Ambulance Service Financing to be Studied by Commission

At the request of the Iosco County Townships Association, the county board of commissioners is to call a meeting November 30 to discuss financing of the ambulance service provided by Tawas Hospital.

The hospital has been providing ambulance service to about two-thirds of the county for a number of years through a cooperative financing program with cities and townships. Only Oscoda and AuSable Townships are not included in the program, the service being provided in those townships for the present by private firms.

At a meeting last Thursday night, Donald J. Miner, assistant administrator and controller of the hospital, told representatives of the cities and townships that the ambulance service had a net loss of $22,804 during the past year.

Last year, the net loss was only $3,807.

According to the ambulance service's financial report, operating revenue dropped from $47,952 in 1976 to $45,132. The big increase in operating expenses came in salaries and fringe benefits, $46,508 during 1977 as compared to $34,926 in 1976. The major portion of the above increase was for standby service at Hale.

Maintenance and repairs were also higher, $3,433 as compared to $2,467 in 1976. Cost of gasoline and oil was higher, $3,216 as compared to $2,598, while insurance showed an increase from $2,864 to $3,105.

When assessments were made on the 12 cooperating units of government last week, representatives of some of those units said they may have to drop out of the cooperative agreement due to the high cost.

Commissioners Monday morning, Ray Kesler, supervisor of Plainfield Township, said that the county was scheduled to receive approximately $30,000 in federal funds. This money is for federal lands in the county and is to be paid in lieu of taxes. At the present time, court action brought by Michigan townships has this money in limbo.

Kesler was of the opinion that should the money be released to the county it should be spent for operation of the ambulance service. It is to be a continuing payment by the federal government.

Joseph Fox, chairman of the finance committee, said that the county had not included the money in its budget because of the status of the current suit brought by the townships.

Commissioners indicated they were sympathetic to the wishes of the local units of government and Chairman Carlton Merschel said he would call a meeting for Wednesday, November 30, 9:30 a. m., to discuss the matter.

Township representatives present at the meeting besides Kesler included Marian Ulman, Tawas Township; Richter Lixey, Baldwin Township; Lowell Aspin, Grant Township; Darrell Colvin, Burleigh Township; Robert H. Crawford, Alabaster Township.

Based on population and assessed valuation, assessments for the various units were as follows: Alabaster, $1,204.58; Baldwin, $2,534.65; Burleigh, $967.32; Grant, $1,790.91; Plainfield, $4,808.22; Reno, $686.70; Sherman, $912.57; Tawas, $1,934.64; Wilber, $905.72; East Tawas, $3,759.77; Tawas City, $2,680.66; Whittemore, $618.26.

Tawas Band Won Award

Tawas Area Marching Braves turned in a fine performance in extremely cold weather Saturday and received second place in Flight B at the Reed City annual fall invitational marching band competition.

Competing against bands which have been participating in similar meets since June, the Tawas Area Band made an excellent showing and can be justifiably proud of its accomplishment.

The bands were judged by seven adjudicators, who evaluated areas such as: Music effect—those elements of a band's program and performance which collectively make the finest, smoothest, most pleasing and finished musical presentation; music analysis—how well each band demonstrates tone quality and intonation; percussion—the presentation and quality of the percussion performance; visual coordination and showmanship—the judge takes into consideration the utilization of all the elements of the band performance and how they coordinated to bring about maximum effect; visual analysis—evaluates all aspects of visual performance; marching and maneuvering—judged by two persons working on the field checking uniformity and precision of the marching drill and by a timing and penalties judge responsible for field rules.

In addition to the second place, the band was judged to be the best marching unit in the total competition.

This marks only the second time the Marching Braves have participated in competition, having received a third place at Bridgeport in 1975.

Requests Studied Last Week Hearing Today on County's 1977 Budget

Iosco County Board of Commissioners met in committee sessions Monday and Tuesday of this week in preparation for the annual public hearing Wednesday (today) on the 1978 county operational budget.

Most of the board's attention was devoted to work on the budget during a two-day session last week. Department heads at the county building presented budget requests and later discussed those proposed expenditures with the commission.

Action during last week's session saw approval of payments being made from revenue sharing funds for three different projects previously approved. The Dewey Durant Park at East Tawas is to receive $15,000 and the City of Tawas City is to receive $15,000 to aid in the purchase of the east side of the mouth of the Tawas River.

The third authorization was for $30,000 to be paid to L. G. McKay for the former McKay residence on Bay Street at East Tawas. To be owned by the county, the dwelling is to be converted into a county museum and operated by the Iosco County Historical Society. The resolution specified that there was to be no further cost to the county for this project.

