

Public Hearing on Hale Sewer Project

A public hearing is to be held Tuesday, September 27, 7:30 p. m., at the Plainfield Township Hall, Hale, on a proposed sewer facility plan for the township.

The proposed project would construct additions to the township's sewage system at Hale, including collecting sanitary sewers and an additional waste stabilization pond and pumping stations.

Sewer extensions are proposed from the existing system at Hale northerly on M-65 to the Ora Road area, southerly on M-65 to the Colonial Inn area, westerly on Esmond Road to the Hale Creek area, including Pine Street in the Hale Acres plat.

Alternatives to be considered in the plan include building the proposed sewer extensions or continuing with septic tanks and updating as required to prevent pollution.

A second alternative would be to provide sewage treatment by adding an additional waste stabilization pond or disposal of wastewater by treatment and land application.

Ray D. Kesler, township supervisor, said that the purpose of the hearing was to receive comments and views of interested persons on the facility plan and the environmental impact of the proposed alternatives.

Sheriff's Dept. Lists Complaints

Four larcenies and a vandalism complaint were investigated last week by the Iosco County Sheriff's Department.

William Bender, 240 Wilber Road, reported the theft of 250 gallons of fuel oil from tanks on his property; James R. Hennings, Sand Lake, reported the theft of a boat; 12 potted plants were stolen from a patio at the home of Margaret Charters, 324 Second Street, Tawas City; Tawas Chamber of Commerce reported that two Kiwanis emblems were stolen from a sign on US-23.

Officers investigated a vandalism complaint at Hale Area Elementary School where 10 windows were smashed.

Robert Mueller will deliver the sermon on Sunday, October 16.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Iosco Appropriated $10,000 to AuSable in Water Emergency Caused by Pollution

An appropriation of $10,000 from federal revenue sharing money was made Wednesday by Iosco County Board of Commissioners to aid AuSable Township in its emergency to provide water service to an area where wells have been poisoned by a toxic substance.

Terry A. Palmiter, township supervisor, said in a letter to the commission that Edmans Engineering of Bay City is now preparing plans for extension of the existing water system to serve the area.

The supervisor reported that Farmers Home Administration has money available to loan on the project, but it is doubtful if the federal agency can finance the estimated project cost of $128,000.

According to Palmiter, bids are to be opened on the project in 30 days. About 80 homes would be served.

This serious matter came to light three weeks ago when it was announced that wells in the Sunset-Franklin Street area of AuSable Township had been contaminated by trichloroethylene, a toxic substance used as an industrial cleaner.

The substance, which had been dumped into a septic tank system or had been stored in a faulty holding tank by an industrial operation, was first noted in area well water about four years ago.

Representatives of the Michigan Department of Health and the water quality division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources notified AuSable Township officials three weeks ago that the private well water supply had been determined to be contaminated.

Of the 12 wells tested in the area, nine were found to have from a trace to a few parts per million. A safe level for the toxic substance is not known, but the DNR suggested that those wells with even a trace of trichloroethylene should not be used for drinking purposes. High doses have been known to be harmful to humans.

Palmiter reported that many families are presently hauling their drinking water, "but that will be a job in itself after a few months with fall and winter coming."

The extension of a main to the nearby Oscoda Township water supply is to be made as soon as possible.

At its meeting August 15, District Health Department No. 2 adopted a resolution prohibiting issuance of septic tank permits for new construction in the AuSable Heights Subdivision until the problem with trichloroethylene is cleared up.

Albert L. Kinstrey Jr., district health department administrator, said the chemical appears to be going deeper and spreading out since deeper wells were drilled and were thought to have resolved the problem. The purpose for not issuing septic permits for new construction is to delay further development in the area until the community water system is extended to this area.

"It is hoped that other governmental units will cooperate in this effort, such as the township in not issuing any building permits," said Kinstrey. "Potential buyers of real estate in the area should be made aware of the problem."

Kinstrey said that although there have been no cases of illness associated with the chemically contaminated wells, people are urged to boil their water before drinking or to carry it from another source that has been tested to be safe.

"The department feels the only solution to the problem is the extension of the community water system and the discontinued use of individual or privately owned wells for drinking purposes," said Kinstrey.

A petition drive is now being held to establish a special assessment district to finance the water project. The health department may eventually require hookup of the community water system after it becomes available in order to protect the unsuspecting public and potential property owners.

Tawas Area School Bd. Awards 1977-78 Contracts

Awarding of contracts for providing food, petroleum products and services, as well as handling personnel matters, was the major business performed by Tawas Area Board of Education Monday night as time nears for the start of the 1977-78 school term.

Doors of the Tawas Area School's three buildings are to open Tuesday, September 6.

Monday night's action saw awarding of contracts to Grocery Baking Company, Grand Rapids, baked goods; Wilson Dairy, milk; Andrews and Fekete, gasoline; Hager Sanitation, trash collection; Forward Oil Company, lubrication and oil.

Bid of Benz Optical Company, Ann Arbor, was accepted for purchase of 12 microscopes at a cost of $255 each.

A report was heard from Trustee David Kennedy on the hot lunch committee's meeting with administrators and Donald Binder of Michigan State University. Kennedy said that several meetings had indicated that there was no major problem with food services and he said that Binder had made several recommendations to improve menus.

The board of education granted one leave of absence, denied one leave of absence and authorized hiring of a new employee.

Patricia Ulman, transportation secretary, was granted a leave of absence following surgery.

A request for a one-year leave of absence submitted by Carl Klinger was denied. Klinger, the seventh grade mathematics and shop teacher, had requested leave of absence to secure a position with Bopp-Busch Manufacturing Company to increase his vocational skills, which he said would be valuable when he returned to the classroom.

Anticipating the board's action, Klinger submitted a letter of resignation. On recommendation of Supt. Robert Halle, his resignation was accepted pending the school's hiring a qualified replacement.

Scott Fisher, a 1974 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, was hired to replace Allen Ackerman in an auto shop position. He had served the past two years as an instructor in Washtenaw County Community College.

Administrators reported that positions still to be filled on the school staff include a second grade teacher, eighth grade reading teacher, a shorthand and typing teacher.

DONATION OF $400 was made Monday from Sand Lake area organizations to Tawas Hospital for purchase of special equipment—Resusi Baby and Anatomic Annie—for use in the hospital's cardio pulmonary resuscitation program. Making the presentation to Donald Snyder, hospital administrator, left, are Glenn Bearss, center, and Robert Kujat, right, of the Sand Lake Men's Association. The donation represented a portion of the profit from the recently completed Grant Township Summer Festival. Other organizations involved were the Sand Lake Heights Women's Auxiliary, Grant Township Fire Department, Sand Lake Heights Senior Citizens and Sand Lake Teen Club.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Name Candidates for General Election

TC Primary Next Tuesday

Tawas City's non-partisan primary election to select candidates for the November 8 general election is to be held Tuesday, August 30. Polls located in the gymnasium at the Tawas City Elementary Unit are to be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m.

Six persons in a slate of seven candidates receiving the most votes August 30 for city councilmen are to compete for three vacancies in the November general election.

Mayor Herbert Cholger is unopposed for re-election to a second two-year term.

Candidates for four-year terms on the council include James J. Lansky and William L. Ezo, incumbents. Lansky, former fire chief, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Howard Hatton in 1971 and was subsequently elected to office. Ezo has served one term on the council.

Other candidates include Hugo J. Keiser, who recently resigned from the city planning commission in order to file nominating petitions for the council vacancy. A retired businessman, he served one term on the council and served on Tawas Area Board of Education.

