Sewer Project Nearly Finished

Paul Ropert in Final Month as East Tawas Superintendent

Entering his final month of service to the City of East Tawas is Paul Ropert, superintendent of public works since 1958. He retires effective December 31.

Ropert joined the department of public works 23 1/2 years ago after being employed for a number of years as a clerk at Nunn Hardware and 1 1/2 years of employment with Timco Corporation.

He was promoted to the position of assistant superintendent under the late Arthur E. Dillon and he recalls that one of the first big projects with which he was involved was construction of the water filtration plant in 1957.

He said Monday that he had never stopped to total the miles of water and sewer main construction, as well as new street construction, which has taken place at East Tawas since he became superintendent nearly 20 years ago.

The total figure would be substantial for many different projects have been undertaken during those years.

Included was the city hall in 1962, which replaced the old city hall constructed during the lumbering days. Drawing an old postcard picture of the former city hall out of his desk drawer, Ropert said the wood frame building was constructed at a cost of $2,500 and served the city for more than 70 years. "If it were still standing, it probably would be listed as an historic site and could not be removed," said Ropert.

The last big project under Ropert's supervision has been construction of the new sewer system to serve the Tawas Lake area, a development which has been in the planning stages since 1967, when the city completed construction of its secondary sewage treatment plant and additions to its collection system.

Contractor for this project is Gilliland Construction Company of Alpena. Included is 14,500 feet of gravity sewer main, 6,000 feet of

1976 Taxes Due Starting Today

Statements Total $6,365,472.38

Today is tax statement day in Iosco County. It is that time of year again when property owners begin paying annual taxes to operate schools, county and township governments, along with one municipality.

Annual "winter" taxes are due and payable with township or city treasurers on December 1 and property owners have until February 14 to pay their taxes without penalty. If taxes are not paid before February 15, a three percent penalty is added; if not paid before March 1, a penalty of four percent, plus three-quarters of one percent, is added to the total bill.

A collection fee of one percent is added to the total tax bill for work of the treasurer, according to state law. All units of the county will levy the same tax collection fee this year, following a one-year experiment by the City of Tawas City.

(Last year, this city waived the collection fee in lieu of adding the cost to the city's tax millage rate. This was done to collect additional federal revenue sharing money, but resulted in considerable confusion when the county was not notified and the collection fee was printed on the tax statements. The collection fee was returned by mail to each property owner. At the request of County Treas. Edward Nelkie, the city discontinued the experiment due to the confusion it caused for other townships.)

According to a report this week from the county treasurer's office and the county department of tax equalization, tax statements mailed to property owners this week by individual units totaled $6,365,472.38, as compared to $6,064,328.94 in 1975. Iosco County has a state equalized valuation of $295,469,137.

The 27,000 individual statements received from the firm which computes assessments for the county required more than 700 pounds of paper.

The allocated tax rate for Iosco County includes 4.50 mills for county operation, .20 of a mill voted this year for the commission on aging, .15 of a mill for debt retirement; the intermediate school receives 25 of a mill of allocated taxes and .75 of a mill voted taxes; each township receives one mill of allocated taxes; three of the four school districts received 9.25 mills of allocated taxes, while Whittemore-Prescott Area's allocation was pegged at 9.50 mills.

Five townships have additional voted millages and special assessment districts are located in five townships. Those townships with special voted millages include: Alabaster, .75 for fire protection and .75 for land fill; AuSable, 1.70 for fire protection, 1.70 for police protection and 1.20 for street lights; Baldwin, one mill for fire protection; Plainfield, one mill for roads; Wilber, one mill for roads.

Oscoda, a charter township, levies four mills for operation and the City of Whittemore has a levy of eight mills for operation. Tawas City and East Tawas operational taxes are assessed separately during the summer and are not included on this tax statement.

Special taxes voted by school districts are as follows: Tawas Area, 12 mills for operation and .50 for debt retirement; Oscoda Area, 10.30 mills for operation and .50 for debt retirement; Hale Area, 14.75 mills for operation and four mills for debt retirement; Whittemore-Prescott Area, 13.50 mills for operation and two mills for debt retirement.

