

Michigan's presidential primary election Tuesday drew a fair turnout of voters in the Tawas with 500 ballots cast in Tawas City and 795 at East Tawas. In the general city election last November, 592 Tawas City voters went to the polls. It was a critical election for President Ford, who needed a victory to remain in the nomination race. Locally, delegates were named to the Republican convention. Democrats are to name delegates in August.

State Rep. George A. Prescott announced Friday that the house of representatives passed HB 6110 which provides an appropriation of $625,000 from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' Waterways Division for the proposed harbor of refuge at East Tawas.

"This amount," Prescott said, "is the state's matching money of the federal grant for the project. I am certain the senate will approve the house action of today."

W-P Cardinals Defeated Braves for Championship

Ken Horn's four-hit pitching performance, coupled with two home runs by his mates, led Whittemore-Cardinals to a 5-1 decision Saturday over the Tawas Area Braves to win the Iosco County baseball championship.

Horn and Charles Smith of Tawas hooked up in a good pitcher's battle in the championship game and the Braves took a one run lead in the sixth inning on a bunt single by Smith, a sacrifice bunt and a hard single by Harvey Herriman.

Bob Gratoop, catcher for the Cardinals, sent the game into extra innings when he blasted one of Smith's pitches over the left field fence.

The Cardinals scored the winning runs in the top of the eighth inning. Leo Fogerty reached first base on an interference play and Jerome Kusey blasted a two-run homer into the centerfield bleachers. The Cards added two insurance runs and Horn retired Tawas in the bottom of the eighth. Horn struck out 10 batters during the day.

Oscoda got by Hale, 7-6, in the consolation contest of the four-team tournament held at Tawas Area High School.

Tawas City Adopts Budget; Tax Rate Set at 15.35 Mills

Through transfer of one expenditure to a different category, suggested by a citizen attending Monday night's budget hearing, Tawas City Council lopped .20 of a mill off its preliminary tax rate to meet the 1976-77 operational budget.

A second recommendation suggested from the audience concerning reduction of one new mill of taxes for fire improvement, was not accepted by the council.

Unanimous approval was given to a budget of $287,950, which includes $198,850 for the general fund, $10,000 for fire improvement and $79,100 in street funds. Of this amount, $164,353 is to be raised by taxes and a tax rate of 15.35 mills was established. This includes 9.75 mills for the general fund, one mill for fire improvement, 2.80 mills for streets and 1.80 mills for debt retirement. Local taxes represent approximately 54 percent of the total budget.

Considerable discussion centered around the one mill of taxes for improvement of the fire department. Discussion was held on this at a special meeting a week ago and councilmen were of the opinion that the one additional mill of taxes should be established for purchase of a new fire truck to replace a unit which has been in service since 1949, along with new housing for the fire department. The council intends to establish a special fire improvement fund and the one mill would raise $10,707 annually, based on the present valuation.

During the public hearing, both John N. Brugger, former mayor, along with Del Myles, expressed the opinion that millage assessed in the city for fire purposes should be the same as millage provided by Tawas and Alabaster Townships. The two townships each provide the equivalent of three quarters of a mill for fire protection, amounting to $12,000 annually.

The council was unanimous in its action to retain the one mill for fire improvement. Councilman Jerry Cotter expressed the opinion that the 1949 truck should be replaced as soon as possible and a 1961 truck would have to be replaced in five years. He felt that establishment of the fund would save money through the elimination of interest paid on notes. He believed that new facilities were needed to house the fire department and that the city had to play "catchup" because of the lack of a replacement item in past budgets.

Councilman Charles Landon expressed the opinion that the city should "point the way" in providing improved fire protection for the area served by the city and he believed that establishment of the one mill improvement fund was a necessity.

Councilman James Lansky stated that establishment of such a fund would raise approximately $100,000 in 10 years for improvement to fire service.

Mayor Herbert Cholger felt that the one mill of additional taxes on the city's part was justified by the density of buildings in the city and greater need for improved fire equipment and facilities.

A recommendation by Brugger to transfer fire hydrant rental from the water department to the fire department's budget was adopted by the council. The transfer raises the fire department's budget to $16,925 and results in the lowering of the general fund tax rate by .20 of a mill.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz felt that the fire hydrant rental was a proper expenditure for the fire department and not of the water department. He said, too, that the transfer was justified under the contract with the townships inasmuch as rental of buildings to house fire equipment was not included in the contract.

Edward Savage, former councilman, questioned the fact that three mills of taxes had been earmarked four years ago for bridges and streets and that the three mills of taxes were now being used for other purposes.

