

Board Cuts Budget---Seeks 12 Mills for Operation

Tawas School Returns to Full Days

At the conclusion of a late session Monday night—interspersed by a closed door meeting with a finance committee representing the citizens advisory committee—Tawas Area Board of Education adopted the following resolutions affecting school operation for the coming term:

1. The school budget for 1976-77 has been cut by $169,534;
2. Voters will be asked to approve a one-mill increase, plus renewal of 11 mills in a one-year package, at a special election August 26;
3. All students will return to a full day of classes, rather than previous split sessions;
4. A middle school for grades six through eight has been eliminated and grades seven and eight will return to the former status as a junior high school;
5. The school will rent one classroom at Zion Lutheran School;
6. Students will report to school Tuesday, September 7;
7. Fourteen non-tenure teachers

“pink slipped” earlier this year were rehired, pending outcome of the millage proposal;

8. Offices of the high school principal and counselors, which had been converted from classrooms, are to be returned to classroom use.

This action by the board of education came as a result of recommendations formalized last week by the citizens advisory committee, following several weeks of concentrated study by 74 or more interested citizens.

Dr. Robert A. Halle, superintendent of schools, said he did not concur with all of the above actions or recommendations of the citizens advisory committee, but he commended the committee for its hard work and felt that many of its recommendations were “absolutely sound and should be implemented.” He felt that other recommendations should be studied for implementation and others should be dropped.

“The school district is to be commended for opening its books, its closets, its hallways and its bathrooms for this study by citizens,” said the superintendent.

As the result of board action, the superintendent felt that the over-all school program would actually be improved and he said he could feel comfortable with the situation.

In order to return to a full day of school and to present a millage program that had some chance of passage by voters, cuts were made in the operational budget which reduced two mills of taxes from the proposition defeated by voters at the annual election.

The 12-mill proposal, said Halle, represents a “tightening up” of school operation without a major cut in the program or increasing class sizes. He said the one-mill increase, plus renewal of 11 mills, actually was only a slight hike in taxes, but it would allow the school to return to a full day’s session and it would allow time to study the school program.

Major cut in the budget came prior to the study of the committee and after the previous millage vote. Teacher attrition through retirement or leaving the district has resulted in seven less staff members who are not to be replaced due to a lowering of school enrollment. This has amounted in a reduction of $61,251 in the budget.

The remainder of the budget cut is to come through reduction in various categories, including audio visual, office supplies, travel expenses, community education, contractual services and capital outlay. It is also expected that there will be some savings in transportation due to the reduction in miles traveled by buses under the former split session arrangement. A portion of the transportation of Teachers, as well as non-certified personnel, is reimbursed by the state.

In addition, Halle said that any increase to the salary paid to the entire school staff would not go above five percent and that figure would include increments as well as fringe benefits. At the present time, contract negotiations are taking place between the board of education and Tawas Federation of Teachers, as well as non-certified personnel.

Jefferson Marks 50th Anniversary

Jefferson Trucking Company, which has maintained its main business office in Iosco County since 1958, is currently observing its golden anniversary.

Founded in 1926 at Highland Park as a hauler for Michigan Concrete Pipe Company, the firm has been the major hauler for National Gypsum Company products since 1932.

Ralph White, president of the firm, said Monday from his office at National City that Jefferson Trucking was organized at a time when National Gypsum Company had only two plants, Clarence Center, New York, and at National City. The gypsum firm’s two salesmen in the Detroit area shared office space with the trucking firm.

White has been associated with Jefferson Trucking since April 15, 1950, and came here from Wyandotte in 1956. A major change in the firm came in 1958 when he became president of the firm and Jerry Cotter of Tawas City left his law practice to become secretary-treasurer of the corporation, which is owned by the two men.

The firm’s office was first established in the building east of Tawas Lanes presently occupied by Free’s Barber Shop and was later moved to National City.

The firm operates terminals at National City, Lorain, Ohio, and Shoals, Indiana, with a total of 165 employees. Jefferson Trucking maintains 108 tractor-trailer units on the highway, amassed total travel of 10-million-miles last year in its territory which includes states east of the Mississippi River, plus five states west of that river.

The firm transports 550,000 tons of building materials annually for National Gypsum Company and its subsidiary companies.

