipal boat launching ramp along Ninth Avenue on the Tawas River and at Jerry's Marina, located on Tawas Point. The tournament is to conclude at 4:00 p. m. at Jerry's and trophies and prizes will be awarded.

This will be followed by a boating clinic at Jerry's where demonstrations will be conducted by members of the Saginaw Valley Steelheaders.

All local fishermen are invited to enter this tournament.

Anticipated Expenditures of $1,544,879

Preliminary Budget Adopted

A comprehensive budget calling for projected revenues and expenditures balanced at $1,544,879 was adopted Thursday by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners and is to be presented to the county tax allocation board.

The commission's finance committee departed from past practice in budget preparation, which formerly led to a distortion of actual expenditures, and fringe costs for employees have now been distributed to departments. The fringes include hospitalization insurance, retirement, social security, group life insurance, workmen's compensation, unemployment benefits and miscellaneous employee related expenses, which represent 30 percent of direct wages.

In addition, two instances where department heads received extra payments but the figure was not shown as an expense of the department have been lumped in overall salaries paid to the department heads. One was in the case of the sheriff, who received housing allowance, and another was in the case of the county clerk, who receives additional money for acting as clerk of the circuit court.

Salaries of employees were based on the latest offers presented to bargaining units. Offers to both unions representing county building employees and employees of the sheriff's department have been rejected. Salary increases for non-members of bargaining units have been factored in at a six percent increase in almost all instances.

Budget requests initially totaled $1,600,000 with no provisions for salary increases for bargaining unit members and other employees. Omitted from the preliminary budget adopted Thursday were requests for the following activities: Trio Council on Aging, $15,000; airport development, $25,000; chambers of commerce, $15,000; community ambulance service, $16,000.

The above four deleted items would require .358 of a mill to finance and, if not received through allocation in response to a request from the above activities, the package would be presented to voters for consideration.

The only staff increase reflected in the 1977 budget is in the equalization department, where two level one certified appraisers are provided. Addition of the appraisers will enable updating of assessment records, provide a greater capability to assist townships and improve the equalization process with a view toward eliminating future state assessment factors that the county would be unable to refute.

Projected revenues under the budget calls for Michigan income tax of $160,000; fees, receipts and reimbursement to county offices totaling $325,000 and property tax receipts of $1,069,879. Receipt of property taxes is based on an allocation of 5.4 mills, same as last year, and an estimated state equalized valuation of $198,000,000.

Largest single projected expenditure is in public safety, $459,411, which represents 29.6 percent of the budget; health and welfare, $311,532, representing 20 percent of the budget; civil and criminal justice administration, $273,187, 17.6 percent of the budget; community services, $85,737, 5.5 percent of the budget; administration and financial management, 27.3 percent of the budget.

Public safety includes $378,628 for operation of the sheriff's department, $63,110 for operation of the jail and $17,673 for marine safety. Not included in the actual category, but under control of the sheriff's department, is animal control, $29,105.

Total wages include $16,933 for the sheriff (includes housing for the sheriff), $13,912 for the under sheriff, $11,931 each for two deputies and one uniform sergeant. Ten deputies receive $11,589 each and three deputies receive $10,927 each. A secretary-deputy receives $8,694, overtime pay has been estimated at $10,000 and personnel fringes amount to $68,939.

County jail operation includes $22,100 for expense, wages include $6,573 each for two cooks and $6,000 each for three dispatchers. Overtime has been estimated at $400 and personnel fringes amount to $9,464.

The marine safety budget amounts to $17,673.

Items included under health and welfare include:

- Building department, $53,127, with salaries of $11,130 for the department head, $9,376 for one inspector and $8,103 for another inspector, plus $6,115 for a clerk; personnel fringes of $10,417 and department expenses of $7,986.
- Animal control, $29,105, which (See BUDGET, page 6.)

Monday Opening for East Tawas' Cleanup Days

Annual spring cleanup days at East Tawas start next Monday and are to continue during the week until work is completed. According to Paul Ropert, superintendent of public works, anything and everything left at curbside will be picked up, but it is requested that leaves and other small trash items be placed in containers.

Cleanup days were established Monday night by the East Tawas Council, which requests all home owners to participate in the program.

In other business Monday night, the council approved extending the lease at the city park bait shop held by Donald Gollinger to December 31, 1977.

Annual park audit was approved by the council.

Hear Complaint on Car Violations

Violations of a city ordinance, the sheriff's department for enforcement.

In other business, the city manager reported that the department of public works had cleaned a privately owned sanitary sewer serving an apartment building at 417 Hamilton Avenue owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Siebert. It was stated that the property owner, or his agent, had dug down to the sewer main last winter and attempted to relieve a blockage by breaking a hole in the main. The hole was not sealed and the line later filled with sand. The DPW crew, on authorization from the council, dug up the main, replaced several sections and then used rodding equipment and water to clean it.

Minutes of the cemetery board indicated that the city engineer has been authorized to make a preliminary plot plan for development of new lots for expansion of the cemetery. The area to be developed is east of the road and north of the present cemetery entrance.

Work is to start Monday on renovation of the band stand in the city park under sponsorship of Tawas Kiwanis Club. Materials have been donated by local businesses for the project and work is to be performed by students and Kiwanians. The roof and stair railings are to be replaced and the building is to be repainted in bicentennial colors.

