

No Support on Skill Center by Tawas Board

A $2,132,000 skill center being proposed by Iosco Intermediate School District has been stalled for the time being according to action taken at a special meeting Monday night.

In answer to a question posed to each K-12 school district in the county, representatives of Tawas Area School District said they could not support a county-wide vote on a skill center at this time.

Representatives of the county's three other school districts, Hale

Area, Whittemore-Prescott Area and Oscoda Area, all indicated they supported such a vote in September.

Tawas Area School's answer was the same given two months ago, when members of the board of education noted that their first obligation was to eliminating the need for a split session in that district and that a bond proposal was to be offered to voters to construct needed classrooms to eliminate half-day sessions for students.

Start Overseas Corn Shipments

Five railroad hopper cars loaded with 10,000 bushels of corn were shipped via the Detroit and Mackinac Railway last week by the Mackinac Land and Cattle Company.

This shipment, requiring five covered hopper cars, was the first of an order for 60,000 bushels of corn destined for an overseas consignment. Another 25 cars are expected to be loaded with corn during the next month at Huron Building Supplies Company's yard in Tawas City for export overseas.

All of the corn was grown on Mackinac Land and Cattle Company property in Western Iosco and Eastern Ogemaw County.

Charles Pinkerton III of Mackinac Land and Cattle Company said Wednesday that, as far as he knows, this is the first overseas shipment of grain originating from this region.

"This is entirely a new venture for us in this field, but it holds a great deal of promise for development in the future," said Pinkerton. "We are now studying the possibility of selling our wheat to overseas sources."

Michigan's growing season in 1975 was excellent and the firm had 1,600 acres in corn and 600 acres of wheat.

The world grain market depends heavily on American producers and it is anticipated that this initial shipment may be the start of an expanding market for locally grown grains.

The railroad is now looking into the possibility of purchasing special hopper cars designed for the exclusive shipment of grain. Cars used last week normally transported shipments of cement, but were utilized for grain after a thorough cleaning at the Tawas shop of the D&M.

A temporary loading arrangement was developed at the yard using an auger type conveyor to fill the cars.

After harvest of the corn last fall, it was dried and stored in silos at MLCC's farm west of Whittemore in Burleigh Township. The grain was transported to Tawas City by large trucks with dump boxes.

Each carload of corn was inspected by federal authorities and cars were sealed for export.

TA Voters to Decide Bond Proposal

Board Approves March 29 Vote

A special election is to be held Monday, March 29, seeking approval of Tawas Area School District voters on a $2,060,000 bond proposal to finance construction of proposed additions to the school building on M-55.

This action, along with adoption of a resolution approving an application with the state department of public instruction for preliminary qualification of bonds, was taken Monday night by the board of education.

Additional action by the board saw approval of a contract with Construction Coordinators, Incorporated, Detroit, to provide construction management service in the event the proposal is adopted by voters.

This proposal being offered voters, the result of considerable study by the school administration, staff members and the board of education, is designed to eliminate the need for the split session arrangement for high school-middle school grades, as well as to provide some much needed classroom improvements.

Dr. Robert A. Halle, school superintendent, said one or two questions had been raised in the past several weeks during discussion and planning for the proposed addition. The question heard most often was, he said: "Why don't we tear down the present East Tawas Elementary School and replace it with a new building, along with adding rooms to the Tawas City Unit, so all middle school and elementary grades can be housed in these two buildings, leaving the building on M-55 for the high school?"

He answered this question by stating that the East Tawas Elementary Unit, although more than 50 years old, has had excellent maintenance over the years and is capable of providing excellent service for another 12 to 15 years. He said that the cost of demolishing this building, constructing a new one to replace it and adding rooms at Tawas City would be far more costly than the program being proposed.

In addition, he said the gymnasium at Tawas City would be inadequate for a middle school and there would still be a need for library expansion, science facilities and an auditorium-teaching station for vocal music, drama, band and community use at the high school. The superintendent emphasized that the present split session, in which high school students attend classes in the morning and grades six through eight attend classes in the afternoon with five, 55-minute classes for each, results in a lot of time lost from classrooms for those students.

