

$400,000 Breach of Contract Suit Opened Tuesday

Testimony in a $400,000 breach of contract suit brought by Taisto C. Filppula, former superintendent of Oscoda Area School, against the Oscoda Board of Education, was adjourned shortly before 5:00 p. m. Tuesday.

The jury trial, held before Circuit Judge Allen C. Miller, is to resume Wednesday morning and is expected to last a total of three days.

The first day in the proceedings saw selection of a six-member panel and opening statements by attorneys for the plaintiff and defendants. Testimony was heard Tuesday afternoon from the plaintiff.

Defendants in the suit are William F. Blake Kutsche, William Brandt, Josephine DiLoreto, Richard Wheeler, Frank Bissonette Jr., Bruce Myles and Frieda Tamulovic, all members of the board of education, jointly and severally.

Filppula, whose contract was terminated June 30, 1975, claims that he was under contract to June 30, 1976. He had been superintendent of schools since July 1, 1969.

He has since exercised tenure as a classroom teacher in the system.

The former superintendent claims that action of the board of education in terminating his contract had been malicious, that it had been accompanied by vague, general and untrue charges and that the board had commented in a derogatory manner about his professional competence.

Filppula's petition claims that the board of education failed and refused to carry out procedures required by its own officially adopted policies, "which supports reasonable tenure for an administrator and, in the case of any dissatisfaction with service, to provide a written, clearcut statement and mutual discussion of any deficiencies."

The former superintendent stated that he had attempted to obtain another comparable position, but had been unsuccessful.

Attorney for the board of education disclaims allegations in the former superintendent's petition and answer that members acted within the law in terminating the contract.

'Yes' Vote Urged on TA's Millage Thursday

—Editorial—

Tomorrow (Thursday) is an important day in the history of Tawas Area School District, its 1,000-plus students and the entire community. Voters will decide the outcome of a millage proposal brought forth by the board of education.

The decision by voters will have a far reaching effect: Approval will actually mean continuance of school operation for another year and the split session arrangement formerly utilized in the high school and middle school will be dropped in favor of a full day session; disapproval will mean utter chaos for the school, the students and the community.

Rejection of the proposal would not mean that any "issue" would be settled, for schools must operate; it would only mean that cuts would have to be made to a curriculum and a school program which is not ideal. Approval does not mean that the school will receive state accreditation, an educational yardstick used to measure schools and a mark which was lost by this district several years ago; approval only means that the schools will remain open for a full term and the board of education, administration, faculty and the entire community must take another look at the school program and determine future direction.

Interest shown by individuals of this district in the present and future operation of Tawas Area School District has been remarkable in recent weeks. More than 75 interested persons, comprising a cross section of the entire community—including both "yes" and "no" voters in the last millage election—spent three weeks in a comprehensive study of the district's problems and then made specific recommendations to the board of education for action.

All of the recommendations were not adopted by the board of education, but several important suggestions were incorporated in the board's decision to ask for less millage than previously requested; certain other ideas of the citizens advisory committee are to be studied for possible further implementation.

The important thing, however, is the fact that those citizens comprising the advisory committee were interested enough in their school district to give of their time to help in developing possible solutions to some serious problems. Other citizens carried through by holding a townhall school meeting Thursday night and a school rally Sunday at the high school athletic field to acquaint voters with the proposal.

All persons involved are to be commended.

Now it is up to the voter to decide if last year's 11-mill operational tax will be renewed and if one additional mill will be approved for one year. To the average homeowner, this will mean a $13 increase in school taxes. To the publishers of this newspaper, it seems that the children of this community deserve the support of parents, grandparents and all citizens of the community. VOTE "YES" ON THURSDAY and, equally important, continue to support the school by participating in future studies.

AN UNUSUAL CATCH—David Bollman, 20, a vacationer at Tawas Point, caught this nine-pound, one-ounce walleye last week while trolling in Tawas Bay. At one time, this species of fish was known as the yellow pickerel and was one of the principal catches for Saginaw Bay commercial fishermen. It was a rare occasion when such a fish was taken on hook and line in the Great Lakes, but the walleye is now considered a top sport fish in the AuSable River above Foote Dam. Bollman caught this beauty using a flat-fish lure. It appeared to be a native fish and it was not scarred by the lamprey parasite.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Commission Appoints Eight Members to Iosco-Ogemaw Mental Health Unit

Eight persons were appointed Wednesday by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners to the proposed new Iosco-Ogemaw Mental Health Board which is being formed.

Robert Foster, chairman of the commission, was at Lansing Thursday in an attempt to have the state establish the new two-county agency prior to July 1 of next year, the present target date for its formation.

Named to the board were Lowell Aspin, Sand Lake; Sue Sweeney, AuSable; Dr. Larry Kelly, Tawas City; Robert Marsh, Baldwin; Dennis Chrivia, Hale; James W. Reynolds, Oscoda; Mary Jane Burdett, East Tawas. Foster was the eighth member named to the board.

In other business, petitions signed by 95 persons and circulated by Lillian Engle and Maureen Puffpaff, both of East Tawas, criticizing the friend of the court, were turned over to Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller, under whose jurisdiction the friend of the court operates as a state appointee.

Judge Miller told the commission that he does not have any plan to change the friend of the court appointment, but he is to review any valid complaints and hold a hearing if necessary. Persons signing the petition could be subpoenaed to testify at the hearing. It was stated at the meeting that only 15 of the signers ever had any direct dealing with the friend of the court.

The petition stated that the signers "are dissatisfied with the services provided by the Iosco County friend of the court, Edward Seifert, and request that he be replaced."

The commission authorized the equalization department to enter into service contracts with county taxing units to provide appraisals for all new properties, assist with the preparation of assessment and tax rolls and to assist with updating current assessments.

A charge of $1 per description would be made for the above work and $3.50 per description if the county equalization department assumes all functions and responsibilities of the assessor as required by the general tax law.

A request from Otis Love for payment of $1,721.70, which he claims the county still owes for engineering on the animal shelter, has been turned over to the finance committee for review.

Love said he had contracted with the county to design the animal shelter and expected to receive the balance of his fee when the building was completed. He said the rate for the project was seven percent of the $52,000 cost of the building.

Donald Griffin, county finance chairman, pointed out that the commission had asked Love to design a building costing $25,000, but actual bids amounted to over $50,000. He said it was the engineer's responsibility to advise the board that the building would cost twice what was planned and he should have designed a building costing the amount the board had appropriated.

A financial report from Iosco-Arenac Regional Library was presented by Mark Ames, director, who requested an additional $10,000 in county federal revenue sharing money to assist with the operation.