A discussion on the county landfill operation brought out the fact that commissioners have received telephone calls from numerous citizens who have protested the closing of the landfill on Saturday and Sunday.

At its session last month, the commission authorized a one-year extension of a contract with owners of Multi-County Landfill for providing this service.

It was recommended that a meeting be held with the owners concerning closing the landfill on some day other than Saturday. It was also proposed that a resolution be made by the commission establishing the time and days the landfill is to be open.

Halloween Parties Planned Oct. 31

Two Halloween parties are scheduled by two Tawas organizations, Tawas Area Elks Lodge No. 2525 and Tawas Kiwanis Club.

The Elks Lodge will hold its first annual children's Halloween party Monday, October 31, at the club-rooms on Newman Street. The fun will begin at 7:00 p. m. and will continue through 9:00 p. m.

All members of the lodge are urged to bring their children for fun and games. Prizes are to be awarded to all children participating in the games.

All present will receive Halloween treats that will include candy, witches brew, homemade cookies and cake made by the Nanciannes women's organization of the Elks. Tawas Area Kiwanis Club will be sponsoring a Halloween party for all area school children at the Tawas City Elementary School gymnasium on Monday, October 31, 7:00 p. m. through 9:00 p. m.

There will be a wide variety of games and a major contest for those children wishing to participate in the breaking of the Mexican pinata.

Cider and donuts will be provided and a costume contest will be held throughout the evening for all age categories.

Any further information pertaining to the activities may be obtained from Edward Wojahn or Jerry Moeller.

Garbage Collector Wants More Money

A contractor providing garbage pickup service to Tawas City told the city council Monday night that he lost money on his current contract and that an increased rate of approximately $5,760 annually would be required for continuance of his service.

At the present time, Hager Sanitation Company receives $1,020 per month or $12,240 annually to provide this once weekly service. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hager, owners, told the council that they were losing money at the present rate due to the high cost of operation and that $18,000 annually would be required.

Hager said that his operating cost increases greatly during the summer months when the load doubles and triples at resorts and motels. Hager said that he had recommended to a number of the motels that they obtain green boxes to improve the appearance of premises and to improve loading, but none had accepted the offer of purchasing the boxes at his cost.

The contractor also stated he had offered to make a second weekly motel pickup during the peak summer season at the motel owners' cost, but he said only two owners were in favor of that proposal. He said the other owners felt it was the obligation of the city to provide garbage and trash pickup due to the amount of taxes paid by motels and resorts.

Hager Sanitation took over a contract last year from the city's former contracting firm, which went out of business. There is one year remaining under the present contract.

The council asked for an audit report of the firm's operational costs during the past year to verify losses. Hager is to provide a list of motels and resorts needing green box containers.

Until recent years, the city provided weekly garbage and trash collection to residential users only. This same policy is still in effect at East Tawas.

Industrial Rehabilitation District Studied by City

Two requests for establishment of a plant rehabilitation and industrial development district were turned over to the city attorney for study and possible action by the Tawas City Council.

Under state law, the council may establish such districts by resolution. Submitting requests were Chester Busch of Crew Products, 525-526 Industrial Avenue, and Harold Knight of Tawas Plating, Incorporated, 510 Industrial Avenue.

The program offers property tax incentives to those industrial plants participating with rehabilitation programs. An explanation of the law and program was given to the council earlier this year by Knight. The council felt that further study should be made by the city attorney before any formal action is taken.

In other business, the council approved this city's participation in a federal-local-state project to study sanitary sewer inflow and ground water infiltration. The city's participation is required to continue in the second step of obtaining federal funding for proposed sewer work on a regional basis with East Tawas, Baldwin and Tawas Townships.

A $95,175 federal grant is to be received for this work. Tawas City's share to participate would be $13,000.

Results of the survey would be used to determine a course of action for constructing additions to the sewer disposal system in the area.

The council approved an expenditure of $607.50 for purchase of a new radio for the recently purchased fire truck.

The city manager reported that $15,000 had been received in federal revenue sharing funds from the county board of commissioners to aid in purchase of property at the Tawas River mouth. The city had made a down payment of $3,000 from its own federal revenue sharing funds and the city manager received permission to advertise for bids on borrowing the remaining $12,000 owed on the property.

A bid of $18.70 per ton for bituminous aggregate was accepted from Central Paving Company, West Branch. The only other bid received was for $24.80 per ton. The material is for a $20,000 street program to be completed this fall.

Election workers are to receive $2.50 per hour for service during the November 8 general election. This is the same rate as paid for the primary election. Chair persons for each precinct are to receive an additional $5 per day.