Two candidates, Lyle E. Healey and Jerry J. Snoblen, were appointed to city board vacancies during the past year by the council. Snoblen resigned from the water board at the last meeting in order to become a candidate for the council. Healey is a member of the zoning board of appeals. Both men were unsuccessful candidates to the council in past elections.

The other two candidates are Arlene J. Dillon, a housewife and an employee of Peoples State Bank, and Francis J. Carey, a motel owner on Bay Drive.

Besides the terms of Lansky and Ezo, voters are to fill the vacancy of William L. Groff, whose term also expires at the end of the year. He is not a candidate for re-election.

Under terms of the city charter, candidates for city offices are elected on a non-partisan basis and the three councilmen to be picked in November are to represent the city at large.

The election is being held later than usual due to a court order issued by Circuit Judge Allen C. Miller. Earlier this summer, City Clerk Rachel S. McCready ruled that Healey and Snoblen were in violation of the city charter due to nonpayment of city property taxes and were not eligible candidates. A majority vote of the council supported this action.

As a result of the clerk's ruling, the primary election originally scheduled for August 2 was canceled due to the fact that seven candidates are required for a primary election. Healey and Snoblen brought suit in Iosco Circuit Court against the city clerk and Judge Miller ruled that the election be held with names of the two men listed on the ballot.

County Applies for Funds

Authorization was given last week by the Iosco County Board of Commissioners for this county's participation in a cooperative reimbursement program with the Michigan Department of Social Services.

The application hinges on available office space at the county building, which is now at a premium due to overcrowded conditions.

Supervisory power of this program would be handled by the prosecuting attorney's office, who would also act as legal advisor to the friend of the court.

The prosecuting attorney would represent the department of social services in obtaining orders of support against responsible parents, to conduct hearings for collection of money due to the department of social services.

Cost of the program is estimated at $25,103.31 and would be paid by the state. The county general fund would also benefit from the program to force fathers to pay for child support.

Action by the state on the county's application is not expected for about six months.

DELIVERY was received Tuesday on Tawas City Volunteer Fire Department's new $45,000 pumper from Fire Trucks, Incorporated, of Mt. Clemens. Dispensing with the traditional red color, the new truck is painted lime green, which is said to be safer in traffic at night because of the light reflecting quality of the paint. Purchase of the new truck is through a city tax levy which sets aside $10,000 annually for equipment replacement, along with the fire protection contract with Tawas and Alabaster Townships. This new truck and a 1961 unit are to be housed at the city hall. A 1949 unit replaced by the new truck is to be converted into a tanker. Volunteer firemen began the work Tuesday night of installing hose and other equipment in the new unit. Inspecting the unit from left are Chief Herbert Blust, left, and members of his fire truck specifications committee, Alton Long, Gene Salamony and Myron P. Trafelet.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Expect Enrollment Drop at Tawas Area School

Enrollment in grades kindergarten through 12 is expected to take another drop this fall at Tawas Area School, but is expected that the decrease in the number of students will have no effect on the number of staff members required.

Supt. Robert Halle told members of the board of education Monday night that the projected enrollment for 1977-78 is 1,809, or 67 students less than last year.

Enrollment at Tawas Area School has been dropping at a gradual rate since 1972, similar to other schools in the country. The school had a fourth Friday enrollment of 2,048 in 1972, dropped to 2,022 in 1973 and dipped to 2,004 in 1974. In 1975, enrollment dropped below the 2,000 mark for the first time since 1970.

Ten years ago, enrollment at Tawas Area School was 1,760, which reflected an increase from the previous year's high of 1,421. In 1968, enrollment jumped to 1,852 and by 1970, enrollment had jumped to 1,982.

Both Halle and Prin. John Alexander said there may be some minor changes in enrollment before the fourth Friday count, but they believe projections will be fairly accurate.

Eight of the grades show slight increases in enrollment, but four grades show rather sizeable decreases.

As an example, last year's kindergarten totaled 128 pupils and this year's first grade totals only 105; last year's first grade had 124 students, but this year's second grade has 121. In the high school, last year's sophomore class had 194 students, but this year's junior class is expected to total 173; last year's 11th grade had 164 students and this year's senior class will total 145.

The senior class in 1976-77 totaled 190, while this year's kindergarten totals 113.

Alexander said that the highest rate of dropouts usually takes

Hospital to Build Medical Building

At its regular meeting Wednesday, August 17, the board of trustees of Tawas Hospital voted to construct a medical arts building on hospital property.

This building will be for six doctors and will be designed so that it can be expanded. It is presently planned that the hospital will construct the building and will lease space to interested doctors.

The purpose of this building adjacent and connected to the hospital is for the convenience of doctors and patients in using hospital facilities. Other hospitals having this arrangement have found that it enhances the utilization of the doctor's time and works for the convenience of the patients. Some local area hospitals having doctors' offices on hospital grounds are West Branch, Cheboygan, Petoskey and Charlevoix. A recent survey showed that about 50 percent of the hospitals in the survey either had office facilities on hospital property for the medical staff or were planning such facilities.

Four doctors have presently signed for occupancy in the building and it is assumed that other doctors will be attracted to the area by modern office facilities. It is planned that construction will begin as soon as plans can be made.

Robert Elliott, board president, stated, "The board is committed to improving medical facilities and care for this community."

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands; one nation, under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

(Read Matthew 6:25-33) "Is there a man among you who by anxious thought can add a foot to his height?" (Luke 12:25 NEB)

We were arriving at New York from England and were impatiently awaiting the feel of the solid ground of home. But for almost an hour, the big jet had circled fog-bound Kennedy Airport, holding. From the windows, we saw only dirty gray fog. How long, we wondered, would this going no place continue.

Then simultaneously, we felt a jolt and heard the pilot announce, "We are now landing at Kennedy Airport." Through the fog, we saw a bit of land. As my apprehension vanished, I thought, "This is life: the fog of uncertainty and then, thanks to a pilot's skill, a safe landing."

Each of us has known periods when life seemed to consist of a fog of problems with no solutions visible. It is then that we need to learn to "hold" until the Lord guides us to an opening. To those of us who are always on the move, holding may be the most difficult course of all. Yet, it frequently is the only way: To wait--relaxed, prayerfully listening--knowing that in His own good time God will reveal an opening in the fog and we can see our way clearly.

PRAYER

Lord, help us to stop running aimlessly around. May we wait for You to show us the way and follow as You lead. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Why You Should Vote in Tawas City Primary TO THE REGISTERED VOTER OF TAWAS CITY:

We, the Concerned Taxpayers, Inc., of Tawas City, do hereby endorse the candidacy of Lyle E. Healey and Jerry J. Snoblen for the office of Councilman for the City of Tawas. We sincerely hope after meeting our candidates and reading this material that you will be enlightened as to why we are offering these two candidates our full support. Lyle E. Healey, married, the father of 6 children, has been a resident of Tawas for the past 12 years, he is very active in community affairs and is a member of the Board of Appeals. Jerry J. Snoblen, married, father of 7 children, has been a resident for 7 years. Jerry is active in church and civic affairs and a member of the Water Board. Recently, you may have read that it became necessary for Healey and Snoblen to sue the City to be able to seek elective offices on the City Council. The City Council voted not to allow Healey and Snoblen to seek the office of Councilman, as the Council claimed Healey and Snoblen were in default to the City as they were late in paying their taxes and/or special assessments. (NOTE: The City, normally does not check on payments of taxes and/or special assessments, at the time of certifying signatures on nominating petitions.) Payment or non-payment of taxes or special assessments has no bearing on a candidate's right to seek an elective office. A resident could be renting, never paying taxes, etc., and still would be qualified to seek an elective office. The Council's attempt to block the candidates right to seek office was merely a bit of old fashioned nit-picking! The Courts wisdom, however, exceeded that of the City Council, as the Judge stated "every time you turn on a water faucet one could be delinquent to the City, therefore, to be late in the payment of ones taxes or special assessments had no bearing on the right of the candidates to seek elective offices." The Judge further stated that the voters must be given the opportunity to make their own determinations, not the City Council, and ordered a Special Primary Election be held. ISN'T IT IRONIC THAT TWO OF THE PRESENT MEMBERS OF COUNCIL VOTED AGAINST HEALEY AND SNOBLEN'S RIGHT TO SEEK ELECTIVE OFFICE, WHEN THEY THEMSELVES ARE SEEKING ELECTIVE OFFICE? If, the present Council had acted in good faith and truly been representing the people of Tawas, they would have investigated alternatives for funding special assessment projects, and found that Federal Funding was available. You, as well as Healey and Snoblen would not be paying high dollar for your sewers and water. Healey and Snoblen spent many hours investigating the funding possibilities, too late however, to help others or themselves. If, the present Council Members had to pay for the installation of their sewer and water, instead of having it installed at City expense, they would not be so quick to discriminate against others. Furthermore, Council failed to pay the East Tawas water Bill on time, which resulted in over $3,000.00 in penalties. Would you call this delinquent or default and who but the Council allowed this to happen? Can you afford to pay the cost for special elections, lawyers fees, high dollar for special assessments, penalties on over due bills? We do not know the Cost of a Court ordered election, court cost, lawyers fees, etc. However, we do know that it cost Healey and Snoblen over $500.00 for the right to seek elective offices. Would you like this to happen to you? Do you want to continue paying for the poor judgment and the major decisions made against the will of the people? We Concerned taxpayers, expect the best representation for the City of Tawas and denounce dictatorship in any form. For these reasons, we urge you to Vote August 30, 1977, make Lyle E. Healey and Jerry J. Snoblen your personal representatives on the Tawas City Council. The Concerned Taxpayers, Inc. 341--Paid Political Adv.

Bertsch-McKinney Marriage Solemnized at Christ Church

Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas, was the scene of the double ring ceremony Saturday, August 20, uniting the former Jackie Sue McKinney and Richard M. Bertsch. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pfeiffer of Tawas City and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McKinney of Flint. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bertsch of Tawas City.

The Rev. Alfred Saulsbury performed the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the East Tawas Community Building for 300 guests from Detroit, Ossineke, Flint, Alpena, South Carolina and the Tawas area.

The bride was attired in a Qiana knit gown trimmed in Venice lace with Empire waist flowing to a chapel length train. A Camelot headpiece secured a matching chapel veil.

Laura McCann of South Carolina was maid of honor with Bobbie Anschuetz and Denise Anschuetz of Tawas City and Cindy McKinney of Flint as bridesmaids. All wore sleeveless apricot gowns with Empire waists and softly gathered floor length capes encircled with wide ruffles. Their bouquets were of white daisies and babies breath. Matching fresh flowers adorned their hair.

Rodney Bertsch of Las Vegas, Nevada, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. David Anschuetz and Steven Anschuetz of Tawas City and Gary Condon of East Tawas were groomsmen. Seating guests were Dwight Dehner of Round Lake and James Smith of Tawas City.

Mrs. Pfeiffer wore a long sleeve gown in green, white and peach print. Mrs. Bertsch chose a sleeveless green print frock and Mrs. McKinney was attired in a rust chiffon gown.

The newlyweds, both graduates of Tawas Area High School, will reside at 620 Main Street, East Tawas.

OES Chapter Met Aug. 16

Tawas City Chapter No. 303, Order of the Eastern Star, met in regular session Tuesday evening, August 16. Discussion was held on the Alcona-Iosco-Arenac Association meeting at Hale September 29. A general discussion followed.

A social hour was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. R. Harry Crawford and Nellie Stafford with ice cream, doughnuts, coffee and tea served.

HONORED Sunday on their 50th wedding anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. John Lansky of Tawas City. A surprise party attended by 50 relatives and friends was held at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Lansky of 1138 Bay Drive. A buffet luncheon was served. Out-of-town relatives attending included Mrs. Catherine Rowley of Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walters of Petoskey and Mr. and Mrs. A. Barry McGuire of Lansing. An anniversary Mass was held Monday morning at Immaculate Heart of Mary Church.

Erickson-Boyer Vows Exchanged

Kathryn Boyer of Omer became the bride of Patrick Allen Erickson Jr. at the home of the bridegroom's parents Saturday, August 13. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Boyer of Omer and the senior Patrick Ericksons of Tawas City.

Miss Boyer, given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue gown with velvet bodice. She also wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Margaret Welton of Tawas City, maid of honor, was attired in a multi-color gown accented with lace sleeves. A picture hat completed her attire. Diane Erickson, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, wore an identical gown with Thresa Boyer and Marilyn Erickson dressed in pink and white gowns. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Best man was Donald Brenner of Millersburg. Groomsman was John Erickson with Andrew Bischoff and Gerald Erickson as ushers.

A reception followed at Immaculate Heart of Mary Parish Hall for guests from Holly, Flint, Fenton, Omer, Kalkaska and AuGres.

The couple will reside in Tawas City.

Engaged

A fall wedding is being planned by Lucy Ann Smith and John Pfaff of Grand Rapids.

Miss Smith is the daughter of Mrs. Gladys Smith of Tawas City and the late William Smith. The prospective bridegroom is the son of George Pfaff and Margaret Pfaff, both of Detroit.

Seven Girls Attended Camp

Girl Scout Camp, Oak Hills, Harrison, was attended this summer by seven girls from the Tawas area. Attending one and two-week sessions in July and August were Monique Marshall, Jennifer Kovacs, Shelly Oesterling, Tammy Lipka, Teresa Andreica, Donna Miner, Tammy Stoddard and Theresa Conklin. Camping experience included swimming, hiking, horseback riding, arts and crafts, song fests, games, cook-outs, living and eating in the out-of-doors.

Planned for this fall is a father-daughter camping week-end giving an opportunity for girls of brownie through senior program levels to camp with their fathers or male guardians at Camp Wigwag Trails, West Branch. Registrations must be received between September 12 and 19. For further information, call Mrs. William Bayer at 362-4555.

September 1, 7:30 p. m., at Tawas Area High School, a movie entitled "What's It All About?" will be presented to all senior citizens, parents and girls over 15 years of age interested in being a part of the girl scouting organization in the Tawas area. Leaders, assistant leaders and people interested in working with girls are needed. Questions will be answered following the movie.

Monday evening, August 22, 10 members of Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary No. 5678 gathered at the post home to witness the presentation of a certificate of appreciation to Fannie Walstead, poppy chairman, who was cited for poppy sales. Betty DeLage, president, also awarded Mrs. Walstead a 10-year membership pin.

Post and auxiliary members will hold their annual picnic Sunday, August 28, 1:00 p. m., at the post home. All members are asked to bring a dish to pass.

The local auxiliary received a citation from the National Home for four life memberships for 1977. Virginia Wheeler and Erna Becker were named to the lunch committee for the September 12 meeting.

Mystery package was awarded to Violet Anderson, who was assisted by Mrs. Walstead in serving refreshments at the close of the evening.

Cribbage Club Opens Play

Chapmans Reside at Royal Oak

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Chapman will reside at 615 East Eleven Mile Road, Royal Oak, following a wedding trip to Canada.

The couple exchanged vows Saturday, August 20, at St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham, before the Reverend Snyder. A reception followed at Botsford Inn, Farmington.

Mrs. Chapman is the former Deborah Duvall of Royal Oak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Duvall of East Tawas. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chapman of Farmington Hills.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a gown with a high neck lace bodice. The veil was edged in matching lace as was the headpiece. The bridal bouquet was composed of white sweetheart roses and Stephanotis.