The commission approved federal revenue sharing programs submitted by Burleigh Township, Tawas Township and the City of Whittemore. The county is sharing its federal revenue money with local units of government, based on a population and valuation basis. Burleigh's allocation of $2,147 and Whittemore's allocation of $1,254 are to go toward a new fire truck, while the $1,800 received by Tawas Township is to go toward improvement of grounds at the township hall.

Recommendations Discussed

Citizens Committee and TA Board Met Monday

About 85 percent of the recommendation from its citizens advisory committee concerning school problems have been adopted or will be implemented by Tawas Area Board of Education, according to a report at Monday night's special meeting.

Initial recommendations concerning finances and a return to the regular school day were adopted immediately August 9 when the board of education established a millage rate to be submitted Thursday (tomorrow) to district voters.

The citizens advisory committee's report, submitted to the board of education following three weeks of study, included 13 recommendations concerning discipline, 16 concerning space needs, six relative to transportation and nine regarding finances. Five concluding suggestions concerning school operation were also submitted.

Dr. Robert A. Halle, superintendent of schools, said that administrators and board of education members had discussed many of the recommendations during informal sessions, but a work session concerning the report had not been held as yet.

Discussion on a number of points brought forth in the committee report were discussed Monday night between James Russo, committee chairman, along with subcommittee chairmen, members of the board of education and administrators.

One committee recommendation adopted three weeks ago by the board of education—holding salary and benefits paid to all certified and noncertified personnel, including administration to no more than a five percent increase—has resulted in an impasse in current negotiations.

Halle said no agreement could be reached on new contracts with teachers and noncertified personnel and a state mediator is being called in as a first step in the discussion stage.

Jerry Youngs, assistant high school principal, reported that the student handbook is currently being revised and is to be submitted to the board of education at its special meeting Thursday night for action. When printed, a copy is to be sent home for signatures of parents.

Youngs said that the matter of punishment for violators of the provision prohibiting use of or possession of tobacco on school property was still to be resolved.

Other measures discussed included use of teachers as hall monitors and to check toilet rooms periodically, adopt a more rigid control concerning classroom discipline and decorum, curb the number of student passes, implement open houses in the three school buildings, encourage volunteer evaluation of teachers by students, use of the stage and mezzanine in the gymnasium for classes.

A number of the recommendations of the citizens advisory committee were adopted through return to a regular school day. Recommendations adopted concerning transportation included first echelon maintenance to be performed by vocational students, maintaining individual bus logs, purchase of oil in bulk and a strict accountability for gas and oil usage.

The superintendent said that elimination of one high school administrative position and one secretarial position would be handled at the end of the school year.

BURLEIGH TOWNSHIP, which was organized in May 1876, observed its centennial Sunday with a picnic at the recently remodeled township hall on Putnam Road. The day was spent renewing old acquaintances, listening to old-time fiddle music and a program of games for the children. The top picture shows the oldest and youngest resident of the township attending the picnic. Mrs. Theodore Belleville, 85, the former Ethel Ostrand and a native of the township, is shown holding Amanda Inmon, three-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Inmon, who is the granddaughter of Darrell Colvin, township clerk. At left is James McMullen, 81, who with Chester Roberts, left, and Ethan Thompson, center, with the banjo, in the lower photo, provided the entertainment. Children attending enjoyed hunting for pennies in a pile of sawdust and a number of racing events. —Tawas Herald Photos.

Park Board Lets Contract on TC Baseball Field Fence

Low bid of Learned Fence Company was accepted Thursday by the Tawas City Park Board for installing a galvanized steel fence around the outfield of the Tawas City baseball field on North Street at First Avenue.

The Tawas City firm's bid of $1,881.75 was low among four submitted to the park board.

In other business, the board discussed the tennis court in the city even though there was overcrowding at the recent art show. The city council is being asked for recommendations for future development or changes in recreation, beach or picnic areas and parking.

Additional parking facilities were discussed by the board and it was generally felt that there is insufficient parking at this time, Jacques, city forester.

Judge Miller Elected President of Michigan District Kiwanis Clubs

At the 59th convention held Saturday at Kalamazoo, Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller of Tawas Kiwanis Club was elected governor of the Michigan District for 1976-77.

Judge Miller was chosen as governor-elect at the Boyne Mountain convention held last August and has previously held posts as president of the Tawas club, lieutenant governor of division 18, a member of the international resolutions committee, chairman of the district committees on resolutions and law and served as president of the Kiwanis-sponsored Forney Clement Memorial Foundation.

JUDGE ALLAN C. MILLER

The latter supports the recreational and educational programs at Mott Children's Hospital and Mary Freebed Rehabilitation center.

Miller has served as judge of the 23rd Judicial Circuit for 17 years, is a graduate of East Tawas High School and of the University of Michigan. He is a member of the executive committee of the Michigan Judges Association, previously served as executive board member of the family law section of the State Bar of Michigan, president of the 23rd Circuit Bar Association, bar poll committees, Detroit Bar Association and relations with the law student committee, American Bar Association.

He is also past president of the Iosco Chapter, American Red Cross; was the first fund drive chairman for Tawas Community Chest and was twice nominated for higher judicial posts.

"The major emphasis of Kiwanis International in this coming year," says Judge Miller, "is to safeguard against crime."

He said that "Wall to wall police is not the answer; citizen involvement is the key. The citizenry and law enforcement must learn to understand and use each other properly. It is only in this way that we can prevent one and one-half percent of the 'bad guys' from terrorizing the majority. Kiwanis is pledged to lead the way."

Jesse C. Hodder Post Accepts Offer on New TC Legion Hall

Members of Jesse C. Hodder American Legion Post No. 189, Tawas City, unanimously accepted a proposal from Dr. John D. LeClair Thursday night to exchange post property on River Street for a new building to be built at the southwest corner of the Tawas City baseball field on North Street.

Acceptance of the proposal, under discussion for a number of months, opens the way for LeClair's new commercial development east of River Street, with frontage on US-23 and extending through to Court Street.

Deeding a 90 by 180-foot parcel of land east of Emanuel Lutheran School for a new Legion hall was unanimously approved last week by the Tawas City Council. The transfer of city land to the veterans' organization is subject to a provision that, should the organization ever be disbanded, the property would revert back to the city.

Next step in the negotiations will be for the Jesse C. Hodder American Legion Post to apply to the city council for a zoning change or ordinance variance to allow construction of the new building. The baseball field is zoned residential at the present time, but the city recently changed zoning on the west side of Emanuel Lutheran School from residential to allow construction of a new nursing home.

According to terms of the contract, LeClair is to construct a new 40 by 80-foot concrete block Legion hall within 120 days and not more than 180 days from the date of a zoning change and issuance of a building permit. Hugh Prescott, post commander, expressed the hope that the project could be completed by November 24.