James LaHaye, representing the Tawas City Businessmen's Association, appeared before the council and said that organization was interested in establishing a bicycle route through Tawas City to connect with a similar route being planned at East Tawas.

LaHaye felt the route, after leaving US-23, should follow Ninth Avenue and travel over city streets to Fifth Avenue and eventually connect with the Num Road bicycle route to East Tawas.

The city manager said he had contacted state highway department officers at Alpena and Lansing concerning the matter and was awaiting further information.

Charles Landon and William Ezo were appointed to represent the council on any committee appointed by the businessmen's association.

Herman Named Record-Eagle City Editor

James Herman, former East Tawas resident, has been appointed city editor of the Traverse City Record-Eagle. He joined the newspaper about a year ago after six years as a reporter with the Petoskey News-Review.

Herman, 30, attended Saginaw Valley College and has received numerous awards for outstanding reporting. He and his wife, Janet, have two children, Jeffrey, eight years of age, and Julie, 11.

New Fire Truck-Library Quarters

Rental of a commercial building on US-23 south of the Tawas River bridge for fire department and library use was authorized Monday night by the Tawas City Council.

The building is owned by Robert N. Rollin, a member of the city council, who abstained from voting on the proposal. Over the years, the building has been used as a restaurant, service station, recreational vehicle sales center and was unoccupied until the council's action.

Cost of renting the building is to be $225 per month for an indefinite period of time.

City Mgr. Reginald Hublitz reported he had received a letter from Mark Ames, director of Iosco-Arenac Regional Library, stating that the building had an adequate amount of space for a branch library. Although not located near the central business area, Ames felt that the building had excellent parking facilities.

Rollin said he received a verbal bid from one contractor to renovate that portion to be used by the library at a cost of $5,000. If the owner paid the remodeling cost, the rent would be increased accordingly. It was the feeling of the council that painting walls of the proposed library quarters would be sufficient. Use of CETA personnel for redecorating the interior is to be considered. Prices are to be obtained for carpeting the room.

Two fire trucks are to be housed in the building immediately. Because of the lack of space, two trucks are presently stored in unheated quarters and water pumps on the units could be damaged by cold weather.

The council indicated that use of the building would be temporary as the city is continuing its study of a new city hall, fire hall and library complex.

RAY COLEMAN of Baldwin Township believes this 143-pound pumpkin which he raised in his garden may be a record for the state. His wife had intended to exhibit the pumpkin at the county fair in August, but Coleman said he wanted to let it grow some more in order to pass his old record of 107 pounds. It did and that is a lot of pumpkin pies.—Tawas Herald Photo.

Ambulance Attendant Injured in Hale Crash

A Hale ambulance attendant received minor injuries Friday afternoon when a car struck a Tawas Hospital ambulance on M-65 at Hale.

Injured and treated at Tolfree Hospital, West Branch, was Annabel Ranger. She was treated for facial lacerations and released.

Investigating Iosco County Sheriff's Department officers said that the ambulance stationed at Hale had received a call to pick up a patient at Whittemore. Robert W. Alward, 26, driver, was proceeding south on M-65.

A car driven by Brian R. Shellenbarger, 21, Hale, pulled out of Ainsley Street and struck the ambulance broadside. The driver told officers his view of M-65 had been obstructed by a mobile home which was parked along the roadway.

The ambulance was demolished in the crash and Tawas Hospital officials obtained the loan of an emergency vehicle at Flint. The hospital's standby ambulance was in a local garage for repairs.

Two persons were injured Wednesday in Oscoda Township when a car hit an abutment at Five Channels Dam. Kay A. Knudson, 35, Pontiac, told officers she lost control of her vehicle when a passenger accidentally hit her right arm. Both the driver and the passenger, Ronald P. Denny, 36, were injured.

Eagles Continue in Win Column

Hale Area Eagles continued to roll in the North Star League Friday night by turning in their third straight win without a defeat. The Eagles downed the visiting Atlanta team, 26-6.

Four different backs used by Coach Vern Reed scored touchdowns for the Eagles. Rick Weaver, Terry Allen, Bryon Bernard and Daryn Bernard all scored six pointers.

Allen, who gained 114 yards on the ground in 14 carries, scored his touchdown on an 11-yard run.

Weaver picked up 104 yards in 13 carries and scored his touchdown on a four-yard run. The Bernards each scored on six-yard runs.

Only touchdown by the visitors came in the first period when Joe Weaver connected with Paul Klein on a 40-yard touchdown pass play.

As usual, the Eagles kept Hale fans on the edge of their seats in the first half as the two teams were tied at intermission, 6-6. The Eagles turned the game completely around in the second half and dominated play all the way.