Mayor Herbert Cholger proclaimed May as National Radio Month, under the theme, "Thanks for the Radio."

Charles Smith Heads County Tax Allocators

Iosco County Tax Allocation Board Monday named Sup. Charles Smith of Oscoda as its 1976 chairman. Principal order of business was acceptance of budgets from the four school districts, the county and townships.

The board, which has responsibility for dividing 15 mills of taxes between schools, the county and townships, is to make a preliminary order by May 17. Monday, May 31, is the last day for hearings of the allocation board and the law requires that it issue its final order no later than June 14.

Appointed to the board by Probate Judge William McCready were Smith, representing Oscoda Township by virtue of its population; Arden Charters, representing the county at large; Ellsworth Bernard, representing school districts.

Richter Lixey, supervisor of Baldwin Township, was appointed by the clerk, treasurer and sheriff to represent townships, while Mrs. Helen Payea was appointed to represent the intermediate school district.

Statutory members include Donald Griffin, county finance chairman; Edward Nelkie, county treasurer; John Tafelski, intermediate school superintendent.

Ramp Fee Decision Up to City Council

Recommendations on boat launching ramp fees for the coming season are to be made at the May 3 council meeting by the Tawas River Mouth Harbor Committee.

Martin O'Driscoll, harbor chairman, said he had conducted a survey among boat owners using the facility and believed that a reasonable assessment for launching could be charged which would yield approximately $2,500 annually. He felt the money could be utilized to pay dredging costs at the river mouth.

O'Driscoll said that the channel has a depth of approximately four feet, but a 20-foot-wide sand bar, about one-quarter mile in length, extends across the river harbor entrance in Tawas Bay.

He said only one foot of water remains over the sand bar, which would cause problems for boaters later in the summer.

MORE THAN 500 children participated in the Easter egg hunt sponsored Saturday afternoon at Tawas Point State Park by the East Tawas Lions Club. Colored Easter eggs were hidden in the wooded area near the parking lot and children lined up along one edge of the road in preparation for the hunt. Youngsters and some parents made a mad dash into the wooded area and emerged later with their prizes (above). Bags of Easter candy and two bicycles were given away by the Lions Club. Randy DeWyse had charge of the program.—Tawas Herald Photo.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

(Read Hebrews 11:32,12:2) Since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with perseverance the race that is set before us. Hebrews 12:1, RSV)

During a visit to the Protestant cathedral at Ulm, Germany, my attention was drawn to an outline on a stone wall where a statue previously had stood. The outline had been superimposed by time and weather and resembled a human head lifted toward the heavens.

This sight reminded me of the many saintly individuals I have known in local church congregations who have since departed to be with the Lord, but whose memory endures to encourage and influence all who remain. One such individual was especially helpful and encouraging to me as a young pastor. Although past 70, he was available at any hour of the day or night to assist his pastor.

This gentleman and others like him, although no longer physically present, have left an indelible mark for the Christian community. Surely they must comprise the ongoing "cloud of witnesses" mentioned in our text.

PRAYER

We are thankful, O Lord, for all who have presented a faithful witness for Thee in the past. Enable us to follow their example. Amen.

Free Legal Counsel on 'No Bills Day'

Free legal counsel will be available to area residents on "No Bills Day," April 30.

As a public service in conjunction with Law Day USA, which is May 1, members of the 23rd Judicial Circuit Bar Association will be available at the Iosco County Building, Tawas City, and will give 15-minute consultations to anyone who telephones for an appointment.

According to James Shotwell, law day chairman, "No legal documents will be drawn up during the 15-minute consultations, nor will time permit the solving of specific legal problems. However, many people have questions about what to do about their legal problems that we can address during these sessions."

The day was conceived by the State Bar of Michigan in 1974. Since then, it has attracted the participation of most of the state's local bar associations and won the award of merit of the American Bar Association.

To make an appointment for a free consultation, call 362-6962 between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. before April 28.

Law Day USA became a national holiday during the Eisenhower administration reminding citizens of their legal rights and obligations.

New Center Tests Job Potential of Iosco Handicapped Children

A new electronically controlled center to test and evaluate job potentials for handicapped children has been installed by Iosco Intermediate School District under terms of a Title Six federal grant.

Located at the intermediate school district's office on Aulerich Road, the new center is being made available at all school districts of the county for testing children with mental and emotional impairments, disabilities and other handicap areas.

"This new center provides actual 'hands on' experiences for children," states Foster Eid, program director for the intermediate district, who had charge of writing the program. The intermediate district has received a grant of $180,000 for two years and has received $67,000 as its first entitlement.

David Proulx has been hired as special education vocational coordinator for the intermediate district and will be evaluator in charge of the new center. He will be dividing his time between Iosco Intermediate School District and Bay-Arenac Intermediate School District, which has a similar center.

This center consists of a number of work stations which combine audio visual equipment with actual tools which youngsters utilize in the testing program. Besides evaluating potentials for jobs, the center also serves to motivate youngsters in particular fields.

Among equipment utilized in the center is a test bench for small engine repair and maintenance, a production machine operation which actually molds plastic items (checkers in this case), sales processing, a wood working bench and a baking section where small cakes are turned out on an oven.