The veterans organization would have the right to occupy its present structure until the new building is certified for occupancy. The present building also serves as the senior citizen drop-in center for the Tawas area.

The new building includes a 10 by 22-foot kitchen, 10 by 10-foot storage room, an eight by eight-foot food service room and two restrooms at the north end of the building, plus cloak room, 15 by 15-foot office and 7 1/2 by 15 1/2-foot storage room at the south entrance of the building. The main meeting room is approximately 40 by 55 feet.

A side entrance with sliding glass doors opening to a concrete patio is located on the east side of the building and along North Street.

O. S. Rose, contractor for the project, explained building details to those attending the meeting.

Members of the women's auxiliary of the veterans' organization are to select the color scheme for interior decoration.

Excavation Work Contract Awarded

Low bid of Davison and Son Builders, Incorporated, was accepted by the Tawas City Water Board for excavation work on two sewer projects and one water project. All three projects are expected to be completed about December 1.

The Tawas City firm's bid of $9,579 was for excavation work only and the city crew is to install sewer and water mains.

According to City Mgr. Reginald Blubitz, the work will require approximately 10 weeks to complete, depending on weather conditions this fall.

The order of priority of projects given by the water board included a water main from Ninth Avenue to Woodward and from US-23 on Michigan Avenue to Margo Street; sanitary sewer along the bay side of US-23 from Acapulco Cabins to Coho City Marina; Tenth Avenue sanitary sewer from Fourth Street to Dead Creek.

The above water main would provide a water loop system in the southwestern section of the city and would improve distribution. Both of the sewer projects are being financed through special assessment districts.

Millage Approval Necessary for TA's Full Term Operation

At a special school election tomorrow (Thursday), voters of Tawas Area School District are being asked to approve a 12-mill operational tax proposal for one year. Outcome of the election will have a decided effect on school operation during the coming term.

Polls located at the high school building on M-55 open at 7:00 a. m. and are to remain open until 8:00 p. m.

Following a three-week concentrated study by a volunteer citizens advisory committee, the board of education cut its 1976-77 budget by $169,534; at the same time, it eliminated two mills of operational taxes from the proposal rejected by voters at the annual school election held in June.

The citizens advisory committee, which made a thorough study of school financing, has endorsed approval of the 12-mill operational tax proposal.

The proposal to be decided Thursday asks renewal of 11 mills of operational taxes, plus one additional mill of taxes, to meet a revised budget of $2,053,011. The above proposal, coupled with 9.25 mills of allocated taxes, results in a total school tax rate of 21.25 mills, one of the lowest in the state.

Should Thursday's proposal meet another rejection from voters, only $776,000—representing the county allocated tax of 9.25 mills—would be available for operating the school. This amount represents less than one-half of the total budget required for operating the proposed school program.

Major reduction in the budget came through teacher attrition at the end of the last term and will be seven less staff members due to retirement and those others leaving the system. Because of a lower enrollment this year, notably in the former middle school, these positions are not being filled, resulting in a saving of $61,251.

The board of education also adopted a resolution by the citizens advisory committee that all certified and non-certified personnel, including administration, be paid no more than a five percent increase in salary and benefits. This includes a step increase, health premiums, retirement and a combination with salaries up to the five percent maximum.

A significant budget reduction resulted without any lowering of expenses for textbooks, sports, and teaching supplies, library, transportation or further staff re-grades six through eight attended afternoon sessions from 12:05 o'clock to 1:00 p. m.

DOORS of Tawas Area Schools are scheduled to reopen September 7. In order to remain open during the remainder of the term, adoption of a millage proposal is necessary.—Tawas Herald Photo.

When school reopens Tuesday, September 7, students will be returning to a full day session—regardless of the outcome of the millage election—as the result of action two weeks ago by the board of education.

A survey conducted recently by the citizens advisory committee indicated that the former split session arrangement, adopted four years ago as a means to alleviate overcrowding, was one of the most controversial points in school operation. Under the split session, high school students attended classes in the morning from 6:45 o'clock until 12 o'clock noon, while clock to 5:15. After utilization of this system for three full terms, the board of education, administration and citizens advisory committee deemed the experiment as inadvisable due to the disruption of family life with the long school day, plus the fact that classroom and study time had been seriously curtailed through the five-hour day for high school and middle school students.

As a result of the change, the sixth grade will be returned to the Tawas City Elementary Unit and the fourth grade, formerly at Tawas City, will return to the East Tawas Elementary Unit, as was the case prior to adoption of the split session. One classroom at Zion Lutheran School is to be utilized under a rental basis for the elementary school.

Although space limitations will be critical during the first year of operation under a return to the regular school day arrangement, administrators say that a workable plan has been formulated which will retain separation of high school grades from the junior high school.

A lower enrollment projected for the 1977-78 terms will provide additional classroom breathing room.

Some problems will be encountered this term, however, as there must be some sharing of facilities between the junior high school and secondary grades, notably in the cafeteria, library and gymnasium. A major separation will be achieved through utilization of the west wing of the building for seventh and eighth grades.

Another unavoidable problem will be the return to study halls, ranging from 50 to 175 students. This rather undesirable situation will be alleviated somewhat by an early release time for some seniors, who have completed classroom studies or have afternoon employment.

The administration has emphasized that return to a six-period day would not result in larger class sizes, which will remain at 25 to 26 students.

Classes in typing, French and home economics have been eliminated from the junior high school curriculum, but seventh and eighth graders are to receive four full day basic courses in English, mathematics, science and social studies, rather than three of these basic subjects each nine weeks under a rotating plan with the fourth subject. Under the split session plan, students received about three-quarters of a year of study in each of the four basic subjects.

In addition, seventh and eighth graders are to receive vocal music, band, choir, art and shop on a rotating basis. Several enrichment courses are to be offered on a rotating basis. An hour of directed study under supervision of a classroom teacher is also being considered.

The citizens advisory committee, comprising more than 75 volunteers, is to continue its activity to assist the board of education in a number of areas brought forth in its list of recommendations.

Besides providing rudimentary fire protection, volunteer fire departments were also of a social nature. Members of the AuSable Fire Company, according to minutes of John T. McDonald, secretary, turned out for the 1873 observance of Independence Day.

AN AMERICAN INSTITUTION

IOSCO'S VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

A time-honored American institution—volunteer fire departments—continue to play an important role in Iosco County. Seven departments are located wholly within the county boundaries—Oscoda-AuSable, East Tawas, Tawas City, Whittemore, Plainfield Township, Grant Township, Long Lake—and one department is located on the Iosco-Ogemaw County line at South Branch.