The excursion was part of an orientation tour of the divided city that is given to United States Army members stationed in West Germany.

The Berlin Orientation Tour is intended "to give American soldiers a first hand look at the differences between a free and a controlled society, so they can see for themselves why they are stationed in Germany," according to army officials.

The hope is that the contrast will add new meaning to their roles and assignments in West Germany. Under the Potsdam Agreements, members of the United States military are permitted access to East Berlin.

In August 1976, Germans on both sides of the Berlin Wall observed the 15th year of its existence. Numerous memorial services were held at the graves of the hundreds who lost their lives trying to escape west.

Specialist Denstedt is a clerk-typist with the 223rd Aviation Battalion, Stuttgart Army Airfield, Echterdingen, Germany.

TA Braves Clinch Share of First Place in NEM

The surprising Tawas Area Braves clinched a share of the Northeastern Michigan Conference championship Friday night by defeating Gladwin, 20-7. Ogemaw Heights shut out Standish-Sterling Central, 30-0, to knock the Panthers out of a tie for second place with Pinconning.

Jerry Gracik scored two touchdowns for the Braves on runs of 32 and three yards. The Braves' final touchdown came in the fourth period as Quarterback Bill King fired a six-yard pass to Jeff Nichols.

The backup quarterback last year and starting quarterback at the opening of the current season, Gracik was moved to a halfback slot and has provided the Braves with good offensive punch.

Tawas played Friday night's game without the services of Halfback Andy Mayer, who was injured in the game two weeks ago. He is expected to be ready for Friday night's game.

Tawas can wrap up the league championship this Friday night by defeating Standish-Sterling in the last conference game of the season. The game will be played at Central and the Panthers will be seeking revenge after being shut out by the Falcons.

Tawas now has four wins and no losses in league play while second place Pinconning has three wins and a loss. Tawas surprised the Spartans, 6-3, in the meeting September 30 at Pinconning.

Cards Lost

Homecoming Game, 21-6

Whittmore - Prescott Area School's homecoming was spoiled Friday night, but a game Cardinal team played well defensively before losing, 21-6, to the Pinconning Spartans.

The Spartans scored in each of the first three periods, but the middle touchdown was almost a gift as the Cardinals elected to go for a fourth down on their own 23. The Cardinals were denied the one yard necessary for a first down and the Spartans turned it into a touchdown.

Brian Picard scored Pinny's first six-yarder on a 40-yard play, with Steve Edwards adding the kick from placement. John Gibson scored the second touchdown on a one-yard run. The third touchdown for the Spartans came on a 35-yard pass play from Gibson to Todd Bourcier.

The Cardinals, still looking for their first win in four NEM Conference games, scored their lone touchdown of the game in the fourth quarter on a 24-yard pass from Tom Nichols to Mark Gawne. The try for extra point failed.

Pinconning had 226 yards on the ground as compared to 107 for the Cards.

Plainfield Appoints Constable to Avert State Election Threat

As a means of averting a costly election and possibly other expenses, the Plainfield Township Board has appointed a township constable even though that officer will have no official duties and is to receive no compensation.

At its regular meeting Wednesday night, the township board named Margaret Ranger, a township employee, as the constable.

Ray Kesler, township supervisor, reported that the state is expected to issue an order requiring those townships which do not have constables to hold special elections to name one prior to the end of December.

Many townships did not qualify constables after the last election due to the fact that, here in Isosco County, the sheriff's department handles most of the inspections for liquor licenses. Rather than to pay a salary to a constable with no law enforcement training and go to the bother of having the constable bonded, many townships have simply turned constable duties over to the sheriff's department.

According to Kesler, he received word from the Michigan Townships Association that Governor Milliken was expected to insist that townships fill any vacant offices of constable. Kesler said that a primary and general election could be required before the end of December.

The Plainfield Township supervisor said that service of civil papers and other police duties formerly held by two township constables were being handled by the sheriff's department in most cases and he felt that a costly election should be avoided. He said that such an election (possibly two if a primary is required) would cost at least $200.

It is not known locally if the current stir over constables has anything to do with the battle between townships and counties for state money. A bill in the legislature would return state money to local governments to finance law enforcement. Other state money allocated to counties is currently being held up by a court injunction asked by townships.

WORK is nearly completed on a $21,000 renovation at the Iosco-Arenac Regional Library headquarters at Alabaster. The project included modifying windows to conserve heat. Some of the openings were replaced with thermopane windows while other windows were completely sealed with insulated panels. A new paint job gave the headquarters building, formerly the Alabaster School, a face lifting. A fresh coat of paint was added on the interior. The project was financed through federal revenue sharing money received from the two counties. The headquarters has been located at Alabaster for the past 15 years.—Tawas Herald Photo.