The city manager stated that while the three mills mentioned by Savage had, in fact, been used for sidewalk construction, streets, building improvement, commercial garbage pickup, a forestry program and hiring an assessor, totaling about $30,000, approximately $16,000 from local taxes and $30,000 from revenue sharing money would be utilized this year in a new street construction program.

Included in the debt fund millage is from $9,000 to $10,000 to be used exclusively for providing the city's share of $23,000 per year to pay towards the water improvement project with East Tawas and Baldwin Township.

Rustlers Busy; Bulls Stolen from Barnyard

Theft of two Hereford bulls valued at $400 each was reported Wednesday by Walter Redmond, 6821 Carpenter Road. Investigating Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers said that the cattle rustlers had backed a vehicle and trailer into the barnyard, loaded the two animals and then drove off.

East Tawas Adopts Recreational Plan

East Tawas Council Monday night adopted a city recreational plan updated by City Clerk Clyde Soper. The revision was necessary in order to make application for Bureau of Outdoor Recreation funds.

An application is now being prepared by Soper for the first phase of a park improvement plan. The $90,000 project is being submitted for federal participation on a 50 percent matching basis.

If approved, the plan would finance construction of one softball field, a tennis court and parking at the proposed Dewey Durant Park north of Franklin Street. If federal funds are secured for this project, a second application would be made the following year for an additional softball field, two tennis courts and four shuffleboard courts.

The application is to be submitted to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for funding in 1977.

In other business, the council adopted a budget calling for $197,000 to be raised by taxation. A tax rate of 14.5 mills was established.

Paul Ropert, superintendent of public works, reported that plans for the Tawas Lake sewer project would be advertised in May and, depending on the sale of general

Ordinance Provides City Bid Procedure

First reading of an ordinance to provide for competitive bidding on city purchases over $1,000 and establishment of the city manager as purchasing agent was held Monday night by the Tawas City Council.

The ordinance provides for bids to be taken on insurance under three-year proposals, provides for competitive bids on equipment and commodities, if it is deemed advisable by the council.

A roll call indicated that the council was in favor of the proposal, but Mayor Herbert Cholger was opposed. He expressed the opinion that professional services, including the city attorney, should be included in competitive bidding. Under terms of the proposed ordinance, bidding would not be required for professional services. Councilman Robert N. Rollin expressed the same opinion as the mayor, but voted in favor of the ordinance, which will require two more readings before being adopted.

In other business, the council adopted its first resolution declaring the city's intention to establish a special assessment district for construction of sanitary sewer along Lake Street from Acapulco Beach Cabins to Coho City Marina. A petition had been signed by five of seven property owners requesting the sewer.

City Mgr. Reginald Bublitz said obligation bonds, construction could commence this summer. The Iosco County Department of Public Works is handling the project.

The council adopted a special assessment district for repaying the city's cost of improvement to a city parking lot between Hester's and the city garage. The assessment formula adopted calls for 45 percent to be paid by Hester's, 40 percent by Lixey's Restaurant, 10 percent by Sailfish Marine and five percent by Truman Barber.

A proposal by Hager Sanitation for a three-year garbage contract was turned over to the council's finance committee for an evaluation.

The council approved official committee status for Tawas Area Bicentennial Committee and instructed its insurance committee to prepare liability insurance coverage for the group.

Due to a congestion of cars at Tom Dillon Park, the city requests that persons utilizing that facility to park cars along streets other than Wadsworth.

On recommendation of Councilman Ralph Western, the city is to invite Provincial House to construct a nursing home at East Tawas. An application for such a facility at Oscoda has been denied due to a zoning conflict.

This was the first of five different resolutions to be adopted by the council in the special assessment process, which will require from three to four months of legal proceedings. Three different public hearings will be required.

Election board pay for Monday's presidential primary election is to remain at the same rate paid for the general election in November. Election board workers are to be paid $25 a day and counters are to receive $2.50 per hour with a minimum of $10. The chairman for each precinct is to receive an additional $5 and persons attending the state school of instruction are to receive $10, plus mileage. Mrs. William McCready, city clerk, reported that 17 persons had attended the recent school conducted at Oscoda by the state election commission. Attendance at the school is a state requirement to serve on an election board.

Discussion was tabled until the June 7 meeting on a proposed ordinance to control garage and rummage sales.

