TA Graduation Exercises Sunday

After three years of rain on commencement day, causing the program to be moved indoors to the school gymnasium, Tawas Area High School will again try to hold an outdoor commencement program Sunday, June 6, 3:30 p. m., at the football field. The first year an outdoor program was held here was in 1972 and rain held off for that first attempt.

"We had one lucky year and are hoping for a change after losing three in a row," said Prin. John Alexander. "But, if it rains on June 6, the program will again move indoors."

Continuing its policy of eliminating a visiting speaker, that portion of the program will again be given over to making presentation of special honors to seniors.

The program is to open with the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance," by Tawas Area Band, followed by the invocation by Randy H. Look, president of the National Honor Society.

Stephen J. Pawloski is to deliver the salutatory, followed by presentation of honors by Alexander. The valedictory is to be given by Antonio Young.

Dr. James E. Jacques and Clare Herriman, members of the board of education, are to present diplomas.

Dr. Robert A. Halle, superintendent of schools, is to address comments to the gathering, followed by benediction by Beverly Jane Cross, treasurer of the National Honor Society.

Wednesday (today) will be the last day of classes for seniors, who began two days of final examinations on Tuesday. Seniors are to practice for graduation exercises on Thursday.

Regular classes are to be held for all students with the exception of seniors from Monday, June 7, through Thursday, June 10. Friday, June 11, will be records day for teachers.

High school and middle school report cards will not be available until June 24 as final tests will be given up to June 10 and information is to be submitted for data processing. The school will announce when report cards may be picked up.

Class motto for the class of 1976 is: "We can only better ourselves by surging ahead; looking back and shedding a tear can only slow us down."

Class flowers are red and white roses.

Members of the graduating class are as follows:

Dana Ray Abbott, Jeanette Marie Ackerman, Timothy A. Anschuetz, Michael Jeffrey Bailey, Daniel J. Baker, Elizabeth Ann Ballor, Marc H. Barc, Bernard J. Belanger Jr., Linda Rae Biggs, Diane Mary Birkenbach, Mark Lee Bischoff, Dale E. Blackmore, Floyd J. Brigham, Kenneth

Advisory Vote On School Addition

Voters of Tawas Area School District will be asked to express their opinion at the annual election Monday, June 14, on a proposed middle school addition to the high school. This will be one of three ballots to be handed to voters entering the polls, located at the high school.

Specific purpose of this advisory ballot is to determine the actual amount of public support for building a middle school addition. The proposed addition would be used to house middle school students and would enable all Tawas Area students to be on regular school hours and to receive a full day of instruction and school supervision.

Exact wording of the proposal is: "Are you in favor of the board of education issuing general obligation unlimited tax bonds in the amount of not to exceed $1,545,000 for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a middle school addition to the high school and developing and improving the site?"

Dr. Robert A. Halle, superintendent of schools, states there are several reasons for the proposition. He said the board is committed to providing all Tawas Area School children with a full school day; legal advice to the board indicated that an official bonding proposal, such as the one voted on March 29, should not be taken to the voters twice within a six-month period.

Although the board has the legal authority to issue bonds for building purposes up to an amount of about $4,000,000 its desire is to obtain favorable public support for any construction purpose.

Halle said the $1,545,000 would provide enough classroom space to place all children on a full school day and accreditation from the state would probably be received.

Major differences between this proposal and the one submitted March 29 are: This proposal is about one-half-million-dollars less; the proposal is basically much smaller, about 36,000 square feet compared to 49,000 in March; this proposal does not include an auditorium, a new high school band room or a high school gymnasium; this proposal does include basic classrooms and related teaching facilities, including a multipurpose room and a library room; this proposal will provide for a clearer separation of middle school and high school students. Halle said that teaching time for basic subjects will be increased at both the middle school and high school level. A direct benefit, he said, should be an improvement in education for the children of the community.

Based upon a state equalized valuation for this district of $84,000,000, about 1.35 mills would be levied to pay off bonds. The 1.35 mills would decrease through the years as the SEV increases. The debt levy for the school district, said Halle, will continue to remain among the very lowest in the state.

Halle said a favorable response to the public opinion proposal would assure the board that the public is willing to support building a middle school addition to the high school.

Complaints Listed by Iosco Sheriff

Six larcenies and two vandalism complaints were investigated last week by Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

Arthur Ziehl, Tawas City, reported that gasoline had been stolen from his vehicle and other neighborhood automobiles in the vicinity of First Street. A walkie-talkie radio and charger was discovered missing May 25 at United States Gypsum Company, Alabaster; a flag was stolen from a green Sunday at Tawas Golf and Country Club, Monument Road; 20 gallons of gasoline were taken from a vehicle owned by Owen McCullen, Saginaw, at Sand Lake. Homer Roberts, director of the YMCA Camp at Hale, reported Friday that an aluminum canoe, valued at $250, was stolen at Mud Lake; Gerald Bernard, Chesaning, reported Friday that a camp stove, alarm clock and other items were stolen from his tent at Rollways Campgrounds.