Hayden Smith of the Singer Corporation, which manufactured the $8,100 center, conducted an inservice program Thursday for guidance counselors and special education teachers of the county's four school districts. He emphasized that hand tools contained in the different testing areas were standard items which could be purchased in any hardware store.

Eid stated that the new center will provide a valuable learning experience for handicapped youngsters, as well as an evaluation of individual skills which can help youngsters lead happy and useful lives.

Westcott Files for Re-Election as Isoco Sheriff

Citing the continuing need to pursue permanent solutions to the area's problems, Isoco County Sheriff George Westcott announced Monday his intention to seek re-election. He filed Republican nominating petitions for the primary election to be held in August.

Elected in 1972, Westcott is nearing completion of his first term in office.

In making the announcement, Sheriff Westcott stressed the need for continuing emphasis on the problem of juvenile offenders in Isoco County. According to Westcott, alarming numbers of crimes involve young people and many of these incidents are drug related.

"That is why," he said, "we have placed a high priority on enforcement programs aimed at the sellers of narcotics and dangerous drugs."

Westcott also touched on the need for a different type of law enforcement in the 1970s.

"In the past three years," he stated, "we have expanded the services of the department by necessity. This includes going to 24-hour patrols, improving personnel training and education, jail facilities and equipment."

Prior to Westcott's election as Isoco County sheriff, he served as chief of police in Tawas City and later as investigator for the sheriff's department, with the rank of detective sergeant. He and his wife, Wilma, are the parents of four children.

Seek Items to Complete Bay Park Tower

Senior citizens of Bay Park Tower and members of the East Tawas Housing Commission are hoping that local merchants and residents will be generous in contributing to their appeal for items to complete the facility at 304 West Bay Street.

Such things as dishes, silverware, utensils, large coffee makers and serving platters are needed to round out the kitchen.

"It is hoped that anyone having such items as record players, AM-FM radios, television sets, piano, organ, bookcases, card tables, folding chairs, in good repair or new, will donate them for the lounge and community rooms," states Elaine Stewart, secretary-manager of Bay Park Tower.

Games, puzzles, books, arts and crafts materials and instructional materials, as well as yarn, fabrics, scissors and like items are also needed for leisure and craft rooms.

In March, the East Tawas Lions Club contributed money for the purchase of six large water color paintings by Don Darr, which now decorate the walls of the elevator landings and lounge. Members of the East Tawas Garden Club have begun an indoor planter project for several areas of the building.

Persons wishing to make contributions are requested to contact the secretary-manager at 362-4963 between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 12 o'clock noon, Monday through Friday, to arrange appropriate times and dates for bringing items or to discuss the suitability of items not mentioned above.

"With everyone involved in spring cleaning, now would be an ideal time to move out those no longer needed but still good pieces and know that something has been done to bring joy and happy hours for persons in their twilight years residing at Bay Park Tower," states the secretary-manager.

Name Brown President of Hale C of C

Douglas Brown is the new president of Hale Chamber of Commerce. The organization, which numbers 68 members, held an election of officers April 13.

Named to serve with Brown were Frank Leiva, executive vice president; Walter Grossman, vice president; Arlene Webb, secretary; Joan Powers, treasurer.

Directors of the organization are Donald Melzer, Larry Clark, Charles Millard and Wallace Morawa.

Next general meeting of the chamber of commerce is to be held Tuesday, May 4, 7:30 p. m., at the high school.

Hale Area School Expects June Millage Renewal Vote

Hale Area Board of Education is expected to authorize a ballot asking voters to approve renewal of operational millage at its next meeting Monday, April 26. The proposal would go to voters at the annual school election in June.

The present voted tax levy of 14.75 mills for operation is scheduled to expire this year, having been approved by voters in 1973 for two years.

Despite a general increase in operational costs, which includes a seven percent increase in teacher salaries under provisions of a two-year contract, the board of education is not expected to ask for additional millage.

School operational financing is complicated, however, by the present economic problems at the state level. Although Hale Area School District does not receive any state membership aid under present law, which is not expected to be changed this year to benefit Northern Michigan districts, this district was dealt the same loss in state funds as received this term by other school districts.

When state membership aid payments to other schools were slashed, Hale Area School received the same percentage of loss when the state cut the district's transportation and special education aid by $21,500.

Supt. Wayne Case said last week that the district's new budget for the 1976-77 term assumes that additional transportation and special education money will not be taken away by the state.

The new operational budget submitted to the county allocation board calls for an expenditure of $1,093,449 during 1976-77, as compared to a budget of $1,054,079 submitted to the allocation board last year.

Assuming that the school district's state equalized valuation will be increased by $2,000,000, as anticipated, approximately $48,000 in additional funds would be received to meet the increased costs.

Iosco Cancer Kick-Off Meeting Slated May 4

Tentative plans for the Iosco cancer kick-off meeting to be held May 3 in Hale and Whittemore and May 4 in Tawas were made at the board meeting of Iosco County Unit, Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society Friday, April 9, at the home of Mrs. William Lyon, president.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Joseph Hennigar, secretary-treasurer; Ruth Hoffman, field representative; Henry Purdy, crusade chairman; Bud Fisher, public education chairman; Mrs. Herbert Hertzler, service chairman; Mrs. Lloyd Cooper, memorials chairman; Ethel Bronson, Whittemore, chairman, Ann Strickler and Doris Thayer, Hale chairman; Mrs. Frederick Rhode, publicity chairman.