The terminal located adjacent to the gypsum firm’s National City plant employs five persons in the office, 19 drivers and five persons in maintenance. The firm’s main control center for transportation is located at Lorain.

A number of its drivers are veteran employees and one driver, William Armstrong, who has 23 years of service, designed and painted a sign near the office drawing attention to the fact that Jefferson Trucking Company is observing its 50th anniversary.

Auditor Minimizes TA School Deficit

Tawas Area School ended its 1975-76 term with a deficit of $23,872, according to a report Monday night by its auditor, Yeo and Yeo, certified public accountants, Saginaw.

James Davis, a representative of the auditing firm, said this represents a deficiency of approximately one percent on the school district’s total budget and he commented that it was his opinion that the school’s budgeting was excellent.

During his remarks in explaining the audit, Davis pointed out that $20,359 in the deficit was caused by a new item in the budget as the result of state legislation. This item was accrued state unemployment liabilities amounting to $20,359.

The district had total revenue in 1975-76 of $2,011,935, as compared to $1,949,915 the previous year. Expenditures during 1975-76 amounted to $2,010,156, as compared to $1,861,446 the previous year.

The district had budgeted $343,611 from state sources and actually received $258,426. This includes membership state aid, which no longer is received by this district due to an increase in property valuation.

It was noted in the audit that delinquent taxes amounted to $205,466 in 1975-76, as compared to $164,678 the previous year.

In other business, the board of education accepted staff resignations from John Walton, Sandra Helms Walton and Prudence Welch. A one-year leave of absence was granted to Mrs. Dianne Knight.

The board of education adopted a resolution indicating it would accept the responsibility for holding a special election in this district, which has been called by the Intermediate School District on September 23, for the purpose of determining if intermediate district voters will support a vocational skill center. It was emphasized that the resolution does not represent endorsement of the proposal by Tawas Area Board of Education.

The board of education accepted bids from London Dairy of Port Huron, Wilson Dairy of Detroit and Nelkie Dairy of East Tawas for furnishing milk to the school, as well as bids on baked goods, sanitation service and gasoline. The bids are to be studied and contracts are to be awarded at the next meeting.

The board of education authorized the administration to lease driver training cars in order to complete instruction required by the state.

TA Administrators Explain Full Day Session Changes

During the “closed door” break in Monday night’s meeting of Tawas Area Board of Education, attended by about 75 persons, Herman Rollin, elementary principal, and John Alexander, high school principal, explained how changes would affect the school.

Rollin said that the sixth grade formerly at the middle school during the afternoon split session arrangement would be returned to the Tawas City Elementary Unit and the fourth grade would return to the East Tawas Elementary Unit, as was the case prior to the start of split sessions four years ago.

Rollin said that the change at the Tawas City Elementary Unit would not be ideal, but he emphasized that present programs would be retained. He said he honestly could not comment on any possible loss in program to sixth graders, as that grade had been a part of the middle school last year.

Although elementary grades had not been included in the former split session arrangement, Rollin felt that over-all education in the school would be improved through the return to a full day session.

He said that elementary enrollment this term would be 701 students, as compared to around 900 when the split session was adopted as a means of alleviating overcrowding.

One elementary section is to utilize a classroom rented from Zion Lutheran School, which is located directly across Second Street from the elementary unit.

Alexander said that the junior and senior high school would have “zero fluctuation” insofar as space is concerned. He said, however, that the coming term would be the peak year for enrollment due to the fact that the freshman class is larger than the senior class. Enrollment of the ninth grade next year will drop below the total number of students composing the 1978 graduating class.

Through return to a full day’s session, Alexander said each student would be able to have a schedule of five classes in a six-period day with from 25 to 26 students in a class.

Classroom space limitation will be critical, but he said that every means possible was being taken to achieve separation between the high school grades and junior high school. However, there will be some sharing of facilities between the junior high school and secondary grades.

He said, too, that there would be a need for returning to the former study hall arrangement and students in those study halls would range from 50 to 175 students. He felt this was an unavoidable circumstance.

It was felt that the cafeteria-study hall could not be converted into classrooms as per the recommendations of the citizens advisory committee, but a study is being made to utilize the stage and balcony of the gymnasium for classroom purposes.

Junior high school students are to receive four full day basic courses in English, mathematics, science and social studies, as well as vocal music, band, choir, art and shop on a rotating basis and depending on scheduling. Several alternatives are being studied to offer enrichment courses on a rotating basis, along with the possibility of one hour of directed study under supervision of a classroom teacher.