Vandalism complaints included damage to four windows in a house trailer owned by Robert Ostreder and slashing of a tire on a vehicle owned by Carol LaBerge, Townline Road.

TODAY'S Meditation

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Matthew 16:13-20)

"But who do you say that I am?" (Matthew 16:15, RSV)

I had spent time going through books and gathering material hoping to be helpful to a teen-ager who had come to me with a questioning mind. But she tossed them aside and looked me straight in the eyes. "I don't want to know what anybody else thinks," she said. "I want to know what you think."

Jesus was in the area of Caesarea Philippi. Excitement had run from village to village like a swift courier. Was He prophet or ordinary man?

Jesus gathered the twelve and asked, "Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?" Then the spontaneous answer: "Some say John the Baptist, others say Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets." But Jesus swept the answer aside with the brush of another question: "But who do you say that I am?"

Christian testimony may change its form, but it never can be outdated. We are all asked, "What does Jesus mean to you?" What will our answer be?

PRAYER

Dear Master, we may not be able to answer all the questions, but please create within us an open mind and such an awareness of Your daily presence that our testimony may be honest and to Your glory. Amen.

Provincial House Proposes Nursing Home in Tawas City

A special meeting of the Tawas City Council is to be held tonight (Wednesday) to consider rezoning a parcel of property for proposed construction of a 117-bed nursing home.

A request to rezone the northeast corner of North Street at Fifth Street from residential A to residential C was made by Provincial House, Incorporated, Lansing, and Zion Lutheran Church, owner of the property.

Application was submitted for action following a meeting May 20 between the city planning commission and Jeffrey E. Poorman, special assistant to the president of Provincial House, Incorporated.

Introduced by Joseph Fox, county commissioner, Poorman, outlined a proposal to construct a private nursing home which would employ about 70 full time persons.

General discussion among planning commission members revealed that the location of a nursing home in Tawas City would be most welcome.

If the zoning change is approved tonight by the city council, a special zoning hearing would be held on June 24, which complies with the 15 days necessary to give notice for the proposal. All property owners within 300 feet of the site would be notified.

This is the third proposal in recent months by Provincial House, Incorporated, to locate a nursing home in Iosco County. The Lansing firm first proposed to construct a facility northeast of M-55-Wilber Road intersection Baldwin Township and, only recently, had a similar proposal in Oscoda Township, which was denied due to a zoning problem.

Republicans Held County Convention

Iosco County Republicans struggled through an annual convention Thursday night at the county building to name delegates to the 11th Congressional District caucus to pick delegates for the state convention at Grand Rapids June 11-12. State convention delegates are to pick delegates for the national convention.

The 30 Republican delegates elected in the May 11 primary election held a "Mexican standoff" for a little more than an hour during the county convention, with delegates split evenly in voting.

One-half of the delegates had been endorsed "by friends" in an advertisement campaign the week prior to the election and attempted to force a vote on naming a new county Republican chairman. Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenberg, county chairman is not selected until that according to law a county chairman is now selected until after the general election in November.

A break in the tie vote did not come until after one of the "endorsed delegates" left the building, to be followed later by a voting change by another delegate.

As a result, delegates named to the 11th Congressional District caucus included Mrs. Rosenberg, Baldwin Township, Ford; Brenda Morant, Oscoda, Ford; Virginia Bygden, Tawas Township, Ford; William Wercley, Plainfield, Ford; James Stech, Oscoda, uncommitted. Inasmuch as less than one percent of Michigan's voters picked an uncommitted delegate in the primary election, delegates to the national convention are to be committed to either Pres. Gerald Ford or Ronald Reagan, according to the election results.

Alternates named included Helen Collier, Baldwin, Ford; D. Arthur Evans, East Tawas, Ford; Marian Killingbeck, Oscoda, Ford; Carl White, Oscoda, uncommitted; Hugh Prescott, Reagan.

Prescott was defeated in the primary election in his contest with Mrs. Collier for precinct delegate from Baldwin Township. The 11th Congressional District will have two delegates to the state convention committed to Ford and one delegate committed to Reagan. As a result, Prescott was named this county's Reagan delegate to the district caucus.

Bicentennial Feature

Watercolor Prints Trace Iosco Area's Early History

One of the featured attractions of the Tawas area bicentennial observance will be unveiled soon when Don Darr, Tawas' resident artist, displays his new collection of watercolor prints depicting scenes from the area's early history.

While vacationing in Florida during the past winter, Darr completed 17 water color prints using old photographs of the area to guide his artistic work. He is now in the process of matting the prints.

The scenes include a lumber hooker (ship) anchored in Tawas Bay, a street scene at East Tawas, Detroit and Mackinac Railway trains, Tawas Point Light-house, the Glen on Dead Creek in Tawas City, lumber mills and others.

Darr said he planned to add several more watercolor prints to his collection during the next few weeks and he is now seeking a suitable location for display purposes during the area's bicentennial celebration.