Also tabled was the hiring of a certified public accountant to audit the city books. Harold Knight, East Tawas CPA, who has audited the city books in the past, wrote a letter to the council stating that a possible conflict of interest may exist if he audits the books. As owner of Tawas Plating Company, he said he was the city's largest water user. Knight purchased the business earlier this year.

The council is to determine if it wishes to retain Knight as the auditor, or possibly seek some other certified public accountant in the area to perform the work. It was reported that Bud W. Rick, formerly associated with Knight, is now a CPA and has established his business at Oscoda.

First Woman on Commission Seeks Re-Election

Mary Jane Burdett, Third District commissioner in Iosco County, has filed nominating petitions for re-election to a second term. District Three encompasses the City of East Tawas, Wilber Township and most of AuSable and Baldwin Townships.

Mrs. Burdett is currently vice chairman of the county board of commissioners and chairman of the board's health and public safety committee.

She represents Iosco County as vice president of the 14-county East Central Michigan Comprehensive Health Planning Council and as secretary of the seven-county Northeast Michigan Mental Health Board. She is also a member of the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Regional Commission, the four-county District No. 2 Health Board and the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library Board.

Mrs. Burdett resides in Baldwin Township with her husband and two children.

May Donate River Mouth Strip to City

Martin O'Driscoll, chairman of the Tawas River Mouth Harbor Committee, told members of the Tawas City Council Monday night that a possibility exists for a public easement along the west side of the river mouth.

O'Driscoll said he had been in contact with Louis H. Cline, St. Clair Shores, president of a corporation which owns Coho City Marina, and an offer had been made to donate the city a strip of land along the river mouth entrance.

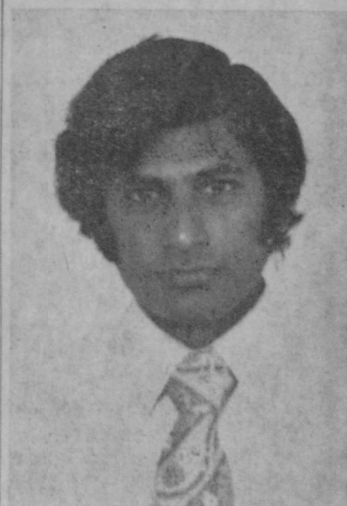

The harbor chairman said that the property owners wished to make the transaction before the property is sold and recommended that the Michigan Department of Natural Resources be called upon to conduct a study. The council is to send a letter to the DNR asking its advice.

O'Driscoll said the property in question was a 10-foot-wide strip starting at the outer property line fronting the bay and extending back to the marina's channel entrance.

Mayor Herbert Cholger expressed the opinion that there is still a possibility of obtaining state or federal funds to aid in development of the river mouth and he believed the city should seriously consider utilization of local funds to improve the harbor.

The harbor commission also reported that annual boat launching tickets for use of the city's Ninth Avenue ramp are now on sale and he urged all boaters to assist in future development of the harbor by purchasing a ticket at $5. Receipts at the ramp are to be used for dredging the river mouth, which is expected later this year.

Plan Banquet

St. Joseph Christian Mothers Alter Society will hold its annual mother and daughter banquet Thursday, May 20, 6:30 p. m., at the social center. All members are asked to bring a dish to pass and table service.

(Read 2 Corinthians 4:1-6)

"Even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing, in whose case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelieving, that they might not see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. (2 Corinthians 4:3-4, NASB)

The trail leading around the edge of the lake to the cabin was precarious and overgrown; so my husband carried the lantern and led the way, pushing aside the underbrush on that dark night. It seemed a logical approach to the problem; but instead of seeing the cleared path, all I could see was the bright glare of the lantern. This "logical" plan positioned me so that I stumbled along the path, blinded by what should have been my source of light.

Had I continued on in blindness, refusing the light when offered me, I could have easily slipped and fallen, perhaps even perished. But when I received the lantern and carried it close to my side, I could see the path in front of me clearly enough to walk safely.

God's grace is not logical in human terms. It is only when we draw near to Christ that the dark paths of life are illumined.

PRAYER
Lord, remove the scales from our eyes that we may see Thy light. Amen.

ROBERT MILLARD OF HALE

Two Iosco Safety Patrol Boys Win Trip

America's bicentennial celebration is taking on special meaning for two Iosco County safety patrol-mobile Club of Michigan on May 19-23. Jeffrey Blust, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Blust, 401 East Franklin, East Tawas, a student at St. Joseph's Catholic School, and Robert Millard, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Millard, a patrol-er at Hale Elementary School, are among 90 patrolers taking part in the all-expense-paid trip. The youngsters were chosen by Auto Club from among 55,000 safety patrolers in 2,400 schools as Michigan's best for the 1975-76 school year.

