The World's Most Widely Used

(Read I Peter 1:3-9) "You believe in him, although you do not now see him. (I Peter 1:8 TEV)

> While continuing to look overthe barren, hot, sagebrush desert, the retired parson drawled his reply: "Son, that desert is desolate and parched far into the eastern horizon. During drought times, many a thirsty pioneer perished in there. Just so on the parched desert of doubt have perished the souls of many would-be believers, who, seeing the eastern dawn of hope, doubted; and during their doubt, they died."

Our belief must activate us to Christian concern, witness and deeds, so that bigotry will perish and compassion will nourish the spirit of all people.

PRAYER Grant us, O God, that blessed belief we need so much in our hearts. May Christ's faith challenge our souls as we reach out to the forgotten who suffer on the deserts of doubt. In the Master's name, we believe. Amen.

The first proposed tax allocation cle. made by Donald Griffin, county finance chairman, died for lack of support. That proposal called for five mills for the county, .2 of a mill for the intermediate district, 8.8 mills for schools and one mill for townships

A proposal by Richter Lixey, representing townships, received only his vote and that of Chairman Charles Smith of Oscoda That motion called for 4.50 mills for the county, .3 of a mill for the intermediate school district, nine mills for schools and 1.2 mills for townships

The final vote on the tax split received "yes" votes from Edward Nelkie, county treasurer; John Tafalski, intermediate school district superintendent; Ellsworth Bernard, representing boards of education; Arden Charters, representing the county at large; Mrs. Helen Payea, representing the intermediate school district board of education. Voting "no" were Griffin, Smith and Lixey. Last year, the preliminary order gave the county 4.60 mills, but this was cut back to 4.54 at the final allocation meeting. Picking up the difference at that time was the intermediate school district.

1781: The end of a very long war.

Lord Cornwallis has been joined by Benedict Arnold, who is most unhappy about not advancing fast enough in our army. Their objective: to conquer Virginia. They see it as a weak link, protected only by Marquis de Lafayette and his meager force. Cornwallis waits in Yorktown for his reenforcements, but the French navy gets there first. And so does General Washington, who's always at the right place at the right time. We surround Cornwallis and his troops. He has no choice. On October 19th, he surrenders his sword, and his army becomes our prisoners of war. We march them to Lancaster, to Cornwallis's chagrin. To the King's chagrin, many a Britisher thinks we've done a topnotch job. Years later, even Cornwallis admits he agrees. 9

The Detroit and Mackinac Railway and its predecessors opened the Huron Shore Region of Northeastern Michigan to land transportation nearly 100 years ago. We are proud of the role played by this railroad in the development of the region since 1878. Serving business and industry is the job, today, of the D&M, providing economical rail transportation service as a working partner in the development of Michigan's progressive northland.