He expects to display the prints, too, during the annual Tawas Bay Arts and Crafts Sale in August, which is held at the Tawas City Park and Iosco County Building.

Long active in the Tawas Bay Artists, sponsor of the annual arts and crafts show, Darr is a retired commercial illustrator. His exceptionally fine water color prints have proven popular in past shows held here.

County Seeks $200,000 for Hottis Bridge

Treble damages totaling $200,000 were asked last week in Iosco County Circuit Court against a Turner firm whose truck damaged an iron bridge spanning Johnson Creek in Burleigh Township.

Named as defendants in a suit filed by attorneys for the Iosco County Road Commission were John E. Baum Sr., Gary S. Smith and Baum and Smith, Incorporated, jointly and separately.

On June 28, 1975, a tandem axle dump truck owned by the firm "negligently crossed the Hottis Road bridge over Johnson Creek, Burleigh Township, one or more times, resulting in extensive damage," stated the complaint.

The Hottis Road bridge had been properly posted with advance warning signs stating that the gross load limit was five tons. The loaded truck exceeded the limit.

"As a result of negligent or willful disregard of the posted limit," stated the complaint, "the bridge incurred extensive damage and collapsed, causing it to be closed to vehicular traffic pending removal and replacement of the entire span." The bridge has been closed to traffic for nearly a year.

Judge Jailed Officials In ROW OVER LAW BOOKS

CIRCUIT JUDGE ALBERT WIDDIS

One of the most controversial officials in Iosco County's history, Circuit Judge Albert Widdis, was involved in a fight 60 years ago with the county board of supervisors. The feud was so bitter that, after the judge's retirement, his portrait was not hung on the courtroom wall until 30 years later when all of the participants in the fight were dead.

Except for the recollections of a few old-timers, Judge Widdis and the famous feud was all but forgotten in 1958. That year, a committee decided to reframe portraits of former judges and hang them in the courtroom. A photograph of Widdis could not be found and the judge's picture was finally located in a political announcement printed in this newspaper.

That engraving, copied and skillfully retouched by the late Harvey Watson of East Tawas, now hangs over the jury box in the courtroom—Judge Widdis had finally taken his rightful place in Iosco's history.

In 1916, residents of the county were divided into two different camps — those supporting the judge and those supporting the supervisors — concerning a fight which had erupted a year earlier. It was one of the biggest news stories in the county's history and received more downstate newspaper ink than any story before or since.

The story began during the October 1915 session of the board of supervisors and was carried over to January of 1916. Coverage of the October session by the Herald made the brief mention that the board of supervisors voted to disallow a bill for law books purchased by the judge for use of the court.

"Judge Widdis immediately issued an order directing the board and each member thereof to vote to audit and allow the bill, ordering the clerk to draw an order for the same, under penalty of being deemed in contempt of court," stated the Herald.

"The board disregarded the order and further developments are awaited with interest," stated the news article.

The trouble arose over a bill for books ordered by the judge, amounting to $94.50. The books were to take the place of a number of law volumes that disappeared from the courtroom after the preceding judge's death.

Residents of Iosco did not have to wait long for "further developments." On Wednesday, January 26, 1916, the judge appeared personally before the board and again presented the bill "and in a gentlemanly and conciliatory manner requested its allowance by the board."

Judge Widdis awaited the board's action until 10 o'clock the next morning. He walked unnoticed into the circuit courtroom, where the supervisors were meeting, took his seat at the bench and with his gavel rapped circuit court into session. He caused a lengthy order to be served on each of the 21-member board, ordering them to allow the bill for books and warned that he would hold members in contempt of court if they did not approve the bill.

According to notes of the circuit court stenographer, Judge Widdis then stated: "I have approached you in a spirit of fairness and endeavored to get you to allow this bill for these books. Some members of the board are willing to do so; they are willing to do what is reasonable about it, but there is a certain gang here, who are the leaders in this notorious business and I propose to deal with these leaders, as justice requires. Some of the business of this board of supervisors is a disgrace and has been notoriously so. It has got to be stopped and will be stopped if I have to send all of you over to the iron house."

"Some of the men here have good intentions, but they have wishbones instead of backbones, and other members, I am satisfied, have absolutely no consciences—they are the gang. I am the best little gang handler that you ever met."

Bristling over this tongue lashing from the judge, some of the supervisors, not understanding their positions, arose and expressed themselves "rather freely" while court was still in session, thereby placing themselves in contempt.

The board adjourned to the basement and voted, 15-4, to disallow the bill. After adjournment for dinner, some of the supervisors continued to fume and passed "disrespectful" remarks regarding the court. The board then passed a resolution instructing the prosecuting attorney to uphold the dignity of the board and defend its action.

That afternoon, Judge Widdis ordered the arrest of Supervisor Thomas J. Robinson, Howard M. Belknap and John Searle and set February 3 as the day for the defendants to answer for contempt of court and the remarks made by them while court was in session.