Each of these departments furnishes fire protection to adjoining townships on a contractual basis and all cooperate under a mutual protection agreement between themselves or with the civilian fire department at Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Volunteer fire departments were formed during the very early history of the nation when the need arose to combat serious fires which annually threatened American cities. With expansion of urban areas, volunteer departments gave way to full time paid firemen, but the unique system of volunteer departments continue to be retained to this day in less populated and rural areas.

Here in Iosco County, the first volunteer fire department was organized at AuSable in 1873. The event is recorded as follows in a June 1873 newspaper account: "AuSable received its first fire engine this week. The engine and hose cost $1,500 and it is a good one. If the engine had been here at the time the Presbyterian Church burned, it could easily have been saved."

A later newspaper account stated: "We learn that the old Exchange Hotel at AuSable, which was burned the night of June 21, was set on fire—partly to get rid of it and partly to give the boys a chance to try out the new engine." The comment concerning the timing of fire equipment purchases has been a recurring theme throughout the county's history; organization of fire departments or purchase of fire apparatus usually followed a major conflagration.

Until 1873, fire protection at AuSable and Oscoda, as well as Tawas City and East Tawas, had been afforded by bucket brigades composed of residents who were first on the scene of a fire. Township officials were empowered to commandeer all male residents to combat fires.

As communities along the shore continued to expand, the need for fire fighting apparatus was soon realized as the lumbering era towns were composed mainly of wooden frame buildings. The communities were at the mercy of any fire which started in those buildings and bucket brigades just could not cope with a major fire, often caused by burning embers from the smokestacks of saw mills or from wood burning steam locomotives.

Besides providing rudimentary fire protection, volunteer fire departments were also of a social nature. Members of the AuSable Fire Company, according to minutes of John T. McDonald, secretary, turned out for the 1873 observance of Independence Day.

JAMES DILLON, left center, East Tawas fire chief in the 1890s, is shown here with department members and one of the city's hose carts. Several pieces of antique fire apparatus, including a fire chief's trumpet won as a trophy, have been preserved in the department's fire barn.

IOSCO COUNTY'S first volunteer fire department was organized at AuSable in June 1873. Members are pictured here with the hand pumper purchased that year.

The engine and hose cart were decorated with flags and evergreens, "making them pretty and the firemen looked tidy in their uniforms—the engine men in red and the hose men in blue shirts."

The fire department paraded around AuSable, accompanied by the town's brass band, "throwing large streams of water upon and over the buildings." Several citizens along the route supplied the boys with cigars "and something to expel the dust from the boys' throats."

Although "throwing of large streams of water" has been limited to water ball contests between departments, volunteer firemen still participate in every parade held in the county.

A pumper and hose cart were probably utilized at East Tawas in the late 1870s, but it was not until March 20, 1888, that the village established by ordinance an official volunteer fire department. That ordinance designated a chief engineer, assistant engineer, not less than two fire wardens "and such fire engine, hose, hook and ladder, axe and pipe men as may from time to time be appointed by the council."

The village ordinance outlined the duties of the fire department and gave the department authority to elect its own members, subject to approval of the council. The ordinance also gave the fire chief command over all persons whatever at a fire and authorized him to commandeer anyone to help pull engines and to place all citizens available to fight fires.

Tawas City did not have an organized fire department until July 5, 1895, when the city purchased its first hand pumper. This is rather surprising as the community had experienced four major fires which practically wiped out the main business district on each occasion and resulted in a fire loss totaling thousands of dollars.

The first fire chief in Tawas City was George W. Mount and John O'Brien was assistant chief. Members were as follows: Hose cart—William Ramage, John Hinton, Charles Katterman, James McCallum, C. M. Davis, L. J. Patterson, Charles Grise, Willard VanPatten; hook and ladder—O. R. Patterson, Angus Bennett, E. M. Schlechte, John Holland, Will O'Brien, W. E. Waterbury, William Schlechte, Richard Walker; engine—Wilfred Grise, E. D. Schermerhorn, Asa King, Arthur Hinton, John Brabon, Fred Marzinski, Carl Stormer, W. H. Hartley and Collie Johnson.

Development of a water system in the 1880s saw improvement of fire protection at East Tawas. However, frame commercial buildings along Newman Street were still at the mercy of any major fire, particularly during the winter when frozen water mains often caused serious problems. A major fire saw destruction of the Emery Building at the southeast corner of Newman and Bay Streets and firemen were hampered by frozen fire hydrants. Tawas City's hand pumper, which was rushed to the scene, proved useless due to a difference in hose connections between the two cities.

Iosco County's major conflagration occurred on Tuesday, July 11, 1911, when Oscoda and AuSable were practically wiped out of existence. The fire burned so rapidly

TAWAS CITY'S hand pumper is shown here at the Mathews Street bridge. The unit provided faithful service for more than 20 years before being replaced in 1919.

(Read 2 Timothy 3:10-17)

"All scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." (2 Timothy 3:16-17)

While taking an English course at a university, I was required to write many essays on various topics. I remember thinking that I had never written so much material in which I could see very little value. I gathered enough courage to ask the professor why we were required to write so many essays.

Her reply was classic and unforgettable. She said, "Composing and writing teaches a person to think. Everyone must make decisions; therefore, everyone must think."

Christians must think and make decisions. Answers to our problems are not spelled out in the Bible. We must study the Bible and ask for guidance of the Holy Spirit if we are to understand the will of God for our lives. Each person must have a personal experience with Christ, for it leads to the abundant life. Christians who live in accordance with and obedience to God's will can solve their problems of life.

PRAYER

Our heavenly Father, we praise Your holy name and thank You for the guidance of the Holy Spirit in our daily lives. Amen.

WILL THE FACTS HELP

FACT: The Voter Opinion Survey suggested a more strict discipline code for all at the Tawas Area Schools. The Administration has pledged to accomplish this in cooperation with parents.

FACT: We urgently need your support in passing the Operational Millage for Tawas Area Schools. Without this Millage our schools are strapped—like you would be with only one-third of your income.

FACT: Tawas Area High and Middle Schools will return to full day sessions this year. Improved curriculum will be available because of this, providing an opportunity for electives for those desiring a better education.

FACT: A committee made up of citizens like yourself has been working with the School Administration and Board to bring about the improvements requested in the recent Voter Opinion Survey.

FACT: Your Citizens' Advisory Committee is convinced that the August 26 Operational Millage Proposal for Tawas Area Schools is "Pared to the Bone."

FACT: Voters recently approved a property tax millage to provide needed services to senior citizens in Iosco County. We appeal to voters of all ages in the Tawas Area School District to exercise the same judgment for our youth.

FACT: School Board members did read your opinions from our recent survey. They are addressing themselves to the majority opinions.