Comparing Tawas Area School with other districts in the county, Halle said half-day sessions actually amounted to a loss of one and one-third years of classroom instruction for a student starting in grade six and continuing through the 12th grade.

"We have to do something, these youngsters are losing too much time from classrooms; high school students should have a minimum of six hours a day in classrooms and middle school students should have seven hours," he stated.

As a comparison with this district, Halle said that Whittemore-Prescott Area students are in classrooms for six hours, 16 minutes per day, while Hale Area School students are in classrooms for six hours, 40 minutes each day. Oscoda Area has six, 58-minute periods per day.

He said, too, that the 31 teaching stations in the present building have a 98 percent usage during the day, from around 6:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. This does not include utilization of the building at night.

Halle emphasized that the state department of public instruction recommends 85 percent usage of a building. Using three portable units in addition to regular classrooms, the present enrollment of 1,265 students averages out to 40 students per room, with the result that nearly every classroom is in use throughout the day. While he pointed out that this figure was the average usage based on total enrollment, he said it was far too high for academic classes.

The superintendent emphasized that the three portable classrooms in use would still be required for a few years, even with the proposed addition. Looking down the road five to six years, he said that declining enrollment would result in an average of 35 students per classroom.

To remedy the present situation, the board of education is proposing the addition of 11 classrooms, expansion of library facilities, plus construction of an auditorium-teaching station for instructional and community use in music and drama. A gymnasium seating 1,500 persons would also be constructed. Halle said that every possible thing was being done to continue the separation of middle school students from high school students, although there would be some sharing of facilities in the cafeteria and library. The present gymnasium would be used by the middle school and the new gymnasium would be for the high school.

"I am confident that there would be enough total separation under this arrangement and there would be no problem in over-all mixing of students," said the superintendent.

He reported that it has been estimated that bonds could be sold at an interest rate of seven percent for 20 years, although he expects that the actual figures would be in the neighborhood of 6.2 percent. He said the 20-year proposition, as compared to a 30-year proposition, would save the district approximately one million dollars in interest.

The above proposition would require a tax levy of 1.85 mills for the first year based on a district valuation of $80,000,000. It is expected, however, that the total valuation will continue to increase and would result in a lower millage rate to retire the bonds.

The superintendent said that the district still has $210,200 remaining on its 1954 bond issue and it is to be paid off by 1980. No debt retirement millage has been levied here during the past two years through a reimbursable formula with the state and it is expected that this arrangement could be continued to (See TA VOTE, page 2.)

Carl B. Babcock, president of the board of education. The applications were signed Monday night following authorization by the board of education to hold a bond vote on March 29.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Tawas Plating Company Changed Ownership Recently

Sale of Tawas Plating Company in Tawas City to Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Knight of East Tawas was announced last week by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chevis, who have owned and operated the firm for the past 22 years.

"We are not really retiring, just becoming unemployed," Mrs. Chevis quipped Monday morning. "Paul will be spending more time gardening and fishing, while I plan to spend more time playing golf and continuing my activities with the American Red Cross chapter."

Knight, a certified public accountant, plans to continue operation of the plant with the same personnel and the same philosophies, according to the announcement.

Chevis had been in charge of all painting and plating processing for General Motors Corporation at Pontiac when they moved here in February 1954.

They constructed a small concrete block building on Industrial Avenue in Tawas City through arrangement with the City of Tawas City. Growing from a staff of three employees, including the late Harold Grise, the firm now employs 30 persons in two shifts, five days a week.

The firm has undergone four or five expansion programs and in 1968 started a modernization program with automated plating equipment.

During the past 22 years, the firm has provided different types of plating for millions of small parts for the automotive industry, manufactured locally and from plants around the state. Local customers include Bopp-Busch Manufacturing Company and Starboard Industries, Incorporated.

Mrs. Chevis has taken an active part in operation of the business and has been office manager.

Chevis has taken an active part in the affairs of the community, serving on the city planning commission and Tawas Area Industrial Development Corporation.