Courses eliminated from the junior high include typing, French and home economics. The principal expressed the opinion that any loss in program for junior high school students would be recovered through a full year of study in the four basic courses, rather than the program under the former split session where one basic course was alternated with an enrichment course each nine weeks.

Courses eliminated in the high school include one section of home economics and some art offerings.

Following action of the board of education, James Russo, chairman of the citizens advisory committee, said that the committee, comprising both “yes” and “no” voters in the previous millage election, had spent thousands of hours studying the school program before making its recommendations.

“We would not have had a committee in the first place if there had not been a millage problem,” said Russo. He said that the study indicated that the school in no way could operate only on an 11-mill renewal, but the committee could not endorse anything above 12 mills at this time.

“I do not know if we can establish credibility at this time, but we have a sales committee formed to beat the bushes to sell the millage proposal the best we can,” said the chairman.

The superintendent said that the board of education had withheld action on his recommendation to purchase two portable units at the high school and he is in hopes the school “can live without them.” He said that if a chaotic situation results from the change to a full day session, the board could reconsider its action on the purchase of portable classrooms.

Halle said that transportation problems could be worked out through use of the existing fleet, plus two new additional buses which were ordered earlier this year. He said that all buses were to be placed in condition for the start of the term.

Trustee Carl Babcock said the board of education was charging the citizens advisory committee to remain active and to work closely with the administration concerning its recommendations.

The August 30 date for opening of the school term previously established by the board of education was changed Monday night to Tuesday, September 7. It was felt this additional time would allow the administration and staff to work out details for the change to the full day session.

Annual Art Show Enjoyed Record Number of Exhibits

A record number of entries coupled with perfect weather conditions drew the largest attendance in the 16-year history of the Tawas Bay Art Show held last week-end at the Tawas City Park and Iosco County Building.

A total of 276 entries were registered for the two-day show, as compared to slightly less than 200 entries registered for the previous year’s show. Art work, including paintings, pottery, woodcarving, photography, sculpture and jewelry, was of the highest caliber in the show’s history.

After two straight years of rain, members of the Tawas Bay Arts Council were beginning to believe that the annual art show could not be scheduled without the usual provision for sheets of plastic to protect displays. It was not that way for the 1976 show as bright sunshine prevailed on Saturday and most of Sunday.

As a result, exhibition areas were jammed with visitors during the two days and parking lots from the city hall to First Street were jammed with cars. Exhibitors were pleased with sales, which is the mark of a successful show.

At the conclusion of the show Sunday afternoon, officers of the sponsoring organization presented awards as follows:

Oil painting—Clark Most, Midland, first place; Virginia Barc, East Tawas, second place; William Adair, Midland, honorable mention; acrylic painting—William Tacke, Wyoming, first place; William Brinker, Standish, second place; James Bennes, Bay City, honorable mention; watercolor—William Brinker, Standish, first place; David Walz, Florida, second place; Frank Kindberg, Ohio, honorable mention.

Greg Davis of Oscoda was top winner in the junior division. Exhibitors donated door prizes for a drawing Saturday evening.

Citizens Conducted TA Opinion Survey

A number of recommendations adopted Monday night by Tawas Area Board of Education were included in a report submitted by the citizens advisory committee. This group initiated its activities July 15 and, during the ensuing three weeks, the objective was to “undertake a sincere, detailed effort to fathom and recommend correction of many school system ills that affect efficient operation and thus operating millage credibility.”

In a short space of time, the committee conducted a survey and 1,300 forms were mailed in an opinion poll of voters participating in the June 14 election. There were 350 returns.

Much concern was voiced regarding the entire subject of excessive taxation but a strong feeling (See COMMITTEE, page 2.)