FACT: School operational millage DOES NOT construct buildings; it just pays the day-to-day bills.

FACT: The Voter Opinion Survey said that basic sports and band should not be considered a frill, but neither should they over-shadow the "3-R's". Our School Administration and Board assure us that they will heed that voice.

FACT: Lansing has a plan for those who don't plan. Surely, we don't want the State to impose local property tax structures by their bureaucratic standards to operate OUR schools. KEEP CONTROL LOCAL!

State Fair Has Special Clown Day
 Amateur Michigan clowns who want to sharpen their talents alongside the professionals have a special day set aside for them at the 1976 Michigan State Fair.
 Saturday, August 28, is clown day at the fair, with cash prizes, trophies and a clown day parade around the state fairgrounds.
 The fair is offering prizes of $100, $50 and $25 for the best clown costumes and best clown acts by a group or individual, according to Harold Arnoldi, director of special events.
 According to Arnoldi, the fair is offering the same prize in the bicentennial day competition for the best bicentennial costumes by an individual, a family or a group. Bicentennial day at the fair is Sunday, August 29.
 Other events still open at the Michigan State Fair are the queen of queens pageant, the giant baton twirling competition and the grand opening parade.
 Arnoldi, who said the fair already has a record number of floats entered in the grand opening parade, pointed out that the fair has abolished the old limit on the number of floats which will be accepted.
 Information on entering any of the events may be obtained by contacting the Department of Special Events, Michigan State Fairgrounds, Detroit 48203 (313) 368-1000.

State Designates Centennial Farm

A farm owned by Waldo J., Evelyn, Robert and Kathleen Curry at 2093 West M-55, Tawas City, has been designated as a centennial farm by the Division of Michigan History, Michigan Department of State.

The farm, located in Tawas Township, Iosco County, has been in the possession of the family since 1869. It was originally purchased December 14, 1869, by Thomas Curry, grandfather of the present owners.

Sec. of State Richard H. Austin, whose department administers the centennial farm program, said the program was inaugurated in 1948. Since then, more than 3,000 Michigan farms have been certified as centennial farms.

Certificates are provided by the Division of Michigan History. Large metal markers are provided by the Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

Explains Austin, "A centennial farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more."

For this purpose, the Michigan History Division considers a farm to be either 10 or more acres having estimated farm product sales of more than $500 yearly, or less than 10 acres having estimated sales of at least $250 yearly. A centennial farm comprises only the land and not the farm buildings, which may be remodeled or even new.

Applications for centennial farm recognition are obtainable from Centennial Farm Program, Division of Michigan History, Michigan Department of State, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

STOCKING A HOME MEDICINE CHEST

Health education is one of the Cooperative Extension Service's new and exciting program areas. Arlinda Perlow, extension community health associate, has been sending each county Cooperative Extension Office packets of health education materials on everything from choosing a doctor to genetic counseling. This week, we are passing along some suggestions for medicine cabinet supplies. Why not clip this column and use it as a guide to go through your own medicine cabinet.

Start by clearing out last year's medicines, bottles without labels, dusty bandages and cotton, old antiseptics, etc. Most non-prescription drugs are good for about a year if kept in a cool dry place. Toss out anything which has changed color or consistency. In the case of prescription drugs, the doctor usually orders the exact amount needed to take care of a medical problem. There should be no left-overs! If you are taking medicines for a chronic condition, ask your doctor or pharmacist about proper storage conditions.

Every family needs a few simple and safe remedies for minor illnesses or accidents and this basic list includes items to meet your family's common medical problems. They can be stocked without prescription, but remember—ALL MEDICINES CAN BE DANGEROUS!

Buy only what is needed. Store items in a cabinet or on high shelves, out of children's reach even if medicines have safety caps.

Store medications for internal and external use in separate boxes or on separate shelves.

NON-PRESCRIPTION DRUGS

Pain relievers for headache or fever. Buy inexpensive, unflavored aspirin.

Sodium bicarbonate (baking soda) for treating heartburn or simple indigestion.

Calamine lotion to relieve skin eruptions such as mosquito bites or poison ivy.

Antidiarrheal remedy for diarrhea occurring from mild intestinal infection or contaminated food. Use a kaolin/pectin suspension.

Laxative for occasional constipation. Use a mild product such as milk of magnesia, methyl cellulose or psyllium.

Rubbing alcohol may be used as a mild antiseptic or for relief of muscle strains.

Petroleum jelly for minor skin irritations or dryness. Do not use on burns.

Cold remedies: Use one-half percent phenylephrine hydrochloride two to three times a day to reduce nasal congestion (use one-fourth percent for children).

Antiseptics are unnecessary for minor injuries. Most minor wounds can be cleaned by washing gently with soap and water.

FIRST-AID AND SICKROOM EQUIPMENT

Adhesive tape and bandages, including four-inch square gauze pads and a two-inch roll of sterile gauze.

Elastic bandages, (ACE) about three inches wide for wrapping sprained joints. Do not wrap too tightly.

Tweezers for removing splinters.

Scissors with blunt tips for cutting bandages.

Ice bag to cut down on bleeding and to relieve pain from injuries to joints or muscles.

Hot water bottle or electric heating pad for mild muscular aches. Do not use if skin has been treated with liniment previously.

Enema set.

Thermometers, oral for adults and rectal for children.

First-aid manual — American Red Cross or American Medical Association.

Phone numbers, including day and night numbers of the family doctor, hospital emergency services, poison control center, pharmacist and police and fire departments.

Children of unemployed parents may qualify for free or reduced-price meals if total family income including welfare payments, unemployment compensation and sub-pay benefits fall within the prescribed family income guidelines.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

Under the provisions of the policy, the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility. ### 215 WEST LAKE ROAD

A HOT CONTROVERSY resulted in 1919 when the Tawas City Council purchased the Ford pumper at top left. The pumping apparatus was too weak and the city sold it back to the supplier at a loss.

An American LaFrance fire truck, pictured below, was purchased in 1920 and served until 1939. It was equipped with solid rubber tires and had a chain drive.

INSTALLATION of a water system at East Tawas improved fire protection in that community. Eugene Hanson is shown checking one of the fire hydrants at the old city hall.

ALL FIRE DEPARTMENTS of Iosco County are now modernly equipped with the latest trucks and trained volunteers.

bers of the fire department in the belief that the Ford pumper unit was not adequate for the city's purpose. That fact was soon borne out when the Tawas Butter Company building located west of Mathews Street was leveled by fire. The fire department discovered that the pumper did not generate enough water pressure to even break a pane of glass in the burning building.