"The city has been very cooperative and the community has been an excellent place for our business," said Chevis. "We are proud of our fine group of employees."

Braves Have Good Second Half to Turn Back Falcons

Tawas Area Braves turned in a good second half Friday night to defeat visiting Ogemaw Heights, 84-73, and gained revenge for a defeat earlier in the season at the hands of the Falcons. The Junior Braves lost to the Little Falcons, 63-36.

Ogemaw's good passing game cut the Braves' defense into ribbons early in the first quarter and the visitors held a 17-16 scoring margin at the whistle. Ogemaw continued to find good openings for shots near the basket in the second quarter and the Falcons held a 44-40 lead at intermission.

Tawas' defense proved to be more effective in the second half and closed off Ogemaw with 14 points in the third quarter. Led by Brad Potts, who meshed 29 points during the night, Tawas came back to take a 64-54 lead at the end of the third quarter. Potts meshed eight points during the quarter, followed by six points each for Earl Parsons and Tom Mooney.

The Braves continued to build up a lead in the fourth quarter before the two coaches began using reserve players with about two minutes to go in the game. Potts and Mooney combined to lead Tawas scoring with six points each in the quarter.

The Braves had a well-balanced scoring effort with five players hitting for double figures. Following Potts were Mooney with 16 points, Mike Harvey with 13 points, Parsons and Jeff Tousley with 10 points each.

Ogemaw had three players hitting in double figures, led by Mark Clearbaugh's 24 points.

The Braves connected on 18 of 31 free throws and Ogemaw meshed seven of 19 charity tosses. Each team made 33 field goals and the game was won at the foul lines.

The win evened the Braves' conference record at four wins and four losses.

In a non-conference game January 20, Tawas lost to Bay City All Saints, 67-59. The Braves trailed by only one point, 52-51, going into the fourth quarter, but Tawas went cold that quarter and the visitors preserved their unbeaten record against the Braves. Potts was scoring leader with 26 points, followed by 13 points for Mooney.

Action this week finds Tawas at Oscoda Friday night and the Braves play Saturday night at Saginaw St. Stephen. The Braves will be seeking revenge for defeats earlier in the season by these two teams.

HEARD WHATS HAPPENING IN BALDWIN CENTRE, OLLIE?

IS IT BIG, STRONG AND ATTRACTIVE, J.B.?

Salt Was Important Industry

A natural resource of nearly in-exhaustive proportions remains hidden under the Tawas, despite the fact that it was once tapped and provided an important addition to the area's industrial economy.

"If salt will save us, we will soon be safe, as it is the intention of McBean and Whitney to put up a fine salt block opposite their mill."

This hope to relieve a reoccurring economic depression, expressed in the above editorial comment of an 1879 Tawas City newspaperman, materialized for a brief period—the manufacture of salt was developed locally and it proved to be an important adjunct to the lumber business—but only for slightly more than a decade.

With the demise of the lumber industry here in the 1890s, when area white pine timber was exhausted after a brief span of only 25 or more years, production of salt also came to a halt. Ways and means of using this natural resource for industrial purposes was discussed for a number of years after the turn of the century and one final effort was made in 1927 to develop a chemical industry, but that, too, ended in failure.

The industrial potential of salt has been practically forgotten by a younger generation, although the success of another community is known world wide and can be traced directly to development of a chemical industry after one of its lumbermen turned his labors to production of salt brine. That lumberman's name was Dow and the community is Midland.

After the discovery that a plentiful supply of salt existed within tapping distance in the Lower Peninsula, the state legislature, in 1859, offered a bounty for the manufacture of salt and this may have been the motive for the sinking of a well near Saginaw that year.

An abundance of brine was obtained and a salt industry soon blossomed in the Saginaw Valley as nearly each sawmill included a salt block in its operation. This was a natural move as there was a plentiful supply of scrap wood remaining from sawmill operations as fuel to evaporate the brine into salt.