At the last general election, Leon Brunson was elected constable of Plainfield Township. Kesler said last week that Brunson had failed to qualify for office as he had not obtained a bond within 45 days of the election.

Senior Citizens Get Lease on Hale Center

At its regular meeting Wednesday night, Plainfield Township Board granted a long term lease for use of the former county garage on township property for a senior citizens center.

The lease is to extend for 50 years and is to be reviewed every 10 years as long as the building is being used as a senior citizens center. No charge is being made for use of the property.

The concrete block building, constructed in the early 1940s, is being remodeled for use as a senior citizens center. A portion of the revenue sharing money received from the county board of commissioners is to be used to help finance the project.

In other business, the township board authorized moving a road at Bass Lake to conform with the present road right-of-way.

The board authorized use of revenue sharing money on a joint project with Hale Area School and Isosco County Agricultural Society for drainage of township hall property, school grounds and fair grounds. The work is to be performed next spring.

In a Pasture South of Emery Junction Grew A NATIONAL GYPSUM PLANT

Iosco County has had a part in one of the amazing success stories of industrial expansion of this nation during the twentieth century. Although no special program has yet signaled the event locally, 1977 marks the 50th anniversary of the opening of the National City plant of National Gypsum Company.

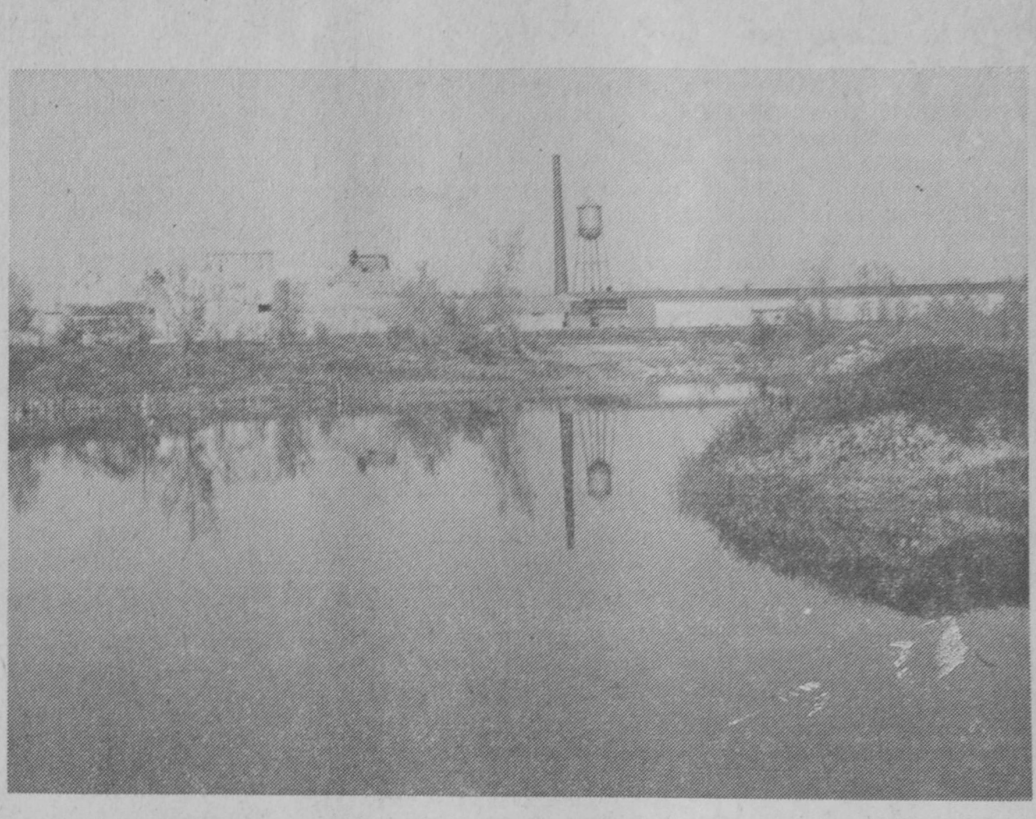

In the mid-1920s, National Gypsum Company was a young, energetic firm. It was struggling to meet fierce competition—losses were starting to pile up and resources were dwindling—its very survival was at stake.

The word went out from its management at Buffalo, New York—expand or die. The firm raised $1,000,000 and a whole new plant was built near Emery Junction, Isosco County. The entire community was so delighted at having a new industry that it renamed itself National City in tribute to National Gypsum.