Wearing apricot gowns with elbow length capes forming short sleeves were Patsy Svoboda of Bay Village, Ohio, cousin of the bride, maid of honor, and Elaine Patterson, Janice Fitzpatrick and Marilyn Chapman, bridesmaids. They carried bouquets of apricot sweetheart roses and white chrysanthemums.

Richard Chapman of Phoenix, Arizona, was best man. Groomsman were Donald Chapman, Jeffrey Duvall and Kevin Marr.

Mrs. Duvall chose a green floral gown for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Chapman wore gold floral featuring a short cape.

The bride was honored at pre-nuptial showers given by her attendants. The rehearsal dinner was served at Kingsley Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

The bride, a graduate of Michigan State University, is a medical technologist at Mt. Siani Hospital, Detroit. Her husband, with the Warren school system, attended MSU and Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Helmuth Carlson Died August 20

Helmuth A. Carlson of East Tawas died Saturday, August 20, at Little Traverse Hospital, Petoskey. He moved to East Tawas in 1965 following his retirement from Buick Motor, Flint.

Born March 8, 1905, in Gotland, Sweden, he married the former Alene Vaughn at East Tawas in 1939. He was a member of Tawas Lodge No. 274, Free and Accepted Masons; Tawas Area Senior Citizens, and Lake Shore Chapter No. 661, American Association of Retired Persons.

Services will be held at 1:00 p. m. Wednesday (today), August 24, at Tawas United Methodist Church with the Rev. Kenneth Tousey officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, East Tawas. Masonic memorial rites were conducted Tuesday evening at Jacques and Kobs Funeral Home, East Chapel, East Tawas.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Arvid of Flint; four grandchildren; one great grandchild, and one sister, Elna Carlson of Gotland.

Starts Suit in Dispute Over Property

Suit has been commenced in Iosco County Circuit Court by Robert Buffmyer and Edward Brenner vs. Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Buch in which the plaintiffs claim the defendants will not proceed with an agreement into which they had entered.

According to the petition, Buffmyer and Brenner, who purchased the former McLean building and the former Lange Restaurant on Lake Street in Tawas City, entered into an agreement with the Buchs on July 26 whereby the plaintiffs would purchase the Buchs' property presently housing the Tawas City branch library.

The transaction on a land contract was for $17,000 with a down payment of $3,000. It is alleged that $100 was paid as a deposit. The petition states that on August 12, the plaintiffs informed the defendants they were ready to proceed with the land contract agreement, but the defendants indicated that they would not proceed. On August 13, the plaintiffs claim they tendered a check for $3,000.

Claiming that they have been and are now ready and willing to perform provisions of the contract, the plaintiffs ask the court to order the defendants to perform the contract and to award a judgment to the plaintiffs for damages.

A second count asks exemplary damages of $10,000, claiming that the defendants were endeavoring to obtain an additional $4,500 for the property "with knowledge of plaintiffs irrevocable commitment to purchase adjacent property and develop same with defendants' land in a presently existing comprehensive plan."

Harris Barkman Elected Iosco Historical Society President

Harris Barkman of East Tawas was elected president of the Iosco County Historical Society at its regular monthly meeting held Thursday night at the county building. He succeeds John Weible of Alabaster Township, outgoing president.

Other officers elected for 1977-78 were Joan Blust, Tawas City, vice president; Mary Brown, Sand Lake, secretary; Mary Jane Hennigar, Oscoda, treasurer.

Barkman stated that the Iosco County Museum, to be housed in the former McKay residence at East Tawas, will become a reality in the near future. He explained that for future success of this project, the organization has requested the cooperation and assistance of all communities and organizations of the county.

Organization of 10 committees was recommended by the president, including building and grounds, finance, planning, fund raising, publicity, display for museum and out county, public relations, rules and regulations, membership and historical markers.

A list of committees and functions is to be displayed at chambers of commerce offices in the Tawas and Hale, at the Oscoda Township Hall, Sand Lake Community Center and at Whittemore.

The public is invited to a meeting Tuesday, August 30, 7:30 p. m., at Tawas Bay Artists gallery on Westover at Pine Street, East Tawas. Persons with questions or who wish to join the organization may call Pauline Peterson, 362-3190.

PUBLIC NOTICE

TOWNSHIP OF PLAINFIELD
IOSCO COUNTY, MICHIGAN
HALE AREA
NOTICE OF HEARING
Notice is hereby given that the Township of Plainfield, Iosco County, Michigan will hold a public hearing on the proposed Facility Plan for Plainfield Township. The hearing will be held at 7:30 P. M., Local Time, September 27, 1977 in the Plainfield Township Hall, N. Washington, Hale, Michigan.

The proposed project consists of additions to Plainfield Township Sewage System No. 1 at Hale including collecting sanitary sewers and an additional waste stabilization pond and pumping stations. The proposed sewer extensions are from the existing system in Hale -

- 1) Northerly on M-65 to the Ora Road area.
- 2) Southerly on M-65 to the Colonial Inn area.
- 3) Westerly on West Esmond Road to the Hale Creek area including Pine Street in the Hale Acres Plat.

Alternatives considered in the Facility Plan include:

Building the proposed sewer extensions, or continuing with septic tanks and updating as required to prevent pollution of the surface water of the State.

Provide sewage treatment by adding an additional waste stabilization pond or disposal of wastewater by treatment and land application.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive comments and views of interested persons on the Facility Plan and the environmental impact of the proposed alternatives.

Copies of the proposed Facility Plan will be available at least fifteen days prior to the hearing for public inspection at the following office:

Plainfield Township Hall
Office of the Township Clerk
N. Washington Street
Hale, Michigan 48739

Written comments sent to the Township Clerk, N. Washington Street, Hale, Michigan 48739 will be entered into the public hearing record through Friday, Sept. 30, 1977.

Hale Area School Opens August 30

Hale Area School gets the jump on other Iosco County schools by opening its doors to students on Tuesday, August 30. Teachers are to report on August 29.

Peter Holley, elementary principal, reports three new staff members this year. Greg DeNio will be teaching first grade and Adrian Durham, third grade. Karen Schmidt will be the special learning disabilities teacher.

Holley said that a special education position is still to be filled.

Holley projects a total enrollment of 384 pupils in the elementary grades, about the same as last year.

There will be two new staff members at the high school. Joanne Hampson, a 1977 graduate of Central Michigan University, will be the special education teacher and Linda Zebarah, a 1977 graduate of Michigan State University, will teach English and art.

Richard Dodge, who was spending his last day Wednesday as high school principal, projects an enrollment of 425 students in the junior and senior high school.

Dodge has left Hale for his new position as principal of the vocational training school in Sanilac County.

RAIN ON SUNDAY did not permit completion of the Iosco Vaqueros 4-H Club's speed show at Rod Graham's ranch in Wilber Township and is to be completed at a later date. Holding ribbons to be awarded to winners are Toni Coleman and Melody Coleman. About 50 youngsters participated in events before the program was called off. —Tawas Herald Photo.

Commission Finally Agrees on Revenue Sharing Allocation

After months of discussion, Iosco County Board of Commissioners finally adopted a program Wednesday allocating a portion of the county's federal revenue sharing money to local units. Because of the need for additional office and vault space at the county building, future revenue sharing money will be reserved for county use, but it is expected that some funds will still be allocated for recreational and industrial development over the next three years.

Wednesday's split was approved unanimously by members of the board of commissioners, although John Webb Jr., Fifth District commissioner, said he was not entirely satisfied with the arrangement.