A conflict between lumbermen and fishermen had arisen a few years earlier over running of logs down the river, but the lumbering interests won out through regulations adopted by the Iosco County Board of Supervisors.

RIVIERE AUX SABLES

An Historic Waterway

Known to the early French explorers as the "Riviere aux Sables" (River of Sand), the AuSable has played an important and colorful role in the history of Iosco County: This mighty stream was home to Michigan's Indians; it provided the raw materials for the region's fur industry; its mouth served as a haven for the Lake Huron fishing fleet; upon its bosom was carried millions of feet of pine logs during the lumbering era; its flow of water still serves as an important link in the production of the state's electrical power supply.

Abused through much of its existence through the reckless cutting of timber along its deep valley causing subsequent erosion, coupled with pollution factors caused later by man, the river is making a comeback through enlightened conservation measures. Today, the river coursing its way nearly 240 winding miles from Grayling to Lake Huron is visited by countless thousands of vacationers, who enjoy canoeing, fishing and camping along its banks, or those who enjoy commuting with nature in a picturesque and primitive setting.

This description of Saginaw Bay, Charity Islands, the AuSable River and Thunder Bay will be readily recognized. On the earlier maps, the AuSable was called Sand River and sometimes Sandy River. Owing to its location, there can be no doubt that the mouth of the AuSable, before and for long after the time of Lahontan, must have been a stopping place for the voyageurs, fur traders and Indians, in their journeys up and down the west shore of Lake Huron.

In the early decades of the 1800s, America was looking restlessly to the West—its broad vistas of opportunity and adventure beckoned men who could meet the rugged frontier. Such a man was David Bates Douglass, a graduate of West Point, who served with the Lewis Cass expedition in 1820 in the exploration of the Upper Great Lakes and Northern Mississippi region. Douglas' journal contained the following reference to this region:

"We coasted this shore at some distance in order to clear a long crooked sandy point called Point AuSable (Tawas Point) which makes out and encloses a bay (Tawas Bay) of the same name of nearly six miles width. The extremity of this point is barren, but in coasting along the coast beyond it, the land, still sandy, is grown up with a beautiful variety of evergreens.

"About nine or 10 miles from the last point we turn by, we leave Saginaw Bay and, after traversing some three or four miles of coast resembling that just mentioned, we landed in the mouth of a fine river called the Riviere aux Sables. Here were encamped for the night, having made in the course of this day nearly 60 miles and that on my part without eating. There is an Ottawa camp about a mile up this river and we found near our own a small camp of Chippewas, from whom we obtained a fine, fresh sturgeon for supper."

Nothing is known of Louis Chevalier except that he was living in Chicago, Illinois, in 1834, when he conveyed his reservation to Joseph A. Collett, who in turn conveyed to Joseph Campau, an independent fur trader of the territory, with headquarters in Detroit and was known as the richest man in Michigan. The Chevalier-Collette deed and the Collette-Campau deed were recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Saginaw County on January 21, 1840.

There are only a few Iosco residents today who remember the river as it was - before hydroelectric dams restricted the stream in its passage to Lake Huron; there is no one living today who can recall the changes made in the stream by lumbermen, who created innumerable channels at the lower end to speed pine logs to mills, or to provide storage areas for timber.

The Chevalier claim is a reservation of land in AuSable Township, about three miles long and one-half mile in width, to which the term, "ribbon farm," has been given.

Notice: I, Louis Chevalier, hereby enter my claim under the laws for ascertaining and deciding upon claims to land in the Territory of Michigan, to a tract of land lying and being situated on the Riviere aux Sables, or Sandy River, in said territory, about one-fourth of a mile from the mouth of said river, and on the west side thereof, extending 80 arpents in the rear of said river, and containing 640 acres; bounded in front by said river and in rear and on sides by public lands.

History has not recorded a trading post in this region under the French or the British regimes, but the American Fur Company had a post on the AuSable River and Chevalier was probably the trader in charge. Gardner D. and Ephraim S. Williams took charge of the American Fur Company's post at Saginaw in 1828 and an outpost was established at AuSable. In the Michigan Historical Collection is an invoice of goods and merchandise taken by George Lasby in his trade with the Indians at Riviere aux Sables. For 12 years, the American Fur Company maintained its post here, but the company withdrew from the region when the source of supply of the fur trade dwindled by reason of extermination. A member of a surveying party in Northern Michigan published notes in 1839 stating that the AuSable River was then an unknown stream, but in 1849, Benjamin F. (See AuSABLE, page 6.)

FIFTY-FIVE ACRES of jackpine in the Huron National Forest west of the Tawas were burned off last Wednesday in an effort to improve the nesting habitat for the rare Kirtland warbler. The bird nests only in such burned over areas and fire fighters have been too efficient in recent years, thus reducing nesting areas. —Tawas Herald Photo.

Would Improve Kirtland Nesting Through Burning

In an effort to provide cover for the rare Kirtland warbler, 55 acres of jackpine land along Gallion Road in Huron National Forest west of the Tawas were burned over Wednesday by the Tawas Forest Ranger District.