The history of gypsum in Isosco County is almost as old as its local government. Gypsum rock has been mined at Alabaster since the 1860s and this soft mineral is still one of the county's most important resources, being quarried here by United States Gypsum Company, Michigan Gypsum Company and National Gypsum Company.

What happened with the development at National City 50 years ago was to make it possible for a young company to open up vast new markets for its products. With development of its second plant here, National Gypsum could now supply gypsum products to the central west, a territory that had been closed to its first plant at Clarence Center, New York, because of prohibitively high freight rates.

With its new plant at National City, National Gypsum and its Gold Bond products (originally called National Mineral Wall Board) came into its own—and Isosco County has played a substantial role in development of the corporation into one of the leaders in the industry, while at the same time benefiting from the employment it has offered for the past one-half century.

A headline in the September 17, 1926, issue of The Tawas Herald, "New Gypsum Project Opened in Sherman; National Gypsum Co. Starts Construction at Once on County's Second Big Plaster Plant," set the entire county on its ear.

For years, Isosco's leaders had been attempting to bring in new employment to replace that which had been lost when the lumbering era closed. All efforts had failed until the fall of 1926.

One of those men in the forefront in attempting to secure local industry was the late L. G. McKay of East Tawas. Realizing the value of gypsum rock, McKay had commenced test drilling operations in Sherman Township. A large deposit of gypsum was discovered there and options were taken on the property.

(At the same time, McKay had been heavily involved in other drilling operations, having been an investor in an exploratory oil well near East Tawas. His efforts to find oil in Isosco went for naught.)

With the Sherman Township property available, along with information on the gypsum deposit, McKay contacted National Gypsum Company, which had been organized in 1925 and operated its lone plant at Clarence Center.

Through its president, J. F. Gaggerty, National Gypsum Company negotiated the land purchase and a new plant and quarry were established here only one year later.

Following the gypsum company's purchase of 400 acres of land here in the first week of September 1926, events moved rapidly. The county road commission immediately authorized construction of a new road to the property and the Detroit and Mackinac Railway had a large crew of men constructing a spur to the proposed quarry plant, located two miles south of Emery Junction.

Land purchased by National Gypsum comprised farms owned by Joseph Schneider, Frank Schneider, A. B. Schneider, Charles Schneider, Joseph Smith and John Jordan. About 160 acres of land were purchased from W. E. Coats to make a right-of-way for the railroad spur.

"Those who appreciate the great amount of benefit that the United States Gypsum Company has been to this locality through its operation at Alabaster are anxious to see the second project within our county," said P. N. Thornton, editor of the Herald.

"We hope that the gypsum produced by the two companies will give a national reputation to the county as a producer of this material which is rapidly expanding in its uses for building purposes. We welcome this second corporation of its kind within our county and wish them the utmost of success in the new project," said the Herald editor.

The Herald also noted that during the preceding 15 or 20 years, "residents of Sherman Township have been aware of the fact that gypsum rock underlaid a large portion of the township. Wells and excavations revealed this fact. Not much thought was given by the residents to its possible potential value, however, until recently."

Despite the bleak outlook caused by the collapse of the McKay banks of Isosco later in 1926, all eyes of its citizens were focused on activities in Sherman Township. Hundreds of men were at work constructing foundations in what had been a pasture; where tag alder, birch and poplar formerly grew in profusion.

"With the fall and early winter rains, this land soon became a field of mud. Out of this mud, great steel skeletons rapidly grew, shortly to be transformed with brick and tile into a great wall board mill, power plant and a handsome office building," reported the Herald on March 4, 1927.

"No small part in romance of modern industry is the rapidly with which changes can be made and this has been fully exemplified in Sherman Township," (See NATIONAL page 6.)

Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF Slated in Tawas October 23

By time honored tradition, Halloween is the night when small ghosts and goblins haunt the streets of American neighborhoods, begging sweets and favors from each house they pass. This year, once again, millions of costumed children will ask for good things not only for themselves, but for children around the world as well.

Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is only one of the ways more than three-million Americans will rally to help the world's children. UNICEF will be observed in the Tawas area a week earlier, Sunday, October 23, with children meeting at the Tawas United Methodist Church at 5:00 p. m. A party will follow the collection at the church. All children of the area are invited to take part in this event, according to Mrs. A. L. Fisher, church school coordinator.

America's children have been devoting their Halloween to UNICEF since 1950 when a Pennsylvania minister organized the first trick-or-treat collection. That year, the bulk of the money collected went for emergency relief to children who were victims of World War II. During the slow and painful process of reconstructing the war-devastated countries of Europe, UNICEF meant health and hope for literally millions of youngsters. By 1950, more than six-million children were receiving a daily supplementary meal from UNICEF. Several millions were wearing clothes and shoes manufactured from UNICEF-supplied cotton, wool and leather.