A compromise package proposed by Jack Allen of Oscoda was finally approved. This called for an expenditure of $130,000 as follows:

East Tawas, $15,000 for the Dewey Durant Park; Grant Township, $10,000 for a bridge over the East Branch of the AuGres River; Oscoda Township, $35,000 for development of roads at its industrial park; Plainfield Township, $25,000 to convert former county garage at Hale into a senior citizens center; Reno Township, $5,000 for a bridge; Sherman Township, $10,000 for a bridge; Burleigh Township, $5,000 for a bridge; Tawas City, $15,000 to aid in purchase of the river mouth; AuSable Township, $10,000 emergency appropriation for improvement to its water system.

Webb said he was particularly concerned over the split because $10,000 was awarded Sherman Township and only $5,000 went to Burleigh Township. He said that Burleigh Township voters had approved a millage issue to finance bridges, while Sherman Township voters had rejected a bridge proposal.

Following presentation of Allen's plan, Joseph Fox recommended the addition of Burleigh Township's bridge to the list.

Allen's proposal requires that all plans for the above projects be completed and approved by the commission within one year and projects are to be completed in 1978.

Prior to the final vote, three representatives of the county parks and recreation commission appeared before the commission and presented a three-year program for a cooperative development with local units.

During a joint meeting between the two commissions last February, the matter of spending federal revenue sharing money on parks and recreational projects was turned over to the parks and recreation commission.

Appearing at Wednesday's session were Donald Griffin, Duane Walters and Robert Foster, all members of the parks and recreation commission.

Four different projects were listed as priority items by the commission, but two of those projects were included on the list approved Wednesday by the county commission and at a much lower rate. Under the parks and recreation commission's recommended plan, $30,000 would have been allocated to Tawas City for purchase of the river mouth and $41,000 was recommended for the Dewey Durant Park.

As a result of the county commission's later action, the parks and recreation commission is to be asked to prepare a new list of priority projects excluding the Tawas City and East Tawas projects. Others on the original list included development of McQuaig Park at Oscoda and a second trail grooming machine for the local snowmobile association.

It was pointed out that the original plan called for establishment of $50,000 to assist other local units with projects. Approximately $10,000 would be added to that amount each year from funds received through Old Orchard Park receipts. This would represent repayment to the county for revenue sharing funds used at that park in the past.

Foster expressed the opinion that the county's revenue sharing money should be used principally for creating jobs in the county. He felt that one way to accomplish this was to support industrial develop-

QUEEN OF

TAWAS FESTIVALS

Despite a return of the yellow perch to Tawas Bay during the past season, revival of one of Northeastern Michigan's most famous festivals is not anticipated. The Tawas City Perch Festival was "born" in 1936 and suffered two "deaths," once temporarily during World War II and a final death in 1951 during the Korean War.

While it would appear that war had something to do with the demise of the perch festivals which were held here for 10 years, the real reason for discontinuance can be attributed to a number of factors: Inability to time the festival to coincide with peak perch runs, infrequent spring storms which played havoc with festivities and a gradual reduction in the Tawas Bay perch population.

It might be added that operation of the festival required a lot of work on the part of a few people and, like the old Silver Valley winter sports carnival which met its demise a little more than 10 years ago, enthusiasm of the original sponsoring organizations began to wear thin and the event was discontinued.

During its day, however, the annual Tawas Perch Festival provided a major attraction in Northeastern-Michigan and resulted in considerable publicity for the area.

This annual festival was the brain-child of the old Tawas City Board of Commerce, which announced on February 14, 1936, that Douglas Ferguson had been named general chairman for the event. Ferguson passed away recently and in his effects was a group of photographs which he wished to turn over to the editor of The Tawas Herald.

Included were several snapshots from the first perch festival in 1936, featuring candidates for festival queen—all young ladies from the Tawas wearing brown whipcord breeches, hightop boots, jackets and posing with bamboo fishing poles.

Elaborate plans were made months in advance of the first festival held April 24, 25 and 26 of 1936. "In addition to the perch fishing attraction, a well-filled program of scenic tours, athletic events, parade, dances and other interesting features has been arranged," commented The Tawas Herald.

With every business place and many private dwellings dressed in festival bunting, Tawas City presented a carnival like appearance for the event. Businessmen contracted with "Circus Jack" Davis of Bay City for decorations for their establishments.

That first perch festival probably was the most successful in its 10-year history, drawing approximately 15,000 people to the Tawas for the three-day event.

Starting early Friday morning during the festival, the Tawas River and state dock at East Tawas were lined with hundreds of perch fishermen and continued to be the main point of interest throughout the three days with excellent catches of fish. The perch cooperated that first year by being very hungry, much to the enjoyment of visitors.

Entertainment during the program included crowning of Isabelle Dease as festival queen at the Edgewater Pavilion by James F. Thompson, commissioner of agriculture. The ceremony was attended by more than 500 people and music was furnished by the Ford Mountaineers.

Saturday afternoon's program included a field meet at the city park and a boxing program held in the evening at the then newly constructed band stand. Thomas E. Webster of Delano was winner in a liar's contest.

Some of the first place winners in the field events included Charles Fairfield, Harold Moeller, C. T. Prescott and Donald Hull.

A parade Sunday from Tawas City to East Tawas featured a beautiful float carrying the queen and her court, along with floats from nearby towns. Color was added to the parade by Tawas City and Oscoda public school bands and the East Tawas American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps. Two women cyclists, Eunice Anschuetz and Iva Mallon, drew an especially hearty cheer from the throngs along Lake Street.

Sunday's program included a tour of various points of interest in the Huron National Forest. A lunch was served to the guests at Silver Creek by members of the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC).

H. J. Keiser Sr., who was president of the board of commerce in 1936, was general chairman of the festival the following year. The program committee included A. W. Colby, A. Don Anderson, Roy DePotty, A. A. Bigelow, Arthur

Nelson, M. J. Coyle, Edward Libka and Orville Leslie.

Headquarters for the second annual program was the Leslie Ford Garage on US-23, which was completed in 1937. A coronation ball was held there, with music furnished by the Ford Mountaineers. Amateur talent was presented in a "Major Bowes style" program.

Mildred Cholger reigned as queen of the 1937 festival. Joy Smith was her maid of honor. Lt. Gov. Leo Nowicki crowned the queen. The liar's cup was again awarded to Delano's teller of tall tales.

Fistic encounters at the parking ring included bouts between the Hughes brothers, the Ogden brothers, Robert Rollin and James Brown, Kenneth Smith and Vernon Wingrove, Joseph Martin and Brown.

The Michigan Archery Association presented an outstanding program at the city park, followed by a demonstration of forest fire fighting techniques by the United States Forest Service and CCC boys. A "forest" of pine trees was planted near the mouth of the Tawas River and burned for demonstration purposes.

The 1937 parade was the best in the history of the festival with six bands and a large number of floats from surrounding communities.

The festival was outstanding that year, but fishermen had difficulty in catching perch. The Herald noted during the week of the festival that "the floodwaters from the long days of rain have partly subsided and the perch are again attempting to make their annual pilgrimage up the Tawas River."

Mary Gray, radio celebrity of WJR Detroit, was guest during the 1938 festival, which saw crowning of Ardis Callahan of East Tawas as festival queen. Alma Bronston of Tawas City was maid of honor.

Rambling Bill Hurley, former entertainer with WJR, was master of ceremonies at the coronation held at the Tawas City Masonic Temple. E. D. Jacques was general program chairman.

That year marked the first time that Tawas City owned the city park. Use of the property had been allowed for 10 years through permission of C. H. Prescott and Sons on a gratis basis. In 1937, city voters authorized purchase of the park at a cost of $8 per front foot, which seemed to some persons at the time to be a rather excessive rate.