Primary Election Featured Oscoda Township 'Upsets'

Races at Oscoda held most of the attention in township primary races as Republicans nominated an entire new slate of candidates. Robert K. Foster, presently a member of the county commission, defeated Charles E. Smith, veteran township supervisor, 774-323. A third candidate, Rex E. Walters, received 248 votes. Edward J. Tate defeated Harry J. Samotis, incumbent clerk, 666-461. A third candidate Karen I. Smith, received 154 votes. Maxine F. Bissonette defeated Florence Krefeld, incumbent treasurer, 720-531. Stanley L. Kowalski, a Democrat, received 145 votes and will face the winner in the general election. Charlton Lee and William C. Christman were nominated for trustee positions, Oscar A. DiLoreto was the loser. Glen C. Highfield was unopposed for the two-year trustee position. James Dobson upset John D. Webb Jr. for the Republican nomination as supervisor of Reno Township, 57-44. Winona Redmond defeated Jimmie Kilbourn, 65-36, for the nomination as treasurer. The winner will be opposed by Laura Kaiser, Democrat, in the general election. The latter received 10 votes. Robert H. Crawford won the Republican nomination for supervisor in Alabaster Township, defeating J. Harry Rapson, incumbent, 83-63. John H. Weible won a close decision over Leona Benson for the Republican nomination as treasurer, 76-75. Fannie Walstead won the Republican nomination for trustee with 54 votes. The other two candidates, William H. Lingle and Ralph Rohrbach, received 45 and 35 votes, respectively. Jeanne

L. Fairfield was nominated for township clerk with 101 votes on the Republican Ticket and will face Hope V. Rescoe, incumbent, who received 15 Democratic votes, in the general election. Robert W. Pember, Democrat, and Ray Kesler, Republican, will compete for the Plainfield Township supervisor post in the general election, while Betty Timmer, Democrat, and Frances Hansen, incumbent Republican, will vie for the township clerk's position. Barbara Malcho, Democrat, was unopposed for treasurer, while Lyle Bielby, Republican, was unopposed for treasurer. Four other townships will have races in the general election. In Burleigh Township, Martin Siegrist, Republican, will be opposed by Melvin B. Wrathell, Democrat, for supervisor, while Leona

Chippis, Republican, will be opposed by Arthur Parkin, Democrat, for trustee. Olen Herriman, Democrat, will be opposed by Ronald Ponke, Republican, for Grant Township supervisor. There will be two races in Sherman Township with Harold Parent, Democrat, going against Mildred Letienne, Republican, for the clerk's position, while Harvey E. Smith, Democrat, and Dale Wood, Republican, will vie for the treasurer's position. A write-in campaign in Wilber Township saw B. William Olsen, incumbent, defeating Al Mochty Jr. for the Republican nomination as supervisor, 58-30; Betty Cross was renominated over Linda Al-da, 65-26; Francis J. Block was renominated over Opal Mallon, 71-23; John Newberry was renominated over David Thompson, 70-20. All of the defeated candidates, however, will appear in the general election as they received a sufficient number of Democratic votes to be nominated on that ticket.

ing was evident that future school support could be given if there was confidence that money would be spent wisely.

Extreme concern was voiced regarding the apparent lack of secondary school student discipline, many of those returning the survey form recognizing that "it starts at home."

Lack of enforcement of student discipline at the high school level was identified and citizens were unhappy with the conduct of some faculty members. The dislike of tenure protection given some "inadequate teachers" was voiced. The thought that "too many chiefs, not enough Indians" was found in the survey and salaries were considered too high for the norm of the area and the work performed.

With many students apparently lacking in English and mathematics, a mandate to return to the three Rs was given and the feeling was voiced that sports and band were emphasized or publicized too much compared to basic education. It was the opinion that equal teacher effort was not directed toward all students.

The conduct of both students and bus drivers was questioned and there was doubt as to the degree of maintenance of the buses. Excessive use of buses associated with split sessions was voiced.

The committee made a number of suggestions reviewing lack of student discipline Monday night, but this matter is to be studied further by the board of education, administration and committee members.

Numerous proposals dealing with space utilization were considered fully by the board of education in its decision to return the school to a full day session and other committee comments regarding curriculum, transportation, finance and budget.

Iosco County Had Poor Voter Turnout in Primary Election

Most political races at the local level are settled in the primary election, but Iosco County had a very poor showing in last week's election. Only 48.69 percent of the county's voters—6,701 out of 13,760 persons registered to vote—bothered to make a showing at the polls.

This poor showing is somewhat misleading, however, as Oscoda Township's registration list is swelled by a large number of voters registered at Wurtsmith Air Force Base. Air base voters have traditionally avoided local elections, except those dealing with school millage elections.