Taxes to be collected in each unit are as follows:

- Alabaster, $312,864.20, tax rate of 30.10 mills; AuSable, $520,849.61, tax rate of 31.50 mills; Baldwin, $521,903.34, tax rate of 29.60 mills; Burleigh, $140,066.22, tax rate of 31.85 mills; Grant, $376,613.32, tax rate of 28.60 mills for property in Tawas Area School District and 34.85 mills for property in Hale Area School District;
- Oscoda, $1,837,870.52, tax rate of 30.90 mills; Plainfield, $1,117,098.87, tax rate of 35.85 mills; Reno Township, $134,947.04, tax rate of 34.85 mills for property in Hale Area School District and 31.85 mills for property in Whittemore-Prescott Area School District;
- Sherman, $161,706.97, tax rate of 31.85 mills for property in Whittemore-Prescott Area School District and 28.60 mills for property in Tawas Area School District;
- Tawas, $220,497.94, tax rate of 28.60; Wilber Township, $175,490.37, tax rate of 29.60 mills for property in Tawas Area School

East Tawas, $464,476.45, and Tawas City, $320,280.74. Each city has a levy of 27.60 mills in winter taxes. Not included with this statement is 14.50 mills for city operation at East Tawas and 15.35 mills for city operation at Tawas City, bringing East Tawas' total tax rate to 42.10 mills and Tawas City's rate to 42.95 mills.

East Tawas Makes Application for Matching Funds on Park

Final application for matching funds administered by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

Included would be construction of a softball field, two tennis courts, an entry road and parking. To be located on city property northeast of the disposal plant, plans call for additional recreational facilities when funds permit in the future.

Soper said Monday that the DNR had given a high priority to this project and he assumes it will receive final approval shortly.

In other business at last week's meeting of the city council, City Supt. Paul Ropert reported that the initial project would be $82,000, of which $41,000 would be the city's share and $41,000 would come from the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

He also reported receipt of $6,800 in Title II funding and $10,500 in federal water pollution act funds which completes 78 percent of the funding for which the city is eligible toward cost of its sewer collection and treatment system.

It was agreed by the city council that parking meters would remain on Newman Street under relaxed enforcement procedures and the cooperation of local businessmen and their employees is sought in order to avoid abuse of the more lenient system, as well as to demonstrate the approach is workable.

It was further agreed by the council that a record of habitual offenders would be maintained as a reference in future considerations.

Baby It's Cold Outside!

Northeastern Michigan and Iosco County were spared the snowstorm which hit the northern Lower Peninsula Sunday, but shared in the sudden cold snap which drove temperatures to the zero mark in many parts of the state. Thermometers dipped to two above in the Tawas area at around 7:00 a. m. Monday.

According to unofficial records, it was the coldest November 29 since 1950 and local residents, recalling news stories earlier in the fall, now believe it is true that woolly caterpillars were preparing then for a long, cold winter.

The cold weather caused no serious problems, except for "headaches" to homeowners, who were experiencing mounting heating bills. The same cold weather held its course Tuesday.

Free Wood Can Help Beat Heating Cost This Winter

From all reports, a long, hard winter is in store for Northern Michigan. With escalating prices for natural gas, electricity and fuel oil, many are beginning to turn to the "forgotten" fuel, wood, to ease the economic burden.

In the north country, wood is plentiful and relatively cheap to the point of being free for the asking. In areas where there are commercial timber sales, the slash is often available free to the public with a permit from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources or United States Forest Service district office.

There is a certain amount of labor involved: The firewood is not cut and stacked in the woods to be picked up as it is sometimes assumed. However, armed with a light chainsaw or bucksaw, a good axe and a means to haul the wood, a winter's supply can readily be had.

Available wood can be any of several types, depending on the type of fire desired. The average cord of wood is equal to 175 gallons of fuel oil for the amount of heat produced.

Hard maple, beech and oak are equivalent to about 300 gallons, while aspen, basswood and pine are equivalent to 125 gallons or less. Dried or cured wood yields about 25 percent more heat than the same wood freshly cut.

The softwoods, evergreens and tamarack, should be used primarily as kindling. Not only do they burn rapidly giving up only half the heat of hardwoods, but prolonged use may increase the chance for chimney fires. This is due to the fact that the wood throws out a lot of sparks while burning.

Volunteer fire departments have noted that calls due to chimney fires have increased dramatically in recent months as the direct result of the increase in the use of wood and a great number of people have been burning green wood regularly, a contributing factor in chimney fires.

It is recommended that stove-pipes and flues be cleaned and inspected at least yearly, preferably twice a year. Worn and rusted pipes should be replaced and the flue should be carefully examined for cracks. Chimney fires have a way of shooting through cracks in the masonry setting fire to the interior of a house.

Green wood tends to coat the flue with creosote and soot which may catch fire. The solution is to allow the wood to air dry for about one year before burning.

Final Swine Flu Clinic Set Sunday

More than 7,000 swine flu inoculations have been given by District Health Department No. 2 since early November and the last scheduled mass clinic is to be held Sunday, December 5, 1:00 to 6:00 p. m., at Tawas United Methodist Church. (Note change of time from calendar announcement.)