The Herald noted that other lots along Lake Street were selling at $18 per front foot and pointed out that after US-23 was widened, "There will be a demand for new commercial locations and the trend will be in the direction of the park if it is not purchased." Due to a technicality, two votes were required but citizens approved the purchase by a wide margin.

The fourth annual perch festival in 1939 was highly successful and featured a carnival at the park by Lee United Shows of Bay City. Lyda Moore reigned as perch queen and Norma Musolf was maid of honor.

Crowning the queen at the Edgewater Inn Pavilion was Ron Gamble of WJR Detroit, along with Bob Clark of the radio station's Dinkers' Club.

The 1939 festival enjoyed one of the best perch runs during the event's history, although cold weather made it uncomfortable for parade spectators.

The 1940 Tawas Perch Festival made use of the then newly constructed auditorium at Tawas City School where Edith Reinke was crowned festival queen. Members of her court included Marian Zollweg, Laura Mae Pierson, Betty Rapp and Virginia Rapp.

A banquet was held earlier in the (See PERCH FESTIVAL, page 6.)

PUBLICITY SHOT for the 1936 Tawas Perch Festival showed Jean Lansky and Dwayne Leslie selling worms along the Tawas River. Several pictures from the 1936 festival were given to the Herald editor by the late Douglas Ferguson, first chairman.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I would like to respond to Chester Densted's recent letter to the editor and to other patients and staff members of the Iosco County Medical Care Facility and members of the community who may share his concern.

Provincial House, Incorporated, has proposed to the county board of commissioners that we assume management responsibility for this facility. We believe we can be of service to the county and its taxpayers by making the facility operate more efficiently and effectively—without sacrificing patient care.

For the most part, the benefits we can provide would be behind the scenes, unnoticed by patients and their families. The complexities of operating a medical care facility in today's social, political and business environment are increasingly difficult to cope with. Effective management today requires medical excellence, exceptional business acumen, knowledge and understanding of the ever-changing state and federal rules and regulations and proven skills in data processing, cost reporting and reimbursement mechanisms. This is a rare combination of expertise!

Provincial House, Incorporated, is a Lansing-based health care company with 15 skilled nursing facilities throughout Michigan. We have the professional, specialized skills which are necessary to manage the county's facility with maximum efficiency and effectiveness. In short, we can give the taxpayers the most value for each dollar used to operate the facility; we can do so while maintaining quality health care.

Obviously, however, the issue of greater concern to patients, staff, families and the community at large is: How will this effect the patients?

I was disheartened to see Mr. Densted write, "When you are admitted to a nursing home you are just supposed to vegetate—in body and spirit—aren't you?" That's part of a nursing home story which has been going around for years, but a story which is fiction at Provincial House. I think it is important for people to have some facts about what goes on at Provincial House nursing facilities so they can understand our philosophy of patient care.

Provincial House strives to provide patients with a good quality of life beyond good quality care. This is a commitment to treat patients as people—not just invalids—with compassion and respect.

Our important means of making each patient's life really worth living is our broad activity program. Activities are geared to individual interests and abilities. They range from current events discussions, crafts, art exhibits, rummage and bakery sales, movies and modified bowling, to parties of all sorts including stag nights, ladies' luncheons, dances, picnics and ice cream socials. Religious services are also conducted regularly in each home.

Another means of protecting patient dignity and security is the resident council (comprised only of patients) in each facility. These councils give patients an opportunity to have a say in the way the facility is run; and their suggestions are, indeed, acted upon. These resident councils also do much of the planning for special event activities.

Provincial House patients also benefit from community interest. People young and old, special groups and dedicated individuals come to help or entertain in all sorts of ways—singing, dancing, playing, reading or just plain visiting. In our new Traverse City facility, we had been open only a few weeks when one group became so involved they donated a piano to our patients.

It would be a shame for people to think that management by Provincial House would in any way detract from the fullness of life which Iosco County Medical Care Facility patients enjoy. It is not the case in our own facilities; it would not happen in a facility we managed.

Mr. Densted asked when Provincial House was going to detail to the public what we would provide to the patient for $27 a day. In our own nursing facilities, a private pay patient (one whose care is not reimbursed by a third party such as Medicaid, Medicare or other insurances) pays $24, $26 or $28 a day, depending upon the level of nursing care required. This compares to the current flat rate of $37 per day at the Iosco County facility.

Our rate includes lodging (with continuous linen and housecleaning); snacks and meals (prepared to the individual's physician-prescribed diet); general nursing care by registered nurses, licensed practical nurses and trained nurse aides; and the diversional activities discussed above. In short, it covers those services used by all the patients.

However, we do not believe a patient should be required to pay for services he does not use—he should not have to pay another patient's bill. For example, if Mr. Jones does not need a wheel chair and Mr. Smith does, Mr. Jones should not be required to share the cost of Mr. Smith's wheel chair. This explains why wheel chairs are rented in our facilities rather than provided free. Remember, nothing is really free, somebody—perhaps the other patient—pays for it.

This philosophy is applied to other services not included in our daily rate. We provide physical therapy, speech therapy and occupational therapy as needed and charge the patient for these services as they are used. The same is true for barber and beauty shop services and personal laundry. Patients are only charged for the type and amount of service they use themselves.

Mr. Densted said, "When we have a good thing, why change it?" My answer is that those things which are wasteful or perhaps unfair should and would be changed; those things which are good should not and would not be changed. We would seek to control the costs of operating the Iosco County Medical Care Facility by being effective, efficient managers—with quality

Commission Decides Against Changing Insurance Carriers

Group health insurance provided by Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield and life insurance provided by Imperial Life Insurance Company to Iosco County employees is to continue, according to action taken Wednesday by the county board of commissioners.

Two weeks ago, the county commission notified the above two firms that it was terminating contracts effective September 1 and indicated that American Mutual Insurance Company would be the new carrier.

Its resolution Wednesday stated that the commission desired to continue the group contract still in force.

Following its announcement two weeks ago, union representatives pointed out that its contract signed with the county specified Blue Cross-Blue Shield group insurance and objected to any change without negotiation.

A confusing situation had apparently resulted due to the fact that two different contracts were on file at the county building. One contract indicated that Blue Cross-

Blue Shield or an equivalent plan was to be provided by the county; a second contract signed by all parties, however, did not include the words "or equivalent."

Word'ing which would have allowed the change was in the preliminary contract, but apparently was not included in the final agreement.

This coupon worth $5 off the price of a Tuff Kote rustproofing job on any new car, or used car over 90 days old or with more than 3,000 miles.

Your present car may be worth more than ever today. But if you don't have it rustproofed by Tuff-Kote, how long do you expect it to stay that way?

Tuff-Kote Dinol has the only rustproofing system in the world with a penetrant that displaces moisture, goes down to the bare metal and stops existing rust in its tracks and an aluminized sealant to stop rust from ever starting again. That's why only Tuff-Kote Dinol can effectively rustproof and guarantee both new and used cars.

See your Tuff-Kote dealer this week. Not only will he save you $15 in cash, he'll make your car hold up its worth a whole lot longer. So the next car you trade for will be priced a whole lot shorter.

CUTTING CLEANING COSTS

Are you overcleaning your house and your clothes? Look at the grocery bill and see how much money is spent on items other than food. One might discover they are spending a lot for cleaning and laundry products unnecessarily.

With a little time and a few basic supplies on hand, one may save some money by making cleaning products.

Try one of the following solutions for cleaning windows and mirrors:

Add four tablespoons ammonia to one quart of warm water (for heavy greasy soil); add two tablespoons vinegar to one quart of warm water (for hard water spots); use one tablespoon washing soda to one quart of warm water.