Auto Club has sponsored trips for the state's top patrolers each year since 1937. This year's trip marks a return to Washington after a seven-year absence during which students journeyed to the annual Canadian National Safety Patrol Rally in Ottawa.

The first leg of this year's tour takes students by chartered bus to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, to view the famous Civil War battlefield, then to Washington.

It all begins May 19 when the 11 to 13-year-old youngsters from outside the Detroit metropolitan area arrive at Dearborn and visit historic Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum.

Outstate patrolers will stay overnight at the Dearborn Inn and join Detroit area youths at Auto Club's Dearborn administrative offices for the next day's trip east.

After arriving at Gettysburg for an overnight stay, the group will see the National Civil War Wax Museum.

After breakfast on Friday, patrolers will visit other Gettysburg sites including the Cyclorama, a circular theater showing a panorama of photos, paintings and recordings depicting Pickett's Charge, climax to the three-day Battle of Gettysburg and high-water mark for the Confederate advance on the North.

A guided tour of the battlefield follows, along with a trip up the 307-foot National Battlefield Tower, offering a complete view of the 25-square-mile battleground.

The youths will dine at Farnsworth House, where the battle's only civilian casualty was suffered, and also will be able to purchase souvenirs before returning to their motel.

On Saturday morning, patrolers travel by bus to Washington, where they are to tour the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Arlington National Cemetery, other memorials and buildings in the nation's capital, including the Washington Monument.

The group will reboard buses Saturday evening for the return trip, arriving at Dearborn at 8:00 a. m. Sunday, May 23.

Northeastern Michigan's white pine era was coming to an end in the last decade of the nineteenth century when international politics intervened to give Lake Huron shore towns their last boom in the lumbering business. But the fortunes of politics proved a poor foundation upon which to build a lasting industry—the boom of 1893 turned into "bust" within five years.

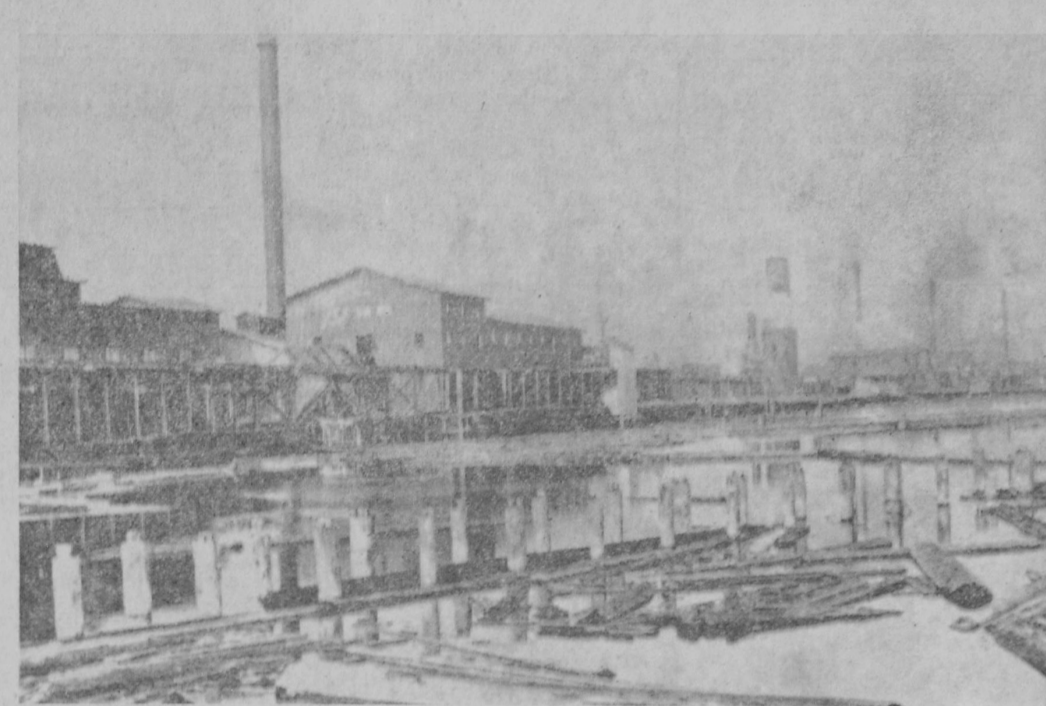

As the 1890s dawned, saw mills hummed at the mouth of the AuSable River and on Tawas Bay, but the region's supply of white pine was nearing an end. Millions of feet of lordly pine trees had been felled, hauled to banking grounds and floated down the AuSable, AuGres, Rifle and Tawas Rivers to be quickly transformed into lumber through the hungry jaws of mills at AuSable, Oscoda and the Tawas.