The three supervisors were fined $250 each and sentenced to 20 days in jail. When Pros. Atty. A. W. Black attempted to represent the men in court, he was held in contempt for "appearing as attorney for men accused as criminals when his office required that he appear for the court in such cases."

Telegraph lines between Tawas City and Detroit were red hot as the local "stringer" for The Detroit Free Press filed column after column of information on the sensational case.

"The party who wrote that story was either grossly misinformed or else intentionally injected into it a great deal more sensationalism than the facts warranted," commented the Herald.

Local residents had a great deal of fun in seeing the supervisors jailed, especially Sheriff Collie Johnson. Previously, the supervisors had slashed the jail budget and ordered the cost of each meal served to prisoners to be reduced by several cents. As a result, fare served at the jail proved to be rather simple for the three supervisors.

"Events have been transpiring so fast in the matter between the judge of the circuit court and the board of supervisors the past week that it would almost puzzle the traditional Philadelphia lawyer to keep track of them," stated the Herald.

The three supervisors did not stay in jail for long. Application was made to Judge Sharpe of West Branch for a writ of habeas corpus for them, which was granted. The Ogemaw County sheriff arrived with the writs on a Friday evening and took the prisoners to West Branch, where they were admitted to bail in the sum of $500 each. The prosecuting attorney's stay in jail, too, was short as a writ was issued three days later by Judge Sharpe and Black was admitted to bail.

When the three supervisors appeared before Judge Sharpe at West Branch they were admonished by the judge for their actions. He told them they were radically wrong in not allowing the bill for books over which the case for contempt arose. He stated that the books purchased by Judge Widdis were absolutely necessary for properly carrying on the work of the court.

After the talk by Judge Sharp, the three supervisors "showed their sense of fairness and manliness" by acknowledging that they had been in the wrong by not allowing the bill. They stated that they had been wrongly advised as to their duty and signified their willingness to vote for it if given another opportunity.

"It has been the general consensus of opinions in this county that the supervisors were not guilty of any intentional wrongdoing in the matter," stated the Herald, "but that they acted on the advice given them that the bill was not a legal charge against the county. Judge Sharpe's talk placed the matter in a different light to them and they are now ready to follow his advice."

Judge Sharpe released the supervisors and prosecuting attorney on technical points of law, which could be finally decided.

Case No F-841

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF HEARING ON ACCOUNTING AND RATEMAKING TREATMENT OF AN EARLY RETIREMENT INCENTIVE PROGRAM

Take notice that Consumers Power Company (Applicant) filed an application with the Michigan Public Service Commission (Commission) on May 6, 1976 for approval of certain accounting and ratemaking treatment of costs which will be incurred in implementing a proposed Early Retirement Incentive Program.

Applicant states that as part of a continuing effort to render efficient electric and gas service to its customers and in conjunction with a reorganization of various aspects of the Company's management as a result of the energy crisis and expanded application of computer uses, Applicant proposes to implement an Early Retirement Incentive Program.

Applicant estimates that while substantial one-time costs would be incurred in the implementation of the proposed Early Retirement Incentive Program, the total of such one-time costs is expected to be more than offset by annual payroll savings achieved through net reductions in the number of employees and lower average payroll costs of employees hired or promoted to fill vacancies resulting from the Program.

Applicant proposes, for accounting and ratemaking purposes, to record the aggregate of the one-time costs incurred in the implementation of the proposed Early Retirement Incentive Program in Account 186, "Miscellaneous Deferred Debits," with a concurrent credit to Account 186 and debit to Account 236, "Accrued Income Taxes," for the related income tax benefit received by the Company in the current year. Applicant also proposes to amortize the amount in Account 186 over a 60-month period commencing with the first month in which one-time costs are incurred, through debits to Account 926, "Employee Pensions and Benefits," and credits to Account 186 for the one-time costs, with concurrent debits to Account 186 and credits to Account 236 for the related income taxes. Applicant further seeks approval for the inclusion of the net balance remaining in Account 186 from time to time in its rate base for ratemaking purposes. The accounting and ratemaking treatment requested by Applicant would, if approved, result in the recovery by Applicant from its customers over a five-year period of the costs incurred in implementing the proposed Early Retirement Incentive Program through inclusion of such costs in utility cost of service. Such cost is not expected to exceed cost reductions to be accomplished through the Program.

Copies of the application may be obtained from the Secretary of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, or from Consumers Power Company, 212 West Michigan Avenue, Jackson, Michigan 49201, Attention Mr. Paul A. Perry, Secretary.

A public hearing will be held commencing at 9:30 AM on June 18, 1976 in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the purpose of determining what action by the Commission would be appropriate with respect to the relief sought by Applicant. Interested persons may attend the hearings and participate subject to the provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, Supplement No. 54, R 460.11, et seq.