Calvin Norton, Tawas District ranger, said it was the first controlled burn of forest land in about 15 years and it is hoped that the area will be opened for new jackpine growth to improve the nesting habitat for the tiny warblers.

A crew from the Tawas District began seeding the burned over land Friday.

Although much is still to be learned about the Kirtland warbler, biologists believe there is a definite correlation between burning of jackpine lands and nesting habits of the birds. The natural nesting area of this species is limited only to the Iosco-Oscoda County region of the Huron National Forest and the birds have not been observed nesting elsewhere.

Norton said that biologists were still trying to determine if the birds are attracted to burned over jackpine areas due to the new growth of vegetation provided or if the burn causes a change in the insect population.

In recent years, man's control of forest fires has wiped out the natural nesting habitat of the birds. The Kirtland was first discovered and identified in the early 1900s, an era noted for uncontrolled burning of Iosco's plains land.

Knothole League Needs Adult Help

Tawas School to Host Iosco Tournaments

Baseball and softball tournaments involving teams from Iosco County's four high schools will be held Saturday, May 15, at Tawas Area High School.

The baseball tournament starts at 10:00 a. m. with Hale meeting Whittemore-Prescott Area. Tawas Area is scheduled to play Oscoda at 12 o'clock noon. A consolation game will be held at 2:00 p. m. and the championship game will be held at 4:00 p. m.

First game in the softball tournament will be held at 10:00 a. m. with Tawas Area meeting Hale. Oscoda is scheduled to meet Whittemore-Prescott Area at 11:30 a. m. and the consolation game will be held at 2:00 p. m. The championship game is scheduled at 3:30 p. m.

Tawas Knothole League is in dire need of umpires and two or more coaches for the summer baseball program, according to an announcement this week by Robert Erickson, president. Fathers of the 300 or more boys who participate in this program are urged to lend a hand in keeping the one-month program in operation.

Erickson said that a meeting for all coaches is scheduled for Monday, April 26, 7:30 p. m., at the high school. The two leagues are scheduled to open schedules Monday, June 7, and close on July 12.

Due to the fewer number of boys in the Knothole League age group, this league is to consist of five teams in each of two divisions, two teams less than last summer. The Pony League will consist of six teams with three teams in each division.

Knothole League teams will hold tryouts on May 10-11 and tryouts for Pony League will be held May 12-13, all at the diamonds near the Tawas City Elementary Unit. Drafting of team members will be held May 14.

U of M Alumni Club to Have Guest Speaker

Lance Erickson, associate director of admissions at the University of Michigan, will address the Iosco County U of M Alumni Club at Lakewood Shores Beach Club Tuesday, May 4, 6:30 p. m. Members of the club and the public are invited.

President of the local club, Albert Kinstry, announced that a business meeting will follow. Arrangements for tennis and golf in the afternoon prior to the meeting can be arranged. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Eugene Coppler, 739-5279.

Great American Happenings

Presented by
Schreck Lumber Company

1776: The words heard 'round the world.
We've already announced our independence. On July 2nd, our Continental Congress adopted a resolution "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States." That announcement, says John Adams, will make July 2nd the most memorable day in our history. But it's not until two days later that we officially explain the reasons for our independence, in the July 4th Declaration we'll always celebrate.

Our Declaration of Independence makes America unique. Never before has a nation actually written down reasons why it became a separate state. Our words stir the world. And even inspire other peoples to defend their rights against tyrannical leaders. Looks like America has made quite an impression.®

LOOKING BACKWARD—

Medical Care Facility Under Study in Iosco

15 Years Ago—

April 19, 1961—Possible construction of a medical care facility has been proposed to the county board of supervisors by J. R. Homing, director of hospital and medical facilities division for the state health department. Homing explained advantages of such a medical care facility and outlined the pressing necessity for one to care for elderly sick in this area.

Because of the increasing number of incidents in which youngsters are running afoul of the law at night and during early morning hours, state and local curfew laws are to be enforced in Iosco County. The announcement was made by William McCready, prosecuting attorney, and H. Read Smith, probate judge.

Iosco Republicans and Democrats have endorsed appointment of Harold Gould to the state conservation commission. Governor Swainson is to make the appointment shortly, although it is not known if Gould has enough support throughout the state.

Tawas Chamber of Commerce is seeking endorsement of its resolution asking the state to prohibit commercial fishermen from "blocking the mouth of Tawas Bay with gill nets."

William G. Murray is the new councilman representing Tawas City's First Ward.

25 Years Ago—

April 27, 1951—Fifth annual career day held Tuesday was one of the best ever held here. Sponsored by Tawas Kiwanis Club, 371 juniors and seniors from the five Iosco County high schools were in attendance.

Karl Kobs made his last trip Sunday as mail messenger between the Tawas City post office and the Detroit and Mackinac Railway Station, which has discontinued mail service. Lydia Bing, postmaster, found no record of the first mail messengers, but she was able to compile a nearly complete list for the past 40 years. Messengers have been William Boldt, Robert Boldt, Peter Anderson, Paul Koepke Sr., Herbert Rutterbush, Cuthbert Bright, Alvin Choiger, George Choiger, E. S. Farrand, Ben Gahler and Kobs.

Pupils of Iosco County rural schools will present their fourth annual music festival at the Tawas City High School gymnasium.