If the porcelain enamel on sinks, bathtubs and toilets is in good condition, clean with powdered detergent on a damp sponge. If porcelain is worn, scouring powder may have to be used or try one tablespoon trisodium phosphate dissolved in a gallon of warm water.

For sluggish drain pipes, flush with one-fourth pound washing soda dissolved in three quarts boiling water.

Keep furniture clean with dustless cloths which gather dust instead of scattering it. To make a treated cloth, put a few drops of cleaning wax in a jar, coating the sides. Place a soft cloth inside the jar, cap tightly and leave overnight.

For cleaning ovens, place a small glass dish filled with ammonia in a cool oven and leave several hours to loosen grease film. Later, wipe clean. Scrub remaining burned-on spots with steel wool pad.

To clean surfaces of appliances (ranges, refrigerators, etc.) use detergent and water or ammonia and water or baking soda, then rinse. Do not use scouring powder for appliance surfaces. It will mar the finish.

Do not overclean. If the floor gets dirty, it may just need a damp mopping with cool water. A coat of wax will preserve the floor's surface, but do not remove the wax at every cleaning.

Clean floor with soap and water occasionally, rather than scrubbing with harsh cleaners which remove wax. Wax only when needed to save money, time and energy.

How much time and money is spent doing laundry? An MSU study of four-person urban families showed some washed twice as many laundry loads a week as other families the same size.

Wait to wash clothes until there is a full load, but do not overload the machine. The average washer uses 48 gallons of water for a cycle. Be sure to not waste costly hot water and soap by doing only half a load.

Do not wash clothes until they really need it. Maybe there are only a few spots on the article. Remove these spots in the sink.

Is too much soap being used? Are all those additives needed? Maybe some loads do not need fabric softener. Is the least expensive form of bleach being used? Remember, little things add up.

For more tips on cleaning on a shoestring, contact the Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service.

New Road Being Built to Airport

15 Years Ago— August 22, 1962—Iosco County Board of Supervisors entered into agreement with the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, the Iosco Road Commission and Baldwin Township for construction of a new hard-surfaced road to serve the county airport. Cost of the 1 1/2 miles would be $25,000. County participation of $6,500 would include money received from sale of the old airport.

Mrs. Harry Bolen retired Friday after serving nearly 25 years as Alabaster postmaster. With her retirement, the community clustered around United States Gypsum Company's installation will be served by a new designation—Alabaster rural station.

Robert N. Rollin was appointed justice of the peace by the Tawas City Council to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Emmit L. Collins Jr.

A meeting is to be held at the West Branch Country Club by representatives of the new Northern B Conference. This league is composed of class B schools formerly associated with the Northeastern Michigan Conference.

Kenneth J. Myles, who graduated last spring from Central Michigan University, writes from Vienna, Austria, that he spent four days behind the "Iron Curtain" in Prague, Czechoslovakia. He has been studying in Europe during the past summer.

25 Years Ago— August 22, 1952—Arthur Vollmer Construction of Saginaw, builders of the new Tawas Hospital, were successful bidders on the Iosco County Courthouse. The successful bid was $226,395.

The Rev. Bernard J. Kirchman, assistant at St. Helen's Church, Saginaw, becomes pastor of the newly established Immaculate Heart of Mary Church of Tawas City. The date of establishment is today. The Rev. Stephen S. Woznicki, bishop of Saginaw, made his announcement of the new Tawas City church.

Donald Westcott has been commissioned second lieutenant in the United States Marines at Quantico, Virginia.

Jack Carlson, formerly of East Tawas, now professor of arts and history at Emory University, Oxford, Georgia, was principal speaker at Tuesday's meeting of Tawas Kiwanis Club.

Mrs. Rose Watson of Tawas City and her St. Clair Synchronettes, who had demonstrated at the Olympics, had a terrifying experience on the first leg of their journey home. They left Bremerhaven, Germany, on the ship, "Anna Salem," which was struck by a whaling boat in a dense fog. Two big holes in the bow, an explosion and a fire resulted and the badly damaged ship was taken to Scotland for repairs.

What's Cooking in Michigan—

Reminder on Purchasing Freezer Meat

By CARL OLSON
Michigan Department of Agriculture

With the start of another school year approaching, many parents are considering major meat purchases for the freezer. Officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's food inspection division have some important reminders.

Major considerations before buying for a freezer should be cost and what your family likes in the way of meat cuts.

As far as cost, be aware of the Michigan law that regulates the advertising and sale of bulk meats. The law says the seller must give a written statement specifying the initial weight of the carcass or primal cut purchased, the type of animal or carcass section and an estimate of the price per pound of the final weight after cutting loss including the charge for packaging and freezing.

Also, if the seller cuts the meat, the statement must show the weight of each cut. All prices advertised by the seller must include the estimated net price per pound, including all cost of the delivered product.

That is the cost consideration. As for preference, a side of beef includes a variety of cuts, ranging from steaks and roasts to ground beef, stew meat and soup bones. Be ready to fix the entire assortment to please the family. Remember, too, that some cuts come in greater quantity so plan your menus in such a way as to not bore everyone with, say, 10 days of beef stew.

An excellent booklet on buying beef for the freezer is now available. It has wrapping tips, a beef chart, freezing information and much more. For a free copy, just write "Freezer Beef," Michigan Beef Industry Commission, 805 Stoddard Building, Lansing 48933. It is really a great guide.

New Fungicide for Fighting Elm Disease

"The battle against Dutch elm disease goes on—but the names of some of the participants have been changed," states Kenneth Kernstock, extension agricultural agent. For the past year, the fungicide, Lignasan, has been the standard recommendation for preventing and treating this disease. According to Michael Walterscheid, extension forestry specialist at Michigan State University, Lignasan is no longer being produced under that name. However, a regional formulation of this fungicide is available under the name Hopkins Correx Fungicide. Another material, recently approved by the environmental Protection Agency, is Arboret 20-S. It has the same ingredients as Lignasan in a more concentrated form.

"Injecting an elm tree with the fungicide is kind of like tapping a maple tree for sap but in reverse," Walterscheid observes. "You drill a hole and insert a tap and run the fungicide through it and into the tree. This is done yearly as a preventative when the leaves are about three-fourths of their full size. It can also be used to treat the disease whenever you spot the symptoms."

The first signs of Dutch elm disease are wilting and drying of leaves. First whole branches and then the entire tree may eventually die. The disease fungus is carried by a small beetle, so insect control is also a part of the disease control program. Trees should be sprayed with methoxychlor in the spring, just as the buds are beginning to swell. This should catch the emerging adult beetles as they begin to feed.

The disease is usually transmitted by the beetle feeding on twig crotches. But it can also move from a diseased tree to a nearby healthy one through their root systems. On a tree that has contracted the disease this way, the first symptoms are wilting of the leaves on the sucker growth on the trunk. When this occurs, there is not much to be done. Removal of the tree is advised.

Pruning individual branches to remove infected parts will often save a tree, Walterscheid points out. The pruning must be done as soon as the disease is discovered to prevent its spread. The homeowner who wants to preserve a stately old elm would be wise to contract with a tree service for its care. Treating with insecticide and fungicide requires special tools and know-how. It would be easy for the well meaning amateur to do more harm than good.

IN THE SERVICE—

Ashley Now Senior Airman

Glenn A. Ashley, son of retired USAF MSgt. and Mrs. Eugene S. Ashley, Tawas City, has been promoted to senior airman in the United States Air Force.

Ashley, an electronics maintenance technician, is assigned at Malmstrom Air Force Base, Montana, Strategic Air Command.

The airman is a 1974 graduate of Tawas Area High School. His wife, Judith, is the daughter of Mrs. Ellen Grimes, Tawas City.