The clinic is open to anyone 18 years of age and older, including senior citizens. Enough vaccine is available so no one will be turned away.

This vaccine is safe and is 90 percent effective, according to the health department. Reactions to the vaccine have been few and have been minor.

With the recent discovery of a confirmed case of swine influenza in Missouri, the health department states it is more important than ever to inoculate the majority of the population. This is the only way to prevent an influenza epidemic as well as to protect individuals.

If one is unable to obtain an inoculation at this time, make up clinics are being planned. Further information will be given to the news media as plans are developed or this information may be secured from the local health department office at Oscoda.

Plan Tax Meetings at Reno Hall

By KENNETH KERNSTOCK
Isosco County Agent

Find out how the new tax laws have changed your tax obligations. Tax management tips for farmers and the new Michigan Single Business Tax will be the topics for discussion at an informative meeting sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Effective January 1, 1977, Michigan farmers as well as all other businesses in Michigan are faced with a new tax, the Single Business Tax. This tax is based upon business activity rather than business profits. A Single Business Tax return must be filed by any individual or business that has gross receipts exceeding $34,000.

The meetings will be held in Standish on Wednesday, December 8, from 1:00-3:00 p. m. and at the Reno Township Hall (one mile north of the M-55 and M-65 intersection) on Thursday, December 16, from 1:00-3:00 p. m.

More information about these meetings may be obtained by contacting the Isosco County Cooperative Extension Service Office, 362-3449, or the Arenac office, 846-4111.

Holiday Job? Apply for Social Security Number without Delay

Some employers won't hire people unless they have a social security number so students and others planning to get holiday jobs should apply for a number without delay if they don't already have one, according to social security officials here.

"When you don't recall having had a social security number before," a spokesman said, "your application is screened against central files in Baltimore to make sure a second number isn't issued to you—and screening takes time.

"You should apply for your social security number at least several weeks before you need it for a job," he said. "You can get information about applying by calling or writing any social security office."

People build disability, survivors, retirement, and Medicare protection by work and earnings credited to their social security number. Workers get credit if they're paid $50 or more in a 3-month calendar quarter for work covered by social security.

More than nine out of 10 jobs are covered by social security. "Your social security number is yours alone and remains the same for life," the spokesman said. "When you get a job covered by social security, be sure your employer copies your name and number correctly from your social security card to his record."

People applying for a social security number for the first time may be asked to prove their age, identity, and citizenship, he said.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

questions and answers

Q. I'm 68 and have a chance to earn about $600 in December as a department store Santa. But since I already earned $2,400 the first 6 months of 1976, how would this second job affect my social security benefits?

A. You can earn as much as $2,760 for 1976 and still get your full social security benefit. Over $2,760, $1 in benefits is deducted for each $2 earned. If you took the Santa job, your earnings for the year would be $3,000, and the deduction from your social security benefits would be $120 (half of your earnings over $2,760).

Q. I retired from a State government job at 55 and have been paying income tax on my pension ever since I got back what I paid into the pension fund. Now I'm 62 and will soon be applying for social security. When do I start paying income tax on social security benefits?

A. Social security benefits are tax-free.

Q. I'm getting SSI and may move in with a nephew. Will this affect my payments?

A. Supplemental security income (SSI) payments may be affected by a change in living arrangements. Check with a social security office if you decide to move.

Q. My three young children and I have been getting social security survivors benefits since my husband died 3 years ago. Would the checks stop if I remarried?

A. The children's benefits would continue, but you would no longer be eligible for payments on your late husband's record. However, total family payments would remain unchanged since the maximum amount payable is the same for three beneficiaries as it is for more than three.

Q. I just quit a job after 8 years and learned that the private pension plan I was under will never pay me any benefits because at least 10 years was needed to be "vested." I also paid into social security on that job. Have I lost this protection, too?

A. No. Social security is portable. You carry social security work and earnings credit from job to job. Since most employment and self-employment is covered by social security, workers and their families have continuous protection. All credits count toward future benefits.

Cards Won Over Hale Eagles, 66-54

By DORNACE BELLVILLE

Whitemore - Prescott Area Cardinals won their second game of the new basketball season Friday night at Hale, 66-54. The Cards squeaked by AuGres in the opener November 23, 50-49.

Larry Burns, the new W-P coach, was happy with the two straight victories. The Cards have not won more than two games in a season for many years.

The Eagles-Card game was a close one for the first quarter with Hale getting the first point, then leading again, 6-4. At the quarter mark, the Cards were ahead, 20-17. The Eagles went ahead, 25-24, early in the second quarter, but eight straight points put the Cards in the driver's seat, 32-26, at the half.