Curt Jarvis of Tawas City has been elected president of the Tawas Softball League.

Richard Pihl of the Hemlock road is "entertaining" the mumps.

Dick Carey had a 185 average during the past season to lead the major league at Tawas City Recreation.

35 Years Ago—

April 25, 1941—L. V. Knowlton, superintendent at Tawas City School, has resigned to accept a position in the personnel department of General Motors Corporation. Russell Rollin, county school commissioner, will take over duties of superintendent for the balance of the year.

Watts School and Stevens School were awarded first and second prizes in Iosco County during the 1940 tuberculosis Christmas seal sale in rural schools.

Kenneth Smith is manager of the Tawas City Independents this season and the team opens the baseball season on May 18.

A total of 710 Iosco farmers have signed up for the Agricultural Conservation Program, according to Mary M. Malenfant, secretary. Under the program, farmers can get fertilizer and marl without any cash, the cost of the materials being charged against their ACP check next fall.

Paul Bunyan Festival Had $825 Deficit

The 1976 Paul Bunyan Festival Committee recently announced that the 1975 inflation surge had literally caught Paul with his axe down, resulting in an $825.28 deficit for that year. To overcome this problem, the committee is charging gate admission prices. As usual, special provisions have been made to accommodate four-day admittance tickets and senior citizens. The committee has added free entertainment, exhibits and displays on the festival grounds to compensate the visitor for the added charge.

Applications for booth, game and exhibit spaces on the grounds will be available at the festival headquarters office, 100 West Michigan, Oscoda (739-7941) immediately after May 1. Civic groups, churches and individuals are invited to apply.

This year's annual Paul Bunyan Festival will run from August 12-15 at the Albert Furtaw memorial field in the center of Oscoda. The annual parade will be held at 10:00 a. m. Saturday, August 14.

CARING FOR WOOD FURNITURE

Spring cleanup time usually means it is time to give wooden furniture a thorough cleaning. Generally, proper care procedures for wood furniture are determined by the finish, not the wood itself.

Three types of finishes are most frequently used; paint, lacquer and oil. Although each type of finish protects the wood, an oil finish does not close the pores of the wood.

Routine care procedures include regular dusting, occasional polishing and infrequent cleaning.

For dusting, use soft, clean cloths that contain no sizing or starch. "Treated" cloths will aid in dusting. To make your own treated cloths follow these directions: Coat the inside surface of a glass jar with furniture polishing oil or wax. Place cloth inside and close tightly. The cloth will absorb just enough oil or wax to remove dust and polish at the same time. Caution—do not use oil treated cloths on a waxed surface as oil softens wax and makes it gummy.

Polishing—There are many commercially prepared furniture polishes on the market. Check contents when making a selection. A high alcohol content on polish cleaners may cause the wood to crack.

Cleaning and conditioning—Once or twice a year, wood furniture should have a thorough cleaning. A general cleaning method is to mix one-quarter cup mineral spirits with three-quarter cup boiled linseed oil. Pour mixture on top of heated water to warm. (Caution: Do not heat this mixture; it is flammable.) Dip cloth into mixture and wring dry. Clean small portion of furniture at a time and wipe dry.

To clean especially dull surfaces, make a thin, creamy solution of pumice powder and mineral oil (linseed oil or lemon oil may also be used). Combine thoroughly. It may have to be re-mixed while using. Clean small area at a time. Remove excess cleaner with cloth dampened with oil. Never use water as it will take away the shine.

To clean painted surfaces, soap jelly may be used or one tablespoon soap jelly mixed with one-quarter cup whitening for heavily soiled areas. (This mixture can be kept between cleaning in a covered jar.) Another possible method is to mix one-quarter cup white vinegar with one-quarter cup kerosene, which will also keep in a covered container. After cleaning, rinse the cleaner from the surfaces with a clean, damp cloth.

Proceedings of Iosco County Board of Commissioners

MARCH SESSION

March 17, 1976

Pursuant to published schedule, the Iosco County Board of Commissioners was called to order at 9:40 a. m. by Chairman Foster and the roll called.

Present: Foster (district 1), Griffin (district 2), Burdett (district 3), Fox (district 4) and Wereley (district 5)

Absent: None

The communications were received by the clerk's office and referred to the chairman for assignment to committees.

Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller appeared before the board in reference to the controversy over the hiring of a person by the friend of the court to conduct home investigations required in connection with pending circuit court divorce actions, indicating that the person was hired on his instructions, as Mr. Seifert is not able, by himself, to keep current, thus causing delays and hampering the court. He further expressed the opinion that department heads should be allowed to run their own departments within the limits of their budgets, further advising that court investigations take first priority and that he will instruct the friend of the court to discontinue the reporting procedures being pursued to obtain state reimbursement of a portion of support monies collected in A. D. C. cases if it interferes with the investigations. In response to a query by Chairman Foster as to whether a full-time friend of the court should be considered, Judge Miller advised that the position would require a licensed attorney and a greatly increased budget, noting that Alpena County has such an arrangement, with a budget twice that of Iosco's, although their divorce case load is less than Iosco's.