Jurisdiction in this matter is pursuant to Act 106, PA 1909, as amended, MCLA 460.551, et seq; Act 300, PA 1909, as amended, MCLA 462.2, et seq; Act 3, PA 1939, as amended, MCLA 460.1, et seq; Chapter 4 of Act 306, PA 1969, as amended, MCLA 24.201, et seq; and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, Supplement No. 54, R 460.11, et seq.

Report Income Change If You Get SSI Checks

People getting supplemental security income payments should promptly report changes in their other income and resources to social security officials here.

The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources who are 65 or over or blind or disabled.

"Increases or decreases in income may affect the amount of monthly supplemental security income payments," a spokesman said. "People getting supplemental security income checks should report changes or expected changes in their wages, self-employment earnings, Veterans pension payments, and other income from any source except general increases in social security benefits."

Changes can be reported by contacting any social security office.

People getting supplemental security income checks should also promptly report change of address, marriage, separation, and any other circumstance that might affect their payments, according to the spokesman.

The Federal supplemental security income program is run by the Social Security Administration, an agency of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

GAUZE FABRICS SETTING NEW TREND

Gauze fabrics are becoming increasingly popular. Gauze, a low-yarn count fabric that became popular about a year ago, is now rivaling denim in popularity and is expected to stay a part of the fashion scene throughout summer and fall, if not longer.

Ranging from sheer open weaves to heavier weights, gauze goes well with a variety of fabrics, including denim. New crinkled gauze, marketed under a variety of Indian names, is now available in printed Indian colors.

Gauze fabrics are available commercially primarily in blouses and children's wear, but those who sew at home are becoming interested in using gauzes for dresses, shirts, sleepwear, loungewear, pants and skirts.

When sewing this sheer material, avoid patterns with big facings that might show through. When facings are called for in cuffs, collars and buttonhole areas, the seamstress might want to use interfacing. But be sure it is lightweight and sheer so it will not alter the appearance of the gauze. If planning to use a fusible interfacing, test it on a gauze scrap first to be sure it is satisfactory.

Many companies make gauze, so look for the care instructions when purchasing. If in doubt about the material, wash it first to preshrink before sewing. When pressing gauze, try a sample first to make sure pressing will not alter its appearance. Be careful, however. Although the crinkle in crinkle gauze will not come out in the wash, it might with ironing.

If the fabric is quite soft, it may be necessary to hold it in front and back with a slight tension as it moves under the needle. That will keep the fabric from being pulled down into the hole that the needle enters.

Gauze frays, so it is best to finish seams to avoid raveling. There are several options for finishing seams: Turn seam edge under and stitch, use a zigzag stitch along the edge, edge stitch the raw seam edge, or make a mock French seam by turning the raw edges of the seam allowance into each other and stitching together close to the folds.

Iosco County's portion of the 15-mill tax was allocated at eight mills by the Iosco County Tax Allocation Board at its final meeting. Schools received seven mills in some units and six mills where townships received one mill.

Plans for the new county building are being prepared by Joseph Goddeyne, architect. Originally, plans for the building called for 257,000 cubic feet of space, but the cost of materials has advanced greatly since the time the project was first proposed. As a result, the plans are being modified for a building containing about 180,000 cubic feet of space and a cost of about $275,000. A special voted tax rate of two mills will finance the project. A special committee working on the county building project include Supervisors Elmer Werth, Edward Burgess, Clarence McKenzie, Clarence Everett and Harold Black.

Questions and Answers Concerning Tawas Area School Millage Proposal

PROGRESS on the new post office building at National City is pictured above. The new building is located about one mile east of Jordan's Store, present location of the post office. George Jordan said the move into the new quarters is expected around July 1. The building is being constructed by Custom Home Builders of Houghton Lake, building owner, and is to be leased to the postal service. The 24 by 42-foot structure is to have a brick exterior.—Tawas Herald Photo.

A series of questions and answers concerning the June 14 election in Tawas Area School District is provided this week by Supt. Robert Halle.

Registered voters will decide on a request for operational mills for two years, with 11 mills renewal and three mills additional; express an opinion on the board of education selling bonds in an amount not to exceed $1,545,000 for the construction of a middle school addition to the high school; fill two seats on the board of education for a term of four years.

The following questions and answers are aimed at explaining the board's request for operational funds of 14 mills.

Question: What will the 14 mills do for Tawas Area School District?

Answer: The 14 mills will allow the board of education to provide approximately the same educational program as presently being provided.

Question: How much money will the 14 mills provide?

Answer: Based upon $84,000,000 state equalized valuation, which is the most accurate information available, the 14 mills will provide $1,176,000. The balance of the projected budget of $2,224,590 will be provided by county allocated millage (9.25 mills) and some categorical fund money (transportation, special education, vocational education, etc.) will also be received from the state and federal level.

Question: Does the projected budget of $2,224,590 represent a large budget increase over last year, or recent years?

Answer: No. The projected budget represents a 5.6 percent increase over last year. The increase for each of the previous four years has been 10, 12, 14 and 13 percent.