Hale fell further behind in the third quarter and was trailing, 63-39,—with four minutes to go in the game when Coaches Burns and Dale Purkey started wholesale substitutions. The Eagles scored the last 11 points in the game to cut the Cards' winning margin down to 12 points.

The teams were evenly matched for height, but the Cards had better control under the boards and had very few turn overs to make the difference. The Cards and Eagles both will have trouble competing against taller teams and will have to rely on speed, good shooting and defense to make up the difference.

Ken Horn was the game's top scorer with 22 points on nine field goals and four free throws for the Cards. Keith Dupuis was next with 17 points and Gene Phelps contributed 11. Tom Bush led the Eagles with 13 points followed by Rick Weaver's 12 points.

Hale Junior Varsity walked off with a lopsided 61-25 win. Troy Matthews was scoring leader with 12 points.

The Cards' opening victory with AuGres was a close one from start to finish. Mark Rosemeck led the winners with 18 points and Eugene Kaufman was right behind with 17 points for the losers.

The Cards take to the road for the next two games, November 30 at Roscommon and December 7 at Alcona before playing their next home game with Pinconning on December 17.

Road Commission Files $400,000 Suit

A $400,000 suit was filed last week in Iosco County Circuit Court in which the county road commission seeks payment for road construction from the developers of Lakewood Shores Subdivision north of Oscoda.

Named defendants in the suit were Conel Development, Westinghouse Credit Corporation and Teramar-Michigan Corporation.

Joining the road commission as plaintiff was Aetna Casualty and Surety Company, which provided surety bond guarantees in the name of Conel Development.

When the developer failed, refused and neglected to complete roads designated in a plat approved in 1967, Aetna paid $38,400 to the road commission under the performance bond.

The road commission claims that actual cost of the road construction was $350,000.

MATTHEW A. PFEIFFER

Retired City Foreman Dies; Funeral Thurs.

Matthew A. Pfeiffer, 82, retired foreman of the Tawas City Department of Public Works, died Monday, November 29, at his home. He had been in ill health for a number of years.

Funeral services are to be conducted Thursday, December 2, 11:00 a. m., from Immaculate Heart of Mary Church with the Rev. Fr. Lawrence Boks officiating. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

A rosary service is to be held Wednesday, 8:00 p. m., at the Jacques and Kobs Funeral Home, West Chapel, Tawas City.

He was born January 10, 1894, in Tawas City and was a veteran of World War I.

Pfeiffer became an employee of the City of Tawas City in 1935 and served as crew foreman from 1942 to his retirement on March 1, 1963. One of his first jobs was to assist the late Frank Miller, city superintendent, to clear snow and slush from Lake Street using a horse drawn scraper.

Having started his employment with the city when the sanitary sewer system was constructed during WPA days, he learned his foreman's job from the ground up. For years, Pfeiffer was the only person in the city who knew the location of every sewer and water connection. He was the city's trouble-shooter during electrical storms and often stayed at his post for hours to keep water and sewer pumping stations operating—a fact few people realized until something went wrong and water began to back up into basements.

Among his various jobs, he served as city marshal for several years and directed the WPA athletic program during the 1930s.

He is survived by his wife, Minnie; two sons, Harold and Richard Pfeiffer of Tawas City; three daughters, Lois Stevens of Costa Mesa, California, Evelyn Burnette of Oscoda and Arlene Nelkie of Tawas City; 13 grandchildren, and seven great grandchildren.

DART Bus Decision Due from County

A decision on an expanded DART transportation system in this county is to be made today by the county board of commissioners.

Proposed by Trio Council on Aging, the expanded system would add four buses to the present two-bus system and would serve the entire county.

The system would include a 21-passenger bus, two 15-passenger buses, two nine-passenger buses and an eight-passenger bus.

First year of operation would cost $227,700, of which $203,000 would be reimbursed by the state department of transportation. The remainder would come from an estimated $23,700 in fares and an allocation of $1,000 from the county.

Grievance on Seniority to be Heard

A meeting is to be held Thursday between the county board of commissioners and the Teamsters Union regarding a grievance filed by the county animal control officer.

Recently, the county board of commissioners authorized rehiring of Deputy Chester Wilson, who had been granted a leave of absence from the sheriff's department for 90 days.

Charles Lindeman, animal control officer, maintains in his grievance that rehiring of Wilson would affect his seniority classification in the sheriff's department. The meeting is to decide if department seniority or classification seniority is invalidated.

Rehiring of Wilson was requested by the union and was granted by the board of commissioners with the understanding that no grievance would be filed by the union should any problem arise over seniority.