Church Promoted to Staff Sergeant

The United States Air Force has promoted Gary L. Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Church, Coldwater, to the rank of staff sergeant. Church is serving at Loring Air Force Base, Maine, as an aircraft maintenance specialist.

The sergeant is a 1969 graduate of Coldwater High School. His wife, Nina, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Winn, Tawas City.

Arrives at New Station

USAF Sgt. Richard E. Amos, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Amos, Akron, Ohio, has arrived for duty at Lakenheath Royal Air Force Station, England.

Sergeant Amos, an inventory management specialist with a unit of the air force in Europe, previously served at Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

The sergeant, a 1971 graduate of Lincoln High School, Gahanna, Ohio, attended Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, and the University of Akron.

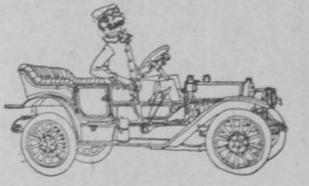

His wife, Linda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie D. McBrien, Oscoda.

Energy Forum at High School on Sept. 12

Extension Energy Forum, scheduled for Monday, September 12, 7:30 p. m., at Tawas Area High School, will kick off a statewide series of local energy forums sponsored by Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service. Purpose of the forum is to bring together university specialists, local experts and interested citizens to examine the current and future energy situation and its implications for families, business and agriculture.

Dr. William Stout and Dr. Anne Field, extension specialists, will be on hand from MSU. Local representatives from Consumers Power Company, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and the tourism industry will also participate. An audience question and discussion time is planned to end the session.

This program is planned for interested residents of Iosco, Arenac, Ogemaw, Alcona and Oscoda Counties. There is no admission charge.

Three Iosco 4-H'ers Competed in State Horse Show at Michigan State University Competition was stiff at the 1977 Michigan 4-H horse show, held Tuesday (yesterday) at Michigan State University, according to Carol L. Frank, 4-H youth program assistant. "Only the cream of the crop makes it to the state-wide event," she stated.

 Delegates to the state 4-H horse show have already competed in the county 4-H horse show.
 Representatives from Iosco County included Janice Kitchen, Kim Wickert and Lorna Joyce. Alternates included Kelly Graham and Kim Bessey.

 The 4-Hers competed in a variety of classes. Registered and graded horses under western tack, quarter horses, saddle seat, hunt seat, ponies and dressage are some of the divisions that were judged.
 Special gymkhana contests in barrel racing and pole bending were also offered at the event.
 Objectives of the 4-H horse show are to promote the learning of horsemanship, develop leadership and sportsmanship, increase knowledge of safety precautions, assist learning about training hoses and to provide an opportunity for state-wide competition and sharing of ideas among 4-H members, leaders and families.

evening at the Hotel Conroy, later known as the Barnes Hotel. State Sen. Miles Callaghan was speaker and Leonard C. Sauer, director of office management, Michigan State Highway Department, officiated at the coronation.

Anticipating that Lake Street would be torn up during the festival as US-23 was being widened through the city, a portion of the program and the parade were omitted from the program.

The 1941 festival ushered in a new, but brief era as the East Tawas Board of Commerce joined Tawas City in sponsoring the event. It was the last festival to be held for seven years, however, due to the interruption of World War II.

Elene Leslie of Whittemore reigned over the 1941 festival and was crowned at McCamley's Edgewater Pavilion. Clara LaBerge was maid of honor and the queen's court included Madeline Bronson, Jean Moeller and Patricia Papas. Judges included Miss Frances Garvey, news editor of the Alpena News; Frank Davis, East Michigan Tourist Association; Bernard S. Nagle, staff photographer of the Detroit News.

Under sponsorship of Tawas Chamber of Commerce, the perch festival was revived in the spring of 1948. Hugo Keiser Jr. was named general chairman of the festival committee.

The program featured a long parade, a trap shoot and barbecue at the city park as a benefit for the hospital fund, tours of Anderson Coach Company at East Tawas and fishing contests. Among fishing contest winners were Edward Higgins of Wyandotte, Otto Kasischke of Tawas City and Paul Beyer of East Tawas. In the juvenile division, Susan Hess of East Tawas and Kenneth Blublitz of Tawas City were winners.

The festival was continued during the next three years, but the 1950 event was marred by a 24-hour gale, which reached a velocity of more than 60 miles per hour.

ment corporations in the various communities.

He recommended that the county commission "back up" to the point where it recently allocated $38,000 to assist Baldwin Township with construction of water service at the industrial park on Aulerich Road. He believed that all allocations with the exception of those for industrial development should be disregarded.

The county commission felt otherwise and adopted Allen's measure.

Approximately $650,000 in federal revenue sharing money will be available to the county over the next three years and it is expected that approximately $250,000 will be required for expansion of county building facilities.

Previously, the commission committed $12,000 to the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library for work on the headquarters building at Alabaster, $30,000 for purchase of the former McKay residence at East Tawas for a county museum, $38,000 for water project to serve the industrial park in Baldwin Township, along with $8,000 to Plainfield Township and $35,000 to Oscoda Township, which had been approved in 1976 but not spent.

Activities of the three-day event were held to a minimum. By the time the parade reached the Holland Hotel corner, floats were stripped of trimmings. Six high school bands participated in the parade including Alpena, Chesaning, Bay City, Standish, Harrisville and East Tawas. Detroit advertising executive, Robert Powell, was crowned perch king.

13 Seniors Return to Hale A. Eagles

With a roster of 13 senior letter winners, Coach Vern Reed II believes his Hale Area Eagles will improve on their 1976 record of six wins and three losses during the upcoming North Star League football season.

Reed's squad of 29 players is comprised solely of seniors and juniors, with sophomores and freshmen making up the junior varsity under guidance this year of Nelson Shellenbarger and Michael O'Farrell.

The Eagles are to hold a scrimmage Friday, September 2, with Lake City and Frankfort, to be played at Hale, and are to open the season Saturday, September 10, in a day game at Johannesburg-Lewiston.

After a week of conditioning exercises, the Eagles opened the regular "hitting" practice on Monday of this week.

Returning seniors include Terry Allen, halfback; Bryon Bernard, quarterback; Rod Humphrey, end; Dave Millard, halfback; Gary Williams, end; Rick Weaver, halfback; George Young, halfback; Mark Braun, lineman; Chuck Nichols, tackle; Ed Schulte, lineman; Kelly Wilson, end; Andy Anderson, tackle; Rick Sharp, end.

Moving up to the varsity this year are Joey Bannister, halfback; Eric Bellville, quarterback; Daryn Bernard, fullback; Jay Clements, lineman; Wally Millard, halfback; Bill Pincumbe, end; Todd Peters, safety; Pat Robson, halfback; Gary Wood, lineman; Rick Barnes, lineman; Wayne Hyatt, lineman; Randy Louks, lineman; Mark Richards, lineman; Ed LaVere, lineman; David Young, halfback.

Martyr Henriksson, an exchange student from Finland, is another addition to the roster.

Howard Haight, Community Relations Manager, East Tawas, reminds you:

"If anyone in your family is handicapped, you should look into these services"...

We have a wide range of services that can help the physically impaired to communicate by telephone. For people with difficulties in hearing or speech, there are amplifying devices. For example: A telephone handset that allows adjustment of volume for hearing and another that permits amplification of speech.

As an aid for those with speech loss, Michigan Bell has an artificial larynx. And people with motion impairments should know about services such as easy-to-use card dialers, speakerphones, telephone headsets, and School-to-Home telephone service for students unable to attend class.

If you think any of these services might help you or someone in your family to communicate more easily, just call your local Michigan Bell Business Office.