As a result, the city sold the $2,900 pumper back to the firm which supplied it at a loss of $1,400 and, in September 1920, purchased an American LaFrance pumper at a cost of $9,750. This truck, along with the double chemical unit, served the city until both were replaced by a single unit in 1939. Other units were added in 1949 and 1961.

Fire departments at Whittemore and Hale were not formally organized until the 1930s and Whittemore purchased a surplus truck from East Tawas following a major fire which wiped out the main business district of that community.

Plainfield Township formed its first fire department in the 1930s utilizing a portable pumping apparatus. This department has been expanded over the years to a point now where it has excellent equipment and a modern fire hall on township property.

One of the last fire departments organized was in Grant Township. A fire department was formed at Sand Lake in 1966 and the major thrust in the organization followed the Grant Township Centennial in 1967. Funds gained from that event, coupled with receipts from annual summer festivals and township support, saw construction of a new fire hall and its first truck was purchased in 1968.

Iosco County now boasts outstanding fire departments, all with modern equipment. Delivery is to be received soon on a new fire truck at Whittemore and a replacement unit is to be authorized soon for the Tawas City Fire Department, both replacing older units.

Fire protection has come a long way since 1873, when the first hand pumper was decorated with evergreens and towed through the streets of AuSable.

ly and so fiercely that few realized the actual danger until they were forced to flee for their lives. Three persons died in the blaze which leveled the towns and a fourth person died a week later as the result of injuries sustained in the fire.

Volunteer firemen of AuSable and Oscoda were powerless to fight such an extensive blaze and the entire business section of Oscoda was wiped out and only 30 dwellings were saved. Only 13 buildings remained at AuSable and nearly every one of those were far removed from adjoining buildings.

The first motorized fire truck was purchased by Tawas City on September 4, 1919, but that came about two months after one of the worst fires in the city's history. On July 9, 1919, the business district from Mathews Street to the Iosco Hotel was leveled. Part of the blame for not being able to contain the fire at its point of origin was the fact that the hand pumper had been used to pump water out of a basement several weeks earlier and valuable time was lost in cleaning sand out of the apparatus. Several years earlier, the fire department drew severe criticism when the hose cart arrived at the scene of a blaze and it was found that the hose was unusable—it had not been drained properly at a previous fire and was frozen.

Purchase of the above fire truck touched off a controversy on the city council which was hot as the 1919 fire. The council actually authorized purchase of two trucks, one a pumping machine mounted on a one-ton Ford truck, and the other unit was a double chemical machine mounted on a Ford chassis. With hose and other supplies, the total cost amounted to $5,075.

Mayor John Myles, who was out of town when the council authorized the purchase, supported mem-

TA Voters Approve Millage

Tawas Area School District made good on its second try for 1976-77 operational millage last Thursday. A record turnout of voters approved a 12-mill proposal, 1,573 to 1,042.

The difference between "yes" and "no" votes was approximately the same as the increased number of voters who cast their ballots in Thursday's election. The June proposal of 14 mills lost, 1,194 to 814, for a total of 1,998 votes. The second election had a total of 2,615 votes.

Both Dr. Robert A. Halle, superintendent of schools, and Dr. James Jacques, president of the board of education, acknowledged the many hours of work devoted to the successful millage campaign "for children of the district" by members of the citizen advisory committee.

"It seems to be the case that a school board cannot pass a millage proposal by itself," declared the superintendent. "The citizens advisory committee played a big part in this election—thank you very much," the board of education president told committee members, who were on hand to hear results of the election.

The committee had conducted a three-week study of school problems, which resulted in cutting the millage request by two mills of taxes, plus a number of other recommendations concerning school operation which were adopted by the board of education.

Action by the board of education at its special meeting Thursday night saw approval of Thursday, September 2, as the starting date for classes on Tuesday, September 7. The opening day for the staff will include breakfast and orientation.

The board of education approved contracts with four new teachers. Donald Spencer, who has four years of experience and formerly was with the VanDyke Public School, has been hired as a reading teacher to replace Jane Robertson, who left the district. Susan Brzakowski, a recent graduate of Eastern Michigan University, has been hired as the high school librarian, replacing Sandra Helms Walton. Barbara S. Smith, formerly with the Middleton Public School, has been hired for a junior high school reading position. Shirley Lustig, a nurse at Tawas Hospital, is to handle nurse training courses in vocational training. She replaces Barbara Mink. Administrators are interviewing applicants for the art vacancy in the high school. The position had been held by John Walton, who left the district.

Contracts approved for teachers "pink slipped" last spring in case adequate finances were not available included Alan Ackerman, Paul Becker, Cynthia Burt, Marsha Hyatt, Lucky Kosto, Richard McTaggart, all in the high school; John Bradke, Pat Casey, Gary Packard, Debra Pauler and Larry Valentine, all in elementary grades; Gail Forbrigg and Susan Klatt, special education.

The teaching staff will have 7½ less positions than last year. Leaving the system are Jolene Selvidge, middle school home economics; Roger Joughlin, middle school science; Jan McArthur, high school English; Ellen Evans (retired), high school English; Prudence Welch, high school home economics; Dianne Knight (leave of absence), business education; Blinda Baker, high school French (four-fifths of a contract); Sandra Wilson, kindergarten (one-half contract).

Edward Poppe of East Tawas was hired as transportation and maintenance director at a rate of $4.50 per hour. He is to supervise first echelon maintenance of buses with some of the work to be performed by shop students.

Renewal of a leave of absence requested by Debra Coffin, secretary in the community education program, was denied. She had been granted a leave of absence to attend summer school at Central Michigan University. The superintendent said it was an unusual action for a board of education to grant such a leave to noncertified personnel. He said it was the second leave of absence granted to Miss Coffin to attend CMU during the summer and he recommended that the extension not be granted. A contract was awarded to Wilson Dairy for furnishing milk to the hot lunch program and Nelkie Dairy received the contract for providing chocolate shake. Grocer Baking Company received the contract for providing bread, Andrews and Fekete Total is to provide gasoline and Leon Houghton was awarded the contract for garbage disposal.

Three larcenies, three breakings and enterings, one attempted larceny and three vandalism complaints were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Busy Week for Iosco Sheriff's Department

Larcenies were reported by Inglish Ford Sales, theft of four tires and wheels from a customer's car; William Look and Sons, Oscoda, theft of gasoline caps from 19 cars; Plainfield Township Fire Department, theft of a microphone and gasoline from a fire truck.

Breakings and enterings were reported by Harry Coleman, Tawas City, household articles taken from a cabin on Greenwood Road; Ned E. Nolan, Plainfield Township, theft of sporting goods from his cabin; Alvin Whitehead, Bass Lake, theft of household articles from his cottage.