By 1879, the cost of producing salt had declined to 40 cents per barrel through improvements in technology and extensive competition. Originally, salt brine had been evaporated in shallow pans rolled out into the sun, but this solar process was soon abandoned and exhaust steam from the mills was finally used to drive off the water.

Tawas area lumbermen were not slow in recognizing the importance of salt manufacture, which could utilize excess waste wood products beginning to prove troublesome and costly to remove. In addition, sharp competition among lumbermen demonstrated that saw mills supplemented with good salt blocks were the ones that made a profit.

In 1871, Grant and Son drilled the first salt brine well at East Tawas and another salt block was seen constructed by Emery Brothers Lumber Company. The salt rock underneath the soil of the Tawas had an estimated thickness of 195 feet. Water from the bay was pumped into the well through an outer casing and the brine returned to the surface yielded 200 barrels of salt daily in the two mills.

Records of salt production at East Tawas indicated that 47,548 barrels were manufactured in 1877, 74,117 barrels in 1878 and 81,090 barrels in 1879. To improve quality of the product, a state system of salt inspection was adopted in 1868 and T. Tillman was salt inspector at East Tawas in 1873.

With the addition of McBean and Whitney's salt block in Tawas City, the firm which succeeded the Whittemore Company at its mill site west of the Mathews Street-Lake Street intersection, salt production jumped to 145,800 barrels during 1880 in the Tawas.

Lumbermen at AuSable and Oscoda recognized the importance of the developing salt industry and drilled wells in the mid-1870s. However, the shelf of salt under the Tawas apparently drops off rapidly as it proceeds up the shore and wells at Oscoda were drilled to a depth of 1,300 feet before reaching brine, as compared to wells at the 800-foot depth in the Tawas. In addition, salt brine under AuSable and Oscoda apparently had only a limited supply.

"Oscoda and AuSable have great lumber resources; East Tawas and Tawas City possess great salt resources. Let them be joined in wedlock with a pipeline for a covenant seal," was the editorial comment heard locally in 1881.

In 1882, after years of discussion among lumbermen, a decision was made to expend the salt industry in Eastern Iosco County. On August 10 of that year, the Iosco Brine Supply and Salt Company was organized and work was started on laying 14 miles of wooden pipe to convey salt brine to mills at AuSable and Oscoda. Four new wells were drilled on East Lincoln Street at the outer edge of East Tawas.

Two large boarding houses and two tenement houses were constructed to house employees of the new firm, along with a large boiler house to furnish the requisite amount of steam for running the four wells. A salt block was included in the work to utilize the surplus brine and steam.

Iosco Negotiations Headed for Hearing

The state employment relations commission announced Thursday that a public hearing has been scheduled for Wednesday, March 10, on a complaint brought by United Steelworkers of America, Local 8403, AFL-CIO, against the County of Iosco.

The union, representing workers at the county building, charges that the employing county board of commissioners had "established a pattern of refusal to bargain in good faith."

The complaint stated that the county commission had refused to set up a new schedule of negotiating sessions after it canceled the initial series, that the county revoked all previous areas of agreement and "forced negotiations back to an absolute zero degree of completion on November 11."

The complaint also stated that the county insisted upon delaying negotiations until completion of a job study, thus "misleading the union into belief this study would be the basis for wage negotiations and then made proposals ignoring it."

The county has hired the firm of Clary, Nantz, Wood and VanOrden as its representative in negotiations. The last negotiation session was held December 29 and the contract between the county and the union expired December 31.

The complaint was signed by Rosie Stewart, unit chairman, and John D. Prior, staff representative of United Steelworkers.

Place of the hearing is to be announced later by the state employment relations commission.

1754: The fight for who's who in America.