TRAFFIC WAS STALLED ON US-23 for about an hour November 23 and rerouted over Court Street when this house was moved through the M-55 intersection. The house, formerly owned by the late George Leslie and located next to Tawas Hardware on North Street, was purchased by Carl Cross and moved to a new location east of M-55. The mover and a Consumers Power Company crew had to remove a stop light temporarily while the house traveled through the US-23-M-55 intersection. Its former location is to become part of the hardware's parking lot.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Man's allotted time on earth covers but a relatively brief instant when the history of civilization is considered; some leave footprints so deeply imbedded in the sands of time that their works are recalled long after they have passed from this life.

Before the footprints left by Carl E. Schmidt are eroded by time, the story of this internationally known industrialist, conservationist and a man truly of public affairs in Northeastern Michigan should be briefly recalled.

Schmidt, multi-millionaire owner of Serradella farm near Oscoda, died of a heart attack in December 1934, at his home, "Walhalla," on Cedar Lake. He had done more toward the resort development in this section of Michigan than any other individual.

Born at Detroit on December 31, 1857, he was the son of a tanner, who set up business there after the expulsion of "Liberals" from Germany in 1848. As a young man, he went through the schools of Detroit and on to a scientific course at the University of Jena in Germany.

Returning to this country, he built up the parental business by introducing improvements in tanning and subsequently became an extremely wealthy man.

Said to be a friend and confidant of Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany prior to the United States' entry into World War I, Schmidt later became a leader in this country's war effort.

Schmidt served as police commissioner of Detroit under Mayor Hazen S. Pingree and later was appointed by Gov. Fred Warner to a land commission which formulated the law which led to the establishment of state forests. Through his foresight, he was also largely responsible in the action taken by the state toward the preservation of state rights in oil, gas and mineral resources.

In 1904, Schmidt's interests turned to buying lands in Northeastern Michigan and he moved permanently to his home on Cedar Lake in 1917.

His Serradella farm northeast of Oscoda was one of the chief interests of his later life and, for 20 years, this 10,000-acre farm was watched with national interest on account of its experimental research for profitable crops that would grow on cutover sand land.

Establishing his farm in 1909, hundreds of experiments were made with crops and the development of methods in building up the fertility of the soil. His curiosity to learn what Michigan land would and would not grow led to development of methods of building up land through plowing under of green crops of legumes every third year.

During this period, one of the finest dairy herds in the United States was established at Serradella farm, which had the latest equipment for its time and hundreds of people from all over the United States and many foreign lands visited it each year.

Many of the practices developed on this farm were adopted by Michigan Agricultural College (now Michigan State University), incorporated into its instructional program and are still in use today.

In January 1929, the Herald reported that the Serradella farm herd of 109 head of Holstein cattle had received its eighth successive certification under tuberculin testing. Dr. W. E. Coomer of Bay City expressed his admiration of the health conditions of the herd and the sanitary surroundings that were provided.

"The herd is maintained free of any contagious or infectious disease in a state of high production, of best quality products, as well as the best type of stock for decimation to improve the average production and type of the dairy herds throughout the country," stated the article. "Serradella farm has been shipping breeding stock to as far west as Kansas and Nebraska and east to New Jersey and Vermont."

Milk from this healthy herd was shipped to Saginaw and Bay City especially for infant feeding; it supplied milk to all school children of Bay City, as well as the Greenbush Inn and other summer resorts. Inquiries for Serradella farm bred stock came in from all states of the Union, Canada and South America.

An outing by Alcona, Iosco, Arenac and Alpena dairy farmers was held annually at the farm. In 1927, farmers attending the outing had the opportunity to inspect the different buildings, machinery and fields, followed by lunch at the Serradella clubhouse.

In the afternoon, a parade by Serradella celebrities was headed by the farm's prize Percheron stallion, "Orby Boy," followed by a group of cows, including "Doreess Canary Rag Apple," a prize winning Holstein.

Experiments in cross-breeding saw Schmidt purchasing several American bison (buffalo) in an attempt to develop meat producing animals. The bison proved to be a star attraction at the farm, but attempts to develop a cross-breed proved unsuccessful.

Many labor saving devices in farm practices were first developed at Serradella, one of which consisted of a plow guided by cables and operated from a central power plant. The device proved practical at Serradella, but not elsewhere.

Schmidt scoured the United States and Europe for experts in animal husbandry and brought many of them to his farming operation near Oscoda. A small community grew at the farm, which even had its own one-room school and a teacher for eight grades.

Over the years, Schmidt acquired considerable frontage along Lake Huron in Iosco and Alcona Counties, which led to his development of the Greenbush Inn as one of the region's first resort centers.