There were no surprises in the election at the county level to name candidates for the general election in November; most of the fireworks came at Oscoda, where voters nominated an entire new slate of township officers.

Most of the campaign noise came in the race for the sheriff's nomination and George Westcott, incumbent, handily defeated his two opponents. Westcott defeated his closest rival, John Koenig, a deputy sheriff, by a 2,755 to 1,699 margin. The third candidate, Jay O'Farrell, received 395 votes.

The race for the sheriff's nomination held the most interest for county voters and Westcott had majorities in 28 of the county's 34 counting precincts. Koenig won in one AuSable precinct, one precinct at Whittemore and four of five precincts at Oscoda, but Westcott piled up heavy majorities in Plainfield Township, East Tawas and most other precincts. In Tawas City, the incumbent received a three to one majority from his home town voters.

Stephen H. Naegele, who was appointed to fill a vacancy as prosecuting attorney, defeated Walter Schultz with a margin of 2,589 to 1,778.

County Clerk D. Keith Papas won over Beverly Doran, 2,945 to 1,299, while Treas. Edward Nelkie and Register of Deeds Leon Putnam were unopposed.

Harry Krueger won the nomination for drain commissioner with 2,478 votes, while Lyle W. Adams received 1,036 votes and Phillip Imbronone had 285 votes. Albert L. Preetz, the only Democratic candidate on the ballot, had 549 votes and will face Krueger in the general election.

The other race with county-wide interest saw George Prescott, incumbent representative in the legislature, receiving 2,212 votes and will face Patrick Flynn, Democrat, with 447 votes, in the November showdown. Timothy Haskin finished second for the Republican nomination with 1,509 votes while Hugh Prescott, the state representative's cousin, received only 796 votes.

Three races for county commissioner posts saw Jack W. Allen, a former member, being nominated for District No. 1 at Oscoda with 403 votes. Delphine Weisl received 376 votes and James F. Stech had 226 votes.

In District No. 4, Joseph W. Fox was renominated with 632 votes. Josephine Busch ran second with 402 votes and Joseph VanDette had 208 votes.

William Wereley was nominated in District No. 5 with 412 votes, while Ronald Larsen had 243 votes. Donald Griffin was unopposed in District No. 2 and had 120 votes, while Carlton Merschel had 907 votes in District No. 3. Mary Jane Burdett, incumbent, who withdrew from the race as she will be moving from the county, received 317 votes.

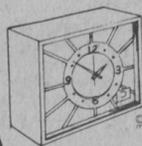

Voters approved two-tenths of one mill annually for five years to expand services for senior citizens, 3,685 to 2,070, but rejected a proposal to levy .125 of a mill for airport expansion, 3,876 "no" to 1,599 "yes."

NEM TOURIST ROUTE

HURON SHORE ROAD

Motorists traveling along US-23 north of Standish take this Huron Shore scenic route for granted and few persons, including those directly involved in future highway planning, probably do not realize the thought and perseverance which went into its original development.

Excluding later widening projects, this route was uppermost in the minds of Huron shore residents for a 10-year period from 1927 to 1937!

Prior to 1932, there was no north-south traffic through the Tawas as a township road running along the shore of Tawas Bay extended only a short distance below Alabaster and there was no direct route through to Au Gres.

Since opening of the region to civilization in the 1850s, travel along the shore of Saginaw Bay was effectively blocked by the vast Au Gres swamp. After the turn of the century, Arenac County farmers began to drain and clear that swamp for agricultural purposes, but there was no real need for an overland route as travel was provided by the railroad.

With the entry of the automobile, a dramatic and radical change came in the transportation picture of Northeastern Michigan and an inland route was established in 1913 to handle the ever increasing automobile traffic. This route, which became M-10 and later received the federal designation of US-23, was established in June 1913. After leaving Omer, this gravel road bypassed Au Gres by turning inland through Twining and Whittemore, presently M-65, then turned east to reach the Tawas and meandered in a generally northern direction.

By the mid-1920s, automobile traffic had increased to such an extent that state highway officials and the four counties bordering Lake Huron began discussions concerning the construction of a scenic highway north to be called the Shore Road.

On Wednesday, July 13, 1927, county road commissioners from Arenac, Iosco and Alpena Counties met with representatives of the state highway department to discuss the proposed route. The state administrative department authorized a survey of the proposed new highway and the first step toward a long-time dream began to bear fruit.