There's turmoil in Europe. And it's landed on our shores and in our laps. France and England have been fighting for decades over who will reign supreme in the New World. England has colonies all along the Atlantic coast and claims that the back country is rightfully hers, too, all the way to the Pacific. France has a stronghold in Canada. She also has set up an enviable fishing and fur trade, and wants all the territory from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico not occupied by the British. It won't work. France persuades the neutral Spain to enter the war. And also knows how to use the Indians to keep us loyal English colonists in line. Even young George Washington is defeated in a battle near the Monongahela River. It takes the egotistical William Pitt to turn the tide and finally defeat France. In Europe, they call it the Seven Years' War. We call it the French and Indian War. ☺

City Planners Study Availability of 701 Money for Update

Tawas City Planning Commission is investigating the possibility of filing a letter of intent for federal urban renewal funds to update the city's master plan.

Following Thursday night's regular meeting, City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said that the city's master plan, adopted in 1964, requires considerable revision due to changes which have taken place in the community during the past 11 years.

One of the basic objectives outlined in the original plan was clearance of old buildings in the business district between Whittemore and Mathews Streets. Although the objective was never met through planning, two buildings were razed by fire and a third was demolished privately for a parking lot.

Max Putters, planning consultant for the city, reported that some 701 federal funds were still available for planning purposes but was unable to estimate the cost of updating the master plan at this time.

(Read II Corinthians 9:6-15)

"When someone asks you for something, give it to him; when someone wants to borrow something, lend it to him." (Matthew 5:42, TEV)

A woman had coins in her hand to give a little girl begging. When she saw an older boy watching from the background, she put the money back in her purse.

"I decided the boy was part of a team, and he would take the money as soon as I gave it to the little girl," the woman said.

So many times we withhold gifts because we are afraid they will be used unwisely. Jesus healed without wondering if the sufferer would use his health properly. The good Samaritan ministered to the robbery victim lying in the road without considering whether or not the man deserved help.

The Bible does not tell us what these people did with their lives after they were helped. Jesus was as much concerned with the giver as with the receiver.

God pours His gifts upon us knowing we do not always use them wisely. Should we close our purses to persons we are afraid might squander our money?

PRAYER

O Lord, help us to follow the example Jesus set of seeing others as worthy receivers and giving freely. Amen.

SS Supplemental Money Available

The supplemental security income program is entering its third year, but social security officials believe there may still be some people in the area who might be helped by the payments but have not applied.
The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or older, blind or disabled. The first payments were made in January 1974.

About 120,000 people get supplemental security income payments in Michigan, according to John Carr, social security district manager. "But we believe there are others who may be eligible but for one reason or another have not applied and we would like to get in touch with them," he said.

Some people may think that disabled children are not eligible for supplemental security income payments if they live with their parents, according to Carr. Some may think that people 65 or over are not eligible if they live with a son or daughter or in an institution.

"But under the law, they may be eligible for some payments," he said. "People with some other income and people living in another household may receive supplemental security income payments. Even if the payment is only $25 or $30 a month, that can be a big help nowadays."
The amount of the monthly payments eligible people receive depends on other income they may have. The federal supplemental security income payment can be as much as $157.70 a month for one person and $236.60 for a couple.
"These payment amounts are tied to the cost of living," Carr said. "When the supplemental security income program started, the maximum federal payment was $140 a month for one person and $210 for a couple."

THE TAWAS HERALD

Wednesday, January 28, 1974-3

Michigan adds to federal supplemental security income payments. People here can get as much as $182 a month for one person and $273 for a couple.

In Michigan, people getting supplemental security income payments are automatically eligible for Medicaid.

The supplemental security income program is administered by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

NOT ALL FAD DIETS BAD

In the never ending battle against the bulge, Americans are constantly trying new fad diets. "Eat only ice cream and you will

A new diet appears every week and each promises a miraculous cure, but few of these fad diets stand the test of time. The unrestrictive protein and fat, minimal or no carbohydrate diets have appeared and reappeared over the years, under different sponsorship.

Currently, it is known as Doctor Atkin's Diet Revolution, but it has been previously promoted as the Drinking Man's Diet, the Air Force Diet, Pennington Diet and Doctor Stillman's Diet.

"If this approach to dieting had provided a permanent, acceptable form of weight loss, it would have survived the time test rather than reappearing periodically," says Doctor Cederquist.