The end of the lumbering business had been predictable through accurate measurement of the region's standing pine, but so boundless had been the forests and so thick the stand of pine timber that lumbermen had believed that the supply was limitless and the timber would never be cut off. Such a belief was not unnatural as the same result has held true for many natural resources being harvested—before and since.

Tawas Bay's lumbering business had an early start with the Whittemores in the 1850s, but it was not until the late 1860s that the manufacture of lumber moved into a gigantic scale all along the Huron shore and the major share of the white pine forest was harvested in about 20 years.

Development of railroads speeded logs to the mills and the supply of standing pine soon evaporated like the exhaust steam hanging briefly above mills, equipped with the latest innovations in the lumber manufacturing industry.

AuSable had a rude awakening when, in the year 1890, the Gram

A GIANT new industrial complex for the manufacture of lumber was constructed at East Tawas at the end of the local lumbering era. The firm utilized logs rafted and towed from Canada for a brief period, but the source of its raw material was finally shut off by international politics and the mill was doomed. The picture looks east from the foot of Newman Street.

mill burned and the giant Potts Company failed. The following year, the Penoyr mill was dismantled and moved to the Upper Peninsula. In 1892, the Gratwick, Smith and Fryer mill at Oscoda sounded its whistle for the last time. The Louds, through an expensive extension of their narrow gauge railroad far into the interior, still had a substantial supply of pine, cedar and hardwood and were to continue operation until the fire of 1911.

The same bleak prospect hung over the heads of millmen of the Tawas—the supply of local timber was fast dwindling. C. H. Prescott and Sons of Tawas City had enough timber near Long Lake to keep their mill operating for another 15 years, but Wenona Salt and Lumber Company, the last in the line of successors to the Whittemores, was pinched for logs. At East Tawas, two of its mills burned and upwards of 200 men were thrown out of work. Sawmills in the 1890s were prone to turn into ashes once the supply of timber was cut, must to the discomfort of insurance firms.

Time was running out on Tawas Bay's lumbering business and millmen were again looking westward—toward the untouched stands of pine in Idaho and the Pacific Northwest, others moved entire mills to Upper Peninsula lumbering centers to continue the white pine slaughter for a few more years.

East Tawas was fortunate to have a man of vision when, in 1890, a shift in national politics suddenly changed the entire lumbering business on Tawas Bay. That man proved to be Temple Emery and the political shift was revision of the American lumber tariff.

For years, lumbermen had looked longingly at the vast stands of white pine in the watershed of Georgian Bay, but great problems were involved in the successful realization of such a project. Not only did the Canadian government impose a heavy export duty on pine saw logs but, as yet, no safe or economical means of transporting logs across such large bodies of water as Lake Huron had been devised. The first obstacle was removed by revision of the American lumber tariff in 1890; the second was overcome by technical improvements in the method of lake rafting.

Emery, who had been identified with the lumbering business at East Tawas since 1878 and was the only local lumberman solvent enough to withstand the financial crash of 1879, had control of not less than one hundred million board feet of white pine along the Wahnapiatae River in Canada. In 1886, Emery rushed to completion a huge barge which would transport logs across Lake Huron to the company mill at East Tawas.

But transportation by barge proved expensive and lumbermen concentrated their efforts toward the development of a safe and economical method of raft towing. The solution proved to be surrounding a mass of logs with a "brace-let" of large diameter logs strung on a chain.

With removal of the export duty on Canadian saw logs in 1890, the door was opened to Michigan lumbermen for this new supply of logs. Emery made a proposition to the people of East Tawas in the fall of 1892: In consideration of the gift of the site of the two burned mills, he would guarantee that by the middle of May 1893, a large saw mill, salt block, shingle mill and dry kiln would be in operation. The proposition was accepted by the taxpayers, the site was purchased and decided to the Holland and Emery Lumber Company, a new firm composed of Nelson Holland of Saginaw and Emery, who served as president.

Work began immediately on moving Holland's large mill and salt block at Saginaw to the new site. New machinery was purchased and more than a dozen buildings were constructed making (See LAST HURRAH, page 6.)