Today, more than a generation later, UNICEF still provides emergency aid to young victims of war and natural disasters, but it does much more, too. In 100 developing countries, UNICEF is assisting projects which deal with the roots of hunger and illness—projects which prevent disease and malnutrition before they begin, as well as eradicating them where they currently exist.

Although the price of everything is far higher today than in 1950, UNICEF is still able to make contributions go a long way. Just eight cents donated to UNICEF, for example, can buy a vial of penicillin to cure a Bolivian child's infection. Fifty cents purchases enough oral dehydration salts to restore the health of five West African children suffering from severe dehydration. And for the princely sum of one dollar, 25 Indonesian toddlers can be protected against nutritionally-caused blindness with remedial doses of Vitamin A.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

(Read Psalm 77:11-15)

"I will remember the works of the Lord." (Psalm 77:11)
Memory is one of God's greatest gifts to us but it can be a blessing or a curse.

A man whom I had not seen in 20 years visited me in my illness a few Sunday nights ago. He brought me a memory which I treasure very much. He was one of four patients who shared the same hospital ward with one of my friends whom I had gone to visit. After I had spoken with my friend, I was introduced to this man. I suggested we take a walk out in the grounds which I had never before seen.

Now 20 years later, he said he wished he could take me to a stone in a quiet nook of the garden where I put my arm around him and assured him that Christ the healer could give him healing for his mind. It was on that flat stone, he said, that Christ became real to him—not by anything I said, but by the fact that as I put my arm around him he felt somebody cared.

Our lives are full of memories of God's mercies. This experience was a cheering and comforting memory of 20 years ago.

PRAYER
O God, because I long to please Thee and obey Thy Spirit in all things, may I this day live to pass on something that becomes a blessed memory in someone else's life as well as my own. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I thank God for memories that bless.—H. Cecil Pawson (Newcastle upon Tyne, England)

Interesting Combination of Ingredients

By CARL OLSON
Michigan Department of Agriculture

Friends of mine suggested an interesting combination of ingredients in a recipe not long ago. It utilizes chicken and buttermilk, both of which are products the Michigan Department of Agriculture is proud to have as important state agricultural crops.

Taking a one-pound can of tomatoes, discard half the juice and cut the tomatoes into quarters. Add one tablespoon of flour.

Cut up a three-pound chicken, wash and dry it, then saute in a large heavy saucepan with one-third cup onions containing one tablespoon oil and a teaspoon of butter until brown.

Add the tomatoes, a pinch each of salt, white pepper, sugar and one cup fresh Michigan buttermilk. Stir and simmer 25 to 30 minutes covered.

At this point, add one-quarter cup each of chopped chives, parsley and snipped dill. Cook an additional 10 minutes and serve immediately.

One thing about this recipe is the aroma through the kitchen. Any appetite at all will be stimulated to the point that dinner can not get there soon enough. And then, the flavor imparted by the buttermilk and spices is almost too much to describe.

Serve it to guests and see what they say.

Remember, too, buttermilk has many uses in the kitchen. It has great versatility in batters, biscuits, cakes, waffles and pancakes. One of these days, I will give our special recipe for buttermilk pancakes that are just marvelous.

Whats your Community Banker made of?

A Farmers and Merchants Community Banker does more than lend you money or handle your financial matters. Sometimes he helps bring in the crops, or coaches a little league team, he may be a scout leader. Sometimes he's just another member of a community committee.

Your Farmers and Merchants Community Banker is many things, and he's always there. He's part of what makes your community.... your community.

Howard Haight, Community Relations Manager, East Tawas, offers you this telephone tip:

"Two-Party Budget Service may help you save money on your phone bill!"

Two-Party Budget Service is especially designed for people with fixed incomes, such as retirees. For a low monthly charge, you would share a two-party line and have an allowance of 45 local calls a month. Extra local calls you make are only 5¢ each. This is about the lowest-cost phone service in the country. If you think Two-Party Budget Service might be what you need, just call your Michigan Bell Business Office and talk to a service representative about it.

I can recite poetry to you on a mountain top and sprinkle flowers at your feet in the spring. But if you live on more than love alone, I suggest you consult the Consumer Information Catalog. It's published by the Federal Government and lists over 200 booklets you can send away for. Over half are free. And all are wise. With tips on stretching your food budget, shopping wisely for a home, the virtues of jogging, even what to look for in a new shampoo. So send for this free catalog which you will find very helpful. Write: Consumer Information Center, Dept. B, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Poetry and music may be the "Food of Love," but a little meat loaf goes a lot further at dinner.