Wilma Biggs, M-55, Tawas City, reported that two men had attempted to steal a quantity of antique household articles from her former residence on M-55. When she arrived at the scene, the two men were loading items into the trunk of their car. The men returned the stolen articles to the house and then drove off. The incident remains under investigation.

Vandalism complaints were reported by Randy Lanski, 428 Mathews Street, Tawas City, damage to a tractor which he had just painted and parked in his yard. Officers said that white paint had been poured on the tractor. Patrick Hill, Tawas City, reported that a windshield had been smashed in his van truck. Floyd Myers, East Tawas, reported that an outdoor light was damaged when struck by a .22 caliber rifle slug.

Jury Trial Resumes in Oscoda Suit

Jury trial in a $400,000 breach of contract suit brought by Taisto C. Filppula, former superintendent of Oscoda Area Schools, against the Oscoda Board of Education, was adjourned Friday afternoon and is to reopen today (Wednesday) before Circuit Judge Allan C. Miller.

The trial opened a week ago Monday and among those testifying were the plaintiff along with the defendant members of the board of education, William F. Blake Kutsche, William Brandt, Josephine Dilorotto, Richard Wheeler, Frank Bissonette Jr., Bruce Myles and Frieda Tamulevicz.

Filppula's contract was terminated June 30, 1975, by the board of education and the former superintendent claims he was under contract to June 30, 1976. He has since exercised tenure as a classroom teacher in the system.

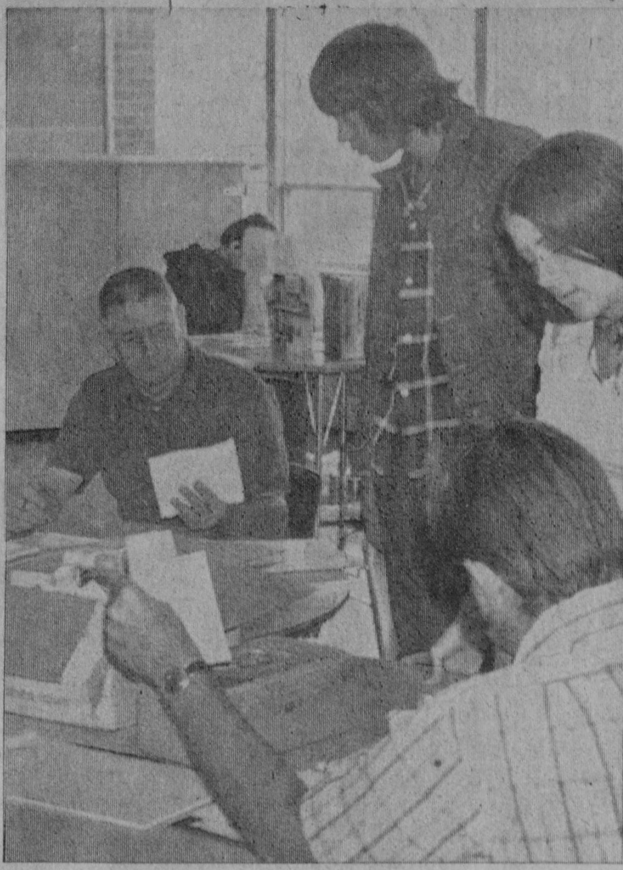

In terminating his contract, the former superintendent claims that the board of education had been malicious, that the board had commented in a derogatory manner about his professional competence and that charges leading to his release had been untrue.

At the close of proceedings Friday, counsel for the plaintiff indicated that one more witness would testify when the trial resumes.

Fire Emergency in North Woods

Forest fires in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan were brought under control Sunday, but not before a rash of blazes destroyed nearly 3,000 acres of timberland in the Huron National Forest south of Mio on Saturday. Gov. William G. Milliken has declared a fire emergency in all northern areas of the state, labeling the area as a virtual tinderbox.

The emergency order is to take effect at noon Wednesday (today). Dried vegetation along with a lack of rainfall, high winds and low humidities have combined to create the dangerously high forest fire hazard throughout most of the state.

In all, 33 Lower Peninsula and 15 Upper Peninsula counties are affected by the governor's order. The area north of a line through Bay, Midland, Isabella, Mecosta, Newaygo and Oceana Counties is covered under the governor's proclamation, which includes Iosco County.

It prohibits smoking except "at places of habitation, approved campgrounds or in vehicles traveling on highways and roads" and the burning of debris and campfires. The order makes it unlawful to throw matches, ashes or other burning materials, including tobacco, from vehicles.

Numerous forest fires were touched off Saturday in Huron National Forest in Oscoda County and 700 firefighters from 22 states were still battling a month-old fire in the Sene National Wildlife Refuge in the Upper Peninsula.

Most of the fires in the Huron only burned a few acres, but one south of Mio burned out of control for 15 hours and was responsible for the destruction of at least 1,500 acres. The smoke from the blaze could be seen for miles.

Several hundred volunteers from the surrounding area, including a number from Western Iosco County, joined federal and state firefighters. Citizens band radio operators from the Hale area assisted in directing firefighters to the scene.

Check Complaint at Lad's Padd

A complaint registered Monday night saw the Tawas City Council directing an investigation into operation of Lad's Padd by the sheriff's department. The department of health and liquor control commission were to have been notified.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said he was to confer with the sheriff's department Tuesday morning.

Eight Hurt in Motorbike-Auto Crashes

Eight persons were injured in motorbike crashes and a ninth person was injured in an automobile crash last week in Iosco County, according to the sheriff's department. All of the victims were treated at Tawas Hospital.

Stephen P. Anderson, 18, Parkersburg, West Virginia, was injured Thursday when he lost control of his motorbike on private property in Oscoda Township. Maxwell M. Erickson, 53, Flint, was injured when he lost control of his motorbike and crashed into a garage in Grant Township.

Michael T. Maher, 21, Tawas City, was injured when his motorbike overturned on Kirtland Road, Baldwin Township.

Tina Deroff, 18, was injured Sunday when she fell from a motorbike operated by Robert C. Bowman in Plainfield Township. Officers said that Bowman was attempting to climb a hill with his machine. William B. Lipka, 38, and Judy Lipka, 15, were injured Sunday in a crash with a car on M-65, Reno Township.

David T. Gibson, 18, East Tawas, was injured Sunday when he overturned on his motorbike while riding in a ditch along US-23, AuSable Township. Harry L. Lawrence, 36, was injured Saturday when his motorbike swerved into a car on M-65.

Donald C. Smith, 59, Pontiac, received minor injuries August 23 when he lost control of his automobile on Siegrest Road, Burlingh Township. The car went through a ditch and crashed into a fence.