The high-fat protein diets are not very effective in providing permanent weight loss. They also lead to high blood level of triglycerides and cholesterol—risk factors in coronary heart disease and arteriosclerosis.

help them lose weight. Be sure to check the labels. The so-called "health foods" may contain a label which states, "Therapeutic value of this product has not been established."

So, forget about looking for a quick cure. Cut down on calories and eat a wide variety of foods.

Tawas Area Committee Planning Week-Long Bicentennial Observance

Salt

Bay City, was president of the new firm and about $80,000 was expended to develop the project. A contract was signed with the Oscoda-AuSable firms of Pack Woods and Company, Oscoda Salt and Lumber Company, John E. Potts, John C. Gram and Gratwick, Smith and Fryer to supply them for 10 years with enough brine from which at least 1,000 barrels of salt could be produced daily.

About 1,500 cords of wood were consumed annually to produce steam for operating this brine pumping operation. Salt production proved to be a valuable industrial operation in the county, for both local use and export, as immense quantities were needed for salting meat, hides and use as fertilizer, as well as for table and dairy purposes.

Lumbermen from AuSable and Oscoda had accurately estimated the amount of timber resources in the AuSable River region in 1881 and the Iosco Brine Supply and Salt Company had a short life span. In 1891, the giant Potts Company failed as timber resources came to an end, to be followed within one or two years by most of the other large timber operators.

The H. N. Loud Sons' Company continued to produce salt from its own well, but on a smaller scale than before, while the two mills at East Tawas and one at Tawas City continued in production for a few more years.

Despite the lack of local timber, Holland and Emery Lumber Company included a large salt block in its mammoth new industrial complex constructed at East Tawas in 1892. The firm was dependent, however, on supplying its operation by rafting white pine across Lake Huron from Canada. When international difficulties dried up this source of timber, the local pine lumbering industry came to an end in 1895 and the entire plant was dismantled.

Without a large supply of cheap slabwood to fire boilers in the evaporation process, the salt industry, too, came to an end in the Tawas, just as it had in the Saginaw Valley when timber resources were exhausted a few years earlier. Thirty mills manufacturing salt in Saginaw County and 25 in Bay County ceased to exist.

While Midland's Dow Chemical Company continued to use its brines to turn out dyes and other chemicals to meet man's many needs, the major salt producers of Northeastern Michigan moved south along the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers where this industry and chemical production is still an important business.

In 1927, a move was made to interest the war department for removal of the United States chemical arsenal from Edgeworth, Maryland, to East Tawas. Nothing ever resulted, although success appeared to be imminent at one time.

"The salt wells at East Tawas would make production of chemicals possible at a 25th of what the government can produce them at Edgeworth," reported The Tawas Herald.

A portion of the wooden pipeline connecting East Tawas and AuSable-Oscoda was removed shortly after 1900 and used in East Tawas' water distribution system. The wooden pipes wrapped with iron bands have long since been replaced by cast iron mains.

Salt brine from one East Tawas well was once used by the Iosco County Road Commission for dust control on local roads, but its use was discontinued due to the corrosive action of the brine on the metal underbodies of automobiles. The only remaining evidence of Tentative plans for a week-long celebration leading up to the nation's 200th anniversary on July 4 were announced Thursday night by Mrs. James H. Machleit, program chairman for the Tawas Area Bicentennial Committee.

The program chairman reported at a general meeting of the committee that two parades were being planned during the week, one on Saturday, June 26, and the second on Independence Day, Sunday, July 4.

According to Mrs. Machleit, the first parade would feature Tawas Area Junior Band and a local fife and drum corps currently being organized. An invitation has been extended to a fife and drum corps from another city to participate in this parade and there is a possibility that a state meet will be held here that day. An invitation is also being extended to a new muzzle-loader group being organized here to participate in the parade.

The program chairman said that activities on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 28, 29 and 30, were still in the formative stage. A concert by Tawas Area High School Band and an ice cream social is being planned for Thursday, July 1.

A patriotic program involving elementary school children is to be held the evening of Friday, July 2, at the East Tawas Elementary Unit. It is planned to hold the program on the lawn of the school and would be patterned after a program held during the 1876 centennial observance.