Federal - State Grants OK'd for Area Sanitary Sewer Study

Federal and state grants totaling $63,120 have been approved to conduct an evaluation of existing sewage treatment facilities serving the Tawas area. The two grants represent 80 percent of the estimated eligible project cost. Local share of the study is to be financed by the Cities of Tawas and East Tawas, Baldwin Township and portions of Tawas and Alabaster Townships.

The state water resources commission announced last week that it had approved a state grant of $3,945 and that the project had been approved by the Environmental Protection Agency for a federal grant in the amount of $59,175.

Local notification was received by the City of Tawas City, lead applicant for this project.

The study is to be conducted by Edmonds Engineering Company of Bay City, engineering consultant for the City of Tawas City, along with Spicer Engineering Company, consultant to the City of East Tawas.

Besides offering financial assistance for an evaluation of existing facilities, the project is to study alternative treatment works and a determination of the most cost-effective waste treatment management system to meet quality standards and abate the present pollution problem on a regional basis.

Of primary concern in the program will be methods of providing secondary sewage treatment for the two cities, which presently operate primary sewage treatment plants, as well as extending sewage treatment service to Baldwin Township and portions of Tawas and Alabaster Townships.

The five units involved in the study have adopted a study area prescribed by the state water resources commission.

Several farming communities were located in adjacent Reno Township during the 1880s. The township was founded in January 1885 and the first store was at Cooper's Crossing, operated by James Cooper. Other communities included Siloam and Taft. The Loon Lake branch of the Detroit, Bay City and Alpena Railroad, later known as the Rose City division of the Detroit and Mackinac Railway, passed through Taft on its way to Hale and Rose City. The picture at right shows the Westervelt Store at Taft in 1906 and the Westervelt's log house is at left. John Sibley operated the store for many years. TA Split Double Header With Gladwin Nine Tawas Area Braves split a baseball doubleheader May 11 with Gladwin. The Flying G's won the opener, 4-3, but Tawas came back to win the second game, 8-2.

Six errors by Tawas hurt a good pitching performance by Harvey Herriman in the opener. Rick Storms was top hitter with two singles and a double, while Herriman and Bruce Harris each had two singles.

Charlie Smith was the winning pitcher in the second game. Smith allowed only five hits and Tawas cracked seven hits during the game. Harris and Ray Lauwers each had two singles. Brad Potts had two runs batted in.

15 Years Ago—

May 17, 1961—Residents of Tawas Area School District expressed interest in a pay-as-you-go plan for financing needed additions to school buildings of the district. The plan would finance construction of 10 elementary rooms on the Tawas City unit grounds, erection of a general purpose room at East Tawas and facilities for isolating seventh and eighth grades at the high school unit. The program would extend for a period of four years.

25 Years Ago—

The Tawas City senior class left Wednesday on its trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, New York. The class is composed of 24 members.

Forty-five land descriptions were sold at the May delinquent tax sale in Iosco County. The amount realized from the sale was $330.40.

35 Years Ago—

May 23, 1941—Plainfield Township School is advertising for bids on construction of a one-story frame school with six classrooms and subsidiary rooms. Plans were prepared by Joseph C. Goddoyne of Bay City.

Jay O'Farrell is Candidate for Sheriff

Jay O'Farrell has announced his candidacy for sheriff of Iosco County on the Republican Ticket. He is a life-long resident of Whittemore and a nephew of Ivan O'Farrell, former sheriff.

Graduating from Whittemore-Prescott Area High School in 1969, he studied law enforcement at Delta College. In July 1971, O'Farrell entered the School of Criminal Justice at Michigan State University, graduating in 1973 with a bachelor of science degree in police administration.

He has been a deputy sheriff of Iosco County and worked summers for the road commission while attending college.

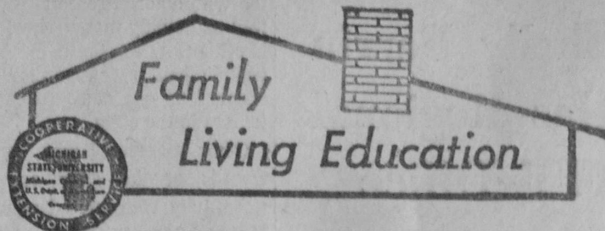

In September 1974, he accepted a position with the department of safety at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, under the direction of Col. Frederick E. Davids, retired commander of the Michigan State Police.

His duties there include investigation of larcenies, drug related problems, arson and other law enforcement activities. He works in close cooperation with the Ann Arbor Police Department, the Washington County Sheriff's Department, other state and federal agencies.