National

commented Editor Thornton. "Great obstacles had to be overcome; mud and winter weather contended with and miles of railroad built, but everything moved with order and precision and in scheduled time."

That March, the Herald reported that the "tat, tat, tat of the air hammer still goes on and the steel framework of buildings to house rock crushers, calcining kettles, driers and conveyers is rapidly taking shape and soon the pasture will be converted into an industrial center with an orderly arrangement of permanently built brick and tile structures; and from under its soil will come a great wealth to add to the world's supply of building material."

The above words penned 50 years ago by the Herald editor proved to be an accurate prediction of the future.

The wall board mill constructed in 1927 was 750 feet long and 32 railroad cars could be loaded at its doors at one time. The 600-foot-long wall board machine contained 19 miles of steam pipe and had a capacity of 250,000 board feet per day. Because of the importance of this machine, construction was pushed ahead rapidly in order that all difficulties with its operation could be ironed out by the time other units were completed.

"The building of this plant has been of immediate value to the surrounding territory, for a large portion of the 250 men who have found employment there are local men," stated the Herald.

FIRST plant superintendent at National City was H. B. Brokenbrough of Akron, New York.

PREPARE HOME FOR WINTER

Do not wait until the snow flies to prepare for winter. One can be comfortable this winter by taking steps now to reduce energy waste and increase the efficiency with which a home uses energy.

A major factor in both comfort and energy consumption is home heating. And one of the keys to efficient home heating is insulation. In a poorly insulated home, a good deal of the heat is lost through the roof. Insulation cuts the heat loss and makes it possible to keep warm while burning less fuel. Heat is also lost through cracks in the foundation, gaps around windows and doors and through fireplaces.

Before it gets too cold to work outside, caulk cracks in the foundation, gaps around doors and windows and any other openings that let heat escape. A lot of heat can be lost through a crack around a window.

Weather stripping around doors and windows is another possibility. Even a rolled-up newspaper jammed into a crack can stop the icy flow of air coming in around a loose-fitting door.

Installing storm windows or fastening plastic film over windows will reduce heat loss through the glass. Pulling drapes or shades across windows will also help cut down the heat that escapes around and through windows.

Fireplaces offer heat another escape route to the outside. Keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. If it cannot be closed, it can be covered with a homemade door or heavy curtain.

Closing off unused rooms will help concentrate the heat where needed. Adding moisture to the air will not mean using less fuel, because a humidifier requires a certain amount of energy to evaporate the water. Relieving the dryness of the air may make it a little more uncomfortable, however.

To find the most cost-effective way to winterize a home, the MSU computer program, "In the Bank or Up the Chimney," is available by phoning Iosco County Cooperative Extension Service at 362-3449.

New road signs were built directing people to the plant, including one at the intersection of M-10 and the Meadow Road in Tawas City, one at National City and one at the Whittemore corner.

The first test of the huge wall board machine was made the second week of April 1927, and the plant went into full operation a few weeks later. H. B. Brokenbrough of Akron, New York, first superintendent of the new plant, moved to East Tawas to take charge of the operations.

In September 1927, the entire force of the National Gypsum Company office at Buffalo, New York, visited the new plant at National City. Two special railroad Pullman cars were required to transport them here.

By itself, the National City plant provided a major source of employment in Iosco County for the next 30 years. National Gypsum Company continued to expand throughout the United States and Canada and, in 1957, the firm announced a $19,000,000 Great Lakes expansion project, which included a new quarry and lake shipping installation in Iosco County.

Construction on the Port Gypsum installation south of Tawas City was completed in the spring of 1959. A new quarry had been opened earlier in Grant Township, which provided crushed gypsum rock to the National City plant as well as to other company installations on the Great Lakes.

One of the first visitors to the Port Gypsum installation was Melvin Baker, one of the three founders of National Gypsum Company, who was here in May 1959 to inspect the facilities. One of the local men whom he met on that trip was L. G. McKay Sr., who had envisioned a new outlet for Iosco's laboring force and had interested the company in locating here.

Reminded of the 50th anniversary of the National City plant in 1977, R. M. Harris, present manager of National Gypsum Company facilities in Iosco County, said recently that the event would be observed during the annual Trailblazer awards dinner during November.

Special recognition is to be given to retired employees who worked for the company when the National City plant was first opened in 1927.

SHORTLY after National Gypsum Company's new quarry and loading installation were opened here in the late 1950s, Melvin Baker, left, chairman of the gypsum company's board of directors, was photographed with L. G. McKay Sr. of East Tawas. Baker was one of the founders of the company and McKay was responsible for interesting the firm in locating here.—Tawas Herald Photo.