The idea behind all planning was to run the highway as near to the water's edge as possible, principally to interest the federal government to furnish the necessary aid to build the road. Such a route near the water's edge would allow motorists to enjoy the breeze from the lake on hot summer days.

"Representatives of all counties present were in favor of the road and, after the survey is made, every person on the eastern side of the state should get behind the movement and push until the highway is completed," editorialized The Tawas Herald. "It will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars to Eastern Michigan in the increase of value in shore property and from the tourist trade."

One of the problems to be overcome in construction of roads was the methods of financing. In 1928, Harry VanPatten, chairman of the Iosco Road Commission, said that it was his belief that "the time is but a short way off when real estate will be relieved of road taxes so far as state and county roads are concerned. I think the gas and weight taxes are the proper ways to get the money to build roads. That kind of tax makes the people who use the roads build and maintain them."

A great deal of discussion was heard, but not much progress was being made on the Shore Road in 1928 when the Herald made the following comment: "A map of this road (old US-23) from Tawasville to Oscoda looks as if an effort had been made to take the tourist in every direction on the compass and lose him if possible; and it is true that hundreds of tourists every year are hopelessly lost trying to follow the twists and turns of US-23 between these two points.

Hardly a day passes during the summer that many cars are not turned back from the Huron Shore, the cemetery road, or Tawas Lake because the reasoning tourist refuses to go in the opposite direction from which he is traveling. This stretch of road is about 23 miles long and has 27 turns on which there are a number of fatal and expensive accidents every season."

The highway department completed a survey of a direct route from Tawas to Oscoda which would reduce the distance about six miles and eliminated every short turn.

One of the strongest arguments for speedy action on the project was the fact that the lake shore along the route of the proposed new road was being platted into lots and sold to the public. "At the present time, the state could secure this right-of-way for practically nothing as it is in the hands of a few persons, all of whom would be glad to contribute to this project," stated the Herald. "In a few years, however, a large number of these lots will be in the hands of different people from whom the state might have to purchase at lake frontage prices, making the road an expensive proposition."

The proposed new route, stated the Herald, would put 12 miles of the best lake frontage in Michigan on the market and, even at the prices then prevailing, would mean $1,000,000 valuation for the first row of lots. Eventual development of the road would mean millions of dollars of new development in Arenac, Iosco, Alcona and Alpena Counties.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

(Read Job 38:1-7)

"Who set its corner-stone in place, when the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted aloud?" (Job 38:6-7, NEB)

The Book of Job pictures the foundation of the earth, determined its measurements, stretched the line and marked out its cornerstone. The whole world and its history lie hidden in the future. The morning stars, looking down, sing together; the sons of God, standing by, shout for joy. Why?

They sing and shout for the promise of what is coming: The beauty of plains and lakes and rivers, the thrust of mountains against the sky, the sweep of ocean and the crash of breakers against the shore. In that beginning lie all the possibilities of trees and flowers, of birds and animals, of men and women and children. The world begins boundless in hope.

Every morning begins with new hope and new possibilities. As it begins, let the morning stars sing and the children of God shout, and let us sing and shout with them.

PRAYER

Eternal God, who makest all things new, we begin the day not knowing what it may bring, but knowing the possibilities of good when Thy will is done in the hours that lie ahead. Amen.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The letter from the Wilber Township Board which was published in the August 4 issue of The Tawas Herald was directed at me, although my name was not mentioned.

I would appreciate the opportunity to respond.

First, I would like to say that I agree that the Wilber supervisor is not paid to work full-time for the township. However, I believe it is of the utmost importance that he chair the annual township meeting and to set as secretary to the board of review. To fulfill these duties requires four week days for the board of review and one Saturday for the annual meeting. If Mr. Olsen could not make himself available for these five days, I feel he should not have accepted the appointment as township supervisor. He even missed the first annual meeting following his acceptance of the office of supervisor.

The township letter goes on to state that "appraisal cards were made out in 1974." I guess this statement was supposed to justify spending tax dollars to hire an additional secretary for the board of review. If this is true, I was forgotten because at the 1975 board of review, Al Mochty Sr. and Bernard Kukla went over my appraisal card and discovered I was still being assessed for a silo and storage shed that had been torn down about eight years ago and a root cellar that had been torn down four years ago.