Plans for US-23 as the Huron Shore Route saw Schmidt donating land in 1930 as the right-of-way for this scenic roadway. This new highway gave the opportunity for development of overnight cabin businesses all along the shore. Both sides of the highway were soon built up with a continuous row of summer homes.

Greenbush Golf Course was constructed by Schmidt in 1929-30 and it is said that he imported much of the materials used in its construction from Germany, even down to the black dirt used in greens.

Schmidt's interest in the Greenbush Inn saw development of a winter sports area bordering Cedar Lake with facilities for skiing, tobogganing, ice skating, ice boating and skating. The winter resort, according to The Detroit Free Press in 1928, was comparable to St. Moritz, "most fashionable of all Swiss Alpine winter playgrounds." (After Schmidt's death, the toboggans were purchased for use at Silver Valley.)

Hans A. Boehme, manager of the inn, was internationally known in winter sports, having taken numerous prizes in European contests in 1909, 1910 and 1911.

"It is a combination of wilderness and modernity," said the Free Press. "Here is constant undeviating snow on the one hand; a 150-room modern inn on the other, with billiard room and fireplace when the last toboggan zips down one of the four runways, each a mile in length."

Schmidt was the driving force behind all of these enterprises and, (See SCHMIDT, page 6.)

Iosco County Gets $49,503 Federal Check

Iosco County has received $49,503 from the Federal Office of Revenue Sharing as antirecession funds. A temporary program under Title II of the public works act, the money is payable quarterly for a maximum of five calendar quarters and payments will vary in amounts.

The first payment was retroactive to July 1. The rate of unemployment, as computed by the United States Department of Labor, determined whether or not a unit of government is eligible to receive the money.

The money is to be used by units of government to maintain basic services. Use of funds to acquire supplies and equipment is specifically prohibited, unless such expenditures are incidental and necessary to the continued provision of a basic service. Use of funds for construction is limited to structural repairs and renovations necessary to maintain basic services.

COOR District Seeks Persons for Training

COOR Intermediate School District will be selecting eligible individuals in the nine counties comprising region 7B for winter enrollment in vocational training programs leading to employment.

Individuals eligible for consideration must be either unemployed or economically disadvantaged (poverty level income or receiving welfare payments).

Selection preference will be given to eligible individuals who are heads of households and lack financial resources from other sources to cover the cost of vocational training.

Individuals selected for the program may attend vocational training classes at any approved vocational training institution in Michigan. This includes private schools as well as community colleges.

COOR will utilize CETA funds to supplement other sources of available assistance to cover the cost of training, tuition, fees, books and required tools and supplies. Individuals selected may also receive a weekly allowance and travel expense. The type and amount of assistance will be determined through an assessment of each client's resources and needs.

Individuals qualifying for this program should contact James Cousineau at COOR Intermediate School District, telephone 517 275-5138. In addition, Cousineau will be available to interview applicants at the Iosco County CETA office, Tawas City, on December 8 and 15, as well as January 5. Hours will be from 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

Bill Would Permit Extra Time at Wheel

A bill sponsored by State Rep. Ernest W. Nash that would give student drivers more time to practice has passed the Michigan House of Representatives and is now being considered by the senate.

The bill's major provision would permit a student enrolled in a driver education program approved by the department of education to drive without a license or permit as long as the student was under the direct supervision of the instructor.

It also extends the period of the temporary instruction permit and the motorcycle learner's permit from the present 60 days, with a 90-day renewal possibility, to 150 days.

These permits would allow the young driver to operate a vehicle when accompanied by a licensed parent or guardian. If the parent or guardian is not licensed, the student could drive with another licensed adult as long as the parent or guardian is also a passenger in the vehicle.

The bill would take care of several problems, one being that a student who has completed driver education, but is not yet 16 years of age, could continue to drive with a learner's permit enabling that student to keep practicing what he has learned.

Under present law, if the permit expires between the time the student completes driver education and his 16th birthday, he cannot drive.

Nash said he expects quick action by the senate so the bill can be signed into law before the end of the year.

Whittemore Fire Fighters Attend Special Classes

Clifford Burkholder and two other members of the Whittemore Fire Department recently completed a special two-day fire apparatus course at the FMC Corporation's operation and maintenance school, Tipton, Indiana.

Accompanying the fire chief were Karl W. Bowsby, assistant fire chief, and William L. Biggs, fireman.

According to Wayne Stetler, operations and maintenance school instructor, certificates were awarded based on actual classroom work and field exercises covering basic and advanced apparatus operation and maintenance.

The department also provides fire protection for Burleigh and Reno Townships.