Question: What is the basis for the financial needs of Tawas Area School District?

Answer: The main reasons are:

(1) A loss of state funds, membership and categorical, of approximately $110,000 in planning for next year; (2) a loss of approximately $20,000 in federal funds; (3) rising costs. Many items which the school purchases have increased 30 to 40 percent. Dupli-cator fluid has increased 50 percent from a year ago; construction paper has increased 33 percent; in addition, the school has to conduct fair and equitable negotiations with two organized bargaining units within the school district.

Question: Why are we receiving less funds from the state?

Answer: The present state aid formula (1975-76 school year) guarantees that a district will receive $42 per student per mill levied for the first 20 mills and $38.25 per student per mill for each mill over 20 mills up to 27 mills, in combined state and local taxes. With our SEV of $84,000,000 and a projected enrollment of 1,916, Tawas will have about $43.80 behind each child for each mill levied in our district. That amount of money behind each child will not entitle the school to any membership state aid. It is also unlikely that the state aid formula for the coming year will entitle the school to membership funds. The board has passed a resolution to decrease the 14-mill levy, if approved by voters, in proportion to any K-12 membership funds received through the 1976-77 state aid formula.

Question: Is it expected that Tawas Area School will receive less funds from the state next year in addition to K-12 membership funds?

Answer: Yes, it is expected that the school will receive less funds next year in other areas. After the budget was established for the current year, the state made two separate cuts that amounted to about a $40,000 reduction in receipts.

Question: Is it possible that the increase in local property value will, in the future, be able to provide the schools with the necessary operating funds?

Answer: It is anticipated that this will be a reality. Hale Area School District does not receive state aid and is only seeking a renewal of its voted millage (14.75 mills) for next year. It is anticipated that Tawas may be able to do likewise in the future. The first year of not receiving any state membership funds, as will happen in the coming year, is probably the most difficult year, financially, for the district to overcome.

Question: Why did the board decide to keep the 14-mill request in one package rather than split it into an 11 and three-mill request, respectively?

Answer: First, it should be stated that the board is unanimous in its request for the 14 mills. Secondly, the three mills represents about $252,000 to the district. There is no way other than through serious reductions in programs, people and students' educational experiences that $252,000 could be eliminated from a budget that represents a 5.6 percent increase.

Question: Is the board, administration and staff attempting to keep operating costs down?

Answer: Yes. The coming school year will find the district: (1) Operating under a budget increase (5.6 percent) that is less than half the average increase of over 12 percent the district has experienced over the past 10 years; (2) operating under a higher staff-pupil ratio the district has experienced in several years; (3) operating under the lowest per pupil expenditure increase that it has experienced in several years; (4) operating with six fewer staff members than this year.

Question: How do Tawas' operating costs compare with other districts?

Answer: Our total operating costs, millage levy and debt levy are among the very lowest in the state. Although we will do our best to keep operating costs down, we do not wish to lower our standards or aspirations so far that the community will not be proud of its school district.

Question: How much of the requested additional three mills represent millage to make up for a loss of state and federal monies?

Answer: Close to 1.75 mills or $140,000 is to make up for lost revenue. The other 1.25 mills or $122,000 is to meet rising costs.

Question: Is there some other way to finance education?

Answer: Some states have a totally state supported public school system. Others, as in Michigan, have varying degrees of state and local support. In Michigan, there has been an effort for several years to finance schools more from some other tax than the local property tax. This definitely is not going to happen next year and it is doubtful if there will be any drastic change in the near future.

Question: From what source does the state receive money to support public education?

Answer: All taxes received by the state, except for specially earmarked funds, go into the state's general fund; this includes income from the Michigan lottery. The state legislature then divides this money, each year, between the various state agencies, including public K-12 schools. One way of decreasing our dependency on the local property tax is to increase the total dollars for K-12 schools at the state level. Write to your state senator and representative if you agree.

Question: Why should I, as a parent of children attending a parochial school, or as a senior citizen, support a millage proposal?

Answer: Parochial school children derive benefits from the public school system, including school bus transportation, health services, food services, standardized testing, driver education and other auxiliary services. Most of the children attending parochial schools have attended or will attend public schools for part of their K-12 education. The entire community, including senior citizens, benefit from good public schools. Good schools are a prime factor in maintaining favorable property values. Good schools are also something the entire community can share and take pride in.

Question: What will the increase in millage cost the average property owner?

Answer: If the operational levy is approved, the next increase will be three mills ($3 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation). If your property is assessed at about 50 percent of its market value (SEV), that means the increase would be about $30 per year on a $20,000 home and $45 per year on a $30,000 home.

Judge Widdis

only by carrying the case to the state supreme court. However, there was a serious question as to Judge Sharpe's jurisdiction in the case, he being judge of a court of coordinate jurisdiction with the one which passed the sentences. Many attorneys in the state were of the opinion that he had exceeded his authority.