In further discussion, Commissioner Griffin reported that the controversy arose because the board had not been consulted before the hiring of the part-time help in accordance with their established policy, adding that he felt there is duplication in the clerk's and friend of the court's offices and that perhaps more of the record keeping function should be shifted to the clerk's office. The clerk thereupon responded that the shifting of an extra burden to his office could only result in additional use of part-time help and would merely shift the cost from one office to the other, further adding that he was not opposed to assuming the extra burden providing this is understood.

Dr. Lloyd Wiegierink, deputy director, and Albert Kinstrey, non-medical administrator, of District Health Department No. 2, were in attendance to discuss their budget requirements for the year 1977, the following being a brief outline of their presentation:

Noted that Iosco County's 1976 budget appropriation was pared from the amount requested, to the same amount as appropriated for 1975, whereas the other member counties provided supplemental appropriations over and above the reduced formula, thus necessitating a reduction of services in Iosco County for 1976, which Mr. Kinstrey proceeded to enumerate.

Explained the formula for determination of the allocation required for each county to meet the district budget, based on a combination of population and valuation.

Advised that their 1977 budget projection indicates $191,496.00 will be required from the four member counties, with 46.9% or $89,812.00, projected as Iosco's share, unless the valuation of the other counties is increased.

Enumerated various projected increases in costs for 1977 that are reflected in their proposed budget, such as costs-of-living projections for salaries, added salary cost due to expiration of CETA funding, increases in rents and utilities, etc.

Indicated that they have cut back costs wherever possible and that they are effecting a savings over private treatment with their VD and family planning programs.

Discussed new programs being initiated by the state, reporting that the state code is in the process of being revised and that they expect to receive increased financial assistance in the future.

Discussed services provided to Wurtsmith Air Force Base and a proposal by Commissioner Griffin that increased participation by base medical personnel be sought. Mr. Kinstrey indicated that he would follow up on the proposal.

Offered to attend the tax allocation board meetings in support of their budget request.

Chairman Foster thereupon advised that the budget request would be taken under consideration.

At 11:00 a. m., upon order of the chairman, the board recessed to meet with Tax Equalization Director Rose and for committee work, to stand in recess until 1:30 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Upon call to order at 1:30 p. m., the roll was called, all commissioners being present.

Chairman Foster having invited the county school administrators to discuss the possible benefits and ramifications of creating a county tax revolving fund whereby schools would receive all their tax revenues, including delinquent taxes, early in the calendar year, the following were present: Oscoda Area Acting Superintendent Robert Hodges, Hale Area Superintendent Wayne Case, Intermediate School District Superintendent John Tafelski and Marge VanDette, representing Tawas Area Schools.

Each of the administrators addressed the board, all expressing their endorsement of the concept, indicating it would assist them greatly in preparing budgets; expressing the opinion, however, that the program should be coupled with a summer levy (tax collection) to avoid having to borrow money to meet expenses in the summer and the latter part of the calendar year, as they could no longer depend on the collection of delinquent taxes to tide them over.

Following continued discussion, Chairman Foster advised that the matter would have to be discussed with the county treasurer and township officials before any action could be taken relative to the creation of a tax revolving fund, whereupon he thanked the school administrators and representatives for attending and participating in the discussion.

The board recessed at 2:35 p. m. for committee work on order of the chairman.

Upon call to order at 3:55 p. m., Mrs. Lea Hicks, of the Trio Council on Aging, appeared before the board to present their 1977 budget requirements, indicating they are requesting $14,120.00 from each of the three counties, advising that their budget covers a 15 month period. In further discussion, Mrs. Hicks advised that $34,684 in federal aid is programmed, but that they are not sure of this amount. The matter was thereupon taken under advisement and a proposal to seek a 1 mill tax levy for funding discussed briefly.

The clerk reported briefly in reference to the following matters:

"Submitted a bill from the Saginaw Community Hospital in the amount of $2,110.93 covering inpatient care for a county tuberculosis patient for the month of February.

"Submitted bids received from The Tawas Herald and the News-Press Publishing Company, Inc., for publication of the minutes of the commissioners proceedings as follows: Tawas Herald, $4.75 per folio; News-Press Publishing Company, publication in both Iosco County News and Iosco County Press, $5.00 per folio, publication in Iosco County News only, $4.65 per folio.

At 3:20 p. m., committees were ordered to their respective duties, the board to stand in recess subject to the call of the chair.

Upon call to order at 4:25 p. m., Commissioner Wereley presented Mr. Richard Pfahl, of Hale, Michigan, with a certificate of appreciation for his service as a member of the Iosco County Social Services Board.

Upon request of the chairman, the clerk read a letter from John Prior, staff representative of United Steelworkers of America, District 29, under date of March 16, 1976, indicating that the Iosco unit members rejected the county's proposal and that they are preparing a position they feel the membership will accept, and are notifying the mediation service of the impasse.

County Treasurer Edward Nelkie appeared before the board and presented a report of delinquent taxes as of March 1, 1976, the report indicating total outstanding delinquent taxes for the years 1973, 1974 and 1975 of $1,581,632.85, with the following returned delinquent in each of the three years: 1973 - $587,046.04; 1974 - $929,865.08; 1975 - $1,010,316.49. Continuing, Nelkie reported on a recent audit of the building authority and furnished copies to the board members; reported on reimbursement from the state of a percentage of marine safety program expenditures for 1975; discussed federal revenue sharing funds, reporting a balance on hand of $198,000.00, with $135,000.00 anticipated still to be received this year and expenditures projected at this point as $66,800.00, covering anticipated contractual payments to Wilbur Roach for operation of the county landfill.