Tawas Bay Artists are to sponsor an early American crafts show at East Tawas on Saturday, July 3. Newman Street from State Street to Lincoln Street would be closed for use as an exhibition area. There would be dancing both Friday and Saturday nights in a bowery to be set up on the tennis courts in the Tawas City Park.

Activities on Sunday, July 4, would recreate the 1876 centennial program with firing of a cannon salute, flag raising and church bells of the community would ring the once flourishing salt industry are a number of rusty pipes protruding from the ground on East Lincoln Street near the city limit and one pipe located between the curb of US-23 and Lake Street across from the East Tawas Community Building.

Salt did not "save" the Tawas area—that was the job of the railroad, farming, hydroelectric plants on the AuSable River, the gypsum industry and tourism—but salt production was an important industrial operation here for a number of years. The important natural resource remains under the Tawas for future industrial development.

at 12 o'clock noon. Patriotic speeches would be given from the steps of the county building, followed by a parade at 2:00 p. m.

Games and contests for youngsters and adults would follow, with prizes to be awarded as closely as possible to those given winners in 1876. There would be a fireworks display Sunday evening under sponsorship of the Tawas City Council, East Tawas Council and Tawas Area Promotions. It is expected that the fireworks display would be the largest in local history.

Mrs. Machleit said that it is expected that Monday, July 5, will be declared a national holiday, but no plans are being made locally for a program on that day due to expected heavy traffic conditions.

One of the first events to be sponsored by the bicentennial committee will be a snow sculpture contest with a bicentennial theme during the Perchville USA Festival, February 13-15.

A tour of old homes in the area is being arranged for the bicentennial week and it is hoped that weekly tours of Tawas Point Light-house may be arranged throughout the summer. The committee urges families to promote homecomings during bicentennial week.

A number of area service organizations are taking part in plans for the observance. Tawas Kiwanis Club is to renovate the old bandstand in the Tawas City Park as its project. Robert McDonald, representing the East Tawas Lions Club, reported Thursday night that the organization was obtaining copies of the Declaration of Independence for public distribution and a large copy of the declaration would be located in the community for signing by local residents. The Lions plan to prepare a time capsule for dedication during the observance.

L. G. (Ladd) McKay reported that he had received telephone calls from two older residents of the community stating that they recalled seeing the remains of an old ship in Lake Solitude. Letters written during the 1920s concerning similar sightings were turned over to McKay's committee and an investigation is to start during the Perchville USA Festival as a bicentennial project.

The county bicentennial committee has made arrangements with a book publisher to reprint the "History of the Lake Huron Shore." Mrs. John E. Hennigar of Oscoda, publication chairman, said that the books would be ready for sale in June. This book, first published in 1883, is the most comprehensive history ever written concerning Northeastern Michigan. The few surviving copies are in libraries or in the hands of collectors. Mrs. Hennigar said that hardbound copies of the reprint would be offered at a most reasonable rate.

PIONEER IN POWER . . .

DURING THIS BICENTENNIAL YEAR OF 1976,
WE PAY TRIBUTE TO THE PIONEER MEN AND WOMEN WHO FIRST DEVELOPED NORTHEASTERN MICHIGAN

The Lake Huron and Southwestern Railroad was originated in 1878 to tap the vast stands of White Pine in the Iosco region. When this picture was snapped in the early 1880s, the railroad had been extended from Tawas City to the Locke Mill at East Tawas as the Tawas & Bay County Railroad, thus opening the first link in the rail route which, today, extends from Bay City to Cheboygan.

The Detroit and Mackinac Railway and its predecessors opened the Huron Shore Region of Northeastern Michigan to land transportation nearly 100 years ago. We are proud of the role played by this railroad in the development of the region since 1878. Serving business and industry is the job, today, of the D&M, providing economical rail transportation service as a working partner in the development of Michigan's progressive northland. Our modern equipment and transportation experience combine to bring the products of Northern Michigan to America's door.