The township letter quotes the "Manual for Township Government: Provisions are made for a secretary." This provision could apply to large townships with thousands of tax descriptions, but I do not believe it should be necessary for Wilber taxpayers to relieve their supervisor of his responsibility as secretary to the board of review.

The township letter states that my claim about the telephone being installed in the township hall is not true. I was quoting a member of the board of review when I stated that the phone was installed for the convenience of the supervisor and my statement stands. Worse yet, I wonder how many other taxpayers were just as surprised as I was to learn that we are paying a telephone bill month after month, year after year? For what reason? The scheduled township board meetings are held six times a year. Once in-a-while there is an election. Once a year, the board of review meets for four days and the annual meeting involves a couple of hours on Saturday. Other than these few occasions that poor telephone jack must be awful lonesome about 350 days of the year.

As a concerned taxpayer, I hold that my remarks should be viewed as "constructive criticism." In view of the results of the write-in votes cast in the Wilber Township election, there are other concerned taxpayers who do not concur with the board's conviction that "The township should feel proud of the representation we have in the township, . . ."

Thank you,
Kenneth C. O'Brien

Grant Township's Summer Festival Aug. 13-15 Features Fun for Everyone

From horse shoe pitching contests to a kissing booth, plus a wide variety of program activities listed in between, Grant Township's annual summer festival, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 13-15, under sponsorship of Sand Lake Heights Men's Association, offers a fun filled week-end for visitors as well as summer and year around residents.
 Chairman of this year's festival is Henry Gage, who reports that proceeds from the event would again be funneled into projects benefiting the entire community.
 One project which has benefited from the event has been the community center at Sand Lake, a long time dream which became a reality last fall. The community center and grounds will be headquarters for all festival activities.
 The program Friday has been designated Retirees' Day and features a picnic, live music, judging of the king and queen, horse shoe pitching contest, all taking place between 1:00 and 4:00 p. m. Crowning of the Sand Lake Summer Festival queen is to take place at 6:00 p. m.

 Saturday's program opens with a parade at 10:00 a. m., a garden tractor pulling contest at 12:30 p. m., a water ball fight between volunteer firemen at 2:30 p. m. and a baseball game at 3:30 p. m.
 Saturday evening's program will feature "dancing under the stars" with Art Pinsky and his Polka Pals.
 Sunday's program gets off to an early start with a pancake breakfast from 7:00 to 11:00 a. m., there will be a log sawing contest at 1:00 p. m., an auction sale at 2:00 p. m., dancing to live music from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m.
 Throughout the three days, there will be a white elephant sale, concession stand, games, refreshment tent, kissing booth and kids games.

D&M Freights Were Busy During Year

The Detroit and Mackinac Railway Company hauled more than 155,385,000 ton miles of freight in 1975, the railway company announced last week.

This class II, shortline railway anticipated its ton mileage will increase by 20 percent in 1976. With a fleet of nine diesel locomotives and 922 freight cars of six different types, the D&M hauls such goods as agricultural produce, auto parts, industrial machinery, lumber, paper products, cement, concrete blocks, gravel, limestone and gypsum from Northern Michigan to the rest of the country.

The D&M recently doubled its trackage in Northern Michigan through the purchase of 73 miles of track from the Penn Central Transportation Company and through the leasing of 105 miles of track from the state under the Rail Revitalization and Regulatory Reforms Act.

Returning to Oscoda in 1974, he is employed in heavy construction work. A former All American High School basketball player, he towers six feet, 8½ inches, and weighs 300 pounds.

Paul Bunyan Still 'Healthy' at Oscoda

Paul Bunyan, legendary woodcutter from Michigan's lumbering era, is alive and well in the minds of Oscoda folks, who will stage the sixth annual festival August 12-15 honoring the fictional character of nearly a hundred years ago.

The tales of Paul and his great blue ox, "Babe," were listened to and written by James MacGillivray, who lived in the Oscoda area. Among the stories was Paul's ability to cut 100 acres of white pine trees in a day's work and to eat enormous quantities of food prepared in pots the size of water towers. That was the reputation of the mighty Paul.

The festival is featuring a tall tale contest with $150 in bonds going to winning entries, plus a parade and canoe race on Saturday, starting at 10:00 a. m.