REVOLUTIONARY investment

It's been 200 years since Americans were first asked to take stock in America. And take stock they did. Our brand-new citizens invested over $27,000,000 in their new country's fight for freedom. And it sure paid off. Today, over 9 1/2 million modern Americans invest in their future as well as their country by buying U.S. Savings Bonds. Bonds are safe, dependable, and profitable. And when you join the Payroll Savings Plan, saving becomes automatically regular, too. So buy U.S. Savings Bonds. They're a revolutionary way to save.

Now U.S. Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. *Tax needed. Bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Researchers Link Alcoholism During Pregnancy to Birth Defects

by Kenneth L. Jones, M.D.
Assistant Professor of Pediatrics
University of California San Diego, California and David W. Smith, M.D.
Professor of Pediatrics
University of Washington School of Medicine
Seattle, Washington

Suspicion that alcoholism during pregnancy harms the unborn child goes back a long way. Surprisingly, evidence linking alcoholism and birth defects did not come to light until about four years ago.

At a March of Dimes-sponsored conference on birth defects in 1973, we described eight children who had come to our attention because of strikingly similar abnormalities. In each case, we found that the mother had been a heavy drinker during pregnancy.

Since then we have published studies of 41 children with a pattern of birth defects apparently caused by their mothers' alcoholism. The findings are not yet well known outside of medical circles, despite the fact that alcoholism is a disorder of epidemic proportions and its effect on unborn babies appears to be a serious public health problem.

While the affected infants are not exactly alike, they have much in common. Almost all the infants are underweight at birth, have abnormally small heads, and are retarded in physical and mental development.

Symptoms

Most have poor coordination, narrow eye slits, and underdevelopment of the mid-face. Many of these youngsters look more like each other than like their parents or siblings. About half have heart defects and more than a quarter have birthmarks and joint defects. This pattern of defects is ONLY IN THE PAST four years have researchers recognized a link between heavy drinking and birth defects. Now they have found that up to 40 percent of babies born to women who are chronic alcoholics during pregnancy may have abnormalities that comprise "fetal alcohol syndrome."

called "fetal alcohol syndrome." To date, there is no evidence that these children catch up with normal youngsters mentally or physically.

An obvious question is whether this pattern occurs only in children of the alcoholic poor, and so might result from malnourishment or contaminants of cheap liquor. The answer is no.

We have seen the pattern in offspring of alcoholic mothers of all socio-economic levels, and conclude that the effects are directly traced to alcohol or its breakdown products in the body. There is ample proof that alcohol passes through the placenta into the unborn baby's tissues. There have even been reports of babies born with alcohol "on the breath" and blood levels in the range of medically defined intoxication.

Dr. Widukind Lenz of Munster, West Germany, the physician who first reported a connection between birth defects and thalidomide, has called attention to a 1968 study by Dr. Pierre Lemoine of 127 children of chronic alcoholics in Nantes, France, who had the same pattern of birth defects that we have observed. Now that the pattern is known, reports from other doctors are accumulating.

Further Studies

Research supported by The National Foundation-March of Dimes seeks answers to questions about the number and severity of alcohol-related birth defects. We now know what to look for in the way of symptoms, and animal studies are a step toward measuring the extent of the problem.

The soundest advice for any woman who drinks very regularly and heavily is to avoid childbearing. One who thinks she is on a borderline between alcoholism and just drinking too much and too often, should cut down sharply on alcohol—particularly during pregnancy.

Council Wants Discussion on Industrial Appraisal Methods

Following lengthy discussion at its November 22 meeting, Tawas City Council has requested a joint meeting with representatives of Gem Survey, the county tax equalization director and city assessor to discuss appraisals and tax assessments for industrial property within the city.

Appearing before the council was former mayor, John N. Brugger, who believed that industrial property was over assessed for tax purposes and offered what he believed to be proof of that opinion.

The former mayor pointed out that considerable effort had been made in the past to attract industry to the community and industrial development efforts were still being made on an areawide basis. He believed that industry should pay its fair share of taxes, but stressed that city officials should make certain that such property was not over assessed.

Arrangements have been made to hold a work session in early December concerning the matter and full information on appraisals and assessments is to be presented. Gem Survey, the county tax equalization director and city assessor have been asked to make individual reviews of industrial appraisals.

In other business, the council received a petition asking removal of stop signs on Bay Drive. The matter has been turned over to the sheriff's department for its recommendation.

Two months ago, the council authorized the department of public works to install two stop signs on Bay Drive as a means of reducing the speed of automobile traffic in that residential area. The council ruled out the suggested use of "speed bumps" as a means of slowing traffic and considered installation of stop signs to be a more practical measure.