A property damage accident Saturday night in front of the county building, Tawas City, was investigated by sheriff's department officers. A car driven by Ralph Meehler, 20, Honor, made a right hand turn into the city parking lot and was struck from the rear by an antique automobile operated by Neil Thornton, 48, Tawas City.

Sheriff Reinstates Dep. John Koenig

Sheriff George Westcott Thursday reinstated Deputy Sheriff John Koenig to his duties with the Iosco County Sheriff's Department. Koenig had been dismissed from his appointment the previous day.

In a prepared statement, Westcott said Tuesday that he had met with Koenig on August 27 and had been given the assurance by Deputy Koenig "that he would perform his sworn duties to the best of his abilities."

Koenig was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination of sheriff in the recent primary election, which was won by Westcott.

In reaching his decision, Westcott indicated that he had considered possible attorney costs to the county and litigation, plus assurances from Koenig "that he would not in any way disrupt the operation of the sheriff's department," as his reasons for returning the latter to his deputy status.

Council Approves Special Assessment Tax Roll; Award Excavation Contract

Approval of a tax roll establishing a special assessment district south of Tawas River bridge for sewer construction was given at a special meeting Monday night of the Tawas City Council.

By unanimous vote, the council deemed the assessments fair, just and equitable for the $16,105.38 project. Property owners in the district have a 15-year period in which to pay the assessments at interest rate of seven percent.

One objection was entered during the hearing. Truman Barbier, owner of a gasoline service station, told the council he had a pie-shaped piece of property which fronted only on Lake Street and not on Tawas Bay. For this reason, Barbier felt that assessments should be based on a square foot basis rather than on a front foot basis, as called for by city ordinance.

Councilmen pointed out that there were a number of pie-shaped pieces of property in other special assessment districts which had been assessed on a front foot basis. Mayor Herbert Cholger stated that the property was primarily for service business and that its value was based on US-23 (Lake Street) frontage.

The above project is one of three which are to be started in September. The council awarded a contract to Davison and Son Builders, Tawas City, which entered the low bid of $9,579 for excavation work in three different projects. The city crew is to install sewer and water mains and perform cleanup operations.

The order of priority of projects given by the city water board includes a water main from Ninth Avenue to Woodward and from US-23 on Michigan Avenue to Margot Street; the above special assessment sanitary sewer along the bay side of US-23 from Acapulco Cabins to Coho City Marina; Tenth Avenue sanitary sewer from Fourth Street to Dead Creek.

In other business, the council voted to table action by the park board on construction of a new fence across the outfield of the baseball diamond. This project had been approved two weeks ago by the park board, which had accepted a contract of $1,881.76 from Learned Fence Company for installing a galvanized steel fence. The project was to have been financed through federal revenue sharing money.

Several members of the council were of the opinion that the park board should make a complete study for future use of the baseball field on North Street. Although the fence had been planned for a number of years, it was felt that it may not fit into future recreational or other uses of the property.

A meeting is to be held Thursday, September 9, 7:30 p. m., by the zoning board of appeals to hear a request for a zoning variance to allow construction of the Jesse C. Hodder American Legion Post's proposed new building at the southwest corner of the baseball field.

At last Thursday night's meeting of the planning commission, a request had been submitted to change zoning of the property from residential to B-2 business. The planning commission believed that rezoning could develop into an undesirable situation for the neighborhood and recommended to the zoning board of appeals that a zoning variance be granted.

The city council two weeks ago authorized deeding a 90 by 180-foot parcel of land to the American Legion, with the provision that the property would revert back to the city at any time the organization was disbanded. City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz reported briefly on proposed new federal legislation which is designed to assist the construction industry during its current recession. He said he was to attend a meeting this week to learn if city storm sewer work would be eligible for 100 percent federal participation.

Regular sanitary sewer work is not eligible. He said that construction of a fire hall, library, city hall complex might also be eligible for full federal funding under this program.

The trial opened a week ago Monday and among those testifying were the plaintiff along with the defendant members of the board of education, William F. Blake Kutsche, William Brandt, Josephine Dilorotto, Richard Wheeler, Frank Bissonette Jr., Bruce Myles and Frieda Tamulevicz.

McMurray-Phelps Marriage Vows Solemnized August 28

In 4 o'clock rites Saturday, August 28, at Tawas United Methodist Church, the Rev. Kenneth Tousey and the Rev. Fr. Lawrence Boks officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting Janet Ann Phelps and Mark Alan McMurray in marriage. Mrs. Tris Coffin, flutist, was accompanied by Miss Joan Krueger, organist. Decorating the sanctuary were white gladioli and blue chrysanthemums with white bows on each pew.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Phelps of East Tawas. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McMurray of Tawas City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of sheer satin organza featuring full sleeves and a bodice trimmed with Venice lace and pearls. From the Empire bodice fell an A-line skirt decorated with bands of lace forming a pinafore effect which swept to a chapel train. To complete her attire, she chose a lace-veiled English illusion secured to a bonnet. Her bouquet was a cascade of white Stephanotis, white roses and blue babies breath.

Mrs. James Thunberg was matron of honor. Vickie Phelps, Sue Herman, Mrs. Paul Graham, Gail McMurray and Patricia McMurray were bridesmaids. They were attired in pale blue floor-length gowns with short sleeves and white lace trimming the neckline. Each attendant carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and blue baby chrysanthemums.

TOWNSHIP OF TAWAS CITY

INITIAL WORK has been completed on establishment of a nature area on city owned property north of Fourth Street in Tawas City. The area, which contains a number of red and white pine trees, was once known as the Glen along Dead Creek and later was turned into a refuse dump. Use of the site as a dumping ground was discontinued a number of years ago. Thomas Jacques, city forester, has developed a plan for the establishment of nature trails there as well as a start toward stabilizing creek banks for erosion control. All motorized vehicles are prohibited from entering the area and Jacques emphasizes that this prohibition is needed to insure stability of the soil. He urges cooperation from all residents.—Tawas Herald Photos.

Map by AAA

Covered bridges, paddleboats and state game areas highlight West Michigan's Grand River and its tributaries, the Thornapple, Flat and Maple rivers. M-21 follows the scenic Grand River from Muir to Ada and travels through Ionia, where one of the state's largest county fairs is held each August, and past Lowell, home of the famous showboat. Because of the many dams in Grand Rapids, canoeists and boaters are advised to have ground transportation between North Park and Grandville to complete the trip to Grand Haven State Park on Lake Michigan. A big attraction on the Thornapple is Chariton Park near Hastings in Barry County where a restored historical village is located. The Thornapple River is good for fishing and goes through wooded countryside and farmland most of its length. The Flat River between Smyrna and Lowell features two covered bridges dating back to the 1850s and a state game area. Paddlers on the Maple can see bountiful wildlife while traveling through that river's large game area.