Opening day Thursday will see the world famous air force "Thunderbirds" performing out of nearby Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Daily activities at the festival park in Oscoda include plenty of action for youngsters as well as food booths, exhibits, games, entertainment and carnival rides.

The original plan of the entire project, which was approximately 190 miles in length, was to have the local road commissions secure a right-of-way through each county, instead of leaving the matter to the state highway department. The state assumed this attitude for the reason that the road would be an expensive one to locate and build and the various counties through which it was to pass would be able to secure a right-of-way at a cheaper rate. Route of the proposed road was announced as starting at Omer and continuing to AuGres, then along the shore to Point Lookout, Alabaster and through the Tawas. A new bridge was to be constructed at the mouth of the Tawas River and the road linked with the concrete road at the foot of Tawas City's business section constructed in 1921.

By May 1, 1931, grading north of the concrete road leading out of Omer to AuGres had been completed and paving was being constructed over this same stretch of highway.

Taking up the new road again from the Iosco County line through to Tawas City, the right-of-way was secured with the exception of five parcels. A hearing of necessity was held on April 29, 1931, in condemnation proceedings on these particular parcels of land. Compensation for damages and a determination of compensation to owners was established by a four-man commission appointed by Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke.

By October 1932, the route of the Shore Road as far as Tawas City had been completed, including a new bridge over the Tawas River. The road was dedicated October 3, 1932, at a banquet held at the Iosco Hotel. Among the 180 people from Iosco and Alcona Counties attending the dedication were Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker and Cong. Roy O. Woodruff of Bay City.

One of the driving forces behind the Shore Road, along with his predecessor, Gov. Fred M. Green, Governor Brucker told the audience that "when I think of the out-of-doors, I think of Tawas Beach where, as a boy, I spent many happy days while on outings each summer."

A week later, a good will tour under auspices of East Tawas businessmen was made to Bay City and Saginaw. About 20 cars were in the caravan over the new road, "the object of which was to advertise this road to the people of the Saginaw Valley and the advantages of the Tawas Bay region for autumn recreational sports."

Agitation began immediately by representatives of the Lake Huron counties to urge the state to take action on construction and paving of the Tawas-Oscoda span. Resolutions citing "long promised improvements" were signed by Carl E. Schmidt, Greenbush, chairman; John A. Stewart, East Tawas, secretary. A delegation headed by Sam Yockey of Harrisville appeared before the state administrative board and urged the paving of the road to Oscoda, as this portion had been graded and a bridge over the AuSable River was under construction.

Governor Brucker assured the group that the improvements would be made as soon as state finances permitted. He said that the project would be on the 1933 paving program, but pointed out that while the Shore Road was a very important part of the over-all state picture, other areas of the state also had to receive consideration.

In July 1933, Murray D. VanWagoner, the new state highway commissioner announced that the state administrative board had approved construction of US-23 from East Tawas to Oscoda, completing a gap in the pavement of 7.3 miles. Construction on this section commenced in the fall of 1933 and was opened to traffic on Tuesday, May 29, 1934.

The pavement between East Tawas and Oscoda was dedicated June 21, 1934, when Donald Kennedy, business administrator for the state highway department, cut a ribbon which had been stretched across US-23, by a delegation of young ladies from Oscoda, East Tawas and Tawas City. Band music for the occasion was supplied by high school bands from Oscoda, East Tawas and Alpena.

The gap in the pavement between Oscoda and Harrisville was constructed in 1936 under a cooperative program between the state highway department and the federal Works Progress Administration. By November 1937, Michigan motorists were able to drive over concrete pavement the entire 235-mile distance between Detroit and Alpena for the first time in history.

In later years, US-23 has been widened at various times along the route, the last major change in Iosco County coming in 1940-41 when the pavement was widened to four lanes through the Tawas, followed by widening through Oscoda.

Last month, the first of a number of public hearings was held in Tawas to discuss future highway needs in Northeastern Michigan. How the Shore Road conceived in 1928 will fit into the future highway program remains to be seen

Shore Road

Considerable local agitation toward furtherance of the Huron Road followed a public hearing at Lansing in November 1928, but no progress was made on the project

SEVERAL WIDENING projects over the years have improved traffic conditions on US-23. The above picture shows widening of the highway through Tawas City in 1940-41. The picture was snapped from the roof of Cholger's Service at the Mathews Street intersection.