The sensational case apparently ended there and the circuit court got its law books, but wounds created over this and other controversies never healed, at least until the passage of time and participants.

A study into the background of this event shows that the years of 1915-1916 were particularly controversial ones politically for Iosco County. Upon the death of Circuit Judge Main J. Conine in 1915, the political arena was filled with numerous potential candidates for the judgeship. Widdis, a Democrat and resident of Iosco for about 10 years, was appointed by Governor Ferris to fill the vacancy in this traditionally Republican county. A number of Republican attorneys were disappointed over this appointment, including Black. Later in the year, Black had to defend himself against disbarment proceedings brought by the Iosco County Bar Association. In the primary election of 1916, Black was a candidate for circuit judge but was defeated for the nomination following a muckraking campaign.

Judge Widdis, who lacked the support of most local politicians, apparently held the confidence of voters and he was elected to his first regular term of office by a margin of 1,153 to 627. The 1916 general election saw voters throughout the country splitting their tickets to elect a president—Woodrow Wilson, a Democrat, over Charles Evans Hughes, a Republican—and that ticket splitting carried right to Iosco County where a Democratic sheriff, Thomas Hill, along with a number of independent candidates were elected.

Judge Widdis continued to be held in favor by Iosco County voters and he served on the circuit court bench of Iosco County until 1927, when illness and his subsequent death ended a long legal career. Herman Dehnke was appointed by Gov. Fred W. Green to fill the vacancy.

A brilliant but eccentric man, Widdis began to have a falling out with his supporters when he accused N. C. Harting, court stenographer "of having one hip on the bench." Judge Widdis visited Russia and wrote several newspaper articles glorifying communism and later authored articles condemning the Christian Church. The articles were published by this newspaper, but an editorial accompanying each condemned the judge for his remarks.

Upon Judge Widdis's death, Judge Dehnke wrote a letter to the Herald citing some of the outstanding judicial decisions handed down by his predecessor, in the hope that Widdis would be remembered for those decisions rather than for the controversies which had surrounded him.

The passage of time healed the old controversies and a portrait of Judge Widdis finally took its rightful place among other distinguished jurists who have served this circuit.

THE OLD IOSCO COUNTY COURTHOUSE was the scene of the conflict between Circuit Judge Albert Widdis and the county board of supervisors. The building was rocked with political controversies for a number of years.—Tawas Herald Photo.

W-P School Has Summer Program Set

A six-week summer special education-vocational education program will begin June 7, according to Gene Gillette, director of special education for Whittemore-Prescott Area Schools. The program is operated in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Education and United States Department of Labor.

The high school age pupils will be engaged in prevocational and vocational training projects designed to prepare them for actual job placement. Instructional and activity units will include painting, concrete work, construction and automobile reconditioning. The pupils are paid for work performed in order to develop work incentive and money management skills.

The program is an expansion of Whittemore - Prescott's extensive regular school year program for special needs pupils.

State Now Accepting Applications for Plates

IF you want your car ZAPPED, ZONKED or BONKED for 1977, now is the time to do it.

According to Sec. of State Richard Austin, applications for Michigan 1977 personalized license plates are now being accepted.

The personalized license plates cost $25 above the normal license plate fee with the funds being used to help clean Michigan's highways, Austin said.

For the first time this year, personalized license plates may be obtained for use on pick-up trucks or motorcycles.

Because of the smaller size of the motorcycle license plates, they will be limited to five letters or number combinations. Auto-biles and pick-up trucks still may use any six letter or number combination as the official Michigan license plate, excluding of course, obscene or objectionable combinations.

Last year, more than 15,000 motorists obtained personalized license plates for their cars, Austin said, more than triple the previous year's high.

Deadline to order for 1977 is June 30. The personalized license plates will be mailed to owners about November 15, the date when all license tags go on sale.

Applications may be obtained at any secretary of state field office.

Eagles Won First Place at Petoskey

Hale Area Eagles won the first place trophy May 25 in the Petoskey relay. Hale finished the meet with 39 points, holding a five-point margin over Cedarville in second place.