One stop sign was installed at an intersection, but the second sign was installed in the middle of the next "block"—first in front of the residence of Councilman Robert Rollin, only later removed and re-installed at the Thomas drive-way—due to the length of the remaining portion of the street before the east intersection with US-23 is reached.

A number of persons signing the petition opposing the stop signs were not residents of the city, but owned property in Alabaster Township west of Townline Road and use Bay Drive to reach US-23.

Councilman Jerry Cotter and James Lansky, both residents of Bay Drive, expressed the opinion that serious consideration should be given by the council before the stop signs are removed and recommended that a study be made by the sheriff's department.

A second petition was submitted by about 20 residents of the Ninth Avenue, Fourth Street and Tenth Avenue opposing a proposed snowmobile route through the city in that area.

Maintaining such a route for the convenience of visitors to the area was proposed by Tawas Area Winter and Summer (TAWAS), an organization of motel owners and other business firms.

Submitted by Mrs. Jeryl Clements, the petition opposed the route because of snowmobile engine noise, traffic safety and inconvenience to motorists. The petition also objected to the suggestion that city snowplows not operate on one edge of Ninth Avenue and Fourth Street in order to provide a base for the snowmobile route.

It was felt by the petitioners that leaving a portion of the road unplowed would provide a dangerous situation for motorists as deep ditches are located on both sides of Ninth Avenue.

An alternate route was suggested during the meeting whereby the proposed snowmobile route could turn west off Ninth Avenue onto Sixth Avenue and extend along the city's industrial park to either Tenth or Eleventh Avenues, then turn north to Fourth Street.

A second alternative suggested was that the proposed snowmobile route extend west on Sixth Street to the Consumers Power Company right-of-way and then turn north to Meadow Road. Permission from the power company would be required.

The matter was taken under advisement by the council.

Federal Grant to Oscoda for Sewage Line Plans

A federal grant to help Oscoda Township draw up plans for the extension of its sewage intake lines has been approved by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Cong. Philip E. Ruppe announced Friday.

Ruppe said that the EPA has awarded a $35,025 grant to the Osco County township to prepare plans for the sewage line extension project.

According to EPA and local officials, the existing sewage treatment plant is more than adequate to handle the increased flow which will occur after the line extension project is complete.

Schmidt

following his death in 1934, others were unable to follow his ground-breaking efforts.

"As long as Schmidt lived, so did Serradella in grand fashion," stated the Herald in 1941, when many of the farm buildings were dismantled. "But his death in 1934 brought serious change; other men tried to run the place, but none were able to make it pay. Of late, it has stood there somewhat as a lonely monument to the man whose money, genius and intelligence did so much for the development of this entire area. Now the bulk of the physical property is to be taken down, once again clearing a lot of the acreage Schmidt alone could operate successfully."

Schmidt's 25-room mansion on Cedar Lake, which was connected to shore by a tree-lined causeway, was destroyed by fire in March 1953. His Greenbush Inn was destroyed by fire in 1968.

His last remaining monuments are the Huron Shore Road, the resort industry which he pioneered and dairy industry methods which were developed at Serradella farm.

As a crowning blow, the records of Schmidt's lifetime, stored in a vault in the basement of the old bank building at Oscoda, were destroyed a number of years ago when the building was cleaned out and rented to a treasure hunting enterprise. This removed the possibility of a future biography concerning one who was so important to this region's history; the value of his correspondence simply was not realized at the time.

MAKING HAY at Serradella Farm saw two mowing machines, a hay rake and two hay wagons at work in this field. The farm apparently did not have a hay baling machine when this picture was snapped in the 1920s. The farm introduced the practice of plowing legumes under every three years to improve the sandy soil near Oscoda. Pictures used in this featurette were furnished by John Hendrickson of Hale.

SERRADELLA FARM prided itself for its high quality milk sold in the Bay City and Saginaw area. Workers in the dairy barns, dressed in spotless white uniforms, pose here with milking equipment.

A PARADE OF FARM implements, draft horses and dairy cows was held at the Serradella Farm for visiting dairy farmers of the region. The farm had outstanding equipment in the 1920s and a number of innovations in farm practices were developed there.

A half-pound of ours makes as much as two pounds of theirs.

An 8-oz. jar of Taster's Choice® Freeze-Dried Coffee makes 120 (6-oz.) cups of coffee. That's as much coffee as you'd get from two pounds of ground roast (following recommended serving directions of the leading national brands).

And since you make Taster's Choice by the cup, you never end up throwing half a pot down the drain. So the next time you're comparing who gives you what for your money, remember: It's not how much it costs a pound. It's how little it costs a cup.

(And looking at it that way, 50 cents off is a lot of cups on us.)