MAY IS MOREL MONTH

It is a happy experience to walk through the woods in the spring-time to search for morel mushrooms. But the happiest experience comes when sitting down at the table to eat those morels.

They may be sauteed in butter with onions, cooked in a marinade, added to the gravy or meat sauce smothering a steak, chopped or ground in spaghetti sauce, added to meat loaf or just plain scrambled with eggs. Morels are preferred by most mushroom enthusiasts.

Certain "cautions" should be observed regarding eating mushrooms. Avoid eating raw mushrooms, even though it has become fashionable to serve raw mushrooms in a salad.

Cook only enough for one meal. There is evidence that when left-over Helvella species were warmed over the second day, they have caused severe stomach distress.

These "cautions" may not be true of all mushrooms, but until more information is available it might be wise to avoid raw or warmed over mushrooms.

Morels can be frozen, canned or dried. Before freezing, cook morels first until they are covered by their own juice. Cool, pack in freezer containers and store at zero degrees Fahrenheit or below. Can morels in the same manner as any other non-acid vegetable. A pressure canner is necessary.

It is common practice to dry morels, though the quality of the end product is doubtful with some methods. To string them and drape them in the attic for months is exposing them to dust and insect damage. To spread them on paper or screens for the sun to dry works all right while the sun shines, but during the night and on dark days the mushrooms wilt and disintegrate rather than dry.

If you plan to dry morels, it is very simple. Spread the cleaned material on trays made of screen. Stack them in a rack with eight to 10 inches between each tray and devise a protective wall around the sides of the rack.

A heating unit with a control on it so the heat can be regulated to keep the trays warm but not hot can be placed under the shelves. The heat should be constant until the morels are completely dry. Allow space for air to enter at the bottom of the drier and for moist air to get out at the top.

When drying is complete, place morels in a glass or metal container and seal.

this plant one of the largest and most modern lumber manufacturing centers in the state. The company had a paid up capital of more than $250,000. In addition, the Holland Emery Lumber Company was instrumental in forming the Holland Hotel Company, said by the local editor to have one of the finest hotels in the north and constructed at a cost of $35,000.

Millmen of East Tawas believed they now had sufficient pine to supply mills for the next 15 to 20 years. So well had the work been systemized that the saw logs were delivered to the mills at even less expense than those cut from the Michigan pine forest, according to one observer.

The rafting season on the lakes usually lasted from late May until early October. During the spring, logs were driven down rivers and streams emptying into Georgian Bay and Lake Huron and run out into storage booms. With the arrival of a tug and an empty boom, logs were formed into large rafts. Many of the rafts attained large proportions and probably the largest seen on Lake Huron during the 1890s was one towed from Georgian Bay to Tawas Bay—it contained 91,700 logs, scaled 10,000,000 board feet and needed three tugs to handle it!

Although statistics are incomplete, amounts of Canadian timber sawed in Eastern Michigan mills showed a jump from 25,000,000 board feet in 1890 to 274,229,743 feet in 1896. But time was again running out on Tawas and other Lake Huron shore lumbermen, now almost entirely dependent upon Canada and the Lake Superior region for their supply of timber.

In 1897, the Dingle tariff fostered by the administration of Pres. William McKinley restored import duties in the United States, including $2 per thousand on Canadian manufactured white pine lumber. The Ontario legislature retaliated in December 1897 by approving the regulation that all logs cut upon crown lands be manufactured within the province.

This action sounded the death knell for large scale mill operations on Michigan's eastern shore. Holland and Emery Lumber Company dismantled its huge mill at East Tawas and moved it to Canada. In April 1899, Tawas Bay Lumber Company was the last mill to saw white pine at East Tawas, having failed to secure a stock for the season. Workmen began tearing down tramways and docks as the mill was closed for all time.

The Prescott mill continued to operate in Tawas City until 1905, but that year a fire razed that mill and lumbering operations came to an end.

Emery, who invested heavily in the new mill at East Tawas, never recovered from his loss and died nearly penniless.

LOG RAFTS were formed in Canada by chaining logs end-to-end to make a circular enclosure. This "bracelet" surrounded a floating mass of logs which was then towed by one or more tug boats. The men in the photo are drilling holes in the logs to admit large chains in the log rafting procedure.

Surprise! State Tax Commission Accepts Iosco County's Valuation as Equalized

For the first time in a number of years, Iosco County has not received a valuation boost from the state tax commission, but 55 of Michigan's 83 counties received real property increases in the preliminary report from Lansing.