Commissioner Wereley presented and moved adoption of the following resolution, motion being supported by Griffin and carried.

Your equalization committee recommends that we accept the recommendation of County Treasurer Edward Nelkie and Equalization Director John Rose to convert to the C. F. C. standard property tax numbering system, as per letter of February 26, 1975, including schedules "A" and "B" of attached schedule.

THE MOUTH of the AuSable River is pictured here in the early 1890s at about the end of the major lumbering industry, which peaked in 1891. Manufactured lumber is piled on docks awaiting shipment to market. Some sailing schooners were still used in the trade as evidenced by the ship anchored at right.

Pierce of Bangor, Bay County, had a trading post or store near the mouth of the AuSable which formed the landmark from which lots were set off and divided for the resident fishermen of AuSable, who wished to purchase land there.

The next settlement in the region was on Tawas Bay in 1854, followed by organization of Iosco County in 1857, but it was not until January of 1866 that lumbering activities began on the AuSable River, still a rather unknown region according to this notation in the diary of James O. Whittemore, register of deeds, for January 21, 1866:

"Charley (his brother) came home today. He went as far as Wilber's Camp on the Sable River. He reported the country not plains, but mountains; a vast, rolling, broken elevation with enormous hills, the streams cutting through the country at a great depth. At Wilber's, they rolled a tree down the hill to the river and striking others, imbedded in the ice—it was smashed to pieces. A strange, wild country—five wolves were killed by poison at Wilber's Camp. Will that country ever prove of any value? Will railroads ever be built over such uneven ground? Do those knobs hide any minerals of value?"

The answers to questions posed by Whittemore in his diary were to be answered shortly. The assigns of Joseph Campau conveyed title to the Chevalier Reservation to Henry M. Loud in 1867, which saw the real beginning of the lumbering era along the AuSable River. From deep in the heart of one of the state's finest stands of white pine, the river provided a dependable means of transporting pine logs to mills at its mouth on Lake Huron. A railroad later was built over the "uneven ground" described by Whittemore, but minerals were never found.

With the coming of the lumbermen, the wild, free life in Iosco was over; the fleet of fur-trading canoes had stopped at AuSable for its last cargo shortly before the era of the fishing industry opened. On March 29, 1866, Whittemore's diary recorded that the "board of supervisors adopted a resolution regulating running rafts and logs on the Sable River, about which matter there is much conflict between fishermen and lumbermen."

The lumbermen won out in the end in regard to running logs on the river and each succeeding generation has left its mark, for better or for worse.

Continuing, Griffin reported briefly in reference to the following matters:

Signed: Robert K. Foster

Finance Chairman Griffin thereupon presented the following report of the statutory finance committee meeting of March 16, 1976, and moved that it be accepted, motion being supported by Fox and carried.

Donald G. Griffin, chairman
Joseph W. Fox, member
W. G. Wereley, member

*Bids received for publication of the board minutes - action deferred until the next board meeting.

*Invoice in the amount of $2,110.93 received from the Saginaw Community Hospital for tuberculosis patient care - will check out the health department before approving payment.

*Identification cards for the building and safety inspection department personnel - have referred the matter to the equalization department to design an appropriate card.

The clerk reported briefly in reference to the following matters:

*Reported that all department heads are driving to and from the new post office twice a day to pick up and deliver their mail, for a total of 2 miles each per day, proposing that perhaps some arrangement could be made for the custodians to pick up and deliver the mail for all departments.

*Raised the matter of the charge for publication of the bond resolution for the East Tawas Sewer Project in the minutes of the board proceedings, whereupon Chairman Foster advised that the cost should be charged to the DPW administrative account, as there is a provision for reimbursement from the proceeds of the bond issue.

*Called attention to a request made earlier in the year for a county law library appropriation from federal revenue sharing funds, so that bills might be paid on a current basis rather than having to be held for six months for the statutory semi-annual appropriation.

Commissioner Wereley reported in reference to additional staff and equipment being sought by the equalization department, indicating he would have a detailed report at the next meeting.

Commissioner Griffin questioned the clerk's decision to substitute Xerox copies of his office "cost and disbursement" records in lieu of typing a monthly individual report for each department and activity as sought by the finance chairman, expressing his opinion that the Xerox copies would serve the same purpose and avoid a great deal of unnecessary typing and duplication.

Upon motion by Griffin, supported by Burdett and prevailing, the board adjourned until April 13, 1976, at 9:30 a. m.

It Happened in Plainfield—

Robinson's Lumber Camp, with Hank Ash as camp foreman, was located three miles west and five miles north of South Branch in Goodard Township. There were about 30 men working at the camp when this picture was taken. The picture is owned by Edwin A. Rehil of Hale, whose father, Valentine Rehil, is standing 11th from the left. The men loaded logs on railroad cars that took the logs to Robinson's Mill to be sawed into lumber. Rehil's work consisted of hooking logs on the jammer, which was an anchored upright pole about 16 feet in height, equipped with chains and pulleys. It raised the logs from the skidway up on the car and a team of horses was used for power. His son is now compiling a history of area lumbering operations for use during Hale area's observance of the bicentennial.