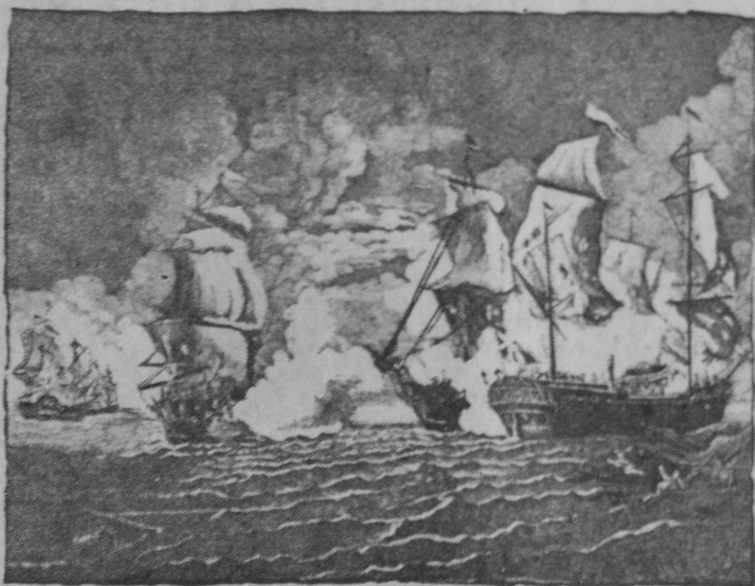

The Eagle relay team posted the fastest time of the night for any class school in the central relay, which included two 220-yard runs and two runs of 110 yards. The team of Tom Bush, Rick Weaver, Daryn and Bryon Bernard posted a time of one minute, 10.8 seconds.

The sprint medley race saw Terry Allen, Gary Williams, B. Bernard and Rod Humphrey winning second place; the 440-yard relay team of Williams, D. Bernard, Brian Kreinder and Mike Braun won a second with a time of 47.3 seconds; the 880-yard relay team of Bush, Weaver, B. Bernard and D. Bernard won second place.

Individual placings saw Weaver winning third place in high hurdles and Bush won fourth place in the 100-yard dash.

Great American Happenings

1779: The Patriots at sea.

Thanks to France, we have our own navy now. You'd wonder how we inexperienced Americans would fare in a sea battle. But you see John Paul Jones in action, and you stop wondering. It's September 23rd on the high seas. Jones is aboard his flagship, the Bonhomme Richard, when along comes the Serapis a British 44-gun frigate. Cannon fire begins the battle. Then, the muskets. Jones may be outweaponed, but he won't be outdone. He lashes the two ships together, and his men climb aboard the Serapis to fight hand-to-hand, American style. It looks bad for the Bonhomme Richard. Slowly, she begins to sink. The Serapis assumes victory is at hand. Her captain cries, "Do you surrender?" Jones puts it this way: "I have not yet begun to fight!" Three hundred of his men are killed or wounded, but he fights. Until the British surrender. The brave British captain is knighted. But we are victorious. ☺

 Provided the birds are typical of the breeds which they represent, the placing of awards shall depend upon the following:

- A. Pulletts:
 1. Rapidity of growth.
 2. Depth of pigment.
 3. Uniformity of shape and size.
 4. Promise of egg production.
 5. Absence of defects and disqualifications.
- B. Mature Birds (Hens):
 1. Degree of bleaching.
 2. Condition of abdomen (spread and pliability).
 3. Absence of new primary wing feathers.
 4. Alertness of head and eyes.
 5. Body weight, conformation and fitness.
 6. Absence of defects and disqualifications.

It is suggested, especially for fairs held late in September and October, that all birds exhibited go directly from the Fair to market for slaughter so that none of them will be taken back to the farm. The reason for this precaution is that the birds may take back some disease to the farmer and injure his egg production of his farm flock, if such disease is infectious and of the type which will lower his egg production.

A pen entry shall consist of two females and one male.
 (Classifications: Cock, Cockerel, Hen, Pullet.)

1 quart of berries.
 Rule 9—In case of only one entry in a class, prizes will be awarded at the discretion of the judge.
 Rule 10—in any case where there are fewer entries than premiums offered, prizes will be awarded at the discretion of the judge.
 Rule 11—The judge's decision shall be final in all cases.
 Rule 12—Each purebred animal must be accompanied by its registration papers in order to be eligible to receive premiums.
 Rule 13—All livestock must be known to be free from disease before entering the grounds for exhibition.

WILLIAM G. MILLIKEN
GOVERNOR

STATE OF MICHIGAN
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
LANSING

TO FAIR VISITORS AND FAIR SPONSORS:

Everyone has fun at the fair. But we also learn, as consumers and producers, to appreciate the contributions of each of us to the economy and general well-being of our state of Michigan.

In this year of the Bicentennial celebration, we can be particularly proud of Michigan's pioneer farmers who began what is today Michigan's second largest industry — agriculture.

Appreciate Michigan's rich agricultural heritage, but even more importantly, consider how to improve the present and future of Michigan's food and fiber production.

It is a pleasure to welcome you to Michigan's 1976 local fairs.

Sincerely,

William G. Milliken
Governor

TO FAIR VISITORS AND SPONSORS:

Where else can you find such true examples of the American spirit as at our local fairs? Here at the fair we all come together — farmer, consumer, educator, industrialist — to display our products and to learn more about each other.

Since early days, Michigan farmers have raised livestock and raised crops from the soil. Today fewer farmers are feeding more people in Michigan, in the country and the world.

In this Bicentennial year, it is important that we renew our faith in each other, that we learn of the problems associated with production of food and fiber, and that all citizens understand agriculture's contributions to our state, nation, and the world.

On behalf of the Commission of Agriculture and the Department of Agriculture, I hope you find your visit to this year's fair interesting and educational.

Sincerely,

B. Dale Bell