The preliminary report signed May 10 by the state tax commission, which is subject to public hearing and appeals, accepted the valuation adopted last month by the county board of commissioners as the state equalized valuation. All local governmental units and schools, along with the county's tax equalization department, are now in a position to determine the actual tax base to meet 1976-77 budgets.

Last week's report upheld a prediction last month by John Rose, county tax equalization director, that the county's equalization would be accepted at Lansing. Rose's department spent a considerable amount of time in preparing the report and had tacked on plus factors to seven different units.

The final valuation adopted by the tax commission for Iosco County was $180,702,750 for real property and $14,766,387 for personal property. The state equalized valuation is supposed to represent one-half of true cash value of the property, according to the state constitution, and is used as a basis for computing taxes.

Last month, local assessing officers brought in a total of $163,351,334 as the county's assessed valuation for real property. Plus factors were added to this total by the county tax director to bring the county's equalized valuation to $180,702,750. Last year, the county had a state equalized valuation of $169,934,638 and the new total represents an increase of $10,768,112 in one year.

Two counties adjoining Iosco did not fare as well in the preliminary state equalized valuation report. Ogemaw County Board of Commissioners adopted an equalized valuation of $104,411,892 and the tax commission established the preliminary state equalized valuation at $125,164,727. Last year, Ogemaw had a final state equalized valuation of $81,684,526 and the total announced last week represents a $43,480,201 increase in only one year.

The increased valuation to Ogemaw will have a decided bearing on its proportionate share of the district health department's budget for 1976-77. The formula establishing a ratio of payment by each county in the district, Iosco, Ogemaw, Alcona and Oscoda, is based on valuation and population. Under the current budget, Iosco's share of the total budget is approximately 46 percent and the 50 percent increase in Ogemaw's tax base is expected to see a lowering of Iosco's share.

In Arenac County, the state tax commission added $4,156,023 to the figure adopted by the board of commissioners to bring the state equalized valuation to $89,767,958. Assessing officers had brought in a valuation of $63,141,705 earlier in the spring. Last year, the county had a state equalized valuation of $85,252,543.

The state tax commission adopted Alcona Board of Commissioners' valuation of $118,759,098 as the state equalized valuation for 1976, or $26,665,590 higher than the state equalized valuation for 1975.

Last year, the state tax commission rejected Iosco County's valuation adopted by the board of commissioners and added $17,746,356 to the state equalized total, a penalty of about 10 percent.

Budgets were left dangling for several months when this county joined others in the state to appeal the tax commission's report. The appeal to the state tax tribunal got nowhere, however, as the court ruled that the tax commission had jurisdiction in the matter.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Recently, you ran an article concerning "Lindy," as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was called after his epoch making flight to Paris, France. He was one of the true pioneers in aviation. People like myself were indeed fortunate to have lived during those days.

Lindbergh was born in Detroit on the west side, just a few blocks from Woodward. Being an old Detroiter, I use to go by his home many times. Not much is ever mentioned about his mother so allow me to tell you this: She was a grand woman, the type anyone would love to have for a grandmother. This may come as a surprise, but she was my chemistry teacher and a good one at Cass Technical High School in downtown Detroit.

I graduated in the January class of 1935 and that was the last time I ever saw her. I never had the opportunity to meet her son, but we all listened to the radio that day in May 1927 when he landed in Paris. I was only 11 years old at the time and our radio was an old crystal set that my dad made out of an oatmeal box; you see, radio, too, was in its infancy.

TAWAS KIWANIS CLUB has completed its project of restoring the band stand in the Tawas City Park. Members of the club volunteered to paint the old structure and building trades students of Tawas Area High School installed a new roof, replaced roof and floor boards and repaired railings. Materials were donated by area business firms. The band stand originally constructed in 1937, has been used for summer concerts, the annual art show and other activities. It will be utilized the week of June 26 to July 4 during the bicentennial program. It is one of the few pavilions remaining in the state.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Great American Happenings

1778: France discovers America.

Our Declaration of Independence has been a success in more ways than the obvious. All over Europe, we're getting emotional support. Practical help, too. Brilliant officers like Baron de Kalb and Baron von Steuben from Germany. Kosciusko from Poland. And most of all, a new respect from France. We're sure we can get France to sign a treaty of alliance now. But it isn't until after our victory at Saratoga that she's convinced we're strong enough to win a war against England. Benjamin Franklin goes to Paris. A treaty is signed in February. And now, it's no holds barred. We use the French navy. And we have the Marquis de Lafayette. It's our first treaty of alliance with a foreign power. It's even more than we'd hoped for.
